German Leaders Protest Treaty Not Sufficient

Occupation Statute Said Prohibiting Enough Freedom To Run Own Affairs

Bonn, Germany, April 11—(AP)—The Western allies have given Germany a treaty returning a measure of self-government to that defeated country but the Germans say it doesn't give them enough freedom to run their own affairs.

The treaty—called an occupation statute—was handed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the German Parliamentary council, yesterday by representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France.

The Parliamentary council is charged with writing a constitution for a German Republic composed of the occupation zones of the three western powers. The occupation statute would become effective as soon as this new German government is set up. This may be July 1.

Dr. Adenauer and other political leaders have agreed to withhold comment on the treaty for 48 hours, but the German press lost no time in attacking it.

The newspapers object particularly to provisions giving the allies continued control of German science and foreign trade relations.

The Berlin Sozialdemokrat, organ of the Social Democratic party called allied control of scientific research "intolerable" and declared "the German economy will be able to compete on world markets only if it is allowed to develop its industries technically."

Allied control of research was intended to prevent German development of any new means of war potential.

Under the statute the Germans will have full independence in domestic matters other than those specifically reserved to the three powers.

They will have a free legislature, executive and courts.

The occupation powers pledge respect for the civil rights of persons against arbitrary arrest, search, seizure and unfair trial. They also pledge to review the statute after a year.

The three western countries will continue to handle Germany's disarmament and foreign affairs; they will rule the Ruhr—iron and steel center which was the German arsenal in the last two wars—and decide what big business trusts should be broken up; displaced persons will continue an allied responsibility as will the custody of convicted war criminals.

Calls On South Vote Republican

Durham, N.C., April 11—(AP)—The national Young Republican chairman says "the G.O.P. and the people of the South are the lone champions of states' rights." He called on Southerners to vote Republican.

John F. Becker of Fort Chester, N.Y., chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, spoke here Saturday. He told the North Carolina Young Republican policy conference to work for a strong two-party system in the South. "The South must compromise with its tradition of voting for a Democrat label instead of issues and principles," he said.

Pair Indicted On Narcotics Count

Spartanburg, S.C., April 11—(AP)—Indictments charging John Edgar Skipper, 42, and his wife, Pansy Walker Skipper, of Bessemer City, N.C., with violation of the narcotics laws were returned by the grand jury today in federal district court here.

They are charged with possessing and disposing of 60 morphine sulfate tablets in Cherokee County.

Truman Anniversary

A Review On The Eve Of President Truman's Fourth Anniversary In The White House; Years Of Climaxes, Tensions, Prosperity; Little Progress Made

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Four years ago tomorrow, April 12, Harry S. Truman became President when President Roosevelt died.

What has he done in those four years, and what has happened to him, us, and the world?

Senator Would Fit Arms Aid In General Spending Plans

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) said today western European re-arming proposals must be fitted into the general pattern of foreign economic and domestic defense programs.

In a statement interpreted as putting him on the side of those who think some reductions may be possible in other foreign aid and military spending, Connally called for coordination of all the programs.

"This is all one big undertaking and it ought to be arranged so that one doesn't hamper the other," the Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman told reporters.

Connally refused, however, to predict publicly whether it will be possible to make savings in the proposed recovery outlay or in military costs at home.

This point was raised hopefully last week by members of Congress after Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, presidential economic adviser, made remarks interpreted as indicating he opposes any increase in President Truman's $41,900,000,000 budget to meet foreign arms costs.

Mr. Truman said the proposal to furnish military supplies to other countries would be sent to Congress as a separate item. He left some doubt however, whether other costs could be trimmed to meet the expected $1,250,000,000 foreign arms program now being discussed.

It seems generally agreed that most of any U. S. arms aid would be for the European ground forces although air power would figure in it.

Secretary of the Army Royal, in testimony given March 7 and released over the past week-end, said that European leaders had been seen at a recent visit stressed "the importance of land forces for Europe x x x these nations are devoting much the greater part of their resources to their ground armies."

Royal also reported to the House Appropriations Committee, that western European leaders were intensely interested in increasing the number of American troops in Europe, if possible. However, only this week-end Secretary of State Acheson said he had no reason to believe that occupation forces would be either greater or smaller as the result of last week's Anglo-French-American agreement on German policies.

Senator George (D-Ga.), a Foreign Relations member, said he thinks there can be some savings in the overall total for the foreign economic, foreign arms aid and domestic defense programs.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), an Appropriations committee member has demanded to know whether there are plans to give Great Britain 150 B-29 bombers as a part of the rearmament proposal.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Senate Armed Services Committee has promised to try to find out this week whether there is any truth in these reports.

Urges More Funds For Research In Air Speed

Symington Says U. S. Fliers Have Flown Much Faster Than Speed Of Sound But Research Facilities Limited

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Air Force pilots have flown hundreds of miles per hour beyond the speed of sound, Air Secretary Symington reported today.

He did not say how many hundreds of miles per hour beyond the speed of sound at sea level is 754 miles an hour.

Symington testified before a House Armed Services subcommittee in support of legislation to authorize a $311,000,000 program for transonic and supersonic (faster than sound) research.

The bill was endorsed by witnesses representing the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics the Air Force, Navy, Army, and the Research and Development Board.

Symington said the nation's present wind tunnels and other research facilities are "totally inadequate" to meet "competition among the world powers for supremacy in this new field."

When allied troops entered Germany in 1945, he added, they found that German scientists were working on wind tunnels comparable to those that would be provided under the proposed bill.

"It is perhaps significant enough to submit for the consideration of this committee the fact that it is known that many of these great German aerodynamics scientists are now working in other countries," he said.

The bill would authorize $44,000,000 to build up to 13 transonic or supersonic wind tunnels at schools throughout the country; $150,000,000 for expanding the Langley Aeronautical Laboratory at Langley Field, Va.; $6,600,000 for the Navy's Taylor Model Basin at Carderock Md., and $150,000,000 to build a new air engineering development center for the Air Force.

Sees Desperate Move Over Oleo

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) said today that butter producers who want to ban interstate shipment of colored oleomargarine are resorting to "a rather desperate move."

"And it's a move that won't give the butter industry much protection," George told reporters.

George is chairman of the Senate Finance committee, which is conducting hearings on two oleomargarine bills.

Months passed, was to ditch price controls, let prices run free. Mr. Truman wanted against it.

His own Democrats were in control of Congress but, spearheaded by the Republicans, they cut the legs from under OPA. It soon died.

Prices shot through the roof, bringing the country a great inflation. They're still skyhigh, may be coming down a bit now.

Mr. Truman had tried a honeymoon with Congress in his early days as President. But that ended in a bust and never has been patched up.

Voters, fed up with the Democrats, gave the Republicans control in 1946. It was Mr. Truman's worst defeat.

He reversed that in 1948 with his own election, biggest surprise in American political history. And the Democrats won control of Congress again.

Lawmakers Face Troubled Week

Raleigh, April 11—(AP)—Snarls over major legislation confronted Raleigh lawmakers coming back to Raleigh today to start the 15th week of their 1949 session.

Threatened stalemates over the problems of appropriations and rural roads offer the prospect of extending the current session a couple of weeks.

Both Senate and House meet tonight at 8 p.m.

The Senate Appropriations Committee is slated to take the next step in the problem of appropriations. It is expected to begin consideration tomorrow of a $417,000,000 biennial spending bill which the House passed last week.

The bill, as it stands, calls for spending about $37,000,000 more than anticipated revenue for the biennium.

Senator Edwin Pate of Scotland Senate Appropriations chairman indicated the bill is for a slashing.

"It is very evident that amendments are badly needed," he said. "When an appropriations bill is more than $37,000,000 out of balance, you need to give serious, long consideration to it."

Economy forces in the House, after three days of debate, abandoned efforts to trim the measure last week. The net reduction voted by the House was only about $681,000.

Television Plea Nets A Million

New York, April 11—(AP)—The total pledged for the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer fund through comedian Milton Berle's 16-hour television appeal may be almost $1,250,000.

The National Broadcasting Company said the compilation had reached $1,010,401 last night, and telegraphed pledges still were pouring in.

NBC said final figures might be in today. An estimated 10,000,000 persons saw and heard the show broadcast by stations in 12 cities from Boston to Washington to St. Louis.

College Demonstrators Are Taken Into Custody

New York, April 11—(AP)—Twenty-five demonstrators were taken into custody today as some 300 students of the College of the City of New York picketed their campus.

The students demanded suspension of two faculty members whom they accuse of anti-Semitism.

Nine of the arrested students, five women and four men, were charged with disorderly conduct. No charges were placed immediately against the others. Police said they were arrested because they refused to move away from the main college entrance.

The pickets, chanting and carrying placards, took up their posts in front of various campus buildings 40 minutes before classes were to begin.

Chinese Reds Reportedly Postpone Peace Deadline

Nanking, April 11—(AP)—Semi-official sources said tonight the Communists had postponed until Friday the deadline for the government's answer to peace proposals.

Originally the answer to the Red demand for virtual surrender of government troops was due tomorrow.

Assurances have been given, Chinese sources said, that the Reds will not cross the Yangtze River before Friday.

Government leaders pondered their answer during the day. Residents who were able deserted the capital.

The sound of artillery fire was audible in Nanking last night. Red troops attacked a Nationalist bridgehead on the north side of the Yangtze six miles from the city.

The capital was jittery. The whole Yangtze front extending from the sea inland 650 miles looked for the Communist smash southward. Scattered engagements were reported along the far flung front.

The Communists have announced the operation is a softening up process for the river crossing still south of Nanking.

Military observers still found no indication of how soon the major assault would take place.

Newspapers said Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung was taking an active part in peace talks at Peiping. They said Mao conferred Friday with Nationalist Delegation Chairman Chang Chih-chun and with other Nationalist negotiators on Saturday.

The main point being discussed by Nationalist generals here today was concessions to be made on the Communist demand for joint reorganization of the army.

European Relief Fund Nears Test In Lower House

Washington, April 11—(AP)—A Democrat stepped up today to sponsor a 10 cent fund cut as the house pushed toward a showdown on the new European recovery program.

That gives the campaign in the house for a cut a bi-partisan tint. But backers of the Marshall plan insist they have the votes to block any major slash.

Rep. Preston (D-Ga) told reporters he is going to try for a reduction of around 10 per cent, or about $500,000,000. Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) already had announced he would attempt a similar cut, applied a little differently.

And Rep. Taber (R-NY) said the program could stand a trimming of more than 20 per cent—something beyond $1,000,000,000.

There were similar efforts in the Senate to cut the $5,500,000,000 authorization but they failed.

Even the House people who want to lower the amount say they favor aid to western Europe for another 15 months. And many of those who are against a bill of any size concede they are going to get licked.

"I'm going to vote against it," Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) remarked. "But I don't think I'll make a speech. What's the use."

The house moved today's session up an hour, to 11 a. m. to polish off 50 minutes of debate and then start the bill through the amending process.

A resolution denouncing the campaign by the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) was adopted by the 1,642 delegates just before they ended their three-day meeting.

The resolution followed the line of Tito's speech before the congress on Saturday in which he attacked the Cominform campaign.

The resolution termed "so called criticism rude insults and slanders" against Yugoslavia.

It said the campaign was damaging not only the interests of Yugoslavia but also was harming all "socialist" countries.

Then it added: "Reactionary forces, which by means of various facts and plots against peace are engineering a new war, make full use of this campaign as a weapon in the struggle against the forces of socialism, against the forces of peace in the world, and especially against peace in the Balkans."

The resolution also called for unity among the Yugoslav people.

Newest Shrine Is Open To Public

Fairfax, Va., April 11—(AP)—"Woodlawn," America's newest shrine, formally was opened to the public today.

The estate which George Washington decided to his adopted daughter, Nellie Curtis, as a wedding gift, officially became a shrine February 22 when the property passed to Woodlawn Public Foundation, Inc.

In ceremonies on Washington's birthday, Governor Tuck presented the key to Foundation President George M. Morris on behalf of the estate of the late Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood.

Head-On Crash Is Fatal For Two

Keyser, W.Va., April 11—(AP)—A head-on smash between two coupe automobiles yesterday took two lives and resulted in injuries to 11 persons, all of them from Vindex, Md.

Police said the two cars, one of them carrying ten people, collided on a slight bend on Route 38 about four miles north of Kitzmiller, Md. All the occupants except one were thrown to the pavement and both cars were demolished.

Tobacco 'Envoy' Says Trip Well Worth His Time

J. Con Lanier, Greenville attorney and executive secretary and general counsel for the Leaf Tobacco Exporters' Association and the Tobacco Association of the United States, who went to Europe recently on a "good will mission" for American grown tobacco, has completed his visitations among manufacturers in England. He went to Paris last Thursday to confer with tobacco manufacturers there. This week he is conferring with tobacco importers and manufacturers in Belgium and Holland.

In a letter to his office in Greenville, Mr. Lanier states that his trip has been well worth the while and that he has learned much about the European angle of leaf tobacco from the importers' and manufacturers' standpoint.

Lanier will sail from England on the SS Queen Mary April 25 on his return trip to the United States.

Question Of Colonies

Disposition Of Italy's African Colonies May See Birth Of New Kingdom; Idea Approved By Britain; The Senussi; Their Sufferings And New Prospects

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Disposition of Italy's African colonies may see the birth of a new kingdom in the Mediterranean country of Cyrenaica under the Emir Sayid Mohammed Idris El Senussi, the princely personage who is regarded as both religious and temporal ruler by his people.

The question of the colonies is now before the political committee of the United Nations general assembly. The United States, which is the eastern British of Libya, be placed under British trusteeship.

Britain has two reasons for liking this solution. One is that during the war she promised the Senussi (a Moslem religious sect of Arabs) that, as Italian rule, they would be returned to Italian rule. The other, and perhaps more significant, is that Cyrenaica is a powerful military base, dominating the main shipping route through the Mediterranean. America is mightily interested in that fact, too.

Back in December of '43, while Montgomery was in process of driving Rommel eastward across the desert, I visited Libya and later had a long talk in Cairo with the Emir Sayid, who is better known as the Grand Senussi. He told me he expected his people to receive their freedom, and while we didn't discuss his personal ambitions I have no doubt that he hoped to take his place as ruler. Certainly some prominent Senussi whom I met were working to that end.

The Senussi suffered cruelly as Mussolini drove them out from their coastal farms which had been tilled by their ancestors since the days when Cleopatra basked in the sun beside the blue waters which was the Libyan shore. Natives told me that thousands of their people perished in the desert to which they were driven without the wherewithal to care for themselves. Thousands more are said to have died in Italian camps.

Then Mussolini put thousands of Italian colonists on the farms, and developed the land systematically. (Continued on page ten)

Backers Of Full Sum Passed By Senate Claim Sufficient Votes Against Cut

Hoover Believes Requests Padded

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the armed services apparently are "padding" their requests to Congress for money.

From a study of the figures, he said, the Senate Armed Services Committee "it is difficult to escape the conclusion that some padding has been a fairly general practice."

The committee is studying changes in the law which put the Army, Navy and Air Force under a single department. Hoover was called as a witness because he has headed a commission which has put in months of study on possible improvements in the government's organization.

Hoover gave the committee a report from a so-called "task force" which studied the military establishment for the Hoover commission.

This report said "Our military budget system has broken down."

Both budget and appropriation systems of the Army and Navy are "antiquated" and "they impede administration and interfere with the efficiency of the military establishment," the report continued. It added: "Congress allocates billions without accurate knowledge as to why they are necessary and what they are being used for."

In a separate statement, Hoover said the greatest weakness of the Army-Navy-Air Force unification law "lies in the lack of clear authority and responsibility assigned to the Secretary of Defense."

But giving the secretary more authority, Hoover went on, will not remedy the condition of the military budget which "displays a startling state of affairs."

Capital Is Left Without Papers

Washington, April 11—(AP)—A strike of about 32 mechanical workers today halted publication of the capital's newspapers for the second time within a week.

The strike of pressmen and stereotypers against the four daily papers began after an all-night "peace" meeting failed to end a wage dispute. Afternoon editions of three newspapers were the first affected.

A surprise walkout of pressmen last Wednesday left the capital without local newspapers for the first time in 70 years.

Strikers bearing "On Strike" placards started picketing entrances to the newspaper plants about an hour before the walkout got under way officially at 8 a.m. (EST). This was the first time since the afternoon editions of the Evening Star, Times-Herald and News were due on the streets.

Other workers, including members of the I.A.F.L. International Typographical (Printers) Union and the CIO Newspaper Guild of Editorial Employees, walked through the picket lines to report for their jobs.

Today's morning editions of the Post and the Times-Herald, which publishes on a 24-hour basis, were not affected.

A nine-hour meeting between Federal Mediation Director Cyrus Ching and representatives of the AFL Pressmen's and Stereotypers' Union broke up at 6 a.m. Howard T. Colvin, associate mediation director, said no settlement was reached and no plans were made for further talks.

Raleigh, N. C., April 11—(AP)—Abolition of state inspection of motor vehicles is partially responsible for an increase in automobile registrations, officials of the motor vehicles department said today.

The department reported that 854,592 motor vehicles had been registered through April 8, an increase of 84,664 over the same period of last year.

Officials expressed the opinion that part of the increase could be attributed to the fact that many old cars which were not registered last year because of the inspection program have been brought out of storage since the inspection law was repealed by the legislature.

Half-Billion Slash For VA Highlights New Money Bill

Kathy Is Dead

San Marino, Cal., April 11—(AP)—The world is a little sadder today. Little Kathy Fiscus was brought up dead from her well tomb after 52 hours.

All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame David and Alice Fiscus when the body of their tow-headed three-year old was found lying in water wedged about 10 feet down in the 14-inch pipe.

The announcement of death, by drowning, at 8:58 (PST) last night brought to a tragic end the tireless digging of weary rescuers and the anxious waiting of sympathizers everywhere.

Since sunny little Kathy, running at play, stumbled into the weed-covered well opening last Friday afternoon accounts of the attempt to reach her had stirred the nation and the rest of the world, as few stories have in years.

Even though nothing had been heard from the child since about a hour after she plunged into the abandoned old casing, hope and prayer filled most human hearts.

A crowd of more than 15,000 watched final rescue efforts. Those efforts took, in all, 52 hours, but it would have been the same if she could have been reached in two hours.

Dr. Robert McCulloch, family physician, said Kathy had been dead "since last heard from Friday afternoon," when her terrified screams drifted faintly up to her mother's efforts to have her grab a rope fast, and all was silent. There was still water in the old well after 45 years.

A Lenten Prayer

The Restoration of the Church And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? . . . Mark 11:17. Read Isaiah 56:1-8.

Christ by his love has given us the Church. He gives us also the means of its purification as often as there is need.

The Church is not ours to tamper with. Its nature was determined before we were born. However men may try to corrupt it and to change its assigned purpose, it remains the dwelling-place of God and the house of prayer for all the nations.

By the passion of Christ, the Church is made glad to suffer for the sins of the world. When it suffers for its own sins, it is moved by the divine rebuke to repent.

The Church penitent goes before the Church militant. The Church militant, led by the spirit of Christ, moves with him through Calvary toward the Resurrection, to become the Church triumphant.

May our hearts be grateful for the promised day of the overthrow of all evil in the final victory of Christ.

Let Us Pray: We give thee thanks, thou loving Christ, that in thy dark hour thou didst pray the Father to keep us from the evil, and didst share with us the glory which he gave thee. Amen.

congregation or other institution to be served. Hitherto the Church of Norway has been granting permission to Christian laymen to administer the sacraments: helping pastors, serving at institutions, in remote communities, on board ship, etc. Now this authority, plus that of baptism, is extended to select undaunted women.

"In the darkness of the present world scene, one of the rays of hope is the fact that women are identified as never before with the effort to rebuild the broken life of the world," says Miss Ruth Woodsmall, former president of the World Y. W. C. A. "Women are at the very heart of the struggle for peace, a real peace, not merely a pseudo-peace between wars. As I speak of the new power of women in world affairs, I am thinking primarily of the growing number of women taking their places of importance in civic life and in the life of the nation and the world. It is highly significant to have a woman chairman of the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations; to have as representatives in the UN gatherings women from Asia, Europe, and America; and to have women members of national legislatures. These women, as yet too few in number, are a marked recognition of the capacity of women leadership."

"Every Christian family should be a center from which a network of good influence radiates out into life," says Dr. Leland Foster Wood, of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ, in urging churches and families to observe "family week," May 1 to 8. "Christians must think in a world context and practice good neighborliness not only locally but across national and racial lines. Homes in which world problems are discussed and in which prayer is offered for people in all lands build world understanding and help to bind humanity together. Happy family relationships give a foundation for emotional health, create harmony in the home, and send out a good influence into the community. Children trained in good homes have a high average of success when they in turn marry and set up their own homes. Unhappy families create a vicious circle. Personal maladjustments as well as delinquency and crime often stem back to such homes."

Ballard's X Roads News

At the meeting of the Home Demonstration club on Wednesday afternoon, the treasurer, Mrs. L. R. Jones, announced that $206.75 was made at the barbecue and Brunswick stew supper recently sponsored by the club. The members wish to thank all who helped in any way.

The meeting opened by singing "The Quilting Party" followed by repeating the club collect.

A prayer, "The Country Home," was read by Mrs. L. R. Jones.

Mrs. Edward Allen, J. R. Gowan, H. D. Moye, C. L. Jones, Lloyd Allen and L. E. Jones gave interesting book reviews. Mrs. A. J. Garris, the family life leader, read a splendid article on "The Art of Staying Young."

The demonstration for the afternoon on the proper arrangement and hanging of pictures was given by Miss Ruth Shearin, one of the home agents.

At the business meeting plans were made for the square dance which is being sponsored by the club in the Farmville gymnasium on Thursday of this week.

A committee was appointed to see about having a water system installed in the club building. Twenty-two members were present for this meeting. Several members are planning to attend the dis-

PIN-WORMS CAN STRIKE YOU!

Serious facts are revealed by recent medical reports. One out of every three persons examined was a victim of Pin-Worms... often without suspecting it. And this ugly infection spreads rapidly through whole families, can cause serious trouble if neglected. Watch for warning signs—especially the aggravating rectal itch. Use Jones' P-W Vermifuge right away. P-W's vital ingredient is a medically-approved drug that scientifically kills Pin-Worms and removes them from the body. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets were perfected by the famous Jayne Co., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years. Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Speech Training Discussion Held

The English department at East Carolina Teachers College and the Pitt County Council of Teachers of English sponsored a speech workshop at the college on Saturday. The conference for English teachers and other interested persons was the first devoted entirely to problems of speech training to be staged on the campus here.

Present for a panel discussion in the morning and for a luncheon meeting in down-town Greenville were students and faculty members of the English and Education departments at the college, a number of civic leaders in Greenville, and teachers from public schools in Greenville, Maury, Kinston, Manteo and Belvoir.

The panel discussion held during the morning included talks on various advantages, difficulties and procedures in the teaching of speech. Edward J. Rutan of the East Carolina faculty presided, introduced the speakers, and after the scheduled talks acted as moderator during a series of questions and answers among those present.

Dr. Lucile H. Charles, director of speech and drama at East Carolina, began the morning's program with an analysis of such elements of good speech as volume, pitch, tempo, tone quality, articulation and pronunciation. Dr. Hazel Taylor, director of the testing center at the college here, discussed the diagnosis of speech disabilities and described social, educational and vocational disadvantages arising from speech difficulties.

Others on the program and the specialized subjects on which they talked were Mrs. Howard Mims of the Greenville High School, dramatics; Dr. Meredith N. Posey, East Carolina faculty member, debating; and W. E. Marshall, dean of men at the college here, radio. Mr. Rutan called attention to the importance of training in listening.

At the luncheon meeting Charles

Whedbee, program and special events director of Radio Station WCPN of Greenville, drew on his experience as an announcer to outline desirable characteristics to be developed in the student speaker. He stressed naturalness, freedom from tension, and serious effort arising from interest in one's work as essentials.

Dr. Lucile Turner, chairman of the East Carolina department of English, presided at the luncheon meeting. Other speakers included Dean Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina; Louise Greer, president of the Pitt County Council of Teachers of English; and Mary H. Greene of the college faculty.

Well That Was Fatal For Kathy 'Lost' 30 Years

San Marino, Calif., April 11—(AP)—A veteran water engineer today said the well that swallowed up little Kathy Fiscus had been "lost" for 30 years. It was bored 45 years ago in an irrigation project.

Declining use of his name, the engineer said drillers' charts in the old days were crude and often listed locations as "100 yards northeast of a certain tree" or by similar clumsy measurement.

He said he looked for this well in 1919 but couldn't find it. He said the land had been plowed many times since its abandonment. The wells are always capped when abandoned but plows sometimes snap off the caps, he said.

TRUCK ROLLED AWAY

A large truck parked on West Third Street near Pitt Street Saturday afternoon rolled away from its parking place and coasted downhill toward Pitt Street and "came to anchor" head-on against a tree in the front yard of Kinchen W. Cobb, on the corner. The truck was not damaged and Cobb told Beames Harris, the owner, when he arrived that his property was not damaged.

Homemade Blast Injures Youths

Raleigh, N. C., April 11—(AP)—Three boys remained in a hospital here today with severe injuries that resulted when a homemade explosive went off suddenly.

Howard Satterfield, Jr., 17, and Benton Sapp Satterfield, 13, were reported in an unsatisfactory condition. The condition of Heath Pemberton, 14 was reported as fair.

The three were injured by pieces of a marble table top that was shattered by the blast.

Police officers W. W. Snakenburg and C. W. Edwards said the Satterfield boys—sons of G. Howard Satterfield, chemistry professor at N. C. State College—were making the explosive in the kitchen of their home when the explosion occurred.

Pemberton walked into the kitchen just as the material exploded, the officers said they added that fourth boy had just left the house. The police said they could not find out what caused the blast.

Dr. Hugh F. McManus, Jr., quoted the older Satterfield boy as saying that he was making gunpowder, despite repeated warnings from his father against doing so.

Governor Hails VFW Birthday

Raleigh, April 11—(AP)—Governor Scott led the state in extending greetings to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in a state-wide broadcast Saturday marking the 50th anniversary of the organization.

"We North Carolinians are proud of our veterans," the governor said from Raleigh, "and we realize that we owe them a debt of gratitude as large that it can never be fully paid in cash or by another means.

"All that we can hope for is that by working together we can build a great state of which they and their children can be proud."

She Won An Elephant

Donora, Pa., April 11—(AP)—What would you do if you won an 8,000-pound elephant?

For Mrs. Ereda Perry, wife of a Donora steelworker, that question is far from academic today.

Mrs. Perry won a circus elephant and other prizes totaling $23,600 last night for correctly identifying an old English tune—"St. Paul's Steeple"—on the American Broadcasting Company's "Stop the Music" program.

Mrs. Perry and her husband, who earns $75 a week in the American Steel and Wire Company plant, have been married three years. They do not have any children.

They were pickled pink about the prizes—including a new automobile new wardrobes, trips to London New York and the Kentucky Derby, a fur coat once worn by motion picture star Claudette Colbert, a $3,000 diamond ring, and a $1,000 investment in a Broadway show.

"But the elephant—'Gee, I don't know what I'll do with that elephant,' said Mrs. Perry as scores of neighbors poured into the Perry home last night 'We'll need help on that.'

Mr. Perry wasn't worried about anything. "This sure is wonderful. I sure picked a lucky woman for a wife."

Strength FOR THE DAY

NOTHING LOST IN THE SPIRITUAL WORLD
One of the great heroes of history about whom little is known by the general reader was the blind king of Bohemia who lived about the year 1300. John fought his last battle siding his ally, the king of France, in a struggle against Edward III of England.

As the battle waxed hot, John asked three of his nobles to guide him into the midst of the fray that he might perish there wielding his good blade valiantly. This his devoted followers did, and the next morning they were all found lying on the field of battle, their horses still tied together and dead also. This act of bravery on the part of the blind monarch of Bohemia was said to have been unparalleled in the history of war.

But there was a by-product of this act of valor which was almost as striking as the act itself. John and his nobles were slain by the soldiers of the English Prince of Wales. So impressed, however, was the young English Prince by the spectacle of heroism, that he adopted for his crest the two words, Ich Dien (I serve), which had been the motto of this Bohemian ruler.

Nothing is ever lost in the spiritual world. Many probably shook their heads after the battle and declared that John is never thrown away if an opponent so admires the courage of a hero that he adopts as motto and forever incorporates it in his crest.

YOU ARE WRITING WORLD HISTORY

Pity the philosopher-historian who records and interprets American and world events of the past ten years. His task is staggering to the imagination, for few decades of world history have seen so many changes which will shape the course of future years.

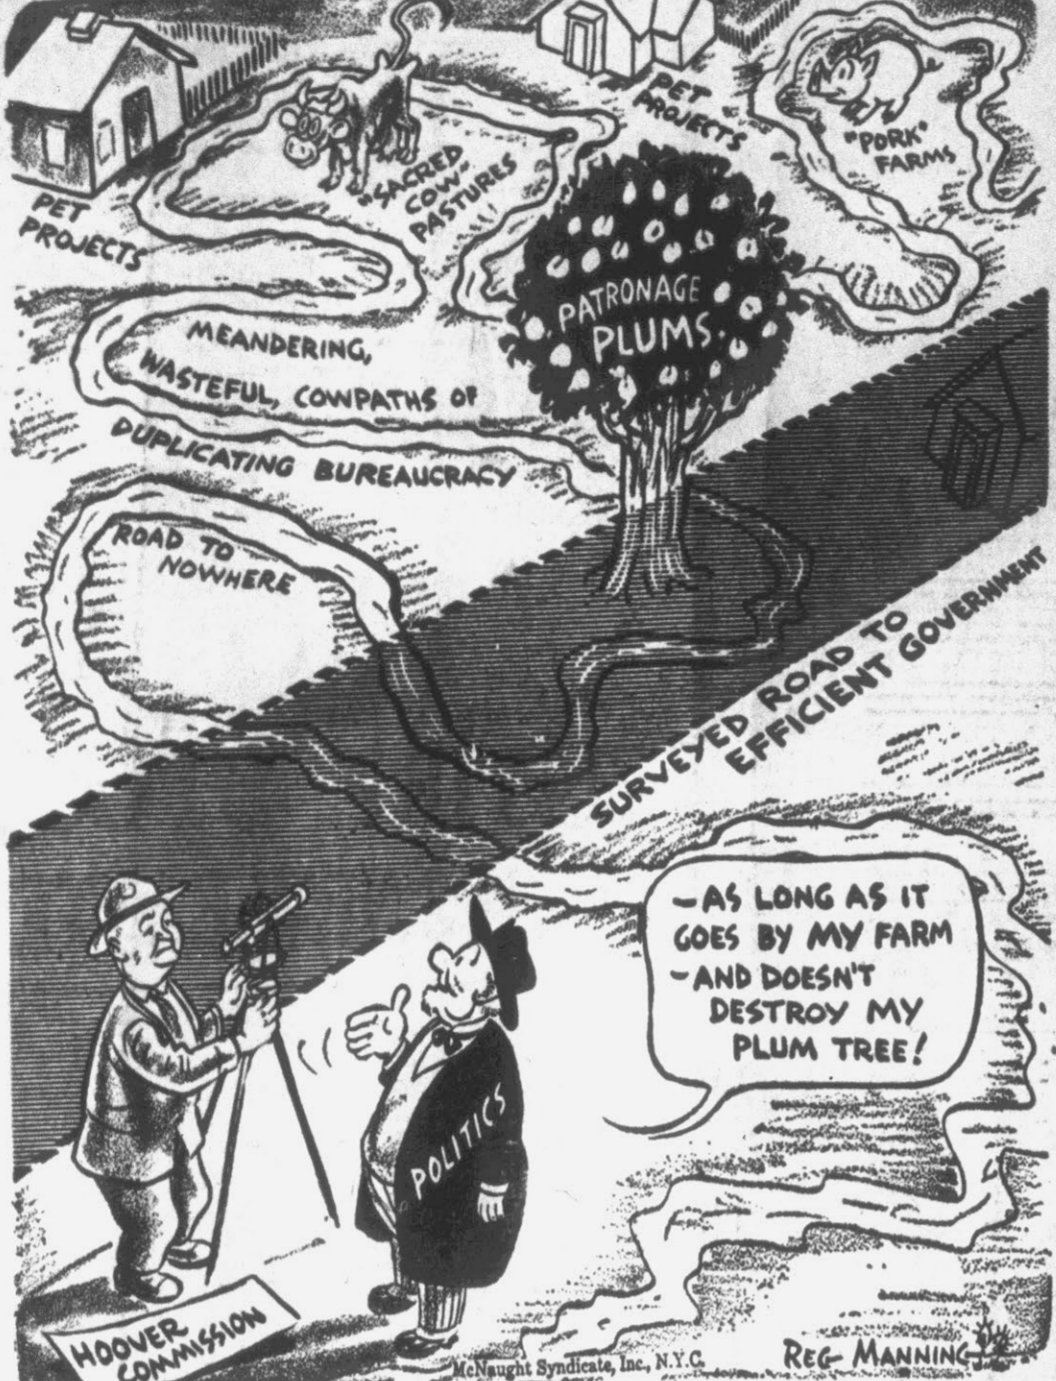

Wars have been fought; new social concepts have arisen; nations have fallen and new ones emerged. Perhaps most important of all, the government of the United States of America, and its people, have accepted the responsibility of championing freedom's cause throughout the world.

The emergence of America's world-leadership will draw especial attention. For while it was a logical step, it was not the result of individuals or political groups. It came with the acceptance of the public mind that American interests are not bounded by oceans or man-made frontiers.

We call the step logical because America's citizenry is made up of peoples of all nations; our culture is the accumulation and adaptation of the culture of all peoples; our way of life and our thinking is derived, not by the growth of a localized and circumscribed community, but by the cultivation of the best that the world of today and yesterday has to offer. Such a cosmopolitan people are the logical heirs to world leadership.

But before our government was able to assume the responsibility which is the price of such an exalted station, the majority of its people had to understand the price that they must pay, the costs of failure. What is the prize we seek? Peace, freedom and plenty. Not for just a few, but for all.

And the price? Today's current listings include: heavier taxation; patience; re-armament; a strange war, a non-shooting war, but almost as deadly; the responsibility of successfully guiding policies of our allies in their affairs at home and with one another; remaining calm in the face of provocation; preaching and driving home the Christian concept that all men are brothers.

The American public has long been interested observers of happenings abroad, but the realization that life as it is lived in far away places concerned us just as much as, say, a blizzard in the northwest, a hurricane in Florida, a tornado in the southwest. . . . That realization is something new.

Today's American is better informed on global events than ever before. Newspapers, radios, magazines and public speakers bring distant happenings to our doorsteps. It is this understanding by the people at large that has developed into a momentous change in the role we shall play among nations of the world in days and years yet unborn.

Cigarette production in the United States reached one billion a year in 1949.

Around Capitol Square

APPROVAL—In view of the many caustically critical things Governor Scott has said publicly about the general assembly, it may surprise some folks to learn that privately he has voiced commendation of their progressiveness. In a small group the other day Governor Scott remarked that whatever happens from here out, especially with respect to his pet road and school legislation, the 1949 general assembly has already accomplished enough to place in high position as a forward-looking, progressive legislature.

DISAPPOINTMENT—The governor admits disappointment at failure of the finance committee to equalize some tax loads, and he is displeased at lack of full support for his road program. He foresees likelihood of some reduction in appropriation committee figures before final enactment of the bill, especially in the public school item.

PLEASED—He further said that recognition by the assembly of the state's obligation with respect to mental hospitals, public health and welfare, conservation and agriculture was gratifying—if not entirely satisfying.

OFF-RECORD—While not made in confidence these observations were made under circumstances precluding direct quotation of the governor. His critical comments have come at open press conferences and other public occasions which put them definitely on the record, and tended to widen rather than lessen admitted differences between the executive and legislative leaders. Legislators have resented the lack of any public commendation and have been thereby encouraged to fight back rather than make more effort to co-operate.

UNCOMPROMISING—Attitude of assemblymen to the governor's uncompromising and uncompromising public statements was summed up by a veteran of many sessions "Governor Scott undoubtedly has more friends in North Carolina than I have," said this oldtimer, "but he hasn't got nearly as many friends in my county as I have. And nobody outside my county can vote for me." PURGE—This situation renders threats being made by some of the governor's staunchest supporters that they will conduct a "purge" campaign next spring to see that the next general assembly is composed of members who will follow the governor in everything. President Roosevelt found how impractical local support can be when he attempted to "purge" several senators a few years ago. Roosevelt had more friends in the United States than Senator Walter George—but he didn't have as many in Georgia. He had more in New York state than Congressman Ham Fish, but he didn't have as many in Fish's home district.

LOCAL—Members of the general assembly are state officials. Their oath of office has no preference to any county or district. But they are elected in their separate counties and largely upon purely local issues. It often happens that outspoken opposition from outside, and especially from the top, helps rather than hurt the representative among his own folks.

OPTIMISTS?—A new slant was given the continuing discussion about optimism and pessimism among legislators by an out of state visitor. He had listened for nearly an hour to debate on the appropriations bill, in which charges of optimism and pessimism were hurled back and forth. A few days before he had listened to similar argument in a congressional committee hearing. In both instances the advocates of big spending claimed opponents of proposed appropriations were pessimistic about the state's or nation's ability to meet the amounts involved.

PESSIMISTS?—He wasn't sure which were optimists and which were pessimists. Recalling that the prosperity of recent years was directly related to the war, he wondered if it could be expected to continue without another war. He had sort of sneaking idea that maybe the "optimists" were really the "pessimists." He ducked the direct question as to how he would vote if he were a member of the legislature.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(P)—What do most people who seek to win cash on radio quiz programs say they need money for?
"Illness in their family—that is the number one problem," said Todd Russell who has questioned thousands of contestants in the last five years.

"And until recently money for better housing ran a very close second."
Russell, a tall, handsome curly haired Canadian, is currently master of ceremony on "Strike It Rich," a CBS show. Each contestant on the show is given $25 to start and can win up to $800 by betting on his ability to answer a series of five questions successfully.

Contestants are screened in advance on the basis of their actual need—and the nature of the project for which they want cash.
"Some, of course, are phonies and showoffs," said Russell. "But the overwhelming majority are people who have a worthwhile reason. A surprising number don't want anything for themselves. They want to help their neighbors."
"With women it is usually a question of needing money to do something around the house or to aid some member of their family. With men it is more on a personal basis. What they want usually costs more, too. Often they want money to start a business."

Russell has found that men fare better generally than women, partly because they appear to have more general information and partly because "they are less nervous before the microphone."
Because you "can't always throw sorrow into people's ears," some contestants are chosen each week on the basis of the oddity of their reasons for wanting moolah. Such as the man with the amorous bull.
"He was a New Jersey farmer whose bull kept breaking through wooden fences to make social calls on cows in the next pasture," explained Russell. "And he won what he wanted—enough to buy an electrified fence to keep his bull at

WASHINGTON LETTER.. by Jane Eads

Washington—Donald Erdman, very shy and boyish-looking even with his small dark moustache, is biological aid to the Division of Fishes at the U. S. National Museum. He is the discoverer of what he calls the "food fish." With long narrow placers, he lifted his find deftly from a jar in which it had been preserved. It had three spines, one on top, two on the bottom. He rested it on a table on the two stiff bottom spines.
"Its real name is tricanthus indicus," he told me. "The tr means three. The "canthus" stands for spine. "Indicus" means India, where it was believed to have originated. I call it the food fish because it's not very bright. I caught more than 100 of them in an hour and a half just by balling them out with a net from the Persian gulf."

Mr. Erdman, who has been with the museum since September 1946, got the fish last May when he was invited by an oil company interested in increasing the fresh food supply for its employees. With an interpreter, a commercial fisherman and crew of Arabs he collected some 5,000 fishes, several thousand invertebrates and different varieties of seaweed.
The collection which he sent back to the National Museum, which is a part of the Smithsonian Institution, includes also some sea moths, little fish found at the water's surface and aquatic insects including beetles and water bugs.

The son of Dr. Seward Erdman, Mr. Erdman was graduated from Cornell University. A Quaker, he was a conscientious objector in World War II, serving in forestry in Massachusetts and New York states later on a rehabilitation project in Puerto Rico.
"Most of the jobs I had were as cook, gardener and general handyman but I always managed to hook in my work with fishes," he told me. "I didn't tell anyone about my interests, but every free moment I got I went and collected fish." He got about 1,000 specimens in Puerto Rico, most of which he left with the Fish and Wildlife Service. Others he didn't know about he sent to the museum. The late Dr. Samuel F. Hildebrand, former senior ichthyologist (fish expert) at the Museum got interested in the young man and finally got him his present job. Currently Mr. Erdman is studying a collection of Chinese fishes.

ECTC To Observe High School Day With Program On Thursday

High School Day will be observed at East Carolina Teachers College Thursday, April 14. The college will entertain at that time high school seniors from schools in the eastern section of North Carolina and will stage for them an all-day program. High School Day, observed for a number of years at the college and then discontinued during World War II, will be held this spring for the first time since 1941.

Seniors in 310 high schools have been invited to attend. Acceptances to invitations have been steadily arriving on the campus for the past three weeks and are still being received. More than 2,000 guests, representing 106 schools in 32 counties, are expected to attend.

Events of the day will begin at 9:00 o'clock with registration and a tour of the campus, including visits to departments of instruction. Exhibits and demonstrations have been arranged by the departments to show visitors the type of work and the equipment at the college. Several classes are scheduled to hold outdoor meetings during the morning.

The college ROTC unit will give a drill on the campus driveways at 11:00 o'clock. An assembly program will follow and will open with a concert by the college band. President John D. Meesick will welcome the group of high school students. A roll call of schools represented, music by the college choir, and group singing will be included on the program.

Events of the morning will close with a barbecue luncheon served picnic-style on the west campus. A schedule of varied entertainments, designed to meet the tastes

Non-Swimming Fireman Saved

By CHESTER WALSH
Lyman Nethercutt, Greenville fireman who cannot swim, had a narrow escape from drowning while fishing in Tar River, below Grimesland, Saturday afternoon when the small outboard motorboat in which he and John Farrell were hauling seine for shad suddenly sank. Farrell's heroic work saved him, Nethercutt said.

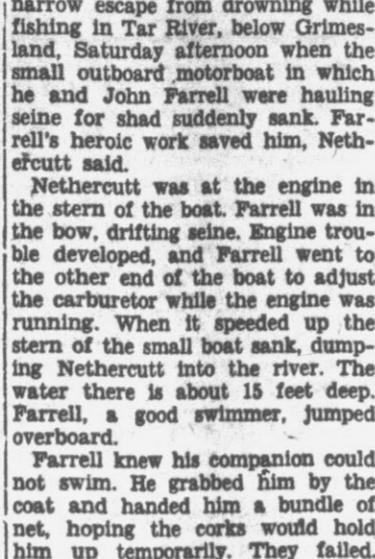

Nethercutt was at the engine in the stern of the boat. Farrell was in the bow, drifting seine. Engine trouble developed, and Farrell went to the other end of the boat to adjust the carburetor while the engine was running. When it speeded up the stern of the small boat sank, dumping Nethercutt into the river. The water there is about 15 feet deep, Farrell, a good swimmer, jumped overboard.

Farrell knew his companion could not swim. He grabbed him by the coat and handed him a bundle of net, hoping the corks would hold him up temporarily. They failed. Then Farrell reached down a foot, gave the boat a push and it came to the surface. Nethercutt clung to it. He held on until fishermen in a boat came up and they towed the craft to the boat landing. They were Harris Streitler and Coy Avery of Greenville.

The weight of both men in the end of the small boat and the sudden speeding of the engine caused the boat to sink, stern first, both men agreed.

Glee Club Heard By Appreciative Audience Friday

The Men's Glee Club of the University of North Carolina entertained an appreciative audience Friday night in the Wright auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College.

The musical program presented by the 85 men under the direction of Paul Young, vocal director of the University music department, varied from Elizabethan to modern in period and from operatic and oratorio to folk song in nature.

Two moving and effective numbers from the "early" group, representing the period of beautiful choral writing, were "I Will Not Leave You Comfortless" by Byrd and "Diffusa Est Gratia" by Palestrina. In the folk song group, many considered "Down in the Valley" arranged by Mead as most touching.

For the final number of the program, the glee club presented Philip James' setting of Vachel Lindsay's poem "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven." The singers were assisted in the interpretation by trumpet, trombone, and several percussion instruments as well as two pianos.

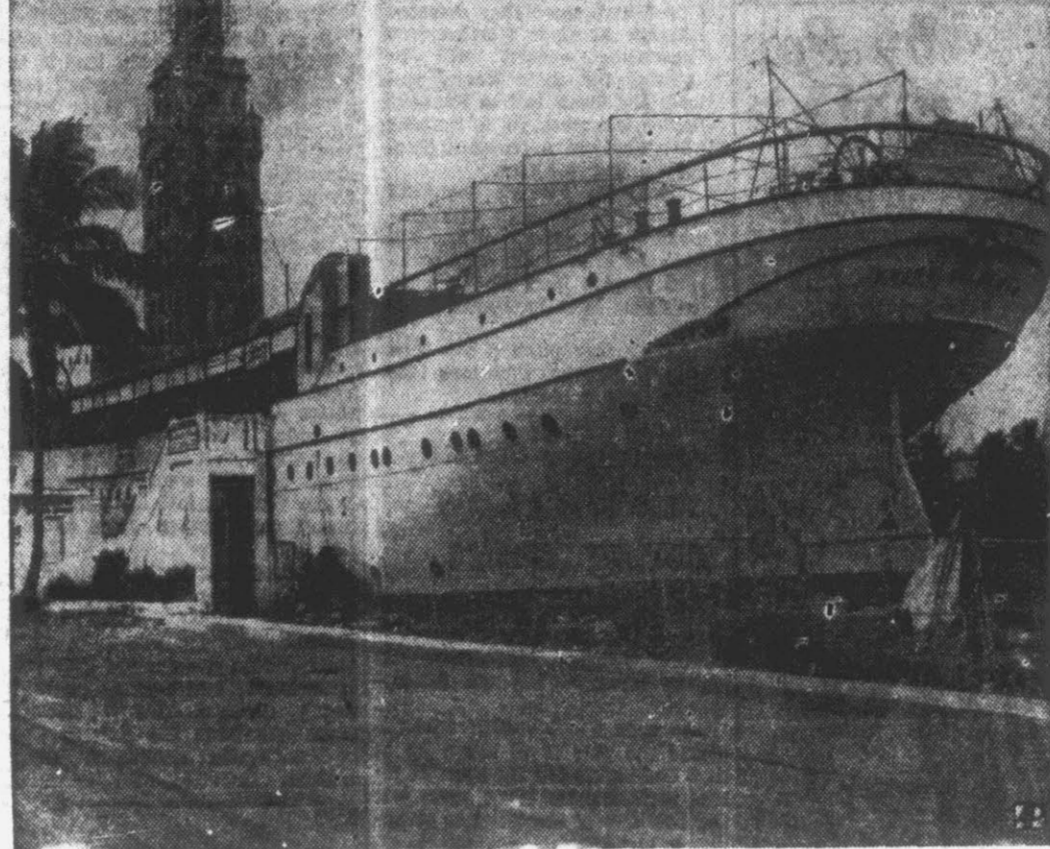

As encores the glee club sang a "Flemish Folk Song" arranged by Jungst and a "Sacred Round" by William Billings, and closed with the Carolina Alma Mater.

The appearance in Greenville of the Men's Glee Club of the University of North Carolina was sponsored by the Greenville Lions Club.

Kiwanis Minstrel To Be Shown This Week

The annual Kiwanis minstrel show will be presented at Austin auditorium at the college Wednesday and Thursday nights for the benefit of the underprivileged child fund. El Bloom is the producer of the show. Marie Smith Wallace is directing the dances. Some prominent Greenville people and college students will appear in the show. The jokes have been "streamlined," El Bloom said. Tickets are on sale by Kiwanians and at the office of J. Hicks Corey, 815 Dickinson Avenue. Nearly all of the tickets for the first night's show have been sold. All seats are reserved.

Alumni Chapter Stages Dinner

The Greenville chapter of the Alumni Association of East Carolina Teachers College entertained at an informal dinner in the college dining hall last Friday evening. Fifty-three members and guests were present to enjoy the occasion.

Mrs. Ruel Tyson, chapter president, acted as chairman during a brief program of entertainment. Among special guests welcomed by the members during the evening was Ed Rawl, chairman of the recent stadium drive at the college and Mrs. Rawl.

During the evening Mrs. Mimi Tripp Denton, soprano, and Miss Nina Abernethy of Rocky Mount, student of piano at the college, gave a program of music. Coy Tripp of Winterville made a brief talk in response to Mrs. Tyson's welcome to guests.

Chief entertainment feature of the evening was a program of magician's tricks by Major W. H. Stanley of the Greenville Salvation Army. Assisting him was W. H. Stanley, Jr.

London's Docks Tied Up With Second Strike

London, April 11.—(AP)—London's second big dock strike in 10 months put a crimp in Britain's export drive today and held up unloading of vital food cargoes. Fifty-four ships were idle.

Some 7,500 dock workers — about one-third of the Port of London's total — failed to report for work as a protest against the firing of 33 of their fellows by the National Dock Labor Board.

The board reported that of the 46 ships affected, 30 were waiting to load export cargoes. Tons of goods arriving at the docks were piled up alongside the deserted ships.

Unloading of 16 import ships stopped as the strike spread from the first group of docks affected. Some of these carry meat and cheese for rationed Britain.

Complains Of Drunks Who Broke Window

Sarah Watson, colored, who operates a small store at 1104 Railroad Street, in the southern part of the city, reported to police Saturday night two white men, allegedly drunk, came into her store to purchase a soft drink. They resented being turned down, she told police. After the men left, one of them, she charges, threw a bottle through the glass front door, striking her in the back. The storekeeper did not know their names, but she obtained the number of their car as they drove off.

New Bern Edges Greenies In Fifth Frame Rally By 4 To 3

Greenies Unable To Score Until Seventh When They Put Across Two Runs; Pappy Williams Leads Seven-Hit Attack

By BERT MOYE
The New Bern Bears bunched three of their total six hits off Ken Brooks in the fifth frame at New Bern yesterday afternoon to put across three runs and edge a 4 to 3 victory over the Greenville Greenies in an exhibition game between the two Coastal Plain League teams. The loss for the Greenies was their second in exhibition play as against two wins.

New Bern scored one run in the second frame when Jake Daniel singled, Hand walked and Friburg singled to bring him home. In the fifth frame, Dunn, who went in to pinch hit for See, walked, Bevin singled, and Wheeler got an infield hit to load the bases; Bill Paden singled, with Dunn and Bevin scoring, advanced to second on the throw home, and then Daniel hit to deep right field to bring home Wheeler from third.

The Greenies were unable to score until the seventh frame when they put across two runs. Paul Strausser doubled, advanced to third on Cohen's infield out, Pappy Williams singled to bring home Strausser, then Williams stole second and later scored when Pete Gillespie doubled.

The Greenies rallied for one run in the ninth when Gillespie reached second on an error by Shorstop Bevin and scored when Carl Anderson singled.

Garland Little, making his first appearance for the Greenies this season, pitched the first three frames and held the Bears to one lone run and two hits. He walked four men and failed to strike out a man.

Ken Brooks went in at the start of the fourth frame and pitched through the sixth inning, allowing four hits, three runs, walking one, hit one batsman, and striking out none; Chris Romeo pitched the seventh frame, allowing no hits, no runs, and one walk; and Jim Lewey pitched the eighth frame, allowing no hits, no runs, two walks and struck out one man for the only strikeout of the game.

Bill See, the sensation of Tarboro last season, started on the mound for the Bears and pitched the first five frames, holding the Greenies to three hits, no runs, striking out three and walking none. Bill Revalce pitched the remaining four frames, allowing four hits, three runs, struck out two and walked three.

Manager Pappy Williams with two singles in four trips to the plate led the seven-hit attack for the Greenies. The Bears' six hits were scattered among as many players and all of them were singles.

Play In Kinston

Greenville high school's baseball nine travels to Kinston tomorrow in next to their last game of a two-week out-of-town schedule.

The Phantoms, who have not played here since they defeated Edenton in their Northeastern Conference opener, will be shooting for their second victory. The locals lost to Roanoke Rapids last week six to nothing when Sholgun Acree shut them out on a two-hitter.

Coach Bo Farley's boys will invade the Elizabeth City diamond Friday afternoon and will come back to their own backyard to play host to Washington's Pam Pack here next Tuesday.

No starting pitcher has been named for the Phantoms for their game tomorrow.

Gamecocks Still Leading Circuit

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
South Carolina's Gamecocks continued today to hold the lead in the Southern Conference baseball race.

The Gamecocks had three league victories in as many starts to their credit. They play two loop contests this week, facing Duke's Blue Devils at Durham, Thursday and Friday.

Deadlocked for second place each with two wins and no losses were Wake Forest's Deacons, North Carolina's Tar Heels and the University of Richmond Spiders.

The week's No. 1 game comes off Tuesday afternoon at Chapel Hill where the Tar Heels engage the Deacons. Wake Forest will enter the game with a streak of eight victories in eight games this season. North Carolina lost its opener and hasn't been beaten since in nine outings.

Five non-conference contests dot today's schedule. The Citadel is at Wake Forest, Trinity (Conn.) visits Virginia Military Institute, Randolph-Macon invades the University of Richmond and Georgia travels to South Carolina. North Carolina State entertains the Raleigh Capital of the Carolina League at Raleigh tonight.

End Reign

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—The retirement of crew coach Ned Ten Eyck at the end of this season completes a 46-year cycle of Syracuse University crew coaching under the Ten Eycks. Jim Ten Eyck, father of Ned, coached Orange crewmen for 35 years.

Sidelights:—Williams, Gillespie and Pasquel knocked in all of the Greenies' three runs yesterday. . . Strausser and Gillespie hit the only extra base knocks—both being doubles. . . Pappy Williams and Bob Denier stole two bases for the Greenies. . . Ken Brooks, who pitched the fourth, fifth and sixth frames, was the losing pitcher at New Bern. . . New Bern executed two double plays for the only two during the game. . . Greenville had six men left on bases, New Bern nine. . . Anderson was picked off second base in the ninth inning for the first out of that frame after Greenville had scored one run just before that. . . Neil Howard, centerfielder for the Bears, made the outstanding catch of the afternoon, when he made a running catch of Pappy Williams' ball in the eighth frame. . . Remember, fans, that exhibition games do not count for or against us and that the exhibition games give Manager Pappy Williams a chance to see just what he has got and whip into shape a winning team when the season does start on the 21st of this month. . . Thus, Pappy used a total of 18 men in the game, including four hurriers.

National League Race Appears A Wide Open Six-Team Battle

Atlanta, Ga., April 11—(AP)—The National League race figures to be a wide open six-team battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers having the best chance to win the pennant.

Only Philadelphia and Cincinnati appear out of it. All the others, including the Chicago Cubs, last in 1948, rate a tumble. Pittsburgh, the big surprise of last year, could very well nip the Dodgers.

Here's the way the finish looks, to the writer, a week before the opener:

1. Brooklyn.
2. Pittsburgh.
3. Boston.
4. St. Louis.
5. Chicago.
6. New York.
7. Philadelphia.
8. Cincinnati.

Brooklyn has no sure 20-game winner like Boston's Johnny Sain but in Ralph Branca and Rex Barney they have a pair who could be tops. Manager Burt Shotton's pitching with Joe Hatten, Preacher Roe, Harry Taylor and young Carl Erskine to back up the Branch-Barney combination, rates with the best. Perhaps St. Louis has a little more class but its pitching staff is strictly southpaw.

Bill Meyer may be cooking up the surprise of the year for Pittsburgh: He made the experts look bad last year by leading the underrated Pirates into fourth place. Off season deals for pitchers Murry Dickson, Hugh Casey and Bob Muncie strengthened the club. Meyer says the improvement is 25 per cent.

Picking last year's pennant winner for third place is risky business. Manager Billy Southworth has the same club that won in '48 with the addition of Pete Reiser, veteran Dodger.

For the Braves it's still Sain and Warren Spahn as the one-two pitching punch. Vern Bickford, Bill Voiselle and possibly young John Antonelli, the bonus kid who has hit hard this spring, round out the staff of starters.

Once again, St. Louis has the best regular lineup in the league but there will be too many days when the aging regulars won't be in there. It's a good club that is getting old and weak in reserves.

Lack Of Hitting Plagues Reds

Montgomery, Ala., April 11—(AP)—Lack of hitting is the same old trouble with the Cincinnati Reds. They had a 3 to 3 eleven-inning tie with Mobile yesterday and got only seven safe blows. They had won the two previous starts against the Bears but without anything that even looked like a sound eating attack. The pitchers were holding up, but 11 walks to the Bears yesterday plagued manager Bucky Walters considerably.

Red Lively is to pitch today against Montgomery instead of Johnny Vander Meer, who pulled a muscle in his right leg Saturday.

Mississippi will play two Friday night football games next fall. Ole Miss meets Auburn Sept. 23 at Montgomery, Ala., and goes to Boston Oct. 14 to face Boston College.

Seven of the umpires who will officiate at this year's games in the Coastal Plain League include five members of last year's staff and two newcomers. Those who will return are T. R. Gurley, Steve Nobles, G. H. Barnhill, John Knight and Lloyd Tolle. The two new members are Dallas Thornton and Morris. Two more umpires will be added to the staff before the start of the season but their names have not been announced as yet.

Frank Fabianich, formerly with Kinston, and Nick Dardes, of the Goldsboro Goldbugs, are trying out for positions with the Anderson club of the Tri-State League. . . Adam Bengeoche, also with the Goldsboro club last year, will be a utility infielder at Sumter, S.C., this season. . . Sam McLawhorn, also with Kinston last year, Warren Schroeder, a former Goldbug, and Bill Jeffries, a member of the Kinston Eagles' club last season, are all trying out for positions with the Florence, S.C., team. . . McLawhorn was bought outright by the Florence club at the end of last season. . . Three additional players have reported to Manager Russell Meers of the Jays. They include Dewey Martling of Staten Island, N.Y., veteran catcher with five years' experience; Jack Wheatley, a limited service righthand pitcher, who worked with Emporia, Va., last year; and Duke Cockrell, Rocky Mount, rookie first baseman. Duke tried out with the Leafs but was released. He played football and baseball at ETC. . . Yesterday's News and Observer carried a story on the Tarboro club in which it was stated that they had 30 rookies working for various positions on the club down in Moultrie, Ga., and that only two positions were virtually "sewed up" at the present time, one of these being the catcher, who is their manager, John Anillock. . . Looks like they had better sign up Lucille Sweeney if they are going to finish in second place as predicted by Bob Weirich of the Tarboro Southerner several days ago.

Navy will open its 1949 football schedule with a game at Los Angeles against Southern California on Sept. 24.

Wallace, Louise Collie, and Wynne led the East Carolina attack with two for four each. Benton slammed out a double eighth. For Atlantic Christian Garrett, and Thorne all col- vey for four and Galahan a triple in the eighth.

Bearden Slated To Start Again

Texarkana, Tex., April 11—(AP)—Gene Bearden, star for the Cleveland Indians, got his first mound assignment in nearly two weeks today as the Tribe resumed its series with the New York Giants.

Bearden still is receiving heat treatments for a pulled leg muscle, but he said he felt well enough to go four or five innings. Sam Zolack probably will relieve him.

Outfielder Has Yen To Pitch

Dallas, Tex., April 11—(AP)—Johnny Lindell, the New York Yankees' frustrated outfielder, says his pitching trial at St. Petersburg, Fla., wasn't a fair test.

Lindell, earnestly seeking to become a hurler, said few players took his efforts seriously. He declared he would like another crack at serving up his "knuckle ball."

Snead Captures Masters With Steady Putting

Augusta, Ga., April 11—(AP)—Sammy Snead who found the gold of the masters with a brilliant putter, had the best name in golf today as the touring professionals moved toward the high points of the year—the PGA and the Open.

Sammy, the out drivingest hitter in golf, steadied his putter yesterday and came home with a 67 in the final round of the Masters. That five-under par shooting at the Augusta National matched his third round score and added with other rounds of 73 and 75 gave him a 282.

It was more than enough to win from Lloyd Mangrum and Johnny Bulla with their 285's. In their final trips around the National, Mangrum, the Purple Heart veteran of Niles, Ill., had a 70, and Bulla, the one-time airline pilot from Pittsburgh, had a 79.

The third round leader—big Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.—could not whip par and his final 72 gave him a 286. Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y., and the Turnesa golfing family had a 286. One of the great comebacks of the 19th Masters was by former National Open champion Lew Worsham. The Oakmont, Pennsylvania, shot a 68 in the final round for a 289 total. Worsham began the Masters with a damaging 76 and 75.

Hollywood's Joe Kirkwood, Jr., son of the trick shot golfer, was eight strokes back of Snead with a 290 after his three-way tie for second place in the third day.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N.C., Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Cal., and Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas, had 292's. The defending champion Claude Harmon and Herman Kessler, another former Masters' winner, scored 293's.

explained one coach after the finals were over. "Also, each fighter prays before he goes into the ring." Coaches, spectators and sports writers were unanimous in saying that a disputed decision in the 125-pound class was the difference between winning and losing for the Southern Tigers.

Louisiana's Pee Wee Moss got the nod over Mac Martinez of San Jose State although Martinez threw most of the punches and had Moss on the ropes and in trouble during most of the bout.

The other win for the Bayou boys came when 130 pounder Tad Thrash was voted a slight point edge after his bout with Norm Walker was stopped at the end of two rounds because Walker had a slight cut above the eye.

Prep School Boxing Said Behind Louisiana Champs

East Lansing, Mich., April 11—(AP)—College boxing coaches agreed today that Louisiana State University won the NCAA boxing tournament team title thanks to a prep school system and a prayer.

The Southerners carried off team honors with 20 point made mostly by their two fighters who won championships in the lightest weight classes.

Michigan State was second with 18 points and San Jose State was third with 17. Wisconsin, the defending champion, and team title holder for the last four years, didn't have a winner in the finals and was among the also-rans with four points.

"They box in high school down there and hold a state tournament,"

Three-Sport Athletic Program Set For East Carolina, Elon Thursday

A three sport athletic program is scheduled between East Carolina Teachers College and Elon College here Thursday.

Tennis and golf matches and a baseball game will get underway in the afternoon, when high school seniors from schools throughout the state will be visitors on the ECTC campus for High School Day.

The East Carolina baseball team, losers in three out of four North State conference games this season, will be gunning for revenge for a nine to three shelling handed them by the Elon nine last week.

Coach Jack Boone's boys have lost two very close games to Guilford and Atlantic Christian and defeated Guilford in one game. Boone has announced no starting pitcher for the Thursday game.

The local golf team defeated the Elon golfers in a match on the green last week and are expected to score their second win Thursday.

The Elon tennis team beat the locals in a close match in their first encounter. Since then the winless ECTC netters have come near to upsetting High Point tennis team which has scored 21 consecutive victories. Coach Jim Johnson's boys will be out to wreak revenge and victory over Elon here Thursday.

Red Sox Try For Seven Straight

Atlanta, Ga., April 11—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox go after their seventh straight win against minor league competition today when they oppose the Southern Association's Atlanta Crackers. Joe Dobson is scheduled to twirl for the Sox.

Although he was hit rather freely, Tex Hughson pitched seven innings as the Red Sox beat the Braves, 7-5, at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday.

Brooklyn's Dixie Tour Profitable

Atlanta, April 11—(AP)—Brooklyn's Dixie tour may be the most profitable spring training trip in history.

With seven games to go, four in big league parks, the Brooks already have played before 143,060 in exhibition games this spring. The final total should be over 250,000.

Jackie Robinson, the Negro second baseman, was the big attraction yesterday when 25,221 paid their way into Atlanta's Ponce De Leon Park to see the home town Crackers thump the Dodgers, 8-4.

Despite the threat of a Ku Klux Klan boycott, the only trouble the Dodgers had was in counting the money. They really packed them in.

Negro fans, to the number of 13,435 overflowed the special bleachers in left and right field. They stood 10 deep around the outfield, forcing special ground rules.

In right field the four-tiered fence was cluttered with acrobatic stunts. Even the far reaches of center field, where two or three shade trees nestled on a steep hillside, was jammed.

The spacious park which seats 14,500 had about 10,000 extra. You can imagine what it was like with Robinson's every appearance drawing loud cheers from the Negro sections.

Robinson gave them a show, too. After doubling in the second inning he stole home. He also singled and teamed up in two double plays.

As was predicted by the Atlanta and Brooklyn clubs and Atlanta public officials and newspapermen, there was absolutely no disturbance of any kind.

Houston, Tex., April 11—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, with but one win in six games against National league opponents, open a four game series with the St. Louis Cardinals tonight.

Curve ball specialist Dewey Adkins is slated for the mound tonight with Bob Rush going tomorrow night and Wait Dubiel on Wednesday.

The Cubs dropped a 3-2 decision yesterday to Fort Worth which was aided by Dee Fondy's homer off Mort Cooper in the fourth. Boo Scheffing smashed a homer and a double for the Cubs.

Cubs Can Count Only One In Six

Texarkana, Tex., April 11—(AP)—Buddy Kerr, New York Giant shortstop, can relax today. He once again is the Giants' No. 1 shortstop.

Bill Ehnings, the highly-promising rookie who had been Kerr's chief rival, was optioned to Minneapolis of the American Association yesterday.

The Giants turned back Pittsburgh, 2-1, at New Orleans with Larry Jansen going the route for the second time.

Deafened People May Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship.

Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltons, Dept. 6, 1450 West 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Write Beltons today.

YOUR DOCTOR KNOWS

When you feel "out of sorts," when you have an ache or a pain, well-meaning friends will gladly prescribe for your ills. Their judgment is based on what they have heard from others, and they talk glibly of what happened to Pete,

Sam, or John under similar circumstances. Such friendly interest may result in serious harm. When you need medical advice there is just one person in the world qualified to give it. That is your family physician. See him promptly. Bring his prescriptions to us. They will be compounded with accuracy and dispatch.

London 'Warns' Grits To Arrive

London, April 11—(AP)—Londoners got fair warning today to be on the lookout for hominy grits. The Daily Herald told them soothingly that "it isn't as bad as it sounds."

Britons just don't eat corn, except for a few eccentrics who buy roasting ears once or twice in the summer. It's too cold to raise much of it here.

But the Herald's Washington correspondent, Arthur Webb, reported a proposed clause in the European Recovery Program authorization bill which says that 15 per cent of the corn shipped to Europe will have to be milled into meal or made into grits.

"Americans down South not only use it in place of oatmeal porridge but also of potatoes," the Herald said.

"It is made into muffins for tea, used for fish or meat croquettes, becomes a basis for souffles and fritters, and can reappear as a pudding with maple syrup."

"Webb promises that when it gets here, he'll send some recipes," the Herald pledged.

Flychaser Again Injury Victim

Nashville, Tenn., April 11—(AP)—Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies' flash flychaser, is rapidly turning manager Eddie Sawyer's hair grey.

Recently, at the Phils' Florida training camp, Richie—a big wheel in the Blue Jays' National League plans this year—was beaned. He came out of that mishap with a few stitches and a black eye.

Yesterday, Ashburn turned his ankle in the sixth inning while chasing a fly ball and had to leave the field as the Phils turned back the Nashville Vols of the Southern league 2-6.

Another Gridder To Play At Duke

Fayetteville, April 11—(AP)—Another All-State high school football player has joined the list of athletes who will continue their careers at Duke University.

He is Ray Green, who made the All-State team while playing center for Fayetteville High School.

Charlie Smith, who landed an All-State backfield berth while playing for Wilmington, previously announced his plans to enter Duke next fall.

Some fish can live in spring water as hot as 115 degrees Fahrenheit.

Buenos Aires, capitol of Argentina, is a Spanish phrase whose literal meaning is "good air."

Jet Pilots Speed On Beds

BELLY FLOPPING jet plane pilots learn to take it lying down, since a prone position is safer against blackouts. These high speed flyers are equipped with beds instead of seats and can stand two to three times the amount of force that puts average pilots in a coma. Tests have shown that eight hours in this position bring no unpleasant after effects. Also such cockpits take up less space in modern planes.

FIRMLY HARNESSSED, the pilot is protected against shock and finds his contoured bed fairly comfortable, while he concentrates on his controls at super speeds.

A GRIM JOB—The pilot dives through the air in this position. It saves lives.

Mass Rites For Six Worshippers

Marin, S.D., April 11—(AP)—This small South Dakota town today planned a mass funeral for the six Holy Week worshippers killed yesterday as a blast demolished St. Mary's Catholic Church.

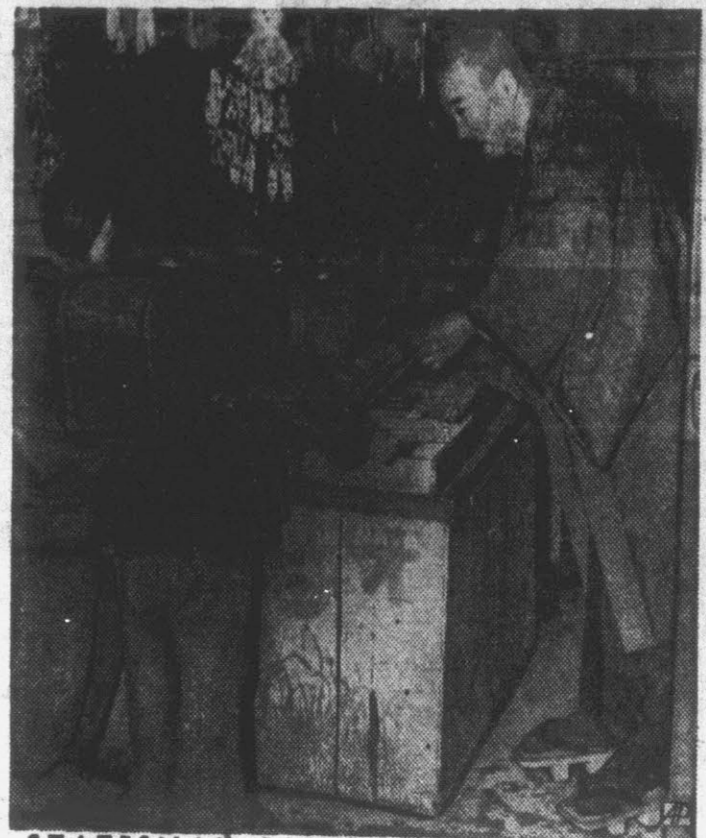

Bishop William O. Brady of Sioux Falls, diocesan head, tentatively set Wednesday for the mass rites for the elderly victims who died as they knelt in prayer. Forty-seven other persons were injured, several critically.

The brick church was shattered by a basement explosion a few moments before the 9 a.m. Palm Sunday mass was to begin. Only the entrance bell tower remained standing. A small fire that followed was quickly put out.

Church officials attributed the blast to escaping bottled furnace fuel gas. Phil Wachendorf, a parishioner, said "Everything blew up" when he threw a furnace switch.

Although buried in the wreckage and suffering from injuries and serious burns, Wachendorf was able to free himself and crawl out.

Others were pinned under bricks and timbers which had to be pried loose to free them. The church had a seating capacity of 250 but only about 75 worshippers were in their pews. Many others stood in small groups outside while waiting for the mass to begin. They escaped injury.

STATESMAN-SALESMAN—Ichiro Honda, member of the Diet, and minister without portfolio, sells candy to school girls in the store he operates in Tokyo between state duties.

Stopped Him

Tokyo, April 11—(AP)—Tsunezo Ebunuma wouldn't stop gambling.

His father called a family council to decide what was to be done with the 25-year-old fisherman.

Three days ago young Ebunuma's death was reported to Tochigi prefecture police.

Today the father and four other members of the family were under arrest. Police said they had strangled Tsunezo with his own belt while he was taking a bath.

Soap And Paper Pistol Fails To Aid Jail Break

Raleigh, N.C., April 11—(AP)—Six prisoners who used a "pistol" made from soap and black paper were halted in an attempted break from the Wake County jail last night.

The six jumped night jailer O. F. Moore and took his keys when he opened the door of the east wing of the jail to send the prisoners back to their cells from a "run-around" area.

Moore said one of the prisoners had the "pistol"—and it looked like the real thing—and another had a cut-off mop handle.

Moore's calls for help brought Jailer J. E. Cutts, armed with a real pistol, who found one of the prisoners trying to unlock the main door. The prisoner dropped the keys and the break was at an end.

ADDITIONAL DEGREES
Raleigh, April 11—(AP)—N. C. State College next September will offer Bachelor of Science degrees in construction, furniture manufacturing and management, and heating and air conditioning.

Scott Declares Corn Challenge Is Risky Idea

Raleigh, N.C., April 11—(AP)—Governor Scott has warned Virginia's Governor William Tuck that he is "sticking his neck out" in challenging Tar Heels to a corn contest.

"Right now our farmers aren't saying very much about the corn contest which Virginia started," Governor Scott said in a statement Saturday. "But when they are challenged, they know how to respond. They have set out this year to show Governor Tuck and Virginia farmers how to grow corn."

Governor Tuck recently started the "corn war" by challenging North

Five Top-Ranking Nazis Convicted Of War Crimes

Nuernberg, Germany, April 11—(AP)—Five of Hitler's top government officials were convicted by a U.S. war crimes court today of helping him plan aggressive war.

They were the first Germans to be convicted of war plotting by an all-American court. Not since the International military tribunal convicted Hermann Goering and 18 other high Nazis nearly three years ago had any German been found guilty on this charge.

Today's verdicts began the final act of this last war crimes trial before an American court.

One of those convicted was Baron

Nazi hierarchy.

Paul Koerner, 55, industrialist who was Goering's deputy in the four-year plan. The court said his job was to "make Germany ready for war in four years."

The sentences probably will not be announced until Thursday, when the three-judge court completes reading its 833-page finding.

Video To Begin For Greensboro

Greensboro, April 11—(AP)—Radio Station WPMY has announced it plans to begin regular television transmissions on Aug. 1.

The station is owned by the Greensboro News and Record newspapers.

Test television patterns will be shown during July for experimental purposes, under present plans.

The Federal Communications Committee gave the station an extension on a television construction permit. A six-month permit expired recently.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

On Murder's Skirts

By Terry Adler

Chapter 21

Ellen looked up at Raff adoringly. "It's wonderful knowing that you're going to take good care of me." Then she went over to the table near the couch and took a cigarette from the box. She struck a match to it and came up to Raff and blew the smoke in his face.

"No, I never used to," Raff said. "Of course, it might have been just a burglar. But I have a hunch this is connected with Bray's murder."

Ellen shivered involuntarily. "Feel faint?" she asked quickly. She shook her head. "Not at all. I think I'm just hungry."

He laughed. "I guess you must be all right then. I could do with a bite myself."

"What's wrong with the Carter kitchen? Come on; I'll fix us some-thing."

He followed her into the little kitchen. "Can you really cook? I think I may buy you a ring after all."

"Well, to confess, I really don't do much cooking. But don't let that worry you. You can buy me a cook book. I already know how to read."

"And have me get indigestion from a misprint! No thanks. If you don't mind, I'll fix us a snack." He opened the back door and brought out some eggs and some cream cheese.

She put a skillet on the stove and handed him a bowl for the eggs.

"How about some coffee?" She filled the coffee pot and put it on to boil. He busied himself with the omelette and said nothing for a while.

"Let me see, now," Raff said presently. "We were at the Red Poppy about a half-hour. And say another twenty minutes until you get home."

"What are you thinking of?" "Nothing in particular."

"Yes, you are. You're thinking that Paul Russell had plenty of time to get over here. Now aren't you?"

"Well, yes, I was," he said slowly. "I was thinking the same thing. But why would Paul want to hurt me?"

"Maybe this was just a little warning. To stop snooping, you know. You see, I can't help thinking that so far, Russell's the only one who knows that we know Bray was murdered."

"But, really, Paul wouldn't be so silly as to try to discourage me and not make any attempt to stop you from going on with the search."

Maneuver Toward Real Action On Taft-Hartley Law Repeal

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Congressional friends and foes of the Taft-Hartley act maneuvered today toward real action in the battle over repeal of the law.

CIO unions under orders to drum up "additional and badly needed support" among congressmen for the administration's labor bill. Two Republican senators meanwhile planned extensive alterations for the measure when it hits the senate floor.

Capitol Hill's big labor debate of 1949 is scheduled now to begin April 26 in the house. Due to a jam of business, the senate probably will not join in the tussle until several weeks later.

The House Rules committee was due to decide today or tomorrow on clearing the administration bill for floor action.

The week-end produced two important developments:

1. Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ives (R-NY) tentatively agreed on a bundle of amendments they plan to offer to the Administration bill.

2. CIO President Philip Murray called for faster action on repeal of the law almost unanimously opposed by labor unions, and branded as a "foul concoction" a proposed substitute for the administration's repeal.

The Taft-Ives proposals were expected to attract strong Senate support. Taft led senators who worked over a House labor bill in 1947 and blended it with a Senate bill into the present law. Ives had wide experience with labor problems in the New York legislature before coming to Congress.

While subject to change, they were reported to have decided on a national emergency strike section providing for a 60-day cooling off period which could be enforced by an injunction or plant seizure if necessary. A survey board, named by the President, could recommend terms of settlement.

If there were no settlement after the 60-day interval, Congress would deal with the dispute in a special law. The President would call Congress back for the job if it were not in session.

The administration bill would provide a presidential request for 30 days of continued operation, but there would be no means of enforcing it. The present law allows the government to get an injunction that compels a cooling off of 80 days.

New Bern Club Hears Dr. Frank

Dr. A. D. Frank, chairman of the social studies department of East Carolina Teachers College, was guest speaker Friday afternoon April 8, at a meeting of the New Bern Women's Club held at the Woman's Club building there. Mrs. Raymond Fuson, president of the group, presided at the meeting and presented Dr. Frank to his audience.

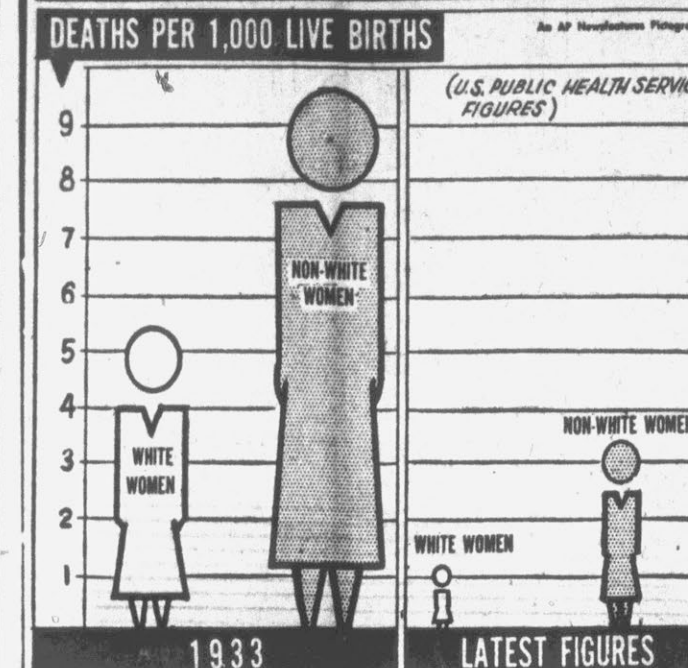

International affairs were the subject of discussion for the afternoon. In his talk Dr. Frank gave an account of the North Atlantic Pact and an analysis of present relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Named Officers Of English Club

Louise Hines of Williamston, junior at East Carolina Teachers College, will serve as president of the English Club at the college during the next school year. The club, made up of majors in the English department, presents a series of programs monthly during the school term and is in charge of the English Laboratory, a combined workshop and library maintained by the department.

Other new officers of the group are Willie Mae Spivey, Shalotte, vice president; Laura Williamson, Wilson, secretary; Addie C. Whitfield, Kinston; and Lene Evelyn Kite, Vanceboro, reporters on student publications.

U.S. MATERNITY DEATHS DROP

Blood Grouping Test Freed Him

Buffalo, N.Y., April 11—(AP)—John Henry Morgan, 63, held in connection with a murder in 1919 in North Carolina, was released today after a blood grouping test established his innocence.

John William Jacobs, 40, had identified Morgan as his father, Clyde Jacobs. Clyde Jacobs is wanted for the murder of his wife, Ola, in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina.

DIRECTORS MEET TONIGHT

The board of directors of the Pitt County Negro Clinic will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at C. M. Egges Negro High School. The clinic, established here by public-spirited citizens last year for the benefit of Negro citizens, is making considerable progress, one of the white supporters of the hospital stated.

Truman . . .

(Continued from page one) Long ago he had made it plain he wants to carry on Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal. He has used the name, the fair deal.

That's made almost no progress with that in four years. There's no assurance he'll make much more in the next four.

Yet, in spite of his difficulties with Congress, Americans are making more money than ever before. The land is rich, teeming with money, goods, and food.

But meanwhile the skies have darkened beyond the shores. His hopes of getting along with Russia have gone down the drain.

As he watched the Russians swallow eastern Europe, his mood hardened. He set up the Truman doctrine: A policy of blocking Russia whenever it tries to make a thrust.

Under that policy we've helped Greece and Turkey, created the Marshall plan for helping western Europe, and now we've entered the Atlantic pact with western Europe to stop Russia with steel if need be.

We've put so much money into military preparations and stopping Russia, all of which mean jobs and production here, it's a question of whether we could afford sudden good relations with Russia.

For that would mean cutting billions upon billions off our defense spending. And what would that do to jobs and production and prosperity here at home?

As Mr. Truman goes into his fifth year in the White House, only four years away from World War II, the air is full of talk of new war. There we go, no one knows, not even Mr. Truman.

ITALY DEDICATES ARDEATINE MEMORIAL—Officials dedicate a concrete mausoleum (left background) on the site of the 1944 German massacre of 335 hostages in the Ardeatine Caves, near Rome, in reprisal for the ambush slaying of 32 German security police.

MUTTON AND WOOL ON THE HOOF—Four thousand spring lambs graze on the Hayward Brothers ranch at Kamloops, British Columbia. Before being turned into chops and steaks, each will contribute twelve pounds of wool to Canada's stockpile of 11,000,000 pounds.

Question Of . . .

(Continued from page one) It is true that the land blossomed and the colonists did well. It was a monument to Il Duce, and his unbridled egotism could be seen in the fact that on the outside of every one of the thousands of houses and community buildings there was painted in black letters a foot high "Duce."

At last the war ended, and the Senussi who had survived came back from their desert hide-outs and took possession of their farms. I saw them laboring diligently to reclaim their own. They were plowing with pointed sticks, drawn by donkeys or camels, just as did their forbears thousands of years ago. But that was their right, for it was their home.

Now the Senussi are looking for their own government. I am told by a reliable source that if Britain is given the trusteeship, she likely will recognize the Grand Senussi as head of state and help him form a government which would work with British guidance.
