

More Debate On Germany, Japan By State Dept.

Officials Wonder If Moving Too Far And Too Fast In Shifting Policies

Washington, May 13 — (AP) — The State Department appears headed for a new debate on whether it is moving too far and too fast in shifting American policies in Germany and Japan. The shift is from postwar "toughness" to peacetime reconstruction.

Officials are admittedly aware that every move they make to put the two former enemy countries back on a self-sustaining basis and give them increasing self-government is subject to criticism. The criticism is sounded both here and abroad, frequently on the issue of a "tough" versus "soft" policy.

The latest of such moves came yesterday when the State Department announced that reparations removals of industrial equipment from Japan had been halted in the interest of rebuilding that country's peace-time economy.

The announcement paralleled a joint move last month by the United States, Britain and France—a move which this country initiated in striking 159 plants from the list of those earmarked for removal from Germany as reparations.

That action also was explained by the determination of the western powers, at American urging, to get the German economy on a paying basis again and enable it to contribute needed goods to European recovery under the Marshall Plan.

The action with respect to Japan was taken without prior consultation with the 10 other nations which make up the policy-forming Far Eastern Commission. The commission members have thus far been unable to agree on a common Japanese reparations policy.

The State Department said this disagreement made it necessary for the United States to act alone in this instance. Diplomats said it was certain the action would be bitterly attacked by some of the other countries on the commission.

The attack is expected on the grounds that (1) the American decision shuts off reparations which those countries need for their own reconstruction and (2) this country is pushing Japan's reconstruction too fast.

Report Drop In Building Costs

Greensboro, May 13—(AP)—The cost of building a home in North Carolina has dropped more in the last two months than in any similar period since the end of World War II.

The state office of the Federal Housing Administration reported that yesterday, with figures to back it up.

Said James P. McRae, state FHA director: It costs about six per cent less to build a Tar Heel home now than it did two months ago. The total decline since the first of the year has been 9.5 per cent. This year's downturn continues, although the warm-weather building boom is approaching.

Chemical Blast In Holland Tunnel

New York, May 13—(AP)—A truck load of drums of chemicals exploded in the Holland tunnel today, filling the underground highway with carbon disulfide fumes. Thirty persons were overcome, including 20 firemen.

The explosions, touched off when the truck caught fire, occurred in the tunnel's East bound tube at 7:55 a. m. EST, at the height of the heavy morning traffic. The tube links Jersey City with Manhattan.

The Accomplishments

This Year's Regular Session Of Congress More Than Half Over; Nothing Accomplished On Major Legislation Except Extension Of Rent Control; Score

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 13—(AP)—This is a good time to call the roll on Congress.

It's mid-May, with this year's regular session of Congress more than half over.

Except for renewing rent control, this Democratic Congress hasn't finished any major item in President Truman's promised program.

And yesterday Senator Taft of Ohio, one of the jockeys of the Republicans in Congress, predicted defeat for a large part of the program.

At this point there seems a better chance for his prediction to come true than for a large part of the Truman program.

Take a look at the score:

Housing—The Senate has passed a bill to provide government housing for low income groups. The House is expected to do the same. So this probably will become law.

Labor—The House trampled the new labor bill which Mr. Truman and organized labor wanted to replace the Taft-Hartley Act. Neither House has passed a new bill yet. Maybe neither will. If Congress does act, it almost certainly will produce a new labor law lots different from the one Mr. Truman asked. Medical insurance—In spite of all the hullabaloo about compulsory medical insurance, and Mr. Truman's prodding of Congress, this seems to have no chance of passing. Minimum wage—Mr. Truman and his lieutenants wanted Congress to raise the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75, besides making some other changes in the minimum wage law. If Congress acts on this, it probably will raise the wage to less than 75 cents.

(Under the law an employer whose product crosses state lines must not pay his employees less than 40 cents an hour. That minimum was set back in 1940 when living was a lot cheaper than now.)

Social security—Mr. Truman wanted social security pay raised and more people given the benefit of social security. This is still buried in the works in Congress. You'll have to guess whether anything will be done about it at all.

Civil rights—This seems like a gone goose. The Senate wrangled over it for weeks early this session

GHS Student Government Officials Assume Office

Pictured above are the officers of the Greenville high school student government for the coming year who took the oath of office yesterday at an assembly program at the high school. Six officers who will lead the Greenville high school student government next year took the oath of office yesterday at an assembly of the student body.

Principal O. E. Dowd gave the oath of office to Dwight Garrett, president elect for 1949-50, who in turn administered the oath of office to Vice President Billy Brady, Treasurer Mitchell Saleed, Secretary Margaret Fleming, and Roving Representative Glenn Scott and Mary Ann Stark.

Rufus Stark, student body president for the past year, outlined the duties of the officers, and Principal Dowd praised the fine work done by the student government in the high school during the past nine months, and pointed out the responsibility which rests upon the student officers for the coming year.

Newly elected president Dwight Garrett presented a gavel to outgoing president Rufus Stark in token of appreciation of the student body for the work Stark has done as head of the student government.

The officers for the year 1949-50 were elected at the annual spring elections held May 6 at the high school.

Conservatives scored thumping victories over the ruling labor party in today's results of town council elections.

City voters throughout England and Wales turned sharply to the right in the voting regarded as a dress rehearsal for labor's general election next year.

British Press Association returns from 302 Boroughs outside of London showed that the Conservatives held 2,245 of the 3,213 council seats and labor had only 296. This was a gain of 670 the Tories, a loss of 580 for the labor party.

In London labor held on to reduced majorities in nine Boroughs but lost four to the conservatives. One of those won by the Tories was Wandsworth, heavily unionized "gas-house district,"—the labor stronghold which elected Foreign Secretary Bevin in Parliament.

Communists were re-elected to only six council seats in London, all of them in districts of Whitechapel in the East end. Elsewhere Communist candidates were wiped out.

A labor party spokesman said that while the election results so far "are very grave," they did not form a reliable forecast of the 1950 general elections.

In council elections, he said, voters usually ignore issues and vote for personalities.

liberty without bond, on charges of being illegally in this country.

One reason for her re-arrest was that the government wished to question her about the flight of Eisler, 52-year-old admitted Communist, as a stowaway on a Polish vessel. The Justice department said that immigration service officials in New York had been instructed to detain Mrs. Eisler on Ellis Island.

Except for the principle of the thing, the government could save quite a bit of money by just ignoring Eisler's flight while under charges looking to his deportation.

Eisler owes this country time in prison for violating its laws while living here as an alien guest.

And while the department frankly will be delighted to exclude him from the United States forever, it insists upon doing this through the regular procedures: by a deportation action which already is in motion.

Hence, elaborate arrangements have been completed for interception of the stowaway aboard the Polish liner Batory—now on the Atlantic—who has identified himself as Eisler. These arrangements call for his prompt return to America.

Lawmakers Face Opposition Over Expense Account

Passed Proposal To Boost Expense Money In Face Of Economy Demands

Washington, May 13—(AP)—House members today pondered the possibility that they might have to stand up and be counted on a proposal to boost their own expense money in the face of loud demand for economy.

Not a voice was raised in opposition yesterday as a bill to boost members' allowances for clerk hire and communications sailed through the House. But afterwards it ran into some storm clouds.

Several House members protested indignantly that they hadn't been told the bill was to be voted on. A single objection would have blocked passage—and they made it very clear that they would have objected. There were fewer than 100 lawmakers on the floor when the bill passed.

It faces no apparent trouble in the Senate, for each body of Congress respects the financial arrangements made to the other. The house didn't object, for instance when the Senate voted its members $10,000-a-year executive assistants.

The House measure would give each member $500 a year for communications expenses and an extra $3,000 for clerical hire. They now have no fixed communications allotment and a top of $9,500 for clerk hire.

Most incensed of the lawmakers who found out about the bill too late were Reps. Keefe (R-Wis) and Church (R-Ill), both members of the Appropriations Committee.

Both served notice that they will

Run-Off Monday

The run-off second primary for alderman in the fifth ward will be held Monday with James S. Jenkins and Dal Cox, high candidates in the first primary, seeking the post on the city governing body.

In the first primary less than two weeks ago Jenkins received 176 votes, Cox 170 votes, and Jesse Boyd, third place candidate, 144 votes.

Eggs In Color

Philadelphia, May 13—(AP)—How will you have your eggs—blue, pink or yellow?

Pastel colored hen's eggs to match your breakfast china may be a regular grocery item in the near future, says Horace P. Beck, who is pioneering an experiment to bring glamour to the egg basket.

Beck, an instructor of English at Community College of Temple University, now has a hen that lays turquoise blue eggs. He places a $10 value on one pretty blue egg—or $120 a dozen. But he says mass production would slash prices.

The English professor got into the pastel egg business when he read an article about Araucanian chickens, natives of Chile, — a remote province of Chile.

Beck says chicken fanciers have learned that breeding Araucanians with ordinary chickens yields eggs in nice shades of pink and yellow.

Bullet Ends Life On Street Bench

T. W. Ellington, 35, Apparent Suicide On Dickinson Ave.

A bullet from a 380 calibre automatic pistol snuffed out the life of Thurston W. Ellington, 35, shortly after noon today in front of Yank's pool room on Dickinson Avenue.

Police Chief Lester D. Page said Ellington apparently shot himself about 12:30 while sitting on a bench in front of the pool room. Dr. D. B. Armistead pronounced him dead on arrival at the hospital a few minutes before 1 o'clock.

County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said the bullet entered the right temple and came out the top of the victim's head. Powder marks which indicated the gun was fired at close range were found on the victim's head, the coroner said.

Ellington is survived by his wife, Frances Williams Ellington, and one daughter, Margaret Ann Ellington, aged nine, who live at 302 Vance Street, Greenville.

Witnesses at the pool room said Ellington came to the pool room and asked for the manager, "Red," who was out for lunch, and then went outside, sat on the bench and apparently shot himself.

Reports said Ellington was a power line worker who was employed by construction companies.

Police Chief Page and Coroner Rouse are continuing investigation of the case.

House Committee Unanimously Approves Measure

Washington, May 13—(AP)—The House Armed Services Committee unanimously approved today a bill to boost the pay of members of the armed forces.

The vote was 28 to 0 after Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) read a letter from Defense Secretary Louis Johnson approving the measure and stating that the Budget Bureau, speaking for the President, has no objection.

The bill, estimated to cost $406,000,000 a year, probably will go before the House for debate late this month.

It is expected to run into a barrage of opposition from members urging economy on all federal spending fronts.

The bill would boost pay for the next to lowest enlisted grade by about 30 per cent, and soon up to almost a 50 per cent raise for generals and admirals.

The raises would average approximately 14 per cent, with every-but the bottom enlisted grade getting an increase.

In explanation, Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) chairman of the subcommittee which held public hearings on the bill, told the full committee:

"It is no exaggeration to state that the recruit, comparatively speaking, is the highest paid man in the uniformed services if we are willing to accept the theory of pay for rank and responsibility."

He declared the armed services are losing out in competition with private industry for competent high-ranking officers.

Only two Communist members and four extreme left wing Laborites said "No."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, in a speech termed "wise and prudent" by his political foe, Winston Churchill, hailed the pact as a safeguard against war. He said such a treaty probably would have prevented the world wars of 1914 and 1939.

He denied the Atlantic pact is "an aggressive thing" as charged by Russia and her allies.

Conservative Leader Churchill, saying he found himself "in very general agreement" with Bevin, praised the role of the United States in formulating the defense alliance and in world affairs generally.

Continuing his thanks to the United States Churchill said, "It is the hope of mankind that your valiant and self-sacrificing program will avert a third world war."

Bevin, speaking for the Labor government, gave credit to the pact as one decisive measure leading to Russia's lifting of the Berlin blockade. The new situation, created by the treaty, may lead to a "final settlement" with the Soviet, he said.

In reply Churchill said, "I am glad the lifting by the Soviet government of the blockade of Berlin was not taken by him (Bevin) as the occasion."

West Accused Of Evading Promises

Roar Of Battle Rapidly Nearing City Of Shanghai

Shanghai, May 13—(AP)—The roar of battle could be heard today at Wusong harbor and Lungwha airfield. Shanghai's remaining links with the world.

Two Communist prongs crept closer to the city. Government troops stoutly resisted. Red Gen. Chen Yi was driving hard to take Shanghai or close a siege ring around it.

One battle raged southwest of the city some 15 miles from Lungwha airport. Lungwha is at the southwest edge some 10 miles from the heart of the city. The scene of this battle was around the village of Sungkiang, on the Shanghai-Hangchow railroad.

Another developed to the northwest around the village of Tainsang, a stone's throw from the south bank of the Yangtze and just north of the Shanghai-Nanking railroad. Red lines there appear to be about 20 miles from Shanghai and somewhat less from Wusong.

Wusong is where the narrow Whangpoo River pours into the Yangtze and where ships from Shanghai pass through a narrow channel to the Yangtze and the sea. It is about eight miles north of Shanghai. Wusong harbor and the Whangpoo form the city's main artery. It could not live long if it were cut.

Lungwha's loss would cut Shanghai's air link. There are three other airfields but they are even more exposed than Lungwha.

The Shanghai garrison communique today said the Reds had struck on the northwest with three divisions. The Nationalists were reported holding their own in some places and falling back in others. The area has a depth defense and if resistance is resolute it might take the Communists a long time to come through.

The drive from the southwest seems to be less spread out. It is concentrated in a single spearhead along the railroad to Hangchow. From that direction the railroad commands everything—the airfield, upper reaches of the Whangpoo River and all important entrances to Shanghai.

Witnesses at the pool room said Ellington came to the pool room and asked for the manager, "Red," who was out for lunch, and then went outside, sat on the bench and apparently shot himself.

Reports said Ellington was a power line worker who was employed by construction companies.

Police Chief Page and Coroner Rouse are continuing investigation of the case.

Southern Coal Operators Agree To Talk Terms

Washington, May 13—(AP)—John L. Lewis and the southern coal mine operators agreed today to begin negotiations on a new union mining contract at Bluefield, W. Va., May 15.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, announced the agreement after conference with Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers.

The southern group represents miners producing about one third of the national bituminous coal output.

The present coal mining contract expires June 30.

Atlantic Pact Ratified By House Of Commons

London, May 13—(AP)—Labor and conservative members of the House of Commons joined last night to ratify the North Atlantic treaty by the overwhelming vote of 333 to 6.

Only two Communist members and four extreme left wing Laborites said "No."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, in a speech termed "wise and prudent" by his political foe, Winston Churchill, hailed the pact as a safeguard against war. He said such a treaty probably would have prevented the world wars of 1914 and 1939.

proviso. Such collaboration calls for a spirit of amity. And it calls for non-interference in each other's internal affairs.

This touches a difficulty which frequently has put a strain on Russo-American relations ever since the establishment of the Soviet government. Washington refused to recognize the new Russian state until 1988 because of Moscow's persistent efforts to spread Communism in the United States by means of propaganda and the employment of Red agents.

Britain, which recognized the Soviet in 1924, encountered similar Communist activities and made frequent raids on the Russian trade company's headquarters in London. Finally London broke off relations in 1927 and didn't resume

Spanish Teacher Speaker At Annual BPW Club Banquet

The Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club's annual banquet, at which the members' "bosses" were invited, was an elaborate affair at the Woman's Club last night. Miss Gladys King, Spanish instructor at East Carolina Teachers' College, gave a dramatic and interesting description of Mexican life, reciting incidents during her two years' residence in Mexico City as a teacher at Mexico City College. Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson presented the speaker.

Mrs. Thornton Meeks, president of the club, welcomed the guests. Her father, Ernest L. Willard, president of the Rotary Club, responded.

Mrs. Georgia James, honorary life member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, was given special recognition. The "bosses" wives were special guests. President Arthur Tripp of the Kiwanis Club and Mrs. Tripp and President Ernest L. Willard of the Rotary Club and James Fleming, head of the department of foreign language at ECTC were special guests. The men's wives were invited to accompany them.

Attention was called to the annual convention of the State Association of Women's Clubs at Atlantic Beach June 17-19. The Nominating Committee's report of officers for the coming year was unanimously approved. Prizes were awarded two guests.

New officers are Mrs. Thornton Meeks, re-elected president; Frances Tucker, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Renfro, recording secretary; Mrs. Louise Corrigan, treasurer, and Miss Annie Turner, corresponding secretary.

The expression "to the bitter end" has a nautical origin. A ship's anchor chain, at point where it was fastened to a vertical timber called the bitt was known as the bitter end. Thus, when the chain has been played out to "the bitter end," there's nothing more that can be done.

Presbyterian Men's Club Enjoys Outing

On Wednesday the Mens Club of the First Presbyterian Church enjoyed a most delightful outing in the nature of a Fish Fry at the Ficklen camp located near Bath. Due to very bad weather conditions a good number of our men missed this fine occasion, but the 48 who did brave the elements were well rewarded, with fine fellowship, good singing and plenty of good food and drinks.

The club wishes to thank the Ficklens for the use of the camp and especially to L. M. Roebuck and Robert Nichols who so capably looked after our needs. Ken Beatty did a bang-up job in getting and preparing the food with the able assistance of Cecil Jones, Preston Smith and Bruce Baxter.

We were happy to have as guests of the club Messrs. Ray Waters, Milton Dixon, Ed Campbell, Buddy Morris, Cecil Barnes, John Grier Dr. Hassell and Judge Jimmy Roberts.

Our next monthly meeting will be held in June and due notice as to time and date will be announced at the Mens Bible Class and also through the press.

Ayden Mother Chosen 'Queen' And Awarded Contest Prizes

Ayden—Climaxing an evening of entertainment, Mrs. H. M. "Fannie" Stokes was crowned "Queen Mother" at a gala Lions club show staged in the Ayden school auditorium last Friday night.

After being chosen as Queen Mother of Ayden, Mrs. Stokes received numerous prizes including household articles, table lamps, pictures, a complete spring outfit from head to toe, and trade-in values in groceries and dry cleaning. In addition she will receive a sightseeing trip to Raleigh, a dinner at the Sir Walter hotel, and will see the show of her choice.

Mrs. H. M. "Fannie" Stokes of Ayden holds the crown with which she was crowned "Queen Mother" of Ayden last Friday night at a show sponsored by the Ayden Lions club. As "Queen Mother," Mrs. Stokes received prizes which included household articles, a complete spring outfit from head to toe, pictures and a table lamp.

The five runners up in the "Queen Mother" contest received prizes which brought the total value of items given in the contest to more than $500.

The crowning followed a varied program of entertainment presided over by Master of Ceremonies "Boy" Henry. Highlighting the show were musical renditions by Cecil Ellington of Greenville on the saxophone with Frank Casey and his accordion, and Miss Manning of Greenville on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Miller of Washington at the piano.

The Rev. W. M. Brunson gave a history of the origin of Mothers Day during the program.

A spokesman for the Ayden Lions club expressed appreciation to the Ayden and Greenville merchants who donated gifts for the queen, and to radio station WGTC. The Daily Reflector and the Ayden Dispatch for cooperating in the program.

Proceeds from the show will go into the club's fund for underprivileged children and blind work, the spokesman said.

Mass Poisoning From Giant Eel

Guam, May 13—(AP)—Forty-five Filipinos on Saipan Island have been stricken dangerously ill from eating a huge eel.

Forty have been flown to army and navy hospitals here. Seven are near death. Twenty others are unconscious.

The five foot eel was speared Sunday at Saipan. The Filipino laborers, who considered eels a delicacy, staged a huge feast. Fifty-seven of them ate the eel meat.

Soon many became ill. Some started convulsions. Others' lungs filled with a fluid similar to that of pneumonia, doctors said.

Doctors at the Army's 22nd General Hospital here said the Filipinos seemed to be suffering from nerve poisoning that takes varying times to reach the nerve centers. Once it gets there it hangs on, one doctor said.

"The poison effect is like that bizarre stuff we read the Germans were ready to use in the war," another said.

The present theory is that the eel was poisoned by eating a minute shellfish.

Greenville Elks send a dozen or more boys to their camp each year. None were sent last year because of the prevalence of polio. Exalted Ruler Charles E. Blair stated.

The boys going to camp are Ola Forbes, Jr., Tom Forbes, Alvin Jolly, Dennis Bullock, Carl Kinion, McDonald Nichols, George Ippock, Billy Adams, William Eason, Harold Edwards, Albert Crawford and Carl Everett. They will make the trip by motor bus.

The Elks Lodge also voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop and to present a United States flag and staff and a troop unit flag to the Sea Scouts, a unit of the Senior Boy Scouts.

Leary said he would remain in the state until after the election on June 4 and supply Sparger with facts and figures for the campaign against the bond issue and gas tax increase.

Strike Closes Mill In Tarboro

Tarboro, May 13—(AP)—Hart Cotton Mill ceased operation today when 350 workers walked out.

The mill's contract with the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) expired last midnight. They said they were willing to extend the current wage rate six months.

Solon Threatens Seek Law Change

Washington, May 13—(AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) threatened today to seek a change in the law if the atomic energy commission doesn't deny student aid funds to Communists and fellow travelers.

Hickenlooper told a reporter he sees "no excuse" for the Commission's contributing about $3,600 yearly toward science studies by Hans Freistadt, admitted Communist doing graduate work in physics at the University of North Carolina.

Freistadt, described by Rep. Cole (R-NY) in the house yesterday as a friend of John Gates, Communist under indictment in New York, said in an interview he became a Communist after he was naturalized as a citizen several years ago. He is a native of Austria.

He was awarded an atomic energy commission (AEC) fellowship for study in the field of relativity, not involving work of a secret nature.

"Nothing was said in the application for the scholarship about political affiliation," Freistadt recalled. He also said:

"I consider myself a loyal citizen of the United States. I see no conflict between my loyalty to this country and my membership in the Communist party."

Hickenlooper said he will ask the Senate-House atomic committee to look over copies of such applications at a hearing next week.

HAYDN'S JOYFUL HEART
Someone asked the great composer Haydn why his religious music was so cheerful. "I cannot," he said, "make it otherwise; I write according to the thoughts I feel. When I think upon God, my heart is so full of joy that the notes dance and leap, as it were, from my pen. And since God has given me a cheerful heart, it will be pardoned me that I serve Him with a cheerful spirit."

And why should we not worship God with a cheerful spirit? The one continuous promise of the Bible, Old and New Testament alike is that when God gets hold of men's hearts, He gives them joy. We distort our religion when we make our faces long and our voices solemn and our words consoling. One of Satan's most subtle temptations is to make us believe that this sort of thing is God. The Bible insists that what is of God is good cheer, joy, peace, a radiant spirit.

No wonder Haydn wrote so cheerfully when he thought upon God. A consciousness of God's purpose makes even the most unmusical heart to sing. The note of joy runs through all our religion, and he who has "got religion" has, with it, laid hold on joy immeasurable.

THANK YOU

There is a phrase "nobles oblige." Friday, April 29, demonstrated this in its finest and highest manner. There was quality of bearing in the toll as well as the intermingling of friends and kinsmen.

We are tremendously proud and humbly prayerful—"for the greater the glory, the harder the strife." We want this dedicated edifice used properly, of course, at any time having as yet no maintenance fund beyond the task and the toll. It will, of course, require much thoughtful care, as to how to make it available with as small expenditure as current expenses demand. But nevertheless it is yours — Eastern Carolina.

Thank you for making, with us something so utterly transcendent in beauty. Ben Dixon MacNeill, one of our great journalists who was here 23 years ago wrote to the chapter—"this splendid piece (akin to the spires of Oxford in its influence) should be to other chapters and other communities, an inspiration and example."

Around Capitol Square

(Guest writer today is George C. Franklin, General Counsel for the North Carolina League of Municipalities, who reviews 1949 legislation affecting towns and cities in this state.)

REVIEW—A review of 1949 legislation affecting municipalities reveals that although many bills of importance were passed, their major problems were brushed off, and the welfare of North Carolina's urban citizens was not considered in the so-called Go-Forward program of the state.

True, the cities and towns through action of the 1949 Assembly will get a little more of the state-collected highway fund for urban streets and a trickle of funds from the state franchise tax on utilities, but nothing—absolutely nothing—was done to cure the ills of today's local governments. Even a bill to study their problems couldn't pass. No apparent consideration was given the fact that municipal governments face ever-increasing demands for services of all sorts and need financial aid through the return to them of certain taxes, or a portion thereof, to which they are by every rule of fairness and justice entitled—the gas tax, for instance—and by being made able to put their financing on a sound and broader basis through the exercise of Home Rule. Municipal governments are controlled by state statute, that is why, without the sanction of the state government and its legislatures, they are at a helpless standstill, and can do nothing to meet the demands of their taxpayers. So urban citizens lacking adequate streets, parking and traffic facilities, adequate garbage collection, etc., should take their gripes not to city hall but to the State Capitol and the halls of the General Assembly.

NO HELP—In all truth it cannot be said that North Carolina's urban citizens were aided by the 1949 legislature. To the contrary, they find themselves with precisely the same problems as the legislature had never met! Representative O. Arthur Kirkman of Guilford County in writing in Southern City on the fate of municipal legislation sponsored by the North Carolina League of Municipalities said: "Municipal legislation reached 'nary' a destination. It did start and got part of the way before it ran into muddy rural roads. It goes home a bit haggard but determined. See you in '51."

Here is a digest of 1949 legislation affecting municipalities:

STREETS—Although the municipalities introduced a bill asking for 1 cent of the 5 cent state tax for use on urban roads (called streets), which would have brought them some $6 or $7 million dollars annually, they were allotted $2.1-3 million dollars annually from state highway funds for those streets forming a part of the state highway or county highway system or farm-to-market roads. Unfortunately, this money will be spent by the Highway Commission and not by the municipal officials. Some call this an aid. Others, like the League, claim this doesn't even make a dent in the cities' need for street and traffic assistance.

Important is a bill relieving municipalities of the liability for injuries to persons for failure to maintain those streets or bridges over which the State Highway and Public Works Commission has assumed the responsibility for maintenance.

TAXES—The cities and towns asked for 1-2 of the 6 cent tax levied by the State on gross receipts of utilities—they got 3-4 of 1 percent which amounts to approximately $500,000 annually. Only minor changes were made in the intangibles tax, so the municipalities will continue to get a share of this beverage tax. Several new sections were added to the already muddled Schedule B license taxes—none materially aiding the towns. The request of the cities for a greater portion of this revenue, based on the sound contention that they are entitled to the revenue from this source because of the services which they, and not the state, are required to render the business covered by the levy, was cut off in committee.

BONDS—The 1938 Revenue Bond Act was re-enacted, with slight changes authorizing municipalities to issue revenue bonds for the acquisition, construction, improvement, and extension of revenue producing undertakings. Other acts extended time for issuance of already authorized bonds, tightened the supervision of the Local Government Commission over bond issues; authorized the investment, with Local Government Commission approval, of proceeds from sale of bonds when use of such funds are not immediately needed and authorized issuance of bonds to finance sewer systems and sewer disposal plants, and enabled imposition of service fees pledged to the liquidation of the bonds.

MISCELLANY—In the absence of Municipal Home Rule, dozens of other bills, too numerous to analyze in this column, were passed—many of a

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

It certainly would be interesting to know how many of you readers will conclude that I've gone a little mad in my mind today. I'm going to give you a recipe for pecan pie.

Of course the boys at Edwards Auto Supply will ride me for weeks. When I walk in five minutes late for work (and that's 7:35) instead of saying "Good morning," they'll say "Good afternoon, Betty Crocker."

But this business of handing out a recipe isn't a bit crazy. This one will appeal to housewives because it's so simple, and anyone who likes to eat will swear by it after one bite. Certainly you don't think I'd subject myself to the ribbing I'm sure to get if it weren't good.

This recipe is so simple that it doesn't even matter which ingredient you throw in the mixing bowl first. Just hit the bowl with these: Two eggs, one cup of sugar, one-half cup of crushed graham crackers, one tablespoon of butter, one teaspoon of vanilla, and one cup of pecans. Mix and bake in a greased pie pan at 350 degrees for a half hour.

The pie is sufficiently rich as is, but topping it with whipped cream adds a little class. Personally, I like it better without the cream.

Even if you have never even boiled water you realize that the success of a pie is usually determined by the quality of the crust. The graham mechanical nature. Two related to libraries, several to elections, one of which authorizes municipalities and counties to acquire and use automatic voting machines; another authorized counties to defer quadrennial assessment of real property for 1949 and 1950; other deals with workmen's compensation laws, the Local Government Employment System, Marketing Advances, Beer and Wine; Purchasing procedures; Police Building Permits; smoke control; setting limits within municipalities; legalizing city jails (did you know municipalities have never had the legal right to repair, maintain and erect jails?) the appointment of Deputy City Clerks; Social Security; Vital Statistics; Fairs, Recreation, Health, Hospitals; Armories, Cemeteries; Warrants; Firemen's Relief Fund; Zoning; Criminal Law, etc.

Is there better evidence of the need for cities to get an amendment submitted to the people of North Carolina giving more Home Rule to the towns and cities than all these bills on local government?

Municipalities and their citizens do not condemn the Legislature for giving so little thought to their problems. What's happened is water over the dam. It is, however, their earnest hope that future legislatures will change their thinking from that of 1949's rural to urban-rural, for without prosperity for the whole there can be none for the part!

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—It is night out and a cold spring rain is falling. And the darkness outside is matched by an equal darkness in my mind.

Before me on our antique walnut desk (Grand Rapids, Circa 1938) is spread a paper of doom. It is covered with scrawled figures of financial disaster.

Across America at this moment, in homes and hotel rooms, probably 100,000 fellow citizens are staring at similar disheartening documents. And they have the same problem I do. They are filling out expense accounts. And what they are trying to do is to stay out of bankruptcy. The object is to break even. But how can you?

I have just come back from a trip. And where did the money go? For the life of me I can't figure it out. I must have been throwing it away with my feet. Yet I don't remember renting any dance bands, buying Brooklyn Bridge, or bathing in champagne.

But I can't account on paper for much more than half the money I drew for the trip.

All roving newspapermen and traveling salesmen have the same trouble. Who started this nonsense about calling an expense account a "swindle sheet"? The difficulty is in keeping it from swindling you.

Why don't schools prepare a youth for life as it must be lived? I remember frittering away my time in arithmetic on problems like: "If John sold Jasper four apples for three cents each and sold Ned eight apples at the rate of three for a quarter, how much would he have if Jim didn't buy any apples at all?"

What they should have is a class in how to fill out expense accounts. And the teacher ought to be "Yellow Kid" Weil, the retired confidence man.

There should also be taught two standards of honesty. One would hold in all general dealings with your fellow man. The other, a more elastic standard, would hold in accountings you have to wives and employers.

All my life I have yearned for the expense account freedom of the old-fashioned lobbyists. It would be nice to be able, as they did in simple days of Yore, to climb out of the red by putting down such miscellaneous items as:

"Three state legislators, purchased for entire session at $75 each—total $225."

Only bold men avoid losing their own money in filling out office swindle sheets. I recall the day we hit the beaches of Africa with assault troops. That night we all slept in a roadside ditch.

By dawn's early light next morning I espied a newsreel comrade sitting on a rock and trying out his expense account. The opening item said: "Hotel room for first night in Africa—$3." There was a man to remember.

The most innocent man with an expense account I know of was a photographer who turned in an item of $2 for transportation to the Yankee stadium.

"You could have ridden there on the subway for a dime!" screamed his boss.

"I did," said the photographer. "But didn't you expect me to tip the motorman?"

State Crop For '48 Had Third Highest Cash Value

Raleigh, N.C., May 13—(AP)—A record average acre yield helped North Carolina tobacco growers realize the third highest sum on record from the 1948 crop. The state's production of 756,684,000 pounds last year returned growers $376,447,000, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said yesterday in revised estimates.

Value of the crop was exceeded only by the figure of $457,638,000 for 1946; $380,848,000 for 1947. The average acre yield for flue-cured tobacco last year was 1,245 pounds and for burley tobacco, 1,880 pounds. The state's largest cotton crop since 1944 put the one-time "king" back into second place last year among cash crops, the service reported in another summary. Final estimates on cotton placed a value of $121,025,000 on 1948 production of lint and cottonseed. This was $33,148,000 more than the 1947 value. Corn, which had been running second to tobacco as a cash crop, fell to third. The estimated value of corn production was $103,509,000. The cotton report put 1948 lint production at 687,000 bales last year, 52 per cent above the 452,000 bales produced in 1947 and the largest crop since 1944. Cottonseed production last year was 282,000 tons, compared with 177,000 tons in 1947. The tobacco report set flue-cured production last year at 739,380,000 pounds, off 17.1 per cent from 1948. It was the smallest flue-cured crop since 1944, although the fifth largest on record. Burley production last year was 17,304,000 pounds, second only to the 1945 crop and considerably larger than the 1947 crop of 14,976,000 pounds. Value of the 1948 crop was $8,012,000, the best figure since 1944.

A New Order

Merced, Calif., May 13—(AP)—There was a new order in the Merced fire department today. The new chief, George Colares, is tired of seeing firemen fight fires one-handed. "When a man rolls into a big fire," he said, "he needs all the air he can get. He takes off his belt. Then he has to fight the fire with one hand and try to hold up his pants with the other." The new order: suspenders as standard equipment.

Los Angeles Is Shaken By Quake

Los Angeles, May 13—(AP)—Los Angeles was shaken early today by an earthquake that startled residents out of bed but apparently caused no damage. The tremor was a distinct one, being felt the hardest in cities throughout the San Gabriel and San Fernando valleys such as Altadena, Pasadena, Burbank and Glendale. Long Beach, scene of a disastrous quake in 1933, said there was a gentle rumbling there. It shook the buildings in downtown and eastern Los Angeles. Police switchboards were swamped with calls but all of them were anxious queries. The Sheriff's office said that it had no reports of damage. Apparently, the quake was local. San Bernardino, Lancaster, Indio and other cities in Southern California reported that it was unfeelt. It was the second such shock felt throughout Southern California this month. On May 2, the area was rocked by a quake which had its epicenter in barren desert country. There was no damage.

Fifteen Entries Set To Roll For Memorial Race

Indianapolis, May 13—(AP)—Fifteen class cars and America's fastest drivers will be ready to roll tomorrow for $2,500 in special prizes and the pole position for the 500-mile Memorial Day race. A car must average 115 miles an hour for 10 miles to qualify for the May 30 contest, but it also must be one of the 33 fastest qualifiers. Sixty-six cars have been nominated. Half will be eliminated. The consensus around Indianapolis motor speedway garages is that a driver will have to qualify at well over 125 miles an hour to get into the lineup. Last year's field was the fastest ever, with each of the first four cars beating the best previous time. Mauri Rose's winning average was 119.813 miles an hour.

Goldsboro Tops Greenies By 11-2 Score; Second Straight

By BERT MOYE
The Goldsboro Goldbugs made 11 runs in two straight games over the Greenies here last night as they rocked two Greenville hurriers for a total of 14 hits and a 11 to 2 win.

The Bugs scored one run in the third frame on a single, double and two errors and then came back to ager Steve Mizerak, a triple by Chuck Sedor and were aided by three walks and an error.

The Bugs broke lose for seven runs in the ninth frame when a total of eleven men went to the bat. During that frame the Bugs collected three singles, a three-run homer by Manager Steve Mizerak, a triple by Chuc Sedor and were aided by three walks and an error.

Greenville scored one run in the second frame when Willie Mauney did some fancy base stealing. He reached first on a single, stole second, then stole third and came home on Steve Denier's single.

Their other tally of the game came in the eighth when Pappy Williams walked and later scored on Steve Denier's infield out.

Joe Alusk, who pitched the first seven frames, received credit for the win, his fourth straight of the season as against no losses. Bob Mangum relieved him in the last two frames and held the Greenies hitless and scoreless.

John Tepedino and Willie Mauney, each with two singles, led the six-hit attack off the Bug's hurriers.

Art Mascarella started on the mound for the Greenies and was relieved at the start of the seventh by Bobby Harrison. During his six frames on the mound, Mascarella was touched for eight hits and four runs, all of the unearned variety. He walked three and struck out two.

Bobby Harrison, who had faced the Bugs on the previous night over in Goldsboro, pitched the final three frames and allowed seven runs, six hits, walked three and struck out three.

George Cooper, the Bug's catcher, with four singles in four trips had a perfect night at the plate. Manager Steve Mizerak collected two singles and a homer to help out the Bug's cause.

Fifty - Nine Monograms Issued To Athletes Of Greenville High

A total of 59 monograms yesterday were presented to Greenville high school athletes who this year won letters in the three major sports in Northeastern Conference competition.

Coach Boley Farley and Principal O. E. Dowd presented monograms to 12 basketball players, 18 baseball players and 29 football players.

Coach Farley in presenting the letters commented, "It gives me great pleasure to recognize all the boys of the different sports teams this year." After presenting the awards he recognized the members of the high school athletic squads who were not members of the varsity teams this year. He announced that the annual banquet for the lettermen will be held in the near future at which time gold basketballs, footballs and baseballs will be presented to graduating lettermen.

Rousing Welcome For Washington On Return To Their Home Stand

Palmer Leads In Goodall Tourney

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The baseballing Washington Senators crept out of town 12 days ago as unnoticed as so many government clerks.

They come back today to a rousing welcome, despite a 2-1 defeat by Detroit yesterday snapped a sizzling nine-game winning streak.

On their schedule:

A parade down Pennsylvania Avenue (the same street used by President Truman, another underdog who showed surprising strength).

They were to be given the keys to the city, and a real senator, Millard Tydings (D-Md), was to greet them.

Walt Masterson pitched a good game for Washington yesterday, allowing only seven hits, but Virgil Trucks pitched a better one for Detroit. He gave up only five.

Yet it marked the sixth straight day that the Senators got superb pitching. In the last 53 innings the Senators' pitchers have given up only 27 hits. That's an average of only four and a half hits a game.

Receiving letters in basketball were Sam Northrop, James Harvey Ward, Bob Smith, John Farley, Joe Sawyer, Bobby Fleming, Jimmy Cox, "Pete" Auto Agradi, Howard Proctor, Billy Tucker, William McLawhorn and Joe Allgood.

Baseball: Joe Allgood, MacDonald Bland, Bobby Flye, Julian Vainwright, Sid Briley, Tommy Lupton, Billy Jordan, Eugene Ayers, William McLawhorn, John Farley, Walter Goor, Richard Joyner, Billy Holbert, MacRay Bland, Doug Allen, Bobby Watson, Leon Moore and Rodney Fulcher.

Sixteen football lettermen will graduate this year, 10 basketball lettermen and six baseball lettermen.

Mel Parnell's Pitching Is Boston's Brightest Light

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Mel Parnell's pitching is the only bright spot in the dreary spring showing of the mighty Boston Red Sox.

It took Parnell's brilliant 11-inning victory over Chicago yesterday to pull the Sox up even with last year's sorry opening month.

Down South the wise guys said "Boston can't possibly get off as slowly as last year." They were wrong. As of today Boston has a 9-11 record. Last May 13 their won and lost totals were exactly the same.

Tex Hughson was expected to help Manager Joe McCarthy. So far he hasn't won. Jack Kramer who copped 11 straight last summer, is still looking for No. 1. So is Joe Dobson, the only consistent winner last spring.

In 21 games, counting one tie Boston has had only eight complete pitching performances. Parnell threw five of them. He has gone the route every time, losing only once in 12 innings.

Parnell struck out 11 White Sox hitters yesterday but needed an 11th inning homer by Vern Stephens to get off the hook, 2-1. It was his fourth victory. The first two were shutouts and third an easy 11-2 romp over the New York Yankees with the help of a grand slam homer by Ted Williams.

New Bern at R. Rapids
O-O-O

Sidelights—Greenville and Goldsboro each had nine men stranded on bases in last night's contest. The win for the Bugs evened the four-game series between the two clubs. Art Mascarella, Greenville hurler, charged with the loss, was his second of the year as against one. I bet the Goldsboro fans love Bobby Harrison. In the six innings that he has pitched against the Bugs in the past two nights he has yielded 14 hits and a dozen runs, two of the hits being homers by the Bugs and in each instance there were two men on base at the time. In the two game series with the Bugs concluded here last night the Greenies scored a total of three runs on ten hits, committed nine errors while the Bug's scored a total of 23 runs on 27 hits and have not committed a miscue. . . .

Mr. Ray M. Goodman, president of the Coastal Plain League paid his first visit to Guy Smith Stadium last night and was given a nice reception when it was announced over the loud speaker. With Mr. Goodman was Bill Carpenter, supervisor of umpires of the National Association of Professional Baseball, who is in this section for a short while. During his stay he is stopping at the Hotel Proctor. Welcome gentlemen, come to see us more often.

Phantoms Lose By 9-2 Against New Bern Nine

By ROY HARDEE
The combined pitching power of Vainright and Bland failed to stop the assault of the New Bern Bears yesterday as the Bears scored a 9-2 decision over the Greenville Phantoms, in the last game of the '49 season, played in New Bern.

New Bern players took a commanding lead in the first inning when they scored five runs on six base on balls and two singles, on the offering of Phantoms pitcher "Big" Bland.

Greenville scored twice in the sixth but the rally bogged down. The only hit for the Greenies was by Eugene Ayers, who reached Taylor for a single to score the only runs for the luckless Phantoms in the sixth inning.

Vainright relieved Bland on the mound in the second and pitched the remainder of the game.

Coach Bo Farley used subs freely in yesterday's game as he sought to stop the Bears. Flemings, Flye, and Eugene Ayers saw action for the Phantoms.

Vainright fanned two men and gave up six base on balls. Bland allowed six bases on balls and failed to strike out a batter.

The game with the Bears brought to a close the baseball season for the Greenville High School team, which did not have a very good year. The Phantoms won two games while losing eight to their conference rivals.

At the start of the season he played with the Kinston Eagles. . . . Robert Stine, rookie shortstop of Williamsport, Pa., has reported to Manager Russ Meers of the Jays for a try-out. . . . John Pavlich, Jays' catcher during the 1947-48 season, is reported as working out with the Edenton Club of the Albemarle League, a semi-pro circuit.

The Greenies for the next three days will play nothing but double-headers. Tonight they journey to Wilson to meet the Tobs in a postponed game. On Saturday night they play a twin bill with the Tobs here at Guy Smith stadium with the first game scheduled to get under way at 6:30 o'clock. Then on Sunday afternoon they journey over to Kinston for a double-header with the Eagles. . . . It is indeed a heavy load for the Greenies, and especially the pitching staff.

Peddler of Dreams

By Peggy Dern AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 19
Late in the afternoon of Christmas Eve a station wagon from the Fleming place arrived, commencing the presence of the children at a party at Casa del Mar, and they drove off, big-eyed with excitement. Twenty minutes later, another car drove in to the camp and paused beside the Horne trailer. And from it a uniformed chauffeur and footman brought armfuls of packages, beautifully wrapped.

When the chauffeur and footman had gone, Felicity stared at the glittering heap of packages and said uneasily, "How will I explain it to them? Last Christmas there was an orange, a handful of nuts and a penny's worth of candy for each of them, and one ten-cent-store toy apiece."

Garrett put an arm about her and held her close, his cheek against her hair. "And they probably got just as much of a wallop out of it as they will this!" he assured her.

Her lifted eyes met his. A little thread of ecstasy raced between them. His eyes warmed, deepened, and his arms drew her close. "Have you any idea how sweet you are, darling?" he said huskily, "or how perfectly mad I am about you?"

"You—you won't get tired of waiting for me?"

"Only waiting long enough for my book to be accepted and published. I think I can possibly wait that long for you—though I'm not what you might call a very patient guy."

Felicity clung to him with both hands before she could answer. "It will have to be until the children are able to shift for themselves—and Ellen is not yet eight," she told him breathlessly.

"Look, sweetheart," he said contritely, "it's Christmas, and it bears all the earmarks of being a super-swell Christmas. So what say we forget all the tears and just remember you're you and I'm me and I love you, and—for some unheard-of reason I can't possibly understand but for which I give hourly thanks—you love me. That, for the immediate present, is all that matters. Okay?"

"Okay," said Felicity shakily, and his answering kiss was like a warm, sweet wine flowing through her body and giving her a happiness unlike anything she had ever known or dreamed before.

It was after seven o'clock when the children came home. Tired, excited, clamorous with the effort to tell Felicity immediately everything that had happened, Cornelia, who had been torn between a perfectly normal desire to attend the party and an equally normal dislike of being listed as a child, was quiet as she helped Ellen get ready for bed, while Felicity saw to it that Denny's hands and ears were clean before he was tucked in bed.

Afterwards Felicity questioned Cornelia about Tippy. "Did she seem happy?" she asked.

"Happy?" Cornelia's forthright tone scorned the inadequacy of the word. "Honestly, Fliss, I just itched to spank her. She's—well, she's going to be unbearable if they don't sit on her! She snubbed us pretty thoroughly, I can tell you."

"Oh, darling—not Tippy!" wailed Felicity, sick at heart because she had been afraid of something very like this.

"I think Mrs. Fleming and that Mr. Chalmers Thorpe thought it was funny. I saw Mrs. Fleming laughing with Mr. Thorpe when Tippy was carrying on."

Felicity sat very still for a long moment. She watched Cornelia settle comfortably into the narrow bed and for a long moment, after she had put out the light, Felicity stood still there in the darkness. Desert these children who clung to her so completely? Run the risk of marrying a man who, for all that he was fine and that he loved her, might not find it too easy to live in a household of children not his own? No, she couldn't do it, she told herself shakily. There had never really been any doubt in her mind about that, she knew now, as she slipped out of the trailer and across to Ma Green's where Garrett and Ma Green were waiting for her before they started trimming the tree.

It was a job over which they took plenty of time. Jason had come home from the store, tired but happy, and had supper in Ma Green's kitchen, waited on happily by Ma Garrett and Felicity were in the living room where the children's stockings hung before the fireplace, jumpy with surprises and the traditional oranges and nuts and candy.

Garrett looked down at Felicity and said, "And now, Mrs. Santa Claus, the Old Gentleman left a tiny package for you."

Felicity's hands shook a little as she took the small square package from him and unwrapped it. A ring box of dark leather whose open lid revealed a ring against a white satin lining. A ring of dull old yellow gold that held in its center a coral rose, exquisitely carved, beautifully mounted. A truly lovely thing that made Felicity catch her breath with delight.

"I wanted to give you the loveliest thing I could find, for the tiny bit of money I could scrape up—and this is it. And you might as well know the rest. It came from a pawn shop and is worth probably five or six times as much as I paid for it—if that means anything."

"Oh, Garry, it's beautiful! I love thinking that it must have made someone else happy, long before our time. It's very old—and so lovely. Oh, Garry—"

She was in happy tears and in his arms, trying to laugh through her tears, when Ma Green and Jason came in from the kitchen. Over her head he looked straight into Jason's startled eyes.

"Do you mind, old man?" asked Garrett.

Jason flushed, looked swiftly at Felicity's face and then put his hand in the one Garrett extended. "It had to be anybody, I'd rather it was you," answered Jason.

"Well, now, this is what I call a real Christmas," said Ma Green, frankly wiping her eyes, frankly crying a little, yet laughing too. (To be continued)

Vince Foster In 10-Round Bout

New York, May 13—(AP)—Vince Foster, hailed as the hottest thing since Rocky Graziano rooked to fame, returns to Madison Square Garden tonight to face Charlie Fusari in an attractive 10-round welterweight bout.

Fusari, a stand-up blond boxer from Irvington, N.J., probably will be a slight 5 to 6 favorite by ring-time over the stiff punching newcomer from Omaha, Neb. It has been a "pick 'em" fight all week.

Administration Leaders Claim Big Victory Ahead On Housing

Washington, May 13—(AP)—Administration leaders predicted today President Truman would win an impressive victory in the house with legislation setting out a far-reaching long range housing program.

But Republicans promised a fight. The decisive vote is set for next week.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) senior banking committee Republican, told newsmen he believes the legislation is "a step toward socialization of housing" and that "there certainly will be a battle in the house." Wolcott led the forces that defeated legislation in the 80th Congress last year.

But banking chairman Spence (D-Ky) predicted that "beyond any doubt" the housing bill will pass the house. The Senate on April 21 approved a similar measure, 67 to 13. The House banking committee gave house legislation a 14 to 7 approving vote yesterday.

Committee voting, behind closed doors, was reported to have found all voting Democrats supporting the Administration bill and all Republicans opposing. Six members were absent. The Republican members immediately began a series of huddles to determine a line of action on the House floor.

The house bill authorizes a vast slum clearance program and construction of 1,050,000 low-rent public housing units during the next seven years, as Mr. Truman requested. The Senate trimmed the number of these units to 810,000 in six years.

The measure also provides a $200,000,000 plus farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

Rep. Cole (R-Kas.) a banking member, told newsmen the administration bill would cost about $19,000,000,000 over 40 years.

The bill sets up a five-year slum clearance program, with one-third of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,000,000,000 in federal loans and $500,000,000 in grants for this purpose.

The house bill provides that the government would contribute as much as $400,000,000 annually for up to 40 years to help finance 1,050,000 low rent public housing units, to be built in the next seven years.

Local communities would make contributions to the projects and in most instances would own and operate them.

Air Caravan Is Visitor To City

Six airplanes and 15 representatives of the city of Goldsboro headed by Mayor S. B. Berkley visited the Greenville airport this morning with the Goldsboro air caravan to invite citizens of Greenville and Pitt county to the air show and dedication ceremonies at Seymour Johnson field May 28 and 29.

Greenville Mayor J. H. Boyd, Tommy Sellers, manager of the local airport; W. T. Kyzer, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce; David W. Mosier of WGTC and David Whitchard of the Daily Reflector greeted the Goldsboro delegation at the airport, and on a radio program transcribed for re-broadcast welcomed the group to Greenville.

Mayor Boyd congratulated Mayor Berkley on the dedication of Seymour Johnson field which recently has been turned over to the city of Goldsboro.

The six plane air caravan today visited seven eastern North Carolina towns to extend invitations to the dedication ceremonies. After leaving Goldsboro this morning the planes landed at Kinston, Washington, Greenville, Tarboro, Rocky Mount, Wilson, and Mount Olive.

Seeking Return Of State Money

Warrenton, May 13—(AP)—The state is seeking to recover $26,288.99 in school funds allegedly embezzled by J. Edward Allen, former superintendent of schools here.

A suit filed by the state in superior court here yesterday names as defendants: Allen, his aged mother, Mrs. Florence D. Allen, his brother, Charles Pryor Allen, four banks and four bonding companies.

Allen, 61, is serving 5-7 year prison term following his conviction last January for embezzlement, forgery and false pretense. He was school superintendent 29 years before his conviction.

In its complaint, the state asked that the transfer by Allen of his home to his aged mother be set aside. The transfer, it said, was made following Allen's conviction and was for the purpose of fraudulently obstructing the state "in the collection of the debt due by" Allen.

The complaint also asked that a receiver be named to secure any dividends Allen receives from a securities business in which he holds a one-third partnership with his brother, Charles Pryor Allen.

The four banks were named, the complaint states, because they cashed checks on which Allen allegedly had forged signatures of persons to whom they were made payable.

Conviction And Sentence Of 'Trenton Six' Assailed

Trenton, N. J., May 13—(AP)—The death sentence conviction of the "Trenton Six" was attacked as a vicious frameup today on the eve of an appeal before New Jersey's highest court.

The Civil Rights Congress, which is spearheading the defense of the six Trenton Negroes, issued an 11th hour statement branding the conviction "an attempted lynching—northern style."

State Supreme Court argument on the appeal is slated for Monday.

Hurling charges of racial persecution at Mercer County police officials, the congress called the trial "a vicious frameup" and a northern Scottsboro case. Leaflets containing these accusations have been distributed by the organization in a worldwide campaign to "free the Trenton six."

The congress is listed as subversive by the U.S. Justice Department.

Controversy over the case started last summer when the six men were sentenced to die in the electric chair for the bludgeoning slaying of William Horner, 72-year-old Trenton shopkeeper. Now in the state death house, they face the biggest mass execution in New Jersey's history.

The following facts about the case were brought out at the nine-week trial—longest in county history:

Horner was beaten to death the morning of Jan. 27, 1948, in the rear of his second-hand furniture store. His wife, Elizabeth, 58, was also beaten but recovered.

Included in the Goldsboro delegation in addition to Mayor Berkley were Coleman Scott, manager of radio station WGRR, Louise Hummel, E. N. Henderson, Earl Gourdin, Wiley Parker, R. L. Driver, E. F. Bell, F. L. Castles, Dan Trueblood, W. N. Norris, Billy Smith, Jack Lyvers, J. H. Perkins and Ray Simmons.

Like Oil . . .

Revolution) continued to cause so much heat in foreign countries that in 1943 Russia "abolished" that body, as a gesture towards her allies.

Since the war the "Cominform" has taken the place of the Comintern, and the world revolution goes on. Canada has uncovered her big spy ring with ramifications reaching into the United States and Britain, and convicted a number of agents. The United States has had a constant procession of investigations and prosecutions involving foreign agents. Some of the testimony brought out is enough to curl your hair.

Well now, it doesn't take much imagination to see that these harrowing conditions would have to be altered before there could be hearty collaboration, economic or otherwise, between Russia and America.

Mind you, we are talking about foreign propaganda and foreign agents whose business it is to organize trouble. It would be silly to think that any great country wouldn't have secret agents prodding about abroad to see what they could find. All the powers have such agents, but their business is to gather information and not to create revolutions or spread propaganda.

N.Y. Cotton

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—An active buying movement sent most grains higher on the board of trade today. Buying was concentrated on the more distant deliveries. May contracts tending to lag in wheat, corn and oats. Rye and soybeans jumped sharply, but there were good gains in new crop wheat and corn deliveries also. The September rye delivery spurted more than 7 cents at time. Continued dry weather in the American Northwest and the Canadian prairie provinces served as a background for the advance.

Wheat closed 1/2-3/4 higher, May $2.24, corn was 1 to 2 1/2 higher, May $1.35 1/4, oats were 1/4 to 1 cent higher, May 68 1/4, rye was 1/4-3/4 higher, May $1.14 1/4, soybeans were 5/8-7/8 higher, May $2.37-2.37 1/4, and lard was 8 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.85.

While most issues dozed along red metal issues advanced around a point or more in comparatively active trading. Turnover was at the rate of about 800,000 shares for the full session.

Jaycees Induct New Members In Thursday Meet

An army movie on air operations in Europe during the recent war highlighted the program of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at the supper meeting of the organization at the Olde Towne Inn.

During the business meeting, the Jaycees agreed to sponsor the baseball game of the Greenville Midgets to be played at Guy Smith Stadium on Friday night, May 20.

Three new members, Jack Edwards Jr. of Edwards Auto Supply, Bob Seaborn of Bissett's drug store, and Charles (Polly) Williams of Williams Plumbing and Heating Company, were inducted into the club by State Director Gilbert Peel.

Henry Brown, general chairman of the committee for the play "Hasty Heart" which was sponsored by the Jaycees, reported the play a success and expressed appreciation to members of the committee for their cooperation in working on the play.

Guests of the club at the meeting were L. A. Jones, Sgt. Bruce Baxter, Jack Wallace, Claude Taylor and Ronald Langley.

President Louis W. Gaylord presided at the meeting.

Tobacco, Peanut Acreage In Pitt To Be Measured

The measuring of tobacco and peanut acreage in Pitt county will begin next Thursday according to an announcement by Wyatt Highsmith, secretary of the local Agricultural Conservation association.

Highsmith said more than 70 people will be employed to measure the acreage devoted to the two crops in Pitt county, and that a day of orientation for the measurers will be held next Wednesday, the day before the work begins.

The measurement of Pitt county tobacco and peanut crops must be completed by June 30, he stated.

Taxes—Mr. Truman wanted about a $4,000,000,000 tax raise, mostly on business, to help meet government costs. He still wants this and said so again yesterday. Republicans and some of Mr. Truman's most dependable allies in Congress are against it. They say "cut expenses, this is no time to raise taxes."
