Bonner Prefers Taft-Hartley To Wagner Measure

Congressman Upholds New Labor Legislation In Talk To Kiwanis Group

By CHESTER WALSH
Eli Bloom, a past president of the Kiwanis Club, at its supper meeting last night, welcomed Herbert C. Bonner of Washington, and the Kiwanians arose at a gesture of welcome to the First District congressman, who was the speaker.

The congressman explained the Taft-Hartley Act, which replaced the Wagner Act, concerning labor and capital. After some preliminary remarks about the enterprise and progressiveness of the people of Pitt County, he said, "Wealth belongs to those who justly earn it, and the laboring man and woman are entitled to all of the rewards of honest labor."

Congressman Bonner said one of the reasons the labor union bosses are so anxious to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act is that they fear it may stop the use of violence on the picket fronts, and added that there was no protection in the Wagner Act against intimidation and coercion practiced by union organizers in forcing workers into unions against their will.

The Wagner Act did not protect the civil rights of workers but the Taft-Hartley Act does," Bonner declared. "But the Taft-Hartley Act will specifically protect the American workers," he added.

Seek To Place Friends In Same Service Units

M-Sgt. D. D. Boswell, commanding officer of the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station announced today the Department of the Army has issued instructions for all army units to make every attempt possible for young men entering the service from the same community and desiring to remain together through training and their first assignments to do so.

While it is not the policy of the Army to pamper and assign personnel on a "clique" basis, it is believed attention can be given to keeping two young friends together as a morale measure.

When two individuals with similar interests indicate a strong desire to serve in the same area or installation, every effort will be made to accomplish such assignment consistent with the needs of the service, said Sgt. Boswell.

Long Suffering For Youth Ends

Greener, Fla., Nov. 27—(AP)—Suffering for Donald Younglove has ended. He died yesterday.

The 14-year-old star student, who knew he was going to die, was victim of a strange and painful disease—dementia myositis. The illness caused his muscles to atrophy.

Donald suffered for six months. His parents and doctors stood by helplessly as his once active, 160-pound body withered to a mere 35 pounds.

The suffering was so intense that Donald pleaded with his dad, a disabled war veteran, many times to:

"Put me to sleep, please daddy, so I won't ever wake up."

Funeral services for the five-nationed Western European (Brussels) alliance. They said Britain's chief delegate, Hugh Dalton, expressed hope Italy would be brought into the committee's work as quickly as possible.

France's chief delegate, Edouard Herriot, warmly seconded this idea. It was emphasized, however, that this invitation does not mean Italy is being asked now to join the five-power Brussels alliance, which is chiefly a military proposition.

Move To Bring Italy Into Work Of Federation

Paris, Nov. 27—(AP)—Britain and France moved today to bring Italy into the job of forming a tightly knit Western European federation.

French sources reported on the closed sessions now being held by the unity committee of the five-nationed Western European (Brussels) alliance. They said Britain's chief delegate, Hugh Dalton, expressed hope Italy would be brought into the committee's work as quickly as possible.

France's chief delegate, Edouard Herriot, warmly seconded this idea. It was emphasized, however, that this invitation does not mean Italy is being asked now to join the five-power Brussels alliance, which is chiefly a military proposition.

Canada To Halt Potato Exports

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—American Potato Growers won't have to compete with the Canadian product the rest of this marketing season.

The agriculture department gave that assurance yesterday in announcing that the Canadian government has agreed to halt all potato exports December 1 except those sent to this country for seed purposes.

In recent weeks American growers and Congress members have protested that the Canadians were underselling home grown potatoes at a time when the U. S. government is spending $100,000,000 to take $3,500,000 surplus bushels off the market.

Scott's Absence Is Still Mystery

Raleigh, Nov. 27—(AP)—Governor-elect Kerr Scott's vacation still had friends around capital square mystified today.

Their wonder arose last Monday, when Scott failed to appear, as planned, for a meeting of the Advisory Budget Commission. He also was not at commission sessions Tuesday and Wednesday.

Germans Resent 'Suggestions'

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 27—(AP)—Seven "suggestions" by the three western military Governors have aroused resentment among delegates to the Bonn constitutional assembly.

The suggestions had the effect of warning the delegates against giving too much centralized power to the government they are forming.

Tobacco Plants Take On New Growth And Blossom

A. M. Allen brought to the Daily Reflector today a stalk of tobacco from his farm, two miles west of Greenville, that had taken on second growth, developed leaves nearly big enough to cure and market on the burley tobacco market and with tops of healthy looking blossoms, due to the unusually mild weather this late in the season.

Allen said he averaged 1,400 pounds to the acre on his 2 1/2 acre fields and that he used Royter Fertilizer Company's fertilizer. A stalk of the tobacco is in the Daily Reflector window.

Orders Immediate Halt To Self-Induced 'Blackouts'

Ava, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—A high school principal has warned students they will be expelled from school if they continue the fad of self-induced blackouts which he had ordered halted.

The blackouts termed "red outs" by the students were described by an Ava physician as comparable to blackouts suffered by fliers in pulling out of long, steep dives.

In Chicago, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, termed the practice as evidence of "mass psychological disturbances which occur among adolescents from time to time."

Ava school officials said in the method reported used by some students, the subject kneels, breathes deeply about 10 times, claps his lips tightly around his thumbs, puffs out his cheeks and holds his breath until he goes into an apparent coma.

As to the effectiveness of the students' method of blacking out, Dr. Fishbein said: "Just how much is mental and how much physical requires careful determination."

Principal J. E. Hammack of the "Tri-County Consolidated High School here said students had been warned they would be expelled if they continued practicing the fad.

Hammack said the practice came to a head when a girl freshman blacked herself out 15 times. She finally became unconscious for two hours and required a stimulant before she came out of it in hysteria.

Later she told a girl friend she dreamed "some vague, shapeless monster" was chasing her. A doctor said he treated her for anoxemia. The girl friend fainted and suffered convulsions during her schoolmate's unconsciousness.

Hammack called a school assembly to permit the students to witness the reviving of the girls.

Heavy Rainfall

Rainfall in the Greenville area during November up to noon today was 7.94 inches, about four times more than the normal precipitation for November, Mrs. C. E. Madden, weather observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, said today.

Exceptionally high temperatures have prevailed in this section. The mercury registered 89 yesterday and at 8 a. m. today it was 86 degrees, a near record for this time of the year in the morning.

Wealth Seen In Livestock Show

Chicago, Nov. 27—(AP)—An estimated $5,000,000 worth of cattle, horses, sheep and swine were assembled under a single roof today as the International Livestock Exposition opened for its 40th annual eight-day run.

From 42 states and five Canadian provinces, exhibitors brought more than 12,500 head of livestock and almost 3,000 samples of nearly perfect grains to compete in this agricultural world's fair.

Exhibitors, both junior and senior, will have pocketed more than $100,000 in prize money, in addition to receipts from sale of their prize stock, before the exposition closes next Saturday. Stock sold at the show a year ago netted the owners a total of some $2,000,000.

Farm boys and girls dominated the opening day of the exposition, parading their beautifully primed animals before judges in the junior livestock feeding contest.

The junior exhibitors brought 811 baby weaves to the exposition. These, however, were reduced to about 400 yesterday when animals that failed to meet the high standards of the contest were eliminated.

The youngster whose steer is adjudged the junior grand champion will go on to compete against adult exhibitors in the open classes.

Arrest Alleged Car Driver Who Hit Parked Auto

John Albert Freeman, 40 year old Negro of Walsenburg, was arrested by highway patrolmen yesterday on charges of careless and reckless driving and driving without a license after a car allegedly driven by him left the road and crashed into a parked car owned by William H. Ward of 817 Greene Street, Greenville.

Highway Patrolman Chadwick who investigated the accident said Ward's car was parked in Jarvis Case's yard near Red Oak on the Farmville road and that Ward was not in his car when the accident occurred. Chadwick's report said Freeman was operating his car too close behind the car in front of him and could not control his vehicle when the car in front of him slowed up suddenly. Officers said Freeman apparently lost control of his car which swerved into the yard hitting Ward's car and doing considerable damage to both vehicles.

Frederick Remington, American artist, was sent West for his health as a young man—and became famous painting the Indians and soldiers he saw on the plains.

Judge Cures Vandalism With 'Baby Treatment'

Boston, Nov. 27—(AP)—A little baby treatment—diapers and all—is the thing to curb rowdiness and vandalism.

Judge John H. Connelly suggested the treatment might put an end to Thanksgiving Day football brawls which were numerous in greater Boston over the holiday.

He explained in a post-holiday interview that his court had excellent results with the treatment.

It consists of sentencing the rowdiest to live the lives of babies for 24 hours during which they wear diapers, drink from nipped bottles and play in a baby-pen.

He said no one ever subjected to the "cure" came back to his juvenile court.

The Boston juvenile court judge told a Boston Globe reporter that the offenders were placed in custody of their parents who cooperated in imposing the treatment.

A probation officer made the rounds to see that the "sentences" were carried out in full.

"I am very happy," Judge Connelly said, "that not one of those boys has been in any kind of trouble in the year since."

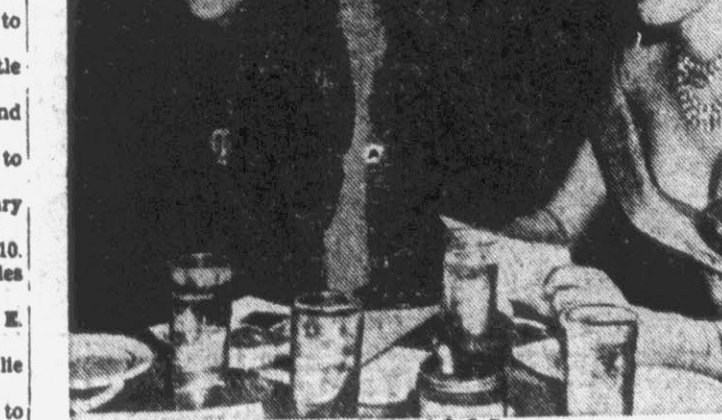

"It cured them of what we explained to them was stupid, unthinking mischief that only babies can be allowed to commit."

The boys were convicted of destroying school property.

Capt. Lester Jones Made Fine Recovery

Capt. Lester Jones, commander of Troop A, State Highway Patrol, with headquarters in Greenville, returned to his home, 1104 West Fourth Street, last night after being confined nearly two months at Veterans Hospital, Mount Alto, near Washington, D.C., following an operation. He is recuperating satisfactorily and expects to resume his duties shortly.

While Capt. Jones was in the hospital, Sgt. S. G. Lewis of Rocky Mount, another of the oldest veterans in the State Highway Patrol, substituted for him here, and made many friends by his efficiency, attention to duty and courtesy.

Irish Dail Votes Severance From Britain's Crown

Dublin, Eire, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Irish Dail (Parliament) approved last night the cutting of the last legal tie with Britain and King George.

Sean MacBride, External Affairs Minister, said preparations are being made to celebrate Independence Day on Jan. 21, the day the "Republic of Ireland" bill goes into effect. The date is the 32nd anniversary of the Declaration of the Irish Republic by the first Dail in 1917.

The Dail approved the measure on the decisive second reading without a record vote. All opposition had ceased. It now goes to a committee for a preliminary review and then a routine third reading.

The measure repeals the External Relations Act of 1936 by which Eire's trade treaties were approved and her Foreign Envoys appointed in the name of the British crown.

MacBride said "the traditions and the ideals of the Irish people for liberty simply cannot be reconciled with loyalty to the British crown. It was an impossible task. By breaking that connection we are beginning a new and happier chapter in Irish life."

The next task, he said, is to "achieve unity," a reference to Eire's desire for the six counties of Northern Ireland.

Set Standards For GI-Loan Veterans Homes

Washington, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Veterans Administration today set minimum building standards for GI-loan homes.

They are designed to protect home-buying World War II veterans from shoddy construction or from being cheated by unprincipled contractors or salesmen, the agency said. They go into effect December 15.

The rules specify the minimum quality of materials, construction techniques, workmanship, equipment installation and structural details necessary for veterans loan guarantees.

The GI standards parallel the minimum construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration. The veterans agency emphasized they are not intended to discourage builders from including extra features.

Jack Benny Goes To New Network

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Sunday night Jack Benny show switches from the National Broadcasting Company to the Columbia Broadcasting System next Jan. 2.

Date for the move, which had been expected, was set yesterday.

NBC and CBS had been struggling for the comedian's show, and trade circles quoted figures as high as $4,000,000 involved in the deal.

Can We Help . . .

America and the other democracies recognize full well that either they must win the "cold war" against Bolshevism Russia or they will have to fight a "hot war" in due course for a certainty.

Should China fall to the Communists, the Far East might well become the armageddon of the fight between democracy and totalitarian Bolshevism.

Books And . . .

"The history gave me a view of the world I never had before. It was like looking through the small end of a telescope. For the first time, all the pieces fitted together. It gave me a sense of continuity with the past.

"For the first time I was shaken out of thinking only in local terms or national terms and began thinking in terms of the whole world. It made me understand how we all started from the same terrible, primitive background and how far we have to go before we really have the thing we call civilization.

"And the 'Science of Life' gave me, close up and all in one place, a knowledge of living things."

Babson . . .

terrible faros. It really means that in addition to throwing favors to labor, farmers and consumers, he will throw one more gift to certain manufacturers so that production will not be curtailed.

Of course, this means higher taxes. All subsidies must ultimately be paid by the taxpayers. I therefore would expect to see an increase in corporation taxes, and possibly in personal income taxes to take care of these subsidies which would be in addition to our tremendous expenditures for armament at home and "peace" abroad. There would be a tremendous yell against such increased taxes but otherwise the deficit budget would require the issuance of more bonds. This would surely mean further inflation.

What About Business Confidence? I have been unable to find a businessman—Republican or Democrat—who is going ahead with new plans not already arranged for before election. Of course, there are great backlogs in industrial building, new homes, improvements to machinery, material stockpiles, etc. This backlog should keep gross business fairly good during 1949. Net earnings and dividends, however, are sure to fall off. Businessmen who were all pepped up to go ahead with expansion programs under Dewey are now crestfallen and discouraged. President Truman certainly should make some statement to revive the confidence of businessmen or else the present decline may run into a riot.

Now as to the New York attitude regarding the stock market: "Eliminating the possibility of more inflation, it may be wise to take profits at the present time. A few safe common stocks, however, are a good hedge against inflation along with sound education for your children, producing real estate, good furniture, rare diamonds, and solid gold necklaces, even although the quotations for all of these things may decline during the next two or three years."

And I was surprised at the number of them who said two books by H. G. Wells—"Outline of History" and "Science of Life"—were the biggest and best earliest influences in their lives.

Why? They said something like:

Three Boys Held For Spite Killing

Gaylord, Mich., Nov. 27—(AP)—Three boys were held today in the "spite killing" of an elderly woodcutter who wouldn't help them eger up their school truancy.

Authorities said the three youngsters, the oldest 13, admitted the fatal shooting of 66-year-old Arthur King in the woods near here Nov. 18.

Named in a formal state police warrant were Richard Damer, 13; his brother, Harry, 10, and Robert Black, 12, all of Vanderbit, Mich.

King was shot, it was said, because he refused to chop down a tree so that it would fall across a power line.

According to Prosecutor Paul J. any, the boys imagined this would cause consternation in town and "their absence from school wouldn't be noticed."

They had "skipped school" that day, Kenny said they told him, and encountered King while they roamed in the woods with a .22 rifle purchased with money which they stole from a home.

The boys, Kenny said, gave a complete story of the incident, relating that after King had chased them off they returned and shot him.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Corporation vs Heber Strickland, this case was compromised and settled and a court order was issued certifying it.

In the case of establishing the validity of the will of the late James Clerk, a jury answered that the document was his last will and testament.

The action in which Redmont T. Jolie, a minor, was suing the Folger Bulck Company for personal injuries when a truck, driven by William A. Hassell, in which he was riding turned over on Highway 43 last August 8, when a tire blew out was compromised and settled when the defendant offered the plaintiff $5,000. A court order certified the compromise and released the Folger Bulck Company from any further responsibility.

A mistrial was ordered in the case of Anne Register vs John C. Whitford.

Judge Hamilton adjourned the special term Wednesday.

Hidden Fortune Goes To Finder; Claimant Loses

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—The $7,200 in bills that the Myron family's cat scratched up three months ago will be turned over to Dr. Chester Myron, of Jackson Heights, Queens, next Friday by Police Property Clerk Frank Leuel.

The bills were discovered in old radiators stored in the garage when the four Myron children chased the cat into the building.

The cat scampered up to a loft and shortly the children below were al owered with $10, $20 and $50 bills.

A relative of a previous occupant of the house claimed the money, but a court ruled yesterday that ownership had not been established.

FROTH AND BUBBLE
Someone wrote John Galsworthy once asking him to state his creed. He quoted a verse written by Adam Lindsay Gordon which runs as follows:
"Life is mostly froth and bubble,
Two things stand like stone,
Kindness in another's trouble,
Courage in your own."
Anyone who fancies high theological doctrine would hesitate to call this an adequate creed, but that it is sound and robust advice, a formula for daily living sure to produce peace and stable character, no one can deny. In the midst of a life which often appears like froth and bubble, kindness and courage do stand like the eternal granite hills. They are correlatives. A man who is kind to others will endure his own troubles without grumbling; and conversely, a man who makes the best of his own troubles will have a deep understanding of the agony others experience when fortune serves them a sorry lot of circumstances.
So let us remember that in an unstable world,
Two things stand like stone,
Kindness in another's trouble,
Courage in your own."

By LYNN NISBET
HIGHWAYS—North Carolina has 82,300 miles of public roads for construction and maintenance of which the state highway and public works commission is responsible. This mileage is divided into several technical classifications, but for general purposes two classes suffice—state roads and county roads. The state roads are those which have distinguishing numbers such as US-1 or NC-10. The county roads are those which do not have numerical designations and which do not appear on the big highway maps. In the numbered state system there are 11,362 miles and in the county system 51,938 miles.
CONFUSING—Further breakdown in technical terminology sometimes confuses the average citizen. The federal public roads administration has primary and secondary classifications, and additional descriptive phrases such as "differing types of construction in both. To some people a road treated with crushed stone or gravel is a paved road, while in technical engineering terms a paved road means concrete or high quality asphaltic surface. Furthermore, the highway commission separates items of rural roads from those sections of state highways within corporate limits of towns and cities. Consequently, highway sources sometimes give conflicting answers to similar questions and about road mileage of particular type construction.
URBAN—For example, one man called the statistical office the other day and got a figure of 9,780 miles of paved primary highways; another called and got an answer quoting 10,790 miles of hard-surfaced roads. Both were right. The first figure covered roads outside of towns and cities, while the second embraced city streets and a few miles perhaps of hard surfacing which did not qualify for the engineer's definition of paving.
RURAL—Hard-surfaced mileage outside of towns and cities was 12,284 miles the first of this year. By December 31 the mileage is estimated to be 15,187. Of that total, the primary or numbered roads account for 9,780, while county roads have 5,377 miles. During the calendar year 1948 approximately 600 miles of primary roads and more than 1200 miles of county roads were surfaced.
SUMMARY—That leaves the picture about like this: In the state-federal primary system 11,362 miles of which 10,790 miles are hard-surfaced and 572 miles not paved; in the county system, 51,938 miles of which 5,377 miles have been put in all-weather condition with water-resistant paving of some type, and 46,561 miles have no approved all-weather surfacing—although several thousand miles have been treated with stone or gravel.
PROGRESS—Almost phenomenal progress has been made in improving county roads since the war, but the achievement record is still far behind the goal set. Governor Cherry three years ago said he hoped to surface three thousand miles of county roads a year for ten years. The record shows county roads paved as follows: 1945 twelve miles; 1946 six hundred seventy miles; 1947 eleven hundred eighty-one miles; 1948 (estimated) twelve hun-vised to get up on the right side of the bed in the morning. But I don't know of any that work well.

And Where She Stops Nobody Knows

I know of people who go to sleep with a pot of coffee on a hot plate by their bedside. I know others who leave their radios turned on or are called by telephone. They all still hate to get up.
The most ingenious contrivance I know of was rigged up by a screwball friend. He tied upside down on his bedstead a vacuum bottle full of hot coffee. Hanging from it was a tube with a clamp on the end.
When he woke up, my friend would reach up a drowsy hand, put the tube in his mouth, flip back the clamp and lie there peacefully drinking the life-giving fluid. But now he's back on alarm clocks.
"One morning the stopper came out of the bottle," he explained grimly. "Did you ever get woke up by a hot coffee shower?"
At a party the other night I was complaining about the daily battle I had getting out of bed.
"My husband had the same trouble," said a pretty young matron, "but I found a way to get him up and to work on time."
"Yes?"
"Well, I had to get up first to change the baby," she said. "One morning I accidentally laid the diaper on the pillow beside my husband. He got up immediately."
"Then I started putting the diaper on the pillow deliberately. My husband never was late after that. That worked for a long time, but now I am having the same old trouble with him."
"What happened?"
"Our baby," said the lady, "is growing up."

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(P)—The biggest need today is a pleasant way to get up in the morning.
In this respect England is the most civilized country on the globe. There the traveler is awakened by a rap on the door, and somebody brings a cup of hot tea in and sets it by his bed.
After ten or fifteen minutes of sipping this relaxing brew, a man is reconciled to the dismal prospect of rising and facing a cruel world.
I tried to adopt this pleasant practice in my own household. But after the first four days Frances yawned one morning and said:
"Well, Rover boy, you've been pampered long enough. It's your turn to make the tea today."
That ended that. I'm so helpless in the kitchen I can't boil water without burning it.
The modern alarm clock, the poor man's substitute for the sunrise, in any form is the most intolerable gadget contrived by a machine-worshipping age. It is far worse than hammer blow on the head. Once I bought a Swiss musical alarm clock, thinking this would ease the wear and tear on jangled nerves.
It played the "blue danube." The first week or so it wasn't bad. After that it slowly began to instill a collective pause, so that today if I hear a waltz at any hour, day or night, I have the sensation of a workhorse' undergoing the dry heaves. Somehow Strauss and the cold gray dawn don't go together any better than lavender and old snuff.
Hundreds of ways have been de-

WASHINGTON LETTER

By SIGRID ARNE
(For Jane Eads)
Washington — A friendly porter may whisper: "We've got some refugees aboard. Lithuanians. Going to Wisconsin." Or your ladies' aid may announce that the next Wednesday night supper will be attended by a family of Poles. Or your youngster may rush home to say: "Mon, there's a new boy in school. Ukrainian."
The country is about to take in 205,000 homeless people—homeless because they don't want to live in a police state.
These refugees will enter our land in the next two years under the Displaced Persons Act passed last June. They will be counted against immigration quotas of the future.
They are being hand picked from the 200 refugee camps scattered over Western Europe. There will be homes and jobs waiting for each.
The wheels start turning when some person or agency promises a job and home and asks for a type of workman. That request goes to the Displaced Persons Commission here. The commission notifies its headquarters in Frankfurt, Germany. In Frankfurt a commission job-analyst combs refugee lists for an eligible person able to fill the job. The man's name goes to American intelligence officers who check to see whether he's supported either Nazi or Communist groups. If he hasn't, he's passed on with his family (if he has one) to a public health service doctor. Finally, an American consul goes over all the records. If he approves, the family is in its way.
Three kinds of requests are coming in for these wage Europeans. First, from a group of agencies—such as the Church World Service on the United Ukrainian Relief. Second, from relatives of Europeans. Third, from other persons or whole industries.
The Commission doesn't check agencies or the relatives. It does check individuals and industries to make certain that the new Americans won't be brought here just to break American pay scales. The clothing industry has made the biggest lump request—for 2,000 European tailors. One farm county is asking for a European doctor. County leaders wrote they would take care of him and his family for the four years he has to wait to pass the state medical board examinations.
European workers are wanted by the Northwest lumber industry, Florida citrus growers, the Wisconsin dairy industry, the railroads, the lead and zinc mines of the Southwest. But the most endearing message comes from a Pennsylvania orphanage. It wants to adopt an orphan.
Sam Crawford of Detroit twice was the American League home run leader—in 1908 and 1914—and both times he recorded the lowest total—seven — ever needed to win the crown.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 26
Wayne drew up stiffly at the sound of the mocking voice. Rosalie kissed him once more before turning to face Rex, who was standing in the doorway swinging a key on a gold chain happily. He was dressed impeccably as always and sported a rose in his lapel. His sleek black hair and polished shoes gleamed with quiet brilliance. He was evidently quite unperturbed by what he had seen.
Rosalie held her head high. "I don't remember letting you in, Rex." He chuckled. "You didn't. The key did."
"I certainly never gave you a key to my apartment."
"Naturally not, darling. I would never have dreamed of suggesting such a thing. But naturally I needed one - or felt I would some day."
Wayne swept him with a glance before speaking. "What do you want me to do, Rosalie?"
She smiled. "Thank you. Just pick up the tickets at Grand Central. Then you might use your influence to get us from Chicago to San Francisco. Be back for lunch about twelve-thirty. We want to allow time for our little visit before catching the Century."
Wayne nodded and walked quietly out of the apartment.
"What's the big idea, darling?" She looked at him coolly. "I think that is my question. How dare you force your way in on me like this?"
"Didn't you expect me? I'm sure you did. When you dismissed Lucy over the phone you knew she'd get in touch with me at once, even if I was burned out of my hotel. That was a narrow escape."
"I am very glad you were rescued. Otherwise I might have gone on being a fool. Some things you only believe when you see them for yourself."
"You sound so mysterious. Just what did you see, darling?"
"I saw Joe carry you and Daisy Winters down the ladder."
He waved his hands gaily. "Since you've told me what you saw, why should I bother denying the obvious or trying to explain the unexplainable? We decided before that we all have our weaknesses. I mine and even you yours. After all, you did seem rather entangled with Wayne Kahler just now. Were you trying to get a little financial backing, perhaps? It always helps in the theater."
She tapped her foot. "I am going to marry Wayne."
He raised his brows. "Really? Did his father's letter influence you so much? I found it here when I dropped in yesterday."
"I don't think you understand, Rex. I am giving up the foolish notion of a career. It was all nonsense. I'm leaving on the Century with Wayne this afternoon. I shall marry him in California as soon as my trunk is packed and I shall be ready when Wayne comes back in two hours."
"Good. I'll help you pack. You'd be surprised how handy I can be. I was going to have you fly out to the Coast, but going out with Wayne will be just as well. I can have a couple of days more and get there by plane as soon as you. Thank heaven for wings. I don't expect to have any other kind."
She held out her hand. "This is goodbye, Rex."
He took her hand lightly. "I'll come to see you off on the train. We'll want some pictures. Must do everything right, you know."
She pulled her hand away angrily. "Can't you be serious even for one minute?"
"Yes, I can. And make you very happy, too."
"You make me happy. Not a chance."
"Rosalie, darling, we have won. The word came yesterday. You can take your screen test either here or in Hollywood, but all things considered it might be better out there, since I know the decision in advance."
He chuckled. "Get dressed, come to the office, and you'll see it in black and white on my desk. Don't you realize I've been working for us? Now we've got the ball by the tail. Don't you see a chance like this doesn't happen twice?"
"Yes, I see."
The little words came in a faint whisper. She had drawn herself up and was staring out of the window. Rex gave her a quick hug.
"I know how you feel. It seems impossible but it's true. Rosalie belongs to the world from now on. Go out with Wayne. String him along. See Joe before you go, and his mother. I'll have a man there to take pictures."
"Mrs. Monahan almost died. That is why I came back."
"Well, just the right angle. Darling, you know your publicity angle. We'll sit on top of the world together. Don't stare at me. Call up Miss Garden and have her verify what I'm telling you."
"I don't need to. I-I know it's true."
"Certainly it is. And don't I get a kiss for it?"
She hesitated. "Suppose-suppose I fall."
He chuckled. "If you do, you won't take Wayne. Or Joe. But you won't fall. The cameras are waiting."
Chapter 27
"And here it is in another paper. Look at this, me proud duchess, and you'll feel like jumpin' out o' bed altogether."
Pat held it out to her, laughing and excited. Mrs. Monahan gave a quick glance and thrust it away impatiently.

"Sure I don't need any newspaper to show me a picture of my own son. Suppose he did carry two people down a ladder at once. What's in that, when he's strong as an ox and them with not enough clothes on so they'd weigh anything? It's his job to save people, ain't it? It's what the city pays him to do."
Pat grinned at her. "I still say he'll be gettin' medals for it, mark my word."
"I'd mark your word for more, Pat Bulger, if you'd do something about gettin' Rosalie here to see me. Last night was nothin' at all. She wasn't here with me no time at all, when she had to go gallivantin' off to that fire. What is it people sees in fires, anyway?"
Pat pulled a long face. "In this case our Rosalie saw plenty. The man Joe carried down and saved is her fiancé, that theatrical agent, and the hussy with him-well, ya might say she was just with him."
"You talk too much, Pat Bulger. I might say."
Bella came bursting in through the front room, waving a paper. "Here's more about the fire, Mrs. Monahan. It says here that Joe-"
"I don't want to hear about it. She put her fat hands over her ears. "I'm supposed to have peace and quiet and here is everybody rushin' in and out like I was dead and them having the time o' their lives at the wake."
Bella gaped and drew herself up. "I'm very sorry if I've annoyed you."
"Faith and you ought to be. All the time clack, clack, clack Joe this, Joe that, Joe the other thing. Do you think you can tell me anything about my own boy? Why don't you let him alone for five minutes? Give him a chance to breathe. Let him know his soul's his own. Go away and give him a chance to think. Go back to work."
Pat came between them. "Go home, child. You're making things worse."
He meant it kindly, since he liked her, but Bella didn't receive his words in that spirit. She flung round at him, her eyes blazing.
"It's all your fault. You sent for her. You couldn't let her stay where she was and rot there. You can't deny it. Joe didn't want her. You sent the telegram and signed his

Austere Voyage For Giant Liner

Southampton, England, Nov. 26 - (AP) - By the Queen Elizabeth's usual standards it will be an austere voyage when the world's largest ocean liner sails for New York next Sunday-11 days behind schedule.
But there will be no complaining from the passengers.
"It's enough for us that we'll be on our way," said one.
About 1,500 passengers have been stranded aboard the Elizabeth here since last Friday, awaiting the outcome of the American East coast dockworkers' strike. An agreement was reached yesterday and the Sunday sailing date set.
News of the sailing plan touched off mass rejoicing aboard the ship. The announcement was all the more welcome because it came on Thanksgiving Day.
But free spending and high spending characteristic of the Queen's routine crossings will be out for most passengers, many of whom have gone broke during their unexpected layover in Southampton.
The bulk of the 1,500 passengers now aboard, and probably of the 600 stranded passengers who will be picked up at Cherbourg on the New York run, now cannot afford the more expensive shipboard pastimes.
Even tipping will be a problem. Hard-up travelers say they simply have not got the cash and several already have paid tips by check.
"Rex Hall. He is Rosalie's agent. He is also going to marry her. I showed you that piece in the paper some time ago."
"I don't put no stock in no papers. Engaged to Rosalie indeed. I won't have it. It ain't decent. The fat woman made a vast effort and sat up."
"Mother! You must lie down. You -"
The fat woman thrust her away. "I won't lie down. And I won't be called Mother in that Park Avenue voice of yours. I won't let our Rosalie marry a man that has naked women in his room and then sets fire to hotels. It ain't decent. I'll put a stop to it."
"Mother. Lie down. Pat! Come here instantly."

Refuse Request Defer Students

Washington, Nov. 26 - (AP) - Selective service today refused to defer Chiropractic students from the draft.
The National Chiropractic Association and the National Capital Chiropractic Society had protested to director general Lewis B. Hershey after a special selective service "healing arts" committee recommended deferring medical, veterinarians, osteopathic and dental students, but omitted the chiropractors.
"OUT OF ACTION"
London, Nov. 26 - (AP) - King George VI may have to lead a quiet life for the rest of his days, the British medical publication, Lancet, said today.

New York, Nov. 26 - (AP) - Coast Guard and air force planes continued a near-hopeless search today for the British freighter Hopstar and her crew of 37.

College Football Closes Major Contests Today

Colorful Army-Navy Duel Headlines Score Of Major Games; Several Bowl Spots To Be Filled By Today's Results

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—College football bows out with a bang today, with a score of major games headlined by the colorful Army-Navy duel in Philadelphia before 102,000 persons and President Truman.

This is the final big college football afternoon of the 1948 season, although a handful of scattered engagements are on tap next Saturday.

While the Cadets and Middies engage in their annual brawl in the city of brotherly love for the honor of West Point and Annapolis, a lot of attention is going elsewhere.

This because several choice New Year's Day Bowl spots remain to be filled, and the lads who hope to grab off the rich prizes have a job to do first.

Georgia, for instance, is like a tit teetering on the rim of the Sugar Bowl. Georgia has to knock off its old bitter rival, Georgia Tech, in order to stay in the running.

North Carolina, which winds up its schedule against Virginia at Charlottesville, may be in line for a Sugar Bowl bid, along with Oklahoma. The Sooners take on Oklahoma A and M at Stillwater.

Another tilt with the Sugar flavor is Tulane versus Louisiana State. Any one of these, along with Oregon—which has ended its regular schedule—Michigan State, and Clemson, are under consideration also for possible trips to the Miami Orange Bowl, or the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

Other late Bowl developments included an announcement that the University of Missouri had accepted a bid to play in the "Gator Bowl" at Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 1. No opponent has been named, but Clemson was mentioned as a likely candidate.

Utah University players also voted to play in the Delta Bowl at Memphis New Year's Day if invited.

Unbeaten Clemson hopes to boost its Bowl stock against Auburn at Mobile, Ala., today. Clemson still has another game, though, with the Citadel at Charleston, S. C., next Saturday.

Notre Dame Has Winning Record To Be Broken

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27—(AP)—Notre Dame, aiming for a new school winning record of 31 consecutive football victories, tangled with the University of Washington today before a capacity crowd of 68,000.

The Irish, closing out their 1948 home stand before their 34th straight sellout crowd, enter the game with a winning streak of 26 and an undefeated sequence of 28 which includes the scoreless tie with Army in 1946.

Both marks, which equal Notre Dame records will fall today if the Irish make the Huskies their ninth victim of the 1948 campaign. Notre Dame ends its season against Southern California in Los Angeles Dec. 4.

Negro Selected For Shrine Game

San Francisco, Nov. 27—(AP)—The first Negro to be selected for the East-West Shrine game is Gene Derricotte of Michigan, backfield star.

He was among the 20 collegiates named by the East Selection Committee yesterday as having accepted invitations to play next Jan. 1.

Names of the East's four remaining players will be announced when they complete their current season.

Wishing all a Merry Christmas and Prosperous, Happy New Year.

H. ADLER, Mgr.

Comes Up Mud

Philadelphia, Nov. 27—(AP)—Mud apparently will be the order of the day when Army and Navy meet at Municipal Stadium today before an expected 102,000 fans, including President Truman and his family.

It has been raining hard here since shortly after midnight and the latest weather bureau forecast says it won't stop until sometime after 1 p.m. (EST).

Graziano Faces NBA Suspension

Pateron, N. J., Nov. 27—(AP)—Rocky Graziano, former middleweight champion, has been suspended indefinitely from boxing in all parts of the world under NBA supervision.

The ruling on the Brooklyn, N. Y., boxer was announced yesterday by Abe J. Greene, president of the NBA and followed similar action by the California State Boxing Commission.

The California commission acted. Joe Genshlea, its secretary, said as a result of Graziano's "running out" on a fight Dec. 1 in Oakland, Calif., with Fred Apostol.

Greene said the NBA action was automatic. The NBA, he said, always concurs with any action taken by any member commission.

Graziano will be given a "chance to straighten the matter out," if he desires at a hearing Dec. 18 in Los Angeles. If the California commission decides to lift the ban, the NBA will also reinstate Graziano, Greene said.

The suspension covers most states in America and most parts of the world, including Great Britain, the European Boxing Federation, Cuba, Mexico and Canada, Greene said.

Graziano has been unable to fight for almost two years in New York, where his license was suspended for failure to report an alleged bribe attempt.

Football Counts First Fatality In North Carolina

Wilmington, Nov. 27—(AP)—North Carolina counted its first football fatality today.

Bobby Shew, 16-year-old star halfback for the New Hanover High School Jayvees, died last night while his team was playing Tabor City here.

Shew had just streaked off two long runs which enabled his team to score in the first period when he collapsed on the field.

He was carried to the sidelines and then rushed to a hospital. Physicians pronounced him dead on arrival.

Coroner Gordon Doran said death was caused by a heart attack. The game was called when announcement was made of the youth's death.

Grifton Squads Came Out Even

Grifton—Grifton High School's girls and boys split a doubleheader with Winterville in practice games played in the local gym on Nov. 18.

The Winterville girls lost to Grifton 21-25. E. Braxton and F. Phillips were high-scorers for Grifton with 17 and 12 points respectively.

Grifton's boys were defeated by Winterville 26-14. Castelleo led Winterville with 10 points. Ewell, Rogers and Mumford led Grifton with 10, 3, 3 points respectively.

Gallorette Runs In Final Race

Bowie, Md., Nov. 27—(AP)—Gallorette, the world's greatest money winning mare, was set to run her last race today, the $20,000 Bryan and O'Hara Memorial which closes the current Bowie meet.

The six-year-old mare owned by Mrs. Marie Moore was up against a stiff overnight field of 13 in her effort to add to her record earnings of $445,535.

Red Rolfe

Red Rolfe should bring along new enthusiasm when he takes over his new post as manager of the Detroit Tigers. In his former role as director of the Tiger farm system the former Yankee third base ace had an excellent opportunity to survey the material earmarked for future Detroit service. It is quite likely that plenty of new blood will find its way into his line-up.

Moving into the post of a big league manager without any previous experience as a pilot of a professional team might be asking too much of some men but in the case of Rolfe this does not hold true. Red is starting his career as a major league manager at 40. He has had considerable experience handling young athletes. He did an excellent job at Yale University as baseball and basketball coach. He coached a pro basketball team and then, in 1946, returned to the Yankees as a coach under Manager Joe McCarthy.

It is to be expected that Rolfe will carry the McCarthy brand as a manager. He must have learned much from his contact over the years with McCarthy. What made McCarthy click as a manager, and his tactical maneuvers on the field. Red has been an outspoken admirer of McCarthy, and he could do worse than emulate the master. As a player Red was all that could be desired. If he performs in the same high standard as a manager, Detroit fans are assured a fine brand of baseball.

Chicod Divides Basketball Bill With Bridgeton

Chicod, Nov. 26—The Chicod basketball teams split victories with Bridgeton High School on Nov. 23 with the Chicod girls defeating Bridgeton 18-9. Hazel Adams was high-scorer for the winners with seven points to her credit, and Shirley Buck was second-high with six points.

This contest marked the fourth win, and no defeats, for the Chicod girls in the current season.

The Bridgeton boys racked up a score of 25-11 against their Chicod opponents.

TARAWA—5 YEARS AGO AND NOW

The U.S. Marines took Betio Island in the Tarawa atoll from the Japanese five years ago in a fierce 76-hour battle that ended on Nov. 23, 1943. Top: Broken piles are all that remain today of the pier that was a bridge to victory. When low tide set in landing craft on edge of the reef, the Marines battled along the pier to reinforce beachhead. This is looking north from shore. In the background is a rusting landing boat. ## Bowl Will Reveal Schools Tonight

New Orleans, Nov. 27—(AP)—A Sugar Bowl official says teams for the annual New Year's Day football classic here will be announced tonight about 8:30 p.m. (GST).

The time was set in an announcement yesterday by Fred Dickey, executive manager of the Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsor of the game.

The time of the announcement could indicate either one of two things. Either the bowl committee is considering a Southeastern Conference team. (The conference has a rule barring member teams from entering bowl agreements until 6 p.m. (GST) the Saturday after Thanksgiving.)

Or it also could mean Sugar Bowl officials are awaiting results of games being played during the day by other teams not in the Southeastern League.

The latter include North Carolina, which ends its season today against Virginia, and Oklahoma University, which meets Oklahoma A&M.

Unbeaten Georgia ISBC leader, will clash with Georgia Tech, and Tulane faces a revitalized Louisiana State eleven at Baton Rouge.

Speculation so far has also included Michigan State in Sugar Bowl possibilities.

LI'l Arthur Has Big Ring Future

New York, Nov. 27—(AP)—The folks are going to be hearing more about LI'l Arthur King.

At 21 this compact Negro from Toronto who holds the British Empire lightweight championship has all the earmarks of a real comer.

It may be a year or so before he is ready, but Madison Square Garden and the other big fight arenas of the nation seem to have a sure shot main go attraction.

In winning a unanimous 10-round decision last night over the veteran Chester Rico, LI'l Arthur gave a fine exhibition for 2,247 fans who paid $5.943 at St. Nicholas arena.

He completely shut Rico's well-battered left eye and raised a big lump under the other with a classy left jab.

A left uppercut kept Chester's head bobbing. A stiff right to the body was most effective.

Both judges voted for King 10-0 and Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 9-0 with one even. The (AP) card read 10-0.

Big Field Runs In Nat'l AAU Cross Country

Detroit, Nov. 27—(AP)—A field of more than 100 top-ranking distance specialists, including Rhode Island State's potent Bob Black, poised today for the National AAU senior cross-country race.

Black, holder of the ICAA and NCAA crowns, loomed as the top threat to titleholder Curt Stone, formerly of Penn State and now running for Shanahan Catholic Club of Philadelphia.

Runners representing a dozen colleges and clubs were scheduled to go to the starting line at 11 a.m. (EST) for the grueling 6 1/4 mile grind over a Cloverleaf course, laid out across the Warren Valley Golf course.

Business manager Lew Cromwell is the only member of the Detroit Lions' organization who has been with the club since it switched to the Motor City in 1924 from Portsmouth, Ohio.

Detroit, Nov. 27—(AP)—A field of more than 100 top-ranking distance specialists, including Rhode Island State's potent Bob Black, poised today for the National AAU senior cross-country race.

Black, holder of the ICAA and NCAA crowns, loomed as the top threat to titleholder Curt Stone, formerly of Penn State and now running for Shanahan Catholic Club of Philadelphia.

Runners representing a dozen colleges and clubs were scheduled to go to the starting line at 11 a.m. (EST) for the grueling 6 1/4 mile grind over a Cloverleaf course, laid out across the Warren Valley Golf course.

Business manager Lew Cromwell is the only member of the Detroit Lions' organization who has been with the club since it switched to the Motor City in 1924 from Portsmouth, Ohio.

Oregon's Coach Flies To Scout Possible Rivals

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 27—(AP)—Head coach Jim Aiken of Oregon headed here by air to scout Southern Methodist in its football game today against Texas Christian in case this team should play SMU in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

At Eugene, University of Oregon officials declined to say whether they had received a bid to the game. But the team's co-captain, left end Dan Garza, said the invitation had been received and that the squad had voted unanimously to accept it, provided the Pacific Coast conference gives its okay.

Pedigreed Pooch No Sea Dog; Pup Is Landlubber

Miami, Fla., Nov. 27—(AP)—No sea dog is Princess Ann, a pedigree Boxer. Give her a safe lighthouse any day.

Princess Ann, her owner, Mrs. C. F. Roche of Miami, and six other persons were at sea when their boat became disabled. They took refuge at the Fowey Rock Light.

When the Coast Guard got ready to take everybody home, Princess Ann couldn't be found. She was presumed lost at sea.

Hours later a Coast Guardman made a routine check of the light. Away up at the top against the lens huddled Princess Ann, as far from the sea as she could crawl. She was returned home a confirmed landlubber.
