Railway Escape Out Of Shanghai Said Suspended

Route To South China Cut; First Indication Of Extent Of Red Advance

Shanghai, May 2 (AP)—(Continued)—Traffic was reported suspended today on the last railway escape from Communist-occupied Shanghai to South China. Inside the city, the chaotic money market crashed at mid-day, after garrison headquarters outlawed free trading in prewar silver dollars on threat of death—obviously a measure of great desperation. The semi-official Chinese Central News Agency said rail service had been suspended between Hangchow and Nanchang. Hangchow is a seaport, resort city and communications center 100 air miles southwest of Shanghai. Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi Province, is about 280 miles farther southwest—almost midway between Shanghai and Canton, provisional Nationalist capital on the south coast. This was the first indication that the Communist offensive might have penetrated so deeply into South China. Previous dispatches have indicated the main Red thrust was aimed at Hangchow.

Health Officers Called To Meet

Raleigh, May 2 (AP)—District and county health officers will convene here tomorrow for a special two-day meeting. Dr. Fog Norton, state health officer, said he called the gathering to discuss two subjects. A seminar on mental health hygiene supported by the State Hygiene board of control will be held the first day. During the second, an informal discussion will be held on program planning in connection with the $800,000 a year appropriation for local health departments approved by the 1949 legislature.

To Honor Hoover As Humanitarian

San Francisco, May 2 (AP)—Herbert Hoover will get new recognition of his humanitarian efforts Wednesday. Variety clubs international announced the former president would be awarded in absentia $1,000, a scroll and a silver plaque honoring him as the 1948 winner of the organization's humanitarian award.

Pretty Slow Going

Congress is just over the half-way mark of the current session, and from here on, it should move faster; reasons for slowness; prospects for action. By JAMES MARLOW. Washington, May 2 (AP)—It's just beginning to get good in Congress now. Meaning, there'll be a little more action. Congress has passed the half-way mark in this year's session, with four months gone and maybe two or three left to go. Don't feel bad if you're an average person who's been reading about Congress for four months and find now you can't remember precisely what's happened here. The fact is, nothing much has happened. It's been mostly talk, argument and jockeying. The going has been pretty slow, particularly in the Senate, but the first few months of any session always drag. That's because those months are always used in getting the big bills ready for debate and a vote in both House and Senate. They're pretty much taken up with long committee hearings on the bills, and the brigades of witnesses who make headlines. About the only action completed by Congress—meaning House and Senate together—was passage of the new rent control law.

Date For Lifting Blockade Is Near

Climax To Slow And Careful Negotiations Over Berlin Expected This Week; Talks By Big Four Seen For Future

New York, May 2 (AP)—A date for lifting of the Russian blockade of Berlin may be set this week. The climactic session in the slow and careful negotiations to end the blockade is expected to come as soon as one of the parties tells the other "let's meet." That presumably will happen this week—in New York. Present prospects are that this meeting may reach agreement on ending the Russian blockade and the allies' counter-blockade and setting a date for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers on the German question. Both the Americans and Russians involved in the negotiations thus far have maintained strictest secrecy about their progress. The outline of the situation has become only slightly less hazy since news of the first sessions was announced by Tass, the official Soviet news agency. Dr. Philip C. Jessup, U.S. ambassador at large, said after his last meeting with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob Malik the talks were "proceeding satisfactorily." The London Daily Herald, organ of Britain's ruling Labor party, said today Malik suggested to Jessup at Friday's meeting that the blockades be lifted at the end of the first week in June. The story, credited to the newspaper's London diplomatic correspondent, gave no source for its information. One of the apparent reasons for the length of the negotiations is a reported desire by U.S. officials to be absolutely certain the Russian offer to lift the blockade has no strings attached other than those made public by Tass. That offer was to lift the blockade if the Western powers would give up their counter-blockade and set a date acceptable to the Soviet for a Big Four meeting on Germany. The Western powers want to be sure the Russians haven't a gimmick hidden away with which they might try to prevent formation of a Western German state. If a Big Four meeting is arranged it probably will be held in Paris sometime in May or June. There is no indication, meanwhile, when Britain and France may be expected to join the New York talks.

Heavier Turnout In City Election Noted

Candidates Estimate Between 3,500 And 4,000 Voters Will Cast Ballots; Much Activity In Forenoon

Clear skies greeted the voters of Greenville this morning as more people flocked to the polls than in any city election in many years. Voting was heavy at both precincts from the opening of the polls until mid-afternoon. Rain squalls and shifting winds slowed up the balloting down somewhat when bad weather appeared to be imminent. At 1 p. m. today approximately 650 voters had cast ballots in the first and second wards at the courthouse, and more than 700 had voted in the third, fourth and fifth wards at the City Hall. Candidates and others who have been in close contact with the city primary election expressed the belief that the afternoon voting would be heavier, weather permitting. During the city primary election two years ago less than 400 votes were cast for mayor, and an even smaller number of votes was cast for candidates in the aldermanic race. Today, however, candidates who were questioned as to the voting activity estimated between 3,500 and 4,000 voters in Greenville would cast ballots in today's primary election. Registrars last week estimated the city registration at between 4,000 and 5,000. The polls opened this morning at 6:30 and will remain open until 6:30. All during the day candidates for aldermanic positions in the first and second wards could be seen shaking hands and talking with small groups of voters going to and from the courthouse, while candidates from the third, fourth and fifth wards carried on much the same activity outside the City Hall. J. H. Boyd and W. S. Stafford, candidates for mayor, apparently divided their time between the two polling places, as did Judge J. W. H. Roberts, candidate for judge of City Recorder's Court, and Elmer Bloom, candidate for recorder.

Backers Of Bond Election Meet To Plan Drive

Raleigh, N.C., May 2 (AP)—The executive committee of "Better Schools and Roads, Inc." met here today to set up headquarters and machinery for its bond promotion drive. One of its first tasks will be the selection of a chairman. A leading candidate for the job is John Marshall, a Scott campaign supporter, PCX official, and former newspaperman. The corporation was conceived and incorporated in a few hours by nearly 200 representative Tar Heels meeting here last Tuesday. The organization will seek to persuade North Carolinians to vote for a $20,000,000 road bond issue and a $25,000,000 school bond issue.

Await Sentence In Train Robbery

Fairmont, W. Va., May 2 (AP)—Two young men who admitted the bold holdup March 9 of a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train are to be sentenced here Wednesday afternoon. The pair, Luman Ramsdell and George L. Ashton, both of Youngstown, O., have been held here since they pleaded guilty to the holdup charges before federal Judge Harry E. Watkins.

Second Surprise

Charleston, W. Va., May 2 (AP)—A quartet of Siamese kittens—Siamese like in twins, that is—has been born to a five-year-old cat misnamed Bob. Bob's owner, Mrs. Freda Cole, said mother and the kittens, which are joined together by their stomachs, apparently are doing nicely today. This is the second surprise Bob has given the Coles. The first was about four years ago when what they thought was a tomat gave birth to her first litter.

Professions And Businessmen Said Risking Rights

C-o-f-C Told Groups Risk Being Regarded As 'Politically Expensible'

Washington, May 2 (AP)—A Midwest real estate man told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that business and professional groups risk being written off in Washington as "politically expensible" minorities. They must form a common front to preserve Democratic liberties, said Robert C. Brady of Wichita, Kans., at the opening of the 37th annual meeting of the national chamber. He said that today's great pressure blocs are occupational groups such as union members, farmers, etc. Opening of the annual sessions also found a long list of resolutions drawn up for consideration by the business men delegates. These included one for only a qualified endorsement of the Hoover commission's plans for reorganization of the government, although former President Hoover had asked all-out endorsement. Other pending resolutions include expressions of opposition to President Truman's ideas on economic control and labor legislation. Brady, in listing the politically strong blocs in the nation, said: "There are from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 members of organized labor. There are more than 5,000,000 farmers. 1,000,000 school teachers. "My professional group, the realtors, number about 45,000. In a voting contest, we would about tie the preachers." "This explains why certain occupational groups feel strong enough politically to abandon a policy of peaceful persuasion and threaten political assassination in their ruthless invasion of the rights of minority groups. "Smaller occupational groups, pleading for their economic lives, discover themselves to have been written off by political strategists as being politically expensible. This situation constitutes a recognized peril to our constitutional guarantees of minority rights." "The policies and practices pursued by the Soviet government and the Communist parties subservient to it since the end of hostilities had created a sense of insecurity in the free countries of western Europe. "This general sense of insecurity had been intensified by the savage reaction of the Soviet government to the (Marshall Plan) program of cooperative undertaking. Lovett said it became obvious that recovery in Europe could not be fully achieved without restoring a "sense of security" against aggression. "It seemed hardly logical," he said, "to make the effort required under this (recovery) program and to ignore the possibility that if this great enterprise was not given the protection that it needed, its whole aim could be defeated."

Man-Shortage On Pacific Isle Is Sailors' Menace

Glastonbury, Mass., May 2 (AP)—The perils of a Cape of Good Hope are puny compared to the hazards of the island of Rapa, in the Pacific, where women outnumber men seven to one. So say a group of young men who were home today after entering the globe in 18 months aboard the 96-foot brigantine Yankee. "Any stranger is likely to be picked by the lonely ladies," said Captain Irving Johnson, the Yankee's skipper, who has just completed his fourth world voyage under sail. "One of our crew was kidnaped briefly, but he was rescued." Captain Johnson declined to identify the victim, or to elaborate on what would appear to be an unprecedented snubbing of South Sea maidens. He did, however, explain that the shortage of men on Rapa is due to the fact that they have been lured away by jobs on other islands.

Series Of Tornadoes Hit Southwest For Two Days

By Associated Press. A two-day series of tornadoes lashed parts of the south and southwest Saturday and Sunday, killing nine persons and injuring about 100. Damage was roughly estimated at $2,000,000. Mississippi and Louisiana were hit by tornado winds yesterday. Twisters struck in Oklahoma and Texas Saturday. Western Kansas also received minor damage Saturday. Oklahoma took the worst beating. Sixteen tornadoes struck in widely scattered parts of the state, causing five deaths. Approximately 75 persons were injured, with at least 80 being hurt in the vicinity of Norman, Okla. Norman is the site of the University of Oklahoma. Four persons died in Texas. The tornado hit in the northeast part of the state. Nine persons were injured in the oil field and three plantations near Homer, in northwestern Louisiana. Of the nine, all Negroes, two were in serious condition. Five homes and four barns were demolished. In central and northeastern Mississippi, high winds damaged buildings, uprooted trees and cut power lines. No casualties were reported, however. Water River, Miss., was hardest hit. The winds also whipped through Houlika, Okla. and Houston. In Oklahoma, the main group of tornadoes moved from southwest to northeast across the center of the state for about 100 miles.

Brings Death To Wife And Self In Cardboard Box

Dover, O., May 2 (AP)—Russell Martin, 21, knocked at the door of the Zurlie home in Mineral City, O., yesterday. His estranged wife, Gladys, 16, was visiting there. "She came to the door. "Gladys, I have something for you," he said. He dashed a blanket-wrapped cardboard box on the floor and cried: "You and me are going to die!" A home-made dynamite bomb exploded. The blast blew Martin to bits and also killed his wife. Their three-month-old son, Gary, was left badly on the head.

Warm Weather

Highest temperature in the Greenville area Sunday was 81 degrees in the afternoon. The Weather Bureau thermometers at 8 a. m. today registered 71 degrees. Total rainfall during the past week was 1.57 inches. The rains prevailing here were steady, and not soil-washing, and farmers report that the ground absorbed much of the water. Crops in gardens and fields are flourishing, particularly tobacco plants that had been transplanted and orn. Gardens are in much better condition here than at the same time last year.

Rayburn OK's Amending Of Administration's Labor Bill

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Speaker Rayburn announced today his support of five amendments to the administration labor bill and said he believes they will assure passage of the measure. Rayburn told a news conference the amendments are being drafted by a group of House members including Southern Democrats. They will be offered tomorrow when the House resumes debate on labor legislation. Briefly, he said, here's what they would do: 1. Give the president authority to intervene, either by injunction or plant seizure, in a threatened strike involving the public welfare. 2. Make it "perfectly clear" that there is to be freedom of speech on both sides in a labor controversy. 3. Require non-Communist affidavits to be made by leaders of both labor and management. 4. Make certain that financial reports of labor organizations are available to members of the unions and perhaps to the public generally. 5. Require that both sides in a controversy must bargain "in good faith." Many of the amendments are similar to provisions of the Taft-Hartley law which President Truman wants repealed. None of them is in the Administration's bill, sponsored by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the House Labor Committee. Rayburn said the injunction or plant seizure amendment may combine both proposals. Personally, he said, he is not strongly in favor of a seizure provision by itself. Rayburn outlined his position following a White House conference at which labor legislation was discussed. He did not say whether President Truman has approved the amendments, but the inference was that the Chief Executive has. The Speaker made it clear to reporters that he was talking for himself and not for the president. But his words lent support to reports that Administration leaders were reading a number of concessions in an effort to win support for the Administration's bill, sponsored by Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich). As it now stands, the Lesinski Bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and restore the old Wagner Act with some changes. Rayburn said the president did not commit himself on any "softening" amendments to the Lesinski Bill. There have been reports that Mr. Truman opposes any compromises. The Taft-Hartley law provides for court injunctions in national emergency strikes, but the Lesinski Bill would knock that out. How the House resumes the labor debate tomorrow, with action due first on the Republican-backed Wood Bill. GOP leaders said they expect to add at least two, and possibly more, "softening" amendments of their own to that measure.

Pact Result Of Soviet Reaction

Robert Lovett Says Treaty Grew Out Of Attacks On ERP

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Robert Lovett, former undersecretary of state, said today the North Atlantic treaty grew out of Russia's "savage reaction" to the European recovery plan. Lovett came before the Senate Foreign Relations committee to tell them of the reasons behind the security alliance. Opening the second week of hearings on the proposed 12-nation pact, Lovett declared: "The policies and practices pursued by the Soviet government and the Communist parties subservient to it since the end of hostilities had created a sense of insecurity in the free countries of western Europe. "This general sense of insecurity had been intensified by the savage reaction of the Soviet government to the (Marshall Plan) program of cooperative undertaking. May Day Events Further Divide A Divided World

Anti-American Theme In Red Bloc Nations; Division Outside Iron Curtain

By the Associated Press. May Day 1949—60th anniversary of a day proclaimed to demonstrate unity among the world's workers—showed instead the split between the Communist and non-Communist world. The Soviet Union, which has adopted the international observance as its great national holiday, yesterday put on a spectacular display of military might in Moscow's Red Square. Prime Minister Josef Stalin, with members of the Politburo, took the salute. Cheering thousands passed in review while military aircraft including a strong display of speedy jet planes flashed overhead. Defense Minister Alexander Vassilievsky trumpeted more charges of "American war plans" and continued Soviet denunciations of the Atlantic pact. All Communist-dominated lands flexed their muscles in similar, but smaller, demonstrations. They were cheered by claims from their Communist brethren in China of vast new victories in the Shanghai-Nanking-Hangchow area. Parades and mass rallies filled the streets of Warsaw, Prague, Bucharest, Budapest, and Sofia—capitals of the satellite countries. Speakers pledged support for Russia and denounced "national deviationists" such as Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. But Yugoslavia's back. At May Day celebrations in Belgrade that country's Communist party attacked not only Western "imperialists," but the "monstrous, slanderous attacks" by the Eastern Communist bloc. Outside the Iron Curtain the divisions were much more obvious. New York Saturday had rival "Loyalty Day" and left-wing parades four blocks apart. "Loyalty" marchers outnumbered the others five to one. On Sunday Vice-President Alben W. Barkley told 30,000 at a Roman Catholic sponsored rally that the American "way of life is the best ever known by the children of man." The system of two parades was followed in many cities. In Berlin and Rome the Communists got the crowds. Nearly 300,000 Germans marched under Red flags in the Soviet sector of the city. Western sector rallies were small and quiet. About 70,000 jammed the Communist demonstration in Rome. Only 15,000 attended an anti-Communist labor demonstration. The pope gave May Day blessings to the "entire world of workers."

Methodist Commission Urges Calm Appraisal Of Issues

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—The Commission on World Peace of the Methodist Church today withheld support of the North Atlantic pact, and urged "calm and objective appraisal" of Communism. It also reaffirmed support of the Marshall Plan, urged U.S. ratification of the United Nations' declaration of human rights, and called for reduction of armaments and an end to the cold war in Europe. A statement of resolutions was adopted today by the commission, an official 27-member group elected by Methodism's general conference. The commission is charged with organizing church action to obtain peace. The statement said in part: "We feel bound at this time to withhold support of the North Atlantic pact. x x x Confusion still exists as to exactly what implications of the pact is proposed. x x x There are grave dangers lurking in the possible implementation of the pact and its application in international policy." On Communism, the report said church members should "make a calm and objective appraisal of the merits and defects of Communism, such as is to be found in the 'Amsterdam conference' report. It also said "churches, without espousing Communism" should do all in their power to counteract the present hysterical fear of Communism which is leading in America to the suppression of free speech and the misjudging of many liberal movements.

Atlanta Strike Slows Transport

Atlanta, May 2 (AP)—Atlantans felt the full force of a strike by street transportation employees today. Thousands of bus and trolley riders had to turn to overburdened taxi companies and share-the-ride motorists to get to work. The strike began Saturday night. Long sessions among representatives of the Georgia Power Company, the Trolley and Bus Drivers' Union and a federal conciliator brought no change in the situation.

State's Oldest Employe Retires

Raleigh, May 2 (AP)—The state's oldest employe in length of service, Miss Elsie Riddick, retired over the weekend. Miss Riddick, who started out with the state 52 years ago at $30 a month, stepped down Saturday as chief clerk of the utilities commission, a job paying $6,336 annually.

Murder Charge Facing Soldier

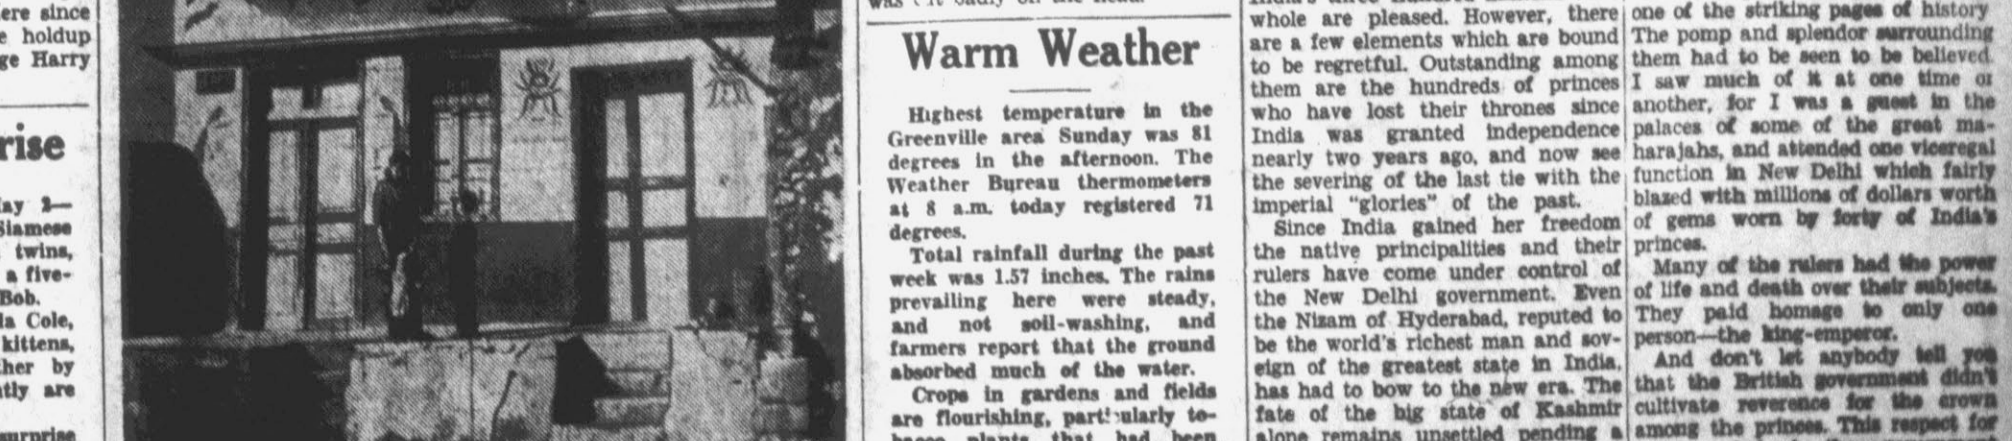

Stuttgart, Germany, May 2 (AP)—The American military post at Stuttgart said today a charge of premeditated murder would be filed against recruit Russell Jones, 22, of Fall River, Mass., for the killing of three in Germany. Military police headquarters said the soldier ran amok yesterday and killed a German motor pool guard, a German girl and a German passerby.

Plant Closes As Workers Strike

Elizabeth, N. J., May 2 (AP)—The Singer Manufacturing Co. plant closed down today as 7,000 workers went on strike demanding a change in what the charge is a "speedup" system of incentive payment. The company said it would not attempt to continue production in the face of the strike.

The Unhappy Princes

Rulers of India Have Little Cause To Be Pleased With Severance Of Ties With Britain; They Kept Power With British Help; Now They Face Hard Times. By DEWITT MacKENZIE. India is happy over the historic agreement which permits her to become a republic and still remain a member of the British commonwealth of nations—without acknowledging the sovereignty of the king-emperor. That is, the articulate portions of India's three hundred millions as a whole are pleased. However, there are a few elements which are bound to be regretful. Outstanding among them are the hundreds of princes who have lost their thrones since India was granted independence. The severing of the last tie with the imperial "glories" of the past. Since India gained her freedom the native principalities and their rulers have come under control of the New Delhi government. Even the Nizam of Hyderabad, reputed to be the world's richest man and sovereign of the greatest state in India, has had to bow to the new era. The fate of the big state of Kashmir alone remains unsettled pending a plebiscite among the people to see whether they prefer to join Hindu India or the neighboring Moslem dominion of Pakistan. It is well that these princes should go, for they are anachronisms which have no place in this atomic age of ours. Still one can understand the feelings of potentates, some of whom were links in bejeweled dynasties reaching back many hundreds of years. The story of the princes forms one of the striking pages of history. The pomp and splendor surrounding them had to be seen to be believed. I saw much of it at one time or another, for I was a guest in the palaces of some of the great maharajahs, and attended one viceregal function in New Delhi which fairly blazed with millions of dollars worth of gems worn by forty of India's princes. Many of the rulers had the power of life and death over their subjects. They paid homage to only one person—the king-emperor. And don't let anybody tell you that the British government didn't cultivate reverses for the crown among the princes. This respect for royalty helped the government mightily in handling the frequently (Continued on page eight)

Lillian Joyner Flanagan And Bert L. Bennett Wed Saturday

On Saturday evening, April thirtieth, St. Paul's Episcopal Church was the scene of a wedding characterized by beauty and dignity when Miss Lillian Joyner Flanagan became the bride of Bert Lester Bennett. The Reverend Roscoe C. Hauser, rector of St. Paul's, was the officiating minister. Tom Smoot Jr. and James T. Little Jr. served as acolytes. Altar vases filled with calla lilies and the pews marked with a single lily tied with white satin ribbon made a lovely setting for the bridal party.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was given by Miss Eva Hodges, organist, Mrs. Frank F. Willingham, of Winston-Salem, soloist, and the church choir.

Preceded by the crucifer, James T. Cheatham Jr., the choir entered from the rear of the church singing the processional hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," after which Mrs. Willingham sang "Oh, Perfect Love" by Burleigh.

As the organ began the strains of the bridal chorus by Wagner, the groomsmen entered and took their places. These were Charles Felix Harvey III of Kinston, Edward Graham Flanagan Jr., brother of the bride, Matt Ransom Long Jr., and Joseph Hewes Parrish of Winston-Salem, John Hearn of Wilson and James Stevenson Peck of Lutherville, Md.

Charles Mitchell Neaves of Elkin, N.C., attended the groom as best man.

Miss Helen Terry Flanagan was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Patricia Ann Flanagan was junior bride's maid. Their dresses were of white organza over maize taffeta, featuring a low rounded neck line, throated cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the groom wore a dress of heaven blue chiffon, fashioned with a flared skirt and shirred bodice embroidered with crystal paillettes. Her hat was of matching chiffon and her corsage of white, yellow throated cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Bennett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Graham Flanagan and the granddaughter of Mrs. E. G. Flanagan and the late Colonel Flanagan and of Mrs. O. L. Joyner and the late Mr. Joyner, all of Greenville. She received her education at Greenville high school, Salem College and is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College.

Mr. Bennett is the son of Mrs. Bert Lester Bennett and the late Mr. Bennett of Winston-Salem. He attended Woodbury Forest Preparatory School, Orange, Va., and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. He is now connected with the Quality Oil Company of Winston-Salem.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. E. Graham Flanagan entertained at their home honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lester Bennett and their wedding party.

The approach to the house was lighted with hurricane lamps in wrought iron holders. The house decorated with spring flowers and blooming shrubs was handsome, indeed, with its colonial setting and furnishings.

Guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Wagner and introduced to the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Joyner.

The spacious drawing room in which Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan received their guests was artistically decorated with white roses, snapdragon and other flowers carrying out the white and green bridal motif.

Funch was served on the terrace from frozen bowls into which pink

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Joyner Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Long were hosts at a dance at the Greenville Country Club on Friday evening in honor of Miss Joy Flanagan and Mr. Bert Bennett.

The massive mantels at either end of the ball room were decorated with magnolia leaves and candles. The fireplaces were banked with mock orange.

A buffet table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a five branched candelabra and epernettes filled with white rosebuds. Three branched candelabra were placed at each end of the table. Champagne punch with ham biscuits, cheese straws, hors d'oeuvres, mints and nuts was served.

From large balloons, suspended from the ceiling of the ball room, confetti and myriads of small balloons were showered as the grand march, led by the honor guests, formed to the strains of the wedding march.

Bob Lee and his college orchestra provided the music for the delightful occasion.

Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Ty Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flanagan entertained the Bennett-Flanagan wedding party and out-of-town guests at luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mrs. E. G. Flanagan.

The house was decorated throughout with mock orange, white gladioli and white peonies. A large bride's bouquet formed the centerpiece on the dining table, which was spread with a ruffled white organza cloth. Mrs. O. L. Joyner Sr. and Mrs. Sidney Caswell of Detroit, Mich., were seated to serve a delectable luncheon. They were assisted by Mrs. O. L. Joyner Jr., Miss Hennie Long and Mrs. Ariene Joyner Baxter of Grand Rapids, Mich. In the breakfast room Mrs. Walter Harrington and Mrs. Fred Debnam of Wilmington served iced coffee and wedding cakes.

Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. E. E. Rawl Jr. entertained the Bennett-Flanagan wedding party and out-of-town guests at luncheon on Friday at their suburban home, Jule-Jo. Upon arrival of guests, punch was served from the old well Luncheon was served at the pool. The table was covered with a red checked gingham cloth and centered with an old fashioned scene, depicting a bride and groom leaving on their honeymoon in a surrey with their colored attendants waving goodbyes. A delicious barbecue luncheon was served.

Auxiliary To V.F.W. Installs Officers

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 7082, held its yearly installation ceremonies on Thursday night, April 28, in the Alumni room at E. C. T. C. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Annabelle Averett. Both Mrs. Averette and President-elect Margaret S. Brown were presented with corsages of red roses. The meeting was opened by singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and a prayer by the chaplain. Several ladies from the Farmville auxiliary were guests at the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs.

Carrie West. Mrs. Averette gave a report on the work accomplished by the auxiliary during the past year. The warrant was read by the secretary appointing Mrs. Averette to install the new officers for the coming year. The officers are Mrs. Margaret S. Brown, president; Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, Sr., vice president; Mrs. Nellie Fleming, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Ruth Garner, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Mavis Alder, conductress; Mrs. Mary Moore, guard; Mrs. Zula Waters, trustee; Mrs. Lottie Lewis, chaplain. After very impressive installation ceremonies Mrs. Averette presented Mrs. Brown the gavel for the coming year. Mrs. Brown then thanked Mrs. Averette in behalf of the Auxiliary, for her outstanding work during the past year and presented her with the past-presidents pin.

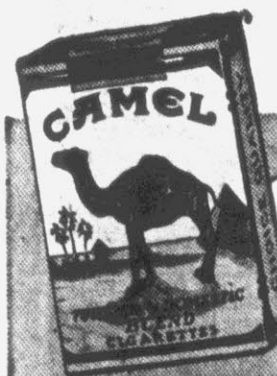

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Ruth Garner and her committee who delightfully entertained. The Alumni room was beautifully decorated in cut flowers and potted plants. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Averette served ice cream and cake from a lovely appointed table. The table was covered with a lace cloth with a floral center decoration of spring flowers and pastel burning tapers. After a social hour the meeting was adjourned.

Moved to Greenville Mrs. Katharine M. Adams, formerly Smithfield, but who for the past few years has lived and taught in Bechel, has moved to Greenville, 204 Meade street.

ulips and valley lilies were moulded. Silver bowls of pink peonies and lighted candelabra completed the lovely punch tables.

The entire garden below the terrace was lighted by pastel colored lanterns, giving an atmosphere of charm and informality for the dainty refreshment-tables placed about the garden. Strolling musicians played through the evening, adding much to the enjoyment of the guests.

The bride's table was most unusual and beautiful. The long table was covered with a formal organza cloth and lighted with antique silver candelabra. In the center was a tall tiered wedding cake and at either end, from silver tiered trays, topped with vases of valley lilies, Mrs. O. L. Joyner and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, grandmothers of the bride, served bridal loaves. A group of young girls assisted in serving other dainty refreshments.

After cutting the wedding cake, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left for an extended trip to Bermuda, after which they will be at home in Winston-Salem.

For traveling Mrs. Bennett chose a three-piece milk brown suit lined with powder blue and featuring a scarf of blue brocade bordered with mauve. With this she wore a powder blue hat with brown veil and deep brown accessories.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WE CAN AFFORD TO WAIT
Thomas Carlyle, the great English philosopher and author, was walking one day through the grounds of a country mansion with Bishop Wilberforce. "Bishop," said Carlyle bluntly, "have you a creed?" "Yes," said the bishop, "and what is more, the older I grow, the firmer that creed becomes under my feet. But there is one thing that staggers me." "And what is that?" asked Carlyle. "The slow progress which that creed seems to make upon the world."

Carlyle was silent for a moment and then said, "Ah! But if you have a creed, you can afford to wait."
How vacillating and restless is a life deficient in moral conviction and purpose! The people who believe something and believe it with all their souls can afford not only to wait, but to suffer, to endure disappointment, to experience what the world calls defeat. For the thing which puts iron into a man's soul, which gives direction to his feet, light to his eyes, warmth to his heart, undying devotion to his ideal, is an unwavering belief in the existence of certain powers above his own.
Carlyle was right: if we have a creed, we can afford to wait. It may take me a long time to see the value of the things we cherish, but see it they will at last. In the meantime, our conviction will give us the patience we must have, and at the long last there will be triumph; not for us, perhaps, but for what we most surely believe.

REC-MANNING

In government and reduction in public debt, and that is "published intermittently as occasion demands." There are several quotations about government economy attributed to Thomas Jefferson and reprints of editorials critical of the Scott road program and bond issue. The circular carries a post-office box and telephone number but no personal identification. However, recipients had little difficulty in identifying J. Paul Leonard as its sponsor.

Boyle's Column

It takes a lot of figuring to keep the female figure in bounds. And that watchdog of the womanly bulge, the Corset and Brassiere Association of America, has come up with a few well-rounded statistics.
It has found that no one shape seems to satisfy the girls for long. The only thing about the feminine contour that has remained unchanged since Cleopatra's day is the shoulder. (Eds. note: It is as cold as ever.)
Researchers of the CBAA have discovered the American woman of today is no longer the wasp-waisted stringbean of yore. She's more bilowy than willow.
Put in terms of a mathematical formula, the average woman now is 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 133 pounds. She has a 35 1/2-inch bust, 29-inch waist and 38-inch hips.
At least these are the typical measurements of the women who buy foundation garments. And 85 per cent of those over 15 years of age.
The farmer's daughter is shorter and wider at the beam than her city sister. And the rich girl has a scrawny chassis than the working lass.
One survey showed that only about one out of 13 women has the classic measurement—a "perfect 36." Perhaps this helps explain the Somebody Told Me...

When Wallace Berry of the radio news flash gave his age as sixty-one, one newspaper said he was sixty-four, another sixty-one. Of course the answer is that many movie stars conceal their ages so effectively that even the records vary. The age of Humphrey Bogart, the husband of twenty-four-year-old Lauren Bacall, varies from forty-seven to fifty.

Probably one of the most complete lists of the ages of movie stars appears in the World Almanac, which lists the names, dates and places of birth of noted actors, actresses, musicians and singers. They list Bogart as fifty, Jack Benny as fifty-five, and Al Jolson as sixty-one.

Movie stars are certainly not alone in their desire to conceal their ages; in fact, the town of Greenville has many residents who have no desire to divulge their ages.
This fact came to light at the registration books in the City Hall Saturday when Wife Rachel and I went in to register for today's election. We gave Mrs. Rosa Brown our names, and she asked me my age. But instead of asking Rachel she simply put twenty-one plus in the column.
"Why didn't you ask her age?" I asked.

"I learned better years ago," she said. "Unless there is doubt that the lady is twenty-one, I just put down twenty-one plus and let it go at that. There are plenty of people who simply don't want to tell you how old they are. And it's not just women! Some men are the same way."
It just goes to show that Hollywood is not the only town with ages.

Now some 300 American firms, employing more than 17,000 persons, each year turn out 100,000 brassieres, 5,000,000 "faisers" or bust pads, and 41,000,000 girdles and corsets.
The girdle, incidentally, was invented by a man—probably the caveman. He wore a gaudy fur to hold his hunting weapons.
Men also have been about as stoutly devoted to corsets as the ladies. The first known use of the term "corset" is in the household register of Eleanor, Countess of Leicester, in May 24, 1265. The corsets were made for Richard, king of the Normans, and his son, Edward.
In the days of England's good Queen Bess a 13-inch waist was in high style, and the only comfortable ladies were female midgets. At the court of Elizabeth de medic women achieved this degree of compression by wearing corsets made of thin steel plates. A girl who ate an extra olive at dinner while dressed in the contraption ran the risk of springing her hinges.
This fashion became such a rage on the continent that in 1559 Emperor Joseph of Austria issued an edict forbidding the use of corsets in nunneries and places where young girls were educated. This had about the effect you'd expect. The girls simply laced their booties corsets tighter.
In the 18th century European families of quality even began dressing their children in corsets. They were supposed to help young boys gain a military bearing. One can only wonder how many more battles Gen. U. S. Grant might have won in a corset with a two-way stretch.
Today the industry's best customer is the best-dressed girl in the world—the American working girl. She buys four brassieres and two girdles a year.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington — Renewed effort is being made in Congress to get Uncle Sam's legal blessing on the adoption of the proposed perpetual world calendar, which would make every year the same — everywhere. A bill introduced by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) calling upon President Truman to take administrative action to bring about the calendar change in 1956 has gone to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The bill also asks that all U. S. delegates to international conferences, and especially those representing this country at United Nations sessions, work for its worldwide adoption. Senator Kefauver's bill stresses the need for a perpetual calendar which would retain the traditional months but would equalize the quarters of the year so that the days of the week and dates always agree from year to year.
Under the new calendar each quarter year would have 91 days, or 13 weeks, or three months. Every month would have 28 week-days, plus Sundays. Every year would begin on Sunday and end on Saturday. Backers of the proposal want to start the new calendar in 1956 because the year will begin on a Sunday, and the switch would be easier.
The new calendar would drop two dates in the Gregorian Calendar we now use. Two new dates would take their places. Dec. 31 would become "W December" for "Worlds-day." The 29th of February in leap years would become "W June." Both would be world holidays.
The World Calendar Association, a non-profit outfit, reports that already 17 governments, including the United States, have given formal tentative approval of the calendar reform and 24 other governments have indicated they will adopt or support the measure if the major powers adopt it. Calendar reformists list among expected benefits the following:
In government the fiscal year would always begin the same day and date. Thus customs receipts, taxes, internal revenue collections and interest on bonds would be easily computed. Wages and business expenses could be figured more accurately, and all holidays would be fixed.
Travel by air, rail, sea and road would be simplified because days

Bookbinding By Hand Dying Out

New York — (AP) — Bookbinder Gaston Pilon believes the age-old art of hand embossed, gilt-edged bookbinding is dying.
In fact, Pilon, a 71-year-old, Paris-born artisan, says he knows of none other than himself, in the United States or Europe, who still binds fine books by hand. He does it by special order.
Books hand bound by Pilon are in the libraries of King George of England, Albert, King of the Belgians, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Harry S. Truman, Winston Churchill and Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, several distinguished writers and other important people. The works include manuscripts and fine and rare books.
Among Pilon's own prized possessions is a letter General Dwight D. Eisenhower sent him after he had hand bound 35 special, goatskin leather-covered volumes of "Ordnance in Europe."
Pilon still has a broad French accent. He works with more than 4,000 engraver tools, makes most of his own designs.
The craftsman shows his regret that apparently no American wants to carry on his intricate skill. He conducted a school in gold-tooling and binding. Only the rich attended this school—as a hobby they later dropped, though Pilon's rates were nominal. Seven times he tried to train apprentices. "They quiet too," he said. There was not enough money in the art.

Paris — (AP) — Marshall Plan funds are saving Iceland's "lifeline" — the fishing industry.
R. H. Fiedler, European Cooperation Administration fisheries specialist, said after a survey trip to Iceland that ECA funds are being used to modernize their fish processing plant and to outfit the herring industry.
The significant thing about the expansion of Iceland's fishing industry isn't only in saving it for Iceland, Fiedler said, "but it is providing animal protein food for Europe at a time when meat is in short supply."

Greenville Women Re-Elected To Positions In State AAUW

Mrs. Robert Lee Humber and Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr., both of Greenville, were re-elected at the state convention of the N. C. Division of the American Association of University Women in Raleigh last week as president and secretary, respectively for a two-year term.

Other important matters before the convention were acceptance of the invitations for the fall workshop to be held in Chapel Hill October 22 for annual convention in Burlington next spring; election of delegates to the national convention to be held in Seattle in June; and further plans for the state projects.

Prominent speakers at the convention board luncheon were Dr. Gillie A. Larrew, regional vice-president of the southeastern district; at the banquet, Dr. Constance Warren, former president of Sarah Lawrence College and now chairman of the national education committee of the AAUW, and at the final luncheon, Jonathan Daniels, editor of the News and Observer.

The convention was honored by a tea at the governor's mansion, where Mrs. Humber and Mrs. Spain were in the receiving line.

Mrs. J. E. Winslow, state historian, who was also a delegate from the Greenville branch, reported on plans for collecting data for a second volume of the history of the North Carolina division of the American Association of University Women. Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, state radio chairman, until recently a member of the Greenville branch, reported that the Greenville branch is one of the five in the state organization which have made use of the radio in their publicity.

Miss Nell Stallings, president of the Greenville branch, Mrs. Charles Reynolds and Misses Lois Grigsby, Emma L. Hooper and Louise Williams attended the convention as delegates from the Greenville branch.

Engagement Of Miss Hook Announced At Tea Saturday

The engagement of Miss Jeanne Hook of Eion College and Greenville to Mr. D. B. Harrell, Jr., of Mt. Olive was announced at a tea given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. John D. Messick at her home on East Fifth street. The marriage will take place in late summer.

Miss Hook has taught at East Carolina Teachers College for the past year and has been supervisor of music in the Greenville elementary schools.

More than eighty guests were present to enjoy Mrs. Messick's hospitality and to extend good wishes to Miss Hook. At the front door Miss Mary H. Greene presented each guest with a miniature corsage of roses and white wedding bells on which the engagement was announced.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Messick, Miss Hook, Mrs. A. L. Hook of Eion College, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Fred Willetts of Wilmington, Miss Rose Messick and Miss Agnes Fullilove.

In the dining room the table was decorated with a silver epergne surmounted by a miniature bride and groom and made attractive with an arrangement of white peonies and streamers of white and silver ribbons. Receiving guests there were Mrs. W. E. Marshall, Mrs. W. W. Howell, Mrs. H. L. Carter, Mrs. Leo W. Jenkins, Mrs. Harry Snyder and Mrs. W. W. Williamson.

During the afternoon Miss Elizabeth Drake, pianist, and Miss Gladys B. Reichard, contralto, gave a program of music. Miss Ruth Lambie presided over the guest book.

Others who assisted the hostess in entertaining included Misses Helen Rion Caldwell and Dorothy Lewis and Mrs. J. E. Long and Mrs. Agnes Barrett.

The Messick home was attractively decorated for the occasion with arrangements of peonies, irises, roses and other spring flowers.

Miss Hook joined the faculties of the college and the city schools here last fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hook of Eion College. After her graduation from Eion, she studied music at George Peabody College for teachers and was awarded the master's degree there. Mr. Harrell served in the armed forces for three years and then entered Eion College, from which he was graduated in the class of 1948.

Since coming to Greenville last fall, Miss Hook has taken part in many community activities and has won many friends in the city.

The estimated number of machines in the U. S. selling liquids, in bottles, or cups, is about 423,000.

Miss Shotwell Reviews Book

The Chatham Book club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Luther Bowling on Tuesday afternoon. African violets were used in profusion in both the living room and dining room.

Upon arrival of the guests the hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Bendall and Mrs. Eustace Conway, served a delicious sweet course with coffee and salted nuts.

Miss Muriel Shotwell gave a review of "Cheaper by the Dozen" by Frank Glibreth, Jr., and Elizabeth Glibreth Carey. It is always a delightful occasion to hear Miss Shotwell give a book review and this review was unusually so, as she told of the rearing of the twelve Glibreth children.

After the program a business session was held, presided over by the president, Mrs. A. C. Ruffin, and the books were exchanged.

Gal. 6:8.

Greenies Trip Kinston 9-3 Saturday; Rain Won Sunday

Garland Little Hurls First Win Of Season; Mauney, Carter, Williams And Gillespie Lead Eleven-Hit Attack

By BERT MOYE
Manager Pappy Williams and his Greenville Greenies defeated the Kinston Eagles, 9 to 3, here Saturday night in their only week-end tilt, the game with the Wilson Tobs at Wilson being rained out Sunday afternoon to bring the total double-headers facing the Greenies to six at the present time.

Garland Little registered his first win of the season here Saturday night as he held the Kinston Eagles to six scattered hits, all singles, and struck out a total of nine Eagles, while his mates collected a total of 11 hits off the two Eagle hurlers to eop the win by the score of 9-3.

The Greenies jumped on Carl Johnson of the Eagles for four hits and five runs in the two frames he worked, and proved enough to win the game. After Carter had singled and was out trying to steal second in the initial frame, John Tepedino walked, Bob Cohen singled with Tepedino taking third; Pappy Williams singled, bringing home Tepedino, with Cohen advancing to third; Mauney doubled into left center field to bring home Cohen and Williams and advanced to third on Pete Gillespie's fly to left field, and then scored on a passed ball by Shrode, the Eagles' catcher.

In the second frame Tepedino walked, stole second, and advanced to third on Collins' error. Bob Cohen walked and then Cohen and Tepedino executed a double steal with Tepedino crossing the plate.

They continued their scoring in the third frame by scoring a singleton on one hit, error, passed ball and a balk by Joe Baston. In the third they scored two runs on a double by Cohen and a single by Mauney, aided by a walk, error and a stolen base.

The final runs for the Greenies came in the seventh frame when Denier walked, advanced to second on a passed ball and then came home on Moe Carter's timely single.

The Eagles were held scoreless until the sixth frame when they put across a tally on two singles, aided by an error; and their final two runs of the game came in the eighth frame on two singles, walk and an error.

Willie Mauney with a double and a single and Moe Carter, Pappy Williams and Pete Gillespie with two singles each led the 11-hit attack off the two Eagles hurlers. Len Romankowski with two for five led the six-hit attack off Garland Little.

Score by innings:
Kinston 000 001 030-3 8 4
Greenville 411 200 102-9 11 3
Johnson, Baston (3) and Shrode, Moss (7); Little and Anderson.

Deacons Certain To Retain Lofty Perch This Week

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Staff Writer
Wake Forest's baseball Deacons and these last spring days have something in common. When you think of either one, you automatically mutter: "No, hum."

The Deacons, unbeatable in 17 games this season, were still at the top of the Southern Conference standings yesterday (Sunday) with six decisions over family foes. They already had beaten the supposedly "tough" teams—Duke's Blue Devils three times, North Carolina State's Wolfpack and North Carolina's Tar Heels, in addition to Washington and Lee's cellar-dwelling Generals.

Wake Forest is certain to remain on its lofty perch this week. For the Deacons play only one circuit contest, this one scheduled at Wake Forest Wednesday against North Carolina State.

Nat'l Duckpin Tests In Raleigh

Raleigh, May 2—(AP)—The 20th annual National Duckpin Bowling Tournament—an event expected to draw 8,000 entries—will be held in Raleigh next April.

The classics will begin the first week of the month and run for five weekend periods. It is the first of its type to be held in the capitol city or in the Old North State.

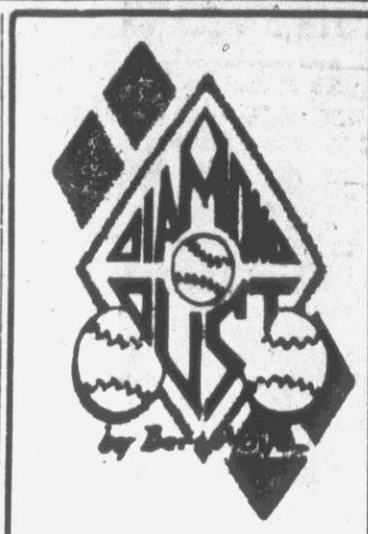

Directors Vote Forgiveness In Raid On Heckler

Baltimore, May 2—(AP)—The board of directors of the Baltimore Orioles voted last night to forgive Manager Tommy Thomas for telling one of his ball players to "go get" a heckler.

After a session lasting far into the night, the directors of the International League club said they had "unanimously" given Thomas a vote of confidence.

Thomas yesterday completed a five-day suspension ordered by League President Frank Shaughnessy as a result of the incident last Tuesday night when the Orioles were tangling with Toronto.

A fan was riding infielder Ellis Clary and apparently getting his goat. Thomas pointed the hickler out to Clary and told him to "go get him."

Tonight's Games
Wilson at GREENVILLE
Roanoke Rapids at New Bern
Kinston at Rocky Mount
Tarboro at Goldsboro

Sidelights—The Greenies stole a total of six bases in Saturday night's game with John Tepedino and Willie Mauney each stealing two and Bob Cohen and Steve Denier each stealing one. . . . Steve Collins was the only man to steal successfully for the Eagles. . . . Garland Little was right Saturday night as his curves were breaking beautifully across the plate and of the first eleven men to face him, six went out via the strikeout route, two walked. . . . Greenville had nine men stranded on bases, the Eagles had 11. . . . John Tepedino took all fielding honors as he handled six chances without an error and really brought the grandstand to their feet in the fourth frame when he went way out of position to rob Wallen of what looked like a sure hit and threw to second to force Moss as he lay flat down on the ground. . . . Neither side was able to make a double play during the contest. . . . The total paid admissions were 1,541.

The game over in Wilson Sunday afternoon was called in the top of the second frame with the Tobs leading by a score of 4 to 1. The Greenies were at the bat at the time and had two men on bases and the game really started out to be what looked like what appeared to be a free scoring affair. It will be played as part of a double-header on Friday, May 13, in Wilson, and play will be resumed at the point where it was interrupted by the rain. . . . The Wilson Tobs will be here tonight at 7:45 o'clock for a game, so make your plans to come out and support the team. . . .

When Charles (Chuck) Davey defeated Don Dickinson of Wisconsin to win the 145-pound championship in the National Collegiate title boxing meet, the Michigan State ace closed out an all-victorious college career that has no parallel. He is the first fighter in history to hold National Collegiate ring championships. Davey was only 17 when he won his first National Collegiate championship. That was in the 127-pound class, and it made him the youngest champion ever to win a crown. The war interrupted his collegiate boxing career as Chuck took time out to serve as a navigator with the Eighth Air Force in Europe. He returned to Michigan State in time to win the 135-pound title in the 1947 NCAA championships. Last year Davey successfully defended that title and this season moved up to the 145-pound class to win his fourth championship. A natural southpaw, Davey is lightning fast with either hand and has the ring poise of a veteran professional boxer. Now 22 years old and a senior majoring in physical education, Chuck hopes to take a brief fling at the pro game before he settles down to a job of coaching college boxers.

Trainer Of Favored Olympia Thinks Palestinian Is The 'Horse To Beat'

Louisville, Ky., May 2—(AP)—Most everyone hereabouts began getting all hepped up about the Kentucky Derby today, as is customary, but not Trainer Ivan Parke of the favored Olympia.

"I actually believe," the former Idaho jockey said without batting an eye, "that Palestinian will be the one to beat. The horse who beats him will win the Derby."

Parke and his younger brother Monte, who trains Johns Joy—an other fairly respectable Derby candidate, by the way—were standing around "chinning" about Col. Matt J. Winn's big $100,000 affair next Saturday.

"I'm not a bit worried," Ivan said. "I'm just as cool as a cucumber. If the track is fast, there won't be anything to it for Olympia."

Ivan Parke looked up at the grey clouds which have been scurrying over Churchill Downs several days sprinkling intermittent showers.

"Of course, if it is an off track Saturday—well, I won't say. I'll admit we probably will have to do a lot of sweating." The "we" are himself, Owner Fred Hooper, jockey Eddie Arcaro, and supposedly Olympia himself. Arcaro is due in today from New York.

For Once, Durocher Has Fans With Him

New York, May 2—(AP)—Leo Durocher today must feel like a salesman who has been thrown out of a client's office twice only to be welcomed with open arms on his third attempt. This time public opinion is on Leo's side and he can hardly believe it. This is the third time he has been in hot water with the commissioner.

Elizabeth City Takes 6-2 Win Over Phantoms

The Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets romped over the hapless Greenville high school 6-2 Friday, in a Northeastern conference tilt played on the Jackets' home field. The Jackets got off to an early start by scoring 2 runs in the bottom of the first inning on the offerings of Greenville's Bobby Flye. The only Phantoms tallies came in the top of the seventh when a Greenville rally aided by errors, 3 walks, and 3 hits, netted 2 runs. Jordan, Flye, and Cox collected the only hits for the losers, while Pitcher Hewitt was the big gun for the Jackets as he gathered two doubles and a single for a perfect day at the plate.

Flye gave up six hits while Hewitt pitched a tight 3 hitter. Greenville..... 000 000 2-2 Elizabeth City..... 220 200 x-6 Greenville—Flye and Moore. Elizabeth City—Hewitt and Brown. This week will see the Phantoms in action Tuesday. The Greenies will play Edenton in a return match in Edenton. In their last meeting Greenville took the contest 4-2. The probable starting line up for the Phantoms will be: Billy Jordan at second, Sidney Briley at first, Joe Alligood at short stop, and John Farley at key stone. In the outer garden will be Richard Joyner, Walter Goor and "Little" Bland. On the mound will be either Vainwright or Big Bland with Moore behind the plate.

The seven writers who travel with the New York baseball team passed a unanimous resolution defending Durocher in his actions—and there is no love lost personally between the Giant skipper and some of the scribes. Most of the New York newspapers have conducted polls of baseball fans, and they have expressed their overwhelming sentiment in favor of Durocher. Some have qualified their opinions with the observation that they are on Durocher's side because he is being found guilty without a trial. If guilty, they say, he should get the book.

The Giant management, from President Horace Stoneham down, is infuriated over the action. Stoneham even is going to make the trip to Cincinnati with Durocher and help Leo in his plea to Chandler. They are scheduled to leave tonight armed with 100 affidavits from persons who say they did not see Durocher strike the fan—Fred Boyen, an unemployed 22-year-old Brooklynite.

It has a Heart of steel and that new Ford "Feel"

The new look of the Ford Station Wagon tells you why Ford was chosen "Fashion Car of the Year" by the Fashion Academy of New York. Behind this beauty is an all-steel construction, a sturdier, safer body that's an important part of the new Ford "feel."

Note how the all-steel body is welded into a rigid unit. Exterior wood panels are bolted to the body. They can easily be removed and replaced. Laminated and molded, they resist water, warping and splitting.

Wide seats are easy to remove leaving truck-size utility space. Load through the extra-wide side doors or the rear "freight entrance."

You'll notice the new Ford "feel" in "FingerTip" Steering, "Magic Action" Brakes... "Equa-Poise" Power. Come in and place your order today.

Peddler of Dreams

By Peggy Dern

Chapter 9
Once they had left the bridge, Garrett and Felicity dared to breathe again as they drove swiftly down County Road and into Royal Palm Way.

They reached the white villa behind its impressive wall, and, as Garrett turned the car into the driveway, a policeman in uniform stopped him.

"I have a very important message for Mrs. Fleming about her baby," Garrett answered the question put to him.

"Okay, Buddy—let's have it," he suggested.

"Sorry," said Garrett. "The message is for Mrs. Fleming in person."

A very good-looking man who was not in uniform came up then, listened to Garrett's insistence that he see Mrs. Fleming in person. He looked hard at Garrett and Felicity for a moment, then mounted the running-board, saying curtly:

"Okay, feller—let's go. I'll take you to Mrs. Fleming."

Tippy was holding the baby. Felicity turned, beneath the eyes of half a dozen watchful, alert men, and took the tumbled, sleepy baby from Tippy's arms. She heard the men gasp. There was a little movement. Their guide silenced that murmur, stilled that movement with a glance and a gesture as he guided Tippy, Felicity and Garrett into the house.

The butler stood at the door and, as he saw Felicity and Garrett, he cried out sharply, "That's the ones, Mr. Thorpe. Those are the trailer people—why, it's Master Allan, sir!"

There was a little cry, and a girl in white shark-skin shorts and a matching bra, stood out of the big drawing room, fiew for a moment, wide-eyed, before the miracle of her crying baby held in Felicity's arms.

"You—found him! Oh, Lanny darling!"

Felicity's hands shot out and steadied Susan as she swayed a little and eased her to a chair. Holding her baby close, as he squirmed to free himself, Susan looked up at Felicity and her eyes widened and grew a little sick.

"Oh," she whispered faintly, her voice shaken with loathing and incredulity. "You are a woman—how could you possibly do such a horrible thing to another woman?"

"Oh, come now, Mrs. Fleming—wait a minute," protested Garrett, because Felicity was beyond speech. "You surely don't believe that Felicity—Miss Horns here—kidnapped your baby?"

"If you'd just let me explain what happened," Felicity managed to say in the momentary silence.

"Let you? My dear young lady," said Mr. Thorpe, "we insist upon it."

Garrett interrupted quietly, putting out a hand, drawing Tippy forward. "If you'll give this young lady a chance," he said, "I think she can tell you what you want to know."

She was an exquisite child and Thorpe found himself smiling at her hearteningly.

"Don't look so terrified, infant," he consoled her. "Nobody's going to bite you."

"We-e-e-ell," she began hesitantly, "he's such a perfectly beautiful baby—and I've always been crazy about babies—and we were all down on the beach and—he wanted to play with me. Then when Fliss called us and said we had to go—well, he didn't want me to leave. I didn't know whose baby he was—and he was all alone there behind one of the big dunes, so I just—well, I didn't want to see him cry, and so I just sort of picked him up."

Susan was staring at her over the baby's curly head.

"Did you see this man on the beach, little girl?" she asked gently. Tippy looked up into the middle-aged man's convulsed face and said sweetly, "Oh, yes—only he was way down at the other end talking to a lady in a bathing suit."

"It's a lie!" howled the man, avoiding Susan's eye.

"And you didn't see a woman in white—the baby's nurse?" Susan went on questioning Tippy.

Tippy hesitated and then she grinned. "Yes—she was lying on a great big striped towel near a sand-heap, asleep," she said.

"Miss Wallace, you're discharged," said Susan sternly. The nurse stiffened, her face scarlet beneath her starched white cap. "Higgins, you and Morris are discharged, too," Su-

Events of the day will include a panel, a shorthand demonstration and a luncheon for those attending the conference.

Chief speaker will be Louis A. Leslie, author of more than twenty books on shorthand and of numerous contributions to periodicals. Formerly he was editor of the "Gregg News Letter" and associate editor of "Business Education World."

New Mail Route Starting Today

Two mounted carrier mail routes today began serving more than 875 residences and business firms in the outlying sections of Greenville which previously had not been included in the city's mail service.

The mail routes, which will cover approximately 34 miles of territory in Greenville, were authorized by the federal post office department in May, 1948, but equipment to begin the service could not be obtained by the local postoffice until recently. Postmaster J. Knott Proctor said.

Daily delivery service will be made to the territory of the new routes, Proctor stated, but urged people living on the new routes to put up rural type mail boxes at the curb in front of their homes, and to notify correspondents and newspaper and magazine publishers of their correct street addresses.

Ayden Lions To Install Queen Mother For Day

By CHESTER WALSH

The Ayden Lions Club is putting on an event next Friday, May 6, which symbolizes Mother's Day. The final event on an excellent entertainment program is the crowning of a "queen mother." The Ayden civic clubs have selected typical mothers as candidates in the contest. Business firms in Ayden and Greenville and other towns have wholeheartedly cooperated in donating prizes for the queens in the contest.

The entertainers have volunteered their services free. Proceeds of the entertainment will be used in the Ayden Lions Club's projects in helping worthy unfortunate persons, especially those with defective sight and many other civic projects that help to make the world a better place in which to live.

Frank O. Steen, district representative for the Chevrolet Company, is going to Ayden from Charlotte to be master of ceremonies. Cecil Ellington, formerly of Raleigh, now of Greenville, is going to use "hot saxophone" to entertain the crowd.

Other entertainers are on the program. A trio from Elizabeth City will perform. Three foreigners and an interpreter from Washington will furnish an interesting interlude.

The affair promises to be a grand event. The selected queen mother for a day and the other contestants will receive numerous prizes, including wearing apparel and household articles. The grand queen mother also will receive among other prizes a sightseeing tour of Raleigh and dinner at the Sir Walter Hotel. Robert B. Hawkins, district supervisor of the division of vocational rehabilitation, who is taking a leading part in promoting the event in Ayden, said today. Admission will be free. Persons desiring to make contributions to the worthy project may do so at the show.

DKG Society Installs Officers

In a ceremony led by Elizabeth S. Walker, retiring president, the new officers of the group were installed. Heading the organization for the next two years as president is Mrs. Luther Herring of Greenville. Other officers are Mrs. Howard Mims, first vice president; Reba Proctor, second vice president; Mrs. Louella Stancill, recording secretary; Laura Foley, corresponding secretary; Elizabeth Hyman, treasurer, all of Greenville; and Mrs. Phebe Emmons of Washington, parliamentarian.

The luncheon was planned by a committee headed by Mrs. Howard Mims and including as members Ruth White, Louise Golphin, Mary G. Caughey, Marguerite Austin, and Mrs. Newman Lewis.

Most of the day was spent in observing and collecting specimens of marine life.

Officers of the club who were in charge of planning the trip were Sullivan Nelson of Jackson, president, and William Sutton of New Bern, secretary. Faculty members who accompanied the group were Dr. Christine Wilton, Dr. Mary G. Caughey, Dr. Harold C. Jones, Lucile Rice, and J. O. Derrick.

Says Occupation Not Their Fault

Tokyo, May 2—(AP)—General MacArthur told the Japanese today that allied forces still occupy their country mainly because of "events and circumstances elsewhere."

It is "by no means due to fault of yours," he remarked, but rather to the events elsewhere "beyond your capacity to influence or control."

The supreme commander for the allied powers issued his message to Japan on the second anniversary of the country's new constitution. Those two years, he said, have seen the occupation change "from the stern rigidity of a military operation to the friendly guidance of a protective force."

He did not name communism as the danger against which protection was needed. But he called on all Japanese to guard against "the destructive inroads of concepts incredulous of human wisdom, prejudicial to personal dignity and suppressive of individual liberty."

Pays Tribute To State HD Clubs

College Station, Raleigh, May 2—Governor Scott today congratulated North Carolina's 59,835 home demonstration club members upon the "remarkable development" they have brought about in the rural life of the State "through improved home and community living."

Extending greetings to the club women as they began their observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7, the Governor said: "In your theme, 'Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World,' you have sounded a ringing challenge, the primary responsibility for developing the citizens of tomorrow."

Scott's statement follows: "To the 59,835 Home Demonstration Club Members in North Carolina:

"It is a privilege to greet you as you observe National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7. In your theme, 'Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World' you have sounded a ringing challenge, because upon the home rests the primary responsibility for developing the citizens of tomorrow."

"As Home Demonstration Club members, you have already brought about a remarkable development in the rural life of our State through improved home and community living."

"During this week you will not only participate in programs calling attention to the progress made in family living, but you will discuss problems facing today's homes. Some of these problems are in the fields of health, housing, nutrition; others will concern the community such as roads, telephones, education, electrification. The solution of these problems requires concerted action."

"I am sure the observance of National Home Demonstration Week will prove of great value in carrying out your program for better living and a greater North Carolina."

temperamental rulers. There was a striking illustration of this during the imperial coronation durbar in New Delhi in 1911 for George V and Queen Mary.

This coronation went the limit for pomp and splendor. The king-emperor and his queen occupied thrones on a lofty dais and there received the humble obeisances of the princes. The maharajahs had to mount a long flight of steps and, having dutifully bent the knee, backed away from the imperial presence. Backing from royalty gracefully and in correct form is no cinch, as those who have tried it will agree.

Well, one of the great princes came a cropper. That was the late Gaekwar of Baroda. His Highness not only was carrying a small cane (thereby violating the sacred code) but having made his obeisance he didn't withdraw correctly. He turned his back on Their Majesties too soon.

The Gaekwar later said he was overcome by nervousness. However, the government put him in the doghouse, so to speak, for several years as punishment. He was denied cherished prerogatives by the viceroys. So you see the new agreement, under which India doesn't recognize the sovereignty of the king-emperor, is a tough reminder of bygone days for the maharajahs, some of whom haven't an elephant left to ride upon.

their children. That won't become law, either, unless the House also approves, some time later.

President Truman's civil rights program is still up in the clouds. And it may get blocked out of this session.

Committee hearings are only just beginning on some parts of that program. For instance, on a Fair Employment Practices Committee (FEPC).

With the mood of the Southern Democrats set sternly against the program, it doesn't have much chance.

The main reason for the slowness of the Senate this session was the three-weeks' filibuster of the Southerners against the civil rights program earlier this year. They don't want it up again.

As for the President's health program, hearings will start on that, too. It also seems to have no chance this year. Why?

Too much opposition to it, inside and outside Congress, or at least to the compulsory health insurance part of it.

And approving the Atlantic pact and voting arms for Europe are still touchy problems ahead.

The pact is pretty certain to get the nod, after quite a Senate debate. Since the pact is a treaty, only Senate approval is needed. The House takes no part in that.

But both Houses have to vote on money for European arms. Will they do it? You'll have to guess. Both Houses now are calling more and more for economy.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, May 2—(AP)—Prices moved irregularly today in a quiet stock market. Changes were fractional. The volume was around 750,000 shares, a little below the recent average. There was a slight edge visible on the upside, although the plus signs could hardly be called a trend.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, May 2—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady, 1-1-3 to 3 pounds 28; eggs steady, A large 50.

Grain Market

Wheat closed 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher, May $2.18 1/4; corn was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.22 1/2-1.23; oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 94 1/4; rye was unchanged to 1/4 lower, May $1.22; soybeans 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher, May $12.27-2.28; and lard was 5 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.85-$11.92.
