Western Leaders Hold Conference

Acheson, Bevin And Schuman Meet To Consider How To Reply To Russian Rejection Of Their Plan For Political Union Of Germany

Paris, May 31—(AP)—The three western power Foreign Ministers held an unannounced meeting today to consider how to meet Russia's rejection of their plan for a political union of east and west Germany.

Earlier, authoritative sources said the west would seek to salvage some form of economic unity for Germany from the conference.

The Western Ministers remained in session until shortly after noon. Later an American source said the three delegations devoted much of the talk to the Berlin currency issue.

It was agreed that each of the three would make brief statements of general policy on the currency item, one of the basic problems in the cold war, and then seek to have the details turned over to a committee of experts.

The four Foreign Ministers went into session at 3:35 p. m. (9:35 a. m. EST) to hear Vishinsky's clause-by-clause objections to the west's proposals for a Unified Germany.

The west lowered its sights, aiming at some sort of economic arrangement with the Russians to guarantee transport and communications between the east and west.

American, British and French sources said this was about as much as could be expected on the heels of the Soviet's rejection of the west's blueprint for unifying the former Reich under the Bonn constitution.

In Vishinsky's attack, the Kremlin was giving its first official "no" to the western proposal submitted Saturday for the extension of the Bonn constitution to the eastern states of Germany under the four-power occupation statute.

In brief, the Soviet answer meant there was no hope of putting Germany under one government, at least in the foreseeable future.

The western powers thus planned to devote their attention to the economic side. They are expected in a few days to come up with some definite plan along this line, in order to achieve some degree of economic unification.

Waynik is resigning his position as state Democratic chairman to become ambassador to Nicaragua.

He said yesterday he expected to mail out either today or tomorrow letters to committeemen calling the meeting for June 8.

He declared he will resign as soon as his successor is decided on.

Bitter Fight In Open

No Peanut Quarrel Between Lilienthal And Senator Hickenlooper; Boiling Down The Dispute; Lilienthal 'Mad'; Past Criticism; No Retreat In Showdown

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 31—(AP)—The fight between David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Senator Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican, has now become bitter.

This is no peanut fight. It has now become one of the most bitter, wide-open quarrels in recent Washington history.

Lilienthal, making charges, urged he be fired. Now Lilienthal wants to fight it to a finish, has backed Hickenlooper, and demands he put up or shut up.

Deadly Holiday

By The Associated Press At least 413 persons were killed in accidents over the three-day Memorial Day weekend, traditional opening of the summer resort season.

The toll on the highways—jammed with 30,000,000 automobiles over the extended holiday period—exceeded the estimate of 215 deaths by the national safety council.

The time of the tally was from 6 p. m. in all time zones Friday until last midnight.

The toll on the highways—jammed with 30,000,000 automobiles over the extended holiday period—exceeded the estimate of 215 deaths by the national safety council.

78 deaths in fires, falls, airplane mishaps and other accidents.

This year's accidental death toll compared to an unofficial 494 over the three-day 1948 Memorial holiday and to 584 violent deaths over a similar period in 1947. The 1946 count was 222.

Warn Of Boost In Power Rates

Industry Leaders Say Electric Rate Hikes Are Inevitable

Atlantic City, N.J., May 31—(AP) Leaders in the nation's electric power industry opened a three-day meeting today with a flat statement that higher rates are inevitable and a prediction that a decline in industrial production will continue.

They expect the production decline will continue into 1950, but are confident there will be no repetition of the depression years of the thirties.

They referred to recent declines in the Federal Reserve Board's industrial production index, which has slipped from a peak figure of 196 to 179 in April.

It may wind up around 170, or even 165, they said in informal talks as the Edison Electric Institute's 17th annual convention got underway.

But, he added, "the miracle days are over." There must be a reversal of the trend that has brought a decline of 20 to 25 per cent in the average price of electric per kilowatt hour since 1939, he said.

Increased costs of production and construction, increased taxes, the need of "decent" earnings to attract new capital have contributed to the need for higher rates, he said.

He said the ability of the privately-owned electric power companies to keep rates down has been nothing short of a miracle in the face of rising costs.

But, he added, "the miracle days are over." There must be a reversal of the trend that has brought a decline of 20 to 25 per cent in the average price of electric per kilowatt hour since 1939, he said.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, May 31—(AP)—Gerhart Eisler landed in Prague today, en route from London to Germany.

"I am glad to be in Czechoslovakia and not in the United States," the communist leader told reporters as he left the plane.

There was no official delegation on hand to greet him. Two security police plain clothesmen were at the airport and they took him to a special room, where he was not obligated to comply with ordinary customs regulations.

Eisler, facing two jail sentences in the United States, fled aboard the Polish liner Batory and was hailed off at Southampton, Eng. Later however, a British court refused a United States request to extradite the man whom a congressional committee called the top communist agent in America.

The 52-year-old communist boarded the Czech airlines plane at Northolt Airport, England, early today, only a few minutes before it took off.

Eisler told a newsmen he was happy with the treatment given him by the British people and the British court. He said he realized "All Americans are not like that damned fool Tom Clark." Clark is the U. S. attorney general who tried to have Eisler returned to the United States to face sentences on convictions of passport fraud and contempt of Congress.

The round-faced little communist said he came to Czechoslovakia suddenly because he could not get to Berlin any other way without risking "monkey business" by American authorities. All other planes to Berlin landed in or too close to American installations, he said.

It isn't very often that a high-placed public official takes off the gloves as completely as Lilienthal has now done and publicly tries to take the skin off a United States senator.

Arms-For-Allies Program Slated For Future Goal

House Majority Leader Omits Program From List Of Final Legislation

Washington, May 31—(AP)—Congress evidently is going to pass up until next year the program for re-arming America's European allies.

The tip-off on that came today from the House majority leader, Rep. McCormack. He omitted it from a list of chores he said the house will get out of the way before Congress quits.

Influential senate Democrats also have indicated the $1,130,000,000 arms program for partners in the North Atlantic Alliance won't be pushed.

But the North Atlantic treaty itself definitely is on the senate schedule for action this session. The Senate Foreign Relations committee plans to start work tomorrow on a "good, strong report," Chairman Connally (D-Tex) said.

The House has no say on ratifying the treaty. But the house would have to approve the arms program to back it up.

Originally there was talk of bundling up in one big $1,450,000,000 package all the legislation to authorize military help to western Europe and to continue it for Greece and Turkey.

Now it looks as if the Greek-Turkish part might be pushed through separately.

Both senate and house are showing an inclination to skip a good many of President Truman's legislative proposals for this session, even though the Chief Executive says they should stay on the job until they act on most of them.

"I expect we'll adjourn sometime in August," McCormack told reporters. "The only thing that holds us up will be the Senate."

"If some good, hot weather comes along, that might expedite things all along the line."

The Democratic leader predicted the house will put through a labor bill, long-range housing, a measure to let more homeless Europeans come to America, anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills, and a measure to boost the national minimum wage.

Of these, housing has passed the senate and administration lieutenants say minimum wage legislation might be clear.

McCormack wouldn't say what kind of a labor bill would get through. The House thumbed the whole issue back to its labor committee earlier in the session, after one of the hottest floor fights in years.

Pacific Flight Given Setback In Race With Death

Los Angeles, May 31—(AP)—The trans-Pacific journey of a navy chief petty officer to the bedside of his critically ill wife hit a delay today.

Chief stowkeeper William J. Kopitko was aboard a navy Mars plane two hours out of Honolulu, but it was forced to turn back because of engine trouble and bad weather. He was on the last leg of a 5,000 mile trip from his station on Guam.

Meanwhile, the condition of his wife, Marion, 30, in a General Hospital in Los Angeles, was unchanged. The young mother of two lay near death from an attack of infantile paralysis.

There was no official delegation on hand to greet him. Two security police plain clothesmen were at the airport and they took him to a special room, where he was not obligated to comply with ordinary customs regulations.

Eisler, facing two jail sentences in the United States, fled aboard the Polish liner Batory and was hailed off at Southampton, Eng. Later however, a British court refused a United States request to extradite the man whom a congressional committee called the top communist agent in America.

Hundreds Crowd Into Court Room

Devies' Defense Counsel Continues Submit Evidence To Support Motion That Bill Of Indictment Be Quashed

Hundreds of people crowded into the court room of the Pitt County court house today, and others stood in the halls and on the stairs outside, as the trial of two Negro youths on charges of murder went into its second day.

The defense counsel continued to submit evidence this morning to support the motion made yesterday that the bill of indictment against the defendants be quashed on grounds that Pitt County officials who select the jurors have "corruptly and sordidly discriminated against the rights of the defendants by systematically denying proportionate representation to Negroes" on the juries in the county court.

Shortly after the defense motion was made yesterday, Judge Clawson L. Williams dismissed until tomorrow morning the jurors drawn for the current term of court.

Solicitor W. J. Bundy and C. J. Gates, one of the defense attorneys, indicated about 1 o'clock today that evidence on the motion probably will be completed this afternoon.

During the morning session the defense called to the stand 32 Negro taxpayers of Pitt County who testified they never have been called for jury service, and at the request of the defense, Judge Williams ordered the county jury boxes opened and inspected.

M. Brown Hodges, chairman of the county board of commissioners, and Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson opened the boxes and the names therein were inspected by attorneys on both sides of the case and by Judge Williams.

Following the inspection, Judge Williams announced that irregularities had been found on 12 name slips in box number one, and 17 name slips in box number two.

A total of 24 of the slips of paper on which the names of prospective jurors were written had red marks at the end of the slip made by pencil, and the other slips found to be irregular contained either additions, alterations, or erasures, the judge said.

Shortly before the court recessed for dinner, the defense completed its evidence on the motion for the time being, and the state called to the stand 22 white taxpayers of the county, 20 of whom testified they never have been called for jury service in Pitt County. The other two testified they have not been called for jury service within the last 15 years.

Yesterday afternoon the defense attorneys called to the stand four Pitt County officials who testified

"There is no necessity to establish an East German state," Prof. Hermann Kastner, head of the newly chosen People's Council, told a reporter. "Even if there were such an idea it would certainly not be discussed now, while the foreign ministers are meeting in Paris and trying to reach an agreement on the unification of Germany."

The communist-led People's Congress yesterday adopted a Soviet-type constitution claiming to speak for all this country. They chose 400 members of a People's Council to serve as a government, including the list Gerhart Eisler, communist fugitive from America who hasn't been here since Nazi days. Kastner was named co-president of the council.

Kastner, who heads a splinter party of Liberal Democrats, described the East German constitution as "only a draft." The constitution has been viewed as Russia's answer to the West German constitution ratified by the states of the three western occupation zones.

"It is not a constitution which will become formally effective," Kastner added. "It is a product of all ideological and political trends in the Soviet zone and is what we think the new democratic Germany should look like, it is our contribution to the unification of Germany and not tended for any one part."

Westerners had expected Russia would race the allies in setting up a rival republic in the East when it became apparent that four-power control of all Germany could not be revived.

Bugs Island Dam Work Comes To Virtual Halt

Clarksville, Va., May 31—(AP)—Work came to a virtual halt on the $78,000,000 Bugs Island dam project near here today when approximately 300 workmen refused to go to work, Resident Engineer Fred L. Geis, Jr., said.

Unions representing skilled craftsmen on the project have asked a closed shop at the dam. Negotiations between union representatives and Jones-Tompkins-Wright general contractors on the project recently broke down.

Geis said 312 of the 320 men reporting for work on the first shift halted at the project gates and declined to work. He called it a "general strike."

The eight men who did go to work included three carpenters, two laborers, two iron workers and a crane operator.

Alger Hiss Goes On Trial Today

New York, May 31—(AP)—Alger Hiss went on trial in federal court on perjury charges today after six postponements of his case.

Raleigh, May 31—(AP)—Robert W. Winston of Raleigh will be sworn in as ABC Board chairman tomorrow.

Winston, a staunch supporter of Governor Scott in the primary last year, was appointed by the governor several weeks ago to succeed Carl A. Williamson of Raleigh.

Note Inquiry Of Air Policies And Plane Purchases

House Armed Services Committee Approves Vinson Resolution For Probe

Washington, May 31—(AP)—The House Armed Services Committee voted today to investigate the nation's air power policies and plane purchases.

It approved unanimously a resolution by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) for the inquiry and decided to ask the House for a $50,000 expense fund.

"Let the chips fall where they will," Vinson told reporters. "This will be no whitewash investigation."

Vinson proposed the investigation by the Armed Services Committee after Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) asked the House last week to create a special committee to make such an inquiry.

Van Zandt said he was disturbed by reports linking high defense officials with aircraft companies in the past.

Vinson told the committee the investigation "will find out what lies behind these rumors and innuendoes." He said he referred to Van Zandt's statements.

In response to a question from Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), Vinson said the entire national air policy will be scrutinized, and the investigation will look into procurement of all military aircraft.

Vinson said the investigation "involves big issues" and "deals with the reputation of the entire national military establishment. We are going to find out what is going on."

The latest storm, over the B-36 the newest and heaviest bomber in the nation's air fleet, came when Van Zandt demanded an inquiry into "disturbing reports" about the relations of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, Air Secretary Symington and Floyd Odium, head of the Atlas Corporation.

Van Zandt said he had heard that Symington plans to resign soon to become boss of a gigantic aircraft manufacturing combine "under the thumb of Floyd Odium."

He said also there are "well founded reports" that Odium "was very active" in helping Johnson raise money for the Democratic party last fall. Johnson, who became Secretary of Defense in March, was the party's chief fund-raiser in last year's election campaigns.

Symington said Van Zandt's statements about him are "obviously and demonstrably false," and added that he welcomes a congressional inquiry into the whole subject.

Amnesia GI Has Another Family

First Mrs. Martino On Way To Meet Her 'Dead' Husband

New York, May 31—(AP)—An infantryman, presumed by his Connecticut wife to have been killed in the war, has a second mate and family on Staten Island, his former employer said today.

The former soldier, identified as Anthony V. Martino, a taxi driver, was listed as missing in combat in France in 1944. Later the Army presumed him dead.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Martino, who lives with her two children in Waterbury, was startled a few days ago when the Army informed her Martino had walked into an Army recruiting station to check on his status.

Army officials said Martino told them his memory had a blank spot. Today, Nicholas De Joy, owner of the Staten Island Taxi Company, said Martino worked for him as a cab driver for four and one half years, but quit his job several weeks ago.

De Joy said Martino has a wife and two children living at Tompkinsville, Staten Island. A woman at the address declined to give her name.

Martino left his home yesterday and has not been seen since.

Meanwhile, the first Mrs. Martino headed here from Waterbury in the hope of meeting her husband.

U. S. Consulate In Manchuria To Be Closed Soon

Washington, May 31—(AP)—The United States has ordered the closing of its consulate at Mukden, Manchuria, which the communists have kept isolated from the outside world for the last six months.

The State Department said today orders have been issued for the recall of Consul General Angus Ward of Chassel, Mich. Mr. Ward and the consular staff of nine persons.

Ward was deprived of his radio communications when the Chinese communists captured the city last November. Since then, he has been unable to communicate with the State Department or other American consulates in the Orient.

He was kept at his post, however in the vain hope that he might be able to establish a working relationship with the communists running the rich Chinese province where Soviet Russia has carved out a special sphere of influence.

Sweet Potatoes' Support Program

Raleigh, N.C., May 31—(AP)—The federal government will support the 1949 sweet potato crop at 80 per cent of the July 1 parity price beginning Sept. 1, H. M. Covington of the N. C. State College Extension Service said today.

Covington said specific support prices will be announced shortly after July 1. Last year support prices were based on 90 per cent of parity.

The support program probably will be needed only in scattered areas, he said, for the demand for sweet potatoes will exceed the supply.

Tobacco Taxes Nearly Double Farmers' Share

Washington, May 31—(AP)—The Agriculture Department said today taxes on tobacco products continue to run nearly double the amount farmers get for their tobacco.

It estimated that combined federal and state tax receipts from tobacco in the 1949 fiscal year (the 12 months ending June 30) will be $1,720,000,000. This would be the largest amount ever collected in any fiscal year.

Cash received by growers during the 1949 fiscal year was estimated at $985,000,000, second only to the 1947 fiscal year.

Manhunt Is Started As Hamlet Policeman Shot

Hamlet, May 31—(AP)—A Hamlet policeman was shot in the mouth early today by a Negro man. Officers organized a posse and began a widespread hunt for three Negroes. Bloodhounds were placed on the track.

Night Patrolman Rex Howell, 30 was reported in serious condition at Hamlet Hospital. He had a bullet at the base of his brain.

Mayor Stewart Gordon said Howell reported he was shot by James Diggs, 36, of Norfolk, Va. Norfolk police said Diggs was wanted on a charge of murder for the slaying of his wife and two children. Norfolk police had notified Hamlet authorities to watch for Diggs, because the man's father lives here. Diggs was described as being about 170 pounds and six feet one inch tall.

After searching town, members of the posse expressed belief the Negroes had fled toward South Carolina. The state line is five miles from here. The South Carolina highway patrol was patrolling the border.

Officers reported Howell was shot as he sought to question one of three Negroes in a coupe near the edge of town. The car containing the three Negroes raced off toward Laurinburg. Later it was found abandoned near midtown here.

Highway patrolmen, city and county officers began a systematic search of outlying communities.

Desk Officer Bracey of Hamlet police said Howell had recognized the car as one involved in a recent killing case in Norfolk, Va. He had chased it down to investigate the occupants.

ACCUSES FATHER Henderson, May 31—(AP)—Maurice G. Harp, tenant farmer, was bound over today to superior court without bond on charges of raping his 14-year-old daughter.

Why? Because they are ideological zealots. They have one track minds which are directed towards the objective of world revolution to communize all nations and bring them under the rule of Moscow, the oracle of Bolshevism. It is a project which leaves little room for other thoughts.

Communism isn't merely a political ism. One often hears it described as a "religion," but that is a fantastic characterization which perhaps has been set up because there is a similarity in fervor of belief between the Communists and a highly religious person. As a matter of fact Communism is the antithesis of religion, which under the Red doctrine is the opiate of the masses. All true Communists are atheists. It is impossible to be a true Communist and be religious at the same time.

I think perhaps a good definition of Communism is that it is a way of life. It controls not only the political activities of the individual but rules every other phase of his existence with an iron hand. The ism takes control of the individual

Miss Geneva Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harris, Jr., of Greenville, N. C., became the bride of Dallas G. Whitford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Whitford of Greenville, N. C., in a double ring ceremony on Friday, May 27, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at Parker's Chapel Baptist church. The Rev. Leroy Harris, of Wendell, N. C., uncle of the bride, officiated. Mrs. Paul Davenport, Sr., of Pactivus, N. C., rendered a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Paul Davenport, Jr., of Pactivus, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Groomsmen were Fodie Hodges of Grimesland, Woodrow Wilson Wooten of Falkland, P. W. Taylor of Rocky Mount and J. B. Worthington, Jr., of Winterville. Ola H. Forrest of Pactivus served as best man.

Mrs. J. B. Worthington, Jr., of Winterville was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was yellow marquisette over taffeta. She wore matching yellow flowers in her hair and carried an old fashioned bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

Master Ronnie Worthington, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a miniature white satin pillow.

The vows were spoken before an altar of evergreens, ferns, baskets of white gladioli, Easter lilies, and cathedral candles.

The attractive bride who was escorted and given in marriage by her father wore a gown of candle-light duchess satin with a high neckline and a yoke of imported chantilly lace extending out into the sleeves, which ended in caia lily points over the hands. Miniature satin covered buttons extended down the back. The fitted bodice extended into a full train. The full-length lace-trimmed veil of imported French illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a purple orchid and showered with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Harris chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue dress and navy accessories. She wore pink carnations. Mrs. Whitford wore a black suit and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For traveling Mrs. Whitford wore a navy and white suit and matching accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her prayer book.

Mrs. Whitford graduated from the Pactivus high school and since that time has been a telephone operator in Greenville, N. C.

Mr. Whitford attended Winterville high school and graduated from East Carolina Teachers college. During World War II he served in the European theatre. He taught school in Maury, N. C. one year. During the past year he was principal of the Falkland school.

They plan to make their home in Stokes, N. C., where he will act as principal of the Stokes high school next year.

On Tuesday night, May 10, the teachers of the Falkland school entertained Miss Geneva Harris and Dallas Whitford at a lovely miscellaneous shower in the Community building. In the center of the bride's table was a lovely arrangement of all white flowers flanked by lighted tapers. On one end of the table was the punch bowl with ivy entwined around it. On the opposite end of the table bridal ices were served. Green mints and nuts were also served. A very attractive rainbow was arranged from the ceiling from which the bride and groom-to-be were led to the end of the rainbow where they found a pot of gold, which was a large box of beautiful and useful gifts. Around 45 guests attended.

On Monday night, May 23, Mr. Fodie Hodges, Miss Elizabeth Spain, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bullock honored Miss Harris and Mr. Whitford at a dinner party at the Old Towne Inn. Miss Harris was presented silver and crystal in her chosen pattern.

Wednesday night, May 25, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wooten honored Miss Geneva Harris and Dallas Whitford at a dinner party. Miss Harris was presented several pieces of crystal in her chosen pattern.

Seniors Review Year's Work In Student Program

This morning the senior class of Greenville high school observed the first senior day to be held in Greenville high school.

The senior class of 1949 gave a chapel program for the entire student body. The program was opened by Carl Denton, senior class president, who gave the devotional.

Following the devotional the class history of the seniors from their first year in high school up to graduating time was given in skits and by songs. Ruel Tyson served as narrator for the history.

Tyson told of outstanding work that the class had done in each of its four years in high school.

A musical feature followed the history, with a piano duet by Ken Owens and Lytle Batchelor at the keyboards.

The seniors next displayed their talents when Barbara Clement sang the very popular "You'll Never Walk Alone." The "Four Flats," popular boys' quartet, sang two numbers. Solos by Alice Foley Jones who sang "Nocturne" and Sam Northrop with "Old Man River" finished the musical program.

Louise Batson introduced Carl Denton who called the roll of the senior hall of fame.

This group was made up of those seniors who had won honor in activities in the school during their senior year.

Superintendent June H. Rose spoke briefly to the class and he said in praising them, "It would be hard to add words to what the class has done."

The program was brought to a close by the singing of "Dear Old Greenville," the school song, by the student body. At this time the seniors left to take part in the senior day activities and the juniors took the seniors' places.

After the program the seniors went swimming in the Greenville city pool and later had a picnic lunch at the college.

The afternoon was spent at a show party given by the Pitt Theatre and a tea dance given by the Woman's Club from five to seven.

Won't Give UP

Greensboro, N. C., May 31—(AP) A Greensboro bible scholar who hopes to find the remains of Noah's Ark in Turkey isn't planning to give up his quest easily.

Informed last night that the Turkish government had forbidden two other explorers to go to Mt. Ararat, Dr. Aaron J. Smith said:

"I think the Turkish government will not refuse me. I have received no notice that I will be refused and have no reason to believe I will."

Dr. Smith, soft-spoken, gray-haired dean of Peoples Bible school here, and the two other explorers were accused by Moscow radio of being western spies. It added the expeditions were attempts to spy on Russia from Mt. Ararat which is near Russia's border.

He said he knew a young Dutch explorer, Hans Roosen, had been refused. He did not know that Dr. Egerton Sykes, British explorer, also had been turned down by the Turks, as was reported from London yesterday.

Dr. Smith said he and a small party would leave for Turkey about the middle of June and would "carry on alone."

Ernul Willis Is President Lions

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Lions Club, at its weekly supper meeting at the Woman's Club last night, elected Ernul Willis president to succeed Dr. E. B. Aycock.

Larry Averette, Jimmie Harris, Jr. and Bruce Sugg, Jr. are vice-presidents; Vick Forrest is secretary-treasurer; Joe Westbrook is Lion-tamer; Louis W. Gaylord, Jr., is tall-twister.

Directors are Ruland Davenport, one year; Jimmy Smith and Bill Speight, two-year term.

Committee reports indicated that President Aycock's administration was outstandingly successful.

Rev. Leon Russell, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, guest speaker, told about the coming of the mobile units of the State Health Department to Greenville and Pitt county on June 4 and to remain until July 8, to make X-ray pictures of persons 15 years old and older for the purpose of detecting symptoms of tuberculosis.

The speaker said the examinations are free. There is no undressing to be X-rayed, and a person completes the examination in just two minutes. So far, 38 of the 100 North Carolina counties have had this X-ray campaign.

If a person has no symptoms of tuberculosis, he or she will receive a postcard with this information on it. If a person has symptoms of tuberculosis he or she will receive a letter, advising the recipient to seek medical attention.

Mr. Russell, quoting statistics, stated that tuberculosis, when discovered in its early stages, is curable.

Committee Chairman Ernul Willis reported on the recent sale of Easter Seals conducted by the Lions Club. The report will appear in tomorrow's Daily Reflector.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GREAT—BUT NOT GREAT ENOUGH

After Alexander the Great had conquered the civilized world, from Greece to India, he died from the excesses of a drinking bout. The conqueror of the world could not conquer himself. He was said to have lived a life of commendable restraint as regards other indulgences of the flesh, but could not restrain himself in the matter of liquor drinking. One night at a banquet he called for a quantity of liquor. Twice he emptied it. He was soon violently intoxicated. The next day he was desperately ill; the next day, dead. His death was one of the most momentous and tragic circumstances in history, for his vast empire fell to pieces and was divided among his generals. Almost the only good that came out of his conquests was that Greek became a universal language throughout the then civilized world, and by this means the culture of Greece was spread.

Alexander's death was a tragedy and it was all so unnecessary. He was a great man who had fallen victim of what Jack London once called "the worst trap ever set for the feet of genius." Alexander may seem to be only an ancient character, but his career, and especially his death, have modern implications.

HOW MUCH IS $200 MILLION?
(The Charlotte News)

It is easy to forget in these days that a million dollars is a lot of money. In Washington, they talk in billions, and it's even becoming the vogue to refer to the national debt as a quarter-trillion.

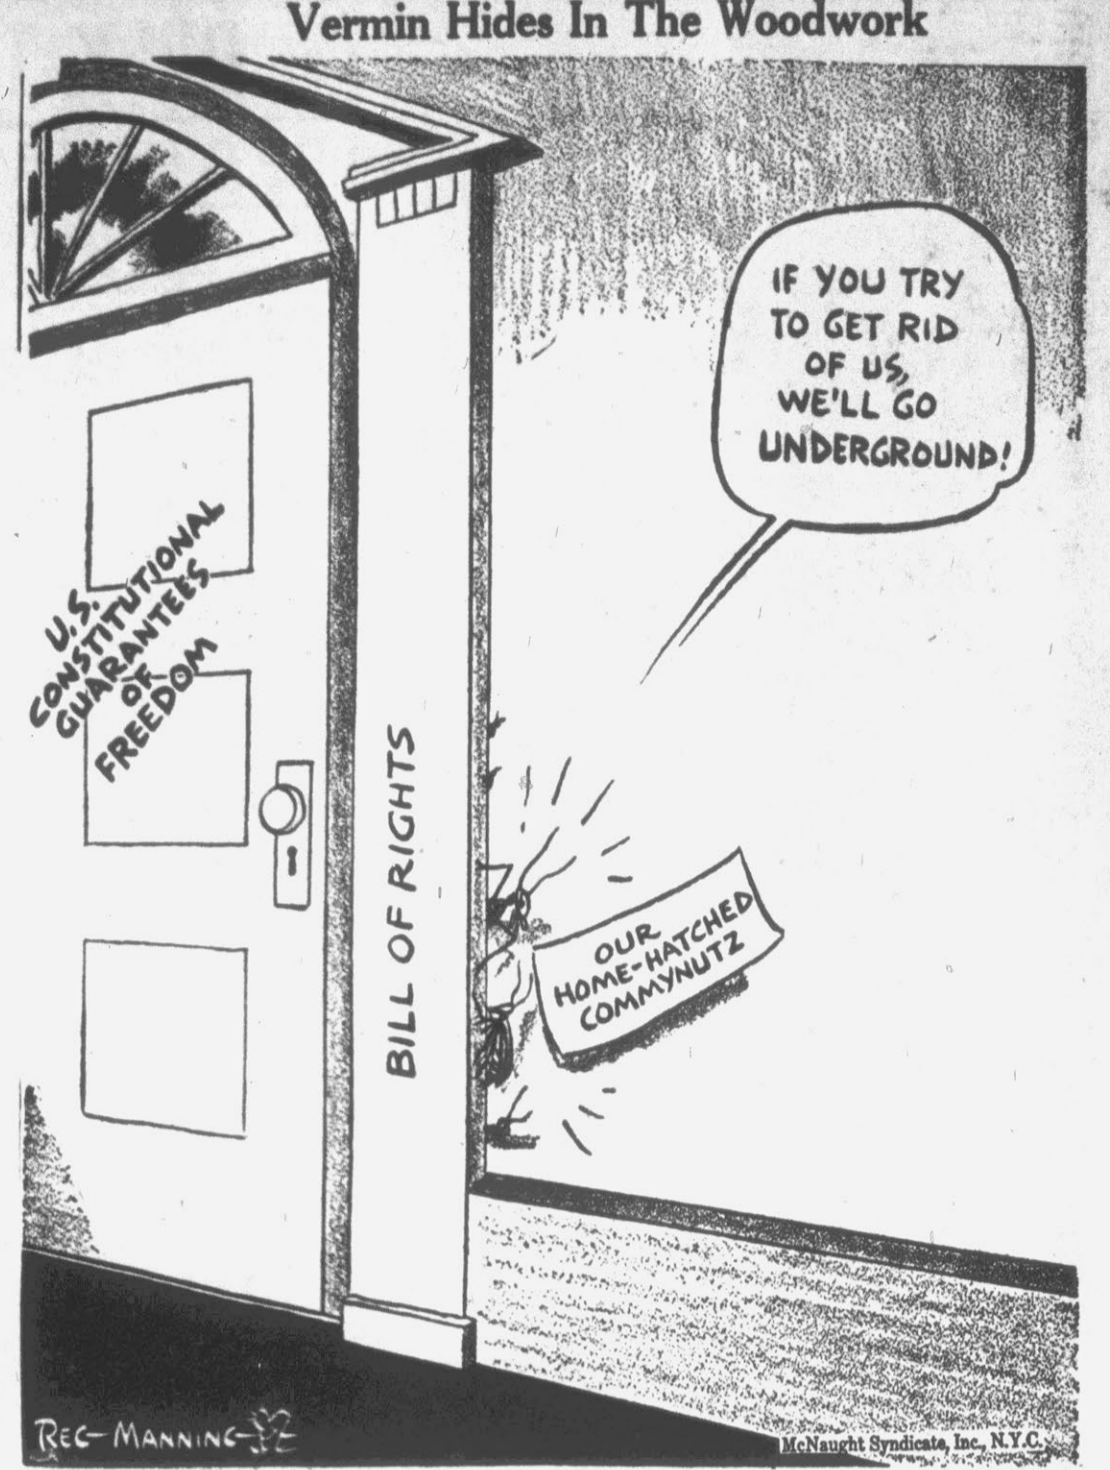

Here in Tar Heels another big round number is being tossed about—$200 million, the amount Governor Scott wants to borrow for a four-year rural road program over and above the ordinary highway construction and maintenance program, to be paid off in the next 20 years.

The Governor is making it a challenge—a test of the people's faith in their own economic future, daring them, as it were, to borrow that much money in the face of what appears to be a period of business recession, or disinflation, if you prefer.

Well, the people of North Carolina certainly have a strong and steadfast faith in their state and its economic future. At the same time, they are people of good common sense who are trying hard to avoid any new private indebtedness until they find out what's going to happen to their family budgets, and who indicated at the polls, as recently as last Fall, that they did not want to remove the state's constitutional limitation on accumulating new indebtedness.

Still, the $200 million figure, which seems to shrink with each speech by the Governor, doesn't mean much to them by itself. But it means a great deal when measured by two very definite yardsticks.

The first is that "courageous" highway program of the Twenties, so often referred to by the Governor. Beginning with the Morrison Administration, the State of North Carolina has issued a grand total of $115 million in highway bonds: $50 million in 1921, $15 million in 1923, $20 million in 1925, and $30 million in 1927.

It is worth remembering that:

(1) N. C. has retired, so far, $92 million of these $115 million in bonds, and that is cost the state $89 million in interest to carry them. In other words, we have paid almost as much in interest as we have in principal;

(2) Most of the primary roads built with that money have since had to be rebuilt and widened, curves eliminated, bridges enlarged, to take care of the modern, faster, and heavier vehicles. Thus we have literally paid for them three times.

The second yardstick by which the $200 million bond issue can be measured is the total expenditure by the Highway Commission from March 4, 1921, through June 30, 1948. In the intervening 27 years, the Commission spent a grand total of $926,777,759.02, or slightly less than a billion dollars.

According to the State Highway Commission's own estimates, a total of $283,772,832 will be available in the next four years without the bond issue and without the extra gasoline tax. To this amount, Governor Scott would add $200 million in rural road bonds, plus $7 million a year, or $28 million, from an extra cent on the gasoline tax. That adds up to a grand total of $511 million that Governor Scott will have at his disposal in the next four years—or more than half the total amount spent on the state highway system in the 27 years from March 4, 1921 to June 20, 1948.

If the people of North Carolina decide they don't want to be hurried along that fast, it won't be any lack of faith or vision. It'll be plain, ordinary common sense.

PUBLIC FORUM

Discussing problems of interest to this community. In all cases names must accompany any communication.

It seems to me that now is the time for true lovers of North Carolina to speak up and vote for the coming bond issues of June 4.

Right much has been said against our schools and roads and ability to pay.

We have been thinking some too about our purpose and hope and progress of future North Carolina. We are for the advancement of our farm country and our people.

From a Christian viewpoint, from a sound business viewpoint and from an unselfish and informed political viewpoint, let's remember to vote Saturday for our future progress.

There's truly no place like home if only we make it so. Our state government knows what it is doing. Let's exercise faith again in the right direction.—Dick King.

Around Capitol Square

AFLOAT—The territory embraced in "Around Capitol Square" includes the peaceful inland waters of the east and the magnificent mountains of the west. The past week end attention was focused on the east for observance of the second Tar Heels Afloat cruise from Morehead City to New Bern. Uplanders expressed amazement at the number and quality of the yachts participating in the cruise. Sixty-two boats registered for the event ranging from the 83-foot coast guard cutter down to 17-foot speedboats, and included about half the State's official navy. Three of the commercial fisheries division's seven law enforcement boats were included.

DIVERSITY—Some of the craft was estimated by informed sources to have cost in excess of $100,000 per ship, and some not more than $1,500. The registration sheet showed some addresses from all sections of North Carolina, as far away as Wisconsin and New England. There was also great diversity in the river-side scenery, despite an overlying sameness. The route lay through Adam's Creek canal and Adam's Creek itself into the Neuse and thence into Trent rivers, with Trent Pines Club the destination. From the yacht basin at Morehead City to mouth of the Trent the course was a part of the inland waterway system which extends from Maine to southern Florida.

PURPOSE—The first Tar Heels Afloat cruise was held last Labor Day with 32 boats entered. The second almost doubled that number and partially fulfilled the original purpose of the events which is to prove the virtues of Tar Heel inland waterways as recreational areas. The idea is catching the imaginations of yachtsmen and there will probably be two or three more organized cruises this year at other points. Belhaven has one scheduled for July Fourth and Wilmington is on the books for Labor Day.

ATTAINABLE—Another surprise for uplanders who have had no experience with boating was the information that it doesn't take a rich man to own and operate a yacht. Charles Bennett, president of the Eastern Carolina Yacht Club which sponsors the cruises, pointed out several boats in the flotilla which he said were easily in reach of $40-$50 a week salaries. The man who does his own mechanical work acting as captain, engineer and cook, can get along with a small boat as economically as his neighbor can with an automobile. The idea that a pleasure boat is only a rich man's toy has been dissipated by the experience of thousands of yacht owners.

EXPENSIVE—This doesn't mean that all yacht operation is cheap. Some of the more expensive craft cost their owners $10,000 to $25,000 a year for upkeep and crew. One small boat owner said owning a boat is much like owning a house. You can put a great deal of money into it, but you can be just as comfortable and have the same pride of ownership in a small neat cottage.

ATTRACTION—Eastern Carolina rivers, canals and lakes which comprise the inland waterways system have for many years attracted yachtsmen from the north. Many of them have formed attachments for certain ports and make regular stops enroute between New England or New York and Florida. The value of the commercial fishing shrimp and oyster industry to North Carolina has been recognized. Until just recently the average Tar Heel thought of small ships as rich men's playthings or fishermen's working equipment. The Tar Heels Afloat cruises are proving that there is a middle ground of pleasure and utilization of some of the most wonderful natural resources of the state. More and more people each year are spending weekends cruising the placid inland waters instead of staying cooped up in a house.

Plato, who was the first to draw the distinction between mind and body, can probably be called the father of psychology.

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

The other day I was in the listening seat of a conversation between two of Greenville's leading businessmen. A discussion of the graduation exercises at Greenville High School and East Carolina Teachers College led them into a confab about the good old days when they were in high school.

One of the two recalled his graduation 43 years ago in a town about twice the size of Greenville. His town now graduates about 250 a year, but there were only twelve in his class. During his high school days he worked in a butter dish factory at three cents an hour. Sixty grueling hours a week brought him a total wage of $1.80.

The height of his ambition was to be a foreman in the factory, which would have resulted in a raise to ten cents an hour. But before attaining that goal he was employed in a grocery store at $4.50 a week. His promotions were fast and furious; he really thought he had hit the top when he got an office job at $7.00 a week.

The other businessman in the conversation now supervises about 25 employees, which is a far cry from the work he did as a young man. For 20 cents and lunch a day he worked from sun up to sun down on a farm.

These men readily agreed on one point: They had just as much fun as the young folk do nowadays, and spending money for socializing in their day was taboo. If a neighbor's corn had to be shucked, 50 or so would visit him, shuck all the corn, and consider themselves well paid because they had such a good time, plus a free meal.

It would be interesting to survey Greenville's business executives and find out how many have backgrounds exactly like these two men. Of course this situation is no accident. Those who come up as hard workers, learn what work is like, and have no fear of it, often end up in executive positions.

In his room at the state institution sat a man whose only article of clothing was a hat.

"Look, friend," an attendant said, "that's no way to be sitting around. Why don't you put some clothes on?"

"Why should I?" replied the inmate. "Nobody ever comes to see me."

"But why wear a hat?"

"Oh," shrugged the inmate, "somebody might come."

Said the drunk, who was dancing with his hostess, "You know, you are one ugly woman."

"Oh, you're just drunk," was her comeback.

"That's right," he said, "but I'll be sober tomorrow."

And I thank you.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York, May 31—(AP)—"How old is God's grandmother?"

This is one of 50,000 questions put last year to the American child's number one lady—Elen V. McLoughlin.

Miss McLoughlin is editor-in-chief of the Book of Knowledge, a reference library for children that has sold 5,000,000 twenty-volume sets since 1910.

With each set the buyer gets a book of 100 coupons. Each coupon entitles him to send in a question to the book firm's answer service.

"If everyone asked his full quota of 100 questions we'd have been bankrupt long ago," laughed Miss McLoughlin.

system or the best way to stuff a chipmunk.

The questions come from five continents. A surprising number are from grownups who have to give talks on current affairs and lack the energy to go to a public library and dig out the information themselves.

"We won't do the homework for any child or college students," said Miss McLoughlin.

"But once they grow up they can be as lazy as they like. We'll help any adult in any field except medicine or law—which require a license."

One uneasy young man, engaged to be married, wrote in to ask if he really loved the girl he was pledged to lead to the altar.

"We told him that, statistically, nearly 100 per cent of young men about to marry felt the same way," said Miss McLoughlin. "And we assured him it was just a case of cold feet that normally should disappear after the ceremony."

Miss McLoughlin, who receives an honorary degree from Lincoln (Ill.) College this week for her work in child education, thinks children often ask more sensible questions than grownups.

Her favorite is the child who wanted to know: "Why is honey clean, when bees trample all over it with their feet?"

"A natural question like that bolsters your faith in children's intelligence," she said. "But what adult would think to ask it?"

Miss McLoughlin, a pleasant, red-haired woman of middle age, has an almost perfect "Q. and A." batting average. Of perhaps 1,000,000 questions submitted to her service in the last 20 years, she remembers only one that completely stumped her staff.

"It came from a visiting South American who owned a zinc mine," she said. "He wanted to know how he could color his zincs to make them more valuable."

"After a long search we found this was a secret trade process in the gem industry—something the man himself had known to be true all along. He stamped out of the office, very annoyed, when we refused to try to spy out the secret for him."

Turkey's Hungry Goats Produced New Alfalfa

Lake Success, May 31—(AP)—Northern Turkey's hungry goats have given the United States a new kind of alfalfa.

This odd discovery, where goats substituted for scientists, has been reported to the United Nations in paper by Dr. P. V. Cardon, administrator, agricultural research administration, U. S. department of agriculture, Washington. The paper was released as part of the agenda of a three week scientific meeting starting here August 17 on conservation and utilization of resources.

The goat job was discovered by American agriculturalists combing the world for alfalfa to resist diseases attacking American varieties.

In northern Turkey they found a single, amazing alfalfa plant in a goat pasture. It covered several square feet. It grew like bermuda grass, which no known alfalfa had done. From a single root, running spread, putting down roots at short intervals, and sending up alfalfa leaves at those points.

The plant had done this, a genetic change, in self-defense. The goats grazed so closely that the alfalfa could not produce seed. But instead of dying, the plant had developed runners which replaced seed.

This single plant was carefully dug, and nurtured during a month-long trip to the United States. Here the new alfalfa proved unadapted to this country.

Thereupon, said Dr. Cardon, plant breeders were called in to finish the goats' work. The breeders produced a seedless alfalfa, still like bermuda grass, that grows well in the nurseries of several states.

"The potential value," said Dr. Cardon, "cannot be overestimated."

He cited this alfalfa as an example of a lend-lease in which the United States was the first beneficiary, and now is returning the favors.

Tax Judgements Filed By State

Raleigh, May 31 —(AP)— Three tax judgments totaling $123,200.50 were filed by the State Department of Revenue yesterday.

Revenue Commissioner Edwin Gill said certificates of tax liability were filed against two Guilford County residents and a man in Guilford.

The largest of the claims filed by the revenue department was for $63,148.10 against D. E. Graham Jr., of 202 Peachtree St., Fayetteville. Gill said the judgment covered tax, penalty, and interest over a period from Jan. 1, 1945 to Dec. 31, 1947 on alleged illegal sales of liquor.

A judgment totaling $56,498.31 was filed in Guilford Superior Court against T. L. Brawley of Greensboro, Route 2. It covered tax, penalty, and interest which the state claims is due it from alleged illegal liquor sales during the period from Jan. 1, 1947 to Feb. 28, 1949.

A third judgment, for $3,649.12 was filed against Lester Howard Creasy of High Point, Route 3. It covered alleged sales from April 28, 1947 through Sept. 30, 1947.

Gill said his department is "working on other cases" of a similar nature.

The liquor tax actions were commenced by the revenue department two months ago after a ruling from Attorney General McMillan. The attorney general ruled that the state tax of eight and one-half per cent on liquor could be collected on illegal sales as well as lawful dealings.

THE BIG OIL VS. THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA INTERESTS

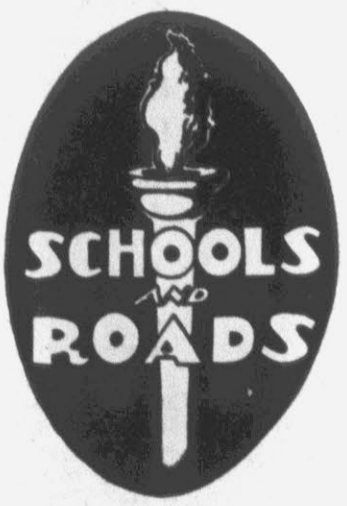

North Carolina will not be deceived by the Big Oil interests and their imported propaganda experts. If Big Oil is so concerned about the people of our State and our pocketbooks, why did they raise the price of gasoline within the last four months? The truth is obvious. They are fighting the Road Bonds because the only increase in taxes to pay for the Bonds will be the 1c per gallon increased gasoline tax. Evidently, if there is any increasing to be done, Big Oil wants it all.

Big Oil attempts to scare-confuse-and-defeat by saying how much money the State will have without the Road Bonds. But they don't tell you that the war-accumulated surplus is about used up. They don't tell you that WITHOUT THE ROAD BONDS, THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION WILL NOT HAVE AS MUCH MONEY TO BUILD ROADS IN THE NEXT THREE YEARS AS IT WILL HAVE SPENT IN THE PAST THREE.

The Road Bonds are absolutely needed if North Carolina is to carry out its PROGRAM OF PROGRESS.

We stand now on the threshold. Every time North Carolina has acted courageously to invest in its own people and future the result has been magnificent. SO SHALL IT BE again on June 4th when the decision of "The Big Oil Interests Vs. The People of North Carolina" is rendered at the polls.

ROAD FACTS

What Is The Better Roads Program?
The plan calls for the paving of 12,000 miles of secondary roads and placing 25,000 miles of roads in all-weather conditions.

Who Will Benefit From This Program?
Directly or indirectly, every man, woman and child will benefit. For example, only one-third of the miles traveled by school buses are now paved. Produce to market problems will be eased for thousands. Nor will the city folks who benefited most from the Road Program of the 1920's be helping only their rural fellow citizens. If the financial pressure for secondary road improvements is relieved, the Highway Commission will have more money to spend for primary roads. Good roads are good for everyone.

Who Will Pay For The Program?
Highway users. The Road Bonds will not increase land taxes, income taxes, sales taxes, etc. Repayments on the bonds will be made from Highway funds, not the General Fund. We repeat for emphasis. The only increase in taxation will be the 1c per gallon increased gasoline tax.

Can The Program Be Completed In Four Years?
The bonds will be issued only as they are needed and only as the money can be used wisely and economically. It is not anticipated that the program can be completed in four years but the authorization for a full program is necessary for sound planning.

Why Not Authorize The Bonds Gradually?
Although, as just stated, the money need not be borrowed all at one time, sound planning necessitates its being authorized all at one time. If the Highway Commission knows the money is available, road plans can be projected on a broad scale. Proper planning will enable builders to operate on long stretches at a time. This will speed up construction and save money. The expensive cost of moving heavy equipment from one small job to another can be minimized. Long haul of material from its point of origin can be reduced.

Who Will Say Where, When, And How The Money Is To Be Spent?

The law specifies how much is to be spent in each county. There can be no question therefore of equitable distribution. IF THE $200,000,000 BOND ISSUE IS APPROVED, PITT COUNTY'S SHARE WILL BE $3,068,000. THE COUNCIL OF STATE WILL APPROVE THE SALE OF THE BONDS AS THE MONEY IS NEEDED. The State Highway Commission will make the contracts.

Greenies Shutout Athletics, 8-0, With Mascarella Allowing Only Four Hits; Drop Nightcap In Tarboro By 10-5 Score

By BEET MOYE
Manager Pappy Williams and his Greenville Greenies gained a split in their Memorial Day doubleheader with the Tarboro Athletics yesterday, with a 8-0 shutout against the Athletics here yesterday afternoon and then traveling over to Tarboro last night to lose by a 10-5 margin.

Afternoon Game
Rookie Art Mascarella, pitched the Greenies to a 8-0 victory over the Tarboro Athletics here yesterday with his four-hit pitching. The shutout by the righthander was his second since last Friday when he shutout the Roanoke Rapids Jays by the same score on a neat three-hitter.

Paul Strausser, hitting the second pitch of the game over the 350-foot wall off Tarboro's Napoli in the first frame, accounted for the first Greenie run. They scored two more in the third frame on singles by Strausser and Williams, a walk to Tepedino, a sacrifice by Gillespie, aided by a wild pitch. They scored a singleton in the fifth when Strausser reached first on an error, Tepedino sacrificed him to second, and Gillespie singled to bring him home.

The big frame of the Greenies came in the sixth frame when they put across four runs on four hits, one error and a walk.
Tony Napoles, who had defeated the Greenies on two previous occasions, went the route for the Athletics and gave up a total of nine hits. Paul Strausser with a homer and a single and Pete Gillespie with a double and a single, led the attack.

Night Game
The Tarboro Athletics defeated the Greenville Greenies, 10 to 5, in the night game of a Memorial Day twin bill over in Tarboro last night, with home runs by the Athletics proving the margin of victory.

The Athletics went out 3-0 at the end of the third frame by scoring two runs in the second frame on two singles, a double and a walk, and scoring one run in the third frame on two singles and a double steal.

The Greenies narrowed the margin 3-2 in the top of the fourth when Willie Mauney singled and Pappy Williams followed him with a homer over the left field fence.

The Athletics fired their big gun in the seventh frame when they put across five more runs to sew up the game. Gohl singled, Orf walked and then Gus Godbold slammed one over

Dropping-Off Is Seen For Sports

New York, May 31—(AP)—Lost, strayed or stolen—52,156 major league baseball fans, 26,836 racing enthusiasts and $1,294,466 in parimutuel betting money.

Those figures represent the falling off in business at the eight big time ball parks and 10 of the country's race tracks yesterday as compared to the Memorial holiday a year ago.

The wartime and post war sports boom is past its peak if you take sports as a barometer, at turnstiles and totalisators.

Combining the two major sports you'll find that at the 18 widely scattered points, only four attracted 50,000 or more spectators. Tops for the day was the 60,095 fans who saw Vulcan's Forge win the rich Suburban Handicap at New York's Belmont Park.

An estimated 56,000 witnessed the Hollywood-at-Santa Anita program at Arcadia, Calif., where Ace Admiral captured the Argonaut Handicap.

Baseball's biggest crowd was 53,063, the attendance at New York's Polo Grounds. It saw the Giants split a pair of games with the invading Brooklyn Dodgers. Fourth on the list was the 40,530 at Chicago, scene of a White Sox-Detroit Tigers standoff in another double fray.

Total betting at 10 tracks hit $14,757,558 against a 1948 figure of $16,062,024. Attendance dipped from 345,997 to 319,161, with only Garden State Park at Camden N. J. and Delaware Park doing better business at the gate and betting windows than last year.

An estimated 150,000 saw the 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis, 25,000 under the 1948 count.

Raymond Sugg is expected to report to the Greenies' lineup either today or tomorrow. . . . Sid Varney's contract with Greenville does not start until Friday and he will be here on that date and catch the game here with the New Bern Bears on that date. . . . Don Warfield, the Athletics' first sacker, has been suspended indefinitely by President Ray Goodson as the result of a fracas he had with Umpire Tolle in Tarboro last Saturday night. . . . Lenwood Lewis, utility player, and Carl Worthington, shortstop, have been given their unconditional release by the Jays. . . . Len DeRoma, first baseman, has been returned to Manchester, N.H., club by the Jays and Harry Clary, Jack Wheatley and Kenneth Cooper, pitchers, have been assigned by the Jays to the Lawrenceville club of the Virginia League.

The Greenville Greenies, in cooperation with Belk-Tyler's, sold the kids of Tarboro and Greenville some sport shirts and threw in free admission to all ball games, provided they were accompanied by the parent and that they sat with them. It has developed that many youngsters who get in the games with their parents, later leave them, and they have become annoying to many grownup fans. The conditions were plainly stated that these rules would be upheld. Grownups have complained, and unless a youngster stays with his parents, and behaves himself, his free gate privilege will be taken away. They cannot be free guests of the club and annoy others at the game.

Kramer hasn't won a game this season. He has been charged with three defeats.

He lasted only half the distance against the Washington Senators Saturday when his right shoulder bothered him again.

There are only seven players in the National League who have lifetime batting averages of more than .300.

New York, May 31—(AP)—John B. Campbell, handicapper for all New York tracks, rates the Greenville Stables' Preakness winner, Capot, and Fred Hooper's Olympia even-up in his weights for the Peter Pan Handicap to be run at Belmont Park next Saturday.

Big League Pennant Races Begin Shape Up As Forecast

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league pennant races today were beginning to shape up as predicted.

While the National remained in a triple tie for first place for the second straight day, the American was tightening up with such familiar contenders as Boston and Cleveland moving into the thick of it.

As a result of splits in Memorial Day doubleheaders, Brooklyn, Boston and New York still were crowding each other for breathing space in the senior circuit's top slot. All have won 22 and lost 17.

The Dodgers outlasted the Giants, 3-1, in a 13-inning thriller in the first game of the twin bill. The Giants bounced back to win the second, 7-4. The Braves whipped the Phils, 7-3, in their doubleheader opener in Philadelphia, but the Phils came back to win, 6-5, in 10 innings of the nightcap.

Someone must give way by tonight. The Dodgers and Giants meet in a rubber game under the lights. The Braves engage the Phils in a day affair in Philadelphia in the only games.

The Red Sox completed a profitable home stand, sweeping a twin bill from the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-2 and 4-3, to replace the A's as runnerup to the Yankees in the junior circuit.

Cleveland, victor in five of its last six, knocked off the hapless St. Louis Browns twice, 3-1 and 5-0. The Indians needed 12 innings to win the opener.

Detroit and Chicago exchanged close decisions. The Tigers won the opener, 3-2, and the White Sox took the second, 2-1.

The St. Louis Cardinals took over fourth place in the National League from Cincinnati by one percentage point by defeating the Reds in both ends of their twin bill, 2-4 and 9-2. The loop's tail-enders, Chicago and Pittsburgh, divided a doubleheader. The Cubs grabbed the first game, 6-5, and Pittsburgh took the nightcap, 8-6.

It took an eighth inning home run by Ted Williams with one aboard to give the Red Sox their double triumph. Al Zarilla paced an 11-hit first game attack against three pitchers with a grand slam homer and two singles.

Gene Bearden and Rookie Mike Garcia combined to pitch the Indians to their first twin triumph of the year. Bearden allowed only five hits in outlasting Ned Garver in the 12-inning opener. Garcia hurled six-hit ball for his third victory in the nightcap.

Righthander Walter Masterson and First Baseman Eddie Robinson collaborated to defeat the Yankees 6-2, in the opener. Masterson stopped the Yanks with six hits. Robinson led the Senators' nine-hit attack with a double and two singles. The Yankees blasted four Nat hurlers for 20 hits and a 13-3 triumph in the second game. Gene Woodling and Bobby Brown collected four hits each.

Jackie Robinson's home run in the 13th inning won the opener for Brooklyn, omers by Whitey Lockman and Johnny Mize helped Clint Harung rack up his fifth victory in the nightcap as Ralph Branca suffered his first defeat of the season.

Home runs by Clint Conatser and Jimmy Russell helped Bill Voiselle and Boston defeat Philadelphia in the opener. After the Braves had tallied four runs in the ninth inning to force the second game into overtime, Del Ennis clouted a 10th inning triple, and scored on Andy Seminick's fly, to give the Phils an even break.

New Pentathlon Champ Won Crown 'Hard Way'; Took No First Places

Baltimore, May 31—(AP)—Wilbur Ross is the new national AAU Pentathlon champion—but came by the title the hard way.

In racing up a new record of 3,414 points in the five-event competition here yesterday, the 22-year-old Baltimore-Wallace junior failed to win a single division. He kept close enough to the pace in all of them—taking four second places—to defeat two former champions.

The ex-titlists were Russell Thomas of Jeanette, Pa., who won the crown last year, and John Voight of Baltimore, winner of the 1947 meet.

Thomas second-place total of 3,371 and Voight's 3,354 also eclipsed the 1-year-old record of 3,304 set by John Borican of Elberon, N. J.

Ross finished second in the Javelin, discus, broad jump, and 1,500-meter run. His worst showing was in the 200-meter sprint, where he wound up sixth among the 16 entries.

Although he failed to repeat his conquest of last year, Thomas—a 30-year-old veteran of the cinders—was the only entrant to walk off with two first places.

He took top honors in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1 3/4 inches and in the javelin throw with a heave of 167 feet 10 inches.

Kids Give Party For Traffic Cop

Charleston, S.C., May 31—(AP)—Here's one cop the kiddies like. To prove it, they gave a big party for him yesterday.

The honored policeman was James E. Dawson who for years has shepherded Charleston's children across busy streets.

Yesterday was his 75th birthday and he celebrated it by going back to Coartney School. There he was showered with gifts during a special program.

But that wasn't all. Two of the youngsters, members of the school's safety patrol, added a literary touch by reading poems dedicated to the veteran officer.

Frogs (a term which also includes toads) vary in size from a Cuban type which measures three-quarters of an inch long to a West African giant which has a two-foot leg spread.

'Lover Boys' Move Up To Undisputed League Lead

By ROY HARDEE

The Lover Boys moved into undisputed first place in the intramural softball league at Greenville high school yesterday as they sent back the Giants 13-7.

Carroll led off the top of the third with a single. Farley singled and Haymes walked to load the bases. A walk and an error allowed five runs to score and the Lovers went ahead 6-1.

Farley on the mound for the Lovers allowed only three runs up to the seventh frame, when the Giants made a valiant attempt to get back into the ball game as they scored four runs. Brady singled. McLawhom was safe on an error and a double into center field scored two runs. Walter Goor banged out a double, and scored on the following play.

In the bottom of the fifth inning the Lovers put on a show of power as they collected six additional runs. Errors proved the downfall of the Giants as they allowed four men to reach base on errors to set up the scoring position. Johnny Farley started the fifth with a single, Ayer and Haymes got on by errors, and a hard hit double sent in three runs. Moore reached base on error. Valbright singled. Stauffer walked to load the bases. An error and a single by Carroll sent in three more runs.

Each team collected ten hits, but errors on the part of the Giants allowed more runs than the hits.

At the plate Captain John Farley led his mates with three singles in three times at bat.

Aman rapped out three singles in five trips at bat to pace the Giants. Higgs of the Giants received two mighty hits with a double and a triple.

The lone tallies for the Cards came in the bottom of the sixth frame when singles by Pace, Crawford, and a double by Holbers sent in the only two runs of the game for the Cards. Crawford and Nunn shared batting honors for the Cards; Crawford with three singles for four times at bat; and Nunn with two for three.

In the top of the second inning the Yanks sent across five runs on a walk, double, walk, double.

Rotarians Hold Monday Meeting

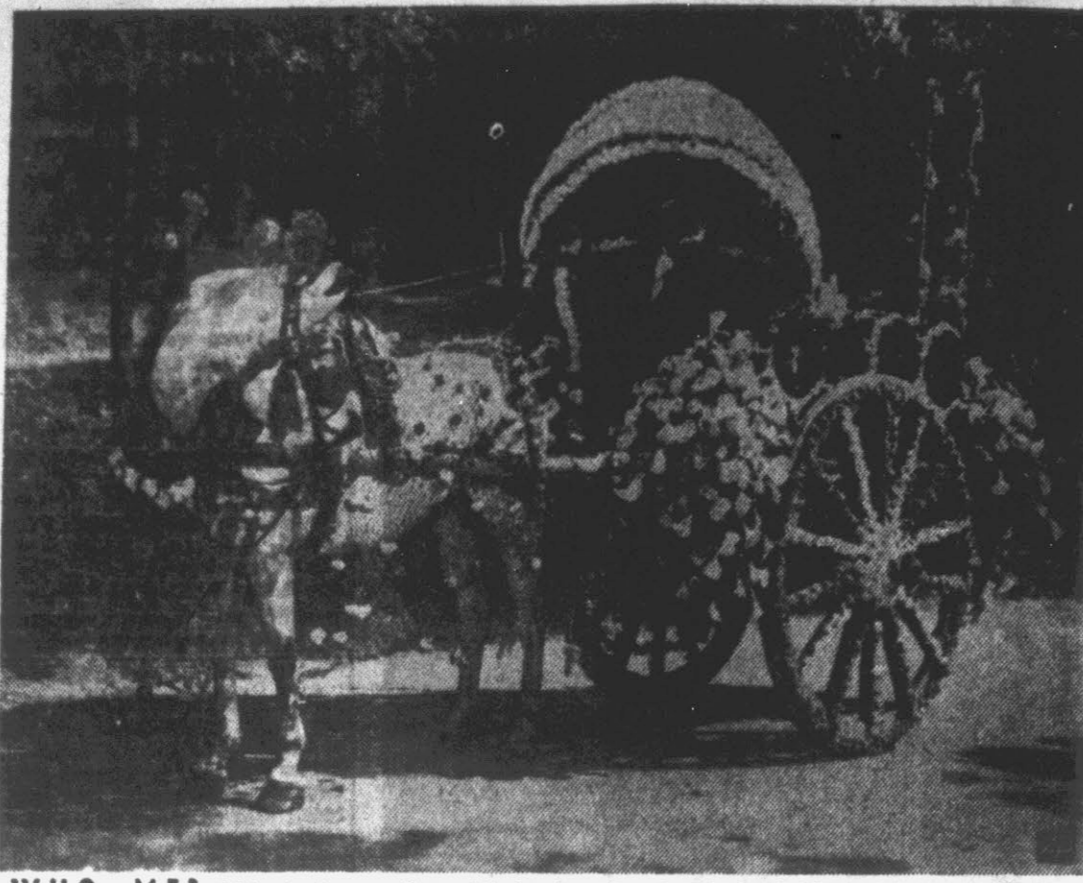

By WYATT BROWN
The Rotarians were entertained last night by the talented, well trained youngsters of Marie's School of dancing. They did any number of entertaining routines with many changes of attractive costumes. The rapt attention and hearty applause of the Rotarians indicated the degree of their delight with the program.

Prior to the entertainment of the evening the Rotarians took up a number of very important matters. First they voted to donate two camperships for the Girl Scouts to afford two girls who otherwise could not get to Camp Hardee might have the happy privilege. It was further settled that the Rotarians would get Camp Hardee cleaned up in time for the season opening.

Reverend J. A. Nelson next appeared on the program urging the Rotarians to take advantage of the opportunity to secure a free x-ray for themselves, every member of their families and all their employees during the presence of five x-ray trucks in the county from June 4 to July 8. One truck will be continuously in Greenville, the other four will travel through the county. Mr. Nelson warned that no home was safe from tuberculosis if one family in the county had it and that by x-ray it could be located in the early stages and cured.

He explained that the whole procedure of getting the x-ray was quick—taking only one minute—and convenient since no undressing will be necessary. In concluding Reverend Nelson insisted that every person over fifteen in the county get an x-ray since he considered it vitally important.

Guests last night included Reverend Arturo Andrade of Mexico,

WHO, ME?—This steed, normally used to haul small casks of wine in his cart, looks skeptically as his driver waves a whip at him during the annual tournament of flowers in Rome, Italy.

the father of this month's Junior Rotarian Arturo C. Andrade from the Greenville High School. Herman Duncan was also a guest. Visiting Rotarians were Bob Booth of Ayden, Bill Grutch of Graham, and John Meindress of San Francisco California. Ernest Willard, president of the club, presided. The program was presented by Roy Martin and Elmer Browning.

The Lapps, many of whom live in northern Finland, are real-life counterparts of Scandinavia's legendary dwarfs. They are, typically, four and a half to five feet tall and have great physical strength.

PEOPLE OF PITT COUNTY

We favor the approval of the $25,000,000 bond issue for improvement of our schools but we do not favor the $200,000,000 road bond issue because we do not believe it is sound economics and we do not believe such a bond issue is necessary to procure good roads for the people of our rural sections.

Those who are urging you to vote for the bond issue tell you that the only cost will be the additional one cent gas tax. Everyone knows that the money derived from the additional gas tax will not nearly pay off the bonds and the interest and it is further known that such a bond issue is a mortgage on the property of the entire state.

If you are of the opinion that bonds do not cost look at the figures on our road bond issues of the past. The state issued $115,000,000 road bonds and in the past 21 years we have in round figures paid $93,000,000 on these bonds and $89,000,000 in interest.

Had we not issued the bonds we could have now had $89,000,000 worth more roads for the money we paid in interest.

The State Highway Commission already has on hand and in prospect more money than it can wisely spend for roads for the next two years. In view of this why should the voters be urged to vote another $200,000,000 indebtedness upon themselves.

If the bond issue is passed, Pitt County will be allotted a little over $3,000,000 for rural roads. With nearly 1,000 miles of dirt roads in the county the money will pave only one fifth of them. That means that four-fifths of our present dirt roads will not be paved out of the bond money and there probably will be no more paving in the county until the bonds are paid off 20 years or more from now.

You have just one chance in five of getting a hard-surfaced highway within the next 20 years if the bond issue is adopted and we believe you'll agree that your chances will be better if our roads are built on a pay-as-we-go basis. Under the latter plan the money that would be paid for interest on bonds would be used to pay for more roads and the program would be continuous.

We urge you not to be fooled into voting more indebtedness upon yourself and our state with no assurance that you will get any benefit from it.

GO TO THE POLLS Saturday, JUNE 4th And Vote AGAINST The ROAD BOND ISSUE

brother with his feet on the desk and his hands clasped behind his head.

"No bites yet?"

"Not even a nibble." Glenn un-clasped his fingers and made an impatient gesture. "You'd think at least there'd be a will to draw or a deed to record."

Jeff smiled. "These folks got to be educated; they're not used to having a lawyer around. It never occurs to them to hire somebody unless they can't shoot their way out."

"Like that fellow, Slug Benjamin."

"Slug doesn't need a lawyer. His goose is as good as cooked."

"Maybe." Glenn had shed some of his gloom. "Jeff, I've a good mind to go over to the jail and talk with him."

Jeff grinned at him. "Stick to your knitting and you'll be a big man in this country. . . . How's the bankroll holding out?"

"It isn't. I'm flatter than a flap-

Jeff took a worn wallet from his pocket, extracted a couple notes and tossed them on the desk before him. "When that's gone I know where I can get more. Don't be afraid to ask when you need help, fellow; I'm in this with you."

"Thanks, Jeff; I can use it."

"How's Connie?"

Glenn's eyes brightened. "Now you're talking about something! Met her father and mother and had a rather nice time. Gosh, Jeff, I never knew one man could own so many cows."

"The Crown's a big spread, and it'll be Connie's one of these days."

Glenn grinned at him. "What kind of a cattleman would a lawyer make?"

"The very best. Fellow with a brain like yours could plug a great many leaks."

Glenn walked with Jeff to the door and watched as Jeff mounted the sorrel and rode out of town;

half when I'm free."

"All right." He sat down again.
 Slug eyed the open corridor door and lowered his voice. "You go to Mike Pacheco and tell him I sent you for it. Say to him, 'The goose hangs high.' He'll give it to you.
 Now tell me how you aim to get me off?"

"Not now. I've got to lay my plans for your defense first. I'll take it up with you when I have the retainer."

Ten minutes later he entered Mike Pacheco's saloon. Mike was behind the bar. Glenn leaned over and spoke in a low voice.

"I'm Slug Benjamin's lawyer. He told me to come to you for the five hundred dollars of his that you have." Mike simply stared at him, and Glenn added, "He said to tell you the goose hangs high."

"Oh," said Mike. He went into a room behind the bar and came out with a package of banknotes.

"I'll take a hundred of it in chips.
 This time, I intend to take you to the well-known cleaners."

Investigators Can Find 'Nothing To Go On' In Georgia Slaying

Irwinton, Ga., May 31—(AP)—Investigators searched today for two or more white men who whisked a Negro from jail and shot him to death.

"There's nothing to go on," said Sheriff George Hatcher. "At present we don't even have a definite motive."

The Negro, 26-year-old Caleb Hill, Jr., was taken from the jail early Monday morning by two white men. His beaten and bullet-pierced body was found near a creek a few hours later.

Hatcher said an agent of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation entered the case today at his invitation.

The sheriff said he thinks there were more than two men involved in Hill's death. "I don't think two men would try to handle something like this by themselves," he explained.

Hill was arrested by the sheriff at a Negro roadhouse near this small middle Georgia town about midnight. While he was making the arrest, Hatcher said, Hill seized the sheriff's pistol and shot at him. Hatcher subdued Hill, took him to jail and returned to look for his pistol which was lost in the scuffle.

The jail is on the second floor of the sheriff's home. He said he left the house unlocked when he went for his pistol because he didn't want to disturb his wife when he returned.

While he was gone, Hatcher continued, two white men entered the jail and took Hill away. The sheriff's wife and two young daughters were sleeping downstairs.

"When I returned home, I went straight to bed without looking in on Hill. The first thing I knew about his being killed was when I was called to identify a body (Hill's) this morning," Hatcher added.

Mrs. Hatcher said she heard a car drive up during the night, but thought it was her husband.

Tom Carswell, a Negro prisoner in the same cell with Hill, said the slayer made no protests when the two white men came in and told him: "Come on, let's go."

Carswell said the men were strangers to him and he could not identify them if he saw them again.

Lewis Hits Hard At Safety Rules

Washington, May 31—(AP)—John L. Lewis today bitterly denounced state officials and coal mine operators for what he called their failure to assure safety in the mines.

The United Mine Workers' chief called on Congress to "act now" by passing a bill which would give federal inspectors the right to close mines in cases where they felt there was imminent danger.

He declared some mine operators have no concern for human life and contemptuously referred to them as "polcats." Seven state mine inspection agencies, he asserted, "chose to ignore completely" the safety provisions of the present laws.

Lewis testified before a Senate labor subcommittee which is studying the bill.

Glowing in his usual manner speaking now in a thundering voice now in a whisper, Lewis said that during the last 19 years 1,259,081 miners have been "mangled, mangled and killed" in the coal pits.

He added that during the first two years of World War II, casualties in the mines exceeded those in the armed services.

"For the one (the service casualties), there was concern," Lewis declared. "For the others, there was unconcern in any public sense."

Campaigning Over Bonds Warms Up In Final Stages

Raleigh, May 31—(AP)—Governor Scott carried his campaign to win votes for road and school bond issues to Statesville today.

The chief executive, after attending Mitchell College commencement exercises this morning, was scheduled for a radio talk and an address at a rally in the high school auditorium this afternoon.

The governor spoke at Danbury last night and will head back east tomorrow. His schedule calls for an address at a rally at Snow Hill at 4 p. m. and one at New Bern at 8 p. m.

Voters will have their say Saturday when they cast their ballots for or against a $200,000,000 bond issue for rural roads and a $25,000,000 issue for building schools. A one-cent boost in the gasoline tax hinges on approval of the road bonds by the voters.

Meanwhile, opposition to the road bond issue came from A. H. (Sandy) Graham of Hillsboro who was chairman of the Highway Commission under Governor R. Gregg Cherry.

Graham said in a statement that without a bond issue or gas tax increase approximately $200,000,000 to spend on road construction, and this is "just about $70,000,000 more than was available for actual road work during the Cherry administration."

good progress there.

At the close wheat was 2 1/2 cents lower than Saturday's close. July $1.86-87 1/2. Corn was 1 cent to 2 lower, July $1.26 1/2-5/8. Oats were 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 lower, July 56 1/2-5/8. Soybeans were 1/4 lower, July $2.16 1/2-3/4. Lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundredweight lower, July $11.27.

ly, if they can help it. But Lillenthal says now he is "damn mad."

At 49 Lillenthal is pretty bald, but sturdy. He's held important government jobs for 16 years, ever since 1933 when President Roosevelt picked him as director of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He's been praised and applauded widely. He's been attacked and criticized often. As chairman of TVA's public power, he had a long fight with the private power interests.

Critics of President Roosevelt and the New Deal have blazed away at Lillenthal for years, calling him an arch-New Dealer, which he may have liked, and a lot of things he certainly did not like.

When President Truman picked him three years ago to head the most important of all government projects—the Atomic Energy Commission—he had a long battle before the Republican-controlled Congress approved him.

At that time the one who gave him the harshest going-over—it lasted for days—was not a Republican at all but a Democrat, Senator McKellar of Tennessee, a long-time foe of Lillenthal.

Hickenlooper, at that time, was a Lillenthal defender.

Through most of his quarrels Lillenthal was pretty restrained, rolling with the punches, getting the job he wanted or staying in the one he had. He's going all out now.

Son Is Rescued By Blind Father

Phoenix, Ariz., May 31—(AP)—A blind father saved his three-year-old son from drowning in an irrigation ditch yesterday.

Little Irvin Ashley Platt tumbled into the irrigation ditch near his home while playing with his brother, Bill, 12, and other children. Hearing the shouts of the other children, Vermin H. Platt, the blind father, rushed to the spot.

Bill guided his father to the culvert. Platt dove in, broke an underwater snag which had trapped Irvin, and came up with the child.

that there is no indication on the list from which jurors are chosen to show whether a person is colored or white.

Called to testify in the case were M. Brown Hodges, chairman of the county board of commissioners, D. T. House, clerk of the court, Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson and H. L. Andrews, assistant tax collector.

Defense Attorney H. L. Taylor called to the stand eight Negro property owners of Pitt County, six of whom testified they never have been called for jury service of any kind. Wiley P. Norcott, who said he has lived in the county for 74 years, told the court he was called for jury service once in 1894, but has not been called for jury duty since that time. E. A. Chapman of the Clay Root community testified he was called for duty on the petit jury in 1936, but has not been called since.

The six other Negroes called for testimony said they have been residents of the county for 32 to 52 years and each testified he never has been called for any jury service.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 31—(AP)—Wheat futures suffered a sharp decline at today's board of trade session. The break came on word that the cash market at Kansas City had been reduced to around 10 cents under Saturday's closing figures. At times wheat was selling at around 6 cents under the close Saturday, but some short covering checked the decline.

Other grains reflected the action of wheat. Rye was especially weak, under the influence of reports from Canada that the crop is making when he is about six years of age, and from that time on controls his thoughts and actions throughout life.

This regimentation is achieved through a process of rigid discipline and intensive indoctrination. Children are schooled in the ways of the clenched fist. With the arrival of maturity the individual is trained not only in ideology but in the methods of making revolution and carrying out espionage for the spread of Communism.

Much of the training of mature Communists is done underground to escape the law. This is being made increasingly clear in the trials and investigations now proceeding in America.

So in most countries there are Communist parties which are conducting underground operations. Part of the secrecy is to conceal the extent of the Red organization; part is because some of the operations are subversive and are aimed at overthrow of the government.

Obviously there is little of humor in the lives of such ideological zealots.

When colonial Virginia started to raise tobacco, the leaf was placed in hogheads which were rolled to wharfs along old Indian trails converted into "rolling roads."
