Hints Congress Will Go Slow On Foreign Spending

Indications Are That Solons Will Check On Accomplishments First

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Strong indications that Congress may adopt a "lets see what has been accomplished" attitude on foreign spending...

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), prospective chairman of the House Appropriations committee, keynoted the approach...

The House group holds the purse strings on all Federal spending. Under the chairmanship of Rep. Taber (R-NY) it was instrumental during the last Congress in holding the government's foreign spending programs well below the amount required.

Cannon told reporters he wants first hand reports from Congress members now on overseas tours before he commits himself to any spending programs.

One of the first requests likely to confront the new Democratic-controlled Congress will be to provide $1,250,000,000 to keep the Marshall plan pipelines to 16 western European nations filled during the April-July period.

Congress also will be confronted with proposals to re-finance the European aid program for the 1950 fiscal year, starting July 1; give greater help to China and possibly Greece; support U. S. occupation troops, and perhaps authorize a western defense pact in conjunction with helping western Europe rearm.

Talk of this program, involving millions of dollars in addition to military outlays at home, led Senator Fulbright (D-Vt) to tell reporters yesterday that Communist Russia is pushing this country into "spending three times what we make."

The Vermont Republican, who supported the Marshall plan at the last session, asserted that Russia is "doing a damn good job" on what he said was the Kremlin's plan "for ruining the United States economically." He added: "I think we had better watch out."

Raleigh Girl Is Health Winner

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Sue Nichols, 17-year-old Raleigh, N.C., girl was announced today as one of the winners in the health contest conducted by the National 4-H Congress.

She and the other winners will each receive a blue ribbon and an expense-paid trip to the Congress. The contest was aimed at developing desirable health habits and attitudes relative to proper foods, clothing, exercise and body care.

Trailer Is Found But Owners Gone

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Police are seeking the owner of a fully-furnished house trailer found parked in the Bronx last night.

Two radio patrolmen observed the trailer and learned it had remained at the same location for the last two days. Inside it they saw pots, pans, blankets, a crib and a bed, as well as other furnishings. Curtains and screens covered the windows.

Lobbyists At Work

The 'Axe-Grinder' Is Back In The News; Always Present In Washington, Some Congressmen Want Them Investigated; How They Work; Some Are Powerful

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—That axe-grinder—the lobbyist—is back in the news again.

He's been bobbing up by the news at least once a year for years. That's when somebody gets mad at him. But he's always here in Washington. Most of the time he works so quietly you never hear of him.

President Truman has just said he thinks Congress ought to investigate the lobbyists' work around Congress. Maybe Congress will. Don't bet.

Mr. Truman made the statement in answer to the International Association of Machinists which told him it wants such an investigation because it feels—

"The voters in the United States as well as members of Congress should be acquainted with the high-powered lobbying activities which were used so successfully to confuse members of the 80th Congress and to deceive them as to the attitude of the majority of voters."

A lobbyist is someone—an individual or group—who tries to persuade a congressman to vote the way the lobbyist wants.

You're lobbying when you write to your congressman, asking him to vote for or against something. But everyone has the right to do that.

Outnumbered Nationalists Try Desperately To Save Nanking

Nanking, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Two Nationalist army groups were reported today desperately trying to establish a new defense line to save this jittery capital from advancing Chinese Communists.

Diplomats expect to hear from the government—perhaps within 24 hours—that Nanking is no longer safe for them. Despite government denials, it was learned reliably such a warning is being prepared.

These developments came as the government abruptly cut its air link with isolated Suchow some 200 miles northwest of Nanking and deployed its forces for a battle to save the nation's capital city.

A new defense line was reported under construction on the southern bank of the Hwai River, at the approaches to the lower Yangtze valley and 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

The line is anchored to Pengpu on the rail line midway between Nanking and Suchow, and is being manned by the bulk of some 85,000 troops in the Sixth and Eighth army groups.

Those groups are the last major Nationalist force standing between Communist armies and Nanking.

The government's 12th army group, of some 140,000 troops, was reported still tightly encircled by seven Red columns about 50 miles south of Suchow, in the Suhshien sector.

Three other Red columns were reported massed about 25 miles south of Suchow to block the southward movement of the Suchow garrison. The garrison, of some 350,000 men, was reported abandoning Suchow in an attempt to rescue the trapped 12th army group.

With the Nationalist armies thus separated in three pockets and threatened with destruction by numerically superior Red forces, Nanking circles found little comfort in the preparations being undertaken along the Yangtze river itself.

Gen. Tan Gen-Po has set up a Nanking-Shanghai defense area command headquarters at Wushih midway between the two cities. He has a total combat force of about 40,000 troops.

The airlift to Suchow was stopped as the garrison troops tardily heeded orders to hurry south to relieve the trapped forces.

Nanking urgently ordered the abandonment of Suchow five days ago. (Because the order was not obeyed promptly, suspension of the airlift was regarded as a move to force the ground troops to get out and fight. And it means that no additional supplies will fall into Communist hands if the Reds march into Suchow.)

Nationalist warplanes were reported to have abandoned Suchow's dusty airfield. Capture of the field appeared imminent.

Disorder bordering on panic at the airfield was reported by American pilots who tried unsuccessfully to land early today with the last load of supplies. They said able-bodied soldiers milled about in confusion.

Port Bragg, N.C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Fort Bragg Public Information Office said today that questioning of three Negro soldiers had developed they plotted to kill in an attempted robbery yesterday.

The PIO said three of four Negro soldiers captured in the attempted $51,000 Army payroll robbery said they had planned to shoot the driver of the money car on the spot. They added, the PIO said they planned to render the armed guard "unusable." The term was not defined.

The PIO listed the three as: Pfc. Robert Harris, Oxford, Pa.; Pfc. Samuel Richardson, Corona, N.Y.; and Pvt. Artie Curtis, New Orleans. The identity of the fourth, who plotted to carry out the robbery, was not divulged.

Alert Provost Marshal officers and Criminal Investigation Department agents closed in and arrested the four after they had crowded the payroll car to a curb. One was arrested on two cars with a drawn 45 Army automatic when officers closed in with Thompson sub-machine guns and shotguns.

The PIO said the four told of following the payroll car, watching while the money was being loaded, then of trailing it to the spot where the robbery effort was thwarted.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Seven teenage boys were in custody today in connection with what police said was a dues-paying theft club which advised upon the car with a Detective Lieut. Frederick McGrath and Detective Robert Griffith said yesterday about half the loot was found in the clubroom in the cellar of the 16-year-old leader's home. All the youths are from good families and range from 13 to 16 years in age.

EMPLOYMENT HIGH Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Non-agricultural employment hit a new high of nearly 46,000,000 jobs in mid-October, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 1.—(AP)—South Africa has yielded the bones of another ape man, larger than the recently discovered giant man of Java who must have stood nine feet tall.

The University of California announced that fossil remains of the new type were found in a limestone cave near Swartkrans, Africa, by Dr. Robert Broom, South African paleontologist of the Transvaal Museum.

Details of the discovery were cabled to Wendell Phillips, leader of the university's African expedition operating near Johannesburg. Phillips has returned to the Berkeley campus.

Dr. Broom said: "On the evidence to date, we can say that a new type of ape man has been discovered, larger than those previously known. Already conclusive evidence has been obtained that these ape men are alike, and probably ancestral to man, and not closely related to living apes."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(AP)—President Truman will join fellow Missourians at Norfolk, Va., Saturday when the "Show Me" State presents a silver service to the Battleship Missouri.

The White House, announcing this today, said Mr. Truman will travel to the navy base at Norfolk on the Presidential Yacht, Williamsburg. He will leave Washington Friday night.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Movie Actress Rita Hayworth today obtained her final decree of divorce from writer Orson Welles.

Rita and Welles were married in Santa Monica, Calif., Sept. 7, 1947.

China's First Lady Is Greeted In Washington

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, first lady of China arrived here today to seek new American backing for China's hard-pressed nationalist government.

The Chinese first lady was met at the airport by Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the Secretary of State.

Ambassador Wellington Koo and other Embassy officials also greeted her.

Madame Chiang arrived at 10:00 a. m. (EST) from San Francisco aboard President Truman's former personal plane, the Sacred Cow.

Although Madame Chiang's schedule for her two week visit has not been announced, she had an invitation to spend the first few days at the home of Secretary of State and Mrs. Marshall at nearby Leesburg, Va.

Marshall now is in Walter Reed hospital for a physical check-up. State Department officials predict he will be away from his office at least several days. What effect this may have on Madame Chiang's plans was not immediately known.

So far no time has been set for conferences with either Marshall or President Truman.

While American officials undoubtedly will show Madame Chiang every courtesy due the wife of a nation's leader, behind their smiling welcome they are, not too happy about the visit.

They expect Madame Chiang not only to appeal to government officials for aid, but also to try to stir up greater popular interest in the Chinese cause.

Her mission comes at a time when Mr. Truman and Marshall apparently have concluded that any aid would involve this country deeply in the Chinese war is out of the question.

Some new program of carefully limited help still seems probable. But whether it will be designed to furnish strong support to the Chiang regime is uncertain. American authorities appear to have little confidence in his ability to make a comeback no matter what help he gets.

Economic cooperation administrator Paul G. Hoffman meanwhile scheduled a flying inspection trip to China. He leaves Friday for London, then will proceed to Shanghai, arriving Dec. 11.

Party Chairmen Start Fireworks Hugh Scott Urges GOP Workers To Carry On Battle

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Democratic and Republican national chairmen swung a couple of roundhouse post-election blows at each other today.

GOP Chairman Hugh Scott, Jr., in a briefing letter to party workers yesterday, urged them to "slug toe-to-toe, day in and day out, with the demagogues."

"I wish to see a battle with a radical spirit and their alien philosophy of government," he declared, "but we have not lost the war."

That brought this retort from his Democratic counterpart, Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island: "Apparently the Republican leadership as it is now constituted has learned no lesson from the November 2nd election."

Declaring that Scott's letter "spells out stand pat Republicanism," McGrath said: "He still does not recognize the power of the people. He still expresses opposition to all the things the people themselves have given the Democratic party a mandate to carry out."

Scott, splitting sharply with some of his own party members, insisted that the Republicans "had a good program and an honest program" during the election campaign, but failed to sell it "adequately and aggressively."

A number of GOP lawmakers in both the House and the Senate have criticized the Republican program and leadership since the election. Some of them, saying Republican aims had no popular appeal, urged the ousting of what they called the "old guard."

Find Fossils Of Nine-Foot Man In South Africa

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 1.—(AP)—South Africa has yielded the bones of another ape man, larger than the recently discovered giant man of Java who must have stood nine feet tall.

The University of California announced that fossil remains of the new type were found in a limestone cave near Swartkrans, Africa, by Dr. Robert Broom, South African paleontologist of the Transvaal Museum.

Details of the discovery were cabled to Wendell Phillips, leader of the university's African expedition operating near Johannesburg. Phillips has returned to the Berkeley campus.

Dr. Broom said: "On the evidence to date, we can say that a new type of ape man has been discovered, larger than those previously known. Already conclusive evidence has been obtained that these ape men are alike, and probably ancestral to man, and not closely related to living apes."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(AP)—President Truman will join fellow Missourians at Norfolk, Va., Saturday when the "Show Me" State presents a silver service to the Battleship Missouri.

The White House, announcing this today, said Mr. Truman will travel to the navy base at Norfolk on the Presidential Yacht, Williamsburg. He will leave Washington Friday night.

Truman Approves Hoover Program For Re-Grouping

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A proposed rearrangement of 60 Federal agencies which may save the government $3,000,000,000 annually had the approval of President Truman today.

The plan was submitted by former President Hoover, who heads a bipartisan commission which will recommend changes in the executive branch of the government to the next Congress.

Hoover estimated that the proposed regrouping could save the government as much as $3,000,000,000.

He made known Mr. Truman's approval following a 45-minute conference at the White House. He also announced an aim to increase Federal salaries, especially in the top branches, but did not say whether the President had OK'd it.

"The government is losing its most skilled men in the upper brackets to industry," Hoover told reporters. "Payment in the top scale has just got to be increased if this government is going to function."

There was some confusion over Hoover's plans for regrouping the Federal agencies. Reporters first understood him to say the commission would recommend that the 60 agencies be telescoped into a single administration.

Later a commission spokesman said this is not what is intended. He said Hoover meant that each agency would be:

- 1. Placed either into one of the nine existing cabinet-rank departments, or a proposed tenth, or,
- 2. Put under one of six proposed administrations which would individually handle problems in related fields.

One such administration would, for example, be concerned only with the so-called "general services." These include such functions as procurement, statistics and records and personnel. Another might deal with veterans' affairs.

Hoover did not say what field the possible tenth cabinet post would cover. However, there has been talk of a department of health, welfare and security to be headed by an administrator with cabinet rank.

Recommend Boys Be Committed

Traverse City, Mich., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Commitment of two of three young boys involved in a woodsman's slaying was recommended today by a state hospital commission.

In a report for probate court the commission found Richard Damer, 13, and his brother, Harry, 10, defective mentally. Commitment in a state training school was recommended.

Hangover Cargo

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Christmas cheer note: The British freighter Egidia is due here Friday with 60,000 cases of assorted Scotch liquor.

John A. Hansler, freight traffic manager of the Anchor Line, said the 9,552 ton vessel carried 720,000 bottles (2,960,000 highballs).

NAM Opens Annual Meet Urging 'Teamwork' First

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Earl Bunting, managing director of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today the American economy has three flaws that the people want corrected—inflation, insecurity and inadequate thrift.

Bunting, opening the keynote session of the NAM's 53rd annual congress of American industry, called for cooperation between industry and government and between management and labor to solve the nation's economic problems.

The three-day congress is NAM's first national meeting since the Democratic victory in the November elections.

Urging "all groups and all opposing forces to put teamwork first, with the public interest as the one paramount measure," Bunting declared: "Capital and labor would be lost without each other. Capital is a primary factor in increasing the volume and value of the workers' output. Only where there is strong incentive for each essential factor in production can the total product available for rewards be increased."

Bunting said that "today's thrift is inadequate for the tremendously expanded needs of the American people in the renewal and expansion of productive equipment and to start whole new industries."

Savings, he asserted, can be "a substantial means of checking inflationary pressures on prices."

The NAM gathering also heard Spruille Braden, former assistant secretary of state and one-time ambassador to Argentina, declare that the United States must lead the way to lasting peace by eliminating statism at home and renewing the spiritual and liberal principles "which made this country great."

Pioneer In Organization Of AP Passes Quietly

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Frank B. Noyes, 85, one of America's pioneer newspaper leaders, died today.

Noyes, who helped organize the present Associated Press and served 38 years as its first president, had been in failing health for some time. But until last winter he had taken an active hand in the management of the Washington Evening Star, as its president and chairman of the board of directors.

A practicing journalist for more than 60 years, Noyes actually began his newspaper career at the age of six—selling extras upon President Grant's first inauguration. The years that followed saw him rise to the top.

State Dept. Says Solution For Berlin More Difficult

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A top State Department official said today that Russian formation of a separate government in Eastern Berlin makes an east-west solution of the Berlin crisis more difficult if not impossible.

This official would not allow direct quotation.

However, under Secretary of State Lovett told a news conference, meanwhile, that "if the Soviets feel that this action on their part alters our determination not to be driven out of Berlin by force, they are mistaken."

"That was the only comment which Lovett would make directly on the Berlin situation."

While it is not permitted to identify the official who said a Berlin solution has become more difficult if his views represent the considered judgment of the State Department. This official declared that the significance of the Soviet move can be summed up in four points:

- 1. The abrupt introduction of the new government over the Russian sector of Berlin shows the German people what they could expect if the United States and the other western powers withdrew their occupying forces.
- 2. Creation of the government followed the familiar pattern of intimidation as it had been developed in the Soviet dominated areas of Eastern Europe.
- 3. The timing of the move in relation to efforts of the United Nations to solve the Berlin crisis can hardly be accidental and the effect is to make a solution infinitely more difficult if not impossible.
- 4. The Russians may feel, as Lovett suggested in his comments, that the Western powers may now be less determined to stay in Berlin. If so they are mistaken.

The State Department regards the move as an effort to split the east and west and about the last action needed to break off the four-power control established jointly by Russia, America, Britain and France at the end of the war.

Berlin, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Communists took over complete control today of the Berlin city hall, which lies in the Soviet sector.

Russian-controlled German police barred the acting mayor of the legally elected anti-Communist government of Berlin from his office in the city hall.

Paris, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The big three western powers have served notice that they may act to counter Russian attacks on their position in Berlin.

The warning was expressed in a note handed to Juan A. Bramuglia, outgoing president of the U. N. Security Council, soon after the Communists split Berlin yesterday by naming their own rump government.

Found Her Ring In Wine Cooler

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The $22,000 diamond ring which Mrs. Estelle Augustus lost at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera has been found in a champagne cooler, she said today.

Mrs. Augustus said she was informed of the find by August Weisbrod, manager of Sherry's Bar at the Opera House. The ring was found when coolers were being cleaned yesterday following Monday night's opening.

Auto Accident Fatalities Gain On 1947 Total

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The nation's automobile accident record skidded off a smooth course in October and headed into the final lap of 1948 with a death toll of 25,720.

The traffic fatalities up to Nov. 1, with an increase of eight per cent in October, compare with 25,960 for the first 10 months of 1947.

The October toll of 3,290—a record month this year—virtually wiped out safety reported for the first three quarters in 1948. There were 3,050 traffic deaths in October, 1947.

"The nation is relaxing at the steering wheel," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council. "If November and December show a percentage increase as large as October, we are not going to save a single life this year."

Wholesale Food Index Declines

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food index this week declined to 86.38, equaling the index of Nov. 23, at the lowest level since June 24, 1947.

The figure compares with 86.38 a week ago and $7.17 a year ago.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound of each of 31 foods in general use.

License Tago Go On Sale Today

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—North Carolina's 1949 automobile license tags went on sale today in Raleigh and at 65 branch offices of the motor vehicle department.

The department's lobby was crowded during the day with early tag seekers. Plates next year will be black numbers on an orange background and must be displayed on all vehicles by Jan. 31.

PEACE OF MIND

St. Louis, Dec. 1.—(AP)—There are six new drugs for high blood pressure, but take it from the American Medical Association—serenity of mind and spirit is still the best treatment.

High Goals Set For 1949 Farming Crops

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The government staked more chips on continued prosperity today, asking farmers to produce extra poultry, milk, vegetables, sheep and lambs next year.

Anticipating "continued high consumer demands," the Agriculture Department announced these 1949 goals:

Poultry—35,100,000 turkeys and 700,000,000 young chickens—a 10 per cent increase. It suggested, however, that this year's estimated total of 425,000 laying hens be cut by 20,000.

That would give each person an average of 370 eggs—instead of 380—during the year, and about four pounds of turkey and 23.5 pounds of chicken.

Milk—a three per cent boost to 120,000,000,000 pounds. The department didn't say what that amounts to per person, but it did give a per-capita figure: better than this year's record 5,000-pound average.

Vegetables—with acreage increased to 717,850, the department suggested five per cent more lima beans, sweet corn and cucumbers; 7 per cent more snap beans; 12 per cent more sweet potatoes; four per cent more beets and watermelons. Goals for peas, peppers, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and spinach will be the same as this year's, but a cut was advised on lettuce, celery, cantaloupe, honey-dews and onions.

Sheep and lambs—the addition of at least 2,000,000 to this year's flock of 28,500,000.

The department already has called for a 17 per cent boost in the 1949 spring pig crop—to insure more pork chops for next fall and winter.

Since consumption of farm products tends to rise and fall with business and employment conditions, the call for increases was taken as a favorable straw in the economic wind.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Sweden will decide the fate of 84 Estonian refugees from Soviet rule who crossed the Atlantic in small boats last summer to reach the United States.

The State Department said today the Swedish government has been asked to take them back. If the answer is yes, as officials expect, the present intention is to deport the group for illegal entry into the U. S.

Some 30,000 Estonians have taken refuge in Sweden since Soviet Russia absorbed their Baltic homeland at the start of World War II. Embassy officials said the Swedish government completed absorption into Swedish life, and they expect no objections to accepting the latest group which came to this country.

Sweden also has been asked to take measures to halt further such voyages by Estonians who hope to make their homes in the U. S. without waiting to be accepted in their annual immigration quota of 116.

The Estonians are now in detention at Ellis Island, N. Y. They were sent there after being landed at Wilmington, N. C.

Their status has been in doubt because groups which arrived earlier were permitted to stay. In one case President Truman intervened. This was to prevent the deportation of three boat loads who landed at Miami, Fla., in 1946.

Bid $67 Millions To Build Big Ship

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Newport Shipbuilding and Drydock Company of Newport News, Va., submitted a low bid of $67,250,000 today for construction of the largest commercial ship ever to be built in the United States.

Only two bids were submitted for building the proposed 48,000 ton ship to become queen of the American Merchant Marine.

The second offer was by Bethlehem Steel Corp., which bid $75,649,000.

An official of the U. S. Maritime Commission, which opened the bids, said neither offer has been accepted yet.

Newport News Shipbuilding said it would take that firm 1218 calendar days to build the ship. Bethlehem Steel budgeted 1430 calendar days.

The United States Lines will operate the 380-foot luxury liner. The firm plans to finance a share of the construction, while the federal government—through the Maritime Commission—will subsidize about 45 per cent of the costs.

As a peacetime craft, the new American giant will provide facilities for 2,000 passengers. In event of war, it could be quickly converted into a 12,000-man troop ship. No name has been announced yet for the vessel.

Wholesale Food Index Declines

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food index this week declined to 86.38, equaling the index of Nov. 23, at the lowest level since June 24, 1947.

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
December 1, 1908

Sales for the month of November on the Greenville Tobacco market were 1,220,036 pounds at an average price of $10.97 per hundred. Sales for the season, 9,545,694 pounds at an average price of $9.37 per hundred. The Wilmington Star intimates that North Carolina must look to the A. & M. rather than the University to win the football championship next year.

The postmaster dropped a remark that at the rate things are moving now over at the post office Greenville will have free delivery in less than two years.

Dr. Hadley To Show Movies In Library

On Thursday evening, December 2, at 7:30 in the auditorium of Shepley Memorial library Dr. Herbert Hadley will show movies made by him while stationed in Japan and various areas of the Pacific. The movies are exceptionally interesting and colorful.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Community Art Center and is being given as a supplement to the exhibit of photography which is now showing in the art gallery.

The photography exhibit contains many interesting pictures, some of local scenes and local people, others of world personalities as Anthony Eden, General Marshall and Premier Tojo. Nature scenes are especially predominant and range from those taken in and around Greenville to many made in far away spots. One of a lightning flash in the sky is interesting and for sheer beauty the noted volcano of Japan, Fujiyama, is outstanding.

Photographers represented in the show are Dr. Herbert Hadley, Hugh Winslow, Walter Wilson, Bill Whedbee, Charles White and Leroy Hardee. In addition to the work done by local photographers a showing of Salon Prints made possible through the courtesy of Charles Bissette adds interest to the exhibit.

The program Thursday evening is free. The public is invited. The exhibits are open every afternoon. The photography exhibit will close Saturday.

Youth League Officers Meet

The Methodist Youth League officers met with their new pastor, Rev. Leon Russell, for the first time in the home of Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, October 29.

Since Bobby Bradshaw vacated the position of recreation committee chairman Alice Jones was elected to fill the office. Barbara Russell was then elected to serve in the place of Alice who formerly served on another of the program committees.

Plans for Christmas programs were outlined.

The group designed a Christmas carol outing for the Sunday before Christmas. They will sing especially for sick or invalid shut-ins.

Mid-Week Prayer Service

The regular mid-week prayer service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Ellington class room. The pastor will conduct the service.

Attending Meeting in Raleigh

Mrs. J. B. James is in Raleigh attending the luncheon meeting today at the Reilyn House, given by the state president for members of the Huguenot Society of the Founders of Manakin in the Colony of Virginia.

Mrs. James will stay for the meeting of the North Carolina Cultural Societies.

Jarvis Memorial Choir Practice

The choir of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will have its regular rehearsal on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Molly Brown room. All members are urged to be present.

Talks Scheduled By Lecture Club

The Faculty Lecture Club at East Carolina Teachers College has scheduled a series of three talks by members of the organization for programs extending from January through March, according to an announcement by Lucy Neiton, vice president and program chairman of the group.

Dr. Paul Murray of the department of social sciences, who will speak on January 10, will have as his subject "Some Aspects of the Urbanization of North Carolina." Dr. Murray is the author of "The Whig Party in Georgia," recently published by the University of North Carolina Press as one of the James Sprunt series on social studies.

Dr. P. M. Picklesimer, director of the department of geography, will speak on February 16 on the growth of the tobacco industry in this section. Dr. Picklesimer has made a study of the bright-leaf tobacco belt and has published a number of articles on the subject in magazines and journals during the past few years.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, dean of the college, will discuss aspects of the education of veterans on March 14. During the last war Dr. Jenkins served as a special educational advisor in the U.S. Marine Corps and has had a wide experience in the education of service men and veterans.

Dr. John Reynolds To Present Program

Dr. John O. Reynolds of the ECTO faculty, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's Sponsored Youth Organization Committee, will have charge of the program at the supper meeting Friday evening at 8:30. He will present a group of high school boys in line with the proposed Key Club of boys for the Greenville Kiwanis Club.

President Nathan C. Brooks will preside. Eli Bloom will entertain the Kiwanis officers and directors at supper at Respass' place, on the Bethel highway, Thursday night at 7 o'clock. This will be the last of officers and directors meeting of the year. It is an old Kiwanis custom for an officer or director to entertain the members of the board at supper a the monthly meetings.

One of the first earliest American eating places was Philadelphia's "Blue Anchor Tavern" opened as early as 1683 or 1684.

Dog License Law Now In Effect; Must Buy Licenses

By CHESTER WALSH
The city ordinance, recently passed, concerning the licensing of dogs in the city, is now in effect. The law requires owners of dogs to pay a fee of $1 for males and $2 for females, and the dogs are required to wear the small metal license tag on collars. In addition, a state law requires that all dogs be vaccinated against hydrophobia and have a certificate. Greenville Township Constable Gus Stokes does the vaccinating. The law provides a penalty for owners of dogs who fail to have them vaccinated.

The dog license tags may be obtained at the police department. The dog must be described on the certificate and the owner's name and address likewise must be on the paper.
Passage of the dog license ordinance was a health and safety measure, in line with other cities and towns of the state. The ordinance prohibits dogs from running at large on the streets. Dogs not attached to a leash found on the streets, and the owner must pay a fee to the master of the dog pound to recover the animal.

Registration For Winter Quarter At ECTC Is Completed

Registration for the winter quarter at East Carolina Teachers College was completed on Monday of this week, and the first meeting of classes for the quarter are now being held and will continue through Monday of next week. Classes will continue through December 18, when the college will close for the Christmas holidays.

No official count of students attending the college for the winter quarter has been made. Numbers compare favorably with those of the winter quarter last year, according to Registrar J. K. Long.

Postpone Aldermen's Meeting One Week

Mayor Pro-Tem L. M. Buchanan announced today that the scheduled regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen to be held at the City Hall Thursday night at 7:30 has been postponed one week—Thursday, December 9.

Mayor Jack Boyd, who is recuperating satisfactorily from illness at his home, 122 Seventh street, is expected to be able to preside at the postponed meeting. No matters of special importance are on the aldermen's calendar, City Clerk J. O. Duval said today.

Elks Lodge Plans Memorial Service

Greenville Elks Lodge No. 1645 will meet at the Elks' Home, 639 Evans street, Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Exalted Ruler J. Alvin Bunting will preside.

The Elks will hold a memorial service for departed brothers in the lodge room next Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Those to be honored are Roy Barrett, Norman Warren, Jack Lane, Jr., John Flanagan, Jack Ne-

Phone Firms Given Rate Hike

Raleigh, N.C., Dec. 1—(AP)—The State Utilities Commission has granted authority for higher rates to two telephone companies.

Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company of Tarboro was permitted to boost rural rates by an estimated total of $46,041 a year.
The commission authorized Hickory Telephone Company to increase rates in Hickory, Granite Falls and Valdese by an estimated total of $48,000 yearly.

Carolina Telephone will add 75 cents monthly to charges for multi-party rural business phones and 50 cents for multi-party rural residential phones. It had sought boosts of $1 and 75 cents.
At a hearing Nov. 5, the company said it served 68,265 phones, including 965 rural phones.

Monthly rate increases for Hickory Telephone range from 50 cents to $2.25 in Hickory, 25 to 50 cents in Granite Falls and 25 cents to $1 in Valdese. The commission heard the application Oct. 15.

The commission emphasized, however, that it was retaining authority to reduce Hickory Telephone's rates should conditions warrant.

therland, L. B. Garris and Dall Laughinghouse. It is a custom in Elkhorn to once a year hold memorial services during which tribute is made to those members who had died during recent years.

Inspection Lane To Be Here Thursday

The North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles' inspection lane will open at the Growers' Warehouse, in the western part of the city, Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. Supervisor Walter A. Dall announced today. This will be the last time the inspection lane will be in Greenville this year.

The supervisor said there still are about 1,500 trucks, motor scooters motor bicycles, trailers, etc., in Pitt county, to be inspected. A state law provides a penalty for motor vehicle owners who fail to have their vehicles inspected on schedule, the supervisor added.

COSTS—Much publicity has been given the fact that farm crop prices during the past few months have hit all-time high levels.

COMPLEX—Figuring production cost of farm produce is one of the most complex mathematical jobs confronting accountants.

RELATIVE—The record, as quoted by State College experts, shows farm prices advanced 20 percent from 1946 to 1947...

EXAMPLE—Here a story which illustrates the point. Your reporter heard it, has not checked for complete accuracy, but it sounds reasonable.

A farmer died, leaving several hundred acres of land and two sons. One of the boys bought the interest of the other for $5,000, which left him with investment of $10,000 in the farm.

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

Dear Santa:

It was found that if the farmer-brother charged $5,000 for his time, added the expenses of hired labor, fertilizer, cost of machinery (on wear and tear replacement, not original cost, basis) and other cost items, he came out about $800 below the machinist in real income—although he had handled more than twice as much money.

Boyle's Column

By GEORGE TUCKER (For Hal Boyle, Who is Ill)

New York—(AP)—There are those who say dogs came to their present position in society through hand licking and flattery.

Dogs give him companionship and devotion. They wear their hearts in their eyes. They accept constant neglect without resentment.

Once I knew a rat terrier who followed his master into suicide. He jumped off a building. There was a setter whose heart broke, and he died, when the man who owned him never came home from a duck hunt.

Five years ago in Sicily a dog named Chips, a mongrel in the army's K-9 corps, won a silver star by capturing an enemy machinegunner.

THE SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA has noted: "The dog has figured very extensively in the past and present. In mythology, as Cerberus, he was indicted, when the heart who owned him performed his duties so well that there were but few escapes. In the history of the past, he was used extensively for hunting purposes, as the guardians of persons and property, and as a pet and companion."

Crossword Puzzle with grid and word lists for Across and Down.

their hands. A General recommended Chips for the distinguished service cross.

There are dogs like Chips everywhere, and like the Red terrier who committee suicide, and the setter who died of a broken heart.

Having risen from the status of a beast of the field, without any rights, dogs now legally partake of many of the rights of humans.

They can be brought into some courts and tried as criminals, as in the recent case of a dog named "Scout," who was tried, convicted and executed for biting people.

It was the British who gave first recognition to dogs as personal property.

In a moving commentary, Blackstone, patron saint of law students found:

"As to those animals which do not serve for food, and which therefore the law holds to have no intrinsic value, as dogs of all sorts, and other creatures kept for whim or pleasure—very high pecuniary penalties of a long imprisonment and whipping—may be inflicted by two justices of the peace on such a stolen dog, or have in their custody the skin of a dog that has been stolen."

There are no federal laws affecting dogs in the United States, but most states have passed specific laws for their protection.

Mistreatment of dogs everywhere is punishable by imprisonment and fines. Only recently a man in New York was sent to jail for 180 days for torturing a dog.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ALEXANDER E. GEORGE (For Jane Eads)

Washington—A woman from Missouri helped "the man from Missouri" win the West in his election race. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the United Mint since 1933, campaigned for President Truman and predicted he would carry California and other Western states.

Mrs. Ross was one of the "big three" feminine personalities appointed to important government posts by President Roosevelt at the start of the New Deal.

Greenville's Story

PART III
Ed's note: This is the third in a series of articles by I. J. Edwards, Jr., of Greenville, a student at the University of North Carolina. The articles deal with the history of the city of Greenville from 1774 to 1910 and are based on facts from "Sketches of Pitt County," a book by Henry T. King, published in Raleigh by Edwards and Broughton in 1911.)

Thus far in this series of articles the historical highlights of Greenville have been traced from 1774 to 1840, when the first newspaper, "The Greenville Gazette," was published but failed because the town was not large enough to support it. In the presidential election of 1840 William Henry Harrison received 627 votes in Pitt County, and Martin Van Buren 391. At that time the vote of Greenville itself was not counted separately, and only county results are known. The same is true of population figures.

Seven years later marked the beginning of a dispute between two Greenville lawyers which ended in a duel. In his book, "Sketches of Pitt County," Henry King describes the duel in a manner that is representative of the year it was written, 1911:

Beware Coughs From Common Colds That HANG ON

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back. CREOMULSION For Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

"October first, 1847, H. F. Harris, a member of the legislature, fell in a duel with E. C. Yellowly. Both were young lawyers of the Greenville bar. They were close friends, rivals at the bar and also for the graces of an only daughter of a wealthy planter. A case in court caused the first difficulty. Harris had the first speech to the jury and severely criticized the management of the case by Yellowly. In his reply, Yellowly more severely criticized Harris. After court, Harris made an attack on Yellowly. Friends prevented anything serious then. Harris challenged Yellowly to meet him on the field of honor, which challenge was accepted. However, both were arrested and put under heavy bonds to keep the peace one year. On the day the bond was out Harris renewed the challenge, which was again accepted.

"On October first, 1847, they met on the North Carolina and Virginia State line, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, about four miles from the 'Half-way House.' Before fighting, Yellowly sent his second to see if the duel could then be stopped. Harris was obstinate and demanded that the duel proceed. In the first shot, Harris' shot went wild, and Yellowly fired up into the air. Again Yellowly attempted a reconciliation, but Harris said he went there for blood and would have it before he left. In the second shot Harris' shot again went wild. This time Yellowly's shot went true and Harris fell, pierced by the ball, nearly in the center of his forehead, and a little over the right eye. Seeing Harris fall, Yellowly said to his second, 'Go to him for God's sake, for I don't want to kill him.' Harris was dead when the second reached him. Yellowly and his party left at once, but were arrested in Virginia, though the magistrate did not hold them.

"Both Harris and Yellowly were brave, fearless men. Harris was an expert with the pistol. Both had practiced for the occasion, though Yellowly did not want to fight. Dr. W. J. Blow was Yellowly's second,

Scrap Paper Drive

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct a scrap paper drive in Greenville next Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Lester Turnage, chairman of the Scrap Paper Committee, announced today.

The Jaycees use the proceeds of the scrap paper drives for worthy community projects.

President R. B. Sugg, Jr., requests householders to place bundles of paper out front to facilitate collection. Magazines should be kept separate.

and also surgeon to both."

In 1850 the legislature chartered the Greenville and Raleigh plank road. A provision in the charter provided that any white person who traveled on the road pay a fine of five dollars, unless the proper tolls had been paid. If a slave violated the provision the penalty was not more than twenty lashes.

The next year after the road was chartered, the stockholders met in Greenville and organized. A committee was appointed to determine the number of shares held by each town, and the following figures were revealed: Raleigh, 30; Wilson, 64; Washington, 1,016; and Greenville, 1,329. The plank road was a great enterprise and did much for the county, and the departure and arrival of the stage coaches was a big event. Usually large crowds were on hand to see what news or people arrived on the coaches.

Made Getaways, But Left Clue

Albuquerque, N. H., Dec. 1.—(P)—Police didn't find it too hard to catch a 17-year-old youth involved in the theft of an automobile.

He had fled from the car along with a companion when police stopped it after a long chase. Both of the youths made good their getaways on foot.

But—

Little Fires Blamed For Tragedies

Freak fires and fires that take heavy tolls of life and property value get the most public attention. But the National Fire Protection Association says the bulk of losses are traced to small fires, due to familiar causes—fires that snuff out a life here and there largely unnoticed. Thirty persons are dying every day in fires that attack homes every minute-and-a-half," the association finds out. Matches not kept out of the reach of children, careless smokers, dry cleaning at home, furnaces in need of repair are among causes of 90 per cent of all fires, the association reports. Here are some examples.

A reading glass slipped from a window sill, lodged in a caverstrough and focused the sun's rays on dried shingles. Result: $10,000 in damage. Fish bowls and bottle cause similar fires.

A man perspired while weighing sodium peroxide. A few drops of sweat fell on the explosive chemical used in bleaching textiles. The dye-house, guarded against moisture, went up in flames.

A lit pipe in the pocket of a coat in a wooden locker started a fire. Workers tried in vain to open a left-handed fire hydrant. By the time they sounded the alarm, the fire caused $35,000 in damage.

Static electricity can cause sparks that set fires. These sparks are visible in the dark when rubbing a cat's fur the wrong way. When a cat was put in a gas chamber the lethal gas exploded.

Water starts fires sometimes. Workmen left unslaked lime on the porch of a two-story home. A sudden shower soaked the lime, which boiled over, set fire to the woodwork, damaged the house.

An electric iron was left connected and resting flat on an ironing board, while a housewife talked with a neighbor. When she returned, the iron had burned through ironing board and floor.

Warm Weather Said Returning

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shivering Carolinians greeted December today, comforted somewhat by a forecast of "quite a bit warmer" weather this afternoon and "several degrees warmer" tomorrow morning than it was early today.

Ashville's 25 and Mt. Mitchell's 26 were the lowest temperatures reported in the two-state area. Greensboro's 28 was third low for the Tar Heel state.

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 30

Lottie paused, breathless. Pat and her mother sat numbed by her news. Pat moistened his lips and spoke very humbly.

"She must have married that Wayne she was here with."

Lottie snorted. "She most certainly did not. He married Winifred Carlton, who is rich and so jolly that the papers have always called her the laughing heifer. Social fooling him into taking her out there, and paying her fare but that was all. He didn't seem so much here somehow, but once I got out there I realized how important he was. She couldn't fool many people very long. She even appeared in a cheap theatre just a couple of weeks ago but nobody paid any attention to her dancing. She never was any good."

There was a dead silence. The room was dark. Tuffy jumped from his chair, crying, "I know where Joe is!" and darted out the door. Lottie cried out and started after him, but stopped on the threshold and backed up. Joe came in slowly with the boy squirming rapturously in his arms.

"Joe!"

His mother held out her fat arms. He went to her and kissed her, then sat down, still holding Tuffy. His voice was very quiet.

"Yes, I've been listening, Lottie. Tell me more. There must be so much more."

"There isn't!" Lottie tossed her head. "She means nothing in my life. Have you married Bella yet, Joe?"

He smiled widely. "Bella married her fancy dentist and has gone to live in Chicago and be rich."

"Well, she certainly has done better than Rosalie for all her schemes."

Mrs. Monahan came to life with a roar. "I won't have you talkin' that way about the poor soul. If she is in trouble you should have found her and helped her."

"Helped her? After the way she treated us all. Nobody was good enough. We were all shanty Irish and lived in a slum."

"Haven't you said the same thing?"

"I still say it. I can't understand how people can live in a place like this. Now that I have traveled and broadened my mind, I say--"

Pat jumped up, knocking over his chair. "You haven't any mind to broaden. You're nothing but selfish spite inside and out. Come on, Tuffy. We'll go see Mulrooney on the corner and buy some cake."

"I am going home, Mother."

"Course you are. This is your home. Will you stop trying to be what you're not? If Rosalie is too blind and dumb to know where she belongs and who wants her, do you have to be the same?"

"Pat insulted me."

"Sure he did. He threw rocks at Rosalie. He's starvin' me. It's the daft way of the man. But he's ours and we have to put up with him just like he had to put up with us. And for us. He paid Tuffy's school bill the other day."

"Will you shut up!" roared Pat, and banged out of the house.

The fat woman laughed. "There you are! That's the thick mick of it. He'll give you everything in the world and then tell you to shut up if you remind him of it. He has no refinement at all. But he's ours, Lottie. He'd steal the money tonight to go after Rosalie and bring her back if he knew where to find her. If you know you ought to tell us."

"I don't know I really don't, Mom."

Lottie spoke humbly now. Her mother leaned on her arm and they started for the kitchen. He stood a moment, then went out into the hall and slowly up the stairs. His feet moved mechanically as if beyond his control. It seemed a long way to the top of the house, but he felt he had to go there.

He sighed as he pushed open the roof door. The thin snow seemed to blind him as it stabbed out of the darkness. The roof was dangerous on a night like this, dangerous even for him. There was no sense in going out into the dreariness and try to think if he would not be some way he could reach her. He wasn't in awe of her now. She had been offered a career, wealth, and—and just his humble love that day as they stood before her in her apartment while Rex Hall mockingly outlined the situation. He had been so pitifully outclassed then. But if she had failed to capture fame and wealth he could speak to her now. He could tell her of his love which had grown so much and meant all his life now. If nobody wanted her, he would have her, and Mom did, and Pat did. It was love. The mere completely she had failed the more he wanted her.

the more precious she was to him. He must find her. He must.

He started to back down the steps and close the door. Then he caught his breath. He heard a sound. He stood immobile.

"Joe!"

For a moment he thought he was dreaming. Then her fragrance swept toward him on the snowy air. It took but two steps to reach her, an instant to catch her in his arms and shower her face with kisses. She clung to him and he realized she was sobbing. He kissed her tears away gently.

"No more. You're home. We're waiting for you, Rosie."

"Joe! I've been such a fool. I've been so vain, so stupid, so blind. He kissed the words from her mouth. "I won't let you say it. I love you. We all love you. It's all we can give, but it is real."

"How can you forgive me. I—I've been so cruel to you. How can I make you believe I really love you now?"

He swept her in his arms. "Will you marry me, Rosie? I'm just a common Smoky Joe. I—"

She struggled in his arms. "You're just Joe. I don't want more."

He tried opening the roof door with her in his arms. She didn't help him. She just clung to him, her cheek to his. She had really triumphed at last.

THE END

Windsor Safe Is Broken, Robbed

Windsor, Nov. 30.—(P)—Between $1,300 and $1,500 was removed from a safe which was broken into early this morning at the C. J. Rhea motor company garage, according to police chief H. J. Lupton, who together with the SBI is investigating the theft.

The safe which was located in the show window of the garage was carried to the rear office in the garage and broken open. So far as owners of the place could ascertain in an early check nothing else was missing.

State Cagers Upset By Hanes Hosiery Outfit

Power-Packed North Carolina State Stubs Toes In Opener By Score Of 49-38

By the Associated Press

No major college basketball games are scheduled tonight in North Carolina, but followers of the hardwood heroes have plenty to talk about.

North Carolina State's power-packed hosiery furnished the first big surprise of the season by stubbing their toes on a scrappy Hanes Hosiery outfit, going down by a 49-38 score last night at Winston-Salem.

The official opener after three 100-point exhibition performances against service teams last month, found State's whirlwind attack slowed down to a walk. The teams met again Friday night at Raleigh.

Playing a tight man-to-man defense, the Hosiery club kept the Southern Conference champions under their thumbs all night.

Hanes broke a 10-10 tie for a 22-18 lead at the half, saw it cut to 33-31 with seven minutes to play and then spun away to win convincingly.

The defeat was the ninth in three seasons at State for Coach Everett Case.

State made good on only 14 of 72 shots at the basket, while Hanes clicked on 18 of 68.

So well distributed was the scoring that no player hit double figures. All nine Hanes players entered the point column.

John Dillon, former University of North Carolina hook shot artist, and Lofis each tallied nine points for Hanes to lead the parade. State's best was eight by Center Paul Howard. High scorer Dick Dickey was held to one basket. Four fouls gave him a total of six points.

Southern Cal Is Relying On Hope To Upset Irish

Los Angeles, Dec. 1—(AP)—Southern California's Trojans went about their football drills today, fully aware that mighty Notre Dame is headed this way and is heavily favored to take them apart here Saturday in the finale of the season for both elevens.

It will be the 20th meeting between the two in a series that began in the years of the late, great friendly rivalry, Knute Rockne and Howard Jones, back in 1928.

Notre Dame is pointed for its 22nd consecutive victory, its 28th game without a loss, a victory string interrupted by that famous scoreless tie with Army in 1946.

The incredulous part of the thing is that the game is a sell-out. More than 100,000 people will cram into Memorial Coliseum to see another great Irish eleven take on a Trojan team that has far more spirit than talent, an outfit that has been beaten by Ohio State, Oregon and California.

Last year it was recorded that the Trojans awaited the Irish much like condemned men awaiting the executioner. The observation drew caustic replies from Trojan rowers. One even wrote that USC would upset the South Bend team.

Well, the execution took place, on schedule—38-7.

But hope never dies, as witness last Saturday's results around the country. And there is always a chance for a miracle.

Sport Slants by Pap

Norman Van Brooklin is more than once a game. Unhurried, Van Brooklin was able to fire away with deadly accuracy. While the spotlight was focused on Van Brooklin's passing, the Web-foot ace was more than just a passing star. Van ran the Oregon team and ran it well. Against U. C. L. A., he tossed only a dozen forwards when he found out that his teammates could mow on the ground. A clever ball-handler behind the line, he kept the defense guessing on the ball carrier. He took care of the punting chores in better than adequate fashion. Quite a football player, this Norman Van Brooklin!

It is to the credit of Jimmy Aiken, capable coach of the University of Oregon football team, that Norman Van Brooklin has been given almost unbelievable protection while piling up his amazing forward passing. Van Brooklin must be rated one of the finest passers the Pacific Coast has produced, a genuine All-American candidate.

If there was any single characteristic that marked the Oregon team this fall it was the manner in which they protected Van Brooklin on his passes. Would-be rushers blocked off with dogged determination and the protection plan paid off Van Brooklin more than once a game.

Probably because of the earliness of the meeting, Heath was completely overlooked in the AAC draft. Another player the rival circuits are trying to land is Bednarik, Pennsylvania's 230-pound All-American center.

The Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL drew rights to Bednarik in a bonus draft. Brooklin won a try at him in the All America.

The professional leagues, which aren't speaking terms, have had to go high in recent years to outbid each other for the college standouts.

All efforts to make peace between the two leagues have failed. Many clubs report that high player salaries and bonuses are resulting in operating deficits. Particularly, Ted Collins, owner of the Boston Yanks of the NFL, said he has dropped $750,000 in four years.

New Dollar War Shaping Up For Pro Grid Loops

New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—A new dollar war is shaping up between the National Football League and the rival All America Conference in their bid for the cream of the 1948 college crop.

Spirited bidding is reported already under way on such stars as Don Walker of Southern Methodist, Stan Heath of Nevada, Johnny Rauch of Georgia and Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania.

Both circuits, seeking to get the jump on the other, have held very hush-hush draft meetings. It has been learned lately.

The All America player selection ceremony was staged in the middle of the summer and word of it was carefully guarded. The National held a secret session in Pittsburgh Nov. 15.

The Milwaukee Journal said yesterday the New York Yankees had offered Heath, Nevada's brilliant passer, $40,000 for two seasons.

A Yankee spokesman acknowledged Burell Grimes had gone out to talk to Heath but said no offer had been made.

"We're anxious to sign Heath or any other good man who will help our club," the spokesman said. "We want a passer."

Probably because of the earliness of the meeting, Heath was completely overlooked in the AAC draft. Another player the rival circuits are trying to land is Bednarik, Pennsylvania's 230-pound All-American center.

Norfolk Cagers Mixed Up On 'Navigation'; Missed Contest

An airborne Norfolk Naval Air Station basketball team, scheduled to play the East Carolina Teachers College Pirates in their cage opener here, landed in the wrong port last night.

The sailors flew all the way to Greenville, South Carolina.

Coach Howard Porter made the announcement shortly after eight o'clock to the estimated four hundred fans who turned out to see the Pirates open their season. "It will be played at a later date," Porter said and to somewhat ease the disappointment of the accident he instructed his Junior Varsity "to get dressed."

In the regulation game which followed Porter's varsity quintet passed by six foot four inch forward Jack Everton, rolled up a 55 to 20 win over the Jayvees.

North State Has Revised Rulings

High Point, Dec. 1—(AP)—The North State Conference colleges have voted to allow non-graduates of junior colleges to participate in athletics for two years after fulfilling a 12-month residence.

At their annual fall meeting here yesterday they also voted to make eligible 12 months after the next registration date junior college transfers now in school.

The change goes into effect with the new registration period of the schools.

Previously, only athletes who had graduated from the two-year colleges were eligible for play.

The following officers were elected:

Dr. E. G. Furdon, Guilford, president; Dr. C. F. Dodson, Western Carolina, vice president; Dr. David E. Faust, Catawba, secretary-treasurer; and Professor A. L. Hook, Elon, commissioner.

Greensboro was tentatively set as the scene of the conference tennis and golf tournaments, with the track meet going to High Point.

Plan Award For Family Doctor

St. Louis, Nov. 30—(AP)—Dr. W. L. (Buck) Freely of Due West, S. C. was named the outstanding family doctor of the year by the American Medical Association today.

He will be presented on Thursday night with a gold medal for outstanding service to his community, winner over other doctors nominated for the honor from 18 states.

Cigar Bowl Will Have Fine Teams

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 1—(AP)—St. Thomas College of St. Paul, Minn., loser of only one game this season, was selected today to oppose the powerful Missouri Valley Vikings here in the annual Cigar Bowl game Jan. 1.

J. Rex Farrior, chairman of the selection committee, said the St. Thomas Tommies were chosen after heavy consideration for the Bowling Green (Ohio) team and Wofford college of South Carolina.

"We feel that we have chosen two fine teams who should be able to give a real football game," Farrior said.

His First Deer Was His Last; Heart Stopped

Buckhannon, W. Va., Dec. 1—(AP)—Elmer Hupp, 49, had gone deer hunting for the past four seasons, but he hadn't bagged a single deer.

Again, he was among the first to take to the woods Monday, when the season opened.

He and several companions separated for the day, arranging a rendezvous that afternoon. The meeting time passed but Hupp didn't show up. His companions went in search of him.

Bill Burley, also of Buckhannon, found him not far away—lying beside a six-point buck that had been brought down with a single shot.

A physician said Hupp died of a heart attack.

Sixth Orange Bowl Game Talked; Tentative Offers

Miami, Fla., Dec. 1—(AP)—The question today is, will there be five or six post-season football games in the Orange Bowl?

Not all in one day, of course, but there is talk of a doubleheader on New Year's. Five games are scheduled. The sixth is still in the promotion stage.

It came into the picture yesterday when a Miami group—headed by the Orange Bowl schedule committee picked three—beaten Texas to meet Georgia on New Year's Day—tried to match Santa Clara with Penn State or Tulane here that night.

Gardner Mulloy, Miami tennis star, communicated with Santa Clara Athletic Director Dennis A. Heenan Monday night, and he was followed yesterday by W. A. Scott identified as a former Los Angeles hotel official now in Miami.

Heenan said Scott had no official connection with Santa Clara and Bronco Publicity Chief W. M. (Mike) Welds said:

"If the night game is sponsored by some group of malcontents trying to organize something in competition with the Orange Bowl Santa Clara could not be interested."

Andy Rogers, sports director at Tulane, said the Green Wave "could afford only to consider this (proposal) to play in the light of the present Southeastern Conference ruling which permits its school to participate only in the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowl on New Year's Day."

Trustees of Ladd Memorial Stadium at Mobile, Ala., said Tulane had rejected a bid to play Vanderbilt there Dec. 30.

Miami's "Bowl" program begins Saturday when the Florida A and M College Rattlers of Tallahassee play Virginia Union University of Richmond in the "Orange Blossom" game in the Orange Bowl.

The annual Kiwanis Club charity game is scheduled Dec. 10 between

Valuable Real Estate Will Be Sold At Auction

By CHESTER WALSH

A part of the M. O. Blount estate in Bethel will be sold at public auction on Monday, December 6, at 1:30 p.m. The property to be sold includes lots adjoining the Bethel High School on the Bowersville highway, business property consisting of the hotel and stores on Main Street; a house and lot near the white graded school; beautiful residential lots in and near Chatham Court, and 20 colored residential lots on Smith and other streets. The property will be sold on easy terms. There will be band music at the sale and free turkeys.

For further information see K. W. Cobb at the Bethel Hotel, Blount & Taft, attorneys, or W. Z. Morton. The owners of Eppes Park, Greenville's newest colored subdivision, will offer at auction sale on Monday, December 6 at 10 a.m., 30 desirable lots in this rapidly growing section of the city. The park is conveniently located to schools, churches, stores and industries of Greenville. Twenty-five high class colored people own homes in the section.

In addition to this, the owners will sell at auction one new colored residence on Davenport Street.

Seven lots for colored people's homes or business property on West Third Street between Pitt Street and the Coast Line Railroad, adjoining the Carolina Dairy garage, will be sold at auction at 11:30 a. m. the same day.

For further information about this property, see K. W. Cobb, W. Z. Morton or Blount & Taft, attorneys. Band music, easy terms, free turkeys.

Ordinance Requires Dogs To Have Tags; Must Be Registered

By CHESTER WALSH

The city ordinance regulating the ownership of dogs in the city limits, now in effect, requires that all owners of dogs register them with the police department, describing the animals, and pay $1 for a metal license tag for male, $2 for female, and not allow their dogs to run at large on the city streets. The ordinance also requires all dogs to have a certificate that they have been vaccinated against hydrophobia.

The ordinance was passed by popular request to safeguard the health of the community, and to have some influence toward eliminating the hundreds of unowned mongrel dogs that roam the city at large, especially in springtime, when gardens are beginning to grow, and that make life miserable for householders by turning over garbage cans in their after-dawn prowlings in packs over the city.

The Greenville ordinance concerning dogs is in line with ordinances in other progressive cities and towns in the state, it is understood.

Dogs are required to wear the metal license tags on their collars, whether confined or elsewhere. The ordinance requires that canines found on the streets shall be taken up, and the owners will be required to pay a fee to recover them.

Consider Teams For Peanut Bowl

Columbus, Ga., Dec. 1—(AP)—Seven strong scholastic football teams are under consideration for the Jan. 1 Peanut Bowl game here against the Georgia champion.

Out-of-state clubs being considered are Fayetteville, N. C.; North Charleston, S. C.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Kansas City, Mo.; White Plains, N. Y.; Louisville, Ky., and Beckley, W. Va.

Modern systematic studies of meteors began in 1832.

Police Court

Judge Jimmy Roberts disposed of the following cases in Police Court Monday morning:

Elin G. Sutton, speeding, $20.

Raymond Hill, colored, non-support, six months on the roads.

Clarence Atkinson, colored, larceny (two charges), two years on the roads, suspended on condition that he pay $25 court costs and he was placed on probation for five years; he was ordered to pay the Watson Seafood Company of Raleigh $106.

Marshall Smith paid $15 for being drunk.

Cases disposed of last Friday follow:

Junius N. White, colored, paid $100 and costs for driving drunk and his license was ordered revoked for a year.

Abner R. Stepps paid $15 for being drunk.

Louis Smith, colored, paid $15 for assault on a female.

Dock Lee Mills' name was called and he failed to answer. His bond was forfeited.

Abram L. Mills paid $15 for being drunk.

Tommy Jones, colored, non-support, was fined $15 and costs and ordered to pay $100 a month for support of his child.

David H. Wingate, failure to stop at a "stop" sign and hit-and-run driving, paid $25 and costs and his driver's license was revoked for a year.

Mary M. Pittman, colored, was given six months in jail for assault with a deadly weapon.

W. Vance Baise Said Asked To Resign His Post

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 30—(AP)—Rumors that Governor elect Kerr Scott has asked the resignation of Chief Highway Engineer W. Vance Baise were confirmed today by reliable state capital sources.

Scott, who has been vacationing for more than a week at an undisclosed spot, was not available for comment on the rumors, and Baise continued to answer inquiries with the same reply he has used for the past several days.

"I have no comment to make on the subject," he said.

There also have been rumors on Capitol Hill that Scott has requested the resignation of Chief Highway Engineer Z. Flack of the State Utilities commission. Flack, like Baise, said he had no comment.

Roosevelt Race, Westbury, N. Y., attracted 1,983,746 customers during the 1948 season, an average of 13,881 fans for each of the 145 nights of harness racing.

Heisman Winner

New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—Doak Walker, All-American half-back from Southern Methodist University, is the 1948 winner of the Heisman Trophy.

Walker received 778 votes from sports writers and broadcasters as the year's outstanding player. Charlie Justice of North Carolina was second with 443 votes and Chuck Bednarik, Pennsylvania center, third with 334.

Others receiving votes were: Jackie Jensen of California, 143; Stan Heath of Nevada, 113; Norman Van Brooklin of Oregon, 83; Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, 73, and Jack Mitchell of Oklahoma, 68.

The award will be made here Dec. 7.

Eleven Schools Represented On 1948 AP All-America

Charlie Justice Included On List Of First String

By TED SMITS
AP General Sports Editor
New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—Despite college football's continued trend in 1948 towards subordinating the individual to the team, heroic performers stood out across the land to constitute The Associated Press All-America.

But unlike All-Americans of recent years, no college in 1948 contributes more than one man to the first eleven, not even those great power teams, Michigan and Notre Dame.

Three 1947 first team men are back—Bill Fischer of Notre Dame at tackle; Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania at center; and Doak Walker of Southern Methodist in the backfield.

Geographically the All-America reflects the middle west's domination of the sport. Four from the first team come from that area, two from the east, two from the south, two from the southwest, and one from the Pacific coast.

Virtually all the several hundred Associated Press staff writers, newspaper sports editors and broadcasters who joined in nominating the team agreed on five men—Dick Rifenburg of Michigan at end, Buddy Burris of Oklahoma at guard, Halfback Charlie Justice of North Carolina, Fischer and Walker.

The rest of the first team members had sharper competition for their posts—Barney Poole of Mississippi at end, Leo Nomellini of Minnesota at tackle, Rod Franz of California at guard, Bednarik at center and Backs Bobby Jack Stuart of Army and Art Murakowski of Northwestern.

Sharpest argument this year over bestowing All-America honors centered on the merit of recognizing men who played only offense or defense under the spreading "two platoon" system.

Separate defensive and offensive All-America first teams were proposed. Should the present cleavage widen this could become a possibility. For the present, however, to deny acclaim to men such as Justice, Rifenburg and Stuart merely because they were used primarily on offense seems unfair. All are great enough athletes to play defense if needed.

Chicago, Dec. 1—(AP)—Billy Conn was scheduled to begin training today for his six round exhibition fight in the International Theater Dec. 10 with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Louis is expected to open training quarters tomorrow.

The champ figures he will have made close to $100,000 in exhibitions by Dec. 15. He will box in January, too, and has a backlog of about 50 American and Canadian cities asking for dates.

In previous exhibitions, Louis received $14,500 at Cleveland, $9,000 in Detroit, $7,500 in Washington, D.C., $7,000 in Kansas City, $6,000 at St. Louis and $4,000 in Oklahoma City.

The Brown Bomber usually gets a $3,500 guarantee plus a percentage. Against Conn he will receive 32 1/2 per cent with the former challenger getting 22 1/2 per cent.

A sellout of 12,000 fans (at a $7.50 top including tax) is virtually assured for the bout.

WILL HONOR TEAM
Hickory, N.C., Dec. 1—(AP)—Leonor Rhine College will honor its football team here tonight at the annual banquet.

Davidson Coach Charley Jamerson will be the principal speaker.

No Post-Season Game Is Expected

State College, Pa., Dec. 1—(AP)—Penn State's once-beaten football team will not play any post-season games, a spokesman for the athletic board said last night.

The spokesman, who declined use of his name, said Penn State—defeated only by Pitt—has been reported under consideration for a night game to follow the New Year's Day Orange Bowl contest at Miami, Fla.

Penn State, the spokesman said, would consider such an invitation, if formally issued, but added that "there's not much chance of its being accepted."

He also said Penn State previously rejected a feeler from Harbor Bowl officials at San Diego. Cal Villanova College yesterday accepted a bid to meet Nevada in the Harbor Bowl.

DOWDA ON ROSTER
Charlotte, Dec. 1—(AP)—Halfback Dowda of Wake Forest has been added to the roster of the College All-Stars who will meet the Charlotte pro Clippers here Sunday in the annual Varsity Club charity game.

The National Football League is now in its 29th season.

Justice Is Selected Player Of The Year

Los Angeles, Dec. 1—(AP)—Enrique Bolanos, lightweight pride of Mexico, finds himself practically out of opponents today except for his No. one quarry, champion Ike Williams.

The handsome contender took care of an outstanding foe, Tommy Campbell, Rock Island, Ill. Negro, in vicious style last night, winning a unanimous 12-round decision and retaining his California lightweight title.

Bolanos manager, George Farnassus, said his fighter's one ambition is for a third match with Williams, and negotiations for a bout may be renewed even today. Williams stopped Bolanos two years ago and won a split decision in 15 rounds last May.

Farnassus heard that Frank Palermo, one of Williams' managers, flew here yesterday, tried unsuccessfully to get seats for last night's fight and would be around today.

"If Palermo's here, we'll negotiate," Farnassus said.

A crowd of 10,000 jammed Olympic auditorium for last night's battle, paying a gross of $41,778 and net of $32,848 of which Bolanos got 35 per cent and Campbell, 20 per cent. An estimated 4,000 were turned away.

It was Campbell's first loss in 10 fights this year.

PGA Convenes In Annual Meeting
Dunedin, Fla., Dec. 1—(AP)—The Professional Golfers Association of America opened its 32nd annual meeting here today.

One of the first items expected to be considered was the 1949 tournament schedule.

Tournament Director George Schneider has prepared a schedule six weeks shorter than for 1948.

Pitt University Offers Hamilton Big Sports Job

Pittsburg, Dec. 1—(AP)—Captain Tom Hamilton had a choice of jobs today—he can remain as Athletic Director of the U. S. Naval Academy or become All-around sports boss of the University of Pittsburgh.

Just as most everyone had predicted, Hamilton yesterday was offered the job of Pitt director of Physical Education and Athletics—a brand new position combining the Athletic Directorship with that of Physical Education.

And with the position goes the task of bringing Pitt back to Athletic glory—particularly to the place of prominence it formerly occupied among the nation's football powers.

The Athletic Directorship has been vacant since last July when the veteran Jimmy Hagan resigned to climb a series of investigations over Pitt's declining athletic fortunes—particularly on the gridiron.

Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald, who announced the selection, said later Hamilton will come here by plane Thursday to look over the situation.

Like most married men who have an important decision to make, Tom will talk it over with his wife, Mrs. Hamilton will accompany her husband to Pittsburgh.

As for the Navy's concern Hamilton can retire any time he wishes. A navy official at Washington explained he has accumulated enough service to go on the retirement list.

Hamilton is one of the Academy's heroes. He graduated from Annapolis in 1927 after earning nine letters in football, basketball and baseball. He has had two tours of duty as navy's football coach and assumed the Athletic Directorship last year.

During the war he saw plenty of active service. Among his decorations are the bronze star and the legend of merit for heroic action as executive officer of the Carrier Enterprise in the Pacific.

Favors Pointing Out Offenders In Grid Games

Detroit, Dec. 1—(AP)—Clarence (Biggie) Munn, Michigan State College football coach, has a new suggestion for the rule makers.

Munn would have officials point out the offender on every infraction of the rules they detect on the field.

"It's easy enough to wave a red handkerchief and signal that somebody was guilty of clipping or holding," Munn told the Michigan chapter of the Football Writers Association at their "climax dinner" here last night.

"But if the rules called for officials to point out each offender there would be a lot less guessing out there on the field," he said, "and probably a lot fewer penalties."

Florida Opens Racing Season

Miami, Fla., Dec. 1—(AP)—Florida's winter horse racing season begins today when Tropical Park opens in the 120-day run.

A crowd of about 12,000 was expected to see the "sport of kings" at the palm-lined oval on the fringe of the Everglades out beyond Coral Gables.

The track has been painted, improved and beautified in preparation for the official launching of Florida's tourist season.

Return Match

Greenville's National Guard basketball team will journey to Richlands tonight to play a return match with the Richlands All-Stars in a Tobacco Belt Conference clash.

The local outfit bowed to the Richlands boys 35 to 23 here Monday night. They were sent through a heavy workout last night in preparation for tonight's game and reportedly "looked much better than they did Monday."

'Union Goons' Stage Raid On Plant; Workers Beaten

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 1—(AP)—A band of men in a motor caravan invaded Kalamazoo early today, burst into two strikebound factories of the Shakespeare Companies, smashed equipment and then fled after injuring several workmen.

Police Chief Howard Hoyt labeled the invaders "union goons" and said their cars bore license plates from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.

He asked Gov. Sigler for National Guard aid at the height of the raid but withdrew the appeal when the invaders departed as suddenly as they had arrived.

Several non-striker in the two plants were injured. Police said two were "badly hurt."

The CIO United Steel Workers called a strike at the plants Sept. 7 in a demand for contract changes. Wages were not an issue. About 700 employees originally were involved. The company claimed, however, that 500 returned to their jobs in a recent back-to-work movement.

Chief Hoyt said about 30 or 40 cars roared into Kalamazoo about dawn and barricaded streets around the plants. The raiding squad overturned about a dozen other cars, he added.

The raiders began throwing bricks through plant windows and into parked cars, the officer added.

The invaders slugged non-striker attempting to pass through picket lines, according to Hoyt, and then broke through doors and invaded the plants. Several non-

Heavy Sales For Burley Markets

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1—(AP)—Volume of sales of Burley tobacco on Kentucky markets yesterday continued heavy, with the price average close to Monday's opening-day level, the state department of Agriculture reported.

The department's figures showed 15,097,185 pounds sold on an average of the state's 27 markets at an average of $49.37 a hundred pounds. This was three cents less than Monday's average. Growers received $7,453,606.32. Yesterday's statewide totals compared to Monday's 16,794,491 pounds for $8,296,605.36.

First-day sales Monday throughout the eight-state Burley belt amounted to 27,492,691 pounds at an average of 50.05, the U. S. department of agriculture reported. This compared with first-day sales a year ago of 19,695,691 at $48.33. Difference in volume was attributed chiefly to a one-hour increase in sales time.

Auction procedures will be discussed Saturday at a meeting of the sales committee of the Burley tobacco industry in Lexington.

J. Edward Allen In Duke Hospital

Warrenton, Dec. 1—(AP)—Although faced with a court hearing tomorrow on charges of embezzlement and forgery, J. Edward Allen, former county school superintendent here, was confined to Duke hospital today.

Allen was taken to the hospital yesterday and a hospital attaché last night said that he was "very ill" and in an unconscious condition. Nature of his illness has not been determined.

Allen was served last Saturday with warrants charging him with embezzlement of $20,372.85 in county funds and forgery of 126 checks and is scheduled to be given a hearing in Recorder's Court here tomorrow on the charges.

William W. Taylor, Jr., solicitor said he expected to call the case tomorrow "unless I get information between now and then to cause me to feel that the hearing should be postponed." He said that he had received no request for a continuance.

Allen also is under indictment on charges of embezzling $24,327.75 in state school funds. He was a patient in Duke hospital last August when he was indicted.

Cases Tried In County Court

In county court yesterday Judge Dink James disposed of the following cases: John (Red) Smith, colored, was given six months on the roads for possessing equipment for the manufacture of liquor.

Driving recklessly: David W. Ruffin was not guilty; W. B. Hathaway paid $5 for damage on a truck; Ed Smith was called and failed to answer. A capias was issued.

Speeding: Austin Smith, found guilty of driving 85 miles an hour, fined $50, costs deducted, and his license ordered suspended for 90 days, to begin at the end of the other revocation of his license; Oscar Mizelle, $50, costs deducted, and to have license revoked for 12 months.

Chester Ormand, abandonment and non-support, six months on the roads, suspended on condition that defendant support his wife and children, and he is not to contact or associate with Mrs. F. Jolly in Griffin or elsewhere, the court ordered.

No Landing Place? Come Over And Take A Look

By CHESTER WALSH

The opening game of the basketball season at East Carolina Teachers College last night was called off because the Norfolk (Va.) Naval Base basketball team didn't have a map when it took off in a plane from the base and landed at Greenville, SOUTH CAROLINA, where no basketball game for them was scheduled. The Navy plane lost its way, and the basketball team lost a chance to lose a game to ECTC.

The irony of it all was that the Naval Base basketball team's manager said that the Navy plane could not find a suitable landing near Greenville in time to get to the ECTC campus.

Greenville has a $1,500,000 landing field just about a mile and a half from the center of the city. The field has three 5,000-foot paved runways, 500 feet wide, adequate paved aprons; a standard night-time beacon that flashes its light from the field from sundown to sunrise 365 days in the year. The airfield in Greenville, NORTH CAROLINA, has all governmental facilities.

Aman is on duty there to give 24-hour service daily to all types of planes; there is a shop in which all kinds of planes may be repaired and there are facilities for servicing planes. The airfield is less than a mile from a main highway. The Airport Inn, with all conveniences, is near the hangars and city bus transportation is available.

A particularly interesting feature of the trip of the lost Naval Navy plane was that it landed at Cherry Point to spend the night. The Cherry Point Marine base used the Greenville, NORTH CAROLINA, airfield during the recent war, and there were seven or eight hundred men stationed here with scores of planes.

The Greenville airfield, controlled by the Pitt-Greenville Airport Commission, is one of the best equipped and serviced civilian fields in the state without regular airway plane service. Willard T. Kyzer, executive secretary of the commission, said today.

Lobbyists . . . (Continued from page one) This same congressman said he thinks there's more lobbying done with congressmen on Washington golf courses than in congressmen's offices.

Because of such slick tactics, there have been outcries here for years to force lobbyists to come out in the open and be counted as lobbyists. When it reorganized itself back in 1946, Congress passed a law which said: Persons, groups or organizations whose principal job is lobbying for or against legislation for pay must register with Congress and must file quarterly reports of all money received, and how and why spent. In the first nine months of this year about 1,900 individuals and 192 organizations were registered with Congress as lobbyists. In that time organizations spent $4,856,000 to do their lobbying job.

(In the past year several individuals have been charged with violating the act by not registering as lobbyists.) But some congressmen think the lobbying act of 1946 has too big a loophole when it says an organization whose "principal" job is lobbying must register.

They say: What of the big organization whether it's a labor union or business organization, which claims its "principal" purpose is something else but still spends a lot of money lobbying? So they say the law should be changed to drop the word "principal" and compel any outfit which spends more than $15,000 a year on lobbying to register as a lobby.

Vandal Followed Up With Second Visit

Durham, N. C., Dec. 1—(AP)—Police believe the same vandal did two jobs on Mrs. Pearl Jones' automobile tank.

The first night, somebody poured about five pounds of corn meal into the tank. After the damage was discovered next day, the tank was flushed out and refilled with gasoline. That night somebody stole 15 gallons of gasoline from it.

RIVER STILL RISING

The official weather bureau thermometer registered 32 degrees during last night and there was a heavy frost this morning. Mrs. C. E. Malden, observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, reported. The temperature at 8 a. m. today was 35 degrees. It was 67 at 2:30 p. m. The highest yesterday was 54 degrees.

Tar River was still rising today and was at the 12.95 foot level, considerably higher than the mean level. The stream is expected to go to 13.05 feet by Friday afternoon.

The all-time pro fumble return record is held by George Halas, now coach of the Chicago Bears, who ran 98 yards with a loose ball against Thorpe's Indians in 1923.

WHAT IS AN EXTENSION TELEPHONE?

An extension telephone is an extra telephone instrument attached to your present line. It can be placed in your home or place of business. Since the telephone instruments are again available we are happy to announce that EXTENSION TELEPHONE SERVICE IS AVAILABLE AGAIN.

Main telephone service however is still on the "hard-to-get" list because production of the central office equipment and lead covered cable needed to extend our present facilities, is slow and delivery dates uncertain. We shall continue however to install main telephones where we have the necessary outside facilities and central office equipment.
