Businessmen Try Cut Inventories, Get Out Of Debt

Officials See Drop In Business Loans; Firms Fear Getting Caught With Goods

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Businessmen seem to be fairly scrambling to cut down on inventories and get out of debt.

Officials guessed today that the chief explanation for a record-breaking drop in business loans during the first week of April could be stated like this:

Scared of getting caught with large stocks of goods during a period of falling prices, many businessmen don't want to borrow to build up stocks; they are using proceeds from current sales to pay off old debts as fast as possible.

In any event, an unprecedented $777,000,000 plunge in business loans during the week ended April 6 climaxed a downward slide that has been going on since Christmas.

Reports to the Federal Reserve board from banks in major cities across the country show the volume of commercial, industrial and agricultural loans outstanding has dropped $1,005,000,000 since last December 22.

Still, the total business loan volume in the week ended April 6 was $14,827,000,000, or $197,000,000 above the level at the same time a year ago.

Officials said it was apparent that businessmen are trying to avoid a repetition of a major event in the depression of the early 1930's: The building up of stocks of goods that couldn't be sold at the going price, the calling of loans and consequent forced sales at sacrifice prices.

Insofar as they prevent a recurrence of that, it's all to the good, as officials see it here. The danger would be penury, unreasonable but in buying that would bring widespread factory closings, laying off of workers, and a consequent cut in consumer buying power.

But secretary of the treasury Snyder said yesterday there is every reason to have "confidence in the future," and that he had seen signs of a new upturn in business on recent trips to the mid-west and to New England.

City Primary Election Here Monday, May 2

The city primary election to elect a mayor and five members of the Board of Aldermen and a judge and solicitor of the city Police Court will be held on Monday, May 2. There are nearly 4,000 persons' names on the registration books as being qualified to vote.

Mayor Jack Boyd's two year term ends June 30. Judge J.W.H. Roberts and Solicitor Eli Bloom's terms also end at that time. Five aldermen's terms also end on June 30.

Five aldermen, Heber Tripp, first ward; Clint Bowen, second ward; W. Z. Morton, third ward; W. H. Smith, fourth ward; and Col. W. S. Stafford, fifth ward, will end their terms June 30.

Alderman Tripp has indicated his intention to seek reelection at the May 2 election.

The terms of four other members of the Board of Aldermen do not expire until June 30, 1950.

Ranked High In Traffic Safety

Raleigh, N. C. April 14—(AP)—North Carolina ranked first in the south and fifth in the nation in the 1948 National traffic safety contest of the National Safety Council, motor vehicles commissioner L. C. Ross was notified today.

The state also was voted outstanding achievement awards for reduction in motor vehicle fatalities and for its automobile inspection program (this program has now been abolished by the legislature.)

New Farm Program

Our 'Free Enterprise' System Has Hardly Ever Been Completely Free; More Government Controls Added At Intervals; New Farm Program Reveals Trend

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Just keep everything free of control, the old economists used to say, and everything will work out dandy.

They wanted no government interference with people or business or commerce. "Anarchy, plus a constable," Carlyle called it.

But out of this philosophy grew "the American free enterprise system." Actually, it's hardly ever been completely free.

Almost from the start of the republic, government tariffs blocked foreign competition with American-made goods here.

Bit by bit through the years the government kept sticking its nose under the tent a little more.

Some landmarks were the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Sherman Anti-Trust Act to control monopolies, and in 1913 the income tax started.

Government controls help regulation and interference helped during the disaster of the depression in the 1930's. All were signs of the increasing complexity of American life.

Pickets Parade For Union Recognition

Pictured above, striking Negro employees of the Blount Fertilizer Company are shown as they demonstrated today for recognition of the union as bargaining agent for employees of the plant. United Mine Workers' Representative L. L. Wood said the workers voted at lunch time yesterday not to return to work. Plant operations were resumed today with non-union labor.

House Preparing Last Big Outlay

Set To Run Total Money Bills For Week Over $24 Billion Before Taking Easter Recess; Fast Approval Indicated

Washington, April 14—(AP)—The House was set today to run its total money bills for this week over $24,000,000,000 mark—then quit until April 25.

A $7,576,886,231 appropriation bill financing 28 independent federal agencies for the year starting July 1 was the main block in the path of the lawmakers' Easter recess.

Vacation-minded members appeared ready to shove it to the Senate with the same speed which marked passage yesterday of a record peacetime $16,000,000,000 defense bill and a $588,893,000 emergency measure for veterans' education and unemployment benefits.

Those bills went to the Senate which acted last night on another highly controversial appropriation measure: a deficiency money bill which included $2,500,000 to let the Tennessee Valley Authority start building a steam plant for generating electricity.

The bill to round out funds for a number of agencies in the fiscal year ending June 30, called for total expenditures of $538,453,473. It was passed by voice vote and sent to a conference committee to iron out differences with the House measure.

The independent offices bill before the House appeared headed for no such battling as that which the TVA steam plant encountered.

But token amendment attempts were expected, aimed at (a) restoring some of the money cut by the Appropriations Committee from the Veterans' Administration and (b) denying any money to the Selective Service office on the ground the draft law is not needed.

The independent offices measure carries $5,145,431,940 for the VA and $1,090,120,397 for the Atomic Energy Commission. The 26 other agencies share the balance.

The total is $743,680,598 less than President Truman requested. The VA would suffer a $508,750,000 cut and the Atomic Energy Commission would be cut $70,839,433. The remainder of the slash would be shared by the other offices.

FIGHTING WITH CARS

Wilmington, N.C., April 14—(AP)—Two men, charged with engaging in an affray with deadly weapons, were fined costs of court in Recorder's Court here today after being found guilty of fighting with their automobiles.

Discovery of the hidden money left only $13,000 still not recovered out of the $383,660 cash and bonus that Richard H. Grove looted from his bank's vault March 25.

He fled federal agents to the hiding place after a two-hour talk with his wife and attorney.

Kathy Fiscus Is Laid To Rest

Chula Vista, Calif., April 14—(AP)—For Kathy Fiscus—sweet sleep, a clear sky and our Father's love." The minister said they were hers forever.

Then the little girl, whose death in an abandoned well near her San Marino home saddened the world, was committed to her grave.

The burial rites here yesterday followed by a few hours the funeral services at Alhambra. Both were marked with simplicity and were attended by a few hundred mourners, in addition to the family.

Convicted Nazis Will Serve Time

Draw Sentences Ranging From 4 To 25 Years In Prison

Nuernberg, Germany, April 14—(AP)—Nineteen high Nazi officials convicted in the final American war crimes trial, drew prison sentences today ranging from four to 25 years.

Each will receive a reduction of sentence equal to the time he has spent in jail—about four years. They promptly appealed to have the verdicts and sentences set aside on grounds the U.S. tribunal which tried them lacked jurisdiction.

Gotlob Berger, SS (Elite Guard) lieutenant general who was convicted of crimes including participation in mass murder and atrocities, drew sentences aggregating 25 years, the heaviest imposed on any of the 19. All had been found guilty of helping in various ways the Nazi horror program of aggression, plunder, brutality and murder.

The best known of the 19, Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, was sentenced to seven years. He is a former envoy to the Vatican and former state secretary of the German foreign ministry.

He was convicted in the last of the long series of war crimes trials by American courts. Charges on which he was sentenced were helping Hitler plot aggressive war against Czechoslovakia and participating in the campaign of atrocities against the Jews.

Two of the 21 defendants were acquitted by the court which last night finished a three-day reading of its 833-page opinion. One of the three American judges dissented from most of the convictions.

Judge Leon W. Powers of Dennison, Ia., complained in his dissent that the prosecution had failed to prove the defendants were personally to blame for the Nazi crimes.

Digs Up Cache Of Stolen Cash

New York, April 14—(AP)—Led to a lonely, rain-swept cemetery by an indicted bank executive, FBI agents last night dug up $49,122 cash he buried beside his grandmother's coffin.

Discovery of the hidden money left only $13,000 still not recovered out of the $383,660 cash and bonus that Richard H. Grove looted from his bank's vault March 25.

He fled federal agents to the hiding place after a two-hour talk with his wife and attorney.

Commission Continues Fight On Army Budget

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Striking back at Army criticism, a House Committee task force insisted today that the Army had padded its original 1950 budget requests.

The subcommittee of the government reorganization group flatly denied that its report on the national military establishments contained ten "misstatements of fact," as alleged by Secretary of the Army Royall.

It said the Army's comments disputing the task force findings actually "confirm the committee's report in every instance and in practically every detail."

For example, it said, its report that the Army had once "asked for funds to modernize 102 more tanks than it possessed" was absolutely true. The task force said the discrepancy wasn't noted until its own investigators pointed it out.

It said much the same thing about a clerical error which added $30,000,000 to another Army budget figure.

The commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover based a series of recommendations for government changes partly on the reports of its task forces.

The task force in the military establishment handed in the results of its investigations in November. Royall followed up in March with a letter to Hoover asking that the "ten misstatements" be corrected.

The task force point-by-point rebuttal, along with Royall's letter, was made public today by Ferdinand Eberstadt, former member of the War Production Board who headed the Hoover subcommittee.

Vote Election

Raleigh, N.C., April 14—(AP)—The Senate enacted into law today a measure to call a statewide election on instance of $50,000,000 in bonds to aid counties in building schools. Vote on the bill was 44-4.

The election would be held on the same day as an election on the question of issuing $200,000,000 in rural road bonds—if the road bond vote is held.

Students Throng ECTC's Campus

Over 2,000 Eastern High School Seniors Arrive For Event

High school seniors from schools in the eastern section of the state spent today on the East Carolina Teachers College campus. The visitors, 2,332 strong at noon and still arriving took part in events of the first High School Day.

A full program of social and educational activities were carried out during the morning and the afternoon. The public school students took advantage of opportunities of seeing what work and play goes on at the college and of becoming acquainted with East Carolina students and faculty members and with each other. Sunny spring weather contributed to the pleasure of the occasion.

Visitors began arriving before 9:00 in the morning. Approximately 300 automobiles and fourteen special buses brought them to the campus. Students from 118 schools in 34 counties and their chaperones had arrived by noon.

Strike For Recognition Of Union By Local Firm

Thirty-two Negro employees of Blount Fertilizer Company, members of District 50 United Mine Workers of America, have been on strike for more than 24 hours "for recognition of the union" as bargaining agent for employees of the plant.

The workers failed to return to work at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon after taking an hour for lunch. L. L. Wood of Lynchburg, Va., representative of the UMW region 19 office in Richmond, said the workers voted at lunch time yesterday to decide not to return to work until the union is recognized as bargaining agent.

The strikers began picketing the entrance to the plant shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday, and resumed their picketing early this morning. Members of the picket line wore and carried signs which read "Some people work for nothing, not us," "Unfair to Labor," "UMW on Strike," "We want honest wages for honest day's work."

Wood stated he had come from Richmond yesterday prepared to lead an election of the employees of the plant to determine a bargaining agent, and that he had been

U. S. Is Asked To Boost Military Aid For Greece

Britain Requests Step; Willing To Help Expansion Of Army With Own Arms

London, April 14—(AP)—Britain has asked the United States to increase its military aid to Greece to crush the Greek Communist rebellion.

A foreign office spokesman disclosed the British request in answering questions at a daily news conference. He said the American State Department has not yet given its "considered views" on the question and so the matter remained open.

The spokesman did not define the exact nature of the British proposals. Presumably they envisaged the substantial expansion of the Greek army and air force. The British regard extra aid to Greece as essential to curb recently-intensified activities of the communist-led guerrillas.

The British themselves are reported ready to back up their request by making certain kinds of military material available to the Athens government. Direct British help for Greece stopped in 1947 when the so-called Truman Doctrine for containing communism was launched in troubled Greece.

British-American talks on Greece were initiated when Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin met Secretary of State Dean Acheson in Washington earlier this month.

They have assumed more significance in recent weeks because the guerrillas have inflicted a series of reverses on Greek government forces in the mountainous regions of northern Greece.

The Free Greece radio—mouthpiece of the guerrilla army—claimed today that "Democratic Army units" killed 2,127, wounded 4,985 and captured 1,084 officers and men of the "Monarcho-Fascist" (Government) forces, in fighting during the past 12 days.

Seventeen government planes were downed or damaged, the broadcast, monitored in London, declared. It added that the fighting took place in the areas of Grammos, Pigos and Strachani and that in a single action two days ago the government forces lost over 2,000 men killed, captured or wounded.

The Evening Star, News and the Times-Herald afternoon editions also had been forced to suspend publication during the strike.

The 140 pressmen and 50 stenographers got a 56 weekly pay boost and shorter working hours.

End Walkout

Washington, April 14—(AP)—The nation's capital had its newspapers back today after AFL pressmen and stenographers ended a strike which had lasted since Monday morning.

The Post and Times-Herald rushed to press with their early morning editions last night shortly after the walkout was settled.

The Evening Star, News and the Times-Herald afternoon editions also had been forced to suspend publication during the strike.

The 140 pressmen and 50 stenographers got a 56 weekly pay boost and shorter working hours.

West Coast Quake Toll Reaches Eight

Damage May Reach Ten Million Dollars In Wake Of Worst Recorded Earthquake In Area Of Pacific Northwest

Seattle, April 14—(AP)—The Pacific Northwest today counted eight deaths and damage which may reach $10,000,000 in the wake of its worst recorded earthquake.

Governor Arthur B. Langlie of Washington gave a "purely tentative" damage figure for yesterday's violent shock. He said final count may range between $2,000,000 and $10,000,000.

This was based on reports to the Governor from the Red Cross, the state patrol and other agencies. The earthquake, at 11:55 a. m. (PST) yesterday, caused scores of injuries.

Bricks showered off cornices and building facades; chimneys toppled from residences and industrial plants; plate glass cracked and shattered; roads sagged and split, moving automobiles rumbled and many parked machines were battered and dented by falling masonry.

Cities from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., in the north, southward to Oregon towns in the Salem area felt the quiverings of the quake. Scientists rated it of No. 8 intensity, which compares to a No. 12 or total destruction quake.

The Red Cross and state and federal agencies stood by today, ready to plunge in with aid. A Red Cross official said today not a single person had applied in the Seattle area for aid for injuries, but that Red Cross, on a basis of individual need.

John Calkins, Red Cross field director, augmented his headquarters at Olympia, where the need for housing was underscored by the evacuation of houses and hotels.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie at Olympia, the state capital, said: "Everyone is going to have to pitch in and do what he can."

Olympia was especially hard hit. The old capitol building and the insurance building were the most severely damaged, and were ordered closed. Six other state buildings were shaken and cracked, but inspectors said they still were sound.

Two of the quake dead were in Olympia. Langlie's assistants reported on the condition of several state buildings throughout the quake area. Two dormitory buildings at the boys' training school at Chehalis, Wash., were damaged, and boys were moved into three new dormitories nearing completion. Two boys were hurt. Seventeen men in the old soldier's home at Bellingham, near Bremerton, were moved after damage to their building.

Tacoma, 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" were treated for shock, bruises and other minor hurts.

Voice Arguments On Rent Control Landlords And Tenants Speak Pieces At Senate Hearing

Raleigh, N.C., April 14—(AP)—Landlords and tenants took opposing sides today at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on the issue of removing rent controls in North Carolina. More than 150 persons attended the hearing.

After the public hearing a subcommittee was appointed to make an investigation with instructions to report back to the full committee by next Tuesday.

Leading the opponents of decontrol was R. Mayne Albright, representing the state employees.

"There is no doubt in our minds," he said, "that there would be a tremendous upsurge in rents if this state was decontrolled."

"All of the 20 percent pay increase granted to state employees," he emphasized, "would be absorbed if rents are decontrolled."

Speaking for the proponents of rent decontrol, George Talbot of Charlotte declared that "this rent control law is certainly a discrimination against landlords, large and small."

"Most of the landlords are smaller people like me," he added, "and not the rich people."

Also speaking against decontrol was Lt. Col. F. H. Collins, representing the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point. "I hope some system of control will remain in this state," he said.

Snow, Wind And Rain In Midwest

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—A mid-day storm—snow, wind and rain—today brought storm warnings to Lakes Michigan, Huron, and Superior.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported the storm center was over western Missouri, and moving northeastward. It dumped a mixture of snow and rain along with wind over parts of the Midwest. Some of the winds reached velocities of 40 miles an hour.

Nearly seven inches of snow fell in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Settlement In Berlin?

Developments Point To New Russian Effort Over Berlin Blockade That Might Be Worthy Of Consideration; Marshall Plan Victory; Other Reasons For Hope

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

The total eclipse of the moon Tuesday night—a phenomenon occurring once in a century—encourages us to examine, without undue skepticism, reports that Moscow has been putting out feelers about possible negotiations of the Berlin imbroglio with the western powers.

Developments entitle us to ask whether Russia may have reached the conclusion that her great offensive for the spread of Communism across Europe has come up against an impassable barrier. The time may have arrived for her to pause to consolidate her gains and bring up her communications.

U. S. Secretary of State Acheson said in effect yesterday that if the Soviets want to talk about lifting the Berlin blockade and starting four-power talks on Germany, the way is open for them to do it.

As far back as March 30 Eddie Gilmore, (AP) chief of bureau in Moscow, reported that "some diplomats not directly involved in the four-power dispute over Berlin speculated today there may be a new move to settle that issue." Since then there

Compromise Aid Bill Heads For Swift Approval

Joint Conference Committee Okay Just About All Administration Asked

Washington, April 14—(AP)—A compromise foreign aid bill containing just about everything asked by the administration appeared headed today for swift approval in both House and Senate.

The $5,580,000,000 measure was whipped into shape late yesterday by a conference committee which had to iron out differences between the separate bills passed by each House to continue the Marshall Plan 15 months.

Senate economy advocates talked of another stab at cutting the total authorization, but leaders there, as on the other side of the Capitol, predicted speedy passage of the bill as it stands. The House takes up the measure first.

An appropriation bill must be passed later to provide actual cash for the program.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared he is hopeful the appropriations committees will cut 10 per cent off the cash total. He led an unsuccessful fight to trim that amount off the authorization bill.

Senators Bridges (R-NH), Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Cordon (R-Ore.) expressed much the same hope.

Bridges said the appropriations committees should be able to make a cut "without impairing or interfering with the momentum of the program."

Cordon and Ferguson agreed that ECA must prove Europe needs the amount of money authorized by the compromise bill. Their committee came after Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman said he would "welcome" any savings if it could be done

The King's Daughters Hear Easter Play

Mrs. C. M. Jones was hostess to the regular meeting of the Patient Circle of The King's Daughters Tuesday evening, April 12, with two new members, Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Mrs. J. E. White joining the circle at this time. Mrs. P. W. Pickens, guest speaker, led the devotional period, using a prayer of the Easter season.

Mrs. P. W. Pickens, well known as a reader and instructor with the English Department of East Carolina Teachers College, gave to an enthralled audience the play "The Things That Are Caesar's" by Dorothy Clark Wilson. The play is of the Crucifixion and the respect and love commanded in all situations by Jesus Christ. The excellent interpretation with many voices and moods made the great play and characters alive today for those listening.

Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell, president, presided at the business meeting and after reports given by the chairman of the service this month, discussed the plans and importance of attending the 59th annual state convention to be held in Wilmington on May 2, 3 and 4. The headquarters will be at the Cape Fear Hotel with the daily sessions meeting at the First Presbyterian Church where there will be films and speakers well informed on the work of The King's Daughters.

The circle adjourned to enjoy a social hour at which time the hostess served ice cream and cake with salted nuts and Easter eggs.

The present session of the graded school will close on May 21. As there is no graduating class this year, the commencement exercises will be on a smaller scale than they have been heretofore. A debate will be held in the opera house, the contestants being representatives from Goldsboro and Greenville high schools. The query is "Resolved That the Next Legislature Should Enact a Law to Go into Effect October 1, 1912 requiring all children in North Carolina between the ages of seven and fourteen to attend school four months each year." Greenville will argue the negative.

Teachers Playhouse To Present Comedy; Sponsored By JCs

The Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina Teachers College, with the cooperation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Greenville, will present two performances of John Patrick's "The Hasty Heart" as their spring production for this year. The play is scheduled for April 28 and 29 in the Austin auditorium on the campus.

The Greenville JCs are sponsoring the play and collaborating with the players in planning and publicizing the production. Louis Gaylord, Jr., president, and Henry L. Brown, treasurer, are in charge of arrangements for the civic organization. Chester Walsh, honorary member, is heading publicity work.

The comedy, which was produced successfully in New York in England, has a setting in a hospital in Burma during World War II and depicts the trials and companionship of an international group of soldiers. The cast chosen by the Teachers Playhouse includes eight men, seven of whom are GI students at the college, and one woman.

Jerome Worsley of Greenville in the role of a dour Scot has the lead. Others in the cast are Vernon Tyson, Claude B. West, Jr., Virgil Clark, and James Crawford, all of Greenville; John Zen, Hopewell, Va.; Joe Polilli, Dover, Ohio; Dan Hunt, Oxford; and Shirley Cowburn, Lumberton.

Dr. Lucile M. Charles, director of speech and the drama at the college, will direct the play. Student assistants working under Dr. Charles are Helen Ayscue, Henderson; Dorothy Midgett, Waves; and Ralph Rives, Enfield. The technical staff includes 25 students, with Helen Winslow of Goldsboro as stage manager. Francis Lee Neel, faculty member of the department of art, will direct students in designing and building scenery for the play.

Your best beau probably is used to that lovely hostess—his mother. A Lenten Prayer

"The Debt Immense of Endless Gratitude"

And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them. Mark 14:23. Read 1 Corinthians 11:23-31.

His gratitude was not reserved for his times of popular acclaim; his resignation to the Father's will was so complete that on the night that he was betrayed, he gave thanks!

The Author of the universe, the Giver of every good and perfect gift, bestows now the gift of suffering to reclaim his fallen world. To praise him for the darkness as well as for the light is the mark of the Christian; to accept in gladness of heart a full share in the fellowship of Christ's sufferings, is his high privilege.

Through the centuries the Church has remembered her Lord in the breaking of bread and the drinking of the cup. And, as oft as she eats and drinks, gratitude is the theme. The Greek word for the Holy Supper literally means thanksgiving. Thus in the blessed fellowship is shown the meaning in its depth, unreserved praise for undeserved grace. On the one side, the divine initiative; on the other, the human response. First, the lavish generosity of God; then the fervent thanks of man. O give thanks unto the Lord for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever!

Let Us Pray: For thy works mighty and small, we praise thy name; and more deeply would we thank thee, our Father, that thou hast given us a share in the passion and the glory of the Christ. Amen.

Mrs. Gates Hostess To Clio Book Club

Mrs. Jack Gates entertained the Clio Book Club Tuesday, May 12, at her attractive home in Hillsdale.

During the short business meeting, the president, Miss Agnes Fullo, asked that a note of welcome be sent to the Aries Book club, the newest club to be organized in the city.

Mrs. Gates presented her speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Luther Herring, who gave in her charming and versatile style the high lights in a review of Foster Fitzsimmons first novel, "Bright Leaf." In her opening remarks she stated, "A book review should make you want to read the book." Her purpose was more than fulfilled as several members asked especially for "Bright Leaf" during book exchange.

Following the review Mrs. Gates served a delicious salad and sweet course, assisted by Mrs. Robert Lang.

Easter Menu Planners To Find Plenty Of Ham

Easter menu planners will find hams plentiful this year and prices down two to six cents a pound from last week in many stores and butcher shops.

However, trade sources said hams usually are featured as an Easter special and their prices, trimmed to attract shoppers, do not indicate a lower trend in meats generally. Other meat and poultry quotations are little changed from a week ago.

Lamb, another Easter favorite for many families, continued high because of a scarcity. Lamb prices reached an all-time high last week-end in some cities and remained about the same this week. Buyers will pay those prices will find supplies ample, the Trade said.

Eggs were up one to two cents a dozen from last week and unusually high for this time of year. At New York, the butter and egg merchants association said the Department of Agriculture's price-support buying of dried eggs had created an artificial shortage despite near record egg production and "a burdensome surplus."

Iceberg lettuce and cucumbers also were a little higher because of smaller shipments. But asparagus and spinach were becoming plentiful. The first lima beans from Florida and California were reaching northern cities, and unusually big shipments of green corn from Florida pushed prices downward.

Superior Court To Start Here Next Tuesday Morning

The criminal term of Superior Court, scheduled to start in Greenville next Monday, will not be held at that day. Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford, who is riding the Fifth Judicial Circuit the first six months of this year, sent a message today, stating that he will not hold court Monday.

He will convene the two-week term on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Blind Singer Is Slowed By Snow

Denver (AP) Chuck Collins doesn't have much use for snow. But not for the same reason you or I might dislike the chilly stuff. Collins, a radio singer and pianist, is blind. Most of the time he makes his way around town nicely without the help of seeing-eye dog or the white cane of the unseeing.

His ears are his guides. Simply by shapping his fingers, listening to the changing echoes of sound in the street or bending an ear to the clicking of his leather heels, Collins says he can sense the presence of obstacles nearby.

But snow deadens sounds or makes them trickier to analyze. Collins, completely sightless for 33 of his 38 years, says he knows if an automobile is parked at the curb; when he is approaching a telephone pole or a wall or another pedestrian.

Collins helped earn his way to a political science degree at Idaho University by tuning pianos. For 11 years he sang in Seattle and Hollywood, with dance bands and then over the air.

Collins now has a five-a-week show—Chuck Collins Calling—of songs and patter over station KOA and KMYR.

Kiwanis Minstrel Repeats Tonight; Had Big Opening

By CHESTER WALSH
A capacity audience at Austin auditorium at the college last night to witness the 1949 presentation of Ell Bloom's annual Kiwanis minstrel show for the benefit of the Kiwanis Club's underprivileged child fund enjoyed the show and registered its approval by almost continuous applause.

The appearance of Tige Gardner, vice-president of the club, an old-time minstrel man and star of the show for years, won for him a resounding wave of applause. Bloom as interlocutor was a bright spot in the show. The singing of the choruses was better than ever. The jokes, streamlined to a fine and humorous point, were better. Leon Jackson, at the piano and leading the orchestra, contributed much to the success of the show.

Sam Northrop Jr., talented high school singer, made a hit singing Herbert Lee's copyrighted song "You Know." The audience liked the song and registered its approval. The song will feature the program again tonight. Herbert Lee, the composer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lee of Greenville, is a courier for the U.S. State Department and now is on a mission in Cairo, Egypt.

The dancing numbers by pretty girls, directed by Marie Smith Wallace, were scintillating and pleasing.

The blackface singing and dancing numbers by smaller girls, and a blackface specialty by a boy and girl made hits. The singing of the High School Quartet was excellent and went over big. The singing and dancing number by six Kiwanians, with Edwina McMullan interspersing the act with acrobatic dancing specialties, was one of the big hits of the show.

Bill Drum's buck and wing dance number classified him as a professional. Aubrey Tilley's singing of "Pretty Baby" with eight dancing girls, was good enough for Broadway. Christine Smith's playing for some of the numbers was fine. ECTC students did great work assisting in the production of the minstrel.

The Kiwanis minstrel is a great show. It's worth the money. Everybody should see it. President Arthur Tripp, preceding the show, welcomed the audience and explained what the Kiwanians do with the minstrel money to help worthy underprivileged persons. This year's minstrel is the eighth the Kiwanians have presented. More than $15,000 has been netted from the show during the past seven years and it is always spent for good purposes.

The second performance of the minstrel starts tonight at 8:15. Tickets are on sale at the door.

Sunrise Service at Black Jack

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE LION AND THE LAMB

Some people have a perfect genius for bedeviling everybody in their vicinity. The wife who nags, the husband whose grouches are chronic, the boss who likes to kick everybody around who will stand for such treatment, the workman whose chief delight is to get all his fellow workmen quarreling — these are the bedevilers par excellence, and they keep countries stirred up worse than does the threat of war. Probably the worst bedeviler of all is the person who is chronically nervous—who is never in danger of having a nervous break-down himself but who induces break-downs in everybody else.

Well, this all sounds more sinister and alarming than it really is, for, after all, there are few people like this in the world. Most people are good natured, tractable, neighborly, co-operative, helpful. But how can we live at peace with the ones who are not?

Of course the first thought that centers our minds is that we would like to start "swinging around." But that does no good. The one thing people cannot resist is love and good will, aimed straight at them in spite of their meanness. We really can overcome evil with good if we go about it seriously enough. The lion and the lamb can actually be persuaded to lie down together. This is a miracle but it can be accomplished by the kindly power of the spirit.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

There were two excellent reasons why the Western Allies agreed to reduce the dismantling of German industries. One reason, was to help the Germans become self-sufficient; the other, to enable Germany to contribute more to the total recovery of Europe. The fact that it eased the pressure on Uncle Sam's coin purse might have been behind it all.

During the years of peace, a busy and prosperous Germany was the keystone to European prosperity. If a new Germany can be built up from the ruins of her own making, and kept on the road of peace and goodwill toward its neighbors. Then we shall have truly accomplished a modern miracle.

It is obvious that this task is not going to be easy. German Socialist leaders have an out turn up the occupation treaty the West offered them as a basis for drawing up a new constitution. Their actions are not submissive as one would expect from a defeated people.

The survey committee which recommended reducing the number of German plants to be dismantled was set up by the Economic Cooperation Administration. That means that the ultimate results, whether good or bad, will be the responsibility of the United States.

WORKING—If the highway commission reorganization bill is enacted as approved by the senate roads committee, it will mean the next highway commission will have real working jobs. The committee substituted for two other bills providing for enlarged membership on the commission, minor changes in the present law greatly increasing the time commissioners will have to spend on the job. In fact, the new proposal would constitute almost full time jobs for some members with

Pirates Don't Favor Arming Ships

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

HARDSHIP—The new bill would require each commissioner to visit each county in his division one day in each calendar month to confer with local government bodies and private citizens about road matters. At least one highway division has fourteen counties. That would take 14 working days, and the commissioner must attend at least one meeting a month in Raleigh. For those far distant that trip often means three days. And there aren't 26 working days in the average month. And highway commissioners get $700 a day. That boils down to the fact the commissioner would spend more than two-thirds his time attending meetings and would get from $100 to $125 a month. Difficulty of getting competent men to take the job on that basis should be obvious. Present law requires the commissioner to hold one meeting a month somewhere in his division.

COMPROMISE—This was offered as a substitute for a senate bill providing 40 members and a house bill providing 30. Governor Scott had indicated favor for the large number of commissioners, but did not put much force back of his support. The bill approved by the senate committee instead of lessening work of individual commissioners will more than double it. Only a very rich man who does not need to work or one not worth more than $40 a week can afford to serve as highway commissioner.

IRONY—The state department of motor vehicles Wednesday received a telegram from the National Safety Council advising that North Carolina had the best highway safety record in 1943 of any state in the southern region, and fifth best in the country. The message attributed large part of the improvement to effect of the mechanical inspection law. It is ironic that such tribute should come about a month after the inspection plan had been abolished by the legislature as having no value.

LOST—The bill authorizing the highway commission to designate heavy duty roads will probably get lost. After motion was made in senate committee to postpone action indefinitely, Chairman Libby Ward remarked to the committee clerk: "If you lose that bill, I can't help it."

TRUSTEES—Most capitol observers were surprised when Senator Frank Graham failed of nomination to the board of trustees of the greater university at Tuesday night's session. But there wasn't a great deal of support for the effort to get him on the board at joint session of the general assembly next day. It appeared that many legislators who had voted for the former university president to go on the board at the committee meeting, did not like the idea of going over the committee's heads and upsetting traditional policy. There was some question about whether Dr. Graham would like it. One member said it was too much like a candidate losing in the primary, then bolting the party to run as independent in the general election. Having had his chance in a fair election and lost, Dr. Graham probably would not greatly appreciate efforts of his friends to get him on the board by special statute or other indirection.

EX-OFFICIO—Suggestion that he be placed on the board through general act giving ex-officio membership to all past presidents of the Greater University, on same basis as past governors, ran into opposition. It would have to be limited by so much verbiage that in fact it would constitute a special act just naming Dr. Graham a trustee and that might require amendment of the entire trustees law. Several members said they wouldn't support any bill to keep a man connected with the university after he had voluntarily separated himself from it.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Who will have the last laugh in the gadget age—man or the machine?

Well, the machine is already giving a preliminary oily chuckle. For it is gaining... gaining... gaining on mankind. It is convinced it will laugh last.

This poor man's philosopher has repeatedly warned of the danger that lies in insidious machines—gadgets of all kinds that make men more comfortable but wear them from nature.

Recently I wrote that I had never learned to drive a motor car and never intend to. Why lose the ability to walk, as so many people who drive cars do?

Back came a peering post card from Alliance, Ohio.

"I didn't know anyone was so dumb. God must have been asleep when you was made."

I prefer to think that the deity is keeping at what man is letting the machine age do to him. And what is it doing? It is gradually making him unnecessary in the world — by taking over his functions.

Laugh, clown, laugh. But listen, too:

Man functions by means of muscle, brain and heart. And by heart I mean emotion.

The machine holds an edge in the world of muscle. It has already replaced man there. Men are perhaps growing larger physically, but the tools in their hands are growing lighter and lighter. Eventually men won't have to lift anything.

This is regarded as a boon—the taking over by the machine of man's eternal labor burden.

But now machines have taken the second step to supersede their creators—mankind. They can think. They have mechanical brains that can solve some problems quicker than a thousand brilliant men.

Today the brain of the machine is only in its infancy. How far can it go? No scientist can predict a limit.

But Dr. Norbert Wiener of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a world authority in this field says thinking machines will make obsolete the unskilled human worker. He foresees completely automatic factories with assembly lines directed from a single control panel.

"The transfer to this thinking said Dr. Wiener, "would not be essentially a bigger job than that done with radar in the last war."

"It's a thing that may be very useful to a sane world, but I can't say we're living in one. It is a very dangerous thing socially. If we are going to sell man down the river and replace him, he's going to be a very angry man, and an angry man is a dangerous man."

And Dr. Wiener gave this warning: "If it isn't going to be handled with a great deal of skill, it will be a period of great smash."

"The power is too great to entrust to any individual."

And so we stand—at the threshold of a new adventure. The little slave we bought so long ago is now challenging its master.

The machine has more muscle than we have. Soon—very, very soon—it will have greater and more precise brainpower than the ordinary man has to meet and make the judgments necessary in a mechanical age.

What has man left to defeat the machine? Nothing but his heart, the one thing a machine lacks. But man hasn't lived by his heart in the sad history of this warring world. Only by using his heart more can he avoid the doom of becoming a hired hand of his own gadgets.

Otherwise the machine will laugh, and laugh... and laugh... until its gears break.

WASHINGTON LETTER.. by Jane Eads

Washington — The ladies whose forefathers fought in the revolutionary war will move in on Washington late this month for their 58th Continental Congress at Constitution Hall.

A mass demonstration for national defense will highlight the congress, and the subject of national defense will keynote the sessions to follow. Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne, of Brooklyn, Ind., president general, will reiterate the DAR's belief that "regardless of treaties or pacts, this country must be strong enough to cope with any eventuality."

Mrs. O'Byrne will preside over the laying of the cornerstone of the organization's handsome new $900,000 administration building, ground for which was broken in February. The structure connects Constitution Hall with Memorial Continental Hall, wherein is housed the society's library, said to be the finest general library in the United States. The library also will be opened for the first time during the coming sessions.

Nine women will be elected vice presidents general. The DAR has 31 vice presidents general, seven being elected each year for three-year terms. In addition there are first vice president general and second Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

This column was born yesterday afternoon.

"Exactly what do you have in mind?" Dave asked me. I was talking to this paper's Managing Editor, Dave Whitchard III, since I don't call Editor and Publisher Dave by his first name.

The column I have in mind, I said, will be called "Somebody Told Me..." and will consist of chatter about almost everything under the sun that you can think of—by mostly about Greenville people and happenings.

This column will be about Greenville's bums, socialites, teachers, politicians, merchants, preachers, newspapermen, athletes, clerks, mechanics, undertakers, mail men, doctors, lawyers, and housewives. In other words, this column will be about you.

Whenever possible, this column will be local. However, when a state, national, or international event is particularly significant or amusing, it might hit print in this column. At times the best from the nationally famous columnists will appear here. That might be excerpts from Hedda Hopper, Jimmy Fidler or Louella Parsons on Hollywood, Drew Pearson on Washington, Earl Wilson on Broadway, Walter Winchell on the latest yippy yip, or Eleanor Roosevelt whenever her Day is of particular interest. Naturally I reserve the right to quote my wife, Rachel.

This columnist might at times venture to say that a movie should be seen or missed, a new novel off the press is good or bad, or a particular magazine article is too good to miss.

Obviously, Greenville people of unusual interest will make news here. A good example would be and third vice-presidents. The first vice-president is a member of the DAR cabinet of 22 officers.

All candidates for the office are nominated by the states from which they come. This year's ballot includes the following:

Mrs. Henry Grady Jacobs, Scottsboro, Ind., state regent; Miss Edla Stannard Gibson, Buffalo, N. Y., ex-

Policeman Wooten, probably one of the best-known men in town. Did he always want to be an officer? How many motorcycles has he won out? What has been his most exciting experience during his 10-some years on the police force? Does he ever get tired of riding that machine? Presumably, the answers to these questions would be of interest to Greenville people.

The column is named "Somebody Told Me..." for a reason. Its success or failure will be determined by the columnist's contact with the people of Greenville.

"Somebody Tells Him..." will make or break the column. So if you know of any happening of particular interest to Reflector readers, give, Bro't'er, give.

By the time Dave III had heard the spiel about what the columnist says the column will be, he was ready to buy to shut me up if for no other reason.

"Ok, Ok," he said, "we'll start you at $1,200 a week."

I complained that Drew Pearson gets $2,000 a week, and he has time to do a weekly radio show for ABC for which he gets a measly $5,000 a week.

"Don't be so impatient," Dave warned, "you want to get a raise later, don't you?" And he reminded me that I have time to work at Edwards Auto Supply. So Dave drew up the fifty-year contract.

As I was signing, Dave asked me what the first column will contain. I told him that it would be just what I had told him, plus thanks. The thanks will be a daily feature. Any one who reads this six days a week should at least be thanked for it.

And I thank you.

state regent and present national chairman of the DAR's Approval Schools Committee; Mrs. Edward R. Barrow, state regent from Houston Tex.; Miss Gertrude Carraway, state regent, New Bern, N. C.; Mrs. Chester F. Miller, state regent, Saginaw, Mich.; Mrs. J. De Forest Richards, ex-state regent, Chicago, Ill.; Miss Mabel Gupton, ex-state regent, Nampa, Idaho; Mrs. Mark Andrews, ex-state regent, Macon, Ga., and Mrs. Purl Robert Burns, state regent North Manchester, Ind.

Next year, when the big business of electing a president general takes place, the Daughters will initiate their new voting room in their new building. These de luxe quarters costing some $30,000 were the gift of one member.

Haddock School News

The parents and citizens of Haddock, Cox, Ellis and Corey communities are not only much impressed with the location of the Haddock consolidated school at Haddock Cross Roads, but feel very grateful also for the new school which is almost complete.

The new school site consists of three acres of land, which through the efforts and cooperation of the parents, friends, children and teachers has been cleared of trees brush and stumps also drained.

The citizens of Cox and Ellis communities have shown much interest and have worked splendidly with and for the present organization.

Also, the patrons and friends of Corey community gave wholeheartedly their labor in helping to pave the way for future advancement of the project.

Small donations from friends and parents were used to purchase dynamite for blowing up stumps.

Though the campus is still far from what it is planned and hoped to be, the community sentiments are that they may soon have a whole-some place for recreation as well as a bigger and better school.

The very kind officers and members of both Haddock Chapel Free Will Baptist and St. Stephen's Episcopal Churches made it possible for the school work to continue by allowing the use of the churches after the old school building was torn down.

The teachers of Haddock School at present are C. M. Anderson, principal, Mrs. E. C. Anderson and Mrs. Hattie V. Forbes.

When Fliny visited India 1900 years ago he reported to Rome that he saw grasshoppers three feet long with legs strong enough to use as saws.

Hollywood Stars Reveal Costumes In Easter Parade

Hollywood, April 14—(AP)—Want to know what the movie stars will wear in the Easter parade?

Greta Garson will high-light her flame colored hair with a new suit of lavender-blue. The simple silk shantung suit buttons high and has a torso-hugging jacket. A long strand of pearls knotted under the tiny collar will hold fresh violets. Her bonnet-shaped hat is the same lavender-blue shade.

Ava Gardner has chosen a black and white checked wool. The coat-dress buttons high at the throat with a tiny roll collar. The skirt is straight in the back and the sides but flares out in front. She belts the waist with a wide black patent belt. Pumpkin-colored gloves and beret accent the black and white.

Jeannette MacDonald will sing at Easter services and is planning to wear an unusual costume. Two shades of persimmon silk shantung are used for the softly tailored dress and fitted coat. The coat is slightly darker shade than the dress. Strapped lined opera pumps are dyed to match the dress. Beige gloves, wide-brimmed beige straw hat, and a bamboo box bag are her accessories.

Judy Garland will wear a black and red print dress of silk shantung. Softly draped in the back, the dress has a row of tiny umbrella buttons down the front. The short basque jacket is red wool and lined in the same print as the dress. She will wear a shiny black straw hat that tilts to the right. The tilted brim reveals the same silk print as the dress. Her bag and pumps are black calf, and she will wear short black gloves.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, you may suffer from backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or recent passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

For Lasses With Glasses

YOUNG AND GAY . . . This is the way to wear your veil if you wear glasses, says Fred Fredericks, who designed the youthful hat of black shiny straw.

In World War II, the Army advised GIs in remote places that grasshoppers might be eaten in times of extreme emergency.

A monument was erected by the Mormons at Salt Lake City for the gulls which answered prayers for an end to a grasshopper scourge.

Settlement . . .

Then reporting on the vital economic purpose of E. R. P., De Luce says:

"Western Europe's recovery is apparently progressing almost twice as fast now as it did after the first World War. But insiders of the E. R. P. still keep their fingers crossed . . . men on the inside of the European recovery program claim it now has a 40 to 60 percent chance of long-range success. A year ago they saw only a 20 per cent chance."

Even more important is the signing of the Atlantic Alliance which consolidates the United States and virtually all western Europe into a solid defensive bloc. Back of this is the American promise to help provide its allies with the weapons with which to resist aggression from any quarter.

In short it's apparent that the line which Moscow has established through central Europe is the line on which it must stand, at least for the present. That being so, the time has arrived for consolidation.

This would seem to be especially true since the Soviet had encountered considerable political disaffection in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. In the case of Yugoslavia, her two-fisted leader, Marshal Tito, has become the bad lad of the Communist bloc. There also have been signs of discontent elsewhere, notably in Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Thus it would be rather surprising from the standpoint of good generalship, if the Russians didn't pause now. The Muscovites are mighty cap-

Constitution Of Confederacy Will Be Soon Moved

Birmingham, Ala., April 14—(AP)—The original confederate states constitution is going back to Montgomery, where it was formulated and adopted 88 years ago.

There it will occupy a place of honor in the state archives and history building. Its new resting place is less than 1,000 feet from the hall in which it was ratified on March 11, 1861.

That was the month before Confederate guns fired on Fort Sumter to start the war between the states.

The 27-page document will be presented to the state Saturday at a meeting of the Alabama Historical Society at Tuscaloosa. It has been in the hands of heirs of Judge Alexander B. Clitherall, Assistant Secretary of the Confederate Congress.

The constitution is in printed form, with handwritten corrections and changes on the city.

It bears this note, written by Judge Clitherall in longhand:

"Permanent constitution is reported by the committee, with the amendments thereto as made by the Congress, C. S. A. arranged by Alex. B. Clitherall, Asst. Sec'y Congress, C. S. A., from the original journals and papers. March 9, 1861, reported back from committee and ordered to be printed as it is here arranged."

able generals.

However, it shouldn't be thought such a pause would mean that the campaign for world communication was ended or even slackened.

That will continue until either the Red force is spent or it achieves its objectives.

New Farm . . .

reaching. Others look on it as just a logical step that's needed to keep farmers from a crack-up.

The underlying idea—helping the farmers—isn't new. Under the law we have right now, the government steps in on a number of crops and buys them up to help farmers when prices fall below a certain level.

For example, the government buys eggs if they go below a price fixed by the government. Potatoes, too.

Why? Just to keep a surplus off

Runaway Train Kills Engineer

City firemen carry the body of Locomotive Engineer Daniel Wilson from wreckage in which he was killed while chasing runaway freight cars with his switch engine at Portland, Ore. the market. With the surplus gone, do the same thing in some kinds of prices stay up. This means that food, like non-perishable corn, wheat for the benefit of the farmers, the public pays higher prices. And yet, it's the public's tax money which is being used to do all that.

If the new program became law, the government would, more or less, dropped below a figure fixed by the government—the government wouldn't step in and take them off the market to keep prices up. It would do this:

Take the case of eggs. The government might decide the average price on them should be 45 cents a dozen, so the farmers could have fair income off them.

Suppose they dropped to 25 cents a dozen because so many were on the market. The government would say "good, let 'em drop, so the general public can get the benefit of lower prices."

But the government would pay the farmers 20 cents, or the difference between the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

You, buying the eggs at 25 cents a dozen, would benefit by the lower price on eggs. But it would be you tax money the government would use to pay the farmer that 20 cents.

Who'd win on that deal? No one knows now. Secretary Brannan's experts are busy now trying to figure out how much the program would cost.

One thing is clear from the present and proposed help for the farmers: To survive in the free enterprise system they need government help, and when that happens the system isn't free of control.

SO YOU WANT TO RETIRE! WHEN? . . . Age 55-60-65??

IF MEN TODAY would take into consideration the effect of taxes on their investment yields, they would be actually shocked. I can't show you a way to avoid income taxes, but I have the means by which you may eliminate a big part of them. For professional counseling in all life insurance problems—

Young Roosevelt Runs As Liberal

New York, April 14 — (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., pitted against three opponents in a special congressional election in New York City, will run under the flag of the liberal party—right wing offshoot of the left wing American Labor party.

The late President's lawyer son—denied the Democratic nomination by Tammany Hall—also will have the support of the new "Four Freedoms" party.

The Liberal party nomination—assured several days ago—was voted formally and unanimously late yesterday by the party's New York County (Manhattan) Executive Committee.

Roosevelt's backers solicited support from many groups as a spirited political fight shaped up in the 20th congressional district, normally heavily Democratic, on Manhattan's West Side.

In addition to Roosevelt, there will be Democratic, Republican and American Labor party candidates in an election May 17 to fill the seat of the late Sol Bloom, veteran Democratic congressman.

The Liberal party's county chairman, Murray Baron, said in a statement last night that all trade union affiliates of the party were being mobilized for the campaign.

FDR, Jr., Baron promised, "will have behind him the organized support of the Liberal party, the Four Freedoms party, the Americans for Democratic Action, and independent citizens groups. The Democrats for Roosevelt — representing all Democrats — will, of course, wage a vigorous campaign."

Ancient Altar Is Found In Italy

Spoletto, Italy — (AP) — Tombs and sculptures of the early Christian centuries were discovered here recently in the basilica of Saint Gregory the Great.

While workmen demolished a baroque altar in the basilica, they discovered a Roman marble altar that bore sculptures around the base, and hollow in the upper part. It is believed that the altar was part of a Roman temple upon which the basilica was built.

Early Christian tombs were discovered in front of the southern side of the basilica.

Writes its Owner's Biography!

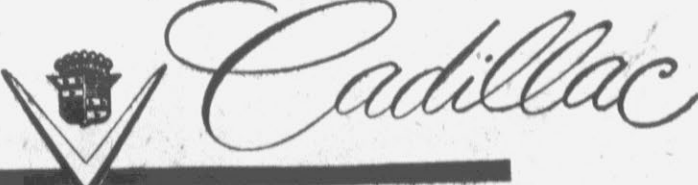

It seems safe to say that there is no material possession which speaks more eloquently of the man who owns it than a Cadillac car.

Wherever it is driven, it offers authentic testimony as to its owner's good taste—his concern for the safety and comfort of his family and friends—and his general standing in the field of endeavor in which he has chosen to make his contribution to the world's affairs.

Indeed, if a complete list were published of those who own and drive this distinguished car—it would be obvious that it has become a hallmark of achievement in almost every walk of life.

That this should have happened is entirely logical—for Cadillac cars have been built, for almost half a century, to the most uncompromising standards of excellence. As a result, Cadillac stands alone in all the things that make a motor car a distinction to possess and a pleasure to utilize.

The 1949 Cadillac is the grandest of them all, in every way. Why not visit our showrooms and see for yourself? You are welcome at any time.

Aged Negro Gets Freedom While At Death's Door

Raleigh, N.C., April 14—(AP)—James Palmer, Sr., 61-year-old Negro, was back at his Lee County farm today a free man—released from Death Row by the State Supreme Court.

The court yesterday ordered Palmer turned free when it reversed his conviction of first degree murder in the slaying of Otis McNeill, a Negro neighbor.

The decision also cleared Palmer's son, James (Foxy) Palmer Jr., who was convicted as an accessory after the fact when tried with his father in Lee Superior Court last August.

The father was taken from Death Row shortly after the court's ruling was released, and about two hours later he left Central Prison. The son had been free for seven months under $20,000 bond while awaiting a ruling on his appeal from a 10-year sentence.

Faith set him free, the elder Palmer told a reporter.

"Prayer is the key to heaven," he beamed. "Faith has unlocked the door."

U. S. 'Secret Weapon'

Washington, April 14—(P)—There's a rumor going around Czechoslovakia that the United States has a new kind of secret weapon:

Sleeping drugs which would allow an army to effect a bloodless occupation of the whole country.

This was reported by the Prague radio in a Czech language broadcast which was recorded by American government Monitors and distributed to interested American officials.

The broadcast appears to indicate that a good many people in Czechoslovakia engage in spreading rumors about a forthcoming liberation to go to a prayer meeting. I could sing and pray and preach all night."

The Palmers were arrested and charged after McNeill's body, weighted with cement blocks, was taken from Deep River on March 20, 1948. He had been shot in the head and body.

Their appeal contended that the convictions were based on circumstantial evidence. The Supreme Court agreed.

"When all is said," Associate Justice S. J. Ervin Jr. wrote in the opinion, "the state's testimony returns no answer to the baffling questions it asks x x x. The state must suffer defeat for lack of proof."

The court added: "This ruling has the force and effect of a verdict of not guilty as to each of the accused."

India Reports On Loaned Silver

New Delhi—(P)—India obtained from the United States during the war 226,000,000 ounces of silver on Lend-Lease arrangements.

Finance Minister Dr. John Matthai told questioners in the legislative assembly the silver was imported in the understanding it would be returned ounce for ounce in kind within five years of the date the U. S. President declared the end of war emergency.

He added the question of repayment would be considered "at the proper time." Replying to supplementary questions, Matthai said part of this silver was utilized for coinage, part was sold in market and the rest remained with the government.

Special Ramp Is Police Courtesy

Chicago—(P)—Patrick Devine, a traffic cop, saw the woman every afternoon. She was on crutches. She struggled out into Wabash Ave. at Ninth street, and pulled herself aboard a streetcar.

There must be an easier way to get up those steps, Devine thought. He found some pieces of lumber and a scrap of rubber matting and built a platform. Now, when he sees the crippled lady coming, he places the ramp in the street and she hobbles onto the car.

China Reds Also Finding Civil War Expensive Says Official

Shanghai, April 14—(AP)—The Chinese Communists are also finding the civil war expensive, says James T. Ivy, U. S. aid director in Tientsin until the Reds took over. Ivy, who recently returned from Tientsin, said he had talked to farmers after the Communists captured that big industrial city. One farmer told the Nationalist tax collectors often took up to one-half of the crops, but that Communist tax collectors were taking as much as seven-eighths. "The maintenance of a huge military machine seems to be just as expensive for the Communists as anybody else," Ivy said. "The farmer is having to bear the burden (in Communist territory) just as does the Nationalist farmer. But around Tientsin, at least, the cost seems to be greater." When he left Tientsin, he said, the Communists were trying to start an income tax system so as to shift part of the burden on to the urban dweller. He said the difficulties the Communists were having in getting the industrial city to function seemed to temper their anti-Americanism. "The Chinese are fond of the Americans," one Communist official told him, "and the Americans are fond of the Chinese, but the Chinese are opposed to American foreign policy." The Communists make much propaganda out of "American imperialism." Ivy said the Communist officials he managed to see in Tientsin—none of them higher-ups were reluctant to talk about Russia. They wouldn't reply when brought up the suggestion that Russia had infringed on China's sovereignty by occupying Dairen and Port Arthur. Foreigners were allowed to move freely in Tientsin, Chinese functionaries and church property had not been seized. Ivy said he had heard of no mass arrests or mass trials of the wealthy. Some Nationalist officials were arrested. The money market was open and U. S. currency was much in demand. Movies were open every night. He reported that a popular film was "The Fighting Lady," a documentary film of aircraft carrier action in the Pacific war. A special showing was arranged for Communist officials, who praised the picture. Some historians believe that the first American coffee house was opened in 1669 in Boston.

Trains Meet In Head-On Crash

Jackson, Miss., April 14—(AP)—A 110-car northbound freight train and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio crack passenger train "Rebel" crashed head-on near New Albany shortly before midnight last night, killing one person and injuring ten. Supt. W. R. Moore of the Tennessee division of the GM&O attributed the wreck to a "misunderstanding of orders." He said only about 30 to 35 passengers were aboard the "Rebel," which was headed to New Orleans from St. Louis. None of the ten persons injured was believed critically hurt. Joe Cannon of Jackson, a mail clerk on the "Rebel," was killed. None of the freight cars was derailed, Moore said, but all cars of the "Rebel" left the tracks though they remained upright except for the engine and mail car, which were telescoped.

Says Poles Need More Faith In Science At Home

Warsaw, Poland—(AP)—Hilary Minc, president of the economic committee of the council of ministers, says Polish scientists need more faith in what Socialist country can do and less in the western world. He told a national conference of industrial chiefs called to get new ideas for economics in production that Polish scientists should stop worshipping the scientific achievements of the western world. Minc hailed what he said were the achievements of Soviet science. He also credited Poles with finding the process for liquid air; for the discovery of radium, vitamins, and television. Minc said it was regrettable that these Poles gave the world their discoveries through work in foreign countries. A "Permanent Inter-American Committee for the Campaign Against the Locust" was formed by eight Latin-American nations in Buenos Aires last July.

Derby-Winning Arcaro Is Not So Sure He'll Repeat

New York, April 14—(AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby winners than any other jockey, isn't so sure he'll do it again with Olympia come May 7 at Churchill Downs. He isn't saying he won't, either.

The dapper Italian peeked into a mirror in the Jamaica Jockey room, made another swipe with his comb, wiped some hair oil from his hands, and started talking.

"I haven't been able to form much of an opinion yet about Olympia. Only rode him once, you know." That was Saturday when Olympia romped home by seven lengths in the Experimental Free handicap.

"But, don't get me wrong. He's a lot of horse. What I mean, I just haven't been able to find out all I need to know about him."

"I never let him run at all in the Experimental — didn't have to. It was just a canter. It was like breathing around the track all by himself, and he had no competition."

Arcaro said he would find it difficult to compare Olympia with Lawrin, Whirlaway, Hoop Jr., or Citation—his four Derby winners.

"He doesn't remind me of any of the others, but he runs as free as they did. Olympia feels like a very powerful running horse. What we call free running is going without urging."

"This horse really wants to win and if he holds that edge until Derby Day, we'll be all right," Eddie said with a grin.

Want Good Gravy Every Time? Here's How!
The secret of making good, rich brown gravy every time (just like you make when you have a BIG roast) is a constant query here at the Rector Kitchens.
It's one we just LOVE to answer because Wilson's famous B-V Gravy is foolproof—a success every single time! Even when you have no meat or drippings and start your gravy with butter.

Whenever we ask a church group, club or PTA about their favorite Wilson product experiences, they are sure to come up with many amazing new stories about how "Easy B-V Gravy" solved their gravy troubles. Now when over half the public uses an item, you know it just HAS to be GOOD.

B-V Works Magic
In modern LOW temperature roasting the goodness of the meat stays right in the roast where it belongs. Perhaps your Mom's gravy was good because with old style roasting methods so much of the goodness dripped down into the roaster she couldn't help but get good gravy.

B-V is the "meat magic" trick for putting good meat flavor in the gravy without sacrificing the roast. For Wilson's B-V is a true meat extract—the real stuff! It'll make the gravy good and rich and brown every time! Buy a jar from your favorite food dealer and be convinced.

EASY B-V GRAVY
Melt:
2 tablespoons fat, drippings, Certified margarine, Clear Brook butter or Bakerite
Add and blend in well:
2 tablespoons flour
Then add and stir in until smooth:
1 cup liquid (water, milk or vegetable water)
Bring to a boil stirring constantly. In a small amount of hot gravy dissolve:
1 teaspoon Wilson's B-V
Add to gravy. Cook to desired thickness with occasional stirring.
Serves 3 to 4 persons.

Variation—If you use unsalted fat you may double the amount of B-V used for an extra-rich gravy.

Glamorous Gussie... 4 Pap
Glamorous Gussie Moran carried off most of the honors at the women's national indoor tennis championships. The winsome lass from Santa Monica, Calif., stroked her way to the national singles crown and then added the doubles and mixed doubles for good measure. The sweep indicated that Gussie is about to live up to the great promise she showed on her first appearance as a junior several years ago.

The now champion, ranked fourth nationally, has set her sights on Wimbledon, in June and Forest Hills and the national outdoor crown in September. She has the game to achieve both goals. There hasn't been any doubt concerning her ability to match strokes with any woman player in the game, but her talent for making costly errors at crucial times due mostly to nervousness, held her back. In the Nation at Forest Hills last fall, Gussie gave Margaret Osborne du Pont, the eventual winner, a terrific battle before being eliminated.

Gussie has been working hard to learn how to use her great assortment of strokes to best advantage. No longer does she blast ahead without rhyme or reason. Her new poise was very much in evidence as she disposed of the field in the indoor championship. In the finals, Gussie was at her best in defeating Nancy Chaffee, 6-2, 6-3.

Scared Shark
Tampico, April 14—(AP)—A shark frightened from sea by naval gunfire and depth charges, jumped up on Marmar Beach yesterday and bit a bather.

Other bathers grabbed sticks and clubs and beat the shark to death before it could get back to the water. The injured man was hospitalized.

The U. S. naval vessel John W. Weeks, six miles off shore, caused the trouble. It was demonstrating its guns and bombs for Mexican officials.

Loyola Star Is Signed As Pro
Moline, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Jack Kerris, star center of Loyola University's basketball team of Chicago, has signed a contract to play professional ball next season with the Tri-Cities Blackhawks of the National Basketball League. It was announced today by Leo Ferris, the Hawks general manager.

The signing of Ferris, 6-foot, 6-inch center, is the first acquisition of the top "name" players of this past season by the pros.

Greenies Rally In Eighth To Down Dunn-Erwin Visitors

By BERT MOYE

Red Sanders' smashing single in the eighth frame to bring home Manager Pappy Williams and Pete Gillespie gave the Greenies a 10-8 win over the Dunn-Erwin Twins of the Tobacco State League here last night.

The Greenies at the start of the eighth inning were trailing by an 8-6 score when they rallied for five runs on three hits, two errors, and four walks to gain their fourth win in exhibition play.

Moe Carter reached first on error, Paul Strausser walked, Keith Caraway, pinch-hitting for Tripp, came through with a double to bring home Carter; Pappy Williams singled and Strausser and Caraway scored to knot the count at 8-8; Pete Gillespie walked, Pasquale walked and the Red Sanders singled to bring home the winning runs. The Twins took a 3-1 lead in the second frame by scoring two runs on one hit, one error, two walks, and a hit batsman; as the Greenies scored a singleton in the first frame when Mason walked and later scored on Pappy Williams single; and then came back to knot the count at 3-2 in the bottom of the second when they scored one run on two walks and two errors.

The visitors took the lead again in the fourth frame when they scored a singleton on Walter's single and Kurpewsky's double. Greenville knotted the count at 3-3 in their half of the fifth frame when Tripp singled, Pappy Williams doubled, Gillespie walked, loading the bases and Steve Denier was walked forcing in Williams after Tripp was forced at home on Pasquale's hit ball.

The Twins then came back in the seventh frame to score one run on Miller's double and Denning's single to go out in front 4-3; but the Greenies came back in their half of the seventh and scored two runs on two hits, including a double by Sanders, one walk, a stolen base and a sacrifice.

In the eighth frame the Dunn-Erwin boys rallied for four runs on four hits, which included a three-run homer by Kenneth Jackson over the right field wall.

Stewart Stevenson pitched the first two frames for the Greenies and allowed two hits and two runs and Jim Lewey pitched the remainder of the game and kept 10 hits well scattered, with the exception of the eighth frame. He struck out three men and walked four.

Manager Pappy Williams with three singles and a double in four trips to the plate and Red Sanders with a double and a single in two trips to the plate, led the 10-hit attack off the five Twin hurlers used in the game.

Perry with two singles in five trips to the plate and Miller with a double and a single in five trips, led the 12-hit attack off the two Greenie hurlers.

Not Yet Certain When Yanks Will Have DiMaggio In Lineup

Baltimore, April 14—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio expects his discharge from Johns Hopkins Hospital today—but there is still the big question of how long a sore heel will keep the slugger out of the New York Yankee lineup.

Doctors examined him yesterday. They reported finding "immature calcium deposits" around his heel.

The star centerfielder has been plagued with ailments throughout his great career. His latest trouble started in Beaumont, Texas, last Saturday. His right heel, from which a bony growth—or "spur"—had been removed last November, pained him.

He left the team at Fort Worth and flew here, arriving at 2 a. m. yesterday.

Joe was examined by Dr. George A. Bennett, who had treated him often in the past. Afterwards, Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, director of the hospital, issued this statement:

DiMaggio was found to be suffering from "immature calcium deposits in tissues adjacent to his heel-bone."

"He will receive the usual treatment for this condition, which is seen in many parts of the body."

"It is expected he will be discharged on April 14, but will continue treatment as an out patient."

"The length of the disability will be determined by the results of the treatment."

Doctors indicated the calcium deposits were different from the bone spur which had caused him so much pain in the closing weeks of last season.

They declined to predict how long the $100,000-a-year veteran would be laid up.

Dr. T. M. Girard, a Dallas specialist who examined the Yankee Clipper before he came to Johns Hopkins, described the ailment as an irritation requiring rest, inoculations and X-rays.

against the Gotham Maulers who yesterday teed off for 16 runs and 21 hits to down the Tribe 16 to 6. Sid Gordon, Johnny Mize, Bobby Thomson, and Mickey Livingston hit homers for the Giants.

Manager Lou Boudreau has not officially announced his choice to lead the Tribe into the pennant scramble, but it is believed Feller could clinch the nomination with an impressive showing.

Washington Gets First Look At Senators Of '49

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Washington gets its first look at the 1949 Senators tonight when they meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition game at Griffith Stadium.

The contest closes out the Senators' exhibition series against major league teams. They will rest tomorrow, then meet Baltimore here Saturday and in Baltimore Sunday. Manager Barney Stetten of the Dodgers was hoping for good weather.

He sent his pitchers through an hour drill in a drizzle in Baltimore yesterday to keep them in shape.

Careful Training By Feller To Get Opening Game

Hickory, April 14—(AP)—Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians carefully training for an opening-game assignment against the St. Louis Browns Tuesday, will face the New York Giants here today.

He will try to go seven innings.

Two Deacs Who Will Be In Action

GENE HOOKS, 3B Wake Forest

Two outstanding members of Wake Forest's baseball team are Francis Fulghum and Gene Hooks. Fulghum, playing in the outfield, is having his best year yet with the bat. His current average is over the .400 mark and is regarded as one of the hardest hitters on the team. Hooks, playing third base, is an excellent fielder and has a fine

Track And Swim Meet At Durham

Durham, April 14—(AP)—The second annual Duke-Durham relay and the 10th annual North Carolina High School swimming championships at Duke University Saturday will attract scholastic stars from all over the state.

Durham High, winner of the track meet last year, and Chapel Hill High, which took the swim title for the second straight year, will defend their titles.

Durham, Charlotte Central, Raleigh and Curry of Greensboro are also entered in the track meet.

Greensboro, Raleigh, Tarboro, Wilmington, Fayetteville, High Point and Charlotte mermen are expected to compete in the swim meet.

The relay carnival will be held in Duke Stadium along with the varsity track meet pairing Duke and William and Mary.

which there is no question. Rookie Stan Lopata has clinched the first-string catching berth. Manager Eddie Sawyer said today. And that probably means that Andy Seminick is on the trading block.

Hit The Road

Greenville High School's Phantoms will hit the road again tomorrow in their final game of a five game out of town series when they invade the Elizabeth City High School diamond in a Northeastern Conference scrap.

It will be a meeting of two apparently equal teams with each boasting of little success in Northeastern competition.

Coach Be Farley's boys will be trying to get back into the conference race after losing all but their opening game. They took a stinging 16 to six defeat from Kinston's Red Devils Tuesday night.

The locals will come back home next Tuesday when they play host to their arch rival the Washington Pam Pack, one of the more powerful conference teams.

Gardella Assails Rickey's Verdict

New York, April 14—(AP)—Men who have hauled baseball into the courts struck back sharply today at Branch Rickey's charges that the game's reserve clause is opposed by persons of "avowed communist tendencies."

The bushy-browed president of the Brooklyn Dodgers made the statement in a talk before the Baltimore Advertising Club yesterday.

The people fighting the reserve clause, Rickey declared, "deeply resent the continuance of our national pastime."

The remarks drew quick return fire from Danny Gardella, the former Giant outfielder who has a $300,000 suit against the game pending, and from lawyers representing banned players.

Gardella, now an attendant at a Mount Vernon, N. Y., hospital, said the Rickey statement wasn't worthy of comment and added:

"My lawyer and myself do not intend to hurt the game in any way."

Danny's lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, said he would match "my own and Danny Gardella's record with that of Rickey any time."

"Rickey," Johnson added, "has had dictatorial powers so long he doesn't recognize the true principles of American life."

"Name calling is the last resort for a beaten man. The treatment Branch Rickey has accorded baseball players would have made Simon Legree blush in shame."

"At least Simon Legree had the initial sanction of the law and of the constitution."

Chapter 24
"Fenton's pen," Raff mused. "So this is Fenton's pen. Well, I'm glad I found it." He looked at Ellen. "Dear, don't you think we'd better go now?"
Ellen said, "It will just take a minute to get Al Vali's address."
"Never mind that," said Raff. "Just get Fenton's address."
She looked at him soberly. "Do you suppose it was Fenton?"
"I don't know. I'm going to find out what his pen was doing in a room to which he claimed he had no key," he said grimly.
She copied the address and handed him the slip. In a few minutes they were on their way.
The house where the Fentons lived was in the middle of a whole block of identical two-family residences, all badly in need of a coat of paint.
Raff stopped the car and told Ellen, "I'm going in alone. You stay here. I'm leaving the keys, and if I'm not out in fifteen minutes you go straight to the police station. Understand?"
She nodded and he kissed her briefly.
"Be careful," she whispered.
Raff pressed the bell. The house was dark and quiet. After about two minutes of silence he rang again. A light became visible somewhere in the back of the apartment. Presently the porch light went on and the curtains on the door were parted. The door was opened a crack and a woman's husky voice asked: "What is it? What do you want?"
"Sorry to disturb you at this hour, but I must see Dr. Fenton."
The door opened wide.
"Come in, won't you? Dr. Fenton will be here in a minute."
Fenton came into the room, hurriedly pulling on a bathrobe. He blinked at the lights in the room.
"This man wants to see you, Harold," Mrs. Fenton went over to her husband's side. Despite the friendliness she displayed toward him, Raff felt that she was ready to stand by Fenton.
He was beginning to experience a bad taste in his mouth.
"Why, hello," Fenton was extremely cordial. "You're that young doctor fellow who was in the office this morning."
"That's right. My name's Rafferty." The men shook hands.
"And this is Mrs. Fenton," Raff inclined his head in acknowledgment.

man to suicide?"
"I think that is what the murderer wanted us to believe."
"The murderer? Then you do think that Professor Hubbard was—"
He didn't finish the sentence.
"Yes, Dr. Fenton, Hubbard was murdered by a very clever method.
It was only at the autopsy that we discovered it."
"But, upon my soul, I don't understand Dr. Fenton's desperate deed." He seemed rather unconcerned over Hubbard's murder.
"It's easier to understand if you realize that Dr. Fenton was murdered, too," Raff said softly.
"You mean—it wasn't suicide?"
Fenton said hoarsely.
"It was not suicide. We have definitely established that."
"The poor man—the poor, poor man," Fenton shook his head slowly from side to side. Suddenly he looked up at Raff. His lips began to tremble. "Why, then, you've come here—you suspect—you think I killed them." He turned to his wife. "Martha, he thinks that I killed two men."
"Dr. Rafferty, just what makes you suspect my husband?" Mrs.
Fenton's voice was still calm.
"We have reason to believe that the culprit had managed to obtain a key to Hubbard's office. I'm afraid
I'll have to know just why Dr. Fenton obtained one."
Martha Fenton looked hard at Raff, then turned to her husband.
"Harold, tell him about the letter,"
she said.

Probing Union

Washington, April 14—(AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee is investigating the CIO-United Electrical Workers Union and plans public hearings next month.

The union, best known by its initials "UE," has been described officially by the committee as having Communists "still in the saddle" and having vital defense plants "at its mercy" in case of war.

The hearing involving UE will be part of a series starting with the American Slav Congress and allied organizations and branching into the fields of labor and alleged espionage.

was ready to "put plans into force" is a "sufficient" number of men did not go back to work. This was interpreted as a threat to use troops to do the strikers' work.

Several thousand transport union members involved in the strike reported for duty but refused to work because the employers insisted that they work on a piece-work basis as usual, instead of the daily wage and overtime the men demanded.

Credit Elephant With Best Mind

Bangkok—(AP)—The four sat around a table, sipping lime squashes and rating animals according to intelligence.

They had 100 years or more of work with animals behind them. Here is the order as presented by George Emerson, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer wild animal trainer who came to Bangkok to take home a boatload of animals:

1. The elephant.
2. The great ape family (gorilla, chimpanzee, orang-utang and gibbon).
3. The dog.
4. The horse.

With Emerson were David L. Mobley, who would rather talk about his birds at California's Catalina Island; Noel Rosefelt, Far East collector for the Catalina Wild Life Expedition; and Mahout Sawari, a Siamese elephant boy and the only real youngster in the group.

The quartet are collecting elephants, birds and varied animals for return to the United States. There they will be sent to Louis Goble's animal farm for use in films and also to circuses, to Catalina Island and to other animal spots in the U. S.

GOP Divided On Attitude Toward Truman Policies

Washington, April 14—(AP)—A split among senate Republicans over whether their party should launch an all-out attack on President Truman's legislative program came to the surface today.

On one side, Senator Malone of Nevada repeated to a reporter what he said he told a closed meeting of many GOP Senators yesterday: "I don't think the Republican party has any more policy than a cat, we're just following the Democrats and have been ever since I've been here. (Malone was elected in 1946.) I'd like to see the Republican party forget 'me too' and stand for something."

On the other side was Senator Taft of Ohio, Chairman of the GOP policy committee.

Taft confirmed that he told his colleagues at the meeting that the Republican party put itself in an "undefensible" position with the voters if it fights enactment of all public welfare legislation.

Hundreds Flock To See Broken, Weeping Statue

Syracuse, N. Y., April 14—(AP)—Hundreds came last night to watch an 11-year-old girl kiss the forehead of a broken religious statue saved from a trash can.

Many, including a Roman Catholic priest, said tears appeared in the eyes of the statue image of St. Ann after Shirley Anne Martin had pressed her lips to it.

It happened time after time, they said.

Some visitors kissed the severed head but nothing happened, witnesses reported.

The Rev. Francis J. Furfaro of Our Lady of Pompei church said he saw the statue weep.

On the other side was Senator Taft of Ohio, Chairman of the GOP policy committee.

Taft confirmed that he told his colleagues at the meeting that the Republican party put itself in an "undefensible" position with the voters if it fights enactment of all public welfare legislation.

Gets The Bird

Evansville, Ill.—(AP)—Dale Stemple, a private watchman, was making his nightly rounds. He saw a curtain move in a house. That was suspicious because the owner was out of town.

Stemple hailed a passing squad car. He and two officers, guns drawn, stole up to the house and peered in. They stared into the large, blinking eyes of an owl.

Chowan, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Duplin, Durham, Edgecomb, Greene, Halifax, Hoke, Harnett, Hertford, Hyde, Johnston, Lenoir, Martin, Nash, Northampton, Onslow, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Robeson, Sampson, Vance, Wayne and Wilson. A small delegation from Hopewell, Va., was also present.

Welcoming committees of college students from the home counties of guests greeted the visitors as they arrived. Illustrated booklets about the college were presented as souvenirs of the day. A conducted tour of the campus, which included visits to departments of instruction, began the scheduled program of the morning.

Special educational exhibits showing work done at the college were on display in 15 departments. Science at the college, aided by faculty members, staged an all-day open house, including exhibits in the biological and the physical sciences and laboratory demonstrations. Staff members of the "Teco Echo," student newspaper, opened their office for inspection and gave the seniors an idea of work on college publications.

A drill by the college band and ROTC unit under Cadet Captain Plummer A. Daniel of Washington, N. C. was held at 11:00 on the campus. A colorful group of approximately 4,000 visitors and college students lined campus driveways to see the military and music groups in action.

An assembly brought visitors to the Wright auditorium for a program arranged in their honor. President John D. Messick welcomed them to the college and spoke to them on youth's responsibilities in a Democratic society. Their attitudes and interests, he told them, should guide them in choosing the best type of education to make them useful and well-rounded citizens. Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, chairman of the High School Day Committee, traced the history of the event at the college and stressed educational values to be derived from it.

A program of music at the assembly included a concert by the college band, selections by the college mixed chorus, and group singing by those present.

A barbecue luncheon in the grove on the west campus began special events of the afternoon. Attending it were East Carolina students, and staff members, and guests. The opening of a new college radio station took place in the early afternoon. A program giving highlights of High School Day was broadcast.

"Sparkin'," a one-act comedy by E. P. Conkle presented by the Teachers Playhouse, college dramatic club, attracted a large audience to the Austin auditorium early in the afternoon. A concert by the Women's Chorus and a motion picture followed the play.

Other events scheduled for this afternoon are a baseball game between the East Carolina Pirates and the Elon College team and a dance in the Wright Auditorium.

Doughton . . .

Doughton said Congress faces one of three choices: 1. Hold down appropriations; 2. Increase taxes or 3. Return to deficit financing "which—with the public debt at $250,000,000,000 and the country reasonably prosperous—would be worst of all."
