Turn Deaf Ear To Soviet Proposals

Three Western Powers Stand Firm Behind New German Republic Against Russian Move To Replace It With Four-Power Control System

Paris, May 25—(AP)—The three western powers stood firm today behind the new west German republic against a Soviet move to replace it with four-power control over Germany.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman of France and Ernest Bevin of Britain, in turn, declared the clock must not be turned back to what they termed "disastrous paralysis."

They were referring to the five-point proposal of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to re-establish quadripartite control of Germany through the old allied control council for Germany and the Berlin kommandatura.

The Russian representative walked out of the allied control council in March, 1948, declaring the body "dead." The kommandatura has not been functioning since last year when the communist-dominated east Berliners boycotted regular elections and set up a hand-picked communist government for the Soviet section of the city.

Vishinsky's five-point proposal was:

1. Reestablish the control council as supreme governing body in Germany.
2. Reestablish the allied kommandatura in Berlin.
3. Create an all-German state council, founded on German economic organs existing at present in the Soviet zone and the three western zones.
4. Establish an all-Berlin city government on the basis of elections to be set by the kommandatura.
5. Create a new four-power supervisory authority over the Ruhr industrial basin to be aided by a consultative body of representatives of neighboring nations, such as the three benelux nations and Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Denmark.

American sources later interpreted Vishinsky's proposal as nullifying the west German republic and pointed out it would have deprived the Germans of the local government they received in the occupation statute drafted by the three western powers.

The proposal also would have implied recognition for the "Peoples Congress" regime in eastern Germany and would have meant sacrificing the western-minded west Berlin city government, these sources said.

Capus Waynick To Be Sworn In Friday Morning

Raleigh, N. C., May 25—(AP)—Capus Waynick, recently appointed by President Truman as Ambassador to Nicaragua, probably will be sworn in Friday.

Waynick, now state Democratic chairman, plans to go to Washington tomorrow night, and will visit the State department the next morning. The oath-taking ceremonies are scheduled tentatively for that morning.

Waynick doesn't expect to leave for Nicaragua before next month. "I guess," he said, "that the state department will want to give me some 'schooling' first."

Also, he favors the date of June 6 for the meeting of the State Democratic executive committee to accept his resignation and elect a successor.

Trumanites Quieter

They Came Into Congress With A Bang; What They Have Accomplished; The Major Problems Yet To Be Handled; Prospects; Modified Goals Second; Session

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 25—(AP)—That's a much meeker sound President Truman's Democrats are making in Congress now.

They came in with a roar in control of the 81st Congress, after blasting the Republicans' 80th Congress as a "do-nothing" bunch.

And when they came in they had the President's campaign, which was the Democrats' campaign promises, spread out like a big feast.

Most Of Truman Program Slated To Be Set Aside

Congress Appears Ready To Shelve Hot Potatoes For Action Next Year

Washington, May 24—(AP)—Congress seemed about ready today to shelve until 1950 most of the political hot potatoes of President Truman's program.

Marked for delay until next year—when most of the members will be beating the bushes for re-election—are measures involving civil rights, farm subsidies, health insurance tax increases and social security expansion.

Congress may be voting on some of these while primary campaigns are underway. It probably will have written its record one way or the other on all of them by the time the voters decide in November of next year whether to keep the Democrats in power or give the Republicans control of one or both houses.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, indicated to reporters that the administration will consider it a job well done if Senate action can be finished by July 31 on three major items: House-approved reciprocal trade legislation, a substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law and the North Atlantic treaty.

But he made it clear that he won't be disappointed personally if the Democrats have something fresh to talk to the voters about next year.

"We had a program that couldn't possibly be enacted by any Congress in seven months," he said. "We have to leave a few good things until next year."

Indications that the House may move soon to try its hand again with a Taft-Hartley repealer brought a comment from Lucas that the Senate will not debate a similar bill at the same time.

Rep. Powell (D-NY) said a subcommittee will send to the full committee within 10 days a bill to set up a fair employment practices commission—one of the key points in the President's civil rights program.

But Lucas said he doubts that the Senate—which always bumps into a Southern filibuster on such measures—will find any time to take up civil rights bills in this session.

Nor can he find room on the schedule, he added, for legislation to carry out Mr. Truman's proposal to set up a compulsory health insurance system financed by payroll taxes.

Leaders of both houses seemed in agreement that nothing will be done in this session about the new administration farm plan.

Mother Given Prison Term For Burning Of Son

New York, May 25—(AP)—A mother convicted of burning the hand of her nine-year-old son last Thanksgiving was sentenced today to a term of up to three years in the penitentiary.

General Sessions Judge Owen W. Bohan passed the sentence on Mrs. Geraldine Vetter, 38, declaring she deserved "no sympathy."

Mrs. Vetter was convicted of burning the right hand of her second son, Philip, Jr., over the stove in their home. At the trial which ended May 5 an all-male jury was told that part of the boy's right little finger had to be amputated. He testified he still loved his mother.

Berlin Strikers Win Major Rail Demand

Receive Offer Of Pay In West Marks From Russian - Controlled Railway System; Russians Demand Locomotives

Berlin, May 25—(AP)—The Russian-controlled German railway system today proposed a settlement of the bloody, five-day Berlin railway strike with an offer to pay the strikers in West marks.

This would meet the main demand of the striking West Berlin railway workers.

The offer was contained in an interview with Reichsbahn President Willy Krekemyer by the Soviet-controlled Berlin radio.

Berlin, May 25—(AP)—West Berlin rail workers today turned down a peace feeler by the Russian-sponsored railway system and said they would continue their strike, now five days old.

The union called an immediate conference to consider the terms. Krekemyer made it plain that the plan called for charging West marks, four times as much as Russian-zone East marks, for train fares in the Western sectors.

The railway head said in his interview that the strikers would be taken back, except for those the company considers guilty of damaging property.

The 12,000 Western sector employees left their jobs Saturday, causing a complete halt in rail transportation in the city.

The Russians threw a new discordant note in the rail situation by demanding custody of locomotives in American sector railyards. Forty Soviet soldiers entered the Anhalter station shortly after noon and insisted on permission to take Communist workmen with them so they could remove locomotives which had been tied up by the strike.

Western German police stood firm in their new job of guarding the rail property, which technically is under Soviet control. A crowd of strikers gathered outside while Russian officers discussed the problem with German police inside the station.

Milady Spring Will Stay Awhile Says Weatherman

Chicago, May 25—(AP)—Lady Spring wearing a few bedraggled flowers in her lovely hair, took a tentative peep today at the U. S.

The weather bureau, which forever is attempting to read the lady's mind, said she liked what she saw. True, there were thundershowers along the Gulf coast and rain along the Atlantic coast.

The Pacific coast was almost as pretty as the lady—normal and seasonal. The midriff had some showers and a few below-normal temperatures—nothing extreme.

Atom Scientist Refuses Answer Probers' Query

Washington, May 25—(AP)—David Bohm, an atomic scientist now teaching at Princeton University, refused today to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he is or ever has been a communist.

Bohm declined to answer on constitutional grounds that he might incriminate himself.

He and Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) both told reporters about the refusal. Bohm appeared before the committee behind closed doors.

Wood said he will be questioned Friday in public session.

Gunman Wounds Brother Of Union Head In Home

Detroit, May 25—(AP)—A stealthy gunman, firing through a window, shot and wounded Victor Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers Union at his home last night.

Badly hurt, the 37-year-old unionist faces the possible loss of his right eye, pierced by a shotgun pellet.

This, for a second time within 13 months, police today sought a man or men, apparently bent on murder in the UAW-CIO's Reuther family.

House Economy Drive Endangers Big Money Bills

Administration's Foreign Aid And Housing Programs Seen Imperilled

Washington, May 25—(AP)—The administration's housing and foreign aid programs were imperilled today by a house economy drive which yesterday helped bowl over a military pay raise bill.

The storm signals were up for all pending measures involving big money.

Impressed by the 227 to 163 vote that sent the $400,000,000 a year military pay bill back to committee to the accompaniment of demands for economy, administration leaders came up with a compromise they hope may save their foreign aid bill.

The aid measure, financing the European recovery work of the economic cooperation administration, faces its big test in the house tomorrow.

It already has been chopped up by the appropriations committee which whacked $629,730,000 from the $4,198,200,000 President Truman wanted for ECA for the twelve months starting July 1.

This cut is almost half a billion dollars bigger than was ordered by a subcommittee that wrote the bill.

The administration wants at least the $4,015,900,000 approved by the subcommittee.

Following a huddle late yesterday with Paul G. Hoffman, ECA administrator, chairman Cannon of the appropriations committee came up with a proposal to let ECA use the proposed new funds in a shorter period than the committee has provided.

In addition to the $3,568,470,000 recommended for the fiscal year beginning July 1, the committee approved $1,074,000,000 as required for the fiscal 3 months of the present fiscal year, ending June 30.

In short, the entire $4,642,470,000 would be for use over a 15-months period.

Cannon proposed that ECA be allowed, with Presidential approval, to spend the whole sum in 12 months if necessary. The effect of that plan, if approved, would be to offset the committee cut.

Matthews, Gray Sworn In Today

Simple Ceremony Marks Office-Taking At Washington

Washington, May 25—(AP)—Francis P. Matthews of Omaha, Neb., was sworn in today as Secretary of the Navy.

In the same ceremony Gordon Gray of Winston-Salem, N.C., took the oath as undersecretary of the Army and Dan A. Kimball of Los Angeles, Calif., was inducted as undersecretary of the Navy.

Judge Edward A. Tamm of the U.S. District Court administered the oath to Matthews, lawyer and leader of Catholic lay activities.

The Secretary of Defense Johnson swore in Gray, formerly assistant Secretary of the Army, who has been acting as head of the department since the resignation of Secretary of Royal.

Nationalists Try Escape Shanghai

Solons Declare Loyalty Oath Is Not Sufficient

Say More Is Needed To Keep Communists Off AEC Scholarship Lists

Washington, May 25—(AP)—Three Republican Senators said today that more than just a loyalty oath is needed to keep Communist from getting atomic energy commission funds for student research work.

Senators Wherry of Nebraska, Hickenlooper of Iowa and Saltonstall of Massachusetts took this stand in separate interviews as atomic energy commissioners were called back to Capitol Hill for more questioning.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) chairman of the Senate-House committee on atomic energy, said the group would meet in closed session with the commissioners in the forenoon.

Tentative plans, he said, also called for a closed meeting in the afternoon with Rear Admiral John E. Gigerich, who resigned May 1 as Security director of the atomic energy commission.

Wherry, Hickenlooper and Saltonstall said the commission has not gone far enough to weed out subversives by agreeing to require a loyalty oath from those receiving funds for study in non-secret fields.

Referring specifically to Hans Freistadt, University of North Carolina student who got a fellowship, whereby said that if he won't quit the Communist party "then his fellowship should be withdrawn."

"There must be an FBI investigation of these people," Wherry declared. "The Communist who was keeping their commissions in jeopardy wouldn't hesitate to sign a loyalty oath. That won't keep Communists out."

Freistadt has said he is willing to sign the loyalty oath but won't quit the Communist party.

It was disclosure of Freistadt's Communist party membership which started the lawmakers on their scrutiny of the commission fellowship program.

The University of North Carolina said yesterday that Freistadt has been dismissed as a part-time physics instructor, effective June 1.

Hickenlooper, a member of the Senate-House atomic committee, said he wants "enough of an examination of fellowship applicants to show what the facts are about any connection they may have with subversive organizations."

Rudolph Wilson Ends Life With Pistol Bullet

Rudolph Wilson, 37-year-old Negro butler the past 10 years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Graham Flanagan, on the Falkland highway ended his life last midnight by shooting himself with a pistol. He died instantly.

Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said Wilson shot himself in his bedroom while his wife, "Occomo," was asleep. He is continuing his investigation.

Wilson's body was taken to Flanagan and Parker's Funeral Home for preparation for burial. Funeral arrangements had not been made today.

Wilson and his wife had been employed at the E. Graham Flanagan home many years.

Communists Enter City But Rear-Guard Action Produces Battle Far Worse Than Siege; Defenders Attempt Use Of Escape Corridor To North

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, May 25—(AP)—Communists marched into Shanghai today, and a roaring battle far worse than the siege developed.

Retreating Nationalists, trying to fight their way back to Woosung and escape, were blowing up everything they could. At 9 p.m. the whole horizon to the north seemed to explode.

Apparently the government soldiers, pulling back before the advancing Communists, blew up the fuel dumps, bombs and ammunition installations at Kiangwan airfield.

All the while cannonading shook the city as the Reds smashed with everything available at Woosung fortress. The Communists were determined to make the Nationalist escape corridor a bloody avenue if they could not close it.

Stubborn Nationalist rear guards held fast at bridges across Soochow Creek. Red mortars smashed up the main city postholes near the Szechuan road bridge.

Towering Broadway Mansions, an apartment building where several Americans and British are trapped behind the Nationalist lines, was shaken up.

Even in the old international settlement in the downtown area small arms fire crackled as the Reds hunted down small groups of Nationalists still holed up in buildings.

Obviously the Nationalist rear guard was buying time in last stand fights. They want the bulk of their comrades to deploy on the outer edges of the city for another fight or reach ships waiting in the Yangtze to take them south.

The green clad Reds came into the city from the west. They came down broad Avenue Foche and Edward VII Avenue on the double. It was peaceful there for most of the city was still asleep. What few Nationalist Reds encountered there threw down their arms or took to their heels.

Straight for the billion dollar Bund built along the Whangpoo banks they headed. There they ran into trouble. The bridges were blocked by machine guns. Snipers opened up from buildings.

Rifemen in the Broadway Mansions, tall apartment building across Soochow Creek from the heart of Shanghai, kept the Reds low.

Nationalist soldiers barricaded at the Garden Bridge, Chapiro Bridge and the Szechwan Bridge held up other Red bands. The bridges lead to the only arteries to Shanghai's north.

The Communists deployed into abandoned Nationalist fortifications on the Bund. They were forced from their advance positions by rifle, grenades and machinegun fire from the Garden Bridge Park and from the third floor of Broadway Mansions.

When it became apparent that the Communists could not take the exposed targets without considerable loss of life, they set up a harassing fire. Bullets crackled up and down the famous Bund, in front of the Glen Line Building housing the American consulate, in front of the British consulate and across from the Russian consulate.

Big Advance In Food Price Index

New York, May 25—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week posted the sharpest advance since mid-February, climbing to $5.74 from $5.66 a week ago.

However, the figure was still 17.3 per cent below the year-ago index of $6.94. The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

First Monkey-Wrench

The Big Four, Back In Their Old Positions Again; Opening Was Promising, But Soviet Statement On Germany Would Undo All That West Has Accomplished

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

That crash you heard yesterday afternoon was the monkey-wrench landing in the proceedings of the newly assembled Big Four foreign minister's council in Paris.

The BIG FOUR have slipped speedily back into their old position of opposition—Russia versus America, Britain and France. The difficulty, as anticipated, is the matter of settling Germany's future.

When the council assembled Monday, after a lapse of a year and a half since the Russians walked out of the last session, there was the outward atmosphere of a love feast. The opening meeting was a half-fellow-well-met affair among foreign ministers Bevin of Britain, Schuman of France, Vishinsky of Russia and Acheson of America.

The frequently fiery Vishinsky promptly agreed to an agenda proposed by the three western powers, saying affirmably: "If I am not absolutely convinced by your argument, nevertheless I will consent to your proposal. x x x we are going to agree on all questions here."

The western powers had entered the meeting determined to carry through the establishment of a federal republic in their zones of Germany, and hoping to persuade Russia to bring the eastern zone into this government. That is, they were aiming for a united Germany which still would remain under allied supervision until complete moral and economic rehabilitation had been achieved.

When Vishinsky was called on yesterday to state Russia's position he accused the western powers of departing from the principles laid down in the allied pact made at Potsdam just after the end of the European fighting. He called for restoration of low-power control throughout Germany, as laid down in Potsdam, and for establishing of a German state council with economic and administrative functions.

This would mean a return to the original controls of Germany and would do away with the newly created German republic.

It would be a complete reversal of what the western allies have been working for.

Then Vishinsky hit on another

Youthful Workers Club The spirit of fellowship that prevailed at the Youthful Workers club meeting Monday night, May 24, would certainly have done every absent member a lot of good. The discussions were spirited and informative. Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Lawrence Tyson, president; Johnnie Cassick, vice president; Geraldine Coward, secretary; Brownie Manning, treasurer. The new president appointed Frances Cassick to serve the next six months as program chairman, and he will appoint a reporter at our next meeting. Garden Club Has Final Meeting

The Greenville Garden Club held its final meeting of the year with a picnic dinner on the spacious lawn at the home of one of its members, Mrs. R. M. Garrett, on Friday, May 20. The shade of the stately oaks, the dripping of water in the pool, the beautiful lake in the distance with ducks paddling about, tables with ruffled organdy cloths and arrangements of lovely flowers made a scene long to be remembered by the 74 members and their guests who were present.

Members of the Garden Club had been asked to wear hats either made or trimmed with garden flowers. The hats were amazingly clever and showed the ingenuity and talent of the club members and their guests.

After a bountiful dinner supplemented with hot breads from Mrs. Garrett's kitchen a short business session was held, at which time Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, chairman, gave a brief report of the year's activities and new officers were introduced. In her report Mrs. Moore called attention to the outstanding work of the club during the past year. She mentioned the programs given by four specialists in their respective fields—Mrs. E. B. Pittman of Wilson, district director for the N.C. Garden Club; Mrs. J. L. Weller of Norfolk, who gave two lectures and demonstrations on holiday decorations; Prof. Edwin G. Thurlow, School of Landscape Design, State College, Raleigh, who talked on landscaping the small home; and Mrs. M. Cochrane Cole of Bronxville, N.Y., who gave a lecture-demonstration on flower arrangements. The Garden Club made visits to two other clubs during the year—one for a Christmas decoration and holiday tea program to the Washington club and the other a bus trip to Wilson for the spring flower show. Mrs. H. L. Rivers gave much valuable garden information to the public through the newspaper column "Gardens of Tomorrow" and the weekly radio programs sponsored by Mrs. W. J. Stell aroused much interest in the activities of the Garden Club. Mrs. Moore called attention to two special projects of the club—that of securing historical markers for Thomas J. Jarvis, governor of North Carolina and minister to Brazil, and for Sallie Southall Cotten, pioneer clubwoman and civic leader. She stated that the marker for Gov. Jarvis had been approved, was now being made and would probably be placed sometime this summer on the corner of Second and Greene Streets. The marker for Mrs. Cotten has not been approved but the club is still working for that. The other project, the making of Greenville a bird sanctuary, was completed several years ago but members are urged to keep active the interest and protection of songbirds in Greenville.

Mrs. Moore thanked the officers for the past year: Mrs. J. Key Brown, vice chairman, Mrs. N. C. Brooks, recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur Corey, corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. L. Andrews, treasurer, and Mrs. E. W. Harvey, reporter, also the committee chairman: Mesdames R. M. Garrett, H. L. Rivers, W. J. Stell, J. Vance Perkins, J. L. Fleming, M. K. Blount, J. B. Spillman, S. T. White, R. V. Keel, W. C. Harris, T. E. Hooker, J. L. Savage and M. L. Wright and the individual members for their fine work and outstanding loyalty to all the programs and efforts of the club. The club now has 95 members, the largest in its history.

The following new officers were introduced: chairman, Mrs. B. McK. Johnson; vice chairman, Miss Lelia Higgs; recording secretary, Mrs. Helen A. Snyder; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. C. Harris; reporter, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore.

Guests present were Mesdames B. S. Warren, Lee Hannah, Leon Russell, J. L. Russell, Herman Preseren Maxton, N.C., Chester Walsh, W. S. Galloway, R. C. Stokes, N. O. Warren, L. T. Showell, E. K. Allen, Roger Collins, E. B. Linck and Miss Ruth Moore, Pinetops, N.C.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—how's how you can stop! Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you. Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead! Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day! Drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity. Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit. How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers. Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs. Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally. What worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 35¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Declares Science Is Approaching Secret Of 'Mechanical Slaves'

Berkeley, Calif., May 25—(AP)—Another war would result in the development of "mechanical slaves" which would make many types of human labor worthless, says Dr. Norbert Wiener, originator of a new idea in science.

Already science and engineering are nearer to the production of automata than they were to the development of radar prior to the outbreak of World War II, Dr. Wiener told a news conference.

Under this new concept of industrial production robots would do much of the work now done by men on assembly lines. These mechanical slaves would take over part or all of the jobs of billing clerks and similar occupations.

Normally such an advance could not be expected for at least 25 more years, but researchers under war-time pressure could bring it about in a couple of years, Dr. Wiener asserted.

With machines doing most of the work, society then would be faced with the problem of what to do with the workers. Dr. Wiener said there would have to be either (a) a reevaluation of man's services, or (b) the "killing of a lot of people." This last alternative wouldn't be practical, he admitted.

Dr. Wiener, a professor of mathematics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the sponsor of a new field of study called cybernetics. It is roughly defined as an attempt to find the factors which are common to both the human nervous system and to machines.

Once scientists get the hang of these common elements, they may be able to endow a machine with something resembling the nerves which control human muscles. The machine then would be able to do some of the things which now can be done only by human hands governed by brain and nerves.

So-called mechanical brains now duplicate some of the feats of human brains but no machine yet has been made that will match the delicate control of nerves over muscles.

Has Long Time To Study News

Greensboro, May 25—(AP)—A man who admitted stealing a newspaper has a long time to study the news.

Grady F. Allred, 31, charged with taking the newspaper from a pile on Elm Street here several months ago was given a six-month road term for the theft. Sentence was passed out in Guilford Superior Court yesterday after he admitted taking the paper.

In addition to the active sentence, he was given an eight-month sentence suspended for five years.

Co-Ed Is Charged With Arson In Rooming House

Columbia, Mo., May 25—(AP)—A 23-year-old University of Missouri co-ed was charged with arson yesterday in connection with a $30,000 fire which damaged a woman's rooming house May 14.

The co-ed, Mrs. Margaret "Gypsy" Waters Horn, pleaded innocent at her arraignment.

Prosecutor Howard B. Lang, Jr. who filed the charge after a five-day investigation, said a bottle of gasoline was found in the basement of the cooperative rooming house under circumstances suggesting arson.

He said Mrs. Horn recently had taken out $2,800 insurance on her possessions in the house.

Mrs. Horn said she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Waters, writers, who she believes are traveling in Mexico.

Mrs. Brown Hostess To Inter Se Club

Mrs. Wyatt Brown was hostess to the Inter Se Club on May 17 at her home.

Mrs. Vance Perkins gave the program on current events. In her opening remarks she quoted Harvey S. Firestone on "Keeping America Strong." In a recent address in Chicago Mr. Firestone stated that "the great source of American strength lies in our economic system which we call individual competitive free enterprise and that is what each and every one of us must intensify our individual efforts to preserve and defend."

The eyes of all the nations of the world are upon us. If we weaken our support of this successful economic system, all other free nations of the world will crash with us, but if we remain strong economically, if we not only defend but extend free enterprise, we shall keep our country so strong that none will dare to attack us or those who stand with us on the side of Freedom.

Mrs. Perkins stated that women are not active enough in the vital things which concern our nation. She spoke of labor, deflation and other things we are concerned with at home. Then of the effect on the Germans of the lifting of the blockade. Coal would now be $20 instead of $70, people can get fresh vegetables instead of dehydrated foods. Now electricity would be available for lights instead of candles and once more a German housewife would cook with gas. Russia's objectives in Germany and China were discussed.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Perkins' discussion, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Lionel Buchanan who installed Mrs. Hunter Irving as president, Mrs. Reynolds May, vice president, Mrs. Wendell Smiley, secretary, Mrs. F. D. Duncan, librarian.

The club voted to give all the books to the Sheppard Memorial Library.

Pactolus Boy Is Chosen For Camp

Bobby Edwards of the Pactolus 4-H club has been selected by the state forestry office to attend an annual camp held for boys who show outstanding achievements in 4-H work.

In a letter to C. J. Goodmon, assistant county agent, John L. Gray of the forestry service said Edwards has been selected to go to the camp because of his impressive 4-H record in forestry.

The state office each year selects 25 4-H boys and 25 FFA boys from North Carolina who have done outstanding work in forestry, and 20 boys from other Southern states to attend the camp.

Bobby Edwards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edwards of Pactolus, and on his father's farm looks after 200 acres of timberland. He supervises the systematic cutting of timber, and has conducted 4-H timber thinning demonstrations. At the present time he is carrying out five 4-H projects which includes corn, 3 brood sows, feeder pigs, soy beans, timber stand improvement and forest fire protection.

He will attend Camp Singletary at Elizabethtown for a week beginning August 1.

Had To Pick Up Seeing-Eye Dog

Atlanta, May 25—(AP)—An officer of the Humane Society who performed "one of the worst" jobs he'd ever had to do, says grimly, "I certainly hope it's the last."

That was what Marshall E. Lind, Humane Society manager, said yesterday after he had taken a seeing-eye dog away from a 34-year-old blind beggar.

Lind says "Big Boy" wasn't getting enough to eat.

"I feed my dog—I love him," said W. C. Knight, sightless since childhood. "I feed him every day."

He just hadn't had time to fatten "Big Boy," Knight told police.

"But I will," he added. "I'll feed him sirloin steak."

He said a friend gave him the trained year-old German Shepherd six weeks ago, and that he made his living with the dog.

A tin cup was still strapped to "Big Boy's" harness when police led him away.

A court hearing was scheduled today for Knight. The Humane Society officer said "Big Boy" would be in court for the judge to see.

"This is the first seeing-eye dog I've ever had to take because of mistreatment," Lind said.

Strength FOR THE DAY

DON'T TRY THAT ROUTE In a current motion picture, one of the characters bangs down a bottle of gin before a disconsolate chap who was having a hard time facing his troubles. "Take this and do your forgetting alone," is the way the script runs at this point. It all brings to one's mind the realization that a lot of people drink under the delusion that they can forget their troubles that way. Of course all they do is knock out a few of their higher brain centers and, having lost all sense of responsibility by subjecting a portion of their brain to the effects of an anesthetic, they temporarily forget their troubles. But only temporarily. When the effect of the drug, which gives the kick to liquor, has worn off, then the troubles are back again more impudent and assailing than before. Not only has nothing been gained; the habit of running away from the problems of life has begun to form as a well-known psychiatrist said recently. Alcoholism is not the outstanding problem we sometimes think it is. Moderate drinking is the outstanding problem; for moderate drinking in an alarming number of cases leads to alcoholism. Drinking is an unwise method of trying to handle the problems of life.

ART OF LIVING (Selected)

If the following story is true (which I have no reason to doubt), you will not resent my repeating it here for the benefit of those who may not have read or heard it:

"In 1923 a very important meeting was held at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago. Attending this meeting were ten of the world's most successful financiers. Those present were:

- 1. The president of the largest independent steel company;
2. The president of the National City Bank;
3. The president of the largest utility company;
4. The president of the largest gas company;
5. The greatest wheat speculator;
6. The president of the New York Stock Exchange;
7. A member of the President's cabinet;
8. The greatest "bear" in Wall Street;
9. Head of the world's greatest monopoly;
10. President of the Bank of International Settlements.

"Certainly we must admit that here were gathered a group of the world's most successful men. At least men who had found the secret of 'making money.' Twenty-five years later, let's see where those men are:
"The president of the largest independent steel company, Charles Schwab, died a bankrupt and lived on borrowed money for five years before his death.
"The president of the greatest utility company, Samuel Insull, died a fugitive from justice and penniless in a foreign land.
"The president of the largest gas company, Howard Hopson, is now insane.
"The greatest wheat speculator, Arthur Cotton, died

Did I Hear Someone Call?

abroad, insolvent. "The president of the New York Stock Exchange, Richard Whitney, was recently released from Sing Sing penitentiary. "The member of the President's cabinet, Albert Fall, was pardoned from prison so he could die at home. "The greatest 'bear' in Wall Street, Jesse Livermore, died a suicide. "The head of the greatest monopoly, Ivor Krueger, died a suicide. "All of these men learned well the art of making money, but not one of them learned how to live!"

Around Capitol Square

HOUSING - The state labor department reports that during the month of April building permits were issued by 62 towns and cities in North Carolina for construction aggregating $8,809,252. More than half this total, $4,577,223, was for residential building, and was intended to provide living quarters for 775 families in 458 single family dwellings, 15 duplexes, 51 apartments and 17 miscellaneous structures. The department figures did not include building in the country and in small towns where official permits are not required. Some authorities estimate that new dwellings in these non-reporting areas would more than double the number in the 62 reporting municipalities. COST - This record for one month, which continues similar trends for the past three years, would indicate that the housing shortage is being overcome. Analysis of cost figures, however, show there has been little improvement in distress areas. Average cost of the one-family houses was estimated at $6,187. That means an average rental (and rental cost applies even if owner-occupied) with heat

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR. It happened in Greenville: While walking down main street Saturday Dick Fleming, a Carolina student from Greenville, was confronted by an eager voice which said, "Say Cap'n, have you got any work for a man that just got out of the pen?"

For the past two days this column has been about Greenville's amateur radio operators. The fact that the "hams" are an asset to the community was emphasized, but no one can deny that their stations sometimes cause interference in nearby radios.

Naturally the amateurs are aware of this fact, and every one of them is anxious to hear from the owners of the radios carrying the interference. Every effort will be made to eliminate this problem. Actually the "hams" have just as much right to the airways as WGTO, or any other commercial station, because they are licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. Despite this fact, the "hams" have no desire to interfere with Greenville radios. If your radio is carrying "ham" interference, contact the operators and if possible the problem will be solved.

From time to time this column will carry news of the work of the Greenville "hams." When one makes a contact in a foreign country for some local citizen, like Layton Clark and Roy Phelps have recently for Mrs. Les Thayer and Mrs. Andy Noe, this column will attempt to carry news of the and essential utilities will run around $75 a month. Actually the seven housing developments underway in Raleigh carry under-way for two-bedroom apartments in excess of that figure. SLUMS - Interest has been focused lately on slum districts in Washington and other big cities; in Raleigh, Greensboro and Winston-Salem in this state. These unsightly unsanitary quarters are occupied by families whose gross income cannot stand rental in excess of $20-30 a month. That means the real problem is not being solved, despite the large amount of new home construction underway. Experience with several "low cost housing"

Boyle's Column

New York-(AP)-Now is the golden time at end for many a rose-lipped maiden and many a light-foot lad. This is the season when alma mater opens her iron gates. And out into an iron world she hurls her annual tide of college graduates. It is always a trembling hour when mother deliberately unties the apron strings that bind her to her children. Freedom and responsibility—they are so strange and new.

Goodbye to brackety-jackety-yack. Farewell dear campus so well beloved, but never so loved as now. Hello, world, so wide and terrible. Ah, me! Ah, youth! Ah, wilderness! Aw, hell! Don't look so forlorn, son. Life isn't all fang and claw and a sharp tack in a tight shoe. You're just a freshman in a bigger university—a university in which it is terribly important to pick the right professors.

Until now there has always been somebody ready with a handkerchief to wipe your nose. The first thing you have to learn in this new university you are entering is to keep your nose out of places where people will make it bleed. There are tough kids around, who live by the creed that a gun in the hand is worth two in the head. Don't play with them. Stay with the nice boys. There are cleared places in this age-old jungle that is your new campus. Work with the people that want to tear down some of the choking moss and chop down some of the dead trees that hide the sky. The best fun in life is to leave something better than you found it. And if you don't help clear the campus, the moss will smother you in time, as it has so many, and you will become a dead tree in a dying part of the forest.

Okay, son, I know that sounds highfalutin. Get the glaze out of your eyes. I know what's on your mind—you want a job. Fine. Drop

Review Indicates Dewey Won One Thing At November Polls

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 25—(AP)—Governor Dewey beat President Truman in one thing at the polls last November.

According to a new study, he got better support from the voters who wanted him to win. A higher percentage of Deweyites actually voted than did people favoring Mr. Truman.

Truman, in short, didn't win through Republican failure to vote. But Mr. Truman topped Dewey in capturing voters who waited until the last minute to make up their minds.

These are two of the election post-mortem findings made by the survey research center at the University of Michigan. It called the turn on the election. The study last October showed Dewey and Truman neck and neck, with more than 20 per cent of all prospective voters undecided which party to support. Another study in November showed Truman getting 50 per cent of the votes and Dewey 45. The actual vote was for Truman and 42-5 per cent for Dewey.

To learn why so many pollsters had missed the boat, the survey research center went back and talked to exactly the same people it had interviewed in October. Its method of getting opinions is based on an extremely careful method of picking a cross-section of people throughout the country. The method is so good that the Federal Reserve Board relies on the center's findings in shaping its ideas about economic conditions, present and future.

Some of the things learned from voters, summed up by Dr. Angus Campbell, director of the survey research center, are:

Most voters had made up their minds before the campaign started. This was true especially of those who did vote Republican. The Republicans thus had a majority during most of the campaign.

A higher percentage of those who wanted Dewey instead of Truman actually cast their ballots.

In mid-October, 20 per cent of voters didn't know how they would vote. When they did decide, they favored President Truman.

Mr. Truman was favored substantially by those who decided during the campaign. He was favored 4 to 1 by those who decided in the last two weeks.

People in cities decided how they would vote later than people in rural areas. People in cities are heavier voters than rural dwellers.

Younger people took longer about making up their minds. Younger people were more likely to vote Democratic. Most of those under 45 were for Truman. Most over 45 were for Dewey.

There was some shifting from Dewey to Truman.

Asked why people favored their man, 46 per cent said Truman favored some particular group, which won him support. Only 11 per cent thought Dewey won votes by favoring some particular group and they named big business as this group, Dr. Campbell said.

Sixteen per cent thought Truman did something in the campaign. Only four per cent thought Dewey was meeting the issues. Six per cent said Truman had a weak campaign. But 26 per cent said Dewey's was weak.

The class split among voters was clear cut and significant, Dr. Campbell said.

Skilled and unskilled voters gave Truman his majority.

Voters in the professions and management were 4 to 1 for Dewey, and 75 per cent of them actually voted.

White collar workers were evenly divided on the candidates, and 88 per cent of them voted. They were most conscientious about balloting.

Skilled and semi-skilled workers were 3 1-2 to 1 for Truman. Thirty per cent didn't vote.

Unskilled workers were 2 to 1 for Truman. Half didn't vote.

Farmers were 2 to 1 for Truman. Slightly more than half didn't vote.

Among college graduates who voted, their ballots were cast 3 to 1 for Dewey.

Three of every four Union voters were for Truman. Twenty-seven per cent of Union members didn't vote.

Thirty-eight per cent of non-union members didn't vote.

Skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers in Unions were 5 to 1 for Truman. People in the same kind of jobs, but not belonging to unions, were 2 to 1 for Truman.

In income groups, those making $5,000 a year or more were 2 to 1 for Dewey. Those with incomes between $4,000 and $5,000 were slightly in favor of Dewey. The votes were even in the group between $3,000 and $4,000. But people making $1,000 to $2,000 to $3,000 were 2 to 1 for Truman.

Chicod Student Is Given Award

Miss Naomi Rouse, valedictorian of the graduating class at Chicod high school, has been given the annual award of the Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community, it was announced today by Newman Lewis, principal.

Miss Rouse will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the Editors. "In Recognition of past accomplishments and in anticipation of annual achievement to come."

The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout the United States and Canada to the highest honor student of the graduating class. The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of the Reader's Digest in school work.

With the collaboration of leading educators supplements to the magazine, containing guides for reading improvement and aids to effective speech and composition, are made available to schools and colleges.

The award to Miss Rouse, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rouse, Route 3, Greenville, N. C. was made possible through the cooperation of Mr. Lewis and his teaching staff. They selected Miss Rouse to receive the award, designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship, and continued contact with good reading after graduation.

The informant said the state department had sent notes to these nations, both in the Atlantic and Pacific regions, proposing talks to weld a common diplomatic front toward the emerging Red Chinese regime.

The move, the informant said, was touched off in part by recent reports that India was planning to recognize the Chinese Reds as soon as they formed a government for all China.

One of the most important suggestions made in the note, the informant said, was that none of the countries concerned should recognize a new regime in China without consulting the other nations.

He said another suggestion was that the powers should seek to bind China to maintain an open door policy for the west. Many of the big western powers, notably the U. S., Britain and France, have big com-

Robinson's Batting Splurge Wins For Dodgers On Tour

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, in the midst of the greatest batting spree of his career, is taking the west by storm.

Not since the days of Lefty O'Doul and Babe Herman have fans of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and Pittsburgh seen anything like this come out of Flatbush.

The Dodgers' star second baseman has literally been tearing the cover off the ball since the Brooks left Boston for the hinterlands a week ago last Sunday. More than any other Dodger he has been responsible for Brooklyn's road record of six victories in eight games.

In eight games, the Negro flash has rapped out 15 hits in 34 times at bat for a .441 batting average. He drove in 17 runs to boost his league leading total to 32. His season batting mark now is .316.

He tops the circuit with 18 extra base swats including 11 doubles, two triples and five home runs. He also leads in stolen bases with six. In the field, he is playing a near-flawless game.

Robinson whacked a pair of home runs and a single last night to lead the Dodgers to a 6-1 triumph over the Pirates in Pittsburgh. Each of his blows came with Duke Snider on base. Snider collected four hits in five times at bat.

Backed by a 13-hit attack against Bob Cheshnes, Hal Gregg and Cliff Chambers, Righthander Ralph Branca rolled to his seventh successive triumph. The Brooklyn ace has not been beaten this season.

The victory, coupled with St. Louis' 3-1 win over the league leading Braves, enabled the third place Dodgers to cut Boston's margin to two games. They trail the second place Giants by a game and a half. The Giants lost a golden opportunity to take over the lead when they were beaten by the Cubs in Chicago, 8-2.

The fourth place Reds went 11 innings to nip the Philadelphia Phils, 4-1, in a night game in Cincinnati.

The Boston Red Sox, looking more like pennant contenders each day won a tense 10-inning 8-7 thriller from the Detroit Tigers for their fourth straight triumph.

The pre-season favorites for the American League flag now are in third place but still four-and-a-half games behind the front-running New York Yankees. The Bronx Bombers had an easy time of it subduing the hapless St. Louis Browns, 13-3, at the Yankee Stadium.

The scheduled night games between Chicago and Washington and Cleveland and Philadelphia were postponed by rain.

Bobby Doerr's single with the bases loaded scored two runs for Boston after the Tigers had taken a temporary 7-6 lead in the top of the 10th.

The Yankees took advantage of some loose fielding by the Browns to tally 10 times in the fifth to wrap up the ball game. Phil Rizzuto's bases-loaded triple and Yogi Berra's three-run homer featured the up-rising.

Stan Musial's home run with a mate aboard in the fifth inning broke up a tight pitching duel between winner Harry Brecheen and loser Johnny Antonelli to give the Cards the victory over the Braves. Brecheen permitted only five hits for his third victory.

A three-run homer by Catcher Al Walker was enough to down the Giants and snap a five-game losing streak of the Cubs. Left-hander Bob Chipman allowed only five hits for his third victory.

A Johnny Woytek from third with the run that gave the Reds their overtime triumph over the Phils. Harry Gumbert, fourth Red-leg pitcher, was the winner.

Gil Hodges emerged something of a hero as the Dodgers beat the Cardinals, 8-7, before the Flatbush Faithful in Eddets Field when he made a leaping catch of Eddie Saur's drive to nip the St. Louis club's ninth inning rally.

Earlier in the game, Hodges had poled out a home run off Ken Johnson.

For the greater part of the young season, Hodges had been doing an efficient, if not spectacular job of covering first base for the Dodgers. This particular day, the spotlight was focused on him, causing one of the press box inmates to wonder aloud why Branch Rickey was frantically searching for a capable first

'Lovers' Take Over Lead In GHS Intramural Play

By ROY HARDEE
The Lovers of the Greenville high school softball league moved into undisputed first place position yesterday as they walloped the hapless Don Juan's 7-2.

The Don Juan's started off in the first inning as they collected a tally, with the aid of an error, and a double by Billy Tilghman which scored Kent Lee, to put the Don Juan's ahead 1-0.

The Lovers tied the score in the top of the second inning when they pushed across a lone tally. Moore started the inning with a double and scored on two outfield flies.

In the top half of the fourth inning the Lovers got four runs off Billy Woolfolk, pitcher for the Don Juan's. Moore reached base on an error and a single by Vainright advanced him into scoring position. A timely double by Clark sent Moore and Vainright home to put the Lovers ahead. Nobles banged out a single to bring home Clark for the third tally of the inning. Haynes swatted his second straight double of the day to score Nobles and send the Lovers ahead 6-1.

In the top of the fifth the Lovers scored one run on a walk, two outfield flies and two more walks.

The Don Juan's came back in the bottom of the fifth to score their last run of the game when Kent Lee knocked a triple and scored on the wild throw to third base.

Pitcher Cox scored Clark and Brewer. Billy Faulkner lined a single into center field and scored on a single by Max Ray Joyner.

The Orioles came back in the bottom of the first frame to put across one lone tally. Richard Joyner led off as he collected a single, Billy Jordan followed with another single. Joyner scored on a single by Conway to end the scoring, with the score at the top of the second inning 3-1.

Edwards led off in the top of the second inning for the Yanks with a single and was followed by Baker who got on by an error. Edwards scored the fourth run of the game as Lewis Clark lined a clean single into right field.

In the third frame Richard Joyner collected his second hit of the day to start the Orioles, Perry doubled and sent Joyner home.

The Yanks scored one run in the top of the fourth inning to make the score 8-2.

An error, two doubles and a base on balls sent the Yanks well into the lead to the tune of 7-3 in the top of the fifth.

In the bottom of the fifth the Orioles made their last run of the game as Joyner connected for his third straight hit of the game as he sent a double into the outfield, and later scored on two outfield flies.

An error, two doubles and a base on balls sent the Yanks well into the lead to the tune of 7-3 in the top of the fifth.

In the top of the seventh the Yanks scored one on two singles by Faulkner and Joyner and a fielder's choice.

This victory sent the Yanks into a fourth place tie with the Orioles.

Host Club's Par To Take Beating In PGA Tourney

Richmond, Va., May 25—(AP)—The 6,577-yard Hermitage Country Club layout was expected to take a terrific beating today as 134 of the nation's finest pro golfers teed off in the thirty-first annual PGA meet.

But E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, traveling pro for the host club, isn't expected among the players. Harrison, who took the job a month ago, is playing exhibitions with Bobby Locke, South African shotmaker, who was locked out of the same tourney.

Locke competed in the 1947 PGA tourney but when he showed up again in both 1948 and 1949, the PGA executive committee decided his repeated appearances weren't those of a visitor.

In addition to Harrison and Locke, defending champion Ben Hogan also is absent. He is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile crash. Dr. Cary Middlecoff, one of the top money-winning players, isn't eligible and Byron Nelson, one of the recent greats, is in virtual retirement. Middlecoff has been a pro two years and the rules say that a five year apprenticeship must be served.

Eighteen holes of medal play today and another round of the same length on Thursday will cut the field to the top 64 scorers. Match play begins Friday with two 18 hole rounds on that day.

The consensus that the Hermitage course might take a battering was formed yesterday as golfer after golfer came in with figures below the tourney par of 71. Regularly par is 72.

Yesterday's lowest tuneup round was fired by Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., who toured the course in a record-equaled eight-under 63. At least two other players were labeled with the rating of "favorite." They were Samlin's Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.

Sievers Is Bright Spot Among Lowly Brownies

New York, May 25—(AP)—How you going to keep 'em down on the farm when they hit .360 in the ma-Jors?

A flop at Elmira but a hot shot in the big time, Rookie Roy Sievers is the one bright spot in the St. Louis Browns' dungeon. And they can stand a little light.

Sievers, a St. Louis boy whose dad reared him to be a ball player, never figured to stick around past spring training time. They already had him ticketed for San Antonio.

Last year he hit only .179 in the first month at Elmira, N.Y., (Class A Eastern League) before they gave him a ticket to Springfield, Ill., in the Three-I League. Down in Class B he blossomed out as a .309 hitter with 19 homers and 75 runs-batted-in.

"I thought sure I was going back this spring," said the 22-year-old Roy, "but I got a couple of breaks. Dick Kokos and Paul Lehner, two of our outfielders, hit up (collided) in an exhibition game at Oakland. That gave me a chance."

The first time Sievers came to bat in his home town he struck out as a pinch hitter in an exhibition against the Cardinals. He struck out again in his first appearance in the regular season.

About that time he cornered Harry Mitauer, a St. Louis baseball writer, who had promised him a picture during spring training.

"Better hurry and dig up that picture," Roy said, "it don't look like I'll be around here very long."

He was wrong, of course. Next time up he came through with a pinch double and he was off to the races.

Intramurals' Top Batter Has .750

The batting champion in the high school intramural league through Monday's game was Jake Stanley, playing with the Giants, who has hit for a healthy .750. Moore, hitting four-for-six, was next in the league's hitting list with .667 for the Lovers.

Leading hitters in each team are listed below:

Yanks
Baker, 3-4, .500; Cox, 4-7, .571.

Giants
Stanley, 3-4, .750; Amana, 2-7, .286; Higgs, 2-8, .250

Wrigley Probes Cubs To Learn What's Wrong

Chicago, May 25—(AP)—Owner P. K. Wrigley called a "what's wrong with the Cubs" meeting today with his lieutenants.

Conferences were scheduled with Manager Charley Grimm, General Manager Jim Gallagher, Field Captain Phil Cavaretta and other key players.

The National Leaguers have lost 11 of their last 15 games. They snapped a five game losing streak by defeating the New York Giants 8-2 yesterday.

The Chewing Gum magnate has made it clear that he is backing Grimm and Gallagher to the hilt and that today's parley is merely a round-table discussion on how to lift the club from the doldrums.

ORCHID NIGHT
Newark, N. J., May 25—(AP)—One thousand orchids flown in from Hawaii will be given away at the night game with Syracuse Friday the Newark Bears announced today. The International League club said the first 1,000 women to arrive at the park will get the corsages.

Speed Demons Make Bid Today If Weather Holds

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25—(AP)—Drivers and mechanics watched the weather today as qualification trials resumed for nine open places in the starting field for Monday's 500 mile auto race.

About a dozen cars are expected to bid for a place among speedway starters if the forecast of fair and warmer held good. Twenty-four cars already have qualified, and drivers who don't have their cars ready today will get a final shot at the 10-mile run against time Saturday. Only the 33 fastest cars will start on race day.

Lee Wallace of Schenectady, N. Y., expected to try for the top speed today in a Maserati owned by Indianapolis Race Cars, Inc. Wallace, in a last year rode to seventh place in a little dirt track Iddings special, may try for the special $1,000 prize given the driver with the fastest qualifying time.

Duke Nalon, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., who won the pole position on the first day of time trials with a speed of 132,939 miles an hour has his hands closest to the money now. He is driving a Novi Mobil special, 150-horsepower Creation.

It appeared unlikely the Rounds Rocket special, a new California-owned car that has yet to be driven, will make a qualification attempt before Saturday.

Bill Taylor, speedway newcomer slated to drive the car, also may be pushed out of the driver's seat by lack of time in which to pass his American Automobile Association Drivers' test. Tomorrow is the last day for the test required of all track freshmen.

Knocks Out Contender In 16 Seconds Of First Round To Set Navy Record

Oakland, Calif., May 25—(AP)—Lightweight Earl Williams of Hogsansville, Ga., holds a new knockout record for Navy boxing. He produced a sleep maker for Roger Schofield of Abington, Mass., 16 seconds after their bout started last night in the all-Navy boxing tournament.

Williams was one of seven fighters from the Hawaiian area who won their bouts the opening day of the tournament, which has brought naval district titlists from all parts of the world.

Nearly 5,000 fans watched the 64 opening day bouts at the Alameda Naval Air Station. Semi-final bouts will be held Thursday at the Oakland Auditorium.

Only one defending all-Navy titlist was eliminated in the preliminary rounds. He was flyweight champion Jimmy Quinn of New York City, who was defeated by Marine Cpl. Mervin Davis of Wellsburg, W. Va.

Dosson Oliver, recent winner of the National AAU light heavyweight championship in Boston and favorite to take the title here advanced by default of Wallace Talton of Trenton, N. J. Oliver is from West Grove, Pa.

Weird Inning

Winston-Salem, N.C., May 25 (AP)—Jimmy Maranville, pitcher for a Western Electric softball team, struck out four batters in one inning yet his opponents scored a run in the same inning.

Jimmy fanned the first two men to face him in an intraplant contest. He struck out the third man, but Catcher Wesley Zimmerman dropped the ball and the runner was safe on first. That so unnerved Jimmy that he uncorked three wild pitches which enabled the runner to score. Then, he pulled himself together, whipped three strikes across the plate to fan the fourth and last man.

John P. (Stuffy) McInnis, Harvard baseball coach, was a member of Connie Mack's famous "$100,000 infield."

Chapter 29
 Uncle Charles was waiting for them at the airport. For a moment he did not recognize, in the slim elegance of the girl beside Garrett, the girl he had never seen in anything but shabby, worn clothing.

But the moment she saw him she shrieked his name like a delighted child and flung herself into his arms. Uncle Charles led the way to his car.

"Have you made any arrangements about where you're going to stay?" he wanted to know when Felicity sat comfortably between him and Garrett on the back seat of the old-fashioned car.

"A hotel, I suppose. We really didn't have a lot of time to plan," answered Garrett.

"I was hoping you'd agree to accept my hospitality," suggested Uncle Charles.

Garrett glanced at Felicity and read the look in her eyes. "Thank you, sir. You are more than kind. We'd be delighted, wouldn't we, darling?"

"Oh, yes — of course."

And so the big old car trundled its way into town and off Fifth Avenue, paused in front of an impressive-looking apartment house. They rode up in the elevator to the eighteenth floor, where Uncle Charles unlocked a door and an elderly butler came to meet them.

The suite assigned to Felicity and Garrett was composed of a bedroom, a sitting room and a bath, and was furnished in exquisite taste.

Felicity, in Garrett's arms, said huskily, "You're a darling not to refuse Uncle Charles' invitation. It would have been more fun, maybe, to have sneaked off somewhere by ourselves — but he's such a lamb, and he's been so good to me. He'd have been so disappointed if we'd refused him. He's very fond of me."

And Garrett laughed a little, tenderly, as he kissed her again.

Promptly at ten o'clock the next morning Uncle Charles' car slid to a halt in front of a narrow alley that had at its far end a little sign, reading: Stage Entrance. Uncle Charles got out; Garrett followed him and, between them, they lifted an excited and trembling Felicity to the sidewalk, while Uncle Charles dismissed the chauffeur.

"This first rehearsal was nothing more than a reading, without expression or gestures of the play. When the reading was completed Hueston said briskly, "That's all now, people. Time out for lunch. Be back here at two o'clock, and we'll get down to business."

When they had gone Hueston turned to Felicity and said, "Will you and Mr. Drummond join me for lunch? I'd like to have your reaction to the people we've assembled for the play. To know whether or not you are satisfied with the cast?"

When they were settled at a table in a nearby restaurant, Hueston said earnestly, "I'm quite serious, Miss Home, in asking you whether or not you are satisfied with the cast. After all, the play is yours. You know what you had in mind. You know whether or not these people will do — and if you are not quite content with them, all you need do is say so."

Felicity was still for a moment. She was remembering the overeagerness in the way the people had greeted her this morning. But most of all she was remembering the man who had read the part she had always meant for her father; remembering the shabbiness of his overcoat, which had not been heavy enough for the cold day; the scrupulously clean collar that had been very neatly and carefully trimmed — by a razor blade, Felicity knew from experience; a man like Father who had been out of work maybe for months, even years.

"Yes," she said after a moment, almost hurriedly, not quite meeting Hueston's eyes. Because the man who had read the father's part wasn't anything like what she had wanted; but she couldn't bear to say so; to deprive him of this job.

But that afternoon, she watched the man closely. His name was Frank Ward. It was vaguely familiar to her, but she couldn't quite place it, until Uncle Charles said something careless about Ward having once been a star; and then she remembered. He had had a play that had run four years on Broadway. Father had been an understudy in one of the road companies. And now here Ward was, almost begging for the chance to do this part as a "comeback." And once more, for the thousandth time, Felicity was glad that Father hadn't wanted to come back.

Scott Carrying Drive Into West

Raleigh, N. C., May 25—(AP)—Western North Carolina will be Governor Scott's stamping grounds for the rest of this week as he continues the campaign to gain supporters for $200,000,000 road and $25,000,000 school building bond issues.

Throughout the rest of the state other speakers will plug for the bond issues, which will be voted on June 4, a week from Saturday. Tonight, Governor Scott will address a rally at Forest City in Rutherford county. Thursday night he will attend the opening session of the Presbyterian general assembly at Montreat, to which he is a delegate.

Friday night the Governor will speak at a meeting in Hendersonville and Saturday will find him in Morganton for an afternoon rally. R. Mayne Albright, Raleigh attorney and unsuccessful candidate for Governor in the last election, spoke on behalf of the bond issues in a radio address here last night.

First Monkey...

(Continued from Page One) highly controversial issue—the disposition of the great industrial Ruhr, which is the heart of Germany. The Ruhr Valley lies in western Germany and America, Britain and France already have worked out a plan for international control, excluding Russia.

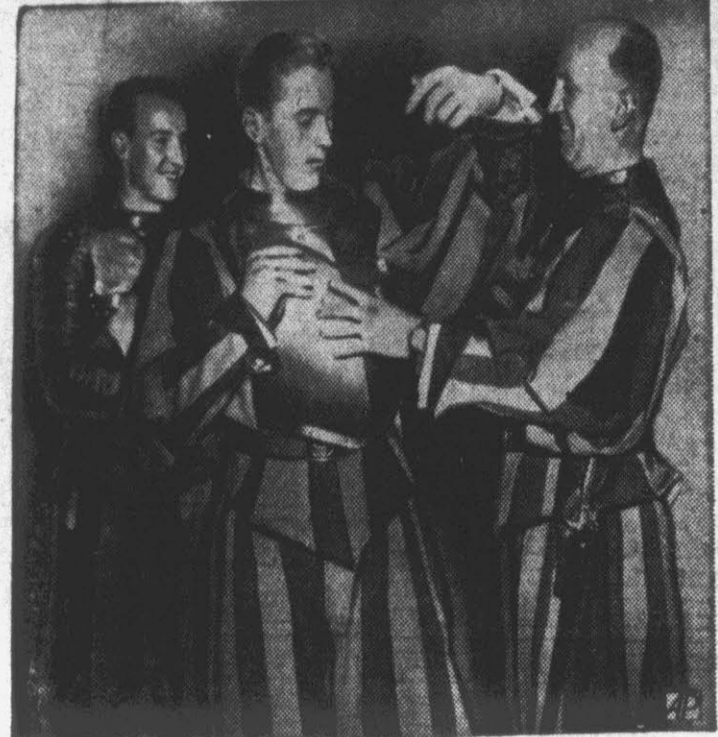

Vishinsky proposed that the Ruhr be placed under control of the Big Four, and countries bordering Germany. These countries would include not only the western nations of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg but Poland and Czechoslovakia as well.

The western foreign ministers followed Vishinsky in rapid succession and with few but pointed words Acheson was first and pinned America's reaction to a striking figure of speech in which he compared Vishinsky's plan with the idea of a patient, who had the use of three paralyzed limbs restored, being persuaded to return to the paralyzed condition.

Acheson made it clear the West wasn't going to undo what had been done in western Germany. Schuman followed in similar strain, and argued against returning to the starting point (Potdam) and repeating old mistakes. Bevin backed up Acheson and Schuman.

Storm Last Night

A thunderstorm of hide proportions swept over this area last night, accompanied by strong wind and a little more than one-half inch of rain. "The showers were a blessing to growing crops in fields," farmers in town today said, but the rain broke up what started out to be one of the best baseball games played in the park here this season.

The U. S. Weather Bureau station here reported .57 inch of rain. The highest temperature recorded here yesterday was 82 degrees in the afternoon. During the night mercury dropped to 63, and at 8 a. m. today it stood at 50 degrees.

Compromise In Farmville Suit For Damages

In Superior Court today, at the conclusion of testimony by the plaintiff and defendant in the case of Mrs. Madeline Rountree of Farmville, in which she was suing the Town of Farmville for $5,000 damage for a broken ankle she contended she suffered when she stepped into a hole in the pavement in Farmville some time ago, counsel for both sides agreed to a compromise. Mrs. Rountree is to receive $875. She and the Town of Farmville are to pay their own witness costs.

Judge Albion Dunn of Greenville was counsel for the plaintiff; J. Henry Harrell of Greenville and J. B. Lewis of Farmville, the defendant. Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids is presiding over the one-week civil term of court. A mixed term of court will be held next week. Judge Clawson L. Williams will preside.

Banquet Tonight Honors Athletes

A banquet at the Woman's club tonight at 7 o'clock will honor the 33 Greenville high school boys who received monograms for participation in football, basketball and baseball this year.

The banquet, sponsored jointly by the Greenville Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, is the first of the banquets to be sponsored by the local civic clubs. O. E. Dowd, high school principal, said today, and he expressed hopes that it might be an annual affair. Monograms were awarded to the athletes at an assembly program at the high school last week.

Trumanites...

(Continued from Page One) this year, Lucas said. With that time schedule Lucas has set, you can kiss goodbye to any chance for action on the civil rights program.

Housing? The senate has passed a public housing bill. The house hasn't grappled with it yet. And it may not pass there. Republicans in the house are gangling up on the housing bill and if enough Democrats join them, good-bye housing bill.

And Congress hasn't yet voted the money for carrying on the Marshall plan. Nobody knows what's going to happen to that.

House members, including some Democrats, are figuring on cutting it to ribbons. And the senate hasn't voted money for it, either. It's due for a big argument and maybe a big cut in the senate.

And then there was a new farm program the Trumanites laid before Congress. Senator Lucas' schedule doesn't make any room for that. As for Mr. Truman's idea of raising taxes, that seems dead and done for.

Altogether, the things the Democrats are now saying they'll do this year are getting smaller and smaller.

Of course, 1949 is only the first session of the 81st Congress. The second session starts next January. Maybe something will happen in 1950. Maybe. The Congressional elections are in 1950.
