Berlin's Deadly Blockade Counts Another Victim

Soviet Sector Police Kill One More German; Bystanders Hurt In Incident

Berlin, Feb. 18—(AP)—Soviet-controlled German police killed another German while tightening their blockade within a blockade, and the incident heightened tension today between Communists and their foes, who charged the shooting was "murder."

Sporadic fist fights were reported on subway and elevated trains between German passengers and Communist-controlled police, who sought to search and seize their belongings. The Communists sentenced to three months in prison a woman charged with "insulting" one of these policemen.

A German man and a 14-year-old girl, innocent bystanders, were wounded in another sector border incident. The scrape occurred when a vegetable dealer missed the blockade halt signal of the Soviet-controlled police. The police fired four shots at the truck. They missed the driver but hit the bystanders. The girl suffered a leg wound and the man was struck in the hand. The truck escaped into the American sector.

Meanwhile, rumors of a new Soviet zone currency reform sent the Russian-sponsored Eastern market tumbling on German money markets, despite a Russian denial that any change was impending. Against this background, the Western German Constitution Committee advised Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, that it had completed drafting a basic law to serve for a democratically-governed Germany of the future.

Clay said the target date of May 1 for establishment of the West German government "now looks pretty good." Reports from East Germany were that the Soviets, who violently oppose the creation of a West German government, will have a German constitution of their own worked together by March, to be presented as a charter for all Germany. The Russians refuse to recognize the division of Germany.

The man slain by Soviet sector police was the second shooting victim at the borders since the Communists began their blockade within a blockade, designed to halt what they termed smuggling of contraband supplies into the Western sector. The other victim was a man who tried to run a truckload of wood through the blockade.

Police Called To Answer Charges Of Beating Man

Leaksville, N.C., Feb. 18—(AP)—Two Leaksville policemen were called to Recorder's Court in nearby Spry today to answer charges of using their fists and a blackjack on a man they arrested.

Policeman Dick Fowler and Ira Craddock were named in warrants taken by Robert Cox, 49. They arrested Cox last Saturday. He faces charges of drunkenness, resisting arrest and assault. In turn, he charged the policemen with assault with a deadly weapon. Cox said nine stitches were taken in his head Saturday, and he was hospitalized until Monday.

Ice Jam Resists Dive Bombing

Nickerson, Kas., Feb. 18—(AP)—A dive bombing attack on the Arkansas River by veteran World War II pilots failed yesterday to jar loose an ice jam.

Four P-51 Mustang fighter planes participated in the experiment. The pilots reported, however, that the force of their 250 pound bombs "came right back through the same holes" in the ice.

Delinquent Citizens

An Article By General Omar Bradley Is Strong Rebuke To Those Who Think American Way Of Life Doesn't Need Individual Contributions; What He Thinks

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

General Omar N. Bradley, United States Army Chief of Staff and one of the outstanding commanders in World War II, preaches a powerful sermon on the dangers of "Delinquent Citizenship" today in an article in Collier's Weekly.

As a matter of fact, this ordinarily quiet-spoken soldier rolls up his sleeves and administers a sound drubbing to shirkers. The burden of his rebuke is that we Americans can lose the battle against statism if we fail to make our contributions to the welfare of the home, the school, the church and the community. That means everybody—not just the other fellow, but you and me.

The general is dealing with such a vital truth, in such a forceful manner, that this column welcomes the opportunity to report his views. He imparts the feeling that it's high time for us to take stock. He points out that our struggle against the forces of evil may be long and that "ideas are as important as the atom bomb." He sums it up bluntly like this: "Our danger lies not so much in a fifth column whose enemy is

Iron Lung Girl Spurns Hospital

For two years Janet Gentle, pretty 18-year-old polio victim, has lived in an iron lung at her home in Russellville, Ala., at the expense of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation. But now the foundation has notified her parents it no longer can pay two nurses $600 a month to operate the artificial respirator. Foundation officials offered to give Janet treatment at a hospital in Milton, W. Va. She rejected the offer. "I would rather die than go back to a hospital and leave my family," she said. The nurse at left was not identified. (AP Photo.)

House Votes Out Auto Inspections

Measure To Repeal State's Program Of Mechanical Inspections Approved By Overwhelming Voice Vote

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 18—(AP)—The House today passed by an overwhelming voice vote a measure which would abolish the state's program of mechanical inspection of motor vehicles. The action followed a lengthy debate.

The House shouted its approval of the inspection law repealer on second and third reading and sent it to the Senate for action. Only a scattering of "no" votes was heard. During the debate, Rep. Woodrow W. Jones of Rutherford asserted the auto inspection program is "a damnable mess, and let's get rid of it."

Rep. C. Wayland Spruill of Bertie said the inspections are "worrying the people of North Carolina to death." Rep. John W. Umstead of Orange, defending inspections, told the House members the program has "done some good" and that they were voting to kill it to "placate" their constituents.

Rep. Winfield Blackwell of Forsyth joined Umstead in defending the inspection program.

Federal Tobacco Tax Shows Drop In N. Carolina

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—North Carolina's federal tobacco tax collections in 1948 were more than double those of any other state. Even so, they dropped to $726,399,656 from $759,702,498 in 1947.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue made the figures public today. Out of total collections of $1,311,539,649 in 1948, North Carolina and Virginia counted for more than 1,045,000,000. In 1947 National total was $1,266,710,457 and those two states turned in $1,056,631,000 of it. Virginia's 1948 total of $320,213,099 was up from the 1947 figure of $296,923,721. Kentucky was third both years, with $95,255,461 in 1947 and $149,046,341 in 1948.

O'Neal Fund Now Totals $1,355.55

Donations Coming In From Eastern N.C., Other States

The Greenville Veterans' housing commission today turned over to J. S. Moye, treasurer of the O'Neal Foundation, a check for $300, bringing the foundation's fund to $1,355.55, Moye said.

Another $350 was raised by members of the American Legion and members of the Lions club, Moye reported. This amount was used to finish the payments on a lot on which the O'Neal house is to be built, and to take care of other current expenses of the family.

Contributions have been received from people in Greenville, other parts of Eastern North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, Moye said.

According to Moye's report, in addition to numerous donations from individuals, the American Legion Auxiliary has raised $200 for the fund, and the Meadbrook church sponsored collections at various places which amounted to $50.

Officials of the O'Neal foundation said today offers have been received from various Greenville firms as well as individuals to furnish materials and labor for building the house.

Foundation officials said Contractors Blue Dunn, Roy Smith and C. B. West, Jr. have offered to supervise the building of the house without cost. Clark Construction company has offered to furnish all materials and labor necessary for the foundation of the house, the Hub Electric company has offered to donate all materials and labor for wiring the house. Morris Brothers have offered to furnish all labor for painting the house, and

Obstacle Course In Life Plagues Baby Daughter

Pittsburgh, Feb. 18—(AP)—And now it's pneumonia that three-month-old Joanne Louise Allen has to lick. She's whipped every other ailment that has plagued her brief life.

First of all Joanne got an unusual start in life. She was born in a hospital-bound ambulance. Her father, a bus driver, delivered her. Then she was endangered by her mother's RH negative blood. Doctors prepared for treatment but the little miss didn't need their help to get well.

Several weeks ago she went to the hospital for thymus treatment. An X-ray plate showed she had a collapsed left lung. It took 16 days to get over that. Then came pneumonia last Saturday. But her doctors now say she has a good chance for recovery.

Nomination Of Wallgren Fought

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—Senate Democrats cleared the way today for committee approval next week of President Truman's appointment of Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security resources board.

But Senator Cain (R-Wash) promised to carry to the Senate itself his fight to prove that the President's fishing trip friend isn't qualified to hold down the $14,000-a-year job.

U. S. Minister To Hungary Assails Communist Rule

Chapin Says Anti-Reds Would Overwhelmingly Win A Free Election

Paris, Feb. 18—(AP)—Selden Chapin, American Minister to Hungary, said today life in that country "is beyond imagination and defies description."

Enroute home to report to the United States Government on the case of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Chapin told reporters last night the arrest of Catholics in Hungary was continuing. The Hungarian government has asked Chapin's recall.

Today Chapin told correspondents it was "a wonderful feeling" to breathe the free air of France, and added:

"As far as conditions are concerned in the country which I left yesterday, I would like to say this much: that no one today, except the blind and the twisted, can fail to see that the Hungarian people are under the complete, total domination of a group of Moscow-trained Communists whose sole allegiance is to the Kremlin."

"I can say—and you may quote me on this," Chapin continued, "that unless a person has actually lived in Hungary or any of the curtain countries and learned from personal observation the facts of life, he or she cannot possibly conceive what life is."

Regarding the trial and life sentencing of Cardinal Mindszenty on treason charges, the U. S. Minister said: "You have all seen President Truman's full endorsement of Secretary Acheson's statement. I can only add that in the light of my own knowledge of the facts and of the background and circumstances surrounding the trial, I consider that the Secretary's characterization of the trial was stated in measured and restrained terms."

As to the "so-called Hungarian governments' various charges against him in the case, Chapin said these were "deliberate and fabricated lies, beneath contempt."

Asked what he thought would result if free elections could be held in Hungary tomorrow, Chapin replied: "I think the anti-Communist majority would be overwhelming. The percentage of Communist votes would probably be less than in many western European countries."

'Escape Artists' Fail Four Times

Fort Meade, Md., Feb. 18—(AP)—Two hard-boiled Army prisoners sat glumly in their cells today, ruminating over the failure of their fourth break for freedom.

The pair, Donald J. Nye, 21, of Syracuse, N.Y., and Robert Nelson 22, of Rome, Ga., were captured by military police patrols yesterday. They had made a daring escape late Wednesday night.

Both men are dishonorably discharged soldiers.

Confirm Identity Of Dead Officer

Athens, Feb. 18—(AP)—A mutilated body found in a ravine near Karpentis has been identified positively as that of Lt. Col. Selden R. Edner, American Air Force officer. The American mission announced today that the identification had been made from medical records.

Edner, 30, of San Jose, Calif., was an unarmed observer aboard a Greek Royal Air Force plane which made a forced landing in Karpentis Jan. 21.

Shrinking World Market For U.S. Wheat In Offing

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—The United States may find a much smaller world market for its wheat after the European aid program ends.

An agriculture department report today showed a growing trend by wheat-importing countries to enter separate long-term agreements with wheat-producing nations—other than the United States—for future grain supplies. During the past marketing year, such agreements accounted for 78 per cent of all non-American wheat moving in world trade.

This trend, the report said, has "the effect of restricting the area

Truman Says Economic Safety Gets First Call

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—President Truman reminded a gathering of war veterans and Congressmen last night that America's economic stability must be preserved "in this crucial period of world history."

His statement was read by a White House aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, at the biennial dinner given for members of Congress by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The President's message refrained from any direct reference to veterans pension legislation now pending in Congress. But in stressing the importance of "a strong and economically stable" country, Mr. Truman said also that the "first consideration" of any vet-

Truman Prosperity Forecast Brings Reaction By Critics

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—President Truman's confident forecast of continued prosperity brought this reaction today from his Capitol Hill critics: The best way to help the nation's business is to leave it alone.

The President also renewed his request yesterday for a $4,000,000 tax boost—a proposal which appeared to be picking up support from Democrats, but only if necessary to keep the treasury out of the red. There is a lot of opposition, however.

Mr. Truman told his Thursday news conference current price drops are only the leveling-off that everybody has been hoping for, and he spoke confidently of the business outlook. He said the business situation is nothing to be alarmed about.

Some critics agreed that the leveling off is healthy. But they said the President's economic control program, if approved by Congress, might turn a healthy recession into a depression.

While Mr. Truman took the economic temperature, there were these other developments:

1. Buying interest in the New York stock market sharpened yesterday and the market moved ahead for the best overall advance in six weeks.

2. At Cleveland, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad announced temporary layoffs for more than 4,000 employees in four areas. A spokesman blamed declining passenger business and slower movement of coal due to a mild winter.

3. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad ordered a five-day furlough late this month for 321 of its shop employees. A continued decline in freight business was given as the reason.

4. At Detroit, the Kaiser-Frazer Automobile Company announced it will close its Willow Run plant, where 7,000 work for three weeks while plans are made for production of two new utility model cars.

Dim Strike View For Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 18—(AP)—Taxicab returned to the Philadelphia streets scene today as the city's transit strike went into its second week with little hope of an early settlement.

As Philadelphia's millions went to work and school this morning, taxis of the Yellow Cab Company and independent operators were rolling for the first time since the drivers walked out Tuesday.

The striking cabbies began drifting back to work last night after officials of the AFL-Taxi Drivers Union ordered its members to end their walkout pending formal negotiations.

Negotiators in the transit strike were not so successful. There was no announcement of further meetings by the Philadelphia Transportation Company and CIO-Transport Workers Union after a session last night brought the opposing factions within six cents of settlement.

At the transit meeting last night, National President Michael J. Quill announced the union had reduced its previous wage demand from 17 cents an hour to 13 cents. At the same time, PTC President Charles Ebert upped the company's offer from three cents an hour to seven.

FEAR 8 KILLED Buenos Aires, Feb. 18—(AP)—The American Embassy said today that eight persons are believed to have perished in the crash of a U. S. Army C-47 plane near Salta, Argentina, south of the Bolivian border.

5. The United States Chamber of Commerce advised employers to resist fourth-round wage hikes lest they reverse the downward trend in the cost of living.

6. A majority of the 17 private-industry economists attending a Capitol Hill conference spoke out against the Administration's request for higher taxes and wage-price at-location controls. They contended such action now would hamper business expansion.

The House yesterday voted to let the President keep part of the power he now has. A bill extending export controls for 28 months was passed and sent to the Senate, which has approved a similar measure with slight differences.

Gov. James E. Folsom granted a 90-day reprieve to Samuel Taylor just two hours before he was to have been put to death for raping a teen age white girl.

Acheson To Help Study Of Treaty

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—The weary Senate Labor Committee plodded into more labor law hearings today after getting an industry leader's demand that the Taft-Hartley law be strengthened instead of repealed.

Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, who was vice-chairman of the War Production Board during the war, took this aggressive line late yesterday.

His defense of Taft-Hartley signalled into action a firing line of aroused Democrats.

Senator Murray of Montana launched an attack on General Electric's great size and suggested that company officials be required to sign affidavits opposing "the gradual concentration of ownership that is leading us into totalitarianism."

Senator Pepper of Florida met Wilson's assertion that he can't discover any "abuses" in the Taft-Hartley law by saying the whole thing is "just anathema" to the mass of American workers.

And as more industry witnesses lined up to testify before the senators today, the House Labor Committee at the other end of the capitol neared the time of deciding whether to have hearings of its own concerning the Taft-Hartley act.

Rep. John Kennedy (D-Mass), a member of the House group, said in an interview he is very much in favor of House hearings.

Kennedy said he has heard talk that the House committee may send a Taft-Hartley repeal bill to the House floor without hearing any testimony on it.

Warn Florida; Wooley Coming

Raleigh, Feb. 18—(AP)—Here's a warning to Sarasota, Fla.: "The man who came to dinner" is headed that way.

Monty Wooley of the films stopped in Raleigh last night and explained to reporters that he was en route to Florida on doctors' orders to clear up a case of laryngitis.

The chances are I'll die down there—all their orange juice, sunshine and sea breezes," he quipped.

Reds Grab New Post In Cabinet

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 18—(AP)—The small holders party lost a cabinet post to the Communists today in another reshuffle of the Hungarian government.

The government appointed Ernoe Geroe, Communist, as Minister of finance. Geroe has been acting Minister since his predecessor, Miklos Naranyi, small holders, escaped the country in December 1938.

Lots Of Talk In Labor Law Study

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—The weary Senate Labor Committee plodded into more labor law hearings today after getting an industry leader's demand that the Taft-Hartley law be strengthened instead of repealed.

Congress On A Spot

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—Congress is right on a spot with the bill to give war veterans a pension. A lot of veterans are going to get sore at a lot of congressmen if the vote is "no."

But if the vote is "yes," the pension plan will add billions of dollars to the cost of running the government.

Since President Truman's Administration is trying to keep down costs, his leaders will try to keep the bill from coming to a vote.

No one is guessing in exact figures how much the plan would cost the country. But the New York Times says the cost ultimately would be "fantastic."

As it stands, the plan, or bill, calls for a pension of $80 a month to all veterans of World Wars I and II when they reach 65.

That would be $1,080 a year for each. There are now 18,000,000 veterans.

About 303,500 veterans would be eligible this year, if the bill passed. The pension for them would cost $129,000,000 members of the House Veterans Committee say. As more veterans reached 65, the cost would

Colder Weather Helps Slow Flood And Snow Slides

Wyoming Rocked By New Blast Of Snow, Winds; Sub-Zero Area Spreading

Colder weather helped check the rash of floods and snow slides in parts of the Pacific Northwest today as a new blast of snow and winds punched weather-groggy Wyoming.

Lower temperatures in the flooded inland areas of the Pacific Northwest reduced the flow of water from the rain swollen streams and snowslides. But floods threatened the coastal area where temperatures were higher.

Wyoming, pounded almost daily by snow and wind storms for weeks, was in the path of the fresh mass of cold air which spread into the northern plains. The strong northerly winds and blowing snow struck the northeastern part of the state and re-blocked newly cleared roads. The mercury fell rapidly after yesterday's readings of above freezing.

The storm moved into Montana and North Dakota and the mercury plunged to below zero in some areas. It fell to five below at Lewistown, Mont., and dropped 30 degrees in six hours at Minot, N.D. The cold wave was headed for the north central states and the U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures would drop to 15 below in northern Minnesota tonight.

Temperatures were much higher over the central states and seasonable in most other sections of the country. The only rain belts were in Washington and Oregon, and along the central and west Gulf coast.

The rains in western Washington and Oregon left many highways flooded. Snow slides blocked roads through passes in the Cascade Mountains. But transcontinental trains resumed service through the Washington mountains. The colder weather in northern Idaho temporarily halted the slides that threatened the mountainous area.

Meanwhile, the job of clearing roads and feeding stranded livestock in the western blizzard states progressed. The Air Force's haylift in Nevada ended after 25 days and 28 "flying boxcars" were to return to their home bases. The planes dropped 1,800 tons of hay to the 300,000 sheep and cattle stranded in the Big Horn area since the service started Jan. 24.

Rumor Request To Raise Pay Of Commissioners

During the past week there have been reports from usually reliable sources in Pitt county that a request is being made to have a bill introduced in the General Assembly raising the pay of Pitt county commissioners.

The proposed bill, according to reports, will ask the chairman's salary be increased to $125 a month and the salary of the other members of the board of commissioners be set at $75 a month.

At the present time the chairman of the board receives $50 a month and the other commissioners $25 a month.

Gratitude Train Plaques Missing

Raleigh, Feb. 18—(AP)—Five of the coats of arms which adorned the North Carolina car of the French gratitude train are missing.

The car which has been turned over to the 40 and 8 Society of the American Legion, is on public display in front of the Wake County Courthouse.

Legion officials believed souvenir hunters took the plaques and asked that they be returned.

Skinner-Favale Vows Spoken In Jersey City

Miss Gemma Favale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Favale, of Jersey City, N. J., and Rufus Glenn Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Skinner, of Greenville, N. C., were united in marriage in an impressive candle light ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Jersey City, on February 12 at 4:30 o'clock. Reverend Laurence Beers, pastor of the couple, officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Seven branched candelabra, long leaf pine, Oregon fern and tall baskets of white gladioli were used to decorate the church.

Miss Emma Clarke Bridge, organist, presented a program of pre-nuptial music and Mrs. Kenneth Strayhorn of Chapel Hill, N. C., sister of the groom sang, "I Love You Truly," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

Traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white wedding gown of duchess satin with a sheer yoke outlined and embroidered in seed pearls. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Miss Camilla Favale, serving as maid of honor. She was gowned in mist green satin and net made on the same lines as the bride's. Her head dress was a braided band of matching material and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and sweet peas.

Best man was Frank Moffet, of Jersey City. Ushers were Benny and Vedora Favale, brothers of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of aqua crepe with white feather hat, white gloves and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Favale, parents of the bride, entertained at a dinner and reception at The Swiss House, Union City, N. J., at 6:30.

Schedule Organizational Meeting Of Student-Parent-Teachers Group

An organizational meeting of the Independent Student - Parent - Teacher Council of Greenville High School will be held in the GHS auditorium Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. The temporary chairman of the council, the Reverend John A. Neilson, will preside.

Chairman Neilson urges all students, parents, and teachers of the high school to attend the meeting. The main items of business will be the adoption of a constitution and election of officers. Mrs. Bessie Picklesimer, program chairman, states that some form of musical program will be given by the GHS musical groups.

The constitutional and nominating committee, headed by Reverend Neilson, has completed a constitution and drawn up a slate of officers for consideration by the entire council.

During American Education Week in November a group of students, parents and teachers approved a plan, presented by members of the staff of "Green Lights," high school news publication, for the formation of an independent organization which would bring the three fundamental forces in education—students, parents, and teachers—together in one unified organization.

Reverend Neilson was elected temporary chairman at that meeting and was asked to appoint a constitutional and nominating committee to begin work toward the organization of the proposed body. The temporary chairman appointed a committee composed of teachers, parents, and students. Members of the committee were Mrs. Rufus H. Stark, John G. Fleming, Mrs. Bessie Picklesimer, Orren E. Dowd, Bettie Anne Young, Ruel Tyson Jr., and Reverend Neilson, chairman.

After three meetings the committee completed a constitution and a slate of officers, both of which will be presented to the entire council February 22. All parents who have children enrolled in the high school GHS teachers, and students of the high school are members of the council.

Red Oak News

The ladies of Red Oak community enjoyed an "old-fashioned" quilting last Wednesday at the club house. Mesdames Wyatt Barber, Tom Manning, Bill Stocks and H. R. Allen arrived early and "put-in" the quilt in the frames. This quilt is of the log-cabin style pieced together by Mrs. Nan Barber and on its "logs" of red, green and yellow are embroidered about fifteen hundred names of persons, old and young, far and near who contributed towards our building fund last fall.

About ter-thirty the cooks and the other quilts began to arrive. The two youngest were Bobby James and Eileen May, but they were too young to do anything but sleep and eat. But nevertheless it was a great joy to have them.

About one o'clock the feast was spread on the long sixteen foot table. It was piping hot, for had it not been just prepared on our big new gas range? Can you imagine having chicken pastry, corned backbone, ham, pork chops, collards, beans, butterbeans, corn bread, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, pickles, corn, fruit cake, pound cake pecan pie, ice tea and many other good things to eat. The ladies brought the food from home and it was all cooked that day.

Busy fingers worked steadily on the quilt while all the cooking, dish washing and cleaning was carried on by those maybe not so skilled with the needle. It was a happy occasion, one that will be long remembered by the large number attending.

Circle No. 1 will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Ois Kittrell Sunday night, Feb. 20th, at 7:30 o'clock. Every member is urged to attend as matters of importance to the church will be discussed.

Little Miss Shirley Langley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Langley, recently underwent an operation on her brain in Duke Hospital. Her many friends will be glad to know that although her condition still remains serious, she is some better than she was. Her address is Howland Ward, Duke Hospital, Durham. She would appreciate an avalanche of "get-well cards." Won't you send her one?

In the February issue of "The Ladies Home Journal" an article written by John Gunther describes her condition. Shirley is about 13 years old and has five or six brothers and sisters younger than she is. She is a fine little girl.

Tomorrow's Gardens

By the Greenville Garden Club

Last week, quoting from the North Carolina Gardener, we gave some suggestions regarding the care of camellias. Normally and under the right conditions they are easy to grow and perhaps the most satisfactory of our flowering shrubs. Certainly their proud owners consider them so.

They are, however, subject to certain dislikes or allergies even as people and if their surroundings are too unconvincing they will droop and fail to bloom.

Sometimes it is easier to remember what not to do so this week we give some don'ts! Do not spray plants in very cold weather. Unless they are badly diseased or affected with scale they may not need spraying anyway.

Do not cultivate with a hoe around the roots. If they are kept mulched there will be no need of cultivation but if grass or weeds get too near the plant, pull them out by hand.

Do not plant them any deeper than they were in the nursery. Do not fertilize them except in early February and late March or early April, then in late November. Use a special fertilizer prepared for camellias and azaleas and for amount follow directions on the fertilizer bag.

And now one more suggestion this time on the positive side. Keep your camellias mulched but use a porous material such as oak leaves or pine straw. Excelsior may be used but it is apt to blow around. Do not use a mulch which will form a tight compact cover over the ground.

Too often we fail to follow these very simple rules and grow discouraged. The so-called "green thumb" of the successful gardener is usually not a gift of grace but the result of studying plant requirements then putting that study into practice.

RELIGION BECOMES PRACTICAL

A converted man was telling about the joy which had come into his life when he "got religion." "When I was converted," he declared, "the words of the Bible got on their feet and walked around the room."

In other words, the teachings of the Bible became real for him, and practical. Before his heart and mind had been touched by the supernatural power of a great religious experience, the words of the Bible were dead and sterile. But the experience of conversion put life into them. Jesus said that when people "got religion," the Holy Spirit would come to them and be their guide, revealing the truth of things they had not previously understood.

People whose lives are held in the bondage of evil habits cannot understand religious truth. Neither can the scoffers or the people who care precious little whether religion is true or false. The significance of religious truth is reserved for those who are sincere in their seeking and when this sincerity leads one to yielding his life to the vast spiritual powers which undergird the universe, and which have been personalized for us in the life and message of Christ, then religious truth suddenly comes to life before our eyes. The words of the Bible get on their feet and walk around the room. Christian doctrines peel off their coats and go to work for us helping us solve the practical problems of life.

CORN—The corn growing contest coming up between North Carolina and Virginia ought to prove interesting as well as profitable. Governor Scott accepted a challenge issued by Governor Tuck for the contest, decision to be based not on total acreage yield but on percentage of increase in 1949 over the 1937-46 average. Last year's record doesn't give much hope to Tar Heels. Virginia's yield of 43 bushels per acre was 55 per cent above the ten year average, while North Carolina's 31 bushels was about 42 per cent over the 1937-46 period.

NON-SUIT—It was inevitable that announcement of non-suit in the action brought by the state department of agriculture against Coble Dairy Products would occasion facetious comment. Since the case was started, George Coble, head of the firm under indictment for using non-approved ten-cent milk containers, has been appointed to the highway commission. Parties to the action insist this had nothing to do with the settlement, which was effected when Coble promised to discontinue use of the off-size bottles within ten days.

BULLETIN—The bulletin board of State Treasurer Brandon Hodges' office shows that North Carolina has on deposit Tuesday the sum of $114,770,724 in 254 banks. Hodges says he expects to keep this bulletin up to date by frequent posting of changes. He also sponsored a bill authorizing the treasurer to invest a considerable part of this money in securities liquid enough to get the money out if needed. It is to be noted that this money is not "surplus," since most of it has been committed but has not been actually drawn out of the banks. In one sense it may be termed "idle money," but that condition is only temporary.

TIP—It was brought out at the road committee meeting that use of a facsimile of the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina on each of the sheets in the 200 million dollar road bond issue would save about $5,000. The original bill contemplated individual impressions of the Great Seal on each bond. That meant shipping them back and forth between Raleigh and New York with heavy express, insurance and labor charges. A bit later in committee proceedings Representative Wayland Spruill got mixed up in figures, using millions instead of thousands. When his colleagues chided him he said he had gotten so accustomed to big figures the words just slipped out. Then he added: "Why, awhile ago when somebody mentioned six thousand dollars I thought they were talking about a little tip handed to somebody for doing a small job."

CEMENT—Rep. E. R. Hanford of Alamance introduced a bill in 1937

and again in the 1949 session of the legislature looking toward state operation of a cement manufacturing plant to furnish cement for public roads and state buildings. It was killed the first time and is in the legislative mill now. At the road committee Thursday the Alamance member sought by several questions, direct and indirect, to get highway Engineer Rogers to say that the only good roads had concrete either all the way or as a base for bituminous top. The engineer didn't fall into the trap, but the representative got his point across to the rest of the members. The answer given by Burch was that all types of road have their distinctive place, and that in some instances a blacktop road meets the need just as adequately as an all cement job.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Once upon a time there was a man who learned how to make gold.

He was a poor bookkeeper, tired of poverty and weary of keeping other men's books. "Why can't I learn to make gold?" He asked himself one day. "Man can do anything he sets his mind to. The Germans make butter from corn, we make bombs from atoms." He didn't want to make enough gold to throw the world's money system out of kilter. No, he intended to keep his discovery—when he made it—a secret. He just planned to turn out enough gold for his own modest needs. A million here, a million there.

So he went to a department store and bought himself a chemistry set. He wore out the seat of his pants at the public library reading volumes on alchemy and the transmutation of metals. Finally he decided that the easiest thing to turn into gold was quicksilver.

"All I have to do is find a way to make it jell and turn yellow," he said.

He set up a laboratory in his basement and went to work. Evening after evening he labored there alone past midnight. Feverishly he stewed up stinking messes of chemicals with his home smelled like a glue factory. Into each batch he hopefully pounded a little quicksilver—with no result.

His quest became a mania. He quit his job after the 3,000-st unsuccessful experiment. After that he stayed in the basement night and day.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Freshman Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill) wants a legitimate excuse—work for instance—to get out of having to accept the scores of cocktail party invitations with which local hostesses deluge newcomers to town.

He proposed recently that members of the Senate Labor Committee hold their hearings on new labor legislation late afternoons and early evenings to "escape the people who think a senator's time should be taken up with cocktail parties."

The former University of Chicago economics professor confided to newsmen that new senators like himself have "no excuse" to decline invitations. "We would have, if we had to work," he said.

Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) also a member of the labor committee, is believed to agree with him. He recently protested from the Senate floor against what he said was "high living" of the alcohol variety in Washington.

Mrs. Carl Mundt, wife of the Republican Senator from South Dakota, has some theories about how best to get along in the capital. She suggests that folks who come to Washington "live just about the same way they do back home and people will accept them for what they are."

"To many people come to Washington expecting to be sitting on top of the world," she told me. "You're not going to be boosted to the top, right off, socially or any other way—you have to earn your place."

Mrs. Mundt says she learned about life in the nation's capital the hard way. Shortly after her husband had been elected representative of his district back in 1939, she began keeping a scrapbook—all the derogatory comments published about Congress and congressional wives.

"Columnists and society editors for the last 20 years it seems, have ridiculed us as a body, have made us feel dowdy, have done much to deflate us. It's dangerous trend and one about which I'm most concerned," she said in warning newcomers not to "expect too much."

Mrs. Mundt says she has found that the most interesting part of life in Washington "is listening to debates in the House and Senate." She was a regular ring-sider at the hearings of the House un-American Activities committee during the 80th Congress when her husband was a member of the group.

Scott's 'Liquor Message' Is Anticipated Wednesday

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 16—(AP)—Governor Scott probably will go before the legislature Wednesday and ask the State's lawmakers to submit the liquor question to the people.

Rep. L. A. Martin of Davidson told some 2,300 drys who flocked to Raleigh yesterday that the Governor told him he wanted to be heard on the controversial subject.

Martin said he would introduce a resolution inviting Scott to appear before a joint session. The resolution, he said, would be introduced either today or tomorrow.

The crowd of drys came here for a public hearing before the joint committee on propositions and grievances on referendum bills introduced by Martin and Senator George Penny of Guilford. The throng surpassed by more than 1,100 the previous turnout for the 1949 legislature. The last big public hearing crowd numbered about 1,200 who descended on the capitol city to demand better rural roads.

Only those favoring a referendum were heard. Opponents will have their say Tuesday.

As with the roads crowd, the hearing originally was scheduled for the hall of the house. However, there were far too many people for those comparatively small quarters and it was moved to Raleigh's Memorial auditorium.

Penny explained his bill. He said it called for an all-wet or an all-dry vote. "If the state votes wet,

Planes Fly Home After 'Haylift'

Fallon, Nev., Feb. 18—(AP)—Twenty-five Air Force "Flying Boxcars," credited with saving thousands of sheep and cattle on snow-bound Nevada ranges, return today to their home bases.

Some of the fliers said their haylift record of 270,000 miles without accident over rugged terrain and in bad weather amazed them.

"We haven't even banded up a wing tip," marveled Col. Adriel Williams of Shelbyville, Ky., commander of the operation.

The amount of hay the Air Force dropped to the 300,000 sheep and cattle in the dry region was more impressive to stockmen.

Since the drop began Jan. 24 some 1800 tons of hay have been delivered. Ranchers said the feed couldn't have been brought to the animals so quickly any other way.

Nine planes from the 318th Group at Greenville, S. C., flew to Sacramento last night and were scheduled to leave for their base today.

Two Hundred See Farm Equipment

Two hundred farmers from Pitt and Greene counties convened at the John Planagan Buggy Company for an educational meeting last night and to view the latest farm equipment as manufactured by the Ford Motor Company subsidiary, Dearborn Motors.

Informative movies and a radio broadcast over WOTO at 8:30 were high lights of the meeting. Many leading farmers were interviewed by Charles Whedbee on the radio broadcast. After seeing the latest model Ford tractor and many implements designed to be used with this new tractor, refreshments were served. After drawing for several valuable prizes the meeting closed.

Joe Remines and Burt Edmondson of the Universal Tractor and Equipment Company, Ford tractor distributors for Virginia and North Carolina, stated that this was the best meeting of this type they have attended his year.

Phantoms Favored To Take Roanoke Rapids Cage Five

Play Final Game Of Conference Schedule On Home Court; Defeated Foes In Earlier Game; Jayvees In Preliminary Show

Greenville High School takes to the home court in its final game of the Northeastern Conference basketball schedule tonight favored to win. Roanoke Rapids a team with only mediocre success in loop play this year, will be the opponent.

The Greenville Jayvees, whose basketball prowess has won them a reputation all over the eastern part of the state, will engage the Roanoke Rapids Juniors in a preliminary.

Cosch Bo Farley's Phantoms defeated the Rapids Yellow Jackets early in the season. The Jackets gave the locals little trouble until the closing minutes of the game when they rallied to come within a breath of taking the contest.

Greenville, third place team in Northeastern play, will be eyeing victory number ten. They have lost to Winston, Washington and New Bern this year.

The boys from Roanoke Rapids are in fifth place in the conference, below New Bern but above Elizabeth City.

The game is not being taken lightly by the local quintet. Roanoke Rapids outscored them in the last half of the first game and only by freezing the ball during the closing seconds of the contest did the locals save the victory.

Detroit Sailors Win Yacht Race

Nassau, Bahamas, Feb. 18—(AP)—A Detroit fresh water crew today celebrated victory in the 184 mile Miami to Nassau sailing race.

The men of the 55-foot cutter Blitzen, owned jointly by Murray Knapp and Ernest Grates, jockeyed the trim racing craft across the finish line yesterday 35 hours, 48 minutes and 57 seconds after leaving Miami Tuesday noon.

The Blitzen's corrected time was 38 hours, 43 minutes and 35 seconds, the best in the fleet of 18 finishing vessels, largest in the 11 year history of the race.

Herman Wedemeyer of the Los Angeles Dons had the lowest punt average in the all-America Conference last season—his one kick traveled but ten yards.

Slimming Shea

Frank (Spec) Shea, some 25 pounds lighter than he was a year ago, is confident he can regain the pitching form he showed in 1947 when he pitched the Yankees to a pennant and the World Championship. The reason—he's lighter and wiser!

Following his success in the 1947 World Series when he was credited with a pair of victories over the Brooklyn Dodgers, Shea hit the banquet circuit with the greatest zest. The tour of the winter knife-and-fork loop left him bigger but, unfortunately, not better. Spec simply could not get into shape and was a great disappointment.

He advanced all sorts of explanations for his failure to measure up to his freshman standards but the sheep truth was that he wasn't in condition to pitch winning ball. The past winter Shea shunned the banquet tour and followed a rigid diet outlined by the Yankees' physician, Dr. Jacques Fischl. Now he is confident that his efforts will pay off handsomely.

A further incentive for Shea to get into shape was the signing of Casey Stengel as manager of the Yankees. Spec is dead certain he can bounce back under Stengel. He worked for Stengel in 1946 with Oakland and won 15 games with an earned run average of 1.66. That earned him a chance with the Yankees. The big right-hander recalls that he liked working for Stengel and is confident that he will make the Yankees forget his 1948 record.

Mild Winter In East Costing Money To Ski Resorts; Season Nearing End

New York, Feb. 18—(AP)—You might like the relatively mild winter the east has experienced this year—but if you do, you're no skier. Again this week the word from most eastern centers is "no skiing," and inn operators face the loss of thousands of dollars more added to the considerable money already lost.

For the past three weeks, there has been some skiing in the eastern slopes, but the mild weather just about wiped out any hopes for this weekend—and the season rapidly is winding into the home stretch.

One thing seems certain. Even if there should be snow for the remainder of the winter on week-ends, it would be virtually impossible for those who operate the ski slopes and trails and Inns to recoup more than a small fraction of the money they already have lost.

Add to that the fact that railroads sporting goods companies which supply the skier, have been hit and the figure reaches almost astronomical proportions.

Young President For Baltimore Baseball Orioles

Baltimore, Feb. 18—(AP)—Jack Dunn III, 27-year-old grandson and namesake of the famous owner-manager of the Baltimore Orioles, is the club's new president.

Although the youthful, unassuming Princeton grad has been in line for the post since he was born, the move apparently came as a surprise to him last night when he was elected to head the International league club.

The Dunn name has been synonymous with the Orioles since shortly after the turn of the century. The first Jack Dunn managed the club to a league championship in 1908.

Two years later he bought out Ned Hanlon, then the club was his. He continued managing, however, and brought back the pennant for seven consecutive years—from 1919 through 1925.

Big Chance For Promising Boxer

New York, Feb. 18—(AP)—Rocky Castellani, a rising young star from the hard coal mines of northeastern Pennsylvania, is a slight choice to whip Charlie Fusari tonight in his first Madison Square Garden main event.

Winner of three New York appearances and tabbed "rookie of the year" of 1948, Rocky gets his big chance to make good in the big town.

Castellani will not lack for support, anthracite district fans, who cheered Pete Latzo to the welter crown 22 years ago, are descending in numbers.

With his eye on bigger things, Rocky comes to town to face a welterweight in a special catch weight match. His manager has posted $1,500 to guarantee he will come in as low as 152 pounds. That will be the lightest he has weighed in years for he now is a legitimate middleweight with aspirations to wear Marcel Cerdan's crown.

Castellani whipped Harold Green and Lenny Mancini in Garden preliminaries and knocked out Walter Cartier in a October main bout at St. Nicholas Arena. A sturdy scrapper, Rocky lost only once in 26 bouts and he reversed that defeat, by Billy Kilroy, in a later bout. He has seven knockouts and 18 decision victories.

'Big Four' Form Umpire Service

Durham, N.C., Feb. 18—(AP)—The athletic "big four"—North Carolina, Duke, North Carolina State and Wake Forest—had their own baseball umpires association today.

It is called the Big Four Umpires Association. Its formation was announced here yesterday. Jack Horner, sports editor of the Durham Morning Herald, will serve as supervisor of the organization.

The association will provide umpires for all "big four" games in the coming season.

Pitcher Gregg Signs Contract

Pittsburgh, Feb. 18—(AP)—Pitcher Hal Gregg today forwarded his signed contract to the Pittsburgh Pirates, leaving only four Buccos still unsigned.

Gregg who lives in Anaheim, Calif won two and lost four last season. He finished only one of the eight games he started.

The San Francisco 49ers punted only 44 times in 14 all-America conference games last season.

Giants Turn Up In Spring Camp

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 18—(AP)—The warm waters at Ted Silger's desert Spa, Buckhorn Mineral Wells, were enriched today by about one million dollars worth of baseball talent.

That hunk of capital represents the approximate market value of Horace Stoneham's New York Giant hairlines who are lodged at the resort for a pre-spring training conditioning program.

Manager Leo Durocher yesterday led a vanguard of 11 players and three coaches into Buckhorn Wells, 26 miles east of here. Five more were scheduled to join them today.

The "conditioning" agenda calls for daily early morning baths and rubdowns. Then the boys may go hunting, fishing or golfing. This is intended to reduce winter-odded poundage.

None of the Giants reporting at the resort, including bulky Johnny Mize, appeared too large to require this conditioning project. Even Manager Durocher agreed everybody "looks in pretty fair shape."

Turnesa Tops In Open's First Day

Houston, Tex., Feb. 18—(P)—The 60 golfers in the Saturday-Sunday final rounds of the $10,000 Houston open tournament may have to hold a score of par or better to qualify.

Houston's new Pine Forest Country club took such a par-dubbing in yesterday's opening round that 49 players toured the 6510-yard course at par 72 or lower. Sixteen others were only one-over.

Jim Turnesa, Briar Cliff, N. Y., one of seven famous golfing brothers, took the biggest slice off the course's regulation figures.

He slipped in quietly with a 33-33-66 while most of the rain soaked gallery was watching the putting of Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C. who had collected a five-under 31 on the front nine.

The fans had figured Palmer was a cinch as the day's leader but he faltered on the last two greens and finished 31-36-67. This gave Palmer a second place tie with George Schoux, San Francisco, who went out in 34 and came in at 33.

Grouped one stroke back with 68's were E. J. Harrison, Albuquerque, N. M., Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md., Les Kennedy, Pawtucket, R. I. and Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.

Pirates Close North State Play Here Saturday Evening

Locals Tangle With Traditional Rivals, Atlantic Christian, For Coveted Bohunk Bucket; Bucs Lost Earlier Clash

East Carolina's rampaging Purple Pirates will close out their North State Conference basketball card here Saturday night in a game with the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian.

The coveted Bo-Hunk Bucket will be at stake when the two teams tangle in Wright gymnasium at eight o'clock. The Bulldogs, who gained possession of the trophy by defeating the Pirates six to nothing in football last fall, retained possession of the bucket January 22 by turning back the Buccaneer basketballers 52 to 49.

Both teams have had "fair to middling" success in North State play this year. East Carolina currently holds the edge in conference standing with six wins and seven losses. AC, however, trounced Elon 72 to 57 last night, outdoing East Carolina's nine point victory.

In their first meeting of the year East Carolina faced the Bulldogs minus the services of ace forward and team captain Charlie Bill Moyer. Faced by Paul Glazer who tossed in 18 points, the boys from AC took the contest and a firmer grip on the Bo-Hunk.

Since they lost to Atlantic Christian the Bucs of East Carolina have rolled up four conference victories against two losses in games with the top teams of the loop. Atlantic Christian has likewise shown power, turning back High Point and walling Elon.

Fred Hancock, shortstop rookie of the Chicago White Sox, is a promotion manager for a Memphis brewery in the off-season.

Sarle Brucker, Jr., Philadelphia A's catching rookie, will continue his education during the off-season at San Diego State College.

BEGINNING OUR THIRD YEAR in Greenville

The year 1830 brought the chartering of the Greenville Female Academy, and the emphasis on education resulted in the establishment of three other schools throughout the county. The North Carolina Baptist State Convention was also organized in 1830, and its first meeting was held in Greenville.

About this time Greenville attempted two business adventures that proved failures. Steamboats on the Tar River proved unprofitable, also the Greenville "Gazette" appeared, the first newspaper, published by John Brown, known as "Printer Brown." The paper did not last long as the town was too small to support it.

Today, February 18, 1949, the town of Greenville, North Carolina, is recognized as one of the fastest growing localities in our great state. This growth was made possible by the citizens who had faith and invested their money in their town. Hill's is copying this same pattern, because we hope to be proud of our Greenville store and the many friends and customers we are making.

Death of Bright Angel

by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 6
Having read this brief epistle, Rivers lifted the shield of the lantern, touched the edge of the paper to the candle-flame and watched it consume.

Good weather favored them. Martinez took upon himself the full handling of the ship. He was capable, but by the second day, Rivers knew that he did not like him, and that the dislike was mutual.

De Villivac, the second officer, was a likable sort. At least for a Spaniard, Rivers conceded grudgingly.

That left him free to entertain Donna Dolores. Seeing her radiant beauty under the full light of day, fair skin underlain by roses, he knew that he was playing with fire. Both of them, perhaps, though she had no way of knowing it.

He waited anxiously for her scrutiny with the sun full in his face, but there was no shadow of doubt. Probably she had first been in love with something more dream than real. With a man so dimly remembered that the years had made hazy the details. Now, as irony would have it, he fulfilled the requirements of that dream, and in her mind there was no question.

What the future might hold was obscure, unpromising enough. But he would play his part as well as he knew, since he could do no other. That much he owed to her.

By the second evening, he knew that his first suspicions had been well-founded. He was playing with fire, indeed—fire which threatened to consume him. Her own devotion had kindled an answering flame in him—the more fierce, because never before had a woman meant anything to him.

Grand Isle was a pirate stronghold. It guarded the mouth of Barbataria Bay, a graveyard of captured ships. As they approached, they discovered a great, black-hulled ship which cruised slowly, in contemptuous disregard for pirates or any lesser vessels. Rivers knew it for a British seventy-four, a two-decker. And undoubtedly on the lookout for them.

It was comforting to know that they were not regarded as a legitimate prize of war. Once in range of the seventy-four's broadside, the decision would not be long in doubt.

The Britisher signaled that she was sending a boat across to them, and they waited, both ships hove-to, a quarter-mile of water separating them. The boat came, pulled lustily with a short, thick-set officer who watched with folded arms and forbidding gaze. He came aboard, received with full honors, and stared haughtily about. Rivers advanced to meet him.

"You are this—this Gonzales who is not a Spaniard?" he inquired, speaking with the hot-potato accent used by certain English exquisites. It was deliberate, frosty, but closer to the truth than his guess.

"You might say so, sir," Rivers conceded. "To whom have I the honor of addressing myself?"

The officer jerked his head toward the big frigate.

"Does it matter? There are my credentials."

"And excellent ones," Rivers smiled. "No doubt it saves embarrassment in certain instances."

The officer goggled suspiciously, not quite certain whether he was being ribbed or not.

"Shall we have a glass of wine in my cabin?" Rivers added, and led the way.

"I am Davenant," the Englishman blurted, as Rivers filled his glass. He looked uncomfortable. "Gerald Davenant."

"You're going into New Orleans and past?"

"That is the plan."

Davenant set down his glass with a bang.

"Rotten nonsense," he shouted. "I'd never have agreed had it been left to me. But the more damage you can do, the better. I think that's all that needs to be said."

They waited while the two-decker's sails grew low on the horizon, and were just getting under way again when a newcomer appeared—slipping out from behind the lee of Grand Isle, bearing down upon them. This was an American vessel, a frigate, as arrogant as the Britisher.

"You're going into New Orleans and past?"

"That is the plan."

I been. And signaling them to...
He saw the anxiety, almost the look of fright, in Martinez's face. But he was too late to run, and in a light they would be outgunned. Martinez looked to Rivers.
"What will we do?" he demanded.
"As he says, of course," Rivers retorted. "Let him come aboard if he likes. I'll talk to him."
Martinez gave the order. But his apprehension was lively.
"But he's seen us talking with the Britisher," he protested hoarsely. "There's no telling what he'll do."
"If necessary, we can fight," Rivers reminded. "I trust our guns are ready? If not, make your preparations quickly. But I trust it won't come to that."
Another small boat came dancing across toward them. Rivers watched it pleasurably. This time, he would not play the part of a puppet. Life was still a thing of interest.

FARMALL LEADS THE WAY

Plow-bottom socked-down to work an honest 8 inches deep—and that's easy. The McCormick Deering No. 8 plow is built to lay clean, uniform furrows, as deep as 10 inches. And the new Farmall C Tractor pulls one 16-inch bottom in heavy going—or two 12-inch bottoms in average plowing.

The Farmall C is built to power the diversified farm of 80 to 120 crop acres. Its upholstered seat, mounted on a coil spring and hydraulic shock absorber, gives you a "feather-cushion" ride.

There's a full line of simple, low-cost, quick-change implements for the Farmall C. All excess wheels, levers and pounds are designed-out of these implements—new strength, plus new ease and speed of changing from one implement to another, are designed-in.

All of the Farmall C's quick-change implements are under complete, two-way control—with Farmall Touch-Control. "Tell" the control with a finger-tip touch what you want done—instant-acting hydraulic power does it! See us now about a Farmall C.

World Traveler Tells Experiences

Harold Eide, traveller, explorer and prospector, thrilled his audience at the Pitt County Executives Club last night with word pictures of his exploits. The dinner meeting was held in the dining room of East Carolina Teachers College with President John Messick presiding.

The wanderlust struck Mr. Eide, a Norwegian, early in life and as a boy he experienced adventure aboard a whaling ship. One of his first explorations was a trip to Greenland, followed later by joining the famous explorer Amundsen, for a trip to the North Pole. The speaker described in minute detail some of the trials and hardships of the trip.

At the age of 18 Mr. Eide came to the New World, landing in New York. After a brief stay in New York, he went to San Francisco from which place he shipped to Alaska. After landing in Nome he travelled into the interior of Alaska to explore and after 18 months alone he struck gold. With his first $15,000 in gold he returned to San Francisco where in three months he squandered it in high living. He worked his way back to Alaska aboard a ship and then returned to the interior in search of more gold. After several months his quest was successful and he accumulated a much larger fortune than on his first trip.

Enroute to New York he stopped over in Chicago where he suffered a case of love at first sight and married a beautiful young actress after a single day's courtship. The wife is residing in Florida while Mr. Eide is on his lecture tour. They have three children, one of them a son who is now attending Syracuse University. Eide stated that when his son finishes school this summer he would accompany him on another prospecting trip to Alaska.

The next meeting of the Pitt County Executives Club will be on March 3 and will be guest night. Each member will be permitted to bring two guests. At that time the speaker will be Prince Otto, Archduke of Austria.

A number of faculty members at the college have visited schools in eastern North Carolina during the past several days and have conferred with public school teachers.

Barbers Opposing Growing Whiskers In Winston-Salem

Art Simmons of Winston-Salem with a luxuriant growth of whiskers, including moustache, goatee and sideburns, was in Greenville yesterday boosting the celebration next May of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Forsythe county. Simmons was distributing blank pledges on which ambitious whisker-growers may sign and mail to the Chamber of Commerce at Winston-Salem.

Barbers in Winston-Salem are opposing the movement on the grounds that a widespread growing of whiskers would restrain trade. The Forsythe County Centennial Beard Committee, Joe King, chairman, is supporting the plan.

Unusual Weather Prevails In This Part Of Country

Some farmers have reported that tobacco plants in the beds are coming up. Last year, on account of the severely cold weather, the plants were late sprouting. Farmers say that with some of February and March ahead, any kind of weather can happen. Fishermen say that shad and herring are beginning to run in some eastern waters.

The U. S. weather observer here reported today that the temperature during last night dropped to 31 degrees, one degree below freezing. At 8 a. m. today the mercury stood at 43.

Lost In Rush

Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 15—(AP)—Street cars or subways crowded in your town? Feel sometimes you're losing your hat or coat in the jam?

A conductor in a Hamburg street car ceased his fare collecting job for a minute to holler to the passengers: "Anyone hold a shirt?"

He held the garment daintily between thumb and forefinger. A young lady quickly checked underneath her coat. She blushed, buttoned up her coat, shrieked, grabbed the skirt and jumped off the car.

'Red Ryder' In Action Over Station WGTC

That fighting cowboy of the West Red Ryder, will be heard over WGTC every Saturday night from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock in a new series of exciting sagas of the Old West. Horse rustlers, claim jumpers, cattle thieves, and assorted confidence men are all fair game for the vigorous corrective counter-measures of Ryder and his partners Buckskin and Little Beaver.

Among the dramatizations to be heard is "Wagon Wheel," wherein Ryder returns a rich tungsten mine to its owner and brings the interlopers to justice; and "Smoke of the Sixgun," in which Ryder restores law and order to a frontier town and helps encourage the building of a railroad through it.

TUG GOES TO RESCUE

New York, Feb. 15—(AP)—A seagoing salvage tug sped today to the aid of the Panamanian freighter Andalusia which flashed an SOS that it was aground near the entrance to the harbor of Barranquilla, Colombia.

Congress On . . .

But there's no record of who applauded in Congress. There is a record, for all to see, of those who vote, and how they vote.

Certainly not all veterans would be angered at seeing the plan killed. The American Veterans Committee, opposed to general pensions for veterans, told Congress this bill is a "political handout."

But two big organizations want pensions of $50 a month for veterans reaching 80. They're the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

The AVC charge of "political handout" infuriated Rep. John Rankin, Mississippi Democrat, who daddied the bill through the committee which he heads.

It was Rankin's House Veterans Committee which okayed the bill, after a stormy session, and sent it up to the House for a vote.

But some members of Rankin's own committee charged that he was "railroading" it through and acting like a dictator.

President Truman, who reaches 65 5th May, and Rep. Rankin, who'll be 67 this year, would get the $50 a month pension if the bill became law. Both are veterans of World War I.

Besides the $50-a-month outright pension, the bill would provide other Delinquent . . .

(Continued from page one) jealously aware of rights but not of responsibilities, mercenary and antagonistic to authority. Clearly this is the time, as the general indicates when the elders must turn to and help youth adjust itself.

My personal observation is that the younger generation is actively trying to find its feet. I have two young folk of my own who are placing their problems before me. Many of these problems relate to the question of where our duties lie as citizens. And how much greater are the problems of the youths who have been away to war and have come back to adjust themselves to a new world.

O'Neal Fund . . .

(Continued from page one) carpenters from Ayden and Kinston have offered their labor in helping to build the house J. B. Tyndall has offered to furnish the labor for putting the roof on the house C. B. West, Jr., already has drawn house plans free of charge and has submitted them to the foundation for approval.

Mayor J. H. Boyd, one of the leaders in the O'Neal foundation will speak tonight over radio station WGTC at 7:35 in behalf of the foundation. Mayor Boyd said this morning, "The response to this worthy project has been encouraging, but we want everyone in Greenville and Pitt County to help raise money for the O'Neal foundation."

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 15—(AP)—Supply and demand were pretty evenly matched in today's stock market. Few firms swung more than fractions from the previous close. Some big blocks of stock changed hands but on the whole business was skimpy.

Traders kept an eye on Washington news dispatches but nobody seemed to expect much action until Congress has its say on some of the President's proposals, particularly in the fields of taxation, anti-inflation, and labor.

Imagine! I'M HAPPY ON WASHDAY!

But only since I got my General Electric All-Automatic Washer!

You'll be happy on washday, too (with a G-E All-Automatic Washer), because your part of the washing is done in 20 seconds. That's just how long it takes to load the washer, set the controls, and start it.

You'll be happier with a General Electric All-Automatic, too, because it really gets the clothes clean . . . sweet-smelling clean. All the clothes are soaked, washed, and rinsed in filtered, circulating water, and the G-E Activator* gets the dirt out of heavy work-clothes—while it's gentle with the finest fabrics.

Ask to see this amazing washer in action. It's being demonstrated today—every day—to show you how to make washday a happier day.
