$250,000 Slated For Pitt Schools

Renovation And Construction Plans For Summer Outlined; Sum Exclusive Of Amount Being Spent On City Schools Says Conley

School districts of Pitt county this summer are spending a total of $250,000 for renovation of old schools and the construction of new school buildings, D. H. Conley, superintendent of schools, announced today.

The figures released by Conley do not include money being spent on schools in the city of Greenville.

Conley said all the projects under way in the county at the present time are being financed through district funds and not county funds.

As for the county allotment from the state school bond money, Conley stated, "We have received no check from the state board of education, and no communication at all from the state board on any allotment. Indications are that no money (from the state bond issue) will be allowed to be used until thorough investigations are made by state agencies."

A breakdown of the expenditures of the school districts in the county show that $202,000 of the $250,000 is being spent for renovation and construction of Negro schools.

The largest single project is the construction of a new 18-room combination high school and elementary school for Negroes in Farmville, which will cost approximately $175,000.

Conley said the school is expected to be completed and ready for use when the county schools open next fall.

At the Belvoir school a $35,000 gymnasium is under construction and is expected to be completed this summer.

Conley said the floors for the building have been laid, and the steel for the building was delivered last week. The gymnasium will be 75 feet wide, 112 feet long and 20 feet high, and will contain showers and dressing rooms in addition to the large space for athletic events.

During the summer months the Fountain school is being completely renovated and painted at the cost of approximately $75,000.

At Falkland the Negro school is being renovated and two rooms are being added to the building. Conley said the total cost of the project is expected to reach $7,500.

Two more small Negro schools in the Falkland section have just been completely renovated. The Shivers school was renovated at a cost of $3,000 and the school at Saly's Branch was renovated at a cost of $2,000.

At the Clemmons Negro school east of Stokes, $1,000 has been spent for renovation, and a new five-room Negro school has just been completed at Hadocks Cross Roads.

Conley said this new addition to the county school system will be equipped next fall, and when fully equipped will cost approximately $10,000.

The Negro school at Nichols has been renovated and enlarged from a two-room school to a four-room school at a cost of $3,500.

Getting A Gun

Birmingham, Ala., June 16—(AP)—"I'm getting a gun and I know how to use one."

That was the answer today of a 31-year-old white Navy veteran who was flogged by a white-robed gang Tuesday night.

Billy Guyton Stovall last night told reporters how six or eight robed men dragged him from his home, drove him to a side road, and lashed him 20 times with a leather belt.

Stovall said in an interview: "The only reason they gave me is that I left my children at home alone." He said that wasn't true.

Stovall is employed in a pipe plant. Neighbors described him as a good husband and father.

Possible Re-Trial For Laurie Taylor

Young Pitt Prisoner Wins In Supreme Court Appeal

Raleigh, June 16—(AP)—A youthful prisoner serving a life sentence today won a round in a fight which may result in his being tried for his life on three charges of first degree burglary.

The State Supreme Court handed down an opinion today in the appeal of Laurie D. Taylor, Jr., who was indicted in Pitt County in January, 1947—when he was 18 years old—on three first degree burglary charges and four of house-breaking and larceny.

At his trial, Taylor pleaded guilty on the housebreaking and larceny charges and guilty of second degree burglary. He was sentenced to life on each of the burglary counts and to 10 years each of the other charges.

In his appeal, Taylor contended that his constitutional rights were violated because the Pitt court did not appoint counsel to represent him.

In the opinion today Chief Justice W. P. Stacy wrote: "The appointment of counsel to represent the accused in cases less than capital is discretionary with the trial court. x x x it is otherwise in capital cases."

The court ordered that Taylor be allowed to appear at the next term of Pitt Superior Court so that he can make an application contending that he is being held in prison unlawfully in respect to the burglary charges.

"If the application be granted," Stacy wrote, "the judgments should be vacated, the pleas stricken out or permitted to be withdrawn, and the cases restored to the docket for trial. In this latter event, the petitioner will be afforded an opportunity to confer with counsel, prepare his defense, and appear at his trial."

The Negro school at Nichols has been renovated and enlarged from a two-room school to a four-room school at a cost of $3,500.

A Political Handicap

The Advent Of Another Roosevelt Into The National Scene; What A Famous Statesman Thought Of Sons Following Footsteps Of Father; It's Individual Merit

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

All America is watching with intense interest the advent of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Junior, into national politics, and not a few are wondering just what it means to a young man to follow in the footsteps of a famous father. Is it an advantage to the son or a handicap?

Years ago in England I put that question to my good friend, the late Sir Austen Chamberlain. He then was British foreign secretary and had written his name indelibly into history as a prime minister and a signatory of the Locarno treaty of peace in 1925.

Sir Austen was the son of the noted statesman Joseph ("Joe") Chamberlain. He also was brother of Neville who, as prime minister, later tried the unhappy experiment of appeasing Hitler—an experiment which your columnist witnessed at close range, having followed the prime minister to the conferences at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and, finally, Munich. You will note that one brother was fortunate and the other encouraged disaster.

I was spending the day with Sir Austen at his country home when I broached the question of how the fame of a father affected a son at the beginning of the latter's career. The foreign secretary smiled reminiscently, as he looked back more than a generation to his start in political life, and then replied in effect:

At the outset, of course, the fa-

Find Evidence Reds Feeling On Defensive

State Dept. Officials Believe Communists Recognizing Turning Point In Cold War By Cominform Bulletin

Washington, June 16—(AP)—State Department officials found evidence today that even the Communists feel they are now on the defensive in the cold war in Europe.

The clue to what may be a radical turn in Communist leadership estimates of the East-West conflict came in a bulletin of the Communist International Information Bureau.

As reported from Bucharest, Romania, where it is published, the bulletin declared it is now the "cardinal task" of Communists to block the spread of Americanism.

Officials here took an interested look at the defensive nature of this declaration. They said that this, coupled with the charge that the United States is trying to "poison" working classes with American ideas, indicates the Soviet-led Cominform is deeply concerned over the West's success to date in fighting Communism.

They speculated that this concern now dominates top Communist thinking in contrast with an earlier Communist preoccupation with expansion of their own power and influence. If this analysis is correct, it may mark a switch in Communist tactics in Europe—from primary emphasis on expansion westward to a new stress on holding the line in Eastern Europe.

This view of what the Communists themselves may believe is in accord with official American estimates of the cold war struggle. According to these, the next phase of the battle between Western influences and Soviet Communism—apart from Germany—may well lie in Eastern Europe, with Yugoslavia providing the initial testing ground.

Several current developments are cited to support this view. On the Western side these include: 1. Negotiations between Britain and Yugoslavia for an $800,000,000 trade agreement under which Yugoslavia would receive badly-needed manufactured goods.

2. A conference this week in Paris between Secretary of State Acheson and American Ambassador Cavenish Cannon, envoy to Belgrade, on relations with Yugoslavia. This also is believed to have been concerned with making available to Marshal Tito a greater flow of goods from the West.

He disagreed with some press reports from the Democratic party's Des Moines conference early this week that the plan would be deferred until next year for campaign purposes.

The program calls for subsidies to farmers and lower prices for consumers.

Mr. Truman said some news reports had given the impression that delay was in the cards, but the conference took no such stand.

He said that is not the objective at all—that farm legislation is part of the Democratic platform and he is trying to get that through.

Mr. Truman made his comments on farm legislation as bi-partisan support built up in Congress behind a bill that would bypass both the administration measure and the Aiken law due to go into effect Jan. 1.

The clerk of the board said names of all who are called for induction and do not report on June 27 will be turned over to the FBI.

A list of those who are to report for induction is as follows: Colored George Tatum Plummer, Rt. 1, Tarboro, N.C. Louis Perkins, Rt. 4, Greenville, N.C. Non-Communist Oath Is Up For Labor Law Inclusion

Washington, June 16—(AP)—A proposal to nail into the Truman labor bill a fourth provision related to the Taft-Hartley act—a non-Communist oath re-requirement—comes up today in the Senate.

Three other amendments which have a Taft-Hartley look about them were added to the administration measure by the senate yesterday in the first voting of its long labor law debate.

The changes, all approved by voice votes with no audible opposition, would (1) require unions, as well as management, to bargain in good faith; (2) Guarantee freedom of speech, short of threats or promises of benefits, in labor relations; and (3) require both unions and employers to file annual financial reports.

Those provisions are not in every case identical to sections of the T-H law, but the differences generally are slight. The amendments had no blessing from President Truman, who publicly has opposed any revision of the administration bill.

That bill would repeal the Taft Hartley law and replace it with a slightly modified version of the old Wagner act.

The big test is yet to come, on a substitute offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and two other Republicans. It would keep all the basic Taft-Hartley provisions, including labor-banned injunctions to halt national emergency labor disputes, and the ban on the closed shop.

A group of Democrats and Republicans opposed to the Taft substitute sponsored the three amendments adopted yesterday. The same group is backing the non-Communist oath amendment which was up today.

That proposal would require the officers and the policy-making leaders of both unions and companies to file non-Communist and non-Fascist oaths if their organizations wanted to use the facilities of the national labor relations board.

Affidavits would not have to be filed, however, if the union or the company already was effectively barring subversive persons from leadership.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, only union officers are required to swear they are not Communists. The GOP authored substitute for the administration bill would require both union officers and employers to file affidavits.

Scheduled to come up after action on the non-Communist agreement is either a series of proposals for dealing with national emergency strikes, or a new amendment offered yesterday by Senator Holland (D-Fla.).

Holland's amendment would strike out a section of the administration bill designed to nullify state laws which ban closed shop contracts.

House Committee Believed Ready To Report On Project

Washington, June 16—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee may be nearly ready to recommend that about 12,000,000 more workers be blanketed under old age insurance. That was the unofficial word today from secret committee meetings.

This was reported to be the tentative action on President Truman's proposal that 20,000,000 additional workers be insured. About 30,000,000 already are qualified for old age benefits under this phase of social security.

The committee, meeting behind closed doors for six weeks, also was understood to have agreed tentatively to:

1. Boost old age benefit payments substantially but not as much as Mr. Truman asked. The President wants benefits increased in some categories by about 100 per cent.

2. Permit the social security tax to jump next January 1 from the present one per cent against employees' pay and employers' payrolls, to 1 1/4 per cent, with an increase Jan. 1, 1952 to two per cent against each. Present law provides for these boosts.

The social security bill may pass the House this year but there is little, if any chance, it will be taken up in the Senate until 1950.

The tentative action of the committee was reported to call for bringing under the old age insurance program 6,000,000 self employed persons, including doctors, lawyers, other professional men and persons operating businesses.

Pitt X-Ray Goal Set For 30,000

The goal for the drive has been set at 30,000 x-rays during the five week period that the five mobile units will be working in Pitt county.

Commenting on the x-ray campaign in Pitt county, health officer T. G. Basnight said, "We are shooting for 30,000 x-rays in the county, and we will not be satisfied with any less."

A. G. Chiswell, chief technician for the state's x-ray units, said so far in the campaign in Pitt county the units have made 25 stops and will make a total of 45 stops before leaving the county on July 7.

About 3,000 x-rays already have been processed and the reports sent back to the people in the county, the local office reported. Approximately five per cent of the x-rays which have been processed showed positive reports, Chiswell said.

Members of the Washington fire and police department recovered the body of Mrs. Robert Lee Dawson, 23, but artificial respiration en route to the hospital failed to revive her.

Gov't Reorganization Program Said Lined Up

Washington, June 16—(AP)—Reorganization plans for the administrative branch of government go ahead as soon as Congress passes legislation now nearing final action President Truman said today.

The quicker Congress acts, he told a news conference, the more such projects he will be able to send to the capitol during this session of Congress.

Mr. Truman discussed the question with newsmen shortly after Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, had told reporters he thought legislation would be passed in both houses before the end of the day.

Big Four Begin Final Phase Of Secret Sessions

Ministers Appear Determined To Salvage Agreements On Berlin, Austria

Paris, June 16—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today begin the final phase of their secret talks with hopes they may achieve at least a temporary East-West truce in Europe.

The ministers appeared determined to salvage from the month-long parley two broad agreements on the future of Berlin and Austria.

Settlement of the Berlin dispute would make it easier for the two sides to live together in a physical and economic—if not political—sense. The question of an Austrian peace treaty has been the subject of bickering for the past two years.

British and French officials said they would make every effort to wind up their work by tonight, but American and Russian sources expressed doubt the talks would end before Saturday.

Before the ministers today will be the question of how they can help settle the complicated Berlin rail strike. They talked over the strike situation among themselves yesterday with no apparent results.

Some concrete arrangements for the future of Berlin are believed in sight, however. Those arrangements would look something like this:

Both sides would promise not to reimpose any kind of trade or traffic restrictions into or out of Berlin.

Both would agree to promote trade and commerce between the respective zones.

Top Russian and Western representatives in Germany would be ordered to consult each other any time trouble arose.

These four high commissioners also would supervise the formation and activities of an All-German economic committee dedicated to maintain and develop trade and financial links between the country's two segments.

Both the British and French appear optimistic that Russia and the West will succeed in removing most of their main differences regarding the Austrian independence treaty before the conference ends. American officials are more cautious in their outlook.

Although nothing has been definitely settled, the four ministers are expected to announce that they will reconvene in New York next fall.

Demos To Relax Party Standard For '50 Election

Washington, June 16—(AP)—A Democrat won't have to be a 100 per cent supporter of the Truman program to get vigorous party backing in the 1950 Congressional campaign, Senator Anderson (D-NM) said today.

Anderson, new chairman of the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee, told a reporter the group won't mix in primary fights in any attempt to help President Truman's supporters win nominations.

"What we want is the same strong type of candidates that we had in 1948," the former secretary of agriculture said.

"You don't always get men that are completely in sympathy with every part of the administration's program. But so long as they are good Democrats we'll support them to the hilt."

He mentioned Senators Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado and Gillette of Iowa as examples of independent acting Democrats elected last year.

Leaving It To Harry

Congress Has Been Talking Big For Six Months About Cutting Expenses; Now In A Mood To Shove Job Off On President; Fixed Expenses; Cutable Part

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 16—(AP)—"Aw let Harry do it." Congress may wind up saying that after talking big for six months about cutting government expenses.

It has an obligation to do any cutting that is done, but it's in a mood now to shove the job off on President Truman.

Last January Mr. Truman told Congress how much money would be needed to run the government for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Those figures, checked over by the experts of the budget bureau whose job is to cut where they can, were put together by the various government departments and agencies.

After Mr. Truman outlined the money needed, the department heads started a long parade to the capitol.

There, one by one, they sat down with the appropriations committees to give their reasons for asking this or that money.

The members of the appropriations committee are really the watchdogs of the American people over what money the government spends.

And it's their job to make cuts if they think less money is needed than is asked for.

Then the committees draw up bills for the full house and senate to vote on. The bills say just how much the appropriations committees think each department or agency needs.

That might sound like a simple solution. It isn't first of all because the departments and the budget bureau feel the figure Mr. Truman asked for already has been cut to the bone.

Frederick J. Lawton, assistant director of the budget, told Congress it wouldn't be very simple. For example:

Miss Grace Tripp, Becomes Bride Of Willie M. Pate

Miss Grace Louise Tripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Tripp of Red Oak and Willie Murphy Pate, son of B. W. Pate and the late Mrs. Pate of Snow Hill, were married Sunday afternoon in a candlelight ceremony in the Red Oak Christian church.

Ivy was used to outline the windows and doors of the church and also the archway before which the vows were spoken. Large baskets of Margaret Deaton glads were used on the altar and in the choir lofts. Feverfew, fern and white satin ribbon was used on the piano. Tall candelabras entwined with ivy held burning tapers.

The Reverend Harold Tyer of Bath, pastor of the bride performed the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. B. Leon Tyson, pianist and Mrs. Edgar Denton, sister of the bride, soloist. "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Oh Sweet Mystery of Life," were played during the ceremony. Mrs. Denton sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "My Hero" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Audrey Doris May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. May, of Greenville, whose engagement to Mr. William Hoke Page, of Kings Mountain, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page, of Lincoln, is announced by her parents. The wedding will take place in mid-summer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Jarvis Tripp, Jr., chose for her wedding gown sheer white organdy over white satin, fashioned with a yoke of chantilly lace. The yoke was outlined with a ruffle of the lace.

The full skirt was fashioned with a deep ruffle around the bottom and tiers of ruffles in the back formed a bustle effect. The ruffles extended from the waist to the tip of the full cathedral train. Her veil of imported French illusion cascaded from a lace head-dress.

Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of net in the shape of a heart and was centered with stephanotis, lilies of the valley, gardenias and an orchid with broad white satin ribbons.

Mrs. William Earl Morgan, sister of the bride, attended her as matron of honor. She wore a gown of sheer pink organdy over satin and carried a bouquet of summer flowers in pastel shades. She wore a ruffled headdress and mits to match.

The honorary brides maids were Mrs. Frank Bonner, Miss Vivian Allen, Miss Eloise Warren, Miss Emily DuPree, Mrs. Ted Steig, Mrs. Levi Corey, Mrs. Bill Jenkins and Mrs. Jessie Jordan. They wore summer evening gowns in pastel shades.

The junior bridesmaids were Miss Sue Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sydney Allen and Miss Hilda Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Pate of Snow Hill. They wore pink and blue organdy dresses respectively and carried nosegays of summer flowers in pastel shades.

Marshall Hinson of Snow Hill attended the bride-groom as best man. Ushers were Frank Pate and Preston Pate of Snow Hill, brother of the groom, and Edgar Denton and William Earl Morgan, brothers-in-law of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a street length gown of ice blue gorgette over satin with a hat of blue net and pink roses. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Pate, step-mother of the groom, wore a becoming gown of black crepe with a picture hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at a reception in the club house. The reception room was decorated with large white baskets of greenery set against a background of white.

The table was covered with a lime net cloth gathered full over white linen. It was festooned with white satin ribbon bows and streamers and gardenias. Silver candle holders with burning candles flanked an arrangement of gardenias and satin ribbons used as a centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tyson, Mrs. Tripp, Mrs. Pate and the bride and groom formed a receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tripp of Greenville directed the guests to the table from which Mrs. Fenner Allen poured punch and Mrs. James Allen served cake. The honorary brides maids assisted in serving nuts and mints.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jenkins presided over the register.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. DuPree bade the guests goodbye.

Mrs. Pate, a graduate of the Greenville high school, attended school at E. C. T. C. and George Washington University. During the war she was connected with the chaplains' department and for several years she held a position with the federal government. For the past year she has been with the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company of Greenville and Snow Hill.

Mr. Pate attended school at Carolina. He served with the navy during the war. He is now connected with the Health Department of Greene county.

The young couple left immediately following the reception for their wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a champagne-taffeta suit, with straw hat to match. She wore green accessories. Her corsage was an orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return they will make their home in Snow Hill.

Many courtesies were extended the bride before her wedding day.

Miss Emilie DuPree and Mrs. C. L. DuPree entertained at a bingo party at their home in Greenville. The honoree was presented crystal in her pattern and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. J. R. Tripp was hostess at a coca cola party. Silver in her chosen pattern and a pink gailmella corsage was given the bride-elect.

Mrs. Levi Corey entertained at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening. Many lovely gifts and a corsage of white carnations were presented the honoree.

Thursday morning, June 9, Miss Vivian Allen entertained Miss Tripp at a coca cola party.

Thursday evening Mrs. Ted Steig entertained at a linen shower. A corsage of white carnations and many lovely gifts of linen were presented Miss Tripp.

Mesdames Allen Stokes, Jean Manning, Frank Bonner, Misses Hilda Loftin and Eloise Warren were hostesses at a lawn party honoring the bridal couple.

On Saturday evening, immediately after the rehearsal, Mrs. Edgar Denton and Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Morgan entertained the members of the wedding party, members of the families and other guests at a cake-cutting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan. Mrs. F. L. Allen poured punch and Mrs. James Allen served the wedding cake from a beautifully appointed table covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white glads feverfew and fern.

Joint Hostesses Entertain At Tea

Fountain.—Mrs. W. A. Marlowe, Mrs. W. E. Lang, and Mrs. W. E. Lang, Jr., of Walstonburg were hostesses at a tea Thursday at the home of Mrs. Marlowe honoring Miss Doris Yelverton of Fountain. The table was covered with an imported linen cloth, centered with a horse shoe filled with white bridal flowers and flanked by white tapers in three-branched silver candelabra with epergnettes holding feverfew and fern. The buffet was decorated with a similar arrangement.

Mrs. E. F. Brooks greeted guests and Mrs. Carter Smith introduced them to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. Marlowe, Mrs. W. E. Lang, Jr., Miss Yelverton and her mother, Mrs. M. D. Yelverton, Mrs. H. M. Mercer, mother of the groom-to-be, Miss Lucile Yelverton, Miss Daphne Yelverton, Miss Evelyn Lawrence of Falkland, Miss Ann Horton, little Miss Kippie Lou Williams of Nashville and Mrs. W. E. Lang, Sr.

Mrs. Jasper Lewis and Mrs. Sam Jenkins invited guests into the music room where Mrs. Sallie Shackelford presided at the register. Mrs. C. H. Walston, at the piano, played softly throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. R. L. Eagles invited guests into the dining room, where Mrs. Bennie Tugwell served punch and Mrs. F. L. Eagles served bridal cakes. Assisting in serving cheese biscuits, mints and nuts were Mrs. Russel Williams of Nashville, Mrs. Sid Shackelford and Mrs. R. G. Fields.

Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Will Windham and Mrs. Dennis Mercer. Approximately 100 guests called during the afternoon.

The hostesses presented Miss Yelverton with a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GROWTH BY SELF-EFFACEMENT

George Wythe, who lived during the most of the eighteenth century, had as his greatest distinction that he taught other men who became greater than he was. He himself was an excellent lawyer. He signed both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and was, in his day, considered an outstanding legal authority. But it was the boys in his office who really made him famous. Wythe laid down the principle that a court can annul a law if this law conflicts with the Constitution, and one of his young students, John Marshall, later to become Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, applied this principle with history-making effect.

Wythe trained Patrick Henry. He also trained Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe, both of whom became presidents. Henry Clay was a clerk in Wythe's court for four years.

It is always inspiring to read of the people who eliminate themselves that others might become much. Sometimes we do not read about them because they are the humble fathers and mothers, the undistinguished school teachers, the wives, the friends and associates who by touching ordinary lives have brought them to distinction. But those who become of little consequence that others may have a chance to succeed, are truly great.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
London—There is the sound of many hammers here in the land of the over-billed potato. And the sound of many complaining voices. There is confidence in the sound of the hammers—and authority. For the hammers are retooling battered England. But in the complaining voices are doubt and uncertainty. There is either dissatisfaction with the way that England is going or dismay that it hasn't achieved more of the common man down the new political path it has been traveling.

Says one young voice of Socialism: "Yes, we've got many things we didn't have before. But we English are losing the taste for Scotch whisky and meat, because we get so little. And that is bad for us because whisky and beef made us great."

And a voice from the political path says: "They are trying to do too much here for everybody. It can't be done in a small land that lives by bringing raw materials here for manufacture and shipping the products elsewhere for sale. Ninety per cent of the people will have to go back to living the way they always did. Then the ten per cent with exceptional ability can live as well as their brains and initiative entitle them to."

It is hard for a visitor to weigh and interpret the complaining voices and what they mean to the future of the United Kingdom. But the visitor does get one clear impression—that neither the masses nor the masses are satisfied with the present scale of austerity. Both want more than they are getting now of everything—except more shortages.

I came here with a group of war correspondents revisiting European battle areas on a tour sponsored by the American Overseas Airlines.

London hasn't changed as much as you'd expect. The face of the great Gray Lady by the Thames is wrapped in scaffolding as workmen restore the beauty pitted by German bombs. They have cleared away the debris of many gutted buildings and turned them into parking sites.

Big Ben still tells the passing hours. The people still stand patiently in long queues for most of the things they desire—bruses, theatrical entertainment, prized foodstuffs at the grocery stores. You have a feeling that England would be lost if everyone broke from the queue at once to grab a bus seat. Instead of patiently taking his turn. There'll always be an England, you sense, as long as the English accept the discipline of necessity—and they still do.

But they are a little weary of being complimented on their courage and endurance. They want the brave new world of promised plenty to come a little faster.

"Ah, England—it simply isn't England any more," grumbles the hotel porter. But if you volunteered such a remark to him you'd get an unforgettable rebuke. What the people

Do You Hear Something Coming?

like to hear the Americans say is: "I liked England during the war because you were so kind to us and I'm glad to see again the friends I made here then."

If you don't mention the Marshall plan, they won't. And only a foolish American travels 3,000 miles to brag about his "generosity" to a hardup relative whose muscles he may need.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
By JANE EADS

Washington—John J. McCloy was first described to me—by a newspaperman—as a "nice, bald-headed, guy, good humored, who also knows his business."

He is also a first-rate tennis player and a fisherman, banker, lawyer and soldier. He was born in Philadelphia 54 years ago. He is stocky, with strong features, a quick smile and a knack for putting people at ease. People who work with him say he is also "a bear for work" and has a "forceful personality but doesn't throw it around."

That pretty well sums up the man who was nominated by President Truman to be U. S. high commissioner for Germany in the first step of the transition from military to civilian government in Western Germany. Mr. McCloy recently retired as president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. He was a wartime assistant secretary of war. He will be supreme American authority in Germany, taking over the functions Gen. Lucius D. Clay exercised as military governor. Those who know him say he is most admirably fitted for the job.

McCloy attended the Peddie school at Hightstown, N. J. and Amherst College, from which he graduated with honors in 1916. His law studies were interrupted by World War I, in which he served as a captain of field artillery with the AEP in France. He completed his law course in 1921.

McCloy was married in 1930 to Ellen Zinner, whose sister married his Amherst classmate, Lewis W. Douglas, now ambassador to England.

Henry L. Stimson requested McCloy to come to the War Department in 1940. He had traveled frequently in Europe and worked in litigation which enabled him to know something of German espionage and sabotage activities. He was made ad-

Somebody Told Me . . .

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Remember the Friendship Train that toured America collecting gifts for the starving people of France? You probably contributed a gift to the train.

Of course you realize that France in turn sent us a Merol (thanks) Train containing gifts from the French for Americans. They sent valuable souvenirs, paintings, and other works of art which will be put in American museums.

Approximately 100 of these items are on display at the Art Gallery on the second floor of Sheppard Memorial Library, which is open from three to five o'clock.

Among the items is a piece of music composed by a police officer in France, and dedicated to all American policemen. Also included are engraved etchings and oil paintings. One of the paintings of a French city was completed just one day before the city was flattened by German bombers. Another painting was created in honor of General Patton, who freed the city in which it was painted.

Another item on display is a medal, the highest given by the French Army. The display is not a show of polished art, but is interesting and educational because of its sentimental and historical significance.

Tomorrow is the last afternoon of the display, so if you're interested drop by to see it.

A few re-prints from this week's "Time" magazine:

The Harvard Lampoon (the student newspaper) offered $3 to the sophomore who stands lowest in the class at the end of the year without actually being expelled from college.

Blaming its trouble on rural electrification and on the increased use of cigarette lighters and paper book matches, the Diamond Match Company announced that it would shut down its "kitchen match" plant in Oswego, N.Y., for ten weeks.

And I thank you.

His Pulpit Will Be An Airplane

Lock Haven, Pa., June 16—(AP)—A 42-year-old former test pilot, turned preacher, is planning to use an airplane as his pulpit.

Curt J. Wetzel, who assists at the first Baptist church here, has rigged out a two-seater plane with a sound system to broadcast his message from the air.

Wetzel said he plans to glide over the country side this summer and "deliver a few remarks where ever I see a crowd gathered."

"It is amazing how well the sound carries from the air," Wetzel said. "Of course, if it is windy or the weather is bad that gum's things up a little."

"I made a few experimental trips over a nearby town recently," Wetzel said, "played the 'Old Rugged'

Cross' and a few other selections and a good many persons reported hearing the music as clear as a bell. Wetzel's plane has a powerful 16-inch loudspeaker attached to the bottom of the fuselage. The plane also has a turn-table pickup for records to permit playing of religious music. The system is powered by a storage battery.

When he sees a crowd, Wetzel said, he puts the plane into an easy circling glide at about 1,000 feet, slows the motor, and goes into action.

Arctic waters have relatively small salt content because of lack of evaporation and the inflow of many rivers.

Local Police Send Thanks For French Gift Of Song

A letter from the Greenville police force has been sent to the policemen of France thanking the local law enforcement officers of that country for a song dedicated to the policemen of the United States and written by a French policeman.

The music composed by the French policeman is among the articles from the French "Gratitude Train" which are on exhibit at the Shepherd Memorial library.

In the letter accompanying the musical composition, the composer Pierre Colomines wrote, "On the occasion of the Gratitude Train which is to leave for the United States, I have the pleasure to give thanks, in my own personal name and in the name of all the French policemen who have kept for France an appreciated esteem."

The letter sent to the French police from the Greenville force and signed by Chief Lester D. Page reads:

To the Policemen of France from the Policemen of Greenville, North Carolina, United States of America

We felt highly honored to have you send for the exhibits on the "Gratitude Train" music composed by one of your members and such an interesting letter to us here in North Carolina.

We have had a special program arranged so that we could see the exhibits, hear your musical compositions played and hear from one of our local citizens, who lived several years in France, interesting reports about you, your work and activities which are similar to and different from ours.

We have a nice, small art gallery in our town jointly supported by the town and interested citizens. Instruction in music is given in our public schools and colleges. Unfortunately, however, when the members of our police force were in school not much training in the fine arts was offered. Therefore our avocations are not along the lines of music and painting but more on the things of nature and the out of doors. Members of the police here, when not on duty garden. We grow both vegetables and flowers, play baseball, fish and hunt.

We extend our kindest regards and anticipate a continued friendship with you.

Lester D. Page
Chief of Police
Greenville, N. C., U. S. A.

Telling of himself in his letter the French policeman Pierre Colomines wrote:

Outside of my functions, I compose music for dances and songs which I dedicate to you all.

May I hope that you will kindly accept them and maybe, have them executed by the Musicians of the Police Force or your acquaintances.

Here, many in our Police Force occupy their spare time with literary pursuits or painting or music.

Poles Now Ban Frontier Swims

Nowy Sacz, Poland—(AP)—Borderline swimming is out in Poland—that is, along the Polish-Czech frontier.

Authorities say too many people are being drowned every summer in the turbulent waters of the Dunajec river. Portions of it form the boundary between Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The Nowy Sacz fire brigade now has declared "no swimming" along the entire course of the Dunajec except in a few spots especially designated.

Authorities also have prohibited the circulation of all unregistered barges and ferries used for the transport of passengers.

Family To Give Up 7 Children

Winton, N. C., June 16—(AP)—It and faced with a heavy burden of debt, a Hertford county couple is planning to place their seven children in orphanages.

Paul Albert Britt and his wife said they had planned at first to place the seven children for adoption, but had decided in favor of orphanages "because we want them to be together in groups of twos and threes."

Britt is 33 and his wife 29. They were married in 1938 and their six girls and one boy range in age from two to 11.

Both parents have been in the hospital periodically and Britt said his health continues poor.

"The least bit of straining would make me fall out," he said.

Britt said that in the past he had been able to make ends meet farming and as a salesman.

Slated To Die In Gas Chamber

Raleigh, N. C. June 16—(AP)—A 26-year-old Negro is due to die tomorrow in Central prison's gas chamber.

James Edward Lewis, convicted of murdering his wife, Lettie McMillan Lewis, was informed yesterday that Governor Scott will not intervene in his case.

Lewis was convicted in Robeson Superior court of shooting his wife twice with a shotgun and then clubbing her with the gun's butt. The state supreme court, in reviewing the case, could find "no error or irregularity" in the lower court case.

Farm Income In State Goes Up

Raleigh, June 16—(AP)—North Carolina farmers took in more money the first four months of 1949 than during last year's corresponding period.

In doing so, they bucked a nationwide trend which saw farm receipts drop about five per cent during the period.

The Crop Reporting Service of the state-federal departments of Agriculture said yesterday that through April, North Carolina farmers received $114,800,000. This represented an increase of slightly over four per cent compared with the $110,300,000 figure for last year's corresponding period.

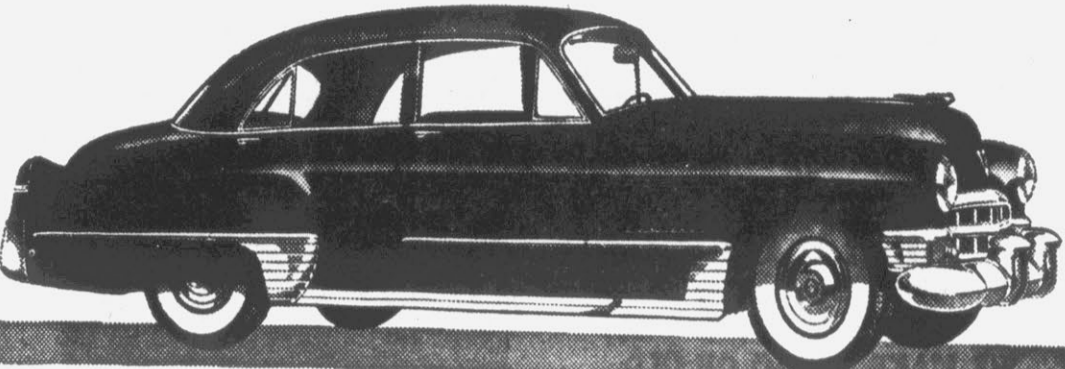

Total cash farm receipts for the U. S. during the first four months this year were estimated at $7,900,000,000. This is a drop of nearly five per cent from receipts of $8,300,000,000 for 1948's first four months.

The final demonstration will feature the canning of the non-acid vegetables: corn, string beans and soup mixture, in addition to information on the preparation of foods for freezing. The clinic is scheduled for 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. on Thursday, June 16. Come and learn the new trends of preserving food.

Four colored playgrounds will be in operation this summer and will offer a wide variety of activities for the children and young folks in the areas in which the playgrounds are located. For the past two weeks two playgrounds have been in operation. The high school with A. C. Crowder in charge and at Fleming Street School with Mabel Nimmo as director.

Extensive work has been done in South Greenville at the site of the Cooper Street grammar school. When the swings are put up in the next few days this playground will be ideal for the children and young people. This playground will have Margaret Newton as supervisor and will open on Monday, June 20th, as will the playground downtown on the river where Eleanor Cherry will direct activities.

New Prison Post And Appointees Are Announced

Raleigh, June 16—(AP)—The creation of a new prison post and four appointments were announced yesterday by Prisons Director J. Brice Moore.

The new post is that of assistant director of prisons. H. H. Honeycutt, a prison department career man of 47 years service, was awarded the title.

Honeycutt joined the system in 1902 during the administration of Aycock as a $15 a month guard. Moore said his promotion was in recognition of long and efficient service. Honeycutt will take over his new title July 1 and will remain in charge of prison discipline.

The appointments were: Hazel B. Meacham of Asheville as director of prison farms, succeeding J. M. Tolar of Fayetteville who held the post eight years.

W. K. Dedmon of Lincolnton as prison supervisor in the Ninth District, succeeding Fred L. Alley of Shelby, who has been with the state seven years.

Henry M. Bishop of Raleigh as supervising steward of prisons, a post vacant since wartime rationing began.

Antoinette Lamonte as assistant to the superintendent of women's prison. This also was a newly created position.

Miami, Fla., June 16—(AP)—The tropical hurricane season began last midnight.

The Weather Bureau's hurricane warning service started 24-hour watches and a teletype circuit went into operation along the coast from Brownsville, Tex., to Charleston S. C.

At the Navy Master Airport in Miami the Navy's hurricane hunters stood ready to track down developing disturbances in the Caribbean where most of them originate.

Records show that most of the big storms occur in September and October but Weather Bureau officials said there have been hurricanes in the summer months and as late as November.

When Niels Ovesen, a lawyer of the island's main town of Nykoebing, died a few years ago, it was disclosed that in his last will he had set an amount of money aside for a foundation, the interest of which should be paid to "a smallholder of Mors in considerable debt but who has not lost his good humor."

The first amount of the foundation money has been paid to Mr. Futtrup. He commented: "Now you see that good humor is more valuable than money."

Shanghai's Port Hit By Blockade

Shanghai, June 11—(AP)—The Chinese Communists still tried today to find the answer to breaking the three-day Nationalist blockade of the Yangtze River. The Red military control commission continued to ponder the double trouble: (1) A Nationalist gunboat known to be in the vicinity of the river mouth. It was the presence of this craft that was construed here as constituting a blockade. (2) A possibility that a Nationalist LSM (Landing Ship Medium) had planted mines in the estuary. All that was known for certain was that this craft had zig-zagged over the ship channels as though laying mines. NOTICE OF SALE North Carolina, Pitt County Under and by virtue of Chapter 44-2 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, the undersigned will on Monday, the 11th day of July, 1949, at 12:00 noon at the Courthouse door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, one 1941 Ford Tudor Sedan, Motor No. 18-6668168, South Carolina 1949 license D84199. # New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Challenges the Costliest... Costs Much Less!

GIVES "MAGIC" RESULTS IN COOKING, BAKING, FRYING. YET SELLS FOR 5¢ TO 7¢ LESS PER POUND THAN COSTLIEST SHORTENINGS!

Thanks to the skills and ingenuity of the famous Swift Research Laboratories a new, homogenized Jewel Shortening has just been introduced. Created to a new formula, the new Jewel employs a controlled

No Other Shortening Is More Digestible Or More Nutritious!
Don't be fooled—say scientists. Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible. Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats found in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods. Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2 1/4 times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins. In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

"New Jewel Can't Be Beat" says Memphis Homemaker

How does the new, homogenized Jewel compare with costliest shortenings in performance? Listen to what Mrs. J. A. Perry, 2681 Pershing Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, has to say on the subject. "I've tried the new Jewel," says Mrs. Perry. "There's nothing better for all fine frying and fancy cooking. For example, just recently I made a Jam Cake with the new Jewel that would melt in your mouth. It's also especially good for frying chicken." In conclusion, Mrs. Perry reported: "New Jewel can't be beat . . . and it costs less too!"

homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats. The result is a remarkably smooth and even-textured product of highest quality. Exhaustive tests by Martha Logan, Swift's nationally-known Home Economist show that the new Jewel is truly ideal for cooking, baking and frying. Jewel-made cakes, pies, biscuits and fried foods rival those of shortenings costing much, much more. What's more, new Jewel has a "smoke-point" 40° higher than that of costliest shortenings. Thus, even at temperatures above those required for perfect deep-fat frying, it won't smoke up or smell up your kitchen. Yet, for all its many advances, the new Jewel is sensationally low in price. Homemakers can purchase 4 pounds for the same price they usually pay for 3 pounds of costlier shortening brands.

Jewel a long-time favorite of the South

To hundreds of thousands of Southern homemakers, there's "magic" in the name of Jewel. First introduced in 1898, Jewel's fame spread quickly. Today, generations have come to know and to depend on its high quality—its uniform creamy-smoothness—the truly amazing results it brings. With the introduction of new, homogenized Jewel Shortening the fame of this fine product is destined to reach new heights.

Simple Test Proves Jewel "Smoke-Point" 40° higher than costliest shortenings!
WON'T SMOKE UP OR SMELL UP KITCHENS

In a recent test, the "smoke-point" of new Jewel was compared with the three costliest shortenings on the market. And in every single instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority. The test itself is so simple that it can be done in any home kitchen. Equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening are placed in two pans. A cooking thermometer, (two, if you have them) will help to verify exact temperatures. As heat is applied, the expensive brand begins to smoke and give off odors. Jewel, however, remains smoke-free long after the other shortening has been removed from the heat. It can, in fact, be left over 40° higher than its competitors. Home Economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400° before even a noticeable trace of smoke or odor would appear.

SPECIAL PECAN PIE RECIPE FROM SWIFT'S FAMOUS MARTHA LOGAN

Families who go for pecan pie (and what family doesn't!) will give a cheer for this special recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. It's easy, too! Just follow the 3 magic steps which Martha Logan has indicated for your convenience. 1. Line an 8-inch pie pan with paste

Survey Indicates Sales Hike If Prices Lowered

Washington, June 16—(AP)—Modest price cuts might be all this country needs to start sales booming again. That was the surprisingly simple implication of a federal reserve board survey of consumer buying prospects for the January 5-March 5 period Announced yesterday. It boils down to this: Unless they've changed their minds in the past 2 1-2 months, the American people have both the money and the desire for record quantities of goods—but at somewhat lower prices. Automobiles? There were not only more prospective buyers this year than last, but they expected to pay more for their new and used cars, the survey showed. The finding: Out of 52,000,000 families, 3,600,000 intended to buy new cars and 1,900,000 wanted used cars at costs averaging $2,060 and $710 respectively—an overall average of $1,600. Houses? More prospective buyers here, too, than a year ago—some two to three million of them—and they were resigned to higher costs. An average of $8,200 against the 1948 prospects' $7,400. More than 1,000,000 of the 1948 prospects wanted new houses—which is more new houses than will be completed this year. The demand was heaviest for "moderate priced houses of acceptable quality."

Shot Himself In Russian Roulette

Washington, June 16—(AP)—John R. Transue, 20, shot himself to death yesterday in a one-man Russian roulette game before his childhood sweetheart after she refused to marry him because she is only 16.

Montgomery County Coroner Dr. Frank J. Brochart issued a verdict of accidental death. He said he found no evidence Transue intended to kill himself. Transue, only child of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Transue, was an Army private stationed in Miami. He returned home from Florida yesterday.

The girl told police he picked her up at Woodrow Wilson High School and drove to Gobbler's Knob where he proposed. When he was unable to get her to change her mind that she was too young to marry he took a .38 caliber revolver from a glove compartment. He emptied the six chambers of all but one bullet, and spun the cylinder. Then he placed the revolver behind his right ear, pulled the trigger, and a soft-nosed bullet tore through his brain, piercing the steel top of the car.

The girl, daughter of a Chillum Md. car dealer, was taken home and placed under a doctor's care.

Says Air Force And Army Offer Graduates Much

High school graduates who volunteer and are accepted by the United States Air Force will have many opportunities to continue their education. Capt. Ralph W. Perrese of the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, announced today.

The Air Force is placing emphasis upon educational standards, the Captain explained, because so much of its work calls for highly developed skills and above-average intelligence. The intelligence and educational level of the average Air Force recruit today, he added, is at a record peak in the history of large military organizations.

Air Force recruits have an opportunity to obtain academic instruction, he said in at least three ways: (1) Taking correspondence courses under supervision of the United States Armed Forces Institute. (2) Attending classes at nearby colleges during off-duty hours. (3) Taking part in group instruction classes at Air Force Bases. In all three methods, said the Capt., the Air Force pays a substantial part of the cost. In addition, he said, airmen have many opportunities to attend technical schools as an important part of an Air Force career.

FIRST FATALITY
Charlotte, June 16—(AP)— Jacqueline Spruell, 11, drowned yesterday in the Charlotte Municipal pool. It was the first fatality in the nine years the city has operated the pool.

BELOW IS SECOND BEST PRIZE WINNER'S LETTER

Why I Should Trade at My Home Owned Independent Retail Food Stores.

Realizing that the independent retail grocer is as up-to-date as tomorrow, I shall voice the opinion of a future citizen, today.

The link in the chain of better circumstances for Greenville's health, churches, schools and roads gets my first consideration. In the purchasing of foods, the independent grocer is that unit. He will again circulate our dollars in our town, contributing to our growth and prosperity. In this way we benefit home industries, protect home betterment and avoid hard times.

As your independent grocer is an interested friend, he is helpful and trusts you. As he operates by selling the best quality merchandise he can get, and selling as reasonably as is consistent with proper store-keeping, you and I have everything to gain for ourselves, and community, and nothing to lose.

Let's take care of this "link" and let the chain take care of itself.

Greenies Do It Again; Capture Sixth Straight Victory; Trim Jays By 5-3

Locals Come From Behind With Four-Run Outburst In Seventh To Maintain Streak

By BERT MOYF

Successive doubles by Paul Strausser and John Tepedino, a walk to Willie Mauney and Manager Pappy Williams' homer over the left field wall with two men aboard in the seventh frame gave the Greenies their sixth straight victory as they triumphed over the Roanoke Rapids Jays to the tune of 5 to 3. The win for the Greenies gave them full possession of fourth place in league standings as Kingston lost to the Goldsboro Goldbugs at Goldsboro last night.

In the seventh frame the Jays had taken a 3 to 1 lead when Johnny Bass walked, Dewey Martine singled into left field and Milt Bolick came through with a homer over the left field wall to clear the bases for their only runs of the game.

The Greenies, prior to the seventh inning, managed to take a 1-0 lead in the fifth frame when Steve Denier walked, Norman Clark bunted to Pitcher Duke Maas who threw the ball wild to first with Clark reaching first on the error. Paul Strausser then laid down a bunt toward Third Baseman Al Washburn with Clark being caught at second but Denier made it safely to third on the sacrifice. Willie Mauney then singled into right field to bring Denier home for the first Greenies' run.

Norman Clark started on the mound for the Greenies and gave up only four hits, walked three, struck out six and allowed the Jays their three runs, when he was taken out for a pinch-hitter. However, he received credit for the win. Johnny Yohn went to his rescue and pitched the last two innings, holding the Jays to one hit, no runs and struck out one, walking none. Lockamy, leftfielder of the Jays, collected a double and single to lead the five-hit attack off the two Greenie hurlers.

The Jays used three hurlers in last night's contest with Duke Maas pitching the first six and one-third frames in which he allowed three runs, struck out three and walked six, when he was relieved by Alton Brown in the seventh with one out after the Greenies had collected two successive doubles. Brown went in to finish the seventh inning and allowed two more runs on one hit and was the losing pitcher in the game. Bergstrom pitched the final frame against the Greenies and held them hitless and scoreless.

John Tepedino really showed brother Frank how to hit the ball in last night's game as he collected a double and two singles in four trips to the plate to lead the Greenies' seven-hit attack off the three Jay hurlers. Brother Frank failed to get a single blow. The other four hits collected by the Greenies were scattered among as many Greenville players with Pappy Williams getting a homer and Paul Strausser a double for extra base hits for the Greenies.

The Greenies are on the road for the next two nights, playing a return game with the Roanoke Rapids Jays tonight and then moving over to New Bern Friday night when they meet the Bears in a twin bill there.

Tigers vs. Athletics

The Third St. Tigers went into a three way tie for the Senior Division by defeating the Athletics Wednesday morning by the score of 10 to 5. Each team scored three runs in the first inning, but after that the A's could get only one run off of Larry Flye, who worked on the mound for the Tigers. The Tigers scored three more in the fourth and salted the game away with four tallies in the sixth. Larry Flye with a double and single led his team at the plate, Sydney Briley, the A's pitcher, led his team's offense with a double and triple.

Reds vs. Dodgers

The Reds from W. Greenville scored heavily in the middle innings to win their second start of the season, taking a 15 to 10 victory over the Dodgers of Third St. Costly errors in the outfield proved to be the downfall of the Dodgers. Bob Howell had a perfect day at bat for the Reds with three singles and a triple. Jimmy Hendrix was not far behind with two triples and a single in three trips. George Siders, Jimmy Pleasants and Jackie Cox got two hits each for the losers. Harrington hit for the circuit for the Dodgers.

Indians vs. Red Sox

The league leading Red Sox of the Training School continued their winning way defeating the Indians in the Middle Division yesterday by the score of 20 to 9. The Sox have yet to lose having won all of their games to date. Joe Taft with a triple and two singles, Charles Rumbley with three singles, and Williams, Tyndall, Thomas with two hits each were the leaders for the Red Sox. Cannon got two singles to lead the Indians.

Only Gene Sarazen (1922) and Ben Hogan (1948) have won the U. S. Open and PGA golf titles in one year.

The New York Giants of 1930 posted the highest team batting averages in modern major league history—319 in 1930.

Trade Deadline Passed Quietly

New York, June 16 —(AP)— The deadline for major league deals passed at midnight last night, but the "big deal" never came off.

Nobody was sure what the "big deal" would be. But anybody who put any stock in the hundreds of rumors that were floating around must be surprised to find so few changes.

These were the deals completed in the final hours:

Pittsburgh bought an outfielder from the St. Louis Cardinals and then peddled him to the Boston Braves for catcher Phil Masi. The Pirates promised the Cards a minor league player at the end of the season and tossed in considerable cash in the Boston transaction. Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs swapped four outfielders. Hank Sauer, older brother of Ed, and Frankie Baumholtz went to the Cubs in exchange for Harry Walker and Harry Lowrey.

Pittsburgh also sold infielder Bobby Rhawn to the Chicago White Sox for the $10,000 waiver price.

The only American league deal of the closing days was completed Monday, when Boston sent outfielder Sam Mele and pitcher Mickey Harris to Washington for pitcher Walter Masterson.

Also on Monday the Reds sent catcher Ray Mueller to the New York Giants for catcher Walker Cooper. The next day the Giants sold another catcher, Mickey Livingston, to the Braves for the $10,000 waiver price.

In 1913, Walter Johnson hurled 56 consecutive shutout innings for the Washington Senators.

The NCAA gymnastics championship will be decided at the University of California this year.

Cerdan And LaMotta To Weigh In Again For Bout

Detroit, June 16—(AP)—To avoid the threat of an international boxing incident, both middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan of French Morocco and challenger Jake La Motta of New York's Bronx will weigh in again today for tonight's once-postponed title bout at Briggs Stadium.

The weatherman promised "partly cloudy" weather but none of the rain that caused the postponement yesterday.

Long after the Michigan State Boxing commission first ruled that no new weigh-in was necessary, the two managers got together and agreed to let their boys step on the scales a second time. They "made up" only after hours of wrangling into the early morning.

Jo Longman, the excitable Parisian manager of Cerdan, talked about an "international incident" and the danger of losing the title to a "light heavyweight" when it appeared that Jake and Marcel would not have to weigh in after the postponement.

La Motta hit 159 1-2 yesterday noon and it was agreed he would have trouble getting under the 160-pound class limit again today. For that matter, Cerdan, too, will have difficulty although he got in comfortably at 158 yesterday. Both at well, thinking no second weigh-in would be necessary.

Floyd Stevens, chairman of the State commission, summoned reporters to a hotel suite early today to announce the change of plans with the weigh-in at 10:30 a. m. and each fighter to make the required weight at 2 p. m. (EST).

Pick Columbus As Tourney Site

Asheville, June 16—(AP)—Directors of the Southern Golf Association last night picked the Columbus, Ga., Country Club for the 1951 Southern Amateur Golf tournament.

Next year's tournament had been awarded to the New Orleans, La., Country Club.

The association also decided to discontinue indefinitely its four-ball tournament. No site had been set.

Motor City Open Starting Today

Detroit, June 16 —(AP)— The cream of the nation's pro golfers will tee off today in the 72-hole grind for first prize money of $2,900 in the $15,000 Motor City Open Golf tournament.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff's victory in the National Open golf tournament at Chicago last week installed him as favorite in the field of 124 which includes a handful of amateurs.

It would take about 3,000,000 earths to equal the bulk of the sun.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Only the brave
BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 18
Connie drove away rather hurriedly, leaving him looking after her much in the same manner he had looked after Chuck Gale, was Connie, too, hinting that Glenn might in some manner be responsible for the loss of his stock? Connie, of all people!

He went up to the office and looked through John Stover's files until he found a folder labeled "Slug Benjamin." Here he found an account of Slug's arrest in Stover's handwriting.

Aug. 12. Shot Amos Grubb, who had accused him of stealing gold. Grubb went after him on Main Street without a gun. Slug fired three shots. First two missed. Third killed Grubb. Claimed self-defense. Arrested him for murder.

Searched him. Six dollars and forty cents in notes and silver. Knife, gun, watch, papers, tobacco, matches. Silver mounted rabbit's foot. Held for grand jury.

There followed notations showing the hours of Glenn's visits, and a brief account of Glenn's escape after killing the night guard. That was all except for a single line at the foot of the page.

Shot Sam Tolson last night. Me next?

Jeff went over to Glenn's place and let himself in. He was a bit angry with himself. "Person'd think I was trying to pin something on the boy," he grumbled. "I ought to be kicked. But Glenn said Slug gave him five hundred dollars, and I can't help wondering where Slug got it."

Jeff rode to Briscoe the next day and sought out Sheriff Mort Shane. He talked with Shane and promised his cooperation in exchange for any help he might need from the sheriff.

Jeff said good-bye and started for Glenn's office. The red and green globes of an apothecary shop halted him in his tracks. He turned and entered the place and an elderly man came up to wait on him.

"I'm Marshal Tyler from Cougar," announced Jeff, and showed his badge. "You sold any arsenic lately?"

"Arsenic? Yes, I think I have. Some time last week, I believe. Let me see; it was a stranger who bought it. Of course! It was that new lawyer that just opened an office in town. What's his name? Griever, or—"

"Gleason?"

"That's it! Gleason."

"Nobody else?"

"Nobody else. Not recently, that is. Not for several months."

"Thanks."

Jeff walked blindly from the shop. Glenn had bought arsenic. Glenn! He headed for Glenn's office, stunned, unbelieving, for the moment incapable of coherent thought. Glenn had purchased arsenic. Why? In another moment he would know and would hate himself for doubting the boy.

Glenn was at his desk and was surprised to see him.

"Well! What brings you to Briscoe?"
