Plans 'Painless' Budget Balancing

Lawmaker Proposes Corporations Pay 1949 Taxes Six Months In Advance To Avoid Further Taxation And Federal Deficit

Ten Bills Move To Top Of House Timetable Today

Chairman Sabath Maps Drive For Early Action; Housing Heads List

Washington, May 17-(AP)—A "painless" $5,000,000,000 boost in the government revenues that would balance its books for the new fiscal year was proposed today by Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) It would require corporations to pay all their 1949 taxes six months earlier than usual.

After consultation with Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Mills announced he is whipping his proposal into legislation that would have this effect:

- 1. Erase the prospect of any new taxes or any increases in tax rates. It would shelve the $4,000,000,000 general increase in taxes President Truman has requested. It would have no effect whatever on individual income taxes.

They cover the fields of housing, a lobby investigation, crop insurance, federal buildings, statehood for Alaska, extension of rural telephone service, pay raises for government executives, displaced persons, minimum wages and general labor legislation.

Within the next week or so, Sabath told newsmen, he expects the Rules Committee to clear most of them for House debate. Although Sabath's White House visit, following by only a few hours a conference between the President and Rayburn, was interpreted in some quarters as evidence of a rift between Mr. Truman and Rayburn, Sabath said this was not the case.

"There is no disagreement that I know of between the President and Speaker Rayburn," he told newsmen following his return to the capitol.

Sabath had said at the White House: "Sometimes the President and the Speaker don't agree and where they are in disagreement I try to smooth it out a bit."

The remarks he made to the White House reporters, Sabath explained, were offhand and were not intended to give the impression that there is not harmony between Mr. Truman and the House leaders.

Sabath said he went to the White House to get the President's views on bills now before the Rules Committee or soon to come before it. This committee normally clears bills for floor debate when administration leaders give the go-ahead, and holds them back when the administration says so.

Rayburn told newsmen "there is no disagreement" on the program outlined by Sabath. And if there is any disagreement between him and Mr. Truman, the speaker said, it wasn't apparent when they talked together yesterday morning.

People Reduced Spending Saved More In Quarter Faced By Shrinking Income, Savings Went Up, Buying Sharply Slashed

Washington, May 17-(AP)—The American people, confronted with shrinking income, cut their spending so sharply in the first three months of 1949 that their total savings went up.

This tactic of saving more while taking in less was held accountable in large part today for this early 1949 development: the biggest slump in gross National Product since the war.

Gross National Product is the total output of goods and services at market value—or gross price. On the basis of Commerce Department estimates, it slumped to a $255,900,000,000-a-year rate in the first quarter, off $9,000,000,000 from the peak pace in the fourth quarter of last year, although still $1,000,000,000 above 1948's quarterly average.

There was a twofold explanation: (1) Less goods and services were produced and provided, since willingness to spend on them was down; and (2) price tags and charges were lower for the goods furnished.

The National Product had dipped a couple of times before in the post-war period, but those occasions were relatively mild.

The biggest previous quarter-quarter decline of recent years was one of only $1,300,000,000, and that came in the first quarter of 1946 when the economic machine was being shifted from war to peacetime uses.

Communist Hopes For Solid 'Yes' Vote For Red Candidates Snubbed By Third Of Voters; Officials Shocked By Count

Berlin, May 17-(AP)—Eastern Germany has dealt communism a smashing blow in Soviet-controlled territory. Official figures in the People's Congress election showed today a surprising snub by a third of the voters.

Of 12,024,321 valid ballots, 4,069,372 were marked "no."

The communists had hoped to roll up a virtually solid "yes" vote for their hand-picked single slate of candidates, so that they could go to the foreign ministers conference in Paris next week with a government for eastern Germany which would match that of the west.

So shocked were the communist officials that election returns were withheld 30 hours after the polls closed, and the Soviet-controlled press tried double cross at their political allies in the eastern zone.

There were 13,533,071 persons eligible to vote. Of these 12,967,284 cast ballots, or 96.3 per cent. The valid ballots totalled 12,024,321.

This was the vote: Yes: (in favor of the hand-picked single slate) 7,948,949, or 66.1 per cent. No: 4,069,372, or 33.9 per cent.

The organ of the Soviet military administration, Taglielone Rundschau, accused the eastern splinter parties of the Christian and Liberal Democrats of playing a "double game." They were accused of swearing their allegiance to the communist front congress and "agitating in secret" against it.

The two-day balloting for congress ended last night. The communist-controlled People's Congress took complete charge of issuing final count, expected late today.

The voting was for a People's Congress of 2,000 members, all picked and put on a single voters were given a choice of "yes" or "no."

Just before the end was on the results, the main committee of the congress in Berlin announced the down of the first 7,000 votes.

Only 2,920 voted "ja." A majority of 3,909 voted "nein." About 250 ballots were declared invalid. Some wrote on their ballots "we won't vote for apostate state and we reject communism."

The western Berlin press reported soon afterward that the election committee were "reexamining" the ballots.

The communists had hoped 10,000,000 or more eastern zone Germans would vote for them and only a few thousand would dissent. They wanted a huge endorsement of the congress, which is certain to clamor for adoption of Russia's peace terms by the foreign minister's council at the Paris meeting next week.

Dessert-Bridge Honors Miss Viola

On Monday evening Misses Christine Jordan and Jean Hillon entertained at a dessert-bridge-shower, honoring Miss Ella Frances Viola, bride-elect of the week. The Jordan home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and each card table held a bridal motif for a centerpiece, with a corsage marking Miss Viola's place. The guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and Miss Viola. Strawberry short cake was served as soon as the guests chose tables.

Refreshment guests included Mrs. Alex Viola, Mrs. Duke Andrews and Mrs. Garland Warren and Mrs. A. E. McGowan. After the dessert was served, a large bridal basket filled with shower gifts was brought in by the hostesses and placed at Miss Viola's table. Fun was enjoyed by all during the opening of the gifts. Bridge was then played at three tables and coca colas and salted nuts were served during the playing. High score was won by Miss Frances Hobbard, next high by Miss Ella Frances Viola, and the floating prize was won by Miss Jane Massey.

Mrs. Jerald M. Hartman

Hartman-Cox

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Evans, on Friday evening, May 6, at eight o'clock, Miss Pauline Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox of Greenville, exchanged vows with S-Sgt. Jerald M. Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Hartman of Tacoma, Washington. The Rev. J. A. Nelson, of Greenville, performed the double ring ceremony by candle light amid a setting of green and white. Single candelabras with tall cathedral candles entwined with ivy were placed on either side of the mantel with baskets of white gladioli set in a background of Plumosa-Oregon and huckleberry greens.

Nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. W. C. Stokes, pianist, and Mrs. Edgar Denton, soloist, who sang prior to the ceremony, "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Alton G. Cox of Columbia, S. C., wore a white gabardine suit with navy and white accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with a natural orchid cascaded with white satin streamers.

Mrs. J. E. Mills, only sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a white suit of gabardine with black accessories and a red rose corsage.

S-Sgt. Marvin Price of Cherry Point, from Los Angeles California served as best man.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Cox chose a dress of black crepe with black and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

After a reception at the home of Mrs. Evans, the couple left for a short wedding trip to unannounced points.

Mrs. Hartman a graduate of Chiod high school is now employed at the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company of Greenville.

S-Sgt. Hartman received his education in the Tacoma and Puyallup city schools and has served in the United States Marine Corps for the past four years. He is now stationed at Cherry Point.

S-Sgt. and Mrs. Hartman will be at home in Greenville until late summer, when they will leave for Tacoma, Washington.

Music Club Is Represented At N. C. Convention

The Greenville Music Club was represented at the annual state convention of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs by Mrs. R. R. Willmann, Mrs. Travis Hooker, Mrs. Guy Jones, all of Greenville; and Mrs. Roy Cox of Winterville.

The annual convention, held in Asheville this year, was presided over by Mrs. C. M. Hassell, of Charlotte, state president of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Royden J. Keith, of Chicago, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, was guest speaker at the formal opening banquet held on Wednesday evening, May 11.

A Choir Directors Forum was one of the highlights of the 1949 convention. Problems of Attendance and Organization, Choir Materials and Repertoire, and a Choir's Responsibility in Worship were topics discussed by well-known authorities on church music. An All-State Choir Festival was held on Thursday evening, May 12, under the direction of Dr. James Allan Dash of Baltimore, well-known American conductor and authority on church music. Norman Cordon was guest soloist.

Business sessions, reports, election of state officers, presentation of North Carolina Composers Contest Winners and other events were a part of the convention program. Appearing in concert on Friday evening, was the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Benjamin J. Swalin with Mrs. Grace Potter Carroll as guest soloist.

The Greenville Music Club was chosen as the outstanding club in the Northeastern District for 1948-49, and was invited to present a report of its outstanding project for the season at the District Directors' Breakfast during the state convention. Mrs. R. R. Willman, outgoing president of the club, presented a report of the club's series of radio programs held weekly over Station WGTC. The radio series, which has been under the direction of the radio chairman, Mrs. J. K. Long, will be conducted indefinitely according to the new president, Charles A. White. Mr. White will conduct the programs during the summer months.

The need for scholarships in music for Eastern North Carolina was emphasized by Mrs. Ervin Midgeste of Elizabeth City, third vice-president of the N. C. Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Rennie Williamson, of Manteo, district director, commended the Greenville Music Club in its efforts to set up a scholarship in music at ECTC.

Scholarship For William Harris Is Recommended

William C. Harris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris, of 708 West Third Street, has been recommended by Serge Chermayeff, president of the Institute of Design, of Chicago, for one of two full scholarships offered that institution by the National Royal Academy of Fine Arts in London. Transportation is also paid by the British government and the International Fulbright Student Help organization.

This government-controlled school of architecture, design and fine arts has an entirely selected scholarship student body and provides an exceptional opportunity for the student whose signal honor it is to be selected for a scholarship.

Young Harris is married and has one child. He is a graduate of the Greenville High School, a former student of East Carolina Teachers College, and he made an enviable record as a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II. He has been studying art for the past three years at the Institute of Design in Chicago, from which he will receive his degree and be graduated with honors on May 28. The scholarship, which has been offered him includes subsistence allowance for a year starting next fall with an opportunity to win two Elgin wrist watches.

The plan is: A clock in Saslow's window will have photographs of boy and girls graduates on its dial.

During the past three years William Harris' work has been a part of traveling exhibits all over the United States, including Harvard University and the University of Minnesota, and he has published one design in the British magazine "Industry and Art." Work done during his first semester at the Institute of Design was exhibited in Greenville at the Woman's Club during the Fine Arts Festival of the spring of '46 and afterwards at East Carolina Teachers College for the benefit of Miss Lane's classes in design.

Several well known citizens, including Mayor Boyd will be judges. Prizes will be awarded Thursday afternoon of next week, Manager W. J. Greene announced today.

Red Oak News

Circle No. 1 of Red Oak church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Worthington near Winterville last Sunday evening with twenty members and two visitors present.

Mrs. Thurman Paige gave a very inspiring devotional and her little daughter read the Twenty-Third Psalm from memory.

Matters of business interest to the church were discussed. A very gratifying treasurer's report was given. Mrs. Nan Barber will be hostess at our June meeting.

Date for our revival services were discussed and a committee was appointed to discuss this with other groups of the church.

Delicious refreshments were served. The Layman's League of Red Oak will meet at the club house Friday night at 8 o'clock. H. H. May has charge of the program and Bill Jenkins and Ola Kittrell will have charge of the sets.

Miss Grace Tripp graciously entertained the bookkeeping department of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company of Greenville at the home of her parents on the Farmville highway last Tuesday evening at a dinner party.

Tables with lovely covers and small arrangements of flowers were placed throughout the house.

Fried chicken, new Irish potatoes, garden peas, candied yams, pickles, hot rolls, muffin bread, butter, stuffed celery, iced tea and strawberry short cake were served.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Leon Tyson and Mr. Jonathan Overton and Mrs. Edgar Denton rendered several vocal selections.

Don't forget to see the "Old Fashioned Mother" at the Red Oak club house Wednesday night, May 18. The play deals with a mother's love for her wayward son. It will begin at 8 o'clock as it is two hours long. You will enjoy seeing these folks in this play.

Strength FOR THE DAY

STEERING BY THE STARS
During most of each day, ships are steered by what is called "dead reckoning." The captain takes his last known position, and since he knows roughly how fast and in what direction his ship is going, he calculates where she will be in four hours, or eight, or twelve.

But dead reckoning is not exact.
Because of the wind, waves, and tide, this ship will not be just where the captain planned, after a number of hours. So he must, several times a day, use what is called "celestial navigation." He must check his position by observation of the celestial bodies—the sun, moon, and stars. This method can be exact, and so the captain may find out exactly where he is.

A ship that was steered for a long time by dead reckoning only would go far from her course. So does a man who steers his life by his own reckoning only and neglects celestial guidance. Everyone should, of course, make use of his own intelligence, common sense, and foresight, but these are not enough. Just as the captain cannot determine his real position without help from the sun and stars, so a man cannot find his real position in life without help from above. Only God can show us our true course. But He has made it possible for us, through worship and prayer, to receive his guidance at any time.

IT LOOKS LIKE MONOPOLY TO US

The job of the Pitt County Health Department is to endeavor at all times to protect the health of our people, but the action of the board yesterday in adopting an ordinance that bans all pasteurized milk from the county that is not processed in the local pasteurization plant, looks like the creation of a monopoly to us.

Whether the Health Department has found that milk coming into this county from outside pasteurization plants does not meet state health standards, we do not know; but if such a situation exists and is the foundation upon which the board based its action, the people should have been duly informed.

Under the new ordinance,
a milk plant in Tarboro, no matter how pure its milk,
could not furnish a nearby Pitt County customer, even though it was much nearer the customer than the Greenville plant. The same would be true of any plant located in a neighboring county.

The only explanation of the board's action is that "it is a health measure to protect Pitt County citizens from impure milk" and one of the officials of the Carolina
Dairy Products, Inc., (Pitt County's only milk processing plant) adds that the action will assure Pitt County farmers a market for their milk.

If impure milk was coming into the county from outside plants naturally some action for the protection of our citizens would be necessary, but it seems to us that the first steps would have been to correct the situation at its source rather than placing a ban on all importation of pasteurized milk and creating a complete monopoly within the county.

We don't believe the

REG-MANNING McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

health department or any other county department has the right to build a tariff wall around the county, for we believe our people should have the right to purchase milk or any other product from any source they desire so long as the source meets state standards so as not to endanger the health and lives of the consumers of its products.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
MUSH-ROOMING—State government agencies are mushrooming
so fast the problem of finding office space for them becomes every month more acute. The board of buildings and grounds buckled down to the problem Monday, but succeeded in answering only a few of the questions. The recent general assembly established one entirely new state department, that of personnel; added two commissioners and a number of experts to the utilities commission; almost doubled the number of auditors in the revenue department, and more than doubled the state ABC set-up in order to administer the new beer laws. All these additional workers require working space, and in several instances private offices are necessary for the top men if they are to do a decent job.

BUILDINGS—It's a far cry in expansion, but not so far in years, from the middle 'teens when certain high state officials were quoted as saying the state had as much office space around the capitol as it would ever need. Since then the agricultural building, the revenue building, the highway building, the education and justice buildings, the employment security building and other smaller units have been constructed in the immediate capitol area. All of them have been crowded from the beginning and have been outgrown.
Two new wings to the revenue building, completed last year, barely took care of expanding activities of the revenue, motor vehicles and budget departments up to that time, and do not adequately take care of them

now. Plans are nearing completion for a five story modern building to replace the museum and house expanded agriculture department activities. Also a new wing to the education building and a complete new health building are contemplated for early construction under the permanent improvement appropriations of 1947 and 1949. Extensive remodeling of the library building is in the program, which will result in room for a few more desks.

WASTE—One of the troubles is waste due to high ceilings and excess floor space in offices, especially in the older buildings. Top rank officials require private offices, but there is no real excuse for a private office having more than 1,000 square feet of floor space. Type of construction in these buildings is not adaptable to shifting partitions so as to utilize the wasted space. More serious waste occurs sometimes, and this is particularly true at institutions, in tearing down useable buildings in order to construct new and more efficient buildings on the same site. The health department, for example, wants its new building on the site of the present old structure now housed in the old school for the blind. The building is not at all suitable for modern health administration. Opinion is general that it is entirely too good to junk. Other state agencies can utilize it to splendid advantage.

TENANTS—While crowded condition prevails there are several non-state agencies using offices in state buildings, such as the state employees' credit union. Suggestion has been made that these tenants be moved out, along with some state commissions which are self supporting—such as the banking commission, burial commission and others that live mainly, if not entirely, upon their own receipts. The state doesn't like to pay rent on office quarters for its workers, but until additional buildings can be put up there seems no other way out.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York. (P)—My mother-in-law had a wise old saying:
"A woman convinced against her will is of the same opinion still."
In my twelfth year of marriage to this dear lady's daughter, Frances,
I am beginning to understand the truth of this saying.
For the more you try to change a lady's mind the more you change your own. A high wind may sway a tall building, and a tempest of objection may bend a woman's purpose. But, as soon as the pressure lets up, both the building and the feminine mind snap back to their old position. They can be broken—but they won't be warped.

I discovered this, rather late in life I must admit, after my wife started having an affair with brown.
I am referring to brown, the color.
One morning Frances announced to me suddenly at breakfast:
"Black has gone out of my life."
"Whom?" I asked. I always say "whom" to my wife now, because every time I say "who" she accuses me of ungrammatical.

"Anything black," she said. "I'm not going to wear anything black anymore. Black gives a haggard look. It has gone out of my life forever."
This was all right with me, as the only black I have ever worn was a shoe or two—or an eye or two.
Frances blossomed out at first in dark blue. I liked that. Then one day a came home and found her dressed in a flappy new look suit. And under the blue jacket was a brown blouse
—a very brown blouse.
"Donate it to a rummage sale,"
I suggested. "Brown is for woodchucks. It's duller than a kitchen knife."

"Is that so?" Queried my haufrau.
"Well, brown has come into my life to stay. I like brown."
Then began the busy business of making me like brown, too.
The next time I went to buy a suit Frances pointed at one on the rack.
"Try that."
"It's brown. Haven't worn a brown suit since my voice started to change."
"It isn't brown at all. It's tan."
So I bought the suit of tan, which is a kind of pale stepbrother to brown.
Then came a tan shirt. Then came a striped shirt, and the stripes looked brown to me. And then a necktie arrived, and I knew I had been sold down the river. It was as brown as the feeling you have when you ask the boss for a $5 raise and all you get back is a $10 explanation.

Next came the problem of furnishing the second bedroom in our apartment. The original idea was that it was to be a kind of bargain basement library and workroom for me, a refuge all my own. I was thrilled because I have never had a room to myself in my life.
"What colors do you want in it?"
asked Frances.
"Blue, green and dark red!" I said positively. "Be sure it's a dark red."
The other day Frances came home
and showed me the fabric samples.
The draperies were to be a deep sea green drowned in a heavy rust brown. The easy chair—a cerise brighter than a baby left too long in a July sun. The couch—Brown, brown all over.
"How can you do this to me?" I murmured.
"You'll love it, Rover boy," said Frances. "I even have a name for the room now. You can call it your brown study."
So I will. I have to live with brown now until me or the furniture wears out. We are life-deep in brown.
And I learned something my mother-in-law never told me:
"A man convinced against his will can do but one thing—that's keep still."

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Today's column is a hangover from yesterday; the subject: alcoholism.
This writing was inspired by a speech several months ago by Jimmy Street, celebrated author who was a drunk for 18 years himself. Street was cured nine years ago by an organization most of you have heard quite a bit about—Alcoholics Anonymous. Three years ago he moved to Chapel Hill, found no AA organization there, and consequently started to work. Now there are 27 units in this area.

AA is 86 per cent successful in curing alcoholics, while hospitals claim to cure only three per cent of their patients. Here's how it works: Men and woman of all ages and descriptions who have been alcoholics are banded together for the purpose of helping others who are trying to stop drinking, and at the same time keep dry themselves.
Before AA will help a victim of alcoholism the person must come to them and express a desire to stop drinking. Members of AA stay dry by helping others, and would gladly go to the drunk if it would help. But experience has proven that such a method is futile. The person must have a desire to be cured, or recovery is impossible. Realizing this, AA works only on those having a desire to get well.

The wife of an alcoholic may come to AA, and tell them to save her husband, for he is tearing up the furniture and beating the children, but no go. The drunk must come.

To a drunk the idea of giving up the bottle forever is too much to face. Realizing this, AA suggests that the drinker give it up for today, and when tomorrow comes, consider giving it up for then. If that works, they then try to convince the victim that he has an investment too valuable to throw away. If the drunk has stopped drinking for a day, month, or year, they say, that time is the investment that is too valuable to lose.

The greatest power of AA is companionship. Members insist that from the time a drinker joins he is never again alone. The organization meets weekly, and at any time between meetings one of the members feels himself slipping, he goes to the telephone, and calls one of the other members. The time of day or night does not matter; AA's gladly get out of bed at any hour to help a fellow member over the hump.

Members of AA have birthdays; that is, the year after they have quit is their first birthday, and so on. And they celebrate those birthdays more than they do the day they were born. Now some of you social drinkers are wondering how they celebrate without drinking. They get together, play cards, drink pop, slap each other on the back, and consider themselves lucky to have stopped a habit that is a sure killer.

AA was organized in 1932, but there is no telling how far back it dates. The same principle was doubtless used before AA, but without organization. One of the two founders has written an article that appears in a bound copy of "Alcohol, Science and Society," which is the report of the Yale University studies of alcohol. The author of the article says that he was cured by a friend who had been a drunk, and therefore the idea of AA came to him. At first he went to the alcoholics and his attempts to cure them were a failure. Eventually he realized that the initiative must be taken by the drunk, and from that time on the organization grew. At the last counting, there were 100,000 members in this country, and many in foreign countries.

You might say that James Street is the head of AA in North Carolina, but AA has as little organization as possible. Natural organization breeds dissension, and AA is fearful of dissension. More tomorrow.
And I thank you.

Baptist Center To Be Closed 3 Weeks; Reopens June 5

Following commencement exercises at East Carolina Teachers College today, the Baptist Student Center, 404 East Eighth street, near the college, closed for three weeks. Miss Blanton left today for a vacation at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Blanton, Turkey, N. C.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Russia

By WYATT BROWN

The Rotarians held a symposium on international affairs last night composed of an address by Dr. A. D. Frank and impromptu remarks by Rotarian Robert L. Humber. Relations with Russia was the chief subject under discussion. Each speaker seemed to think Russia has designs but wishes to achieve them without resort to war.

Dr. Frank opened his remarks with the declaration that relations with Russia were better today than they had been in two or three years. The lifting of the blockade was due to the success of the air-lift, the failure of the Western zone Germans to react just as the Russians expected, and the considerably improved economic conditions in Europe forestalling any possibility of collapse.

Dr. Frank advanced several possible ideas as to why Russia lifted the Berlin blockade: lifted it to do it again later, to enable Russia to check on what is happening in China, to check on Russian gains in the Pacific, giving up a timetable, baiting us to see if we will relax and perhaps not carry out fully our present intentions of arming Europe.

"Russia's purposes are just the same still; she will advance her cause every way she can short of war," Dr. Frank warned. The speaker indicated that the immediate objectives of Russia are to unify Germany and get American and European troops out of Germany with the idea of having her numerous police take over. In the face of that Dr. Frank thinks the U.S. will not get out without adequate assurances that Russia will not dominate all of Germany; the German people may turn anti-Russian due to their nationalistic traits. He gave as his opinion that the Russians' political strength and their ability to use what is there are both under ques-

Hon. Next Robert L. Humber spoke briefly. It is his opinion that Russia's present behavior is another example of power politics—national expansion—and not any missionary spirit to spread communism. Russia's behavior in China is an example of how Russia will sacrifice her communistic ideologies to achieve her purposes.

Rotarian Humber cited as his opinion that little is to be gained from denouncing the Russians. He urged the analyzing of the situation, see the problem clearly and then depend on Western leadership. Let the people of the world decide between democracy and communism.

Mr. Humber said he had confidence that peoples of the world would choose the far superior way of democracy. The problem as he sees it is for democracy to decide which way it wants its leaders to take us. "If we can mobilize the destiny of the peoples who are with us, we can do much to dominate the situation," declared Mr. Humber.

He urged the utilization of atomic energy for the creation of economic wealth with which to flood the world. With eighty-five per cent of the peoples of the world excluded from economic wealth there is much to be done. He sees the task of Western leadership to be the stabilizing of the world politically and then mobilizing the world economically.

"Destiny is beckoning, the future is in our hands," he said in conclusion, adding, "If only democracy will develop the leadership."

R. C. Kramer of Detroit was a guest of the club. Leo Grutch of Graham and Dr. John Mewborne of Farmville were visiting Rotarians last night. The program was presented by Dr. Howard McGinnis, chairman of the Program Committee. Ernest Willard, club president, presided.

Little Siamese Twin Girls Said Given A 'Chance'

Los Angeles, May 17 — (AP) — Little Siamese twin girls, born Saturday, are given a good chance to live today, although joined at the head, top-to-top.

The infants were born to Mrs. John B. Jones, 35, a Negro. Only a few similar cases have been reported.

Physicians say the babies are doing well and have a good chance to survive. Dr. Phoebus Berman, hospital medical director, said a study will be made to determine if it would be possible to separate the twins by surgery.

However, he conceded such an operation would be "drastic" because the cranial juncture is extensive. However, the fact that one child faces in a slightly different direction from the other, the doctor explained, indicates each infant has a separate brain.

Young Roosevelt Facing Political Hurdle Today

New York, May 17—(AP)—West side Manhattan voters, aroused by a noisy and bitter campaign, decide today in Congressional election whether Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., gets over the first hurdle in his ambition to follow his late father in a political career.

As FDR did years ago, the handsome young heir to a famous name was battling Tammany Hall.

Tammany refused to give young Roosevelt the Democratic nomination—which would have handed him the election on a platter—and ran municipal court justice Benjamin Shalleck against him.

Roosevelt's name was on today's voting machines as candidate of New York State's liberal party and the four freedoms party, a newly-formed group.

Between 50,000 and 60,000 voters—a heavy turnout for a special election—were expected to be cast in the normally Democratic 20th district between 5 a. m. (EST) and 6 p. m.

It was largely a Roosevelt-Shalleck fight, but Republicans predicted the Democratic split will give the election to the GOP candidate, William H. McIntyre, an insurance executive.

The left-wing American labor party also had a candidate in the race—Dr. Annette T. Rubinstein, head of a private school. Her supporters also claim victory.

The election was to fill the seat of Sol Bloom, Democratic Congressman from the district from 1924 until his death early this year.

The district extends, roughly, from 28th to 116th street, west of eighth Avenue and Central Park west. There are 138,054 qualified to vote today.

Because of the bitterness of the campaign, extra heavy police details were assigned to the polls.

Campaign orators have made special appeals to various racial and national groups in the 20th district melting pot—Irish-Americans, Jews, Puerto Ricans, Negroes and others.

It has been a long time since a local election here brought out such a concentration of political manpower, loose spending and bitter charges.

Pledge Probe Of Cash Kickbacks

Washington, May 16—(AP)—Senate investigators today promised a thorough check on complaints that thousands of dollars of "cash kickbacks" resulted from a $40,000,000 U. S. loan to Poland.

Chairman Hoyt (D-N.C.) of the Special Senate investigating subcommittee said the kickbacks were alleged to have been handled by freight forwarders, insurance brokers and others in this country connected with overseas shipments under the loan.

Clubs Stressing Safety On Farm

Pitt county 4-H club meetings during the month of May are concentrating on farm safety programs to be carried out in the rural areas of Pitt county, C. J. Goodman, assistant county agent said.

During the meetings at the various schools throughout the county 4-H members have been given blanks to fill out which will be entered in the county farm safety contest for which five silver medals will be awarded next fall.

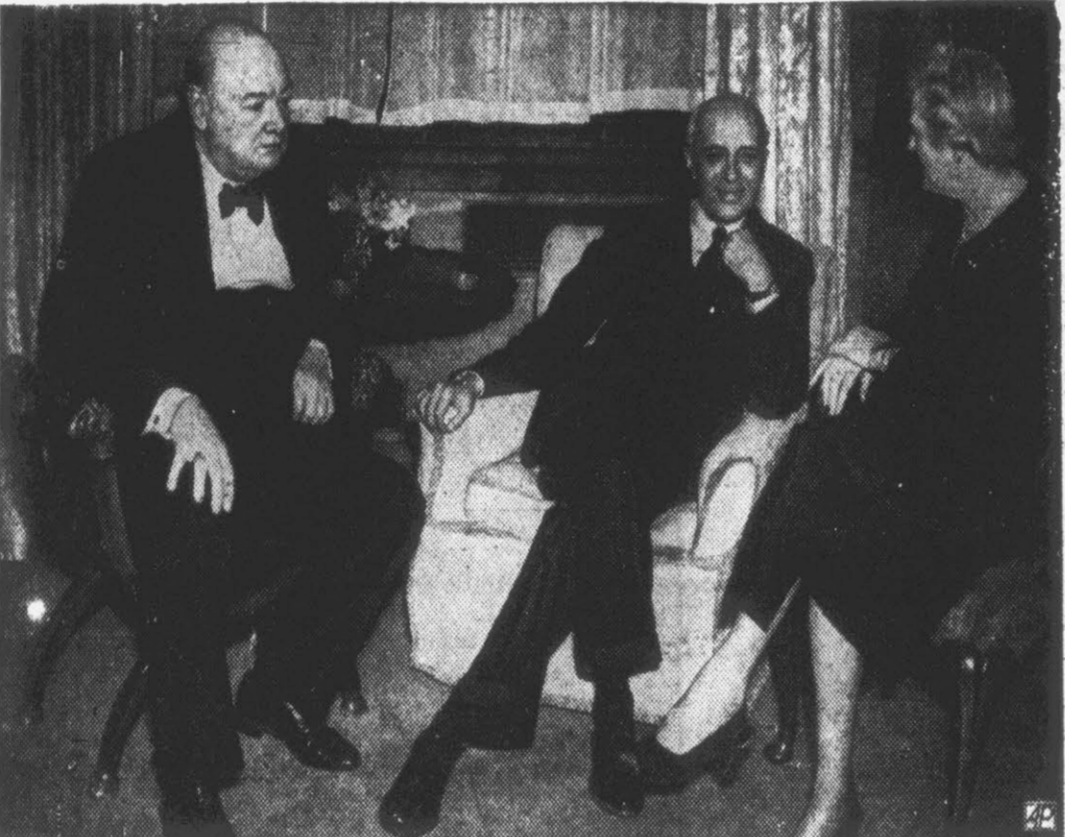

Goodman said each 4-H boy will be given an opportunity to list the hazards found on his particular farm what he has done to eliminate these hazards, and a report on general safety on his farm.

A survey of the accidents on the farms in Pitt county Goodman stated showed "more serious accidents have been around Hay balers, next tractors, and third around animals."

Winners in the county safety contest will be eligible for entry into the state and national contests, Goodman said.

War Brides' Mother Touring U. S. To See Three Daughters

Riverhead, N.Y., May 17—(AP)—Mrs. Ernest Ridge of Key Surrey, British war widow and mother of three war brides, thinks Americans stay up later at night, but have no more fun than the British.

She thinks Americans live in too much of a hurry for no particular reason. However, she has come to regard them as sportsmen who manage to maintain this pace by keeping physically fit. She thinks of them, too, as merchants who have all kinds of things to sell.

Mrs. Ridge has had full opportunity to make these observations. She has been in this country for several weeks, visiting the scattered homes of her war bride daughters and ex-GI sons-in-law. They've kept "Mama" going on a full time basis.

First she visited Mr. and Mrs. George Burns of Decatur, Ala., where, she says, she was impressed with the traditional Southern hospitality. Then she stopped off at Philadelphia to stay with Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell. Now she is in this Long Island village with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McBride, Jr.

Much as Mrs. Ridge likes America, she insists England is her country and her life. "I'm homesick," she said. "I'll go home in a month or two on the Queen Mary."

Waiting for her there are three other daughters. Her husband was killed in a V-bomb raid on London. Her calendar of activities remains full. What Mrs. Ridge says she wants to do most before she returns home is to spend some time in New York City, to see the great Empire State Building, the radio stations, the big department stores and the theaters, inside and out.

She also wants to eat some big Idaho potatoes, "like I read about

Coal Boss Offers Meet U. S. Steel On New Pact

Pittsburgh, May 17—(AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. today announced receipt of a letter from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers in which he "offered to meet" on a new coal contract.

A spokesman for "big steel" said the letter was received by Harry Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a subsidiary. In the past Moses has been a principal figure in negotiations between the UMW and the steel companies which own coal mines.

Moses declined to comment on the letter other than to say one had been received. Lewis already has arranged to meet with Southern Coal mine operators May 25 at Bluefield, W. Va. Nothing has been arranged toward negotiating a new contract with Northern coal operators.

The current contract, now identical for all three groups expires June 30.

Coal produced by steel company owned mines, the so-called "captive" pits, is used in steelmaking processes and does not appear on the commercial market.

According to a letter received by Principal O. E. Dowd of Greenville high school, Brooks tied for first place in the contest with John Gorgon of Durham high school, Bill Pleasants of Greensboro senior high, and D. G. Nuckton of New Haver high school in Wilmington.

In the letter to Mr. Dowd, E. R. Rankin, secretary of academic contests at the University, stated a total of 430 students from 35 high schools in the state participated in the contest.

GHS Senior Adds Another Honor To His Record

Frederick P. Brooks, Jr., outstanding senior at Greenville high school, has added another honor to his record of achievements. He is one of four North Carolina high school students who tied for first place in a physics contest conducted by the University of North Carolina.

According to a letter received by Principal O. E. Dowd of Greenville high school, Brooks tied for first place in the contest with John Gorgon of Durham high school, Bill Pleasants of Greensboro senior high, and D. G. Nuckton of New Haver high school in Wilmington.

11-Year School System Rapidly Going Into Past

Washington, May 17—(AP)—The 11-year school system is following the little red schoolhouse into oblivion, the office of education said today.

The seven states that had all or a part of their public schools under the 11-year system in 1937-38 have already extended their systems to 12 years or are doing so, statistician David T. Blose said.

Blose's survey showed that North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas already have switched over to the 12-year system, and Louisiana will complete its change next year.

In the other states still having 11-year school programs the enrollment in the 12-year system is Maryland, 99 per cent; Georgia, 96 per cent; Virginia, 41 per cent.

Dutch Housewife To Quit Running

New York, May 17—(AP)—The 31-year-old Dutch housewife who reputedly can outrun any female who ever laced on a pair of track shoes—Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen—may retire next year.

"I think I'll quit after the European championships next year," she said today before leaving for Los Angeles where she will run in the West Coast relays Friday and the Modesto relays Saturday.

"There is no particular reason for my picking next year to quit," the mother of two youngsters who won three individual Olympics last summer, said. "I have to quit sometime."

Boxing Champs Set In Chicago

Chicago, May 17—(AP)—European and American amateur boxing champions tapered off drills today with each squad confident of winning the International Golden Gloves Tourney at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

"We are all set and eager to get going," said Steve Klaus of Rome, coach of the 10-man team of champions from the continent. "Each lad has his weight just right and is anxious to get into the ring."

Last year, the Europeans gained their fourth tie since the international fights were inaugurated by the Chicago Tribune charities in 1931.

Musial Missing From Top Ten

New York, May 17—(AP)—Stan Musial, usually a familiar figure up at the top of the National League batting race, is conspicuously absent from the top ten hitters, but his place is occupied by another member of the St. Louis Cardinals—second baseman Al (Red) Schoendienst.

The skinny redhead, back in the Card lineup after a siege of injuries, is hammering away at a .382 clip. He has rapped out 26 hits in 73 times at bat through games including those of Sunday, May 18.

Nelson And Some 1,360 Others In National Open

New York, May 17—(AP)—Byron Nelson and some 1,360 other golfers will seek the National Open Golf championship this year.

Counting the entries after yesterday's deadline, Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U.S. Golf Association, said the second largest list in the tournament's history is assured.

The Open will be staged June 9-11 at the Medinah Country Club, just outside Chicago. Qualifying trials are scheduled later this month. The Texas cattle rancher, who has won the Open and every other major U.S. crown open to professionals, said he hoped to change some conflicting exhibition dates and make the tournament.

Nelson, who has been in semi-retirement, played sub-par golf in finishing among the leaders in the Goodall Round Robin at Wyke last week-end.

Greenies Take 6-3 Win Over Kinston To Even Up Early Season Standings

Gillespie And Mauney Are Big Guns In 10-Hit Attack Of Locals; Sweet Revenge For Double Loss On Sunday

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greenies gained sweet revenge for their double loss to the Kinston Eagles on Sunday by taking a 6 to 3 win over the Eagles here last night at Guy Smith Stadium. The win for the Greenies gave them a 2-2 standing with the Eagles in their first four contests this season.

The Greenies scored two markers in the first frame when Paul Strausser singled, stole second and Willie Mauney singled into right to bring him home, with Mauney later scoring on a single by Manager Pappy Williams.

Their other two runs were singletons scored in the fourth and eighth frames. In the fourth, Strausser walked, Gillespie singled advancing Strausser to third, and Willie Mauney came through with his third successive single to bring home Strausser. In the eighth, Helder and Denner walked, a wild pitch advanced Helder to third, who scored when Lewey laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt down the first base line.

The Eagles scored singletons in each of the fifth, sixth and eighth innings. In the fifth a double error and Romankowski's double brought in their first tally. In the sixth, Lapovicy's double aided by two errors gave them their second run; and in the eighth two successive singles by Lapovicy and Boehmer and a long fly to deep centerfield by Bandini gave them their final tally of the game.

Ralph Keys started on the mound for the Eagles and was relieved in the eighth after yielding 10 hits and five runs. Porter relieved him at the start of the eighth and pitched hitless ball but the Greenies scored one run.

Pete Gillespie with a triple, double and a single, and Willie Mauney with three singles, were the big guns in the 10-hit attack of the locals.

Ed Masonis pitched the first seven and one-third frames for the Greenies but ran into hot water during the eighth when the first two men up singled. He received credit for the win, however, his first of the season. Jim Lewey went to his place at this point and pitched one-hit ball the rest of the route.

Frank Lapovicy, the Eagles right-hander, with a double and two singles in five trips to the plate, led

Midgets Host To Kinston Friday In Local Stadium
The Greenville Midgets will play hosts to the Kinston Midgets Friday night in Guy Smith stadium as the local ball team seeks its third win of the season.

With a record of two wins and two losses for the season, Coach Bill Kitzrell's boys will be out to boost their standings above the 500 mark in the boys league play in eastern North Carolina.

Catching for the Greenville team in Friday night's game will be Bobby Nunn who currently is batting a healthy .800, the highest average in the Greenville team. In 12 trips to the plate this season, Nunn has banged out three triples, two doubles and one single.

Proceeds from the game sponsored by the Greenville Jaycees will be used to pay for the new uniforms of the local Midget team.

Plan Major Raid On English Derby

London, May 17—(AP)—Americans intend to make the biggest raid since the war this year on the world's most famous turf prize, the English Derby.

Seven U.S.-owned colts are entered in the 170th renewal of the English three-year-old classic on June 4 at picturesque Epsom Downs.

Some likely will be withdrawn when the last half of the $400 running fee is due May 24. But enough should have their fare paid to exceed the previous postwar record of two American runners last season—Black Tarquin and the Senator II both of which finished out of the money.

Most fancied invader, an 18-1 chance in recent London betting, is Brown Rover. He was bred at the Belair, Md., stud farm of William Woodward, chairman of the American Jockey Club.

The colt proved his stamina by winning over the Derby distance of 1 1/4 miles early in May. He has trained alongside another illustrious Woodward colt, the four-year-old Black Tarquin.

Another Woodward nominee Lone Eagle, may not go to the post. He was active in the betting market for a week after winning a 1 1/4 mile tune up race. But he blotted his record by running second in a 1 1/4-mile classic trial stakes.

Golf Tournament To Open Friday

When the Coastal Golf Association tournament opens at the Greenville Golf and Country Club Friday, more than 75 golfers from eastern North Carolina are expected to enter the qualifying rounds.

Qualifying rounds will be held over the nine-hole Greenville course Friday and Saturday, and the 36-hole play-off will take place Sunday to determine the winners.

Golfers from Greenville, Tarboro, Smithfield, Farmville, Kinston and New Bern are expected here for the event, officials of the local club said.

Sports Slants By Pap

Considering the chaotic state of the Red Sox pitching staff this spring, the pair of shutouts Mel Parnell turned in for his first pitching efforts of the season must have been a source of great pleasure to Manager Joe McCarthy. At the same time, the fine pitching efforts of Parnell came as no surprise to McCarthy. Mel had established himself with the Manager last season, when, after a shaky start, he wound up with a 15-8 record. During one stretch, Parnell put together a string of six straight triumphs. Five of these were under the lights and earned him the nickname of Mr. Midnight.

Winterville Nine Takes Impressive Victories In Pitt County League

Weekend games in the Pitt County League saw Loftin Store take a 13-2 win Saturday and a 19-8 win Sunday over Darden Store. Batteries for Loftin Saturday, Harrington and Butts; for Darden, Joyner and Falkner.

Sunday's batteries, for Darden: Craft and Falkner; for Loftin, Speight and Heath. Winterville and Bell Arthur played a single game on Saturday and Sunday saw the teams engaged in a doubleheader. Bell Arthur took an easy 8-4 win Saturday. Batteries: for Winterville, Peed and Shivers; for Bell Arthur: Dunn and Nichols.

Sunday's doubleheader went to Winterville by the one-sided scores of 19-9 and 18-8. Red Nobles, with four singles led the Winterville hit parade in the opener. Winton Hill, accounting for three singles and a homer, topped the winners at bat in the second contest.

Batteries: Winterville, Peed, Shivers; Bell Arthur, O. Nichols, Forrest (first game). Winterville: Sumrell, Falkner; Bell Arthur, Forrest, Nichols (second game).

Paul Strausser was the only successful base stealer for the Greenies last night, while Pete Gillespie and Ted Guinan were both caught trying to snatch a base. . . . The Eagles hit successfully in every inning with the exception of the first but made up for it in the ninth when they got two hits. . . . Jim Lewey, Pappy Williams' relief hurler, put out the fire for the Greenies in the eighth frame after two Eagles had started to rolling on two successive singles. . . . Bob Cohen remained out of the lineup again last night with that leg injury. . . . Bobby Harrison has developed a sore arm and will be unable to see action for several days.

Paul Helder, who played right-field last night in the place of Bob Cohen, is a rookie and was sent to the Greenies by the Meridian, Miss., club of the Southeastern League. . . . Harold Furr, who played in only two games for the Greenies, has been given his outright release by the club. . . . Allan Washburn, a native of Shelby and a limited service third baseman, has reported to the Roanoke Rapids Jays. He formerly played with the Newark, Ohio, team. . . . Manager Joe Antolick of the Tarboro Athletics has announced the signing of three players, all rookies. They are Fredrick McOsker, a catcher, and John Krahulec, a shortstop, both from Kewanee, Ill., and Jim Jordan, right-hand pitcher from Youngstown, Ohio. He also stated that Vincent Gohl, limited service left-hand pitcher, was due in from Philadelphia today. He is optioned to the Athletics from Martinsville Va. . . . Club managers will have to cut down their squads to 17 players by Friday, May 20. This is the limit for carrying 19 men on the roster.

Big League Managers Can Call It 'Year Of Blowups'

Must Be Lucky

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Denver, May 17—(AP)—Pueblo's Kwing Turner hit to left field in a western league baseball game last night and wondered if he'd be out.

The ball got past Denver outfielder Pete Todeschi. Turner dashed for second. The ball bounded against the left field fence, bounced back. Todeschi missed it again. Bob Jaderund, another outfielder, picked it up and tossed to Johnny Angelone for what looked like a sure out at second.

Angelone missed. Turner blithely went towards third. Shortstop Jack Weisenburger recovered the ball before the runner was half way there.

After watching his charges drop three straight to the Braves in Boston, Shotton really exploded Sunday. He ripped into his players with a tongue-lashing the like of which they had not heard since the departure of Leo Durocher.

McCarthy's explosion came yesterday, but his tirade was directed at the umpires. It came about after the final out was made in the Washington-Boston game, won by the Senators, 3-1.

Every club with the exception of Washington and Boston enjoyed an off-day yesterday. The clubs resume action today, with the National League's western clubs host to the east, and the American League's eastern teams host to the west.

Yesterday's triumph enabled the Nats to deadlock the Philadelphia Athletics for fourth place in the American League. They trail the front-running Yankees by three games. The seventh place Sox are now five games off the pace.

Mickey Haefner pitched an eight-hitter for his third triumph.

Williams-Bolanos Fight Postponed

Los Angeles, May 17—(AP)—Champion Ike Williams' lightweight title bout with Mexico's Enrique Bolanos, scheduled for May 26, has been postponed. But a new date probably will be set today.

Dr. Francisco Bravo, California Athletic Commission physician, announced after examining Williams yesterday that the champion is suffering from bursitis of the right shoulder joint.

Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia, co-manager of Williams, requested a delay of six weeks to two months. Dr. Bravo said the condition warrants such a layoff.

Inspector Clayton Frye of the Athletic Commission said, no official action will be taken until he confers with the state board.

But George Parmassus, Bolanos' manager, intimated the whole thing might be a stall.

"I was advised two days ago that Williams wanted more time to train so he could make the weight," Parmassus said. "Now this happens."

Palermo replied, "There's no question of our running out of the fight. It has cost me $5,000 already."

He added his protegee now scales 139 and would have no trouble making the 135-pound mark.

Di Maggio And Cutdowns Pose Problem For Yanks

New York, May 17—(AP)—The major league ball clubs are rushing to get their rosters down to the 25-man limit by Thursday, but the big question is: What's to be done with Joe DiMaggio?

The Yankees' belting outfielder, out of uniform since the season's start, still is on the sidelines with an ailing heel. The New York club, meanwhile, must lope off four surplus players.

Will DiMaggio be placed on the voluntary retired list for 60 days or will he be retained in the active ranks, probably for pinch-hitting duty until he can go full-speed?

The answer to this puzzle, Club General Manager George Weiss said, will depend on a new X-ray examination of Joe's celebrated heel tomorrow.

"We are waiting until the last possible moment before making a move in his case," Weiss said.

DiMaggio, after undergoing an operation on the heel in the winter, became plagued with a bone spur during spring training. This made him clinic material again.

He missed a week of treatment while attending the funeral of his father on the Pacific coast. DiMaggio himself says he doesn't know how well the heel will stand up.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

Peddler of Dreams

Chapter 22

And so Garrett started another book, though there were periods of depression and discouragement when Felicity found it difficult to get him to work.

She walked to the grocery one afternoon for the following day's supplies. Felicity was tired, worried about Garrett; she almost forgot to stop in at the postoffice, next door to the grocery store, for mail.

The pleasant, elderly man behind the General Delivery window of the branch postoffice greeted her with a smile and said, "One only today, Miss Horne. Lovely day, isn't it?"

She thanked him and accepted the long, rather plump envelope he gave her. It was addressed to her, and in the upper right-hand corner there was the address: "Ackerman & Connors, Inc., New York City."

Puzzled, Felicity tore open the envelope. Out of it she drew a letter, a printed legal-looking document—and a long green slip which she studied with wide, incredulous eyes. It read: Pay to the order of Felicity Horne, One thousand dollars. It was signed: Harry J. Ackerman, Pres. Ackerman & Connors, Inc.

Felicity's hand shook as she unfolded the letter. It was brief and to the point. It told her that her play, Meet the Family, had been turned over to Ackerman & Connors by Charles Drummond and that they—Ackerman & Connors—liked the play and were enclosing her a check for one thousand dollars covering a six months' option on the play, together with a contract, one copy of which she would keep, and the other she was to sign and return to them. They would advise her as to when they would look forward to meeting her should she care to come to New York to attend the rehearsals.

Her first impulse was to run as fast as she could to the camp with the news. And then like a dash of cold water in her face, she thought of Garrett. Of his dejection and unhappiness at the failure of his book to find a publisher. He was already so miserable that she knew Garrett would be glad for her sake and would rejoice with her, but it would only add to his own depression.

and unhappiness. It might even give him an inferiority complex. It might even wreck their love. She decided, for the present, to say nothing to anybody about the sale. She would put the check in the bank.

She felt guilty as she prepared supper and served it; but Garrett's discouraged face, his manner when supper was over, told her that he was going through dark waters and convinced her that she had been right to withhold her news.

Things were at this pass when, on a certain stormy night, she was awakened well past midnight by a small voice crying, "Flics! Flics—let me in!" and by small hands pounding on the door. Still dazed with sleep, she slid out of bed, opened the door and a white-faced, disheveled, very wet Tippy stumbled into her arms.

"Oh, Flics—don't let me—don't let me!" wailed Tippy.

"Darling, don't cry so. Nobody's going to do anything to you. Sweet, stop crying and tell Flics what's wrong!"

"I've—I've had an sarache, Flics—and they're goin' to—o operate!" said Tippy through her sobs, her eyes wide with terror.

Felicity gathered that the doctor had diagnosed the sarache as something more serious. From Tippy's stammered gasping of the word, Felicity knew that it had been mastoiditis, and her heart faltered for the bare thought. There was a plan to operate in the morning. Susan had not meant Tippy to know. One of the servants had overheard and had told another servant and Tippy, with only the vaguest idea of what was meant, had heard them discussing the coming operation. Overcome with terror, Tippy had managed to slip out of the house that night and had to Felicity, on her bicycle.

They had quieted Tippy, bundled her in a warm blanket and tucked her into bed when there was the sound of a car outside and Felicity went out to face Susan. A white-faced Susan in a quilted satin hooded Susan in a dark fur coat.

"Felicity, I'm sick about this," said Susan softly. "I meant to make a game of it."

"I know, Susan. But tell me what the doctor said," Felicity cut in.

"It's mastoiditis, darling. Oh, I know how you feel. It knocked the pins from under me, too," said Susan.

Freistadt Will Testify Before Senate-House Group In Inquiry

Washington, May 17 — (AP) — Lawmakers were assured today of a first hand account of how at least one admitted communist received a fellowship for science study from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Hans Freistadt, a University of North Carolina student, said last night he had accepted an invitation from Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) to testify before the Senate-Atomic Energy Commission.

It was Freistadt's fellowship which touched off the sharp inquiry on Capitol Hill into the commission's scholarship program. The 23-year-old student, Austrian born, acknowledges he is a communist.

He wired McMahon that he wants to testify and asked the senator to name a date.

For today's session, the Senate-Atomic Energy committee called for testimony from Dr. Detlev Bronk, president of Johns Hopkins University and chairman of the National Research Council (9 a.m. EST). In advance of Bronk's appearance, there were these other developments:

1. Senator Knowland (R-Calif) hinted that the Senate Appropriations Committee may be asked to limit the House of the Commission's funds to prevent any student aid from going to communists or fellow travelers.

2. Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) said there may be room for compromise between the committee's apparent view that the loyalty of all applicants for student aid should be investigated by the FBI and by the committee members that this would "put the government's finger in education."

3. Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal said he would accept a known communist in the student aid program if the research council recommended him, because he feels the awards should be in the hands of a "private, non-government, non-politically dominated organization."

But it might be a good idea, Lilienthal added, if the council were to change its methods of picking students for fellowships.

The committee heard yesterday that FBI investigations had turned up two communists and two fellow travelers among the aid applicants. One of the communists was Freistadt.

Dr. A. N. Richards, vice president of the University of Pennsylvania and president of the National Academy of Science, told the committee yesterday that it now appears that the award to Freistadt was a "mistake."

Judges Williams And Parker Due To Preside Here

By CHESTER WALSH

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids will preside over a one-week civil term of Superior Court here starting next Monday, May 23.

Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford will preside over the mixed term of court starting Monday, May 30, when civil and criminal cases may be tried.

The two-weeks May term of court was originally scheduled for civil cases. Upon request of Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy and other court officials, the Board of County Commissioners requested Pitt County Representative S. O. Worthington to introduce a bill in the General Assembly providing for making the second week of court a mixed term in order to dispose of jail cases.

The cases against Bennie Daniel and Lloyd Ray Daniel, Negro youths, who are charged with the murder of William Benjamin O'Neal, local taxicab driver, at a rural point near Greenville the night of last February 5, will be called during the second week of court.

When the Daniels were arraigned on the murder charges at the April term of Superior Court, Judge Parker ordered that they be held in a state institution of observation by psychiatrists for a period of 30 days, ending May 7.

The Halifax county jurist also appointed Attorneys Arthur B. Corey and W. W. (Bill) Speight as counsel for the defendants at the expense of the county. Since then however, court officials have been informed that two Negro attorneys from Raleigh, the other from Durham, have been engaged as counsel for the defendants.

Pitt County Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson and Greenville Police Chief Lester D. Page said the defendants both signed statements admitting that they killed O'Neal.

Pitt Milk Ruling To Be Discussed

Dr. T. G. Basnight, Pitt County health officer, said this morning W. L. Thorpe, Rocky Mount attorney, had requested permission to meet with Pitt county health authorities this afternoon to discuss the amendment to the county milk ordinance passed yesterday by the Pitt county board of health.

Basnight said he advised Thorpe yesterday that milk distributed in Pitt county by Gardner Dairy of Rocky Mount could be delivered this morning, but in accordance with the provisions of the measure passed yesterday, no deliveries could be made in Pitt county by the Rocky Mount concern after today.

The amendment to the local milk ordinance passed by the Pitt county board of health yesterday provided that no pasteurized milk processed outside Pitt county can be sold within the county.

Thorpe was scheduled to meet with the Pitt county authorities at 3:30 this afternoon, Basnight said.

President Lists N. C. Nominees

Washington, May 17—(AP)—President Truman has sent to the senate these postmaster nominations for North Carolina:

Walker C. Craven, Asheboro; Clarence H. McCaskill, Candor; Elizabeth W. Settle, Cordova; Arthur F. Dawkins, East Rockingham; Marvin D. Harper, La Grange; Robert M. McRee, Maiden; Jasper A. Drye, Richfield; Thomas F. Norfleet, Jr., Roxobel; Thomas V. Hall, Spruce Pine; Dewey F. Cockrell, Stone Point, and Harry D. McLaughlin, Waxhaw.

Three Officials Of Extension Service In Pitt Thursday

Three officials of the state agricultural extension service will be in Pitt county Thursday for a discussion of permanent pastures with farmers of this area.

County Agent S. C. Winchester said the pasture meeting will be held on the farm of Joe Moyer, Jr., three miles east of Farmville Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Jack Kelley, extension swine specialist will lead the discussion of pastures as they relate to hog production and Sam Dodson, extension pasture specialist, Dr. H. A. Stewart, swine research specialist, and H. H. McVey, representative of Kingan and company meat packers also will take part in the discussion, Winchester stated.

Following the morning meeting lunch will be served in the Ballards community building.

Robber Fails Enter Store For Robbery

Sheriff's officers are continuing their investigation of the robbery during the weekend of Eastwood's Store on the Old Creek Road. Deputy Jasper L. Mills, who with Capt. S. Bowen Dorsey is investigating the attempted break-in, said the robber failed to get in a door and pushed up a window. He was unable to reach anything more valuable than some pencils and hair tonic.

Co-Op Speaker To Address Farmers

Robert Porter, district membership representative of the Farmers Exchange Cooperative, will speak to Pitt county farmers on the cooperative movement Wednesday night at the Ballard's community building at 7:45.

Pictures also will be shown at the meeting.

was a "Communist."

There was excitement in the hall. One man called Terminiello a "God damned liar." Another jumped up and yelled "Kill the Jews."

As a result of this meeting Terminiello was charged with disorderly conduct and found guilty because of a breach of the peace. He fought the case up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

He argued that his conviction was contrary to his right to free speech under the first amendment of the constitution. And yesterday the court upheld him, saying:

Freedom of speech cannot be curbed merely because the speech stirs people to anger, invites public dispute and creates unrest.

The court said: "A function of free speech under our system of government is to invite dispute. It may indeed best serve its high purpose when it induces a condition of unrest, creates dissatisfaction with conditions as they are or even stirs people to anger."

Dissenting from the majority decision, Justice Jackson said it is a "dogma of absolute freedom for irresponsible and provocative utterances which almost completely sterilizes the power of local authorities to keep the peace as against this kind of tactics."

Since policemen everywhere will act as they think necessary in any situation, the Supreme Court decision doesn't mean that tomorrow someone won't be jailed for talking as Terminiello did. Then that case may start up through the courts for a decision.
