

Two Compromise Labor Measures Get Going Over

New T-H Repealer And Minimum Wage Bill Readied In House Committee

Washington, May 9—(AP)—House Labor committee Democrats are busy these days polishing carefully and quietly the fine points of the labor legislation compromises.

One is a new bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law, and the other is a plan to get a 75-cent minimum wage approved by the house, on both the polishes had some rough spots to smooth.

Democratic leaders want to bring the minimum wage bill to the floor before the end of this month; a return bout on the other issue has been set for about the first week in June.

Several committee members including Reps. Sims (D-SC) and Jacobs (D-Ind) are working on a new compromise Taft-Hartley repealer.

They are patterning it after the measure Sims tossed into last week's labor debate with the backing of the Democratic leadership.

One main problem on this bill, said a committee member today, is drafting an acceptable provision for dealing with national emergency strikes, committee members insisted on court injunctions as a last resort, and others insist on almost anything but injunctions.

One possible solution was outlined by Jacobs in an interview. It is a plan allowing the government to seize plants if employers ignore requests for a truce in the dispute, and for injunctions if the union involved is the offender. He said no plan has been agreed on yet by committee members.

Sims' original bill provided for injunctions only, and labor chairman Lestinski (D-Mich) blamed the measure's defeat on the opposition of John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' chief, who has felt the sting of injunctions, the Sims bill was the administration's proposed Taft-Hartley repealer plus several features of that act.

Republicans and southern Democrats teamed up to beat down the Sims bill, then temporarily put over a bill by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) to repeal the Taft-Hartley law by name but keep almost all of its provisions.

The house, on a roll call vote, later sent the Wood bill back to Lestinski's committee, and thus after six days' debate had no labor bill at all.

The full committee is not due to be called together until late this week because several members are out of town on official business.

Lestinski made the latest move on the minimum wage front.

He is sponsor of the administration bill to boost the minimum from its present 40 cents an hour to 75 and extend coverage to about 5,000,000 more workers. Last Thursday he popped into the hopper a bill to hike the wage but leave the coverage as it is now.

This was done at the suggestion of Democratic leaders. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) had said several times he did not think a bill to broaden the wage-hour law's coverage could get through the house this year.

BULLETIN

London, May 9—(AP)—Moscow Radio said tonight the Russian side commander "has issued an order restoring transport, trade and communications services in Berlin."

The order, signed by Gen. V. I. Chukovnik, lifts the blockade at 12:01 a. m. Thursday, the broadcast said.

The Soviet monitor said reception from Moscow was poor and it would take some time to decipher details of the order.

The Western Allies will start their traffic moving into the eastern zone at that moment, British transportation experts announced in Berlin.

Capitol Sightseers

Every Spring Visitors Flock To Washington; Sights To Be Seen; They Watch Congress In Action And Inspect The Great Buildings; A Quiet Year For Capitol

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 9—(AP)—It happens every spring, as if by magic, that the city is most beautiful.

Flocks of people are moving through Washington in this season of the year when the city is most beautiful.

And those lighting here now are luckier than the one fluttering in late in the summer when Congress may be gone.

Every morning the plaza at the Capitol is jammed with the cars of senators, congressmen and sightseers.

The newcomers climb the high Capitol steps, although it would be easier to enter through the street level doors.

They like climbing, it seems, and posing on the steps, with the Capitol behind them, while their friends snap their pictures.

And then they go on the grand tour of the place with the professional guides who sing-song the wonders of history.

Germans Submit Constitution For Republic; Pledge Of Peace

Bonn, Germany, May 9—(AP)—The Germans at last have the constitution for a new West German republic-democratic, unarmed and pledged to peace.

Today it is being rushed to Western zone military governors for final approval. The 11 West German states' legislatures must ratify it yet, too.

Despite opposition from states righters, some centrists and the Communists, the German constitutional convention approved it—53 to 12—last night.

German democracy was reborn—on paper, at least—four years to the day after Nazi Germany hopelessly conceded defeat.

The constitution leaves the door open for the Russian zone to join the new state—if free elections take place in Soviet-controlled East Germany.

The four-power Council of Foreign Ministers will discuss the German question generally in Paris May 23. Free elections might be planned there.

However, at present, German Communists say they are proceeding with an "all-German government" in the Russian zone. They have insisted on a united Germany and opposed a western state.

The constitutional convention took eight months to draft the 146-article constitution.

Not mentioned in the final document were the reservations which the U.S., British and French made at Washington April 8th when they agreed to the proposed republic.

These are believed to include control over basic relations between Germany and the outside world as well as security against a revival of German militarism.

Each of the three Western powers would terminate military government and appoint a high commissioner. The three high commissioners would be the top authority in Germany.

The fundamental law of West Germany, as set up by the new constitution, marks an historic changeover to democracy, however.

1. Calls for a democratic, federal republic to govern the Western zones' 46,000,000 inhabitants until a government can be formed for all Germany.

2. Paves the way for general parliamentary elections in the three Western zones.

3. Makes the plotting of aggressive war a punishable offense. There is no provision for an army. No one—neither the President nor Parliament—has power to declare war.

4. A bill of rights guarantees racial, lingual and religious equality. Freedom of press, religion and assembly is pledged. Censorship is forbidden.

5. The death penalty is forbidden—in the land where the headman's axe, the hangman's noose and concentration camp guard's bludgeons took uncounted lives during the Nazi era.

Southern Demos Pledge Support Trade Agreement

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Southern Democrats today promised to go down the line for one of President Truman's campaign pledges—extension of the trade agreements program in its original form.

Senator George (D-Ga.), who will lead the Administration battle in the Senate, told a reporter he expects to win approval of the trade program in about 10 days.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.) said they will support George.

But Senate Republicans with promised help of some Northern Democrats are planning another presidential upset.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) has been fighting the Administration plan for more than a month and he confided "there will be much to say before we reach a vote."

Millikin, with solid backing of GOP leaders Taft of Ohio and Wherry of Nebraska, wants to retain existing restrictions upon the presidential authority to cut this country's import duties.

They will concentrate upon retention of the "peril point" provisions inserted by the 80th Congress under Republican control. Under these the tariff commission was directed to fix a "peril point" for cutting tariffs below which domestic industry would be threatened with injury.

If the President goes below this point—he must explain why to Congress.

The House already has knocked out this and other GOP restrictions on the trade pact program and Millikin fought for weeks in the Senate Finance Committee to retain them. He lost by a 7 to 6 party line vote.

But Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) who voted with other Democrats to bring the House-passed extension out told a reporter: "I'm going to vote with Senator Millikin all the way through on the Senate floor."

Some Northern Democrats from states where industries have been complaining about competition from foreign imports probably will do the same.

Other Republicans are talking about an amendment that would extend the program for only one year as was done last year. The House gave a three-year extension by dating its legislation back to last year, thereby repealing all the GOP restrictions enacted by the 80th Congress.

Spinster, 88, Is Held In Jail For Shooting Youth

Detroit, May 9—(AP)—"I guess I'm a good shot," said a sharp-eyed 88-year-old spinster today.

Ragged and unkempt, Miss Emma Arnold waited in jail while police investigated the shooting of a youth in her weed-grown yard late yesterday.

The youth, Donald Walsh, 15, and seven other teenagers were picking Mother's Day bouquets. They thought Miss Arnold's tumble-down home was deserted.

A shot cracked and young Walsh slumped to the ground, a bullet just below his heart.

Early today he was in critical condition at a local hospital.

Lt. Ronald La Rue, who went to arrest Miss Arnold, faced a 38 caliber revolver. He said Miss Arnold threatened him.

State Grange To Discuss Program

Raleigh, N. C., May 9—(AP)—The North Carolina State Grange will determine its attitude toward the Truman administration's new farm program at a meeting here tomorrow.

The program, suggested to Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, calls for the federal government to make direct cash payments to farmers to compensate for lower prices of produce.

The government now holds prices up by buying surplus commodities if the prices drop below parity level.

Mr. Truman last week denied he and Johnson were in disagreement over Daniels as a successor to Sullivan.

Daniels had been mentioned for the Navy spot even before Sullivan quit. His father, the late Josephus Daniels, was secretary of the Navy during World War I.

The younger Daniels served on the White House staff under both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. He retired to private life shortly after Mr. Truman entered the White House but helped with the Truman campaign last fall.

From his name and background, some observers think 25,000 votes will win the election. They realize, of course, that all who signed may not vote for Roosevelt or even vote at all.

There were 124,412 votes in the 20th district in the 1948 general election. But experience in past special elections indicate that 60,000 ballots would be a high figure next week.

At any rate, the three other candidates have taken out after Roosevelt.

The G. O. P. is making a hard fight in the normally Democratic district, believing it has a good chance with the opposition vote thoroughly split. The special election is to fill a seat left vacant by the death of Sol Bloom, veteran Democratic Congressman.

Ford Turns Down Mediation Bids

Detroit, May 9—(AP)—Ford Motor Co. refused outside offers of mediation today as effects of the five-day strike spread from coast to coast.

The company held to its position that the speed-up dispute should be arbitrated by an expert selected by the company and the union. The CIO United Auto Workers have rejected this suggestion.

With prospects for an early settlement of the 45,000-man walkout growing dimmer, the union staged a mass demonstration Sunday. It was partly to arouse enthusiasm among strikers, partly to put on a show of strength, the union said.

UAW President Walter Reuther led the parade of 5,000 unionists. Mayor Orville Hubbard, of Dearborn, where the giant Rouge plant is situated, marched too.

One of the offers of mediation came from Hubbard. The UAW said it would attend a meeting suggested by the mayor. Another offer was made by acting Mayor George Edwards of Detroit, who tendered the services of the city's Labor Mediation Committee.

Ford's rejection of both was set forth in a statement from John S. Bugas, vice-president in charge of industrial relations.

"This is a company-union dispute," Bugas said. "There is no issue in the current strike which cannot be quickly, promptly and peaceably handled by established procedure."

Therefore, we see no need to turn the matter over to other individuals or groups outside the contract machinery."

The contract provides that such disputes should be handed to an arbitrator, Bugas said.

He ticked off these estimates of Western strength:

(1) Manpower at least equal to Russia; (2) steel-making capacity ten times greater; (3) petroleum production six times greater; (4) a lead in science, invention and industrial skill "that cannot be measured in tons or cubic feet."

"In the presence of that combined strength in the resources it takes to wage war," Patterson said, "the autocrats in the Kremlin will see no prospect of victory and will not give their soldiers the word to march."

Calling Russia "an ambitious and power hungry dictatorship that has never had any scruples against launching a war," Patterson said the Soviets understand only force.

What the pact does, Patterson added in a prepared statement, is to bring together strength "far in excess of any that Moscow could muster."

Atlantic Treaty Or Labor Bill—May Be Up To Truman

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said today the United Nations and other international groups have become "an avenue for intense subversive activity" against the United States.

A Senate judiciary subcommittee plans to go into that thoroughly at hearings starting tomorrow, McCarran told a reporter.

The initial session will be open to the public, but the subcommittee plans to question some later witnesses behind locked doors. McCarran said secrecy will be necessary in some cases for (1) security reasons and (2) protection of the subcommittee's sources of information.

The hearings will be on McCarran's bill to strengthen immigration barriers and to provide for deportation of aliens found to be engaged in subversive activities.

McCarran, chairman of the full judiciary committee, refused to name in advance the witnesses slated to go before the subcommittee. But he indicated that persons familiar with the United Nations situation probably will be called.

When he introduced his bill two weeks ago, McCarran told the Senate the judiciary committee had obtained evidence "which establishes beyond a reasonable doubt that there is extensive subversive activity being carried on in this country under the active direction and leadership of agents of foreign countries."

He called the evidence "conclusive and alarming."

McCarran has pulled no punches in making it clear that his bill is directed primarily against Russia.

Economists Told Planning Wrong

Geneva, Switzerland, May 9—(AP)—Economic Planners of both east and west were told at the opening session of the United Nations economic commission for Europe today that something is wrong with their planning.

Gunnar Myrdal, executive secretary of the commission, told representatives of both the east and west the present pattern of production and trade in Europe "is definitely not conducive to the best use of European resources."

"If political discussions do not give way to more positive acts of cooperation, the economic consequences will inevitably take the form of a further division of Europe and a failure to develop those complementary trading relations which would aid the various national economies to overcome their present weaknesses and their abnormal dependence on outside support," Myrdal said.

W. Averell Harriman, Ambassador at large for the European recovery program, was the chief United States delegate at the session. Ambassador A. Arturianski, Russian economic expert, headed the Soviet delegation.

The commission is composed of the United States and every European country except Spain.

Myrdal said that while great economic progress had been made in 1948, in Europe "certain problems of first importance are not moving toward solution."

President Names New Members Of Atomic Group

Washington, May 9—(AP)—President Truman today named two college professors, Gordon Dean, and Henry Dewolf Smyth, as members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He sent the nominations to the Senate after accepting the resignation of Robert F. Bacher as a commission member, effective tomorrow. William W. Waymack previously had resigned.

Dean is professor of law at the University of Southern California and a practicing attorney.

Smyth is a professor and chairman of the department of physics at Princeton University.

Smyth wrote the famous "Smyth Report" on the atom bomb. It was issued shortly after the first bomb was dropped in Japan and became the subject of a wide controversy.

Rudisill Sworn In As New Judge

Raleigh, May 9—(AP)—J. C. Rudisill of Newton, appointed last week by Governor Scott, was sworn in Saturday as a Superior Court judge.

The oath was administered in Governor Scott's office by Associate Justice E. B. Denny.

Rudisill was named to succeed Judge Wilson Warlick of Newton as resident judge of the 16th Judicial District. He was appointed by Governor Broughton in 1944 as a special Superior judge and served about a year and a half.

Bevin Looks To Plans For Peace

Berlin, May 9—(AP)—British Foreign secretary Ernest Bevin said today that at the forthcoming Paris big four conference "we hope to plan the peace of the world."

He made the comment at brief ceremonies at the American airfield terminal, Tempelhof, where Gen. Lucius D. Clay saw him off for the British zone of Germany.

Wes Gallagher, AP chief bureau in Germany, reports that many international observers there believe victory for the West would shatter the Red Iron Curtain. The reason is that Eastern Europe traditionally has depended heavily on the Reich for necessities which it is doubtful that Russia alone can provide.

We are harking back to the vast economic empire which Hitler gambled away because of his inordinate ambition to annex and enslave all Europe—and after that only heaven knows what. When Hitler launched World War II he was virtually cast of the whole of Eastern Europe up

Sees Subversives In International Groups

Everyone Hit By Tobacco Disease

Raleigh, May 9—(AP)—The worst blue mold epidemic in 10 years may cause a serious shortage of tobacco plants for North Carolina farmers.

H. R. Garriss, extension plant pathologist at N.C. State College, said yesterday "the plant shortage is serious throughout the state."

"Usually one region is hit harder than another. But this year everyone is hit. Old Belt growers are trying to get plants from the Coastal Plain, where there is also a severe shortage."

Garriss said he believes there are enough plants in the state to set out the desired acreage. He added, however, that because of the shuffling of plants much of the planting will be late.

The crop also will get off to a slow start, he declared, because many weakened plants that would normally be discarded will be used.

Asks Speed-Up For Measure On 'Streamlining'

Washington, May 9—(AP)—President Truman today urged Congress to act speedily on a bill giving him power to reorganize the executive branches of the government.

In a special message sent to the House and Senate, Mr. Truman said the legislation should be enacted soon if any reorganization proposals are to be submitted to this session of Congress.

Mr. Truman called attention to the fact that the bill requires that any reorganization plan he submits must lie before Congress 60 days without being disapproved by the House or Senate to become effective. His message said:

"Because of this 60 day waiting period the bill should be enacted soon if any reorganization plans are to be submitted to the present session of Congress."

The hard-bolled anti-Communist mayor of Western Berlin, Ernst Reuter, says the New York agreement among the Big Four to lift the blockade of the German capital marks the "real beginning of a tug-of-war between the East and West."

Reuter means, I take it, that we are about to see the start of a great struggle between Russia and the Western Allies for control of all Germany. It's the old story—pre-war Germany was the keystone of much of continental Europe's economy.

Wes Gallagher, AP chief bureau in Germany, reports that many international observers there believe victory for the West would shatter the Red Iron Curtain. The reason is that Eastern Europe traditionally has depended heavily on the Reich for necessities which it is doubtful that Russia alone can provide.

We are harking back to the vast economic empire which Hitler gambled away because of his inordinate ambition to annex and enslave all Europe—and after that only heaven knows what. When Hitler launched World War II he was virtually cast of the whole of Eastern Europe up to the Russian border, because of his economic stranglehold.

I toured that whole area just before Munich, and still find it a matter of amazement that the Nazi Fuehrer should have staked so much on a throw of the dice. This strange chapter of history has been discussed in our column before, but I revert to it now because it's the chief explanation of the struggle which is boiling up over Germany.

Hitler held all Eastern Europe and the Balkans in the itching palm of his hand. Why? Because industrial Germany over a long period had built up an economic structure under which she supplied agricultural countries with manufactured articles, and took from them in turn the agricultural products which the Reich didn't produce itself.

This arrangement wasn't just something that happened. It was the result of a carefully worked out plan. Germany outwitted the relationship and maneuvered so that the small nations would be forced to confine themselves to agricultural pursuits and complement the Reich's

Supper Party For Contract Club

Grifton.—One of the prettiest parties of the season here was that given Thursday night when Mrs. A. D. Wall entertained members of the Thursday contract club at a delightful supper session at her home on Church street. Roses, lilies and iris were used to decorate the home which was en suite for the occasion. A delectable two course supper was served as the guests arrived after which bridge was played in four progressions, the club prizes were won by Mrs. Robert Mewborn and Mrs. Eleanor Gower and the guest award went to Mrs. Thomas Gower. Other players were Miss Marie

He was born in Mount Gilead, attended public schools in Warrenton and Franklinton and since graduating from high school he had engaged in business here. Funeral services were held today at 10:30 a. m. at the graveside in Fairview Cemetery here, conducted by the Rev. E. H. Davis. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Theima Holmes Rose; one sister, Mrs. Wilbur Stone, Franklinton; three brothers, Juns H. Greenville, Lewis L. and John Edwin Rose, Charlotte.

Fraternity Initiates New Members Into Organization May 6

The Beta Kappa chapter of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business education fraternity, initiated twelve new members into the organization and entertained them at a dinner-dance Friday evening, May 6. Membership in the fraternity is based on high scholastic records in the business education department of the college.

The initiation took place in the Pi Omega building on the campus. Presiding was Anne Beddard of Snow Hill, acting vice president of the organization. Assisting with ceremonies were Frances Daniels of Midway Park, president; Carl Cox, New Bern; Christine Radford, Kenly; Donald Dixon, Grantsboro; John Estinger, Williamston; Joan Winslow, Belvidere; and William H. Durham, Jr., Rocky Mount. Faculty advisors were Lena Ellis and Dorothy Lewis.

The dinner-dance was held at the Woman's Club of Greenville and was attended by members of the organization and their guests.
New members of Pi Omega Pi are Jane Albritton, Snow Hill; Margaret Bell, Clinton; Ophelia Boykin, Sims; Ashley H. Corbin, Greenville; William R. Farrell, Sanford; Hugh H. Poux, Wilmington; Haywood B. Kelly, Clayton; Mac L. Mumford, Grifton; Ann Faye Pullen, Whitakers; Annie Frances Riddick, Hobbesville; Ramona Sawyer, Washington; and Grace Sugg, Snow Hill. W. W. Howell, faculty member, was initiated as an honorary member of the fraternity.

Miss Long Speaks Before Auxiliary

Grifton.—Ladies of the St. Mark's Episcopal Auxiliary were given a special treat on Wednesday afternoon when Miss Hennie Long of Greenville spoke, she based her remarks on talks which she heard recently in New Bern given by Mrs. Sanford, a returned missionary who spoke on "Divine Healing." During the afternoon the Rev. Jack Rountree of Kinston also gave a brief talk, a poem fitting the occasion was read by Mrs. Eleanor Gower.

Commencement Exercises Start Sunday, May 22

Belvoir-Falkland High School will begin its 1949 commencement program on Sunday, May 22, with the Baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Hayes Clark, minister of the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church in Kingstree, S. C., it was announced by F. H. Hodges, principal.

Other events will follow during the week.

The Senior class will present their "Class Night" exercises on Wednesday, May 25; music review will be presented by the music department of the school under the direction of Miss Patsie Jenkins, May 26 and graduation on Friday, May 27, with address being delivered by Worth Wicker, Tarboro, N. C. All programs will begin at 8 o'clock.

There are 26 members in the graduating class.

Humber To Talk For Graduation

Wake Forest, N. C., May 9—(P)—Robert Lee Humber, Greenville attorney, will deliver the graduation address at the Wake Forest commencement exercises on May 29 and 30.

Dr. Edward H. Pruden, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will give the baccalaureate sermon.

About 375 students will be graduating, the largest class in Wake Forest's 115-year history.

Humber, a Wake Forest graduate, was a Rhodes scholar from North Carolina, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

The first people to devote themselves chiefly to commerce were the Phoenicians, who developed their fishing boats into a commercial fleet.

Women In The Church

The National Council of Catholic Women is stressing a continuance of its America-wide campaign to send clothing of all kinds to Europe for the millions of destitute children there, "regardless of race, creed, or politics." Its Committee on War Relief, headed by Mrs. J. Shelby Spruck, of California, and co-operating closely with the National Catholic Welfare Council, recently contributed some 7,000,000 new and used garments, valued at more than half a million dollars, to children in several European countries.

Leaders of the organization say that their relief plans for the children is one of the principal methods of curbing the growing black markets of Europe—markets that may turn some peoples to communism.

to death. But Pastor Son pleaded for his life, and offered to take him into his own home and try to make him a Christian. The amazed government prosecutor consented. Now Pastor Son has the young man as a member of his family; while the sister of the two murdered youth is "living in the home of the murderer's parents and demonstrating the meaning of Christianity to them."

There are today thirteen different "communities" of women (akin to orders of nuns) within the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. The members are bound together under vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience. One of the groups is primarily for purposes of worship; four are for the "active life," such as teaching, nursing missions, etc.; and the others are for a combination of both the contemplative and the active life. The communities are organized on the basis of mutual responsibility, and there is democracy in that the office of mother superior is elective for a limited term of years.

Longino-Quinerly
In the St. James Episcopal church on Saturday afternoon, April 30, at 5 o'clock Miss Mary Darden Quinerly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Quinerly, exchanged vows with Dr. Frank H. Longino, son of Mrs. Hugh E. Longino and the late Dr. Longino of Texarkana, Ark. The Reverend W. H. R. Jackson of Raleigh, former rector of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony by candle light amid a setting of green and white. Single candelabras with tall cathedral candles were placed on the altar while five, seven and nine branched candelabras and vases of Easter lilies, snaps and gladioli were set in a background of plumosa-oregon, huckleberry and woodardias greens. The pews were marked with candleholders centered with small colonial bouquets of white daisies.

Mrs. Joe R. Best, aunt of the bride, organist, and Dr. R. L. A. Keeley of Durham and Miss Audrey Gaylor of Wilson, soloist presented the wedding music. Prior to and during the ceremony the organist played "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah by Saint-Saens; "Souvenir" by Ordi; "Nocturne" by Chopin; "Clair de Lune" by Debussy; Miss Gaylor sang, "The Pledge" and Dr. Keeley, "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

Escorted by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner. She had chosen as her wedding gown a Tafel original of crepe du lait satin fashioned with a fitted bodice finished with an off-the-shoulder neckline complimented with an imported orchid motif and long sleeves. The full skirt was intricately detailed with a cascade of tulle terminating in a long cathedral train. Her full length veil of imported bridal illusion was attached to a cap of Brussels lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and valley lilies which was centered with hybrid orchids.

Miss Leslie Kelly Best of Clinton was the maid of honor for her cousin. The bridesmaids were Miss Jane Longino of Texarkana, Ark.; Miss Jane Bruce of Palatka, Fla.; Miss Martha Finch of Washington of Ayden and Richmond, Va.; and Mrs. Ralph Worthington of Ayden; junior bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Taylor of Aulander and Miss Suzanne Taylor of Ayden.

The attendants were in period gowns of hyacinth blue net over blue taffeta. Matching lace formed the low rounded off-the-shoulder neckline and was used on the hats and mitts made of the identical material as the dresses. The full skirts were caught with wide sashes and edged with lace. They carried colonial bouquets of delphinium, cornflowers, sweetpeas, daisies, tulips and ranunculus tied with orchid and pink satin ribbon.

The maid of honor wore an identical dress. Her bonnet-shaped hat was fashioned of pink feathers and her bouquet was of pink roses, sweet peas and snaps tied with pink satin ribbon.

Midshipman Hugh E. Longino of Annapolis was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Dr. W. W. Shingleton, Dr. R. A. Conrad, and Dr. W. W. Pryor all of Durham, Dr. R. S. Preston of Atlanta, Ga., and Paul Berry of Warsaw.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Quinerly chose an original gown of lavender-blue crepe with matching hat and gloves. The bridegroom's mother wore an ashes of roses gown of crepe and lace with a fresh flow-

Motorcyclist In Collision With Car On Highway

John C. Smedley, 21-year-old Cherry Point Marine, was seriously injured early today near Chocod school when the motorcycle he was riding collided with the rear of a car driven by Theodore Daniels, when the car was making a right turn from the highway during a heavy fog.

Daniels took the injured marine to Pitt General Hospital. Smedley was later transferred to the Marine hospital at Cherry Point.

State Highway Patrolman Dick Chadwick said Smedley received a broken right leg and numerous other injuries. The motorcycle and the rear of the car were damaged. Authorities are continuing their investigation.

Judge Coggins Holding Court

Judge Charles L. Coggins of Salisbury is presiding over the one-week term of civil Superior Court here. The Rowan County jurist was district solicitor of his home county for 13 years.

Judge Coggins was a student at the University of North Carolina with Arthur B. Corey, Marvin K. Blount and Jack Edwards, members of the Pitt county bar. Mrs. Coggins accompanied her husband here. They are stopping at Proctor hotel.

The forenoon session of court today was devoted principally to the hearing of divorce cases.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CONCERNING INTERIOR DECORATING

Almost everyone is familiar with the story of the response made by John Quincy Adams who, at the age of eighty, was asked by a friend who met him on the street, "How is John Quincy Adams?" This was his reply: "John Quincy Adams himself is very well. But the house he lives in is sadly dilapidated. The building trembles with every wind, and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move out of it before long. But he himself is very well."

A noted American preacher quoted this incident in a sermon one day over the radio and the following week received through the mail from one of his listeners the following: "This is an old lady who writes you. Or at least the house I live in is eighty-two years old. Considering its age, the house is in fairly good repair, though I don't think it looks quite as well as it did fifty years ago. I have neglected to keep it painted, as so many of this generation do. To tell the truth I have been spending my time on interior decorating. The windows I look out of are fairly clear, and I am glad to tell you that I have a reliable tenant in the upper story."

There are people who take life that way, and to use an expression made long ago, they are the salt of the earth. Old age is largely a matter of attitude. If we forget about the condition of the outside of the house in which we live and give enough attention to interior decorating, the passing years make little difference.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

SUPPLY—Your reporter has just completed a special check-up on sentiment in twenty Piedmont counties with respect to status of the road and school bond and reaction to the recent general assembly. During the two and a half days spent on the trip, 49 separate individuals were interviewed, one or more in each of the following counties: Wake, Durham, Alamance, Guilford, Forsyth, Davie, Iredell, Alexander, Caldwell, Burke, McDowell, Henderson, Rutherford, Cleveland, Gaston, Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Stanley, Randolph and Chatham.

In addition a half dozen telephone interviews were conducted around Asheville during the evening. Persons interviewed included operators of roadside filling stations, country stores, hardware and farm supply merchants, county and city officials, members of committees, secretaries, editors of big city daily and small county weekly newspapers, and a dairy products man who buys milk from several hundred farmers.

QUESTIONS—Four leading questions were asked. What is prevailing sentiment in your community with respect to road and school bonds to be voted upon June 4? What do you people think of the recent legislative treatment of public schools and other state services? Are the "Truman Fair Deal" programs more or less popular than before the legislative bodies convened? Should the State further expand its services, even if additional taxes are necessary to carry the load? The questions were not always posed in that order; some places there wasn't a chance to deal with more than one of the items. Prolonged discussion at some stops necessitated cutting short time available for others in order to keep the schedule fixed in advance of 600 miles travel and 60 personal contacts. The goal wasn't quite reached, the final score being 650 miles and 49 people. The questions do not lend themselves to direct yes or no answers, but several conclusions were drawn from the composite responses.

ANSWERS—Your reporter was surprised at the lack of interest manifested in the bond issues. Despite the ballyhoo last fall, the oft-repeated statements that the people were demanding action on these matters, the three-months debate and the multiple columns of newspaper space devoted to their consideration in the general assembly first mention of the bond issue election at each stop brought the comment "There hasn't been much said about it around here." There was found some criticism of the general assembly, and somewhat surprisingly it was almost unanimous in disapproval of spending so much money. Only one out of the 49 voiced opinion there ought to have been more spent for schools. There was some outspoken opposition to increased taxes under any circumstances, more of the attitude that the state ought to move very slowly and carefully, be certain that the added services are really essential, before expanding them. As for comparative popularity of Governor Scott and President Truman it is evident some of the glamor has faded. This took the quirk of disappointment that Governor Scott had not appointed a local candidate or personal friend to some of the topflight jobs, rather than criticism of the appointments he did make.

CONCLUSIONS—Analysis of the various responses leads your reporter to conclude the $25 millions in school building bonds will be approved; the $200 millions in road bonds would not be held right now. Outcome of that ballot will depend upon the selling job done by the promoting organization during the next three and a half weeks, and strength of organized opposition. There is not any great popular demand now. A few communities, notably Davie county, have already started vigorous campaigns in behalf of both bond issues. Nowhere along the route was there found any evidence of organized opposition. In a few places there is indication of involving partisan or factional politics, but upon the whole the issues will be discussed and voted on basis of merit. A light vote is expected to further chances of approval.

Detroit (AP)—There is a Mother's Day, and there are days that mothers remember.

And they aren't at all necessarily the same days.

This is why it is so hard to arbitrarily pick a day to honor mothers.

Because the day that you most honored your mother wasn't necessarily a certain Sunday in May. The day she remembers you most for is the day she bore you.

A son who has been successful from the world's point of view would also like to think his mother remembers him from the day he did something that made him famous with the neighbors. She does, of course.

But that isn't necessarily the day he honored her most. It might much more have been a day years before when, in response to her teaching

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

One afternoon during my army days I was sitting on a Cheyenne, Wyoming, patio listening to records. The host was pushing fifty, a pillar in the community, and a master of dry wit.

"You know, Jack," he said, "they broke my favorite record. Twenty-five years with the Wrong Woman."

My friend's statement was only an effort to tease his wife, but I stopped laughing long enough to realize that there are plenty of married people in this world who have stayed together twenty-five years, barely able to tolerate each other.

In recent years another category has been more prominent: the one-third of the war-time marriages that have landed in divorce courts. All of this talk is an attempt to prove one point: Some marriages are not smooth affairs.

On the other hand, there are marriages that are seldom if ever publicized, but are highly successful. It's a shame that we hear most about the ones that flop. Maybe you can call this account unusual.

In Greenville Saturday there were a great many people who were taking part in the celebration of a marriage fifty years in duration. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brewer was buzzing with activity on their golden wedding anniversary. There was a constant flow of well-wishers who loaded down the house with gifts.

To carry out the theme of the golden anniversary the house was decorated in gold and white. On the dining room table the candle sticks were gold, the punch was mostly orange but golden in color, gold and white mints and white cakes with "50" written on them in gold were served.

It was two big days in a row for Mrs. Brewer, for all six of her children and nine of her grandchildren were present to honor her yesterday on Mother's Day.

The Brewers were married when she was a little over fifteen and he was just twenty. It was a cold day in January, 1916, when they moved to Greenville from Bethel, where both of them were raised.

Mr. Brewer, more accurately Captain Brewer, has been a police officer for thirty-seven years—almost four years in Bethel, and ever since he moved to Greenville. For several years he served as chief of police.

During these many years Captain Brewer has had many exciting experiences. Probably the most dangerous happened the first year the Brewers lived in Greenville, 1916. In the line of duty he was the target of bullets from a fugitive's gun. But he was lucky enough to receive only a grazed thumb.

And I thank you.

or her yearning, he made a decision that changed his life in a manner that shaped it in the way she wanted him to go.

I am not too sure how girl children feel about their mothers. Nor am I sure about how mothers feel about their children. I think that generally, however, girl children are much more loyal and soft-hearted toward mothers than mothers are to them.

Once girl children have gone through parenthood themselves they are very likely to realize the problems of their own mothers. And they are more likely to appreciate them.

I think it is very normal for a son to be favored by his mother yet himself to want most to impress his father. And it is equally normal for Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, created by the league to meet requests of foreign women for help in using their vote effectively. Mrs. Law, who speaks Italian fluently, talked with women all walks of life in Italy.

"You don't have to deal with apathy over there," she said. "That's why 94 per cent of the women voted in the Italian elections last September. There is no doubt whatever that the women in Italy have had a tremendous awakening to their individual and political responsibility, but a great deal remains to be done.

"We have been furnishing the Italians with our technical knowledge. We have shared our goods with them—our raw materials. We need to share a great deal more, but mostly affection and understanding." She urged that trade union leagues, 4-H Boys and Girls clubs and farmers' groups send representatives to Italy and that tourists and others talk with the people.

Mrs. Law said the Carrie Chapman Catt fund has just voted to send $4,000 to aid the Society to Fight Illiteracy in Italy. A non-partisan organization, the society has persuaded a reluctant and impoverished government to open night schools for illiterate adults and teen-agers who work in the day time.

The fund money will be used by the society for a 30-day training period for the 100 teachers who conduct the classes in southern provinces of Lucania, where the official estimate of illiteracy is 46 per cent. Among women it is 100 per cent.

"The teachers in these mountain class rooms with no window glass, no heat, and very little light, are very young," Mrs. Law said. "They have practically no material except a small blackboard. They are not prepared to answer questions on government legislation about workers or problems of agriculture. We hope our money will help a little."

Swans were partly domesticated by the ancient Romans who valued their flesh as food.

Annie Barnes, 'About 43', Says She Is Mother Of 31; Thirteen Now Living

Wife Of Pitt Tenant Farmer, Married At Thirteen, Likes Married Life Fine, And She's Given It A Fair Trial

Families of eight to ten children are considered unusually large in this day and time, but Annie Barnes, wife of Charlie Barnes, Negro tenant farmer of the Belvoir section of Pitt county, says she is the mother of 31 children. Thirteen of the children are living and 18 are dead.

From the porch of the white three-room house in which she, her husband and eight of their children live on the Clayton Everette farm near Belvoir, Annie said she had given birth to 31 children without once having a physician's attention. "I never have been sick except for the tooth ache," Annie said. In most cases of the birth of her children, Annie said, she had the services of such mid-wives as "Aunt Jane Davis of the Great Swamp community, Aunt Thady Golden who lives near Falkland, Aunt Annie Howard and Aunt Sidney Jones." "We called them all Aunt because they are so old," Annie explained. Three of her children she had without attention from anyone, she said.

Annie Barnes, who says she is the mother of 31 children, stands on the front porch of the three room house in the Belvoir section of Pitt county where she and her husband Charlie

All Annie's babies have been single births. Her largest child weighed 12 pounds when it was born, she said, and the others ranged from seven to 10 pounds. Most of the children who are not living now died two to three months after they were born, Annie remarked.

Annie, who gives her age as "about 43," and her husband Charlie were married when Annie was 13 years old, and she had her first child, Robert Lee, when she was "going on 14." Since that time the additions to the Barnes family have come with amazing regularity.

"I've had one every year and some between times, I had some of them in the spring and some in the fall winter and summer too," Annie commented. Her last child was born dead last summer.

To the question "Are you through having babies now?" Annie replied "I hope I is—it's about time."

Annie's living children range in age from Robert Lee, who is about 30, to Richard who will be two years old next month.

Five of her children, Robert Lee, Charlie Junior, Emma C. Helen May and Bessie Lee, are married and away from home, and eight of the children ranging from 17 to two years of age live at home.

All of Annie's living children are recorded at the Pitt county court house in Greenville, she said. David now 17, had his birth recorded last year.

As for married life, Annie says she likes it fine, and she has surely given it a fair trial. The main problem of a large family, however, according to Annie, "is getting something for them to eat and wear. For eating we give 'em such as we are able to buy—corn, field peas, butter beans and such like that. We had some hogs, but they all died."

With eight hungry children at home to feed, Charlie has to spend all his time working. On the farm they tend five acres of cotton, two acres of cucumbers and one and one-half acres of corn. When farming is not taking all his time, Charlie cuts wood, works at lumber mills and does odd jobs. "He has to be doing something all the time to get enough for us to eat," said Annie.

As for Annie, most of her time is taken up cooking and washing for the children at home. Her farm work is limited to putting in tobacco and picking cucumbers during the rush seasons. Occasionally she does house work for people of the Belvoir community.

Of her living children, all who are old enough have gone to school and four are in school now. None of her children have been in trouble with the law enforcement officers and all eight who are living at home attend the Holy Hill Free Will Baptist Church Sunday School every week, she said.

Annie, who says she never has been out of Pitt county except for the two years she lived in Edgecombe county, was born on the Bob Smith farm near House station where she lived with her parents, one sister and two brothers. Her husband Charlie, who was also born in Pitt county, had over 25 brothers and sisters.

The eight children living at home with Annie and Charlie now are David, Sylvester, William Henry, Richard, Christine, Cora Bell, Annie Louise and Maggie Lee.

High Honor For Three Players

New York, May 9 —(AP)—Two great pitchers of the past and a modern-day second basemen will be honored as new members of baseball's Hall of Fame in July.

Mordecai Peter (Three Finger) Brown and Charles (Kid) Nichols have been selected by the Permanent Hall of Fame Committee. Charles Gehring has been picked by the Baseball Writers Association.

The permanent committee makes its selections from players who retired more than 25 years ago.

Dogs, Horses To Run In Currituck

Currituck, May 9 —(AP)—The dogs will be running in Currituck County this summer.

By a vote of nearly two to one citizens Saturday approved legalized dog and horse racing with pari-mutuel betting. The voters' approval clears the way for the construction of a race track one mile south on the Virginia line. Backers of the project said they plan dog races only this summer with horseracing being added later.

Currituck is the second North Carolina county to approve legalized races and betting. Cartaret now has a dog track in operation.

Cough-Drop Man Died Yesterday

Atlantic City, N.J., May 9 —(AP)—William H. Luden, originator of the menthol candy cough drop, died yesterday of a heart attack at the age of 90.

He retired from business in 1928 and was reported to have sold his interest for $6,500,000.

Futile Gesture

Saginaw, Mich., May 9 —(AP)—Catcher-Manager Bob Finley of the Saginaw Bears put in five pitchers in a row yesterday against the Grand Rapids Jets. None of them could stop the opposition.

Finally, in the last inning, with the Jets leading 15- and the bases loaded, Finley blew up.

He ripped off his catcher's mask, stalked to the mound and grabbed the pitcher's glove. In quick order he put out two batters and retired the side.

It was a futile gesture, however. The Bears couldn't tally in the bottom half and the game ended with the score still 15-4.

Sergeant York Seriously Sick

Pall Mall, Tenn., May 9 —(AP)—Sgt. Alvin O. York, 62-year-old hero of World War I, is in "serious" condition but refuses to go to a hospital.

Doctors said York suffered diarrhea, intense vomiting and a recurrence of colitis late last week. Members of the family said the congressional medal of honor winner also suffered a slight stroke, the second in a year.

NEGRO FARM WORKER DIED OF NATURAL CAUSES

Nathaniel Daman, 30-year-old Negro farm worker of Seven Pines, near Farmville, who was taken ill yesterday morning with pains in his chest, was taken to Dr. Joseph Smith's Clinic and died upon arrival there. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse quoted Dr. T. G. Basnight, acting county health officer, as saying Daman died of natural causes. There will be no inquest.

Greenies Drop Two Against Tarboro In Weekend Series

Win Second Game Of Sunday's Double-Header By 4-2 After Losing Opener 1-2; Athletics Win Saturday By 12-7

By BERT MOYE
The Tarboro Athletics took two of the three games against the Greenville Greenies during the past week-end with a 12 to 7 win on Saturday night over in Tarboro, and then on Sunday afternoon the Athletics and the Greenies split a double-header with the visitors taking the seven inning opener, 2 to 1, and the Greenies taking the night cap by a 4 to 2 victory.

Saturday's Game
The Tarboro Athletics took advantage of seven miscues on the part of the Greenies in Saturday night's game and scored an even dozen runs, ten of which were of the unearned variety, to whip the locals by a 12 to 7 margin.
The Athletics scored three runs in the first frame on two singles, a stolen base, coupled with three errors to get a lead, but the Greenies came back in the second to knot the count at three-all on two walks, two hits and an error.

The Athletics came back in the third, after the game had been halted 45 minutes due to a heavy rain, and scored four runs on three hits and two errors to take the lead, after which they were never headed.

A tally in the fifth on an error, double, hit batsman and an infield out gave the Athletics what proved to be their winning run. They added two more in the sixth frame on a walk, sacrifice, single and a double and then two more in the eighth on a double, hit batsman and an error.

The Greenies scored one in the fifth, Williams' single, an error and Willie Mauney's double; two in the seventh on two singles a walk and an error; and ended their scoring spree in the ninth by scoring a tally on two walks, error and fly to deep centerfield by Steve Denier.

Bobby Harrison started on the mound for the Greenies but was relieved in the fifth frame after he had loaded the bases with none out. He gave up six hits, eight runs, struck out four and walked two. Jim Pollard pitched the rest of the way and gave up three hits, four runs, struck out one and walked one. Harvey Davis with two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate led the nine-hit attack off the two Greenville hurlers.

Bob Zick went the route for the Athletics, and gave up seven hits, with Willie Mauney getting a double and a single in five trips to pace the locals.

Sunday's Games

Manager Pappy Williams and his Greenville Greenies split their second in a series of double-headers here yesterday afternoon before one of the largest crowds to witness a home game this season with the Athletics taking the opener, 2 to 1 and the Greenies coming back to take night-cap by a 4 to 2 win.

In the first game, which was a seven-inning affair, the Athletics put across two runs in the first frame to coast to victory behind the four hit hurling of Tony Napoles.

The Greenies' lone run came in the sixth when John Tepedino singled into centerfield and advanced to second when the centerfielder muffed the ball. Pappy Williams got an infield hit to advance him to third, and then Willie Mauney flew out to deep centerfield with Tepedino scoring on the play.
Chris Romeo started on the mound for the Greenies, and although he allowed only three hits and their only two runs in the five frames he pitched, he was removed for a pinch hitter at the start of the sixth. Bobby Harrison pitched the remaining two frames and allowed only one hit and held them scoreless.

Manager Joe Antolick collected two of the four hits offered of the combined pitching of Romeo and Harrison while Bob Cohen with a double and a single got two of the four hits offered by Tony Napoles.

Bookie Art Mascarella pitched the Greenies to their win in the second game by hurling in a neat three-hitter for his first win of the season. For the first four frames he held the Athletics hitless and scoreless, but in the fifth sixth and seventh they garnered one hit in each of the three frames and scored their only runs of the game.

Greenville scored in the first frame without getting a hit. Paul Strauser walked, stole second, advanced to third on Tepedino's infield out, and scored on Cohen's infield out.

They added another marker in the third frame to go out front 3-0, when Mascarella led off with a single, Strauser sacrificed him to second and John Tepedino doubled to bring his home.

What proved to be their winning runs were made in the fourth frame when they tallied twice. Pete Gillespie reached first on error by centerfielder Floyd Moser, Joe Pasquale walked, Moe Carter singled into right centerfield with Gillespie coming home and Pasquale racing to third; Art Mascarella flew out to deep right field with Pasquale scoring on the out.

The Athletics used two hurlers in the game with Bob Broughman pitching the first four frames in which he allowed three hits and four runs. Garfield pitched one-hit ball and held the locals scoreless for the remaining four frames. The Greenies four hits were scattered among as many players with John Tepedino getting a double for the only extra base knock of the game.
Mascarella in addition to hurling three-hit ball, all of which were singles, he struck out a total of seven men and walked five.

Sidelights:—Of the five wins registered by the Tarboro Athletics this season, three of them have been won off the Greenies. . . . Bob Cohen, after hitting for twelve straight games, failed to hit in the second game yesterday, his first hitless game of the season. . . . Tarboro literally stole the first game of the double-header yesterday afternoon as the winning run was scored as a result of a stolen base. . . . Art Mascarella really pitched a beautiful ball game in the second game of the twin bill yesterday afternoon, holding the Athletics to three lone singles. It was his first win of the season as against one loss. . . . Tony Napoles, the veteran hurler of the Athletics, has won two games so far this season, both of them against Greenville. . . . Greenville had the largest crowd of the season on hand for the game yesterday with total paid admissions amounting to 1,781, exclusive of the season tickets used by the spectators.

Official figures released by the Howe News Bureau for the first five games played by the Greenies reveal that the Greenville club is leading the team batting with a .326 percentage; that the team fielding is in third place with a .944 percentage, with the New Bern Bears leading in team fielding with a .958 percentage. The individual batting of the club members shows that eight of the Greenies are hitting above the .300 mark. Bobby Harrison in two games has three hits in five trips to the plate for .600 pct; Bob Cohen in five games has 10 hits in 23 times at bat for a .435 base knock of the game. Mascarella in addition to hurling three-hit ball, all of which were singles, he struck out a total of seven men and walked five.

old and under and would like to see the home game of the Greenies here is your chance to do so. The Belk-Tyler Company in cooperation with the Greenville Baseball Club is selling a baseball shirt that will admit you to all the home games of the Greenies, provided of course you are accompanied by one of your parents. So hurry down to the Belk-Tyler store today and get that shirt and wear it whenever you go to the games here and you will be admitted free.

Much unfavorable comment has been heard by your columnist in regard to the young people of our city attending the games and running all over the grandstand, hitting bottles against the stands, or otherwise causing much confusion during the progress of a game. To you parents taking your children to the games please from now on try to make them sit still during the game as it causes no end of a nuisance to the fans trying to witness a game.

Olympia Skips Preakness After Big Upset In Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 9 —(AP)—Olympia will not start in the Preakness at Baltimore Saturday. His trainer, Ivan Parke, said the favorite that finished sixth in last Saturday's Kentucky Derby will be flown to New York instead.

"We just decided to pass it (the Preakness) up," he said. While Olympie was readied for travel to New York, crafty old Ben Jones, the Missouriian who trained Ponder, the surprise Derby winner got ready to take his latest pride and joy to Baltimore for a crack at the $75,000 added Preakness.

This second "jewel" in American racing's triple crown is set for Pimlico Saturday, where Ponder is going to have enough equine company to keep things quite interesting as the pace changes from Kentucky bourbon to Maryland rye. The Calumet Farm colt trimmed 13 rivals in the diamond jubilee Derby, including the heavily favored Olympie. Now the big question is whether the young upstart which never did anything until May 7, 1949, can do it again over the slightly shorter Preakness course.

Four of five other Derby horses are heading Pimlicoward, where several others are waiting for Maryland's biggest race. Around the barns at Churchill Downs there is a general opinion that Capot will be a large number in the Preakness.

Capot, Greentree Stable's ace was the one which went out with the fast-stepping Olympie in the blistering early Derby pace. There isn't much doubt that Capot cooked Olympie's goose, for he went out and ran with him from the start like nothing has done before this year.

Of course, it also chipped off Capot and gave the horse with the most left at the finish — Warren Wright's Ponder — the diamond studded gold cup. "We've got the horse to beat from

Weak-Hitting Senators Rack Up Seven-Game Winning Streak

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's not official yet, but there is a strong rumor the American League clubs are planning to ask for a congressional investigation of the Washington Senators — baseball variety.
They simply can't believe that the allegedly weak-hitting Senators, riding high on an amazing seven-game winning streak, have been using natural batting power.

They strongly suspect that President Clark Griffith, a well-known hobnobber with capitol brass, has been allowed free access to the secret atom bomb files in the Pentagon Building.

How else could anyone account for the 18 home runs hit by Washington players in the last nine games? Or the 70 hits in the Nats' last seven winning efforts.

Washington's double victory over the Indians in Cleveland yesterday was by far the most amazing stunt of the young season. Joe Kuhel's unpredictable not only whipped the world champions in the opener 7-3, but shut them out in the nightcap, 3-0 before 40,734 stunned Ohioans.

The double victory moved the Nats into a fifth place tie with Philadelphia's Athletics, only a half game away from the first division.

The New York Giants continued to humble the Chicago Cubs 10-1 for their sixth straight. The triumph gave the Polo grounders undisputed possession of first place, as the Pittsburgh Pirates socked the Braves twice in Boston, 8-3 and 11-8.

The Giants backed Larry Jansen's steady pitching with a 14-hit attack that included Bobby Thomson's three-run homer and Billy Rigney's two-run triple.

The double defeat dropped Boston out of a first place tie into third one and a half games behind the Giants. The Buc's clubbed Johnny Sain out of the first game with a five-hit four-run attack in the opening frame. They came up with a six-run eighth inning in the second game to overcome an 8-5 deficit.

Brooklyn scored four runs in a wild seventh inning to come from behind and defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-7, at Ebbets Field. The Dodgers made only two hits in that inning, but received three walks and benefited by Ed Kazak's error.

Clayton Kershaw led off the ninth with a triple, but Relief Pitcher Preacher Roe, former Redbird, retired the next three Cards without a scare. The defeat dropped the Cards into a last place tie with the Cubs.

Cincinnati and the Phillies divided a double header in Philadelphia. The Reds won the opener 14-7 with a seven-run 12th inning. The Phils grabbed the nightcap, 8-1. The game was halted after six innings by Pennsylvania's curfew law.

Lefty Tommy Byrne allowed only two hits pitching the American League leading New York Yankees to a 12-0 shutout victory over the Tigers before more than 52,000 fans in Detroit. The Yankees got 17 safeties, including four by Tommy Renrich, to snap Virgil Trucks' four game winning streak. The Bronx Bombers now have won 16 of their 19 games.

Chapter 15

The subdued children were clustered in the trailer when Jason came in from the store. He was tired, jubilant because having a job made him feel important, and hungry because he was—in spite of his job and his feeling of importance—a growing boy with a healthy appetite.

Felicity put his supper on the table and he sat down, his eyes roving contentedly over his family before he frowned and demanded, "Why, where's Tippy?"

"She's visiting Susan Fleming for a few days," said Felicity awkwardly.

Jason laughed and his eyebrows went up.

"Oh, my gosh—there'll be no living with her after that!" he commented dryly, and went on with his supper.

"If things work out the way Mrs. Fleming wants them to, we won't have to try living with her any more," said Felicity, setting her teeth hard.

Jason stared. What he saw in her face made him lay his fork down and say sharply, "What are you talking about, Fliss?"

"The Fleming lady wants to adopt Tippy," Denny burst out savagely. "She wanted me to stay, too—"

"Adopt?" Jason was incredulous. "Adopt? What is this? Who's going to adopt Tippy? I never heard anything so crazy."

"Mrs. Fleming is fond of Tippy and wants her as an adopted sister to Lanny, Mrs. Fleming's little son," said Felicity. "And Tippy wanted to stay."

and anyway, it's a swell part. I will send you some money along—maybe not a whole lot to put up the sort of front expected of a successful actor. The trailer resounded with their hubbub until Garrett came over to investigate and the news was relayed to him, whereupon he, too, joined in the celebration.

"And just think, Garry—it's the lead. A starring part, really," Felicity gloated. "Isn't that marvelous?"

Garrett said unexpectedly, "Funny—happiness is a great beautifier. Fliss, you're lovely when your eyes shine like that, and there's such a pretty color in your cheeks."

"You—you're being foolish, Garry. I'm not pretty at all. My nose turns up at the end and I've got freckles and—well, the nicest thing you can say about me is that I'm sensible!"

"Tommyrot! The nicest thing I can say about you is that you're about the loveliest, grandest, most exciting person I ever met!" said Garrett almost huskily. And without waiting for her to answer, he turned and went swiftly out.

Felicity sat for a long time staring straight before her, wide-eyed, shaken. Only a few hours ago, Garrett had called her "darling," and now he said she was lovely and exciting. She reveled in that last. Exciting! That was what people said about girls who were lovely and glamorous—like Susan Fleming! And Garrett had said it about her—Felicity Horne!

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by Luther Thomas Hunter and wife, Ledora Hunter, to J. W. H. Roberts, Trustee, dated April 6th, 1943 and recorded in Book W-23 at page 671 of the Pitt County Registry; default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, and foreclosure having been demanded by the owner of the said debt and secured by said deed of trust, under the terms of the said conveyance, for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, I will on the 9th day of June, 1949, offer for sale at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, at the Pitt County Court House door in the City of Greenville, the property conveyed by said deed of trust, and described as follows:

Beginning at a stake on the north side of Colonial Street at the southeast corner of Lot No. 4 in Block "J", and running north along the line of Lot No. 4 and Lot No. 5, 125 feet to the southwest corner of Lot No. 11, in Block "J"; thence east along the line of Lot No. 11 and Lot No. 5, 40 feet to the northwest corner of Lot No. 6; thence south and parallel with Ford street along the line of Lot No. 6 and Lot No. 5, 125 feet to the beginning, it being Lot No. 5 in Block "J", of the Riverdale Subdivision.

A ten per cent deposit will be required to show good faith on the part of the successful bidder, pending confirmation.

This the 9th day of May, 1949.
 J. W. H. ROBERTS, Trustee
 Dink James, Atty.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION

THE MORE WE PRODUCE THE MORE WE CAN SHARE

Everybody benefits under our American way of life. We produce twice as much today as we did in 1910. And income per household has jumped from under $2400 to about $4000 (in dollars of similar purchasing power). But it takes labor, plus management, plus bank credit, to get these results. By pulling together under our free enterprise system—workers, businessmen and bankers can make production hit a new peak.

Republicans Plan Harvest Farm Votes In Elections

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The Republican party has begun breaking ground in hopes of a harvest of farm votes in the congressional elections next year and in the presidential campaign of 1952.

Hugh D. Scott Jr., GOP national committee chairman, said today he expects that a party "grass roots" meeting to be held this fall in the Midwest, probably at Des Moines, will draw up a Republican farm program.

Simultaneously, Governor Frank Carlson of Kansas told a reporter the Truman Administration's proposed new farm program "fails to answer" the farmers' problems and "it now is up to the Republican party to come forward with a workable program."

Carlson conferred with Scott in Washington last week. He said today he will attend the "grass roots" meeting.

Meanwhile, some Republicans

Four Face Trial In Free-For-All

Atlanta, May 8—(AP)—Four servicemen held in connection with a near-trial in the heart of Atlanta go on trial tomorrow in Recorder's court.

Three soldiers and a marine are charged with suspicion of assault and battery. Charges grew out of a rough and tumble free-for-all on famed Peachtree street Saturday night. About 150 civilians and service men joined in the melee.

Facing trial are Pvt. Gerald Myrnat, 21; Pvt. Earl Kammer, 19; and Donald J. Weider, all of Fort Banning, and Marine Ralph D. Kammer, 18 of Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Police Lt. J. B. Harper gave this account of the brawl:

The mix-up began when he and patrolman R. W. Edmondson ordered two men arguing in front of a theater to "break it up." A nearby Air drill was so noisy they asked the men to go to the patrol car with them to discuss the argument. Earl Kammer and Myrnat accompanied the officers to the car.

The marine dashed up and shouted: "That's my brother and you're not going to lock him up."

"Someone referred to the marine as a soldier and the fight was on," said Harper.

The officer said his gun accidentally fired during the fight, but no one was injured.

He's Day Dreaming

Latrobe, Pa., May 8—(AP)—If 10-year-old Andy Tompos, Jr., day dreamed at his school desk today, no one could blame him much.

When a guy's prayers for the return of his mother are answered, readin' writin' and 'rithmetic just don't seem so important for the moment.

You see, Andy had a mother all alone, but five years ago she disappeared, leaving the youngster to live with his grandparents. His father vanished before Andy was born.

Four weeks ago Andy thought of the Easter rabbit and—filled with the infinite faith of childhood—wrote a letter to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

"Everyone who has a mother has good luck," he wrote. "Maybe my Easter bunny will bring me my mother."

Andy's letter was printed and miles away—in another city—the little boy's mother read that letter in a newspaper.

"I just went limp all over," she said later. "I've never forgotten the boy. I never could."

She sat down and wrote Andy a letter, telling him she had a new daddy and a baby brother for him. Arrangements were made for Andy to fly to a Mother's Day reunion with her.

He took with him the biggest Mother's Day card he could find and signed it—"I love you, Andy."

And now Andy is back at school in Latrobe. He'll stay here until the summer vacation, then he'll rejoin his mother, his new father and his baby brother.

N. C. Lost 6,500 To Unemployed

Raleigh, N. C., May 8—(AP)—North Carolina lost 6,500 workers to the ranks of the unemployed last month.

Statistician C. H. Pritchard of the state department of labor, said over the weekend the figure represented a decline of 1.9 per cent in the ranks of the state's employed.

Small increases in employment in six industry groups in April were more than offset by employment drops in 12 other industries.

Industries laying off workers were: textile mills, 5,296; lumber and timber products, 1,201; Stone, clay and glass products, 310; chemicals, 309; pulp and paper, 101; iron and steel, 99; leather products, 80; automobile equipment, 61; machinery, 36; rubber products 19; apparel 16; miscellaneous 13.

Industries employing more workers were: Food products, tobacco, furniture, transportation equipment, printing and publishing and non-ferrous metals.

Judge Roberts Bears Down On Law Violators

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts found Willie Lee Seaman guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and fined him $75 and ordered the weapon confiscated.

Albert W. Brinson, driving drunk, was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year.

Roy D. Savage, colored, and Henry J. Grady, each paid $20 for speeding.

Raymond Lee Tucker, colored, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, was fined $25 and costs and $50 doctor's bill. Willie Lee Seaman paid $25 for the same offense. Oct Blount, colored, paid $50 and $10 doctor's bill.

Willie Brown, colored, paid $10 for crashing a red light.

The case against Arthur J. Morrie, colored, charged with reckless driving and not having an operator's license, was not prosessed with leave.

Sylvester Vick paid $15 for being drunk.

don't see Washington again; the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials the Washington Monument, the White House.

This isn't the liveliest year the Capitol has seen. The doings in Congress have been slow, and newsmen are complaining that this is a dull Congress, for they don't look now for big events.

But the trees are green, flowers are in bloom, girls are coming out in their summer dresses, and it's still too early to get fried by the Washington summer sun.

ATTENDED KENTUCKY DERBY

Leo F. Burks, local tobacconist, who attended the Kentucky Derby in Louisville Saturday, returned here today. He said the famous racing event was one of the most spectacular races he ever witnessed and the winning horse caused a complete upset. North Carolina and Pitt county were well represented at the track, Burks said.

RETAINS POSITION

Lake Success, May 8—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected president of the U. N. commission on human rights today.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 8—(AP)—The grain market simply drifted along in an aimless manner today. For a time wheat showed a little strength while feed grains slumped a bit. But even that distinction was erased later when wheat declined and corn advanced. Prices changes in all pits were small and dealings light.

Wheat closed 3/4-1/2% lower, May $2.21-1/2, corn was unchanged to 1/4 higher, May $1.32-1/4, oats were 1/4-1/2% lower, May 66-66 1/2, rye was 1 to 1 1/4 lower, May $1.26, soybeans were unchanged to 1/4 lower, May $2.28 1/4-1/2, and lard was 5 cents lower to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.62.
