

German Vote May Upset Soviet Plan

Fact That Third Of Voters Went Against Communism Seen As Bringing Reappraisal Of Action In Paris Conference

By WES GALLAGHER
Berlin, May 18 (AP)—Eastern Germany's 4,000,000 votes against communism may have thrown gravel into the gears of Soviet strategy at the four power talks in Paris opening Monday.

The communists claimed a "tremendous victory" in the East German election, but the fact that one-third of the voters went against them clearly was as staggering a blow to them as it was a surprise to everybody else.

As a result the Soviet Union may pause, now, and reappraise its plans of action in the Paris conference. For instance, the must weigh new factors in deciding what position to take on any proposal for withdrawal of all armies of occupation from Germany.

Before the election, the Russians had been reported as favoring withdrawal by both east and west occupation forces, presumably with the idea that east German communists were strong enough to seize control of any central German government embracing all zones, either at once or later.

But in the voting Sunday and Monday in the Russian zone, 13,024,221 voters cast valid ballots. They had the choice of voting for a hand-picked slate of candidates for election to a "People's Congress" (Soviet-style parliament) for eastern Germany, or voting against the ticket. Yet 4,080,272 persons voted "no" as evidence that they didn't want communist rule.

There arises, then this obvious question: In an area swarming with Soviet troops and communist spies, how many voted for the communist slate, although actually wishing they had the courage to vote against it?

The one-third "no" vote enormously strengthens the hands of the United States, Britain and France in the Paris meetings. They now will face the Russian strategists knowing that west Germany's 46,000,000 inhabitants are solidly opposed to communism, and at least a third of those under Russian rule don't like it any better.

Walter Ulbricht, a top east German communist leader, clearly was stung by the vote, although he called it a "tremendous victory." He met with Socialist Unity (communist) party officials and told them: "We must make every effort now to win a majority of the 'no' voters for German unity." He said an appeal to their nationalism still seemed the best tactic.

Ulbricht interpreted the election as the go-ahead for communists to consider the new People's Congress the "sole representative" of the German people. A majority of the people of all Germany, he asserted, oppose the western occupation status and want an early peace treaty.

He instructed the leaders to try to win over all Germans, "from worker to industrialist," but emphasized this invitation for capitalist support would not mean abandonment of "the anti-fascist democratic order which has been established in the east zone and the east sector of Berlin."

Americans Claim Subtle Blockade Of Berlin Tried

Soviet Guards Demanding Special Permits For Trucks At Zone Border

Berlin, May 18 (AP)—American officials charged today that Russia is seeking to reimpose a "subtle blockade" of Berlin.

C. A. Dix, American Military Government transport expert, hurriedly left here by car to investigate why 150 West German trucks are now held at Helmstedt on the Soviet zone frontier.

Official reports said the frontier guards were demanding suddenly that trucks present written permits from the Soviet-appointed East German Economic Commission for entry of all cargoes, whether consigned to West Berlin or east zone points.

The Russians also claim the right to control all exports from West Berlin, although the blockade was lifted officially May 12. This claim has blocked rail and trunk shipments westward.

The Soviet claims—if accepted by the Western Allies—would enable the Russian military administration to control the volume and character of all West Berlin's land-borne commerce with Western Germany.

A veteran American officer commented: "This is the 'subtle blockade' beginning all over again, designed to reduce the allies in Berlin to the status of military missions dependent on Russians for all material goods."

"The Russians tried this 'subtle blockade' last year and in some ways it hurt us more than the 'open blockade' which followed."

"They want to have the same kind of control over West Berlin which they have over Poland or Bulgaria."

The Soviet frontier ban on cargoes lacking the East German Economic Commission's prior approval was instituted at Helmstedt last night.

It came in the midst of four-power talks in Berlin attempting to straighten out disputes over trade and communications between East and West Germany.

In these talks, the Western Allies have turned down a Russian demand for full reinstatement of the 1948 East-West German trade pact, but offered to negotiate new terms.

Post Commander Officers Chosen By Legionaires

T. I. WAGNER

Convention Delegates Named; Fountain On Fair Board

Pitt County Post 39 of the American Legion last night chose T. I. Wagner as commander for the coming year, elected other officers and named delegates to the coming state convention to be held in Raleigh in June. Commander T. K. Fountain was named a member of the Pitt County Fair board to succeed Carroll Chauncey who has moved away from the county.

Other officers named last night included J. Howard Moyer first vice-commander, Coy L. Forbes, second vice-commander, A. V. Moore, third vice-commander, Dr. W. C. Haney, post chaplain, and N. S. (Kid) Tyson, sergeant at arms.

As a concluding feature of the meeting, which was held at the Legion home on Evans street, a movie on Boy Scouting was shown by Sherman Park and Jack Hogarth local officials of the scout movement. Hogarth congratulated the Legion on its sponsorship of a troop of Boy Scouts and urged full support of the movement in the community.

Dogged Shanghai Defense Keeping Red Army At Bay

Assaults Repeatedly Beaten Back; No Evidence Of Resistance In South

Shanghai, May 18 (AP)—The Communists drove a spearhead through Shanghai's "back door" almost to the Whangpoo River today. In South China the Reds lunged to within 31 miles of the port of Foochow.

A Shanghai garrison communique acknowledged the Shanghai thrust but said it had been wiped out in fierce fighting.

The advance on Foochow, Fukien provincial capital almost midway between Shanghai and the provisional capital of Canton, was reported by the Nationalists' official Central News Agency.

The garrison communique said "two regiments of Reds penetrated Tungchow" which is virtually on the east bank of the Whangpoo eight miles downriver from the center of Shanghai. They were surrounded and eliminated from Shanghai's famed bund.

The communique said Communist troops to the north of Shanghai resumed their attack last night on Woosung, guardian of the river channel to the sea. The Reds again were beaten back by the air force, artillery and infantry, the garrison said, and that vital area was then quiet.

Nationalist resistance around Woosung, the communique asserted, had "totally broken" the Red 29th Army and "seriously depleted two divisions of the 29th Army."

It is not easy to assay accurately the situation around Shanghai but no longer is there any question that the Reds are getting a run for their money here. They are not much closer than they were five days ago.

None of the dogged Nationalist resistance being shown around Shanghai was in evidence in South China.

The Central News Agency report that the Reds were only 31 miles from Foochow even put the thrust closer than the Communist radio did last night. The Peiping broadcast said the Reds had taken Nanning, 87 miles northwest of the Pukien port.

Economy Advocates Beaten Again In Budget-Cut Plans

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Senators trying to whittle federal spending refused today to give up, despite another setback.

The latest reverse—a victory for administration budget plans—came late yesterday when the Senate wiped out its previous order calling for a five per cent cut in the operating costs of the labor department and the federal security agency. The reduction would have amounted to about $11,000,000.

After killing that economy order, the senate passed by voice vote and sent back to the house a bill carrying $2,409,000,000 for the two agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1. That figure is $185,000,000 more than the house voted.

It was the second regular appropriations bill passed by the Senate. Last week the economy group failed in an attempt to cut five per cent off the annual allotment for the treasury and post office department.

Yesterday's defeat disappointed those out to trim spending, and it indicated an up-hill fight all the way in the future. But Senator Wherry (Neb.), the Republican leader, said the battle is just getting started.

He told a reporter the economy bloc will bounce right back with a motion to cut $1,300,000,000 agricultural department bill by five per cent. The senate opened debate on that measure yesterday and resumes today, (11 a. m., EST).

"We are going to keep right on driving," Wherry said.

He added that if the economy move gets no place on a bill-by-bill basis a motion to trim all appropriations five to 10 per cent probably will be offered after all the money bills have been acted upon.

But Senator Byrd (Va.) leader of the spend-less forces on the Democratic side, said he is pessimistic about the chances for an overall cut later. He said it will be very difficult to achieve any economy "unless we do it as we go along."

The senate voted 44 to 37 on April 28 for a five per cent cut in the labor-federal security bill. A motion by Senator Greer (D-RI) to reconsider that decision was approved yesterday, 43 to 41.

Board Of Health Deadline Lifted On Ban Of Milk

Affected Dairy May Continue Shipments Until Saturday; Meeting Friday

Milk distributed by Gardner Dairy Products of Rocky Mount, ordered banned from Pitt county by a measure passed by the county board of health on Monday, will be allowed to be sold in Pitt county until Saturday by action of the health officer yesterday.

Dr. T. G. Beantley, county health officer, with the approval of J. H. Boyd, D. H. Conley and Dr. B. McK. Johnson, members of the county board of health, yesterday advised the Gardner company that its milk could continue to be distributed in the county until Saturday, and a final ruling on the matter would be given by the Pitt county board of health when it meets Friday night.

Yesterday afternoon J. C. Gardner of Gardner Dairy Products, and W. L. Thorpe of Rocky Mount and Pink James of Greenville, attorneys for the company, met with three representatives of the county board of health and three members of the health department to discuss the amendment to the local milk ordinance passed Monday by the board of health.

During the meeting J. H. Boyd, member of the board of health, told the group, "We have no desire to build a wall around Greenville and Pitt county or to keep trade out. We are not attempting to protect the Carolina Dairy."

Dr. B. McK. Johnson, who made the motion Monday that the measure be passed banning all pasteurized milk not processed in the county, stated at yesterday's meeting, "Since the amendment passed yesterday (Monday), I have been thinking about it and the people on the edge of our county, and I don't know whether we were hasty in our action or not."

W. L. Thorpe, spokesman for the Rocky Mount concern which has been permitted to sell milk in Pitt county since February, said the company was notified by telegram Monday night that its deliveries in the county should be discontinued immediately because of the action taken by the board of health. He said the local officials yesterday, "Unless we can satisfy you that our milk is safe, we would not expect you to allow us to sell our milk here."

It was pointed out in yesterday's meeting that the milk distributed in Pitt county by Gardner Dairy Products is bottled in Lexington by the Coble company, and that an ordinance similar to the one passed by the local health board was passed by the Rocky Mount board of health, and that the milk is not permitted to be sold within the limits of that city. Thorpe told the board the Rocky Mount ordinance was passed to prevent milk from a particular shed from coming into the city, and that the ordinance "was not directed against Gardner."

Following the meeting yesterday Gardner said he expected to attend the meeting of the board Friday night, and he had been informed by the president of Coble Dairy products, that he or his representative also would attend the meeting.

Scott Appoints Commissioners

Raleigh, May 18 (AP)—Governor Scott yesterday named two of his leading supporters as state industrial commissioners, jobs paying $7,920 annually.

He appointed Rep. J. Frank Huskins of Yancey and Robert L. Scott of Durham, both attorneys, to the posts.

Huskins succeeds the late Pat Kinzey as representative of employers while Scott succeeds Buren Jurney as public representative.

No dates were set for swearing in the two commissioners.

Robert Scott, the governor's office emphasized, is no relation of the governor.

The two appointments give Governor Scott an entirely new industrial commission. Recently he named J. W. Beason of Spencer to succeed T. A. Wilson as representative of labor. Wilson resigned to enter the insurance business.

Kinzey died last week. Huskins' appointment will be for the remainder of his term which expires May 1, 1953.

Scott was appointed for a six-year term expiring May 1, 1955.

Senators Pledging Support Communist Elements In Britain Pledge Court Fight

London May 18 (AP)—Defenders of fugitive Communist Gerhart Eisler pledged today a legal "fight to the utmost limits" for him.

Eisler, who fled the United States while under sentence for two criminal convictions, is in a South London prison awaiting an extradition hearing next Tuesday.

The British council for German Democracy, which styles itself "completely non-party," has retained a lawyer for Eisler and promised to use every legal means to prevent his return to the United States.

The council appealed to the public for books and cigarettes to make the Communist leader's jail stay more comfortable. The group said it also planned a campaign to raise money for his defense.

Eisler, described by a U. S. House of Representatives committee as No. 1 Communist agent in the U. S., jumped bail of $23,500 and stowed away on the Polish liner Betony, when it left New York. He was forcibly removed from the ship by Scotland Yard men at Southampton last Saturday.

The British Cultural committee for peace, a leftist organization, last night sponsored meetings which passed unanimously resolutions demanding the release of Eisler.

McCloy Appointed High Commissioner For U. S.

Washington, May 18 (AP)—President Truman today appointed John J. McCloy to be United States Commissioner for Germany.

McCloy is resigning as president of the world bank to take on the assignment.

Directors of the world bank elected Eugene Black, now a director, as president to succeed McCloy.

The White House said the resignation will become effective no later than July 1.

It also said that McCloy will take under "every advisement" development of plans for the transfer of responsibility for non-military aspects of United States occupation of Germany from the army to the state department and the economic cooperation administration.

"This transfer will take place on or about the time of the establishment of the German provisional government," the announcement said.

High commissioner to Germany will be a new post.

The United States, Britain and France have made plans to give the Germans in their occupation zones a large degree of responsibility for governing themselves.

With the shift, strictly military control will end. Commissioners from the three governments will deal with the German government. However, occupation troops will continue to be kept in Germany.

Missing Uranium Found In Wastes

AEC Reveals Most Of Missing Mineral Is Located

Washington, May 18 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission was looking for a missing quarter-ounce of uranium-235 today after reporting recovery of a larger amount from waste material at one of its laboratories.

In an announcement last night that a much greater quantity of the atomic-bomb material had disappeared and could not be found.

It said that all told about 1.66 ounces of the stuff—32 grams—could not be accounted for last February after a routine inventory at the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago. The FBI was notified and an analysis of all laboratory waste was started.

"To date," the announcement said, "26 grams of the 32 have been accounted for at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) through analysis of contents of containers of salvage material, machine turnings, chemical solutions and so forth sent there from Argonne Laboratory for recovery treatment."

"The remaining seven grams—less than 4 1/2 ounces—is not believed to have been stolen or lost as analysis of the waste is still continuing."

The earlier reports set the amount of missing U-235 as high as three quarters of a pound. That created quite a flurry, especially after the FBI confirmed that it had investigated a report of missing fissionable material from the Chicago laboratory.

In New York, the Daily News said in a copyrighted Washington story that three-quarters of a pound of uranium-235 compound, explosive heart of the atom bomb had vanished from the Chicago laboratories of the Atomic Energy Commission.

President Of World Bank To Become Supreme U. S. Authority In Germany When Military Rule Is Concluded

Washington, May 18 (AP)—President Truman today appointed John J. McCloy to be United States Commissioner for Germany.

Directors of the world bank elected Eugene Black, now a director, as president to succeed McCloy.

Compromise Bid Is Thrown Away

Detroit, May 18 (AP)—One more compromise proposal lay in the wastebasket today as Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers sought a settlement of a two-week-old strike.

Active government intervention in the vexing production speed-up dispute still was only a possibility. More than 100,000 men are off the job.

Arthur C. Viat, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said he had not decided whether or when to step into the peace talks.

Some observers felt he would not take an active part as long as both sides kept making trade proposals.

The latest of a series of these was made yesterday by the company and turned down quickly by the UAW as "fantastic."

Ford suggested that the union call off its strike everywhere except in the "B" building of the big Rouge plant in neighboring Dearborn and the Lincoln-Mercury plant in Detroit.

Scott Appoints Commissioners

Raleigh, May 18 (AP)—Governor Scott yesterday named two of his leading supporters as state industrial commissioners, jobs paying $7,920 annually.

Defense Chief Asks Go-Ahead In Housing Program

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Defense secretary Johnson today asked Congress for authority to go ahead with a $623,125,682 housing and building program for the armed services. He said the need is "critical."

Simultaneously, a Presidential committee reported that in many places, "servicemen are forced to pay penthouse rents for chicken coops in the slum areas that have grown up near military installations in recent years."

The money that would be spent in Johnson's program has been included in President Truman's $15,000,000,000 defense budget for the year starting July 1. But congress had not yet approved the appropriations.

Children Tossed To Safety From Burning Home

Lancaster, N. C., May 18 (AP)—A young mother tossed two children into neighbors' arms, then leaped to safety today after fire burned her husband to death.

It happened at 3 a. m. at the two-story garage apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. (Buster) Hough. The body of Hough, 36, was found in the living room. He operated a grill at the Lancaster Bus Station.

Neighbors surmised that Hough had fallen to sleep in the living room. When Mrs. Hough perceived that escape was blocked, she tossed her children, one two years old and the other five months, to neighbors standing beneath her bedroom window. Then she jumped. The three were uninjured.

Colony Question Still Up In Air

New York, May 18 (AP)—The Berlin forum plan to split up Italy's pre-war colonies among four nations failed early today in the U. N. general assembly.

A last-minute Latin American revolt brought a thumping rejection of the American-supported measure which had been denounced by Slavs and Arabs as a "deal" to strengthen Anglo-American control of the Mediterranean.

Farm Workers In Italy On Strike

Rome, May 18 (AP)—Forty thousand farm workers were called off their jobs today in Italy's most serious strike in months.

The walkout affects grain areas of home province and the rich Po Valley, just at the start of the rice planting season.

It is the first to unite in common action the communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor and the rival Christian Democratic Free Confederation of Labor.

Roosevelt Wins Election In New York By Big Vote

New York, May 18 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., first of the late President's five children to seek elective office, has launched his political career by giving Tammany Hall a sound licking.

The 34-year-old lawyer, bearing one of the most potent political names in the nation's history, captured more votes than all three of his opponents in winning yesterday's 20th congressional district special election.

Roosevelt collected 41,146 votes, 31,037 on the liberal party ticket and 10,109 under the four freedoms party banner.

His three opponents got 39,726 distributed this way: Municipal court Justice Benjamin Shalleck, Democrat, 24,352; William H. McIntyre, Republican, 10,026; Mrs. Annette T. Rubinstein, A.L.P., 5,348.

His jubilant supporters, toasting him at rallies throughout the district last night, chanted "next stop—the Governor's mansion" and "the next governor of New York." His father was governor two terms, vaulting from there to the White House.

FDR Jr., centered his campaign fire on the ancient Manhattan Democratic organization, just as his father had battled Tammany in his first political job as a state senator more than 35 years ago.

In turn, the Democratic organization denounced young Roosevelt as an interloper in the district and as a playboy trying to trade on his father's name. The Republicans also attacked him, and the American Labor party lashed him bitterly.

The special election in the Manhattan West side district filled a vacancy caused by the death of Democrat Sol Bloom, who had won 13 straight terms there.

Many political observers thought the tremendous outpouring of voters, far exceeding pre-election estimates, definitely marked the Roosevelt decline as a man with a political future.

Freistadt Defends His Scholarship From AEC

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Hans Freistadt, avowed Communist, told congressmen today that if his atomic energy commission fellowship is taken away, the same sort of thing may happen later to a "militant New Dealer, a Progressive, or even a Republican."

The Austrian-born student defended his Communist beliefs but at the same time asserted he is loyal to the United States. He said he would quit the party if he believed it to be under foreign control.

Freistadt, whose fellowship has stirred up a congressional inquiry into the AEC's multi-million dollar scientific educational program, appeared before the joint congressional Atomic Energy committee.

He is a student at the University of North Carolina. His $1,600 fellowship for the study of physics is to become effective July 1, 1949.

Earlier Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of a senate appropriations subcommittee, said the AEC's spending bill for fiscal 1950 will not contain any money for Freistadt's fellowship or for any other person of similar beliefs.

"Once scientists and science students are discriminated against because of their political views or lawful political activities the whole concept of academic freedom as we have known it is endangered," Freistadt told the committee.

Three Speeches For Bond Issue

Raleigh, May 18 (AP)—Governor Scott will make three speeches tonight plugging the June 4 road and school bond election issues.

At 6 p. m. he will speak before a joint meeting of civic clubs in Clayton. An hour later he will address a rally in the Clayton ball park.

Then he will head south to Smithfield, 13 miles away, where he will talk at the Johnston county courthouse.

No Pacific Pact Joining Sighted

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today that "there are serious dangers to world peace existing in the situation in Asia."

But he ruled out, at least for the time being, any United States participation in a Pacific defense pact.

Asked at his news conference what specific dangers he sees in Asiatic conditions, the secretary of state declared he thinks it is plain that the dangers are those which revolve around the present disturbed conditions in China.

Liquor Sales In April Show Jump

Raleigh, May 18 (AP)—A four per cent increase in liquor sales during April was noted in a monthly report released by the State ABC Board yesterday.

ABC stores grossed $3,739,618.70 last month compared with $3,583,029.70 for April, 1948.

Mecklenburg maintained its lead among the wet counties and also showed the greatest gain.

Patience Is On Trial

Two Federal Judges Who Fight To Remain Calm In Face Of Windy Wrangling And Provocation While Trying 11 Communists and Judith Coplon; Reason

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Two Federal Judges are leaning over backwards to stay calm.

One, Harold R. Medina, is presiding at the trial of 11 Communist leaders in New York. The other, Albert L. Reeves, has the trial of Miss Judith Coplon here.

In both cases tactics of the defense lawyers have annoyed the Judges, and they've let it be known. But both are bent on doing nothing that could be called "unjudicial" or that would make them seem prejudiced against the defendants.

If the defendants are convicted and appeal to a higher court, the verdict against them might be thrown out if—

The defense lawyers could show that the conduct of the trial judges hurt their clients' chances with the jury.

If there is a conviction in these cases, they're pretty certain to be appealed all the way up to the U. S. Supreme court.

Take the Coplon case . . .

Judith Coplon, 28, former justice department employee, is charged here in Washington, where she used to work, with taking government papers

Deadly Realism For War Games

Fort Bragg, N. C., May 18 (AP)—Unintended realism has been lent to the exercise Tar Heel war games going on at this sprawling artillery post.

Three soldiers have been killed since the maneuvers started two weeks ago. The latest victim, Capt. Clinton R. MacFarland, 32, of Hopewell, Va., was fatally injured in a mass parachute jump yesterday. Twenty-seven other jumpers were hurt, none critically.

Summer Weather

Raleigh, N. C., May 18 (AP)—The Textile Workers Union of America has filed suit in federal court here against the Sterling Cotton Mills, Inc., of Franklinton over the discharge of 56 employees on May 12.

The highest temperature recorded by the local station of the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau yesterday was 87 degrees at 3 p. m. The mercury dropped to 59 degrees during the night. It stood at 67 at 8 a. m. today and was rising.

Rocking The Kremlin

All Is Not Sweetness And Light Behind Iron Curtain; Shock Of German Vote: Fits In Picture Of Broader Significance; Other Evidence Of Discontent

By DEWITT MACLENNAN

The Kremlin must have been set rocking by the election in the Soviet zone of Eastern Germany, where more than a third of the voters balloted against hand-picked, Communist-approved candidates for the new "People's Congress."

The Red command had anticipated the usual favorable vote of virtually 100 per cent in such elections. This was to be a triumph for presentation at the forthcoming meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Council in Paris.

Moscow's strategy was to lay before the council this "People's Congress" of 2,000 delegates which would match the federal republic of Western Germany. Not only that, but the Congress contains 500 delegates specially designed to represent Western Germany.

In short, the "People's Congress" was to have been put forward by the Russians to represent all Germany.

What line of strategy the Muscovites will pursue in view of this upset is a matter of keen speculation in Western diplomatic circles. Certainly the so-called "People's Congress" has lost any magic which

It might have held for Western Germany had the election been practically "unanxious" as planned.

This revolt of the German voters in the Soviet zone is in itself a momentous development, but it seems to me to fit into a picture of much broader significance. Last weekend this column analyzed the statement by Paul G. Hoffman, director of the Economic Cooperation Administration, that "our way of life will be secure if Europe is strong and free in 1952."

Now comes this rebuff to the Russians in Eastern Germany which was supposed to have been thoroughly communized. We see that there is a powerful anti-Communist element in that zone, and that it dares raise its head.

Then take a look at Yugoslavia.

Sans Souci Club Attends Raleigh Flower Show
At eight-thirty o'clock on the morning of May 8, 1940, members of the Sans Souci Book Club journeyed by car to Raleigh to spend the day and attend the opening of the Raleigh Flower Show which is always a big event among garden lovers in the state. The six hostesses, Mesdames J. Key Brown, W. I. Wooten, F. J. Forbes, W. H. Dall, J. B. James and W. E. Hooker, left nothing desired in their plans for the day.

Shortly after one o'clock everyone arrived at the Reilyn House where a delicious three course luncheon was served at a beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of varied colored sweets. These flowers were presented to Mrs. Alfred Williams III—the former Lucy Clyde Blount, in whose lovely apartment club members were later entertained at a Coca-Cola drinking and met her young son Alfred Williams IV, exactly six months of age.

After lunch members drove to the armory at State College where they were met by the charming Raleigh hostesses and beheld a magnificent display of "flora and fauna" and table flower arrangements suitable for tea, breakfast, formal dinners, side table, mantle and desk. The center motif on the stage was a tremendous tree with real applied to the branching limbs. White wrought iron benches, seats and fences placed on a carpet of green grass made an inviting garden scene.

The return trip was made leisurely amid much conversation and exchange of ideas and opinions on world topics. The entire affair was voted an outstanding club event for the year.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service of worship.

Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lemuel Brewer celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary May 7th from 8 to 10 in the evening, with approximately 350 guests attending.

Mrs. Brewer was lovely in a navy blue dress with blue lace insertion. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Brewer was attired in a blue suit with a yellow rosebud in his lapel.

The couple greeted guests at the door. Other members of the receiving line included the six children of the couple.

Mr. William R. Brewer and Mrs. Mary L. Lamm directed guests to the dining room. Mrs. James Guy Forrest and Mr. Linwood E. Brewer greeted visitors there. Mrs. Linwood E. Brewer and Mrs. William R. Brewer and Mrs. Billie Wells assisted with refreshments. Mrs. John Carrington served the three-tiered golden wedding cake, which was beautifully decorated with yellow rosebuds. Yellow and white mints, nuts and orange ice punch were also served. Napkins were embossed with the first names of the couple and their wedding dates.

The table was covered with a lovely cut work cover. Bronze candlesticks with yellow candles, tied with yellow net in which forgetnots showed through, were at each end of the table. A lovely bowl of yellow iris was placed between the candles, further carrying out the wedding theme.

Mr. James Brewer and Mrs. Jesse Brewer directed guests to the gift room. Mrs. William Glenn Smart and Miss Louise Hyman assisted in the gift room. Here the guests were invited to register before departing. In the gift room approximately 300 gifts were displayed, including gold rock crystal vases, lamps, glassware and many other beautiful gifts. Congratulations by card and telegram were also displayed in the gift room.

Floral tributes were placed throughout the house.

Farewells were spoken by Mr. James Guy Forrest. The entire family of the couple, including six children and nine of the thirteen grandchildren, were present. Mr. William Glenn Smart, only grandson-in-law, was also present.

Many out-of-town guests, including relatives and friends, were present at the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer were married in 1899. During their early married life, they resided in Edgecombe County. Later they lived in Bethel, where Mr. Brewer was a policeman. In 1915 the couple moved to Greenville. Mr. Brewer has been working with the police department here for 34 years.

Mrs. Brewer was the former Mary Jane Worsley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Worsley of Bethel.

Joint Hostesses Entertain Club

At one o'clock on May 17 members of the Round Table gathered at the Country Club for a spring luncheon. They were cordially greeted by the hostesses, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, Mrs. E. E. Rawl and Mrs. E. H. Duncan. Special guests for the hour were Mrs. Armistead Gill, Rocky Mount, Mrs. Nan Fleming, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Lee, Mrs. Julian White and Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick. Miss Lilia Higgs was welcomed as a new member.

A delicious three course luncheon was served at small tables covered with pergenes of colorful sweetpeas. The place cards were tied to tiny bells with ribbons of club colors.

Mrs. Robert E. Taylor arranged the program. She invited Miss Eunice McGee to review "Happiness" by William Lyon Phelps. This very pleasing little book was presented with great charm in Miss McGee's best manner. The review was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Milton White read a beautiful bit of a poem that each one might take with her during the summer. Mrs. Browning, the president, welcomed Miss Lilia Higgs as a new member of the Round Table and wished each one present a pleasant vacation.

Beach sitting is the newest wrinkle for mothers of the diaper and lollipop set. It's the simplest way to make money yet, says one teen-ager who adds "all you do is keep an eye on the children while you embroider—perhaps for your hope chest."

Besides the possibilities of having a thriving beach business, if you've been baby sitting all year, you can take your flock to the park or lake or beach instead of chasing them around a hot apartment or keeping them penned up on porches or in back yards. And will their mothers love you for it!

The plan isn't exactly new—some girls tried it out successfully last summer. One group so encouraged by the fun and easy money that they organized a Sorority of Beach Sitters at Atlantic City, N. J.

Their sorority is open to girls over 15, with previous baby sitting experience. They will wear white shirts with their organization name stenciled across the front and will work only at beaches where written permission has been granted them by authorities.

Other little plans which can be put into effect are the "nap hour," "story hour," "play hour," etc.

Teach the children a little game they all can indulge in, and this will keep them happy indefinitely. Make sure you give them adequate protection with beach umbrellas and suntan lotions during the hot part of the day. It is a good idea to have the story hour just before the nap hour. They will almost surely fall asleep.

The Indians had a good custom to keep youngsters amused (and quiet) — They put molasses on their poposes finger-tips and then gave them a few feathers to play with. You'd be surprised how fascinated kids

Standard rates are 50c for the first hour and 35c for every additional hour. This includes an occasional ice-cream cone or lollipop, but if the child really has a sweet tooth with mother's permission, then mother must pay for extras.

It is not easy to care for too many children, particularly at a beach, so limit yourself to the number you can safely handle. If you do not have a method of keeping one in a crib and another in a pen and another perhaps reading you will find yourself running all over the place to keep the children within some kind of boundary.

Most little kids act like sand-pipers when at the beach. They enjoy running down to the water's edge and dipping their feet or letting the waves chase them back. If you can impress on them that they are not to go into the water without you, half the battle is won. One girl solved this problem by having a swimming class for a half hour each day. This way she managed to keep the young tykes in her charge happy and quiet in anticipation of their swimming lessons.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

The Reverend Edna M. Fellows, an ordained minister of the Disciples Church, has built a unique reputation of taking charges of "weak and discouraging" churches in Iowa and developing them to the place where they were "thriving and growing and able to support a man and his family in the pastorate." After serving eighteen years in one charge, Miss Fellows was called to the Disciples church in Keosauqua which was thinking of closing its doors. In five years she had built this into a self-supporting and progressive congregation. Then she moved on to Lake Charles, Iowa, where attendance at morning service doubled when she had been there for two months—and it's still increasing.

The Methodist Church—which in the days of its founder in England, John Wesley, made his major appeal to the working and industrial classes—seems in some parts of the United States to have become a "middle class" church, not having in the membership a large number of wealthy people nor a large proportion of people engaged in industrial work. Conscious of this situation, the Church's Wesleyan Service Guild, an organization of young women who are "gainfully employed" during the day, is making a special effort this year to recruit as members girls and young women who work in factories, in industries, and in domestic service. "These women have much to give to the women of the church, and have something to give them," says Miss Marion L. Norris, national Guild leader.

Two French and three Italian women, founders of sisterhoods within the Roman Catholic Church, are being canonized at various dates this month (May) by Pope Pius XII. They include the divorced wife of Louis XII of France, who in later years founded a penitential order honoring the Annunciation of the Virgin Mary, the wealthy Jeanne de Lestonnac, who gave up her fortune to found the Order of the Daughters of Charity; and the founder of the Daughters of Our Lady to Mercy. Aided by funds and workers from the United States, the Young Women's Christian Association of Greece has reopened seven "Y" centers in five cities. In addition, a Leaders' Training College has been opened in Kifissia.

Strength FOR THE DAY

BIRD'S EYE VIEW
 Life is like a carpet. Seen from above, a fine carpet is an object of beauty, with graceful figures and glowing colors blending into a lovely and symmetrical whole. But the under side of the same carpet may appear to be an ugly and meaningless network of threads, without form, proportion, or beauty.

Notice that the carpet really is beautiful, and that it is the same carpet all the time; only the point of view differs. Similarly, the daily life which appears to many persons as rich, meaningful, and challenging seems to others to be drab and sordid, with no pattern or purpose. Why do people see it from such different points of view? How can we be sure to see life from above, to see its real beauty and meaning?

One way to be sure is to cultivate the interests which give us the view from above and help us to see the pattern; literature, art, music, friendship, love of man, love of God. Just as surely as these pull us up to where we see the carpet from above, other interests will make us see the under side: selfishness, vice, and sensuality are only a few of them. But the beauty of the carpet is there all the time, if we but raise ourselves high enough to see it.

MILK QUESTION MORE MUDDLED

The Pitt County Board of Health's ban against the importation of any milk processed outside the county was temporarily lifted yesterday afternoon by the County Health Officer, with the approval of three members of the Health Board. Under the easement, outside distributors may continue deliveries in this county until Saturday, with the Board of Health scheduled to meet again Friday for further study of the matter.

Yesterday we questioned the wisdom of the drastic action of the board unless the milk was impure and a danger to the health of our people. If the Board of Health had such knowledge regarding the outside milk supply it should have been banned from the county and all of it already in local stores should have immediately been ordered destroyed. But this easement of the ban indicates that the board was without such knowledge, or it is now derelict in its duties, to permit delivery even for a few more days if the milk does not meet health standards.

We are still of the opinion that the Health Board has no moral right to build an economic wall around the county. If any certain brand of milk coming into the county does not meet health standards, that particular product should be banned until it can meet the required standards; but an all-out ban against everybody, drawn strictly on county lines, is nothing more than the creation of a monopoly for Pitt County milk processors. It would be just as sensible to place a ban against all outside products and demand that Pitt County citizens confine their habits and diets solely to what was produced in the county.

We believe that the members of the Board of Health

By LYNN NISBET
TOURISTS — As the summer tourist season opens in North Carolina, bringing millions of visitors to the vacation areas in the mountains and along the coast, the value of travel business to this state becomes apparent to the most casual observer. Bill Sharpe, director of the state advertising news division, last year compiled comprehensive data on this subject. The 67 pages cannot be condensed into one column, but some salient facts may be noted.

PROFITABLE — The third largest industry in North Carolina is not the furniture industry, but the travel industry. To put it another way, the second most valuable crop in North Carolina in terms of gross income is not corn, but tourists. In that opening paragraph Sharpe makes distinction between all travelers and that segment which can properly be classed as tourists. Figures based on actual personal investigation show that in 1947 the travel industry yielded the state $192,000,000, of which $152,500,000 was credited to tourists and vacationists. To accommodate travelers the people of the state have invested more than $250 millions in hotels, inns, motor courts, lodges and other facilities, having an aggregate of more than 61,000 rooms capable of taking care of 157,801 persons. This ranges from rooms with one single bed to family quarters for five or more.

VISITORS — Check of auto license plates and hotel registrations indicates that six million out-of-state visitors come to North Carolina each year, two million of them for just one day, but four million spending an average of six days and about $40 per visit. Strictly tourists, that is those who are just passing through the state with not more than one overnight stop, contribute about $8,500,000, while vacationists staying from three to sixty days each spend in the state an aggregate of $144 million. (These are 1947 figures, which were exceeded in 1948 despite polio bans, and are expected to be substantially higher this year.)

BREAKDOWN — The analysis goes into much detail as to items for which travelers spent money. Based on the average of three persons per car, the conclusion is reached that the one day cross-state traveler spent $1.50 for transportation (4.50 per car for gas, oil, repairs, etc.) $1.50 for food and 25 cents for incidentals, or $3.25 per person. For overnight stop should be added $2 a person for lodging. Vacationists who stay longer have less daily transportation cost, but generally spend more for food and lodging, as well as an estimated average of $4.62 for recreation, incidentals and basic purchases. These estimates are for the overall industry. Prices and spending are considerably more in the famed resort areas. The average is made up of one to two dollar lodging and hot-dog lunches at roadside stops and $15 to $25 rooms at big resort hotels.

REVENUE — The state of North Carolina through various applicable taxes is estimated to have received more than $15 million revenue out of the nearly $200 million spent by out of state travelers in 1947. This revenue derives from the 3 per cent sales tax, the 6 1-4 gasoline tax, beverage tax and various license and franchise levies, as well as income taxes from operators of facilities catering to travelers.

GROWING — The travel industry has grown fast in North Carolina and is still growing with accelerated speed. Some of the increase is due to changing customs and the general disposition of Americans to move around. But a great deal of it is attributed to consistent advertising. The states and areas which have benefited most from travel business have had similar experience with advertising programs. For example, in 1937 when our state advertising policy was inaugurated travel business was estimated at $35 million. Two years ago it was $192 million. During that decade the state's population did not grow very much, but gasoline consumption went up 25 per cent compared with national increases of 43 per cent.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
 New York, May 15 — (AP) — It is harder to photograph a dog than a king. "Kings hold still," says Frank Noel, who is the world's greatest living authority on how not to get a dog out of Italy. He became a master in this branch of knowledge by spending his spare time for a month trying to wrestle his pooch out of Rome — and failed.

"It is much easier for a man to leave Italy than it is for a dog," he said. And thereby — as the saying goes — hangs a tale:

We will begin with Noel, a wartime Pulitzer prize-winning photographer and his wife, Evelyn. The dog will wag into the story as we go along.

The Noels have based in Rome for the last three years. One day their Italian maid told them her sister's two canaries were about to become parents. She promised Mrs. Noel a fledgling.

"I bought a cage," said Evelyn, "but then the maid came and told me a cat had eaten up the entire canary family. She felt so bad about my disappointment that the next day she showed up with a puppy."

The puppy quickly became known as Rubinetto, which can be translated as "Faucet." Frank called him "Invasion dog," because his father was a German Shepherd, left by the Nazi army, and his mother was a Post-war Fascist Collaborator.

Every time the police caught Noel out walking with Rubinetto it cost him a $5 fine.

"In Rome dog licenses cost about $60 a year," explained Frank, "so nobody buys them. It is cheaper to pay the fines."

When he got home late recently, Noel had little trouble making arrangements for himself and his wife to return to America. But Rubinetto — he couldn't have been more trouble if he were solid gold and wrapped in a canvas by Raphael.

"It took all my spare time for four weeks to get and fill out all the necessary forms," said Frank. "I had to get five copies of a veterinarian's certificate stating that he had given the dog rabies shots, each of the copies had to have five different official stamps. That meant standing in line in front of five windows."

"It was also necessary to have five copies of a certificate giving Rubinetto's value. The vet took one look at him and put down $10."

"And I had to attach ten pictures of the dog, five full face and five profile. The profile shots had to include the tail.

"Did you ever try to get a dog to hold his tail still while you took his portrait? Try it if you want to waste a year some afternoon. It took me an hour and 59 minutes longer to photograph Rubinetto than it did King Faruk of Egypt."

The Noels were so impressed with all this formality they put the dog's passport papers in a safe deposit box.

"And that is why we had to leave Rubinetto behind," said Frank. "The day we sailed all the banks were closed by a nation-wide strike, and we couldn't get his papers."

He left the dog with the maid. The Noels are on their way to Berlin now, and Frank plans to fly to Rome at the first opportunity and free his pooch.

"Rubinetto's been tied up in red tape so long he thinks it's a leash," said Frank.

Army says. This is what happened: The Quartermaster Corps purchased one dozen rayon slips for $16.25, or $1.35 apiece, and one dozen nylon slips for $48, or $4 apiece. They were bought to determine whether the reportedly improved wearing qualities of nylon would justify changing the Army's buying to require nylon instead of rayon in the manufacture of slaps for women in the services. Though nylon was found to wear longer, the change was not made because of the necessity to conserve nylon for more critical uses.

The Army says it's true, though that it uses butter and not margarine, which could be purchased at a lower price. Why? Congress in passing the Military Establishment Appropriations Act specifically prohibited the Army from buying oleomargarine for use in troop feeding. However, for purposes which the law permits — for cooking and to supply expressed preferences of the men — the Army did buy 5,369,000 pounds of oleomargarine during calendar 1948.

A story got out that the Marine Corps pays $19 for its overcoat and gets four years' wear out of it, while the Army pays $41 for an overcoat that may not wear more than two years.

The Marine Corps overcoat is a wool coat. It originally cost $19. Today it costs about $27, the same as the Army's overcoat. The Marines figure four years' service for their coat but do not take into this calculation the fact that they give an overcoat to an enlisted man when he is discharged. The Army figures 40 months' life for its wool coat but this does take into consideration the coat given an enlisted man when he is discharged.

The Army has a $41 overcoat too. It has a water-resistant tough cotton outer shell and a detachable wool liner. It can be worn as an overcoat with the liner, as a raincoat without the liner. Besides, the Army says its men do not like the wool overcoat. It soaks up rain like a sponge.

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Today's column is the third and final in a series devoted to alcoholism and inspired by a speech in Chapel Hill last winter by James Street, the famous author. The speech was on a subject close to Street — alcoholism — for he was an alcoholic for 18 years. Most of the words in these articles are interpretations of Street's speech.

Believe it or not, the alcoholic is actually a concealed person who feels mistreated because he thinks he has not been given sufficient opportunity to display the ability he is convinced he has. He actually hates whiskey, but drinks it as a means of escape.

The organization which has had most success in curing drunks is Alcoholics Anonymous, which was described in yesterday's column. Most of us have heard of AA, but many have thought of it as being a big-city group, far away from Greenville and Eastern North Carolina.

As far as I know there is no AA group in Greenville, but I do know that there are members in Kinston, Tarboro, New Bern, Goldsboro, Durham, Dunn, Clinton, Greensboro, Lillington, Raleigh (110 there), Angier, Benson, Sanford, Erwin, Fayetteville, Pinehurst, Bule's Creek, Southern Pines, Fortsmouth, Norfolk, Henderson, Coates and Charlotte.

Members from the above towns were at Dunn February 12, 1949, according to a news item in the February 13 Raleigh "News and Observer." The largest delegation there was from a town 40 miles from Greenville — New Bern! AA units are active in Goldsboro and New Bern.

Six hundred Dunn citizens turned out to hear the AA's tell of their personal experiences. Among the speakers was a Greensboro attorney, a Durham stock broker, an actress from New Bern, a Portsmouth businessman, a Fayetteville doctor, and a big executive from New York City. Also present was one of the two founders of AA from New York.

AA is truly a wonderful organization, but do not get the idea that every drunk who joins is cured. According to AA's statistics, 86 per cent of those who join are cured, and that figure stacks up favorably with the three per cent claim of liquor hospitals. Some join AA and continue to drink for some time afterwards, but finally go dry. And then there's the other 14 per cent.

Of course the strongest force of AA is companionship. By the time a person may be classified as an alcoholic he usually has lost most of his friends. He dislikes normal people, and normal people dislike him. Members of AA have been in his boat and therefore understand him. Their brains have been out of gear, too, and they can deal with an alcoholic much better than any doctor can. If you don't believe that, simply ask a doctor.

As I have previously mentioned, alcoholism is the nation's number three health problem, and the State of North Carolina is aware of the seriousness of the problem. In March a bill was introduced in the State Legislature by Representatives Frank Kilpatrick of Pitt County and Clifton Blue of Moore County calling for an additional tax on all alcoholic beverages sold in the state. The bill specified that the additional tax would be used for a special "Alcoholic Rehabilitation Fund," which would be used to set up centers for the treatment of alcoholics.

I haven't heard from this bill since March 4, so it must have been killed. But it certainly makes sense to me to let the drinkers pay for the treatment of the one out of sixty of them who will eventually become an alcoholic.

For the time being, AA is no doubt the answer, and treatment by AA is free. In fact, the ex-drinker stays sober by helping others get sober, so he's thankful for the opportunity of helping others. As long as the ex-drinker is doing good he feels adequate, and his feeling of inadequacy is what made him an alcoholic in the first place.

It's interesting to note that among AA's members in Hollywood are Bing Crosby and Spencer Tracy. You never can tell who's in AA!

From "Time" Magazine's Miscellany: "In Providence, R. I., the jail term of John A. Quigley for driving drunk was reduced from nine to three months when a prominent attorney testified, 'He's the fellow who showed me how to get sober in Alcoholics Anonymous.'" You never can tell what an ex-drunk will do — he may even get drunk.

If you are a heavy drinker and have read these articles with interest take heed to this: The time to start worrying about drinking is when you start worrying about drinking. And I thank you.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
 Washington — The Army is going around wringing its hands these days because of stories that its paying outrageous prices for such things as nylon slaps and G-I overcoats. For instance: It got around after recent congressional hearings on the 1950 military appropriations bill that the Army had bought slaps at $49 each and rayon slaps at $16.25, for experimental purposes. That doesn't happen to be the fact, the

Rocky Mount Explodes For Five In Tenth To Win 12-7

Greenies Score In Third And Fourth But Visitors Rally In Overtime Frame To Take Third Straight Over Locals

By BERT MOYE
The Rocky Mount Leafs pounded three Greenville hurlers for a total of 30 hits last night, seven of which came in the 10th inning for a five-run tally, to defeat the hapless Greenies, 12 to 7, for their third straight win of the season over the locals.

The Leafs started their scoring briskly with one run in the first frame on two singles and an error, and came back in the second frame to put across four more runs on two doubles and a single and a costly error which let in three of their runs during this frame.

The Greenies did all their scoring in the third and fourth frames with two and five runs respectively. In the third Strausser's walk and singles by Pete Gillespie, Mauney and Williams gave their first two runs and in the fourth frame singles by Strausser and Mascarella doubles by Denier and Gillespie and a triple by Tepedino aided by an error gave the Greenies five more runs and at this point of the game were leading 7 to 6. That, however, ended the Greenies scoring for the night.

The Leafs scored a singleton in their top of the fourth frame on McJunkin's double, Bill Stanton's single, aided by a wild pitch and knotted the count at seven-all in the sixth frame to force the game into extra innings on singles by McJunkin and Stanton aided by a walk.

In the tenth frame they put across five runs on six singles and one double to take the win as ten men officially paraded to the plate.

Walt McJunkin with two doubles and four singles in seven trips to the plate and Bill Stanton with four singles in five trips to the plate spearheaded the 20-strike off the three Greenville hurlers.

Pete Gillespie with two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate led the 13-hit attack off veteran Red Benton of the Leafs.

Vote On Merger

Charlotte, May 18—(AP)—The North State Conference will vote in Salisbury Saturday on whether to form an inter-collegiate conference with smaller colleges of South Carolina.

If three-fourths of the North State schools vote for the merger, it will become a reality since the South Carolina schools already are in accord.

The merger was discussed here yesterday by representatives of the affected schools. Schools involved are Appalachian, Western Carolina Teachers, East Carolina Teachers, Guilford, Atlantic Christian, Elon, Lenoir-Rhyne, High Point and Catawba in North Carolina, and Wofford, Newberry, Presbyterian and Erskine in South Carolina.

Dimaggio Tests Heel Next Week

New York, May 18—(AP)—Joe Dimaggio will don his familiar "No. 5" New York Yankee uniform next week and try out the ailing heel that has kept him on the sidelines since the season's start.

The test probably will determine the immediate baseball future of the fence-punching outfielder whose $90,000-a-year salary makes him the most expensive benchwarmer in the business.

In the meantime, the Yankees have no intention of putting him on any sort of formal shelf until there is definite proof he won't be able to produce.

"Dimaggio is going to be on my team until he can't play any more," Manager Casey Stengel said last night shortly before the Yankees nudged the champion Cleveland Indians, 4-3.

Shortly afterward, traveling Secretary Arthur (Red) Patterson announced that a new x-ray examination of Joe's heel showed "improvement."

"Joe will get in uniform sometime next week and practice with the rest of the team," Patterson said.

Williams, Bolanos Have 3 Months To Be Prepared

Los Angeles, May 18—(AP)—Lightweight Champion Ike Williams and Enrique Bolanos of Mexico have nearly three months to get set for their postponed title bout, now scheduled for Aug. 11 here.

Originally set for May 26, that date was cancelled two days ago when Williams suffered a recurrence of bursts, an inflammation of his right shoulder joint.

The Trenton, N.J., Negro's shoulder was hurt training for his bout with Kid Gavilan in New York two months ago and has bothered him on and off since. Gavilan won a non-title decision.

The championship fight here is being promoted to help pay off an $80,000 mortgage on the Lou Costello, Jr., Youth Foundation in East Los Angeles.

16,000 Fans To See Ring Bouts

Chicago, May 18—(AP)—More than 16,000 fans are expected to watch the international Golden Gloves bouts tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The European champions, including seven seasoned boxers who engaged in Olympic competition. The last and only European victory in the series was 10 years ago.

Overseas champions determined in elimination tournaments represent Ireland, Spain, Denmark, Finland and Italy. Their eight American opponents are survivors of Golden Gloves competition throughout most of the nation and hail from Chicago, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, St. Louis and Pueblo, Colo.

Phil Pescio, brother of Santa Clara basketball coach Ray Pescio, coached his Olympic Junior College quintet from Bremerton, Wash., to a 32 won, two lost record this year.

Sidelights—Grand totals in last night's game shows 93 men officially went to the plate, there was a total of 19 runs, 33 hits, 60 putouts, 18 assists and only three errors. Quite a busy night for the scorer who was cramped in between two radio announcers with barely room to write. . . . The Leafs had 13 men stranded on bases, the Greenies had 10. . . . Believe that some kind of new record was set by Walt McJunkin in last night's game as he hit successfully on six straight trips to the plate. . . . The loss for Art Mascarella was his fourth of the season as against one win. He probably took a cold shower after the game to cool off because he ran into plenty of hot water in the tenth inning rally by the Leafs. . . . Pappy Williams was given two intentional passes to first base by Pitcher Red Benton last night, which shows clearly that Benton had not forgotten the hitting ability of Pappy last season when he was with the Leafs, and also shows plainly that a veteran hurler knows what to do in the case of necessity.

Bob Cohen got into last night's game as a pinch hitter in the 10th frame but failed to come through. Bob no doubt will be out of action for several more days with that leg. . . . Junior Yohn received a warm welcome last night, pitching to three Leafs, each of whom connected for a single.

Congratulations to Haywood Kelly, first baseman for Jack Boone's ECTC Pirates this season who was chosen as the first sacker on the All-North State Conference baseball team by the loop coaches. He saw action in a total of 15 games this season and did not make a single miscue and during the 10 conference games hit at a .545 clip.

The longest winning streak in the history of the Senators was a 15-game skein, achieved in 1912, when they won 15 consecutive contests—all on the road. The 1912 Nats, who finished second, were managed by Clark Griffith, present owner.

Hitting the 301st home run of his major league career May 6, Johnny Mize was only two behind the idle Joe Dimaggio of the Yankees. The Giants' first baseman and the Yankee Clipper are the only active players with more than 300 homers.

Gordon is Great . . . by Pap

Joe Gordon was trotting toward the Cleveland dugout after having made a game-saving catch of Sam Chapman's smashing liner over second base when Coach Mudd Ruel congratulated him on making the most sensational grab of the new season. "Aw, you hit them harder than that to us in infield practice," replied Gordon, grinning broadly.

The Indians' second baseman had climaxed a great afternoon at the expense of the Athletics with that fielding gem. In his first two trips to the plate he parked the ball in the left field stands for home runs. He had walloped a pair of homers in a single game before, but that was during his seven-year stretch with the Yankees. Those two round trippers served to focus attention on the fact that Gordon is one of the

Big Nine Conference Scheduled To Become Big Ten In Weekend Confab

Evanson, Ill., May 18—(AP)—The big nine is scheduled to become the big ten once more when the conference acts finally on Michigan state College's membership bid this weekend.

Formal admittance of the East Lansing, Mich., institution is the ranking item of business at the league's annual spring meeting. The session will be held in connection with the conference outdoor track meet Friday and Saturday.

The confab of faculty representatives, athletic directors and coaches will open tomorrow, but action on the Michigan state entry is not expected until Friday.

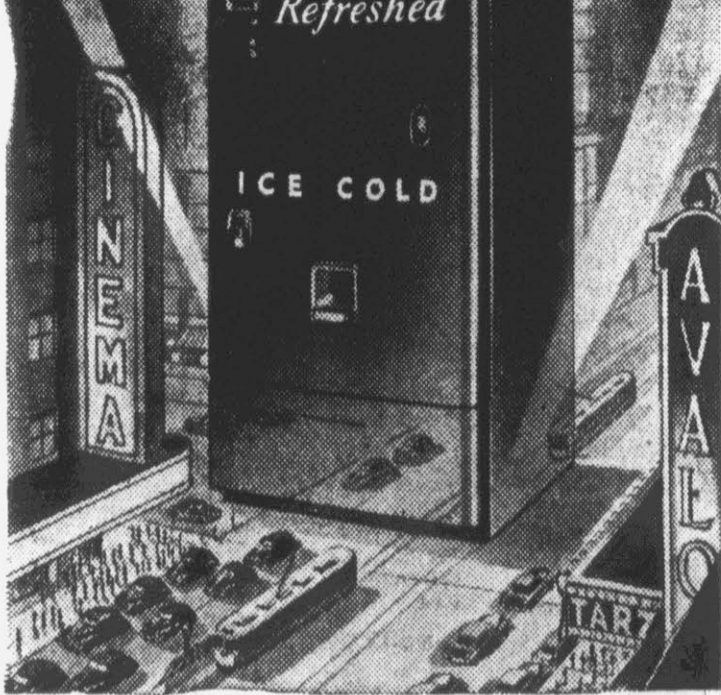

Unless there is an unexpected hitch, the faculty representatives will approve formally a report by a special three-member investigating committee which explored Michigan State Athletic policies last April.

Since the conference football schedule is drawn up through 1952 and the 1949-50 basketball card already has been drafted, Michigan State presumably will make its league debut in minor winter sports and indoor track next year.

The conference already has stipulated that football games played by Michigan state with other members from 1949 through 1952 will not count in the league standings.

The 1949 National Professional Tennis Championships will be held on the Forest Hills courts of the West Side Tennis Club, ending on June 26.

Unexpected Hurling Woes Burdens Tribe's Boudreau

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Lou Boudreau is a worried young man today.

The peerless playing pilot of the world champion Cleveland Indians is burdened by a problem emanating from a most unexpected source—the Tribes' vaunted pitching staff.

A month ago if someone had tried to tell Boudreau that his mound staff would give him his biggest headache, Lou would have ordered the guy sent to a psychopathic ward. But listen to Lou now.

"I know we're not hitting a lick," Boudreau said before last night's 4-3 loss to the New York Yankees. "But that doesn't worry me half as much as my pitching."

"Every one of my big four—Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Gene Bearden and Steve Gromek—has been laid up by injuries. I haven't gotten a complete game from any of them for nearly two weeks. What's worse, I don't know when any of them will be his old self again. Not one is in good shape right now."

Bearden, who has been suffering from a pulled leg muscle, showed last night that he was not yet himself. Plainly favoring his injured leg, the tall leftlander lasted seven innings and was clipped for 16 hits as the Yankees defeated the Indians 4-3.

A season record crowd of 73,154 saw Southpaw Ed Lopat, long-time Cleveland nemesis, hold the Tribe to seven hits for his fourth victory of the season.

Detroit's runner-up Tigers remained two games behind the league leading Yankees by coming from behind to defeat the Washington Senators, 4-2 in a night game in Washington. Held to five hits, the Tigers capitalized on the wildness of Walter Masterson and Forrest Thompson to score four runs in the last two innings. Johnny Lipon's single with the bases loaded in the ninth drove in the winning runs.

Philadelphia's Athletics moved into third place by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 9-2, last night in Philadelphia. Alex Kellner won his third relief victory in a row, holding the Browns to two hits and no runs in five and two thirds innings. He relieved Starter Lou Brissie, in the fourth.

Verne Stephens' ninth home run in the eighth with a mate aboard, enabled the Boston Red Sox to nose out the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Southpaw Mel Parnell hung up his fifth victory against one defeat for Boston. Randy Gumpert was the loser.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Boston Braves, 5-4, to move within two games of the National League lead, shared jointly by the Braves and New York Giants. Ted Kluszewski, sophomore first baseman drove in the tying and winning runs for the Reds.

Bob Chernes pitched and batted the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over the New York Giants. Chernes limited the Giant sluggers to six hits and started the winning rally with a ninth inning three-bagger. He scored when Ed Stevens singled to center.

Singles by Eddie Waitkus, Del Ellis and Andy Seminick gave the Philadelphia Phillies a run in the 12th inning to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4. St. Louis shortstop Marty Marion, who had floundered all season, was charged with three errors.

Ralph Branca became the first major league pitcher to win six games when he received credit for Brooklyn's 8-5, 11-inning triumph over the Cubs in Chicago. The Dodgers shovered across six runs in the top of the 11th, two of them on Roy Campanella's homer, to take an 8-3 lead.

Outstanding Players Are Product Of 1949 Pirates

By BERT MOYE

Coach Jack Boone's East Carolina Teachers College Pirates brought their baseball season to a close on last Friday with a 4 to 3 win over the High Point Panthers in a North State Conference victory. The Pirates, who got off to a slow start, improved as the season progressed and ended the season with four wins and six losses in conference play and finished their regular schedule with six wins and seven losses.

The Pirates this year produced several outstanding players among whom were Bob McCotter, a left-handed pitcher, who had two wins and two losses, his two losses being by one-run margins. Since entering ECTC he has been a mainstay of the mound staff and this year he wound up his four years of collegiate ball.

Another boy, Haywood Kelly, first baseman, who came to the Pirates this year from Campbell Junior College, is undoubtedly the best first sacker in the North State Conference. In the 15 games in which he played during the past season he played errorless ball and in the 10 conference games hit at a .545 clip. In addition to his ability as an athlete he was also outstanding in his school work, making all A's. He will be back with the Pirates next season.

Peddler of Dreams

By Peggy Dern

Chapter 23

Tippy awoke a little after six. Felicity was never to forget the hour of coaxing and entreaty by which finally she won the child's reluctant consent to be taken to the hospital.

Garrett knocked at the door a little before seven and asked quietly, as though she were a stranger, "Is it Tippy?"

"She's fine," answered Felicity. "I'm getting her ready to go to the hospital."

At that moment a limousine turned into the drive and purred to stop beside the trailer. A liveried footman jumped out and came over to Felicity.

"Mrs. Fleming is waiting at the hospital. She wanted to be sure there would be ample room in the car."

Felicity thanked him. Her father came out carrying Tippy, wrapped carefully in a thin blanket. Felicity got in and Burton laid the child in her arms. Tippy cuddled close to Felicity and said, like a very small, frightened child, "It hurts, Miss. They'll make it all well when you get down to the hospital."

As the big car turned in at the driveway, the hospital door swung open and Susan, accompanied by a nurse, an interne and two orderlies, came down the steps. Tippy carry her into the hospital, clinging to Felicity's hand.

Susan opened the door of the breast adjoining Tippy's room and crossed it to another room. "This," she said to Felicity, "is your room. I knew you'd want to be here every minute. And me—I'm the errand boy."

Dr. Curtis came in and, under cover of telling Tippy some funny stories, gave her a brisk but thorough examination.

Tippy's eyes were beginning to sparkle a little and the unaccustomed fear was beginning to leave. And when the nurse grinned cheerfully at her and fitted the ether can into place, she went under the anesthetic without a whimper of fear.

Susan was waiting in the hall. Susan and Burton. They walked with Felicity to a small private sitting room across the hall and there they settled down for perhaps one of the most heartbreaking intervals one may face, waiting to know whether a beloved is to come safely back—or be lost forever.

The door behind them opened and when Felicity whirled about, it was to face Garrett and not, as she had thought, news from across the hall.

Garrett was pale behind his sun-brown and his face was set. He saw no one in the room but Felicity and came straight to her. Felicity spoke his name and went into his arms. And Garrett said huskily, "Forgive me, darling. I'm no good—but I do love you."

It seemed hours to them all and none of them had a very clear impression of the time when the door of the operating room opened and Susan caught her breath and all but cried out at the sight of Tippy, white and still, her small head swathed in bandages, her eyes closed.

Dr. Curtis, still in his white operating garb, came out to them and said hearteningly, "She's going to pull through, my dear. You mustn't give way! She's a sturdy youngster—she'll make the grade."

Felicity burst into tears in Garrett's arms with the news. But Susan said, when Garrett tried to hush her, "Let her alone! Let her cry. It's good for her. She'll be all the better for it, later."

Chalmers Thorpe came hurrying in, his face white and anxious.

"Darling," he cried, as he caught Susan up in his arms, entirely oblivious to Garrett, Burton and Felicity, "what's wrong? I called your place the minute I got in town and they told me you were at the hospital. Dearest—what happened?"

For a moment Susan rested in his arms, her head tilted back, her eyes glowing with a light that made Felicity feel guilty at having seen it.

"You care about what happens to me, Oha!" asked Susan, and her voice shook a little as she crowded closer in his arms. "You were worried?"

"Worried, sweet?" said Chalmers. He tightened his arms about her and held her very close, his cheek against her hair. Then he saw Felicity and Garrett and he asked, "What happened to her? What's the matter with her?"

Felicity's lips curved in a little smile that was warm and friendly and she said, "There's only one thing the matter with her, Mr. Thorpe. She's desperately in love with you."

Chalmers looked bewildered and held Susan a little away from him, staring down at her, puzzled.

"It isn't a joke, Mr. Thorpe. It's very far from being one," said Felicity when she saw that Susan couldn't answer. "It's Tippy. She was operated on an hour ago—mastoid. But the doctor says she's going to be all right. She is terribly frightened."

"Oh—I am sorry, Susan," said Chalmers gently, and patted her shoulder.

He hesitated a moment and then he said almost curtly, "I think I'd better run along now. I'll see you tomorrow, Susan. Good night, people."

He went out and closed the door behind him.

Susan stood for a long moment drawn to her full height, hands clenched into small hard fists at her side.

Felicity tried to soothe her. "He's terribly in love with you. It's only that—know what I think? I think it's because you have a lot of money and he hasn't enough to keep people from thinking it's your money he loves instead of you."

"But that's so perfectly crazy!" Susan cried furiously. "Am I to blame because my grandfather was a shrewd old Yankee trader who piled up gobs of money and had nobody but me to leave it to? Can I help it?"

"Of course not, Mrs. Fleming," said Garrett unexpectedly. "But after all, a man has his pride, you know."

Felicity caught her breath and turned sharply to stare at Garrett with a dawning suspicion in her eyes.

Throughout the entire scene Burton had been a silent onlooker, missing nothing of the give-and-take; nothing of the startled look in Felicity's eyes when Garrett had mentioned a man's necessity for pride; missing nothing of the stormy rebellion, the heart-hunger in Susan's when Chalmers Thorpe had flung himself out of the room. Burton said nothing. He looked as though his thoughts were long thoughts and not especially happy ones.

WOOD'S YELLOW a FAMOUS name in SOYBEANS

Yes, FAMOUS because they are dependable high yielders, resist shattering, bring premium prices for oil and are excellent for hogging down. Many farmers make successive plantings of all three of these WOOD'S YELLOW SOYBEANS:

EXTRA EARLY WOOD'S YELLOW
110 days. The choice in higher Piedmont or mountain sections or for early hogging down.

EARLY WOOD'S YELLOW
125 days. Favorite in the Middle South for their shatterproof quality, heavy growth and yield.

WOOD'S YELLOW (Late)
133 days. Popular in the Coastal sections and the deep South. Storm resistant.

Death Toll Rises In Texas Tornado And Flood Areas

Fort Worth, Tex., May 18—(AP)—Flood waters which swirled over great chunks of Fort Worth slowly receded today. They left six known dead in damage in the millions, and a difficult job of safeguarding health with a crippled water supply.

An estimated 13,200 were homeless, staying in public shelters, with relatives or friends.

Thirteen persons were killed and more than 100 injured in three days of turbulent weather that hit parts of west and north Texas and Oklahoma.

The count was six drowned and a dozen hospitalized here; five dead and 83 injured from a tornado at Amarillo Sunday night; one dead and nine injured from twisters in Oklahoma, and one dead and at least 12 injured in west Texas tornadoes.

Nine of the injured in Oklahoma were watching a softball game at Meeker, Okla., last night when a tornado dipped into the crowd.

An elderly grandmother was killed by a twister that struck near Spur, Tex., last night and a farmer in Oklahoma was killed by a tornado that bounced into the Sooner State from Stratford, Tex.

As Fort Worth struggled back to normal it faced this situation:

Areas west, north and east of the business district under water.

All schools closed and the north east and west sections of town cut off from downtown for automobile travel and isolated from city bus transportation.

Snarled traffic, blocked highways, power line breaks, a flooded water plant, a water supply that officials say will take three days to make normal.

Water in this big cattle shipping center was an acute problem. Residents were warned not to drink it unless it had been boiled. Free typhoid shots were available to those who had drunk "questionable water."

They lined up with buckets, bottles and other containers for drinking water at commercial firms with private artesian wells. And sellers of bottled drinks reported a run on their beverages.

Two 500 gallon water purification units were sent here from the Army's Camp Hood, Dallas, 30 miles to the east, sent eight 1,500 gallon water tank trucks to shuttle drinking water.

S. C. Democrats Again Lose Out

Columbia, S. C., May 18—(AP)—South Carolina's white Democratic party has been ordered to stop practicing the segregation it preaches.

It may have to stop preaching it, too.

An order to this effect by Federal District Judge J. Walter Waring of Charleston was upheld and underlined yesterday by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va.

Waring ordered the party to open its arms to Negro members at club precinct meetings. This presumably could extend to make Negroes eligible to run for party nomination in the primaries.

He further outlawed a party primary voting oath and membership pledge to support segregation of white persons and Negroes.

The party's only remaining recourse is to appeal the decision to the United States Supreme Court. Party leaders were non-committal on this until they have studied the Richmond court's order.

The Supreme Court previously upheld an earlier Waring ruling that opened the party's all-white primaries to Negroes. They voted in numbers for the first time last year.

Despite the state's heavy Negro population—45 per cent—relatively few cast ballots. Only a few thousand enrolled on party club books although the books were reopened for Negroes. Enrollment is a prerequisite to primary voting.

Rocking . . .

This Balkan state was supposedly the most thoroughly communized of all the satellite states. It was Communism's forward theatre for training and supply in the "cold war."

But Moscow's hold on that state cracked up on the rocks of Yugoslav nationalism. Marshal Tito and his followers subscribed to Communism, but doggedly clung to nationalism rather than acknowledge Moscow as the seat of sovereignty. The Communist launched a drive against Tito—and thus far has been beaten at its own game.

In neighboring Bulgaria there have been purges of prominent Communists. Then Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitroff—one of the big Reds—recently went to Russia. One report had it that he was seeking medical treatment, but there has been widespread speculation that he is being ousted from his job. In any event, Bulgarian political waters have been troubled.

There also have been many reports of dissatisfaction in other satellite countries, including Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Poland. Numerous prominent citizens from satellite nations have been seeking refuge in Western democracies.

All in all we have an interesting picture of considerable discontent behind the Iron Curtain. I don't think we should jump to sweeping conclusions, but it is interesting to note that it's not all honey and flowers in the Bolshevik empire.

by force and violence."

They were indicted by a federal grand jury last July. Their trial before Judge Medina didn't start until Jan 17. It's going on and probably won't end before August.

Thousands of pages of testimony and arguments have been used up already. There are more thousands to come. Medina, like Reeves, has tried to keep his patience. Some times he gets fed up.

For example, late in April Eugene Dennis, who is secretary of the Communist party and is acting as his own attorney, got up to "make a brief observation." Finally Medina said to him:

"I suppose you are daring me to do something to you. You can be just as disorderly, just as disobedient as you like but you will not goad me into doing something which will be a source of difficulty later in the trial."

After that, Medina called a five-minute recess and when he returned the court was calm again.

No matter what the Judges do or don't do, the defense attorneys will appeal any conviction of their clients on various grounds.
