Senate Passes Bill To End N.C. Vehicle Inspections

Measure Is Sent To House For Concurrence On Minor Amendments; Inspection Division To Close Up Shop At End Of Today's Work Says Director

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to end the state's motor vehicle inspection program.

The measure was sent to the House by special messenger for concurrence in minor amendments which were adopted before passage.

One of the amendments would provide for closing of the state's 40 inspection lanes when the act is ratified, possibly Monday night.

BULLETIN

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—The General Assembly killed the State's Motor Vehicle Inspection program today.

Final action to halt the inspections came when the House concurred in minor Senate amendments to the repealing act.

The other would make effective date of the act 30 days after ratification.

Both were introduced by Senator D. L. Ward of Craven.

Ward said the delay in the effective date would permit the state to keep the inspection workers on the payroll for a 30-day period.

The inspection program was started in January 1948 after passage of an inspection act by the 1947 General Assembly.

The Senate passed the inspection repealer on second reading yesterday by a 30-18 roll call vote.

The passage today on third reading was on a voice vote.

Many legislators have said that they would vote for a less stringent inspection program if the present inspection law were repealed.

Other lawmakers, however, expressed the opinion that a bill providing for a modified program would have little chance of passage at this session.

A bill calling for a modified program with only one inspection a year, a less strict inspection and providing for inspection lanes in every county was introduced yesterday by Senator L. H. Fountain of Edgecombe.

Before the vote today, Senator Julian R. Allbrook of Halifax told the Senate passage of the repealing legislation would be the "kiss of death for the inspection program."

Allbrook told the Senate that the daughter of a former legislator was killed in an automobile accident caused by a defective brake and said "if this law had been in effect, she might be alive today"

Raleigh, Feb. 25—(AP)—Director Moore of the inspections division said today that State inspection of motor vehicles would end at the close of today's work.

Moore said that telegrams notifying supervisors of the state's 40 inspection lanes to cease the inspections were being sent out.

The telegrams also notified the supervisors to dismiss all temporary workers immediately, Moore said.

The permanent workers will be retained on the state's payroll until the end of March, he added.

Moore said this was being done to hold intact the personnel of the inspection division until it can be determined whether or not the General Assembly will pass a modified inspection program. A bill calling for a modified program was introduced in the senate yesterday.

The lanes will be kept at their home stations, Moore said for a while. Later the employees may be put to work assembling all the equipment at a central point.

Bulgaria Begins Trial Of Fifteen

First Principal Defendant Among Churchmen Takes Stand, Admits Guilt And Expresses Regret For Activities

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 25—(AP)—The trial of 15 Protestant churchmen opened today with a plea of guilty by Nikola Naumov, a Baptist minister, to crimes against the Bulgarian state.

The 15 clergymen are accused of treason, espionage and black market money dealing.

Naumov is one of the four principal defendants and a member of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical Churches. Even before the trial started the government said all had made confessions.

Naumov was the first defendant to take the witness stand.

Speaking in a loud, firm voice, he told the court, "I am guilty," and expressed regret for his activities.

He then went into a two-hour discourse on his actions which the government alleges were treasonable.

All 15 defendants, who are accused of spying for Britain and the United States, were in court for the opening ceremonies. They sat on five front benches with 15 unarmed policemen—one for each defendant.

Prosecutor Dimitar Georgiev and his assistant Todor Tsakov first came into the crowded little courtroom. Then Judge Constantin Undjev and the two jurors, Luka Lulchev and Veayo Vjevizel, took their places on the bench.

Dressed in his black clerical suit, Naumov began his testimony.

He said he had worked for American espionage agents and had delivered military and other information to Cyril Black, then secretary of the U.S. Political Mission.

He said Black was "the center of American espionage activities in Bulgaria after 1944."

(Black is a professor at Princeton University. He previously has declared the charges were fantastic.)

Before he took the stand, Presiding Judge Undjev told the defendant what he was accused of.

The judge said if your sincerity, it will be taken into consideration in the passing of sentence."

One American and two British official observers were in court along with 25 newspaper reporters. The American observer was Mrs. Mary Johnston, press and cultural attache.

Will Extradite Check Flasher From Arizona

Police Chief Lester D. Page said today that arrangements are being made to bring back to Greenville for trial William John Wintermuth, middle-aged white man, from Phoenix, Arizona, on charges of passing worthless checks here.

Police have numerous warrants for the man. He is charged with passing bogus checks on H. M. Blount, secretary-treasurer of the Carolina Cold Storage Company here in 1938.

The chief said Wintermuth has waived extradition, but that he intends to execute extradition papers as a safety measure.

French Official Files Action On Communist Body

French Reds Allegedly Inciting Army To Revolt In Complaint By Ramadier

Paris, Feb. 25—(AP)—A high government source said today War Minister Paul Ramadier had taken legal action against the Central Committee of the French Communist party for allegedly inciting the army to revolt.

The informant said Ramadier's complaint was based on statements made in posters and the communist daily L'Humanite during the miners' strike last fall.

Ramadier's complaint was sent to Justice Minister Robert Lecourt, the informant said. Lecourt will send it to the public prosecutors, whose job it is to start action against those members of the committee who are not members of the national assembly.

The reported government action followed a speech in parliament yesterday in which Communist Party Secretary General Maurice Thorez repeated a statement that the French people should welcome the Red army if it ever reached France.

The government has been known to be preparing legal steps against the communists since the coal strike, in which troops took over the mines.

The assembly last night denounced the communist leaders for their statement echoing Thorez's declaration.

Parliament is scheduled to debate Friday the question of lifting the immunity of Marcel Chapin, editor-in-chief of the communist daily Requests for lifting the immunity of Thorez and other communist deputies from arrest are expected to follow.

The number of leaders on the communist central committee was believed to be about 90. It includes all the top party men in the country.

At the time of the miners' strike communist organs called on soldiers not to fire on strikers even though the miners had been ordered to sabotage the coal pits.

It was at this time, too, that the communists began to voice aloud the theme: "France will never fight the Soviet Union."

Deposits Rocket Upward For East Carolina Banks

Rocky Mount, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—Deposits of Eastern North Carolina banks have increased 325 per cent since 1941, a group of bankers and farm leaders were told yesterday.

Edward A. Wayne, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, told the group the area's bank deposits increase compared with a national average increase of 140 per cent. He pointed out that greater capital will be needed to finance mechanized farming.

Dr. J. H. Hilton, Dean of Agriculture at N. C. State College, said Eastern North Carolina contained the finest farming land between Maine and Florida and he asserted he expected to see greater progress in the area in the next 10 years than in the past 70.

Lake Success, Feb. 25—(AP)—President Truman will speak in New York April 10 at a cornerstone-laying ceremony on the site of President United Nations headquarters, the U. N. announced today.

U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said the President has accepted an invitation extended by himself and by Warren R. Austin, head of the U. S. mission to the U. N.

Lie said Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, president of the U. N. general assembly, also would speak at the ceremony. Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York have been invited.

Columbus, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—Polk county citizens will vote April 23 on whether legal sales of wine and beer shall be continued.

The date was set by elections board chairman J. L. Rhodes after a restraining order had expired. The order had been obtained by supporters of the present law permitting sales.

Takes Issue

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today sharply disputed President Truman's assertion that the Taft-Hartley law is "an insult to the working men and women of this country."

Taft, co-author of the Taft-Hartley law, took issue with Mr. Truman as Senator Ellender (D-La.) predicted that any move to nullify the Taft-Hartley law will touch off a Senate filibuster "for sure."

Pitt Polio Drive Goes Above Goal

County Chairman Says $11,000 Raised; Jenkins Praised

By CHESTER WALSH

June H. Rose, chairman of the Pitt County Chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, reported today that $11,000.86 had been subscribed by the people of the county for the fight on polio, exceeding the goal of $10,000.

Last year only $4,000 was raised, he said. Rose praised Dr. Leo Jenkins, dean at East Carolina Teachers College, for his good work as chairman of the drive, the principals of county schools and others for their part in the campaign.

Contributions to the polio fund by groups and individuals were as follows:

East Carolina Teachers College, $1,132.52; Greenville city white schools, $1,082.91; city colored schools, $835.79; county white schools, $3,909.73; Farmville white schools and city, $1,380.20; Junior Chamber of Commerce $100; Eastern Star, $5; National Guard, $50; Home Demonstration Clubs, $114.16; Lions Club dance at ECTC, $131.51; parking meters in Greenville, $184.17; coin boxes in different places, $179.61; general contributions, $1,267.47; Pitt County Negro Business and Professional League, $10; Cosmetologists' (colored) Club, $5.

The Farmville school's contribution was listed with Farmville city in the paragraph above.

Pitt County Chapter of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation gave fine praise to the good work of all who participated in the mercy campaign for polio sufferers and thanked the public for its part in making the drive a success.

Flood Waters In Midwest Spread

Thousands Of Acres In Three States Now Under Water

By The Associated Press

Flood waters covered thousands of acres of lowlands and cut highway travel in part of three midwest states today.

Recent mild temperatures sent a flow of snow water into many streams in parts of Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri. The possibility of serious floods along the big Missouri river arose with a weather bureau forecast of warmer weather in the northern plains.

An estimated 15,000 acres of land were under water in southeast Nebraska as the Namaha river and several other small streams overflowed. The Missouri river was filtering through ice jams from Omaha south to a point below Atchison, Kans. Several highways in southern Nebraska were inundated.

Some small streams in Iowa were out of their banks and spilled water over highways and side roads. Overflows from the Iowa river measured six inches deep in two places but traffic was not halted. State highway 21 was blocked by water at Deep River, Ia.

Thousands of acres in the Princeton, Mo., area, were inundated yesterday when the Grand river overflowed its banks.

Connally And George May Begin Senate Filibuster

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Two veteran southern Senators—Connally of Texas and George of Georgia—may lead off the expected filibuster Monday against a change in Senate debate rules.

Leaders of the southern bloc have agreed to let Connally and George spearhead the drive to kill an anti-filibuster resolution.

"Neither of them is expected to talk at great length," one southern Senator said. "But they will have the privilege of opening the debate because of their great prestige and influence."

Connally has been in the Senate 20 years, George for 26 years.

After their preliminary debate, it is reported, then Senator Stennis of Mississippi will launch the Dixie lawmakers' basic argument—that unlimited debate is the sole protection left in Congress to protect minorities.

There was some uneasiness among cotton-state lawmakers that the filibuster might prove to have a backlash.

Sensors and Representatives from cotton-growing sections are anxious to get a bill through Congress providing that the 1949 cotton acreage not be included in the government's acreage allotment.

The purpose is to discourage heavy planting this spring and prevent a large cotton surplus next fall.

But this measure may get caught in the filibuster and be held up until after the planting season, some lawmakers said privately, leaving no check on cotton planting.

Pay Raise Legislation Wins Committee Test

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—State employees and school teachers would get a 20 percent pay raise under a bill approved by the joint appropriations committee yesterday.

The raise would be retroactive to last Oct. 1 and would cost the state about $15,000,000.

About $12,750,000 would come from the general fund surplus and the remainder, except about $85,000 from the agriculture fund, from the highway fund.

This is about $1,750,000 more than recommended by the Advisory Budget Commission, which called for pay raises back to Nov. 1.

The raise would not go to constitutional jobholders or those whose salaries are fixed by statute.

The House Finance Committee killed a measure which would have permitted Tar Heels to deduct their federal income tax payments in figuring their state income taxes. The action came after Revenue Department officials estimated it would cut revenues by about $20,000,000 a year.

Meanwhile, the House Finance Committee reported "without prejudice" a bill which would outlaw liquor advertising in the state.

The Senate Finance Committee amended and then approved a bill giving the state treasurer more authority to invest state funds.

U.S. Global Program Told United Nations

Report Russian Troops Near Norway Bolstered

Informant In Finland Says Additional Armed Forces Moved To Norway's Arctic Border; Action Seen In Last Week

Helsinki, Finland, Feb. 25—(AP)—Russia has moved additional troops to Norway's Arctic border, according to an authoritative Finnish source.

The informant said the troop movement was observed last week and apparently was in connection with Norway's stand on the proposed North Atlantic pact with the United States.

The source, who refused to permit use of his name, had no estimate of the number of troops, but said they had been moved close to Norway's 122-mile border from the Murmansk area.

Russia gained a common frontier with Norway in the peace settlement in Finland in which Finland ceded the Petsamo region to the Soviet Union.

The informant said there was no sign of similar troop movements to the Finnish border. Norway has a 450-mile border with Finland in the north, also.

Last year Finland and Russia concluded a friendship and mutual assistance pact.

Finland's leaders have interpreted the pact as excluding the possibility of Russia sending troops into their country unless Finland agrees there is a threat of aggression against the Soviet Union.

Moscow dispatches recently reported considerable criticism against the Finnish government in the Moscow press, at about the same time Russia was making her all-out attacks on the projected North Atlantic alliance. This alliance would link the United States and Canada with Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Russia first reminded Norway of their common frontier and warned her to stay out of the alliance, and then offered the Scandinavian country a non-aggression pact.

In reply Norway declared it was not her intention to grant any peace-time military bases to foreign powers. Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange this week declared his country joins its security on the North Atlantic alliance.

Broad Outline Of President Truman's Long-Range Plan For Betterment Of Underprivileged Areas Presented; No One Country To Dominate Financing

Lake Success, Feb. 25—(AP)—The United States laid before the United Nations today the broad outlines of President Truman's "bold new program" for long-range betterment of underprivileged areas the world over.

The first major policy statement here on the fourth point in Mr. Truman's inaugural address was given to the 18-nation economic and social council by Assistant Secretary of State William L. Thorp.

There was no mention of how much money the United States might put up or how private capital would participate as proposed by Mr. Truman, but Thorp told the council:

"In order to safeguard the cooperative nature of the enterprise and the international character of the organization sponsoring it, no one country should be expected to assume all or most of the financial burden of the expanded program."

In this connection observers recalled that the United States has contended it should pay no more than one-third of the annual U. N. budget but has agreed reluctantly to carry nearly 40 per cent of the costs. Thorp suggested many countries might contribute goods, services and local currencies in lieu of hard money.

Thorp urged the council to take up a three-point program which he said the United States would offer as a resolution. It proposes that:

1. The U. N. and its specialized agencies prepare a coordinated "concrete program" for consideration by the council at its summer session in Geneva.

2. x x x The report covers ways and means for arranging for financial expansion to support projects undertaken on recommendation of the U. N. and agencies.

3. The report includes recommendations for coordination of planning, execution and control.

"The timetable for attainment of these objectives of economic development is measured in decades, not in years," Thorp told the council.

"The reorientation of the way of life of millions of people can come only gradually. However, with a bold new program of technical cooperation the United Nations can hasten significantly economic development."

Thorp emphasized President Truman's pronouncement that the program would foster private capital investment in needful areas with reasonable assurances that it would be protected.

He quoted Mr. Truman's fourth point in full, and then apparently participating a full-blown Soviet attack that already has begun against the program, he requested the section saying:

"The old imperialism—exploitation for foreign profit—has no place in our plans. What we envisage is a program of development based on the concepts of Democratic fair-dealing."

"The concept of economic development applies equally," Thorp told the council, "to independent states and to dependent territories, which latter category includes the 10 trust territories and 62 other non-self-governing territories, where lives one out of every 10 persons in the world."

He pointed out the program was pegged on a flow of technical know-how as well as capital for full development of the world's natural wealth and promotion of good livelihood. He said no one country has a monopoly on the skills needed for general improvement.

GM Slashes Prices As Pay Cuts Start

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—General Motors Corporation today cut prices and wages as the cost of living index dropped for the fourth straight month.

The price cuts ranged from $10 to $40 on all GM passenger automobiles and Chevrolet trucks.

The wages tied to the cost of living index, were reduced two cents an hour for 773,000 production workers. The firm's 68,000 salaried employees took a flat $10 cut in quarterly living allowances.

GM, the nation's biggest auto maker, attributed the price cuts partly to the pay reductions and partly to lower costs of certain materials.

The wage reduction was estimated to save $9,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually in the production workers' payroll.

These savings, GM said, are being passed along immediately to the consumer. It was GM's first price cut since the war.

Truman Talks Of Stumping Nation

Blames Republicans For Crippling Labor Legislation

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—President Truman's notice that he may stump the country for his legislative program drew a "hop to it" response from Republicans today.

Mr. Truman, in the down-to-earth lingo he used successfully in last year's campaign, told enthusiastic Democrats at Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners last night that Republicans are trying to "cripple" labor unions and hold minimum wages to a "starvation level."

And the capacity crowds cheered as he declared that "special interests" on Capitol Hill may compel him to board a train again soon "to tell the people how their government is getting on."

The Republicans, the President charged, want to destroy the farm price support program and force upon the government a "do nothing" policy which would let the American economy "slide into a depression."

To this, most Republicans had one answer:

Let the President first find out how he stands with his own party; then let him appeal to the people.

Senator Brewster of Maine, chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, said the President should forget that he has a Democratic Congress.

"What's become of his majority in both Houses?" Brewster asked. "The 81st Congress must be worse than he said the 80th was."

Dairy Company To Reduce Price Of Milk Here

Carolina Dairy Products, Inc. announced today a reduction of one cent a quart in the price of milk effective March 1. Assistant Manager Erceel Webb said the present price of 25 cents a quart will be reduced to 24 cents. He told a reporter that his company had recently made arrangements for a larger supply of milk from local sources and that this will reduce the cost of transportation.

"Seven Pitt county farmers are building dairy barns to comply with state health laws and they will enlarge their herds and produce more grade A milk," Webb added. He said these additional dairy barns will get into operation this summer and that the new supply will enable the dairy company to better provide for the steadily increasing demand for milk.

Azula, Dominican Republic, Feb. 25—(AP)—A stranded jet plane zoomed away yesterday from soft sand bed it went down eight days ago because of bad fuel, enroute to U. S. war games in the Puerto Rico area.

Jato (Jet assisted takeoff) equipment was used successfully, the plane arose after surging upward 250 feet in 12 seconds.

Nominated For Labor Position

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Michael J. Calvin of Massachusetts was nominated today to be undersecretary of labor.

President Truman advised the Senate of his choice for the post and asked its approval.

Calvin is a 41-year-old Boston lawyer with a distinguished war record. He had 280 days of front line service as Lieutenant Colonel of tanks under Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in 1944 and 1945.

Filing A Short Form

The Fifth Of 12 Stories On Who Has To Do What About Making His 1948 Income Tax Return; Deadline Is March 15; ABC On Filing Out 1040 Short Form

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—This is an ABC on filling out your 1948 income tax return on the 1040 Short-Form.

Like anyone else with income under $5,000, Jones can use the short-form. His income was $4,800. His wife had none. They have a dependent child.

But his first problem is: Should he file alone, separately, since his wife had no income and doesn't have to file? Or jointly? He knows: When a husband has income, but not the wife, he can file by himself and get an exemption for himself, his wife, and any dependent. But—

Note this: Under the new law many husband and wives—although not all—save money by filing jointly, even though the wife had no income. Why?

Because the new law permits "splitting" income, as if husband and wife each were claiming half the total income.

1. NO exemption can be claimed for a wife who had income, no matter how tiny, unless she files jointly with her husband, or separately.

If the wife with income files separately, she claims her own exemption, and the husband, filing his own return separately, claims his own exemption. And the one who provided more than half the support of a dependent, like a child, claims an exemption for him.

If husband and wife file jointly—when both have income—they get their two exemptions, plus one exemption for each dependent.

3. When husband and wife have income which is individually less than $5,000 but combined is more than $5,000, they can file separately on the short-form, but not jointly. Or, they can file separately or jointly on the 1940 Long-

As it is so seldom that there is a sentence to hanging, possibly it is a waste of time to try to get the mode of execution changed to electrocution.
Though they say cotton and tobacco are sold at less than the cost of production, it is a fact that many farmers go right on raising too much of both and too little of the food supply crops.

Atomic-Age Factories, Built In Solid Granite, For Sweden

Linköping, Sweden—(AP)—Factories for the atomic age—production begins hewed deep into solid granite—are going concerns in Sweden. Vital defense materials, including jet-powered fighter planes with a speed approaching that of sound, have been flowing out of such underground factories for more than four years. Sweden officials exhibited part, but not all, of their underground jet plant to 14 touring American newsmen. They are somewhat vague about how many more such factories they have, but admit to at least ten more.

The SAAB (Svenska Aeroplan Aktiebolaget) aircraft plant near Linköping has provided emergency living quarters underground for at least 1,000 of its workers. About 600 are employed underground now, with another 3,000 working in surface assembly shops.

All the air which enters the plant comes through a complicated air conditioning system, which includes emergency filters to prevent a gas attack from knocking the plant out of action. Swedish officials will not say whether they also have been able to devise a defense against atomic radiation.

A good many vital materials which make up Swedish airplanes are imported from the United States, a few others from Britain. The Swedes are producing Dehavilland ghost jet engines themselves under patent licenses granted by Britain's Dehavilland Aircraft Company.

Sweden buys from the United States such things as gun sights for its fighter planes, landing gear parts and cabin pressurizing equipment. Factory machine tools are largely Swedish made. As in other plants in Sweden, some new ones have been imported from the United States. There also is prewar German machinery.

Special alloy steels, to withstand the great heat and pressures in a jet engine, are turned out in the Sandviken Steel Works in Central Sweden. The Sandviken Company also consults with the Jessop Steel Company in Sheffield, England, which produces much of the steel for compressor motors in British jet engines.

Sweden is attempting to become more and more self-sufficient in defense production and is gathering tools and licenses from both the United States and Britain to build up a war industry independent of imports.

The underground aircraft factory is organized along ultra modern lines, with parts flowing smoothly from one processing point to the next. A minimum of time and effort is spent on transportation of materials.

Winston-Salem, Feb. 25—(AP)—Raincoats that glow in the dark and are visible half a block are now required uniforms for Winston-Salem policemen directing traffic when it is raining.

Special treatment costs a dollar a man. The fabric that glows in darkness comes in wide strips. It is cut to make patches of needed size. It looks like tire patching. A heavy gummed base attaches it easily to raincoats.

Police Chief John Gold credited Patrolman Richard Satterfield with initiating the idea here.

Necessity, as usual, was the mother of the invention. Only a quick jump had saved Satterfield from being hit by a car. The driver didn't see the patrolman.

"I don't want to get hit by some motorist who can't see me, and be laid up like Sale and Brandon were," he told superiors. He referred to two officers injured while directing traffic. Motorists complained they couldn't easily see policemen in long black raincoats.

"Why can't we put something on our raincoats similar to the stuff the kids use on their bicycles?" Satterfield asked.

They did.

Never Too Old

Amherst, Mass., Feb. 25—(AP)—Mrs. Lois Mitchell, who will be 85 on April 26, has taken up horseback riding—but she doesn't see anything remarkable about that.

In recent years she has confounded her friends by her ability at dancing, bicycle riding, mountain climbing and hiking.

"The open winter has cut down my activities some," she said. "I usually get in a lot of skating."

Has Taken Last Trick Snapshot

Cleveland, Feb. 25—(AP)—John K. Rogers, 35, has taken his last "trick" photograph of himself in a hanging pose.

Rogers' landlord told police he found him last night hanging from a kitchen door, a canvas mover's strap around his throat and in his hand a string leading to the shutter of a camera on a nearby table. The flashbulb on the camera was spent.

In Rogers' downstairs suite police said they found "dozens" of pictures of Rogers, some in hanging poses, others tied in different positions to various objects.

In his last pose, Rogers' hands and legs were bound with leather straps. He wore a dress and a wig. Police believed the strap slipped from his shoulders to his neck.

The landlord discovered Rogers' death after receiving a telegram from the victim's wife, Anna. With her son Gene, 3, she had been visiting relatives in Pittsburgh since Saturday. Her telegram said she had received no answer to repeated telephone calls to her husband and wanted the landlady to see if everything was all right.

Doors Opened To States Righters

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 25—(AP)—Two high-bracket Democrats last night invited Southerners who bolted the party to come back into the fold.

In a speech here to Democrats attending a Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall called for unity among the leaders and the rank and file of the Democratic party.

The party's Southern wing was disjointed last fall by the States Rights Democratic Movement.

Royall, speaking as a Southern Democrat and not as Secretary of the Army, expressed the hope that all members of the Democratic party "will compose their differences and unite in an undivided and confident democracy."

The Army Secretary did not mention the bolting States Righters by name, but said he believed the political rift in the party would soon disappear.

Meanwhile, at Nashville, Tenn. Speaker Sam Rayburn declared there is "enough room in the tent for all to come back into the fold."

The Texan's invitation to the States Righters was also issued at a Jackson-Jefferson dinner.

James Wolfe, the conqueror of Quebec, was made a brigadier general in the British Army at 31. A year later, when he was killed in battle, he was a major-general.

Market Gadget To Stop Snores

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—A gadget designed to silence the country's estimated 40,000,000 snorers was put on the market today by the No Snore Company.

The plastic device fits into the mouth like joined upper and lower dentures. It is solid except for pin size air holes.

Claude Porter, Company president said that snoring is caused by a strong draft of air sucked into the throat through open mouths. The device, he said, snuffs off the draft and forces the snorer to breathe through his nose.

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE GREEKS HAD A MYTH FOR IT

According to their legends, the ancient Greeks had many religious beliefs which seem foolish to us today. They accounted for the apparent movement of the sun by saying that their sun god, Hyperion, drove his flaming chariot across the sky. When a volcano began to smoke, they explained that Hephaestus, their blacksmith god, was working at his forge beneath the mountain. The coming of winter they attributed to the anger of the goddess of flowers and grain when her daughter disappeared into the underworld; spring was caused by the goddess's joy when her daughter returned.

Modern science has given us more reasonable explanations for such natural events. But sometimes we reveal equally foolish notions ourselves. On Sunday we put on our best clothes and attend church; but the rest of the week we spend in getting the best of our neighbors by sharp business dealings, as if God cared about only one day out of seven. When in trouble, we pray fervently for help and forget our prayers immediately when all is well again. We hide our sins in darkness or behind closed doors as if God could not see them there.

Sometimes the Greeks tried to deceive their gods by burning all the inedible parts of an animal as a sacrifice and eating the good meat themselves. We are no wiser than they to please God with anything less than the whole of our lives.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

ADJOURNMENT—Since the adjournment of the 1949 general assembly may come sooner than anticipated, a few days ago. Members of long experience in legislation say that adjournment is probable by the first of April, entirely possible several days earlier. They admit this conclusion is reached through appraisal of growing determination on part of members to do something and go home. The 1947 session convened on January 8 and adjourned on April 5. The current assembly got under way on January 5 and with the same number of days could quit on April 2.

WORK—It has been several times pointed out that a North Carolina general assembly has a lot of work to do on appropriations and revenue bills, as well as a wide variety of other subjects. Actually only one bill MUST be passed—the biennial appropriations bill—and two resolutions. There must be a joint resolution notifying the governor that the assembly is ready for business, and there must be a joint resolution for sine die adjournment. However important other matters may be, legislation is not absolutely necessary. Since 1939 the revenue bill continues unless repealed or amended at each session. This legislature has not yet passed upon amendments to the revenue act or upon appropriations. Sentiment expressed during the past few days anticipates action on these matters very soon.

SPEEDING—Members do not like to be quoted on this kind of statements, so names are not used here. An influential member of the finance committee told your reporter his group would report the revenue bill early next week. A top man in the appropriations committee said his group would spend the money in sight and quit. With these money bills out of the way, other loose ends can be gathered up in a couple of weeks. And that will be that.

AFTERMATH—Almost unanimous agreement is that early adjournment will leave a lot of important matters not attended to, and a special session might be necessary to clear them up. Most frequent response to the suggestion is a nonchalant "So what?" There is considerable support for the idea of a waiting period. Belief is prevalent among legislators that the people of the state need more time to digest some of the proposals now pending. The governor and members of the general assembly were nominated last spring (and the spring nominations were equivalent to election in all but a few cases) in a campaign pledging more services and less taxes. They found upon taking office in January that facts and figures did not jibe with campaign promises. There was and is a lot of money; but there never was and is not now enough to do what voters were led to believe could be done without additional taxes and bond issues.

MANDATE—The somewhat vague

Before We Let Out Too Much Gas—

"mandate" of the voters cannot be intelligently interpreted or translated into action. Undoubtedly there was mandate for expanded service by the state; just as certainly there was mandate for no more taxes. Faced with this obvious conflict, many legislators feel there should be another "mandate" before proceeding farther in either direction. Occasional weekend trips home have not helped members of the assembly very much, because they found constituents just as confused about current issues as they themselves were. One eastern representative said he had a number of people call upon him last weekend and everyone asked for better roads and better schools—and also asked for further sales tax exemptions and protested increase in taxes all along the line. He thinks his constituents need a little more time to weigh the issues in light of presently accepted facts which were not presented in pre-election statements. This particular representative would like to leave some of the major items for consideration by a special session later in the year.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—America might just as well start considering now whether it should secede from Florida.

If it doesn't it may end up with another Los Angeles in its borders. For that is what some natives here fear—and I use the word advisedly—that South Florida's gold coast is turning into, yes, a second Los Angeles.

The whole area is still riding high in the saddle of the post-war boom. You have to know the Mayor to get a hotel room. The beaches are so packed with bare-backed ladies seeking a tan that the sand is being panned and anemic. It isn't getting enough sunshine itself.

Hotels, apartment houses, stores and homes go up almost overnight. The communities strung along the shoreline are thickening like a muscled arm. They are filling up with people—and people who have come to stay.

"The way things are going now the whole 70-mile stretch from Palm Beach to Miami will be one continuous city," complained one resident. "In ten years the gold coast will be another Los Angeles."

Many natives don't enjoy that prospect at all. They like the tour-

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Think twice before lopping off those extra dollars from your income tax return. If the government finds you've deliberately tried to cheat it can increase your tax by 50 percent.

And if the Internal Revenue Bureau thinks your case particularly bad it will send it to the Department of Justice with recommendations for prosecution. In the past fiscal year there were 355 convictions in such criminal cases.

As Mr. X made more money he became less and less willing to tell Uncle Sam about it. Although he did file income tax returns, he reported only about one-tenth of his actual income. He was prosecuted and fined $5,000 besides his tax liability of $3,000.

Mr. Y died but it was found that a large part of the assets of his estate had not been reported for assessment of taxes. And it was found that during his life-time he managed his affairs so that he paid only $500 from 15 taxable entities from the beginning of the income tax law until 1938. A total liability of $100,000 was paid together with $15,000 in fines.

Each year there are scores of cases like these, though Revenue officials say the major part of the $2,000,000,000 levied in additional taxes and penalties represent "technical adjustments" due to differences of opinion, ignorance of the law, or arithmetic carelessness.

But the fraud cases are what cause the government the biggest headache. As one official put it: "If we didn't catch the big cheats a lot of us would feel like suckers if we went ahead and paid."

"It is not so much how much money is involved," he added, "one of our biggest cases involved only $70. It's the type of evasion that bothers us. In this case the guy claimed a fake dependent. If this type were practiced on a big scale it could be serious. Suppose every one of the 55,000,000 taxpayers claimed fake dependents? That would run into big dough."

"So you see sometimes we have to crack down on the little guy to prevent a big epidemic."

Evasion who voluntarily confesses their tax shortcomings may escape criminal prosecution. That is, if they confess before the bureau starts investigating them. All of them however are still subject to a 50 percent fraud penalty—plus interest.

Has Practical View In Asking New Name

Detroit, Feb. 25—(AP)—Edward J. Gwozdz, asking a form of probate court, took a practical point of view. His petition that his name be changed to "Nail" was granted when he explained that was the literal translation from the Polish and a simple way out.

Churchgoing Will Be Pushed With Advertisements

Los Angeles, Feb. 25—(AP)—A nationwide "go to church" advertising campaign is about to break. The idea of churchgoing will be promoted on a nonsectarian basis through newspapers, magazines, radio, television, movies and billboards. A group of prominent laymen figure it's time to spread the religious word in a modern way.

"We see no reason why advertising can't be used to sell the word of God," says William Jeffers, railroad executive, who is honorary vice chairman of the campaign.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Stanford University chancellor, is honorary chairman.

New Dodge Cars On Display Attract Attention Today

The completely new styled Dodge cars were on display today at the B. & N. Motor Company's showroom, 110 East Fifth Street, and they attracted considerable attention and interest.

Sam Northrop, head of the company, said, "The primary considerations that influenced the design of the new Dodge cars were army statistics which showed that the GI's of World War II were taller, bigger and more active than their predecessors of World War I. As a result, it was apparent that more passenger room, not less, was required in the modern automobile to comfortably accommodate our physically large generation." Northrop pointed out that the challenge to Dodge engineers was to design a car with more interior space and still reduce exterior dimensions to eliminate difficulties of handling in traffic, parking and garaging.

How much is it WORTH?

You can't put a real price tag on telephone service. Who can say what it's worth when it brings a doctor quickly? Can you set a price on the pleasure of hearing a loved one's voice from many miles away? How would you value the countless minutes and steps it saves in everyday living? Whatever the telephone is worth, its cost is small for the many services it performs every day.

Announcement

We are glad to announce a reduction in price of one cent a quart for sweet and lactic milk beginning March first.

As promised sometime ago that we would reduce the price on milk as soon as possible, we are now in a position to lower the cost of production a small amount and therefore take great pleasure in passing this saving on to our customers.

Our local farmers advise us that they will soon be in a position to deliver us larger quantities of grade "A" milk, and if this source of supply is sufficient the saving in freight will allow us to make another reduction in the near future and will advise you as soon as possible.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
(Semi-Finals)
7:15—Kinston vs. New Bern
8:30—Washington vs. Greenville

By BERT MOYE
All four top-seeded teams—Kinston, Washington, New Bern and Greenville—advanced to semi-finals play in the Northeastern Conference basketball tournament being staged at the Wright gymnasium of ECTC, by trouncing their opponents in the opening rounds of play last night.

In the opening games Kinston eliminated the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets by the score of 59 to 40. The Kinston quint led at the end of the first quarter 19 to 12, and at the half mark were out front 38 to 20, and by the end of the third quarter had piled up a 55 to 25 advantage.

Kinston took the lead from the start of the game and were never headed. The Roanoke Rapids quint came within two points of knotting the count in the first quarter, but that was the closest they came to catching up with the fast Red Devils. The Kinston quint led at the end of the first quarter 19 to 12, and at the half mark were out front 38 to 20, and by the end of the third quarter had piled up a 55 to 25 advantage.

Bobby Hodges, Kinston's center, led the attack for the winners with 18 points and was followed closely by Joe Whaley with 14 and Doug Bruton with 13 points. Earl Rook led the attack for Roanoke Rapids, making 22 of his team's total points.

New Bern 56 Tarboro 24
Coach Leo Morgan's New Bern Bears gained an easy win in conference play by defeating the Tarboro Tars 56 to 24 in the second game of the tournament's opening rounds.

New Record?

Chapel Hill, Feb. 25—Jack Moody of North Carolina set a new Southern Invitation Indoor Games record last year in the high jump, six feet, three inches and 11-16. That's better than the Southern Conference indoor mark, six feet, three inches. But both of those marks likely will be bettered at the indoor meet Saturday night.

in front during the entire game, leading at the end of the first period 18 to 6; at the half 30 to 15; and at the end of the third period 41 to 21.

Sonny Russell, the Bears' center, led the attack for the winners by dropping in a total of 17 points, although he did not play more than half the game as Coach Morgan used his second string players during most of the contest. Earl Baker accounted for 10 of Tarboro's points.

Washington 36 Edenton 23
The second-seeded Washington Pam Pack ran into difficulty with the Edenton Aces in the third game of the opening rounds as they edged out a 36 to 23 win over Edenton.

The game was close throughout and at the end of the first quarter the Pam Pack was leading 10 to 8, but when the game reached the half way mark the Edenton boys were out front 16 to 15.

However, the Beaufort County lads got busy in the third quarter and held Edenton to one field goal and one free throw as they piled up 11 points to lead at the end of the third quarter 26 to 19. The final quarter saw the Pam Pack add 10 more points while their opponents were able to get only four.

The Edenton boys missed 10 free tosses during the first half of the game and this crippled their lead considerably at the first half ended.

In the opening seconds of the third quarter Garland Homes sank a field goal to put the Pam Pack out in front, 17-16, and then went on to pile up a lead which the Edenton boys could not overcome. Adrian Bowen, Washington guard, got 10 points to lead the winners. Russell Wheeler set the pace for Edenton with a total of 15 points.

Greenville 54 Elizabeth City 20
Coach Boley Farley's Phantoms handed the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets their third defeat of the season by trouncing them 54 to 20 in the final game of the first rounds last night.

The Phantoms put on one of the best bands of basketball seen on the court this season, as they shot goals from all angles and put on a defensive battle which completely stumped the Elizabeth City boys. The win for the Greenville lads will place them against the Washington Pam Pack in tonight's semi-finals in a game scheduled at 8:30 o'clock, and from the season's records of the two teams should be a battle royal.

During the current season Washington and Greenville split in their two-game series.

After Elizabeth City had gone out in front 7-5 during the first quarter, Joe Alligood sank a field goal to put the Greensies out in front for the rest of the game. As the first quarter ended the Greensies were out front 10 to 7.

In the second quarter the Greensies played strictly a defensive game and held the visitors to one field goal and two free throws while they piled up a total of 12 points to lead at the half way mark 22 to 11.

During the third quarter the Elizabeth City boys put on a scoring spurt to add 12 points but as the third period ended still found themselves on the short end of the score 32 to 23.

Joe Alligood was in his prime last night as he collected a total of eight field goals for a total of 16 points to lead the Greensies to victory and take individual honors in this division. Howard Proctor got 9 points to be runner-up. Scarito the Yellow Jackets' guard, collected 10 points to lead the losers.

Break Even With Grimesland High

Chilcoot, Feb. 23—Chilcoot High and Grimesland broke even in a pair of basketball games here. Chilcoot stopped the Grimesland sextet 30-26 in the girls' game. The Grimesland boys registered a 45-43 victory in the nightcap, having to play two extra 3 minute periods to break a tie score at the end of the game and the first extra 3 minute period. The tie score at the end of the game was 36-36, at the end of the first "play off" period it was 41-41 and the last 3 minutes it was 43-43. The coaches then agreed to play the tie off; the winner being the first team to score two points, either two free shots or a field goal.

Grimesland was the victor. Shirley Bueck sparked the winners in the girls' game with 13 points. Gaskins came up next with 10 points to help spark the victory. The Chilcoot guards turned in some good floor play. Tyer led the Grimesland six with 14 points, followed by Galloway with 10 points.

E. Gaskins led the losing boys with 16 points, followed by Max Lewis with 15 points. Elks sparked the winners, with 21 points. Gladson came up next with 12 points to help capture the victory.

State Has Three On Circuit Quint

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—N. C. State's conference leading Wolfpack today placed three players on the all-North Carolina collegiate basketball team selected by the coaches of the State's five conference schools for the Raleigh Times.

Forwards Dick Dickey and Sam Ranzino and guard Vic Buras are the Wolfpack members gaining first team berths.

Carolina's Coy Carson, leading scorer in the state and conference and Buddy Cheek of Davidson round out the first five. Cheek, Selma, Ala., senior, is the honorary captain of the team by virtue of gaining most votes in the poll. He was named on four of the five coaches' top ballots. Each of the other four players gaining three-first-string votes. All big five coaches participated in the voting.

The second team is composed of Ceep Youmans of Duke, Buck Geary of Wake Forest, Paul Horvath of State, Whitt Cobb of Davidson and Tommy Hughes of Duke and Dan Nymicz of Carolina, tied for the fifth spot.

Big Opportunity For KO Artist, Unbeaten Heavy
New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—This is opportunity night for Joey De John Syracuse, N.Y., knockout artist, and Roland La Starza, undefeated Bronx heavyweight.

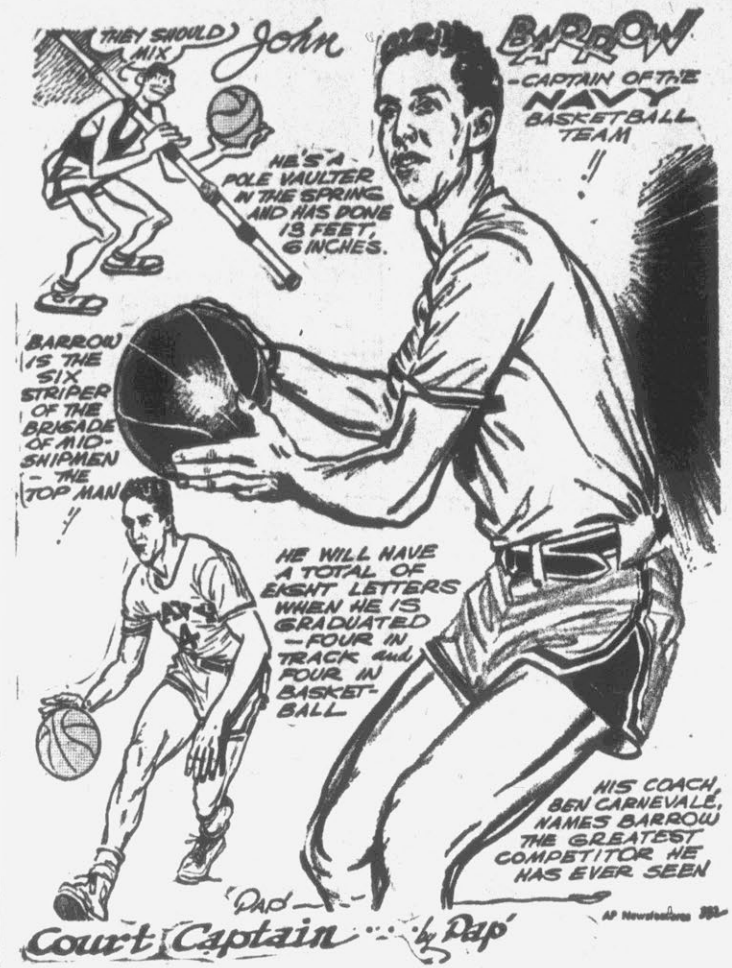

De John, a 22-year-old middleweight prospect with a great up-state following, gets his first big chance in a 10-round main go at Madison Square Garden. His opponent is Pete Meade of Grand Rapids, Mich., one of the two men who beat Joey in 62 pro fights.

Meade left no doubt about it last time, knocking out De John in five rounds at Buffalo, Dec. 2, 1947.

La Starza can move up the ladder if he can whip Gino Buonvino the round man from Bari, Italy, in the co-featured ten. Both De John and La Starza are solid favorites with odds ranging from 2 to 1 to 12 to 5.

An eight-man track squad will represent the U. S. June 6 in the British International meet in London.

'Single Wing' Is On Its Way Back

Stanford University, Calif., Feb. 25—(AP)—Word that the single wing formation is coming back to the Stanford football gridiron—practically the birthplace of the modern "T"—is stirring quite a hubbub.

Coach Marchie Schwartz, former Notre Dame all America player, announced that "a few" single wing plays would be learned in spring drills starting April 4.

Fans speculated immediately that the T was on its way out, but Schwartz lost little time in killing that rumor. "That's silly," he declared. "I'm still convinced that the T is the greatest offensive system in the game."

Schwartz dodged neatly the question of whether he would employ both single wing and T formation plays next season in his own attack. His only answer: "We're bringing in Frankie Albert to tutor quarterback candidates in spring practice."

(Albert, former Stanford star, is rated one of the top T quarterbacks in the game. He is a member of the San Francisco 49ers pro team.)

Kentucky Chalks Up 16 Straight; 24 Out Of 25

New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 collegiate basketball team, chalked up its 16th straight victory last night.

The NCAA champs had to come from behind to beat Xavier of Cincinnati, 51 to 40, but when the pressure was on in the second half coach Adolph Rupp's lads demonstrated they have what it takes. Xavier, beaten by Kentucky 96-50 only two weeks ago, held a 34-30 edge with nine minutes left. A turnout of 13,000 saw the game at the new Cincinnati garden.

Kentucky now has won 24 of 25 games. Its only defeat was a two-point setback by St. Louis back in December.

Upsets Feature Tourney In Elkin; ECTC Wins By 49-43

Elkin, N. C., Feb. 25—(AP)—Second seeded Appalachian, alone among the four top-ranked teams, remained in the North State conference basketball tournament running today.

First, third and fourth teams fell by the wayside as the underdogs clubs made a field day of the tourney's opening round yesterday.

Appalachian 42 Atlantic Christian 50.
East Carolina Teachers 49 Western Carolina 43.
Lenoir Rhyne 55 High Point 49.
Guilford, seeded eighth, provided the biggest upset by turning back first seeded Catawba. Appalachian had little trouble getting by seventh seeded Atlantic Christian. It turned out to be the number 5 team over number 4 in the ECTC-WCTC contest, and number 6 over number 1 as Lenoir Rhyne downed High Point.

Rumors Hint Ted Williams Is First $100,000 Player

Boston, Feb. 25—(AP)—Reports, none of which can be traced directly to Red Sox slugger Ted Williams or General Manager Joe Cronin, are that the American League's 365 batting champion is baseball's first $100,000 player.

"Are you giving Williams $100,000?" "I told you Ted was very happy about his new contract," Cronin, a strict upholder of Owner Tom Yawkey's no-salary-talk ban, replied.

Cronin said Williams phoned him from his favorite fishing grounds in Everglades City Fla., last night that he would sign his 1949 contract when he arrived at Sarasota training camp on March 6.

"Is Williams getting more than last season's reported $80,000?" was the next question. "I will tell you its the best contract Ted has had," Cronin answered.

One Stable Will Compete Against Calumet Entries

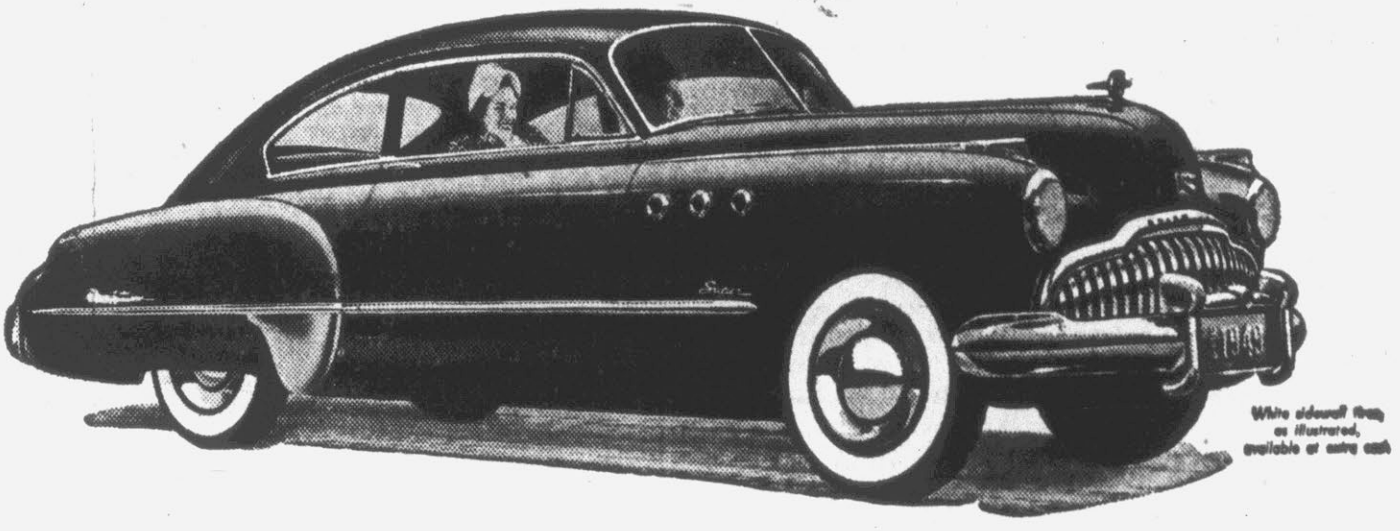

Miami, Fla., Feb. 25—(AP)—One stable, at least, plans to compete against Calumet Farm's powerful triple entry in Hialeah's $50,000 added-widener handicap Saturday, but it still appeared to be a wagerless horse race.

Trainer Harold Simmons said yesterday that Cherry Oca stable's First Nighthunter would start against Calumet's Coalstown, Faultless and Free America in the mile and a quarter fixture.

Whether betting will be allowed in the obviously lopsided contest is to be decided by track officials after entries are closed.

Indications pointed to no betting and a Calumet team which would either equal or out number the rest of the field.

Johnny Perkovich, coming up with the Chicago White Sox as a pitching candidate from Memphis, once sold peanuts at Comiskey Park.

"I think you both understand that this is to the death," he said. "It was so agreed upon a year ago. Are you ready, Don Fernando?"

Rivers unsheathed his own blade. It was lighter, shorter than Bashan's great sword, but it had a familiar feel in his hand.

"Of course," he agreed.

Dikxon bowed. But as he started to step back, there was a quick tread of feet, and Maria was beside them.

Bashan scowled, Ducal half started up, displeasure on his face. But Maria spoke swiftly, high color in her cheeks.

"No, no, Uncle Duke! This must not go on — an innocent gentleman must not be murdered! Don't you see? He is the wrong man! He is not Don Fernando, but Mr. Rivers — a gentleman tricked into this by Don Fernando, just as we have been tricked!"

Bashan was mouthing protests. But as Ducal spoke, silence fell.

"What do you say, Maria?" he asked. "Are you sure? Not Don Fernando?"

"Not Don Fernando at all," Maria insisted. "I knew it the moment I set eyes on him."

"You knew? But you — your attitude seemed to suggest —"

Color flamed higher in Maria's cheeks, but now Guinivere had appeared, to stand quietly beside her.

"I had to find out — who he was, what it was all about," Maria explained. "But he is not Don Fernando."

"Whoever he is, he deserves to die," Bashan growled.

"No!" Maria insisted. "He was tricked into this. Don Fernando told him only that he had an appointment to keep, in his name. He did not speak of me, or of his belief that he was sending him to his death! Mr. Rivers is a brave man!"

"I thought there was a difference from the man I remembered," Ducal nodded. "Have you nothing to say for yourself, sir?"

"Nothing of importance," Rivers said. "I gave my word, not fully understanding, to take Don Fernando's part here. I keep my word."

"And of course, you could not take our offer," Ducal muttered. "Being a gentleman —" he looked at Maria. "Have you anything more to say?" he asked.

Maria shook her head.

"I had to tell you what he could not," she said. "Now I know that you will decide justly, Uncle Duke."

Ducal's face softened while she left the room with Guinivere. But Bashan was frothing.

"He came here to trick us, to help in cheating us," he accused. "He deserves to die! Let me at him!"

"Patience, Bashan!" Ducal growled. "We will have no unseemly haste. Do you realize, sir, what a dangerous swordsman he is?" he demanded of Rivers. "And what a risk you ran?"

"Perhaps the risk was more evenly divided than you figure," Rivers retorted.

"Let me show him," Bashan belatedly said. "I'll tame him down!"

"You're a fool, Bashan," Dikxon said angrily. "Don't you recognize a brave man when you see one?" Apparently this was a new thought to Bashan.

"In any case, he needs to be taught a lesson," he argued.

"I'm inclined to agree with you, Bashan — that is only the Montfort justice," Ducal grunted. And Rivers saw, with swift insight, that some of this threat of savagery was in the blood of all of them.
