

Suchow Defenders March Southward For Major Fight

Rush To Aid Of Surrounded Nationalist Army; Ominous Signs In Nanking; Nervousness Is Reflected In Diplomatic And Government Circles

Nanking, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The powerful Suchow garrison has begun marching south to the relief of 140,000 comrades trapped by the Communists to the south, usually reliable sources said today.

The decision to abandon the base of East Central China 211 miles northwest of Nanking was taken in a desperate attempt to salvage forces for the defense of the capital.

Suchow had stood firm under nearly a month of Communist assault. But it was outflanked by a sweeping Red drive to the south which cut across Suchow's lines of communications.

The strong government forces stationed there were reported moving south to engage Communist troops which have encircled the Nationalist Twelfth army group.

The government four days ago ordered the garrison to quit Suchow, but the troops stuck to the fortified city 211 miles northwest of Nanking.

Aircraft on Suchow's large air field were ordered to leave during the night, these informants said.

There was no government confirmation of this report. However there was no secret about the previous order to the 250,000-man Suchow garrison to get out and fight.

The Suchow defenders were told to go to the assistance of the 140,000 government troops under Gen. Huang Wei encircled about 145 miles northwest of Nanking in the Sun-shien area.

Only bright news from Chiang Kai-shek's government came from the northern front. An official dispatch said Chiang's armies captured Peolow, inner Mongolian rail terminus 320 miles west of Peking.

Government headquarters also said planes inflicted heavy casualties on Communist convoys moving southward through Jehol province.

Meanwhile two ominous signs appeared in Nanking. (1) There was a total absence of war news in the afternoon papers. (2) The government's military spokesmen remained away from their office. In the past both of these have indicated reverses of considerable importance to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies.

Nervousness was reflected in both diplomatic and government circles in this capital. Various diplomatic missions joined the American embassy in evacuating embassy and consular staff dependents to safer areas. The U. S. embassy announced Navy planes Thursday would start flying 100 American dependents from Nanking and Shanghai to Manila. Americans in Central China have already been warned to "move to areas of greater safety."

The flight of national government officials from China reached such proportions that the control yuan was reported to have adopted a resolution that passports be given

Caught In Act

Fort Bragg, N. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—An attempted robbery of a $51,400 army payroll was thwarted today and four Negro soldiers were placed in the Fort Bragg stockade to await a general court martial.

Capt. George Andrews, Public Information Officer, said those arrested are Pfc. Robert P. Harris, Pfc. Artie Curtis, Pfc. Samuel Richardson and another soldier whom he declined to identify.

The captain told this story: Eight officers from the Provost Marshal's department and two Counter Intelligence division officers, acting on a tip, lay in wait on a heavily-used road. As a staff car bearing the money hurried down the road, another car forced it to the curb.

The would-be robbers, three of them heavily armed, surrounded the payroll car and at that juncture were themselves surrounded.

Highway Wrecks Well Above 1947

Death Toll Down; Most Mishaps On Straight Level Roads

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—During the first nine months of the year 508 persons were killed and 5,353 others injured in 11,323 traffic accidents on Tar Heel highways.

Fatalities showed a 15 per cent reduction over the same period last year, when 595 persons were killed, according to figures released today by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Total accidents, however, jumped 28 per cent over the corresponding period in 1947.

The fatality report showed that 82 per cent of all traffic deaths occurred in rural areas, with the remaining 18 per cent in cities and towns.

Most accidents took place on straight level roads with nothing to mar the driver's vision. Saturday was the most unsafe day of the week as far as accidents were concerned, and Tuesday the safest. Most accidents occurred between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Charlotte led all cities and towns for the nine months in the fatality report, with nine persons killed. Fayetteville was second with seven; Raleigh had five; and Winston-Salem, Burlington, and Henderson four each.

Guatemalans Put Under Restraint

Guatemala, Guatemala, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A cabinet member said today constitutional guarantees have been suspended in Guatemala.

The announcement followed a government report of an unsuccessful plot to seize the military base at Puerto Barrios, Guatemala's chief seaport.

Condemned Japs Given Respite From Hangman

Tokyo, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Wartime Premier Hideki Tojo and six other top Japanese war makers won an eleven hour respite today from the hangman's noose.

General Douglas MacArthur said they would "certainly not" be executed until the Supreme Court of the United States has acted on appeals by two of the condemned men.

The next scheduled meeting of the Supreme Court is December 6. (If the Supreme court rejects the appeal next Monday, as it did a similar petition by German war criminals, Japan's war makers could be hanged Dec. 7 on the seventh anniversary of Pearl Harbor.)

The appeals from the International military tribunal's verdict were filed in Washington yesterday in behalf of former Premier Koki Hirota, who helped plot Japan's pre-World War II war plans and Gen. Kenji Dohara, known to the Chinese as the "Bird of Evil Omen."

The Associated Press asked the Supreme allied command whether General MacArthur would "Recognize the appeal and order the execution of these two men delayed or whether he will ignore the appeal."

This brought the following statement from MacArthur's public information office:

"In reply to a query from the Press as to whether the condemned

India's Outcasts Given Equality

New Delhi, India, Nov. 30.—(AP)—India's 50,000,000 untouchables, former outcasts of Hindu society are granted equality with other citizens of the Indian Union by a provision in the draft constitution now being drawn up.

The constituent assembly yesterday adopted a provision outlawing untouchability and providing penalties for its practice in any shape or form.

Economists See Good Omens For Industrial Front

Production Records And Lower Prices Noted In Cheering National Survey

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Government economists found good omens for the future today in surveys along the nation's industrial front.

These reports included:

1. A new peacetime production record in October—almost double the pre-war average.
2. Fewer strikes the first 10 months of 1948 than in the two preceding years.
3. An 11 per cent drop in prices of farm products since January's postwar peak.

Although there were some dark spots on the industrial picture the total effect appeared cheering.

In staking up the production records, the Federal Reserve Board said last night that last month's output boosted its index three points to a level 95 per cent above the 1935-39 average. The previous high was February's 94 per cent, but the gauge fell to 87 per cent in April and July.

Production of manufactured goods alone, the board said, better than doubled the pre-war mark, with durable items turned out at a rate 130 per cent above the pre-war scale and non-durable goods produced at a 79 per cent clip.

The Federal Reserve credited the record October upswing mainly to new production marks in the steel and automobile industries.

The board noted, however, that department store sales were not making their usual seasonal rise and that "prices of foods and some other products declined."

These price drops, while cheering to housewives, have been worrying some economists who think they may be the forerunners of a break similar to the post-war collapse of 1920-21.

But Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said no such collapse is in prospect. He told the Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers here yesterday that falling prices at a period like this "can be a good thing so long as these declines are confined to individual commodities."

"Disaster comes," he said, "when the downward readjustments are permitted to spiral into a general price decline which creates depression and unemployment."

On-Job-Training Vets Suspended Pending Reports

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Approximately 4,000 veterans enrolled in on-the-job training in this region were suspended last month by the Veterans Administration, it was announced today.

These men, VA said, will not receive their monthly subsistence checks until they submit monthly reports on the progress of their work.

In making the announcement, E. C. Hemmingsway, chief of the vocational rehabilitation and education division, said that even this figure represents a considerable decrease over the previous two months during which a total of 16,000 suspensions were listed.

He indicated that those dropped will be in reinstated as rapidly as reports are recovered.

Scientists And Duty

Men Of Science Are Arguing Among Themselves As To Whether They Should Make Deadly Weapons Of War; Two Obligations; It All Began With The Atom Bomb

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Scientists are arguing among themselves about making deadly weapons of war. Should they or shouldn't they make them?

Some of the argument has appeared from time to time in the past year in a monthly magazine called the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists.

The argument has been going on since the atomic bomb was made and its frightfulness was seen in the smashing of Hiroshima.

Scientists who helped make the bomb have been among the leaders trying to make the government and the people realize its full terror.

They have used much time and energy urging international control over the bomb and an end to war. But what should a scientist do about working on a new deadly weapon for his country?

That's where the argument begins and some of it, in rough form, is given in what follows:

A scientist's job is to do the best work he can as a scientist.

Suppose his handiwork is able to wipe out half of mankind. It's still the responsibility of society to decide whether to use it or destroy it. It's not his responsibility to decide how it's used.

But he does have some responsibility, because he is a member of that society and war and killing people are bad.

Responsibility for a deadly weapon should begin with a scientist himself. He's shirking it by leaving the final decision to society.

His responsibility starts right at the beginning. In other words, he should not do anything that would help spread destruction or war.

Therefore, he should refuse to take part in making deadly weapons.

But is this really right? Can a man who makes a knife be considered responsible if someone else uses it to commit murder?

In deciding he won't help make a deadly weapon, the scientist is deciding his judgment is superior to that of the government and all the people.

And the mere refusal of a scientist, or a number of scientists, to help make deadly weapons, isn't going to prevent war. Weapons don't cause war. Societies make war upon one another and use the best weapons they have.

Further, if American scientists refuse to make weapons that might be

Is 74 Today

London, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Winston Churchill, symbol to millions of Britain's war spirit, is 74 today. The conservative former prime minister received a flood of congratulatory messages and gifts, including books, flowers, a huge cake from a London baking firm, and plenty of cigars.

Seal Sale Shows Promising Tally

Returns For First Week Over $1,700 Says J.H. Waldrop

Although the 1948 Christmas Seal Sale was launched only a week ago residents of Pitt County, by their prompt response during the first seven days, have already shown that they want the services of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association to continue, J. H. Waldrop, county Seal Sale president, said yesterday.

Returns for the first week total $1,738.00, he added, and although it is too early to predict a final outcome, the report offers encouragement that the $7,500 quota will be reached before the end of the sale on December 25. The quota, Mr. Waldrop explained, is the minimum needed to carry on the tuberculosis association's expanded 1948 program.

Mr. Waldrop said that at the money raised in this county, 75 per cent remains in the county to fight tuberculosis here and the remainder is forwarded to the North Carolina State Tuberculosis Association. The state sends five per cent to the National Tuberculosis Association to finance its work on a national level. Of the total raised in the county Seal Sale, therefore, 95 per cent will be used within the State.

Hartley Favors Some Revisions For Labor Law

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.) co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor law said today he favors repeal of the present requirement for an employees' election to determine whether there should be a Union shop.

Experience with this requirement, he explained, has demonstrated that it is "costly and unnecessary."

He said union shop agreements could be made a matter of bargaining directly between labor and management.

Hartley told reporters he also believes that the present requirement for labor union officials to file non-Communist affidavits should be extended to management.

The retiring chairman of the house labor committee predicted that the new Democratic-controlled Congress will repeal the act's ban on closed shop contracts.

Fly Dependents Out Of Nanking

Nanking, Nov. 30.—(AP)—One hundred dependents of American Embassy and Consular attaches will be evacuated from Nanking and Shanghai by naval aircraft, the U. S. Embassy announced today.

They will be flown to Manila, starting Thursday.

The announcement said: "This action is being taken in consonance of previous warnings to American citizens who have no compelling reason for remaining would be well advised to move to areas of greater safety."

Madame Chiang Enroute To U.S.

Honolulu, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek sped toward the United States today aboard an American plane to seek greater and faster aid for her husband's Chinese government.

At Moffett Field, Calif., she will board the "Sacred Cow," former personal plane of President Truman. It will carry her to Washington on the last leg of her flight which started Sunday in Shanghai.

First Four Go

The first four Pitt inductees under the new draft law left this morning at 6:35 for Fort Bragg to be inducted into the army.

The four are Byers Harper Adams, Albert Mayo Harris, Willie Owens and Fred Williams.

Solon Warns He Will Demand Real United Services

Senator Tells Military Chiefs He's Looking For Complete Unification

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Senator Hill (D-Ala.) warned the nation's military chiefs today he intends to "raise Cain until there is real unification of the armed forces."

As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Hill said he will demand in the next congress that the army, navy and air force put aside their "petty fighting" for the country's good.

In an interview before leaving for Alabama, the senator said: "The time has come for Secretary of Defense Forrestal to knock some heads together, or if need be, to knock some heads off, to carry out the intentions of the law passed by congress to give us unification in fact and not in fancy."

Hill was a member of the senate armed services subcommittee which began studying unification legislation in 1944. He said "the navy raised such strong objections" that the bill was not approved until last year. "But the spirit of the intent of the act have not been carried out," Hill said.

The veteran Alabama senator did not single out any specific instances, but the air force and navy have been quarreling openly over their sky assignments.

Air Force advocates claim that despite service agreements on wartime tasks the navy is trying to cut into the air force's long range bombing job with its carrier based planes.

Hill said the country now is "confronted by two dangerous situations" because the armed services have not settled their disputes.

The "first danger," he said, is that "we do not have a team of armed forces which congress felt was necessary for defense. The three separate services are fighting one another."

"The second danger is those fellows are asking so much money without unification—that it is a threat to our economy."

"We simply cannot push up the cost of defense without doing grave damage to this nation's economy."

Truman Calls For More 'Teamwork'

Stresses Need For Improvement On Domestic Scene

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—President Truman called today for better "teamwork" on the domestic scene "to promote world recovery and lasting peace."

In a message to state labor commissioners opening a three-day conference, Mr. Truman said: "Much still remains to be done."

"In the years ahead you have need for the same will and determination that you applied to your early tasks. We face grave problems in our states and in our nation. Only as we maintain and improve our teamwork on the domestic scene can we meet our world commitments and build world teamwork to achieve recovery and lasting peace."

Secretary of Labor Tobin read Mr. Truman's message to the labor representatives of more than 40 states beginning their 15th annual meeting.

In his own speech, Tobin outlined administration labor policy for the New Year. He told the delegates that some labor laws are "Worse than Taft-Hartley."

He urged them to unite in a campaign for "sound labor standards."

While Tobin was opening the three day session his aides were busy drafting a substitute measure for the 1947 Federal Labor Law President Truman has pledged to repeal.

Marshall, Austin Now In Hospital

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall is in Walter Reed Hospital for "tests and examinations," it was disclosed today. Warren Austin, U.S. delegate to the United Nations, also is a patient there and underwent an operation this morning.

Marshall and Austin each returned recently from the Paris UN meeting. In their absence, John Foster Dulles, a Republican, is acting head of the United States delegation.

However, Madame Chiang's sensational trip strikes American diplomatic circles as scoring a bit too much of high-pressure tactics, especially since it follows so closely on the generalissimo's direct appeal to President Truman for more help—and quick.

The whole problem is, of course, a matter of earnest discussion between Mr. Truman and General Marshall.

Well, it would have been more discreet if Nanking had held its hand until the President and the Secretary of State had a chance to thresh the matter out. Still, I think

Berlin Communists Set Up Puppet Government In City

Bramuglia's Mediation Plan May Get Try-Out

Appears Assured Of Big Four Trial; Neutral Commission To Handle Phases Of East-West Conflict Over Berlin

Paris, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A new plan for mediation of the Berlin crisis, devised by a man who wouldn't give up, appears assured of a Big Four trial.

Diplomatic progress on this plan was reported here today even as German Communists massed their strength for an attempt to seize political control of all Berlin.

Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister and retiring president of the United Nations Security Council, is the author.

The plan calls for a neutral commission of experts to handle the technical and procedural phases of the East-West conflict over dual currency and the Russian land blockade.

The United States, Britain, France and Russia would assign their own representatives to stand by in Paris for 30 days to give whatever aid the expert commission might require.

The plan appears intended to save face for all.

Bramuglia had been seeking, and failing, to bring the Big Four together since the Security Council voted Oct. 5 to air the charge of the United States, Britain and France that the Russian blockade was a threat to peace.

Bramuglia announced Russia agreed to his new plan last night and that he expected formal acceptance from the United States, Britain and France today. They have already accepted in principle.

He said he hopes the new mediation effort can get under way immediately. He steps down as president of the Security Council at midnight. His successor is Fernand van Lagenhove of Belgium, the December president of the council.

Through Bramuglia's olive branch campaign, technical problems would be cleared away and the quarrel would be reduced largely to political differences.

This does not mean the situation could not flare up again.

Nor is eventual success of the experts' study assured.

But Bramuglia, backed by the delegates of five other nations on the Security Council, has succeeded in winning concessions from both the East and West. Lined up with Argentina in the mediation effort are China, Belgium, Colombia, Syria and Canada. The experts of these six would make up the study commission.

Russia has denied the competence of the Security Council, or any other U.N. organ to decide matters connected with Germany.

Bramuglia's implied answer was that the expert commission will be an unofficial agency, operating outside the council.

Abrupt Cut For Army Draft Call

January And February Figures Slashed; Lack Of Funds

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Army today cut in half its proposed January draft call for 30,000 men. Lack of money was given as the reason.

At the same time, the Army announced the February call would be for only 5,000 men.

"The reductions were necessitated by the limitation of the military budget for fiscal 1950 to $15,000,000,000 of which $600,000,000 are for stock-piling of strategic war materials," the national military establishment said in a statement announcing the Army plans.

The new draft calls are far below the 30,000 a month average which Army Secretary Royal estimated last June when plans were being made for the peacetime draft.

The first call for November was 10,000 and the December call 15,000. The announcement said that neither the Navy nor Air Force has requested any inductions under the Selective Service Act.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The three military governments of western Germany reached "agreement in principle" today on an occupation statute for the three zones, reliable French sources said.

Stadium Project Is Given Added Financial Support

By CHESTER WALSH

East Carolina Teachers College should have a football stadium and a progressive athletic program to keep in line with other colleges and its outstanding educational facilities, a group of more than half a hundred leading business and professional men agreed at a meeting at the college recently.

That night they pledged to Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college, that ways and means would be provided for making a start on the football stadium project. That pledge is in process of fulfillment.

Twenty-five thousand dollars is needed to begin a section of the stadium and lighting facilities. More than $6,000 was pledged the night of the meeting, and since then other contributions have been made.

The representative group at the first meeting selected Ed E. Rawl, vice-president of the Carolina Sales Corporation, Greenville, as chairman of the ECTC Stadium Fund Committee. He pledged the financial support of the community and set about raising the balance of $25,000 by Christmas. He started work at once. He sent out letters to hundreds of people who are interested in the welfare of ECTC, not only here, but elsewhere.

The plan for support of the stadium project bringing good results. Checks in various amounts are being received. "Many more are needed to secure the $25,000 starting fund for the stadium," Chairman Rawl said.

Checks may be sent to J. Herbert Waldrop, vice-president and cashier of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, Greenville.

Dr. Messick, in a short talk to the group on November 22, placed the problem of the school squarely before the interested persons at the meeting, and told them, "I am doing what no college president should do, in asking for support of an athletic program for my school, but I feel it is in the best interest of East Carolina Teachers College to have a stadium and a decent place to play football."

The college president pointed out the need for an attractive athletic program to bring more high school graduates to ECTC to keep up the present enrollment and insure growth of the institution.

He also reminded his listeners that the college, long thought of as principally a school for girls, now has

Berlin, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Communists set up a hand-picked puppet government for Berlin today, completing the city's east-west division.

Unwilling to risk the results of a popular election, the Communists called a meeting of carefully selected leaders. This meeting by a show of hands elected a mayor and a magistrat (executive administration) claiming jurisdiction over the whole city.

This action by the Russian-backed Communists came as the United Nations considered a compromise proposal on currency which would lead to lifting of the Soviet blockade of western Berlin.

The Communist move in the Soviet sector made it virtually impossible for any agreement on currency to be carried out. The currency dispute is a key to the Berlin crisis. The Soviet Union now is in the position of making a gesture in Paris toward settling the Berlin crisis while sponsoring actions in Berlin which would make any agreement reached in Paris impossible of achievement.

The Communists named Friedrich Ebert, namesake son of the first Weimar Republic President, as "mayor" of all Berlin.

Ebert promptly declared that the elections set for Sunday in the western sectors were null and void. The Communists have refused to take part in the regularly scheduled elections for all Berlin remembering their defeat in 1946, and have ordered their followers to boycott the voting in the western sectors.

After the meeting proclaimed a new city government, the demonstration spilled out into the Soviet sector of the city. Some 100,000 persons from factories and stores—many with guns—marched along Unter den Linden, where Hitler's troops once paraded.

The regularly elected anti-Communist city government, driven from city hall in the Soviet sector by Communist demonstrators, has been sitting in western Berlin.

The Communists, joined by a few splinter elements from other parties, set up their government in a mass meeting in Admirals Palace auditorium in the Soviet sector of the city.

The rally was called with the avowed aim of taking "decisive measures for the protection of a United Berlin." Apparently a move to gain control of the whole city before the election in the western sectors, where about two thirds of all Berliners live.

An outdoor demonstration of workers marching along Unter den Linden in the Soviet sector was arranged to follow the rally.

China's Top Emissary

Madame Chiang Kai-shek's Mission And Purpose; Nationalist Regime May Be On Way Down For Last Time; Communists Outnumber Defenders; An Opinion

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Madame Chiang Kai-shek's unofficial mission to the United States—presumably to make an urgent plea for further American aid to her hard-hit country—has evoked little enthusiasm in Washington.

The brilliant first lady of China naturally is being received with every courtesy due her high position. She is being brought here in American planes, and the flight from San Francisco to Washington is being made in President Truman's former private machine, the Sacred Cow. Moreover, she is to be the house guest of Secretary of State and Mrs. Marshall at their home at Leesburg, Va., near the capital.

However, Madame Chiang's sensational trip strikes American diplomatic circles as scoring a bit too much of high-pressure tactics, especially since it follows so closely on the generalissimo's direct appeal to President Truman for more help—and quick.

The whole problem is, of course, a matter of earnest discussion between Mr. Truman and General Marshall.

Well, it would have been more discreet if Nanking had held its hand until the President and the Secretary of State had a chance to thresh the matter out. Still, I think that in fairness we must recognize Madame Chiang's trip is impelled by a situation which is so chaotic that China's very life must seem to its harassed government to be at stake.

As a matter of fact, the Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek is in danger of going down. Things look grim for the Nationalists in the great battle with the Chinese Communists in the Suchow sector, which is the gateway to the national capital of Nanking—the gateway to all Central China, for that matter.

On November 20 when the Chinese government announced a sweeping victory over the Red rebels in the Suchow area, this column warned readers to await developments before jumping to conclusion. It looked to me as though the attacking Communists had merely paused for a breather and reorganization after some ten days of fierce attack, and that they would resume their offensive

Sanders-Smith Vows Spoken Thursday

Grifton—Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Stella Smith of Grifton and Raleigh, daughter of Mr. Walter T. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith of Grifton to Mr. Wilbert Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Dan Sanders, of Jacksonville which took place in a private ceremony on November 25 at Edenton Street Methodist Church in Raleigh with Dr. Howard Powell, pastor officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore for her marriage a suit of gold gabardine with brown accessories and a corsage of brown orchids.

Mrs. Sanders attended Grifton high school and is a graduate of Hardbarger's business school in Raleigh, she is a niece of Mrs. Lulu S. Kittrell and Miss Rosa Smith of Grifton with whom she has made her home.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points the couple will be at home at 314 Morrison avenue in Raleigh.

Buffet Supper Honors Bride

Mrs. Joseph Lupton honored Miss Rachel Spain, bride-elect of November 28th, with a candlelight buffet supper, Friday evening, November 26th, at her apartment at 501 East Third street.

Miss Spain was presented a corsage of red roses and a gift of personalized tea coasters.

Guests were welcomed by the hostess into the apartment, which was lovely with decorations of pink, white and yellow chrysanthemums, trailing ivy, and crystal candleholders with burning tapers. The table was centered with an arrangement of a silver bowl with white chrysanthemums and matching silver candleholders, which also held burning tapers.

After the guests had registered and were served, the hostess brought in a silver tray laden with gifts for the bride-elect.

PITT MAN PAROLED

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 30—(AP)—The State Paroles Commission today announced the parole of E. L. Buck, sentenced from Pitt in October, 1947, to three to eight years for forgery.

Cheer Stockman For Heroic Role

Chicago, Nov. 30—(AP)—Ten thousand persons stood and cheered a 48-year-old Texas stockman last night for his heroic role in an unscheduled event at the horse show at the International Livestock Exposition.

A few minutes before the crowd gave an ovation to Lloyd Jenkins of Fort Worth, Tex., an 800-pound steer leaped a 5-foot fence into the massed spectators at the show.

There were screams of terror from among the crowd.

Jenkins, cattle breeder and quarter horse exhibitor, spurred his horse to the fence, cleared it with a leap from the saddle, bulldozed the animal and led it back into the arena.

Police Capt. Frank Reynolds said that Jenkins' action was the most heroic he ever had seen. He said that the steer running amuck among the huge crowd might have trampled many.

Asked if he was frightened, Jenkins said:

"I've been around cattle and horses all my life. I knew I had to do something or be heel all my life. I wasn't scared because I've been in a lot tougher spots—down under a Brahma bull, for instance, with nowhere to roll. But any real cowboy would have done the same."

Stockholders Of Credit Group To Meet On Friday

The annual stockholders meeting of the Greenville Production Credit Association will be held at Snow Hill in the Court House on Friday, Dec. 3, 1948, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. according to an announcement made by F. L. Little, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

This is the fifteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Greenville Production Credit Association. Three directors will be elected and other important business will be transacted at this meeting.

Production of the four principal nut crops eaten by Americans now totals about 348 million pounds a year.

Freight Embargo Lifted In East

New York, Nov. 30—(AP)—The railroad freight embargo at eight East Coast ports went off today as shipping struggled back toward normal after the crippling 18-day Longshoremen's strike.

The Association of American railroads announced in Washington late yesterday it was lifting the embargo on freight intended for export or coastwise movement.

The ban was removed in the ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va., Wilmington, Del., Port Newark, N. J., and Portland, Me.

Case Of Missing Letters Solved; Crow Stole 'Em

Tonkawa, Okla., Nov. 30—(AP)—Tonkawa's three-week-old case of the missing letters has been solved.

Delivered letters twice were found on the town's streets. Each was unopened.

How they got there was Postmaster Harry J. Barclay's No. 1 problem.

"They didn't, he reasoned, just fly away."

Barclay was almost right—but not quite.

Because Postman Paul Walker reported they were flying. With assistance, that is.

A third letter was being stolen when he solved the case.

"That crow," he said, "just pulled that letter out of that mail box and started flying away."

Begin Selection Bridge Jury

Greenville, N.C., Nov. 30—(AP)—Selection of a jury began today for trial of a 120-pound textile worker who surrendered unscathed in a three-hour gun battle with officers.

Ray Aldridge, 31-year-old Gastonian, entered the required plea of not guilty to the capital charge of murder when arraigned in Gaston Superior Court yesterday. The grand jury had returned indictments earlier in the day.

Swank Party Greet New Draftees; 'Realities' Later

Denver, Nov. 30—(AP)—Colorado's first postwar draftees punched themselves and wondered if this is the Army.

The Army threw them a swank party last night. It made them Cinderella generals. Tough old sergeants jumped at their commands. The brass looked on and smiled.

There were dates and bands and songs and comedy. And there was food that never graced a wartime chow line.

When it was all over, they went back to warm hotel rooms instead of the cold tents of wartime induction centers. But today, they head for Fort Ord, Calif., and the realities of basic training.

The party was all a part of the Army plan to prove there's a new look in soldiering. But it still was by the numbers. The 22-page script for the affair was big enough to swallow a D-Day field order.

As one inductee put it, "We weren't exactly invited. We weren't exactly ordered. They told us very nicely that we had to go. It was all part of the things we had to do the day we were inducted."

There was a little of the old hurry-up-and-wait. The group was told to be on hand at 7 p.m. The party got underway 35 minutes later.

A sergeant lined them up and paired them off with their dates. USO and YWCA hostesses in formal gowns.

The men pinned corsages, also courtesy of the Army, on their dates. The girls pinned stars on the men and gave them printed commissions as general for the night.

While 30 sergeants sat on the dance floor and ate C rations, hotel waiters served orange juice, prime ribs, rissole potatoes, peas, salad rolls and butter, ice cream, cake and coffee.

There was a floor show. Then there was dancing.

Anti-Noise Law Loudly Backfires

Rocky Mount, N. C., Nov. 30—(AP)—Rocky Mount's recently enacted anti-noise ordinance has backfired with an ear-splitting road.

A huge Santa Claus, wired for sound—the laughing kind—sits silently today in a furniture store window. And from the sponsors of the rosy-cheeked old fellow came a barbed message "to the little boys and girls" explaining that the board of aldermen was responsible for his lack of vocal glee. Still later the Santa Claus sponsors announced to the little one that they had been "forced to go out of the toy business."

Then there was the dog, the black and white one with head cocked on one side, through whose synthetic throat have poured the latest tunes of phonograph records. He too sat silently, but from his neck suspended a sign reading: "Dear children—I have lost my voice, your city fathers—they know why."

Meanwhile, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the Bus terminal were warned that their devices for calling trains and buses were taboo. They were ordered to cease and desist.

"We haven't stopped," said a railroad spokesman.

From the bus people came word that they didn't intend to keep their patrons in the dark about the coming and going of buses until the railroad did something about its loud speaker.

Perquimans Has Special Election

Hertford, Nov. 30—(AP)—A special election was held here today to select E. Leigh Winslow as Perquimans' county representative in the state legislature.

Winslow was the only nominee of the county Democratic executive committee.

The county representative-elect Clarence Phillips, was killed in an automobile accident.

Use Dog In Black Market Fight

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 30—(AP)—Frisk, a bull terrier, joined the staff of the Ulster Food Office today to sniff out black market practices.

Authorities suspect many birds are sent to England illegally, labeled as auto accessories. Frisk will work an eight hour day at the docks sniffing parcels awaiting shipment. Any that interests Frisk will be opened.

Record Prices

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30—(AP)—Burley tobacco growers in Kentucky yesterday received the highest opening sales day average price in many years, the State Department of Agriculture reported.

A statewide average of $49.40 per hundredweight on 24 of the state's markets was 79 cents higher than on opening day a year ago. Sales totaled 16,794,491 pounds. Growers received $8,296,605.38.

Carolina Struck By Wintery Blast

By the Associated Press

Carolinsians got their first real taste of winter weather today.

Several below-freezing temperatures were reported in the two states with many others hovering around that mark.

Lowest was the 23 at Mt. Mitchell, with nearby Asheville right behind at 24. It was 30 at Hickory.

Anderson's 31 was the lowest report out of South Carolina. Thirty-two readings were made at Greenville, Spartanburg, Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

It was 33 at Charlotte and Raleigh and 35 at Columbia.

Along the coast temperatures were in the forties. Myrtle Beach reported 42, New Bern 43, Charleston 45 and Wilmington and Cherry Point 45.

Generally fair weather is predicted for the next 48 hours, with slightly higher temperatures in store tomorrow.

Recreation Body Plans For Spring

The Greenville recreation commission met at the city library last night in its regular monthly meeting. Heber Tripp, chairman, presided.

Plans were discussed for having playground workers, who will supervise the recreation next spring, take special training course under Dr. N. M. Jorgensen of E.C.T.C. A spokesman for the commission said applications for playground supervisors should be made as soon as possible so the training program can be worked out.

It was announced that both Greenville high school and Eppe high school auditoriums will be used for recreation purposes on Saturday afternoons and possibly on Sunday afternoons through the winter months.

"The recreation commission is trying to give the city all the good and wholesome recreation possible within the limited space available, and we will welcome any suggestions or help any citizen wishes to give," commented Heber Tripp chairman of the commission.

Legislators See UN Committees

Paris, Nov. 30—(AP)—Seven members of the U. S. House of Representatives Armed Services Committee visited the Palais De Chaillot headquarters of the United Nations today.

Led by Chairman Dewey Short (R-Mo.), they sat in the 58-nation First Political Committee and listened a while to the debate on the Palestine case. Later they visited the second political committee which is discussing the use of the veto in the Security Council.

They came here from Spain.

Charter Is Given Belvoir Ruritan

The presentation of the club charter, a talk by Edith White, Ruritan district governor from Elizabeth City, and a turkey dinner with all the trimmings were the highlights of the first official meeting last night of the newly formed Belvoir Ruritan club.

Before presenting the charter to the new club, White made a short speech to the members, explaining the objectives of Ruritan, and the good which communities can realize from the work of a good Ruritan club. "It's the cooperation that counts," he said, "and this club is a vital link in this great Ruritan chain. You are new in this activity, but in good time, when you are working together as a team, you will see the great things which will happen."

J. T. Dupree, president of the Belvoir club, received the charter from White and pledged the support of the Belvoir club in upholding the record of good work done by other Ruritan clubs.

Noel Lee, president of the Pactorus Ruritan club, which was instrumental in organizing the Belvoir club, brought greetings to the new club from the other Ruritan clubs in this area, and pointed out some of the projects the club could carry out for the benefit of the community.

Officers of the Belvoir club are J. T. Dupree, president; W. R. Tyson, vice president; F. H. Hodges, secretary; Mack Turner, treasurer; Robert Stancil, sergeant at arms; Ben Harris, chaplain; Norman Coward, reporter; Carl Scott, H. B. Randolph and J. C. Parker, directors.

Several members of the Pactorus and Winterville Ruritan clubs were guests of the Belvoir club at the dinner meeting.

Heavy Sentences For Fraud Cases

Raleigh, Nov. 30—Several veterans of World War II have been given straight jail sentences or jail sentences suspended on condition that they repay amounts illegally received in U. S. District Courts in North Carolina in recent weeks when found guilty of fraud connection with claims for unemployment allowances or self-employment allowances under Title V of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, which Title V is administered by the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina.

The act provides that any claimant who knowingly accepts an allowance to which he is not entitled shall be ineligible to receive any further allowances under Title V, and also provides for punishment upon conviction of a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for veterans who receive allowances illegally or for anyone who makes a false statement for the purpose of causing an increase in allowances to be paid where none is authorized.

The Employment Security Commission, after its deputies have found sufficient evidence of fraud, certifies the cases to Col. A. L. Fletcher, State Veterans allowance agent of the Veterans Administration, and the VA sends the cases to U. S. District Attorneys in their respective districts for prosecution.

Strength FOR THE DAY

TODAY'S MORAL STANDARDS NOT ADEQUATE

The Bible tells us that the heart of man is desperately wicked. What nonsense and heresy this is measured by many modern moral standards. We are being told today that the heart of man is not bad but good. Give him a chance, and man can be depended upon quite invariably to do the right thing. If he does the wrong thing, it is because he is ignorant or is surrounded by adverse environment or is the victim of circumstances over which he has no control. If he drinks too much he is not committing a moral wrong; he is simply suffering from a disease known as alcoholism. If a man steals we are told that he is not primarily responsible for his conduct but has been made a thief by family or social conditions which produced frustration.

If this, of course, is far afield of the Biblical teaching that evil starts at the center of a man's heart. Man is indeed good at the center of his being for he is created in the image and after the likeness of God. But freedom of choice leads every man and woman at times into evil, and choice flows from inner sources of personality which we usually designate as a man's heart. So it would appear that the Biblical teaching concerning the wickedness of the human heart still holds good.

TAGS—Automobile license plates on the 1949 vintage go on sale Wednesday, December 1, and may be worn on cars from that date. The new plates have same coloring as current 1948 tags, but in reverse. They will show black letters on an orange base and will be much easier to read than the present orange letters on black background. Cost of tags this year will be the same as last—$10.00, $12.00 and $15.00—for all passenger cars with higher rates for vehicles for hire. Trucks and buses pay on weight basis.

GIFT—While 1949 tags go on sale and may be used December 1, the law gives until January 31 for mandatory use. In that connection L. C. Rosser, commissioner of motor vehicles, comes up with a suggestion. He staff doesn't have time to wrap the new plates in holiday paper or cellophane, but a license tag will make a most acceptable Christmas gift. If enough people would get that idea and buy tags before Christmas it will help solve the gift problem for them and will take a load off the license issuing offices around the turn of the year.

SCOOTERS—Another fact should be kept in mind. Bicycles and scooters propelled by motor power are classified as "motor vehicles" and require identification tags. This poses a problem for some parents who want to give Johnny a motor scooter for Christmas when Johnny isn't yet 16 years old—and so cannot legally operate the thing after he gets it. Also in that connection, some towns and cities require registration and license plate identification for foot-propelled bicycles. A few municipalities impose a nominal registration fee, many do not charge anything but require registration just the same. The motor scooters require a license plate and the operator must also have a driver's license.

CHOO-CHOO—After his spectacular run in the Duke game Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice has been the subject of many anecdotes, some true and some quite obviously otherwise. One of the true stories is about a little boy's class at a Raleigh Sunday school. During the Thanksgiving service the boys were asked to offer original one-sentence prayers of thanksgiving. One little fellow was thankful for his happy home; another was glad he lives in such a fine country, and so it went until one lad stood up and very reverently said: "Thank God for Choo-Choo."

APPROPRIATE—When that incident was reported to Dr. Ike Greer of the university business administration and formerly head of the Baptist orphanage in the state, he said the Thanksgiving prayer might have been more appropriate than the youngster realized. Just a few days before, Choo-Choo had volunteered to go to Thomasville orphanage one night before Christmas and show the kids there pictures of one or two big Carolina games and take them about football and clean sportsmanship. Dr. Ike said he could think of nothing that would make the orphans any happier.

APPRECIATION—Another incident in keeping with the spirit of the season was the dinner party given a group of orphanage and school for the blind children by Roland Mumford and Arthur Budenhagen, vice president of the Meyer Hotel system and resident manager of the Raleigh-Kiwans Club. The kids a free matinee showing of their 1948 minstrel Monday afternoon and the hotel met invited the little folks to come by for a turkey dinner with fixins' after the show. Mumford said he couldn't recall anything he had done in years that occasioned as much evidence of genuine appreciation, not only by the young guests but by hundreds of disinterested older people who had found opportunity to commend the action.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—An open letter to Santa Claus:

What do I want for Christmas? Nothing at all this year, Nick. Yep, that's the whole list—Nothing. Nothing at all. Don't even bother to slam on your brakes when the reindeer mush by my chimney. Because I ain't even going to bother to hang up my stockings.

I know this will come as a slight shock to you. It did to me, too. Usually my Christmas list—whether you can fill it or not—is longer than a horse player's face at twilight. But this year it's another story. It isn't that I have any complaint on the service you've given in the past. And I haven't lost faith in you, Santa, old pal. Me and little Virginia—we'll always believe in you. It's just that I wore out wanting things I really didn't need. You know that you can't want a thing so hard that you finally get so you don't want it. And you not only don't want it, you even may have a dislike for it.

So this year when my Ozark Hausfaru said, "Write Santa Claus what you want," I suddenly found myself stumped. For the life of me I couldn't think of anything I wanted. I told her so.

"Why that's impossible," she said. "Everybody wants something for Christmas."

"I wanted something last Christmas," I explained, "and I wanted something every other Christmas I can remember. But this Christmas I don't want anything."

"How about a half dozen nice white shirts?"

"It was three years ago I wanted white shirts," reminded her. "Now I don't like white shirts."

"How about a new suit?"

"The only suit I want is one with a double breasted coat, vest and two pairs of pants. But they don't make any like that anymore. So I don't want a suit for Christmas."

And so it went, Santa. Everything I thought up to put down on the list—I found, for one reason or another, I no longer wanted it. It didn't make sense at all. And yet in another way perhaps it did.

Neckties? Books? Nope. I haven't worn out the books or read all the neckties I got last year. A new car? Nope, again. It's easier to raise a kid in New York than it is to keep an automobile clean and happy.

I got most of the gadgets essential to civilized life—a ball point fountain pen that won't write, a cigarette lighter that won't light, an unbreakable wrist watch that's being repaired.

What else is there? Don't want a new silk robe or a fancy electric razor. Still have the old red wool robe and the cheap black plastic razor the army gave me five years ago. Still like 'em, too. Still like my old army shoes, for that matter. Guess, if there's another war, I'll get another pair free.

Nope, Santa, there's no use in me trying any more. I can't think, to save me, of a single thing I want for Christmas.

I know the stores are chockfull of things this year. But those are the things I wanted last year or some year before that, when they were scarce. I've worn out all those wants—Whether or not I got what I wanted—and I haven't yet figured out any new wants to make me miserable.

I guess for the first time in my life, Santa, I'm a balanced man. What I can't have I don't pine for—and what I might yearn for I don't know about.

So pass me by this Xmas season. And give my share of the grab bag to somebody in Europe, where people need more than they want, instead of vice versa. Here, sometimes it's a full day's job thinking up something to want that you, don't need at all.

Regards to Mrs. Claus,
HAL BOYLE.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By CLARKE BEACH

(For Jane Kads)

Washington—"If an American has a thirst for a drink on Sunday, he is compelled to go to church," So says S. Alexandrov, who quaintly describes many other phenomena of life in the United States in a Russian magazine recently received in the Elvick room of the Library of Congress.

The publication is the June 1948 issue of "Cultural-Educational Work," an official government organ. There are some other "facts" about America in America which Alexandrov passes on to his readers: "Along with the sermons, films are shown in churches in which the angels and the bandits work in harmony. In order to attract more people to their churches, they resort to all kinds of tricks. In Washington, for instance, on Sundays one can buy whiskey only in church."

"In America there is a particular trend of literature known as murder stories. They are published in millions of copies and on good paper, and are sold at a phenomenally low price—a few cents—while such Soviet favorites as Shakespeare and Mark Twain go begging.

"Practically all progressive film leaders are actually driven out of Hollywood and are deprived of opportunities to work. Among them are such internationally known actors as Charlie Chaplin, Katherine Hepburn, Paul Muni and others."

"The cultural-educational institutions such as libraries and museums in the capitalist countries are in a deplorable condition. Even such great cultural-educational institutions as the National Library of the U.S.A. in Washington (Congressional Library) are leading a miserable life because they don't give them enough money to carry on normal work. Because of lack of funds for personnel, lighting and other necessary needs for the reading rooms, this greatest American library is closed twice a week, on Mondays and Thursdays."

(Actually, the Library is never closed during the day except on Christmas and July 4th. But there's a wee bit of fact in the statement: Because of budget cuts last session, the Library had to close at 6 p.m. instead of the usual 10 p.m. on Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays.)

Famous Show Is Coming To City

By CHESTER WALSH
Theater-goers of Greenville and this part of Eastern Carolina will have an opportunity to see a famous Broadway comedy-drama that had two years' continuous run in New York City, when Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," with the original cast, is presented in Austin auditorium at the college on Monday night, December 6.

"The Glass Menagerie" has played to capacity houses in North Carolina and elsewhere. It is a heart-warming and humorous story of an enterprising mother's efforts to marry-off her daughter to a soldier. Those who have seen the show acclaim it as one of the best on the road this season.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring it and will share in the profits. The money will be used for a worthy community cause. All seats are reserved. Tickets are on sale at the Globe Hardware Company at $1 for students, all others, $1.20 and $1.50, included. Requests for tickets have been received from people in numerous Eastern Carolina towns and cities.

George Jean Nathan, distinguished critic, wrote of the play: "Far and away the theater's loveliest evening; the season's most beautiful theatrical adventure."

Presentation of "The Glass Menagerie" is expected to be something of a social event in Greenville.

Prize Winners Hill's Contest

The above photo was taken at the Pitt Theater last Tuesday night when Hill's Greenville clothes and haberdashers, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Tilley of Greenville the prize, awarded for writing the best letter about "Why I Am Glad Hill's Came to Greenville." The prize is a trip to New York with all expenses paid. Reading from left to right is Charles Whedbee, ace announcer for Greenville's radio station, WGTC; Aubrey Tilley, Mrs. Tilley, and Howard Sumrell. Van Johnson, Jr., who is not known in the picture, and Howard Sumrell are managers of Hill's Greenville store. The prizes awarded the Tilleys and the two runners-up in the letter-writing contest will total about $1,500.

Agent of Wilson County was judge for the club exhibits which included bedroom, grooming, health and miscellaneous exhibits. Winners receiving ribbons for the occasion were:

First place blue ribbons: Farmville 4-H Club bedroom exhibits and also kitchen exhibit.

Highsmith 4-H Club, Grooming Clinic.

Second place, red ribbon: Rock Spring 4-H Club, Miscellaneous.

Clark's Neck 4-H Club (skit—"Why to Keep Healthy").

Third place white ribbon: Simpson 4-H Club Miscellaneous.

Warren Chapel 4-H Club, Miscellaneous.

Ribbons—certificates and prizes were given club members for their year's accomplishments. To the County champions for 1948 in various projects went champion certificates and blue ribbons—Receivers of those were:

1. Garden Champs—Ruth and Barbora Leary, R-1 Vanceboro.
2. Poultry Champ—Eunice Mae Anderson, R-5 Greenville.
3. Home Beautification—Mildred White, R-1 Greenville.
4. Canning—Margie Gay, R-2, Farmville.
5. Records—Mary Collins and Emma Jean Fields, R-2 Farmville.
6. Clothing—Margie Gay, R-2 Farmville.
7. Good Grooming—Margaret Griffin, R-5, Greenville.
8. Food Preparation, Anna Beth Johnson, R-2 Farmville.
9. Bedroom Improvement—Lucille and Rhea Taylor, Winterville.
10. Health—Addie Prayer, R-5 Greenville.

Ribbons were given the following girls for the best all around 4-H Club member in the County:

First place, Margie Gay, R-2, Farmville.

Second place, Ruth Leary, R-1 Vanceboro.

Third place, Christine Gardner, R-3 Ayden.

The boys receiving certificates for most outstanding work for the year were:

Earl Moore, Pactolus, Wiley Ray Williams, R-5, Greenville, Joe Matthew Gardner, R-3 Ayden and James Arthur Adams, R-1 Stokes.

Elmer Lee Leary and William Leary, County and District Dairy champions received certificates and cash prizes. Those receiving four years certificates for outstanding work were: Joseph Patrick, Clifton Grimes and Weldon Dixon of Winterville 4-H Club.

A blue ribbon for the best kept secretary book went to Lendora Dickens, R-3 Washington, N. C.

A Pitt county 4-H Club gavel went to Jones 4-H Club for the largest attendance for the day.

A total of 713 boys and girls received certificates for satisfactory work down for one year.

This marked the climax for the occasion. There was a smile on every face. After recognition of guest, everyone stood all joining in to sing the closing song "The More We Get

Negro 4-H Club News

The first 4-H Club County Achievement Day was held November 20, 1948 in the Agricultural Building with an attendance of 350. The program marked one of the most outstanding events on the 4-H Club Calendar for 1948.

Margie Gay, President 4-H County Council of Farmville 4-H Club presided over the program. The program was opened with the group singing "The 4-H Fire Light," followed by 4-H Pledge and invocation by the Rev. J. A. Nimmo, Jr., pastor of Baptist Church, Clinton, N. C.

Deloris Gray, 4-H Club County Council Secretary took charge of roll call after which she read a summary of 4-H Girl Activities for 1948. Weldon Dixon of Winterville 4-H Club read a summary of 4-H Boys Activities for 1948. A skit entitled "The Ways to Keep Healthy" was given by club members of Clark's Neck 4-H Club. A team demonstration on permanent Pastures was given by Clifton Grimes and Joseph Patrick of Winterville 4-H Club.

Mr. H. B. Sugg, Supervisor of Pitt County Negro Schools, Farmville N. C. delivered a very encouraging address to the group. He spoke mainly on what 4-H Club Work had meant to Pitt County and his hope for a continued progress. He also assured a 100 per cent cooperation from his county teachers in the aspect of 4-H Club work.

An Old Story

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 30—(AP)—It was a boy this time, but otherwise there was nothing new to Mrs. Harold Lewis of Toledo, O., giving birth while riding in an automobile.

A seven-pound son was born Sunday while Mrs. Lewis was being rushed to a hospital in the car of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rench of Gaston, Ind.

The same thing happened to Mrs. Lewis in the same car Jan. 6, 1947. That time it was a girl.

LETTER FROM SANTA

Dear Friend:

Children come first at Christmas - and happy children make a merrier Christmas for all of us.

From the looks of the new Christmas Catalog, Sears certainly feels that way. In this book there are more than 60 pages of toys to delight every boy and girl. And Sears didn't forget the grown-ups either...you'll find over 200 pages of wonderful gifts - the biggest selection in six years.

What a Christmas this will be!

But here's a word of caution. Just like last year, toys, and a lot of other gifts, will be kind of scarce the last few weeks of the year. I think I have enough on hand right now to fill everybody's order. But if too many people wait too long to order, I may find out that my stock is running out and there just won't be time to get more.

I hate to disappoint anybody - especially children - at Christmas. So please order as early as you can - right now is the best time.

Merry Christmas
Santa Claus

P. S. The quickest way to order anything in this catalog is to call us on the phone or come in today and see the new Christmas Book. Shop at Sears and Save.

Chapter 29

Reluctantly Mrs. Monahan let Pat close the window against the snowy darkness. It was the first fast snow, the kind that doesn't last and is merely a harbinger of things to come. But it did seem to have brought the late November darkness even earlier than usual. Coming home through it, Pat had seen her sitting by the open window and rushed in to shut it over her protests.

"Are you crazy altogether? Do you want to catch your death of cold?"

"I was watchin' the snow come down. Pat, did you ever know that snowflakes are like silver arrows stabbing at you out of the darkness? Now I bet you didn't."

"They're arrows that will kill you all right."

She heaved a deep sigh that shook her mountainous figure. "Pat, you have no poetry in you at all. And there's no fear of snow killing the likes of me. Its starvation will do that. These doctors and their diets. A fine one I am at my time of life to start thinking about my figure."

"Now don't start complaining about that. You've lost weight and—"

"Lost weight indeed? I've gained it. I never used to think of it at all except when I was fool enough to try to walk around, but now I think about it all the time. My stomach growls at me and wants to know if my throat is cut."

"You said that yesterday, and the day before," he added impressively. She laughed. "I intend going on saying it till I wear you all down. I told Father Toughney so today. Little ain't here to pester me any more, so I say—"

"Grandma! Grandma!"

There was no mistaking Tuffy's shrill cry outside the window. The next moment he burst into the room and flung himself into her arms.

sion of the Mizelle Farm, containing 40.7 acres more or less.

3rd.—The wood land allotted to Tracts Nos. 7 and 8 in the division of the Mizelle Farm, containing 212 acres, more or less; said parcels of land being described in that certain mortgage recorded in Book Y-15, page 156, in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, which record is hereby referred to and made a part of this description.

The above tract of land contains a tobacco allotment for the year 1948 of 6.5 acres. The purchaser will be required to make a deposit of ten per cent of his bid to await confirmation of the sale and to show his good faith in the bidding.

(2) On Monday, December 20,
1948, at 2:30 p. m., at the home place of Joseph Daniel, in Pactolus Township, Pitt County, North Carolina,

Famous economy cars... Ford products made in England
... now available for prompt delivery

Now, for the first time, selected Ford Dealers bring you the Anglia and the Prefect—in England, the most widely sold cars in their price class.

It's easy to see why they're so much in demand. While their traditionally shorter English wheelbase in no way detracts from their riding comfort (plenty of leg- and headroom) it does make them delightfully easy to handle in traffic or to park, and it results in amazing gasoline and oil economy.

The Anglia and the Prefect are made with typical Ford craftsmanship and the traditional Ford dependability. They are built to last. They are designed especially for American requirements, with left-hand drive, standard

Make Christmas merry and many happy years to come by giving a gift for the home.

Atomic By-Products In Farming Show No Big Help

Washington, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Farm crops aren't impressed by the atomic age.

The Agriculture Department indicated this today in reporting the failure of preliminary "stimulation" tests with radioactive materials to boost yields of 18 experimental crops during the past season. Radioactive materials are atomic energy by-products.

The results showed no beneficial effect upon either plant quality or growth, the department said. The announcement added:

"These widespread one-season experiments indicate strongly that the farmer cannot expect increased yields from money invested in radioactive materials."

The tests were carried on during the past crop season in Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, North Carolina, Ohio, New York, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia and Maryland.

Crops tested included cotton, corn, wheat, potatoes, sugar beets, tobacco, peanuts, various types of beans, alfalfa, clover and barley.

Committeemen In Farm Program To Be Elected

Community committeemen who will aid in administering the 1949 agricultural conservation program acreage allotments and quotas, the price support and loan programs and other activities pertaining to agriculture in Pitt County will be elected Thursday when the farmers of the county vote for local committeemen and delegates to the county convention which will be held the following day.

At the county convention Friday, the community delegates will elect the county committeemen.

According to S. L. Dilda, chairman of the Pitt County agricultural conservation association, the county committeemen will be responsible for making recommendations on farm programs, administering farm programs having to do with soil conservation, production goals, quotas, price support and other programs dealing directly with farmers.

U.S. Supporting UN Resolution To Leave Korea

Paris, Nov. 30 — (AP) — The United States is reported backing a United Nations resolution for withdrawal of American troops from Korea as soon as practicable.

Formed sources said yesterday the U. S. will be among the powers sponsoring a joint resolution on Korea to come before the political committee after the Palestine debate.

Russia already has begun removing her troops from North Korea. The resolution also would give U. N. approval to the Republic of Korea where elections were held in April under U. N. supervision. Another part of the resolution would instruct the U. N. Korean commission to make another attempt to hold a U. N.-supervised election in the Russian zone. Russia barred the commission this year.

Heiress Quietly Married Monday

Bennettsville, S. C., Nov. 30 — (P) — Anne Cannon Reynolds, once known as "the richest baby in the world" and her childhood sweetheart, Lloyd Patrick (Junebug) Tate, were honeymooning in Florida today.

The attractive 18-year-old heiress to tobacco and textile millions and Tate, 22, a Pinehurst, N. C., sportsman, were quietly married here yesterday by Probate Judge John F. Kinney.

Robbers Carry Off Cash Register From Store Last Night

Craven County authorities today were investigating the robbery last night at Curtis Worthington's store, near Epworth Church, just over the Pitt County line. A message was sent here for Capt. S. B. Dorsey, fingerprint specialist, and the bloodhounds at the State Prison Camp near here.

Information given Greenville police was that some one broke into the store and carried off the cash register and its contents while one of the clerks was sleeping in the place.

Red Cross Meeting Held Here Today

Miss Chloris Kellum, general field representative of the American Red Cross, southeastern area, of Atlanta, Ga., presided over a claims institute for government benefits for veterans at the City Hall today. Fourteen Eastern Carolina county chapters were represented.

The meeting started at 10 a.m.

and was to conclude at 4 p.m., Mrs. Walter Taylor, Pitt County Red Cross executive secretary, said.

Scientists And . . .

Because Russian scientists have to do what they're told. And they're working on deadly weapons which may be used against us.

If their weapons were more awful than ours in a war, we'd lose. Russia would dominate the world, and all men would be under dictatorship.

And—that dictatorship, that loss of freedom, might be a lot worse than a war which might have prevented world-conquest by Russia.

But there's another side to the argument: A scientist, being a member of society, has an obligation to do what he can for its welfare.

Grant that the best contribution a scientist can make to his society is his best scientific work.

Therefore, if his society calls on him to help make deadly weapons for that society's welfare, he has an obligation to do so.

But his obligation to society doesn't stop in being a scientist. He has an obligation as a citizen.

Once he's finished being the scientist by making the weapon, then he should do all he can as a citizen to warn other citizens of its danger to all mankind.

And as a citizen interested in peace he should do all he can to work for peace. But there'll never be any peace until there is world government. So he should work for that.

But a scientist is a scientist, not a politician. He should devote himself to being a good scientist. Let the politicians try to keep peace . . .

And so it goes. The scientists themselves don't agree on the answer.

China's Top . . .

(Continued from page one) reported to have been ordered to withdraw southward for defense of the capital and the routes into Central China, but thus far the withdrawal hasn't been effected.

In any event, as things now stand the 250,000 Nationalist defenders are faced with attack by twice their number. And the Reds are receiving support from the Russians via Manchuria and Mongolia.

So if we find Generalissimo Chiang an obstinate and persistent fellow, I think we must remember that these are the very qualities which have enabled him to wage war for seventeen long years, first against the Japanese and then against the Chinese Communists.

As for Madame Chiang she long has been Chiang's right hand both in government and in war. She is one of the world's most capable women, and I doubt if there is anyone in all China who knows more about that country's governmental and military affairs. Moreover she is acquainted with America, having

In the general discussion which followed Dr. Messick's talk, it was suggested that as well as funds for the stadium, money be raised through the ECTC Educational Foundation, Inc. to support an athletic program at the college.

Suchow . . .

Reliable reports said many able bodied men were trying to crowd into planes flying out the wounded.

Suchow is about 65 miles north of the spot where the government's Twelfth army group has been trapped.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Cotton futures opened 35 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower.

Noon prices were $1.00 a bale higher to 15 cents lower than the previous close, Dec. 32.10, March 32.09 and May 31.90.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Nov. 30 — (AP) — (NCDA) prices steady. Tops of $22 at Kinston, Rocky Mount, Greenville, Wilson, Goldsboro, Washington, and Richmond.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Nov. 30 — (AP) — (NCDA) Fryers and broilers steady to slightly stronger at mostly 35 with few at 36; eggs steady, A large 65-67.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Supply and demand were in close balance in a see-saw stock market today. Changes were mainly fractional.

The comparative stability of the market followed a decline yesterday to the lowest average level since mid-March.

Sales of stocks to establish tax losses continued to be a major source of supply but were well absorbed.

"The William Lloyd Suite"

This Suite of Furniture is made from only selected lumber.

Construction is first quality throughout, and generally known as full framed with doweled joints. In addition are included special construction features evolved from 45 years of experience which includes our floating top construction to eliminate warping or splitting of the tops from expansion and contraction. Exterior finish is obtained by a seven to nine process which includes staining, filling, and coatings of high grade lacquer with additional sanding operations. The final process is hand rubbing to a velvet finish. Drawer handles are authentic reproductions in solid brass. Mirrors are No. 1 quality. Continental will not compromise with quality. Our registered trade mark, "Continental Superior Quality," is your lasting guarantee.
