Talks Rebuilding Of GOP 'From Grass Roots Up'

Sen. Brewster Says National Policy-Drafting Conference Discussed

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—A plan to rebuild the Republican party from the grass roots up, through state and regional conferences, may be proposed to the GOP National Committee at Omaha, Neb., next week.

Senator Brewster of Maine told a reporter the idea of sectional meetings has been discussed by the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

The Senate group yesterday demanded that the National committee consult with the lawmakers before calling any National policy-drafting conference such as suggested by GOP chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr.

It instructed Brewster and Senators Capehart of Indiana, Wherry of Nebraska and Butler of Nebraska to urge the party group to name a committee at its Omaha meeting to study the National conference plan, but to delay any actual call until later.

"There seems to be quite a bit of sentiment for starting the work of rebuilding the party on a state level, followed by regional conferences," Brewster said.

He added that he will broach this idea at Omaha next Wednesday or Thursday.

The Maine Senator may be named next week as campaign chairman for Republican Senators up for election in 1950. He would divide responsibilities with former Senator John Townsend of Delaware, who has served as chairman of the campaign for several years.

Brewster said he hopes Republicans in Congress will be fully represented if any National conference is called to draft a policy statement for the 1950 campaign.

Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, who doesn't always see eye to eye with his GOP colleagues on matters of policy, told a reporter he thinks it would be a good thing for the party to have a National conference.

"It's about time the Republican party faces the facts of life," he declared. "We can't go on yelling 'Socialism' at every proposal that is made for social welfare legislation.

"The people who have been benefited by government aren't ever going to vote again for a party they think might slam the door on such benefits. We've got to develop a heart as well as a head."

Clinton Rowlette Killed In Auto Crash Last Night

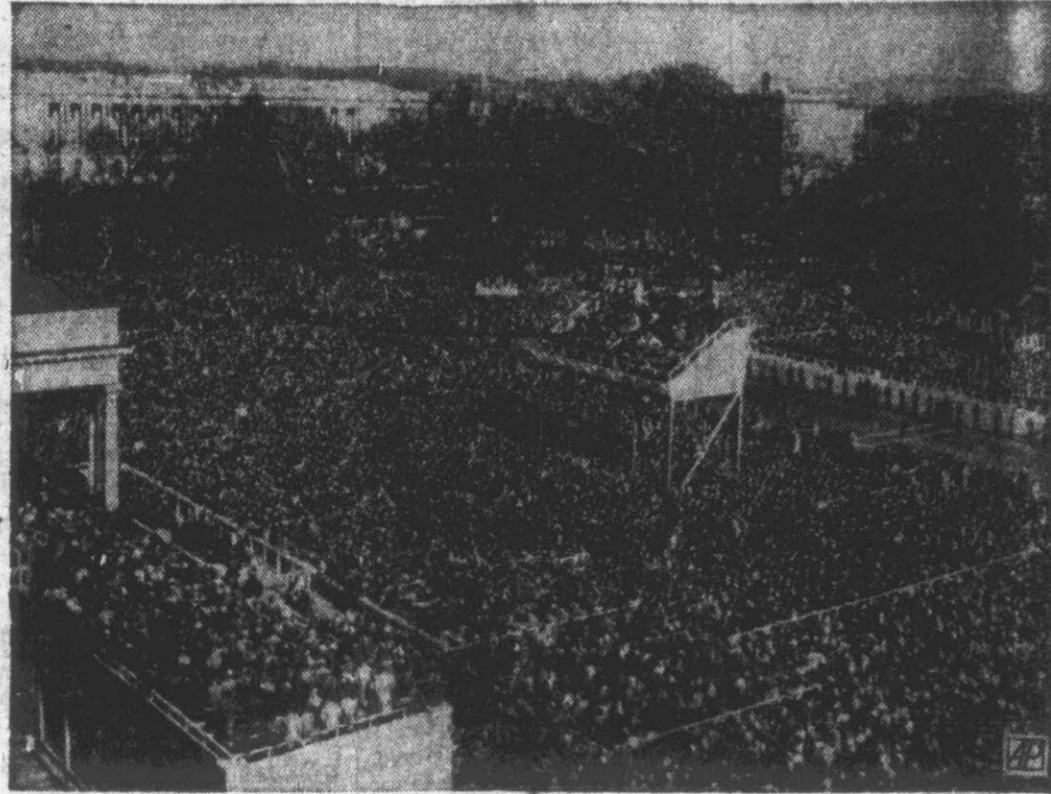

Clinton B. (Bubber) Rowlette, 26 of Bethel, an employee of the John Flanagan Buggy Company, Greenville, was instantly killed shortly after last midnight when he lost control of his car and it crashed into the steel guard rail on a bridge at a curve near the Bethel cemetery.

State Highway Patrolman D. E. Perry of Bethel, who investigated the accident, said Rowlette was fatally injured when the car crashed into the rail and he was thrown from the car into an embankment and his neck was broken.

Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said there will be no inquest. Funeral services will be held at the home of his wife's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Rives, in Bethel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. H. Glenn Haney, pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church, and Rev. W. Murphy Cassell, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Bethel cemetery.

Thousands See Inauguration In Capitol Plaza

This is how the packed Capitol Plaza in Washington appeared as President Truman was inaugurated Thursday. He took the oath of office under the Capitol portico at far left. This view was made from the top of the House wing of the Capitol. The Senate office building is in the left background. The platform in the center of the crowd was for photographers. (AP Wirephoto).

Truman Winds Up Inauguration Holiday; Promises Hard Work

Campaign Pledges Not 'A Scrap Of Paper'; Little Sleep During Past Few Days; Plans Pushing Democratic Platform

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—The inauguration festivities behind him President Truman shed his party clothes today with a promise to work at pushing the Democratic platform through Congress.

Still brisk and smiling, Mr. Truman went home at 11:10 last night for his first full night's sleep in days, after telling party followers his list of campaign pledges "was not a scrap of paper."

It was another busy day for the President, most of it spent in the company of Vice President Barkley. The two were in high humor. They swapped jokes, joshed each other and took the crowds who saw them roaring with laughter.

As the day ended, Mr. Truman commented: "I don't think this country ever had a President and Vice President who were more congenial."

The President stayed only 25 minutes at the Kentucky State Society's inaugural ball for Barkley at the Shoreham Hotel.

Earlier he had shaken hands with 1,400 guests at a reception by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and had followed that with an appearance at a similar affair given by Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman.

He had had less than three hours of sleep the night before and only four and a half hours Wednesday night.

"It's been a wonderful few days," he told the Kentuckians. "But I'm glad it comes only once every four years."

He repeated his plea for cooperation at the party for Barkley. "We must not only have the support of the legislative branch, but also of the people in order to do those things for which we got elected and for which the Democratic party stands," he said.

ROUTINE SESSION Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 22—The House and Senate today ran through their usual routine Saturday sessions. The House passed one bill, a local measure to validate the sale of certain town-owned property at Wendell. Neither branch received any new legislation.

Defense Line

London, Jan. 22—(AP)—The five-nation Western European Alliance has agreed to maintain a defense line stretching from the Dutch coast to the Swiss mountains, responsible diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said the strategy was planned against the possibility of a shooting war with Russia.

The British foreign office and officials of other alliance countries here declined to comment officially on the report.

Under terms of the agreement, details of which are still to be worked out, each of the five countries would maintain mobile, on-the-ready military units that would move to the defensive line in event of attack.

Call Grand Jury Testify In Trial

Members Which Indicted 11 Reds Are Subpoenaed

New York, Jan. 22—(AP)—Members of a recent federal spy-hunting grand jury were under subpoena today to testify in the battle of 11 top U.S. Communists against the federal jury-picking system in New York.

It was this same grand jury which indicted the 11 Communists, all members of the party's national committee, and which returned perjury indictments against Alger Hiss in its probe of espionage and subversive activities.

Hiss, former State Department official, was indicted after he denied he passed government information on to Whittaker Chambers, self-confessed Soviet courier.

The subpoenas were issued by counsel for the Communists yesterday as part of their fight to prove that the method of selecting federal jurors here discriminates against minority groups and the poor. Because of the alleged discrimination, they claim the indictment against their clients and the panel of trial jurors should be thrown out.

Questioning of the former grand jurors, however, cannot take place before Wednesday, Jan. 26, the next time the trial of the 11 will resume.

U.S. Mediterranean Fleet Now At Sicily

Rome, Jan. 22—(AP)—The arrival of two aircraft carriers and 26 other units of the U.S. Mediterranean fleet, was announced today in dispatches from Augusta, Sicilian port. Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman was aboard his flagship, the cruiser Albany. The carriers Philippine Sea and Midway, 16 destroyers, one submarine and smaller warships made up the fleet.

Burke County Plans Beer-Wine Election

Morganton, Jan. 22—(AP)—An election will be held July 18 to determine whether beer and wine sales shall be banned in Burke County.

The county elections board this week set the date of the referendum after petitions bearing more than 3,000 names were filed.

Allen rushed out and pulled the emergency break of the auto. Just then, a man walked from behind the car.

Evacuate Fliers From Hudson Bay

Mercy Flight Airmen Downed On Icefield; Rescue Starts

Winnipeg, Jan. 22—(AP)—The Canadian Air Force moved swiftly today to evacuate 11 men from a Hudson Bay icefield where they spent the night after their plane was forced down during a mercy mission.

First to be rescued will be Harold Dunn, Department of Transport radio operator, whose illness prompted the 4,000-mile mercy flight. Those on the ice patch radioed an appeal that Dunn be taken to safety as soon as possible.

Wing Commander A. Wainley, who is directing operations from Stevenson Field in Winnipeg, said weak stretches of ice in the area will make it necessary to land a light single engine plane to pick up the sufferers.

Pilots who have flown over the spot said there is a 2,000-foot strip of ice a quarter mile from the plane which seems sufficiently safe to permit a light ski-equipped craft to land.

No rescue attempt was made yesterday but supplies were dropped as well as Arctic tents to protect the men from the cold. The temperature dropped to 45 degrees below zero last night. A gas stove and fuel also were parachuted to the spot.

The forced landing ended the mercy flight which began at Rivers last Monday when the plane took off for Arctic Bay, on Baffin Island, 400 miles north of the Arctic Circle to pick up Dunn, suffering from a stomach ailment.

Charge Brothers Entered Jail To Steal Liquor

Pilot Mountain, N.C., Jan. 22—(AP)—A couple of brothers have been charged with breaking into the Pilot Mountain jail and stealing 84 gallons of whiskey.

Police Chief Sid C. Patton says he thinks it belonged to them in the first place, but it was non-tax-paid. He tells this story:

He got a call this week about a liquor load. He found a car broken down and several cases of whiskey hidden in brush outside town.

He put the whiskey in the jail for safekeeping. That night the jail was broken into, and not far away were Algeen and Jack Wilson, loading the cases into another car.

Babson Discusses Tornadoes

Warren, Ark., Jan. 21—At Warren, Arkansas, a few days ago occurred a tornado which is reported to have killed 59 persons and injured about 250 more. Every few months some such disaster occurs in the U. S. Most of them are in the southern part of the country but every one of the 48 states has, at some time, one of these tornadoes. Therefore, this is a subject in which everyone should be interested.

What About Hurricanes? Before discussing tornadoes, let me say a word about hurricanes. These originate on the ocean and can be prevented by "killing" them at their birth. For instance, the hurricanes which hit the South Atlantic States and Florida, and the Gulf States, start 2,000 miles or more away, mostly east of the Leeward Islands and the Caribbean Sea. When they hit our Southeastern states, these hurricanes may have a diameter of 100 to 500 miles. This diameter varies with each hurricane but can easily be measured in each case. We have been hit by about 150 major hurricanes since 1930. These have done tremendous damage.

May Ask Truman To Outline His Long Range Plan

Solons Call For Details On U.S. Guarantee For Investments Abroad

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—Congressional leaders may ask President Truman Monday to blueprint for them his plan to guarantee American private investments abroad.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters he expects to learn more about the President's inaugural message proposal when he and other lawmakers go over the legislative program with Mr. Truman next week.

"It looks to me as though the President is proposing a long-range plan," Lucas said. "I don't know yet whether it will require any legislation in this session of Congress."

Lucas agreed with Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) that the limitations of this nation's resources must be kept in mind in any new venture toward helping the world lift its standard of living.

Vandenberg, noting yesterday that Mr. Truman himself had said there are limits to American resources, declared: "I underscore that warning."

The chief executive gave the lawmakers a hint of what he has in his mind when he spoke to the Missouri Congressional delegation yesterday.

If the standard of living for Asiatic peoples could be raised even 2 per cent, he said, American factories would be busy for the next 100 years turning out products needed in the far east.

The Truman plan thus was calculated to appeal to American business men who might be seeking to put their money into projects abroad but who now find the road blocked by financial uncertainties.

Offers Date For Labor Law Vote

April Proposed As Senate Deadline Timetable Rapped

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—Republican Senator Morse (Ore) today proposed an April target date for a Senate vote on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. But Senator Lucas (Ill.), the Democratic leader called for a "much faster" pace.

Morse told a reporter he will ask the Senate Labor Committee Monday to start hearings next week on a repeal bill and on restoration and revision of the old Wagner Act.

"My motion," said Morse, "will call for ending hearings about March 1 and for giving the committee the entire month of March to put its bill together. The Senate would get the bill by April 10 at the latest and could start debate right away."

Lucas called the Morse timetable too slow, but declined to name a different date for a Senate vote.

"I am going to talk to the Democratic leaders of the Labor Committee and see whether we can get much faster action than Senator Morse is proposing," Lucas said.

C-of-C Members Approve Changes

A revision of the constitution and by-laws of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce was approved last night at a membership meeting of the body in the board room of the city hall. President Charles B. Bissette presided at the meeting.

During the discussion of projects to be carried out during the coming year, it was suggested that Greenville sponsor a Farmers Day Festival for the people living in the rural sections of this area, and also the possibility of additional recreational facilities for the city be investigated.

Work Started

Work has begun on the new athletic field, the site of the new stadium at East Carolina Teachers College. E. K. Rawl, chairman of the stadium fund committee, said enough money already has been donated to condition the grounds and provide the lighting for the field.

The new athletic field and stadium will be located on the east end of the ECTC campus beyond the present football practice field. Tile for the drainage is being laid, and construction of the first section of seats will begin as soon as possible. Plans for the first section of the stadium call for 3,000 seats.

Committee Chairman Rawl said the stadium fund is still $5,000 short of the $25,000 Greenville businessmen set out to raise for the project.

Chinese Nationalist Gov't Appoints Peace Delegation

The 'Walking Man'

High Point, N. C., Jan. 22—(AP) John Finger planned to walk 24 miles today pulling a little red wagon for the "March of Dimes" polo drive.

Finger's hike from High Point to Greensboro and back was to start this morning with a rousing sendoff.

A parade, with a band, fire truck and police escort was to lead him to the city limits. From there, he would pull the wagon to the neighboring city. On the way, he hoped for donations from passing motorists for the polo drive. A jeep was to escort him on the trip.

Another delegation is scheduled to meet Finger after his arrival in Greensboro.

The motto of Finger's walking project, sponsored by the High Point Junior Chamber of Commerce, is:

"Walk a mile to save a child." Finger expected to make the 17-mile trip to Greensboro in three hours—which would be better than the army's forced march.

Claims Century Will See Lenin Triumph

Accuse Sixty Of Spying For U. S.

Mass Arrests Reported By Czech Security Police

Prague, Jan. 22—(AP)—Czechoslovak security police were reported today to be holding 60 persons at Bratislava on charges of spying for American intelligence services in Austria.

This was one of the largest hauls in a series of mass arrests made recently throughout Czechoslovakia.

Thus far the official statement promised last Monday on the arrest of Gen. Josef Kutlvasar and a number of other army officers and civilians has not been issued. That group was picked up early in January on charges of plotting to overthrow Czechoslovakia's communist government.

Kutlvasar was one of the leaders of the Prague uprising in 1945 that finally drove the Germans out. He is in Pankras prison, and it is known that his lawyer saw him there four days ago.

Officials maintained silence on security reasons on the identity of the eight or nine generals who were reported to have been arrested with Kutlvasar, or in a separate roundup.

The ministry of information said it was unable to either confirm or deny the reports. It added that it had to issue a statement next week.

Nearly 400,000 Licenses Issued

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 22—(AP)—A total of 389,385 drivers licenses were issued last year, the State Department of Motor Vehicles announced yesterday.

The department said that 109,000 drivers were examined and re-licensed in the six months ending Dec. 31, 1947, and that a total of 301,000 drivers were re-licensed during the entire year.

There are about 2,500,000 drivers in North Carolina.

Japanese Reds Predict Gain

Tokyo, Jan. 22—(AP)—Japanese Communist predicted today they would gain strength tomorrow in the third general election under allied occupation.

They said they would get 12 seats of the 468 in the lower house of the Diet and would poll about 2,000,000 votes. This would be a gain of eight seats—a figure conceded by most of their opponents.

Address Termed 'Enraged Attack'

Moscow, Jan. 22—(AP)—A Tass Dispatch giving the first Soviet commentary on President Truman's inaugural speech described it today as an "enraged attack" on Communism.

All papers published prominently the dispatch of the official news agency which said the President spoke contrary to the real situation when he described Communism as "preaching war."

Pravda Editor, In Stalin's Presence, Proclaims Downfall Of 'American Reactionaries' Already In Evidence

Moscow, Jan. 22—(AP)—Pravda's editor, in the presence of Premier Stalin, declared last night that this is the century of communism, not of Wall Street.

At the same time P. N. Pospelov the editor who addressed Soviet leaders on the 25th anniversary of the death of Lenin, declared Soviet Russia has an "unshakable will for international cooperation."

He reminded his audience of Stalin's assertion that peace is possible between the differing systems, but bitterly attacked "Anglo-American warmongers."

(Pospelov's speech appeared to be the latest development in the east-west cold war in which there have been signs of a Soviet drive to convince the world she wants peace. He spoke just a day after President Truman in his inaugural address called communism a "false philosophy" and predicted its followers in due time would recognize democracy's strength, "abandon their delusions" and join with the rest of the world in an international effort.)

Pospelov cited China as an example of the failure of plans of "American reactionaries" and said the communists there were "winning decisive victories."

He said Lenin once wrote that the "issue of the struggle depends in the end on the fact that Russia, India, China and others constitute the overwhelming majority of the population."

"And precisely this majority of the population is being drawn with extraordinary speed in the course of the last years into a struggle for their liberation," said the editor.

Concluding that there are 34,000,000 communist party members around the world, Pospelov declared: "The twentieth century will be a century of the complete triumph of Lenin, the triumph of the great ideology of equality and friendship among the peoples."

ABC Sales For December Higher

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 22—(AP)—Although sales decreased in 24 of the State's 29 counties, last month's ABC store sales topped those of December, 1947 by $15,647.16.

Big increases in sales in Mecklenburg county and Asheville, and lesser increases in Moore and Cumberland counties, were responsible for the total topping December, 1947.

Sales last month totalled $5,997,740.85.

Defeat Acknowledged

Chiang's Withdrawal And What It Implies; We May Be About To Witness Red Flag Over All China; Nationalist Defenses Shattered; Confusion Reigns

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's withdrawal (temporary or otherwise) from his 22 year old dictatorship is tantamount to acknowledgment of defeat by the Chinese communist armies which threaten his capital of Nanking.

We may be about to witness the unfolding of the Red flag over China.

To be sure the generalissimo has left the fate of his tottering government in the hands of Vice President Li Tsung-Jen and the cabinet. It is for them to deal with the victorious enemy at their gates. Theirs is the task of trying to salvage something from the wreckage by bargaining with the Reds.

What can come of that? It's only a few days ago that the hard-bolled communist leader, Mao Tse Tung, announced his terms for peace. In effect he demanded unconditional surrender, and called for complete remolding of the nation.

Five Named To Negotiate Peace With Communists; No Indication Reds Will Deal With Gov't On Anything Except Their Own Terms

Nanking, Jan. 22—(AP)—China's tottering government tonight announced the appointment of five delegates to negotiate peace with the Communists.

Heading the delegation will be Shap Li-tze, a veteran advocate of peace between the Nationalists and the Reds.

Appointment of the peace mission came a few hours after Acting President Li Tsung-jen assumed the powers of Chiang Kai-shek, who retired yesterday after 22 years at the helm of Nationalist China.

(There apparently was still no indication that the Communists would deal with the government on anything except Red terms.)

Li's intention to send a peace delegation was announced earlier in the day at a tea party of government officials.

Li quietly assumed presidential powers at a simple ceremony which lasted only a few minutes. It was an anti-climax to Chiang Kai-shek's retirement after 22 years of heading China's government.

China's leaders—seeking to accustom themselves to acting without a nod from Chiang Kai-shek, conferred almost endlessly on means of opening direct talks with the Reds.

There has been no plain statement from the Communists via their radio—the only means of contact now open—that they will find Li's leadership of the National Government any more acceptable than that of Chiang.

Nanking and Shanghai were quiet without any indication that Chiang Kai-shek's departure would produce any violent reaction.

Chiang himself was resting at his ancestral home in Fenghua, 210 miles southeast of Nanking.

He left a farewell statement which was so ambiguous that those he left behind could not figure out its meaning.

Chinese sources said the original version made no mention of "retirement" or "resignation," but left the door open for his return should events prove favorable.

Chiang's men got Chiang on the telephone, and the statement was changed at the Generalissimo's suggestion so that in the official English translation it read like this:

"With the hope that hostilities may be brought to an end and the people's suffering relieved, I have decided to retire."

The statement then said that Vice President Li would exercise the powers of the President in accordance with China's constitution.

(There was no mention of any hope or expectation of a return. Observers in Shanghai predicted that unless some progress toward peace with the Reds is made quickly, Chiang will try to come back.)

(They asserted, however, that this time it won't work. Chiang has quit before in the 22 years he has ruled China and always was asked to return. This time, say these observers, there is no real public demand for Chiang.)

Israel To Again Seek UN Entry

Lake Success, Jan. 22—(AP)—Israel is expected to renew her demands for admission to the United Nations within the next week or ten days if middle east armistice talks are successful.

Informed quarters said today Aubrey S. Eban, Israeli representative, already has approached some delegates, including the United States, as to the timing of the new move.

Ghosts Of The Past

In His Inaugural Speech, President Truman Stressed Freedom For All; Would Have Surprised Some Visitors Out Of The Past; What The President Meant

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—All the well-fed flesh-and-blood people watched President Truman read his inaugural speech at the Capitol.

Once in a while a hand cupped itself around an ear. Or two heads turned to each other and nodded wisely about something Mr. Truman had said. No one seemed surprised at anything in his speech.

He was talking about peace and freedom for all people everywhere, and I wondered what a couple of ghosts from the not-very-long-ago would have thought if they were there.

I could almost see them in their great coats and tricorn hats, slipping in quietly and sitting down, unnoticed even by each other, for they had come in separately.

Then they saw each other and moved together, each recognizing the other for what he was, a ghostly stranger. One of them had a green cockade in his hat.

As he caught the drift of the President's words, the American ghost sat numb with astonishment. He sat like that a long time after the President and the crowds were gone. At last he said to his new friend:

"Did you hear what I heard? He was talking about freedom for all people. He said 'free' or 'freedom' at least 20 times."

"What's so strange about that?" said the French ghost, bitterly. He pulled his coat tighter as the icy wind whipped across the Capitol plaza.

"But we won freedom back in 1776," said the American ghost. "I thought we had set an example for the whole world. I thought by this time all people everywhere would have won freedom for themselves."

The better-traveled French ghost, who had been back a number of times since his own revolution in 1789, looked at his companion.

"Freedom isn't as simple as that," the French ghost said. "We wanted it. We took a lesson from you, although nobody else did for a long time. Freedom was the battle-cry in our revolution."

"And we won freedom. Then we

We are learning new songs. Our music teacher is Miss Hook. We like her very much.
We have a visitor in our room. She is Mrs. Alf Forbes, Jr. We are glad she is here.
We are going to talk about the books in our room. We have many books. We also have good books in our school library.
Twenty-four children have filled the March of Dimes books.
We have had perfect attendance Monday and Tuesday.

We have been studying about Scotland in our social studies. I think we are doing very interesting work. Some of the girls have made doll clothing for their dolls. The dolls are dressed as the Scottish people. Some of the boys have made a bagpipe. Some of our boys and girls have made a sand table. One boy illustrated the song, "The Blue Bird of Scotland." Other boys and girls made papier mache maps on printed pictures.
Dennis Bullock, Sixth Grade

At our last class meeting which was held Friday, the sixth grade elected new officers. They are: President, Dolly Best; vice president, Gwynn Clark; secretary, Dennis Bullock; treasurer, Betty Lou Nichols. After the election there was a nice story told by Gwynn Clark. Then the meeting was adjourned.

"March Of Dimes" Features Kiwanis Supper Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
The "March of Dimes" drive for the infantile paralysis fund featured last night's supper meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. Dr. Leo Jenkins, dean of ECTC and chairman of the Pitt County "March of Dimes" Committee, had charge of the program. He presented Nicholas Pokakis of Wilmington, student at the college, whose brother had been stricken and recovered, who made an eloquent appeal for support of the "Good Samaritan" project, and as a result, Kiwanians bought nearly $75 worth of tickets for the "March of Dimes" ball at the college on January 27. Dr. Jenkins thanked all who are assisting in the infantile paralysis fund.
He extended appreciation to the Forensic Club and the schools and the college students working under Miss Gloria Blanton, of the Baptist Student Center, for their work in selling "March of Dimes" tags.
The musical feature of the meeting was the singing of Mary Wallace Foy, talented Irish soprano soloist and student at ECTC, of two numbers, Johann Strauss, "The Laughing Song" and Rudolph Primm's "Gia Nina Mia," with Miss Annette Hughes, also a student at the college, as accompanist.
President Arthur Tripp presided. Ed E. Rawl, chairman of the ECTC Football Stadium Committee, reported that about $5,000 is needed to reach the total of $25,000 promised President Dr. John D. Messick last month.
Dr. John O. Reynolds of the college presented Karl Turner, a Junior Kiwanian, and Ruel W. Tyson Jr., Kiwanis Key Club representative.

Guests of the club included W. G. Partridge of Norfolk Va., and A. Vernon Sheffield, a Kiwanian of Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Isabell Barrow Died Friday Night

Mrs. Isabell Barrow, 57, wife of Adolphus B. Barrow, died at her home near Ayden at 8:55 p. m. Friday after having suffered a stroke of paralysis about two hours earlier. Funeral arrangements were incomplete pending the arrival of relatives.
Mrs. Barrow, daughter of the late James B. and Ida Avery White and a resident in the Ayden community. She was married to Adolphus B. Barrow in 1913 and had lived the most of her married life in Craven county until 12 years ago when they moved to their present home near Ayden. She was a member of Bethany Free Will Baptist Church.
Surviving are her husband; three sons, Lydell Barrow of near Ayden Pfc. Albert W. Barrow of the United States Army, now stationed in Alaska, and James Barrow of the home-seven daughters, Mrs. Leslie Lilly Worthington of near Grifton, Mrs. Herman Foy of near Ayden, Mrs. Edward Brown of Ayden, Mrs. Kathleen and Katie Barrow of the home; and 12 grandchildren.

New Editor For ECTC Quarterly

Laura Swain of Aurora has been appointed editor of "Pieces O' Eight," magazine published by students at East Carolina Teachers College. The appointment has been approved by Dean of Men W. E. Marshall, chairman of the student publication board at the college; and the term of office will extend through the regular school term of 1948-1949.
Miss Swain replaced Hayward Sellers of Greenville, who resigned as editor at the beginning of the winter and is now taking special courses in the army at Edgewood Md. Miss Swain was formerly assistant editor of "Pieces O' Eight."

Select Members Of Debate Team

Intercollegiate debaters have been chosen by members of the Jarvis Forensic Club at East Carolina Teachers College to represent the college in a series of debates to be held in the spring. Tryouts were held this week and results have been announced by Geraldine Amundson of New York City, president of the organization.
Selected as members of affirmative and negative teams for East Carolina are Milton Fields, Scotland Neck; Miles Buck, Syracuse, N.C.; Frank Toothman, Ayden and Fairview, W.Va.; and James H. Crawford, Greenville. Alternates will be George Lassiter, Goldsboro; Wilton G. Joyner, Greenville; and Milton Zellin, Atlantic City, N.J.
These debaters will participate, according to present plans, in the Grand National Forensic Tournament to be held in April under the auspices of the Strawberry Leaf Society at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va. The topic will be Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity in tax supported schools by means of annual grants. Fields and Toothman were among the four debaters representing East Carolina last spring in the national tournament. Lassiter is a former president of the Jarvis Forensic Club on the campus here, and Toothman a former vice president.
Plans are also being made for participation by these debaters in the Seventeenth Annual South Atlantic Forensic Tournament which will be staged at Lenoir-Rhyne in Hickory in March.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Frances Rives Rowlette, and one daughter, Frances Rives Rowlette; his mother, Mrs. Hilda Rowlette of Greenville; one brother, Thomas C. Rowlette, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles P. Gaskins and Miss Carolyn Rowlette, all of Greenville.
Mr. Rowlette, a native of Greenville, graduated from Greenville High School in 1939. He joined the Marine Corps in 1942 and spent two years in a combat squadron in the Pacific theater of war. He received an honorable discharge from the Marines in 1945. Since returning home he had been an employe of the John Flanagan Buggy Company, in the parts and accessories department. He was married to Miss Frances Rives of Bethel in 1947. He was a member of Eighth Street Christian Church, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Charles P. Morgan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Pitt County Post No. 39, American Legion.

venting tornadoes because it takes them such a short time to develop nearby. Tornadoes appear to be born mature and do their damage almost at once. I, however, do believe that all loss of life from tornadoes can be prevented. The people in the tornado area can be notified in time with proper warnings. In other words, every community in the southern Middle West should be protected with a tornado siren-alarm. This can't prevent the tornado or its accompanying property damage; but it can absolutely prevent loss of life. There is no excuse for the deaths and injury of so many people at Warren. The entire state of Arkansas could have been properly safeguarded against loss of life from tornadoes.
New To Detect Tornadoes
Every tornado has three features: (1) A very low barometer reading within a hot stagnant area, (2) a gradually increasing wind from five miles upwards to 300 to 500 miles per hour. (3) A dark colored column of rain, dirt, and other material. The fire or police station in every southwestern community should always be on the watch for these three signals. Upon seeing them, they should, by radio, immediately notify all surrounding territories. As each community gets the word, it should ring in a Game-well siren alarm, which would give the proper warning to the inhabitants either to enter a cyclone cellar or to go out into the open and lie down. Defeat . . .

The Russian control of China would create a grave challenge to the western world.
That of course was bad. But how much worse must it be now that the generalissimo has turned affairs of state over to his vice president and gone south from Nanking. Because Chiang was dictator his regime was in many ways a one-man-band. Others were not trained in handling administrative problems. So the unfortunate government now is at sixes and sevens of annual grants. Fields and Toothman were among the four debaters representing East Carolina last spring in the national tournament. Lassiter is a former president of the Jarvis Forensic Club on the campus here, and Toothman a former vice president.
Plans are also being made for participation by these debaters in the Seventeenth Annual South Atlantic Forensic Tournament which will be staged at Lenoir-Rhyne in Hickory in March.

lost it again for a long time. We didn't know how to handle it when we had it. We had to struggle for it all over again. Now once more we have it. I hope we can keep it."
The American ghost said: "Oh, but we knew how to handle it. As soon as we got it, we kept it. We made it work, I'm sure."
"Don't kid yourself," the French ghost said. "Back in those days, when you said 'we have freedom,' you meant just freedom for some of you. What about your slaves?"
"There wasn't any freedom for them until you fought a civil war among yourselves, and that was almost a hundred years later."
The American ghost was silent a moment. Then he said: "Why isn't everyone free by this time? Doesn't everyone want it?"
"I'm sure everyone does, if he can think or feel at all," the French ghost said. "But 'freedom' isn't repeating 'free' and 'freedom.' It's a tender and delicate flower. You have to want it very badly before you begin to appreciate its beauty. And there always have been people eager to crush it and crush the hand that reached for it."
"For most of history those few people have been able to keep the others out of the garden where it grows."
"To pluck it at all, you must want it, really want it. You must be willing to struggle for it. And if you're lucky, you'll get help from those who also want it, or already have it."
"That's what Mr. Truman was talking about. That's why he kept repeating 'free' and 'freedom.' He wanted people everywhere to think of what he was saying, and to feel it."
"He was saying that if they wanted it badly enough they'd get help in reaching for the flower."

Shareholders In Meet Thursday

The 11th shareholders meeting of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Greenville was held at the office of the association, 320 Evans Street, in Greenville, Thursday night.

The past year the First Federal Savings and Loan Association brought its resources to $1,625,808.63. This growth during 1948 was a combined result of prosperous business conditions and a growing recognition in the community of the safety and ease of saving money in the institution, it was stated.

President Dink James presided at the annual shareholders meeting with more than 2647 shares represented in person and by proxy.

Judge James, in commenting on the year's growth and operation, said the First Federal Savings and Loan Association experienced a satisfactory operation for the year. He also commended Secretary-Treasurer A. C. Tadlock for his untiring work and the appraisal committee for its excellent work under his supervision.

The secretary-treasurer's report stated that after setting up ample reserves that the association paid to the holders of savings and investment accounts a total of $29,322.47 in dividends for the past year.

Under the date of April 9, 1948 the firm purchased its office building. Since purchasing the building we have had a heating and air-conditioning unit installed, in order to make it more comfortable and convenient for our staff to render to our members the best of service.

Mr. Tadlock said, "As we enter 1949, I see a fine year ahead for our association. There is an ample opportunity to serve the home ownership needs of the city and the surrounding area as long as the savings of the people come to us in sufficient volume. The financial strength of this association which continues to be the first consideration of the board of directors merits an unprecedented flow of savings in the months ahead. We must make our institution known to all, because it is doing a great work—helping people save money for their own self-interest and helping them own their homes."

What's In A Name?

Malden, Eng., Jan. 22—(AP)—For 20 years a parrot named Harry enlivened the doings at the Bull Inn Pub, squawking at all customers.

Yesterday—for the first time—Harry laid an egg.

Today the management announced that henceforth Harry will be known as Harriet.

Seventeen Given Student Awards

Seventeen students at East Carolina Teachers College received awards for service as leaders in student activities on the campus at a specially scheduled assembly program Friday morning in the Wright auditorium. Each student was given a certificate and received applause from more than 1000 students and faculty members present for the occasion. The seventeen men and women were designated in the fall to represent East Carolina Teachers College in this year's edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

President John D. Messick announced the awards and congratulated the recipients on their achievements. "Those who wish to be of real service," he told them, "must obtain facts, organize and analyze them, and then act."

Those receiving awards Friday morning were Ann Beddard, Snow Hill; June Bass, Halifax; Robert Chinnis and Jean Bostian, Wilmington; Audrey Fessor, Lexington; Elsie Carver, Washington; Myrtle Davis, Lucama; G. Raz Autrey, Dunn; Lois Stephenson, Willow Springs; Milton Fields, Scotland Neck; Floyd Collins, Cerro Gordo; Alan Stordard, Greenville; John Pournaras, Ambridge, Pa.; Charles Connor, New Bern; Robert Shuford, Thomasville; Willard Pendleton, Portsmouth, Va.; and Haywood Sellers, Greenville. Sellers has withdrawn from the college to enter military service.

10,000 Mice Are Listed 'Missing'

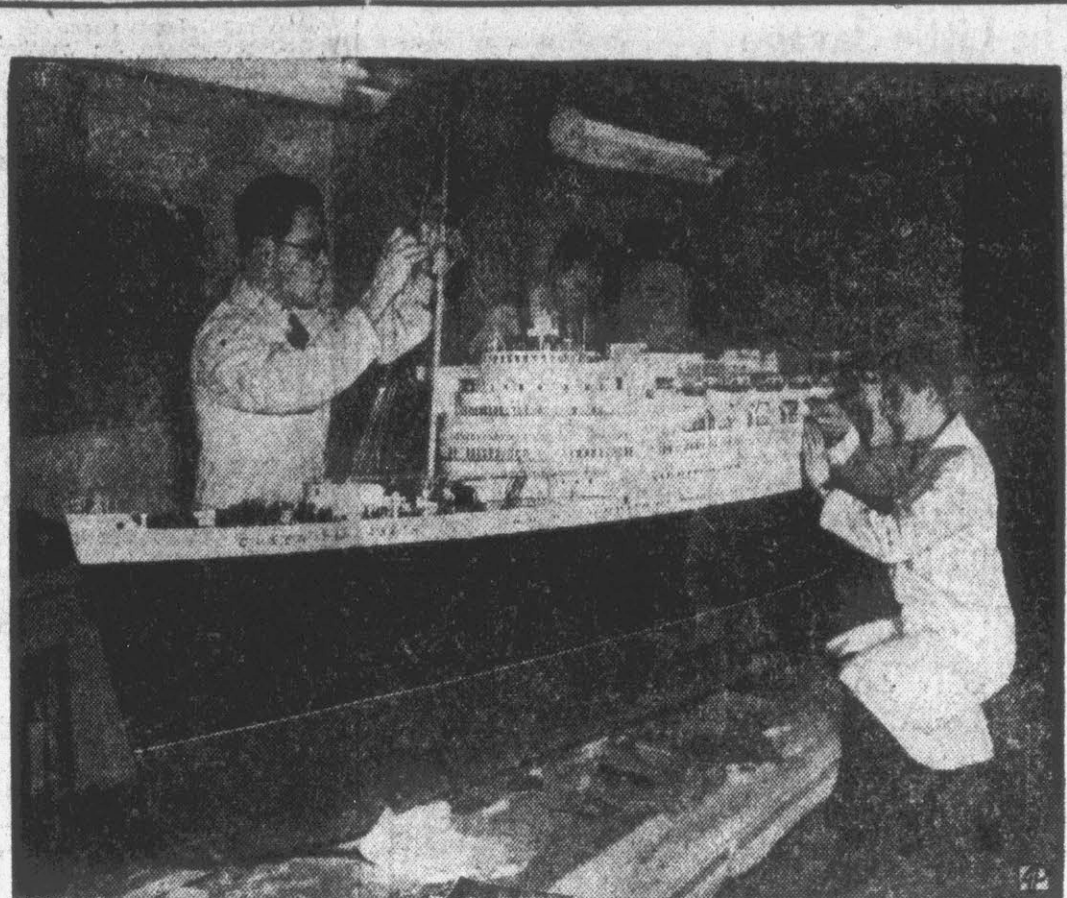

Cincinnati, Jan. 22—(AP)—Some 10,000 little white mice—destined for martyrdom in a science laboratory—may have suffered a worse fate, police fear.

It's likely some feline gourmet made off with the mice—that is if a human suspect isn't involved, Deputy Sheriff Michael Ott said today.

Aaron E. Kalbel of neighboring New Burlington who raises mice for experimental purposes—such as infantile paralysis research—reported the mice disappeared from a building on his property during the past 12 months.

Keeping close count on his losses for a one-week period, he told Hamilton County Sheriff Dan Tehan, he discovered nearly 800 mice disappeared during the seven days.

Kalbel said he had the only key to a special lock on the door of the building and added he could find no signs that anyone tampered with the three windows in the building. Kalbel sells about 1,000 mice a week to a distribution firm. Ott said if no human suspects turn up, he feared a feline Raffles is involved.

Charge Mexican Butchered Both His Young Wives

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 20—(AP)—Twice 46-year-old Victoriano Corrales returned to his native Mexico and each time he returned here with a girl after filling her head with tales of luxurious living.

And twice, said sheriff's deputies, he killed, in the same way for the same reason: each girl threatened to leave him for a younger man.

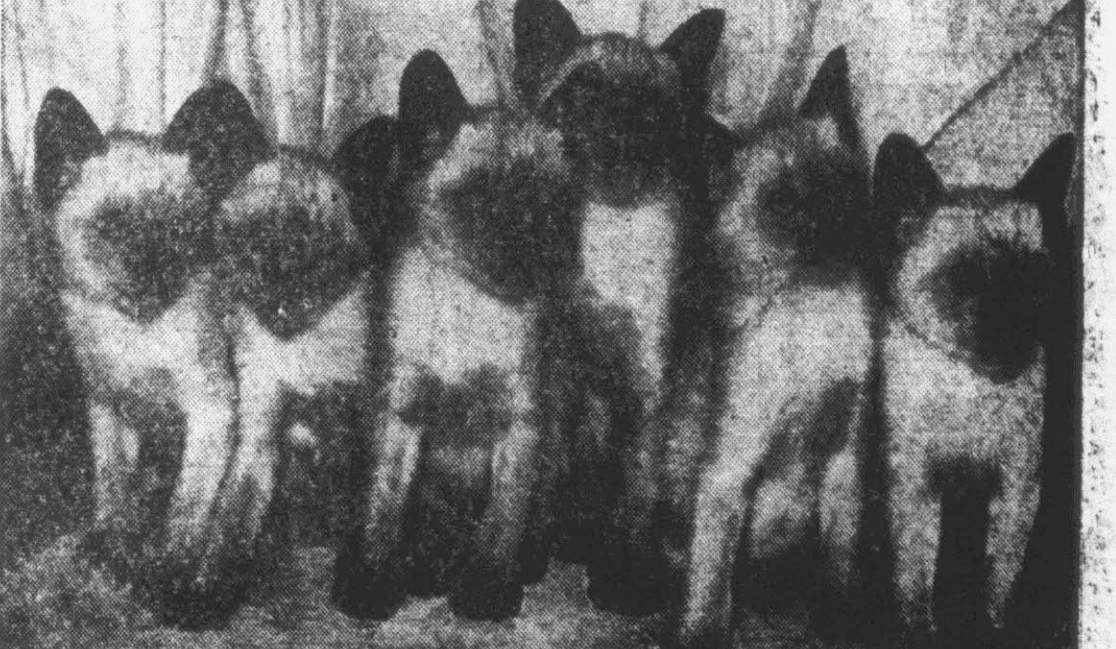

So he struck her down with a hammer and an ax, then butchered her body and threw the pieces into a river.

Today a charge of murder in both deaths was on file against the slight, greying day laborer.

He is accused of killing Alberta Gomez and Maria Pulido, both in their twenties and both from the same town in Mexico, Irapuato. The sheriff's office said he made statements admitting both slayings.

BEARDED LIZARD—This bearded lizard was part of a shipment of "bizarre creatures" received from Australia by the Washington Zoo. It will live in the reptile house.

KITTENS ON SHOW—Two-month-old Sealpoint Siamese kittens owned by Collis Blyner of Jamaica, New York, observe the observers from their perch at the Atlantic Cat Club show in New York City. More than 300 prize-winning cats from the United States and Canada were exhibited.

Over 1,000 See New Model Car

More than 1,000 people visited the White Chevrolet company show room here by noon today to see the 1949 Chevrolet which went on display this morning.

The new model Chevrolet has been completely restyled, is lower and wider than previous styles, and is a product of three years' development work and more than a million miles of engineering research, according to the Chevrolet motor division of General Motors.

The 1949 Chevrolet features the greatest change in styling Chevrolet has made in seven years.

Bunche Summons Show-Down Talk

Rhodes, Jan. 22—(AP)—Acting U.N. Mediator Ralph Bunche called in the heads of the Egyptian and Israeli delegations last night for a show-down in armistice talks.

Bunche's action indicated a decisive break in the conference may be expected soon. The session is regarded as the final step in armistice negotiations which have been snagged in a boundary dispute.

Wyoming Soldier Seeking Freedom From Wife In Pitt

By CHESTER WALSH

WILLIAM T. KYZER, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, is called on frequently to perform unusual services. Recently he was asked to help a soldier out in Wyoming to untangle his marital alliance and assist him in obtaining freedom from his wife, who lives in Pitt County and whom he married March 7, 1947. The soldier needs an attorney and requests Secretary Kyzer to recommend one. Kyzer sent him a list of Greenville lawyers.

The soldier's letter is interesting. It follows: "On March 7, 1947, I was married to a Pitt County girl. I wanted to be free again because we had no children for 28 months. She left me while we were living in a Mountain side city. I want her to get the divorce because I will be unable to appear in court in Pitt County. We were married by a justice of the peace near the court house in Greenville. If it isn't necessary to appear in court there, then we may go ahead and get it for me. My wish is that you contact my lawyer and find out what grounds she would have for a divorce on."

"I will not pay alimony under any circumstances, but will pay the costs of the divorce, providing they do not exceed $100.00. I am coming to hear from you. I believe you will call him 'Doc.' instead of using his own name."

Fate Of Missing Hotel Guest Is Still Uncertain

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 22—(AP)—The fate of a 70-year old hotel guest still was uncertain today following the million dollar fire which destroyed the O-ton hotel and several adjacent business establishments.

City workers still poked through the charred ruins seeking the body of J. R. Mallard of Charlotte. There was no trace of him after the fire early yesterday morning.

Standing walls of the hotel building, weakened and condemned as "dangerous" to passing traffic and onlookers on Front street, were to be torn down today.

Four men were injured fighting the fire but none was reported in serious condition.

A. Abrams, owner of the five-story brick hotel, said that he had time to warn his 40 guests and that all of them walked out of the building.

Davidson's Grid Season To Open At West Point

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 22—(AP)—Davidson College opens its football season this year against the United States Military Academy at Michie Stadium, West Point, N. Y. September 24.

That announcement came from Davidson's athletic director N. W. Shepard. A telegram from Lt. Col. O. C. Krueger, Army Graduate manager, stated:

"Confirming telephone conversation, contract being mailed to you this date."

Both schools canceled games previously scheduled in order to meet at that date. Army bypassed the University of Hawaii and Davidson changed its day of meeting Wofford College to Oct. 15.

Air Cadet Class In March Is Open To Married Eligibles

If you are "air-minded," says Capt. Ralph W. Ferrise of the local navy and air force Reg. station "your golden opportunity may be at hand. This may be what you've wanted for."

The Captain announces that a large number of young men are already being accepted for the next Aviation Cadet class, which begins in March, 1949. Young men between the ages of 20 to 26 1-2 years may be eligible if they have two years college credit, or pass an examination designed to measure that educational equivalent. In addition, they must be able to pass the Air Force physical examination, the necessary physical examination and a medical and personal examination.

Married men are now accepted for cadet training provided they meet the necessary qualifications. This is the first time in peacetime since the early 1930's that married men have been eligible "says the Captain, and it may be the chance for some young men have been hoping for some time."

Air Maneuvers In German Area

Wiesbaden, Germany, Jan. 22—(AP)—The Air Force announced today joint training maneuvers will be conducted this week by a B-29 bombardment squadron and jet fighters from Fuerstenfeldbruck.

The B-29 squadron, part of the 32nd Bomb Group now training at Lake Heath, England, will make simulated high altitude bombing attacks on several Bavarian cities. The B-29s arrived yesterday. Planes of the 38th Jet Fighter Squadron stationed at Fuerstenfeldbruck will make interceptor flights.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK
Everyone would admit that a Christian should frequently consult the Bible, often referred to as The Good Book. But a Christian should not only examine the Bible frequently, he should also make it a practice to examine his date book and his check book, for these will show how sincerely he follows the teachings of the Bible.

How much time are you giving to the projects designed to make the world a better place in which to live? How much time are you giving to the Church, which is the system upon earth, divinely established, by which the unseen God carries on his purpose in human life. How much time are you giving to others, and especially to those beyond your family circle?

Here is another test—how much money are you giving to good causes? Yes, we all know about inflation and the rising cost of living, but community agencies for human betterment and the Church of Christ throughout the world have to contend with these grim realities
the same as you and I do.

So get out the date book and the checkbook and peruse them, along with the Bible. This will constitute a check and double check on how much we really mean what we say.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

INDECISION—The second full week of the current legislature ends in an atmosphere of uncertainty and indecision almost as bad as on the first day of the session. Forecasts had been made that events of the week would probably determine course and duration of the entire session. If that prediction is to stand up to the 1948 general assembly will muddle through a long session. This attribution of uncertainty is not particularly obvious, but is sensed by long time members and observers.

LEADERSHIP—It cannot be said the assembly lacks leadership in the meaning that it is out of control as was the case two years ago at comparable period, when proponents of higher salary supplements upset plans of the administration during the first few days. There was actually more leadership than now, because there were recognized leaders of the anti-administration proposals as well as strong advocates of the program. Now there is apparently not much strong support or opposition for any measure presented to date. President Taylor in the senate and Speaker Ramsey in the house have their respective bodies well in hand so far as decorum and procedure may be involved.

UNDER-CURRENT—At the same time there is an undercurrent feeling that nobody cares much whether the administration bills are passed or not. The two major measures introduced during the week—the road bond issue and the personnel department—s attracted no open support, nor was there any marked opposition. Both sides seem to be waiting—and not too watchfully—for further developments before taking definite positions on the measures. Majority of the members appear willing to go along with the governor, but no one has displayed any zeal for carrying the torch. This is partly attributed to absence of Governor Scott for most of the week, while he was attending the presidential inaugural at Washington.

GROUNDWORK—There is also opinion that insufficient groundwork had been done on the proposals before they were introduced on the floor. Considerable significance, perhaps too much, is attached to the fact Senator Libby Ward, senate road chairman, noted below his name on the road bond bill that he was introducing it "by request." This should not be taken to mean Senator Ward will decline to give full support to the measure; it does mean he had not had time to study the particular bill and was not sure he could go all the way with it as written.

REFERENDUM—There is a great deal of confusion with respect to a statewide liquor referendum. The bill introduced by Senator Penny does not satisfy anybody. There is another illustration of lack of coordinated leadership among both local option and all-dry forces. The all-dry folks had relied strongly upon Governor Scott's campaign pledges to back a referendum. The governor indicated at a press conference last week that he does not like the Penny "all or nothing" idea.
Uncertainty as to probable action on a statewide liquor vote hinges on avowed purpose of the all-dry folks to offer a bill pitting all-state aridity against local option. That is countered by suggestion of another bill that would pit all-wet against local option. The governor has all along insisted upon a "fair" presentation of the question, but he has not elaborated on what he considers a fair proposition.

SALARIES—Neither school teachers nor state departmental and institutional employees are pleased with budget recommendations for salary increases. They contend the increase is not enough. But again there has not been so far any definite drawing of lines in support of or opposition to the schedules proposed in the budget bill. There is growing opinion that finance and appropriations committees will to greater extent than two or four years ago wait upon each other to act.
This implies a long drawn session, more like the 1931 and '33 assemblies than any since that depression period.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(F)—Things are different since "my Sec" arrived. Too different.

"My Sec" is short for "my secretary."

My Sec is short herself. She is also blonde, blue-eyed and pretty. She is also married to a Mormon and has two children. She is also one of my wife's best friends. Her name is Laurie.

It wasn't through honest merit that I joined the men of distinction who have office secretaries. It came about in this wise:

One morning I came to work and found a small, disheveled blonde fiercely burrowing into the knee-high litter of books, magazines, papers, letters and old cigar butts atop my desk. She was making strangled noises, so I pulled her out—and recognized Laurie.

When I asked if she had lost one of her children in there or something she said:
"No, silly. I'm working for you now—cleaning up this mess."
"Who hired you?"
"Your wife, Frances, did. She came in here the other day and saw this pile of junk on your desk, and she's afraid it'll topple over and kill you.
I'm to help you get rid of it."
"And where's Frances going to get the money to pay you?"
"Out of her fur coat fund," said

Laurie. Well, that stopped me. I had given Frances some money at Christmas for the family fur coat fund. This fund has been going on ever since we were married eleven years ago.
But every time it has gotten big enough to buy the left forefoot of a silver fox pelt, we have had to dip into the fund for one emergency or another.

As a matter of fact, my wife lately has fallen into the wifish habit of calling it the "Frances Boyle Memorial Fur Coat Fund"—on the theory that by the time there's enough in it to actually buy a fur coat she will be wearing wings and a long white robe (cotton).

So if Frances herself now wanted to rob her own fund to hire me a secretary for a few weeks, what could I do? Nothing.

"Okay, Laurie," I said. "I give up.
You're my Sec. What's first?"

She pulled open a crowded desk drawer. A 1937 edition of the World Almanac and a withered apple core (probably late 1946) tumbled to the floor.

"Let's get rid of all this junk,"
she said sternly. Like my mother, Laurie looks at the ceiling while she's talking to you—if she's really serious. And Laurie was looking at the ceiling.

For days and days she has been throwing away the dear, wonderful rubbish of my life with ruthless hands. Every lost handful takes something out of my heart. I stand at the water cooler and watch her.
I have to. There is no place for me to sit at my desk. My Sec. has my chair, too.

My desk is now almost as neat and clean as my employer's conscience. My favorite cockroaches have fled it as from a plague—completely dismayed.

My Sec. is a splendid Sec—competent, warm-hearted, hard-working and loyal. But all the nice letters atop my desk I intended some day to answer are now neatly filed inside my desk, where I never will be able to find and answer them. I used to know where everything was.
Now I know where nothing is. I have traded the organized chaos I knew for a confused order I can't understand. Secretaries, like money can come to the average man too late in life for him to know what to do with.

Laurie soon will depart, as she has the desk about whipped.

"Then you can turn over a clean new leaf," she said.

Bless my Sec! How can I tell her

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Nobody knows how many gavels Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives has used in his long career of desk-pounding. However, a man in Mr.
Rayburn's office who described himself only as "vice president in charge of gavels" told me he guessed if all the gavels Mr. Rayburn has used were laid end to end they'd extend from here to his home state of Texas.

He has broken a few, rapping for order, but most of them he has given away. Gavels used by the speaker when rapping for order on important occasions are almost as much in demand as pens the President uses to sign important documents. Members and others request gavels used on such occasions as when war was declared, the opening and closing of a session or when the President or a special guest visits the floor.

About 20 requests were received by the Capitol architect's office for gavels made from an elm tree recently felled on the Capitol grounds.
George Washington was supposed to have planted it. Standard gavels are turned out on lathes in the Capitol building. A machinist named Herman has been making them for the past 10 years, half a dozen or so at a time, in spare moments. These are made to replace those given away or broken. They are fashioned of maple.

When John Nance Garner was speaker he amassed hundreds of gavels. One of these was made from mesquite wood from Texas and weighed 500 pounds. It was three feet high and three feet around and had a handle seven feet long. Some were carved from the wood used in famous ships. These gavels of course are never used in the regular process of presiding.

The presiding officer of the Senate doesn't use a regular gavel.
Every vice president or president pro tem since John Adams' day has used the same piece of ivory, shaped somewhat like an hour-glass, about three inches long and a fourth inch wide at the ends.

This small block of ivory remained in perfect condition until about four years ago, when former Senator Sam Jackson (D-Ind) presiding one day, rapped with such force the ancient ivory cracked. It was repaired with a sort of halfsole of silver at either end and still is in service. It was used by vice-president Alben Barkley at the opening of the 81st Congress.

HER SECRET STAR
By Bonnie C. Hall

Chapter 13
Betty led the hysterical Mrs. Harper into the small, crowded bedroom. There was much to be done. Orders from Doctor Newton came thick and fast and Betty found herself obeying them with a speed and efficiency that would have surprised her had there been time to think. There was no time to think of herself, no time to be afraid.

Then the doctor's voice called: "Nurse! Up front, please." "Nurse! He had recognized her efforts to the extent of calling her by that respected name. Nothing like this had happened either during her hospital apprenticeship or during Aunt Minniebell's illness. She was not entitled to it now, but her heart swelled with gratitude at the thought that he had found her useful enough to bestow the courtesy title upon her.

"Take little Eddie out to the car," he said, passing the youngster over to her. "Tell the kids to look after him. Tell 'em they can forget about the polishing job. Matter of fact, I forgot about them. They've probably rubbed all the paint off by this time."

As she started to leave the room with the child, he called after her. "Hurry back, please. I'll be needing you. Little Janet's resting quietly now, but Mrs. Harper's in labor. It would happen at a time like this." There was no hint of impatience in his voice. It was clear that the last remark was not a complaint but a simple statement of fact.

An hour later the Harper household had been increased by another small son, bringing the total progeny up to six. By the time seven o'clock had rolled around four hungry children had been fed huge bowls of warm cereal and Betty had added cooking and meal service to her list of extracurricular achievements.

Shortly thereafter a very tired and harassed Doctor Newton came into the kitchen where Betty was clearing up the supper dishes. For the first time he seemed to be aware of her inauspicious role in the afternoon's proceedings.

"This is a terrible way to treat a girl," he said grimly. "Invite her out on a date—and then put her to work. Sorry, Betty. I told you I should have known better than to plan a trip to the beach. If I had the sense God gave a half-wit, I'd have dated alone."

Betty's smile was genuine. "I wish you wouldn't apologize," she said. "I'll admit it hasn't been much of a picnic, but I haven't minded it. I'm glad I could help, and I know you didn't plan it this way."

He sat down in a kitchen chair and his whole body seemed to slump. It occurred to Betty that he was more than tired. There were worry lines in his forehead and the expression in his kindly gray eyes suggested defeat. Betty was instantly contrite.

"There's nothing wrong, is there?" she asked unthinkingly. "But of course not. You're just tired, that's all. I thought Mrs. Harper looked pretty good, considering. The baby's sort of cute. They'll probably name it for you. Want to bet?"

When he didn't answer she laughed a little shakily and started to add, "I've an idea it's the only payment you'll get," just to show there were no hard feelings on her part, but the expression on his face was not one to encourage levity.

"Oh, yes," he said, "they're all right. The baby is as ugly as sin, but a sturdy little rascal if ever there was one. Mrs. Harper's doing fine." There was a brief pause; then he added:

"It's the little girl, Janet. I'm worried about." His face clouded with something more than professional anxiety. "It's too early to tell, of course, but it looks like a rheumatic heart condition. Rheumatic fever they call it. There's little one can do for it, especially under the circumstances. It's a long hard pull, even under the best of conditions. Harper's got no money for specialized treatments and he won't accept charity. Strange combination of selfishness and stubborn pride—Harper."

As a comparatively young doctor and a newcomer, he would be open to misunderstanding—perhaps criticism—in the plain and fairly print bags in which there was still so much difference of opinion.

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING THE PARKING OF MOTOR VEHICLES AND/OR OTHER VEHICLES OF ANY KIND ON THAT SECTION OF REID STREET BETWEEN FOURTH STREET AND FIFTH STREET.

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville do ordain:

Section 1. That it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person to park any automobile, bus, truck, motorcycle, or any vehicle drawn by any beast of burden, on any portion of that section of Reid Street between Fourth Street and Fifth Street in the City of Greenville; provided, however, that any such vehicles may park to the right and next to the curb of said street temporarily and for a period of time not exceeding one minute which such vehicle is occupied by its driver for the purpose of receiving or discharging passengers or property.

Section 2. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction by the court shall be fined $1.00 for each offense.

Section 3. All ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after 12 o'clock, noon, on the 6th day of January 1949.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE PARKING OF MOTOR VEHICLES AND OTHER VEHICLES ON THAT SECTION OF WASHINGTON STREET BETWEEN NINTH STREET AND TENTH STREET IN THE CITY OF GREENVILLE.

Whereas, during the tobacco marketing season each year the parking of motor vehicles and other vehicles on both sides of Washington Street between Ninth Street and Tenth Street causes much congestion of traffic which does not otherwise occur during the season when tobacco is not being sold in Greenville; and

Whereas, it is the desire of the Board of Aldermen to relieve the traffic problem on said street during the tobacco marketing season by prohibiting the parking of vehicles of all kinds on the East side of said Street during the tobacco marketing season each year; now, therefore, the Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville do ordain:

Section 1. That motor vehicles and/or other vehicles may lawfully park to the right and within the parking lines painted on the street and next to the curb on both sides of that section of Washington Street between Ninth Street and Tenth Street between 6 o'clock a.m. and 10 o'clock p.m. at all times of the year except from August 15th to December 1st, provided, however, that no vehicle shall be parked so as to obstruct free passage to the private driveways entering said street.

Section 2. That it shall be unlawful for any person to park any automobile, bus, truck, tractor, motorcycle, and/or other vehicle of any kind on the eastern half of said street, namely, Washington Street between Ninth Street and Tenth Street, at any time from 12 o'clock noon on August 15th to 12 o'clock noon on December 1st of any year; provided, however, that vehicles may park to the right on the East side of said street and next to the curb thereof during said period of time for the purpose of receiving or discharging passengers or property for a period not exceeding one minute's time in duration.

Section 3. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction by the court shall be fined $1.00 for each offense.

Section 4. All ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after 12 o'clock, noon, on the 6th day of January 1949.

Adopted this 6th day of January, 1949.

PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION
State of North Carolina
Department of State
To All to Whom These Presents May Come: Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Chowan Housing, Inc., a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the City of Eden, County of Chowan, State of North Carolina (R. W. G. Smith being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 55, General Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 18th day of January, 1949, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 18th day of January, A. D. 1949.

Phantoms Split Doubleheader Against Kinston Cagers

Varsity Downed But Jayvees Win In Final Minutes

The Phantoms of Greenville high school divided two games with the Kinston Red Devils in Kinston last night, with the Jayvees winning by a thrilling score of 22-20, and the varsity losing to Kinston for the second time this season 30-23.

It was the seventh straight win for the local Jayvee squad, and it was the second conference set-back of the season for the varsity which now has a record of three wins and two losses in Northeastern conference play.

The Jayvees battled tooth and nail all the way in the opening game of the evening, with the locals edging out victorious in the closing minutes of play.

In the varsity game, Kinston took an early lead, and kept the ball well in hand allowing the Phantoms a minimum number of tallies. The Phantoms never seemed to get started the offensive progress they exhibited against Tarboro and Roanoke Rapids teams, and at half-time they trailed the Devils 11 to 24.

After intermission the Kinston boys came back to add 26 more points to their total which the Greensies racked up an even dozen.

Doug Bruton paced the conference-leading Kinston team to its fifth victory with 17 points to his credit, followed by Center Bob Hodges with 14 points.

High scorer for Greenville were Jimmy Cox with seven points and John Farley with six points.

Wolfpack And Tar Heels Meet In Top Southern Circuit Game

State Hopes Two-Year Jinx Holds Up In Tonight's Feature; High-Scoring Forwards Matched In Raleigh

By the Associated Press
North Carolina State's "Hoosier Hotshots" hope that a two-year-old jinx holds up again tonight at Raleigh.

The Wolfpack, leading the Southern Conference basketball standings with four victories and no defeats, battles North Carolina's Tar Heels. Not since State Coach Everett Case moved to Raleigh in 1946 have the Tar Heels managed to beat the "Hoosiers."

Coach Tom Scott and his Tar Heels figure tonight would be a pretty nifty time since North Carolina holds down the No. 2 position behind State in the standings and could move into the driver's seat with a victory.

The conference records of the two teams look like this:

Player	W	L	Pct.
Hodges	7	0	4 1/4
Williams	4	0	2 2/3
Collins	4	1	1 1/3
Aldridge	1	0	0 2/3

Foreigners Spur Indoor Mile Run

Philadelphia, Jan. 22 — (AP)—Something new went into the mile today—competition.

And it took a pair of foreigners to put new life into the run for the American indoor mile championship.

Ingvar Bengtsson, a stocky 25-year-old Swedish fireman, churned to victory in the 12-lap mile at the fifth annual Philadelphia Inquirer games last night, but he could beat Holland's Willy Slykhuys by only a scant yard.

There is general agreement that the two can beat anything the United States has to offer and that they'll wage their duel along the indoor circuit all winter.

Although he beat Slykhuys, the Swedish 800-meter champion admitted that he's "scared to death" of his future meeting with the Dutchman.

"Slykhuys has a dangerous finish and I fully expected to lose to him," Bengtsson said after finishing in the relatively slow time of 4:21.4.

"He hasn't been here long, and I'm afraid he'll be a lot better later," Bengtsson added.

Slykhuys admitted he was disappointed he couldn't beat the Swede but figured he can match him in the later meets.

"I couldn't run on the banked turns," Willy said. "Everytime I tried to sprint on the turns I kicked myself in the calves. They were black and blue when the race was over."

Hogan Tries Out New Golf Style

Long Beach, Calif., Jan. 22—(AP)—Ben Hogan—with a new putting style—is ready to move into top contention today in the inaugural $10,000 Long Beach open golf tournament.

Heading into the second round of the event at Lakewood Country Club, four crack challengers are tied for the lead with sub par first round scores of 67, and Hogan is just one stroke behind.

Leading the parade of par busters are Jimmy Demaret, Skip Alexander, Jim Ferrier and Chick Harbert, all with four under par 67's.

Hogan, at 68, is tied with others in this bracket, and out of the surviving field of 141 players, 35 broke regulation figures in the initial 18 holes.

Most people think Hogan's game, including his putting, could hardly be improved on. But not Ben. He's "experimenting" with a revised stance, a different stroke at the ball.

Now most of his weight is on his left leg, instead of evenly divided between the two, and he's gripping the club more on top and hitting his putts with less of a rake movement.

Hogan says it will take three months to perfect the change. But it seemed to work yesterday.

Pitt Basketball Standings Show Change In Week

The Pitt County basketball standings has taken quite a shifting during the past week in both the girls and the boys leagues. The Bethel and Ayden boys are holding on to their unbeaten records and the lead in the county with 8-0, 6-0 records, respectively. Farmville with a 4-2 count has moved into second place, displacing Grimesland who moved down into a three way tie for fourth position. Winterville held on to third place with a win over the Arthur boys during the week.

The lassies from Grifton still lead their group by a close margin. The Ayden girls being in second place having lost only one game, but with one less win than Grifton. The Arthur girls took over third spot this week by defeating the Winterville sextette.

Tuesday night, Jan. 25th, Grifton high plays Farmville at Grifton and Ayden plays host to the Arthur teams.

Boys' Teams	W	L
Bethel	8	0

Will Risk Title Once In June

Miami, Fla., Jan. 22—(AP)—If Joe Louis has his way, only one of two contenders—Ezzard Charles or Lee Savold—will get a crack at his title this June in New York.

Louis said in an interview he would risk his crown to the winner of a Savold-Charles match, but if that failed to come off he planned to take an exhibition tour through Canada.

In Florida for six non-title bouts, Louis said he would "really retire" after the June fight.

Bethel High Will Join Campaign For Polio Funds

Bethel, Jan. 22.—Bethel high school has joined in the Pitt County March of Dimes drive, and next week will sponsor a doubleheader basketball game on Wednesday night and a dance on Thursday night, the proceeds of which will go to the county polio fund.

On Wednesday night the Bethel championship team will meet the Tarboro high school teams in a doubleheader with the junior varsities opening the program at 7 o'clock, and the varsity game at 8 o'clock.

On Thursday night the high school is sponsoring a dance in the gym from 9 till 1 featuring Rodney Roberts and his Music Masters, an orchestra from East Carolina Teachers College.

Bell Arthur Vets Edge Southwood By 57-53 Score

The Bell Arthur veterans ran into a fighting Southwood team Thursday night in Southwood, but finally came out on top with a 57-53 victory.

The game was close all the way, with Southwood holding a slim lead most of the time. Score at the half gave the home team a 19-18 advantage.

Kovach, with 16 points led the scoring for Arthur; Williams, with 17 was tops for Southwood.

The scoring—for Arthur: C. Nichols, 9; Warren 15; Allen, 15; Erwin, 2; Kovach, 16; K. Nichols, 4.

For Southwood: Allen, 8; Jones 11; C. Kellum, 11; Williams, 17; Taylor 4; W. Kellum, 4.

All five starters on Villanova's basketball team are juniors. There are four more juniors and three sophomores on the 12-man squad.

Shutout Feat

Rocky Mount, N. C., Jan. 22—(AP)—Ever hear of a team being shut out in a basketball game? Well it happened here last night when the Booker T. Washington high school girls team defeated Hillside high, Durham Negro high school outfit, 29-0.

Local cage and athletic officials hadn't yet found a case in which the shutout feat had been duplicated.

Freshmen Likely To See Action At ACC

Porter Expected To Call On Frosh To Bolster Injury-Weakened Pirate Line-Up In Tonight's Game

By BILL LLOYD
The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates journey to the Atlantic Christian Bulldogs campus tonight at eight o'clock to encounter the surprising Wilson quint in a cage tilt that puts the coveted Bo-Hunk trophy at stake. The cherished wooden bucket 's in the hands of the AAC lads as a result of their 6-0 victory over the Bucs in football this past year.

The injury-riddled Teachers will be far from top form as Coach Howard Porter's two high scoring forwards will be sidelined for the cage classic.

Charlie Bill Moyer, the Greenville lad who scores from all points of the court, will not even dress for a contest between the 1949 AAC champion and an All-Star group selected from the six other teams may replace the East-West title playoff at the end of the season.

George Hails of the Chicago Bears, an NFL ringleader, declared that "the AAC will have little chance of success with seven teams."

The Chicago Rockets—who, along with the Dodgers and Yankees were ready earlier to withdraw in the interest of peace—will continue.

Pro Grid Loops To Continue War

Chicago, Jan. 22—(AP)—The National Football League and All America Conference are still at grips, ready to continue their war through 1949 at an estimated cost as high as $2,000,000.

The AAC, ending its meeting today, will operate next season with seven clubs. The Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees merged. The home field will be Yankee Stadium.

At the same time, two NFL clubs will be operating in New York at the Polo Grounds. The Giants will share dates there with the Boston Yanks who were granted a franchise in New York as the NFL ended its winter convalescence yesterday.

The eastern-western championship playoff in the ACC, possible under an even eight club alignment was abandoned. The seven club setup made it necessary also to reduce the schedule from 14 to 12 games for each entry with one club being idle every fourth Sunday.

the tilt as a result of a dislocated toe suffered in last week's Mon game. Tovering Jack Everton, the Buccaneer high scorer for the season, will dress for the game but will see only limited action, if any, because of a badly sprained ankle.

As a result of his two major losses, Coach Porter will undoubtedly call upon his crop of freshmen who have been used considerably this season. There will most likely be three freshmen on the starting five as the Pirates take the court tonight. "Toddy" Pennell, last year's Class AA high school all-stater, will start at center. Eddie Tanner, the freshman who replaced Moyer, will start at forward, and Louis Collie Pennell's teammate at Wilmington last year, will probably start at Everton's position to round out the trio of freshmen who break into starting roles tonight. Veteran guards Len Bauer and Frank Maennle will retain their positions to give Coach Porter his starting five.

This North State conference game between the Pirates and Bulldogs will figure considerably in the conference standings of both teams as ACC boast a record of two wins and two losses, with East Carolina winning two and losing four to the conference upper crust teams.
