Bids Opened For Utilities Project

Combined Low Bids For Early Steps In More Than $2 Million Improvement Program Said Well Within Estimates Of Local Commission

Another step in the more than two million dollar expansion program of Greenville's utilities was taken yesterday afternoon with the opening of bids for building enlargements and alterations and installation of an additional 5,000 KW generator and a new 80,000 pound pressure boiler.

Combined low bids for the project including additional fuel handling equipment totaled $185,670, well within the estimates of the utilities commission. Another meeting of the Commission will be held on Friday, which time the bids will be officially approved and contracts for the work awarded.

The program to modernize and expand the utilities system has been under way for some time and when the next step is completed within the two years "the plant will be in position to adequately furnish all the community's needs in the way of electric power and water facilities with enough standby equipment to take care of any emergencies without interruption of service," members of the commission stated.

The first portion of the program costing $600,000 included the installation of a new 80,000 pound per hour steam boiler and a new water plant. The boiler has now been in use since late last year and the 300,000 gallon capacity water plant, about 90 per cent complete, has already been put into use.

The last bond issue of $1,500,000 included $1,000,000 for electric plant improvements and $450,000 for the extension of sewers, water mains and fire hydrants and street lighting facilities in the newly developed sections of the city and the areas taken into the city by extending the corporate limits. The latter phase of the program is now nearing completion.

According to members of the Utilities Commission approximately $80,000 has been saved as a result of placing orders for the new turbine

House Receives Revived Bill For Auto Inspection

Raleigh, N. C., March 16—(AP)—The House received a new measure to revive motor vehicle inspection today while the Senate was killing a proposed constitutional amendment under which the general assembly could be called into special session by a petition of its members.

Rep. J. V. Whitfield of Pender offered the inspection measure which referred to the house roads committee.

It would call for one inspection of motor vehicles a year, specify the items of equipment to be inspected, and give motorists 30 days in which to have repairs made after an inspection.

The measure also would provide a fee of $3.50 and $300,000 would be appropriated from the highway fund to purchase additional inspection equipment.

By DeWITT MacKEY, ZIE

One of the most logical minds I know is possessed by my colleague, Howard Blakelee, science editor for the AP. He is so logical as to be almost terrifyingly so. He breaks away from his atomic theories and takes a critical view of foreign affairs, applying the same cold reasoning he devotes to his science. Frequently I get the product of his analyses, generally in the form of a note or letter, delivered by messenger although Blakelee's curriers are only a few steps from my desk. The note is as follows:

Sees No Reason Why Coal Tie-Up Won't End Soon

District Leader Of UMW Expects Shutdown To End On Scheduled Date

Pittsburgh, March 16—(AP)—A district leader of the United Mine Workers said today he sees no reason why the coal mine work stoppage won't end as scheduled on March 18.

Some operators have expressed fear the two-week shutdown ordered by John L. Lewis for miners east of the Mississippi would continue past the deadline established by the fiery UMW president.

Commenting on those fears, John P. Busarello, president of district No. 5, UMW, at Pittsburgh, said dryly: "I can only say x x x that this two week period of mourning, called by president Lewis as a memorial to our union's killed and injured in 1948 will conclude March 28."

Lewis, himself, didn't have any comment as the work stoppage went into its third day. He calls it a memorial period but also points out it's the miners' protest against appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of mines.

The Senate's interior committee already has approved the Boyd appointment. Now, it's up to the Senate which is expected to act soon.

Anti-Red Bill Is Set In Maryland

Annapolis, Md., March 16—(AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates last night passed and sent to Governor Lane a stringent law to curb Communism.

As the anti-subversive bill was drawn up by a Baltimore attorney, Frank B. Ober, at Governor Lane's request, Lane's signature on the bill is considered just a formality.

Help Backfired

Detroit, March 16—(AP)—Thomas Jenkins, 36, found out yesterday that it doesn't always pay to help out your neighbor.

He stooped over to give first aid to a stranger who had hurt himself in a fall. Two policemen saw Jenkins and thought he was robbing the fallen man. They searched Jenkins and found some rambling house slips. The would be Good Samaritan was taken to court and ordered to pay a $100 fine or serve 90 days. He had not paid the money up to today.

John G. Fleming, general chairman of the American Red Cross fund campaign today announced the following, who will serve as district chairmen in the campaign, which will be March 21 through 26, inclusive:

Ayden, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shelton, Bell Arthur, K. M. Crawford, Belvoir, J. T. Dupree, Bethel, Tom Andrews, Falkland, Dallas G. Whitford, Fountain, J. L. Peele.

Upward Trend In Highway Deaths

Raleigh, N. C., March 16—(AP)—Highway fatalities this year are running more than 22 per cent higher than 1948.

Expressing concern over the mounting figures, motor vehicle department officials said that 121 persons died the first two months of this year. In January and February of 1948 the total was 99. Last year's figures show 61 deaths for January and 38 for February. January of this year saw 55 fatalities reported and 68 in February.

Close Brush With Death In Fire

William Cox (arrow), 23, driver of a wrecked truck loaded with butane gas, is trapped in his cab and is threatened with gas flames near his face. The only thing between his face and the roaring fire is a dampened asbestos blanket. A little later, firemen rescued him alive. He suffered burns and a badly injured leg. The scene is near Martinez, Calif. (AP Wirephoto).

Quit En Masse

Raleigh, N. C., March 16—(AP)—Governor Scott said today the seven members of the state ports authority resigned in a body today. No explanation was given. It is believed that one of the reasons may be because of a bill before the legislature which would set up a state ports commission. The commission would supersede the ports authority group.

Cominform Gang Again After Tito

Trieste, March 16—(AP)—Devoted followers of the Kremlin again are crying for the scalp of Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Moscow's apparently renewed drive against the "renegade" Yugoslav leader is reported to have internal, as well as external, aspects.

Reports filtering out from behind Tito's private little iron curtain via travelers, foreign embassies and other sources tell of domestic difficulties in Yugoslavia. These reports, none of them confirmed, have popped up in several places.

The conservative newspaper Ultimissimo here said yesterday Tito soon will meet "some Western world personalities in view of the internal situation in Yugoslavia."

The Italian news agency Astra said the internal situation in Tito's domain is "particularly delicate in Macedonia, where Bulgarian and Macedonian Communists faithful to the Cominform continue to push an active propaganda campaign against the Belgrade government."

Ultimissimo also said pro-Cominform propaganda "is spreading successfully" in Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic and intelligence sources in Istanbul said yesterday "something may be about to pop" in Yugoslavia. One source who refused to be identified said he believed the overthrow of the Tito regime is imminent.

Criticism from Moscow-line Communists outside Yugoslavia has been loud since the Yugoslav Reds split with the Kremlin and Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

They accused Tito of straying from the Marxist-Leninist line as expanded by Stalin and pursuing a policy "hateful" to the Soviet Union.

City's Election Measure Held Up By Pitt Senator

Asks Postponement In View Of Telegraphed Objections By Local Voters

The bill before the Legislature that would permit the people of Greenville to vote in May on whether or not they desire to change to the City Manager form of government is temporarily held up in the Senate committee according to word received today from Senator Paul E. Jones.

Jones stated that he had asked temporary postponement of action on the matter pending information as to just what the people of Greenville wish done about it. The senator stated that he had presented the bill "by request" but that he had received a number of telegrams from local citizens urging that the measure be killed in committee. He pointed out that it was strictly a Greenville measure and that his desire in the matter is to carry out the wishes of the Greenville people.

Await Reaction To Wallgren Vote

Washington, March 16—(AP)—President Truman faces the alternative of withdrawing the nomination of Mon C. Wallgren or picking a Senate fight that may be hard to win.

Administration Heutenants said Mr. Truman will delay a decision until his return from a Key West, Fla., vacation. The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday postponed Wallgren's appointment to head the National Security Resources Board.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) called the committee together today to hear testimony on the President's appointment of Lewis A. Wallgren to replace James V. Forrestal as secretary of defense.

Committee—and eventually Senate—approval of Johnson seemed sure. It was another story in the case of Wallgren, a former senatorial colleague and close friend of the President.

Six Republicans and Senator Byrd (D-W.Va.) voted to put Wallgren's nomination on ice, through adoption of a motion to table.

Cool Reception

Washington, March 16—(AP)—The House passed a plan for "local option" on rent control got a cool reception today from senators who are directing Senate work on a new rent law.

This "home rule" plan would allow any state, county or town to set up its own controls or drop them entirely. Over administration objections, the House added it yesterday to its bill to continue rent controls for 15 months after March 31. Then the House passed the bill.

Portugal Predicted Next To Join In Atlantic Pact

Washington, March 16—(AP)—Diplomatic authorities predicted today that Portugal will join the proposed Atlantic Security pact despite Portuguese objections to Spain's "exclusion" and other matters.

A Portuguese embassy statement last night made clear that the Lisbon government has not yet reached a final decision and that questions about the treaty are still being asked of the American government.

Portugal's chief objection appeared to be its expressed determination not to make any treaty commitment which would compel it to grant peacetime bases to a foreign power in the Azores islands.

N.C. Legion Commander Talks At Local Banquet

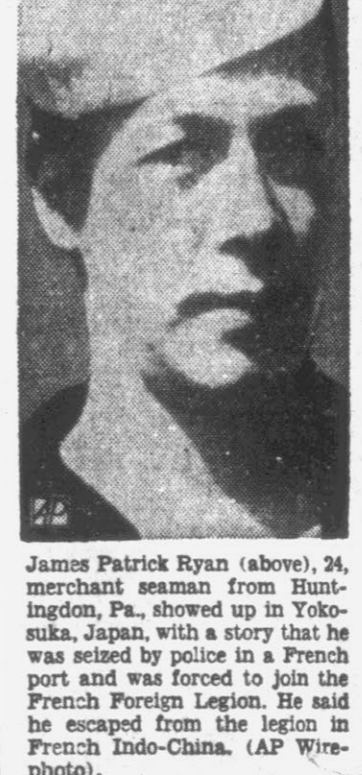

The North Carolina Department of the American Legion at the Miami National Convention voted against the present pension plan in Congress because North Carolina legionnaires believe that the plan will break the government financially, that it will give money to those who do not need it and take away money from the widows and disabled veterans who do need it.

Weldon, Commander T. K. Fountain of the Greenville Post introduced Mayor J. H. Boyd who extended a hearty welcome to the visiting legionnaires.

Past State Commander June H. Rose introduced State Commander Joe Grier, who delivered one of the most inspiring speeches ever heard by local legionnaires. Commander Grier stated that the American Legion was founded by the men who had fought for their country in order that they could carry on the work in peace time that they had fought for. That with such high ideals as had inspired the organization of the Legion in its beginning the American Legion has striving for its aims and ideals.

Peach Crop Said Heavily Damaged

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

Last night's frost was believed today to have heavily damaged peach crops in the Carolinas.

Most damage appeared to have been in the Spartanburg area where several growers said their crops were ruined.

The Sandhills area of Richmond, Montgomery and Moore counties, in North Carolina, was hit by freezing temperatures. Ice clustered around tiny, open buds and choked them to death.

One grower said, "I'm satisfied there was total destruction of 75 per cent of all open buds, in my area. He was Lindsay Dewitt, grower in Richmond County near the important peach center of Elerbe.

Smudge pots and pine-knot fires helped but little.

Richmond County Farm Agent N. L. Hendricks reported winds kept down frost but the cold did considerable damage.

In order to estimate damage to the Hylle Belles and Elbertas, principal peaches grown in the Carolinas, growers must cut a quantity of buds and let them thaw.

One grower told Troy H. Cribb, manager of the South Carolina Peach Growers' Association, that losses were evident in "everything except a few closed buds." Nearly all trees in that area are in bloom

Let Scientist Stay In Country; Knows Too Much

Washington, March 16—(AP)—Congress has passed a bill to let a Chinese woman scientist stay in this country after being told she knows too much to go back to her communist-overrun land.

The measure, which is now up to the White House, would grant permanent residence to Dr. Chung Kwal Lul, who first came to the United States in 1936, and has been here since under extensions of her original student's visa.

A graduate of Oregon University, she has been employed as a scientist by the Westinghouse Electric Corp., where the House Judiciary Committee said, "she is doing confidential and secret work for the Army and Navy."

Cities Are What Men Make Them

Says J. E. Gheen

Business Executive Addresses C-of-C, Urging Greater Civic Activity

By CHESTER WALSH

"Cities and towns are what the men and women of the community make them," James E. Gheen, nationally known business executive and humorist of New York, proclaimed at last night's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at East Carolina Teachers College, in one of the most entertaining and inspiring addresses delivered here in many years.

He said that nothing great is ever achieved without enthusiasm, and stressed the point that the Chamber of Commerce should accept the responsibility for seeing to it that civic needs are accomplished.

Jimmy Gheen, "as he is affectionately known to groups in 43 of the 48 states," was very personal in his heart-to-heart talk with the nearly 200 representative men and women of Greenville at the meeting.

His humorous flow of anecdotes concerning the "American way of living" and "just how you folks down here in Greenville live" were inspiring and appreciated.

He pointed out that a city without an effectively functioning Chamber of Commerce might get things done, "but not so soon." In support of this, the distinguished speaker reminded that the first Chamber of Commerce in this country was organized on Manhattan Island in New York before the American Revolution, and that the second was in Charleston, S.C. Wistfully, he declared that these two cities have grown and prospered.

"Greenville, with its great agricultural background, its top-notch market and fine business institutions headed by Dr. John B. McQuest, East Carolina Teachers College, and the city's increasing population, appears to be an ideal city, but it must grow, expand and prosper for the benefit of its citizens," he said.

"Ideal cities must have ideal citizens who are willing to step forward and be willing to accept the responsibilities of being good citizens, and work, and pay, and pray, in order that the community may be comfortable, convenient, and a better place in which to live and work and educate the children," the speaker declared.

"Your Chamber of Commerce may be defined as the forces of the community so organized as to have the willingness to investigate community problems, the vigor to enunciate, and the strength to stimulate action to promote the health, beauty and intelligence and business of the community. But, to succeed in this community enterprise, governed by your business leaders, your

Japan's Textile Exports Mount

Tokyo, March 16—(AP)—Japan's textile exports set a postwar record of $57,000,000 in January, allied headquarters reported today. Last year's total was $37,000,000.

Cotton exports for January amounted to $37,000,000 but were far below the postwar peak of $42,000,000 of last May. January rayon exports set a postwar high of $8,452,000.

Heavy purchases by Indian buyers and a large sale of cotton yarn to Burma were described as major factors in the January increase.

Demo Party Setback

President Truman And His Victorious Party Beginning To Look Like Lost Leaders; Three Major Defeats For Administration; Caught In A Meat Chopper

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 16—(AP)—President Truman and his Democratic party are beginning to look like lost leaders.

This happened in Congress in the past few days while Mr. Truman was vacationing in Florida.

Coalition Poises Menacing Axe Over Much Of President's Legislative Program

Both House And Senate Balking At Plans

Washington, March 16—(AP)—A Republican-Dixie Democrat coalition poised a menacing axe today over much of President Truman's legislative program.

Out of 16 days of the most intense kind of political jockeying emerged a senate working majority that—if it sticks together—may rip apart the President's proposals, junking some and vitally revising others.

And what was only a threat in slow-moving senate was a half-accomplished fact in the house.

There the administration salvaged its battered rent control bill only after a GOP-Southern Democratic coalition had forced into it a "one rule" provision that would let local communities throw out ceilings when they choose.

With a rein on procedure that it can't match in the senate, (a filibuster is not allowed in the house) administration got a 15-month extension.

But that may dwindle under the hammer blows of a strange bedfellow combination of senate Republicans who say they are for the "civil rights" program and Dixie lawmakers who don't.

From two 50-vote majorities last night on a compromise of the long battle over an attempt to change the senate's rules so that southerners can't filibuster effectively any more.

They came up with 32 pledged votes for a compromise administration leaders didn't like.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said the proposal would loosen the senate's rules on talk and "perpetuate filibusters." He added that it "closes the door on civil rights legislation."

He didn't say so, but the coalition also may close the door against any major changes in the Taft-Hartley act—41 GOP members and Dixie Democrats stick together.

The GOP-Southern Democrats were obviously happy about the compromise that ended their 15-day filibuster.

They had a chance to strike back at the administration which is threatening them—and will continue to threaten them—with efforts to enact anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-job discrimination bills.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) sounded a Dixie keynote when he said that the southerners now "don't think there is any obligation left to go along with the administration on its whole program—human nature being what it is."

He added that what happened in the house on rent control is an indication of what may take place in the senate when the southerners find the Republican viewpoint similar to their own.

Southerners claim they and the Republicans aren't the only ones playing politics in the senate controversy.

They contend that Lucas and his aides tentatively accepted last Sunday the current GOP-Dixie compromise.

Approve Changes For Commission

Raleigh, March 16—(AP)—The House Roads Committee today reported favorably a measure to reorganize representation on the State Highway Commission.

The measure, as reported by the committee, would provide for appointment by the governor of 14 members of the Highway Commission for four-year terms as at present.

In addition, the governor would appoint two associate highway commissioners in each division who would serve at the will of the governor.

A Lenten Prayer

The Good Shepherd ... Who went about doing good ... Acts 10:38. Read Mark 6:1-12.

The most striking quality in Jesus is his compassion for people. First to last, he thought of his mission as a service to the desperate needs of men. His whole life was a ministry of healing the sick, feeding the poor, leading blind captives.

Though mainly concerned with the spiritual welfare of those he met, he was also sensitive to their physical needs. The common people heard him gladly because he met them on the level of their own struggles, and helped them.

His ministry was to society as well as to persons. His compassion extended to all Jerusalem, and oft would he have gathered her children under his wings; to all Palestine, land of doom and of promise; and to the whole world of his time and ours.

The healing power of his selfless service is the greatest force on earth today working toward freedom from injustice and discrimination. Christ, by his ministry of good works, is the permanent revolutionist!

Let Us Pray: Our Father, we pray that our love may be more and more accompanied by clear knowledge and keen perception, that we may be filled with the fruits of righteousness which come through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of thyself. Amen.

Scholarships Considered To Prospective Teachers

By GIL BILLINGS
 Raleigh, March 16—Legislation to provide scholarships for prospective teachers, and for below-standard teachers, in public schools, will be considered in the senate this week.

Annual scholarships of four hundred dollars would be awarded to high school graduates with less than a year of college. Renewals would be granted for maximum of three years.

Department of Public Instruction would be authorized to make awards competitively on the basis of intelligence, scholarship, teaching aptitude, personality, health and economic need.

Every applicant would be required to sign a statement agreeing to accept employment as an elementary teacher in state public schools for one year, or to repay scholarship money within four years. Each renewal would require an additional year of teaching.

Recipients of the award would be free to attend a North Carolina senior college of their own choice.

Seek Extradite Suspect In Old Murder Charge

Raleigh, March 16—(AP)—Governor Scott signed extradition papers yesterday for a man in New York wanted on a 30-year-old murder charge.

The governor asked for the return of Clyde Jacobs, wanted in Mecklenburg County since Dec. 24, 1918. Jacobs was identified by a son in Buffalo, N.Y. last week.

The son told police he had been trailing his father ever since he reached manhood. The son, who said he was present as a small child when his father slashed his mother's throat, declared he had sworn to bring his father to justice.

The meeting of the second district of North Carolina division of American Cancer Society which was held at the Kinston hotel in Kinston last Thursday was well attended by representatives of the Pitt county unit. Those present from Pitt county were D. H. Conley, William W. Speight, Mrs. Dan Vornholt, Mrs. B. McK. Johnson and Mrs. Obed Casilio. They were enthusiastic in praise of the diagnostic cancer clinic which they visited in the afternoon, and expressed the opinion that Pitt county people are indeed fortunate in having this service available to them.

Humber Heard At Lions' Meeting

Robert Lee Humber, Greenville citizen and world traveler, was the guest speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the local Lion's Club. In a very interesting manner, Mr. Humber very vividly brought forth just how much we, in the United States, are indebted to the other countries of the western world for our cultural, political and social heritage. As pointed out by Mr. Humber, each person today has "all the ages in him." "Greece," said the speaker, "gave us beautiful architecture, literature and philosophy; from Rome came the fundamental principles of law; from Italy, art; Germany, music; from England came our political institutions and from France the 'art of living.'" "To each of these countries," said Mr. Humber, "each of us is greatly indebted."

As a challenge to those present, Mr. Humber posed the question "What will America leave that will have an abiding and lasting value America is the greatest bastion of western culture, and America could leave nothing finer than the preservation of this cultural background which we have inherited."

Durwood Harris, Al Whit and "Bob" Pierce, the newest members of the local club, were officially brought into the Lion's Den.

Guests of the club were George Lantares, Milton Adams and Junior Lion Douglas Allen.

To Invite Scott For Bragg Visit

Ft. Bragg, March 16—(AP)—Two generals left Ft. Bragg this morning to invite Gov. Kerr Scott here for a luncheon and review.

Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commanding general of Ft. Bragg, and Maj. Gen. Clovis E. Byers, commanding officer of the 82nd Airborne division, were first to meet Col. Redding F. Perry, commanding officer of the North Carolina military district, in Raleigh. The three were then to call upon the governor and invite him and his staff to Ft. Bragg. The date would be left to the convenience of the governor.

Governor Admits Former Kluxer

Tallahassee, Fla., March 16—(AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren voluntarily stated yesterday he once was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The governor, who has announced he will ask the 1949 legislature to outlaw the hooded organization in the state, said he quit the Klan in disgust after attending two or three meetings.

He branded klansmen as "hooded hoodlums, covered towards and sheet jerks," after they paraded past the state capitol building here in January.

More Chickens One-Time Blind Senator Passes

Washington, March 16—(AP)—There ought to be a lot of chickens to eat this spring and summer.

The Agriculture Department reported today that commercial hatchery production of baby chicks in February was the largest on record. The output for the January-February period is 59 per cent above a year ago, furthermore, eggs in incubators March 1 were 27 per cent larger than a year ago, and bookings for delivery in April were 33 per cent larger than a year ago.

One-Time Blind Senator Passes

Washington, March 16—(AP)—Thomas Pryor Gore, 78, three-term senator and successful lawyer though he had been blind since childhood, died at his home here today.

An Oklahoma Democrat, Gore was the first blind man ever to serve in the United States Senate. He was one of the first two Senators sent to Washington from Oklahoma after the state entered the union in 1907.

He served two terms, ending in 1921, and came back for a third ending Jan. 1, 1937.

The blind senator and his associates charged up his two election defeats to his refusal to compromise convictions.

Before he went out of office in 1921 he had been bitterly opposed to entry into the league of nations and had resisted administration pressure for a change of stand. Earlier he had been one of the few against President Wilson's recommendation for a declaration of war in 1917.

Urges 'Revolt' In Speech Contest

Manila, March 16—(AP)—Felipe Balangit won an oratorical contest at Mindanao College.

Davao police promptly arrested him on a sedition charge.

The student body threatened demonstrations, protesting the police action as curbing freedom of speech. Davao's mayor bowed, dropped the sedition charge.

Title of Balangit's speech: "Wanted, A Peaceful Revolution."

Strength FOR THE DAY

THORNS AND ACHIEVEMENT
Practically all wild birds cast their young ones out of the nest at a certain time. If they did not do this, the fledglings would luxuriate in the soft nest and perhaps never learn to face the storm and seek their own food.

The eagle has the best scheme of all. Mr. and Mrs. Eagle make their nests out of thorns, which they cover with soft down. When the young ones are hatched, the parents have had enough feeding and coddling, they do not cast them out of the nest as other birds do; they simply scratch out the down and the thorns do the rest. It is amazing how we have to be goaded into doing most of the things which in later life we recognize to have been most advantageous for us. It takes the sharp spur of necessity to make us diligent, prompt, ambitious. It may very well be that the crown of thorns which our Lord wore had a symbolic meaning. It may have been designed to set forth the fact that most achievement comes as the result of our being pricked and goaded by thorns of necessity. And so when our Lord stood forth, the perfection of humanity, the perfection of manhood upon His brow to remind mankind forever that in the sinful and imperfect old world in which we live, thorns and achievement bear to each other the relationship of cause and effect.

Around Capitol Square

INNOVATION—Governor Scott's press conference Tuesday had two innovations, but produced no news of value on the main topic—Who will be the new senator, and when will the appointment be made? First of the innovations was distribution of a list of men and women who, up to ten o'clock Tuesday, had one or more endorsements on file for the appointment. The other was the passing through the executive office during the conference of several hundred school children, who had been waiting for some minutes to see the governor's office.

NOMINEES—The typed list of "nominees" consisted of 48 names, including two women and at least two Republican leaders, and ranged geographically from the seacoast to beyond the Blue Ridge mountains. The Republicans were Charles A. Johnson of Lincolnton and John A. Wilkinson of Washington, both of whom have been candidates of their party for the senate in past elections. The two women were Mrs. J. M. Broughton and Miss Susie Sharpe.

INCOMPLETE—Governor Scott declined to fix any date for making the appointment, said the list was not closed, and indicated probability that the person to be named was not even on the list. That didn't help the newsmen much, but emphasized what the governor said last week. All the rumors about inside "dope" are just rumors and constitute wishful thinking. There is no inside. Arrangement of the 48 names alphabetically dispelled the idea that order might indicate preference.

GOSSIP—Meantime the gossipers have sent up several trial balloons, most of which have busted. More talk has been heard the past day or two about Mayne Albright and L. Y. Ballentine, less about the earlier "big four" of Capus Waynick, L. P. McEndon, William Umstead and Fred Royster. Opinion now is rather general that no appointment will be made within the next ten days, and probably not until after adjournment of the general assembly.

PROGRAM—Whether delay in making the appointment is helping the Scott program in the legislature is a mooted question. Opinion prevails that the governor thinks it is helping. Opinion also is that so long as he thinks that way he will not act on a new senator. The governor manifested pleasure at passage through the house Monday night of the road bond bill and the extra gasoline tax unencumbered by amendments. He said he hoped "the fever would be contagious." Evident meaning was he hoped the bills would get through the senate in substantially the same form.

CONTROLLED—Some representatives had rather obvious difficulty in controlling their tempers during the house debate on the amendment to make the gasoline tax contingent on the bonds being voted. Despite lack of connection between a gasoline tax for roads and a state referendum on liquor they got all mixed up in the house debate. The members at times got caustic, but there was also a good bit of humor. FUNNY—There was the time when John Umstead glibly used the word "pulchritude" as applicable to the lady representative from Mecklenburg, but professed not to know what Bob Lassiter meant by "interpolation." Then Marvin Leatherman, appealing for support of the governor, suggested one reason for following him was because 30,000 Republicans voted for him last year. Some Democrats thought that a pretty good reason for not going along with him. The Republicans in the house made good on the Leatherman idea. Only one of the eleven voted against the governor and for the amendment tying the tax levy to the bond issue.

SHORTEST—One of the shortest speeches of the session and regarded by many as best of the two-hour debate Monday night was made by Harry Greene of Hoke. He rose to ask: "Is this a filibuster?" That stopped the argument and the vote was taken—resulting almost exactly as pre-session forecasts had it—71 to 39 for the governor's plan for keeping the bonds and extra tax separate.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Russian science marches steadily on. There has been nothing like this since Tom Swift, whose real name by the way, was Swiftski. Tom was actually born on a Siberian steppe, stolen from his peasant parents by Gypsies and brought here as a boy and sold by the Gypsies to the General Electric Corporation.

Soviet Russia, it turns out, is even more of an inventor's heaven than a worker's paradise. Every few weeks there discovers a forgotten Russian scientist who really is responsible for some basic invention claimed by the capitalist western world. The latest is comrade Pavel Schilling, who Tass says put together a telephone 44 years before Alexander Graham Bell built his first Ameche. Comrade Schilling, who must have hid his light under a Czarist bushel, is also credited with making the first submarine cable and inventing the original system for stringing telegraph wires on poles.

One thing is sure: somebody is stringing somebody.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington—This is Mrs. Jan Boissevain of Holland—a woman who can laugh, a woman completely free because she has lost all fear, a woman convinced world unity is solution to the life ahead.

"If I've ever learned a lesson, it's that we're all interdependent," Mrs. Boissevain told me, "this was brought home to me in the most terrible circumstances."

This is her story: When war came to Holland she worked with her husband and five children as leaders in underground activities. Her husband was caught and died in imprisonment in Buchenwald in 1941. Their two eldest sons were shot. A third son was sent to Dachau. She was sent to Ravensbruck, the notorious concentration camp for women near Berlin.

In 1945, half-starved and ill, she was liberated through the efforts of the Swedish Red Cross, nursed back to health in Sweden, later returned to Holland, where she found her two daughters and the third son who had contracted tuberculosis.

Mrs. Boissevain's current story, begun back in a cell in Ravensbruck which she occupied with six other women. She got a scarf from friends at home who escaped capture. It was made from patches sewn together as "a symbol of unity."

"The little scarf came into the cell like a message of hope," she told me. The scraps of color sewn thus gave her a idea... which is fast growing into an international movement... the organization called "The National Skirt."

Mrs. Boissevain, a fascinating woman, on the plump side with soft white hair, rosy cheeks and smiling hazel eyes, is now in this country on a lecture tour, telling American women they "ought to make a skirt movement of their own." The Netherlands group now has 4,000 members—women who made skirts, registered them and had them officially stamped.

Mrs. Boissevain has her skirt with her. The first patch in it is a piece of the flag of the Netherlands' royal House of Orange. There are scraps from dresses made for daughters and grandchildren; scraps commemorating Holland's liberation, a daughter's graduation from medical college, her son's marriage—plain scraps for the plain parts, figured scraps for the important parts—"remnants of good memories and bad"—giving the women "a feeling of unity combined of their force and strength."

The women of Holland wear the colorful skirts on special days. During the festivities marking the investiture of Queen Juliana thousands of women paraded before her in the skirts. "They are already a part of the country's tradition," Mrs. Boissevain said.

'Foundation Plan' For Schools Killed By Committee Members

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, March 16—(AP)—The much discussed "foundation plan" for public school operation is apparently a dead duck for this session of the legislature. Basic idea of the plan was state-local cooperation in all school costs, including buildings, on 85-15 percent ratio—the state putting up 85 percent and local units 15 percent of total cost.

The senate education committee gave an unfavorable report on the bill Tuesday. Although a minority report was attached, belief is that the plan will not be adopted by the current legislature.

To mix a couple of Shakespeare's plays, the plan fell about the Ides of March and suffered Caesar's fate; but like Banquo's ghost it will haunt future session of the general assembly.

Defeat of the "Foundation Plan" means that the state will go along for the next two years, at least, under essentially the same machinery set as has prevailed since 1933.

Speaking in behalf of continuing present policy, rather than launching on a vitally different formula which few people seem to understand, Senator Grady Rankin told the committee that the existing system had served to keep the schools open during the depression years, to assure teachers of their full salary, however meagre, in cash and on time every month—a record no other state in the union can match. He added that it had also made possible increasing public school appropriations from 16 million dollars in 1933 to 83 millions this year. (The 83 millions has been recommended by the budget commission, and there is good chance it will be increased to 93 by the present assembly.)

Senators Rankin, Richardson, Eagles, Rowe and others pointed out to the committee that under the present plan the state collects money from individuals and corporations wherever they are and distributes it for benefit of school children wherever they may be.

It was further noted that under the system which has prevailed for the past 16 years local contributions for better schools are on voluntary basis, whereas the proposed foundation plan would make it compulsory upon counties and city units to match state funds in order to participate at all.

This line of reasoning apparently appealed to all the committee members except three. Senators C. H. Dearman of Iredell, Wade Phillips of Davidson and Harcy Talton of Wayne voted against the unfavorable report and signed a minority report to bring the measure to the floor of the senate. Majority of the senate a short time later voted against them. That means the foundation plan is dead—for now. It was made clear to the committee and later to the senate that defeat of this bill does not entirely abrogate work of the education commission or depreciate its value as a guide to the state board of education in improving public school administration.

Grieving Parents Will Never Know

Memphis, Tenn., March 16—(AP)—Two flag-draped caskets yesterday provided the meeting place in National Cemetery here for grieving parents from Texas and North Carolina.

In one casket was the body of Lt. Herman C. Austin, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Austin of Hickory, N.C. The other held the body of Staff Sgt. James H. Griffin, son of Frank R. Giffin of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The men were killed in the crash of an Army bomber at Bari, Italy, on Nov. 5, 1944. Army authorities were unable to distinguish between the bodies, and the government decided on a burial in a common grave equidistant from Wichita Falls and Hickory.

The parents met to bury their war dead yesterday. Neither Mr. and Mrs. Austin nor Giffin knew which body lay in which casket.

Cases Tried In Pitt County Court Tuesday

Judge Dink James disposed of the following cases in Pitt County Recorder's Court Tuesday:

Alton Tyson, convicted of abandonment and non-support, was given six months on the roads. Sentence was suspended and the defendant was placed on probation for two years and ordered to support his wife and child by paying $15 a week.

Lloyd Ormond, colored, assault with a deadly weapon, was given six months on the roads, suspended on payment of court costs and hospital and medical expenses of Sarah Smith and to pay $5 to Sarah Smith.

William Henry Bone, colored, was not guilty of trespass, but guilty of attempting to steal, and he was given four months on the roads. The case against Clinton A. Harris, charging worthless check, was continued.

Lester Blount, colored, non-support, six months on the roads, suspended on payment of $17 a week for support of his eight children.

Southpaw Check Book Is Offered

Framingham, Mass., March 16—(AP)—The Framingham National bank is making it easier for their left-handed depositors to spend money.

An official of the bank said left-handed check books are now available to its southpaw customers. The book opens just the reverse of the standard types.

Slick Trickster Is Back In Jail

Greenville, S. C., March 16—(AP)—Thomas Earl Swilling, 22, Greenville man who tricked his way out of the Charleston county jail Monday, was arrested in a lunchroom here last night and today was held in city jail.

He had been sought throughout the southeast after he walked out of the Charleston jail on a ruse, Sheriff Chester N. Perry said.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY REPAIRED

By virtue of power vested in us by Section II of Chapter 44, General Statutes, and for the purpose of satisfying mechanic's lien for labor and material furnished Bill Wilson on a certain 1937 four-door Master Chevrolet sedan in the amount of $365.40, which work was completed on November 3, 1948, we shall offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at our place of business on the Greenville-Bethel Highway in the City of Greenville at twelve o'clock noon, Thursday, March 24, 1949, the following described personal property, to-wit: One 1937 four-door Master Chevrolet sedan.

Soviet Command Shifts Continue

Moscow, March 15—(AP)—New ramifications in the shakeup of Soviet Russia's high command were revealed and approved at closing sessions last night of the Supreme Soviet, national parliamentary body.

The new shifts extended into the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, which serves as the interim national executive body when the Supreme Soviet is not in session. Nikifor N. Talevich and Georgi Sturua were relieved as vice presidents of the Presidium, and replaced by Vasily Kozlov and Vasily Gogia.

Kozlov was promoted from chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the White Russian Republic, and Gogia from chairman of the Presidium of the Georgian Republic.

The 1949 budget, calling for military expenditures of 79,000,000,000 rubles ($15,000,000,000) was also approved by the Supreme Soviet. The figure is nearly 20 per cent higher than for 1948.

The budget provides for expenditures of 415,350,000,000 rubles for all purposes, compared with revenues of 455,208,000,000 rubles. The 1948 all-purpose expenditure figure was 368,800,000,000 rubles with revenues announced at 408,400,000,000 rubles.

Reasons behind the series of top-level shifts remained the government's own secret. The Supreme Soviet confirmed the changes, but adjourned without a public explanation of their significance.

The estimated annual economic loss, resulting from arthritis diseases in the U. S. is almost twice as great as the total 1947 budget for New York state.

SMELL FOR CLUES

Campus Politics Hitting Stride

Campus politics advanced to first place in the interests of students at East Carolina Teachers College this week as campaigns for major student offices for 1949-1950 got under way.

Candidates and election managers are hard at work among student voters, and bulletin boards are filled with posters. The candidates will take to the stump Thursday, when a general assembly of students will give office holders a chance to cite their qualifications and make bids for support.

The "Teo Echo," student newspaper, will distribute a special election issue Thursday afternoon, and students will cast their votes on Friday. No pollsters are predicting the outcome; every student is his own Gallup.

Candidates for the presidency of the Student Government Association are Frank Toothman, Ayden; Lawrence Posey, Greenville; and G. Rex Autry Jr., Dunn, all prominent in student affairs at East Carolina.

Elsie Carver, Washington, running for the office of first vice president of the SGA, is opposed by Charles Woods, Milwaukee, N.C., and Henry Selby, Greenville. Jessie Braxton, Greenville, and Hugh Fox, Wilmington, are unopposed for the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively. Other contests which are attracting attention are those for posts as second vice president, historian, and first and second assistant treasurers.

Students will choose between Florence Boerckel, Baltimore, and Margaret Mason, Swansboro, candidates for the chairmanship of the SGA, and Ernest L. Kilpatrick, Kinston, and John Nelson, Morehead City, for the Men's Judiciary. Seven other offices in the two judiciaries will be filled in Friday's voting.

Twenty-nine women students seeking positions as college marshals will have their names on the ballots. Sixteen will be chosen.

ville was awarded a $25.00 war bond as the leading post in the first district. Other prizes were awarded to individual members of various posts for outstanding service.

The six district commanders present at the banquet were: Commander Frank M. Harris, Elizabeth City, District One; Commander Perry Hughes, Colerain, District Two; Commander James M. Hayes, Plymouth, District Three; Commander T. K. Fountain, Falkland, District Four; Commander H. H. Steed, Warrenton, District Five; and Commander Z. V. Morgan, Wilson, District Six.

Other visitors included Commander Louis F. Parker of Elizabethtown representing the Second District and Commander John A. Nixon of Sanford from the Sixteenth District. Legionnaires who are go-getters also attended from Elizabeth City, Hertford, Edmon, Ahoskie, Colerain, Robersonville, Williamston, Plymouth, Columbia, Belhaven, Washington, Swan Quarter, Enfield, Weldon, Warrenton, Nashville, Spring Hope, Rocky Mount, Elm City, Wilson and Saratoga.

The officers of the First Division of the American Legion held a conference at the club house in Greenville at 2:30 p.m. prior to the banquet. Commander Neal of Weldon presided over the business session.

Sues For Damages

New York, March 16—(P)—Tallulah Bankhead, irked by the use of the name "Tallulah" in a radio jingle advertising soap, is suing for $1,000,000 damages.

The fiery actress is asking an injunction against Procter & Gamble Company, makers of the soap; the National Broadcasting Company; Columbia Broadcasting System and an advertising Agency.

Miss Bankhead, currently appearing on Broadway in "Private Lives," commented last night:

"I've yet to indorse a floor wax, a flea powder or a wart remover, a cigarette or a hookah-pipe. I'll jingle both Mr. Procter and Mr. Gamble, their aides, their allies and their echoes."

Walter Barry, attorney who said he will represent the defendants, said there was "no intention of the agency or sponsor to capitalize on any living person's name."

Seawell said Miss Bankhead's first name is of Indian origin and was taken from the name of a waterfall in Northeast Georgia, Tallulah Falls.

'Cities Are ...

Chamber of Commerce must have an active, working membership, adequate financial income, for a definite program of work, efficient functioning committees and an able executive secretary or manager.

At this point the speaker, "took time out" to pay tribute to Greenville's Chamber of Commerce manager, Willard T. Kyzer.

Jimmy Gheen made a distinct hit with his representative audience when he declared, "You can't get rich in Greenville trading with each other, and you must trade with outsiders to bring money into your community." In support of this he told the story of the $100 counterfeit bill that paid seven cents before its intrinsic value was established.

The speaker drew applause when he said that only 15 people in the world "understand money—no women among them."

He caused a "lot of reminiscing" when he pointed to the future for progress and reminded that boys and girls of 40 years ago didn't do the things boys and girls do now, "because they didn't think of them." To accomplish things, "You've got to think," he declared.

The speaker dramatically closed his inspiring address by quoting the poem, "Cities Are What Men Make Them," and challenged the Greenville Chamber of Commerce "to be one of the groups to make greater the city in which you have cast your lot."

Charles Whedbee of WGTC directed the radio broadcast.

W. S. Elks, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. Past President Charles B. Bissette presented the guest speaker Willard T. Kyzer introduced out-of-town and special guests. Rev. Leon Russell, Methodist minister, said the invocation.

Miss Gladys Reichard, accomplished vocalist, sang two appreciated songs, with Miss Virginia Drake as accompanist.

Potato Surplus Is Again Looming

Washington, March 16—(P)—One way you can help the government save money is by eating potatoes.

An unexpected surplus in the early crop in Florida has forced the agriculture department to buy more than 24,000 one hundred pound bags to steady prices. Additional purchase may have to be made in other southern states.

Potato growers are protected by the farm price support law. Last year they were guaranteed a minimum of $2.63 per 100 pounds. The 1949 guarantee averages $1.30.

N.C. Legion ...

The 137 legionnaires present applauded Commander Grier, when he stated that the American Legion had never stood for, or advocated any measure that would be a personal gain for the veterans; that it had always stood for the national government's adequately taking care of veterans who were disabled through service to their country, and the widows and dependents of such veterans; that the American Legion had always stood for and advocated ample national security, a national security based upon a strong civilian reserve military force and not one based on a large regular army, Navy, Air Force, etc.; that it believed the best way to insure a strong civilian reserve military force in this country was through universal military training.

Commander Grier also spoke on the controversial subject of pensions to veterans. A bill proposing such legislation is now before the national Congress. Commander Grier asked all legionnaires to give this subject deep thought so that the American Legion can speak for all veterans when it goes to Washington to request Congress to either pass or reject legislation which affects the veterans of World Wars I and II.

Legionnaire Herman F. McLawhorn was presented with a prize as the outstanding go-getter in the entire state, having written up more new members than any other legionnaire.

How One Man Saved A Lifelong Friendship and Saved Himself A Lot Of Work and Worry

"Business and taxes were a lot simpler," this man told us, "when John named me executor under his Will. Estate settlement has become a pretty complex procedure, as you know since that's your business."

"I wanted to be relieved of this responsibility, first, because I came to realize I wasn't qualified; and second, I simply can't afford to neglect my own affairs and my family's interests in order to look after somebody else's. Yet John is a lifelong friend, and I was afraid if I even suggested being relieved, he'd be terribly hurt."

"I was in an embarrassing spot — until I read one of your ads describing how you could be named as CO-EXECUTOR with me, how you'd then take care of all details; bookkeeping, management, reports, taxes, investments, etc., etc. — leaving me free for my own affairs, yet still keeping a guiding hand on the welfare of John's family."

"John thought it was a fine idea. Fact is, he said, he'd considered it too, but was afraid he'd hurt my feelings — which gave us a good laugh. So we're coming over, with his attorney, to discuss details next Tuesday, if you can arrange it..."

We could — and did. And we can do the same for you — whether you're the one who is named executor or who has named a friend or relative under your own Will.

Your attorney should prepare your Will and advise you on all the legal aspects of your Estate Plan.

Distraught Mother Pleads For Son; Denies Locking In Room

Greenville, March 16—(AP)—A distraught mother pleaded tearfully today for the "love child" the state says she kept captive a dozen years in a dungeon-like room.

"God is my judge, I love my son," cried Mrs. Ann F. Sullivan, "don't want to give him up."

Police said 14-year-old bright-olice Gerald Sullivan was held in a room furnished only with a cot until he escaped into the street an unguarded moment Sunday night.

Mrs. Sullivan, suffering from what physicians described as a terrible emotional upset, denied in an interview that she kept the child locked in the room.

She explained that she kept him in the house to "hide my shame" and to "protect the good name" of her older legitimate sons and a younger daughter.

Mrs. Sullivan told her story as understood by the immaculately dressed bed to which she has been confined since her secret became public.

Weeping bitterly and burying her head in pillows, she said:

"I didn't mean to do any harm to the little boy. I wasn't unkind to him. I felt that it was our cross, and Gerald's, and we had to bear it together."

"I loved him inside, but how could I show it? It was such a torture, such a shame, such a disgrace. No one will ever know what I suffered and I will always go on suffering. It is the cross I must bear."

Answering police reports that the boy couldn't distinguish the things common to every child—even an orange—because he had never seen them before, Mrs. Sullivan said:

"Every day he had fruit and the rest of food we could afford. He liked to eat and I let him lack for nothing."

"It was only that he couldn't go

Minimum School Foundation Plan Handed Setback

Raleigh, March 15—(AP)—Forces advocating a "minimum foundation" plan for supporting the public schools received a serious setback from the Senate Education committee today.

The Senate, meanwhile, passed on third reading a measure authorizing an election on the issuance of $50,000,000 in bonds to aid counties in building schools. The measure now will go to the House for consideration.

A bill to provide for the minimum foundation plan was given an unfavorable report by the committee. Under the foundation plan, which was recommended by the State Education Commission, the state would assume 85 per cent of the costs of the schools and the counties would raise the remaining 15 per cent on an ability to pay basis.

After World War I the Italian sculptor Alceio Dossena reproduced numerous pieces of Renaissance sculpture and, he said, disposed of them as copies at a slight profit. They were so good, however, that the art dealer sold the copies as originals for fabulous sums.

Rabelais is credited with preparing the first almanac in 1533.

Housewife Joins 'Grandma' Race

Lewiston, Maine, March 16—(AP)—Mrs. Maybelle Parker has figuratively thrown two twins in the ring for any competition in naming the nation's youngest grandmother.

The Lewiston housewife, now 29, said in an interview yesterday she was a grandmother at 28.

Mrs. Parker, the mother of seven children, said her first daughter, Mrs. Velta Rose Rogers Bonger, was born May 9, 1932 at Chicago. Mrs. Bonger gave birth to twins Jan. 3, 1948, at Chicago.

She told about the twins after Mrs. Wilson Wahley, a 33-year-old Columbus, Ohio housewife, was reported as one of the nation's youngest grandmothers.

Mrs. Parker said she was born June 21, 1919, at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and married James Rogers July 26, 1931, at Asheville, N. C. She said the marriage was annulled following Mrs. Bonger's birth.

Mrs. Parker and her second husband, Charles, a Lewiston lumber yard employe, have six children. They were married July 9, 1938, at Chicago.

A St. Joseph, Mo., woman also claims the title of the nation's youngest grandmother. She is Mrs. Marie Nichols, 28. Mrs. Nichols said she became a grandmother Jan. 21 when her 14-year-old daughter, Mrs. Patrick Lee Petty, became a mother.

It is estimated that U. S. automobiles totalled 600 billion passenger miles in 1947.

Nurses Compete Annual Contest

North Carolina Student Nurse of 1949 will be chosen here tonight.

Nine candidates for the title representing a district of the North Carolina State Nurses' Association, will compete in the finals of a state-wide contest.

Governor Scott will crown the winner, who will get an expense-paid Bermuda vacation and a $150 scholarship for post-graduate nursing study.

The contest is sponsored by the Good Health Association and the Nurses Association. It is given by the North Carolina League of Nursing Education.

Contestants in the finals are: Dorothy Tuttle, Morganton; Elizabeth Jeanne Hollowell, Winston-Salem; Betty Sue Drymon, Charlotte; Jean Caudie, Greensboro; Juanity Lee, Durham; Frances McLeod, Raleigh; Eunice Elmore, Fayetteville; Ann Edwards, Roanoke Rapids; and Rebecca L. Dellinger, Wilmington.

Minor Miracle

Waynesville, March 16—(AP)—Police Chief Orville Noland says he can't figure out how it happened.

A 1937 (Buick) sedan, skidded 214 feet, crashed through a guard rail on a bridge, jumped a 12-foot creek, and rammed a three-foot hole in the rock wall of a house. Driver Billy Lee Goddill of Syva received three pinpoint scratches.

Last Session On Proposed Treaty

Washington, March 15—(AP)—The eight nations drawing up the North Atlantic defense alliance arranged a final meeting today to put the finishing touches on the proposed treaty.

The terms of the historic pact are to be made public Friday.

The (3 p.m. EST) meeting brings together the Secretary of State Acheson, and the ambassadors of Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Norway.

Teen-Age Father Has Hard Time Finding A Job

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 15—(AP)—A 13-year-old father hunting today but finding "pretty hard to find."

Carl Harvey Blake, Jr., who produced a Van Buren county birth certificate to prove his age, married his 16-year-old wife, Winifred, 10 months ago. She gave birth to a five pound, 10-ounce son at a Paw Paw hospital February 23.

The 176-pound youngster, who lives at Paw Paw, appealed to a radio station to help him find a job.

"Work is pretty hard to find, anyhow," he told News Editor Tony Gaston of the radio station, "but due to my age it is even worse."

Jackie Robinson Expects '49 To Be His Best Year

Miami, Fla., March 16—(AP)—Jackie Robinson is going to be plenty tough this year in what he expects to be his best of three seasons in big league baseball.

But the star Negro second baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers doesn't mean he is looking for trouble. He is referring to his speed on the basepaths, which he expects to exploit more than ever this season. "I feel great this year," he said. "Those pitchers better watch out. I'm going to run and run and run. Shotton (Brooklyn Manager Burt Shotton) is going to have to chain me down to stop me from running."

Robinson, a speed demon, stole only 22 bases last season, but all came after July 4. He was troubled by excess weight early in the season.

Robinson, who arrived in camp last year weighing 225 pounds, now tips the scales at 201. He expects to melt down another six pounds before the start of the regular campaign.

"I'm 30 years old, but I feel as fast as when I first broke in with Montreal back in 1946," he said. "I've got that same old spring in my legs. I stole 40 bases that year and swiped 29 in my first year with the Dodgers. I may even top my '46 record this year."

In the Dodgers' opening spring exhibition game last Sunday, Robby rapped the first pitch served him by Boston's Johnny Antonelli and sent it high and far over the left field wall for a 450-foot home run.

Temple Gridders Get New Mentor

Philadelphia, March 16—(AP)—Albert P. (Al) Kawal, head football coach at Drake University the past two seasons and one of Northwestern University's greats, is the new head gridiron mentor at Temple University.

Signing of Kawal to a three-year contract as the successor to Ray Morrison was announced yesterday by Dr. Earl Yeomans, Temple's director of athletics. Salary terms were not revealed.

Morrison resigned more than a month ago to accept the head coaching post at Austin (Tex) College after serving nine years as boss of Temple's gridmen.

Meanwhile, Warren Gaer, assistant director of athletic sand head football coach at Pepperdine College, flew from Los Angeles to confer with Drake officials at Des Moines.

Gaer, whose Pepperdine teams won 17 of 18 games prior to last season, started on Drake teams in 1933-34 as fullback. Last year Pepperdine won only four while losing nine games, principally because six varsity players were expelled for breaking training.

Trains Catchers

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16—(AP)—Bill Dickey, New York Yankee coach and former star catcher, is teaching the finer points of the trade to Joe Garagiola, St. Louis Cardinal catcher and the Yanks' Berra, both come from "the hill" section of St. Louis.

Greene Applies 'Heat' To Ring Champ Robinson

New York, March 16—(AP)—The "heat" was being applied to a couple of world boxing champions today but in different fashions.

Lightweight king Ike Williams was taking regular heat treatments to help heal a strained muscle in his right shoulder. The injury was suffered yesterday and forced a postponement of Williams' fight with Kid Gavilan from this Friday to April 1.

Welterweight titleholder Ray Robinson had the "heat" put on him by NBA commissioner Abe J. Greene.

Greene warned Sugar Ray to defend his 147-pound crown quickly or give it up.

The commissioner said the welter division is "stagnating" because of Robinson's inactivity in his own class. Robinson has been engaging in non-title clashes with middleweights and has another over-the-weight contest scheduled for Chicago, March 25, against Bobby Lee.

"If he's going to fight as a middleweight, he may as well vacate the welterweight title," Greene declared.

Robinson risked his crown last against Bernie Docusen of New Orleans in Chicago, June 28.

NBS and New York State rules require champions to put their titles on the line every six months.

Robinson received an extra period of grace because of an injury suffered last December while training for a non-title scrap with middleweight Steve Bellosse. That bout was postponed indefinitely.

Not Complaining On Cub Hurling

Phoenix, Ariz., March 16—(AP)—Skipper Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs so far has no kicks about his pitching, a woeful department for the National League tallenders last season.

"Our pitching has been spotty," he says. "But the fellows we are counting on the most have been coming through. Dutch Leonard, Walt Dubiel, Bob Rush, Doyle Lade, Dewey Adkins and even Mort Cooper have looked all right to me."

Today marks the initial appearance of Diamond Dust which will be run daily on the sports page of this paper with the start of the season and which I trust will be of interest to you baseball followers. This column is written for the interest of you fans to keep you posted as to what is going on not only on the local diamond but throughout the Coastal Plain circuit. Any suggestions which you may make from time to time will be greatly appreciated by the writer and please address your suggestions to Box 871, Greenville, but be sure to sign your name.

Spring training for the Greenies will get underway on Monday, March 21, with the arrival of the pitchers and catchers, with workouts being held daily at Guy Smith Stadium under the watchful eyes of Manager Pappy Williams. On the following Monday the infielders and outfielders will report for drills with the Greenies opening their exhibition series on Monday April 4 with New Bern.

How about taking time out from the daily chores and riding out to the park and see the boys in action? It will not only show those boys, who are working out daily for places on the team, that you are behind them, but will let the Greenville Athletic Association, Inc., operators of the Greenville club this season, know that you are interested in baseball and will give them encouragement to give Greenville a winning club for the current season.

Also make your plans to attend the exhibition games to be staged prior to the opening of the season and let the directors know that you are backing them in their efforts to provide Greenville with a top flight club for the season.

Spring training for the other seven members of the Coastal Plain League has been announced as follows: Rocky Mount at Rocky Mount, March 27; Wilson at Wilson, March 30; Goldsboro at Goldsboro, April 1; Kinston at Kinston, March 28; New Bern at New Bern, March 26; Roanoke Rapids at Roanoke Rapids, March 28; and Tarboro at Moultrie, Georgia, on March 27th.

On Friday of this week will be carried a list of the pitchers and catchers who will try for places on the team, with a list of the outfielders and infielders appearing the following Friday.

Hot Ohio Cagers Rated Favorites

New York, March 16—(AP)—Bowling Green of Ohio, perhaps the hottest team at the moment in college basketball, will carry a 15-game winning streak into the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The fighting Falcons, who haven't dropped a decision since Jan. 11 when they bowed 63-61 to Kentucky, rule a four-point favorite over San Francisco.

The other semi-final, which opens the program at 8 p.m. (EST) matches Loyola of Chicago and Bradley University on a "take-your-choice" basis.

Bowling Green has become a solid favorite to take the championship after the surprising quarter-final expulsion of top-ranked Kentucky and defending champion St. Louis. Loyola, 67-56 winner over Kentucky, has gained many supporters. Jack Kerria, the Loyola center who shackled the Cats' big Alex Groza, is one of the tournament's individual standouts.

Bradley will be hard to trip if it can maintain the drive and scoring punch it showed in upending Western Kentucky, 95 to 86. San Francisco has a team of juniors and sophs, full of fight and hustle.

'Control' Meets Fast Break In Western Playoff

Kansas City, March 16—(AP)—The deliberate Oklahoma A. and M. Aggies and the fast-breaking Nebraska Cornhuskers will clear the paths tonight for the western basketball playoffs of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The winner in the fifth district playoff tonight, which matches the Missouri Valley conference champion Aggies and the Big Seven representative, will battle with Arkansas, Wyoming and Oregon State in the western regional here Friday and Saturday.

Eventual goal of the four western cage powers in the meet here will be the NCAA championship playoff at Seattle, Wash., next week.

Sport Slants by Pap

At Colgate they rate Ernie Vandeweghe the greatest all-round baseball player they have ever had. Ernie was captain of the Red Raiders as a junior last year, and co-captain this season. In 72 games, he has scored an average of 19.3 points, a mark that puts him on a par with such all-time scoring aces as Hank Luisetti, George Mikan, Ernie Calverly and Tony Lavelli. He also has taken care of most of the rebounds for Colgate off both offensive and defensive boards.

Kurowski's Baseball Future Hinges On Comeback Following Operation

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16—(AP)—Whitney Kurowski, trying a comeback after an arm operation, realizes his baseball future is at stake in this busy St. Louis Cardinal training camp.

Slimmed to 184 pounds, 20 below his 1948 weight, the veteran third baseman of four pennant winning clubs cautiously tests his right arm in the early games.

"There still is a little pain," he said after an infield practice. "The arm is a little stiff and sore but I haven't really started to bear down on it yet. It's probably the adhesions."

"If I can get started this year, I should have two or three years left. I've been getting ready for this test ever since last fall."

Kurowski, now pushing 31, flopped badly last season. Overweight in the spring, he never was able to work himself into condition because of his aching arm. He played in only 77 games, just half the schedule. The booming home run bat that produced 27 homers in '47 accounted for only two all last year.

The Cardinals missed the veteran's punch with 32-year-old Don Lang, a 269 hitter, struggling to fill the gap. It was the first time in seven seasons that Kurowski wasn't a full time operator.

Issues Warrant On Bobo Newsom

Laurinburg, N. C., March 16—(AP)—Louis (Bob) Newsom, much-travelled major league pitcher, was charged in an indictment today with non-support.

Newsom now is in Florida trying to land a baseball job. The warrant was sworn out by Newsom's former wife, who was divorced from him about six years ago.

Newsom allegedly failed to contribute to support of his two children, Norma Ann, 15, and Alan Griffith Newsom, 13. Mrs. Newsom said that until three months ago, the famed hurler sent them $150 a month.

Still Connecting

Vero Beach, Fla., March 16—(AP)—The hitting of Rookie Outfielder Cal Abrams continues to be the talk of the camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Abrams, a Brooklyn native, got two singles against the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday to boost his total to eight for 13, blistering .538 pace.

Chandler Brought Into Baseball Court Actions

New York, March 16—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler was projected today into the middle of the court battle in which three suspended major league players are seeking $2,800,000 damages and immediate reinstatement.

Federal Judge Edward A. Conger, who says he's no fan, listened for two hours yesterday to arguments on a show-cause order seeking to lift the bans imposed on Max Lanier and Fred Martin, former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers.

He then gave organized baseball and the suing players until Tuesday to file briefs. He indicated he would give a decision within hours after the case is complete.

Mark F. Hughes, attorney for the league officials, told the judge he didn't have the right to sue the complaining players to the bible list.

"The only person who can do is Chandler himself," Hughes declared.

The attorney asked for a de of the players' application on grounds of "total lack of jurisdiction."

John L. Flynn, New York attorney for Lanier and Martin, contended baseball planned to make the players "engage in a national harassment chase for Chandler."

Lanier and Martin, two of one score of players suspended five years in 1946 for jumping to Mexican League, are suing baseball for $2,800,000 damages.

Wooten Selected 'Most Valuable' In Intermediates

Billy Wooten, outstanding guard on the championship Greenville Intermediate basketball team this season, has been selected by his teammates as the Intermediate "Most Valuable Player."

The 18 year-old ninth grader was third high scorer for the Intermediates this season with 90-odd points during the 12 game schedule.

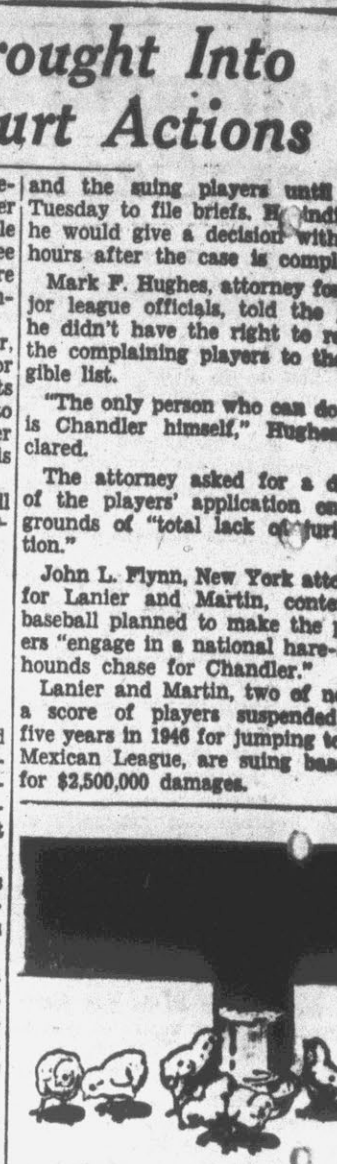

Coch Bill Kittrell rated Wooten as a "hard driver who plays a fast game. He can pass as well as shoot and is a good player who always shows fine sportsmanship on the court."

In addition to playing basketball, Wooten was a fullback on the Greenville high Jayvee football team last fall, and is expected to be a candidate for the outfield on the basketball team this spring.

Revolta, Little In Midpoint Tie

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 16—(AP)—Johnny Revolta, veteran golf professional of Evanston, Ill., today was in a position to make a grand slam in one of the richest of all tournaments—the annual Seminole Club Pro-Amateur tourney.

Revolta, who hasn't appeared very often among the top money winners this year, yesterday tied at the halfway mark with Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif., for the professional medal play lead with three under par 67's.

Death of Bright Angel

Chapter 28
 Are you ready?

Rivers looked about the room, still groggy from sleep and the effects of the drug which had induced it, his mind confused by this bewildering news. Louisiana American! That was startling, but welcome.

Right now, his own predicament required his full attention. This was not a big room, but it had a lofty ceiling and there was an odd feature about it as though it might have been expressly designed by Don Fernando for some such event as now was impending.

Twice as high as a man's head was a platform built out from the wall, a square about six feet in size, with a railing about it and a door behind. Now the unpleasantly smiling face of Martinez peered over, while he gestured with a pistol.

"Hah! It is the Senor Rivers! And so we meet again! Allow me to wish you the best of luck, Senor, with the blade - for it will then give me much pleasure to finish you with the bullet!"

The main door opened to admit Bashan, who came swaggering in, carrying his unsheathed sword. He paused, eyes fixed on Rivers, triumph burning in them.

"Ah! he exclaimed. This time, it will be to the finish - your finish! Are you ready?"

Not waiting for an answer, he advanced, big blade at the ready. There was nothing to do but meet him. His wound appeared to be so far healed as not to trouble him.

It was the stimulus which Rivers needed. His head was clearing. The room was windowless, the light coming down from above. And down here was only the one door - now locked. To make doubly sure, Martinez was above them, with a cocked pistol in his hand.

"It will be a pleasure, with so excellent a swordsmanship as yourself," Rivers agreed, and the mocking smile was on his lips. "You have heard the news from Don Fernando, I suppose?"

"News? What news?" Bashan demanded suspiciously, but without a slackening of his own attack. He was fighting warily today, remembering the mettle of his opponent, but with a calculated ferocity which was hard to check. "You'll not distract me from the business in hand by chattering," he added grimly.

"But I thought you would like to know the news," Rivers suggested, speaking in English, knowing that Martinez could not understand it. "In the first place, Louisiana has been sold to America. The blockade no longer holds."

Bashan did not miss a stroke. His face was angry, set and puzzled with concentration. Then he exploded. "You lie! It is a coward's way to try and distract me with such a tale! Such a thing is impossible!"

"It's also impossible, as Don Fernando figures it, for either of us to leave this room alive! He expects one of us to kill the other. As he told me, so you'll notice - take your time, so as not to lose any advantage - that there are no windows, and only the one door. And that is locked behind you!"

Bashan's eyes darted suspiciously, with the instinctive fear of a trapped animal. Rage washed across his face as he saw that it was so, and his gaze, lifting, encountered the arid gleam in the eyes of Martinez, the cocked pistol. He wavered and fell back, and in that moment Rivers could have run him through.

"What's this?" Bashan growled. "I don't like it."

"As I told you - keep fighting, man, and give no sign - Martinez is posted there with a pistol to murder the survivor. Do you think that he has any more love for you than for me? He intends, now that the French will not move to stop him or to help you Montforts, to escape down river with no one!"

This time, Bashan did not lose a stroke. His heavy brows knit thoughtfully, but he was fighting mechanically, no longer with zest. Martinez peered at them suspiciously.

"The devil!" Bashan swore, and lurched backward. His free hand brought up against the door behind, as if to fend himself away, and he gave a savage twist at the knob. "It is as you say," he agreed, and his chance ranged upward, dropped. "I suppose we live only so long as we go on trying to slay each other, eh?"

"Or until he decides that we're faking," Rivers agreed. "Make it real, man!"

For the next minute or so Bashan gave a satisfying performance, but his brows remained twisted in thought. Then he spoke.

"Our quarrel can wait," he decided. "It is better that we get out of this first. I have no liking for being a cat's-paw."

Jenkins Claims Vet Education Program Sparking New Trend

Higher education for the masses made a reality in this country by the entrance of veterans into American colleges and universities, is not a passing fancy but is here to stay, Dean Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina Teachers College told members of the Faculty Lecture Club of the college here Monday evening. Dr. Jenkins discussed both benefits and abuses of the present program of veterans' education.

Not only colleges and universities but the public is vitally concerned in this program, he stated. Although enrollment of veterans in colleges is now decreasing the dean said, one out of five adults in the United States is eligible to receive educational benefits offered to veterans. A million adults now in service and 1,850,000 men and women already eligible, he told faculty members, make the total of those who are receiving and may receive educational benefits a tremendous one. "The veterans are sticking it out," he stated. "Academic persistence among them is unusually good."

As encouraging results of the entrance into higher education of veterans, Dr. Jenkins cited the enthusiasm of the students themselves, the good records they have made in their work, valuable curriculum changes in the schools to meet the needs of these mature students, the stimulation of wholesome growth of many institutions through increases in enrollment, and the reshaping of educational programs in colleges so that they more nearly meet the demands of society.

"One of the unfortunate aspects of the program," Dr. Jenkins said, "is that it has done very little to recruit teachers for public schools. Most educators, he stated, agree that the entrance of veterans into educational work would have a stimulating effect. "This interest has not been aroused," the dean said.

Confusion in the program results, he pointed out, because approval of programs for veterans rests with the states, not with the federal government. As an example of waste and inefficiency in the present program he cited the fact that though $250,000,000 a year has been spent on the aviation training, 90 per cent of the veteran students do not qualify for licenses after receiving the training.

PHYSICIAN TO ADDRESS KIWANIS CLUB FRIDAY

Dr. J. L. Winstead, physician and surgeon at Pitt General Hospital, will be the speaker at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting Friday night at 6:30 and show a motion picture of vital interest at this time. Claude Ward has charge of the program. President Arthur Tripp will preside.

See Compromise 'Anti-Recession' Plan In Making

Washington, March 16 — (AP) — The Truman administration is expected to come up soon with a "compromise plan" on ways of preventing a new farm depression and vast crop surpluses.

Farm leaders in and out of Congress are divided sharply as to what the government should do. The split centers around the question of whether there should be a return to pre-war crop control methods.

Secretary Brannan and his Agriculture Department aides are working on a program aimed at bringing the conflicting views together. Measures being studied by the administration—but not yet necessarily adopted—include: use of flexible price supports for non-perishable crops, consumer subsidies for perishable foods, and marketing programs aimed at keeping low quality and low grade fruits and vegetables off food markets.

Some farm leaders want to keep indefinitely a wartime system of rigid price supports for such storable crops as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts. This system directs the department to support producer prices of these crops at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, designed to be equally fair to farmers and non-farmers. This system will be replaced next year with a setup of flexible supports ranging between 80 and 90 percent of parity unless Congress directs otherwise. Under this system, supports would be highest in periods of crop shortages and lowest in times of surpluses.

CHARGE MOTORIST WITH HIT-AND-RUN DRIVING

Police arrested Jennis Raymond Belcher, 50-year-old Negro, of 606 Pamlico Avenue, early today and charged him with reckless and hit-and-run driving. He will be tried in Police Court Friday.

There are more than 400 different species of rhododendrons and azaleas.

Beta Convention

The 1949 Northeastern District High School Beta Convention was held at the Winterhill High school today. Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, academic dean of East Carolina Teachers College was the speaker at the luncheon at noon. Thomas Castellone of Winterville, president, presided.

Delegates from 17 Eastern Carolina towns attended, including Ayden, Belvoir, Falkland, Columbia, Jamesville, Faison, Plymouth, Roper, Murfreesboro, Williamston, Oak City, Windsor, Bethel, Griffon and the Farm Life school. New officers were to be installed at the afternoon session. A complete story of the Beta convention will be in tomorrow's Daily Reflector.

President Silent Over His Losses

Key West, Fla., March 16 — (AP) — President Truman maintained a tight-lipped silence today in the face of continuous setbacks from the 81st Congress.

The man who travelled 31,500 miles last year to denounce the 80th Congress as the "second worst" in history because of its opposition to his proposals withheld a final decision on whether to stomp the country to "in a better showing from its Democratic-controlled successor.

The tabling by the Senate armed services committee of the confirmation necessary for former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security resources board was a heavy blow to Mr. Truman, who regards the ex-chief executive of Washington state as one of his best friends.

This action yesterday piled up the score Mr. Truman would like to settle with the current Congress, dominated by Democrats, but many of them southerners who launched a filibuster to prevent passage of the President's civil rights measures.

Mr. Truman also watched from afar as his congressional lieutenants fought a bitter battle with opponents of his labor, rent control and other proposals.

A southern Democrat, Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, cast the deciding vote in committee when Wallgren's nomination was tabled.

Mr. Truman is returning to Washington to attend the annual dinner of the White House photographers association Saturday night.

Two Pitt Youths Face Charge Of Attempted Rape

Two Pitt county youths were bound over to Superior court today under $1,000 bond each after Magistrate H. L. Jenkins found probable cause on a charge of assault on a female with intent to commit rape.

The two youths were identified as Howard Roebuck, 20, and Billy Robertson, 18, both of the Stokes Community. The charges were brought by Frances Davenport, 19, of Greenville who told authorities in the magistrate's court this morning that the youths assaulted her Monday night.

The case has been scheduled for trial in the term of Superior court which begins here March 28.

Administration Pins Hopes On Senate Opinion

Washington, March 16 — (AP) — Administration forces, smarting from the battering their rent control bill took before being passed by the House, today pinned their hopes for a stronger bill in the Senate.

The House-passed measure would continue controls for 15 months under a "home rule" plan. This plan would allow any state, county or town to override the federal law and either set up its own controls or drop them entirely.

President Truman had asked for a 24-months extension of strong federal controls, plus several provisions—which he didn't get—to strengthen the hand of Housing Expediter Tigue Woods.

Negro Farmer Found Dead In His Bed

Joseph Carney 40-year-old Negro tenant farmer on the Jule Brown farm, near Pactolus, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse quoted Carney's wife as saying that her husband suffered a heart attack Monday night and that when she called him to breakfast next morning he was dead. Coroner House and Dr. T. G. Basnight, Pitt county health officer, said the man died of natural causes and that there will be no inquest.

Tallest player on the Santa Clara basketball squad is Bob Sunderland, six-foot.

Bee 'Wiggle-Waggle'

New York, March 16 — (AP) — If a bee wants to tell his cousin what's buzzin', he does a little dance.

That's the conclusion of Dr. Karl von Frisch, Austrian scientist, who has been studying the language of bees for 40 years.

The 62-year-old zoology professor of Graz University is in this country for a lecture tour.

He told yesterday how bees perform various "dances" to communicate ideas to their fellow bees.

For example, if a bee finds a rich store of food, he returns to his hive and tells his fellow workers exactly where it is and how far away it is. The information, said Frisch, is given by a "wiggle-waggle," "round dance" or other varying movements performed while the other bees look on.

Distance is given by the number of wiggles, Frisch said, while the direction is conveyed by the prevailing orientation of the dance.

Instructions are so accurate, he added, that a flower bed two miles away can be located by bees that never have seen it before.

Each bee hive—sometimes with as many as 70,000 individuals—usually has about six bold insects that range far and wide in search of food.

They report their finds, Frisch said, then take a rest while the other workers go to harvest the food.

Gov't May Be In Financial Hole If Taxes Lapse

Washington, March 16 — (AP) — The government may be $1,200,000,000 in the hole for the year ending June 30, officials said today—unless last minute tax returns bring in a whopping amount of money.

Only last January, President Truman estimated in his budget message that the federal deficit for fiscal 1949 would be just half that size.

Final figures will be uncertain until tax collections have finished counting late-arriving income tax money—a job expected to take a couple of weeks or more.

Left' And . . .

On this basis we seek, as Blakeslee indicates, that the further we go to the right, the closer we come to despotism. The further we swing to the left the nearer we approach "democracy," which is rule by the majority. Bolshevism, which is the modern Russian version of Communism, is rule by a small minority, although the term "Bolshevism" actually means majority.

Thus we arrive at the conclusion that the greater the restrictions placed upon the individual by government, the further we swing to the right and the further away we get from democracy. The greater our democracy the more we swing to the left.

And the moral of all this? Well, I should say it is to exercise care in employing the terms "left" and "right." The safest way is to be specific and say "democracy" or "absolutism."

Dem Party . . .

Southern Democrats parted company with the Trumanites and set out to wreck it with a filibuster.

Caught in this meat-chopper, the Trumanites in the Senate looked pitiful. That is not an exaggeration.

The Democrats outnumber the Republicans 7 to 6 on the senate committee which is considering the Wallgren nomination. The senate must approve before he can have the NSRB job.

But the committee vote yesterday to push aside Wallgren's nomination was 7 to 6. What happened? Senator Byrd of Virginia, Southern Democrat, threw his vote in with the six Republicans against Wallgren.

In the house the rent control bill favored by Mr. Truman was pulled out of shape like taffy, although the Democrats have a big majority in the house. The senate may patch it up a bit. It can't become law without senate approval.

What does it all mean? Only this: any time the Republicans and southern Democrats want to wreck the Truman program, they can do it by teaming up.

This makes the Democratic party as a party, look sick. It sure does.

To Hold Hearing . . .

The yard-stick by which teachers have been allotted to county schools calls for two teachers for 40 students, three teachers for 60 students and four teachers for 85 students.

The fact finding committee was appointed by the State Board of Education at the request of the Pitt County Board of Education to hold a public hearing and to recommend to the State Board of Education to which school the attendance in question should be allotted.

Bids Opened . . .

(Continued from page one) and boiler, yet to be installed, at the same time that the equipment installed last year was purchased. The order for all the equipment was placed at a fixed price several years ago and has not been subject to price increases that have taken place since that time. The new generator is already on hand and has been paid for and shipment of the new boiler will begin about June. Commission spokesmen expressed the hope that the new turbine and boiler could be placed in operation within about a year. Immediately after this equipment is put into use, a 3,000 KW turbine now in use will be converted into 5,000 KW capacity making a total of three 5,000 KW turbines for the plant.
