

Decline Endorse Scott Road Plan

Pitt Commissioners Refuse All-Out Endorsement To Governor's $200 Million Road Program And $25 Million School Program As Requested

Pitt County commissioners at their monthly meeting yesterday refused to give an all-out endorsement to Governor Kerr Scott's $200,000,000 road program and $25,000,000 school improvement program as requested by Guy Hargett, highway commissioner for the second highway district.

The commissioners passed a resolution endorsing the idea of better schools and better roads for Pitt County and the state, but rather than endorsing Scott's program, the resolution endorsed "the idea of having any further increase in the state government debt passed upon by the people of North Carolina in a special election called for that purpose to be held on June 4, 1949."

A tentative budget adopted by the commissioners for three county departments for the fiscal year 1949-1950 gave the welfare department $28,500 for old age assistance and $14,880 for aid to dependent children. The county health department received approval for $33,960 of funds to be used as a portion of the budget of that department, and $9,300 was approved as the county's portion for the operation of the Sheppard Memorial Library and the bookmobile.

Petitions from three school districts asking for elections on use of tax levies were approved by the commissioners. The Grifton and Stokes school districts requested elections on tax levies not to exceed 15 cents on $100 valuation for the support of the operation of the schools on a higher standard than provided by the state.

Six Pitt Towns Hold Elections To Fill Offices

Voters of six Pitt County towns outside of Greenville went to the polls yesterday to elect municipal officers, with light balloting, reported in most of the towns.

In Winterville where 201 votes out of approximately 300 registered voters cast ballots, Walter Dall received 131 votes for alderman defeating L. B. Hill who received 70 votes. Burney Tucker, running unopposed, was re-elected to the office of mayor.

One of the rare political situations occurred in the Ayden election when Jack Quinerly and L. G. Baldee, the two candidates for alderman of the third ward, deadlocked with 62 votes each. In the election for mayor, Harry Mumford was top man of four candidates with 36 votes. Hal Edwards received 24, J. W. Healy 9, and J. B. Dennis 5.

Mayor J. R. Taylor, Judge C. V. Cannon and alderman T. S. Ross of the first ward were unopposed for re-election.

In Grifton, Bethel and Grimesland there was no opposition for any candidate, and all town officials were elected as they appeared on the ballots.

Voters in Grifton cast 75 votes. Bethel voters cast 60 votes and Grimesland voters cast 33 votes.

In Grifton W. A. Evans was elected mayor and W. I. Bisette, L. L. Newborn, Dr. E. E. Tucker, R. L. Jackson and Ed Hart were elected to the town board.

The Bethel officials are headed by Mayor J. W. Rook with J. P. Hooker, R. E. Reddick, W. E. Andrews, L. R. Cullifer and R. L. Martin elected to the board of commissioners.

Elected by Grimesland voters were Mayor Leslie Elks, and C. F. Arnold, Eddie Hodges, A. F. Fleming, W. A. Hudson, and Jammie Dall to the town board. Until late Friday there were no candidates for town officers in Grimesland, but a spokesman for the town said the candidates were persuaded to file and ballots for Monday's election were printed Saturday.

LAWMAKERS ARE GUESTS

Washington, May 3—(AP)—North Carolina congressmen were dinner guests last night of the North Carolina Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives.

Washington, May 3—(AP)—This is an ABC on the new way for landlords to figure their case if they want permission to raise rents.

The government last night issued a formula for them. It divides landlords into two groups:

1. The small one. He has a place with one to four dwelling units.
2. The large one. He has a place with more than four units.

Red Army Claims New Victories In China Civil War

Last Nationalist Bastion North Of Yangtze Except Tsingtao Said Taken

Shanghai, May 3—(AP)—Kwangteh, important city midway between Wuhu and Hangchow, has been captured by Red troops, the Peiping Communist radio said today.

The radio claimed victory for the Communists in a battle on the borders of Kiangsu-Anhui and Chekiang Provinces. It said 2,400 Nationalists were captured.

The report has not been confirmed by another source.

Efforts to telephone Hangchow, 121 miles southwest of here, brought the reply the lines were "out of order."

The Communist radio said also that Tating, 125 miles west of Peiping, had been taken. The city, last Nationalist bastion north of the Yangtze except surrounded Tsingtao, on the coast, surrendered on May 1, the radio said.

Tsingtao is the base of the U.S. Western Pacific Fleet.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said at a news conference that American, British and French naval vessels hurriedly departed from Shanghai last week to keep the Communists from trapping them on the Whangpoo River. He said a Communist plot to scuttle a ship and block them from reaching the Yangtze and the sea had been uncovered.

The American spokesman said the Navy was still ready to evacuate the 1,600 Americans still in Shanghai if it became necessary.

The big ships were moved down the Yangtze estuary, he said, to get them out of range of Wuosung fortresses, which may eventually fall into Communist hands.

A Nationalist garrison communique earlier said that six Chinese warships captured at Nanking by the Communists had been sunk by government planes.

The assertion came a few hours after the rumble of artillery was heard to the northwest of Shanghai.

There was no sign of approaching Reds. But the chaos in the financial market grew during the day.

The communists said the Nationalist air force in 10 days of bombing and strafing attacks had damaged two more of the 12 ships which had been left to guard Nanking and were trapped by the Communists. In addition the government announced its forces destroyed 10,000 Red troops, 600 trucks, 500 wooden river boats and 800 horse drawn carts.

Heads Bankers

Waldrop Is New Association Head

Greenville Man New President N.C. Bankers Association

Pinehurst, May 4—(AP)—New officers, headed by President J. Herbert Waldrop, of Greenville, were installed today by the North Carolina Bankers Association.

Waldrop succeeded John F. McNair, Jr., of Laurinburg.

Garland Johnson of Elkin became first vice president, and Wiley W. Meares of Rocky Mount became second vice president as the association convention advanced its officers according to custom.

Elected third vice president was Jonathan Woody, president of the First National Bank of Waynesville.

J. Herbert Waldrop, vice-president and cashier of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, has had long and successful banking experience. He was employed by the bank in 1913, and has had continuous service with it. At first he was "runner" and assistant bookkeeper, and later he worked through all of the departments, including cashier and he now is vice-president.

Mr. Waldrop takes an active interest in community affairs. He served three terms on the Greenville Board of Aldermen; five years on the Greenville Utilities Commission; six years as a trustee of East Carolina Teachers College; eight years as commanding officer of Battery A, N. C. National Guard and during his administration a new armory was built. He is a past president of the Rotary Club, past commander of the American Legion, past chairman of the Board of Stewards of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, past president of Greenville District, Boy Scouts; past president of the Community Chest, and past president of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association.

The Greenville banker is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Waldrop of Hendersonville.

Gov't Offers New Formula To Fix Rent Ceiling

Still Leaves Question Of How Much Average Rents Will Go Up Under Rule

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The government came up today with a new formula for figuring fair rent ceilings—but it provided no immediate answer on how much it will increase rents.

The new formula will be applied to the 14,000,000 dwellings still under federal rent control. It was worked out under orders from Congress to provide the landlords with a "fair net operating income."

Housing Expediter Tighe Woods last night announced details of the new "yardstick," designed to provide property owners a net operating income of 25 to 30 per cent on rental units.

The new policy, Woods said, will not mean a general, across-the-board hike in the nation's rent bill. But in announcing the basis under which all future rent increases will be granted, the housing director left unanswered:

1. How much will average rents go up under the new rule which Congress ordered in approving the 15-month extension of federal rent controls?
2. How widespread will new increases be and in what areas will they occur?

Woods said, in effect, that these questions now are a matter for landlords and tenants to determine—with area rent offices acting as referee.

Under the new policy, "small" landlords—those renting one to four dwelling units—will be allowed rent increases if net income is less than 25 per cent of gross income. In such cases, rents will be upped to a 30 per cent level.

For "large" landlords—those renting more than four units—rents will be permitted to bring operating income to 25 per cent, if the net figure is now below the 20 per cent mark.

Woods said it is impossible to tell how many rents will be increased under the formula. No accurate figures are available to show how much landlords' net operating incomes now average.

Bradley Says Must Keep Bridgehead If Attack Attempted

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley told senators today that America's defense frontiers lie "in the heart of Europe."

The Army Chief of Staff was before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to urge approval of the 12-nation North Atlantic security alliance.

"Geographically," he said, "many of these member nations are already in positions where any aggression into Western Europe would be a conquest of their homelands."

W. S. Stafford New Mayor In Record City Elections

Woolard Resigns Education Board

Chairman Of County Board Resigns After Twenty-Six Years Of Service; Joseph S. Moye Is Appointed Successor

By CHESTER WALSH
W. H. Woolard, president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, and who has been a member of the Pitt County Board of Education for the past 26 years and chairman of the board 24 years, has resigned, effective today.

The popular Greenville banker's record of service for the advancement of education is outstanding. Don H. Conley, superintendent of Pitt County schools, said today. During Chairman Woolard's administration the county schools experienced a period of expansive development, the records show.

Under his leadership, the groundwork was laid for the consolidation and expansion of the Pitt County schools in the 13 districts. Modern buildings were constructed and the extensive and convenient system of transportation was developed.

County Supt. Conley, looking over the records today, said "Chairman Woolard had a vision of the future in school planning and that he was the leader in developing the building program back in 1926-27-28 through aid of the PWA."

Mr. Woolard was an ardent backer of the present building program, which includes the new Pactivus school building and gymnasium at Stokes, Belvoir, Winterville, Farmville and Fountain and other improvements.

"During his administration the county got its money's worth for every dollar it spent for schools. He encouraged the lunchroom feature at the county schools; gave of his time generously and took pride in improving the quality of the

Second Primary To Be Called In Alderman's Election Of Fifth Ward Between James S. Jenkins And Dal Cox; 2,557 Registered Voters Went To Polls

W. S. Stafford was elected mayor of Greenville yesterday by more than a two to one margin over his opponent Mayor J. H. Boyd, Jr., in one of the largest votes ever recorded in a city election in Greenville.

Other successful candidates in the spirited voting yesterday were Aldermen Heber B. Tripp, of the first ward, R. E. Rogers of the second ward, Yank Howell of the third ward, W. M. Pollard of the fourth ward, Judge J. W. H. Roberts, and Solicitor Bill Bloom.

The only second primary in the city will be called in the alderman's election in the fifth ward where James S. Jenkins received a six vote margin 176 to 170 over second place Dal Cox. Jesse Boyd, the third place candidate, received 144 votes. Shortly after the official results of the election were announced last night, Cox, in a statement, said he will call for a second primary.

In spite of the fact that sunny skies in Greenville yesterday morning gave way to rainy weather most of the afternoon, a total of 2,557 registered voters went to the polls to cast their ballots. Voters from the third, fourth and fifth wards cast 1,231 votes at the city hall while voters from the first and second wards cast 1,326 votes at the court house.

Commenting on his election to the office of Mayor of Greenville, W. S. Stafford said today, "I promise I am going to do my best for the city of Greenville to make it a better and cleaner city in which to live."

The total vote in the mayor's race gave Stafford 1,795 votes and Boyd 792 votes.

Two new members were elected to the board of aldermen as Yank Howell won a two vote margin over incumbent W. E. Morton in the third ward, W. M. Pollard defeated incumbent W. H. Smith by 199 votes in the race in the fourth ward, and R. E. Rogers received 680 votes against 44 votes for D. O. Garrett in the second ward.

In the three way race for alderman of the first ward incumbent Heber B. Tripp won by a clear majority over his two opponents N. C. Brooks and William E. Utley.

Below is a breakdown of the voting:

W. S. Stafford 1,735
J. H. Boyd 792
J. W. H. Roberts 1,469
Bill Bloom 1,367
First Ward: Tripp, 617; Brooks 186; Utley, 67.
Second Ward: Rogers 600; Garrett 44.
Third Ward: Howell, 188; Morton 168.
Fourth Ward: Pollard 204; Smith 96.
Fifth Ward: Jenkins 176; Cox 170; Boyd 144.

Trans-Jordan Shake-Up Eyed By Arab Nations

Tel Aviv, Israel, May 3—(AP)—The government of Trans-Jordan resigned today and King Abdullah began a reshuffle which may be his first step to enlarge his kingdom across the Jordan.

On the eve of Israel's first birthday as a nation, her other Arab neighbors diverted their attention from her long enough to eye Abdullah with mounting suspicion.

'Cautious Optimism'

Emphasize The Word 'Cautious' When You Talk Of East-West Negotiations; Smoother Road Of Foreign Relations Will Again Get Rough When It Suits Russians

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
The east-west negotiations over raising the Berlin blockade have made sufficiently good progress so that the United Nations circles are entertaining a "cautious optimism" that we may be approaching a period of better relations.

That expression "cautious optimism" strikes me as particularly appropriate, with the emphasis on the "cautious." Any agreement which may grow out of the present conferences naturally will be a matter of gratification—but it must be regarded in the light of a Vesuvius.

The new relationship will rumble along quietly enough for a spell but sooner or later it will erupt again. General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, summed up the position yesterday like this:

"I would assume that the Soviet attitude already displayed in negotiations in the United States means the Russians would be more reasonable at a future foreign ministers' conference than they were in the past."

"But we should remember, even if a solution for the entire German problem is eventually reached, that does not change communism. Communism's great objective remains the same—world domination."

That's the big thing to keep ever in mind, as this column has kept insisting. The world revolution which the Bolsheviks launched a generation ago after the overthrow of the Czarist throne will never halt until either it succeeds or comes a cropper. From time to time it changes its pace and tactics, but the old Red mill keeps on grinding its gris.

Having divested ourselves of wishful thinking we are justified in entertaining the pious hope that there may be improvement in relations between the Russian and the Western blocs. The great Moscow offensive, which overran all eastern Europe, and brought it within the communist fold, has definitely come up against a dead end. The time has arrived for more subtle methods.

The great issue in Europe now is the disposition of Germany, long the economic keystone and strategic center of the continent. The un-

Service League Plans Luncheon

Mrs. James T. Little presided over the May meeting of the Service League which was held Monday morning at the Sheppard Memorial Library. At that time she welcomed Mrs. M. O. Blount and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips into active membership. She also urged all members to make the most of the month of May in their endeavor to achieve the silver trophy.

Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, the corresponding secretary read letters from the chairman of the Red Cross Drive and Pitt General Hospital. Each letter expressed appreciation for the work done by the Service League.

Reports given by the chairmen of the various standing committees showed that during the month of April the Laughinghouse hospital bed had cared for two babies for a total of 38 days and is at present providing hospitalization for three more babies; one layette had been placed; volunteers were in readiness to assist in preliminary work for the T. B. mobile unit; the Thrift Shop would remain open through Tuesday, May 24, and would gladly accept discarded clothes that anyone wishes to donate; the committee in charge of the Ellington shelf had turned over a sizeable sum to the hospital bed fund.

The League again voted to give a campership to a Girl Scout which would enable her to attend Camp Hardee for period of two weeks. Mrs. Bruce Sugg, Jr., chairman of Girl Scouts, was asked to cooperate with the Girl Scout Council in this selection.

Mrs. J. H. Thomas, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted the following slate of new officers: Mrs. Tyson Bilbro, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Bryan Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. E. D. Whitely Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Gaskins, treasurer. These were unanimously elected.

Plans for the annual luncheon which will be held at the Episcopal Church on Wednesday, May 25, at 11:30 were announced by Mrs. Jo Moye. Mrs. J. Bryan Brown, Mrs. K. B. Pace and Mrs. Lyman Ormond were appointed to serve on the program committee and all members were asked to bring a gift for the Ellington shelf.

Women In The Church

Mrs. Josephine B. Huffer, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Shelbyville, Indiana, is now in her thirtieth year as a successful pastor of churches in that state — something of a record for a woman serving in a denomination which, while it will ordain women as ministers, does not admit them to membership in the conferences of the church. The wife of a Methodist minister and with three small children, Mrs. Huffer was left a widow in 1919. The next year she was named an "accepted supply" and appointed to the pastorate of a circuit of four small churches that had always been served by men. Within four years she had erected a $10,000 church on the largest of the four points; and the following year was named pastor in Shelbyville. Here she has remained ever since, and now can boast of the longest continuous service in one church of any Methodist minister in Indiana. During the years she has built the church membership from 75 to 556; and there is a church plant worth $90,000. Despite wild inflation and the skyrocketing of food prices, the Canton Child Welfare Center, for orphan, displaced and destitute children, continues to feed, clothe and educate some 250 Chinese children, under the direction of Miss Liu Fungching. She expresses her appreciation for American aid which has reached her through various church bodies included in Church World Service and United Service to China. Besides the "three r's" the center gives the children vocational training in music, barbering, tailoring, shoemaking, bamboo-weaving, and metal work. The "Canadian Sunday School Caravan Mission" is the official designation of 29 trailer-trucks, manned by 58 women, which serve the Church of England in Canada in carrying religious services, illustrated lectures, educational programs, and other ministries out into the isolated rural fields of that nation. Each "caravan" is driven by a woman who, in addition to teaching ability, must be able to repair the truck if anything happens to it, and who must be familiar with the other mechanical equipment; the other caravan member is a religious education specialist and can preach and hold services. Miss Eva Hasell, missionary, is the founder and honorary head of the Caravans which reach many thousands of lonely people each year.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CONCERNING MIRACLE
Spring is a time of promise. One looks out over the landscape, conscious that God, through nature, is about to enact again the age-long drama of revival and rebirth. The landscape has appeared dead now for months, but down at the center of every living thing has been a force which needed only the becoming of sunshine and the warm caress of spring breezes to call it into life. The sap begins to flow, the landscape is made vivid with a riotous color of blossoms. Then come the leaves which will do their silent work for trees and men in the coming months. The grass springs up, the wild flowers, and the cultivated as well, seek the sunshine. The living world is again being revived.

Has the thought even occurred to you that the reason why people do not believe in miracles is because miracles are so common? The human race is miracle hardened. Every time you raise your arm, translating thought into physical action, a miracle as great as that of the resurrection takes place. Raising the arm is not significant a miracle as the resurrection, but it is as surely a miracle as the resurrection. The flowering world, the rising and setting of the sun, the mysterious currents in the great oceans, the twinkling stars at night, the rustling of the breeze—behind all this is a Power, and where that Power is, there is miracle.

A GOOD VOTE

Yesterday's big city election was one of the most inspiring Greenville has had in many a year. For a change, a large number of voters participated in the election that affects them close to home. There were two reasons for this, as the Reflector sees it: The high calibre of candidates and the intensive campaigning they made; and differences of opinion on the city manager issue, which provided something around which a campaign could be built.

The results of the vote can be a source of pride to those candidates who won, and to those who lost. They all played a part in bringing the voters to the polls. The candidates who were unopposed can be proud that despite their lack of opposition, a great many saw fit to endorse their performances in office by casting their votes for them.

Yesterday's turnout is a good illustration of how a small city should take the activities of its government to heart; manifesting acute interest in how their affairs are handled and acting in accordance. It could have been better. We hope it will be. Good government begins at the roots, and city elections are the roots of good state and federal government.

By LYNN NISBET
SOLVENT—North Carolina is a going concern with cash enough on hand to meet promptly all commitments for the next few months. At the same time, investments of state funds not immediately needed are yielding profit at the rate of four dollars and a quarter a minute for every minute of the day and night. Statement of condition prepared by State Treasurer Brandon P. Hodges shows nearly three hundred million dollars invested at interest and forty-five millions on open checking accounts in North Carolina banks. This checking account is slightly larger than necessary, but it provides a safe working balance for routine operations, plus a reserve of unusual contingencies pending liquidation of short time investments. Not more than ten million of it could properly be called idle money.

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C. REG. MANNING

INVESTMENTS—At close of business April 30 the state had invested in interest bearing items a total of $297,372,560.52. This total included $56,525,532.25 of sinking fund monies; $46,993,440.70 of teacher and state employee retirement system and $1,647,618.02 local government retirement funds; $300,000 state insurance fund, and $182,815,869.55 of general and special funds, most of which has been appropriated but cannot be actually spent for some time. Sinking fund and retirement system investments yield better than a 1-1/2 per cent interest, which is "plowed back" into the funds and was contemplated in the investment acts. The $182 million of liquid investments, necessarily in short term securities, yields an average of 1.22 per cent. This profit goes into the body of funds for spending under legislative appropriations. Return on the $182 million amounts to $2,224,283 a year, $195,354 a month, $6,294 a day, or $422 a minute. That profit is approximately enough to pay administrative costs of all state constitutional offices and maintain the supreme and superior courts throughout the state.

ALLOCATION—The retirement system and sinking fund monies are invested entirely in approved securities of various governmental units, mostly long term. The $182 million is in short term securities as follows: $31,601,504.61 in certificates of deposit in North Carolina banks; $150,895.69 in early maturing North Carolina state bonds; $30,002,467.68 in U. S. bonds; $117,069,336.31 in U. S. treasury certificates of indebtedness, and $3,491,765.28 in treasury due bills.

DEMAND—Besides these interest bearing investments the state had at close of business April 30 the sum of $44,902,587.57 on open checking accounts. That leaves over $41 million subject to demand check for whatever purposes needed.

POLICY—Prior to this year only retirement system and sinking fund money was on interest yielding deposit or investment. One of the first requests of Treasurer Hodges was for more specific legislative authority to invest in interest bearing securities other accumulated monies—such as building and highway construction funds, which had been earmarked or appropriated but could not be actually paid out for several months. It is on such items as these that the state is now earning interest of two and a quarter million dollars a year. Treasurer Hodges has adopted the policy of leaving in hands without interest for 10 per cent of the amount for which the bank has issued an interest bearing certificate of deposit. Also

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington — While their husbands are spending long hours on Capitol Hill these days wives of the nation's lawmakers are wasting no time thumb-twiddling. Joining together in their own special Congressional Club, the wives are planning such programs as would stymie the most active clubwoman back home.

The climax of this year's activities comes late this month with "church" honoring Mrs. Truman, a hobby show at the clubhouse, and a huge reception honoring the speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn. Mrs. Ralph Church, wife of the Republican Congressman from Illinois, president of the Congressional Club, says the brunch (breakfast lunch) for the first lady and her daughter Margaret will feature a fashion show with a geographical slant. Called "Pacific Parade," it will present an interpretation of fashion, crafts and costumes from Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, all to be shown with professional models with special music by the Marine Band and a local orchestra.

Mrs. Edward R. Bartlett, wife of the delegate from Alaska, is honorary chairman of the showing from that area. She is assisted by Mrs. Ernest Gruening, wife of the governor. The exhibit will include native dresses, Alaskan-made parkas and parkas adapted in the United States for sunbats and beach wear. Hawaiian fashions, made from beautiful fabrics of the islands and the east, will be shown under the direction of Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington, wife of the delegate from Hawaii. Mrs. Carlos Romula, wife of the Philippine ambassador to the United Nations, is arranging the Philippine section of the parade.

Our attendance at Sunday School has climbed so high and so rapidly that I must start this little column of news off by telling you about it. For the past two Sundays we have had 155 present and we are striving to have 160 next Sunday. If you don't attend Sunday School somewhere, won't you come out and help us reach our goal?

We are very proud of the Junior Ladies' Auxiliary and the way they are working for their church. When they decide to do something they certainly get busy and do it and not talk about it. Already they have completed their objective of getting rid of the flies in the church by running chimneys on each side. This group of young women will meet Monday night, May 9, at the home of Mrs. E. T. Clark.

The Community Hymn Festival will be at Piney Grove the fifth Sunday of this month. We hope that all of you are planning to attend this hymn get-together.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD ON JUNE 4, 1949, ON THE ISSUANCE OF TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS STATE SECONDARY ROAD BONDS, AND TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS STATE SCHOOL PLANT CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR BONDS

The people of Pitt County will take notice that Governor Scott has called a special election to be held on June 4, 1949, on the two propositions of whether the State of North Carolina shall issue two hundred million dollars in bonds for paving and repairing secondary roads in the state, and the issuance of twenty-five million dollars to be used by the counties for school plant construction and repairs. Under instructions from the State Board of Elections the registration books for this special election will open on Saturday, May 7th, at 9 o'clock, and remain open until sunset on Saturday, May 21st. The various registrars in the county will be at their polling places for registering voters on the three Saturdays of May 7th, May 14th and May 21st.

Tonight's Games
GREENVILLE at Rocky Mount
Roanoke Rapids at Tarboro
Wilson at Kinston
New Bern at Goldsboro

Rain halted the Greenies for the seventh time last night when the Wilson-Greenville game had to be postponed on account of rain. The following is the list of double-headers facing the Greenies at the present time, including day and date: Friday, May 6, Roanoke Rapids at Greenville; Sunday, May 8, Tarboro at Greenville; Monday, May 9, Greenville at New Bern; Tuesday, May 10, New Bern at Greenville; Friday, May 13, Greenville at Wilson; Saturday, May 14, Wilson at Greenville; Sunday, May 15, Greenville at Kinston.

In other words for a period of ten days beginning on Friday, May 6 and ending on Sunday, May 15th the Greenies are scheduled to play a total of 17 games during this period, more than any other team in the league. With so many games coming in such a short period of time you fans will have to bear with Manager Pappy Williams and his boys through this period because all of you know that a pitcher in order to be in top shape has to have a rest, but with these double-headers coming up there will be very little rest for any member of the team. So don't expect the Greenies to wade through these games with all wins, because that would be almost impossible under the great strain facing them. It just can't be done.

However, Pappy has assured your writer that he is going in there to win as many as possible until the strain is over and the schedule gets back to normal. So if you go out to a game here and the boys on the club have changed their positions around the diamond and you see an outfielder pitching don't come to the conclusion that the Greenies are trying to give away that game. Greenville has as fine a pitching staff as can be found in the league, but mostly composed of rookies, who just cannot pitch every day and give their best to the fans. So you fans please bear this in mind during the double-header stage. Also at the same time come out to the ball games and show our fine bunch of directors that you are behind them and they in return will give you a winning club. With this in mind don't forget that the Greenies will play the Rocky Mount Leafs here tomorrow night at Guy Smith Stadium at 7:45 o'clock.

Gus Godbold, limited service second baseman, has arrived in Tarboro on option from Martinsville, Va. He played with Moultrie, Ga. last season when Manager Joe Antolick was manager of the club. Roy Williams, limited service third baseman, has reported to the Kinston Eagles. The Eagles have released Roy C. White, Joe Stern and Charlie Timm and returned Jim Shrode, rookie receiver, to Raleigh's Capitals.

The Cincinnati Reds had given Augie Galan his walking papers after the 1948 season and it looked as though the veteran outfielder was ready to call it a career. A solid player but never a great star, Augie had performed well for the Chicago Cubs in his prime and then filed a utility role with the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds. Last season, Galan was sidelined most of the time with a sore arm and was little help to the Reds. So after 15 years in the big show, he was made a free agent.

Eight Derby Candidates Square Off In 'Trial Run'

Louisville, Ky., May 3 —(AP)—This Kentucky Derby business really begins to warm up today with eight candidates for Saturday's $100,000 jamboree squaring off in a race worth $90,000 less—the Derby Trial.

Several of the "leading men" in the world famous classic are slated for action in the one mile trial. It is the final test before Saturday's colorful show. Then some 100,000 turf customers will jam Churchill Downs to the limit and make Col Matt J. Winn exceedingly happy that the thrif- got started 75 years ago.

The three big horses in this afternoon's race appear to be Fred W. Hooper's powerful combination of Olympia and Ocean Drive, and Greeniree Stable's ev-r-dangerous Capot. Each will carry 118 pounds. Then there is the Calumet Farm pair of De Luxe and Ponder. If they belonged to other than Calumet and canny Ben Jones, they probably wouldn't rate much consideration. But when Trainer Ben gets a horse ready for the Derby, you just have to look twice, because of Calumet's great record in the last eight years.

Peddler of Dreams

Chapter 10
He drove into the camp, parked his car and helped Felicity out. He turned to Tippy, who was scrambling out, a wary eye upon Garrett's stern face.

"Tippy," he said in an ostentatiously gentle voice as she would have sped past him, "I'd like a word with you, my girl."

Felicity whirled and her startled eyes met his.

Felicity looked down at the small, set face; if there had been one faint, tiny hint for sympathy, one plea for rescue in Tippy's face, one scared look in her wide dark eyes, Felicity would have broken and fought Garrett for her. But the very hardness in that small face, the set of that rosy mouth that was just a thin, pink line, warned Felicity that for Tippy's own good Tippy had to be punished.

Felicity drew a long, hard breath, straightened her shoulders, touched Tippy's shining curls with a fleeting caress and fled.

Tippy watched her go, and then Tippy lifted her face to Garrett's and said through clenched teeth, "You can spank the livin' daylights out of me, but I won't cry! You can't make me cry!"

She met his eyes steadily, without a hint of breaking. Her mouth was a stubborn line; her eyes were sulky, daring him; challenging his authority; yet admitting herself too small and weak to avoid his physical violence. And suddenly Garrett was conscious of being very much ashamed.

Meeting her stormy gaze, he knew the exact moment when Tippy realized that he was no longer blindly furious, and suddenly he was a little ashamed of his desire for physical violence.

That derisive gleam in her eye, that faint tugging of a smile at the corners of her mouth, stiffened his determination and quickened again his anger. He turned, swung open the door of his trailer, and said sternly, "Inside, youngster - and make it snappy."

Garrett stared down at her and then he thrust one hand in his pocket, the other through his tousled blonde locks and strode a pace or two away from her before he turned, dropped down on the couch, and said sternly, "Of course you know, Tippy, that you deserve a sound licking - don't you?"

"Then why don't you get started?" demanded Tippy boldly.

Garrett's face darkened and his hands reached out and jerked her to his knee. But the smallness and frailness of her body between his strong hands struck at him like a physical blow. "Hang it all, Tippy - I can't lick you!" he admitted his defeat impudently.

Tippy leaned confidently against him, her eyes quite sober. "I knew I had no business bringing the baby back, but - well, they were so mean about not letting us play on their old beach."

Garrett stared at her in dawning horror.

"Then you stole the baby delib-erately?" he demanded.

children with a look that dared any comment, then stalked out of the trailer.

Felicity looked at Garrett, started. And Garrett nodded, unsmiling. "It was her own idea," he confessed. "She chose it as punishment when I turned yellow and couldn't spank her. She said it was the one thing she hated most, looking home-ly - and what could I do?"

Garrett's frown did not quite fade. Suddenly he spoke his thoughts aloud. "I'm very much afraid we're going to have trouble with her."

Felicity's eyes flew wide. Garrett realized that little betraying "we" as quickly as she did and, for a moment, they stared at each other, startled, realizing suddenly how things were drifting.

"Hey, Fats, how's about it? I'm starved!" said Jason, and Felicity was able to tear her eyes away from Garrett's startled gaze and the spell was broken. But for the next few hours Felicity was a little shy of Garrett and a little self-conscious. And Garrett went away to his cabin with an uneasy feeling that he had stepped out beyond his depth and something must be done about it. Only, not right away, of course.

Winslow And Dail Talk For Rotary

By WYATT BROWN

The story of how a farm program was secured for Pitt County farmers was related by Jasper Winslow and Haywood Dail last night at the Rotary club. J. B. Kittrell was afforded an opportunity to deliver a rejoinder on sugar which he did implementing his remarks with citations from history and army reports on the value of the white crystals as an energy and morale food.

Haywood Dail started the story of the present farm program by saying that nothing is accomplished without previous preparation by somebody. He cited how a start to create a farm was made long before the farmers got one.

First Haywood Dail called on Jasper Winslow, farm leader and farmer president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, to relate his part in the story. Mr. Winslow told how interested persons first organized a Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, then an Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce to help farmers who were having a tough time.

Finally Roy Cox, Haywood Dail, and Jasper Winslow were appointed on the County Agricultural Committee. They were fed up with ineffectiveness of what had been done, Jasper Winslow related. It was worked out through friendship and fellowship in Washington City with representatives in Congress and the Senate from the West according to the speaker.

Haywood Dail told how he pleaded with the farmers to think and act about a farm program and show the world they could do what the world said could not be done—become organized. Incidentally he impersonated Bruce Sugg's efforts to advance the farm program.

Howard G. Brown of Charlotte was a guest of the club. Club president Ernest Willard presided and last night claimed the Diaper Club badge from Sam Underwood and bestowed it upon Alton Barrett who is to wear it until the next "poppa" comes along. Haywood Dail had charge of the program. The District Conference of Rotary to be held in Kinston Thursday and Friday of this week was called to the Rotarians attention. A good program is promised at the Kinston meet.

Sales of products and services through vending machines in 1948 in the U. S. were estimated at about $750,000,000.

Drunk Driving Cases Feature Police Court

In Police Court yesterday, Judge J.W.H. Roberts disposed of the following cases:

Reckless driving: Henry P. Rhodes, 15.

L. P. Georgeopoulos, a Marine from Cherry Point, charged with indecent exposure, was called and failed and he forfeited his bond.

Herbert Corey, colored, non-support of an illegitimate child, 90 days on the roads, suspended on payment of court costs and $5 a week for support of his child. He was placed on probation for two years.

Serious Forest Fire Whitehurst Section County

A forest fire some days ago in the Whitehurst Station section, between St. As and Bethel, did extensive damage to about 65 acres of timber. Pitt County Forest Warden N. S. (Kid) Tyson, reported today. It was the most disastrous woods fire in the county in a long time.

He said the firefighters used the county tractor and plow to cut a lane through the timber to control the fire.

The forest warden said Charles Mulling, Negro farmer, lost control of a brush fire on his place and the fire spread rapidly. Mulling, who was subject to arrest for violation of the forest laws, submitted a proposition to pay the expense of District Forest Warden Jasper Taylor and the tractor and plow Tyson said Mulling had a permit to burn brush on his place but that he did not notify adjoining property owners.

per cent net income. What does he do?

He multiplies The expense ($800) by 100 and divides the result (in this case $80,000) by 70 and gets $1,143.

That $1,143 represents a rent increase of $143 a year over the $1,000 rental Jones got before.

So now his gross income is $1,143, his expenses are $800, and his net income is $343, whereas it used to be $200. So that $343 gives him a 30 per cent net income on his gross income of $1,143.

In the case of a large landlord, the formula goes like this: multiply the operating expense by 100 and divide by 75 (not by 70, as in the case of the small landlord.)

Note: It was pointed out that a small landlord gets a boost so that his net income—if it's now less than 25 per cent of his gross income—shall become 30 per cent of his gross income; and if a large landlord's net income is under 20 per cent, he'll get a boost so it becomes 25 per cent. But what of the small landlord whose net income already is 25 per cent, or the large one whose net income already is 30 per cent? Do they get boosted up to 30 per cent and 25 per cent? No.

But doesn't that mean the landlords who now are making less than these people will wind up making more? Yes. But that's the way the formula is.

New York, May 3—(AP)—The stock market barely held its ground today. Numerous issues, at the same time, either held at Monday's closing levels or even advanced a trifle. Turnover was at the rate of around 800,000 shares for the full session.

happy Betch lies one part within the Soviet zone and three parts within the western theatre, and cannot regain its former economic strength unless it is reunited.

Control of a united Germany undoubtedly is the great prize which Moscow now seeks. Many observers believe that's the real reason why the Soviet has initiated conversations to raise the blockade of Berlin and reopen four power discussions on the whole German question.

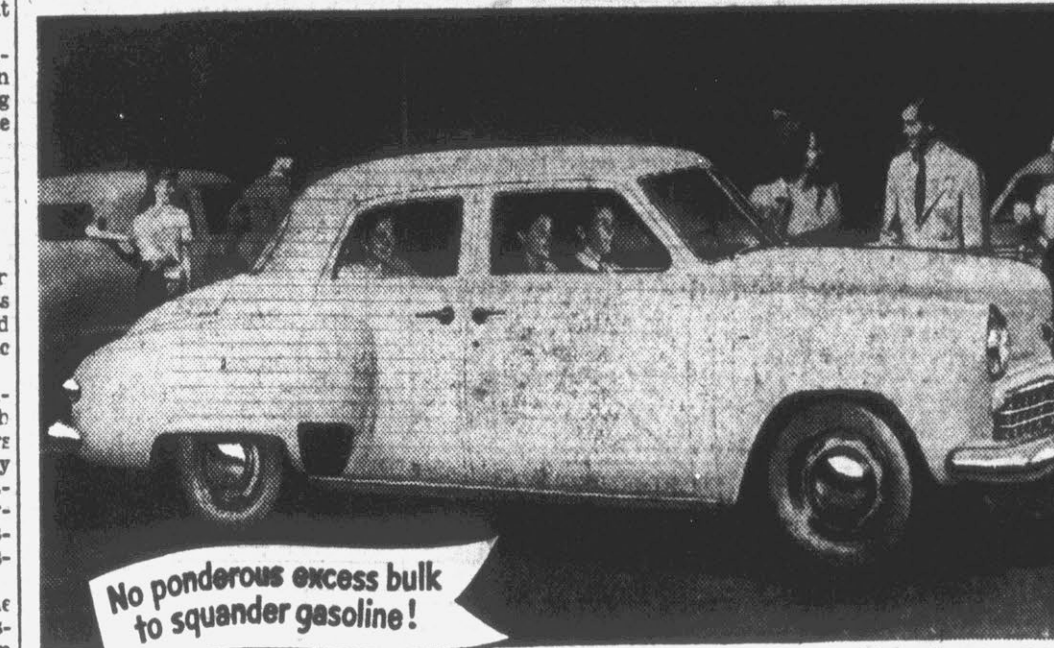

If the powers could reach some agreement regarding the final disposition of the German problem then we might see a termination of the cold war in Europe.
