Total Vote For President Found Second Highest

Complete Associated Press Tabulation Gives Truman 24,104,836 Votes

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—A total of 48,863,798 ballots were cast on November 2, but only 48,860,416 were marked for President.

That means 683,382 voters balloted for State, county and local candidates, but skipped making a choice for the highest office in the land.

The 48,860,416 total vote for President is the second highest in history. In 1940, the record year, it was 49,599,512. In 1944 it was 47,976,263.

The results became available with tabulation by the Associated Press of official totals from the 48 states.

The lesser attention given to the Presidential race, in contrast with many state races, is explained by the fact that there were many strong candidates and hot contests for Senate, Governor and on down the line.

Sixteen states in all showed a greater aggregate vote than the total for President.

Presidential electors meet Monday in the state capitals to go through the formality of casting their votes.

President Truman should get 304 from 26 states unless Tennessee gives one of two votes to Gov. J. Strom Thurmond. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will get 189 from 16 states, and Thurmond 38 from four excluding that possible mix-up in Tennessee.

Truman's total vote was 24,104,836. Dewey received 21,969,500; Thurmond 1,169,512; Henry A. Wallace, as Progressive, 1,157,100; Norman Thomas, Socialist, 132,138; Claude A. Watson, Prohibition, 103,343; Edward A. Tamm, Socialist-Labor, 77,921; Farrell Dobbs, Socialist Workers, 13,007, and the rest scattered.

Truman won by plurality of 2,135,326, but it was the first time since 1916 that a winner has failed to capture a majority of all votes cast. His percentage was 49.5. Dewey's was 45.1, and the others combined 5.4.

Marines Will Be In Shanghai To Guard Americans

Shanghai, Dec. 10—(AP)—Leathernecks will be brought to Shanghai to protect American lives in any emergency resulting from China's civil war.

This was announced today by Admiral Oscar C. Badger, commander of the U. S. fleet in the western Pacific. He told a news conference: "We are not here to participate in China's civil war. We are here to protect our citizens and give consideration and protection to their activities."

"It would obviously be impossible for us to assume responsibility for law and order. Therefore, we would put our citizens aboard ship during any period of loss of control."

Robber Takes $100 From Ayden Store; Mysterious Case

Police Chief John Whitehurst of Ayden said today that John M. Burgess' beer and soft drink store on Third street in Ayden was robbed of about $100 in currency last night after it closed. The chief said indications are that when the owner closed the place for the night that somebody, locked up inside, removed the contents of the cash register and escaped by removing a bar from the rear door.

John M. Burgess, Jr., discovered the robbery when he entered the store about 11 o'clock, after leaving the picture show.

Ayden police are holding several suspects and continuing the investigation.

The 'Contempt' Cases

Why It Is That Some Witnesses Before House Un-American Activities Committee Can Refuse To Answer Questions, And Get Away With It; Constitutional Right

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—A witness goes before the House Un-American Activities committee, doesn't answer a question, and—Wham! he's cited for contempt of Congress. Then, if found guilty in court, he can be jailed or fined.

But another witness goes before the same committee and refuses to answer, and—

Nothing happens. How come? It's all pretty much in the way you do it.

But what is contempt of Congress? It's violating a law which says: When anyone is called as a witness before a Congressional committee, he must answer the questions or "refuse to answer any question pertinent to the question under inquiry," he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

A person cited for contempt, indicated by a grand jury, and found guilty in court can be jailed for a year and fined $1,000.

If the committee asks a witness a "pertinent" question and he simply and flatly says "I refuse to answer" he can be cited.

If the committee asks a "pertinent" question and decides the witness is stalling by answering neither yes nor no directly, he may be cited.

But if a witness says "I refuse to Military 'Secrets' In Stolen Papers

Vital Secrets Of Friendly Foreign Nations Included In Documents Taken From State Department Files

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—Vital military secrets of friendly nations turned up today among stolen government papers uncovered in the House Un-American Activities committee's spectacular Red spy hunt.

They involve such things as British battleships, Chinese bombers and strategic war materials from the Argentine.

And as the committee scrapped furiously with the Truman administration over how the spy probe should be run, it spotted suspect number three out in Appleton, Wis. It ordered him to show up for a hearing by 2 p. m. (EST) today.

The man has been described to the committee as a former employee of the national bureau of standards. The bureau tests some of the government's most secret weapons and military devices.

The committee got the man's name from Whitaker Chambers, a former Communist courier. Chambers has testified that while he was the Red underground before the war, government workers fed him secret documents for transmission to Russian agents.

He has named Alger Hiss and Henry Julian Wadleigh, both formerly in the state department, as two of the suppliers.

Hiss, now head of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, has denied all.

Wadleigh, now unemployed and living at nearby Vienna, Va., was a witness yesterday. He refused to say whether he had or had not slipped secret information from the state department.

Wadleigh said he might incriminate himself by answering questions on that point.

Chambers has yielded to the committee some of the papers he obtained, in the form of photographs or copies. Most of them came from the state department and are dated 1937 and 1938.

It is known that they contain information on such touchy subjects of the times as:

Whether Britain was going to specialize on cruisers or battleships as the backbone of her fleet.

The placing of Chinese orders for bombers in France.

The size of Chinese troop movements during her war with Japan.

Argentine sales of large quantities of linsed oil to the Germans at fancy prices. Linsed oil is a strategic war material.

Germany was getting ready then to move against Austria. Some of the papers dealt with the Austrian Anschluss and with other behind-the-scenes maneuvers in diplomacy and international politics.

Rap Segregation In U. S. Capital

Committee Report Deplores Conditions In Washington

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—A committee of civic leaders from all sections of the country said today the treatment of Negroes in Washington is a blot on all America's reputation for freedom.

A 91-page illustrated report said that segregation is practiced more consistently today in the nation's capital than it was a half century ago.

Citing case after case of segregation of Negroes in housing, jobs, theaters, restaurants, churches, parks and playgrounds, the document said:

"If Horatio Alger had a colored face, he would have a hard time in the capital today. He would first be judged, not by his merit, but by his skin."

The report said visitors from other countries assess American promises to take a lead in developing the equality of man by what they see in Washington. It declared:

"Few Americans can appreciate what a shock Washington can be to visitors from abroad. It is to them, even more than to most of us, the symbol of America."

Heading the 87-member "National Committee on Segregation in the Nation's Capital" is Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, New York. Other members include Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Publishers Marshall Field and Palmer Hoyt, Actors Melvyn Douglas and Helen Hayes, labor leaders James B. Carey and Walter Reuther, Senator-elect Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Jaycees Donate Sum For Building ECTC Stadium

The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Greenville today delivered to Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College, a check for $547.20 to apply on the construction cost of the new stadium proposed for the college.

This amount represents the total cost of underwriting the purchase of one seat in the new stadium for each of the 73 Jaycee members at an average estimated cost of $7.50 per seat. The Jaycees at their meeting last night voted unanimously to make the contribution to the stadium fund.

B. F. Sugg, Jr., president of the Greenville Jaycees, said the college's conviction that the interests of Greenville and those of East Carolina Teachers College are closely intertwined. They feel that the new stadium will fill a critical need for athletic events, not only of the college, but the high school as well, and will be admirably suited for summer farm conventions, band concerts, and hundreds of other public functions.

The Jaycees at the meeting last night voted to supply a Christmas basket for some needy family in the county and to give fruit baskets to all patients of Pitt General Hospital at Christmas.

Principal speaker at the supper meeting was W. J. Heard, city manager of Kingston, who discussed the city manager form of municipal government. President B. F. Sugg, Jr., presided at the meeting.

Union Threatens Tie Up Foreign Relief Vessels

San Francisco, Dec. 10—(AP)—The AFL sailors union of the Pacific threatened today to tie up foreign ships carrying Marshall plan cargo if the Economic Cooperation Administration stops shipping of bulk relief cargo in American vessels.

Wednesday Paul G. Hoffman, ECA head, announced he would end a policy of carrying half of all such cargo in American bottoms beginning Jan. 1, because of higher freight costs.

The threat by executive Secretary Harry Lundberg of the sailors union followed a protest yesterday by the Pacific American Steamship Association and another by Capt. A. Cross, secretary-treasurer of the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots Association, West Coast division.

Dear Santa, . . .

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 10—En Route home from school on a bus Emilio Landeros, 6, began his letter to Santa:

"Dear Santa, I have been good. I want a . . ." Emilio started over: "Dear Santa . . ."

The bus reached his corner. Clutching his unfinished letter, Emilio jumped off.

He didn't see the heavy truck as he darted out from in front of the bus late yesterday.

The letter smothered with dirt from the tire of the truck, his found near Emilio's body. His skull had been crushed and he was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Resume Talks On Military Alliance

North Atlantic Pact Negotiations Due In Washington

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—Negotiation of a proposed military alliance between the United States and Western Europe will be resumed here at 3:00 p. m. (EST) today.

The state department announced that undersecretary of State Lovett will meet with the Ambassadors of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Canada for the first of a new series of talks looking to a pact of a North Atlantic defense system under the United Nations.

The subject was first explored in talks here last summer. The five western European nations met in London, then worked out detailed proposals for a pact on which they generally agree.

Some details are still in dispute, however.

The Europeans, for example, are reported to have decided to ask for a 50-year commitment from the United States and Canada.

They also would like the strongest possible commitment from this country to go to war in case any one of them should be attacked by Russia or any other nation. The French are especially interested in the security clause of the proposed treaty.

Officials hope that the conversations starting today, which are the first talks involving the United States since the Europeans decided what they want, may be completed in about two or three weeks.

The State Department, according to undersecretary Lovett, intends to keep congressional leaders informed of all that goes on in these talks so that in its final form the pact will closely approximate congressional ideas of what is acceptable to Congress and the country.

Forty Suits For Pitt Land Taxes

County Tax Collector J. D. Joyner said today 40 suits have been filed against Pitt county citizens for the collection of delinquent land taxes, and at least 40 more suits have been prepared and will be filed within the next week or 10 days.

Joyner pointed out that additional penalties are added to the delinquent taxes after the suits have been filed, and stated that a large majority of persons owing back taxes are paying before court action is commenced.

Career Ends For Famed Musician

Los Angeles, Dec. 10—(AP)—Death has ended the renowned musical career of Albert E. Ruff, violinist and singer once associated with Brahms, Liszt and Greig.

Ruff died yesterday just a month short of his 95th birthday. He had sung and played the violin before three generations of music lovers in Europe and America.

Wide Discrepancy

Figures of the federal census taken of Greenville during October and released by Mayor J. H. Boyd today show an official count of 15,168 people living within the corporate limits of the city. However, a survey of the city's population and a listing for a new city directory taken by representatives of the Southern Directory Company just two weeks before the federal census, shows a population of 17,475 for Greenville.

"I am disappointed in the figures of the federal census," said Mayor Boyd, "and I am not able to understand nor am I pleased with the discrepancies between the figures of the federal census bureau and those of the directory company."

Chiang Declares Martial Law For Nationalist Area

Picture Darkening For Nanking Defenders As Reds Try Flanking Move

Nanking, Dec. 10—(AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek tonight extended martial law to all China under Nationalist control, except for the far western provinces and Formosa.

The Generalissimo's action was taken amid the deepening civil war. Both Nanking and Peiping, North China metropolises, are threatened by Chinese Communist armies.

Chiang's proclamation extends military jurisdiction to areas thus far remote from the fighting. Shanghai, Nanking and Peiping were placed under martial law several weeks ago.

Meanwhile, Red troops were believed trying to cut Nationalist communications behind the Hwai river—Nanking's last defense line north of the Yangtze.

Government sources said the communists are attempting to cross the Hwai at a bend in the river 90 miles northwest of Nanking. This is at a point where the river is highly defensible.

This threat arose as the bulk of the government armies of east China still strove to break loose from two big traps north of the Hwai.

A crossing of the Hwai in any force would cut off Nanking from the new base at Pengpu, 105 miles northwest of the capital, along with the 80,000 troops manning the defenses along the river.

The number of Red troops committed to the operation was not indicated. But they would be only 15 miles—easy striking distance—from the railway supply line between Nanking and Pengpu.

A return of bad weather grounded the air force, which had been counted upon to help in extricating the four government army groups encircled in two pockets north of the Hwai.

Three army groups from Suchow were said to have reformed their ranks after taking a bad beating and were again fighting southward toward the Hwai.

To the south of them the 18th army group still appeared trapped some 25 miles north of Pengpu, contrary to government reports earlier that it had broken free.

Sabotage Scare Grips Red Berlin

Communists Report Purported Plots; Tighen Controls

Berlin, Dec. 10—(AP)—A sabotage scare gripped the Communist government of eastern Berlin today.

Paul Markgraf, chief of police in the Soviet-occupied sector, announced that he had taken direct command of the fire department. The action came after he investigated a fire which destroyed a big city gas works three nights ago.

The Soviet army's official newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, reported discovery of a purported plot by teachers to remove equipment of an industrial school in eastern Berlin to an area under protection of the western powers, the United States, Britain and France.

Communist associates of Friedrich Ebert, chosen lord mayor of the rump government Nov. 30, disclosed a further purge of city employees is in prospect. They said that ranks of officials would be screened to determine whether "dangerous reactionaries" still remained at their posts.

Ebert's legal director told newsmen the city's administration of justice would be revised and unified with that in other parts of Russian-occupied Germany. Legal education will be discontinued as a qualification, he said, and workers instead of lawyers may be drawn upon for panels of judges.

NAMED TRUSTEE

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 10—(AP)—Governor Cherry today appointed Mrs. J. C. Holland of Raleigh to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Charles M. Johnson on the Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College. Mrs. Johnson has resigned from the Post.

Air Force Attains 60-Group Status

Berlin Airlift Forced Speed Up In Expansion; Development Revealed By Order For Redeployment Of Units

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—The Berlin airlift has forced a speed up in the Air Force's expansion, bringing it now to 60-group size.

This development was spotlighted today by an Air Force order, for redeployment of three overseas units. These shifts include the transfer of a transport unit from Japan to Germany and assignment of a fighter wing to the Panama Canal defense system.

The new 60-group strength includes nine troop carrier units—one more than had been planned—even by next June 30. On that date the Air Force is scheduled to have 66 groups of all types—bombers, fighters, transports and other elements.

The new addition to Berlin's food ferry fleet makes a total of five transport wings operating there—apparently on a permanent basis. The Air Force said the 317th Troop Carrier Wing will transfer "this month" from Tachikawa, Japan, to Germany. About 1,050 more men will be added to the outfit before it arrives in Europe. (The normal strength of a troop carrier wing is approximately 1,500.)

In answer to a question, Air Force spokesmen said the five transport units are "stationed" in Germany instead of being there on "temporary duty." In military language, this indicates a permanent assignment as distinguished from a limited time mission.

Of the nation's nine troop carrier wings, four now are in Europe, two in the Far East Air Force and three in continental United States. (A wing includes a plane group, plus the unit's service and administrative headquarters.)

If the Berlin blockade operations should cease before next June 30, it is probable that one of the carrier wings would be abandoned. If not, some officials indicated adjustments might be made in some other units to keep the Air Force expansion plan on schedule. With current funds, the Air Force expects to add five B-29 groups and two long range reconnaissance groups by next June.

In redeploying the three overseas units, the 23rd Fighter Wing, presently based at Guam, will be sent to Howard Air Force Base, Panama Canal Zone next April.

The Canal, for the first time since last summer, then will have a full group of modern jet fighters for its defenses. The 36th Wing, a jet outfit, was shifted to Germany last August.

Kansas Power Plant Blast Fatal For Nine

Yule Sales Show Decline From '47

Long String Of Holiday Sales Records Appears Ending

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—Yule shoppers are on the verge of ending the Christmas sales records which have soared higher each year of the past decade.

With only 13 more gift-buying days to go, department store sales have dropped below last year's mark for the fifth straight week, the Federal Reserve Board reported last night. This is the longest consecutive decline since the war.

Some officials here said no longer can there be any doubt that price resistance and the living-cost squeeze, particularly on those in low income brackets, are playing a part in the downturn.

"Specials" blossoming out in store ads across the nation showed many merchants agreed with that view.

Some storemen who earlier had anticipated a continuation of "bigger and better" sales returns, now pin their hopes on a revival of prewar "last minute" shopping habits.

Although some people attributed the decline to unseasonable weather at the opening of the Christmas season, the FRB report showed the

Rescue Crews Grope Through Debris For More Victims; Gas Seepage Believed Probably Cause Of Explosion

Topeka, Kas., Dec. 10—(AP)—Nine men were killed and 16 injured in a series of blasts that shook a huge power and light plant near this city capital for almost 30 minutes yesterday.

Rescue crews still groped through debris today seeking other possible victims.

The explosions occurred in the Kansas Power and Light Company's main plant and left Topeka, a city of 90,000, without electricity for several hours.

Hospitals were forced to operate on an emergency basis, elevators were stalled in downtown buildings and many shops and offices closed early. No serious accidents were reported, although traffic was snarled at busy intersections when signal lights went out. Theaters were all blacked out.

Fire broke out during the explosions which rocked a large area. The exact cause of the explosions had not been determined but several workers reported they had smelled gas in the building.

The explosions pulverized concrete and twisted and ripped heavy steel. The plant's basement was badly wrecked. The external walls of the structure, a part eight-story and part five-story building, were

Hawaii Wonders, 'Were Its Air Defenses Pierced?'

Honolulu, Dec. 10—(AP)—Was Pearl Harbor caught with its radar defenses down on the seventh anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack?

The officer responsible for detecting the unauthorized aircraft approaching Hawaii says:

Radar screens might have plotted the B-36 which flew unannounced on a round trip from Fort Worth, Tex., and dropped a "useful bomb load" at sea off Hawaii.

The officer, Col. T. W. Blackburn, said yesterday 21 planes were picked up by radar in the two hours the Strategic Air Command's six-engine bomber was believed in Hawaiian skies. But the B-36 was not singled out.

At Fort Worth the pilot, Maj. John D. Bartlett, said his big silver craft went to Pearl Harbor and then to the northwest point of Oahu Island before turning back to the mainland on the 35 1/2-hour flight.

The "surprise raid" caused some feeling in Hawaii that the island's air defense might have been caught napping.

Blackburn emphasized that under peacetime conditions there is no way to keep a single aircraft from slipping through the defense net.

He said civilian aircraft do not carry equipment to send out the friendly identification signal for radar.

Segregation For Dog Cemetery

Washington, Dec. 10—(AP)—The National committee on segregation in the nation's capital said, in its report today:

"It has reached the place x x x where a dog cemetery has erected a color bar against the burial of dogs belonging to colored people."

"In announcing this policy the owner stated that he assumed the dogs would not object, but he was afraid his white customers would."

The report did not name the owner.

Churchill Urges Britain Give Up Israel 'Boycott'

Would Attempt End Cold War, And Resume Relations With Franco Spain

London, Dec. 10—(AP)—Winston Churchill urged Britain today to end her "silly boycott" of the new state of Israel.

The wartime prime minister also told the House of Commons in a foreign affairs debate:

1. Attempts should be made to end the east-west cold war and arrive at a settlement with Russia "before they have the atomic bomb as well as the Americans."

2. Britain should achieve full diplomatic relations with Franco Spain "as soon as we can obtain the sanction of the United Nations."

Speaking of the Palestine situation, the conservative leader told the house:

"The government of Israel, which has been set up at Tel Aviv, should not be ignored and threatened as though it did not exist."

"We should send representatives to Tel Aviv without further delay."

Britain thus far has refused to follow the lead of the United States and Russia in recognizing the new Jewish state.

Churchill devoted much of his 70-minute speech to praising the continuing development of British-American unity.

He won loud cheers for his warm praise of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. As a man who "labored faithfully for the cause of Anglo-American unity and brotherhood throughout the world."

"I did not always agree with Gen. Eisenhower on strategic questions," Churchill said, promising to set forth his views on this at a later time. But he said he was sorry to note that some British newspapers, reviewing Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe," interpreted it as a slap at British-American unity.

Churchill hailed the projected north Atlantic pact to assure western Europe of American and Canadian military support as a "momentous event."

Churchill also praised the labor government's action in giving bomber bases to the United States in Britain.

Guests Flee As Chicago Hotel Is Ravaged By Fire

Chicago, Dec. 10—(AP)—Fire swept through the five-story, 208-room Hubbard hotel in North Clark street early today, driving dozens of residents into the street. One man was hospitalized after being overcome by smoke.

Flames shot more than 50 feet into the air as the fire spread rapidly through the brick hotel building at 417 North Clark street, across the Chicago river from the Loop.

Most of the guests fled when the flames broke through the street. Hundreds of persons watched firemen fight the blaze in the below freezing weather. The mercury was around 16 above.

S. C. Senator Is Married Today

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 10—(AP)—U. S. Senator Burnet R. Maybank and Mrs. Mary Randolph Pelzer Cecil were married at noon here today at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Francis J. Pelzer.

The Rev. De Wolf Perry, rector of St. Michael's Episcopal church here, officiated at the simple ceremony.

Spies Presaged War

Current Events Caused This Analyst To Look Back Into The Past, And Note That Prior To The Recent War, Espionage Scams Became An Epidemic In Europe

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The congressional inquiry into the case of the "Pumpkin Papers" and other alleged Communist spy activities has brought from Assistant Secretary of State John H. Purifoy a statement that foreign nations probably cracked a top-secret pre-war government code with the aid of papers sneaked out of the State Department a decade ago.

"What I regard as most serious about this whole thing x x x," he is quoted as telling the House Un-American Activities Committee, "is the fact that these documents were taken out of the State Department in 1937 or '38, and to me that means our codes were being read by foreign nations during the whole period."

Those two years, as World War II was boiling up, were a period of global feverishness and stress. It is at times like this that nations seek to probe the secrets of one another, and spies are everywhere. Looking back in my notes I find that at the end of September, '37, I recorded:

"If any further proof were needed that Europe is beset with war dangers, it could be found in the constant procession of spies before Russian firing squads. Whenever a country is flooded with spies, it means that somebody is solving dragon's teeth."

"Some half a hundred spies and saboteurs have been shot in the Soviet Union in the past few days. Russia has been suffering from apoplexy for a couple of years, and the epidemic has intensified as developments have brought from Moscow charges that Japan and Germany are preparing to make war on the Soviet Union."

"Every country employs spies both in war and in peace. They are the eyes and ears of governments in ferreting

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
December 10, 1908

If the money that has been sent out of Pitt county this year for corn, hay and fertilizer had been kept at home, the condition of the farmers would be vastly different from what it now is. The farmer who fails to make his own supplies of corn and hay, and puts all of his profits, sometimes more, into fertilizers to try to raise the so-called money crops—cotton and tobacco—is simply working for the other fellow.

The assistant attorney general will recommend to the legislature that all executions of criminals take place in the state penitentiary. County hangings should be abolished and it would be better that an electrocution chamber, instead of a gallows be fitted up in the penitentiary.

Entertain Club At Supper Party

Griffon—Mr. and Mrs. Thurman J. Williams entertained on Tuesday night at their home on Church street at a delightful supper party for members of their contract club. On arrival guests were served a delectable buffet supper. Candlelight, arrangements of narcissi and red berries lent a festive air to the occasion. After supper bridge was played at three tables, during the evening high scores were compiled by Mrs. W. I. Bisette and Mr. M. B. Hodges. Other guests included Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Bisette, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rasmussen of Kingston.

Mrs. C. G. Garrenton opened the meeting with two Christmas carols. A fitting Christmas devotional was given by Mrs. S. D. Dewar.

The minutes were read by Mrs. C. M. Burton.
Miss Nora Lee Hinnant was in charge of the program which was "The Goals and Aims of Homemakers." The pupils were Toddy Smith, Lois Mizelle, Anne Whitehurst, Merle Manning, Beth Briley, Mary Ella Moore, Lorena Bailey and Myrtle Manning.

The symbol of the Future Homemakers of America was drawn by Edna Ruth James. The girls were very attractive. They were dressed in red and white costumes. The program was very enjoyable and made us understand the importance of the "Future Homemakers Clubs."

The Finance Committee opened a discussion on spending the money and buying equipment for the Elementary School. The committee asked for a list of needs for the majority of pupils.

The lucky numbers were won by four members.
The seventh and twelfth grades won the attendance contest.
Then an enjoyable hour was held in the Bethel High School library. Betsy James, Reporter.

Brow-Sutton Vows Pledged Friday

Fountain—Miss Audrey Ann Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Sutton of Fountain, became the bride of Dr. Byron H. Brown of Tarboro, son of Mrs. B. W. Brown of Green Cove Springs, Florida, and the late Mr. Brown on Friday, December 3, at 4:00 in the evening. The Rev. Phil Corey, pastor of the bride, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Oregon fern formed an attractive background for the pedestal baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli, and for the cathedral candles in floor candelabra.

Prior to the ceremony Mr. Wiley E. Yelverton, organist, played Schubert's Serenade, Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata and the Indian Love Call. Miss Doris Kimmel of Tarboro sang "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

"To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell was played during the ceremony and "Oh Perfect Love" was rendered by Miss Kimmel at the close.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in grey garden dressmaker suit, her off-the-face hair was of matching feathers and her accessories were black. She carried a white satin covered prayer book centered with a purple throated orchid showered with bouvardia and narcissi and tied with white satin ribbon and illusion.

Miss Cobby Sutton of Lexington, Kentucky, was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Joyce Sutton of Fountain her only bridesmaid. Both were dressed in complimenting shades of green garden and wore shoulder corsages of yellow roses.

Mrs. Sutton, mother of the bride, was attired in a dress of black crepe with silver bead trim and a pill box hat of light blue feathers. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. B. H. Brown, mother of the groom, chose a dress of prussian blue crepe and lace and matching hat.

At her shoulder she wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Calvin Brown of Green Cove Springs, Florida, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Dr. William Thomas of Memphis, Tenn., Dr. Scott Meredith of Statesville, N.C., Mr. Herbert Harris of Tarboro and James L. Jefferson of Fountain.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Earl Worsley and son, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Whitehurst, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown and Miss Beverly Bridges of Tarboro, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whitehurst, Mrs. John Keel and Mrs. Clyde Harris of Conetoe, Mrs. Herman Baker and Mrs. Grace Whitehurst of Farmville and Mr. Neal Owens of Miami, Florida.

Following the rehearsal Thursday night the bride's parents entertained the wedding party and guests at a cake cutting at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fountain Sr. greeted guests as they arrived and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Harris received in the gift room and Mrs. Robert Fountain presided at the dining room where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Treva. The table was spread with lace cloth and centered with arrangement of white carnations flanked by candles in silver candelabra.

The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. B. H. Brown from one end of the table and time ice by Mrs. E. M. Whitehurst from the other. Mints and nuts were passed by Mrs. Vernon Baker and Miss Joyce Sutton.

Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. James Forest.
Mrs. Brown graduated from the Fountain High School and held a position with the Carolina Telephone Co. prior to her marriage. Dr. Brown graduated from the Green Cove Spring High School and the university Albany after his discharge from the Army.

Two Man Show Opens At Art Gallery

Opening today in the local art gallery on the second floor of Shepard Memorial Library is a combined show by Claude Howell and Philip Moose, two North Carolina artists who have recently won distinguished awards for their paintings.

CLAUDE HOWELL—Recently awarded a Rosenwald Fellowship for a year of travel and painting. Claude Howell was born in Wilmington, North Carolina, and has spent most of his life there. Beginning his art studies with Irene Price, Elizabeth Chant, and Henry McMillan in Wilmington, he has since done summer study with Bernard Karloff, Jon Corbino, Ann Brockman, and Charles Rosen. Until receiving the Rosenwald award he continued to carry a railway office job, painting at night and during weekends.

He is now devoting several months in drawing and sketching on the Carolina coast, after which he expects to go to New York for six months of extensive painting, completing his preliminary sketches of coastal life. He hopes then to return to his native state to settle down and paint. Since 1937 Howell's work has been seen in group shows in North Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Washington, and California. He has had one-man shows in Raleigh, Wilmington, Greenville, Greensboro, Charlotte, Chapel Hill, and Decatur. He was represented in the IBM Contemporary U.S. Art exhibit at the World's Fair in 1940 and has had work accepted for annual competitions in Atlanta, Richmond, Norfolk, Winston-Salem, and Raleigh. His oil, "Mending Nets," won a purchase award in the 1948 N.C. Artists' Annual at the State Art Gallery. Among other awards have been a number of first prizes and a Carnegie purchase prize.

PHILIP MOOSE—Winner of the Pulitzer Art Award for 1948. Philip Moose is a native of Newton, North Carolina. Early interested in art, he received a number of scholarships for study, first with Lester Stevens, then at the National Academy of Design and the Tiffany Foundation. During the war he served in the army as radar mechanic, painting in spare time. Back at home, he began painting portraits and was for several months acting director of the Mint Museum in Charlotte. In 1946-47 he studied at Columbia, and since then has been painting in New York. Twenty paintings submitted in the Pulitzer competition won him the coveted award, with its stipend of $1,500 for study and travel. This summer he worked with Henry Varnum Poor in Skowhegan, Maine, and is now in Taos, New Mexico.

One-man shows have been given for him in Charlotte, Glen Rock, N.J., and overseas in England at the Colchester Museum in Essex, reportedly the oldest established art gallery in the world. One of his paintings remains in the permanent collection at Cocheater. Among his awards are a first prize for watercolor in the Southeastern Arts exhibition, and a first prize for landscape at the Skowhegan School of Art. In the current show he is exhibiting both watercolors and oils, some of them from overseas, others from his recent work in New York and Maine.

W. C. T. U. Notes

On December 8, the W.C.T.U. Christmas meeting was held in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. In a colorful setting of red berries, ivy and burning candles, a most enjoyable Christmas program was presented.

Mrs. Frederick P. Brooks conducted the devotional. She opened the devotion with a poem and read the ever lovely Christmas story from second chapter of Luke, closing with a prayer.

Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick accompanied by Mrs. G.B.W. Hadley, sang "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Polish Christmas Carol."

Miss Bettie Ann Young in her sweet and charming manner told the story of "A Little Child Shall Lead Them."

Mrs. W.T.C. Briggs, the president, presided over a short business session.
Mrs. Wiley Brown read an interesting article from The Union Signal, a Journal of Social Welfare. She dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

Dramatists' Nativity Play To Open Tonight

By MARY H. GREEN

The Coventry Nativity Play, which will be presented by the Teachers Playhouse assisted by the Women's Chorus of East Carolina Teachers College in five performances beginning this evening will be a major event of the pre-Christmas season both on the campus and in the city of Greenville. Combining beautiful scenes, fine acting and an outstanding program of music the drama, a 500-year-old play dating back to medieval times, is the type of production which one seldom has an opportunity to see.

The play itself explains the importance and significance of the Teachers Playhouse production from a religious, historical, and an artistic point of view. Time-honored and replete with the spirit of reverence which characterized the Middle Ages it belongs to the early English religious drama. It is a part of one of four great cycles of plays presented in England in medieval times and known among scholars as miracle, or mystery, plays. It is associated with the town of Coventry in England and belongs to the group of dramas known as the Coventry cycle.

The English drama, beginning in the church with priests as actors and worshippers as audience, centered around the celebration of such times as Easter, Christmas, and later of Corpus Christi Day, and Whitsuntide. Gradually, as popular interest in religious dramatic spectacles grew the church relinquished control of the drama. Performances passed from the church itself to the church yard and then to the town. Priests were replaced as actors by secular performers. The trade guilds assumed control of the drama and sponsored lavish performances. The Coventry Nativity Play belongs to this period of the drama and was presented by the Shearmen and Tailors.

These early miracle plays deal reverently with sublime subjects and treat, among other topics, of the struggle of good against evil, the fall and redemption of man, and the birth, life, death, and passion of Christ. The Coventry Plays are especially noted for their reverence in presenting the story of Mary Mother of Christ.

When the plays moved outside the church, comic elements began to creep in, to the delight of the medieval audience. Herod, who raised so much that Shakespeare's Hamlet speaks in scorn of the bombastic actor who "out-herods Herod," was a favorite and played by Virgie Clark of Greenville, will be a character in the college program. The comic elements have the dramatic purpose of affording relief to the serious and tragic elements of the play.

The Teachers Playhouse production of this early church drama offers the audience a number of memorable in the great Christmas story—The Annunciation, in which the Angel Gabriel announced to the Virgin that she bear a son; the shepherds seeing the Star in the East and hearing the angelic choir, the revelation to Mary and Joseph, seeking shelter, of the stable and the manger by cherubs; played by Mary Will Long and Madeline Coleman of Greenville, Herod's frustrated raging because of the flight to Egypt; and the Adoration tableau, in which the shepherds and the Magi kneel in worship before the Holy Family.

Masons Observe Ladies Night

Stating that "God has plans and specifications drawn up for our lives," Mr. George A. Benette, superintendent of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, Greensboro, N. C., gave an interesting and inspiring address at the annual Ladies Night Banquet Thursday night, December 9, 1948, which marked the 80th anniversary of the chartering of Greenville Lodge No. 284, A.F. and A.M., on December 9, 1868.

Mr. Charles P. Gaskins, chairman of the arrangements committee, pleasantly presided as the master of ceremonies for the banquet which was held in the Fred M. Stokes Dining Hall of the Masonic Temple. Following the invocation by Mr. Jesse W. Brown, chaplain of the lodge, Master W. Herman Hardee cordially welcomed the ladies and guests, with the response being made by Mrs. Harold E. Alder. Out of town guests recognized were Mr. Robert Safert, District Deputy Grand Master for the 8th Masonic District of North Carolina, and Mr. Harvey Smith, Master of Franklin Lodge No. 109, A.F. and A.M., Beaufort, N.C., and their wives.

A delightful repast was served by the ladies of the Sweet Gum Grove Home Demonstration Club. Mr. Bob Mays, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Leon Jackson, both students at East Carolina Teachers College, enjoyably presented the vocal selections, "Pale Hands" and "Out of the Night" with "Stout Hearted Men" for an encore.

Mr. William J. Bundy, Past Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina, presented Mr. Benette to the audience, noting that it had been his great pleasure and privilege, while serving as Grand Master, to have awarded the Joseph Montfort Medal to him for outstanding Masonic service and achievement.

Mr. Benette, who, in addition to his duties as superintendent of the home, is also the historian for the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, opened his remarks with several interesting items and statistics extracted from the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina for the year 1868, the year in which Greenville Lodge was chartered. Noteworthy among them was the fact that schools were being established in the state under the sponsorship of various lodges.

Mr. Benette, currently engaged in raising funds incidental to the erection of a new $45,000 hospital at the home, noted that the carpenters, electricians, brickmasons, etc., knew the exact location and purpose of each detail of the building relating to his work, due to the meticulous care in which the architect had drawn up the plans and specifications. That "God, the Grand Architect of the Universe, had drawn up plans and specifications for each life, and it is the responsibility of each individual to search out those plans and specifications pertaining to his life and follow them carefully."

Using the Sea of Galilee surrounded by Green and fertile land and the Dead Sea, surrounded by waste and desolation for illustration, the former because it imparted its life-giving waters, the latter because it did not, he pointed out that only as man sought to bring happiness to others could he come to know happiness himself.

Credit for an enjoyable and enlightening evening belongs to the arrangements committee composed of Mr. Gaskins, Mr. John R. Carrington and Mr. James W. Brewer.

Kiwanians To Take Toys December 17; No Meeting 24th

The Greenville Kiwanis Club will have its supper meeting tonight at 6:30 and an entertaining program is promised.

At the club's December 17 meeting the Kiwanians are to take toys and other gifts to be presented to the King's Daughters' for their Christmas activities. This has been a custom of the club for many years. The club's next meeting, which would be on Friday, December 24 (Christmas Eve), will be held on Thursday night, December 23, at 6:30. At this meeting the Kiwanians will have coffee and sandwiches instead of supper. The money saved will be allotted to the Kiwanis Christmas gift fund.

There will not be a meeting on Christmas Eve.

Garden Club's Christmas Show At Woman's Club

By CHESTER WALSH

The annual Christmas Show sponsored by the Greenville Garden Club opened at the Woman's Club, Third and Greene streets, at 1 p. m. today and will remain open to the public until 9:30 Saturday night. The Woman's Club is cooperating in putting on the unique and unusually interesting exhibits of numerous and varied table arrangements, giving ideas for dinners and parties.

The Garden Club's Christmas Show is a civic project for the purpose of demonstrating ideas for Yuletide decorations. Exhibits are open to all. Principal exhibitors are the Garden Club, the elementary school, including the colored schools and the art department of East Carolina Teachers' College.

Outstanding in the decorations in the Woman's Club auditorium is an overhead background of native evergreens, arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale as chairman.

An outstanding exhibit is the massive mantle over a colonial fireplace in the auditorium, flanked on both sides by large decorated Christmas trees. Miss Della Higgs and Mrs. M. L. Wright arranged this.

The exhibits of table arrangements for dinners and parties are lovely and original. Mrs. H. L. Rivers is chairman of this committee. The lobby and auditorium are a lovely fairland of seasonal greenery and the illumination enhances the beauty of the scene.

Mrs. Key Brown is chairman of the Steering Committee. Other members are Mrs. R. M. Garrett, Mrs. W. J. Stell, Mrs. M. K. Blount and Mrs. M. L. Wright, Mrs. J. H. B.

HOW TO MEET COMMUNISM

Many people do not realize that the communist regards communism as a religion. In its behalf he manifests a missionary zeal which is positively apostolic in character. Of course communism is not a religion. It is a dedication of materialism which has forsaken all allegiance to God and spiritual realities. But this particular form of idol worship has induced within the hearts and minds of its adherents a devotion which can only be likened to the devotion which seriously religious men and women have for their faith.

The Marshall Plan is excellent. So are many other governmental policies designed to stop communism in its tracks. But in the end we must recognize that communism is the enemy of true religion, which means that we shall have to be as enthusiastic about our religion as communists are about this debasing philosophy of life which they have built up to be their religion.

"In the beginning, God..." From this starting point we must go to the furthest extreme to which our faith will carry us. We can only meet the insane violence of a false religion by our complete submission to the requirements of true religion.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

IMPROVEMENT—Continued improvement in observance of traffic laws is noted in the November report of the motor vehicle department. During the month 903 driver licenses were revoked or suspended, compared with 1,231 for November of last year. Liquor still holds top place as contributing cause to driver license forfeiture, 721 of the 903 cases being directly related to liquor—drunken driving, transporting, aiding and abetting in liquor law violations.

NON-FORFEIT—The number of violations which do not carry mandatory loss of driving privilege also showed decrease, although speeding offenses were up more than one-third. The comparative figures for the month, with 1947 listed first, show: Speeding 1910 and 2516; failing to have drivers' license 1177 and 1087; faulty equipment and improper lights 1232 and 545; violations such as passing on curves and hills, failing to give proper signals, running through red lights, etc., 613 and 624.

ENFORCEMENT—The increase in speeding cases is taken to indicate patrolmen are more alert in catching speeders, and the substantial decrease in poor equipment charges is counted a tribute to effectiveness of the mechanical inspection program.

BULLET-PROOF—Announcement that a light weight plastic armor has been perfected which is suggested as standard uniform equipment for soldiers, and which will stop or deflect high powered bullets, recalls that in 1944 one Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown ran for governor on a platform which had as a major plank the providing of bullet-proof vests for every American soldier. Boyd was laughed at for a hog-raiser, a nurseryman and an "inventor of devices designed for warfare," and he got 2,069 votes out of a total 321,787. Sometimes these crazy ideas prove to be not so crazy when science catches up with the weird imaginings of would-be inventors.

BACKING-UP—So far no real apologies have been offered, perhaps none has been required, but several folks who apparently talked too much too soon are backing up a bit. Some of the newspapers which severely criticized Governor-elect Scott for his unheeded "disappearance" have confessed maybe they were premature in castigating a man for taking a much needed vacation. And Scott himself, who made headlines by writing letters requesting resignations of two state employees from positions which he does not have power to fill, now says he just meant to be courteous to these gentlemen and that he reckons it will be all right for them to stay on their jobs for while until orderly changes can be effected.

EXPLANATION—Furthermore, this reporter learns to his chagrin that an item about rumors floating around Washington was entirely misunderstood by several readers. Instead of getting across the intended thought that report of friction between Senator-elect Broughton and one of his most loyal supporters,

They Have Such Expensive Tastes These Days

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

REG-MANNING

Charles Flack, was absurd because it is known their relations have been and are very cordial, the item has been taken in some places as verification of truth of the rumor. Same thing happened with respect to reported rumors about North Carolinians having been given big jobs with the upcoming national administration.

CARELESS—Which makes apropos the observation of a man who has been writing for public readership more than half a century, to wit: "Careless reading is bad, careless writing is a lot worse, and combination of the two makes a mess." He added that most of the misunderstanding of statements by governmental officials, public speakers and newspaper writers arises out of the fact that so many people do not know the background situations which the spokesmen have in mind and so do not interpret the statements as their authors intended.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—The hotel door opened and a fist the size of a nut flipped out.

It caught me playfully on the chin and slapped my head six inches to the leeward—all the play my neck has left.

"Ello, 'Ello!" boomed Primo Carnera. "Come in!"

This is the way "Da Preem" welcomes any visitor to his room except a dwarf. And a dwarf would probably get a big, friendly fist in his face too—if Carnera could swing that low.

I walked in with a friend, who carelessly tossed his hat on a bed. "Oh, my God, Oh, my God, don't do that," Carnera reproached him. "That's bad luck—to put the hat on the bed."

But today bad luck is something the big man they used to call the ambulating no longer has to worry about. He's riding the crest now—making $200,000 to $250,000 a year in the wrestling ring.

At 42 the heavyweight boxing champ is a success again, and happier than he has ever been. He is in love with his own life story. And he likes to tell it, with the simple pleasure of a small boy reciting an adventure tale. But there is hardly space in one hotel room for Carnera.

I walked in with a friend, who carelessly tossed his hat on a bed. "Oh, my God, Oh, my God, don't do that," Carnera reproached him. "That's bad luck—to put the hat on the bed."

But today bad luck is something the big man they used to call the ambulating no longer has to worry about. He's riding the crest now—making $200,000 to $250,000 a year in the wrestling ring.

At 42 the heavyweight boxing champ is a success again, and happier than he has ever been. He is in love with his own life story. And he likes to tell it, with the simple pleasure of a small boy reciting an adventure tale. But there is hardly space in one hotel room for Carnera.

his king-size bed and his over-size voice.

The big fellow, so poor as a boy in Italy he wore gunny sacks for shoes, because European wrestling champion before he was old enough to vote. In 1928 he turned to boxing and was brought here in 1930.

He was built up to the championship in 1933, and lost it a year later to Max Bear. The huge shambling man—he's six feet 6-1/2 inches, weighs 265—was a somewhat pathetic figure in those days. The men who manipulated him cut his fabulous earnings more ways than a cafeteria pie.

"But it is not true that I went home in Italy in 1938 all broke," insisted Carnera, who has pride. "I bought a villa, a farm with eight tenant houses and some other property, which I still have."

"No, the big mistake I made in my life—it was to take back my American dollars to Italy. When the currency there fell I lost all my cash."

During the war the Germans put Primo to work with a pick and shovel, and paid him fifteen cents for a ten-hour day—something, he said, no fight manager ever did to him.

"It is much better than boxing," he said. "After 30 in boxing you are through. You lose the eyes, the speed. But in wrestling all you need to keep is the strength."

"You push, you pull—but your brain it don't get hurt. When they put the legs around the body and give the squeeze, it don't hurt the brain."

"My advice to Joe Louis is to quit before he gets hurt. He has gone down a long way. I was lucky not to get hurt."

"I am much better off now. In the boxing game you make the big gate. But maybe only once, twice a year. But in wrestling you work four, five, six nights every week."

Carnera gets from $350 to $2,000 a night, and as he says, "this time I get to keep most of it myself." He used to be only amiable. Now he's smart as well.

Carnera wants to become an American citizen. His family—his wife and their children, Umberto, 9 and Giovanna Maria, 6—live in Los Angeles.

"They didn't speak English when they came over," he said. "Now Umberto is in the fourth grade, and ahead of the others in the class. I am amazing about it—the way he speak English. He is going to study and study until I tell him to stop and learn a trade. But not boxing or wrestling—Oh boy, no!"

And then Carnera, who is artless but was never as foolish as he has been made to appear, said with massive dignity:

"It is all wonderful. I am very, very happy."

The gunny sack days are gone. There's food in the pantry, a car in the garage, cash in the bank—and more rolling in every night paper grunts and groans. The alp's doing Okay.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Because of his physical handicap, Johnny cannot go to school like his playmates. But the chances are that in many places the school may be brought to Johnny and others like him.

Many states already have directors and supervisors of education for the physically handicapped, and many state laws have been passed in recent years providing for the education of these children wherever they may be—in homes, hospitals, convalescent homes, or special schools.

A recent survey by the U. S. office of Education indicated that home instruction was being provided to some of the children in each of 34 states, although in some states only a few children are enrolled. At the time the statistics were collected approximately 10,400 children were reported to be receiving this service.

Dr. Romaine P. Mackie, specialist in education of the physically handicapped at the Office of Education believes that these figures fall far short of the actual number receiving home instruction. She also says that the service is not available to many "hundreds, perhaps thousands of other children who will remain in their homes, illiterate and deprived of all other advantages that schools offer boys and girls."

Among the home-bound youngsters who are unable to go to school, it seems the leading causes of disability are rheumatic fever, orthopedic conditions such as infantile paralysis, and chronic medical conditions.

Wherever school systems have a division of special education, the home teacher is usually attached to that staff. She goes from home to home instructing children and wherever possible tries to make them feel that they are a part of the regular school system. Dr. Mackie told me one of the chief values of the home instruction program is a social one. While the child is recovering from illness it is comforting to him to know that he is progressing along with children his own age. "Certainly the child who already has a handicap should not be deprived of his opportunity for schooling," Dr. Mackie says. Interested communities may secure information on the subject of home schooling by writing to the U. S. Office of Education, Washington 25 D. C.

Pactolus Ruritan Leads Way In Community Service

Club Undisputed Leader In Giving Help To Others

When it comes to doing things in the way of community service in the rural areas of North Carolina, there are few organizations which contribute more to the well-being of their neighbors than the local Ruritan clubs. But when discussion turns to the most progressive Ruritan club in the nation in the way of bringing in new members and forming new clubs, the undisputed leader is the Ruritan club of Pactolus.

The Ruritan club of Pactolus last year won the national award for forming more new Ruritan chapters than any other club in the country, and this year with only three weeks left, it again is leading the Ruritan clubs of the country in sponsoring new organizations.

The Pactolus club this year, under the leadership of its president, Noel Lee, has sponsored the organization of seven new clubs in Pitt and surrounding counties, offering membership in a civic organization to hundreds of men in the rural sections of Eastern North Carolina who before had no civic organization in their communities. In addition to the seven new clubs already organized, preparations have been made to organize new Ruritan clubs in a number of other communities before the end of this month.

A report from Ruritan national headquarters shows that the Pactolus club at the present time leads all other Ruritan clubs in the number of new clubs organized this year. The members of the Pactolus club already are confident that at the national convention in Roanoke, Virginia, next month, they will be awarded for the second consecutive year a plaque for the most new clubs organized during the year.

The club's concerted drive for the organization of new chapters in Eastern North Carolina began this fall with the chartering of a club in the Bear Grass community in Martin county. In rapid succession followed the organization of clubs at Falkland, Bevoir, Stokes, Maury in Greene county, the Contentnea club in Lenoir county and Grimesland. The last two clubs were organized just this week. Contacts have been made for the organization of new clubs at Chocowinity, Fairfield in Hyde county, and preparations are being made to begin work on clubs to be formed in the Chlood community, Walstonburg in Wilson county and Hookerton in Greene county.

Club Five Years Old
The Pactolus club was chartered five years ago, in the fall of 1943 with some 20 members, and now boasts a membership of almost a half hundred. Its organization was sponsored by the Winterville Ruritan club, the oldest Ruritan organization in Pitt county.

Heading the club's expansion committee this year is Herman Hill who was president of the club when it received its first national award last year. This year's president is Noel Lee, who also serves as a zone leader in the district organization and in that position assists all the Ruritan clubs in his zone and helps and advises the clubs in all matters. Other officers of the Pactolus Ruritan club are John Overton, vice president; O. H. Forrest, secretary; William Little, treasurer; Walter Langley, chaplain and Preston Woodard, sergeant at arms.

The Ruritan motto, "Good fellowship, good will and community service," is not only repeated by the members of the club, but is carried out by the aggressive clubs in their efforts to promote friendship between the rural communities and to obtain for their respective communities the things which they need most. As the civic clubs in larger towns and cities, the Ruritan clubs in the rural communities set up yearly projects to be carried out for the betterment of the community.

Club Projects
Included in the vast list of projects completed by the clubs in Pitt county are the organization of volunteer fire departments, the purchase of fire-fighting equipment, with club funds, supplementary salaries for special agricultural and home economics teachers in the school of the community, the hiring of school librarians, the procurement of better roads in the community and the extension of electric lines and telephone service in the community, the construction of community buildings, the sponsoring of community canneries for preserving foods, and the sponsoring of pig chain programs through 4-H organization to promote a better grade of hogs in the county.

Other programs call for cooperation with the schools, the P.T.A. organizations, and the churches of the communities. All in all, the program of a club calls for the general improvement of conditions of the community in which it is located, and each club surveys its own community's needs and plan its year's work accordingly.

Club Organization
One of the major factors which has caused the growth of the Ruritan clubs throughout rural areas is the membership requirements of the organization. Each group, to apply for a Ruritan charter, must have at least 20 men who wish to become members of the club, and of the 20 petitioners one third must be farmers, one-third must be businessmen, and the remaining one-third of the club's members may be either farmers or businessmen. After a club is formed it is required to have at least one supper meeting each month, and may have more regular meetings if the club members desire.

The expansion movement of the Pactolus club, although it is a project in which all members of the club participate, is co-ordinated and directed by the club president and an expansion committee, which this year has been composed of Herman Hill, Jim Chauncey and Cecil Satterthwaite. It is the duty of the members of the expansion committee to contact leaders in a community where there is no Ruritan club, and to arrange for a meeting of a representative group of the men of the community to consider the formation of a Ruritan club. At the initial meeting, the purposes of Ruritan are explained, and plans for organizing a club are discussed. If the organization of a new club is approved in the new community, a date is set for an organizational meeting at which the club officers are elected. Ruritan national is then petitioned by the new group for Ruritan membership, and at a later meeting the new club is presented its charter, usually by a district leader of Ruritan or a national officer of the organization.

It usually takes from three to five weeks from the time the first contacts are made until the new club is organized and ready to begin work on its own.

The Pactolus Ruritan club, having won national recognition for its work in 1947, is continuing to render to its own community a fine service, and to be of a great service to all of Eastern North Carolina as well.

The Pactolus club recently elected officers who will lead the club in the coming year, which, the members say, is hoped to be another year of great achievement for the club, and for this section of the state. Club officers for 1949 are John Overton, president; George E. Cherry, Jr., vice president; O. H. Forrest, secretary; William Little, treasurer; Jim Chauncey, chaplain; and Gus Briley, sergeant at arms.

Sees Upheaval In AMA's Campaign

Washington, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.) predicted today that more than half of the members of the American medical Association will refuse to contribute to a fund to oppose a government health insurance program.

The Association's house of delegates decided last week to assess each of the 140,000 AMA members $25 to finance such a campaign.

Ex-Gi Caught On Slipping Into Berlin To See Family

Berlin, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A former American paratrooper who slipped through the Berlin blockade to see his German wife and child, saw them for a few minutes today — from behind bars.

The reunion — by special permission of the United States Army — took place in the military police stockade where Edward Lada, 28, of Newark, N.J., is held on a charge of illegal entry into American-occupied Germany.

Roth Rieck, 23, who Lada secretly wed here three years ago, brought along their two-year-old daughter, Nancy.

"I'd hoped I might get my wife and baby out of here the way I came — back over the frontier," Lada said. "I tried to get them out in November, 1947, but Ruth couldn't pass the physical examination for an American visa, because she had tuberculosis."

"I've lost 25 pounds myself, just worrying about her and the baby since I went back to the United States alone."

The lanky veteran was reported yesterday to be under American military arrest after he had attempted to regularize his presence in Berlin in a visit to a U.S. consulate.

He said at first he had come to rescue a girl friend, whom he refused to identify.

Later military police learned his wife's address. Her visit to the stockade was approved by the U.S. military governor's headquarters.

To reach Berlin two weeks ago, Lada said he had to outrun Soviet army border guards, but otherwise he hitch-hiked here from France without much trouble.

"I've only got one aim — to be with my family," Lada said. "I'm ready to rejoin the Army, if they'll have me, and if that will keep us together."

Elect Officers For Cadet Club

Pittsburg Lewis Whitfield of Carolina Beach, junior at East Carolina Teachers College, has been elected president of the Air Corps ROTC Cadet Officers Club on the campus and will head the organization during the 1948-1949 term. Composed of the advanced section of the military unit at East Carolina, the club was recently organized with the purpose of promoting friendly relations among members and advisors; encouraging the Air Corps ROTC program and its activities on and off the campus; and preparing members for future leadership in both military and community life.

Other officers chosen are: Charles K. Seper, Norfolk, Va., vice president; Claude B. West, Jr., Greenville, secretary; Oliver P. Hedgepeth, Rocky Mount, publicity director; and Cecil R. Murphy Davis, sergeant-at-arms.

Standing committees and their chairmen have also been appointed: Thomas Wilson, Chapinoke, will serve as program committee chairman; Milton Glover, Rocky Mount, refreshment committee chairman; Oliver P. Hedgepeth, Rocky Mount, house committee chairman; and Leon Klutz, entertainment committee chairman. A steering committee made up of these four chairmen and headed by Hedgepeth was also set up to lead in the activities of the club.

Small Child Falls From Third-Story Window In New Bern

Robert Johnson Smyer, 17-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Smyer of New Bern, who fell from a third-story window of his parents' apartment in New Bern Wednesday morning, is in a serious condition with head injuries at St. Luke's Hospital, New Bern. Information received here today was that the child unhocked a screen and fell to the ground below. Mr. Smyer is a former resident of Greenville. He is a son of Mrs. Alma Smith Buck of Greenville.

Draft Board Got Its Electric Fan After 5 Years

Liberal, Kas., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Back in 1943 Miss Olive Fulton, a draft board clerk, tried over and over to get an electric fan from the government for her office.

When the draft board dissolved at the end of the war, she still hadn't received the fan.

Last August the draft board was reactivated and Miss Fulton again became clerk.

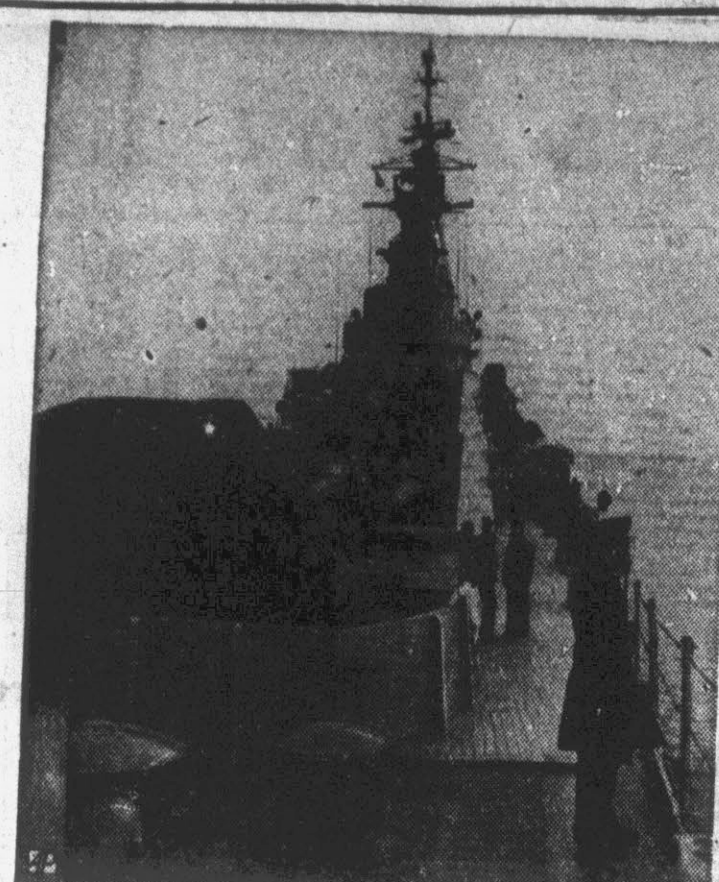

This week she received a package from the government — one of the coldest days since the board resumed work.

It contained an electric fan.

Social Security

Are you planning to work during the Christmas season? If you are, then Mr. M. H. Barney, manager of the Rocky Mount Social Security office, urges you to be sure to have your social security card with you when you are hired. Your employer will need to have a copy of your number so he can make sure that the wages you earn are credited to your social security account. If you do not have your number when you are hired, your employer may overlook securing it during the Christmas rush. This will mean that you may not receive credit for wages you earn.

If you have never had a social security account number or have had one and have lost the card, you should make application for one at once. Send it to the nearest Social Security Field Office. The

Lectures Russians

Paris, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who used to be a school-marm, patiently explained to Communist delegates at the United Nations yesterday how democracies operate.

The widow of America's wartime president interjected the lesson in democracy into an address answering Russia's objections to the world declaration of human rights.

Andre Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, declared Russia would not recognize the declaration if it passed the General Assembly in its present form.

Mrs. Roosevelt said:

Rocky Mount office is located on the second floor of the Post Office Building.

Reports from the coast indicate that the wildfowl population is more numerous than it has been in years.

Third St. School News

First Grade
We made a home for our fish. We put in sand, waterplants and water. We put in snails and a mussel. We named our fishes, Goldie and Spotty. We will take care of them.

Red Cross Boxes
We filled four Red Cross boxes for children over seas. We filled two for girls. We filled two for boys. We are glad to make them happy.

Second Grade
The second grade is busy filling Red Cross boxes to be sent overseas. We hope the children will like them. Jasper Jones brought his white rabbit to school. Her name is Snow White. We gave Snow White some carrots to eat. She wiggled her nose as she ate them. We hope Jasper will bring Snow White again.

The second grade invited all the other grades to see our picture show on Friday morning.

It was a picture about circus animals. All the children enjoyed seeing the pictures.

"We in the United States admire those who fight for their convictions, and the U.S.S.R. delegation has fought for its convictions. But in the older democracies we have learned that sometimes we bow to the will of the majority."

"In doing that we don't give up our convictions; we continue sometimes to persuade and eventually we may be successful. But we know that we have to work together and when we have made a good fight and the majority is against us, it is perhaps better tactics to try to co-operate."

Third Grade
Bobby Carroll came to the school Monday. We like him very much. He came from Ghiood school.

We are sending Red Cross boxes to the children across the seas. We filled two boxes for the girls and two for the boys. — Alf Forbes.

We are putting things in the Red Cross boxes. Our group is getting new reading books. We think they are going to be very good. We have been reading Far-away Ports. That was good, too.

Fourth Grade
The whole school took part in the Junior Red Cross work this year. The boxes are no longer than bricks, therefore everything had to be small. We put small dolls, cars, funny books, wash cloths, tooth brushes, soap, and other things in the boxes. We put everything we thought they needed. Twenty-five boxes were filled by the school. — Mickie Sumrell.

Christmas seals help people who have tuberculosis get well. Protect your home from tuberculosis. The school has $30.19 ready to give for its part in this. — Memmie Mosler.

We had a nice Thanksgiving program. We liked it very much. We had some visitors. We had a Thanksgiving play. The fifth grade gave it. We all enjoyed it very much. The children brought a Thanksgiving offering of food. We sent two baskets of fruit to the hospital for sick children. We filled five boxes of food and sent them to families who did not have as much as most of us.

Sixth Grade

We had two films, one was on teeth and one was on our government. The one I'm going to tell about is the one on teeth. It showed that decay starts in the places that are difficult to brush. The picture showed how to brush our teeth and that the hard, strong teeth are caused by vigorous chewing and the right kind of food. — Douglas Balance.

The Glee Club had a party Monday afternoon. We had a good time. We learned two new games. We had cookies and drinks. The Glee Club sang two songs too. — Gwyn Clark.

Seventh Grade

A Christmas program will be given at the P. T. A. meeting at Third Street School Wednesday night, December 15, at 8 o'clock. At this program there will be Christmas carols sung by the Third Street School Glee Club. A picture called "A Boy at Bethlehem" will be shown. The West Greenville and Third Street School bands will also entertain. All parents are very cordially invited. — Judy Allen.

Telephone service is growing both swiftly and surely. Although material shortages have handicapped us and continue to plague us, we are increasing our progress each day. More telephones are in service, more local and long distance calls are being made now than ever before. We know and appreciate that telephone service has become a "must" for homes, farms and business. Our expansion program is making rapid strides toward our one goal: Efficient telephone service for all who want it.

Best In Education Comes High Asserts Spokesman For NCEA

Garlan F. Bailey, spokesman of the North Carolina Education Association today asserted the following article in the NCEA's campaign for the North Carolina school system.

Some of the poorest in the world. Why? Because the people of North Carolina have not been willing to pay for decent schools. Do not destroy the good opinion that you have of yourself by saying that you have always wanted your children to have the best in education. If the people of North Carolina had had such a craving for good schools for the past decade, the schools and the school systems would not be in such a deplorable state now.

Let us be honest with ourselves. Each and every child in this good state of ours, regardless of color or creed, is entitled to these four things: (1) a good teacher, (2) a good class room, (3) good materials to work with, and (4) good transportation when it is needed. Have the children had these opportunities? The answer is a thundering NO.

Why? Why—we keep asking ourselves. Why, if they need such and we want them to have the best, are they not getting that which they rightfully should have. I will tell you why. North Carolina and the people of North Carolina have been wanting and expecting a mole and have been paying for a mole. You can't carry enough money for a Crosley to an automobile agency and expect to receive a Cadillac for the same. Neither can you expect to give to your children in North Carolina the best that education has to offer without first paying the price for the best. Sure, the bill will be a little higher, but you will see the results of the extra effort in your children.

North Carolina has lost many of its best teachers to other states who realized before our state did that the best isn't always the cheapest. The outward trend of teachers has not ceased and will not stop until the people of North Carolina wake up to the fact that while they slumber our neighboring states are reaping the harvest that belongs to our own North State. It is no surprise when a teacher migrates across the state line when she can go into a decent building and receive twice the remuneration that she would realize in North Carolina. The national average for the teaching profession is only $2550 compared to an average of $3200 for auto workers. With plenty of well paying and more attractive positions in other fields, teaching is not getting its share of the cream of the college crops.

Do you realize that the majority of our schools are housing over one-third more children than they were designed for? Do you realize that in school buildings, we are about twenty years behind? Do you realize that there is less school building going on today than there was ten years ago? Do you realize that many a school building built before 1900 is still in use? Disgusting isn't it, when we have such a need for modern schools. The need for the little red school house has long gone. It is no surprise when a teacher looks for a more lucrative position where she might see a little fruit from years of toiling.

What about the materials that your children have to work with in your school? It is not unusual to walk into a classroom and find a teacher trying to teach a subject from several different types of textbooks, or even without a textbook. It is a common occurrence to have biology taught without a lab or lab equipment. Some schools even find it hard to scare up a piece of chalk to write on the blackboard—if the blackboard is available. Do you think that this is an exaggeration? If so, just take a look around you. I dare say you can find just this a very few miles from where you are at this moment—and we say that we have a progressive school program.

What time does your child or your neighbor's child leave home in the morning so that he or she might make school by nine o'clock? You would be surprised to know the number of school children who spend four hours per school day in going to and coming from school. Yes, and there are many more who use up more than three hours per day on this mission.

The question to be answered is what are we going to do about this shameful situation? There is no need to make excuses. We have a problem and must face it. Do we want the best in schools and are we willing to pay for it? Ninety-seven percent of 200,000 people questioned in North Carolina said "Yes," give us the best regardless of the cost." What do you think? Do you want better school systems in North Carolina, or do you wish our good state to remain with the one other state in the United States which

Grifton Student Spurs YDC Unit

Guilford College, Dec. 16 — The recently organized Young Democrats Club of Guilford College is growing rapidly under the leadership of John A. Clark, Jr., Grifton, the club's president.

Clark attended the Young Democrats State Convention held in Greensboro, late in September, and became interested in forming a club on the Guilford campus. During the convention he met Hoover Taft of Greensboro, who at that time was president of the Y.D.C. in North Carolina. Clark talked with Taft about his plans for organizing the new club and received much help and encouragement from him.

During a recent dinner for the new members, Clark stated that the purpose of the organization was to stimulate interest among college students in local, state and national government.

Clark is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clark, Grifton. He was graduated from Vanceboro High School in 1942. Clark is a sophomore and is majoring in history.

Rocky Mount Cagers Rally To Down Invading Phantoms

GHS Varsity Loses, 32-28. After Holding Five-Point Lead At Halftime; Jayvees Drop Close Game By 39-32

Rocky Mount—Rocky Mount High School came from behind in the second half to win both ends of a doubleheader here last night over the Green Phantoms and Jayvees of Greenville.

The Class AA Blackbirds overcame a 15 to 10 halftime disadvantage to drop the Phantoms of Greenville 32 to 28 in the nightcap after the local Jayvees staged a last quarter rally to defeat the Junior Greenies 39 to 32.

McCullen and Herring, both of whom were held scoreless throughout the first half, scored eight and seven points respectively in the final half to give the Rocky Mount varsity its victory. But to Sawyer, Greenville forward, went high scoring honors of the game. He came through with 10 points.

The Bo Farley crew had the Rocky Mount club in the hole 10 to 7 at the end of the first quarter. But the home towners began a slow but sure uphill fight in the second quarter and by the end of the third period were leading 24 to 22.

In the preliminary game it was nip and tuck all the way with Greenville's juniors leading in the first two quarters and Rocky Mount taking over the lead in the final two.

McCart and Sexton with 11 and 10 points respectively led the way for the victors. Aman with 10 and Briley with eight set the scoring pace for the Greenville Jayvees.

Lineups—Varsity game:
 Rocky Mount: F. Proctor (3), Reese (2), F. Sawyer (10), Laughridge (6), C. Northrop (4), Livesey (1), G. Farley (5), McCullen (8), G. Cox (4), Strickland (8).
 Greenville: Ward (2), Smith, Nelson, Tucker, Rocky Mount: Norville, Herring (7), Maus, McDams, Wheeler.

Jayvee game:

Conn And Louis Meet Again For Exhibition Bout

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, who knocked out Billy Conn in Yankee Stadium in June, 1946, will meet the Pittsburgh Irishman again tonight in a six-round exhibition match in International Amphitheater.

A sellout crowd of more than 10,000 is expected to witness the duel with 14-ounce gloves in what promises to be Chicago's most attractive exhibition since Louis boxed Bob Foxworth here last January.

Both the champion and the 31-year-old Conn appeared in excellent condition after completing their training. They were to weigh in today at the Illinois Athletic Commission's office. Louis expected to scale 222. Conn aimed at 188.

Conn said he will claim the title if he happens to knock out Louis. "I'd be champion," Conn declared. "The public would have to recognize me as champ if that happened."

Louis, who went through nine days of intensive training, did not say that he was going to try to knock out Conn again.

"It just means," the champion said, "that I'm going to have my guard up every second."

Bob Satterfield, Chicago light heavyweight, and Bob Amos of Detroit, will meet in a 10-round return bout on the program. They previously fought a 10-round draw.

Pass-Catching O'Quinn Led Field During Season

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The 1948 football season produced five forward passing and pass-catching records, but the trend was strictly away from the team "battery" combinations which dominated in 1947.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau final figures released today showed no such combinations as Mississippi's Charlie Conerly-Barney Pooie pairing, or Georgia's Johnny Rauch-Dan Edwards Duo, or Fred Enke-John Smith for Arizona, who starred a year ago.

Instead, the nation's leading pigskin pitchers and catchers were pretty well scattered around.

Leading passer, of course, was Nevada's Stan Heath, who set a passing yardage record with 2,005, and a touchdown passing record with 22 for six pointers.

Leading catcher was Johnny "Red" O'Quinn of Wake Forest, who caught 39 for 605 yards.

O'Quinn's 39 receptions were the highest in the past six years, aside from all-America Barney Pooie, who caught 52 in 1947 for the record.

And where was defending champion Pooie, shorn of his bettermate Conerly this year? His 18 receptions for 263 yards and three touchdowns ranked him 59th.

Pirates Leave Today For Tough Conference Games

The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates left shortly after noon today for a two game North State conference road trip. The Pirates play High Point College tonight and engage Catawba College tomorrow night.

A third place club in conference play last season, the ECTC aggregation will be playing their first conference tilt of the season tonight. They topped the Portsmouth Grid Club basketballers last week in their season opener.

Coch Howard Porter wound up his pre-game drills yesterday with a short scrimmage session in which the Pirates were hitting the basket with ease and looking good in general.

Both of this weekend's games are slated to be tough ones and will afford Pirate followers a basis for predicting their success in the 1948-49 conference season.

Robinson had been listed to fight a 10-round over the weight match with Belloise last night at Jersey City Armory for the Tournament of Champions but turned up with a rib injury Wednesday.

Ray Robinson On Unavailable List

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson has been placed on the "all and unavailable" list until he fights Steve Belloise, Abbe Greene, National Boxing Association commissioner, has announced.

Robinson had been listed to fight a 10-round over the weight match with Belloise last night at Jersey City Armory for the Tournament of Champions but turned up with a rib injury Wednesday.

Duck And Geese Season Is Open

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 10.—(AP)—The duck and geese season opened at noon today and will continue through Jan. 8. The limit is one goose and four ducks per day, and hunters may not have in their possession at any one time more than one goose and eight ducks.

Starting tomorrow, hunters may start shooting a half-hour before sunrise, and all shooting must cease an hour before sunset.

Sport Slants by Pap

King King • • • by Pap

Pound for pound, Ray Robinson is generally recognized as the best bit of fighting machinery in the ring today. The welterweight champion's fistic wizardry has earned him acclaim as the world's cleverest boxer. His record of but one loss in 91 fights, and that one to Jake LaMotta whom he four times defeated, seems to bear out this high regard.

Seated in the press section while Robinson was outboxing Kid Gavilan in the Yankee Stadium was Marcel Cerdan, fresh from his triumph over Tony Zale which netted him the middleweight crown. The Fighting Frenchman appeared to be enjoying Robinson's clever ring tactics when sports scribes asked what he thought of Sugar Ray's talents. "He's coasting," Cerdan replied, quickly.

That well may have been the case, since Robinson's title was not at stake and he may have been content merely to punch out a safe victory. It is a fact that the ordeal of making 147 pounds is no longer a pleasant stint for Ray. Training never held any particular appeal for the feather-footed ring ace. Could he be slipping? Just a little? The records show that Robinson fought ten times in 1947 and required 49 rounds to dispose of his opposition. In 1948, Sugar had five fights for a total of 55 rounds.

Bethel Wins

Bethel, Dec. 10.—The Bethel High School basketball team won its sixth straight victory of the season by coming from behind in the last quarter to defeat the Greenville High five of Kinston, 37-34, here last night. The local cagers were behind 23-21, at halftime and reached the end of the third period still in arrears, 33-31. A spurt in the final minutes brought them to the front and they froze the ball for the final two minutes. Frank Hemingway set the scoring pace for Bethel with 11 points. Hodges got nine for Kinston.

In a preliminary game, the Kinston Junior varsity won over Bethel's Charles Davis scored seven points, while John Nelson got eight for Bethel.

Title Challenger May Emerge As Contenders Meet

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—There is a thin possibility that tonight's 15-round bout at the Garden between Joe Baksi and Ezzard Charles will produce a logical challenger for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

That, at least, is the idea behind it. If either man scores a knockout, then he is fairly certain to find himself in the same ring with Joe next June, getting hit. A good, clear decision might serve equally well.

If Charles, the lean Cincinnati Negro, an awkward cloutier from Kulpmont, Pa., put on a poor fight and irritate the $12 customers, they both might as well go home and quit dreaming.

In that case, the veteran Lee Savold, now resting on his laurels—such as they are—in London, will find himself a desirable prize in the eyes of the 80th century club, which must dig up an opponent for Louis in his positively final title defense.

In view of all this, local critics expect both Charles and Baksi to give it the old college try. They even think it might be a good fight.

Charles, though he will be conceding some 30 pounds—180 to Baksi's 210—has been the betting favorite from the start at 12-to-5. There apparently has been little action.

Baksi was considered quite a contender a couple of years ago. He was red-hot in April of '47 when he made a hospital case out of Bruce Woodcock in London. Then he got out of shape, went to Stockholm to pick up some ready cash and dropped a decision to Olle Tandberg, a Novice.

With that, Joe came home, stopped fighting and started eating. His weight was reported from time to time in fantastic figures. Since he reluctantly resumed training he has had only one fight, in which he scored a four-round knockout of Willie Brown, whoever he is.

Now Joe is said to be in real fighting trim again.

Britisher Must Fight In U. S.

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Freddie Mills will have to fight Gus Lesnevich in the United States, according to the National Boxing Association and the British Board of Boxing Control.

Abe Greene, NBA commissioner announced last night support by the British group of the NBA's contention that the pair should fight in this country for the Tournament of Champions.

They were to have fought on the same card as Tony Zale and Marcel Cerdan when the Frenchman won the middleweight crown but Mills was unable to appear because of a back injury.

Ottawa, the Canadian capital, has about 200,000 people in a 900-square mile area designated as the federal district. In the U. S. more than 800,000 people in the District of Columbia crowd into 69 square miles.

Durocher Again Ordered Appear Before Chandler

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Leo Durocher is in hot water with Commissioner A. B. Chandler again.

Although the commissioner was reluctant to talk about the matter, it was learned that the manager of the New York Giants might face another suspension, or be given a sizeable fine.

Leo, who only a year ago was a season-long exile imposed upon him by the commissioner for "conduct detrimental to baseball," has been ordered by Chandler to appear for a hearing on the "Freddie Fitzsimmons case." The inquiry is set for Tuesday, Dec. 14, at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago.

Fitzsimmons, who came to work as coach under Leo several weeks ago, while on the Braves' reserve list, also has been summoned before the commissioner. In addition, Chandler has ordered New York President Horace Stoneham to send another representative. Stoneham selected Edgar Feeley, treasurer of the club.

Feeley and Durocher will have to convince Chandler there was no "tampering" with the former Giant pitcher when he switched from Boston to New York, and Fitz will be asked to explain why he did not inform the Braves officials of his intention to make the change.

Disturbed by whisperings that his demand for a hearing is nothing more than persecution of Durocher the commissioner last night denied that he was "gunning" for the former Brooklyn Dodger pilot who switched to the Giants in the middle of last season.

"It is not a simple matter that can be passed off lightly," Chandler said. "Evidence has been presented to me that the New York ball club tampered with Fitzsimmons even before the 1948 season ended. If such is the case, that constitutes an outright breach of baseball law, and I would not be doing my job if I were to overlook the matter."

"The fact that it concerns a club that Durocher is connected with has nothing to do with it. I would take the same action if another club were involved."

Guardsmen Take Third Straight

Southwood's Tobacco Belt basketballers took their second defeat in a row here last night as the Greenville National Guard cagers romped home with a 45 to 32 win.

The Guardsmen, who have won three games in succession and have suffered but one setback, were led by Dick Palmer with 23 points. Palmer has scored 67 points in three games for the Greenville club. J. T. Williams scored 19 for the Guardsmen. Smith with eight points was high scorer for the losers.

Lineups: Greenville: J. T. Williams 19, Palmer 23, Sellers 4, C. Williams, Minges, Briley, Musselwhite, Lautares, C. Jackson. Southwood: Allen 6, Hill, Williams 7, Dawson 4, Kellum 4, Smith 8, Tayler, Potter 3.

Edger Bergen To Retire; Raps Giveaway Show

Hollywood, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Edgar Bergen will quit radio after his Dec. 26 broadcast—until he's had a chance to study television and program developments from outside the field.

"I have decided to retire temporarily from radio," the ventriloquist announced last night. "This seems to be the opportune time to step back and get a perspective of radio and television as the entire entertainment industry is going through a state of flux."

Half of Auburn's football coaching staff of six, including Head Coach Earl Brown, played for Notre Dame.

My index gets around

BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

Chapter 8

After three blocks I was as sure as I needed to be. Thin Face had popped into another cab and was coming right along behind me.

A few moments later my cabby pulled up at Radio City and I paid him what it said on the meter, plus.
I was out and going through the doors as the other cab drew up.

Ten minutes later I came up out of the ground on Fifty-ninth near Sixth. To double check, though, I took a ride around Central Park before telling the driver to cut over toward the Zarrals chick's address.

Her apartment was on the fourteenth floor, and she answered my ring almost before I could get my finger off the button.

"You are so sweet, Gerry," she purred, and still clung to my one mitt with her two. "You come so quick, no?"

By then we were in a sort of smoke living room that was definitely not furnished with junk picked up here and there. Whoever paid the bills was in the chips. And I certainly didn't think that Goldie-locks had paid the bills. Maybe it was either one, or both, of the two chaps I saw right after I'd taken a sweeping look at the layout.

Both were about the same age. I pegged it at between thirty and thirty-five. Both were about the same build, too. But it all ended there. One was a redhead; a real carrot-top, too.

The other man was dark very dark. Hair black, eyes blue, and a complexion that would make all the soap and scrubbing in the world.
By then Goldielocks had pulled me close and was making the introductions. The lad with the flaming hair was Andy Parkus, and the other fellow was introduced to me as Henri Barone.

Frankly, the situation was getting under my skin. I mean, I hadn't expected Goldielocks to have company in her lap. Then, suddenly, I thought I had it. No doubt Parkus and Barone had dropped in between clothes he was wearing. And Maurice cannot stand insults. Not even silly ones.

I grunted out a half-chuckle and a half-smile. And I felt like telling her to go back to school and come through again with an improved brand of quick thinking. Instead, though, I just went right on looking at Barone. He hadn't carried the ball far enough yet for my money.

"It was very silly," he echoed Goldielocks' comment. "But you would better understand if you knew Maurice as I do. As Zara and Andy do, too."

"Why would you want to see me about him, anyway?"

"Monsieur, is no finding people your business, yes?"

"The Missing Persons Bureau would do the same thing for nothing," I said.

"No!" he said sharply. "The police, no. You must understand,
Monsieur Barone, Maurice is a Frenchman. He is but visiting your great country. If he caused trouble for the police authorities his visit might not be made shorter. Maurice does not wish to return to France immediately."

"Not quite safe enough yet, huh?"
I grunted.

"Exactly," he said.

"Do you connect up his strange disappearance with Rene DePoe?"

I asked. "They certainly wanted to go at each other's throats yesterday."

My words were greeted with very sudden silence.

"DePoe has a fool's temper," Barone finally broke the silence. "But he is not a fool, as he would like some to believe. No, I cannot conceive of any possible connection there. DePoe would not dare!"

"What do you want me to do?
Find Maurice Cardeur, I suppose?"

He nodded and slipped a wallet from his pocket. He zipped it open and started taking out lengths of Government green. When the pile on the coffee table between us totaled a thousand bucks he zippered the wallet closed and put it back in his pocket.

"A thousand dollars for you to find Maurice Cardeur," he said.

"Another thousand dollars if you are able to find him within twenty-four hours."

I glanced at the money, but I didn't meet them, or even seen them, as far as I could recall. So I took the refill she pressed into my hand and looked politely inquiringly over at Parkus. He grinned, but said nothing. I switched my gaze to Barone, and found him really giving me the X-ray treatment. In a nice sort of way, but still the treatment nevertheless.

"You recall that stupid fight, Monsieur?" he suddenly asked.

"Certainly I recall it," I finally told him flatly. "Why?"

"The small one was named Maurice Cardeur," he said to me slowly.
"He was my close friend, and so I am worried."

"Worried?" I murmured. "Why are you worried?"

"That was the last that I... or any of his friends... have seen of him."

"Incidentally, what was that argument about? I didn't find out."

"It was silly," Goldielocks spoke up, a little too quickly, I thought.
"A silly, stupid, personal matter.
Rene insulted Maurice for the grinned at him.

"Dead or alive?" I asked.

"That really jolted him, and for several seconds he couldn't find the words."

"Dead or alive, Monsieur Barone," he finally managed. "But it is absurd to even think of Maurice as dead."

I skipped that. The little guy,

Auto Climbs Pole

An ancient Mercury automobile, registered in the name of Herman R. Arnold of near Winterville, while turning from Dickinson avenue to Seventh street about noon today, started to climb an electric line pole near Wilkerson's Funeral Home, and got tangled up on a guy cable supporting the pole. A jack and some strong men were required to extricate the car from the cable. The car was driven by a man connected with the State Motor Vehicle Inspection Lane. His name was not learned.

It said in part: Quillen was "a writer of paragraphs and short editorials, x x x workmen covered the grave with a granite slab bearing the inscription 'Submitted to the Publisher, by Robert Quillen.'"

As neighbors and friends were returning from the cemetery, Mr. T. H. McGee joined the widow to express his sympathy. "It is a great loss," he murmured. "Yes," she agreed absently, "but it is fully covered by insurance."

INVESTIGATE DEATH NEGRO BABY NEAR FACTOLUS TODAY.

Coroner Griffin H. Rouse was called to the home of Paul Best Daniel, colored, near Factolus today to investigate the death of Daniel's three-month-old baby. Dr. J. M. Barrett, acting head of the County Health Department, accompanied him. The physician ascribed the death to an enlarged thymus gland and they both signed the death certificate.

Aldermen Hear Proposals By Students' Committee

Representatives of the Student council and traffic committee of Greenville high school appeared before the Board of Aldermen last night and presented to the city fathers recommendations concerning city traffic.

"Their recommendations were interesting and sound," Mayor J. H. Boyd said today, "and these young men did a good job of explaining their recommendations to the board."

The recommendations to the Aldermen were as follows:

"We, the Student council and traffic committee of GHS, having made a thorough and complete study of the traffic needs of the student body of GHS, do submit these recommendations to the Board of Aldermen of the city of Greenville:

"1. That parking be eliminated completely on Reade street between the intersections of Fourth and Fifth streets to the alley directly behind Scott's Service center.

"2. That some policeman have his rounds so organized that he be at the corner of Fifth and Reade at 9:27, 10:27 and 11:27 a.m.

"3. That a walking lane be established at the intersection of Fifth and Reade for the reason stated above."

The recommendations were signed by Sam Northrop, chairman of the high school traffic committee, Rodney Fulcher, representative of the high school student council, and O. E. Dowd, principal of the high school.

W. J. (Shep) Dunn Died (Shep) Dunn

W. J. (Shep) Dunn, 68, died at Pitt General Hospital today at 10:15 a.m. following several days' critical illness.

Funeral services will be held at Ballard's Presbyterian Church Saturday at two p.m. by the pastor, Rev. E. S. Coates. Burial will be in the Dave Barrow family cemetery near Belvoir. The body will remain at S. G. Wilkerson and Sons' Funeral Home and will be carried to the church one hour prior to the time of services.

Mr. Dunn was born, reared, and spent all his life in Pitt County mostly in the Belvoir community. He had lived with his son, H. G. Dunn, in the Ballard's Crossroads community the past 10 years. He was a member of Gum Swamp Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are two sons: H. G. Dunn of Ballard's Crossroads and W. A. Dunn of near Belvoir; 13 grandchildren; 6 great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Florence Mayo of Maury.

The 'Contempt' . . .

when asked about it. "He's not in contempt of Congress. We won't make any charge against him. He was standing on his constitutional right."

"If he'd said 'I refuse to answer' and let it go—without giving the ground he gave for refusing—we'd cite him for contempt."

Here's how it worked out another way when 10 Hollywood writers appeared before the committee last year and were cited for contempt. They did not give—although they didn't flatly say they refused to give—a yes or no answer to this question: "Are you, or have you ever been, a member of the Communist party?" Nor did they say "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate or degrade me."

CHRISTMAS PRESENT

Raleigh, N.C., Dec. 10—(AP)—Governor Cherry today gave state employees a Christmas present—an additional day off for the holiday.

The governor said that in addition to having Friday off before Christmas the employees would be given a holiday on the Monday after Christmas.

Kansas Power . . .

not damaged although most of the windows were blown out.

Approximately 150 men were working in or near the building. Sixty of them were power plant employees. The others were construction men working on a new addition.

Power was restored to Topeka last night on a limited basis through an emergency hookup with other plants.

None of the major equipment in the building was believed seriously damaged. Company officials said they expected to have the plant in partial operation today.

Yule Sales . . .

sales drop was nationwide, falling four per cent under the 1947 returns. The percentage decreases ranged from two per cent in the Boston area to eight per cent in San Francisco.

While the department store sales are still high—measured by anything but 1947 standards—their lowered showing took on added significance when matched with other signs that inflationary forces have lost a lot of their punch.

Much Building In Fountain Area

Mr. Harvey Dilda is having a nice self service market built, the building 33 feet by 65 feet, the building will have an apartment on the second floor, the first floor will be the market, he expects it to be March 1949 before this building will be completed.

Mayor J. L. Peel has built an addition to his grocery store, and has made quite an improvement on the inside, having painted the shelves, moved his office to the first floor, and made quite a few improvements on the first floor.

Mr. R. A. Fountain, Sr., has a large garage almost completed, he also has a filling station laid off to start building in the near future, the filling station will be next door to the garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Denis Mercer have a new home near completion, it is next door to Mayor J. L. Peel, and Mr. Robert Mercer.

The city of Fountain has got its Christmas decorations put up. The extension of Fountain sewer lines are under way, weather permitting will continue until the work has been completed.

Israel Agrees . . .

enter into Parallel discussions to establish demarcation line for the entire disputed Negev area.

She said her acceptance of Bunche's proposal to release the Egyptian troops was based on Egypt's recent acceptance of the Security Council's November 16 order. This directed Arabs and Jews to replace the shattered truce in Palestine with an armistice.

Bunche said he was notifying his chief of staff, U. S. Brig. Gen. William E. Riley, to begin negotiations with Israeli field commanders immediately.

Spies Presaged . . .

Soviet regime, and spies heads popping up and popping off all over Europe, there are enough thrills and chills to satisfy the most eager arm-chair seeker after red-blood adventure.

"As a matter of fact there doesn't have to be an 'r' in the month to make spies in season. They always are with us, and the United States has its quota along with foreign countries. Naturally when the hounds of war begin to scurry about. There is much more activity now than in peaceful times. Still even in the dull dog-days there are enough professional nosy parkers in America to make a good-sized army."

So that was the position ten years ago when what are now known as

Colder Weather

The temperature in this area dropped to 33 degrees last night and at 8 a.m. today, with bright sunshine, the mercury had risen only one degree, to 34.

The lowest temperature recorded here this fall was 33 degrees, according to the local Weather Bureau observer.

The sun will enter the winter solstice on December 21, when winter begins.

The "Pumpkin Papers" were sneaked out of the State Department. However, that wasn't by a long shot the only case of espionage in this country. The international spy ring referred to above was engaged in trading in United States military secrets. There were German agents involved in the case, including a red-haired girl, and arrests were made in widely separated parts of the country.

No matter how much we may dislike the idea (and we dislike it plenty), secret agents still are regarded as essential to every nation and have been since the days when Moses sent twelve men to "spy the land" of Canaan to size up its strength and riches. By the way the report of those sleuths of old that Canaan was "flowing with milk and honey" is probably the most famous of its kind.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Dec. 10—(AP)—Cotton futures opened today 10 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher.

Noon prices were 5 to 45 cents a bale lower than the previous close Dec. 31, 1947, and 32.15 and May 31.90.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Dec. 10—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices weaker. Tops of $20.50 at Kingston, $20.25 at Rocky Mount, Greenville, Goldsboro, Washington and Jacksonville.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Dec. 10—(AP)—(NCDA)—Eggs weaker. A large 60; fryers and broilers steady at top of 36 for 2 1/2 to 3 pound weights.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 10—(AP)—A midday pick-up in demand braces prices in the stock market after early sagging tendencies. Issues were still in the majority but they were small, and numerous stocks edged their way into plus territory.

Tax selling continued to brake rallying tendencies although the general undertone of the market was steady.
