Truman Foreign Aid Cut Spurring Further Appeals

Some Congressional Leaders Want More Taken Off Recovery Appropriations

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—President Truman's shav-down request for foreign aid funds drew a "let's cut more" reaction today from some congressional leaders.

As a House appropriations subcommittee met to consider Mr. Truman's request for $5,272,000,000 for the European recovery program, influential lawmakers talked about cutting as much as $2,000,000,000 from the fund. The figure Mr. Truman mentioned itself represents a cut of more than $150,000,000 from the amount authorized by Congress. The president said "a number of developments," including a drop in prices made that possible.

But besides talking of a further slash in the total, some Congress members urged that any money spent for military assistance for Europe be taken from the recovery fund.

Congress recently authorized a European aid program costing $5,430,000,000 between now and June 30, 1950, but it has not yet provided the money to finance the program. The figure asked by Mr. Truman does not include the cost of projected military aid for European countries resisting the spread of communism. Secretary of State Acheson has estimated that program would cost $1,450,000,000 the first year.

Rep. Taber (R-NY), top minority member of the appropriations subcommittee handling foreign spending, told newsmen he believes the foreign aid program can be handled for $3,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. "There has been no justification for any expenditure at all," he commented.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the full appropriations committee called the president's request "a ceiling" which he said could be cut down "a little."

But Senator Capehart (R-Ind) said "it can be cut two billions and should be cut that much."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) expressed pleasure that "the president is willing to go part of the way along the road he should go," adding:

"But I still think the total can be cut even more."

Some Democrats on the House appropriations committee are stirring up support for a plan to require that military aid be financed out of the regular ECA appropriation.

Death Plunge In "Pictures Of A Lifetime"

Troy Garris, Veterans Administration photographer, and his wife took these "pictures of a lifetime" in Billy Fischer's plunge to death in his tiny plane after a wing ripped off at Jackson, Miss. Fischer (upper right), 23, a stunt flier from Decorah, Iowa, went aloft to perform in an air show at Jackson. The picture at upper left was made just 10 seconds before his death. One wing of the stunt plane has broken off and Fischer in the cockpit is fighting desperately to right the plane in its downward dive. Upper center: The falling plane nears the ground. It can be seen just above the bi-plane sitting on the ground. Bottom: The little craft has hit the ground and burst into flames. Rescue workers and spectators run toward the wreckage. They found Fischer dead. (AP Wirephotos).

Chiang Sees Red Triumph As Step To New World Conflict

Returns To Battle Against Communism Forecasting Third World War If China Is Lost; Sees Blunder In Crossing Of The Yangtze

Shanghai, April 27.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-shek today returned to the battle against Communism, forecasting a third world war if China is lost.

His country, he said, would be the tinderbox and furnish the men for that war if the Chinese Communists win.

The generalissimo pledged to share the hardships of his countrymen "on the brink of disaster." He said he could not disregard his responsibility at such a time.

The statement—his first since retiring from the presidency Jan. 21—was issued from Chikow, his ancestral home. But foreign and Chinese newspapers said he was back in Shanghai, soon perhaps to become another civil war battleground.

He spoke as director general of the Kuomintang (Government) party. Communist forces swirled around Soochow (Wuhsien), only 50 miles to the west, as Chiang's statement was made public.

Chiang said the Communists were seeking to "enslave the Chinese people to the cause of international Communism by attempting to make all China the military base and source of manpower for the benefit of the Communist plan for world domination."

Chiang promised full support to the government of Li, but pledged to "share the sufferings of my fellow countrymen." Thus he may have chosen this means of coming from retirement to lead China in her battle against Communism.

He called on his people to fight as hard against Communism as they did against the Japanese in eight years of war. At the same time he admitted some of the shortcomings of his own 22-year rule of the vast country.

The generalissimo said the Reds by crossing the Yangtze had blundered into the same military errors that mired the Japanese in their conquest of China.

The river crossing, he said, represents the "peak of Communist mili-

Bird Blamed

Lynn, Mass., April 27.—(AP)—A bird was blamed today for striking a match that caused a $25,000 cottage fire.

Deputy Fire Chief James O'Neil said the bird evidently carried the match to its nest in the coping of the roof and pecked on it until it burst into flame.

Spent Ten Years In 'Living Tomb'

Police Indicate Mother Hid Him To Escape '39 Draft

New York, April 27.—(AP)—A shaggy-bearded man of 33, dug out after ten years of fantastic seclusion in a dark cubbyhole, yearned today to return to the tomb-like cubicle in which his mother sealed him when war broke out.

Shoeless, filthy, his clothes in rags Paul Makushak, one-time college student, stood on wobbly legs and blinked into the unaccustomed glare of electric lights.

"I liked it in there," he said. "I'd like to go back. I don't care about the outside world." Police took him to a hospital.

The man told a strange story of voluntary exile since 1939—when his mother sealed him off from the world with a wall of wood and plaster at the outbreak of World War 2.

Makushak spent the 10 years in a tiny walled-in cubicle built in the corner of a littered third floor bedroom in a Brownstone house in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn.

His father, who runs a tailor shop in the same building, said he never knew the man was imprisoned in the house.

The cubicle, about three feet wide and five feet long—scarcely big enough to hold Makushak when he stretched on the floor to sleep—had been devised, police said, because his mother presumably wanted him to escape being drafted.

Makushak, however, was vague about the war.

"The draft?" he replied to questioning by Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald. "I don't know about the draft. That was in 1917, wasn't it?"

Guerrillas Grab Strategic Point

Shanghai, April 27.—(AP)—Red guerrillas in a surprise coup today seized Putung, right across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai.

At the same time nationalist troops abandoned Soochow (Wuhsien), guardian city for Shanghai miles to the west.

(Red possession of Putung in any strength could make all operations on the Whangpoo, including evacuation of foreigners, hazardous.)

(Right across from Putung point are the Chinese city council house and the British and American consulates. The Whangpoo is less than one-fourth of a mile wide there.)

Testing Station For Arctic Gear

Fort Knox, Ky., April 27.—(AP)—Military authorities today announced plans for establishing a permanent testing station in Alaska for Arctic equipment.

A group of 136 officers and men will leave in June for the new assignment at Big Delta, 110 miles southeast of Fairbanks. That was the jumping off place for Russian-bound ferry planes during the recent war.

Further Relaxing Exports Controls

U.S. Ends Curbs On Over 500 Items; 'Non-Strategic'

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—The United States today dropped export controls on more than 500 articles.

The action will permit shipment of these goods to Soviet bloc nations or "any destination in the world" without export licenses.

The announcement by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer eliminates a barrier against shipments to Russian dominated nations imposed more than a year ago for "strategic reasons."

Clocks and watches, railroad ties many lumber items and building materials, plumbing fixtures, and such recently scarce goods as refrigerators and washing machines are among the items released from controls.

"This action more than doubles the number of items which can now be exported without a validated license," Sawyer said.

He described it as "another step in our program of relaxing export controls as rapidly as conditions warrant so that normal foreign trade relations in non-strategic commodities may be re-established."

With a relatively few exceptions—including such "non-strategic" items as underwear and table articles—all goods sent to Europe have been kept under license requirements for the purpose of permitting control over what Russia and her satellites may purchase here.

Plan Party Loyalty Test For Big Patronage Plums

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—President Truman and Democratic leaders mapped out a new patronage system today based on a "party loyalty" test.

Apparently, though nobody said so specifically, the degree of support a senator or representative gave to President Truman in the last election will have a heavy bearing on how much he has to say hereafter about who gets political jobs.

Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman, told reporters about the decision after a conference of nearly an hour at the White House.

In attendance were House Speaker Rayburn, House Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts, Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, assistant leader in the Senate; William Boyle, Jr., executive vice chairman of the Democratic National Com-

Post-War Shortages In Many Lines Still Exist

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—About 6,000,000 cars, or almost one out of five now on the road, are beyond the age (12 years) at which cars normally are scrapped.

The commerce department makes this estimate today, accordingly reported that there is "still a very large market for new cars."

This bright note for auto makers coincided with the effective date of the second relaxation of the Federal Reserve Board's installment credit controls in two months. From today on, dealers may allow buyers 24 months to pay for cars or other goods.

The commerce department survey indicated it may take upwards of two more years for auto production to fill the backlog demand built up during the war.

A department study also pointed to existence even yet of a backlog for electric refrigerators, but suggested that for vacuum cleaners and probably for electric washing machines the carryover wartime demand has largely been met.

The newly eased installment credit controls reduce the cash down payment on these and other appliances, such as radios and television sets, furniture, etc., from 15 to 10 per cent, and exempts articles costing under $100.

The auto down payment alone remains at 3 1/2 per cent, but the control restrictions now in effect permit dealers in cars and appliances to give terms as easy or easier than typical prewar terms if they wish.

Back 'Trial Run' Of New Program For Farm Prices

Bi-Partisan Support In Congress For Testing System In Hog Market

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—The administration got bi-partisan backing today behind its request for immediate authority to make a "trial run" in the hog market with its proposed new farm program.

If Congress approves, and hog prices continue to drop, this could mean:

1. Cheaper pork chops, ham and bacon for the consumer.
2. A government-guaranteed hog price for farmers, probably at about $16.50 per hundredweight.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee said Secretary of Agriculture Brannan is preparing legislation to authorize quick application of the new farm program principle to hogs. He said it will be given top priority.

"I think I will support, and I think Congress will approve it," Cooley said.

Rep. Hope of Kansas, senior Agriculture Committee Republican, told reporters he, too, expects to support the legislation. Otherwise, he said, the government might find itself with great stores of spoiling meat.

The present law requires the government to purchase hogs, alive or in packing houses, to remove surplus, so as to maintain a support price of about $16.50 a hundredweight. Prices are still above this support level but Brannan told the committee he expects the government will have to start supporting on hogs soon.

"I approach this with fear and trembling," he said, asking for the new authority.

The new farm program stresses cheaper food for consumers as well as guaranteed prices for farmers. Instead of surplus food purchases, it would let many foods, like pork, sell at what the market would bring. Then the government would pay the farmers with money it collects in taxes, the difference between what their crop brought and what the government established as a "fair" price.

Brannan wants immediate authority to apply this principle to hogs only, with the remainder of the new program to be acted upon later.

Postmaster Asks Address Changes For Mail Routes

Greenville Postmaster J. Knott Proctor today urged persons living in sections of the city to be covered by the new mounted mail carrier routes to "notify all correspondents, newspaper and magazine publishers" of new correct addresses in full.

Proctor said addresses should be given using street name and house numbers to insure prompt, correct delivery of mail when the new routes begin next Monday.

He also reminded persons on the new routes that it is necessary to have rural delivery type boxes on the two city routes to be served by the mounted carriers. The boxes should be three or four feet from the ground and erected at the curb in front of the homes, he said.

Baruch, financier and adviser to presidents, spoke at ceremonies making "Baruch Day" in Camden, his native city.

"I have had intolerance practiced against me and mine all my life," said Baruch, a Jew, "but I never permitted it to cause in me any jealousy or hatred, or to weaken in the slightest my faith in our form of government, its constitution and its institutions."

Declaring that he was directing his remarks particularly to the children of Camden, he added:

"We are our form of government to be destroyed, the result would only be intolerance and injustice on a truly terrible scale, as has happened wherever freedom has been destroyed."

"So watch those who want to change our form of government to a so-called welfare state, copied largely after others wallowing in misery and who in their trials look only to us."

Baruch said children should learn "mental and physical discipline; how to get along with your neighbors; and how not to be hurt by real or seeming inequalities and injustices but to take whatever comes to you and do the best that you can do."

Clark adds 36 Organizations To Subversives

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Clark today added 36 groups to the government's list of subversive organizations.

He classed 23 as communist; seven as fascist; four as advocating force to deny constitutional rights to others; and two as seeking to change the form of government by "unconstitutional means."

The list was turned over to the loyalty review board, which heads up the program of checking on the loyalty of government employees.

Clark previously had furnished lists of about 11 organizations. Active membership in the group on the lists is grounds for dismissal of a government employee.

Boy Found After All-Night Hunt

Mercersburg, Pa., April 27.—(AP)—A three-year-old boy, who wandered away from his mother into the mountains, was found today apparently in good condition after an all-night ordeal.

A rescue worker discovered Billy Clever in a snake-infested area about three miles from his home on the edge of the Blue Ridge mountains.

Billy was scratched and his clothes were torn but he did not seem to be suffering from exposure. He was taken home.

The new law also applies to out-of-state vehicles.

Will Accept Job

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Curtis E. Calder, utilities executive, has agreed to become Secretary of the Army.

Gordon Gray, now assistant secretary, will be promoted to Undersecretary and serve as acting Secretary until Calder can take over the post.

This is the job formerly held by Kenneth Royall. Calder, chairman of the Board of Electric Bond and Share, says he will be ready to take over the top Army post within 60 days.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, who had been urging Calder to take the post, was reported to have discussed the matter with President Truman during a White House call today.

Baruch Calls For Faith In Gov't

Tells Kids To Guard Against Those Who Talk Of Injustices

Camden, S.C., April 27.—(AP)—Bernard Baruch said today that Americans should "guard against those who would seek to destroy your faith in our government by talking of injustices and intolerances."

Baruch, financier and adviser to presidents, spoke at ceremonies making "Baruch Day" in Camden, his native city.

"I have had intolerance practiced against me and mine all my life," said Baruch, a Jew, "but I never permitted it to cause in me any jealousy or hatred, or to weaken in the slightest my faith in our form of government, its constitution and its institutions."

Begin Enforcing Stricter Ruling

Raleigh, N.C., April 27.—(AP)—The State Highway Patrol has begun enforcement of an increased penalty for overloading of vehicles, the Department of Motor Vehicles announced yesterday.

The new penalty, which became effective Saturday, provides for an increase in fines from $3 to $10 per thousand pounds for overloading of trucks. No penalty will be charged, however, unless the overload exceeds one ton.

The new law also applies to out-of-state vehicles.

Appears Before Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Warns Fears In Europe 'Not A Figment Of The Imagination'

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson pleaded with Congress today to approve both the North Atlantic treaty and the proposed $1,450,000,000 arms aid program to bolster "world wide security."

Acheson appeared before the Senate foreign relations committee at the opening of hearings on the pact which was signed here April 4. It requires approval by a two-thirds vote of the Senate before it can be ratified.

The cabinet officers termed the 13-nation security treaty and the foreign military assistance program parallel ways of building world security and said he believes both are necessary.

But he met head-on one of the biggest questions raised by some congressional critics by saying that the treaty does not formally bind Congress to approve the projected military program.

Both the treaty and the arms assistance program are aimed frankly at building up western strength against fears of Russian aggression.

Acheson himself told the senators that the two measures stem from Soviet foreign policies, declaring:

"The sense of insecurity prevalent in western Europe is not a figment of the imagination—it has come on through the conduct of the Soviet Union."

Nowhere in his 4,500-word prepared statement did Acheson mention the latest development in the cold war—Russia's apparent willingness to lift the Berlin blockade in favor of his four talks on the so-called German problem.

Acheson reviewed the development of American policy to meet the situation created by Russia. He described the Atlantic treaty and the military assistance program, as well as the European recovery program and help for Greece and Turkey, as "all designed to this end."

Acheson said even if the pact did not exist, the need for military aid to these "countries" would be the same. "With the treaty, he said, the assistance would be "infinitely more effective."

Big Steel Lists Big Net Income

New York, April 27.—(AP)—Business prospects of the steel industry had a sharp vote of confidence today from its largest producer—United States Steel Corp.

"Big Steel" reported yesterday its net income for the first three months of 1949 was $49,928,670, largest in nearly 20 years.

The company shipped more steel products—5,491,216 tons—than it ever has in any previous three-month period.

Wholesale Food Price Index Down

New York, April 27.—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined one cent to $5.67—which brought it to just one cent higher than the 28-month low of . . . February 8.

A year ago the index was 16.1 per cent higher at $6.76. The figure represents the total use at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Caution In Accepting

Western Allies Want To Make Sure That Soviet Offer To Lift Blockade Of Berlin Has No Strings Attached; 'Coincidence'; United Germany Is Goal

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

The Western Allies are moving cautiously (though hopefully) to make sure they are seeing a real oasis and not a mirage in the starting Soviet offer to lift the German blockade.

The Russians have stated their willingness to abandon the blockade if the democracies in turn will end their counter-blockade and agree to a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers to consider the whole German question. It was the Muscovites who ended the Foreign Ministers Council some sixteen months ago by walking out on it.

The Western powers—America, Britain and France—are prepared to agree, provided the Russians have no further conditions on their sleeve. This caution is inspired by the fact that, by striking coincidence, the Soviet offer comes as the other three allies conclude the agreement for the establishment of a new German republic out of the three Western powers, with Russia holding out its Eastern zone.

The Western Allies are asking themselves: "Can Moscow's offer be a trick to disrupt the formation of the German government so that Russia can get complete control of a unified German regime which would include the Soviet zone?" Both General Lucius D. Clay, U.S. military governor in Germany, and U.S. Ambassador Robert D. Murphy yesterday expressed wariness over the Soviet offer.

Last there be any doubt regarding the attitude of the Western Allies, they have no crystal clear that they are going ahead with the creation of the new anti-Communist German republic. General Clay declared that even if the Russians lift the blockade "it will have no effect whatever on the West German government."

"We are going ahead with our plans," he said.

A tremendous stride towards the rehabilitation of Western Europe would seem to have been made in the agreement to establish this government. The date for its inauguration has been set for July 16. The accord naturally ignores Russia, which occupies close to one-third of the old Reich.

Here it should be well noted that

Seek Formal Statement As To When And On What Conditions They Will End Siege; Exchange Of Notes Expected To Result In Some Delay

New York, April 27.—(AP)—The United States delivered a note to the Russians here today asking for a formal statement as to when and on what conditions they will lift their Berlin blockade.

The text of the American communication was not made public but informed quarters said its main purpose was to shift the Berlin negotiations to a formal basis and get Russia's views down on paper.

Previously no views had been exchanged in writing since Philip Jessup first brought up the question in an informal talk with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Malik at Lake Success Feb. 15.

Jessup brought the note with him on his return to New York this morning after talks in Washington yesterday with President Truman and State Department officials.

Before going alone to see Malik he met with members of the U. S. delegation to the UN at the American headquarters, 3 Park Avenue. He disappeared later and was understood to have called on British and French representatives to show them the note.

The American note was understood to seek clarification specifically on two issues: an exact understanding as to what would be involved if any agreement to life the blockade and a proposed timetable.

A U.S. spokesman said this switch to a formal exchange of notes probably would result in some delay in getting Russia's views. It was expected, he said, that Malik would transmit the American note to his immediate superior here, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, who in turn probably would have

Officers Baptist Student Union Here Take Over Duties

Baptist Student Union installation of officers exercises at Immanuel Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon were impressive. Rev. J. A. Nelson, pastor of the church, officiated and instructed the new officers about their duties. Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, read the Scriptures and said the invocation. Mrs. Howard Bodkin, organist, played the prelude and recessional. The Baptist Student Union quartet sang "Thy Will Be Done." Lighting of candles was an impressive part of the ceremony.

Miss Gloria Blanton, secretary of the Baptist Student Center, 404 East Eighth street, near East Carolina Teachers' College, whose good work has been recognized and commended by both Baptist churches, had an important part in arranging the program, students said.

Amaryllis Lang of Gatesville, the new president of the Baptist Student Union, succeeds Faye Howard of St. Pauls. Frances Wilson, Patricia Sutton and Patricia Williams are vice-presidents. Avis Squires is secretary. Vance Lockamy is treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Bill Bonham, Milam Johnson, Betty C. Beard, Poe Mooring, Joe Congleton and Helen Duncan.

Heads of Baptist Student Union organizations at the two churches in Greenville are Doris Edwards, Mrs. Elizabeth Stieg, Ruth Woody, Frances Everett, Knott Braxton and Frank Toothman. Dorothy Cain is Baptist Student Center hostess and Albert Edwards is host. Miss Ruth White of ECTC is faculty adviser.

Bill Bonham, ECTC student, was recently elected secretary-treasurer of the North Carolina Baptist Student Union.

The Greenville unit of the Baptist Student Union, working in co-operation with East Carolina Teachers' College officials and the Baptist Student Center, is helping to provide for college students a seven-day religious influence and a place for recreation and meeting in the "good neighbor" spirit of fellowship. Memorial and Immanuel Baptist church officials have recognized the outstanding work being done here, and they are giving the project their whole-hearted support.

Buffet Supper Given To Honor Bridal Couple

Ayden.—Miss Mary Darden Quinley and Dr. Frank Longino whose wedding will take place on April 30, were delightfully entertained on Saturday evening at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Worthington.

The attractive country home was beautifully decorated throughout with artistic arrangements of spring flowers and white lighted tapers. In the living room, where small tables were placed, vari-colored arrangements of gladioli, iris, pansies, tulips, spirea, and narcissi and candles in silver holders were fittingly used on occasional tables and the mantel. At the entrance to the dining room guests admired the realistic arrangement of white flowers centered with a purple orchid; the impression was that the bride had laid her bouquet on the table as she went in to supper.

In the dining room, a color scheme of green and white was used in the decorations. The center place for the dining table, from which the delicious buffet supper was served, was of white snapdragons, carnations, gladioli, narcissi and fern; directly above the table was a shower of wedding bells and orange blossoms suspended from the chandelier.

The buffet was especially appropriate with its miniature wedding scene and improvised altar banked with magnolia leaves and candelabras.

The place of the bride-elect, of her mother, and that of Mrs. Charlie Lee Hardee, a recent bride, each was marked by a lovely corsage. Mrs. Worthington remembered her honor guest with individual monogrammed buffet trays while Mrs. Hardee was presented a crystal bud vase.

The hostess was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Daphne McLawhorn, and her aunt, Mrs. C. D. Langston.

Those attending the enjoyable occasion and most gracious hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Quinley, parents of the bride, Miss Martha Finch Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. R.

To Visit Wilson Flower Show
Members of the Greenville Garden Club have chartered a bus for Friday afternoon, April 29th to visit the Wilson flower show. The show will probably be the largest and best planned for this section of the state this spring and members of the Greenville club are expecting to get many ideas and information that will help them stage a show next spring.

Thirty-four members have signed up for the trip. The bus will leave the Woman's Club promptly at 1:30 Friday. All club members are urged to be at the club and in the bus ready to ride at the appointed time. Everyone is asked to take note books and pencils. The bus trip will take the place of the regular April meeting. Routine business will be transacted en route, and new officers will be elected.

On the return trip a stop over will be made in Farmville at the D. A. R. chapter house, where Garden club members have been invited to be special guests at the tea given for the president-general and other distinguished guests for the dedication and unveiling program of the Benjamin May Chapter D. A. R.

In Leading Role

Jerome Worsley of Greenville will have the leading role in John Patrick's comedy, "The Hasty Heart," when it is presented in two performances this week by the Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina Teachers College. Worsley plays Lachlan, a Scot, who is hospitalized during the last war, along with an Australian, a New Zealander, a Basuto, and an English soldier. In previous plays given by the college players he has won his laurels as a character actor. Some of his parts have included Banjo in "The Man Who Came to Dinner"; the undertaker in "I Remember Mama," and the old man in "The Weather Clerk." Children's play given last year. Worsley is now a senior at the college and is specializing in business education and the social studies. While doing practice teaching in Bethel this year, he coached a three-act play presented by students of the school there.

Mid-Week Prayer Service
The regular mid-week prayer service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Ellington Bible class room. Dr. F. P. Brooks will conduct the service using as his topic, "Faith." The public is cordially invited to attend this service of worship.

Ballard's X Roads News

Mrs. W. B. Crawford was gracious hostess to Women of the Presbyterian Church at the meeting Friday afternoon.

Taken from John 1:1-18, the Bible study was conducted by Mrs. Glimmer S. Nichols, assisted by other members of the group. The Bible study for this year will be the Book of John.

Mrs. Annie Flanagan, the program leader, presented Mrs. G. T. Tyson, who gave the program for the afternoon, the theme being "The Household of Faith."

This meeting marked the beginning of the new church year and it was explained that the women's organization of the Presbyterian church will henceforth be known as The Women of the Church, instead of the Auxiliary.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. Crawford, plans were made for a party which will mark the 51st anniversary of the date the women of the church were organized.

Plans were also made to raise money for purchasing silver for the church kitchen.

18 members were present. During the social hour, the hostess served cake topped with pineapple, whipped cream and cherries. Mrs. J. D. Jones assisted the hostess in serving.

Friends in the community extend sympathy to the family of Mrs. Beattie McArthur, who passed away at her home early Tuesday morning, April 12. The funeral was conducted from the home on Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Key Taylor of Walstonburg, assisted by Dr. Haney, Christian minister of Greenville.

Interment was in Greenwood cemetery, Greenville.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHAT DO YOU MAKE OUT OF THIS?

When the Japanese were shelling towns and cities in China, an old Chinese woman, long a Christian, rushed out into the center of the street on which she lived, with an umbrella in her hand. Cupping her hands she cried out: "This is God's umbrella. Anybody who gets under this umbrella will not get hurt."
Then she raised it, and three travelling Chinese women came under the umbrella and clung to the old lady's garments.

The bombing went on for some minutes. Every house in the vicinity was destroyed and every person killed except the old Chinese woman and the three persons who clung to her under the umbrella.

We may call this coincidence or good fortune or anything we have a mind to, but it is a circumstance sufficiently singular to challenge attention. Certainly the Chinese woman believed that she was under God's special providence. She spoke with confidence and authority. Probably the only way the circumstance can be explained is by recalling the words of Jesus: "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them,
and ye shall have them."

Maybe if we asked God for more blessings and had more faith, the miraculous would begin to manifest itself in our experience.

Around Capitol Square

CROSS-SECTION—The group of 200 or so people who attended the oratorical meeting for the school-road bond campaign Tuesday represented fair cross section of the state's business, professional and social life. There were bankers, lawyers, merchants, road building contractors, motor transportation operators, farmers, school teachers and housewives, Democrats and Republicans. The group had slight unbalance in two respects: the high percentage of members of the general assembly and salaried state workers; and the fact that very few were present from east of Raleigh.
Mountain and piedmont areas were well represented, the eastern third of the state had little representation.

NAME—After decision had been reached to form a non-stock, non-profit corporation with authority to accept tax-exempt donations some discussion arose over a name for the outfit. Suggestion by Secretary of State Thad Eure that the name carry reference to Governor Scott and his "Go Forward" program did not meet with favor. Almost unanimous thought seemed to be the campaign for the road and school bonds should be non-partisan and impersonal. One of the most effective arguments so far advanced against the bonds is that Governor Scott is seeking to set up a state WPA which can be converted into a personal political machine.
Most popular suggestion for a name was "North Carolina Committee for Schools and Roads."

DATE—There was some discussion about date of the election. The first Saturday in June (June 4) was chosen for several reasons. It is the earliest date possible under election laws. It will not conflict with numerous local elections already scheduled for June 11. In that connection, Joe Crawford of the local elections were mostly municipal, and Dave Eubank of Buncombe county said that electric current in school houses (where many voting places will be located) would be cut off after dark. Eubank quipped that it has been said some votes can be stolen after dark.

UNCERTAINTY—It has been conceded on all sides that fate of the bond issues—$200 millions for roads and $25 millions for schoolhouses—depends upon an education program, which is another name for publicity. Directors of the corporation to be set up will select personnel to conduct the campaign, including state and county managers and a publicity director. It is learned that tentative agreement had been reached upon John Moorhead, Durham advertising executive, publicity specialist and newspaper man, to direct publicity.

WAR CHEST—One of the most important items will be money.
Governor Scott has pledged his full time to the cause and he will throw as far as possible, all the resources of state government into the campaign.
The highway commission is Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Monday was a typical business day for the J. B. Kittrells, Junior and Senior, distributors of Dixie Crystals Sugar in Eastern North Carolina. But Monday night was a special occasion, for the Kittrells were taking their wives to the Rotary Club meeting for the annual Ladies' Night.

The size of the meeting made it necessary for the dinner to be held at the Country Club in order to accommodate the additional guests. The Kittrells arrived at the club, donned the festive hats, joined in the merriment with noise makers, ate a hearty meal, and settled back to hear the after-dinner speaker, Paul O. Sampson.
Mr. Sampson, a dietetics expert, explained that he was responsible for publicizing the fact that they are rich in iron content. When he was connected with the Pet Milk Company, he said, the billboard advertisement as a result of his showing contented cows, producers of contented milk.

After giving his background, Mr.
Sampson proceeded to describe what we should and should not eat. Immediately he condemned white sugar, compared it with poison, and said that he would not allow it in his house.

Naturally every eye in the house was immediately cast on the two J. B.'s, distributors of white sugar in the territory east of a line drawn through Durham, Raleigh, Sanford and Fayetteville—all the way to the coast. The expression on Big J. B.'s face brought snickers, which gradually increased as the wholesale attack on sugar continued.

Obviously the speaker had no idea what was funny, but whatever it was did not slow down his controller, Rado, brought to him.

"Rado," said the vexed chieftain.
"trot down to Earth and see why that flyspeck in the sky is out of tune."

Rado sprayed himself with invisibility lotion, climbed into his two-seater anti-gravship and took off.
Exactly a year and a day later he returned to Mars. A great mass of Martians was there to greet him.
"Well, what is the Earth like?"

denomination of that awful poison, white sugar.

At the end of the speech the floor was opened for questions, and the first hand to fly up was that of none other than J. B. Senior.

"Isn't there just one tiny recipe that is not harmful that contains sugar?" he asked.

At the very mention of the word the speaker showed disgust. His only comment was, "Let's not talk about sugar any more."

"I guess I'll have to start selling lepidolite," commented J. B., at this writing the two J. B.'s are still in the sugar business, so perhaps they are not too alarmed by the recommendations of Paul O. Sampson, dietetics expert.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—In a vast mansion on Mars the president of that planet sat listening to the music of the spheres—the melody made by the stars in their courses.

It was his favorite pastime.

But into the universal symphony came a jarring sound. The Martian president frowned and twisted the dials of his electronic radio.

"Again that discordant note!" he exclaimed. "This time I'm going to do something about it. It's been ruling my concerts for the last 10,000 years."

So he called his wise men together. Gravely, one by one, they checked with tuning forks the sound that came from each of the multitudeous bodies in the wide heavens.
Then they reported:

"Sir, the jarring noise comes from an obscure planet known as the Earth, our neighbor in this constellation."

"That mudball!" said the president. He had his leading stellar ex-

No Need To Fear Insecticide's Use

The Federal Security Agency and the Department of Agriculture have issued a statement concerning the utilization of DDT and modifying certain reports which stressed the hazards of using DDT as an insecticide.

Recognizing that DDT, like other insecticides, is a poison, the two agencies assert that statements alleging DDT is responsible for causing the so-called "virus X disease" of men and "X disease" of cattle, are totally without foundation.

"The Food and Drug Administration has not prohibited the use of DDT in spraying dairy cattle and barns," says the report. "Studies by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine have shown that when DDT is used on dairy cattle or when present on fodder fed to dairy cattle may appear in the milk. They also say that DDT in small quantities can be detected sometimes in milk following ordinary use of the insecticide for fly control in dairy barns. Because of the vital importance of milk in the diet of infants, children and people of all ages, it is essential that proper precautions be taken to protect the milk supply. The report closes with a final assurance.

"There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of DDT contamination."

Beddens-Harris

April 13 was the setting of an impressive formal ceremony solemnized at 7 o'clock in the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church. Miss Evelyn Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Latham became the bride of Andrew Lee Beddens, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Beddens of Brooklyn, N. Y. The Rev. J. A. Nimmo, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church in Clinton, N. C., and son of the pastor of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church, performed a single ring ceremony.

The church was banked in Oregon fern dispersed with seven branches of candelabra. Two large baskets of white glads were used with the lighted tapers.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by Arthur L. Norcott, organist, and Misses Doris Lynch and Joan Beatty, soloists. "Because" was rendered by the church quartet and "The Lord's Prayer" was used as a benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a gown of white tulle with a full skirt and a tight fitting bodice and with a sheer neckline and sheer sleeves to elbow which ended in calla lily points over the hands. The very full skirt extended in a wide circular train. Her veil of illusion fell from a cap of chantilly lace with seed pearls and orange blossoms. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white and pink roses centered with a purple throated white orchid. Her ornaments were a string of pearls and pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Gertrude Dunbar, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations tied with rainbow satin. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mary Whitehurst, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Irma Little, Mrs. Ines Brewer of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Anna Whitehurst, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Lillian Shivers, Miss Lillian Hopkins, Mrs. Rosa Harris, cousin of the bride, Miss Thomasina Williams of Washington, D. C., and Miss Flora Phillips. The matron of honor and bride's maids wore identical dresses of pink, orchid, blue, aqua, rose, and yellow moire taffeta fashioned with tight necklines and full skirts with semi-trains. They wore three-quarter length gloves with head tiaras to match their gowns. They carried arm bouquets of mixed spring flowers tied with rainbow satin.

Little Miss Gerald Waddell served as flower girl. She wore a full length dress of slipper satin fashioned as the maids and carried an arm bouquet of mixed spring flowers and loose petals. Ring bearer was Master Clinton Harris, cousin of the bride. He wore a full dress suit made of slipper satin.

Mr. Raymond Wiggins, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., nephew of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Roscoe Norfleet, Thomas Foreman, William Bruce Clarke, David Barnhill, Jerald Jenkins, Robert Shivers, Rosher Johnson, John Jones, Jr., William Brown

and J. C. Gorham.

Mr. John Jones, Jr., served as master usher and William Brown as vestibule usher.

The bride's mother was attired in an aqua Marie taffeta gown with matching accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of orchids.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a grey crepe gown with black sequins. She wore a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's mother entertained at a reception at Club Tropicana. Approximately 400 guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Moore and were served punch from an ice punch bowl, bridal cookies and molded ice cream in form of cups, hearts, rings, lilies, slippers, bells and bride and grooms. The wedding cake was the center of attraction. It consisted of three tiers and a wedding bell mounted atop it. It had ten lucky charms within.

For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue gabardine suit styled by Lilli Ann of California with white accessories and a pair of genuine silver fox furs, a gift from her mother eight years ago. She wore her orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The honorary maids were Mrs. Mamie Wiggins, sister of the groom, Misses Naomi Burney, Vergie Gorham, Bernice West, Mesdames Bell Atkinson, Mildred Thompson, Muriel Jenkins and Sujette Jones. All were dressed in evening gowns and were remembered with a corsage of pink carnations.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural bowel regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; eat a definite time for regularity.

Further: Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

"The worst, distressing, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 35¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life."

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unlock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further: Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

Greenies Stop Uprising By Goldsboro To Take 8-6 Win

Denier With Three Safeties Leads Locals At Bat; Eighth Inning Rally By Rivals Is Squelched

By BEAT MOYE
Manager Pappy Williams' Greenies handed the Goldsboro Goldbugs their second straight loss on their home grounds last night by a score of 8 to 6, as Norman Clark, rookie hurler of the Greenies, registered his first win of the season.

The Greenies jumped into an early lead in last night's contest by scoring a singleton in the first frame when Mo Carter reached first on an error, stole second and came home on Pappy Williams' single. They came back in the second frame to score three more runs on a double by Pete Gillespie, singles by Carter and Tepedino, aided by two errors, two walks.

The Bugs put across one run in the first frame on Sedor's single and Manager Steve Mizerak's double and came back in the third to score again on one hit and one error.

Singles by Williams and Mauney in the fifth and sixth frames to increase their lead 6-2. Singles by Williams and Mauney, aided by an error, gave the Greenies a run in the fifth; Denier's single two errors and a wild pitch gave the Greenies their run in the sixth.

The Bugs scored one run in the sixth on a single, stolen base, wild pitch and a passed ball. They rallied for three runs in the eighth on two singles, one error and a walk. Steve Denier's single to bring home Willie Mauney who had reached first on a hit gave the Greenies what proved their winning run in the eighth frame. However, they came back in the ninth to add another marker on a single by Cohen, aided by two bugs errors.

Clark, receiving credit for his first win of the season, pitched the first five and two-thirds frames, giving up five hits and three runs. He struck out four men and walked six. Jim Lewey relieved him in the sixth and pitched the next one and two-thirds frames, giving up two hits and three runs, and walked two men. Junior Yohn then came into the game in the eighth and after pitching to two men in which he allowed one hit was relieved by Chris Romeo who pitched the remainder of the game, allowing one hit and no runs, walking one and striking out two.

Steve Denier with three singles in four trips to the plate, and John Tepedino and Willie Mauney, each with two hits, led the 12-hit attack off the offerings of Bob Mangum and George Schumann of the Bugs.

Manager Steve Mizerak with a double and two singles led the 8-hit attack off the four Greenie hurlers.

ECTC Is Too Near Cellar For Comfort

Will Be Fighting Against Becoming Conference Door-Mat When They Open Four-Game Road Trip Thursday

By EUGENE PRICE
East Carolina Teachers' College's baseball nine will be fighting to stay out of the North State conference cellar this week when they open a four-game road trip schedule with a twin bill at West Carolina Teachers' College Thursday.

Lodged dangerously close to the North State dornal with four losses against a single win, the Buccaneers' opening games of the week will be against the cellar dwelling Catamounts of WCTC who, at the last official release of the North State standings, were trailing the loop with six losses and no wins.

Nearly every pitcher on the Pirate roster was among the 17 Buccaneers baseballers who left early today for the four-game slate. Hurlers Hal Whitehurst, Bob McCotter, Ab Williams, Bill Pulp and Buck Wilson were among those who will probably see action in this week's games.

Friday the Bugs will tangle with a first division club—Appalachian State. The Apps are currently holding the fourth place slot in conference standing.

Saturday's game will feature the Pirates at High Point. The Panthers are in sixth place with a pair of wins and losses.

Following this week's card the locals will have but two more contests, both of them home games. They engage the Atlantic Christian College Bulldogs here May 1 in a Bo-Hunk fight and play host to High Point May 13.

Negro Baseball League To Open

Chicago, April 27.—(AP)—The 10-club Negro American League will open its 44th season next Sunday. Player and fan interest is expected to be greatest in the league's history, according to loop president, J. B. Martin, because the major leagues now are accepting Negro players.

Dr. Martin said Negro baseball owners and managers now are eager to develop new talent, shooting for big prices from the majors.

Expand Program For '52 Olympics

Rome, April 27.—(AP)—The 1952 Olympic games program will be expanded, rather than trimmed down. That was settled yesterday by the International Olympic Committee. Next important item on the agenda is the selection of the site for the 1956 games and the committee is hopeful that a decision will be reached by Friday evening. Among those making spirited bids for that award are Detroit, Melbourne, Buenos Aires and Mexico City.

Secret discussions of the past two days regarding a proposal to cut the 1952 program resulted in the I.O.C. voting it down. Actually two winter sports were added but otherwise only minor changes of an administrative nature were made following full study of the Olympic charter and rules.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the I.O.C. secretariat, said too many countries were opposed to streamlining the '52 schedule for such a proposal to succeed. Helsinki, Finland, host to the next summer games, originated the proposal which was backed by Avery Brundage of Chicago, U.S. Olympic head and vice president of the I.O.C.

The winter sports to be added at Oslo in 1952 are curling, dropped since 1936, and the northern ski game of "orientation," a Scandinavian suggestion. Contestants in the latter game follow a map showing points they must locate and cross on skis. The one finding all the points and getting home first is the winner.

Sain And Jansen Disappoint Followers By Poor Showing

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston's Johnny Sain and the Giants' Larry Jansen are being tabbed today as the two biggest early season pitching flops of 1949.

Counted on to carry their teams this year following superlative '48 seasons, both have been terrific disappointments. Each has started three times with a victory.

Sain, whose 24 triumphs last year was the biggest single factor in bringing the first National League pennant to Boston in 34 years, current owns an inglorious 0-2 won and lost record.

Jansen, fortunate in being backed by heavy hitting support, has been charged with only one defeat, but the Giants haven't won any of the games Jansen has started.

Both had extremely rough sledging yesterday. Sain, who previously had been beaten by Philadelphia and shelled from the mound by the Giants, managed to go the distance, but he and the Braves were handed a 5-2 shelling by the Brooklyn Dodgers in Ebbets Field. The big righthander was tagged for nine hits including home runs by Gene Hermanski and Pee Wee Reese.

Preacher Roe spaced seven hits for his first victory for the Dodgers, who regained the league lead a half game in front of idle Pittsburgh and the Giants. Hermanski who replaced the light-hitting Cal Abrams in left field, got two hits and also made the fielding gem of the game.

He started the first triple play of the season, coming in fast to make a running catch of Alvin Dark's short fly. A Herman-ski-Jackie Robinson-Gil Hodges relay engineered the triple killing.

Jansen still hasn't pitched a complete game. He lasted only six innings yesterday as the fighting Phils came from behind to nip the Giants 12-11 in six innings. After the Giants had taken an 11-9 lead in the top of the 11th, the Phils came roaring back with three runs climaxed by Del Ennis' home run with a man on base.

Gerry Coleman, rookie infielder filling in for the injured George Sturges at second base, slammed his first major league home run to give the first place New York Yankees a 6-4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. Coleman's round tripper came off Alex Kellner in the last half of the eighth with a mate aboard to erase a 4-3 Mack-men margin. Kellner had replaced Starter Phil Marchildon in the first inning. The latter had complained of pain in his right shoulder while serving up to the first batter.

The Detroit Tigers moved into second place, a game and a half from the top, by taking both ends of a double header from the White Sox in Chicago, 6-2 and 7-5. The Tigers had to go 10 innings to win the second game.

Johnny Groth, Detroit's sensational rookie, doubled home the runs in the extra frame that gave re-'sf pitcher Dizzy Trout the triumph. Groth also helped in the first game victory with a two-run single.

Manager Lou Boudreau hit his first home run of the season and Righthander Bob Lemon pitched his first shutout as the Cleveland Indians nipped the St. Louis Browns 1-0.

Los Angeles, April 27.—(AP)—The two young fighters must have thought it was "pennies from heaven" at the end of their four-round preliminary bout at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

The two lightweight, Al Bernal and Manuel Hernandez, Los Angeles Mexicans, had pummeled each other vigorously throughout the fight. Even before the referee announced his decision, the crowd was yelling lustily for a draw.

As they started to leave the ring, the rain of coins started spontaneously. But there were nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars among the pennies that showered down in and around the ring from all over the auditorium.

Pam Pack Edges Phantoms, 3-2, With Early Runs

The Greenville high school Phantoms met defeat at the hands of their arch rivals, the Washington Pam Pack, yesterday, despite the one-hit hurling of Greenville's Julian Vainwright.

Errors and walks proved the downfall of the Greenies as the Pam Pack scored twice in the first frame on an error, two free passes, an infield hit by Cherry and two outfield flies. Greenville came back in the second inning with two runs as Briley and Moore walked and Pitcher Vainwright rapped out a double to score the only runs for the losers.

Joe Allgood tagged a Washington pitcher for a single in the fourth and from then on the game was tied up in a pitching duel.

Only two relief players were used in the game, with Billy Ray Holbert in the center field slot and Bobby Flye in the role of a pinch hitter for Vainwright in the seventh.

This was the fourth loss of the season for the local club and they now hold a record of two victories against four losses.

The Green Phantoms will meet the Rocky Mount AA Blackbirds Thursday in a return match in Rocky Mount.

Score by innings:
Greenville 020 000 0
Washington 300 000 0
Vainwright, Moore, Allgood, O'Carroll.

Vainwright struck out four batters and issued four bases on balls.

Allgood for Washington fanned 12 men and walked four men.

Have often wondered how it feels to pitch one-hit ball and then during the contest your mates would score 2 runs, you would hear over the loud speaking system that so-and-so got this and that for hitting a double, home run, etc., but after you had put out your best efforts you receive no gifts for a one-hit pitching performance. I am, of course, referring to Bobby Harrison, who turned in a one-hitter here Monday night against the Bugs. If you fans want to give prizes to the various players why not include the pitcher who makes a shutout or gives up only one or two hits. They are certainly heroes of the game.

Of course home runs and other extra base hits help win the game but also good pitching as that displayed by Rookie Bobbie Harrison deserves its reward in the handing out of prizes to individual players.

And speaking of that one-hitter pitched by Bobby Harrison there is a little story connected with the matter. On Saturday Bobby had asked Manager Pappy Williams to let him stay home from the Roanoke Rapids game at Roanoke Rapids that night in order to meet his wife who was joining him here. He told Pappy that if he would leave him behind that he would win his first game for the Greenies. And believe you me, he really did win in grand style here Monday.

The Greenies are all set to meet Bull Hamons and his New Bern Bears here tonight in what promises to be the stiffest competition offered against the Greenies this season. The Bears lost their first game last night to the Rocky Mount Leafs and are currently leading the league. However, it must be remembered that Bull Hamons has not gone out and brought nine young Ted Williamses into play for New Bern. They're just like all the other rookies in the league. They'll hit a few, miss a few, and never see some of the curve balls thrown at them after they've made the first round around the league.

The Kinston Eagles have released Shortstop Bill Anderson, rookie from Cove City, and sold veteran Pitcher Charlie Timm, who has been on the suspended list.

Peddler of Dreams

By Peggy Dern

Chapter 5

The end of their first week as partners found Garrett and Felicity parked in a green meadow beside a small brook. The children were playing in the twilight. Garrett sat on the steps with Felicity and to-asted the week's proceeds.

"Well, that's the sum total," he told her at last, holding out three rather grubby dollars bills and some small change. "The vast sum of three dollars and eighty-one cents apiece. Neither of us will ever get rich that way, my girl!"

"Oh, but you haven't stopped to think," she thrust the money into the pocket of her soft white shirt and rested the small pad on her knee. "Neither of us had to spend anything for parking this past week. That's seven nights' free parking. Since it cost fifty cents a night for each of us, that amounts to a dollar a night, or even dollars we've saved this week. Then the gas and oil for both cars—remember? Between us we spent eleven dollars and forty-two cents for gas and oil. Then we fed ourselves out of the produce we traded in for the books and maga-zines, and that would amount to at least three dollars a day for all of us. What do you mean we won't get rich this way?"

Garrett looked at her with frank respect and a dawning excitement in his eyes. "Then it wasn't such a crazy idea after all," he said eagerly. "We are making a little money—and our expenses. What a swell little partner you are, Floss!"

"Oh, I'm nothing special," she said hurriedly. "It's just been that — well, I've had to count pennies and squeeze nickels for so long that I guess it comes naturally for me to be a sharp trader."

"It hasn't been too much fun, has it, youngster?" Garrett said unexpectedly. "I mean being the supporting parent to an oddly assorted brood—no two of you are in the least alike."

"That's because most of us had different mothers," Felicity reminded him.

"What's your father doing now, Felicity? I've meant to ask, but never got around to it," said Garrett with frank curiosity.

She hesitated a moment, and then her chin went up and there was a hint of hostility in her voice when she said crisply, "Father's resting."

"Resting from what?" he demanded curiously.

"That means that—well, he's not working at all. Theatrical people always say they are 'resting' or 'at liberty.' Father's waiting for just exactly the right part—and then he'll do a 'comeback.'"

"I did," said Garrett, and did,
quite plainly.

Felicity looked sharply at Garrett as though the dryness of his tone aroused her suspicions. But he met her eyes straightly, and after a moment she said awkwardly, "Father's really a perfectly swell person. Very good-looking and very distinguished and with a great deal of personal charm. Women have always gone quite mad about him. He doesn't look a day over forty and always manages somehow to look very smart—poor old Dad!" The last three words came out on a different note, breaking with pity, revealing to Garrett far more than she realized of the actual truth behind her brave pretense that everything was perfectly splendid with her father.

Garrett nodded and his eyes were warm with affection and amusement as he said quietly, "D'you know something, Floss? I think you're a darned smart girl—and a very fine one."

A sudden terror-stricken wall rang out from the trailer. Instantly Felicity was on her feet and inside the trailer. Garrett followed her. She bent over the narrow berth on which Ellen lay and caught the writhing, screaming child close in her arms, giving a little shake that woke her.

"Oh, Floss—Floss," she whimpered, hiding her face against Felicity's breast. "I thought you'd gone off and left me—and I had to go back to Mrs. Hudgins."

"Don't be silly, darling," Felicity soothed her, holding her close, rock-ing her a little. "You're never going to see Mrs. Hudgins again and I'm never going to leave you—never, do you hear?"

"Yes, Floss," said Ellen, and tried to smile through her tears.

When Ellen's eyes closed Garrett and Felicity stood once more on the trailer steps in the moon-silvered night and Felicity said quietly, "Do you begin to understand why I hung Ellen around my neck even though she is not really a part of my own family?"

"But this Hudgins—why is she so terrified of Mrs. Hudgins?"

"Her mother put her to board with Mrs. Hudgins when she was two—and Mrs. Hudgins seems to have been quite a character. She seems to have had some rather original ideas about punishment—such as pouring boiling water on children who skated in front of her house."

"Oh, good Lord—no!" Garrett was shocked.

"It doesn't sound possible, does it?" agreed Felicity. "I haven't dared question Ellen much about what her life there was like. When I first brought her home, any mention of Mrs. Hudgins sent her into hysteria. She's getting better now.
I am hoping that Florida will — well, make her sound and healthy and normal."

Garrett studied her for a moment and then he said gently, "Did I say you were a very swell person, Floss?
That goes double now."

Unexpectedly he caught her hand, raised it to his lips and kissed it.
And then, without another word, he turned and went off to his own trailer, leaving Felicity to stand breathless, staring after him.

Claims 'Hex' Worked 5 Times But Doesn't Use It Any More

Tacoma, Wash., April 27—(AP)—The hex is dead, and the man who says he invoked it for five deaths is scheduled to be executed next month.

Jake Bird, 47-year-old North Carolina Negro who confessed implication in 44 murders, saw Superior Judge Hugh Rossellini sign his death warrant yesterday. The execution is scheduled for May 27.

Courtroom attaches wondered whether Bird would call down the wrath of his hex on the judge.

But in a cell interview afterward, Bird said, "I don't believe in the hex any more."

He is the confessed slayer of Mrs. Bertha Kludt Oct. 30, 1947.

At his trial he claimed he'd put the hex on all parties who had a hand in his conviction. In order, these men succumbed suddenly from heart attacks:

Superior Court Judge E. D. Hodge, who heard the case.

Clerk of the Court Ray Scott, who handled the original appeal papers.

Undersheriff Joseph Karpach, who obtained the original confession by Bird to "eight or nine" murders.

Bird later had authorities convinced he'd been implicated in 44 of them.

Detective Lieut. Sherman Lyons of Tacoma.

J. W. Selden, Bird's defense lawyer, for whom Bird still holds the most consuming hatred.

Selden, in addressing the jury at Bird's trial, had said:

"Let your conscience be your guide, because Bird is a dark, black criminal and I am defending him simply because I must."

Selden had been appointed by the court.

'Never Again' Say Airmen Who Set Endurance Mark

Fullerton, Calif., April 27—(AP)—Bill Barris and Dick Riedel agree today it's wonderful to have and to hold the world endurance flight mark, but:

"We'll never try it again," says Barris.

"Roger!" echoes Riedel.

The weary pair had planned to leave with their wives for a beach hide-out last night after their 1,006-hour aerial ordeal. But friends and well-wishers staged a big party for them at the Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel.

And the airmen, partly deaf from listening to the Sunkist Lady's six-cylinder motor for six long weeks, couldn't disappoint them.

They postponed their rest until today. Even at that, it will be interrupted. They are booked for several radio appearances this week.

Luckily, both men were declared to be in excellent shape after bringing the Sunkist Lady down on municipal airport here at 11:45:50 a.m. (PST) yesterday. But their legs were wobbly. A crowd of 8,000 including their families, greeted them.

It was their fourth try at the endurance record. Nearly 12 days earlier they broke the old record of 726 hours, set 10 years ago by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper of Long Beach, Calif.

Barris, 36, and Riedel, 35, were examined by physicians soon after they landed. Dr. LeGrand Spencer said Riedel was in the better condition because he took more exercise.

This consisted of lifting 25-pound cans of gasoline from a speeding jeep during refueling operations.

Organize To Win Bond Issue Vote

Raleigh, April 27—(AP)—A corporation known as "Better Schools and Roads, Inc." has been formed to campaign for state bond issues for those purposes.

The organization was incorporated yesterday by about 200 persons called here by Governor Scott to make plans to urge voters to approve a $200,000,000 road bond issue and a $25,000,000 issue for school buildings.

The bond election will be held June 4. The group made plans to open an office of the corporation here immediately.

The organization will have 200 directors—two in each county.

Chosen members of its executive committee were: Mrs. Ethel P. Edwards of Raleigh, executive director of the N. C. Education Association; Mrs. Ernest B. Hunter of Charlotte; State Senator B. C. Brock of Davie County; State Grange Master Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro; I. G. Greer of Chapel Hill; Lt. Gov. H. P. Taylor, and L. P. McLendon of Greensboro.

One of the first to sign the charter of Better Schools and Roads, Inc., was Dr. J. Y. Joyner of La-Grange, 87, former state superintendent of public instruction and an early supporter of Governor Scott.

The twenty-eighth annual ministers and workers meeting of the Church of God in Christ of North Carolina convenes in Greenville today for an eight day session.

Pastor A. B. Malone, of the Church of God in Christ (1500 Clark St.), will be host to the statewide meeting. Presiding will be Overseer W. Mason; State Supervisor Woman's Work, Mrs. J. R. Anderson; Recording Secretary Mrs. B. M. Jennings; Executive Secretary Elder J. R. Anderson; and Chairman of Elders Council, Elder H. L. Purkett, will be in attendance.

The convention, running from April 27 through May 4, will have daily services and devotionals. Several choral groups will present programs and prominent speakers will give sermons.

tary development." It will bring the Reds' face to face with the tangle of military, political and economic problems which will eventually result in their downfall.

"I am certain," he said, "that so long as we carry on the struggle the Communists can neither enslave nor destroy our country. Within three years the final victory will be ours."

He recalled that only four years ago Nanking was liberated from the Japanese.

Student Election Slated Thursday

Monday was campaign day in Greenville high school for the election of Student Cooperative officers for 1949-50. Eleven campaign managers gave speeches and stunts for their respective candidates, which were received enthusiastically by the 800 students present for the rally.

This year the contest being watched with most interest by the student body is the vice-presidential race in which three candidates are running neck to neck for office, with the possibility of a second primary very likely.

In the presidential race, Dwight Garrett is unopposed for president of the student body. Lewis Clark who was running for the office withdrew Monday afternoon.

Thursday, election day, the polls will open at eight o'clock and will stay open until four in the afternoon. The results will not be announced until Friday morning when a special issue of the high school paper Green Lights comes out.

A list of the candidates and the offices for which they are running are: President: Dwight Garrett; Vice-President: Rodney Fulcher; Peggy Joyce Barrow, and Billy Brady; Treasurer: Tommie Lupton and Mitchell Saled; Secretary: Margaret Fleming and Barbara White; Roving Representative: Mary Ann Stark and Glenn Scott.

the Western German leaders aim at a united Germany eventually. They hope a prosperous West German republic will be so attractive to their countrymen in the Soviet zone that a union of the two will be brought about. That could well be, for the Germans are a determined people.

In any event, the creation of the republic not only will go far towards restoring the morale of the beaten Germans, but bids fair to give a big boost to the ailing economic situation in Western Europe. Pre-war Germany was the keystone of European economy. She can approach that mark, and perhaps equal it again, especially if the Eastern zone can be added to the republic.

Of course there's another way of looking at the Russian offer to lift the blockade. It could be that the Soviet finds she is being hurt more than she is hurting the Western Allies by continuing the blockade. It won't be long before that point is cleared up.

ready. Communists all over Europe denounced it.

It started April 3 but on April 1 the Russians threw a blockade on Berlin. It wasn't a complete blockade. But it made it a little harder for the U. S., Britain and France to send supplies into their sectors of Berlin.

On June 7, 1948, the three big western powers agreed on setting up a provisional German government in western Germany. This angered the Russians more. In the meantime, the three western powers and Russia had argued about the kind of money to be used in Berlin.

It must have been a blow to the Russians when on June 11, 1948, the Senate passed a resolution which in effect said the U. S. ought to take part in a military alliance with western Europe.

On June 18, 1948, the three western powers announced they'd reform the money in their zones. And on June 19 the Russians slapped a real blockade on Berlin. Since then the western powers have had to supply their sectors of Berlin with an airlift.

In the months that followed, this country, Canada and the western European countries huddled over the military alliance they'd set up for protection against Russia. The Atlantic pact, it's called now.

This made it clear the Russians were not winning the cold war. And in February a representative of this country and a representative of Russia began talking about the Berlin blockade.

On March 18 the western powers announced they were ready to sign the Atlantic pact. Three days before that, with the world full of news of the pact, the Russian representative in the U. N. talked with the U. S. delegate about the Berlin blockade.

On Monday it was announced the Germans had cleared the decks for setting up a new government in the western zones. And yesterday Russia began talking publicly of lifting the Berlin blockade.

They may think by this they will block setting up the new government, but the western powers say they will go ahead with the government anyhow.

Weed, Disease Control Demonstrated At Farm

Approximately 35 tobacco farmers from Pitt and Greene counties gathered at Speight Seed farm near Winterville yesterday for a plant bed demonstration on weed and disease control.

R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist of the North Carolina extension service of Raleigh, and Sam J. Weeks, assistant Pitt County agent, were principal speakers at the meeting.

Bennett, in his talk to the tobacco growers, commented, "As long as all growers don't have tobacco plants at transplanting time, we have not licked the plant bed problem." He pointed out the importance of using chemicals and organic matter on soil in which tobacco plants are grown, and also the advantages obtained by using proper weed control methods in plant bed areas.

Bennett discussed rotation of plant beds from year to year, and the importance of keeping weeds and grass off beds after the plants have been transplanted.

He told the farmers "a plentiful supply of water to plant beds is more important than most people realize."

During the demonstration, the sprinkler irrigation system on the Speight plant beds was turned on so the group could see how the system would keep the beds well watered during dry intervals before plants were ready to be transferred to the field.
