Taft foe Offers Reasons Why He Should Drop Out

Flanders Says Taft Hurting Himself In Retaining Senate GOP Post

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A Republican senator who opposes the policies of his party leaders came up with a new reason today why Senator Taft of Ohio should step down from his top GOP post in the Senate.

The Ohioan is "hurting his chances for re-election," said Senator Flanders of Vermont. Taft heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which has come under sharp attack from a group of 14 GOP senators who disagree with his views and those of other veteran leaders. The dissatisfied 14 failed in an effort to unseat Taft earlier this month.

Flanders, who at 68 calls himself "one of the grizzled young Turks" of the party, said the group "personally likes Senator Taft and appreciates his abilities but disagrees with him on what is politically wise for the party and his own political future."

He said that Taft, as "determined holder of the reins, the throttle and the rudder" of Republican senators is hurting his chances for reelection by exhibiting the qualities which do him the least justice.

"I'm certain he would be more popular with Ohio voters if he acted as an independent sharpshooter," Flanders added.

Taft meanwhile was in his home state outlining his personal ideas on "the future of the Republican party."

In a hard-hitting speech at Miss Ohio, he declared that the "Republican party will survive and prevail" despite five successive defeats by the Democrats in presidential elections.

As for the Democrats, Taft had this to say: "The American people believe in liberty, but the totalitarian creed which we face abroad dominates today the philosophy of the CIO and therefore the Democratic party and if it prevails it must destroy liberty here at home."

The repeated defeats of the Republican party "have been due more to its failure in presenting its principles to the people than in those principles," Taft said, adding that there is "no reason for Republicans to feel discouraged."

Accuse Dutch Of Illegal Arrests

Batavia, Java, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Indonesian republicans charged today the Dutch arrested two of their press officers and possibly many other republicans in direct defiance of the latest United Nations orders. The republic's delegation to the U.N. Good Offices Committee sent a letter to the committee saying that Netherlands officials failed to inform the delegation of an officer of the republican ministry of information, Sastrouwignjo, in Batavia Friday, and confiscated documents and office equipment.

Gas Plant Blast Rocks Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 29 — (AP) — One man was killed and more than 100 persons were injured, a few seriously, in a terrific explosion yesterday which tore off the roof of a gas company mixing plant and broke hundreds of windows in buildings over a wide area.

More than 50 of the injured were treated at hospitals. Some 50 others were given first aid for cuts from flying glass in emergency wards set up near the plant, operated by the People's Gas Light and Coke Co.

Evolution At Work

Democracy Moves Slowly; Watching The Government Work Is Like Watching Evolution; Examples Of The Past And Present; The Virtue Of Slowness

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A democracy is like an elephant with a hot foot.

I'll move, all right, but not like lightning. And, before it moves at all, it really has to feel the heat.

That's why so much of what you read about in Washington gets done, when it gets done, so slowly.

Congress is the prime example. For Congress usually takes its time before acting, hearing both sides, arguing, making up its mind.

And it may not act at all unless the people in the rest of the country apply enough heat.

This very slowness has a virtue of its own.

It gives an issue which seems red hot at the moment time to die down, if it's the kind that will die down, until it's no longer an issue.

And it gives the people, with their conflicting and often strong views, time to make their feelings and their reasons known.

Then, since Congress represents the people, the decision it makes at last should pretty well represent the will of most of the people.

That isn't always so and when it isn't, or when Congress by its slowness shows it doesn't understand or ignores the needs or will of the people, they can change the

Icy Death Rides The Range In Wyoming Blizzard

Russia Calls Atlantic Pact Part Of Plan For 'New War'

Plot Against UN, Claims Russian White Paper; Says Object Is Establishing British-American Domination Of World

Moscow, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Russia issued a white paper today to tell the world the projected North Atlantic pact is part of a British-American plan for a new war.

It is a plot against the United Nations and has as its object the establishment of British-American domination of the world by force said the Soviet foreign ministry.

The western European union was declared a link in the plans for world domination by the two powers.

The document, one of the longest issued by the foreign ministry in months, took up nearly two pages in the Moscow press. It attracted the immediate interest of Moscow's diplomats who at once obtained copies and began translating and analyzing the declaration.

Specifically it declared, "Declaration of the ministry of foreign affairs of the U.S.S.R. on the North Atlantic Pact," the paper accused Britain and the United States of trying to isolate the Soviet Union, undermine the United Nations, institute an economic boycott on the U.S.S.R. and her friends, trying to start a new war and not wanting to conclude peace treaties for Germany and Japan.

In short it summed up the U.S.S.R.'s present view of the entire foreign situation as it has been in-

Receive Threats In Trial Of Reds

New York, Jan. 29 — (AP) — The conspiracy trial of 11 high U. S. Communists has taken a new twist with the disclosure that nearly all the principals involved have received threatening letters.

The revelation was made calmly to a packed court room yesterday by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, presiding jurist. Shortly afterwards he adjourned the trial until Monday.

Returning from a luncheon recess, the jurist informed the spectators that he had received threatening "communications" at his home.

Compromise Put Before Dutch And Indonesia

Lake Success, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A compromise plan for ending the Indonesian crisis was up to the Netherlands and the Indonesians today.

The United Nations watched to see what they would do about it. The Security Council in 28 separate votes last night approved the plan.

The Dutch served notice just before it passed they would carry it out to the extent of their responsibilities—as they see them—for maintaining freedom and order in Indonesia.

An Indonesian spokesman answered that this meant clearly the Dutch planned once more to defy the Security Council.

The Social Security program and a higher minimum wage may get through Congress this year, although that's not certain. There seems far less chance for the medical program.

It's taken 14 years since 1935 and two opposites in labor law-making

'Council Of Europe' Is Set Up By Five Nations

Will Include Fledgling Cabinet And Advisory Parliament; Headquarters In France; Italy To Be Invited

London, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A new and historic "Council of Europe" with a fledgling cabinet and an advisory parliament emerged today as a major factor in the post-war world.

The foreign ministers of the five Western European Union democracies announced agreement yesterday to set up the council. Authoritative sources said headquarters will be in Strasbourg, France.

The five nations reaching the agreement, after months of discussion on some form of European unity, are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

They said other European countries will be asked to help set up the council. One informed source said the first invitation will go to Italy, indicating Italy will join.

Mr. Truman's "bold new program," announced in his inaugural address, has been warmly received by British officials and his advisers.

British officials, already have blueprinted development programs for Iran, Iraq, Egypt and the Sudan. But Britain's lack of resources and political uncertainty in the Midwest have stymied progress.

The British think a coordinated British-American development program is the best—if not the only way to curtail off communism both in the Middle and Far East.

Britain's approach to economic development in the Middle East, the government source said, is in principle similar to its approach to European recovery.

Two Life Terms Given One Man

Bakerfield, Calif., Jan. 29 — (AP) — For the murder of his two small sons, Sgt. Samuel Ray Adams must serve two life terms—concurrently in San Quentin prison.

The former Murree Air Base soldier is convicted of fatally shooting Samuel Ray Adams, Jr., seven, and Richard, four, last Aug. 29 while in a rage after an argument with his wife over which Sunday school the boys should attend.

Treason Charge Faces One-Time State Dept. Man

Military Plane Bringing Burgman Back From Germany To Face Jury

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A military plane today carried Herbert John Burgman—for 20 years a State Department employe—back to the United States from Germany to face treason charges.

Burgman, a Minnesotan who went to Berlin in 1921 and worked for the American embassy as a clerk and statistician, has been charged by the Justice Department with broadcasting Nazi propaganda during the war.

He was arrested in the American zone of Germany several weeks ago and is returning to Washington to face a federal grand jury.

The Justice Department said that when the United States went to war with Germany in 1941 Burgman refused to go to a detention camp with other members of the embassy staff for repatriation to this country.

Instead, the department said, he went to work for the German short wave radio, for which he made English broadcasts to this country and to American troops in the field while the war was in progress.

The 52-year-old Burgman has been making his living at various odd jobs in occupied Germany since the war ended.

More Opposition To Reorganizing Southern Witnesses Oppose Truman Having 'Free Hand'

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Opposition stiffened in Congress today to giving President Truman the free hand he wants for reorganizing government agencies.

Eleven Southern witnesses appeared yesterday before the House Executive expenditures committee to say that the civil functions of the army corps of engineers should not be merged into a civilian public works department.

House and Senate leaders already have agreed to exempt the interstate commerce commission, the federal reserve board, the federal trade commission and the securities and exchange commission from the completed bill. Other exemptions are certain to be proposed.

As a result, it appears that Administration forces will have to accept a bill to grant Mr. Truman permanent and far-reaching reorganization powers, as suggested, by former President Herbert Hoover.

Hoover's commission on reorganization of the executive branch of government is to report within 10 days. The committee is expected to finish work on the administration's bill next week.

Hearings now underway wind up Monday when Hoover appears in behalf of the measure.

Plan Protest In Mass Meeting On Vote Outcome

Whiteville, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A mass meeting will be held here Tuesday night to protest the wet victory in Thursday's city beer-wine referendum.

The Rev. Marvin E. Beasley, secretary of the Allied Church League, said it was decided earlier to hold this meeting if beer and wine sales were legalized in Whiteville.

Last August, a referendum resulted in the outlawing of the sales of these beverages throughout the county.

The Columbus Baptist Association after the town election repeated its decision to boycott businesses in places where beer and wine are sold. The association claims a membership of 9,000.

Administration Unveils Its New One-Package Labor Bill

New Storm Hits West As Relief Funds Allocated

More Snow And Cold; Losses Mount; 'Haylift' Operations Delayed

By The Associated Press More Federal funds were on the way to the storm-stricken western states today but new snow and cold weather, delayed relief operations in some areas.

Nebraska, one of the states which suffered staggering blows from the early January blizzards, was in the path of the new cold wave that extended over the central section of the country. The below zero temperatures followed heavy falls of snow which have seriously disrupted relief operations.

However, there were no fresh falls of heavy snow over the snowbound western disaster areas where millions of cattle and sheep are stranded and facing starvation.

In Nebraska, Gov. Val Peterson wired President Truman that human suffering is "increasing, deaths continuing, losses to cattlemen are mounting and potential losses are staggering."

Mr. Truman allotted another $500,000 for relief to the snow-stricken western states yesterday. That brought to $800,000 in federal aid for relief operations.

Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, federal Works Administrator, said in Miami, Fla., an additional $250,000 in Federal funds had been allocated to the state digging out of the blizzards. He said an additional $65,000 each would go to South Dakota and Nebraska and $40,000 each to Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. He said he told Mr. Truman $1,000,000 was needed for the rescue work.

The funds are being used to open highways and roads to food supplies and water can be delivered to stranded cattle and snowbound ranchers. Fleming is to leave Monday for a tour of the stricken area. He said new reports of emergencies came from Montana and Arizona and he said he might make allocations to those states later.

Gov. Peterson said a Congressional appropriation of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 was needed to relieve the desperate conditions in Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota. About 135 bulldozers already have been assigned to the Nebraska blizzard area and more from the Fifth Army were on the way. But the new snow blockade halted the relief work.

Congress is mapping plans to boost by another $3,000,000 the current fund available for relief in 10 western states.

Russians Refuse Tell Number Of Prisoners Kept

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Russia has rebuffed a new United States attempt to learn how many thousands of German war prisoners are still in Soviet hands.

Government officials disclosed yesterday that the Russian foreign office at the same time turned aside an American request for specific information about when the last of the Germans captured by the Red Army will be allowed to go home.

The United States asked for an exact date; the Russians said only that the prisoners will be repatriated sometime in 1949.

Some 400,000 prisoners of war may still be in Soviet camps, although government officials say reliable information is hard to get.

Firemen Answer, And Get Thanks

Baltimore, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A fire alarm from downtown Baltimore got plenty of action today.

It was answered by: Four engine companies, two truck companies, one hose wagon, one water tower, a battalion chief, deputy chief and a police scout car.

They found Louis Schiffman of Columbia, S. C., and a parked tractor-trailer. He turned in the alarm when the brake bands started smoking.

But they had cooled off now, and thanks a lot, he told the assembled firefighters.

398 More Seats

Chairman E. E. Rawl of the ECTC Stadium Stadium Committee, who is doing a wonderful lot of work for the benefit of expanding the athletic program at the college, reported today that $21,116.30 had been contributed to the fund, and that $3,983.70 is still needed to secure the $25,000 goal.

There still are 398 stadium seats to be sold at $10 each in order to reach the quota.

Chairman Rawl suggests that public spirited citizens and friends of the college mail for seats at $10 each to Treasurer J. Herbert Waldrop at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

Red Demands Put Nanking On Spot

Nanking, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Communist gunners planted artillery on the north bank of the Yangtze, east of Nanking, and ominously warned this chaotic capital today: If the government wants to show its sincerity for peace, it will not move.

But it was too late. A careful check failed to locate a single Nationalist government cabinet member in Nanking. All were admitted to some extent a few whose skeletons offices reported their "out."

But their offices refused to say where they had gone.

Hopes for peace within the predictable future faded almost to the vanishing point.

The latest communist demand that the government remain in Nanking, was telephoned from President Peiping by acting President Li Tsung-Jen's special representative. Commenting on the demand, an informed Chinese source observed:

"Li Sung-Jen may find some way out, but we Chinese cannot imagine what it will be."

This source added that the demand places Li "in an impossible position and ostensibly means there will be no peace."

The communists artillery emplacements are situated so they can shell river, rail and highway traffic to Shanghai, China's industrial and commercial center, 150 miles east by south.

London, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Britain, Belgium and the Netherlands announced today they had given De Facto recognition to the government of Israel.

Their separate announcements were made after the Foreign Ministers of the Brussels alliance stated yesterday they had come to a joint decision to tender recognition to the eight-month-old provisional Jewish regime.

A Prolonged Conflict

Secretary Royall's Outlook On The Cold War; How Long Will It Be Continued? Illustration Of Two-Front Cold War; An Upheaval Required To Stop Moscow

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Secretary of the Army Royall has told the armed services committee of the U.S. House of Representatives "there appears little likelihood for a number of years to come we will be free of an international situation fraught with danger and subject to marked fluctuations."

We are entitled, I take it, to assume that the secretary was talking about the "cold war" which Bolshevik Russia is waging against the democracies. He cautioned that while war isn't imminent, it is "at least a possibility." Therefore America must maintain adequate defenses.

The question immediately arises as to how long the world is going to be tortured by this Red aggression. The answer naturally must be speculative, but there are certain things which are clear enough.

One of the absolute certainties is that Russia won't abandon her world revolution for the spread of Communism so long as she can move a muscle. That means she will keep it up until some as yet unforeseen element stops her in her tracks.

Should some unexpected contingency produce a hot war, that would provide the element which would stop the Bolsheviks in their tracks. Russia couldn't win a war against

Congress Asked To Enact Law Stripped Of Court Injunction Provisions Which Provoked Protests From Organized Labor

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — The Administration today asked Congress to enact a new labor law stripped of the court injunction provisions which have brought such vigorous protests from organized labor.

The "one-package" labor bill sent to the Senate Labor Committee would repeal the controversial Taft-Hartley law and restore the old Wagner Labor Relations Act with "improvements" asked by President Truman.

Secretary of Labor Tobin is due to go before the committee Monday to explain provisions of the new measure, which was released to reporters by the committee today without comment.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, the government has had authority to obtain court orders to bar strikes for an 80-day period after other means of settlement had failed. These orders can be sought where the national welfare is involved.

This provision was vigorously opposed by labor groups which demanded Taft-Hartley repeal as an issue in the election campaign last fall.

Under the new law proposed by the Administration, a 30-day "cooling off" period would be provided. This is designated to avert "national paralysis" strikes.

The first step would be for the President to appoint an emergency fact-finding board. Such boards would have authority to make recommendations for settlement. Under the Taft-Hartley law inquiry boards can report only on the issues without suggesting any solution.

Tobin did the main drafting job on the bill, with the help of NLRB members Paul M. Herzog and Abe Murdock, and Conciliation Director Cyrus R. China, among others.

After more than 24 hours of haggling over words, the measure was passed on to Mr. Truman, who relayed it to the Senate Labor Committee after giving his approval.

Members of that committee have staged a running fight for days over the bill's so-called provisions, and the method for handling it.

Over heated Republican protests, Democratic members of the group agreed to aim at cutting off hearings on the measure by February 10.

And the Democrats did nothing to smooth GOP tempers when they indicated that the hearings would be devoted almost entirely to considering changes in the Wagner Act, with Taft-Hartley repeal brushed aside as virtually a foregone conclusion.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.), a committee member said yesterday's delay indicated the "Administration is having great difficulty agreeing on just what its program is."

Aiken said the 8 to 5 party line committee decision to hold brief hearings was "rather silly attempt to satisfy some labor leaders and underestimate the average working man's mentality."

Bringing School Enjoys Lois Lenski Books For the past two weeks it has been hard to get a Lois Lenski book from our library. Everyone from the youngest to the oldest who could get one of her books was reading Lois Lenski, for she writes for children from 3-12. The little children love to read about Mr. Small in his "little auto, little airplane, little train and little fire engine." Lois Lenski is not only a very good writer, but an excellent illustrator, and her illustrations in the Mr. Small books explain to the smaller children very clearly how each vehicle works.

Charlie White made an excellent poster illustrating scenes from many of her books about Mr. Small. This made the children more curious to read the books.

Margaret McCrory made a very interesting poster of characters from Lois Lenski's books for older children. These books were of special interest to the children, because they are about children of the same age. Her books are authentic, too, because she actually lives in and gets to know the region about which the books are written. She writes as knowingly about New England in "Blueberry Corners," as she does about North Carolina in "Blue Ridge Billy" or about Florida in "Strawberry Girl."

A combination of all these qualities makes Lois Lenski one of our most outstanding juvenile authors. DINAH PORTER ANN RUFFIN

Fine Lot Students At College Helped Make Dance Success

By CHESTER WALSH The "March of Dimes" ball for the benefit of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation at East Carolina Teachers College Thursday night, was a wonderful success. Attendance was gratifying and guests were there from many places in Eastern Carolina. The music, furnished by a college dance orchestra, was exceptionally good. A thoroughly representative audience of spectators was present.

The "March of Dimes" dance is an important annual social event with much of the "good neighbor" spirit prevailing. The best of order prevailed. Motorists were considerate in parking their cars. Many of the college officials and faculty members mingled with the guests and appeared to enjoy the fellowship.

The Lions' club had charge of sale of tickets. An impressive feature of public events at ETCO, whether a concert, dance, boxing match, basketball game or a public speaking, is the friendly attitude and excellent conduct of the students, and their sincere activity in encouraging and maintaining the principles of the institution.

The students at East Carolina Teachers College are a fine lot of boys and girls, aiming to improve their place in life, and setting a lofty example to others in refined cultured and Christian living, a man very much interested in the community, said to a Daily Reflector reporter last night, "and the people of Greenville and the state should be proud of them," he added.

We have a funny collard in our room. Mrs. Hadley's uncle gave it to her. It grew in his garden. He is 87 years old and this is the first collard he has ever seen like this one.

Third Grade The third grade has collected $17.51 for the March of Dimes. We think that is fine. We could have done better than that. Don't you think so.

We are studying about England. We like it very much.—Mildred Bowden.

Our grade has collected $17.51 for the March of Dimes. We think we could still do better.

Sixth Grade For the past two weeks we have been collecting money for the March of Dimes. Our room has forty-five dollars.—Dennis Bullock.

Abandon Search For Navy Fliers Lost Four Days

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A widespread air search for the missing naval pilots has been abandoned, Naval spokesmen said today.

Yesterday more than 100 naval and Coast Guard planes flew some 250 miles out to sea in an area from Onancock south to Capt Hatters. The Weeksville, N. C., area was also combed.

Wreckage, said to be from each of the planes, washed ashore yesterday on the North Carolina coast. Aboard the missing craft were Ensign John Spaulding of Hartford, Mich., and Ensign Donald Carlgren of Virginia Beach. The men have been missing since fog closed in over the Oceanic Naval Auxiliary air station Tuesday while the pilots were aloft.

Report Crewmen Saved Icebreaker

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Heroic action of two engine-room crewmen on the ill-fated Coast Guard icebreaker Eastwind was credited yesterday with saving the vessel from sinking or blowing up.

Their feat was described by Lt. Comdr. Charles E. Leising, engineer officer of Belmont, Mass., at a hearing of a Coast Guard board probing the sea disaster which took the lives of 13 Coast Guardsmen Jan. 19.

Leising said that Ronald R. Wehner, of Rocky Ridge, Ohio, and Louis D. Wilson, of Charlotte, N.C., grouped their way through smoke-filled passages to turn on a power generator after the cutter was rammed by the 10,000-ton oil tanker Gulfstream off the New Jersey coast. The generator provided power to run auxiliary pumps which were used to get water out of the flooding parts and to fight a fire aboard the cutter.

"If we hadn't put that generator on," said Leising, "I don't think the ship would have been saved."

Senators Back His Nomination

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Jacob C. Bowman of Marion, N. C., has been recommended to President Truman for nomination as United States Marshal for Western district of North Carolina.

Senators Hoey and Broughton agreed yesterday to support Bowman, who is secretary of the McDowell county Democratic executive committee.

H. W. Jordan To Succeed Graham

Raleigh, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Governor Scott announced yesterday that Dr. Henry W. Jordan, a member of the State Highway Commission since 1945, will succeed A. H. Graham as State Highway head.

Jordan will hold the post as acting chairman, Scott said, until a permanent chairman can be appointed in the spring. George Coble Lexington dairyman and a strong Scott supporter in the primaries, is the most frequently mentioned possibility for the job.

World Bank May Again Try Pry Loose Millions

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The World Bank may make a fresh stab soon at prying loose millions of American dollars from European hiding places, so they can be used to help foreign economic recovery.

Officials said the bank hopes to lure the sorely-needed U.S. cash into its coffers with special bond sales. The plan is to try the new method first in Belgium, with a $10,000,000 "pilot issue."

If that succeeds in coaxing money out of hoarding, so it can be added to the bank's loan funds, the project will be repeated in other countries.

Mrs. Georgette Brucks, 21, of Los Angeles, is so repentant over heating her baby son to death in a fit of anger that she offered to have herself made sterile. Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose accepted her offer and formally ordered sterilization as a provision for placing her on probation. An expectant mother, Mrs. Brucks also offered to give away another son, Donald, 20 months old, and her unborn child. (AP Wirephoto).

Monday Deadline

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Motor Vehicle owners who have not bought their 1949 license plates have until Monday to do so.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington.—When the news got around that Republican Congressman Margaret Chase Smith of Maine was going to run for the Senate in the 81st Congress, a colleague remarked: "She's sure of winning—else she wouldn't run."

Win she did, roundly defeating three men in the primary. Thus she became the first woman Republican senator and the first woman to have served in both Houses. She has never been defeated in a political election.

She won a special election to succeed her husband, Rep. Clyde H. Smith, when he died in 1940, and as Maine's first congresswoman she set and broken precedents. It appears she will do the same thing as senator. She has just been appointed member of the GOP Policy Committee, an appointment which the committee staff termed "without precedent in American political life."

The old "seniority rule" which allows the senator with longest continued service to rank first was relaxed for her. The staff in a statement concluded: "It is a demonstration of the esteem with which she is held by her Republican colleagues in the Senate and a tribute to her achievement in becoming the first woman to win a Senate seat in her own right without prior service under appointment."

Three months after Mrs. Smith had completed her husband's expired term, she ran again for her own first term as representative from Maine. She was re-elected in 1942, '44 and '46.

"Don't trade a record for a promise" was her slogan in her recent campaign, conducted with the handicap of a broken arm, the result of a fall.

Mrs. Smith, who is 50 and looks younger, with softly coiffed gray hair dramatically streaked with white, nice blue eyes and wide smile, was born in Skowhegan, Me. in the same modest frame house where she and her mother still live.

Her profession is equally modest. As a high school teacher she spent some time in the five-and-a-half-cent school. She became a telephone operator teacher, office manager and later a newspaperwoman.

During World War II, she donned overalls, was the first woman to go to sea on a navy destroyer. On a 25,000 mile Pacific war inspection trip, she was also the first to cruise on a "flat-top." She became unofficial "mother of the WAVES" after

Missing Trawler Is Back In Port

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A 55-foot trawler with five crewmen aboard returned to Charleston today after being missing for two days.

The trawler, the Him Dozier, was taken in tow last night by the Coast Guard cutter Travis 18 miles east of Charleston.

The Dozier, found lying at anchor with a broken engine, left Charleston Monday for the Blackfish Banks. She had been scheduled to return to Charleston Wednesday and she was unheard from, an intensive sea and air search was undertaken.

Believes Nazi Has Had Enough

Morganton, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The man who commanded the American detachment that captured Nazi diplomat Franz Von Papen believes the aging German has "probably been punished enough."

Col. H. J. Latcher, former state highway patrol commander who was the Ninth Army Provost Marshal, made this comment at his home here after learning yesterday of Von Papen's release from prison.

Thinks Minority Supports Truman

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—House Republican leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts thinks the Truman administration is "a minority administration" which is "skimming off too much of the National income for federal taxes."

Martin spoke at a chamber of commerce meeting here last night.

Defending the oft criticized 80th Congress, Martin said that many of the acts of that body which President Truman denounced are about to be endorsed and continued by the Democratic 81st.

Adm. Blandy Commissions Newest Addition To Navy

Newport News, Va., Jan. 28—(AP)—The commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet said today America's "fighting force must be able to act in any part of the world."

World War II is over "but this is not yet a peaceful world," said Adm. W.H.P. Blandy in a speech prepared for ceremonies commissioning the heavy cruiser Newport News.

"It is still a world," he said, "in which aggressor nations can and do impose their will upon their weaker neighbors, trying to gain some advantage in the way of natural resources, industry or commerce; or trying to force an unwanted political system upon the weaker nation."

"The latter may be another step in a campaign to convert the whole world to Communism . . . the way to block such aggression is for peace loving and non-aggressive nations like ours to help the weaker nations to resist, by giving them financial aid, by showing them the benefits of true democracy, and backing it up by the possession of a strong fighting force, which is the argument aggressors understand best."

"This is clearly the course being followed now by the United States. And our fighting force must be able to act in any part of the world, not just at home. That's where the Navy comes in."

The 17,000-ton Newport News, named for the city where she was built, is a larger, faster ship with greater fire power and cruising range and more protection from air attack than any previous heavy cruiser.

Her main battery of nine rapid firing, eight-inch guns have fire power estimated at four times greater than previous eight-inchers. They are fully automatic and a radical innovation in ordnance.

Hold Negro Man On Rape Charge; On $1,000 Bond

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington, in habeas corpus proceedings in Superior Court today, fixed bonds for James Sheppard, middle-aged Negro, charged with raping a Negro woman, at $1,000. He had not provided bail at noon.

Sheppard was in Police Court Friday morning on the charge of raping Lillie Hyman, middle-aged Negro woman. Judge J. W. H. Reynolds found probable cause and bound him over to Superior Court under $1,000 bail.

Lillie Hyman testified in Police Court that Sheppard accosted her on January 21 and used a pistol to force her to go with him to a suburb near the old Barbecue Inn, in the southeastern part of the city, and raped her. She testified that she submitted in fear of her life.

She further testified that Sheppard accosted her again at night and forced her to go with him to Fifth street and the Coast Line Railroad, and again assaulted her under threats of death.

She told the court that she then reported the matter to police and Sheppard was arrested. She testified that Sheppard threatened to kill her if she resisted.

tensified, in Moscow's opinion, by the proposed North Atlantic pact. It concluded by declaring Russia is going to fight "more firmly and more insistently" against the alleged attempt to wreck the U.N.

The western European union, the statement said, was a "link in a chain of measures involved in plans for establishing Anglo-American world dominion."

This union, it added, was but a "military-political complement to the economic grouping of European countries which was created to carry out the Marshall Plan" and both "receive their direction from the ruling circles of the Anglo-U.S.A. bloc."

Superior Court Adjourns Today

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington adjourned the criminal term of Superior Court shortly before noon today. The next criminal term will be held here the week of March 28.

The New Hanover county jurist and Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy considerably reduced an unusually heavy criminal docket this week.

Cases disposed of yesterday included the following:
John Wesley Hawkins, colored robbery, three to five years in State Prison, suspended on condition that he pay to Ella Phillips, colored, $20, and courts costs. He was placed on probation five years.

The cases charging Jacob Nobles Henry L. Seymour and Norman C. Chaffin with non-support, were not pressed.

Walter James McKeel, four cases of breaking, entering and larceny, five to seven years in State Prison sentence to start at the end of term now being served. In another case he was given three to five years sentence to run concurrently.

A divorce decree was granted to Viola F. Boyd against Wilbur E. Boyd.

In the case of Milton Ross and Orville Bryant, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, he pleaded guilty of assault, and the court continued prayer for judgment for two years on condition that he pay court costs and behave for two years.

Charlie Wooten, non-support, six months on the roads, suspended on payment to the court clerk of $50 now for Bettie L. Gorham and $4 a week to the welfare department starting January 31, and pay court costs.

Twenty-two cases of driving drunk were on the docket. Three defendants were tried and acquitted. Two were called and failed to answer.

Railroads Near Agreement With Sixteen Unions

Chicago, Jan. 28—(AP)—Representatives of the Nation's railroads and 16 non-operating unions planned further week-hour talks today and prospects appeared favorable for settlement.

"Things look very favorable for a settlement soon," an source close to the carriers' committee said.

The unions, representing 1,000,000 workers, can call a strike at any time if negotiations over the wage-hour issue fails. All legal steps required before a strike call is issued were taken prior to the latest discussions between the rail and union officials.

Meanwhile, in Washington, President Truman acted to avert a strike of 25,000 engineers on 15 Western railroads for at least 60 days. He appointed an emergency fact-finding board to study the dispute between the carriers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Chicagoans Join Tulsa Landlords

Chicago, Jan. 28—(AP)—Some 750 Chicago landlords who said they own 88,000 Chicago rental units have overwhelmingly approved a plan to withdraw their property from the rental market as a means of fighting federal rent controls.

The whistling, clapping landlords jumped to their feet at an informal meeting last night when a standing vote was taken on the mass- eviction "Tulsa plan."

Near Final Stages For 'Follies Of 1949'

By FRANK HOGG
This year's Veterans Minstrel "Follies of 1949" will be presented in the Austin building on the East Carolina Teachers campus on the nights of February 9-10.

The entire cast under the direction of Eli Bloom and Marie Wallace have been working on the show since early October. Rehearsals had to be spaced due to conflicts but the co-operation of the cast has highly pleased both Mr. Bloom and Miss Wallace. Everything in life worthwhile requires effort so if we judge this year's Minstrel by the hard work put into it by all those concerned, then the show is sure to surpass the acclaim given to the two previous shows, "Dixieland Minstrel" and "Follies of 1948."

Once again an evening of enjoyment is heading our way in the form of songs you love to hear, hilarious jokes, beautiful chorus girls, etc. Many of last year's cast are once again back with us in this show such as Bob Mays, Keith Kilpatrick, Gayles Giles, Fred Ourt, etc. Many new faces will appear this year in all phases of the show and among the most notable will be the golden voiced Betty Croom, blues singer Bernard Ham, and Humphrey Porter, 300 lbs. of dancing man—yes, I said dancing—if you don't believe it then be in the audience on one of the two nights the show will be presented.

One sad note among the cast of the show is the loss of Paul Upchurch, one of last year's stellar endmen who is awaiting his commission as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. It is doubtful if Mr. Upchurch will be around long enough to take part in the show. Ben Hester, Charlie Whiteford, Garland Hill, Joe Williams and Jim Prier who appeared last year as endmen along with Mr. Upchurch will not be with us this year. However, Eli Bloom is noted for his achievements in producing the kind of material he needs so we can be sure he'll find capable men for the job

Settlement Is Still A Mystery

Washington, Jan. 28—(AP)—Terms of a surprise settlement in the contest over Mrs. Eleanor M. Patterson's $16,856,000 will remained a mystery today.

Evolution . . .
to reach the kind of labor law we seem to be approaching now.

And whatever the new law is, labor and employers probably will keep on see-sawing for other changes next year, and next, and next.

So watching the government work is like looking at evolution itself at work.

And it is just that: The evolution of a society, shifting, changing, trying patches or a new road to fit the needs.

A dictatorship, where one man makes decision and the people are mute, can move faster. Like a tiger. But how would you like to live with a tiger?

A Prolonged . . .
for a great many years. The only thing which can alter this is some upheaval which will cripple the striking power of the Moscow directed Bolshevik machine.

We know—as this column has been pointing out—that there is revolt in the hearts of many of the Russian slave states of Eastern Europe. There is much evidence that some, if not all, of the satellites would rise up against their oppressors if they could.

Some day the revolt will come. Of that I am convinced. But when? There can be no estimate of that now. We've just got to keep on sawing wood, and maybe some of us old timers never will see the end of the cold war.

The only sure thing is that the length of our sentence is shortened by every blow struck at Bolshevism.

Babson . . .
from the Sun, but a large percentage of the present cost of raising foods would be eliminated. The first step would be to apply these experiments to canned juices of various kinds and later perhaps to dairy products. These will exceed in taste and nutrition certain present products and will give us the Sun's energy in a far cheaper and more efficient manner.

What Would Happen To Business?
What such a discovery would do to us economically I leave to your imagination! A limited amount of farm lands would be wanted for industrial products. Rayon, pulp, plastic and many other manufactured materials will always be dependent upon products of the soil. We, moreover, will continue to demand certain "whole" vegetables and fruits. Our stomachs require bulk which cannot be satisfied by juices or pills. When one considers the labor now engaged in the raising and processing of products now sold as juices, many million people might be thrown out of work and forced into other occupations.

Lands now used for fruit and some other agricultural purposes could decline in value. Railroads which depend largely upon the transportation of certain agricultural products, fertilizers, farm machinery, etc. could suffer. On the other hand, other lines such as building, clothing, fuels, automobiles, recreation and real estate in sunny states could have a great boom. This confirms the need of broad diversification in our investments which I have constantly preached in this column. Of course, this change is not coming all at once. Electronic juice and milk may be healthier than present non-enriched juices, yet no juices can equal properly grown whole fruit and leafy vegetables of which we should eat much more.

What About World War III?
Such a discovery today could completely upset Russia's plans. With birth control and electronic foods, the arguments for Communism would disappear. Then we could have real world peace and a powerful United Nations. In fact, it is reasonable to believe that scientists at Argonne, Ill., Brookhaven, L. I., and Oak Ridge, Tenn., have this thought as their incentive which keeps them at work.

Endorse Use Of Voting Machines

By GIL BILLINGS
Raleigh, Jan. 28—An automatic voting machine has been demonstrated in the rotunda of the capitol during the week. This is an indication that the committees on elections and election laws paid close attention to Governor Scott's inaugural address. Scott emphasized that "the time has come for us to seriously consider the use of mechanical devices . . . in all our elections."

John McCormack, a factory representative, has been demonstrating the machine to committees and others in the capitol. He has emphasized the simplicity of operation, speed of voting, lack of defective ballots and reduced election expenses. Another of the outstanding advantages, McCormack said, is the rapidity of tabulation.

A recent survey made during the 1948 General Election of November 2 by the company showed a twenty thousand dollar saving in one county. The greatest expenditure was for judges and clerks. Machine voting decreased the figure by forty-four thousand dollars. Increases in maintenance, storage and insurance were the principle rises in costs for the machinery.

According to McCormack leading newspapers of the nation invariably advocate and urge the installation of voting machines to replace the antiquated and inefficient system of paper ballots. He proved his statement with quotations from leading papers.

Legislation permitting the use of voting machines in North Carolina has not yet been drawn up. The impending bill would delegate to the counties and municipalities the right to decide if the machines would be used in their localities. Some legislators have indicated that they advocate trying several of the machines out in their counties.

HER SECRET STAR

By Bonnie C. Hall

Chapter 19

They were out on the highway en route to Carrolton before they spoke to each other again. Then Jack said: "You've been pretty much of a fool, Gertrude. Don't you think it's about time you were growing up?" Gertrude didn't answer, so they drove along in silence for a little while. Contrary to his usual custom, Jack was driving slowly, although the highway was fairly clear at this hour.

"Your heart's not broken, toots," he smiled down at her in the darkness. "In less than a week it'll be as good as new. You'll forget you ever knew Bobby Costello. Gee, Gertrude, he's an old man—just an old city slicker trying to make like a boy."

Jack Gertrude was silent. She was fully aware that the orchestra leader was not a young man, but his attentions had flattered her all the more. "Maybe I shouldn't have punched the old fool," Jack went on to say. "However, I'm glad I did." "I'm glad you did too," Gertrude announced impulsively. "In a way, it served him right."

Suddenly it happened! It was a time when Jack Barnes, known all over the county for his reckless disregard for speed limits, should be driving at what was practically a dog-trot. He saw the heavy truck approaching on the other side of the highway; saw the big Cadillac dart out from behind the truck and plunge forward. It was careening wild across the highway into the wrong lane. It was coming toward them at a maddening speed, as if bent upon destroying itself as well as every other vehicle on the road.

Even as he whirled the steering wheel in a desperate attempt to get out of the way of the approaching car, Jack knew it was no use. Above the sound of the crash, he heard Gertrude's despairing prayer: "Please, God—don't let me die!" Betty sat in the living room, straining her ears for the sound of Jack Barnes' car, wishing the telephone would ring, hoping for anything that might bring some reassuring word of Gertrude. It was two o'clock now. Jack had been gone for over two hours.

Upstairs David Warren, in his kindly if clumsy way, was doing his best to make his wife comfortable. He had long since despaired of persuading her that Gertrude was well able to take care of herself; that, given time, she would return home of her own accord. He was trying to conceal his own anxiety by means of considerable bluster and much bustling around.

Destroyers Join Hunt For Bomber

London, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Two U.S. destroyers sailed from French ports today to assist an intensive air search for an American B-29 Superfortress which disappeared two days ago with 15 aboard. The search centered in Atlantic waters off the northwest African coast, where two shore direction finder stations reported hearing emergency Morse code signals. The Third U.S. Air Division headquarters in London, which commands British-based Superfortresses, said weather in the ocean area where the plane is believed down continued good. A spokesman said the Air Force is hopeful that survivors of the missing plane will be rescued.

Eight Superfortresses from the Marham, England, B-29 base—to which the missing plane was bound on a training flight from Dakar, French West Africa—winged off today to join the hunt. Other American, British and French planes are participating in the search from far-flung bases at Gibraltar, French Morocco and the Azores.

Kiwanians Enjoy Musical Program Supper Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
The Greenville Kiwanis Club, at its weekly supper meeting last night, had one of the best programs in a long time, when the "Sage Brush Boys," talented musicians who appear on the Washington radio station twice daily, presented the songs and numbers the Kiwanians like to hear. John Clifford was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Mary McCrary, councillor for the State Employment Security Commission explained to the Kiwanians that her department is going to work along with the Kiwanis Club's Vocational Guidance Committee in finding placements for high school boys and girls when they leave school.

President Arthur Tripp presided during the first half of the meeting, and then Vice-President Tiger Gardner took over and handled the program and made the announcements. The Greenville Kiwanians will attend the Farmville Kiwanis Club's meeting next Monday night at 7 o'clock. J. Archie Rogers, member of the board of directors, announced that he will be host at supper for the officers and directors at Respective place next Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

Four Kiwanians, Clyde Hollowell, Charles Wilkinson, B. B. Sugg and Roy Coburn, had birthdays and each donated a nickel for each year of his age to the Kiwanis "good will" fund.

The "Sage Brush Boys" were invited to provide another program in the near future. They are Bob Boyd, bass fiddle; Darrell Leggett, violin; Eimer Leggett, guitar, and David Paramore, mandolin. Boyd is the vocalist.

Carl Turner, Junior Kiwanian for the month, was a special guest.

GHS Quintets Again Trounce Elizabeth City

Varsity Averts Defeat As Jayvees Easily Win

Juniors Scored 51-20 Triumph; Varsity Chalks Up Fifth Conference Win By 38-35 Score

A completely rejuvenated Elizabeth City Yellow Jacket basketball five threatened to upset the Phantoms of Greenville high school last night but the Bo Farley boys froze the ball in the last minute of play and chalked up conference win number five with a score of 38 to 35. In a preliminary contest the potent Greenville Jayvees scored an easy 61 to 20 win over the Junior Yellow Jackets.

The varsity game was a thriller throughout. In the first half the score changed hands eight times and Greenville was out in front 19 to 17 at intermission. First quarter score was 10 to 9.

In the third period the Phantoms widened the margin and were leading by 9 points midway the quarter. At the end of the third stanza the Greenville club was ahead 31 to 23.

But the Jackets then threw a fast break offense into the game and were within one point of a tie with six minutes left to play. The Greenville lads scored five more points to make a total of 38 and were content to freeze the ball in the last minute and send the Jackets back to Elizabeth City trailing a 38 to 35 defeat.

John Farley paced the winners with 12 points while Garland Anderson scored 10 points for the losers.

Coach Farley's Jayvees found little trouble with the visiting Juniors. With Haymes and Briley leading the scoring parade they ran up a 20 to 9 lead by halftime and were still widening the gap at the end of the third quarter when the score stood 37 to 14.

The Elizabeth City boys could not cope with the fancy ball handling and accurate shooting of the locals. No more than one field goal was scored by any of the Elizabeth City Juniors during the game.

Haymes scored 12 and Briley 11 for the locals. Gregory and Scott with five each were high scorers for the losers.

Penn State's big blocking back, Chuck Drazenovich, is ready to represent the Nittany Lions in college boxing competition. The 215-pound football hero last year won the heavyweight championship in the Inter-collegiate Boxing Association's annual tournament. The Brownsville, Pa., giant, a 60-minute player in football, was introduced to the ring game last year by Penn State's veteran coach, Leo Houck. After dropping his opening bout to Joe Corleto, of Western Maryland, Drazenovich went the rest of the season without a defeat. His record for the season showed six victories and one defeat.

Coach Houck, who has tutored some outstanding college boxers, among them Steve Hamas of professional heavyweight fame, considers Drazenovich the best looking heavyweight prospect in his 27 years of collegiate coaching. Drazenovich can hit hard with either hand and is a cool, clever boxer under fire.

"Drazenovich uses his left hand better than most college heavyweights," says Coach Houck, adding that "he also can hit, but last year I advised Chuck to perfect his boxing before plunging into the hitting end of the game. That is why it was not until the final bout of the season, in the championship tournament, that Drazenovich scored his first knockout triumph." Drazenovich has a brother, Joe, who was a member of the football team, fought in the college championship tournament but is not a contender for a varsity post.

Pirates And Lenoir Rhyne Cagers Play Here Tonight

Revenge Sought By Davidson And Geo. Washington

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two of the finest teams in the Southern Conference will be out for revenge tonight.

The clubs are George Washington's Colonials and Davidson's Wildcats.

George Washington, boasting a record of six league wins and two losses, face North Carolina State's top-place Wolfpack at Washington D.C. Davidson invades Durham N.C., to tangle with Duke's Blue Devils.

It was back on December 6 that the Colonials met the Pack the first time. State won without too much trouble, 66-37.

Davidson played Duke December 17. And the result was a 58-41 triumph for the Blue Devils.

Furman's Paladins, tied with South Carolina for second place in the circuit standings, move to North Carolina to clash with the Tar Heels. In the fourth conference struggle, the University of Richmond Spiders go to Blacksburg, Va., for their first test of the season against Virginia Tech's Gobblers.

In non-conference competition Maryland is at Miami University for the second night after beating the Florida quintet, 43-42, last night; Virginia Military Institute travels to Roanoke College, and the Citadel will be host to Presbyterian.

Davidson's Wildcats turned in a 47-37 upset victory over North Carolina last night at Chapel Hill, N.C. The Wildcats scored first and were in command all the way. Whit Cobb, Davidson guard, dropped 18 points through the hoops to take scoring honors. Nemo Nearman led the Tar Heels with 10.

North Carolina State marked up their twenty-sixth straight Southern Conference win over a three-year period last night when the "Hooster Hotshots" routed Richmond's Spiders, 77-56. State Forward Sam Ranzino contributed 24 points. The decision was State's sixth this year in conference play.

The Citadel Bulldogs tried again for their first victory this season and failed. Newberry handed the Citadel its ninth loss, 68-47.

Seek Title Bout

New York, Jan. 23—(AP)—Kid Gavilan will post forfeit for a Welterweight title match with Sugar Ray Robinson off his exciting upset victory over the Williams, the lightweight king.

The 20th Century Sporting Club has something else in mind. A 15-round rematch of last night's 10-round non-title battle with Ike. Frank "Blinky" Palermo, Williams' manager, is in full agreement with the promoters.

"No soap," says Angel Lopez, Gavilan's manager, "no third match. Why should we fight him again? I will go to the New York State commission Monday or Tuesday and put up the money demanding that Robinson fight us."

Plenty Of Action For North State

By the Associated Press
Followers of North State Conference basketball can take their pick of games tonight.

In the busiest night of the annual race, all nine conference teams will see action, and four of the games will match conference rivals.

Top interest will center on the High Point-Western Carolina game at High Point, and the Catawba at Elon contest. A High Point loss and a Catawba win would give Catawba a slight statistical advantage in the league's race which so far has been dominated by High Point.

High Point defeated Western Carolina, 63-46, last night to remain undefeated in conference play. In the night's only other game, Lenoir Rhyne trounced Watauga, 53-44.

Other games tonight: Guilford at Atlantic Christian, Lenoir Rhyne at East Carolina, and Chatham at Appalachian.

Louis continues Outclass Boxers
Tampa, Fla., Jan. 23—(AP)—An estimated 5,500 persons turned out last night to see champion Joe Louis trade punches with Nino Valdes of Havana, Cuba in a four-round exhibition bout.

Moye And Everton To Start For Locals; Bears Chalked Up 71-49 Win When They Last Met

By EUGENE PRICE
The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates bring out their big guns tonight when they play host to the Lenoir-Rhyne Bears in a North State conference clash contest getting underway at eight o'clock.

It was reported yesterday that Charlie Bill Moye and big Jack Everton, scoring stars for the ECTC quintet this season, would be among the starters in tonight's game. It will be the first action for Moye since he broke a toe two weeks ago in the Elon game. Everton has been hampered considerably by two sprained ankles and early in the week it looked doubtful that either of the men would be able to start.

Coach Howard Porter points out however, that neither boy will be in top shape for the game here tonight. He doubts that they will be back in prime condition before the Appalachian game at Boone next weekend.

In their initial clash this season the Bears trounced the Bucs 71 to 49 by virtue of a dazzling first half offensive which saw the winners chalk up 38 points and hold the ECTC boys to 15.

The Bucs, despite the injuries hampering their two top men, are expected to put up a much better fight on the home court. They have lost but one game here. They have won only one on an opponents hardwood.

Probable starting lineups tonight: Lenoir-Rhyne Pos. East C'nsina
Kontorski F Everton
Sellari F Moye
Acerra C Fennell
Wells G Maennie
Newsome G Bauer

Holdout Trouble Seen For Tigers

Detroit, Jan. 23—(AP)—A hint of possible holdout trouble intruded today on the Detroit Tigers, up to now apparently a happy family all around.

Their dependable center fielder, Walter (Hot) Evans, even though it contained a pay boost from last year. Evans returned his contract un-

Snow Hill—Greenville's National Guard Basketball club, paced by Dick Palmer and Sellers, romped to a 66 to 49 cage victory over the Snow Hill All-Stars here last night.

Sowers with 14, James with 13 and Hinson with 10 were leading scorers for the losing Snow Hill boys.

Greenville led 31 to 27 at half time.

Foreign Threats In Millrose Mile

New York, Jan. 23—(AP)—Unless Don Gehrman can run fast enough to prevent it, the Wanamaker mile may go to a foreign invader for the first time in its history tonight.

Half a dozen hand-picked athletes are entered for this feature of the Millrose games in Madison Square Garden.

Gehrman, 20-year-old Wisconsin ace who holds the Big Nine and NCAA titles, is this country's chief hope to continue a string of American triumphs that has gone unbroken in this event for 23 years.

The great Paavo Nurmi won the Wanamaker Cup in 1925, but the distance of the race in those days was a mile and a half. It was changed in 1926.

Lining up with Gehrman tonight will be Ingvar Bengtsson of Sweden, Willy Slykhuus of Holland and John Twomey of the Illinois Athletic Club, Tommy Quinn of the New York Athletic Club and Phil O'Connell of Manhattan College.

All told, the field for the 23-event program beginning at 8 p. m. will include athletes from 15 states and three foreign countries, 16 of whom competed in the London Olympics.

George Washington University's basketball squad plays 23 games this season.
