Hope U.S. Move Will Speed Arab And Jewish Pact

Officials Look For Entry Of Israel Into UN; U. S. Pledge Fulfilled

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—U. S. officials held out hope today that a settlement of the Arab-Jew dispute may be a step nearer now with full American recognition of both Israel and Trans-Jordan.

They looked for the dual recognition also to: 1. Increase Israel's chances for early election to membership in the United Nations.

2. Encourage other governments to recognize Trans-Jordan. (Before Trans-Jordan can get into the U. N. there may have to be a change in present relations between Russia and the west. The Soviets vetoed its admission last year.)

President Truman formally welcomed the two countries into the world family of nations last yesterday. By granting full "De Jure" recognition to Israel, he carried out a campaign pledge made last Oct. 24. The White House noted the President said then this American backing would be forthcoming following the first national elections by the new state.

The balloting was held last week. On its eve the U. S. approved a $100,000,000 loan for economic development of Israel. Mr. Truman had given partial, "De Facto" recognition almost at the moment the Israeli state came into being last May 14.

There was thus no question of strong American friendship for Israel.

Toward Trans-Jordan, the desert kingdom which Britain carved out of Palestine three years ago, the American attitude was less definite in advance. But officials said recognition was decided on months ago and would have been forthcoming earlier except for concern that this might be taken as a Jew for the Arabs against the Jews.

Administration Uses Influence Against Pension

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Truman administration today threw its influence against moves in Congress for pensions for all veterans.

Veterans administration Carl R. Gray, Jr., told the House Veterans committee that the proposal "could not be considered in accord with the program of the President."

The committee is studying legislation, backed by several veterans organizations, which would give all veterans of World Wars one and two a pension of $30 a month at age 60 and of $50 at age 65. There would be additional payments in event the veteran had any disability, whether or not the disability was due to service with the armed forces.

Gray said it would cost nearly $2,000,000,000 its first year and that the cost would rise annually thereafter.

New Jail Sought By Irate Sheriff

Winston-Salem, N. C., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Sheriff Ernie Shore was on the war path this morning.

His goal was a new jail. But his incentive was directed at the scandalous arrangement of the old one.

Irked by the escape last night of two more prisoners he cited again the need for new cells and a better jail arrangement.

The escapes brought to four the total breakings from the county jail here in about four months. "This is not only embarrassing," one of the deputies said, "but it costs money to get these scoundrels back."

Chamber Of Commerce Elects 1949 Officers

L. Stuart Ficklen New President; C. R. McBrayer And Robt. F. Thompson Named Vice Presidents; Alton R. Barrett New Treasurer

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce last night at its last meeting of the 1948 fiscal year, elected Louis Stuart Ficklen president for 1949. C. R. McBrayer and Robert F. Thompson were elected vice-presidents, and Alton R. Barrett new treasurer.

Retiring President Charles B. Bissette, who presided, was elected national counselor to the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The directors, by winding up a year of outstanding community service, reviewed reports of various committees, made plans for the annual banquet, to be held some time in March with a nationally known speaker to be engaged; approved Referendum No. 91, submitted by the United States Chamber of Commerce; voted that legislation is needed to clarify price rulings handed down by the Federal Trade Commission, and President Ficklen was authorized to cast the Greenville chamber's vote accordingly.

The directors, in accordance with the revised constitution and by-laws, changed the title of executive secretary to "manager," and unanimously re-elected Willard T. Kyzzer, who has held this position for 10 years.

President Ficklen, in closing the meeting, congratulated retiring Charles B. Bissette and Secretary Kyzzer for their good work during the past year. He said he plans to give considerable time to the Chamber of Commerce during the year, invited cooperation from the other

Forecaster Says Continued Cold

Near-Freezing And Freezing Weather For Carolinas

By The Associated Press

Continued cold, near-freezing and freezing weather was in prospect for the Carolinas for tonight and tomorrow.

But the weather will be dry, the weatherman said.

Except in scattered instances, communications and transportation lines were virtually back to normal today after the weekend's sleet snow and rain.

Bus drivers reported highways again were generally clear of ice and slush, and schedules were back to normal.

In North Carolina tonight, low temperatures between 18 to 24 degrees are expected in the interior, 16-23 in the mountains, and 24-30 on the coast.

The mercury was expected to range at its lowest points in South Carolina between 20 and 26 in the interior, and 26 to 32 on the coast. Minimum temperatures in North Carolina early today were:

Raleigh and Elizabeth City 33, Charlotte 32, Asheville and Hickory 27, Greensboro and Winston-Salem 29, Rocky Mount 34, Lumberton 38, Wilmington 39, and Cape Hatteras 40.

THREATENS ACTION

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Any illegal conspiracy by landlords to take housing off the market will result in federal action, possibly judicial law charges, says U. S. attorney Otto Kernner, Jr.

"We are carrying on with our search as planned for today," a third air division spokesman said. "We do not think the wreckage has anything to do with the missing B-29."

The superb took off Thursday from Dakar, French West Africa, on a training mission, bound for its base at Mayham, Eng.

The U. S. spokesman said air force life preservers are plainly marked and that the report to the Spanish Admiralty did not indicate there was any identification on those discovered by the Belgian ship. He added that the area described, midway between the Canaries and Gibraltar, had been searched by American and other planes and no signs of wreckage had been found.

"Be quiet, be quiet," said the Mayor directing the child back to his seat. Directly thereafter an alderman challenged Neville's request for public works funds.

"Be quiet, be quiet," Tommy shouted at alderman.

The tot was ousted gently from the room and taken home.

Scandinavia Will Decide Future In Next Few Days

Attitudes On Atlantic Pact To Be Known Soon; Showdowns Expected

Copenhagen, Denmark, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The attitude of Scandinavia toward the North Atlantic security pact may be determined definitely in the next week or 10 days.

Although Sweden, Norway and Denmark were not able to agree on a joint program during months of conferences, the nations now are free to act individually.

Norway, which has favored joining the western powers despite Russian pressure, may be the first to make a decision. Sweden is expected to stick to her policy of neutrality. Denmark, which wavered between the two, may make up her mind soon.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange will address parliament today on the Scandinavian defense talks. His speech will be followed by a debate on the Labor government's defense policy.

The National Council of the Norwegian Labor party last night voted unanimously to back the government's policy, which is reported to be in favor of joining the North Atlantic pact.

A showdown on Denmark's attitude toward possible military cooperation with the western powers is expected next week when the Danish parliament convenes for a foreign policy debate.

In preparation for the debate there will be a closed meeting tomorrow of the parliamentary foreign policy committee of which all political parties but the communists are members.

The committee is an advisory body established during the war to investigate matters in which Danish interests are involved. After its meeting, the Danish ambassadors to Paris, Moscow, Washington and London will return to their posts. They were summoned home for the Scandinavian meetings in Oslo last weekend.

At least two parties—the Agrarians and Conservatives—will demand that Denmark join the North Atlantic negotiations in Washington.

Outcome of Norway's foreign policy debate may influence Denmark's attitude. But the Danish government also will watch Sweden, which is eager to remain neutral.

Search Resumed For Big Bomber

Reported Wreckage Believed No Part Of Missing B-29

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Planes and ships of four nations resumed their search today for an American superfortress missing since Thursday with 14 aboard. U. S. third air division headquarters expressed doubt that wreckage discovered off the Canary Islands came from the B-29.

The Spanish admiralty reported a radio message from a Belgian steamship that it sighted floating debris which appeared to be that of an airplane. The ship reported it saw life preservers but no sign of victims or survivors.

"We are carrying on with our search as planned for today," a third air division spokesman said. "We do not think the wreckage has anything to do with the missing B-29."

The superb took off Thursday from Dakar, French West Africa, on a training mission, bound for its base at Mayham, Eng.

Jordan Assumes Commission Job

Industrialist Sworn In As Acting Head Highway Body

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Henry W. Jordan, Cedar Falls industrialist, was sworn in today as acting chairman of the State Highway Commission. He succeeds A. H. Graham, resigned.

Associate Supreme Court Justice Emory B. Denny, who administered the oath to Jordan, also swore in W. H. Rogers, Jr., as Chief Highway Engineer. The ceremonies took place in the Governor's crowded office.

Rogers, who served as Graham's administrative assistant, succeeds W. Vance Baise.

Baise resigned at the request of Governor Scott after 28 years service with the highway department.

Scott roundly criticized the highway department during his gubernatorial campaign last spring and today's changes are considered an outgrowth of the campaign.

Scott had asked Graham to remain as highway head until May 1, but the chairman declined. Graham has indicated he does not agree with Scott on some of the Governor's highway policies.

Scott has indicated he will appoint a permanent highway commission chairman after the legislature adjourns.

Tot's Assist In City's Council Draws A Penalty

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Four-year-old Tommy Neville tried for an assist at a Cambridge city council meeting—and drew a penalty.

Taken to the council meeting by his father, Mayor Michael J. Neville, Tommy tired of proceedings and walked to the rostrum.

"Daddy, Daddy," Tommy exclaimed.

Predicts Congress To Retain Checks

Solon Says Taft-Hartley Law Provision For Court Orders To Block Nat'l Emergency Strikes Will Be Kept On Books

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) predicted today that Congress will keep the Taft-Hartley law provision for court orders to block National emergency strikes.

Smith's forecast came as the senate labor committee made ready to hear two more government witnesses on the Administration's new labor bill.

The bill would repeal the whole Taft-Hartley measure and restore the Wagner labor act with the "improvements" President Truman is seeking.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Conciliation Service, was first on today's witness list. The Administration bill would put the service now an independent agency back under the labor department.

Ching reportedly has threatened to quit if that happens.

Paul M. Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations board, was slated to testify after Ching. Herzog is expected to endorse sections of the new bill which deal with the NLRB.

Attorney General Clark also has been listed as a witness today, but last night he decided instead to send the committee a written statement later.

The Taft-Hartley provision which Smith predicted Congress will keep is the one which lets the government get 80-day injunctions to prevent strikes which imperil the National health or safety.

The Administration bill, which Secretary of Labor Tobin outlined to the committee yesterday, would replace that machinery with a 30-day voluntary cooling-off procedure. Under it, emergency boards appointed by the President would recommend terms for settling disputes.

Tobin, in reply to committee questions, most of them from Republicans, said the government would rely on the "powerful force" of public opinion to enforce the boards' recommendations.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) told Tobin that kind of law would have "hardly any teeth at all unless you might say false teeth" to cope with a possible new coal strike by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

"I think that is entirely right," Smith, a member of the committee, told a reporter.

"I feel sure that if Lewis thought he had an advantage, he certainly would take it. For that reason, I am confident that Congress is going to insist on keeping the injunction provision."

The government used the Taft-Hartley injunction power last spring to smash the UMW pension fund strike.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) leader of the fight to block repeal of the present labor law, said after Tobin testified that the administration's voluntary plan is entirely inadequate. He laughed at Tobin for saying the force of public opinion would make it work.

Chinese Gov't Shows New Life In Negotiations

Sharply Warn Reds To Lay Off Irrelevant Demands If They Want Peace

Nanking, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Li Tsung-Jen's government, showing new life, sharply warned the Communists today to lay off irrelevant demands if they want peace.

A statement attributed to the acting president's office told the Reds the government was still able to fight. But that continuation of hostilities was undesirable "because the people can no longer bear civil war."

The message, presumably sent by radio, said:

"If you keep raising irrelevant issues, one today and another tomorrow, we will find it impossible to meet your demands. We believe since both sides agreed to Mao Tse-tung's eight points as the basis of discussion it is proper that other conditions should be subjects for discussion around the peace table.

"If you say that certain conditions should be executed first, then why is it necessary for us to have a peace conference at all?"

What angered Li's government was three recent demands of the Reds. They were for the re-arrest of Lt. Gen. Yasuatsu Okamura, former Japanese commander in China acquired by a Chinese military court last week; the detentions of all Red-described Chinese "war criminals"; and complete recognition of the local Peiping peace pact.

The statement indicated the government and the communists were still far from a position where they should be able to seat delegations around a conference table.

Within itself the Li government's peace hopes brightened. Friends said the acting president was determined to exhaust every peace possibility before abandoning Nanking the capital.

They said he had managed to get the communists to agree to a minister to return here from Shanghai. Li, they said, has abandoned plans to go to Canton immediately. His government is speedy dured to begin functioning there Saturday.

Although he is working for peace nationally, at least three separate regional peace bids have his approval. They are by Nanking city councilmen, and leaders in Shanghai and Hankow.

State Labor Law Drive By Union

AFL Picks Delaware As Starting Point For Campaign

Miami, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The AFL today charter a drive to repeal state laws it considers restrictive on labor unions and picked small, industrial Delaware as a starting point.

Joseph Keenan, director of the AFL's political arm—called labor's bureau for political education—said Delaware has "the worst anti-labor law in the country, worse even than the Taft-Hartley act."

"We're going to devote our efforts to see what we can do to repeal such state laws, particularly in the states where we have had changes in the political complexion of legislatures," he added.

The AFL has a dual purpose in mind: One, to have what it calls "little Taft-Hartley laws" cancelled out, and two, in the process to develop State and local political strength for the 1950 Congressional elections.

Keenan talked with reporters in advance of a meeting of AFL leaders to outline 1949 political plans in the states and on a broadened National scale.

In Delaware the state administration favors repealing the state's labor law, Keenan said, but the legislature is due to adjourn March 1. Hence the AFL's decision to concentrate there first.

Octogenarians Are Honored At Birthday Party

Using as his theme "Not old age, but longevity of a full richness that will cause those who follow to 'Rise Up and Call You Blessed,'" Dr. Maynard Fletcher of Washington last night paid tribute to a dozen local octogenarians whose ages total approximately 1,000 years. The occasion, in the private dining room of the Proctor Hotel, was the 83rd birthday of Mrs. John C. Taylor, of Com. Hertford County, with her daughter and son-in-law, Mayor and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter C. Taylor of this city, as hosts.

Of those present all could be grouped in the octogenarian class with the exception of the hosts, the speaker and a reporter. Some of the honored guests possibly had not reached the 80-year mark but ages of others ranged up to 88 years, bringing the average total well up into the eighties.

Mayor Boyd, who acted as master of ceremonies, explained that there were several others in the age group invited but who because of illness or bad weather, were unable to attend. Had weather prevented Mr. John C. Taylor of Como, husband of the honoree, from attending, Mrs. Taylor was already in the city as the guest of Mayor and Mrs. Boyd.

The table was attractively decorated for the occasion and was centered with red carnations and a birthday cake. Following an invocation by D. J. Whitchard Jr., a delightful dinner was served. The blowing out of the candles and cutting of the birthday cake brought forth much merriment.

Dr. Fletcher in his brief talk paid tribute to all those present and praised the great contributions each had made to the community. He described their lives as a blessing to those about them and declared that each should enjoy great satisfaction and happiness at the realization of the accomplishments of his life brought forth from many of those present reports of humorous experiences that now remain in their recollections.

The honored guests in attendance in addition to Mrs. Taylor were Mrs. R. W. King, Mrs. R. N. Zantner, Mrs. Georgia James, Mrs. Marietta Dixon-Miss Sallie Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Speight, and Messrs. Charles F. Moore, J. C. Tyson, R. L. Humber and W. R. Smith.

Stokes-Jolly

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Franklin Jolly have the honor of announcing the marriage of their daughter Catharine Anne to Randolph Clarke Stokes on Friday, the twenty-eighth of January.

Mr. and Mrs. Stokes are nineteen hundred and forty-nine Greenville, North Carolina.

A wedding of impressive simplicity was solemnized on Friday at eleven o'clock in the morning in the Eighth Street Christian Church, when Miss Catharine Anne Jolly became the bride of Randolph Clarke Stokes of Hertford, N. C. The ceremony was performed by Dr. H. G. Haney, pastor of the bride.

The church, with its background of woodwardia ferns, huckleberry, Oregon and other bridal greenery illuminated by the soft glow of many candles, made a lovely setting for the double ring ceremony.

As the guests assembled Mrs. R. R. Willmann, as organist, rendered a program of wedding music. Mr. Robert Mays, a soloist, sang "Because" by De Hardelot. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin by Wagner the bridal party entered the church. Messrs. Joe Ray Tew and Keith Hudson of Thomasville, N. C., as ushers were first to enter. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Lina Worthington, the bride's only attendant, dressed in an attractive costume suit of Dream Blue wool with brown accessories and carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of many spring colors.

The bride, handsomely attired in a cyclamen pink suit of American wool with navy accessories and carrying a white wayer book centered with three purple throated orchid and lightly showered, entered with her father who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom who was accompanied by his brother, H. C. Stokes Jr., as best man. As the couple knelt for prayer Mr. Mays sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the final blessing of the church.

Miss Jenny C. Joyner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Joyner, whose engagement to Mr. Frank Kilpatrick, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kilpatrick, of Ayden, is announced by her parents. The wedding will take place on February 19.

The mother of the bride was most becomingly attired in a blue and gray wool suit with navy accessories, and wore a corsage of Better Times Roses.

Mrs. Marlon Hiddick sister of the groom, was dressed in black and wore a corsage of Tallman Roses.

Mrs. Stokes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Franklin Jolly. She received her education in the city schools and has just recently graduated from the Woman's College of Greensboro, N. C. Her charming personality and friendliness to everyone has won for her a host of friends wherever she is known.

Mr. Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stokes of Hertford, received his education in Hertford City Schools, Lenoir College and is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, N. C.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes will be at home in Sanford, N. C., where they are both members of the faculty of Jonesboro Heights High School.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Jolly, parents of the bride, entertained at a wedding breakfast in the Magnolia Room of the Hotel Proctor for the immediate families, wedding party and out-of-town guests. From a beautifully appointed table, centered with an exquisite arrangement of snapdragons, roses, iris daffodils and carnation, a three-course breakfast was served.

On Thursday evening immediately following the rehearsal for the Stokes-Jolly wedding, Mrs. A. C. Ruffin was hostess to the bridal party, immediate families and a few close friends at a cake cutting. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Worthington and Miss Lina Worthington entertained the Stokes-Jolly wedding party and the immediate families at a buffet supper before the rehearsal in the Eighth Street Christian Church.

Entertain Club At Supper Party

Grifton.—On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hodges entertained members of their bridge club and invited players for three tables of bridge. Guests were invited for 7:15 and served a delectable buffet supper. The home throughout was decorated with bowls of quince and first breath of spring. Table appointments and tallies were of the St. Valentine's motif. After supper bridge was played progressively. High scores among club members were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cobb and Mr. Glendel Tucker among the visitors. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Bisette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mewborn and Mrs. Glendel Tucker.

Music Department Completes Series Performances In Pitt

The department of music at East Carolina Teachers College has just completed a series of 21 performances given before various educational and civic organizations in Pitt county to increase interest in the campaign to combat polio through the March of Dimes drive. Eighteen students participated. Dr. R. R. Williams, director of the department, was in charge of scheduling the programs.

The series included appearances before twelve different groups of pupils in schools at Bethel, Winterville, Ayden, Belvoir, Falkland, Grimesland, Stokes, Fountain, and Farmville, all towns near Greenville. Among organizations to which the college musicians presented programs are the Rotary clubs of Greenville, Bethel, and Ayden, the Business and Professional Women's club, the Lions club, the Kiwanis club, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Greenville; and the Parent-Teacher Association of Bethel.

George E. Perry, pianist and faculty member, began the series with recitals in Greenville and Bethel. Students taking part in other programs include Alexander Livesay, Nina Abernethy, Edward Benson, Lee Rogers, and Joyce Warran Jeans, of Rocky Mount; Carl Anderson of Elizabeth City; Rodney Roberts and Herbert Dale of Greenville; Louise Brooks of Charlotte; Rupert Browning of Logan, W. Va.; Neil Perry of Lenoir; Eunice Britton and Patricia Scott of Havelock; Mary Wallace Foy of Pollocksville; Barbara Massey of Pleasant Hill; Rollins Mims of Henderson; Jeanette Hamilton of Magnolia; and Annette Hughes of Willard.

Mrs. Beulah Causey and John Causey of Greenville visited their aunt, Mrs. Josie McArthur, last Thursday.

Tomorrow's Gardens

By Greenville Garden Club

Flowering Shrubs

It's almost impossible to imagine a garden without flowering shrubs or they add so much to the life of the garden. By careful selection it is possible to have bloom many months of the year from February through spring and summer into fall.

Most shrubs can be planted in spring so if you did not get them planted last fall get out your spade and put them in now.

Camellias, azaleas and gardenias deserve a whole column so here we will think about a few other new and improved shrubs and maybe get away from the forsythia-spiraea-hydrangea-combinations found most often around us. Most shrubs will thrive in half-shade and a large number will grow and flower in full shade. They are not particular about soil and will thrive under ordinary garden conditions.

Give yourself a new picture in your garden next spring by planting the new mock oranges, Belle Etoile, Innocence and Atlas are three choices ones; the viburnums have been much improved so be sure to try carles, and gomentosum is a beauty when in bloom with its wheel like clusters of white flowers with spidery umbels; centers; the hybrid lilacs are lovely but do not do well in our hot summers. The dwarf early flowering gradilis and lemoine deutzias are excellent shrubs for the small garden; Beauty Bush, a tall growing shrub with light pink bell-shaped flowers, is really a beauty when in bloom.

Plant the oak-leaf hydrangeas for its lovely fall foliage. Buddleias well worth trying are Fortune, Fascinating and Peace. Vitex, a tall growing late blooming shrub, is fine for background.

The bright green branches of Kerria Japonica, an old favorite, are striking all season even when not in bloom; Harrison's yellow and rose Hugonis make a beautiful spot of gold with the tulips.

Space does not permit giving a longer list but do try a few new ones for they invite new garden interest and the improved varieties of today outmode many of our cherished favorites but maybe you prefer to plant those that have stood the test in your own garden or those of your friends, if so stick to them and grow them even better than you have before.

Happy Gardening!

Panthers Play ACC, WCTC To Engage Elonites

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
With leading Catawba I.A.S. runner-up High Point and third-place Western Carolina Teachers play North State Conference basketball games tonight.

High Point attempts to add to its 6-1 mark at home against Atlantic Christian. Catawba beat Atlantic Christian 51-45 last night and paces the league with an 8-1 mark.

Western Carolina tries to make it two straight over hapless Elon at Cullowhee. The Teachers beat Elon 52-47 last night. The victory left WCTC with a 5-2 victory, and Elon has yet to win a conference game after seven tries.

Gulford (1-5) is at Lenoir-Rhyne (4-5). And Appalachian meets the independent Chatham Blunketeers in Ekin.
The conference tournament begins in Ekin February 24.

JOHN FLANAGAN BUGGY CO. EST. 1866

This presentation took place last week in the offices of the John Flanagan Buggy Company. Mr. Emerson Planck, Branch Manager of the Ford Motor Company, presented Mr. E. Graham Flanagan, President of the John Flanagan Buggy Co., with a special award. Mr. Planck stated that the John Flanagan Buggy Co. has qualified as a Four Letter Ford Dealer. This four-letter designation is described as the F M S F program. This long range program is composed of four elements:

1. Finances—Sound
2. Management—Efficient
3. Spirit—Competitive
4. Facilities—Complete and modern

Mr. Planck stated that the John Flanagan Buggy Company is among the first in the Norfolk District and high on a select national list of dealers to receive this coveted award.

It is thought that the award will be offered on an annual basis in the future.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHY THROW GOOD THINGS AWAY?

The referee's whistle shrieks out, and the football players stop and look up with considerable anxiety on their faces. And well they may be anxious. One side is going to be penalized for a "personal foul." In this case it is slugging. Some hot-tempered chap couldn't resist the temptation to take a punch at the man in front of him, and the referee's whistle was the result.

Well, the side which had profited by the penalty had a touchdown within three minutes. Then, later in the game, that side was penalized and their opponents soon got a touchdown. Again there was another "personal foul" called, and that kept a clean-cut touchdown from being counted.

The hotheads had lost the day for their fellows. One side was definitely defeated because one of their men started slugging. He brought down the good name of his college and defeated his teammates. He was there to play football, but he insisted on making the affair a prize fight.

One flash of temper can break up a marriage. A silly little quarrel can come between sweethearts, and fifty years later they remember the lost years with moist eyes. An angry accusation, and a business partnership is at end.

How can we be so silly as to throw happiness and welfare away with both hands?

NOT FOR ECONOMY ALONE

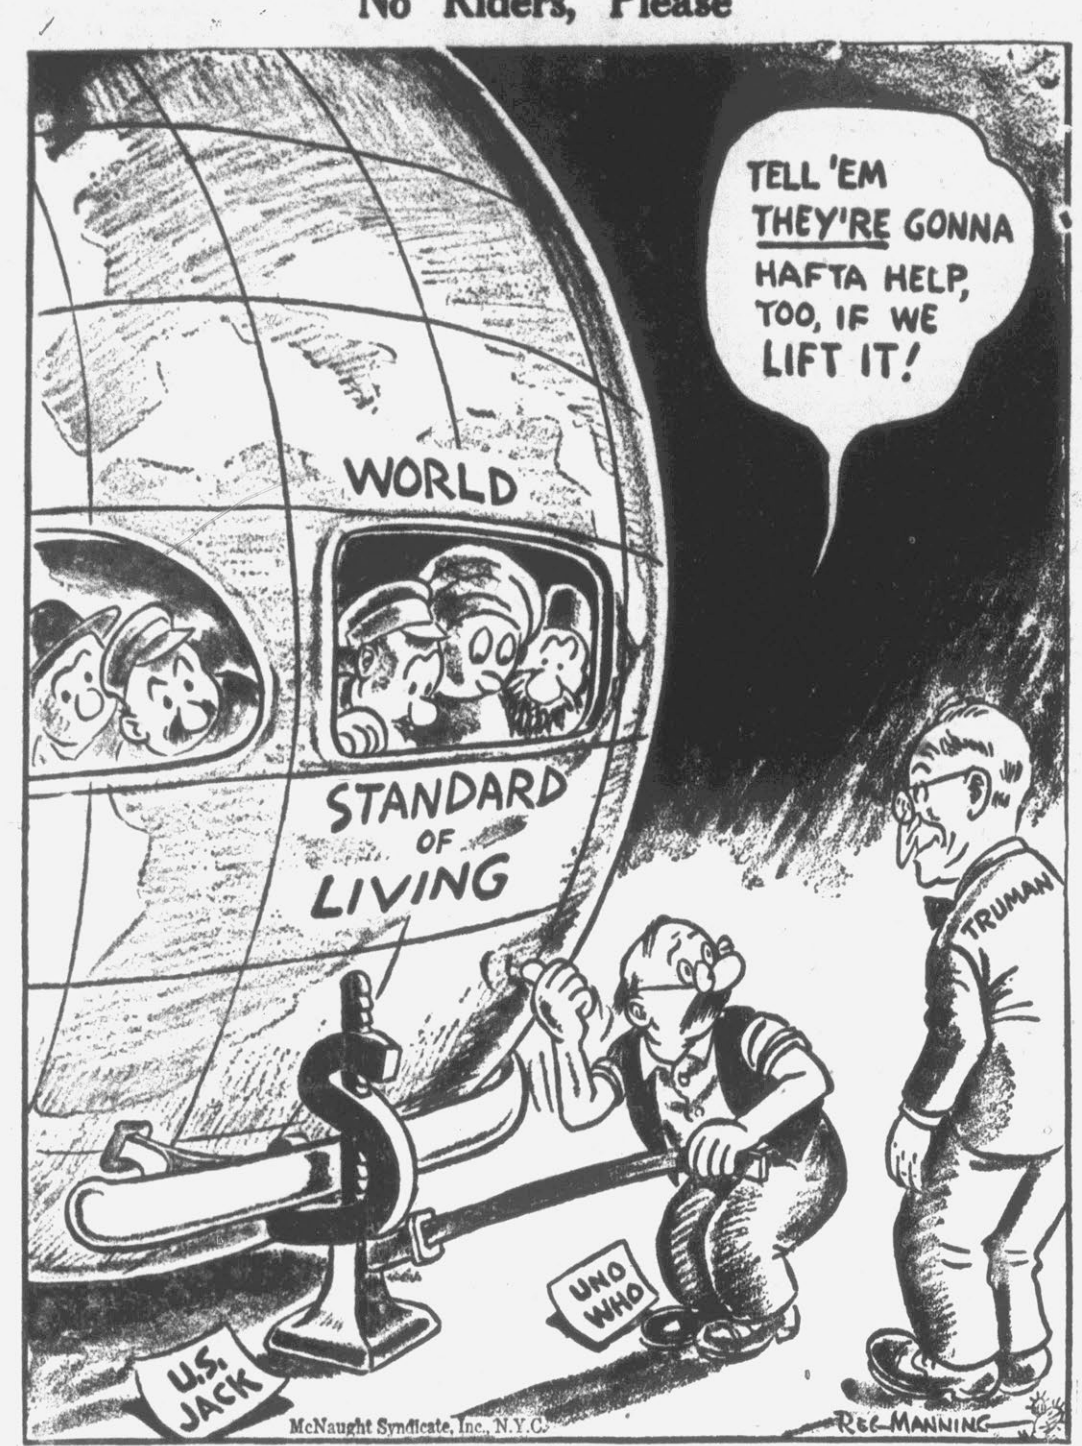

In discussing with newsmen the estimated $10,000,000 cut in operating expenses in the Veterans Administration, Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., commented that the aim of the alteration is to give increased and better services to veterans and that he would not have approved the reorganization plan as an economy measure alone.

Apparently in the final part of his statement Gray expresses the conviction of many officials in the federal government. They do not favor economy measures in government spending merely for the sake of economy. The fact that the Veterans Administration is able to cut its expenses $10,000,000 by eliminating 13 branch offices and some 2,000 personnel, and at the same time give more and better service, should serve as an example to be followed in reorganization in other federal agencies.

LA "HUEY LONG"

It seems that some of the ardent dries of Columbus county would take a leaf from the book of the late Huey Long to emphasize their protest against the result of the recent wine and beer election in Whiteville.

During his governorship of Louisiana, Long was reported to have had the state highways built AROUND, instead of through, the parishes (counties) that did not support him for governor. In a series of rural church resolutions adopted Sunday to boycott Whiteville because its citizens voted to relegalize the sale of wine and beer, a deacon of one of the churches urged that efforts be made to have a highway built around Whiteville (A La Huey) in order that citizens traveling from one part of the county to another could do so without having to pass through Whiteville.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
Washington, D. C.—(P)—Notes on a trip through the South:
What's on people's minds in the South?
Boom times, State's Rights, and the fact that a mild winter brought the flowers out too early.

Everybody down that way is happy over the way things are a building. They are arguing among themselves about Harry Truman's Civil Rights program and what it may mean to them. And they all agree it's a blooming pity the way the Camellias and Azaleas are petaling ahead of time.

"By the time our regular flower festivals come there won't be anything left on the bushes," they mourn. In the south they take their festivals seriously. The love of flowers there has almost a religious quality.

And it's a wise visitor from the north who keeps the conversation on camellias — and keeps his own mouth shut about civil rights versus state's rights.

The reason a dandyman shouldn't open his yap on this issue is that the south regards it as a family problem. If he starts talking about it, they jump on him altogether.

But if the outsider just sits back and listens—well, then he can hear the dissension that exists within the Southern family. And he learns a lot.

"I heard one Dixiecrat say frankly: 'I don't agree one bit with Truman's program. But I will admit this much: It is putting pressure on us to do faster the things we all want to do. It's making us prove the south can really solve its own problems. And we are solving them too."

In a railroad car a group of southerners were arguing about Democrats and Dixiecrats. Finally, a small bourbon-inspired Florida businessman reared up and said:
"Darned if I ain't tired of all this jawing. I don't want to be either a Democrat or a Dixiecrat. 'I just want to be a plain old ordinary common-crat."

A stalwart Alabama Dixiecrat during a hotel room discussion opined that the north just didn't understand the fundamental problem.

"They can't understand the difference between segregation and discrimination," he drawled with a grin. "They keep getting the two mixed up."

"Every filling station, hotel and public place everywhere has two doors. Over one door it says 'men' and over the other door it says 'women.'"

"Now that's segregation, all right, but by no means is it discrimination."

The landscape of the south is changing swiftly as the increasing pace of industrialization creates new wealth. But the delightful, homely flavor of its language endures unchanged. It would be a shame if it ever did change.

When the weather there gets too warm, it's "hard down hot."

A man doesn't draw a pension from government. He gets "rocking chair money."

If a fellow's in a tight spot, he's "caught between a rock and a hard place."

A minister said: "My salary? Oh, I get $500 a year—and the things they throw about the preacher with."

People don't just say they wouldn't part with something for a million dollars. They smile and say, "I wouldn't take a purty for that."

Business note:
In Montgomery, Ala., there is an "Able to Love Taxi Company."

One elderly Alabamian, requested to give the secret of his longevity, replied dryly:
"I never wasted my energy resisting temptation."

Experts say that during a violent storm you stand a good chance of being struck by lightning if you are standing, walking or running on a beach, playing golf, hiking, working in a field or standing under a tree.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Congresswomen of glamour and glibness have come and gone, but the Democratic lady from New Jersey and the Republican lady from Massachusetts seem to have a permanent niche on Capitol Hill.

Capable politicians both, Mrs. Mary Norton (D-NJ) and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) are respected and beloved by their colleagues in the House of Representatives, where they have served since 1924, only four years after women had voting privileges.

Dean of women in Congress, "Battling Mary" Norton was the first Democratic woman elected to Congress and the first woman of either party to be appointed chairman of a congressional committee.

As head of the District of Columbia Committee she served as "mayor" of Washington for six years. She has also served as chairman of the House Labor Committee and is credited with passage of much labor legislation, including the wage-hour bill.

Mrs. Rogers came to Congress six months after Mrs. Norton. As chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee in the last Congress, she became the first Republican woman to head a congressional committee. She is a former member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and for many years was the ranking minority member of the War Veterans' Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation. Her outstanding accomplishment was authorizing the legislation creating the Women's Army Corps.

Small, vivacious, extremely feminine Mrs. Rogers was born in Saco Me., in 1881 and was educated in private schools in this country and abroad. Fiuffy and feminine though she is, Mrs. Rogers gets a whopping lot of work done, has boundless energy and puts in about 18 hours a day on the Hill.

Advices Early Application For Cadet Training

Apply now for the next class of Aviation Cadets, advises Capt. Ralph W. Ferrese of the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station here. The next class begins on March first, and interested men who feel that they are qualified should start their application immediately.

Martial status is now no barrier. If a man is otherwise qualified he must be between the ages of 20 and 26½ years, must have two or more years of college credits, must pass a rigid physical check and must pass a moral and personal examination. Additional information and advice on applying for cadet training may be obtained at the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station located at 401 Evans Street, Greenville, N. C.

Farmville Host To Greenville Club At Supper

Farmville and Greenville Kiwanians, at a supper meeting at the high school in Farmville last night, exemplified the "good neighbor" spirit in a fine way when the members of the two clubs assembled for a fellowship meeting to "boost Pitt county and its advantages." Nearly 100 Kiwanians were there. Farmville President John Parker was eloquent in his welcome address. Frank Allen, always optimistic and cheerful, was master of ceremonies. President Arthur Tripp of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, spoke for the Greenville Kiwanians.

Ed E. Rawl, past lieutenant-governor of the seventh Kiwanis division, and a past president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, spoke happily about the fine work of the two Kiwanis clubs. He recalled some of the neighborly contacts when the Farmville club was being organized; the fellowship resulting from its organization; recollections of Dr. Rod Williams as its first president, and the good work Charlie Hotchkiss of Farmville then, did toward getting the Farmville Kiwanis Club organized. The Farmville Kiwanians describe Rawl as the "daddy of the Farmville Kiwanis Club."

"Governor" Rawl, in his brief talk, was eloquent in praise of the good work the Farmville club has done. He recognized past officers complimented President John Parker for his good work.

In a quartet singing contest between Farmville and Greenville the judges "shut their eyes" when they awarded the blue ribbon to Farmville. Farmville won by a "million points."

Past President N. C. Brooks of the Greenville Kiwanis Club was a special guest.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Elspeth Joyner, accompanist for the Farmville singers, and Mrs. Ray Tyson, for the Greenville group.

Members of the Farmville club will be guests of the Greenville club after the baseball season opens in April.

Ed Rawl, in his usual eloquent "after dinner" speeches reminded that "we need to go some more to get the necessary $25,000 for a football stadium for ETCO," and he took time out to pay tribute to Haywood Dall, one of the college's best friends; Jasper E. Winslow, great leader in the Farm Bureau Federation, and W. W. Eagles, president of the Farm Bureau Federation. These three men had a word of encouragement for the success of the polo drive in Pitt county.

Farmville Kiwanis President John Parker, in closing, thanked Dr. John D. Messick, president of ETCO, for his contribution of a song, playing his own accompaniment. Before he rang the bell to close the meeting, President Parker said, "North Carolina is blessed with Dr. Messick as president of East Carolina Teachers' College."

Police Probing Weekend Bethel Store Robbery

Bethel, Feb. 1.—Local police are continuing their investigation of the robbery of the L. J. Whitehurst and Sons store here during the weekend.

Police Chief Sam Martin said thieves are believed to have entered the building through a second floor window and then broke out of the store by cutting a lock on the back door. Although the loss has not been estimated, Walter C. Whitehurst, store manager, said cigarettes, canned goods and some meat are missing from the store.

A small amount of cash which was left in the store cash register during the weekend was not taken by the thieves.

His Old Name Is Best, After All

Detroit, Feb. 1.—(AP)—With the help of an obliging court, Constantine Christodoulou became "Chris" and now is again Christodoulou.

Probate Judge William F. Cotter permitted the first change six months ago and the second yesterday.

It was because Christodoulou pleaded that his father in West Virginia "kidded" him about the new name as "high-toned" and so he wanted the old one back—for keeps.

William E. James Is Serving Aboard LST

William E. James, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. James of 402 Jarvis St., Greenville, is serving aboard the landing ship USS 912 which is currently on a four month cruise in the Mediterranean area.

The LST 912 is expected to return to the United States during the early part of February.

James, who entered the Naval service Jan. 28, 1948, received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Merchants See Good Prospects For N.C. Sales

Raleigh, N.C., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Prospects for 1949 look good to most North Carolina retailers, says the State Merchants Association.

Forecasts from representative merchants in all sections of the state, the association reported, show that most expect a volume of business which will compare "very favorably" with the large volume last year.

"An overwhelming majority of the predictions are unreservedly optimistic," said W. L. Dowell, the association's executive vice president and secretary.

Royall And Party Arrive In Japan

Tokyo, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Army Secretary Kenneth Royall and his party arrived by plane from Alaska late today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur and other ranking Generals greeted him at the airport.

"It's a great pleasure to be here," Royall said.

Royall left immediately for the American embassy to be MacArthur's dinner guest along with Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, Deputy Chief of staff, and others in his party.

Non-Coms Join Military Court

Heidelberg, Germany, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Four sergeants took their places besides six officers on a military court for the first time in U.S. history here today, to try two soldiers on a charge of murder.

The accused, Privates First Class Andrew D. Byrd, 31, of Orlando Fla., and Oscar B. Gannon, 24, of Hanging Rock, O., chose to have the enlisted men on the court under a new rule which went into effect today.

Senate Approves Wilson Warlick

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senate confirmation has been given finally to the appointment of Wilson Warlick of Newton, N.C., as federal judge of Western North Carolina.

Warlick was nominated by President Truman for the post last year but a Republican controlled Senate failed to act on the recommendation.

55-Point Average

Wake Forest, N.C., Feb. 1.—Wake Forest's basketball team which will take the floor against N.C. State here Wednesday night in its 18th appearance of the season, has averaged an even 55 points for 17 contests this year. The Deacons have won nine games while losing eight. Opponents of the Deacs have a shade better average with 937 points.

Dear Judy,

A Valentine Party is the party of the year for teen-agers. Girls can dress up in their most romantic date dresses, put on their best lovable manners and even act coy.

If you are giving the party, do everything the hearts-and-flowers way. Invitations, favors and decorations all should be set in the love mood.

You can make an unusual invitation, but you may need some help. Here's what you do:

Take a red heart which you have cut out of heavy mat paper, attach to it a large paper clip with cellophane tape. The clip should protrude slightly from the center-top of the heart. Tie a rubber band to the other end of the clip. Take a toothpick and attach it to the outside end of the clip with a piece of wire which should run back over the clip about an inch. Turn that end of the wire into a loop. Now attach the rubber band which is on one end of the clip to the loop of wire. The rubber band should fit with enough slack so that the toothpick may be twisted about twenty-five times or so.

Write your invitation on the heart before you start to work on it. When the job is finished insert the heart (keeping the rubber band wound up) within a folded piece of what mat paper. These invitations will create quite a stir when opened and the red heart flies out.

Pairing Off

Make some good sized hearts, take a scissors and cut each one in half in a jagged fashion. One side of the heart should be put in box marked "girls," the other side should be put in box marked "boys."

When the guests arrive, girls pick out of the girl box, boys out of the boy box, then the kids pair off by matching up their hearts.

Where to Sit?

Tie a ribbon bow at the back of each chair with a heart name card attached. Or use a conventional name card on the table clipping a small bow to each ladies' card with a bobby pin. The bow then can be worn in the hair.

Yum-Yum

You don't want to spend all your time in the kitchen, so prepare everything in advance. Chicken is a king or spaghetti can be all set for reheating. You can buy or make heart-shaped pastry containers for the chicken dish. Put strips of pimento across the top. Tomato rarebit is a good alternative but takes a little more time to reheat properly. Punch should be a good red one made with cranberries or grape juice. A heart-shaped raspberry gelatin dessert with a border of whipped cream is tasty and appropriate.

Have-A-Heart

A fun-game which also is intriguing for a Valentine's Party is a Quiz. You can make it a great big production or a simple one such as setting a time limit on guessing romantic figures of history and mythology, beginning with the letters

V-A-L-E-N-T-I-N-E

Some are: Viola (Shakespeare's Twelfth Night), Antony (Marc) Leander (Greek Legend), Edward (Windsor), Nelson (Lord), Tristan (Isolda), Napoleon, Elizabeth (Browning).

This is not as simple as it looks which makes the game all the more interesting. There can be forfeits-in-trade or letters for sale, etc. Figure out your own penalties.

Production of a single bifocal lens requires a total of 302 skills.

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this featherbedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work." Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

Phantoms Play New Bern Here Tonight For Third Place Slot

First Meeting Of Season For Rivals; Record Indicates Two Teams Of Nearly Equal Calibre

Coach Bo Farley's Green Phantoms will meet the New Bern Bears here tonight in a game which will decide the third place of the North-eastern conference race. Both squads are deadlocked in the position with five wins and two losses.

A win for either team would put them in easy reach of the North-eastern championship. Kingston is the only undefeated club and Washington has lost one game to date.

Tonight will be the first meeting of the Phantoms and Bears this season. Their records indicate that they are of equal calibre and a battle royal is predicted.

In view of their most recent game, New Bern Bears apparently hold a slight edge. They held the potent Kingston Red Devils to a four point victory. Kingston scored crushing defeats over the locals to hand them their only losses of the year.

The New Bern aggregation will boast the services of six foot, three inch center Russell, regarded as one of the top men in the Northeastern loop.

A preliminary game, featuring the hottest Jayvee ball club in the state for a school this size, will get underway at six-thirty. The Farley-coached Juniors will be out to add victory number ten to their collection. They are undefeated in play with North-eastern conference Jayvee clubs.

Kittrell's Boys Defeat Snow Hill

Snow Hill—Coach Bill Kittrell's Midget and Intermediate cages from Greenville defeated the Larry James coached locals here Saturday night in a doubleheader.

The Greenville Midgets won by the one-sided score of 27 to seven while the Intermediates were chalking up a close 33 to 28 win.

Jimmy Cheatham paced the Greenville little boys with 10 points and Guy Smith, seeing his first game as a starter, tossed in eight points. Scoring was evenly divided on the Snow Hill squad.

Coach Kittrell declared that his boys looked the best of the season as they racked up their second win. The Intermediate game was nip and tuck. Greenville led by two points at halftime and had been out front only a short time when the final whistle sounded, awarding them a 33 to 28 win.

Leon Moore led the Kittrell aggregation with 14 points. Joe Rowland starred on defense.

Bucs Back In North State Race; Prep For Road Trip

By EUGENE PRICE
The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates, back in the North State Conference race after breaking a three-game, injury inspired losing streak, settled down this week to prep for the important Appalachian game which will be played in Boone Saturday night.

A win for the Pirates would put them in a four way race for the fourth place position in North State standing. Only one game now separates Atlantic Christian, Appalachian, Lenoir-Rhyne and East Carolina.

It will be the last road trip for the Bucs this season and should they take the game, they have a good chance of winning all, or nearly all, their remaining games which will be played on the home court where the Pirates have suffered but one defeat this season.

ECCTC will still have to face potent WCTC, and High Point in their remaining games but their chances of defeating the two teams on the local court are currently regarded as good. Followers of the Bucs are of the opinion that if ECCTC displays the same brand of ball the rest of the season that they showed against Lenoir-Rhyne Saturday night, then they will stand a good chance of winning the remainder of their games.

Fans are hoping the win streak started with Lenoir-Rhyne and will not be interrupted by Appalachian when the locals played Appalachian here they sent Coach Frances Hoover's boys back to the hills trailing a 60 to 53 loss. "If we have a good night we can beat them up there," Coach Porter commented yesterday but added, "If we have just an average night it will be hard."

The Appalachian home court presents the first obstacle. It is wide but not so long as the ECCTC gym. Coach Porter feels that it will take but a short time for his boys to get the feel of the new floor and from then on it will depend on which team has it.

Retain Wins

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 1—(AP)—Wake Forest College's basketball team, which earlier appeared in danger of forfeiting three Southern Conference games through the use of an ineligible player, will not have the victories taken away under an interpretation of the ineligibility ruling made today by Conference Secretary Col. D. S. McAllister of the Citadel.

While refusing direct comment on the Wake Forest situation, McAllister made it clear through his interpretation of the rule in question, that it does not go into effect until next September.

Bethel Captures Two More Games

Bethel, Feb. 1—The Bethel High School basketball teams played Bath last night on the local court with the Bethel girls winning 21-19 and the boys taking an easy 57-33 victory.

Jo Ann Crisp led the scoring in the preliminary with ten points to her credit on the Bethel side of the ledger, while Geraldine Ambrose accounted for eight for the visitors.

The score at halftime saw the home team leading 25-15. Reserve played all of the first half, and part of the second when the Bethel boys took the floor against Bath. Center John Nelson for Bethel, took scoring honors for the night with twelve points. AB Braddy, of Bath, and Fred Keel, of Bethel, were paired with ten points each.

Stokes eagery play in Bethel tonight and the locals travel to Tazeboro for a twin bill there tomorrow evening.

Clemson To Play Missouri Eleven

Clemson, S. C., Feb. 1—(AP)—The Clemson College Tigers will meet the University of Missouri on the gridiron next year. Coach Frank Howard announced today.

The two teams, which clashed in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl New Year's with Clemson winning, will play in Columbia, Mo., Sept. 30, 1950.

This is Clemson's first regularly scheduled meeting with a member of the big seven conference.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 1—(AP)—Marrin Bass, William and Mary line coach, is under consideration for a similar position at the University of North Carolina, according to the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

The newspaper reported that Bass was invited to Chapel Hill, N. C., last Sunday for a conference with Tar Heel officials.

The post was left open when Max Reed resigned last week after 20 years under Carl Snively, North Carolina's head coach.

Demaret Defeats Hogan For Top Phoenix Money

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 1—(AP)—Jovial Jimmy Demaret made a change in his method of gripping the putter and yesterday won top money in the $10,000 Phoenix Open Tournament. He scored a three-stroke victory over Ben Hogan in an 18-hole playoff.

Demaret, with the help of two putts sunk from nearly 30 feet, finished with a four-under-par 67 over the flat, 6,578-yard Phoenix Country Club course.

Since changing his grip, Demaret hasn't finished lower than third in tournaments. His play has netted about $6,870 during the month of January.

New Grid Coach

The East Carolina Teachers College football coaching job, open since the post-season resignation of Jim Johnson, may be filled this week, according to Dr. J. D. Messick, president of the school.

Dr. Messick reported he had received several applications from various sections of the country, among them that of Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill, former Stanford head coach, now in government service on the West Coast.

Dr. Messick said the job has been tentatively offered to someone else and may be filled this week.

Grid Drills Feb. 7

Wake Forest, N.C., Feb. 1—Winterville football practice at Wake Forest will get under way on Monday.

February 7. George McAfee, newly appointed member of the coaching staff, will be on hand for these drills along with Head Coach D. C. (Peahead) Walker and Assistant duties.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

HER SECRET STAR

By Bennie C. Hall

Chapter 21
It was autumn. The flowers, except for the hardy chrysanthemums, had been ruined by the frost. The green trees had turned to crimson and gold.

There had been few changes in Carrolton. Now that the season of gaiety was over, it had settled down to its usual routine, with only an occasional fire, a church supper or a rummage sale to break the monotony. There had, in fact, been very little to talk about since the tragedy of Gertrude Warren.

The townspeople, with characteristic loyalty, had not talked a great deal about that dreadful incident either, except to regret Gertrude's passing and to sympathize with her parents. They were not above gossip, but they talked about small things, never about anything so tragic as this.

Moreover, they would miss the laughing blonde child whom they had known since babyhood. True, they had worried about her reckless behavior at times but—well, they would miss that too. In a way, Gertrude Warren was one of their own.

Nor did the townspeople censure Jack Barnes too much. Born and brought up in Carrolton, Jack was one of their own too. They had worried about him. They had criticized him, but always for his own good. And Jack had reformed. The truck driver who witnessed the accident was positive that he had been driving at a snail's pace when the accident occurred.

Meanwhile the Warrens were making a brave pretense of carrying on, although it was obviously a mockery. Their hearts weren't in it. Every day David would go to the postoffice and go through all the motions of sorting the mail, distributing it, and performing the various duties in line with his job. Minniebelle tried to busy herself in her club work, a feat that was well nigh impossible when there was no work to be done. The City Improvement Club had disbanded for the winter months and the other clubs were at a standstill, the only activity one being the Woman's Political League.

There was a movement on foot to make David Warren Carrolton's next mayor—even if he was a Democrat.

However, David didn't want to be mayor. He just wanted to go on being postmaster where he was too busy to think much. There would be plenty of time for thinking when he retired and had nothing to do but fish. But, if Minniebelle wanted him to be mayor, he would have to go through with it. Anything to make Minniebelle happy, he reasoned.

Since the accident Betty had spent a lot of time with Jack Barnes, because he seemed to need her even more than her uncle and aunt did. Just as Uncle Dave had said, they had each other and there were times when she felt quite superfluous.

It hadn't been easy—cheering Jack up. At first he insisted upon blaming himself for the accident which had taken Gertrude's life, despite proof to the contrary. "I was trying to save Gertrude, and I killed her," was his summation. "But you didn't, Jack," Betty protested. "It was an accident. Everybody knows it was an accident. Even the truck driver said you were driving very slowly and carefully. He ought to know, too. He was right there and saw the whole thing."

They had gone over this conversation so many times that Betty had lost count of them before Jack finally became reconciled.

His injuries, too, were more serious than first suspected. For a time it appeared that he might never walk again. But now, less than two months later, he was not only walking, he was able to drive a car. On several occasions he had borrowed his father's car and taken Betty for short drives.

She was a little nervous the first time, for for no good reason. She was grateful to discover that Jack had acquired a new respect for traffic laws. Although the accident had not been due to his habitual fast driving, she hoped he would continue to go slowly. Perhaps her own nerves were on edge and needed disciplining.

Today he had borrowed his father's car again and they were going

'Bunche Line' Is Offered In Negev

Rhodes, Jan. 31—(AP)—A reliable source said today the United Nations Palestine mediator has proposed a "bunche line" as a solution to the Israeli-Egyptian quarrel here over Holy Land boundaries.

Such a line might be drawn in the disputed Negev desert area of south Palestine.

With the armistice talks on the verge of failure, the mediator Dr. Ralph A. Bunche, was said to have forced the Egyptians into the position of making major concessions.

One twin birth in every 87 births is standard in North America and Europe.

Unusual Weather Gets In A Rut; Follows Old Habits

New York, Feb. 1—(AP)—This winter's unusual weather? Why, it's habit, maybe hard to stop. How did it get started? Well, that's something else again. Weather often falls into such a rut or habit. Each cold wave tends to follow in the path of the previous ones. The new thing this year is that the first cold waves, in December, started on a path different from normal.

The new habit-path explains the severe, record-breaking cold spells in the West, and down into California and the Rio Grande Valley. It also explains the break Easterners are getting in milder-than-usual winter, so far.

Our cold spells are born in Canada and the Arctic Circle. Normally they move down into our northern states and swing eastward. But this year they are taking a western twist, riding down into the Plains states and the Rockies, and west of the Rockies.

This pattern of weather breeding the same kind of weather isn't unusual.

"It's one of the peculiarities of nature," explained Ernest Christie, meteorologist in charge of the New York City Weather Bureau office. "Once a sequence of weather has established itself, it tends to go on that way. It seems to set up a path, and repeat time after time. This year there has been hardly a single cold wave which has swung down into the United States and over to the East. This is in contrast to last year when very many came direct from the Hudson Bay section into New York state and New England.

"How long the pattern will last no one knows. There's no way yet to predicting or explaining why it happens. When we do learn why then maybe we will be able to do some long-range forecasting."

Guests Trapped In Burning Hotel

Ripon, Wis., Feb. 1—(AP)—Fire raged through the Grand View Hotel here early today, trapping an undetermined number of persons in the flames.

Witnesses said that "most" of the 48 guests had escaped but Police Chief Ira Dunham said as the blaze was brought under control, "There are some still in there."

At least two persons—and possibly as many as six—were unaccounted for this morning as firemen from Ripon and four nearby cities continued to pour water on ruins of the three-story hotel, still lighted fitfully by flames.

The alarm as the entire Ripon fire department turned out electrified this college town of some 4,000 residents and most of them hurried to the scene.

One of the eye-witnesses, Mrs. C. W. Umbreit, whose home is two doors away from the hotel on the same side of the street, saw the flames leap from the roof near the chimney at 1:20 a.m. when the first alarm was sounded. She saw guests flee down ladders and fire escapes and saw some jump from various floors.

Next Criminal Term Court March 28th

The next criminal term of Superior Court will be held here the week of March 28. Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford is scheduled to preside. An unusually heavy docket will confront the Lee County jurist. When Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington presided here last week, he and District Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy disposed of an unusually large number of cases, but the criminal docket still contains more than the average number of cases for trial, Superior Court Clerk David T. House said today.

Delay Estimate

Washington, Feb. 1—(AP)—Senate Democrats agreed today that Congress can't make an accurate estimate by Feb. 15 of how much the government should spend in the year beginning July 1. So they decided to put off an estimate until later despite a law saying it must be done by the middle of this month.

Senator Gillette of Iowa told a reporter the Democratic senators decided in a closed door meeting to let the chairmen of four committees decide whether to fix a new deadline at April 1, April 15 or May 1.

The four committee chairmen—Senators George of Georgia, finance, McKellar of Tennessee, appropriations, and Repe. Doughton of North Carolina, ways and means, and Cannon of Missouri, appropriations—also were instructed to study the question of killing off the budget estimate law.

Groundhog Day

Tomorrow, February 2, is groundhog day, the occasion when the burrowing rodent comes out of his winter hibernation to observe the weather. An old legend says that if the groundhog comes out on February 2nd at noon, and the sun is shining and he sees his shadow, he returns to his long winter sleep because that's a sign that there are 40 days of bad weather ahead.

Joe Joyner, important functionary at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company and versatile weather prognosticator, has changed his mind about the groundhog and sold his pet. In the Reflector office today, he absolutely refused to say a word about the weather, and as he left he said, "I'm leaving the weather to the weatherman from now on. The weather ain't what it used to be."

Bill To Outlaw Liquor Ads In State Proposed

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 1—(AP)—A bill outlawing advertising alcoholic beverages in newspapers or periodicals published in the state or on billboards got a favorable committee report this morning after nearly an hour of argument at a public hearing.

Proponents of the measure indicated they would amend the law from the floor of the House so that radio advertising would be included.

Rep. J. K. Powell of Columbus—co-author of the bill with Rep. Carl W. Howard of Gaston—said the measure attempted to prevent advertising of any type of alcoholic beverage in newspapers or periodicals originating in North Carolina.

Hungary Revises Republic's Name

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 1—(AP)—The Republic of Hungary on its third anniversary today became a "people republic."

Stalin's Peace . . .

Russia would give much to persuade Uncle Sam that her intentions are of the best, and thereby persuade him to give communism a good bill of health.

So the peace offensive apparently is being waged for ulterior purposes. However, to get at the truth we must go back and look at the fundamental policy of Bolshevism.

The law of communism is as immutable as is the law of gravity. There has been no change in the basic aim since it came to power in 1917. This is that the entire globe must be converted to communism and that capitalism everywhere must be destroyed.

The program calls for the violent overthrow of all non-communist governments and the establishment of Soviets which would take their directions from Moscow. And it cannot be repeated too often that this change must be accompanied by violence in order to impress the proletariat.

Labor Law . . .

ordered no strike at all at any time. A worker would be a slave then. But that would be so plainly one-sided in the boss' favor, Congress in fairness would have to pass a compulsory arbitration law. Which means:

No strike and the government appoints a board of arbitrators, or unpires, which hears both sides and gives a final decision both sides must accept.

Might not the boss or union think that decisions was unfair? Sure. That's why both sides are against compulsory arbitration. Both want full freedom to settle their problems without government interference.

But what about the general welfare? No group of workers or employers should be singled out and penalized just because they happen to work in an industry where a strike would endanger the general welfare.

The government couldn't permit a railroad strike to continue until the country was in chaos, starvation and maybe revolution. It would have to step in and stop it some time. You must admit the truth of that.

But once you say the government has a right to stop such a strike at all the only question left is: When? To be realistic and logical, the time then to stop it is before it starts so the general welfare won't be hurt at all.

In that case, though, the union never would have a chance to use its strength in a strike to win fair treatment.

officers and committee chairmen, and emphasized his belief that Greenville will continue its progress and development.

John B. Webb Jr., chairman, and Kenneth Phillips and Charles R. McBrayer were appointed a committee to make plans for the annual meeting and banquet some time in March.

New directors elected were Hugh C. Winslow, David Whichard III, J. Edmund Waldrop, Charles B. Bissette, David A. Evans, Dr. M. P. Hoot, Kenneth Phillips and B. B. Kingsdown gives all three...

BEAUTY... COMFORT... QUALITY...

COMFORT EYELET—Does away with lumpy tufts and bumps.

HOOR-GLASS COILS—Self-equalizing prevent mattress "slope."

DOUBLE STRENGTH ROSE—Specially designed coils—no vent sagging and keep KINGSDOWN always in shape.

Over fifty years of experience goes into the making of a KINGSDOWN mattress. That's why Kingsdown offers so many exclusive features. Yes, you buy SLEEP when you buy a Kingsdown... it's an investment in comfort and health for the rest of your life. Kingsdown colors in Warm Gray, Wood Rose, Old Blue and stripes in (Tan, Brown and Rose.) Matching box springs, of course.
