Armament Plans To Meet Debate; Alliance Backed

Re-Arming Of West Europe Appears To Face More Opposition Than Pact

Washington, Feb. 23—(AP)—The administration's plans to re-arm the western European countries appeared today to arouse more debate than the proposal to link the U.S. to a defensive regional alliance with western Europe.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) sounded a call of opposition to the arms program over the week-end. He said the sending of military equipment to the western European nations might be an invitation to Russia to start a fight, rather than an encouragement to peace.

Taft argued that the projected North Atlantic security treaty is a defense arrangement and would be so recognized by other nations; therefore, he said he supported it. On the other hand, the Ohioan said he thinks that if this country decides to help re-arm Europe it might give cause to the Russians to feel they are being ringed with military nations. In that case, he said, they might decide to attack quickly.

Senator Pepper (D-Pa.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who pleaded a year ago for a better understanding with Russia, said he supports the security treaty and the re-arming of western Europe.

Pepper told a reporter he thinks an association of friendly North Atlantic nations is justified "until we get an effective international police force."

And he added that he doesn't see how any defense agreement can be effective unless its members are prepared to fight if they have to.

"If we are going into a mutual aid program with these western European nations," he said, "I don't see how we can avoid giving them arms."

To Hold Next Term Superior Court In Courthouse Here

The next term of Superior Court here, a civil session, the week of March 21, will be held in the remodeled and renovated courtroom at the courthouse. Judge Lawson L. Williams of Sanford will preside.

The next criminal court will be held the week of March 28. Two murder cases are on the calendar for trial at this time.

John Edward Edwards, colored, is charged with murder in connection with the knife slaying of Levy Albritton, colored, on January 3, 1948. Daniel, 19, and Bennie Daniel, 18, colored, are scheduled for trial on the charge of murder in connection with the knife slaying of William Benjamin O'Neal, taxicab driver, Saturday night, February 5, at a rural point between Greenville and Grimsdale.

Mercury Drops To 37 Degrees Here

The summer weather changed to winter during the weekend and the Weather Bureau thermometer here registered 37 degrees during last night, (five degrees above freezing, and low enough to cause snow.) At 8 a. m. today the mercury stood at 42 degrees. Approximately three inches of rain has fallen during the month, official records show. The weather in Greenville today is partly cloudy with light southwesterly wind.

Seven-League Strides

India's Determination To Modernize Her Way Of Life Strikingly Illustrated By Legislative Measure To Change Status Of Indian Women; The Past And Present

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The new India continues to pursue her destiny with seven league strides.

The latest of many striking indications of her determination to modernize her way of life is the introduction in the national legislature of a bill which would revolutionize the status of Indian women. This measure would make sweeping changes in ancient customs of the Hindu religion. For instance, plural marriage would be abolished, and women would be allowed the privilege of obtaining divorces.

It is interesting to find law Minister B. R. Ambedkar sponsoring this measure. Dr. Ambedkar, whom I visited in his new Delhi home on my last trip to India, was born into the outcast class known as the "Untouchables," and has spent his life championing their cause. He has a deep feeling for any class of society which is deprived of its rights.

As was to be expected, the bill has run into a storm of opposition in Parliament. The chief protest comes from Orthodox Hindus and is mainly on religious grounds.

Administration Asks Cash To Step Up Social Security

Washington, Feb. 23—(AP)—The Administration asked Congress today for a $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 expansion of its present $1,000,000,000 a year program for helping the needy. The extra money would go toward "home relief"—including cost of medical care—for all needy people.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, commissioner for Social Security, presented to the House Ways and Means committee the Administration's arguments. They covered today the first phase—direct relief for the poor—of President Truman's legislation for a vast expansion of the Social Security program.

Social Security, Altmeyer said, has achieved its primary immediate objective, to abolish the poor house, but the long range goal of "preventing destitution" is yet to be met.

Mr. Truman wants federal financial aid, extended to all needy people, up to $100 a month for a couple, and $20 for each additional person in a needy home. Federal assistance, in money matching with the states, now is limited to needy aged, the blind and dependent children.

Mr. Altmeyer appeared at the committee opened public hearings in Truman's overall legislation calling for:

1. Direct relief for all needy persons; 2. Blanketing of 20,000,000 more persons—Doctors, lawyers, farmers, businessmen, servants and others—under old age insurance, upping the total covered to 50,000,000; 3. Greatly increased benefits; and 4. Boosting—in some cases, tripling—the Security tax on pay checks and payrolls.

The President has promised legislation later proposing a national program of health insurance—with new payroll taxes and the government paying doctor bills—and calling for expansion of unemployment compensation laws.

Modern Weapons Too Successful; 'Shatter' Fleet

Snorkel Sub And A Bomb Attack Prove Too Much For Fast Carrier Group

With the Atlantic Fleet on Caribbean Maneuvers, Feb. 23—(AP)—Surface ship men wrinkled their brows unhappily today over highly successful atom bomb and submarine attacks on a fast carrier task force.

The Navy's "most realistic" war games, now in regroup phase, have revealed weak defensive spots in the tactics that smashed the Japanese fleet.

Admiral W.H.P. Blundy, commander of the Atlantic Fleet, had the bad news in terse messages from combat units operating north and west of Puerto Rico yesterday.

The mighty Franklin D. Roosevelt, super-carrier representing an investment of about $200,000,000, had been put out of action in two successive phases of the six-weeks long exercises.

A snorkel or "guppy" submarine, able to stay under the surface for weeks at a time, pumped torpedoes into the 45,000-ton carrier, base for as many as 37 aircraft, and officially "sank" her.

Ignoring this demise, the F.D.R. took her position in a giant triangle of carriers which included the Kearsarge and the Lorio, and headed for a strike on Vieques Island.

But an "enemy" force of three patrol bombers, one carrying a parachute flare to represent an "A" bomb, attacked in the midst of confusion caused by a low level feint by planes armed with guided missiles and tossing out clouds of foil to jam the carrier's radar.

While the air cover normally provided for a carrier force was busy with the planes that roared in at 6,000 feet, the atomic attackers dumped their load from 21,000 feet without being intercepted.

The result was that a destroyer escorting the F.D.R. was sunk and the big carrier itself was ruled to have suffered severe damage externally and loss of personnel to the extent that it was temporarily put out of commission.

The gun battle with police ended a crime foray in which Gilbert and a prison pal, George Adolph Schmidt, 22, kidnapped a Phoenix woman, killed the three California men, and returned to Arizona with a plan to kill the state prison warden and other officials.

Police surrounded a tourist cabin in the southwestern section of the city last night when the operator, C. A. Jensen, reported a man he recognized as Gilbert had registered during the afternoon.

Two policemen battered on the cabin door and ordered the occupant to come out.

The answer was a blast of pistol fire from the cabin's attic. Detective Ed Langevin fell wounded.

Police poured bullets through the thin cabin walls.

They knew their man was hit when blood streaked the white exterior to the cabin.

"Don't shoot anymore. I'm hit in the head," Gilbert shouted above the gunfire.

As police held their fire, Gilbert came to the door.

He threw it open and, blood streaming down his naked body, stood swaying in the glare of police lights.

"Raise your hands," Sgt. Orme Moorhead shouted.

Instead, Gilbert raised a pistol in his right hand.

Police cut him down in the doorway.

French Officers Held In Continued Purge Of Reds

Paris, Feb. 23—(AP)—The French government said today a Communist army Major had confessed turning army documents over to "a foreign military attaché."

A communiqué issued by the Interior Ministry said an army captain was questioned about his "relationship" with the Major and about "defense documents" he is charged with turning over to a Communist magazine.

The officers, turned over to military authorities, were identified only as "Major Teulery" and "Captain Azema."

Teulery was reported to have been on active service in the French army. Azema was described as an instructor of airborne troops.

The communiqué said Teulery admitted handing over "numerous documents" which he had been able to collect in his jobs in the offices of the military of munitions and national defense.

The ministry said the case was connected with the one against Robert Penillat, business manager of the Communist weekly "France D'Aujourd'hui" (France first), who was arrested Friday.

The Major was identified as a stockholder in the weekly.

Another officer, a captain charged with giving defense secrets to the paper, also will be court-martialed, the Ministry said.

The announcement came as Frenchmen wondered nervously how far their government would go in present moves for a purge of Communists.

Lean To Alliance

Copenhagen, Denmark, Feb. 23—(AP)—Denmark appeared lined up firmly with the west in the cold war today, and there were indications that Sweden, too, was leaning in that direction.

Denmark's position on the North Atlantic defense pact—proposed western military alliance against Russian expansion—was made clear yesterday when the country's largest political party, the Social Democrats, decided to look to the west for security.

Meanwhile high diplomatic sources in Sweden, traditionally neutral key nation of the North Scandinavian bloc, predicted that Sweden will join the projected North Atlantic agreement within six months. One informed source said "sooner, if the Russians make any move toward Finland."

Norway, the other Scandinavian country, already has turned to the west for her military security.

Gun Fight Ends Killer's Foray

Vicious Slayer Trapped And Shot In Tourist Court Cabin

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 23—(AP)—The vicious killer, Bill Ray Gilbert, made good his boast he would never be taken alive. He fell dead before a blaze of police gunfire here last night.

He almost made good his second boast—"I'll take two officers with me when I die." He shot a policeman three times in the leg.

The 26-year-old Arizona ex-convict killed a woman and two men near Needles, Calif., last Wednesday.

Police surrounded a tourist cabin in the southwestern section of the city last night when the operator, C. A. Jensen, reported a man he recognized as Gilbert had registered during the afternoon.

Two policemen battered on the cabin door and ordered the occupant to come out.

The answer was a blast of pistol fire from the cabin's attic. Detective Ed Langevin fell wounded.

Heart Diseases Take Heavy Toll

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 23—(AP)—More than one-fourth of the deaths recorded in North Carolina last year resulted from diseases of the heart.

A provisional report of vital statistics for 1948 by the state board of health said heart diseases caused 2,202 of the 30,560 deaths from all causes.

Cardinal's Aide Pleads Guilty To Red Charges

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 23—(AP)—Josef Cardinal Mindszenty's former treasurer pleaded guilty to black market money dealings today.

The defendant, Monsignor Imre Boka, admitted to a people's court that he gave dollars and other monies to different bankers and brokers for black market sale as the trial in Cardinal Mindszenty's activities opened.

Boka declared he always got instructions from either the cardinal himself, or through his secretary. He also asserted that the profits made through these black market speculations were used for charity purposes.

Dr. Gabor Horvath, secretary to Duke Paul Esterhazy, also pleaded guilty. He said he proposed to Esterhazy to purchase the dollars because he wanted to take precautions in case Esterhazy's property should melt away as a result of nationalization. Horvath said he was aware that Esterhazy (resident of the cardinal) had been the source of the dollars.

The other defendants included 10 bankers and brokers and two priests. They are charged with illegal dealings in foreign currency and "political conspiracy" with those already sentenced.

Their trial opened 20 days after Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment on charges of treason, seeking to overthrow the Communist-controlled government and illegal speculation in American dollars.

Wets, Drys Go To Vote Hearing

Lenoir, N. C., Feb. 23—(AP)—Wets and drys marshaled their forces for a court hearing here today on a temporary injunction blocking an official canvass of the results of a Lincoln county beer-wine referendum.

County election officials were ordered to appear before Judge J. A. Rousseau to show cause why the temporary order obtained by county beer dealers should not be made permanent.

Helping Hand By Radio 'Hams'

Shelby, N. C., Feb. 23—Fire destroyed amateur radio operator George Patterson's home near here last Friday.

His fellow "hams" in Gastonia reported the news by air to other amateur operators throughout the state.

Today, Patterson and his family have a truckload of furniture and clothing, contributed by the operators to replace the fire losses.

Another truck was being filled today.

Power Walkout Threat Averted

New York, Feb. 23—(AP)—A threatened strike by 28,000 electric and gas workers has been averted by a negotiated agreement for wage increases and other benefits for the workers.

A strike against the Consolidated Edison System, which serves most of New York City and suburban Westchester county, had been threatened for tomorrow night by the CIO Utility Workers Union.

The strike was called off last night after a four hour bargaining session.

Warns Congress Aid For Britain Is Cut To Limit

Hoffman Says $940 Million Is Absolute Minimum Needed To Do Job

Washington, Feb. 23—(AP)—The administration advised Congress today that the proposed $940,000,000 in new aid to Britain is a "tight fit"—the absolute minimum needed.

"Any reduction in it," declared Paul Hoffman, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration, "would adversely affect continued recovery in both the United States and Western Europe."

He and a group of advisers from various branches of the government appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations committee as the aftermath of a trans-Atlantic discussion of the state of Britain's economic health.

Because of varying official British statements as to how far she has recovered from the strains of war, the committee called in Hoffman to justify Britain's share of the new $5,580,000,000 European recovery program.

That was the sole purpose of today's hearings.

"Until Great Britain's earnings of dollars through exports and services to the United States and other hard currency areas are sufficient to pay for the essential imports she must have, she will still need American aid," Hoffman said in his prepared testimony.

"We are convinced," he asserted, "that the salvation of Western Europe depends upon joint economic effort of all the participants and can only be achieved by mutual aid and closer economic cooperation."

"Any setback to a country so important as Britain would be bound to have the most serious consequences."

The question of cutting the British program by at least $200,000,000 had been explored, Hoffman said.

He not only pictured the adverse effect he said it would have on the British economy but also detailed how it might cut into United States exports in cotton, foods, tobacco, and industrial goods.

Hoffman expressed serious concern lest British progress be reversed and a "stultifying and generally demoralizing influence on the whole pace and vigor of British recovery" be substituted.

Fear Death Of Six Students In Dormitory Fire

Gambler, O., Feb. 23—(AP)—Six students who were reported missing in a million-dollar Kenton college dormitory fire yesterday failed to appear for classes today. Fear mounted that they were trapped in the inferno which is known to have claimed two lives and injured 36 persons.

There was no official comment from college officials. However, it was pointed out that if the students were out of town for the week-end, they probably would have returned for classes this morning.

Officials said the ruins of the 122 year old sandstone building were still too hot to search. Smoking debris was scattered between the gable stone walls of "Old Kenton."

It was the oldest building on the campus of the school for men.

Jefferson-Jackson Day Quotas Topped

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 23—(AP)—Two counties have gone over the top in the state drive for the Jefferson-Jackson dinner here April 2.

Dinner chairman Jonathan Daniels said Martin County Chairman Elbert S. Peel of Williamson was the first to send in his quota—4300.

"There is no doubt, of course," Lucas said, that it will "delay" action on many administration proposals but "this issue has to be met sooner or later and we might as well meet it now." He said he was "pretty confident of success."

The 1040 Long-Form

An Example Of Filling Out The Form; The Joint Return, Deductions And How To Compute The Tax; The Seventh Of A Series On Handling Your 1948 Income Tax

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 23—(AP)—Here's an example of filling out your 1948 income tax return on the 1040 long-form.

Jones sits down with his long-form, the instruction pamphlet which goes with it, and a piece of paper for his arithmetic.

His income was $9,800, all in salary. His wife had none. They have two schoolboy sons. He's going to make a joint return with his wife. Why?

Because, when a wife has no income, a joint return is cheaper than a return filed by a husband alone.

So his two problems are deductions and exemptions. He tackles the deductions first.

A couple filing jointly—without explaining or itemizing a penny—can get a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a limit of $1,000 in such a standard deduction.

Therefore, Jones' standard deduction—10 per cent of his $9,800 income—is $980. Before taking that he figures out his deductible expenses to see if they come to more than $980.

Upper Chamber Pitches Into Fight Over Whether To Adopt Filibuster; Killing Change In Rules; Southern Democrats Prepared For Battle

Warns Congress Aid For Britain Is Cut To Limit

Washington, Feb. 23—(AP)—With President Truman demanding a showdown, the Senate pitched into a fight today over whether to adopt a filibuster-killing change in its rules. The battle may hold up all Senate action on legislation for weeks or more.

Democratic leader Lucas of Ill. is touched off the scrap by north-south divide over the rule change before the Senate.

A dozen Southern Democrats sat grimly in their seats, all prepared to talk indefinitely to keep the rule change from going through.

The Administration wants the rules changed to clear the way for action on the President's civil rights program.

Lucas told his colleagues: "We must grapple with this problem and have a decision in this session of Congress."

Earlier, he said as he left a White House conference of legislative leaders with Mr. Truman that the President had urged them to meet the filibuster issue "head-on" and seek a showdown.

"That meant, he indicated, that the fight over the filibuster would not be put aside for any legislation, but would be fought to a finish."

The Senate had up the question of whether to change its rules so that debate could be halted at any time that two-thirds of the Senators on the floor voted to halt it.

Under present rules, there are some situations in which no limit can be put on debate. That means Senators opposed to a bill can keep talking or filibustering as it is called, and prevent a vote.

Southerners have used such tactics in the past to block a vote on anti-poll tax and anti-lynch legislation. These are among measures President Truman is acting as part of his civil rights program.

Southerners want to keep the chance to filibuster as they can use it when those measures come up. So they were primed to filibuster against changing the rules.

The Administration's hope of putting the rule-change over hangs on wearing out the southerners—or getting a ruling from vice president Barkley, the Senate's presiding officer, that would permit a vote to limit debate on the proposal to change the rules.

Barkley was at the White House with Lucas. Asked how he would rule if the matter was raised, Barkley said:

"I'll pass on no question until it arises."

Lucas, Barkley and House speaker Rayburn met for upwards of 45 minutes with Mr. Truman.

Lucas said that he is hopeful that the rule change can be put through but he declined to speculate on how long it might take to stop a filibuster against it.

At the present time, he said, the President is not particularly "Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, February 27.

Golden Text: Isaiah 11:1: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots." Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Then spake Jesus again unto them saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." (John 8:12). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary-Baker Eddy: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and life." Mrs. Briley Hostess To Book Club

Mrs. Linwood Briley of Bethel was hostess to the members of the Book Exchange Book Club on Thursday afternoon. Her home was attractively decorated with spring flowers.

After a short business session presided over by Mrs. Cary Hammonds, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. C. W. Everett, the speaker. Mr. Everett gave a most interesting talk on "Personality." He held how our personality could have much to do with our future success and happiness.

Mrs. Briley served a delicious salad course with coca cola.

Miss Betsy Anne Flye Becomes Bride Of Oliver P. Hedgepeth

On Sunday, February 27th, at four o'clock in the afternoon, the First Presbyterian Church in Greenville was the scene of an impressive wedding when Miss Betsy Anne Flye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lester Flye, became the bride of Mr. Oliver Perry Hedgepeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Hedgepeth of Rocky Mount. Reverend Leonard W. Topping, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The vows were spoken before an altar banked with ferns, palms, baskets of gladioli, and seven branch candelabras holding lighted tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gabardine suit designed by Bettini, and used Navy blue and white accessories. She carried a prayer book topped with white orchids, and streamers of Stephanotis.

Miss Joanne Bloom of Greenville and New York, N.Y., was the bride's maid of honor. She was dressed in a navy blue Carmel suit and her accessories were of navy and white. She carried a cascade bouquet of better time roses. Little Patricia Hooker Bourne of Greensboro, flower girl, wore a becoming light blue dress lace trimmed and embroidered with little pink flowers with a matching bonnet. From her white satin basket, she dropped the camellia petals.

Music was presented by Mrs. Guy V. Smith, church organist, and the Greenville High School mixed choir, under the direction of Miss Oona Shindler, who sang "Because." Mr. Robert Mays, soloist sang "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer" was used as the benediction.

The groom chose as his best man Mr. Gaylor Eugene Hooks of Wake Forest and Rocky Mount. Ushers were Mr. Ed Casey of Goldsboro, Mr.

Mrs. Oliver Perry Hedgepeth who before her marriage on February 27th was Miss Betsy Anne Flye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lester Flye of this city. Mr. Hedgepeth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Hedgepeth of Rocky Mount.

Cherry Point; Mr. Marvin Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Buffkin, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gaskins, Vanceboro; Mrs. Ruth Netherland, Mrs. J. W. Flye, and Mr. Billy Flye of Kingston.

Following the rehearsal on Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker and Mr. and Mrs. David Hardie graciously entertained the wedding party, close friends, and out of town guests at a cake-cutting at their home on East Fifth street.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses and the bridal couple.

The house throughout was beautiful with flowers from Mrs. Hooker's garden and lighted white tapers. In the sun room mauve Oriental magnolias and yellow daffodils were used. The music room and hall were decorated with camellias in shades of rose. The dining room was especially lovely. The table covered with a cloth of cutwork and embroidery was centered with a five branched candelabra. Epernettes were filled with flesh colored camellias which also were banked at the base of the candelabra. The sideboard held a silver bowl of white gladioli. At one end of the table a three-tiered wedding cake was placed and at the opposite end a punch bowl of lime ice. The table appointments were of beautiful crystal and silver. From the wedding charms beneath the cake radiated white satin streamers tied with snow drops.

Mrs. Flye, mother of the bride, served punch and Mrs. L. M. Buchanan served the cake after the bride and groom had cut the first slice. Green and white mints with nuts were also served. Little Miss Patricia Hooker Bourne of Greensboro assisted in serving.

The bride was presented a corsage of white camellias.

Special notice: Everybody is invited to a "community party" at the club house next Friday evening from 7:30 till 9 o'clock. We have two quilts that will be given away that night: Mrs. Nan Barber, one of the oldest members of our circle, conceived the idea of piecing a quilt and putting the names of friends on it who donated to our building fund. The quilt is ready now and it contains the names of many, many people and has enriched the treasury by over $250. Remember the date—Friday night, March 4, at 7:30 o'clock. A good time, good music and good singing awaits you. This is absolutely free.

Due to a misunderstanding the March meeting of the Home Demonstration Club on "The Arrangement of Furniture" will be held at the home of Mrs. Fenner Allen Wednesday afternoon, March 3. All members are asked to model a garment they have made themselves.

Last report from little Shirley Langley who lies critically ill with tumor of the brain in Duke Hospital is that she will undergo another operation this morning. The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended to this fine little girl and to her family. Both churches in the community and many neighbors have tried to do much to cheer them and help them.

Circle No. 2 will have a called meeting at Mrs. Odell Evans' tomorrow night, Tuesday, at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend this important meeting.

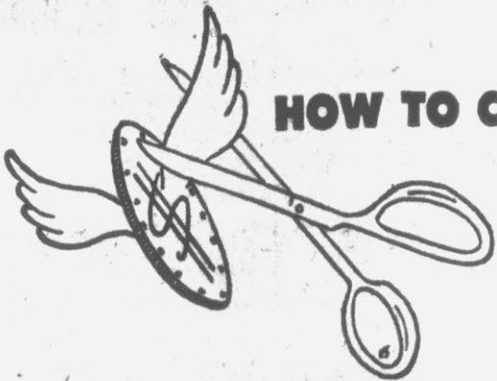

The church looked unusually attractive yesterday with its cleanliness and arrangements of early (and I do mean early) spring flowers. Mrs. John Crawford had this chore for this past week and Mrs. Anos Evans will have charge of it this week. A system has been worked out whereby a person will only have to be responsible for the cleaning of the church one Sunday in each year and we all know a long time ahead what Sunday that will be as we have a new chart to keep this record on.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WE CAN TRIUMPH OVER LIFE
"I never pay any attention to my affliction," remarked a man recently who for more than thirty years has been unable to do any work. In addition to delicate health, he is stone deaf and so cannot listen to the radio or communicate with his friends except by writing.

Yet he is one of the happiest of men. No one ever enters his house without being cheered, and he has employed a generation not by complaining over his lot, but by using every opportunity, no matter how small it may be, to keep himself contented and to spread cheer to others. He was a $20-a-week salesman when his affliction came upon him, just as he was entering middle life. Thirty years of invalidism have failed to wear him down. No one can laugh more heartily than he. He takes particular delight in ridiculing people who go about with long faces in the midst of a world which should make everyone happy.

His life is reminiscent of these words: "So let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Around Capitol Square

BACKSET — Relations between the governor and the general assembly have improved a lot during the past week. To some extent improvement is due to growing attitude on part of legislators not to wait longer for a definite administration program, not to fight the program as presented, but mainly to go along with their own job without too much consideration of the executive proposals. Relations might have been more cordial this week except for two or three statements by Governor Scott which set back developing cooperation.

STATEMENTS — The governor in his special message asking for a statewide liquor vote charged the legislators with arrogance in failing to authorize the election. Previously he had told reporters the legislators were too timid. At his press conference Friday, when a newsman mentioned similarity between President Truman's difficulty with Congress and Governor Scott's with the general assembly the governor quipped that he now has an 80th congress on his hands two years late. Legislators didn't like that much.

CONFUSING — Confusion was increased when the governor told his press conference that he had not decided whether or not he would reappoint Judge Hunter to the utilities commission, and said no one had been authorized to speak for him at that point. That followed by a few hours statement made by Major L. P. McLendon to a legislative committee that the governor would reappoint Commissioner Hunter. Governor Scott had previously said he had asked McLendon to rewrite the utilities commission act and to assist in getting it through the legislature. Members of the committee assumed that McLendon was mentioned in order to gain votes for the reorganization bill. Now they are not sure about that.

LIAISON — This development points to one of the weakest spots in the executive-legislative set-up. That is very inadequate liaison contact between the first and second floors of the capitol. Marked improvement has been noted in this feature, partly through efforts of Major McLendon and a few others but mainly because the governor himself has been dealing more directly with legislative leaders. Whether there is or will be closer cooperation in working out problems, there is definitely better understanding of motives and objectives on part of both branches of government. Despite the retarding influence of barred wisecracks there is apparently growing effort on part of assemblymen to get along with the governor; but no disposition to take the status of rubber stamps for everything he proposes.

DEATH DATE — To all intent and purpose automobile inspection died last Friday. (Some say it was killed, others insist the idea committed suicide through bad administration.) The act repealing the inspection law provided that the lanes would close immediately upon ratification of the act, but another clause says the act will not become effective until thirty days after ratification. Under technical construction of parliamentary law, the provision closing the inspection lanes, being a part of the act could not become effective within 30 days. Nobody expects that point to be made; and motor vehicles officials in fact did not wait for ratification to suspend inspections.

TRUSTEES — One more sign of approaching end of the legislature is the meeting of the joint committee on trustees of the university. Usually this committee has only one or two meetings during the closing days of a session in order to nominate trustees. The meeting called for Monday night immediately following the regular session and house sessions is primarily for purpose of considering the bill to apportion trustees to each county on basis of membership in the house of representatives.

like Santa Claus in overalls. "Seems to me like I see somebody coming," he said. And he went right on at his task, threading apart palm leaves with an ice pick. It takes him a whole day to make a palm leaf mosquito swatter in this manner. And the swatter only sells for one dollar.

"Uncle Silas" was too shy to admit he was making the grass skirts as present for the two young wives. "I started in on a Hula skirt this morning," he said with great dignity, "because my mosquito swatter business wasn't sufficient."

Actually the $38.50 monthly pension he receives more than provides for his simple needs. That buys his food—eggs and milk. It also buys him a quart of whiskey, which he takes in an eggnog at the rate of two tablespoons a day. He pays his doctor by bringing him a gunny-sack full of clams from the bay.

"I don't care much for sea food," he said. "I ate fish for so many years I got so I couldn't get my shirt on or off. That's why I don't wear a shirt anymore."

"Uncle Silas" says he hasn't missed matrimony or the noise of the world in the last forty years. "I been my own boss," he said, "and enjoyed it. I haven't had the blues or felt lonely since 1912."

"I don't allow myself to get lonely. There's too much to do. When I want to do something and there isn't anything else to do, I just take a-holt of a split hair in my beard. Then I keep on splitting it apart clear up to my chin."

As a result of years of this hair-splitting, his beard is as fine as gossamer.

Rheumatic aches plague the hermit so much that he says he would rather be dead but God wants him to stay alive.

"The good Lord's just a-punishing me for all my dirty deeds," said the innocent old man cheerfully.

His is looking forward to next April, when the population of Cabbage Key will be increased to six by the birth of a baby to Mrs. McCall.

"I guess I'll be a good baby sister," said the hermit, "if it comes to that."

The "hermit of Cabbage Key" now has only one secret ambition in life. He wants to go to Hollywood.

Toboggans probably were first used by Indians to carry food and supplies through winter woods.

Wire was in use in Ninevah and Egypt in 800 B.C.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—You can't get away from life. And the "hermit of cabbage key" has quit trying. He's becoming so social now he's wearing Hula skirts and looking forward to becoming a baby sister.

The Merit is 68-year-old Silas Dent, who has lived for some 40 years on Cabbage Key, a 2,000-acre sub-tropical island 12 miles southwest of here. Much of that time he has spent along in a palm-thatched hut.

But today "Uncle Silas" is the most modernized hermit in history. Civilization caught up with him after two young honeymooning couples moved to the island and adopted him.

"I'll bet there isn't a hermit anywhere that gets the attention he does," said Mrs. Barbara Simmons. "And he loves it," laughed her friend, Mrs. Eva McCall. The two girls married to young shrimp fishermen, live in palm-thatched huts which the old hermit helped build.

"Eve cooks his meals, and I go over with my husband at night and rub poor uncle Silas' back," smiled Barbara. "What hermit never ever had a cook and a private masseuse?"

He's just a big spoiled baby now. But he's very happy we came. He's wearing grass skirts for us."

I walked down a hundred yards of sandy trail. And there sat the "hermit of Cabbage Key" in the doorway of his palm hut, looking

District Nurses To Hold Contest Here Tomorrow

By CHESTER WALSH
The North Carolina State Nurses' Association, District 8, will sponsor a contest at the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to select a candidate for the statewide contest to select "Miss Student Nurse of 1949." Three candidates from the northeastern district are expected to participate. The candidate from this district will be selected on the basis of aptitude for nursing, scholastic standing, spirit of service, personal appearance and personality and leadership. Judges are Dr. W. H. Pott, chairman; Dr. John D. Messick; Mrs. S. T. White, Dr. H. Glenn Haney and Chester Walsh. The public is invited.

The final contest to select "Miss North Carolina Nurse of 1949" will be held in Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh on Wednesday March 16. The state winner will be selected from candidates of the nine districts of the association. Two grand prizes for the state winner are offered. One is a $150 scholarship for advanced preparation in nursing education, to be given by the North Carolina League of Nursing Education. The state winner also will tour the state in April for the purpose of presenting nursing as a career before high school and college students, civic leaders and the general public.

Miss Anne Edwards of Brunswick, Va., student nurse at Roanoke Rapids Hospital, Roanoke Rapids, graduated from the Lawrenceville (Va.) High School with an average of 92. Hospital officials credit her possessing a pleasing personality and excellence in leadership. Her average in the hospital training school so far is 92.8.

Miss Nancy Estelle Beamon of

MISS ANNE EDWARDS

MISS NANCY E. BEAMON

Goldsboro "has shown outstanding qualities in training for nursing at Woodard-Herring Hospital, Wilson, and has an average grade of 92. She attended Goldsboro High School. Hospital officials say she is a conscientious nurse, always cheerful, has an interesting personality.

Miss Magnolia Moseley of Rocky Mount Sanatorium is the third candidate in the contest here.

Spring Quarter Opens At ECTC

The spring quarter of the 1948-1949 school term began at East Carolina Teachers College this morning, Feb. 28. During the day students registered for classes to be taken during the next twelve weeks. Class work will begin on Tuesday morning. Examinations ending the winter quarter's work closed at noon last Saturday. The campus was almost deserted over the week-end, when a large number of students sought rest and relaxation in visits to their homes.

Northeastern Crown Goes To Grainger High Quintet

Kinston Overwhelms Pam Pack By 46-35; Locals Lose Consolation Tilt; Trophies Awarded

By BERT MOYE

Coach Amos Sexton's Grainger High Red Devils from Washington defeated the Pam Pack of Kinston in the Northeastern conference tournament finals by the score of 46 to 35, to win the conference basketball championship.

The victory was the second for the Red Devils over Washington in three straight tourney finals meetings between the two schools. Kinston won the title in 1947 by defeating Washington 39 to 30, and Washington won the title last year by defeating the Red Devils 37 to 31.

Kinston took the lead in the early minutes of the game when field goals by Bruton and Hodges and a free throw by Whaley gave the Red Devils a 6-0 margin. At the end of the first quarter Kinston was leading 14 to 10.

During the second quarter both teams played defensive ball with Kinston adding seven points and Washington was able to add three more to the total to give the Red Devils a 21 to 13 advantage at the half.

The Red Devils continued their scoring spree during the last half and at the third quarter ended were out front 36 to 22.

Bobby Hodges and Doug Bruton, with 16 and 15 points respectively, led the attack of the Red Devils. Garland Homes, with 12 points, led Washington.

In a consolation game prior to the championship game, the New Bern Bears defeated Greenville 42 to 33. Coach Farley had three of his regular absent from the night's lineup and used his sons in their positions.

After three minutes of play in the first quarter New Bern finally made a free throw good to start the ball rolling and from then on it was New Bern all the way. The first quarter ended 9 to 3 in favor of the Bears.

During the second quarter the Bears held the Greenvilles to two lone field goals while they racked up 8 more points to lead at the half way mark 17 to 9.

In the third period the Greenvilles hit their scoring stride and racked up 14 points, and at one phase of the quarter were within four points of catching the Bears, but were never able to knot the count. The Bears still had a seven point lead at the end of the third quarter as they were out front 30 to 23.

Both teams scored about even in the fourth quarter with the Bears making 12 points and the Greenvilles 10. Greenville made 14 field goals and five free throws good during the game and missed 11 free throws. The Bears made 15 field goals and 12 free throws good while missing 10 free throws. Greenville made a total of 21 personal fouls and the Bears made 16.

Jim Brown and Sonny Russell got 11 points each to set the pace for the New Bern Bears, while Joe Allgood and Jimmy Cox, with 13 and 12 points respectively led the Greenvilles.

In the post-game ceremonies, the conference basketball committee composed of O. E. Dowd and Frank Mock of Kinston, presented trophies to the following:

The Kinston Red Devils received the championship cup, the New Bern Bears received the consolation trophy, gold basketballs were given to the members of the championship team, Kinston, and silver basketballs were given to the members of the Washington Pam Pack team, the runners-up.

Mr. O. E. Dowd announced the following all tournament team as selected by the coaches and tournament officers: Sonny Russell, New Bern, his second successive season on the all-conference team; Doug Bruton of Kinston; Bobby Hodges of Kinston, his second year on the all conference team; Adrian Bowen of Washington, and Garland Homes of Washington. Each were presented with a silver medal.

Lenoir Rhyne To Play Erskine In South Carolina

Clemson, S. C., Feb. 28—(AP)—Erskine College of South Carolina and Lenoir Rhyne of North Carolina will meet here tomorrow night to decide the small college basketball championship of the Carolinas.

The winner will represent the two states in the NAIB championship playoffs in Kansas City in March.

Erskine's fleet, coached by John McMillan, brushed aside all opposition in South Carolina's "Little Five" to become the recognized leader of the state's small colleges on the court.

Lenoir Rhyne, which finished sixth in regular season play in the North State Conference, won the right to represent North Carolina by upsetting Appalachian, 57-55, in the conference's tournament Saturday night at Elkin, N.C.

Duke Is Hunting Freshman Coach

Durham, N. C., Feb. 28—(P)—Coach Wallace Wade of Duke is looking for a new freshman football coach and scout.

Junior Schools Hold Tournament

High Point, N. C., Feb. 28—(P)—Ten schools began play today for the North Carolina junior high school basketball championship.

E. K. Powe junior high of Durham is defending champion of the tournament which will close March 8.

Preliminaries

Preliminary rounds of the annual Pitt County High School basketball tournament will get under way at Wright gymnasium at East Carolina Teachers College this afternoon at six o'clock as both boys' and girls' teams begin the race for the championship of Pitt County.

Tonight's schedule is as follows: 6:00—Winterville vs Stokes (girls); 7:00—Grifton vs Arthur (boys); 8:30—Grimesland vs Belvoir (girls); 9:30—Belvoir vs Stokes (boys).

Knockdown Rule For Maxim And Charles Tonight

Cincinnati, Feb. 28—(AP)—Edward Charles and Joey Maxim meet in a 5-round heavyweight elimination bout here tonight under a knockdown rule seldom, if ever used in a match of such importance.

The rule provides that the knocked-down boxer, if badly hurt, must take a count of nine. Should he rise in a befuddled state before that time, the referee will prevent his opponent from tearing into him immediately with a finishing punch.

Al Bechtold, chairman of the City Boxing Commission, said it will be up to the referee to determine if the fighter may continue before nine seconds have been counted off.

The rule was adopted some time ago, after several fatalities had occurred in the ring in other parts of the country.

The fight between Charles, who is a Cincinnati boy, and Maxim, from up Cleveland way, has been boosted as the one which will determine an opponent for Joe Louis in his next defense of the heavyweight championship.

It will be Charles—about the hottest heavyweight contender of the field—who will be taking the big chance tonight.

A loss to the clever but light-hitting Maxim will throw him back even with the other challengers. His most recent outstanding victory was a knockout in Madison Square Garden over Joe Baksi.

Spartans' Squad Captures Crown

New York, Feb. 28—(AP)—Michigan State, which came east only because other plans fell through, went west today with the ICGA indoor track and field title.

The small Spartan squad really lived up to its nickname Saturday night as it overpowered the best 45 eastern schools could offer. The winners entered only 18 men, compared to the 50 from Yale, which picked up second place.

Clemson Eleven Elects Captain

Clemson, S. C., Feb. 28—(P)—Coach Frank Howard's Clemson Tigers will be field marshalled next season by Gene Moore.

The Lake City center was elected captain during the week-end. Jack Miller, place kicking specialist from Lake City, was voted the team's most valuable player of the past season.

Bethel Loses To Jamesville In District Championship Contest

By CHARLES JOYNER

Farmville, Feb. 28—Jamesville captured the district championship

Two Pirates On All-Tourney Five

Two East Carolina Teachers College basketball players landed berths on the all North State conference tournament team.

Louis Collie, a freshman from Wilmington, N. C., was named as one of the two best forwards to perform in the three day events and Jack Everton, a junior, was awarded a berth on the all-tournament second team.

Collie, who was an under study to all North State conference forward Charlie Bill Moyer prior to the latter's being dropped from the EC TC roster, led the East Carolina scoring as Coach Howard Porter's charges went into the semi-finals of the tournament where they were defeated. In the Appalachian game which marked the final appearance of the pirates this season, Collie scored 18 points.

Everton, a big six foot, seven inch boy from Columbia, N. C. scored 16 points when the Pirates ousted West Carolina in the first round of tournament. Fitz Fennell was high scorer in the game with 17.

Arthur Captures Tournament At Elizabeth City

Bell Arthur, Feb. 28—The Bell Arthur girls walked away with the intra-county basketball tournament in Elizabeth City Saturday night by swamping the Hertford team of Perquimans by 35-15.

On Friday night, Arthur staged an upset by a 25-21 score against the favored Weaverville girls who won the Pasquotank county championship the week before.

Against Hertford, it was Arthur all the way with a half-time lead of 17-10.

B. Moxingo, V. Crawford and F. Crawford were selected as members of the all-tourney team.

at Farmville Saturday night before an estimated crowd of eight hundred people by defeating Bethel 32-25. Due to their victory here the Jamesville five will represent this district in the eastern division of the Class B play-offs.

Bethel scored first when Hemingway connected for two points after fifteen seconds had elapsed. Bethel's slim lead was sh-r-t-lived however as Jamesville scored three field goals and four foul attempts before the first period had ended to lead Bethel 10-4 at the end of the quarter. The Indians staged a comeback during the second period and had pushed ahead 14-13 at the half. William Keel, Bethel forward, was fouled with fifteen seconds remaining in the half while trying for a field goal. Bethel was trailing 12-13 and Keel's first free throw, at-tempted as the horn indicating the end of the half sounded, was good. With the score tied at 13-13, Keel tried his second attempt which was good also, giving Bethel the lead 14-13.

Jamesville caught Bethel early in the third period when Gaines Jamesville center, was good on a free throw. Mack Whitehurst of Bethel broke the tie with a follow-up good for two points and the Indians led again for the last time 16-14. Jamesville caught Bethel again with Brewer's lay-up and Modlin's gratis attempt pushed the winners in front 17-6 where they remained for the rest of the game. Jamesville had extended their lead to 2-6 at the end of the third quarter. Bethel again tried to snatch victory from sure defeat during the final stanza. Leading 24-22 with one minute and thirty seconds remaining in the game, Jamesville froze the ball. The Indians in their anxiety to obtain possession of the ball, fouled their opponents quite frequently; which helped Jamesville leads run the score to 32-25 in the remaining seconds of the game.

Billy Brewer paved the way for the winning Jamesville five with 6 points. Bill Smith and William Keel with six each, closely followed by Mack Whitehurst with five, led the way for Bethel.

Death's Bright Angel
by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 14
"Here," Maria breathed, "Bashan likes to go into town at times. He bends these bars apart—then he again. Perhaps they have been weakened somewhat."
Rivers could see where two rods
did show signs of having been bent.
He marveled anew at the strength in the man's hands, that he had first managed it at all. But if Bashan had done it before—He pushed, exerting all his strength. Slowly it gave. He stopped, panting, then reached for the opposite bar. Once they were bent there would be room to squeeze between. There was an opening now.

Maria slipped through, and Rivers followed.
"I will go to friends," she said.
"I'll be all right."
Rivers hoped that was so. Then,
as they neared the sleeping town, he became aware that she walked alone, that she had slipped away silently. His thoughts were gloomy, even as he realized that he was uncertain of his whereabouts, of this part of the sprawling town.
Even of what lay ahead.

His footsteps echoed hollowly on the planking of a small bridge, and somewhere a dog howled, then was silent. A silence abruptly blasted by the report of a pistol.

The lead whizzed by his shirt sleeve, and the shadows ahead stirred to a double-gleam of light, reflected from the barrels of pistols, and Rivers knew that a second weapon was being raised and leveled.

Before the second gun could spill its deadly cargo he was plunging over the side of the bridge railing and down—a fall of twenty feet or so. To where the waters ran sullen and deep.

They closed over him, while he wondered who could have fired that shot. Certainly not the Montforts—not yet. Yet who else?

Cautiously Rivers broke water, poking his nose out. If he could make his assailant believe that the bullet had been fatal in its effect—

The shadow of the bridge lay heavy across the water, and he rested a hand on a log abutment and waited. Up above a football sounded, then a quicker step hurrying. This newcomer was apparently an officer, a policeman or soldier-sentry.

"What was the shot?" he demanded in French. "heard one!"
The voice which answered was that of Martinez—captain of the Lovely Maria.
"It was a mad dog," he explained.
"I was on the bridge when it confronted me suddenly, a froth about the mouth. A savage beast. I assure you, I lost no time in shooting it.
Then I flung it over the side."
Martinez! That made it understandable. Martinez was late aboard tonight, and had seen him and recognized him. Martinez hated him.
And Martinez served Don Fernando.
They had not expected him to return from the Montforts. Alive he was in the way. This had seemed to Martinez a perfect opportunity for disposing of him.

The officer accepted the explanation readily, and presently departed. Martinez became active. Rivers could hear his steps above, then see him outlined as he peered down, watching, listening. Breath in check,
Rivers waited.
Satisfied, Martinez presently turned and was gone. The banks were steep, the water deep. Deep and cold. Rivers swam to where the bank shelved, the branches of a tree hanging low gave him a hand-hold. He climbed out, shaking with cold as he stood on solid ground once more.

The moon was gone, the sheen of the distant river shut away. The streets, alive-by day, seemed pecuniarily dead by night. Then came the low murmur of voice, and about them there was something familiar.

Once again it was the voice of Martinez.

Rivers advanced, keeping to the deeper shadows. Three or four men clustered under a tree. Sailors from the Lovely Maria.
"It is a piece of work well done," Martinez was saying. "He will trouble us no more. I shot him—like a dog. Like the dog he was."
The others, as in duty bound, voiced admiration for their brave officer. Martinez chuckled.
"Never have I met one who was my better, unless it be our Don Fernando," he bragged. "But come.
There is a new day ahead."

A nebulous plan was forming in Rivers' mind. Martinez was a racist, but he was only a racist. And twice in one night was at least one time too many for such murderous double-dealing on the part of Don Fernando.

He came finally to Royal Street, and let himself in to his own rooms, pausing for a moment to look where,
at this hour, Donna Dolores would be deep-sunk in slumber.

A plan was growing in his mind as he dressed and shaved. That done, he crossed to the door of Donna Dolores' suite and rapped softly. He repeated the summons a little more loudly, then a third time with growing impatience.

Donna Dolores had assured him that she was a light sleeper, but nothing seemed to stir in the room beyond. Frowning, he tried the latch, and was surprised when the door opened readily. He stepped through, and by now a nameless fear was upon him.

The rooms were empty—empty as those silent echoing streets at dead of night. They seemed to whisper of her presence, that she had been here. Nor was there any trace of her duenna. Even the beds, he saw, had not been slept in.

Plane Crash Hero Given New Decoration For Act

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Sgt. Robert L. Hodgkins, whose heroism helped save the lives of 36 paratroopers, received the Distinguished Flying Cross today.

That decoration, normally awarded only in wartime for services performed under combat conditions, was given the sergeant by Army Chief of Staff General Omar Bradley.

The sergeant, whose home now is Fayetteville, N.C., was brought to Washington from his station at Fort Bragg to receive the medal. He is a member of the 508th Regiment, 8th Airborne Division.

Hodgkins was safely off the ground aboard a C-52 transport last January 14 when its engine failed while flying at low altitude near Fort Bragg. The citation which accompanied the medal said:

"Upon receiving the signals to abandon ship, Sgt. Hodgkins, instead of thinking of his personal safety, coolly directed and expedited the exit of all 36 paratroopers. Sgt. Hodgkins remained in the plane until the crash. The outstanding courage and heroism displayed throughout this accident reflected great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

As the plane struck ground, Hodgkins left through the rear jump door. Then, seeing a fire start in the wreck, he ran to the nose of the plane, broke into the pilot's compartment and assisted in removing injured and dead crew members of the plane.

Alumni Meeting Plans Shape Up

Plans are being completed for the annual meeting of the University of North Carolina alumni and the Pitt County Chapter of the Educational Foundation, President Lee Folger said today.

The meeting will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at the country club. The barbecued chicken supper will be a Dutch affair with plates costing $1.50 each.

Folger said the meeting is open to all friends of the University, and persons wishing to attend the supper may make reservations by advising him the number of plates they desire.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Mae Domingues, 28, who was drowned Thursday night near Charleston, S.C., were conducted at the home of her brother, Arthur L. Moore, of near Snow Hill, Sunday at 3:30 p.m. by Rev. D. A. Windham, Free Will Baptist minister of Greenville.

Baptist minister of Greenville. Burial was in the Moore family cemetery. Mrs. Domingues was born and reared near Maury. For the past 10 years she had made her home in Norfolk, Va., and Philadelphia, Pa. Surviving are her husband, Paul H. Domingues Jr., MM 1-c, U.S. Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif.; her father, D. A. Moore of Newport; seven brothers, Leslie Moore of Farmville, Clarence Moore of Florida, Arthur Lee Moore of Snow Hill, Kirby Moore of Winterville, Rudolph Moore of Philadelphia and Carlton Moore of Marlboro; and James Harvey Moore of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Claude Harrell of Kingston.

Heavy Sentence For House Robber In City Police Court

In police court today, Judge J. W. H. Roberts, sentenced John Worsley, 64-year-old Negro, to 18 months on the roads after he found him guilty of the larceny of a radio from the home of Mrs. Mary McCrary, 107 Summit street, about a week ago. The court informed the defendant that the sentence will be reduced to 12 months if he assists in recovering the radio. Worsley, it was testified, has been doing "yard work" for various families in the neighborhood. A witness testified that she saw Worsley leave the McCrary home on a Saturday afternoon, when no one was at home there, with a package the size of the missing radio.

Tobacco Group Meets Tomorrow

Raleigh, N.C., Feb. 25—(AP)—The annual membership meeting of Tobacco Associates, Inc., will be held here tomorrow.

Principal business before the meeting will be election of directors and officers.

J. B. Hutson of Washington, president of the organization, which promotes flue-cured tobacco exports, will make his annual report.

The 1040 . . .

On line 4 he writes his $1,800 in exemptions. Subtracting that from his $8,320 income, he enters the result, $7,020, on line 5.

Because this is a joint return Jones skips to line 9 and—dividing in half the $7,020 on line 5—writes the result, $3,510.

(This is the part of the new law called "splitting" income to give married couples a lower tax.)

Now he has to find the "tentative" tax on $3,510. He does that by using the instruction sheet. He writes that tentative tax, which comes to $732.20, on line 10.

The next step is to cut that "tentative tax" to the actual tax. He follows the rules in line 11 (b) and writes the result, $107.86 there. Subtracting that from the $732.20 on line 10, the result is $624.34, which he puts on line 12.

That's his half of the tax, as it were. But this is a joint return by him and his wife. So he multiplies $624.34 by two, gets $1,248.68. He writes that on line 13. That's his full tax for 1948.

But during the year his boss withheld from him—say—$1,400 in tax. That was too much, since Jones sees now his tax should be only $1,248.68.

So he has a refund of $151.32 coming to him. He wants the collector to send him the refund. So he checks that on page one of the long-form, under line no. 10. And he fills in the other questions on page one.

Then he and his wife both sign the long-form to show it's a joint return. If Jones alone signs it, the collector will consider it a single return. That would be more expensive for Jones.

One more thing Jones does. He attaches to the long-form the form W-2 withholding receipt given him by his boss for the $1,400 withheld from his pay during the year.

tennis with her most days. But that garden was surrounded by a high wall, so that none could see into the grounds. And when the Maharajah went with her ladies-in-waiting from the palace to the garden, some 25 yards away, they proceeded by a carefully curtained automobile. They reached the car through a canopy which was put up between the palace door and the automobile. That was custom, and nobody seemed to question it.

Southland Feels Freeze; Snowfall Hits Northeast

New England Sections Get Heaviest Snow Of Winter; Mercury Dips In Dixie

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing weather hit parts of the Southland today, threatening damage to the rich peach crop in Georgia and South Carolina. The chill extended over parts of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Meanwhile, the northeastern section of the country started to dig out from yesterday's snowfall—the heaviest of the winter season in many areas. Falls up to 12 inches were reported in western Massachusetts and parts of Connecticut and measured up to 10 inches in New York City, and in sections of Rhode Island and inland Massachusetts.

The snowfall extended from the east Tennessee mountains to Maine and there were heavy carpets in the western New England states New York and Pennsylvania. Driving was hazardous and rail and highway traffic slowed by snow and ice. Temperatures dropped to below freezing over the snow belt.

The U.S. Weather Bureau warned of more freezing weather tonight in northern and central Georgia and other areas in the Dixie cold belt.

Last night the Weather Bureau hoisted small craft warnings from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Jacksonville.

New York City's snowfall was the heaviest of 1949. The new snow measured from 5.2 inches in Manhattan to 10 inches in outlying sections.

Strong winds accompanied the snow in the New England area. Planes were grounded and highway travel impeded. More than 200 interstate trucks were stalled in a traffic jam over a four-mile stretch on icy Nonesuch Hill road in Kingston, R. I., last night. The falls were the heaviest of the winter season in southwestern New England.

Berlin Snowfall Halts Airlift

Berlin, March 1—(AP)—Berlin's first big snowfall of the winter halted the airlift temporarily today. British and American planes which supply this Soviet-blockaded city stopped flying this morning because of poor visibility.

Bad weather broke the string of eight consecutive record-breaking days in which the lift reached the 8,000-ton-a-day mark for the first time since it was instituted last June.

'Intimidated'

Budapest, Hungary, March 1—(AP)—Five of the 14 men on trial charged with black market dealings for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty withdrew today their pretensions. They charged instead that police "intimidated" them.

A sixth defendant also withdrew part of his confession. The men were accused of illegal dealings in foreign currency and of "political conspiracy" with the Cardinal and others already sentenced.

Holiday In New Orleans With Mardi Gras Time

New Orleans, March 1—(AP)—New Orleans quit work today and played "Let's pretend."

For glorious hours the problems of the rest of the world, and of the other 364 days, were solved simply by making believe they didn't exist.

By scores of thousands, the people stepped out of the normal humdrum lives into the characters of their dreams and fancy.

They appeared as acrobats, ballet dancers, clowns, devils, elves, fakirs, gypsies, highwaymen, Indians, jockeys, knights, life guards, minstrels, nymphs, orangutans, pirates, queens, roustabouts, sousses, tramps, Uncle Sam, vaqueros, witches, yeggs and just plain zanyes.

There would have been some beginning with "x," too, if anyone had known what a xena or a xosa is.

The carnival season has been celebrated since Jan. 6 with balls and for the past ten days with parades. But today only, Mardi Gras shrove Tuesday, the day before Lent, the whole city joins in a general holiday of public masking and frivolity.

Visitors estimated roughly at 100,000 joined the uncouth residents who went out to have fun, or to watch others having it.

There were two long processions of decorated trucks. Each truck bore members of a club, fraternity or other group, costumed alike or according to a central theme.

Hearing on an application by the Southern Bell Telephone Company will begin tomorrow.

Set-Back Handed Referendum Plan

House Committee Votes Unfavorable Report To Bill Calling For Statewide Liquor Election; Worthington Asks Showdown

Raleigh, N. C., March 1—(AP)—The House committee on propositions and grievances today voted an unfavorable report to a bill calling for a statewide liquor referendum. The vote was 29 to 4.

The committee, meeting in executive session, thus dealt a body blow to dry forces who have been working hard for a statewide vote on the liquor issue.

The bill given the unfavorable report was introduced by Rep. L. A. Martin of Davidson, prominent dry leader. It would have provided for an election on retention or the present county option system of drying up liquor sales in the state completely.

It was understood that dry leaders were working to get a minority report so they could bring the referendum issue to the floor of the House. However, House rules require a minority report be signed by at least one-fourth of the committee members present and voting. In this case nine signers would be necessary.

When the committee gathered, Rep. M. T. Leatherman of Lincoln moved that the Martin measure be reported favorably. There was no second to his motion.

Then Rep. Sam Worthington of Pitt moved for an unfavorable report. Rep. Robert Gantt of Durham seconded. On a show of hands there were 29 votes for the motion and only four against.

Meanwhile, Senator Henry Vann of Sampson, chairman of the Senate propositions and grievances committee, said his group would meet tomorrow probably to vote on another referendum measure. The Senate bill was introduced by Senator George T. Penny of Guilford. It would give the voters a choice between an all dry or an all wet state.

Other major questions before the legislators also were expected to move closer to decisions.

The joint appropriations committee was scheduled in the afternoon to go into the question of public school funds. Education forces planned to present their appeal for about $100,000,000 more for schools in the next two years than the $168,000,000 the advisory budget commission favored.

The issue of motor vehicle inspection returned to the legislative scene. Senator D. L. Ward of Craven, chairman of the Senate roads committee, announced that a public hearing on inspection would be held Wednesday at 10 a. m.

The committee is considering a bill by Senator L. H. Fountain of Edgecombe which would set up a modified inspection program to replace the one the legislature killed last week.

Early Start Planned On Hospital Work

Will Have Headquarters For New Pitt Hospital Set Up By Around March 15; Materials Being Assembled

Field offices for the construction of the new Pitt County hospital will be set up in Greenville about March 15, according to a letter received by C. Stuart Carr, chairman of the hospital board of trustees.

H. C. Helgeson, vice-president of McKoy - Helgeson construction company of Greenville, South Carolina which was awarded the general contract for the project advised Carr that work on the hospital will begin as soon as the necessary materials and equipment for the project can be assembled in Greenville.

In a statement this morning, Carr said:

"The people of Pitt County are blessed with a wonderful opportunity to help their fellow men, as well as themselves, through the medium of the new Pitt County hospital. This circumstance has come about by the cooperation of the various civic groups within the county and other interested citizens and businesses, all working together toward one common goal. Collectively we have achieved success insofar as making possible a building in which improved and increased medical care facilities will be available in this county.

"But our job is not done. We have only drawn a chance to compete for the role of the Good Samaritan."

Clay Proposals Raising Quarrel

Letting Germans Build, Operate Ships Meets Opposition

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Government agencies were reported at odds today over a proposal from Gen. Lucius D. Clay to let the Western Germans build and operate ocean-going ships.

It is a major policy issue which involves Britain and France and the cold war with Soviet Russia.

Officials said American viewpoints are so conflicting the decision almost certainly will be put up to President Truman—one of the signers of the 1945 Potsdam agreement which prohibits the building by Germany of "all types" of seagoing vessels.

Representatives of American ship operators and maritime unions have filed sharp protests with the State Department against any revival of Germany as a world shipping rival. Clay is understood to have Army Department backing for his view that the time has come to spur the recovery of the Western occupation zone by putting idle shipyards to work and letting the Germans engage directly in foreign commerce.

Shipping men said the Maritime Commission thus far has been cold to the idea. The Navy is reported to have called for a new outline of official policy before advising whether national security would suffer from the proposal.

Scott To Talk On School Issues

Raleigh, N. C., March 1—(AP)—Governor Scott will discuss school and school building issues in a radio talk tomorrow night.

The Governor announced today he would discuss the school issues which are now before the General Assembly in a speech from his office at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Test For Socialism

England Has Had Its Initiation Into Socialism, Coming Elections Will Determine If It Will Be Continued; System On Trial; Eyes Of The World On Election

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Britain already is getting set for the great political struggle which will determine whether she is to continue along the road of socialism or revert to conservatism.

It's just over three and a half years since the Labor Party swept into power under leadership of Clement Attlee and established England's first all-socialist government. It was an amazing shift of public opinion. It brought the downfall of the great Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister who was idolized as the man who had led the empire through its trial of "blood, toil, tears and sweat."

England, with her imperial trappings and traditions, has had a fair initiation into socialism—enough so that she knows what it is. Under normal circumstances June of next year will bring another general election. Then the country will take stock and decide whether she will stick to her leftist course or swing back to the right.

The socialists have nationalized numerous undertakings in capitalistic Britain. Among them are overseas airways, the Bank of England, cable and wireless communications, the coal mines, railroad and inland water transport, and the electricity supply. A steel nationalization measure is now before Parliament, and the chemical industry is a possibility.

The government even has dared the political elements by providing universal free medicine. This naturally has been met with mixed emotions, but it is popular with the man in the street.

How far dare the socialists go with nationalization? The government has been watching general reaction closely and anxiously. Socialism is on trial in a big way in England. It can make or break itself before next year's election.

The party has held that the public reaction seemed fair enough. In some thirty Parliamentary by-elections since the socialists' government came to power, it hasn't lost one. Then last week came an outstanding test in a by-election at South Hammersmith.

South Hammersmith normally is conservative, but has been held by labor since the last general election.

Cool Reception For President's Security Plans

Lawmakers Eye Size And Cost Of Truman 'Home Relief' Proposals

Washington, March 1—(AP)—President Truman's new "home relief" program seemed headed for rough going today as lawmakers critically eyed its size and cost.

The proposal to grant federal financial aid to all needy people is part of a huge social security expansion plan introduced without endorsement by Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the Ways and Means Committee.

Doughton, saying he wants to study the measure even further before he takes a definite stand, raised the question whether it "would be a bulwark against a depression."

When Arthur J. Altmeyer, social security commissioner, told the committee the President's program proposes no "vast new system of 'home relief,'" Doughton asked:

"If this is not vast what would it take to make it vast?"

Rep. Reed of New York, senior ways and means Republican, told reporters: "this would throw the doors of the treasury wide open," and he added: "Maybe the Administration sent it up here with the idea that it would be whittled down."

Altmeyer estimated that the new "relief for all needy" proposal would add about $250,000,000 a year to the $1,100,000,000 the federal government now is providing, in a money-matching arrangement with the states, for direct relief to: (1) needy aged persons, (2) the blind, and (3) dependent children.

He argued that the government should participate with the states in aid to all the needy, not just those three groups. He specifically mentioned the sick, and physically and mentally disabled and jobless persons not protected by unemployment insurance.

AMA Strategy Handed Set-Back

Large Group Drops Support Of Fight On Health Insurance

New York, March 1—(AP)—The largest member group of the American Medical Association has withdrawn its support of the AMA's plan to fight compulsory health insurance.

The New York County (Manhattan) Medical Society took the action last night.

The meeting also defeated a resolution, offered by the executive committee, to approve the 12-point program the AMA has offered as a "constructive" answer to the government's proposed compulsory health insurance plan.

This resolution, however, will be reconsidered at a meeting March 28.

The vote at last night's meeting was 432 to 333 against the AMA's $25 per member assessment to raise $30,000,000 for a campaign in behalf of voluntary health systems.

At its last meeting, Jan. 24, the county society adopted a resolution approving the assessment and generally backing the AMA stand. Approval at that time was by a clear majority after spirited debate, but reconsideration was scheduled for last night.

Non-Communist Oath At UNC Is Urged Trustees

Raleigh, March 1—(AP)—A non-communist oath would be required of students and faculty members of the Greater University of North Carolina under a resolution presented to the university trustees yesterday.

The trustees, who earlier voted tuition increases for North Carolina students attending the university, referred the non-communist oath resolution to its executive committee.

The resolution was introduced by John Q. Legrand who told the trustees he had heard friends of the university express "concern about conditions which may or may not exist there."

Legrand would require students and faculty members to swear they are not communists and not members of communist front organizations.

Oleo Bill Given Good Report By Senate Group

Raleigh, March 1—(AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today gave a favorable report to a bill to remove restrictions on oleomargarine.

The bill would permit use of colored oleo in public dining places and reduce a license tax on oleomargarine wholesalers.

Lucas Asks For Republican Help Against Filibustering

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Senator Lucas of Illinois called on Republicans today to help still the sound and fury of a Southern Democratic filibuster against a Senate rules change.

As Senator Connally (D-Tex.) prepared to carry the Dixie banner into the second day of a filibuster to save filibusters, Democratic Leader Lucas laid out a time table for a showdown early next week.

Before the Senate is his motion to take up a resolution which would alter the Senate rules so that two-thirds of those voting could clamp a limit on debate at any time.

Southerners oppose this as an opening wedge for passage of President Truman's civil rights program.

Lucas, who heads the Administration's forces in the Senate, said the Southerners will be allowed to talk along until Thursday in their effort to prevent the Senate from passing on this proposition.

He predicted that a petition to invoke the debate-limiting cloture procedure will be filed then.

It will be up to Vice President Barkley to rule whether there can be any limitation of debate on a motion such as Lucas' to take up a resolution.

That's the point at which Lucas said he wants some Republican help.

Asked August Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) ruled as presiding officer that the debate limitation didn't apply in a similar case. This was in an effort by Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) to call up the anti-poll tax bill.

But if Barkley rules that the debate limit does apply in this case—and there are indications that he will because he disputed Vandenberg's decision last year—Lucas said he wants the Republicans to vote with him to uphold Barkley. He conceded that some of them are "on the spot" politically because they favor civil rights legislation, but don't like to overturn the ruling of Vandenberg.

Republicans who sought to end debate by the cloture method last August were Senators Taft of Ohio, Wherry of Nebraska, Knowland of California, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Flanders of Vermont, Ives of New York, Ferguson of Michigan, Cordell of Oregon, Reed of Kansas, Jenner of Indiana, Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Lodge of Massachusetts, Kern of Missouri, Morse of Oregon, Martin of Pennsylvania, Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

Democrats who signed the cloture petition then were Senators Pepper of Florida, McGrath and Green of Rhode Island and Barkley, then senator from Kentucky.

A motion to table isn't debatable.

Last Churchman Confesses Guilt

Fifteenth On Trial In Bulgaria Follows Routine Admission

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 1—(AP)—The last of the 15 Protestant churchmen on trial for treason went to the stand today and tearfully confessed.

The state then began the calling of witnesses. The clergymen are accused of spying and black market dealings and treason.

Only one of the 15 deposed from a full confession. Ladin Popov, 36, a Pentecostal pastor, denied he had been a spy but said in a quaking voice that he was guilty of illegal currency dealings.

Mitko Dimitrov, a Baptist pastor accused one of the leading defendants, Nikola Naumov, supervisor of the Baptist church in Bulgaria, of saying from the pulpit that "Stalin is a bloodsucker."

Angel Dinez, 40, a Pentecostal preacher, accused his superiors in the church of being leaders of the alleged spy ring. He ended his testimony with the standard utterance of repentance. He asserted he was converted to what he called the righteousness of Communism during the three months he has been imprisoned by the secret police.

"I want to thank the security police for showing me for the first time the human Communist," Dinez said.

Cominform Has Another Attack On Marshal Tito

Bucharest, Romania, March 1—(AP)—The Cominform bulletin issued a new and violent blast today at Premier-Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

The current issue of the Communist international information bureau's organ also accused the United States of "machinations in Scandinavia" in connection with the North Atlantic pact, and assailed Catholics and western leaders for their criticism of the trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The new blast at Tito was written by B. L. Buljacovic, and ran to four columns. Tito was charged with disarming Yugoslavia in the face of foreign enemies, with making trade agreements with Britain, and with offering compensation to American and British capitalists for properties which were nationalized.

White Convict Escapes Near Hanrahan Today

Capt. Paul Crawford, head of the State Prison Camp, near Greenville reported about 10 a. m. today that Freddie Martin, 27-year-old white prisoner, made a dash for liberty from a mad gang of convicts working on the road from highway No. 11 leading to Hanahan. He was wearing prison clothes.

Authorities request people living in that section to report to the State Highway Patrol in Greenville any suspicious persons in their neighborhood.

Martin is serving a four-year term for house breaking and larceny in Wake county. His home is at 510 East Edenton Street, Raleigh.

Capt. Crawford reported at 2 p. m. today that Martin had been captured by prison guards, state highway patrolmen and other officers.

The escapee was returned to the prison camp and will have to go into solitary confinement for a short time.

Treasury, Postoffice Appropriations Okayed

House Committee Approves Increase In Tax Enforcing Workers; Ask Postage Rate Hike; House Debate Slated Thursday

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Funds to hire 1,500 new tax enforcing workers were approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The Treasury had asked for 7,000, saying they were needed to avert the "threat of a weakening in taxpayer morale."

But the committee thought otherwise and said that to add 7,000 employees would be to approach the "point of diminishing returns" in tax collections.

Committee records showed that the addition of 1,500 enforcement workers would give the Internal Revenue Bureau about 50,000 employees in all. There was no breakdown as to how many of these 50,000 would spend full time in the enforcement field.

At the same time, the committee called for a hike in postage rates, especially those on publications under second class permits.

The committee's action was a $3,072,817,903 bill making annual direct appropriations to the Treasury and the Postoffice Departments for the year starting next July 1.

In addition, the committee approved so-called permanent and uncontrollable appropriations for the Treasury Department amounting to an estimated $5,260,800,633. These include interest on the public debt and such items as the old-age and survivors' insurance fund and the employment trust fund administered by the Treasury.

The direct and controllable appropriations are $99,848,846 less than the President requested and $419,598,223 more than the same departments received for the present year.

The increase was attributed primarily to salary raises granted postal and other workers by the last Congress.

The Treasury's share of the total direct appropriations recommended for next year is $1,027,008,469, a cut of $665,366,046 from budget requests. The $2,045,209,500 recommended for the postal service is $34,662,800 below what the President requested.

The bill is slated for House debate Thursday and passage Friday. It has not yet been considered by the Senate.

Bank Is Held Up By Lone Bandit

Stokesdale Bank Is Robbed Of Less Than $1,000 By Man

Greensboro, March 1—(AP)—The Stokesdale Commercial bank was held up shortly after 9 a. m. today and robbed of "less than $1,000" by a lone bandit, Capt. D. T. Lambert, Troop C commander of the state highway patrol, said this morning.

Only description of the bandit was that he was a "small white man." There was no description of the car in which he made his escape, but information was that he supposedly drove toward Winston-Salem.

Sgt. Walton Stone of the patrol was assigned to the investigation, and several deputies were dispatched to the scene by Sheriff John Walters.

All highway patrolmen within a 25-mile radius of Stokesdale were alerted, and a cordon was thrown around the area. All automobiles were being stopped and searched on roads leading out of Stokesdale.

MARRIAGE AND TAXES

Some Points To Remember About Filing Your Income Tax Return If You're Married; How To Save Money; Joint Returns; Forms To Use; Exemptions; Examples

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 1—(AP)—If you're married, remember these points about filing your 1948 income tax return:

In every case where the wife (or husband) had no income, married couples will never lose money by filing a joint return. In many cases, they will save money.

And in most cases where both have income they'll save by filing a joint return. Why?

Because of the new law which Congress passed last year to cut taxes and give married couples a break. They can "split" their income as if each were claiming half.

Married couples—whose income was under $5,000 and whose deductible expenses don't amount to more than 10 per cent of their income—have no problem in filing form 1040A or the 1040 short form. Use, instead, the 1040 long form.

There you'll have to itemize your deductions, but you can claim them. Remember, though, that part of your deduction expenses which is made up of contributions can't run more than 15 per cent of your income.

If a wife or husband, for any reason, uses the long-form to itemize deductions, the other partner must use it, too, and itemize.

Couples with $5,000 or more income, using the long-form, are allowed a deduction of 10 per cent up to a limit of $1,000 in such deductions. This is a standard deduction for them. It doesn't require itemizing.

(Example: Adams had $5,000 income. He and his wife, filing jointly, although the wife had no income at all, get a deduction of $500.)

Russian Mission Facing Deadline

Repatriation Group Has Until Midnight To Leave U. S. Zone

Frankfurt, Germany, March 1—(AP)—The U. S. army said today a Russian mission which has been ordered out of the American zone of Germany has until midnight to leave or it will "probably be escorted to the border."

An army spokesman said there apparently had been a misunderstanding about when the eight-man mission handling repatriation of Soviet citizens should leave the U. S. occupation zone.

The spokesman said a letter from American military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay to Russian Commander Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky said the mission has been ordered to leave by midnight.

Plane Crash Hero Given New Decoration For Act

Washington, Feb. 28—(AP)—Sgt. Robert L. Hodgkins, whose heroism helped save the lives of 36 paratroopers, received the Distinguished Flying Cross today.

That decoration, normally awarded only in wartime for services performed under combat conditions was given the sergeant by Army Chief of Staff General Omar Bradley.

The sergeant, whose home now is Fayetteville, N.C., was brought to Washington from his station at Fort Bragg to receive the medal. He is a member of the 505th Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division.

Hodgkins was safety officer aboard a C-52 transport last January 14 when its engines failed while flying at low altitude near Fort Bragg. The citation which accompanied the medal said:

"Upon receiving the signals to abandon ship, Sgt. Hodgkins, instead of thinking of his personal safety, coolly directed and expedited the exit of all 36 paratroopers. Sgt. Hodgkins remained in the plane until the crash. The outstanding courage and heroism displayed throughout this accident reflected great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

As the plane struck ground Hodgkins left through the rear jump door. Then, seeing a start in the wreck, he ran to the nose of the plane, broke into the pilot's compartment and assisted in removing injured and dead crew members of the plane.

The disagreeable cold wind, either dry or misty, which blows upon the Mediterranean from the Alps is called the "mistral."

Alumni Meeting Plans Shape Up

Plans are being completed for the annual meeting of the University of North Carolina alumni and the Pitt County Chapter of the Educational Foundation, President Lee Folger said today.

The meeting will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at the country club. The barbecued chicken supper will be a Dutch affair with plates costing $1.50 each.

Folger said the meeting is open to all friends of the University, and persons wishing to attend the supper may make reservations by advising him the number of plates they desire.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Domingues

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Mae Domingues, 29, who was drowned Thursday night near Charleston, S.C., were conducted at the home of her brother, Arthur L. Moore, of near Snow Hill, Sunday at 3:30 p.m. by Rev. D. A. Windham, Free Will Baptist minister of Greenville.

Surviving are her husband, Paul Domingues, who is in the U.S. Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif.; her father, D. A. Moore of Newport; seven brothers, Leslie Moore of Farmville, Clarence Moore of Florida, Arthur Lee Moore of Snow Hill, Kirby Moore of Winterville, Rudolph Moore of Philadelphia and Carlton Moore of Marlboro and James Harvey Moore of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Claude Harrell of Kingston.

Baptist minister of Greenville. Burial was in the Moore family cemetery. Mrs. Domingues was born and reared near Maury. For the past 10 years she had made her home in Norfolk, Va., and Philadelphia, Pa. Surviving are her husband, Paul H. Domingues Jr., MM 1-c U.S. Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif.; her father, D. A. Moore of Newport; seven brothers, Leslie Moore of Farmville, Clarence Moore of Florida, Arthur Lee Moore of Snow Hill, Kirby Moore of Winterville, Rudolph Moore of Philadelphia and Carlton Moore of Marlboro and James Harvey Moore of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Claude Harrell of Kingston.

Heavy Sentence For House Robber In City Police Court

In police court today, Judge J. W. H. Roberts, sentenced John Worsley, 64-year-old Negro, to 18 months on the roads after he found him guilty of the larceny of a radio from the home of Mrs. Mary McCrary, 107 Summit street, about a week ago. The court informed the defendant that the sentence will be reduced to 12 months if he assists in recovering the radio. Worsley, it was testified, has been doing "yard work" for various families in the neighborhood. A witness testified that she saw Worsley leave the McCrary home on a Saturday afternoon, when no one was at home there, with a package the size of the missing radio.

Tobacco Group Meets Tomorrow

Raleigh, N.C., Feb. 28—(AP)—The annual membership meeting of Tobacco Associates, Inc., will be held here tomorrow.

Principal business before the meeting will be election of directors and officers. J. B. Hutson of Washington, president of the organization, which promotes flue-cured tobacco exports, will make his annual report.

The 1040 . . .

On line 4 he writes his $1,800 in exemptions. Subtracting that from his $8,820 income, he enters the result, $7,020, on line 5.

Because this is a joint return Jones skips to line 9 and—dividing in half the $7,020 on line 5—writes the result, $3,510.

(This is the part of the new law called "splitting" income to give married couples a lower tax.) Now he has to find the "tentative" tax on $3,510. He does that by using the instruction sheet. He writes that tentative tax, which comes to $732.20, on line 10.

The next step is to cut that "tentative tax" to the actual tax. He follows the rules in line 11 (b) and writes the result, $1,074.88, there. Subtracting that from the $732.20 on line 10, the result is $342.34, which he puts on line 12.

That's his half of the tax, as it were. But this is a joint return by him and his wife. So he multiplies $342.34 by two, gets $1,248.68. He writes that on line 13. That's his full tax for 1948.

But during the year his boss withheld from him—say—$1,400 in tax. That was too much, since Jones sees now his tax should be only $1,248.68.

So he has a refund of $151.32 coming to him. He wants the collector to send him the refund. So he checks that on page one of the long-form, under line no. 10. And he fills in the other questions on page one.

Then he and his wife both sign the long-form to show it's a joint return. If Jones alone signs it, the collector will consider it a single return. That would be more expensive for Jones.

One more thing Jones does. He attaches to the long-form the form W-2 withholding receipt given him by his boss for the $1,400 withheld from his pay during the year.

tennis with her most days. But that garden was surrounded by a high wall, so that none could see into the grounds. And when the Maharajah went with her ladies-in-waiting from the palace to the garden, some 25 yards away, they proceeded by a carefully curtained automobile. They reached the car through a canopy which was put up between the palace door and the automobile. That was custom, and nobody seemed to question it.
