Salvo Of Praise For USSR Peace Aims Ends Meet

Three-Day Conference Closes; Pickets Continue Denounce Conclave

New York, March 28 (AP)—With a promise to continue its work in the future and with a salvo of praise for Soviet "peace" aims, the controversial "world peace" conference has ended. The three-day meeting of the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace closed last night. Some 14,700 persons jammed Madison Square Garden to cheer its last session—but other thousands picketed outside. Speakers at the session, called a "Unite for World Peace" rally, struck a general note of praise for Soviet "peace" aspirations—asserting that leaders of the U.S.S.R. are anti-war and anxious for global peace. Outside the Garden, a police-estimated crowd of 2,000 pickets milled about as the rally opened. They carried placards assailing the conference and chanted slogans charging it was Communist-dominated. The U.S. State Department had described the affair as a sounding board for Communist propaganda. Sponsors of the meeting, the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, have denied the charge. Counter-rallies and anti-Communist pickets denounced the conference, and almost constant picketing went on while it held its sessions at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Carnegie Hall and the Garden. As the affair ended, delegates stamped approval on resolutions that call for strengthening the United Nations, cooperating with peace movements throughout the world and bringing to the attention of United States governmental arms the decisions of the conference. Groundwork Laid For Power Fight

House Appropriations Body Approves Plans For Expansion Of Big Government-Owned Power Projects

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee laid the groundwork today for a public-versus-private power fight in a $37,224,408 Interior Department money bill for the year beginning July 1. It approved almost in full plans for big government-owned projects to expand their power transmission facilities in the West, the North and the Southwest. Republicans who fought the program in committee said they would continue the battle when the bill comes before the House for debate, probably tomorrow. One of them, Rep. Jensen of Iowa, top minority member of the subcommittee that wrote the bill, called the legislation "another step in the direction of government control of all utilities." He said one effect would be to force some private companies to sell out to the government. While it applied a general 15 per cent reduction on most construction projects financed in the bill, the committee approved the entire power program of the agencies operating under the Interior Department. It based the reduction

Picked Bad Time

Rock Hill, S. C., March 28 (AP)—If you see Wallace Esterline of Rock Hill, S. C., tell him he's a free man. Esterline, serving a 30-day sentence in lieu of a $10 fine, escaped from the York county prison camp. He couldn't have left at a worse time: a few minutes earlier a friend had paid his fine. When a guard went to release him, he couldn't be found. Police and relatives are still looking for Esterline to tell him he's a free man. (Continued on page ten)

Coal Miners Back In Pits Early Today

Few Mines Having Midnight Shifts Report Normal Operations As Shutdown Ends After Midnight

Pittsburgh, March 28 (AP)—Nearly a half-million members of the United Mine Workers east of the Mississippi began returning to the pits today. They acted on orders of John L. Lewis, blunt-talking and quick-witted president of the UMW called a two-week work stoppage March 14. As the deadline for the return-to-work movement was reached at 12:01 a. m. (EST) the few mines having midnight shifts reported "operations normal." By the end of the day all 463,000 miners who quit at Lewis' orders were expected to be on the job. Throughout the soft and hard coal fields UMW lieutenants were unanimous that Lewis' orders would be followed to the letter. Among the first major mines reporting midnight shifts coming in full-strength was the Isabella Mine near Brownsville in Fayette county, Pa. A spokesman for Weirton Coal Corp., owner of the captive pit, said about 150 men—the normal working crew—showed up to earn their first pay in two weeks. Throughout the coal-producing picture was the same at midnight. Mines which don't operate at

Commissioners Ask Raise In Pay

Pitt County Commissioners by unanimous vote have requested Dr. Paul E. Jones, senator from Pitt County, to introduce a measure in the Legislature that would raise the pay of the commissioners. Senator Jones advised The Reflector Saturday that he had received the request and stated that he would like to know the sentiment of the people of Pitt County before urging adoption of the measure. According to the request, the pay of the chairman of the board would be increased to $12,500 per year, that of vice chairman would be $10,000 per month and the other commissioners would receive $750 per month. Senator Jones emphasized that it was his desire to carry out as far as possible the wishes of the people of the county with regard to legislation but he stated that he had no word regarding the requested pay raise except from the commissioners and he felt that he could best serve the people if he knew what they

Cat-And-Mouse Game

Belgrade Reports Bear Watching; Nation Is Prize At Stake; Hinges On Tito's Ability And Desire To Either Align Himself With The West Or With Soviets

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Yugoslavia's capital, Belgrade, is now the locale of one of the more exciting cat-and-mouse games among the diplomats. Reports out of there will bear watching for the next month or so. The prize played for is nothing less than a nation. Will Yugoslavia stay on the Soviet leash or will she join the Western world? Diplomats here contend that if Yugoslavia's dictator, Marshal Tito, finally breaks with Moscow and allies his nation with the West, the defection will certainly raise debate in other Middle European capitals—Sofia, Prague and Warsaw, among them. Yugoslavia came out of World War II with Moscow-trained Tito at its head. It became a party to the security and trade treaties through which Moscow set out to bind Middle Europe to Moscow plans. Then last summer, to the surprise of the Western world, the Cominform cast off Tito, saying that he was pursuing a "nationalist" policy. Tito has countered in several speeches since then. They add up

Italian First On Hand For Signing Atlantic Treaty

Foreign Ministers Of Other Nations On Way To Washington For Pact

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Count Carlo Storza of Italy today led the parade of foreign ministers converging on Washington to sign the North Atlantic security pact. Storza flew to New York, one week ahead of the time when 10 to 13 foreign ministers are scheduled to sign the treaty that would link their nations into a tight defensive alliance. The foreign ministers of four other countries, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, meanwhile neared the United States aboard the liner Queen Mary to be on hand for the occasion. A second batch of foreign ministers, headed by Robert Schuman of France, is scheduled to arrive in the United States by plane Thursday and Friday. Storza came to the United States backed up by a vote of confidence in the Italian Senate which yesterday voted 188-112 to permit Italy to join the Atlantic security alliance. Storza's early arrival time aroused speculation that he intends to discuss some strictly Italian problems with the State Department. These would include Italy's oft-repeated desire to keep her former African colonies under United Nations trusteeship. In another phase of foreign relations aimed at the signing of the defense treaty, the State Department was arranging an informal British-French-American meeting on Western Germany. This may be held here some time next week while British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman are still in town. State Department officials said these eight countries now have officially signed the treaty and will join the United States in the alliance: Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway and Denmark. The 12th nation, Iceland, is expected to send along its acceptance early this week after the Icelandic Parliament considers the move.

French Leftists Take A Drubbing

Paris, March 28 (AP)—Interior Minister Jules Moch, a Socialist, said today France has taken a "swing to the right" in the cantonal (county) elections, in which the communists took a licking. The cantonal elections ended yesterday. Final results showed that 133 communists incumbents were defeated and only 34 communists incumbents were returned to office. The parties making up the middle-of-the-road coalition government swamped both communists and the De Gaulleists of the extreme right. In Socialist ranks, 150 incumbents were defeated and only 379 of 429 former office holders were returned to their jobs. Socialists have been left of center, but have not been travelling with the communists. Popular vote figures were not released for the present. Last week, in the first round of cantonal elections, Gen. Charles De Gaulle's rally of the French People (RPF) carried about 28 per cent of the popular vote, more than any other single party, and it appeared the De Gaulleists continued that trend yesterday.

Judge Parker Is Presiding Over Criminal Term

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids is presiding over a criminal term of Superior Court in Greenville this week. An unusually heavy docket confronts the Halifax county jurist. Important cases on the calendar for trial this week include murder, rape, forgery, breaking, entering and larceny, forgery, and numerous cases of driving motor vehicles while drunk. Fifth District Collector W. J. (Dick) Bundy stated. Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford, who is riding the Fifth Judicial District the first six months of this year, exchanged places with Judge Parker. Court is being held in the remodeled courthouse for the first time in six months. Sessions were held at the City Hall while repairs were being made. Two Negro youths, Lewis Daniel, 18, and Bennie Daniel, 18, charged with the murder of William Benjamin O'Neal, a Greenville taxi driver, are expected to go on trial the latter part of the week.

Storm Store In One-Price Sale

Boston, March 28 (AP)—Five thousand men and women stormed Filene's basement today for a first-since-the-war sale of men's suits, topcoats and overcoats at one price, $11. H. D. Hodgkinson, general manager of Filene's—which calls itself the world's largest specialty store—estimated 3,000 persons were jammed into a separate basement section three minutes after the doors opened at 8:30 a. m.

Aircraft Firm Lists Big Loss

Baltimore, March 28 (AP)—A net loss last year of $16,710,762 was reported today by the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Company. The firm lost $19,181,536 in 1947. Net sales last year, however, were reported at $72,686,527 as compared to $23,855,722 in 1947. Sales to the armed forces accounted for $66,517,149 of the 1948 total.

Elaborate Ceremonies Mark Swearing-In Of Sec. Johnson

General Clair, Secretary of Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Interior Krug, Also Sworn In

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Louis Johnson was sworn in today as Secretary of Defense in the most elaborate installation of a cabinet officer the Capital has ever seen. Johnson, a 58-year-old Clarkston, W.Va., attorney, succeeded James V. Forrestal, a New York banker. Forrestal had held the office since it was created by passage of the Armed Services Unification Act in June, 1947. The swearing-in ceremony, colorful with military pomp, was held in the open five-acre center court of the Pentagon. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Fred W. Vinson before a crowd estimated at about 15,000. Mrs. Johnson sat in the front row of spectators, appearing very proud and smiling. She was clad in a blue suit, fur neckpiece and a pre-Easter bonnet of blue straw. She wore a single yellow orchid. With her was Mrs. Perle Mesta, well known Washington hostess, who worked closely with Johnson during the political campaign. In the audience were members of the cabinet, including Attorney

Former Empress Of Iran Marries

Cairo, March 28 (AP)—Princess Fawzia, the beautiful former empress of Iran, was married today to Ismail Shirine Bey, a distant relative of Egypt's royal family. The marriage was the second for the 30-year-old princess, who is the sister of Egypt's King Farouk. She had been married to the Shah of Iran until he divorced her last November. She had borne no son to inherit the Iranian throne. Today's ceremony was a simple Moslem one and strictly private. The royal cabinet announced the wedding had taken place in a special official communique. "By Allah's will and with the guidance of his light and under the care of (King) Farouk," the statement said, "the great marriage of Princess Fawzia x x x to Ismail Shirine Bey x x x has taken place." Ancient custom called for the bride to be absent from her own wedding. Throughout the ceremony she was expected to remain in her own suite at Kouba Palace. In some cases a woman member of a Moslem household reads the Koran—the Moslem Bible—to the bride during the waiting period. Sheikh Mamoun El Shihawa, rector of thousand-year-old Al Azhar University and the spiritual leader of the world's Moslems was chosen to perform the ancient rite.

Treason Charged Embassy Worker

Washington, March 28 (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury today indicted Herbert John Burman, former employee of the U. S. Embassy in Berlin, on treason charges. He is accused of broadcasting Nazi propaganda during the war. A brief filed by Eiser's attorneys disputed the government's statement that Eiser refused to be sworn. All that he wanted, Eiser's brief said, was to make a three-minute statement to the committees before being sworn. Supreme Court justices set aside two hours (during the afternoon) to hear arguments by attorneys for Eiser and by Justice Department lawyers.

Complains Story Of U. S. Aid Kept From Europeans

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-Neb.) complained today that sabotage and Communist propaganda prevent Europeans from knowing what America is doing for them under the multi-billion dollar recovery program. As Congressional leaders brought pressure for early Senate passage of the $5,880,000,000 authorization for the economic cooperation administration, Bridges said he and Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) would demand tightening of two phases of the foreign aid program. 1. Rigid requirements that all foods, machinery, supplies and raw materials be conspicuously labeled to show they come from the vast ECA program financed by the United States. This is in line with demands under previous relief programs that U. S. shipments carry a "made in America" label. 2. Closer inspection "on the spot" in Europe of actual use of goods, materials and supplies to see that this use is in line with plans and intentions. The Bridges-McCarran amendments were added to a stack of other proposed changes and set aches. Together, all these may upset plans of Democratic leaders Lucas of Illinois for Senate passage early this week. Lucas had hoped to have the multi-billion dollar authorization out of the way last week-end but Republican floor leader Wherry of Nebraska said it may be Wednesday or later before that happens.

Wallace Asserts Treaty To Cost Fantastic Sum

New York, March 28 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace says the United States will have to pay "up to 30 billions of dollars" to rearm western Europe under the North Atlantic pact. The State Department and the Army, he says, will try to conceal this fantastic cost from the American people. The 1948 Progressive party presidential candidate assailed terms of the pact in a broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System's network yesterday. Wallace said the huge sums involved should be used, instead, to build low-cost homes, insure everybody against unemployment, illness and old age, raise minimum wages and provide schools and hospitals for all. He said the "clear intention" of

Administration May Get Vote In Senator Graham

Tar Heel Expected To Add To Pro-Truman Strength In Important Issues

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The Administration may pick up a new vote for its substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor act when Dr. Frank P. Graham takes the oath this week as a Senator from North Carolina. Graham comes to the Senate from the presidency of the University of North Carolina, with about the warmest welcome that a president of the United States could give a newcomer. Graham has said he expects to give "general" support to White House proposals. President Truman's praise of Graham last week as a great American and a great citizen apparently was calculated to offset questions raised by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) and others. Bricker contended an atomic commission loyalty review board had refused to clear Graham to receive classified atomic information. Bricker said the board after was disbanded. Graham, who heads the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, was defended by Senators Hoyer (D-Mo.) and McNamara (D-Conn.) Peppers (D-Ill.) and Morse (R-Ore.) who said there was no question of his loyalty. Graham will have the opportunity to discuss the matter in the Senate himself, after he has taken the oath, probably tomorrow. Bricker and others said they intend to raise no question about seating the North Carolinian. As a member, Graham is expected to add to the administration's strength on several important issues. Significantly, perhaps, his appointment was praised by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor. Green said Graham will be "an important addition to the liberal and progressive forces representing southern states in the Senate." Graham hasn't taken any public stand on union and administration efforts to repeal the Taft-Hartley act, but the administration counts on him to back its substitute bill. The North Carolinian's coming into office also may reduce the southern opposition to President Truman's civil rights program by one vote.

'Fair Net Income' For Landlords In Rent Bill

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today on a 15-month rent control extension bill requiring a "fair net operating income" for landlords. The agreement clears the way to house and Senate action on a new rent control law before the present law expires Thursday at midnight. Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said the compromise bill will be brought up in the Senate as soon as a draft of the agreement is put in shape. The provision requiring a "fair net operating income" for landlords is the one the Senate insisted on for handling possible rent increases. The House conferees rejected it Saturday. That caused a deadlock over the weekend. Adoption of that provision tosses out: 1. The section in the Senate bill which provided for some rent increases up to 10 per cent. 2. The provision in the House bill which required the government to fix rent ceilings at a level to assure landlords a "reasonable return on the reasonable value" of their property. The measure, as finally agreed on, is considerably short of what President Truman had asked for. He wanted a 24 months extension of controls and a lightened law. However, congressional leaders said Mr. Truman made no criticism of the bill, as it was shaping up, when they had their weekly conference with him this forenoon. The proposed compromise measure would extend federal rent controls 15 months through June 30, 1950. But it also contains a broad "home rule" decontrol provision. Under it, states, cities, towns and villages could junk rent curbs anytime if the state governor approved.

Senate-House Conferees Clear Way For Quick Action By Congress On Compromise Extension Of Rent Control

Sick Eisenhower Takes A Holiday

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower left today for Key West, Fla., to recuperate from an illness that has kept him in bed for a week. Eisenhower, temporary chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has been suffering from an inflammation of the stomach. He left in President Truman's personal plane at 10:40 a. m. (EST) for the naval station at Key West. The general appeared a little pale and shaky as he climbed aboard the plane.

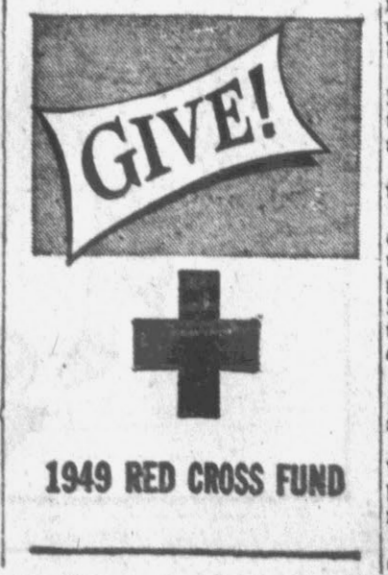

Deliver Surplus Arms To Persia

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The first shipments of surplus arms which Iran is buying from the United States are now being delivered to Persian Gulf ports, diplomatic officials said today. More than 50 planes and a "few" light tanks are included in a $26,000,000 deal to supply shortages of the Iranian army and force of gendarmes. All the arms were described by officials as non-offensive in character despite Russia's criticism of the transaction.

Truman's Labor Bill

An Outline Of The Proposed Legislation Which Congress Will Tackle In Voting A New Labor Law; What It Would Add To Wagner Act; Big Changes Likely

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, March 28 (AP)—Here's an ABC outline of the bill which Congress will tackle in voting a new labor law. It's the one which the Truman administration wants passed. But it's still only a bill, not the new law. Congress may make big changes in the bill before letting it become law. This bill wipes out the 1947 Taft-Hartley act and, with a few additions, brings back the old Wagner act of 1935. This was the main difference between the Wagner act and T-H: 1. The Wagner act said a man could not be fired for joining a union; it said a boss had to bargain with his employees' union; and it set up the National labor relations board (NLRB) to protect the employees' rights. In short, the Wagner act put restrictions on an employer but none at all on his employees. 2. T-H adopted that part of the Wagner act but then it put a number of restrictions on unions, plus new restrictions on employers. In short, T-H put restrictions on employers and unions, but more Tadlock, Worthy Treasurer; Alva Bay Taylor, Worthy Chaplain; Mrs. Mildred Kennedy, Worthy Shepherdess; Mrs. Hilda Laughinghouse, Worthy Guide.

The appointive officers are Mrs. A. C. Tadlock, Worthy Herald; George W. Smith, First Wise Man; Carrol Chauncey, Second Wise Man; W. E. Boswell, Third Wise Man; Jasper Phillips, King; Mrs. Cynthia Lockhart, Queen; Mrs. Frances Forrest, First Hand Maid; Mrs. Bertha Branch, Second Hand Maid; Mrs. Marie Scott, Third Hand Maid; Mrs. Keith Cain, Worthy Organist; Mrs. Elba Rowe, Worthy Guardian; Albert Scott, Worthy Guard.

King's Guards are: Kelly Rowe, Captain; Raymond Duffin, Miles Branch; Guy Forrest, Jesse Laughinghouse, Clifford Stokes, Jesse Brown, John Timberlake, F. L. Whitehurst, W. G. Gardner and T. I. Moore and Ed Ricks.

Queen's Attendants are: Marie Clark, Eva Corbette, Jessie Stokes, Lila Palmer, Mae Sawyer, Fannie Timberlake, Blanche Smith, Clara Flanagan, Louella Swindell and Carrie Munford, Thelma Phillips. Margaret Elks, Courier; Mrs. Louise Wells, Color Bearer; Lela Belle Hoell, Flower Girl; Mrs. Nell Moore, Matron of Honor; Joseph Palmer, Joseph; and Mrs. Ernestine Garner, Mary.

The choir will be composed of Mrs. Ethel Ricks, Mrs. Ethel T. Allen, Astor Richardson, J. B. Jackson and Archie Rogers.

Just following the installation of officers, Mayor Boyd of Greenville will be presented $200 from the Shrine's Material Objective Fund. This money was made on a recent fashion show and will go to the J'Neal Foundation.

The public is invited to attend the installation and remain for refreshments.

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many kind friends for their kindness and sympathy extended to us during the illness and death of our father and husband.

Hurlburt Named Head NCEA Unit

Dr. Allan S. Hurlburt, chairman of the department of administration at East Carolina Teachers College, will serve as president of the college unit of the North Carolina Education Association for the 1949-1950 term. He was chosen for the office at a faculty meeting held on the campus this week.

Dr. Hurlburt, who came to East Carolina from Cornell University, joined the college staff in 1947. He is head of the communications center on the campus and has engaged in extension work offered by the college in various towns and counties in eastern North Carolina.

Other NCEA officers chosen for the coming school year are Mrs. Ellen Carroll, teacher in the campus Training School, vice president, and Dorothy Lewis, of the business education department, secretary-treasurer.

N.C. Artists Paintings To Feature Festival

The N.C. Artists' Twelfth Annual Exhibition will be the main exhibit of paintings for the Annual Community Art Festival which opens Wednesday March 30th and runs through Sunday April 3rd. The N.C. Artists' Annual was assembled in the fall by the N.C. State Art Society for its annual meeting in early December.

Artists throughout the state are invited to submit works for this annual show. From the works submitted a jury selects the number to be shown and also selects those to be awarded prizes. The State Art Society gives $1,000 in prizes for this show. For the 12th Annual 244 works were submitted. These came from artists throughout the state and from N.C. artists now working in other states. The jury selected 82 paintings, prints and sculptures to be shown in the exhibition. The entire show, including the prize winning paintings, will be in Greenville for the Art Festival.

In Raleigh the show was so popular it was held over for an additional ten days. In Chapel Hill it met with equal interest and enthusiasm. The Art Festival Committee invites not only the citizens of Greenville but those throughout the eastern part of the state to visit the exhibit while it is here. Paintings will be hung in the local art gallery on the second floor of Sheppard Memorial Library, on the main floor of the library and in the Woman's Club building.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keel announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Anne, on March 26 in Pitt General hospital.

Mrs. Charlie Lee Hardee

Hardee-McGlohon
Miss Patsy McGlohon, daughter of Mrs. Nina McGlohon of Winterville, and Charlie Lee Hardee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hardee of Greenville, were united in marriage in the Winterville Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, March 19th, at 3:30 o'clock.

Rev. E. S. Cole, pastor of the church, officiated and a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Howard Bodkin of Greenville and Mr. J. B. Smith of Washington, N.C., cousin of the bride, as soloist. Mr. Smith's selections were "Because" by De Hardlot and "Through the Years" by Vincent Youmans.

The church with its background of fern, bright greenery and white gladiolus illuminated by the soft glow of many white candles formed a lovely setting for the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, K. W. McGlohon, of Norfolk, Va. Her wedding gown of frosty white satin and chantilly lace was made with tight fitting bodice, scalloped on to a lace yoke, tight fitting lace sleeves that ended in points over the hand. Her full skirt ended in a semi-train. Her finger tip veil of illusion bordered with lace fell from a tiara of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with white orchid showered with frezias.

Miss Peggy McGlohon, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was a lovely model of white taffeta having a long fitted bodice with off the shoulder scalloped bertha and full intricate shirred skirt. Her most becoming white taffeta bonnet and matching mits completed her costume. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of red and white carnations.

Misses Jean and Annie Rea Hardee, sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids. Their costumes of white taffeta were identical to that of the maid of honor and they carried fan-shaped bouquets of red carnations.

Mr. Charlie Hardee, father of the groom, attended his son as best man. The ushers were W. D. McGlohon of Ayden, Bryant McGlohon of Washington, D.C., brothers of the bride, Hugh Hardee Jr. of Grimesland, Cousin of the groom, and Bill McGlohon of Winterville.

The bride's mother was becomingly dressed in navy alpaca crepe with navy and white accessories and Mrs. Hardee, mother of the groom, wore navy faille with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of baby orchids.

The bride, a blonde of beauty and charm, was educated in the Winterville schools and at East Carolina Teachers College. She now holds a position with Redisco. Mr. Hardee was educated in the Grimesland schools and State College at Raleigh. He now holds a position with Blount-Harvey Co. in Greenville.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hardee will be at home in Winterville.

For traveling Mrs. Hardee chose a navy costume suit with navy accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

On Friday evening after the rehearsal Mr. and Mrs. K. W. McGlohon entertained informally for the wedding party at the home of Mrs. Nina McGlohon.

Immediately following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McLawhorn Jr. entertained at a reception at their lovely home out from Winterville.

Upon arrival the guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. McLawhorn and introduced to the receiving line composed of Mrs. McGlohon, Mr. and Mrs. Hardee, the bride and groom, and the two bridesmaids and maid of honor.

An artistic arrangement of white carnations, garza mums and fern centered the table which was covered with an exquisite cloth of Irish linen. Silver holders with long white tapers and bonbon dishes filled with decorated mints and salted nuts were placed at intervals. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cox served lime ice and Mrs. Johnnie Hardee served the bridal cakes. A three-tiered wedding cake surmounted by a mini-ture bride and groom placed on a serving table was later cut by the bride and groom and their wedding party.

In the rear hall Mr. and Mrs. Wayland McGlohon registered the guests.

Bidding adieu to the large number who called were Mr. and Mrs. K. W. McGlohon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardee were entertained many times and were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

A Lenten Prayer

Wait Patiently for Him
... Let patience have its perfect work ... James 1:4. Read Psalms 40:1-5.

There is a worldly patience that spells complacency. It belongs to those who have grown tired and lost faith, and so compromise with life. The worldly-patient are content to have things as they are, including the evil. To every suggestion for improvement they answer, We are not yet ready for that.

There is also a worldly impatience. It belongs to the spoiled children of life who want the universe remolded to their hearts' desires. The worldly-impatient will have things their own way or they will not have them at all. They fret themselves because of evil-doers, always judging them by their own standards.

But there is also a heavenly impatience which does not rest till the will of God be done. Those who had that grace turned the world upside down.

And this is not contrary to heavenly patience which desires only the will of God and is willing to wait for it though, a thousand times, its own will must be set aside. The patient Christian is not deceived by short-cuts to the Kingdom; he waits upon the Lord and renews his strength.

Let Us Pray: Not my will, O Lord, but thine be done. Amen.

Hobson Pittman To Have Exhibit At Art Festival

Members of the exhibit committee of the Art Festival are happy to announce that Hobson Pittman, native of Edgecombe County, nationally known artist, represented in collections of major museums and galleries; instructor in art at Pennsylvania State College; member of national art competition juries, will have a painting on exhibit during the Art Festival opening Wednesday March 30.

Mr. Pittman served on the jury to select the paintings for the N. C. Artists' Annual. The State Art Society invited him to show one of his own paintings for the annual meeting. He was glad to accept the invitation and said he wanted his painting to go "on tour" with the 12th Annual.

Christian Science Service
"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, March 27.

Golden Text: Philippians 4:8
"Whatever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding." (Jeremiah 51:10 to 15). And from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "All the real is eternal." (Page 353).

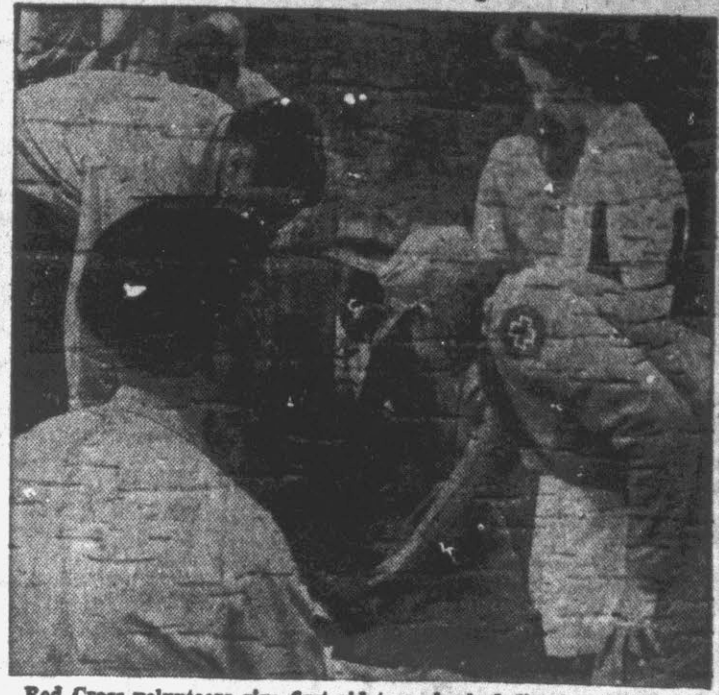

Garden Club Presents Margaret C. Cole For Art Festival

Margaret Cochrane Cole, nationally known flower show judge and exhibitor, writer and lecturer of Bronxville, N.Y., will give a program on Flower Arrangements at the Woman's Club next Saturday morning, April 2 at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Cole comes to Greenville under the auspices of the Garden Club to give a special program for the Art Festival.

Mrs. Cole is well known in North Carolina where she has taught many schools for flower show judges under the sponsorship of the N. C. Garden Club and the Extension Division of State College. She is greatly in demand as a judge, as well as a teacher. She served as one of the judges for the current Flower Show in New York. Last week she taught a school in Wilmington and this week she is teaching in Asheville and Durham. She will come to Greenville from Durham on Friday evening.

The program Saturday morning is free to the public and garden club members and the public generally are cordially invited to see Mrs. Cole in her demonstration work.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHAT ABOUT CLASSES?
We wonder sometimes as we read of controversy in legislative halls
and elsewhere, whether the people involved in these controversies are thinking of their own class or of their country. There are businessmen for whom the whole of life is purely a matter of increased dividends and bigger salaries. There are labor leaders who would gladly destroy society as it is if, out of the chaos, they could create what they are pleased to call a classless society.

The truth of the matter is that there will probably always be considerable class consciousness in the world. This does not have to be snobbish; it may quite legitimately
center about certain varied desires and achievements. If we put our country first, then all the class problems in the country will take care of themselves.

There do not have to be higher classes and lower classes. Classes can exist on an equilateral basis,
one group of men being interested
in one type of activity and another group of men in another type. But let us remember that if we should ever lose our country, we would lose
with it that multitude of blessings which exist within the scope of our national life.

God first, country next—out of this initial arrangement of life's values, concord and true prosperity
will grow.

IT'S YOUR BUSINESS

Frankly we don't like the idea of people running for public office and then turning around and voting themselves salary increases without the consent of the people who elected them. Such an action is in the process of taking place unless the people of our county advise our Senator and Representatives in Raleigh our wishes with regard to the request of the county commissioners for pay increases.

We realize that the renovation program of the court house in the past few months
has added extra duties to members of the board of commissioners but this project has now been completed and we don't feel that the extra time that has been required of the commissioners
justifies the increase they have requested.

If there are to be any further increases in salaries of elective officers in Pitt County we feel that the matter should be placed to a vote of the people in regular election and let them decide on the salaries and the men who are to fill the offices at such salaries.

If you feel that the pay of the commissioners should be increased or if you feel that they should not be increased by legislative act, get in touch with our legislators at once. They want to know what you think about the matter and their actions will be governed accordingly.

JOBS—Some of those who had been assured, or who confidently expected, endorsement by Senator J. M. Broughton for positions with the federal government are disturbed about probable attitude of Senator Frank Graham. Prior to the death of Senator Broughton three weeks ago he and Senator Hoey had based upon nominations for several positions in which both were concerned. It is expected that Senator Graham will go along with these commitments. As to individual selections by Senator Broughton for his personal office staff as well as for other places, the new senator

may be expected to consider these applicants on merit but not feel bound by tentative promises made
by his predecessor.

CUSTOM—Just as custom has been to have one senator from the east and one from the west, so it has been to let each senator control patronage in his own area. As for the middle district federal court
and personnel in the office of the collector of internal revenue, nominations for major appointments are made by agreement between the senators. Blanketing many employees of these offices under civil service a few years ago took away
a lot of senatorial patronage, but there are still a dozen or more good jobs in each subject to presidential appointment upon recommendation of the senators.

PETTY—Senator Graham may find, as senators and governors before him have discovered to their dismay, that for the first few weeks
after he takes the oath as senator
he may be required to devote more time and energy to job applicants
and petty politics than to the statecraft for which his abilities are so well suited. Aspirants might take a leaf from the Scott-Graham notebook and realize that one of the surest ways to get a good appointment is not to ask for it. That isn't in political tradition, but recent experience indicates it might be good political practice.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS—Who are the obstructionists in the general assembly, and what is being obstructed? Answer depends entirely upon the individual viewpoint of the person making the charge. Governor Scott contends that those who decline to go along with his full program are impeding state progress. Members of the somewhat vague "school bloc" charge that all who fail to follow their suggestions
for spending many millions of dollars above prospective revenue are motivated by desire to destroy the public school system. On the other side, advocates of a balanced budget
and what they believe a sound fiscal policy, charge the big spenders with attempt to bankrupt the state and precipitate a socialistic revolution.
Then there is a smaller group, both
in and out of the general assembly,
which holds all the others party

right and partly wrong.

ELEPHANT—When one man referred to the 30 million dollars cus-tion fund as a white elephant, another was reminded of the story of the elephant and the blind men.
One blind man felt the elephant's side and was certain the animal was like a wall; another got his hands
on the elephant's tail and was convinced of similarity to a rope; the fellow who felt a leg thought the animal very like a tree, and so on—
"And so these men of Indostan
Disputed loud and long,
Each in his own opinion
Exceeding stout and strong.
Though each was partly in the right—
They all were in the wrong."

PERSPECTIVE—Almost the same effect is achieved by looking too intently at one part of the animal—or the state program—as by blindness. There isn't much hope for the congenital blind, but if the rest would back off a ways and get perspective on the whole picture adjustment and compromise can be reached.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

North Bergen, N. J.—(AP)—The British labor government's most successful post-war export to America
goes back home this week.

She's a new kind of diplomat—
Ada Fishburn, a 24-year-old factory girl, daughter of a coal miner.

We've had her here on a one-
month swap for an American girl,
who traded jobs with her for that period. The idea of the American girl was that an exchange of factory workers would help international understanding.

And it has worked with Ada, the first British girl to come.

"Ask me to come back again and I won't say no," she said.

She has probably been the most feted English woman to visit these shores since her own Queen Elizabeth, but as she says:

"I'ven't let it go to my head. I said I wouldn't and I haven't."

Unanswered by America's luxurious indoor bathtubs and its robust outdoor manhood, she is returning content to the land and the lad she left behind her.

The land is the mine-pitted country of Durham near the Scottish border. And the lad is Robert Lancaster, her boy friend for many months. She said he wrote "and said he missed me."

It would have been very easy for Ada, a girl who never had been away from home overnight, to have lost her head. She got a 24-karat welcome. She worked days at a factory job, but her nights have been a round of glamorous entertainment.

She has seen Manhattan from the deepest subway—"not so clean as our tubes in London. Oh, they're beautiful in London"—to the peak of the empire state building. "That was a right."

She has been in an exclusive night club in New York—so excited she didn't eat a bite—tasted spinach for the first time in her life—and couldn't stomach it—it "tasted strong."

She has met some political leaders—gone to two wrestling exhibitions (they impressed her more)—
had her hair done by a Ritzy Fifth Avenue salon and liked it less than her own $4 permanent—spoken on the radio eight or nine times.

All this has puzzled her some, but unsettled her not at all.

"I am not sophisticated," she said.
"I am an ordinary factory girl—a lucky one."

"England never sent us a better Ambassador," said her boss, Walter Simpson, president of the Duro Text Corp. "She hasn't become spoiled in the least by her reception."

One reason is the unshakable personal dignity of this small, blue-eyed, fair-haired girl. She has enjoyed her Cinderella role and is reconciled to the fact that midnight
always strikes for Cinderella.

"I have so much to tell me mom,"
she said. She will take with her many happy memories and leave behind her many pleasant remembrances. She has been very popular here with her fellow workers.

"They just treat me as one of their own," she said. "I've never felt lonely. It's the people I met here I'll miss when I've gone back—more than the food. I shan't forget a one."
The factory boys and girls throw a surprise party for her and gave her a robe and some slippers. She has many other presents—$100 from an anonymous well-wisher, earrings, Bubble gum, clothing and, for some odd reason, tea.

Ada worked for $40 a week here compared to $15 at home. She is a top worker and had no difficulty
keeping pace in an American factory. But she isn't sure whether the higher salary here meant she could live better.

"The food is dearer," she said,
"but clothing costs much less. And the rents—I couldn't live with me family here. And how much do you pay for a doctor?"

What does she like most about America?

"The quickness of it. It's a very rush business. And the gadgets.
There isn't so much work to do
around the house here."
Would she like to stay longer?
"I never expected to have the opportunity to come to America,"
she said. "I've been in a daze. I'm here. But home is home."
Ada will leave something behind her, take something with her when she goes—a fair and fine exchange in human understanding between ordinary people working in peace.

WASHINGTON LETTER... by Gene Eads

Washington—A fascinating story
of how American dollars are paying
for much of the rapid and far-
reaching development of Saudi Arabia, yet not costing American taxpayers a cent, is being written by Richard H. Sanger.

Mr. Sanger, tall, soft-spoken, sand-
dy-haired assistant chief of the State Department's Near Eastern
Division, told me that what is going on is "a good example of President Truman's Point Four in action."

Saudi Arabia, which 20 years ago
boasted no American residents, now
has 5,000. Only 92 of them were
there five years ago. Twenty years ago no American money had been invested there. Now more than $350-
000,000 has been invested.

In his "The Challenge of Arabia"
which he expects to be published

within a few months, Mr. Sanger deals chiefly with Saudi Arabia's
economic development in a few recent years . . . harbors, highways,
hospitals, airlines, railroads, irrigation, agriculture, education.

King Ibn Saud is spending for this development large sums of his fabulous income, which he receives chiefly from American firms who are developing Arabia's vast oil reserves and its newly opened gold mines near the Red Sea.

The Arabian American Oil Co.
alone pays him a royalty of 23 cents
a barrel, which totalled $10,000,000
in 1948 and is expected to reach $50,000,000 in 1950.

"The great thing," Mr. Sanger told me, "is that Saudi Arabia is paying for this development out of the money it earns this way, and what we are doing is what the President asks us to do—make the technical know-how available."

In his book he will also deal with Saudi Arabian historical data and reveal some of the colorful facets of life in this fabulous country of some 610,000 square miles and about 5-250,000 population.

King Ibn Saud, now going on 70,
never saw a modern city until he visited Cairo in 1943. He had kept mostly to his palace—equipped with telephones and push-buttons—in the walled city of Riyadh. In a series of adjoining palaces live the king's 36 sons. When Ibn Saud fares forth to his desert acres, he lives in a four-room silk-lined tent, complete,
nevertheless, with a modern bath room.

WASHINGTON LETTER... by Gene Eads

Washington—A fascinating story
of how American dollars are paying
for much of the rapid and far-
reaching development of Saudi Arabia, yet not costing American tax-
payers a cent, is being written by Richard H. Sanger.

Mr. Sanger, tall, soft-spoken, sand-
dy-haired assistant chief of the
State Department's Near Eastern
Division, told me that what is go-
ing on is "a good example of President Truman's Point Four in action."

Saudi Arabia, which 20 years ago
boasted no American residents, now
has 5,000. Only 92 of them were
there five years ago. Twenty years
ago no American money had been invested there. Now more than $350-
000,000 has been invested.

In his "The Challenge of Arabia"
which he expects to be published

Ski-Plane Rescues Seven Fliers Stranded In Arctic

Edmonton, Alta., March 28—(AP)—A ski-equipped U.S. Air Force Dakota late yesterday rescued seven American airmen from the barren waste of Ellesmere Island inside the Arctic Circle.

The seven had crash-landed Thursday in a U.S. C-52 cargo plane while on a 1,000 mile flight from Broblicher Bay on Baffin Island to Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island. Their plane was 700 miles off course when it ran low on fuel.

At the Greenville, S.C., airbase, six of the seven airmen were identified as 1st Lt. Harold B. Murray, 1st Lt. Gerland D. McCrea, 1st Lt. Walter L. Kemp, Sgt. Edward L. Blatz, Sgt. Alvin H. Griffith and S. Sgt. Sempel C. Lilly. The men were all assigned to the 75th Troop Carrier Squadron. Hometown addresses were not available and base officials said they did not know who the seventh person aboard the plane was.

Details of the rescue were lacking. Air Commodore Martin Costello, in charge of rescue operations for the Royal Canadian Air Force, sent a two-word message: "Evacuation successful." Earlier reports from the downed plane said the men were unhurt and well.

Vote Adherence

Rome, March 28—(AP)—Italian adherence to the North Atlantic treaty was formally assumed last night as the Senate voted its approval.

The government-controlled Upper Chamber then turned down a Leftist proposal for treaties of friendship with Russia and her satellites.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi said he would consider such treaties with the Russian bloc only after the Soviet withdrew its opposition to Italy's entry into the United Nations. Russian vetoes have kept Italy out of the U.N. so far.

purple and very large. Phoenicia has the same coloring but blooms two weeks later and grows lower. Elegans is pink and Pride of Mobile is watermelon red. Pride of Summerville is salmon pink. Early lavender and Pulder's white tell their color by their names. Many more are available and all are exquisite. Let's make Greenville a city of azaleas.

Tomorrow's Gardens

Azaleas are blooming again! Those glorious masses of color are putting on their annual show and what can equal their beauty and charm?

As with camellias, Greenville is in a wonderful location. Even the tender Tudica varieties do well here, increasing the available colors and sizes.

What azaleas to plant and where, which colors and which types is an individual problem. Many factors enter into it. A symmetrical house of somewhat formal design is perfect when the planting is all of one color and kind. A small house may be given distinction by a combination of sizes and shapes in one color and in the large garden an infinite variety of colors and sizes may be used.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

Thousands of Protestant churches across America are observing the week of May 1 to 8—culminating in Mother's Day—as National Family Week, when emphasis will be given to "the spiritual values of family life." In many communities, Catholic and Jews will also observe the day.

The International Council of Religious Education and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ are among the major bodies asking the week's observance. Partly it comes a desire to get away from the commercialization of Mother's Day; partly it comes from a realization that the whole family must work together to make the home a moral vital institution in the life of young Americans.

According to figures compiled by the International Missionary Council, there are more than 4,000 women missionaries from churches in the United States serving in overseas missions today. About half of these women are the wives of missionaries, but also missionaries in their own right; and half are unmarried women. A large number are ordained or licensed ministers, or do the evangelistic work of ministers without ordination; while others are teachers, nurses, doctors, evangelists to women or specialists in other fields. Most Protestant denominations are now enlarging their overseas mission staffs—adding both men and women.

The American Cancer Society, through Mrs. Harold V. Mulligan, well-known Protestant Episcopal church leader, has arranged with Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish religious bodies to promote the observance of April 24 as "Cancer Sunday." Mrs. Mulligan urges ministers and rabbis to "weigh the spiritual values of this crusade against disease." She declares that volunteer workers in the fight "must seek beyond human resources for inspiration and strength to go forward."

Miss Eva Deane Kemp, of Dixon, Ky., has been named by the Methodist Church's Board of Missions and Board of Education, to head its "Crusade Scholarship Fund," which plans to expend $250,000 per year for the next four years in bringing students from foreign mission fields for study in American colleges and universities. To date 300 students have been aided; they come from some 40 countries and attend more than 60 different schools.

Tornadoes, Windstorms Leave 48-Hour Trail Of Destruction

Little Rock, Ark., March 28—(AP)—Tornadoes and lesser windstorms apparently had subsided in the South today after leaving a 48-hour trail of death, injury and destruction in eight states.

Twenty-eight persons were killed, about 200 were injured, and scores were made homeless. Property damage was heavy, but no one had attempted to estimate its total.

The storms struck mainly in sparsely populated rural areas. They ranged from Texas on the southwest to Kentucky on the Northeast. In fury they varied from Arkansas, where 17 persons died and 98 were injured, to Louisiana, where one person was hurt.

Next to Arkansas, the chief sufferer was Mississippi, where eight were killed and 46 injured.

The toll in other states: Oklahoma—Two dead, 20 injured. Texas—One dead, 26 injured. Tennessee—Several injured. Kentucky—Six injured. Missouri—Five injured.

In Washington the Red Cross made a preliminary allocation of $100,000 for the storm-stricken areas. From reports of 15 disaster workers in the field, the agency estimated that at least 300 homes had been wrecked or damaged.

Hope for relief from tornadoic weather was held out by meteorologist A. C. Gibson of the U. S. weather bureau of Atlanta. Gibson said the storm belt generally will have good weather through tomorrow at least.

Scholarship Won By Joanna Bunch

Chapel Hill, March 28.—Top scholarship awards Saturday night were presented to Joanna Bunch, Greenville, and Jean Blankenship, Asheville, as the State Dramatic Festival closed here.

Miss Bunch won the $250 scholarship while Miss Blankenship won a scholarship worth $125. Miss Bunch represented Greenville High School and Miss Blankenship, Lee Edwards High School. The scholarships, known as the Parkway Playhouse Scholarships, were sponsored by the Burnsville School of Fine Art and the Carolina Dramatic Association. Senator-designate Frank P. Graham presented the awards.

Additional production awards went to Lee Edwards High School, Asheville, and to Salem College.

Education Work By Cancer Group

The educational program of the Pitt County unit of the American Cancer Society has now been established on an all-year basis, and a committee has been appointed on the work. Past records indicate that the lives of 1400 North Carolinians will be saved, and as many more could be saved in 1949, if they secure and use the necessary information concerning treatment. The purpose of the educational committee is to furnish to the people of Pitt County the latest approved information concerning cancer control.

The committee is headed by D. H. Conley, superintendent of public schools. Working with him are Wyatt Brown, press; Charles V. Morgan, senior sanitary officer of Pitt County, radio and film; Dr. J. L. Winstead, Pitt medical and dental society representative; Mrs. Obed Castello, president of the FTA rural groups. The committee has set up a speakers' bureau, whose service is available to groups staging programs.

The work of the American Cancer Society is done by volunteer workers, and anyone who wishes to help will be welcomed by the committee and executive board who may be reached by calling telephone 3720.

Committee Will Take Over UNC

Raleigh, March 28—(AP)—A four-man committee will administer the University of North Carolina while a successor to President Frank P. Graham is being sought. The executive committee of the University's board of trustees Saturday accepted Dr. Graham's resignation "with regret." The committee stipulated, however, that his resignation not be effective until he takes the oath of office as a U. S. senator.

Dr. Graham is scheduled to take the oath in Washington tomorrow. Governor Scott, who in a surprise move last Tuesday named Graham to succeed the late Senator J. Melville Broughton, plans to attend the swearing-in ceremony.

The committee which will administer the institutions will be composed of Comptroller W. D. Marshall and the chancellors of the university's three branches—R. B. House of the university at Chapel Hill, John Harrelson of N. C. State College and W. C. Jackson of the Woman's College.

Medicos Gather In New Assembly

Charlotte, March 28—(AP)—North Carolina's family doctors flocked to Charlotte today to learn the latest advancements in medicine.

The men who cure anything from Johnny's tummy ache to snake bite gathered for a general assembly of the North Carolina Academy of General Practice, a group that was formed only last year.

The assembly was opened with the presidential address by Dr. John R. Bender of Winston-Salem and a report by Dr. Roscoe D. McMillan of Red Springs, the academy's secretary-treasurer.

CHURCH SUPPER AT RED MEN'S HALL WEDNESDAY

Big Farewell For University Head

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 28—(AP)—More than 1,500 persons came by yesterday to wish "Dr. Frank" Godspeed in his new job.

Frank Porter Graham, who on Tuesday will take his seat as a U. S. Senator, said goodbye at an "open house" at the State University president's home where he has lived nearly 20 years.

Students, faculty members, alumni and townspeople swarmed across the wide lawn to pay tribute to the man Governor Scott picked last week to succeed the late J. Melville Broughton.

In a brief talk, with Mrs. Graham standing at his side, the newly-appointed Senator said:

My wife, and I say goodbye to you from the bottom of our hearts. "As I told the Governor, this has been the most difficult decision of my life. I say that because, in this place, this institution, and you people have been such a deep and happy part of my life for more than 40 years.

"But we will be back. We can never really leave this place. In accepting this position, I felt that I had your understanding and your prayers in this task to which your Governor and your state have called me. I can simply say that we thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

Dream House Is Reward For Girl

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—The dream house built for Heroine Roberts Lee, 14, was presented her in blue ribbon yesterday to the accompaniment of music by a band and speeches by dignitaries.

The girl, who suffered severe burns in rescuing four half brothers and sisters from their flaming home Feb. 15, was allowed to leave the hospital only long enough for the ceremonies.

Still swathed in yards of bandages, she arrived at her new home in a police car with a nurse and physicians. Michael Sexton, president of the Chicago District Council of Carpenters, presented her a gold key, symbolic of ownership of the house. Then, with a pair of scissors, she snipped a blue ribbon which had been stretched around the house and walked in while a 40-piece band played on a rostrum nearby.

Speakers at the ceremonies, in which the girl also was presented a gold medal for heroism, included Mayor Martin H. Kennelly.

The home, carpeted but not yet furnished, was built with money contributed by hundreds of persons who wanted to help reward Roberts for her bravery. Members of building trades unions donated the work. In addition to the home the girl received a $10,000 cash fund.

Law School Dean To Retire Soon

Chapel Hill, March 28—(AP)—Robert H. Wetach, dean of the University of North Carolina Law School since 1941, will retire from that post in June.

He will be succeeded by Prof. Henry L. Brandis, who joined the law school faculty in 1940.

Announcement of the change was made here yesterday.

Communist Tried In Sedition Case

Sydney, Australia, March 28—(AP)—The general secretary of the Australian Communist party was charged with sedition today for pledging support to Russia if Soviet troops should enter Australia.

The Communist leader, Lawrence Louis Sharkey, pleaded innocent at a special session of federal court. He elected to be tried by a jury.

Sharkey faces two charges—one of uttering seditious words and one of publishing seditious words on or about March 4.

Opening of the case revealed a split within trade unions generally considered Communist-dominated. Many thousand members of the militant longshoremen and coal miners union refused to protest the prosecution of Sharkey. Of 23,000 men in the wharf laborers union, only 5,000 obeyed an order of the federal executive to strike at the hour court opened. There were no other major work stoppages.

This, said the newspaper Sydney Sun, gave the Communist leaders one of their greatest industrial rebuffs in years.

World production of oil now has surpassed more than nine million barrels a day.

Larger Attendance For Regional Music Event

Approximately 150 school boys and girls from thirteen North Carolina towns visited East Carolina Teachers College Saturday and participated in events of the annual southeastern regional festival sponsored by the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs.

The festival was the second to be held at the college. Sixty-three students of the northeastern district met here on March 13 for a similar series of performances by young musicians.

Towns represented on the East Carolina campus today were Wilmington, New Bern, Morehead City, Ayden, Kinston, Pollocksville, Kenansville, Warsaw, Pines Grove, Scotland Neck, Hookerton, Fremont, and Goldsboro. Students of music who were present ranged from beginners to advanced students and included both vocalists and instrumentalists.

Morning and afternoon sessions included 107 events and extended into the early evening. Performances were rated by four judges: Stuart Pratt, Meredith College; Jocelyn House, State School for the Blind;

Flora Canady, head of the department of music in the Smithfield schools; and Gladys B. Reichard, East Carolina Teachers College.

Fannie K. Lewis of Scotlant Neck, director of the festival, was assisted by Mrs. Allan Easley of Wake Forest, state chairman of Federation festivals, and Ivor Aycock of Fremont, chairman of the East Carolina faculty were local chairmen.

Three of the students present for the festival were chosen to represent the southeastern district in competitions for scholarships. Janice Turnage of Ayden will compete for the Samuel Goodman vocal scholarship to the Julliard School of Music summer school; Bobby Hesse of New Bern, for the scholarship in piano offered by the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs; and Emerson Head of Wilmington, for the Tyngsboro Summer Camp scholarship for instrumentalists.

The Isle of Wight, in the British Channel, has a total area of less than 150 square miles.

Deported Canadian Says J. S. Technique Like Nazis

Vancouver, B.C., March 28—(AP)—John Goss, prominent Vancouver musician barred from the world peace conference in New York, said tonight the technique used by investigating United States immigration authorities was "similar to that used by the Nazis in 1933."

Goss flew here yesterday after being ordered to leave the U.S.

He said in an interview he was invited to the conference by its chairman, Harvard University astronomer Dr. Harlow Shapley, to speak on "War Psychology and Its Effect on the Work of Artists."

At the opening banquet Friday night, he said, he was apprehended by federal agents and interrogated for two hours.

"Basis of the entire interrogation," he said, was his connection with Canada's Labor-Progressive party.

"I told them I am not a member of the L-P-P, but as sympathetic to its aims. It is doing splendid work in promoting international understanding, and I will continue to support it," Goss said.

"I didn't get quarrelsome during the grilling, but pointed out that the technique was similar to that used by the Nazis in 1933."

"They knew a great deal about me, especially my participation in Labor Day rallies in Seattle and other U.S. centers."

The conference, he said, was "definitely not" communist-dominated and is concerned only with averting another war.

Start Season

By the Associated Press
North Carolina's Tar Heels begin defense of their Southern Conference baseball crown today.

The Tar Heels, who won three of four engagements in a Florida invasion last week, face Washington and Lee's Generals at Chapel Hill.

Six other conference clubs are busy today with outside foes. Duke takes to the road for a tussle with Georgia at Athens, and Davidson's Wildcats invade Presbyterian. The other three circuit outfits remain at home, South Carolina entertaining Michigan State, Wake Forest meeting Randolph-Macon and Virginia Tech playing host to Hamilton College.

Shatter Records In Florida Relays

Gainesville, Fla., March 28—(AP)—Byrl Thompson, Minnesota sophomore, smashed two records and was chosen the outstanding athlete of the sixth annual Florida Relays Saturday.

He shared honors with Bill Albans, a North Carolina freshman, who set three new marks and lost his coaches' ballot for best performer by one vote.

Thompson spun the discus 160 ft. 2 5-8 inches, more than a foot farther than the record hung up a year ago by Fortune Gordien, also of Minnesota. Thompson also broke Gordien's shot put mark with a throw of 49 feet 4 inches.

Albans broad jumped 23 feet 3 inches, won the 120-yard high hurdle race in 14.4 seconds and tied his teammate Bill Joyner with a high jump of 6 feet 4 1-16 inches.

Martin Korik of Tennessee pole vaulted 14 feet 1 5-8 inches—10 inches above the old mark. Records also fell in two relay events. Maryland's one-mile team did it in 3 minutes 22.3 seconds. Minnesota's two-mile foursome turned in a 7 minute 53.2 seconds performance.

Cases Tried In Police Court

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts found Ben Lang guilty of passing a school bus while loading passengers and fined him $20.

Assault with a deadly weapon: Paul Harper, colored, $25; Anthony Oswald Jr., colored, 30 days or $20; Leroy Telfair and Ruth Telfair were not guilty.

Jessie Battle, colored, was not guilty of disorderly conduct.

Clifford E. Ippock, no operator's license, no prosed with leave.

Robert E. Williams, dog at large, not prosed with leave.

Melissa Sneed, colored, paid $15 for disorderly conduct and profane language.

Harvey Phillips, colored, was not guilty of reckless driving.

Probable cause was found against John H. Worsley, colored, for breaking and entering and larceny, and he was bound over to Superior Court.

The case of Joseph H. Kirchner, abandonment and non-support, was transferred to Superior Court for jury trial.

Henry Whitehurst, Beulah Tyson and Walter B. Kinion each paid $15 for being drunk.

Feller's Hurling Not Up To Par

San Diego, Calif., March 28—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians' five starting pitchers, Rapid Robert Feller has the least impressive record for two weeks of exhibition-game hurling.

But Bob shows signs of reaching form—although he does not want to hit his peak until mid-April.

In six innings to yesterday, Feller was nipped for five earned runs. In five frames of yesterday's 4-3 Tribe victory over San Francisco, Feller yielded only one earned run. He scattered five hits, threw more loosely and gained control as he went along.

CANT SIT! PIN-WORMS cause Itching and that awful ITCH!

Waking sleep, almost going mad because of a nagging rectal itch! This may be a warning sign of Pin-Worms, tiny internal pests that cause even more serious trouble.

Grimesland Gobs On Pacific Coast Meet

Three sailors from Grimesland met in San Diego recently when their respective ships were anchored in the harbor at the same time.

The Pitt county men were Francis B. Allen, QMS, attached to the USS Purse DD 882, Louis G. Moore, SN and Richard C. Hardee SN, both attached to the USS Toledo.

France Revising German Border

Paris, March 28—(AP)—The French foreign office announced today that 53 square miles will be sliced off of Germany and switched to France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

In all, 31 localities having 13,500 persons are involved in the border realignment. The change is being made on a provisional basis.

Permanence of the change will depend on an eventual peace treaty with Germany.

Germans reacted bitterly.

Endurance Plane Kept In Florida

Miami, Fla., March 28—(AP)—Adverse flying conditions to the west will keep California's endurance fliers in this area at least two more days.

A spokesman said the fliers had planned to take their "Sunkist Lady" to Tallahassee, Fla., tomorrow on the return journey to California but reports of bad weather in the New Orleans and Tallahassee areas would keep them here "at least two more days."

East Carolina Orchestra Makes Debut In Concert Here April 3

The East Carolina Orchestra, directed by Dr. Rudolph R. Willmann of East Carolina Teachers College, will make its first public appearance, April 3, in a concert for the Community Arts Festival staged in Greenville March 30, April 3. The orchestra will give an afternoon concert in the auditorium of the city Woman's club building at 4:00 o'clock.

Organized last November, the East Carolina Orchestra is made up of 24 members, including college students and faculty members and musicians from Greenville and other towns in Pitt county. Practices have been held weekly on the campus during the past five months, and a program is now ready to be presented to the public.

Dr. Willmann, the director, is chairman of the department of music at the college. Through his efforts, the orchestra was organized as a contribution to the cultural activities of this section of the state.

The program next Saturday afternoon will open with Haydn's Concerto for Trumpet in B flat, played by John R. Arant, trumpeter and member of the Greenville High school music department, and Mrs. Guy Smith of Greenville, pianist.

Numbers by the orchestra will be Bizet's "Intermezzo" from "L'Arlesienne Suite," Haydn's "Clock" symphony, Beethoven's "Country Dance No. 1," and Boccherini's "Minuet Celebre."

Robert B. Gaskins of New Bern, student of music at East Carolina Teachers College, arranged the Boccherini number for the East Carolina Orchestra. Gaskins now a senior, is cellist for the group.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: violin, Karl V. Gilbert, Richard C. David, John Humber, Cornelia Keuzenkamp, Lucy Nulton, Sam Quinerly, Juanita Stokes, Don Schlienz, and Vernon Tyson; cello, Martha Gilbert and Robert B. Gaskins; double bass, C. C. Hughes; flute, Donald Adcock and David Gilbert; Clarinet, Eibel Clement and William Adcock; oboe, Nina Abernethy; trumpet, J. R. Arant and Herbert Dale; trombone, Rodney Roberts and Boyd Elliot; horn, Edward Benson and Ralph Lee Rogers; and tympani, Bill Lee.

Boy Reportedly Admits Slaying

Pond Du Lac, Wis., March 28—(AP)—District Attorney Jerold Murphy said yesterday that a 12-year-old boy has admitted he killed Michael Strobel, 7, by strangling last Wednesday.

Murphy said the boy, a relative to Michael, sobbingly related that he choked the child by twisting a belt around his neck and dangling him above the floor until the body became limp.

It all happened, police said the boy explained, because he had bumped his head as he tussled with Michael to get him into bed and "when I bump my head it makes me mad."

TO DO ONE THING WELL

The chief objective of every one should be to do one thing well. Your doctor accomplished this objective when he spent years of his life in preparing himself to care for you when you need medical attention. How foolish, then, to depend on others. When illness comes to you or any member of your family consult your physician without delay. Be sure that he is a licensed M.D. from an accredited school of medicine. On Murderer's Skirts

By Terry Adler

Chapter 9
"Do you mean to say," said Ellen, "that you knew he was dead and yet you've been sitting here all this time without saying a word about it?"
"I didn't see that talking about it would help matters any. I called the morgue as soon as I could."
She looked at him, shocked and disbelieving covering her features.
"What kind of person are you, anyway?" There was hate in her voice and the tears were glistening over her cheeks unheeded. "I suppose he's just another specimen to you. I suppose it didn't occur to you that he might have been a real live human being and that he might have had friends who care what happened to him. Sure, I know you called the morgue. 'Come on over boys. There's a body here!' You make me sick. You know what you are—you're nothing but a cold legalized ghoul!"
At this point Dr. Fenton walked in the room.
"Ellen, Worden was just in my office. It was a long pitched wail, almost a murmur, and Raff looked up to see a slight, sandy-haired man with thick glasses.
"I'm afraid it is, Dr. Fenton. Ellen was still crying. "Dr. Rafferty. Ellen has already called the morgue."
"I sent Worden to notify the dean. He brought me the note that he left." In his hands he had the type-written note Raff had seen on Bray's desk. Fenton looked at the piece of paper and then at Raff.
"Is he all-I mean—how did he...?" Fenton hesitated.
"No," volunteered Raff. "It was cyanide, administered by hypo." He watched Fenton closely as he gave him the information.
Fenton shuddered. "May the Lord have mercy on his soul," he murmured.
There was a silence for a few minutes, and to Raff the other two seemed numb.
Finally Ellen said, "I'd better call Mrs. Bray." Her voice was dull and expressionless.
She reached for the telephone reluctantly. Raff stopped her.
"I'll tell Mrs. Bray, but I think it would be kinder to tell her personally. My car is downstairs, and if you come with me we can go over there now."
She looked at him with suspicion. "Why this sudden desire to be so kind?"
"I'm not a complete heel," he said. Besides, he thought, it's a good chance to get you alone where you can explain a thing or three.
As he maneuvered the car out of the parking space he found himself thinking that coat of hers must have cost plenty.
Raff turned from her and stared straight ahead.
"I'm sorry if I appeared so inhumanly unconcerned," Ellen said nothing.
"You see, it was very important that I made sure that I was the first one to discover the body," he explained.

"Why? Was someone offering a price? There was contempt in her voice, but at least she was listening. He slowed down, pulled the car over to the curb, and turned to look full into her face.
"I didn't know Bray," he said very deliberately. "But I know a phony suicide when I see one."
"Phony!" Her eyes widened. "Are you sure?"
"I'm afraid so."
"But why? I mean—how do you know?"
"It's very simple, Miss Carter. When I walked into Bray's room there were no lights on. I would judge that he had been dead for about nine or ten hours. That means he died around midnight last night. Do you see now why it's a phony set-up?"
She shook her head. "No, I don't get the connection at all."
"You've probably never tried to administer a hypodermic. But I can tell you that a man just can't sit down in total darkness and poke a needle into his vein. Certainly not as neatly as the one lodged in Bray's arm! And I can also tell you that a man who has just committed suicide is in no condition to get up and turn out the lights. No, Miss Carter, someone—somebody very much alive—turned out those lights after Bray was dead. Of course, it could have been the janitor, or anyone else who innocently wandered into Bray's room. But in that case, why keep quiet about it? When I walked through the hall toward your office everything was nice and quiet. No commotion, nobody had found a dead body. That's why I didn't say anything to you. I wanted to find out for sure whether someone had accidentally gone into Bray's room this morning and found him there. You see, there's only one person who would have turned out the lights and kept quiet about it."
"The murderer, of course."
"Murderer!"
"Yes, I think it's murder. It was rigged up to look like suicide."
"But you don't suppose Professor Bray would have sat meekly by while someone murdered him! Wouldn't he have put up a struggle?"
"My hunch is that someone—the murderer—poked that needle into Bray any place he could, probably in the back when Bray wasn't looking. And after Bray was dead it was easy enough to arrange the body any way you like."
"But all this is just a hunch. You really can't ever know."
"It was almost a question."
He regarded her soberly.
"Miss Carter," he said softly, "if the autopsy shows another puncture mark somewhere on the body, we'll know."
A small sigh escaped her, but she said nothing.
"I'm glad! It sounds crazy, but I'm glad! He just wasn't the type to shirk responsibility. The Brays haven't any money, and his little boy has been sick for over a year. He was the nicest, kindest person I've ever known." She buried her face in her hands. Raff pulled out a handkerchief from his pocket and gave it to her.
"It's funny, he thought, I'm supposed to be out saving lives, and here I am hoping that this is really murder!"

professionals and trades will be observed in the receipt of bids and the award of the work. All bidders must be duly licensed as contractors by the State of North Carolina at the time of submitting their bid and as provided by G. S. 105-64, Subsection B, before undertaking to execute any contract.
A bidder's certified check for 5% of the bid must accompany each bid. (In lieu thereof a bidder may offer a certified check for 3% of the bid plus a bid bond of 2% of the bid.) As required by law, all certified checks submitted with proposals shall be drawn on a bank or trust company authorized to do business in North Carolina. Said deposit to be retained by the Owner as liquidated damages in event of a failure of the successful bidder to execute the contract within ten days after the award or to give satisfactory surety as required by law.
A performance bond is required in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of all persons supplying labor and furnishing materials for the construction of the project. This bond must be acceptable to the Board of Trustees, Greenville City School Administrative Unit.
No informal bids will be received. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities.
The award of the contract will be conditioned upon funds being made available for construction and the Owner reserves the right to hold the bids for a period of 30 days after the date of the opening thereof.
J. H. ROSE, Secretary, Board of Trustees, Greenville City School Administrative Unit, Greenville, North Carolina.
James W. Griffith, Jr., Architect, Greenville, North Carolina.

Bush and Bog Harrow
Here is the harrow for real tough tilling... for heavy soil, chopping trash, discing cover crops, darning new land. Gages are reversible so the notched, sharp-cutting blades throw dirt out or in.
Extra uses, too! You can make ditches by tilting gages down in middle... or tilt up the middle for making beds. Can be attached to Ford Tractor in one minute, lifted and lowered by Ford Hydraulic Touch Control. Blades are clear of ground for road travel, turning and backing into corners. A great time and work saver! See it!

Didn't Show Up

Fayetteville, N. C., March 22—(AP)—Did the "hermit of the Cape Fear" decide to skip marriage and go his lonely way?

That's the question folks here were asking today after 73-year-old J. W. Williams failed to appear with his intended bride at the Free Gospel Tabernacle last night as scheduled.

Some 2,500 people waited in vain inside and outside the specially decorated church their cars created a traffic jam and folks were packed several deep outside the church windows.

The name of the intended bride never was disclosed.

The pastor, the Rev. W. J. Lynch expressed deep disappointment when the couple failed to appear. He said Williams has been a regular attendant at his services. The pastor said last week he had been authorized by Williams to announce that he would be wed Sunday.

A widower, Williams attracted statewide attention when he emerged from a swampland home last Dec. 21. The poorly dressed, unshaven man said he had lived alone in a tiny shanty 20 years. Fayetteville people gave him clothing, food and money.

Since then he has been caretaker of a lodge near here

Diplomats Plan Europe Assembly

London, March 22 (AP) Diplomats of 10 nations began shaping the final details today of a long-sought political dream, a parliament of Europe.

The 16 countries are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy and Elre.

They expect to spend the next week or two settling the few remaining differences. In this step toward European unity.

The foreign ministers of the 10 countries probably will meet in London soon after Easter to give their final approval.

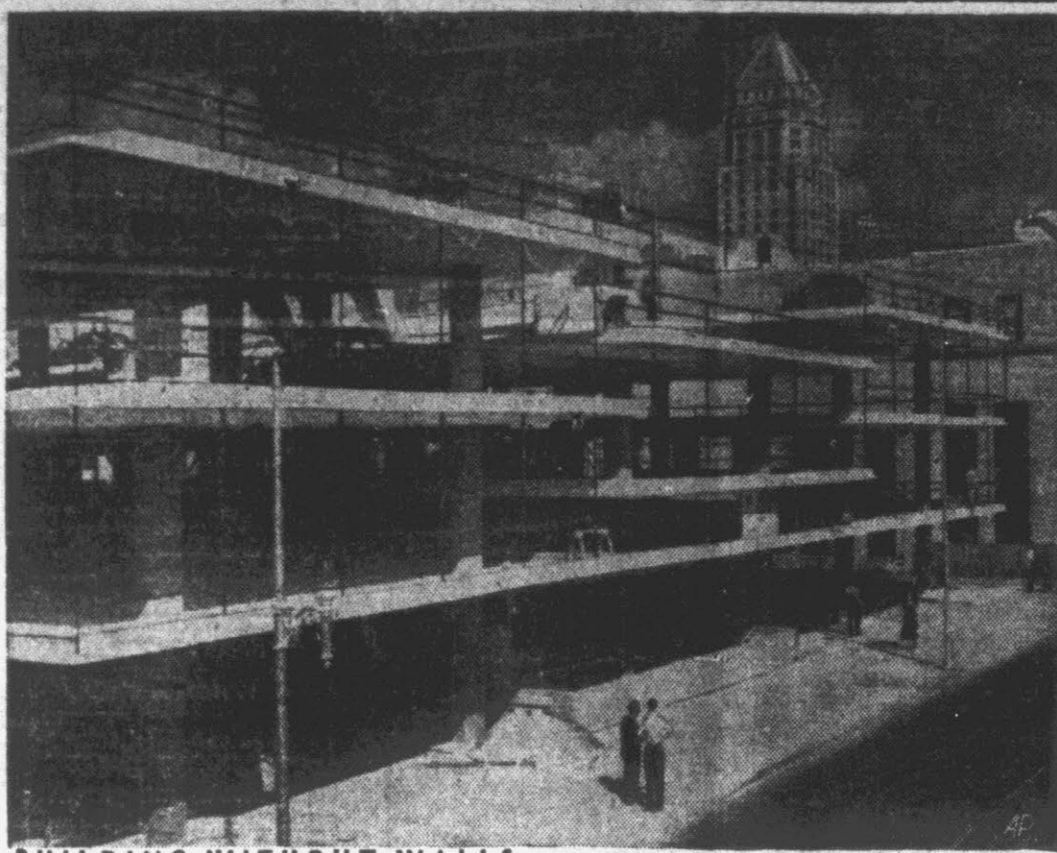

The first Parliament of Europe may convene this summer, probably at Strasbourg, France. The present talks center on a draft constitution. It was drawn up by the five Brussels pact powers, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The Brussels powers invited the other five nations to join the movement as founding members.

The draft calls for a council of ministers—virtually a cabinet of Europe—and a consultative assembly. The assembly could make only recommendations. It will not deal with military or defense matters.

Since 1908, the Masjid-i-Sulaiman oil field in Iran has yielded 924 million barrels of crude oil.

The first telescope is believed to have been constructed by Lippershey in Holland about 1600.

BUILDING WITHOUT WALLS—Made of poured reinforced concrete, without walls, and three "decks" high, this parking garage in Miami, Fla., has a capacity of 360 automobiles.

Funeral Rites For Capt. Charles Mayo Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for Capt. Charles Harris Mayo, 29, who was killed in a plane crash 60 miles north of Salta, Argentina, February 17, will be conducted at the home near Greenville at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. H. G. Haney, pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church. Burial will be in the Mayo family cemetery.

Military honors will be presented at the grave by a detachment from Pope Field, Fort Bragg.

Captain Mayo was born and reared near Greenville and attended the Greenville schools, graduating from Greenville high school in 1936. He attended ECTC for two years and then N.C. State College, graduating in 1941. He then enlisted in the Army Air Corps and was later commissioned a second lieutenant. He served in the South Pacific during the war and later in the United States before being sent to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he was attached to the U.S. Embassy at the time of his death. He had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Silver Star, Air Medal, Purple Heart and recently a Green Instrument Card showing seven years active service and 2,000 flying hours, making him a senior pilot.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Mayo of near Greenville; 11 brothers, Wilbur Mayo of Hilton Village, Va., L. A. Mayo of Morristown, N.J., Bruce, James and Alton Mayo of N.C. State College, and John, Robert, Edward, Ralph, George and Samuel, all of the home; and two sisters, Mattie Harris Mayo of Hampton, Va., and Lula Mayo of the home.

Commissioners . . .

(Continued from page one) thought about it. He urged that the citizens take the trouble to advise him their sentiments either for or against the proposal in order that he might act for the interests of the people of the county.

Truman's Labor . . .

In which a couple of unions quarrel with each other over going a certain job. They have no quarrel with the employer but one of them strikes to make him do business with it. Secondary boycotts—the bill outlaws one kind. T-H outlawed them generally. The Wagner act permitted them.

Salvo Of Praise . . .

(Continued from page one) A. A. Fadeyev, chief Russian delegate and noted Soviet author, won loud applause from the Garden's capacity audience last night with an assertion that "our country, the Soviet Union, stands for peace and friendship among peoples, because we are first and foremost a state of plain people."

Coal Miners . . .

(Continued from page one) night got ready for the early-morning shifts. Fire bosses and maintenance men went into the pits to check safety requirements. And, in some states including Pennsylvania, special safety inspections had been completed.

Cat-and-Mouse . . .

(Continued from page one) United States ordered that no materials with a war potential could be shipped into the iron curtain area. That embargo has become almost complete.

Last December Tito told his nation that trade with the Soviet Union would also be cut short. Moscow had decided that it would ship to Yugoslavia in 1948 just one-eighth of what it did last year. So Yugoslavia lives half isolated both from Communism and democracy.

But Tito has kept his power in the seven months since he was cold shouldered by the Moscow-created Cominform. He still controls both the army and the secret police, and he has just received a vote of confidence from the Yugoslav Communist party.

In the last weeks news reports from Belgrade have said that both American and British steel companies have been in Yugoslavia looking over the possibilities of putting up a small steel industry.

In both London and Washington there are signs that Tito is being watched for some point at which both governments will decide to back him by letting him buy the machinery he needs to strengthen his country, and hence to strengthen himself.

The British minister of state, Hector McNeill, has just told the House of Commons that he hopes no British move "will embarrass the Yugoslav government." He thought the nation had been "ruthlessly treated by the Soviets, the Poles and the Albanians."

American policy makers are less outspoken right now. But they are watching Tito for what power he has to hold on to his government, and to hold it to the purely "what is good for Yugoslavia" line. When and if they decide he will not be showed around by the Kremlin he will get permission to buy the sort of American machinery he needs. That may come soon. Right now Washington is feeling out the soft spots in Belgrade. So are the Russians. It adds up to the colossal cat-and-mouse game now going on in Belgrade.
