Russia And Five Satellites Form Mutual Aid Plan

New Group Is Soviet Answer To Marshall Plan; Door Open To Others

Moscow, Jan. 25—(AP)—Russia and five other eastern European nations have organized a "council of economic mutual assistance"—obviously as an answer to the Marshall plan. A communique issued today announcing the plan said the United States and Britain are boycotting the six nations economically because they do not belong to the Marshall plan.

In consideration of "these circumstances," representatives of the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia met in Moscow this month. They "discussed the question of organization of broader economic cooperation of the countries of the peoples democracies and the U. S. S. R."

The council appears to be an attempt to an eastern counterpart of the organization for European economic cooperation of the Marshall plan nations. This interpretation was strengthened by a Tass dispatch received in London which said in addition to stimulating trade, the council's job will be to give technical help and economic experience and give one another a hand "in regard to raw materials, foodstuffs, machinery and equipment."

The council left the door open for other nations to join. "The conference recognized," the announcement said, "that the council of economic mutual assistance is an open organization which other countries of Europe may enter—countries which share the principles of the council of economic mutual assistance and which wish to participate in broad economic cooperation with the above mentioned nations."

Finland, which did not participate in the Marshall plan, obviously can apply for membership in the new group. The announcement did not say that nations not members of the Marshall plan would be barred from membership in the council.

However, it was obvious that any countries seeking to join the council first would be obliged to renounce Marshall aid and embrace the principles of the council nations.

Rumania and Albania were not among the countries whose representatives met in Moscow to set up the council.

The six countries in the council already have extensive trade relations among themselves and during recent weeks have signed many agreements to step up their trade even further.

Education Board Loses Fight On Insurance Rates

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 25—(AP)—The State Board of Education has lost an effort to get lower fire insurance rates on public school buildings. State Commissioner of Insurance William P. Hodges yesterday issued a decision reaffirming his action of last June 1 in which he granted a 25 per cent increase in such rates.

Members of the Board of Education appeared before Hodges and the State Insurance Advisory Board to ask that the action be reconsidered.

The education board presented figures compiled from a survey of 172 school administrative units showing that in a 10-year period ending last year, schools paid insurance companies $4,602,230.21 in premiums and that the companies in that period paid $2,857,990.66 in fire losses.

New Rent Control Bill

Highlights Of Legislation To Keep Rent Control Two More Years; Some Kind Of Law Certain; The Bill As It Stands Now; A Tougher Attitude; Features

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Here's an AEC on the highlights of the bill to keep rent controls two years more.

Some of President Truman's Democratic leaders in Congress introduced it in both houses yesterday. Rent control dies March 31, 1949, unless Congress passes a new law. This bill, if it becomes law, will extend controls to March 31, 1951.

It seems certain Congress will pass some kind of law to keep rents down. If it acts on this bill, it may make changes in it before voting it into law.

So this story explains the bill as it stands now. In general, it would continue control as now, under a top man, called a housing expediter, and local advisory boards. But it would toughen the present law and give the government more controls.

This bill would let the expediter charge a willful violator with a criminal offense. The penalty is found guilty in court: up to one year in jail, or a $5,000 fine, or both.

(Under present law, there's no criminal penalty for anything. A tenant can sue a landlord, who overcharges him, for triple damages. Or, the expediter can ask a judge for an order telling the landlord

Two Defendants Get Long Terms

A. B. Mitchell And Cleveland Barnes Sentenced To Prison

By CHESTER WALSH
In Superior Court yesterday, Anderson B. Mitchell, 36-year-old Negro farm worker, charged with trespassing and arson in connection with the burning of a barn on the J. S. Moye farm on the Stantonsburg road near Greenville last November 1, pleaded guilty.

Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington, presiding over the one-week criminal term, sentenced Mitchell to serve from 18 to 20 years at hard labor in State Prison.

Testimony was that Mitchell lived with his father on the farm; that he had some trouble and left; that later he went back and set fire to a

Need 545 Seats

E. K. Rawl, chairman of the ECTC stadium fund committee, said today $45,000 is needed to complete the amount needed to build the stadium. Cost of the stadium seats are $10 each, and Rawl asked all persons who would buy one or more seats for the ECTC stadium to mail their donations to the ECTC Educational Foundation care of the Guaranty Bank or the Daily Reflector.

State Of Israel Holds First Elections Today

Tel Aviv, Israel, Jan. 25—(AP)—Citizens of Israel voted today in the Jewish state's first election. It was a war-time election, with about 40,000 Arabs expected to participate. The returns were not expected to be announced before Friday because it will take that long to hear from all the outposts and to stop overcharging.) The bill would put back under control all hotel accommodations, except those for transients only. Under this bill a landlord would have to get permission of the expediter before he could put a tenant out of his house or apartment.

(The present law allows a landlord to evict a tenant for six or so reasons laid down in the law, without the expediter's permission.) The bill would continue for two years or more the housing preference given war veterans under the present law. This means:

1. You couldn't sell a single house which you built or converted after June 30, 1947—unless you did it for your own use—without letting a veteran have first chance to buy it.

2. You couldn't sell it for less than the price offered the veteran.

3. The same goes for any house or apartment or room that is offered for rent and has been built or converted after June 30, 1947.

What about a place where a tenant voluntarily signed a lease agreeing to let the landlord raise his rent 15 per cent in the past year or so? Such a place isn't under control

Studies Under Way In Eight Countries May Be Used In President's Proposed Developing World's Backward Areas

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Administration officials said today that economic surveys already underway in eight foreign countries will fit into the "Truman plan" for developing the world's backward areas.

The results of these studies, they said, will help determine what kind of outside assistance, if any, these countries need.

The global assistance plan means Congress perhaps will be asked for $1,000,000,000 to finance it, the officials said.

The detailed surveys in the eight countries were arranged before President Truman, last Thursday, proclaimed his "bold, new program" to better living conditions in underdeveloped countries.

Officials told a reporter the conclusion reached in these surveys would form part of the administration's plan of action.

If the investigators report conditions are favorable, American technical and scientific knowledge, backed up by money from private, government and world bank sources, may be forthcoming to put specific projects into operation.

Prospects in Turkey, Peru, India and Colombia are being looked into at present by separate world bank missions on the scene.

truce lines where Israel's soldiers are voting. The 400,000 Israelis expected to vote were choosing 120 members of a constituent assembly which will draft the state's constitution, set up a government replacing the present provisional regime, chart a course of peace or war and in general lay what is intended to be the permanent foundation of the new Jewish state.

A huge piece of the foundation fell into place when France announced recognition of the state, and the British government decided to do so in a few days. Australia, New Zealand, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg were expected to follow. France was the 23rd nation to recognize the state.

Armistice negotiations with the Egyptians at Rhodes dragged, however, and prevented a sure foundation of peace being laid. Dispatches from Rhodes said the talks were in temporary lapse until Thursday, while both sides consulted their governments on the territorial stalemate over the Negev desert.

Bill To Repeal Labor Law Faces Stormy Session

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—A bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor law sped today toward stormy Senate action, with aroused Republicans threatening to rewrite the whole measure on the floor.

Eight Democrats on the Senate labor committee teamed up against the five committee Republicans yesterday to set a February 10 deadline for winding up hearings on the bill. The Democrats apparently intend to replace Taft-Hartley with an "improved" Wagner act all in one step, with hearings starting Friday.

"If we are not heard in the committee," he declared, "we'll be heard on the Senate floor."

Prosecution and defense attorneys outlined their cases in opening statements to a jury in U. S. District court.

Agree On Steps To Speed Action On Legislation

Senate And House Leaders Map Plans For Rent Control And Housing Bills

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Senate and House leaders agreed today on a plan they said should speed action on new housing and rent control laws.

The informal agreement was reached by Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking Committee and Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee.

It provides: 1. The House group will go ahead with study and action on a bill to extend and tighten rent controls.

2. The Senate committee, meantime, will work on general housing legislation, but will stand ready to consider new rent controls as soon as the House acts.

Maybank named Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) as chairman of a subcommittee to hold public hearings on the housing program which will include low rental public housing and slum clearance.

Sparkman told reporters he hopes to begin hearings Wednesday, February 2.

Spence indicated he will start rent control hearings next week. The aim is to get a new law on the books well before March 31 when the present law expires.

Sparkman said he personally leans toward a 15-month extension, but he added that he is willing to listen to arguments for the two years provided in the Administration bill.

That measure would bring under control several types of housing not now covered, and would permit the housing expediter to slap controls back on areas decontrolled by the present law.

Lindsay Warren Calls For Change

Bills Warren Backs Truman In Reorganizing 'Hodge Podge' Gov't

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—The man who has the job of keeping tabs on federal spending called today for "the greatest pruning job in all history" to trim the size of the government.

To help do the job, Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren urged Congress to grant President Truman's request for permanent authority to reorganize executive agencies and departments at such times and ways it sees fit. Warren made his plea to the House committee on executive expenditures which is holding hearings on Mr. Truman's proposal.

Warren called the existing set-up "a hodge podge and crazy quilt of duplications, overlapping, inefficiencies and inconsistencies with their attendant extravagance."

"It is probably an ideal system for the tax eaters and those who wish to keep themselves perpetually attached to the public tab, but it is bad for those who have to pay the bill."

"That is why I say the government should put its house in order," Warren is an expert on reorganization plans. As a former member of the house, he helped prepare the 1932 reorganization legislation and wrote the reorganization act of 1939.

As comptroller General he now heads the general accounting office, which is exempt from the new reorganization bill because it is a part of the legislative branch. Nonetheless, Warren "invited" any reorganization studies of the office.

'Hay Lift' Successes Hailed By Stockmen

Work Of Air Force In Feeding Snowbound Livestock Called Salvation Of Eastern Nevada's Livestock Industry

Ely, Nev., Jan. 25—(AP)—The U. S. Air Force stepped up the "hay lift" today for 180,000 snow-bound Nevada livestock—a move already hailed as "a plumb good deal" by stockmen.

With pinpoint precision, the first of the huge Flying Boxcars dumped their cargoes of alfalfa hay to 10,000 sheep on three ranches in a 200-mile radius yesterday. The results were so successful that stockmen spokesmen—skeptical at first—said all efforts would be made to direct drops from the air wherever possible.

Seventeen huge C-52 planes from McChord Field, Seattle, were available for the hay lift from Fallon in western Nevada, to Ely, 300 miles to the east. Takeoffs were scheduled at daybreak from Fallon. All possible efforts were made to speed the loading of the planes to keep them all in full operation. Stockmen have predicted that probably half of 45,000 cattle in a tri-county area, snowbound for two weeks, face starvation. The losses among 135,000 head of sheep are expected to run even higher if the feeding operation is not a speedy success.

"The hay lift so far is a 100 per cent success," George Swallow, United Stockmen's Association president, commented after yesterday's initial operations.

And Albert Fallon, district grazer, added: "It's a plumb good deal."

Lloyd Sorenson, owner of one ranch where aerial drops were made, asserted: "This is the only way we could have gotten feed to the stock. These flights are going to prove the salvation of eastern Nevada's livestock industry."

"We saved thousands of sheep today, (Monday) and a considerable number of cattle."

The stockmen were dubious at first that the bales of hay could be dropped close enough to isolated sheep camps to do any good. They became more optimistic after three pilots and their crews dumped the feed within 300-foot circles.

The hay was flown only to hopelessly inaccessible areas.

Stricken States Ask More Funds

Blizzard-Swept West Seeks $500,000 For Emergency

By The Associated Press
More emergency funds for the storm stricken western states were sought in Congress today as airplanes flew over the snow-covered rangelands dropping hay to thousands of starving cattle and sheep.

The first cash aid for the blizzard swept areas came yesterday from President Truman who made available $100,000 for immediate aid to snowbound Indians and livestock.

The funds are for relief in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Utah and Nevada—the areas which have been hit by severe snow storms and cold weather for the last several weeks.

About a million sheep and tens of thousands of cattle are stranded in the desolate areas of the western ranges.

But western congressmen want more funds—at least $500,000 to help bring relief to the storm area. One half of the $100,000 will go to the bureau of Indian affairs, to be spent primarily in the Dakotas and Nebraska. The other $50,000 is allotted to the bureau of land management of the interior department, to be used mostly in western and southern Utah and eastern Nevada.

Resolutions were placed in the Senate and House seeking $500,000 emergency allocation for the storm emergency area which the bureau of land management estimated covered more than 20,000 square miles. The area includes 25 communities and 38 mining operations cut off by the deep snows.

Members Of Assembly Attend Blythe Funeral

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 25—(AP)—Approximately 75 members of the General Assembly left for Charlotte today to attend funeral services for State Senator Joseph L. Blythe.

The services were to be held this afternoon. The legislators boarded two special buses for the trip after the Senate and House held brief sessions at which no business was handled. The Senate went in a body, and the House was represented by a committee of 23 members.

Also going to Charlotte for the funeral services were Governor Scott and many high state officials.

Blythe, who was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, died in a Washington hotel Sunday. He was in Washington attending the inauguration of President Truman.

At brief legislative sessions last night, both House and Senate adopted resolutions expressing "sorrow and grief" at the death of Senator Blythe. The House adjourned its session last night and the Senate its session this morning in his honor.

Call Axis Sally A Traitor, And 'Loyal American'

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—"Axis Sally" was described today as a traitor to her country, and as a loyal American.

Prosecution and defense attorneys outlined their cases in opening statements to a jury in U. S. District court.

China's Government Heads Southward Out Of Nanking

Nanking, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Chinese government headed southward today a few minutes after the Communists offered by radio to meet National peace envoys in Peiping.

A Foreign Office spokesman told of the southward move without giving the government's destination, which, presumably was Canton. Some ministries already have left for Canton.

The government and Communist announcements both came as Red patrols arrived on the north banks of the Yangtze River not far from the capital.

Removal of the seat of the government was expected to be completed by the middle of next month, an official spokesman said.

The peace offer was broadcast as the capital's populace poured out of the Red periled city, which was raped in 1937 by the Japanese.

The formal Foreign Office statement said: "With reference to the transfer of the seat of the government southward, in accordance with the decision of the government, has this evening, Jan. 25, sent identical notes to foreign embassies and legations in Nanking."

The Red radio broadcast its offer to meet the peace envoys of the government as Communist patrols reached the opposite bank of the Yangtze River.

A radio spokesman for the Communists said the talks could be held in Peiping as soon as that ancient North China city, taken Saturday by the Reds, "is completely liberated."

He said Acting President Li Tsung-shan's peace mission delegation was negotiating with the Communists except for Chairman Peng Shao-hoien. Peng was identified by the Red broadcast as a member of the strong rightist clique of the Kuomintang (Government) party.

The Red spokesman listed "certain conditions" to which the government must agree for the peace talks to be held. Among them were the eight points laid down by Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung on Jan. 14. Li already has said he would accept them—and they mean virtually total surrender.

The radio spokesman said the Communist "war criminals" list, announced after Chiang Kai-shek's year end statement, could not be considered complete. Chiang, now in at least temporary retirement, heads that list. It also includes Li and many other National leaders.

Harder Road For Reds

Peace Offensive by Moscow Motivated By Seeking Easement In One Or More Situations In Which They Are Involved; Evidence Of Hardening Opinion In U. S.

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Moscow's continuance of its mysterious "peace offensive," which this column has been describing as a Trojan horse, certainly challenges observers to figure out what it's all about.

There have been several Bolshevik calls for "peace" the past few days. Palmiro Togliatti, Italian communist leader, and Marcel Cachin, French Red chief, again have begged "the peoples of the world to have imperiled peace." Even more striking was the declaration by P. N. Pospelov, editor of the Moscow newspaper Pravda, that Russia has an "unshakable" will for international cooperation.

Since peace is wholly contrary to Bolshevik strategy for world revolution we know the Soviet Union doesn't want peace. What, then, is Moscow up to?

Obviously the Reds want easement of some situation which has been made too tough for them by the democracies. Likely several situations are involved, but it's safe bet that steady hardening of American opinion against communism is one of the big factors behind the "peace offensive."

After all, the U.S.A. is the world's dominant power and its attitude is communism's greatest concern. Not

THE DAILY REFLECTOR January 25, 1909

The King's Daughters have undertaken the commendable move of securing a rest room in Greenville, a room set apart for the convenience of the women of the neighboring country who come here to spend the day shopping or on pleasure. The Reflector long ago argued the needs for such a room but jealousy among certain business men over the suggested location of such a rest room, because it was nearer some stores than others, killed the movement for the time being. Now that The King's Daughters have revived the matter and are moving to make it a success, we hope every business man will come to their aid.

All members bought tickets to the literary lecture sponsored by the March of Dimes which was to be given by Richard Waiser at ECTO that evening.

Members and guests then entered into a lively discussion on the racial issue. This discussion was led by Mrs. Tom Webb and Mrs. Dan Wright. Books were exchanged and the meeting was adjourned.

Lector Club Meets With Mrs. Winslow

Mrs. Hugh R. Winslow delightfully entertained members of the Lector Book Club on Tuesday afternoon, January 18. Upon entering the living room, attractive with greenery and flowers, the members were presented to the guests of the afternoon, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Winslow and Mrs. Norman Winslow.

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Burney Warren Jr. presided over a short business session. Brightly colored Christmas cards were collected to put in scrapbook for children in hospitals. The club voted to donate books and magazines to be sent to German schoolchildren.

After the routine business, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. E. S. Flanagan, program leader for the afternoon. Mrs. Flanagan gave a very interesting and informative talk on "The Pros and Cons of Socialized Medicine." Discussion followed the timely news on this subject.

The guests and members were served a delicious salad course and coffee, after which Mrs. Warren declared the meeting adjourned.

Women In The Church
By MARY FOWLER
Miss Amber Van, of Sioux Falls, S. D. is one of the American missionaries to North China who are going to stay there "as long as humanly possible," and even after communist occupation, if that takes place. "Until such time as the new regime is actually here there are tremendous opportunities and needs made all the more acute because some had to leave," she says. "When they come we do not know what we can do... we believe we have a witness to make. We do not know what the future holds, but we move on confidently. People from other areas tell us there are four things that people planning to carry on work in communist areas find necessary: (1) extreme simplicity of living in food, clothing, etc.; (2) you must earn your own living; (3) seven to eight persons out of ten must testify that you are a good person, or you are wiped out; (4) you must have such depth of faith that you can stand under persecution and still grow in your Christian life and exhibit it in daily life. They also have stressed the fact that millions will never know any philosophy of life but communism except as Christians give their testimony of a way of life beyond it."

Methodist women, numbering 1,500,000 in some 30,000 societies across the United States, are urged to press Congress and county and state governments for legislation to check the Ku Klux Klan, and also action to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities, in a communication sent to 500 women church leaders by Miss Rhelma Stevens, secretary of the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church. The women executives in 100 conference societies are urged to have hundreds of thousands of women, as well as local societies, visit or write their congressmen, their state legislators, and other government officers on these questions. Specially Miss Stevens and her Department ask legislation "prohibiting the appearance on public highways, grounds or buildings, of persons from organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan, using disguises to conceal their identity; and against the desecration of the cross as it is being used by the Klan to intimidate and spread terror." They recommend, too, "the outright abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities" for the publishing of falsehoods about individuals who have never been investigated or had opportunity to refute allegations.

Rotarians Hold Meeting Monday

By WYATT BROWN

Major W. H. Stanley, head of the local branch of the Salvation Army entertained the Rotarians last night with a half hour of magician's tricks. He got many laughs especially when he got Bancroft Moseley to assist—the mystery of the disappearing egg which when broken by Major Stanley worked exactly as Newton's law said it would.

Prior to the entertainment Alton Johnson gave a few highlights on the life of J. B. Kittrell, the "youngest of the elder" Rotarians. Johnson brought out that J.B. was always to be found at the center of activity whatever it was he was engaged in. Mr. Kittrell has long been an active community leader and active in Sunday School and church.

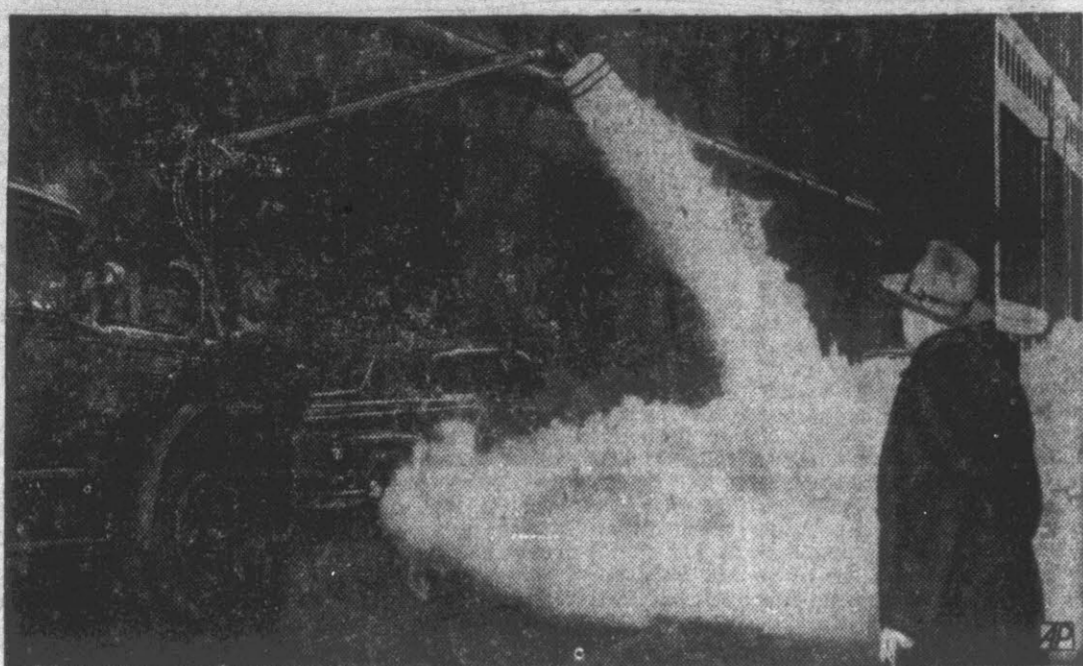

It seems J.B. came from Winterville where he went to the local high school. For his first year and a half in Greenville he worked in the mercantile business of J. B. Higgs and then went into the brokerage business for himself in which he has continued so successfully until now.

The idea of a need for a men's fellowship club occurred to four men one day from Greenville — "J.B." was one of the four and was instrumental in getting a Rotary Club started in Greenville. He has the unique distinction of having twice been president of the Greenville Rotary Club.

Being sergeant-at-arms requires finesse of the highest order. Lawrence Stroud possesses the qualifications to the 10th degree. In view of his contemplating being away from town for a little while, Rotary President Ernest Willard gave him the privilege of exercising his skill in choosing a temporary substitute without hesitation Lawrence put the finger on Hayward Dall.

Haywood arose and said he accepted only because the privilege of eliciting quarters from tardy members seemed to have paid off right well for Lawrence who was leaving the position open due to treading to Florida. In view of the rare pickings obviously available to the holder of the job, he, Hayward, would take over since he would like to see the races one day this summer.

Guests of the club were Herbert Waldrop, Jr., and Frank M. Wooten Jr. Visiting Rotarians were Leo Grutch of Graham, Walter Jonez of Farmville and two from the Ayden club: Robbie Dall and Bill Donaldson. Sherman Parks put on the program for the Entertainment Committee. Ernest Willard, club president, presided.

FLAME SMOTHERER — Chicago firemen demonstrate a new apparatus, patterned after equipment developed by the services during the war. Chemicals from the "boom nozzle" smother flames and prevent them from spreading. The truck carries 4,500 pounds of carbon dioxide.

Probe Firing Of Three Educators

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—The firing of three University of Washington professors for alleged Communist activity will be investigated by two education groups.

The National Association of Education said last night Dr. Ralph McDonald, secretary of its higher education department, will look into the matter during a trip to the west coast within the next two weeks.

A broader probe was planned by the American Association of University Professors, which was asked to enter the case by one of the discharged teachers.

The University, located in Seattle, announced on Saturday that it had dismissed Herbert J. Phillips, Joseph Butterworth and Ralph Gundlach. Dr. Ralph Himstead, general secretary of the Association of professors, said its investigation of the dismissals probably will last several months.

He said the group has no legal power, but indicated that schools usually attempt to comply with its rulings to avoid remaining on its censured list.

Order Transfer For N. C. Trial

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 25—(AP)—Two Norfolk men charged with a $31,000 bank burglary at Aulander, N.C. have been transferred to the U.S. Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina.

Mrs. Zilpha Bland Succumbs In Tarboro

Tarboro. — Mrs. Zilpha Eagles Bland, 44, of Crisp, died at her home Monday at 2:30 p. m. after a long illness. ## Breath Of Life

Kansas City, Jan. 25—(AP)—Robert E. Jackson breathed for his dog—and helped save the animal's life.

The dog, named Boy, was struck by an automobile yesterday. The animal suffered a six-inch chest laceration and five broken ribs. A lung was exposed.

Jackson, 28, took the dog to Dr. Deets Pickett, a veterinarian. While the veterinarian joined the ribs with silver wire and closed the wound, Jackson forced ed air into Boy's lung through a tube.

He stuck with the job on the makeshift for four hours until the surgery was completed.

Boy is just a mongrel, sort of half collie and half Great Dane, but Jackson feels he is well worth the effort.

The animal is a pet of his nine year old son.

Boy is also being given penicillin to combat infection.

Jackson, a Negro, is a packing plant employe.

Trio Die As Car Rolls Into Creek

Bluffton, S.C., Jan. 25—(AP)—Three young people drowned last night when their car ran off Buckingham Dock here into a small creek.

Coroner Roger Pinckney listed the dead as: Gene Taylor of Ridgeland, Billy Lee Smith, 21, of Ridgeland, and Jeanette Davis, 18, of Pritchardsville.

A couple in the rear seat—DeVant Malphus, 18, of Ridgeland, and Ellen Crosby, of Bluffton—escaped through a window. They were not injured.

Malphus said someone in the front seat yelled "Whoa, stop" as the car rolled toward the end of the pier. He said he believed the brakes failed. Smith, he said, was driver of the car. The automobile submerged about 20 feet from the end of the pier.

Malphus said the vehicle settled in water and mud and that he made several unsuccessful efforts to open the doors. The mud, he said, prevented the doors from being open.

Strength FOR THE DAY

INHERITANCE DESPISED
We usually have scant appreciation for anything that has been given us especially anything we have inherited.

It is interesting as well as discouraging to note this disposition with reference to the liberty we have inherited from our courageous forebears and the use we make of it. They had to achieve this liberty at the cost of sacrifice and persecution. They knew that they could retain their liberty only by subjecting themselves to a continuous self-discipline.

But we have inherited that liberty. We got it without any effort on our part. We appreciate liberty, but most of us do not see the relation between liberty and discipline. The world today appears to have gone insane over the idea of liberty. We must be free to do anything we want to do, to be as bad as we want to be; all of which we defend in the name of liberty. But if we had won this liberty for ourselves, we would see that liberty can only be achieved through sacrifice and retained through discipline.

We are swallowing a terrible dose of liberalism today because the modern world has achieved the blessings of liberty without having to work for them. We only appreciate what we work for.

FEDERAL AID TO SCHOOLS

Republicans in Congress have not waited for the Democrats to exert leadership in the move for federal aid to education. House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts says he will introduce a bill calling for the spending of $900,000,000 over a three year period for school construction to match state and local money on a 50-50 basis.

Such a program, which from reports would operate similar to the state-federal hospital aid program which has fostered the construction of much-needed hospitals throughout North Carolina during the past two years, could have far reaching benefits for this state which sorely needs improved public school facilities.

In most counties of North Carolina, the need for school buildings and more money for operations is acute, and as a result the young people of the state are not receiving as high a level of instruction as they might.

It is our considered opinion that the General Assembly should pass an act whereby the state may participate in a federal aid to education program, should such a program be made possible through congressional action.

Legislation for federal aid to education, with no strings attached whereby the federal government might influence the state and local systems, should be supported by the North Carolina members of Congress, regardless of the party label the bill carries.

tion, in fact I am a member of that great horde of individuals that prefer to take their recreation in an easy chair. Yet I realize the fact that, a well directed recreation program for our children is one of the bases upon which good moral character and citizenship are built.

This being a fact, which I think most of us realize, it behooves us to get behind Mr. Heber Tripp and help him bring about the realization of an adequate recreation program for the children of our city. Mr. Tripp is sold on the idea of recreation for the children of Greenville and he puts his time, money and effort into the program, which is quite unusual for one who has no children of his own to enjoy the fruits of his labor. On this score alone, I think Mr. Tripp deserves the gratitude of the citizens of Greenville.

Look at it any way you choose: if it is a prosperous business you are concerned about, you know that good citizens are the means to that end; if it is moral or religious individuals that you are concerned about recreation will help show the way; if you are concerned about good citizens, consider the facts, hoodlums are products of the streets, citizens come from the playgrounds. Another factor which we dare not overlook, is the fact that Mr. Tripp's plan is a plan for the future; for, no nation, city or community of tomorrow will be any stronger than its children of today. Our community, city, and national insurance for future prosperity is in our children. The value of this insurance as in any insurance, can best be determined by considering the premium; as in any thing, you get exactly what you pay for, no more or less.

I am not sure about the financial goal to be reached before Mr. Tripp's plan can become a reality. But I am relatively sure that if every citizen of Greenville, contributes one half of a dollar, the total would near, if not completely, fill the financial requirements.

Let's make the world of tomorrow a better place in which to live, by giving our children a good start today.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
BLYTHE-The sudden death of Joe Blythe was almost the sole subject of conversation around capitol square Monday. There was recognition of the public loss, for that a powerful influence in the state senate will be missing, and a highly important balance wheel has been lost to Democratic national councils. More than the public phase, was the sense of personal loss felt by all who knew him well—and that was most of the tenants of the square.

SUCCESSOR—No disrespect to memory of the departed leader was involved in speculation about his successor in the several high positions he held. The show must go on; the king is dead—long live the king; and similar expressions are just a trite way of saying that the job must be done, and it will not wait on what some folks refer to as delicate sensibilities. Although the positions he held were of state and national importance, their filling is of a small group. A special election will be called for Mecklenburg county to elect another state senator. A special meeting of the national executive committee may be called to select a new treasurer and to fill the vacancy on that committee.

PROCEDURE—With respect to the post on the national committee procedure has been set by the state committee to nominate a man, although theoretically the national group has power to fill its own vacancies without state nomination. With respect to treasurer of the committee, the national chairman can appoint to fill the vacancy, but under existing conditions a committee meeting to make the selection is more likely. There is no way for the seat in the state senate to be filled except by popular election in the district—which in this instance is confined to Mecklenburg county. The county executive committee will nominate candidates as soon as the governor calls the election.

COMMITTEEMAN—Jonathan Daniels will be the new national committeeman from North Carolina. Until mid-afternoon Monday most observers were backing Senator J. M. Broughton for the post. Then it developed that a lot of telephoning had been going on between this and that official—result of which was to confirm almost unanimous endorsement of Daniels for the committee membership. With Governor Kerr Scott, Senator Broughton, former Senator Umstead, State Chairman Capus Wayne and other party leaders backing Daniels, his nomination seems assured. Since he stands well with President Truman and the national committee, his election is also assured.

SENATE—Blythe's death occasioned the fourth special election necessary to fill seats in the 1949 general assembly. Others were required because of death of Representative-elect Phillips in Perquimans county; death of Senator-elect Gertrude McKee in the thirty-second district, and resignation of Senator-elect Ryan McBryde, due to ill health, in the twelfth district. Unusual number of special elections for one legislature has brought suggestion that the constitution be amended to permit the governor to fill legislative vacancies by appointment. Admittedly that would save money and worry, but the idea has very little support. Under federal and state constitutions the only vacancies which cannot be filled except by popular election are members of the national house of representatives in both branches. These places have been from beginning of our government inviolably reserved to the people themselves. Provision for the governor to appoint U. S. senators until the next general election stems from the fact that until 1913 senators were elected by state legislatures instead of by the people. Back of these provisions is the basic democratic principle that the chief executive may appoint other administrative officers although positions originally were filled by election, but that for law making bodies the people alone should have the right of choice.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
Bay Minette, Ala., Jan. 25—(P)—There is one sure fire way for a visiting dandy to make friends in this section of the South.

All he has to do is open his mouth and say two words clearly.

Camellia Japonica.

Somebody is sure to hear him and say, "you like Camellias, Stranger?"

From then on all the dandy has to do is admit he even saw a Camellia. That is introduction enough. The natives no longer blame him for being born on the wrong side of the Mason and Dixon line. The Dixiecrats don't even hold him entirely personally responsible for what they say Harry Truman is doing to them.

No, sir, Stranger, if you like Camellias why you're a cousin right away. You're kin folk to these Gulf Coast flower fans.

And they mean it from the bottom of the stamen to the peak of the pistil. They'll wine you and dine you, and maybe even the hotel clerk will knock ten percent off your bill. He raises Camellias, too.

Everybody down this way raises Camellias (the aristocrats of Southern gardens) if there's space by the house to stick a bush.

Raising the beautiful white and red heart-size flowers is a hobby for tens of thousands, a multi-million dollar industry for a few. The annual Camellia shows are almost as impressive as religious festivals.

And during blooming season—right now—this whole corner of the southland erupts in lush color.

Bingo and golf don't hold a candle to Camellia growing in the small towns. They had a flower show here this week, one of dozens being held in the communities that belt Mobile Port. But people from twelve states came to see it.

Raising Camellias is as popular with the men folks as with women. And the men have their own Camellia clubs. Wealthy amateur growers spend thousands of dollars on the hobby.

And it can run into money. A small first-year graft from $10 to $25. A 12 to 14 foot bush has sold for more than $1,000.

"The trouble is that once a man gets one variety he starts wanting another," said Cly T. Smith, postmaster here. "And that can lead quite a way. Some folks say there are 3,000 varieties, some say 800.

"Nobody really knows for sure, because the same variety has at least twelve names."

Smith, who has grown Camellias for fun for 25 years, has 200 varieties himself. One Mobile man who started it as a hobby built his Camellias into a million-dollar business. They grow by the million on the bushes here. But in the big cities they fetch up to $5.00 in florist shops.

"But most folks just grow them for pleasure," said Smith. "More men here grow them than play golf. It softens them up, it makes men human who were cold.

"There's something about these flowers that gets you. It seems like once you get started talking Camellias you never get through."

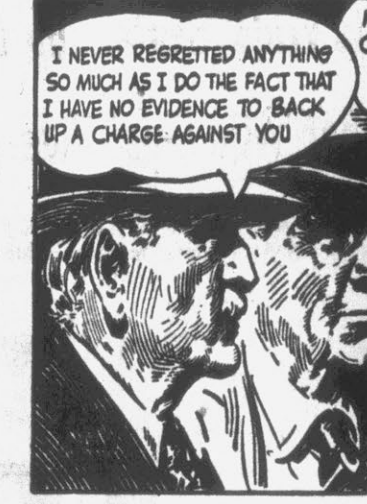

And if the visiting dandy isn't lazy he'll probably end up in some front yard with a spray gun in his hand, firing side by side at a Camellia bush with the grandson of a man whose grandpappy chased the dandy's grandpappy at Bull-run.

Of course, a man could say, "I hate Camellias." But who wants to get rushed out of town on a rail?

Outside Aid Played Big Part In State Polio Care

Chapel Hill, Jan. 24.—North Carolina received more than three times as much in funds for caring for its polio patients from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in New York in 1948 than it raised in its 1948 March of Dimes, according to the latest figures compiled at state headquarters here.

The National office sent into this state a total of $1,417,110 during 1948, and a total of $468,000 was raised in the North Carolina March of Dimes last year, half of which was retained by the county chapters.

That means that this state, which had approximately $400,000 in the chapter treasuries at the beginning of 1948, spent close to $2,000,000 during the past year, mostly during the terrible polio epidemic last summer it was pointed out by Mrs. Phillips Russell, director of organization.

She said this amount was spent for medical care for North Carolina's 2,509 victims in 1948.

By the 15th of this month, she said, North Carolina had 447 patients still in hospitals in this state and a few at Warm Springs in Georgia.

The cost of treating these more than 447 patients is a minimum of $12 a day each, Mrs. Russell explained, and "before all these victims of last year's epidemic are pronounced cured or at least able to leave the hospitals, we would estimate that North Carolina will have spent $3,000,000.

Predicts Cost Of Foreign Aid

Baltimore, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Senator Tydings (D-Md.) predicted yesterday the Marshall Plan and similar foreign aid will cost the American taxpayer a "minimum of $25,000,000,000" by 1952.

And it doesn't end there, he added, we may keep paying after that.

"If no progress of any moment is made x x x between Russia and ourselves (after three more years) x x x we shall face then pretty much the same conditions which we face today."

Farm Mortgage Loan Trend Same

While there has been a noticeable decrease in the volume of sales of farm real estate, the demand for long-term mortgage loans was about the same in 1948 as the preceding year, according to information received by W. G. Stancill, secretary-treasurer of the Washington National Farm Loan Association, from Julian H. Scarborough, president of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia.

"Long-term mortgage loans made by the Federal Land Bank of Columbia during the year ending December 31, 1948, amounting to $9,692,845 which was slightly in excess of the amount made the preceding year. Of this amount, loans were made to farmers in the Third Farm Credit District, as follows: North Carolina $3,219,930; South Carolina $1,633,855; Georgia $2,790,017; Florida $2,240,043.

"Nearly fifty per cent of the amount loaned was used to refinance existing indebtedness, mostly for longer terms and at lower interest rates. Only about one fifth was used to buy farm real estate. The remainder was used to repair buildings, improve land, purchase farm machinery and livestock, for general farm operations, and for other purposes.

"For the last three years there has been a steady decline in the amount of loan funds used for the purchase of farm land, due mainly to the higher prices. A larger amount is being used for refinancing existing indebtedness and for rehabilitating and modernizing property already owned," President Scarborough reported.

According to W. G. Stancill, secretary-treasurer of the Washington National Farm Loan Association the Federal Land Bank of Columbia like the other eleven land banks, is cooperatively owned by the farmer-members of the local national farm loan associations through which the loans are made; and they are here to serve every farmer, large or small, who has qualified security to offer.

The association handles the making and servicing of all land bank loans in the counties of Beaufort, Pitt, Martin, Hyde, Washington and Tyrrell.

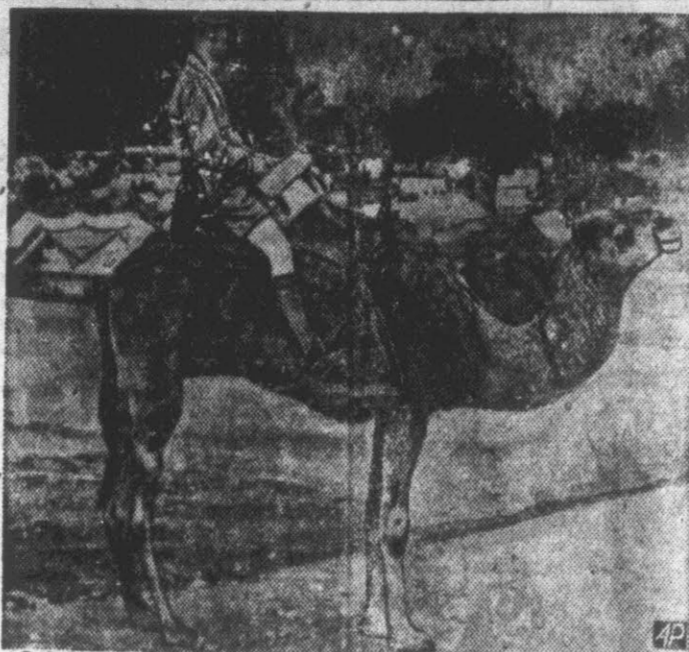

Directors of the Washington association are C. L. Daniel of Williamston, president; J. B. Patrick of Washington, vice president; J. B. Barnhill of Pactolus, Jack M. Smith of Farmville, and William M. Mackett of Belhaven.

Better Production Methods Subject Tobacco Meetings

The fifth of a series of meetings scheduled for January under auspices of the county farm agent, Sam C. Winchester's, office for the purpose of studying better production methods, causes and control of tobacco plant diseases and other factors which will enable farmers to produce better and more economical crops, was held at the Farmville High School at 2 p.m. today. Assistant Farm Agent Sam J. Weeks, tobacco specialist, is in charge of the meetings. Farmers are invited to attend. Another meeting will be held at Belvoir High School tonight at 7:30.

Other meetings will be held at the Grifton High School Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.; at the Winterville High School Thursday at 7:30, and at the Falkland School Friday at 2 p.m.

The last tobacco meeting of the series will be held in the courtroom at the City Hall in Greenville Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Bed-Ridden Negro Woman 10 Years Needs Wheel Chair

By CHESTER WALSH
The Bachelor's Benedict Club Negro social and civic organization here, is interested in a "Good Samaritan" gesture of assistance for Mrs. Fannie Mae Hunter, middle-aged Negro woman, 603-A Contentnea street, who is an invalid and has been bed-ridden for about 10 years with an ailment that has caused her to become blind. She lives with her mother, Mrs. Claudia Hunter.

The club suggests that if a wheelchair, costing about $55, could be provided for the invalid she would be able to move about the house and be taken outdoors to feel the rays of sunshine for the first time in many years.

The Bachelor's Benedict Club is seeking contributions from civic clubs and other organizations to help to buy the chair. Contributions may be mailed to the Bachelor's Benedict Club, Post Office Box 308, Greenville. The invalid has indicated that if she regains her health she will turn the chair over to the Battle-Kelly Negro clinic for use of other patients.

A single adult female oyster will discharge from 15 to 114 million eggs at a single spawning.

Redwan David To Fight Golden Glove Champ In Feature Bout

Undefeated ECTC Boxer May Meet His Match Wednesday Night; Ten Bout Scheduled Against Goldsboro Athletic Club

The feature bout in Wednesday night's fights between the East Carolina brawler and the Goldsboro Athletic Club, will be a flistic duel between Ron Clark of Goldsboro, who captured the light-heavyweight crown in the Raleigh Golden Gloves last week, and Redwan David, who as co-captain of the local team is undefeated this year. Coaches Jim Johnson and Johnny Long who guide the local pugilist have high hopes that David will finish the season undefeated. But after witnessing the finals of the Raleigh tournament, in which Ron Clark won easily over Don Moore of Kannapolis, the consensus of opinion is that David will meet his match Wednesday night. Your reporter gives the nod to David. It will be close.

In the semi-final bout of the college fights co-captain Ken Stargardt from Richmond, Va., who is seeking win number four in as many starts, will carry the college colors against Eugene Sasser of the Goldsboro team. Reports from the enemy camp say that Sasser is undefeated this year and packs a mean wallop in both hands. Stargardt is a quiet unassuming chap who goes about his boxing in a business-like manner. He is very popular with his team mates and fellow students at the college.

There are eight other matches on the card, and the college boys are favored to annex most of the decisions. A tentative lineup for the card is as follows:

- |                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| GOLDSBORO       |                |
| 125 lb. Class   | Jim Alexander  |
| Clean Smith     | 130 lb. Class  |
| Harvey Stull    | Eugene Keene   |
| 135 lb. Class   | Jack Amyette   |
| Bob Wheeler     | Carl Miller    |
| 145 lb. Class   | Paul Hansell   |
| Charlie Edwards | Bill Wooten    |
| Henry Bruton    | Bill Summerlin |
| 150 lb. Class   | Bill Torrans   |
| Lafayette Davis | 165 lb. Class  |
| Ken Stargardt   | Eugene Sasser  |
| Redwan David    | Don Clark      |

The officials for Wednesday's fights are 'Bo' Farley, referee; Dr. Jim Barrett, Col. Bill Brown and Paul Julian, judges; John Wyatt and Bill Darby, timers; Willard Pendleton and Will Pittman, scorers; Johnny Long and Jack Davis, seconds; ring managers will be Max Garrell and Forest Porter.

A new scoring system has been instituted which is proving very popular with the boxing fans. After each round the judges give points to each fighter. The scorer adds up the points and places the results on a score board so that all can see just how the fight is progressing round by round.

Too 'Hot'

Bremerton, Wash., Jan. 25—(AP)—Olympic Junior College was so hot last night it set fire to the basketball scoreboard. Olympic walloped Central J.C. 184 to 41. Just as the 100th point was scored there was a short in the electric scoreboard, a flash and a cloud of smoke. The board was blacked out for the rest of the game.

Hogan, Demaret Meet In Playoff

Long Beach, Calif., Jan. 25—(AP)—Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret have been rivals for golfing gold and laurels for more than a decade, but for the first time today they meet in a playoff for a pot of money. Because they wound up in a tie for the top spot of the inaugural $10,000 Long Beach Open yesterday with 72-hole scores of 272, they must match skill over the 18-hole route to see who gets the $2,000 first money or pockets the $1,400 second prize.

Demaret forged in front with a five-under par 66 in the final round. And demureless Benny, needing a birdie four on the 18th green to gain a tie, sank a money putt estimated between 12 and 15 feet. Their 72 was 12 strokes under par 71 for 72 holes of competition at the Lakewood Country Club.

Hogan and the flamboyant Demaret are as close friends as rival golfers can be. They team up in four-ball matches. Jimmy was the nation's leading money winner and Vardon Trophy champion in 1947. Hogan the champion last year. Hogan has won virtually every major honor in golf except the Masters, while Demaret has missed out on the U.S. Open and the PGA crown.

New Lights For Lenoir Rhyne

Hickory, Jan. 25—(AP)—A new lighting system for Lenoir Rhyne College field and stadium has been assured. The Piedmont Educational Foundation, Inc., has authorized a committee to raise a fund of from $12,000 to $15,000 dollars to finance the project.

The proposed system will consist of 175 units, each of 1,500 watts mounted on 11 poles 80 feet high. The present lighting system on the field is 18 years old. New York Glanis, still setting a hot pace in the contract signing league, announced today that three more players were in the fold, leaving them only seven to go. Students will be admitted on their athletic tickets. Seats will be reserved for town people. A capacity crowd is expected.

Carolina Cagers Top Gobblers As Davidson Scores

By the Associated Press
North Carolina's Tar Heels were tied for second place with Furman and South Carolina in the Southern Conference standings today (Tuesday) after they romped over Virginia Tech's Gobblers, 78-59, at Chapel Hill last night. The Tar Heels' loop record is 6-2. The Tar Heel triumph practically eliminated the chances of Tech getting a spot in the annual conference tournament at Durham in March. The loss was Tech's sixth against two wins in league play. Again, it was Coy Carson and Hugo Kappler who paced North Carolina to victory. Carson the league's leading scorer, dropped in 21 points and Kappler was close behind with 19.

Carson's 21 points raised his total for the season 138 for the Tar Heels' first conference contest. Guard Bob Trombold picked up 17 points for the Gobblers. Davidson's Wildcats stepped up into a deadlock with Duke for sixth place in the standings by whipping The Citadel's Bulldogs, 54-25, at Davidson. The Bulldogs' tight zone defense checked the Wildcats during the first half which ended in a 14-14 stalemate.

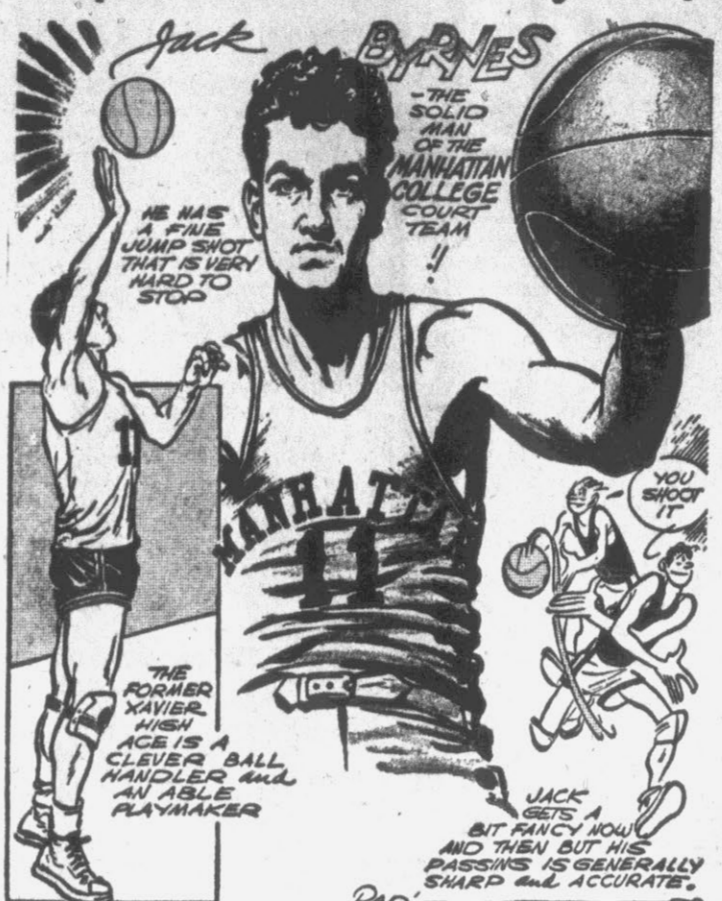

After the intermission, though Davidson broke loose and routed the team from Charleston. The win gave the Wildcats a 3-2 record in conference play. The Citadel has yet to win after six attempts. Buddy Cheek led the Davidson team with 14 points. With semester examinations occupying most of the clubs, only one game will be played tonight. North Carolina State's Wolfpack takes time out from circuit competition to battle the Quantico Marines at Raleigh.

Wolfpack Plays Kentucky In '50

Raleigh, Jan. 25—(AP)—North Carolina State and Kentucky will meet in basketball in Raleigh next season. Assistant State Coach Carl (Butter) Anderson told a Lions Club meeting here yesterday that the game, slated for State's new coliseum, will be one of several with outstanding teams in the nation.

Thorn In SEC
Birmingham, Ala.—(AP)—North Carolina's Tar Heels proved the biggest non-conference headache to Southeastern Conference football teams in 1948. SEC teams lost six games to outside opponents during the year and North Carolina won three of them. Clemson won two and Texas won the other.

Sport Slants by Pap

Clever Cager... by Pap

Manhattan College has a big rugged basketball team loaded with veteran material. The experienced starting five averages well over six feet and boasts sufficient speed to employ a fast break offense with efficiency. Pro-season dope had it that the Jaspers were the team to beat in the metropolitan New York district. There have been occasions when Manhattan has looked the part of a champion to for the most part the team has not measured up to expectations.

The failure of Mike Joyce, the six, six center, to measure up this season has upset Coach Kenny Norton's plans. Joyce was improving in leaps and bounds in the late stages of the 1947-48 season and appeared to have found himself but he has not been of much help to the team this season. Coach Norton has been forced to return Jack Byrnes, his ablest hand-dancer and all around performer, to the pivot post after having installed the former Xavier High ace at forward.

Byrnes is rated one of the finest court performers in the east. Standing a shade under the 6-foot-4 mark, Jack is as nimble as a lightweight and is a magician with the ball. There are times when Byrnes insists on doing things the fancy way, but for the most part he is a sharp, accurate passer. He shoots very well, either on set or jump shots. He's the key man of the Jaspers, on offense and defense.

- Tennessee 61 Georgia 59.

Rushing Record

South Bend, Ind.—(AP)—Coach Frank Leahy's 1948 Notre Dame eleven broke all previous Irish marks for ground gained from rushing. The team piled up a total of 3,194 yards on the ground in 599 plays during their ten-game schedule. This surpasses the 3,137 yards which the 1943 team rolled up in 618 tries.

Long Season For Mountain Skiers

Denver, Jan. 25—(AP)—January blizzards have coated the Rocky Mountains with snow so deep skiers will be coveting about the hills until next June. Even then there'll be enough of the white stuff left for plenty of snowball fights. Heavy snowfalls in most winter sports areas have created ideal conditions for snowbunnies—the up-and-coming skiers. And they're turning out in record numbers for the privilege of falling all over the whitened landscape.

Their colleagues back East—New England and New York—could use some of that snow. Lack of the white flakes forced cancellation of many winter sports events in those areas earlier in the season.

Cellar Position In North State Settled Tonight

By the Associated Press
The North State Conference will settle one question in its current basketball race tonight—who's going to have sole possession of the cellar. The race has been on for several weeks now, but Guilford and Elon haven't been able to settle the issue. And they've both been too busy losing games to help the statisticians. With neither team claiming a conference victory, Elon had dropped three games and Guilford four. Tonight the two teams meet at Elon for the decision. In the night's other game, Atlantic Christian's fourth place quintet meets fifth place Appalachian at Boone. No games were played last night.

Interleague Tilts

New York—(AP)—American League teams will play 132 spring exhibition games against National League baseball clubs before the 1949 diamond campaign gets under way. The Cleveland Indians top the circuit in games against the senior leaguers with 24 slated, 16 against the New York Giants.

Midlands And Blue Grass Cagers Lead In Nat'l Poll

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—The real "muscle" of college basketball this year is found in the Midlands and the Blue Grass country. The newest Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters shows St. Louis' flashy Billikens still the nation's No. 1 team with Kentucky and Oklahoma A. and M., dribbling hot on their heels.

You have to move all the way down to eighth place before you start running into teams from the East, Far West and Southwest. Western Kentucky, whose 15 victories represent the longest winning streak in the land, is fourth followed in order by Minnesota, Illinois, and Hamline.

The East breaks into the lineup of cage select with eight place Villanova. The Far West has the ninth and tenth teams—San Francisco and Utah, respectively. Although beaten 29-27 by Oklahoma A. and M. last week, St. Louis maintained the front-running position with a total of 938 points. The Billikens received 29 first place votes compared with 23 for second place Kentucky and 18 for Hank Iba's Oklahoma Aggies. Kentucky piled up 886 points and the Aggies, climbing from fifth to third, amassed 710.

The top ten teams were the same as those figuring in the first poll last week but underwent a bit of scrambling. Western Kentucky fell from third to fourth and Minnesota dropped a notch to fifth.

Bearden, Veck Spar Over Terms

Cleveland, Jan. 25—(AP)—Gene Bearden, the Cleveland Indian's southpaw hurling ace, and Tribe president Bill Veck engaged in a little contract sparring last night before some 500 people. Many a word was said in jest but the dinner assemblage soon got the impression that perhaps the boys weren't pulling their punches.

Bearden, who has not signed his 1949 contract, was honored by local baseball writers as "Cleveland's man of the year in baseball for 1948." Many nice things were said about the handsome hurler who pitched the Indians to victory over the Boston Red Sox in the American League's playoff game and sparked as the Tribe beat the Boston Braves in the world series.

However, every time something complimentary was said, Veck acted horrified while Bearden dug his elbow into Veck at each tribute as if to emphasize he had won a point. When called upon to speak, Veck smiled and then said: "We ought to have people signed before all these nice things are said. Last year at this dinner I told you we had a chance to win the pennant. This year we have a better club and we should have an easier time."

Add New Honors For Stan Musial

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 25—(AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, voted the National League's most valuable player, will receive new honors here tomorrow night. Musial recently was voted "Pennsylvania's outstanding athlete for 1948" and Governor James H. Duff will present him with a plaque. Musial's home is in Donora, Pa. The award will be made at the annual dinner of the Harrisburg sportswriters and sportscasters.

HER SECRET STAR

By Bennie C. Hall

Chapter 15

During the exciting weeks that followed Betty had little time for serious thoughts. The vacation season was in full swing and a populace doomed to long cruel winters had come out to play hard and fast while the sun shone.

Hardly a day passed that she did not go to Alden Beach, which was the finest on the Bay, just as George Newton had said. Sometimes she would go with Gertrude, but more often she would go with Ellen Raymond, the mayor's daughter, who was about her own age. Gertrude had her own "gang," and Betty and Ellen had become great friends.

Now and then she and Ellen would make pilgrimages to historical spots nearby. They never ceased to fascinate Betty, and Ellen, fired with sectional pride, never tired of taking her along.

They visited the little brown cottage, in its setting of stately hollyhocks, where John and Priscilla Alden had lived and loved.

One day they drove to Duxbury and took the winding road that led to the Miles Standish monument. They climbed all the way to the top of the shaft and looked out on the Bay. There were sailboats afloat and it was a breathtaking sight.

On another occasion Betty and Ellen went to the old Friends' Meeting House near Hanover and strolled through the little churchyard, reading the quaint epitaphs on the old gray-green slabs. Time and the New England winters had almost obscured them.

Once more her thoughts flew to George Newton. He had pointed out that medicine was not yet an exact science. Well, maybe it wasn't, but it was gradually raising in the fight against infant mortality. Doctor Newton himself had done a great deal. The little Harper girl was improving, or so Betty had heard. He was winning a battle in which all the odds were against him. The townspeople had recognized it and his practice was growing. The best people in town were calling Doctor Newton—or so Aunt Minniebelle said.

Often on these historical excursions, Betty and Ellen Raymond were accompanied by Lloyd Edward Shaw, the young Congregational minister whose arrival in town had bestirred Gertrude into inaugurating a back-to-church movement. The movement had lasted through three Sundays. Then Gertrude, having described Reverend Shaw as "a complete dud—and I mean a complete dud," announced that she was through.

Despite Gertrude's estimate, however, Betty had found Lloyd Shaw to be an entertaining and agreeable young man. He was inclined to be quiet and reserved, but his fine sense of humor made him an asset to any group. He was deeply in love with Ellen Raymond and there were hints of wedding bells.

Betty herself had a congenial summer playmate in Jack Barnes. To her surprise, no one, not even Aunt Minniebelle, had objected.

"He's working now, so I hear," Aunt Minniebelle had said in explanation of her right-about-face. "Of course I'll admit it was high time he was doing something. But now that he is, least thing the townfolks can do is to encourage him. Fact is, he seems like a very nice young man, now that he's older and more settled."

Evidently the townspeople shared Minniebelle's views, for Jack Barnes was accepted in all the best homes and was quite popular with the young people. Or perhaps Minniebelle had maneuvered them into her way of thinking, as Carrolton's most active clubwoman, Minniebelle Warren was a power in the community. Moreover, there were rumors that Jack Barnes' father was about to invest in a fashionable summer hotel for his son, provided said son proved his mettle by remaining in his present job throughout the season. Jack's present job was that of day clerk at the exclusive Standish Hotel near Alden, and everyone agreed that the Standish was an excellent proving ground for a young man about to go into the hotel business.

Every week on his day off, he would appear in the Warren driveway in his big shiny car, honking his horn with a vehemence that brought all the neighbors to their windows. Betty would dash out of the house breathlessly, if only to stop the ungody racket.

"I'll be ready in a minute," she would say. "You don't have to alarm the whole town!"

"Okay. Make it snappy," he would say. "It's one of those super-duper days and we won't have too many more."

Then she would rush back into the house, slip into a sports dress, give her hair a lick and a promise.

4-H Girls Of Eastern Counties Convene Here

What's new and appropriate in teen-age fashions was discussed today at East Carolina Teachers College, when approximately 300 4-H girls from 21 counties in the eastern section of the state gathered on the campus for a clothing school.

Program meetings held in the Austin auditorium of the college were in charge of Mrs. Verona Joyner Langford, home demonstration agent in Pitt County, and Marjorie Shearin, assistant agent. Miss Shearin acted as presiding officer at meetings. Hazel Garris of Farmville, vice president of the Pitt County 4-H Council, greeted guests and welcomed them to Greenville.

Two fashion shows held during the day gave tips on making and buying spring clothes and on choosing accessories for costumes. In the morning the Blount-Harvey Co. of Greenville, represented by C. E. Blair, manager, and Ella Sockwell, buyer, displayed fabrics and styles suitable for the teen-age wardrobe. A talk on "Fashion Notes for the Modern 4-H Miss," discussed by Ada Mae Marshall, stylist for the Simplicity Pattern Co., was illustrated by a collection of costumes modeled for the audience.

A group of fourteen 4-H Club members from Pitt County were models at the fashion revues. They were Cornelia Randolph, June Turner, Geraldine Coward, Elva For-

Response Drops On Pledge Cards

The response from the March of Dimes pledge cards which were sent out in the county by the Pitt County Infants' Paralysis Chapter has not been "as good the last few days as we had hoped," according to drive chairman Leo Jenkins.

Jenkins said the response to the pledge cards was encouraging the first few days after the cards were mailed, but since that time there has been little response. He urged all persons who have not made contributions to the March of Dimes campaign to mail their contributions to the Pitt County chapter, Greenville.

Tickets for the annual President's Birthday Ball, which will be held Thursday night from nine to one in the Wright auditorium at East Carolina Teachers College, are on sale by members of the Greenville Lions Club. George Wilkerson, chairman of the Lions Club March of Dimes committee, said tickets will be placed on sale at various business houses in the city within the next few days.

Out-Of-Season Fruit Found In Chicago For Patient In Hospital

Ed Radcliff, manager of the local A and P super market, said today he feels well repaid for his efforts in behalf of a critically ill Pitt County patient.

On Monday of last week, a Pitt County patient in Wilson hospital who has been critically ill for some time and had not eaten in 10 days, expressed the desire for Japanese persimmons. Her sister visited the Greenville store on Tuesday, and told her story to Mr. Radcliff.

Radcliff knew the fruit was out of season, but he told the sister to standby while he made a phone call. He contacted the store headquarters in Raleigh and relayed the request, and was informed that his company would fill the order if the fruit could be found anywhere. A series of phone calls finally led to Chicago where the fruit was located, and last Thursday a case of Japanese persimmons was delivered to the patient.

Pension Plan

Washington, Jan. 26—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) wants everybody over 65 to get a $100-a-month pension.

He made that suggestion in a radio debate last night with Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), House majority leader. Brewster said the pension plan would be no more expensive than the "excesses" of the Truman Administration, but he disagreed with McCormack's estimate.

The Massachusetts lawmaker said he thought Brewster's old-age pension would cost the government around $15,000,000,000 a year.

Drag River For School Teacher

Florence, S. C., Jan. 26—(AP)—A veteran Florence school teacher was missing today and officers of two counties dragged the Pee Dee River for her body.

Mrs. Theo Miles Friar disappeared yesterday after driving a fellow teacher to school. Her car, containing her coat and pocketbook, was found a short time later on the river bridge between here and Marion. Officers said there were fingerprints and shoe prints on the railing of the bridge and there was no evidence of foul play.

Dealers Warned Honeymoon Over

San Francisco, Jan. 25—(AP)—American automobile dealers, 7,500 strong, met today at their first 1948 convention business session with this warning ringing in their ears: "The honeymoon is over."

It was delivered at a used car clinic yesterday by San Francisco (Ford) Dealer Charles G. Welch. Ray O. Burrett, Portland, Ore., agreed: "All of us had better take stock. The good old days of the seller's market are gone."

Dealers conceded there are now more used cars than buyers.

Nomination Of Warlick Passes

Washington, Jan. 26—(AP)—A Senate Judiciary subcommittee approved today the nomination of Wilson Warlick to be federal judge of the western district of North Carolina.

Senator Broughton (D-NC), a member of the committee, told a reporter the full committee expects to consider the nomination February 7.

Senate Chaplain Dies Suddenly

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Rev. Peter Marshall D. D., 46-year-old chaplain of the Senate, died of a heart attack today in George Washington University hospital. He was stricken a few hours earlier at his home.

The Scottish-born pastor of the New York avenue Presbyterian church here was named to the Senate post in January, 1947, by Republican Senators of the 80th Congress.

Record Year For Tobacco Company

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company reported today net sales in 1948 of $556,506,847, highest in company history and an 8.3 per cent increase over 1947 sales.

Net income applicable to common stock after all charges totaled $27,789,934, equal to $3.88 a share of common stock, the annual report to stockholders said. This was an all time high and compared with net income of $21,429,504 or $6.83 a common share, in 1947.

Stokes Farmers Hear Sam Weeks

Stokes—Approximately 200 tobacco farmers of the Stokes section of Pitt county met last night at Stokes high school to hear a discussion of Tobacco disease control by assistant county agent Sam Weeks.

Weeks, tobacco specialist with the local farm agent's office, pointed out the proper methods of rotating tobacco crops to prevent the spread of diseases, and precautions which should be taken in preventing disease from spreading to one field to another. He also pointed out recommended practices for treating plant beds to prevent blue mold, and the characteristics of certain tobacco diseases.

Using color pictures and charts, he explained the results to two year's work with various types of tobacco in determining which varieties are best suited for particular seasonal conditions and disease infested fields.

2 Defendants . . .

(Continued from page one) tobacco barn that had been converted into a packhouse and storage barn. Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Manning and Claude Manning learned that Mitchell's trunk had been located near a creek in the neighborhood.

That night when they went back, Mitchell, with a shotgun approached the hidden trunk, and the officers arrested him. The deputies found tracks about the barn that convinced them that they were Mitchell's. They kept him in jail for a month before he talked the officers testified, and then he admitted that he set fire to the building.

Cleveland Barnes, 28-year-old Negro, pleaded guilty of assaulting his wife with an axe on the Leon Hardee farm near Greenville last fall and Judge Burney sentenced him to serve from eight to nine years in State Prison.

Testimony was that Barnes became enraged at his wife while they were picking cotton, and that he attacked the woman with an axe, inflicting severe wounds on her head and body and fled. Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson and Deputy Loyd Manning captured him in Greenville. The officers testified that Barnes' wife recovered, but always will be a cripple.

Harder Road . . .

Out in Seattle the University of Washington Board of Regents dismissed three long-time professors as the aftermath of a controversy over asserted former communist party membership. The three criticized the action as a blow to civil liberties and indicated they would appeal.

However, irrespective of the merits of the Washington case, the fact remains that America is beginning to realize that our schools must be safeguarded. They are one of communism's favorite mediums for introducing the Redism, because young minds are susceptible.

Then too American labor has been cleaning house, thereby delivering another solar plexus blow to communism. We had a striking development on that line last week in Paris.

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of America's CIO, joined with British and Dutch trade union leaders in quitting the World Federation of Trades Unions, which they maintain is communist ridden. Irving Brown, representative of the American Federation of Labor which never had joined the WFTU declared that the time was ripe for the free trade unions of the world to start a new international movement. That presumably will be done.

Bolshevism's sins are beginning to find it out. Small wonder, then, that Moscow should want to please the democracies, especially America, and try to soften the upheaval which is growing against this devilishism.

New Rent . . .

(Continued from page one) now, even under present law. But under the new law it would go under control—but at the lease rental. In other words, the landlord couldn't get another increase.

What of a place where you had such a lease, with a 15 per cent increase, and the lease has now ended. Even under present law the place would go back under control when the lease ended. The bill would put it under control, too.

Does this mean that in either case the rent would be rolled back to some figure that existed before the lease was signed? No.

It would simply mean the landlord could not boost you after this bill became law, without the expediter's approval.

This bill would give the expediter power to control, or decontrol, any dwelling converted into some other kind of dwelling between March 31, 1949, and March 31, 1951.

And, under this bill the expediter could control the rent on any dwelling which was not rented between Feb. 1, 1945, and the time the present bill became law.

The present law removed controls from a dwelling which, if it had been unrented between Feb. 1, 1945, and April 1, 1948, was rented after April 1, 1948.

Current . . .

One likely course of action being discussed by top planners is to do Congress for the $1,000,000,000 to be available to the U. S. export-import bank. The bank would make loans to foreign countries promising to join in a coordinated plan to develop their resources.

These government loans would be extended, if Congress approves the plan, only when private companies and the world bank can not fill the bill.

The administration is counting heavily on private enterprise to do most of the job once the economic surveys make known the full facts about investment opportunities.

The foreign country being assisted would be a partner to the plan for improving its economy. As its contribution it would furnish manpower, whatever raw materials it had available and promise to repay any credits over a long period of time.

China's Gov't . . .

(Continued from page one) talk peace stirred hopes that negotiations could be started soon enough to save Nanking from bombardment. The capital was being feverishly evacuated by many government officials and citizens.

One official source said the government would leave "very soon." Various officials said their orders were to get out "by tomorrow at the very latest."

The main Communist body had not reached the opposite bank of the mile wide river. But Communist shells could come screaming into the capital at any moment.

Government offices, in many cases, were deserted except for the poor coolies.

General peace talk here, at least, was dead publicly. Everybody seemed bent on saving his skin and valuables.

The trek south resembled, on a much larger scale, the Communist flight to the northwest 14 years ago when Chiang Kai-shek drove them out.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 26—(AP)—The stock market took a decisive downward turn today after an early show of stability. Losses ranged to as much as two points. Turnover tended to increase as quotations were marked down but business was far from lively.
