

Senate To Decide Enforcement Rule

Choice Between Injunctions Or Seizure In Dealing With Strikes That Imperil National Health Or Safety Confronts Lawmakers

Washington, June 17—(AP)—A choice between injunction or seizure confronted the senate today as it entered the second round of arguments over how to deal with strikes that imperil the national health or safety.

While five proposals were vying for votes, what the Senators really were trying to decide narrowed down to these alternatives:

- 1. Continue specific government power to get court injunctions, as in the Taft-Hartley act. Labor unions are solidly against this.
2. Avoid any mention of injunctions but authorize the government to seize an industry. This is another way of authorizing an injunction if it becomes necessary, but it is not nearly so bad in the eyes of most labor leaders.

The big contest was expected to be between two proposals which draw the issues most clearly.

One, by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and other Republicans, would authorize injunctions in so many words—and seizure too. The other by Senators Douglas (D-Ill) and Aiken (R-Vt) would authorize only seizure. This is supported by the Democrat leader, Senator Lucas of Illinois.

The showdown might come early next week. Consideration of National Emergency strikes began yesterday after the senate passed two more non-controversial amendments to the Truman administration labor bill.

That bill, in addition to its original purpose of repealing Taft-Hartley and restoring an enlarged version of the 1935 Wagner act, now contains provisions for:

- (1) Non-Communist and non-Fascist oaths from union and company officers; (2) Financial reports from unions and companies; (3) Keeping salaries of national labor relations board members at the present $12,600 a year instead of $17,500 as in the original Truman bill; (4) guaranteeing "free speech" to labor and management alike; (5) requiring both to bargain in good faith.

In the maneuvering, Douglas, a Senator for less than six months, jockeyed the proposal he is sponsoring into a position where it is scheduled to be voted on first. Furthermore, if it loses in that test, it will automatically come up for another vote later.

7 Grandmothers

Hazleton, Pa., June 17—(AP)—Six-month-old Gale Ruth Tressler had better learn to say "Grandmom" real quick, she has seven living grandmothers. Baby Gale was presented to all her grandmothers at a family reunion this week. They range from great, great grandmothers to just plain grandmothers.

Archbishop Is Prisoner Of Czechoslovak Police

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 17—(AP)—Archbishop Josef Beran head of Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Roman Catholics, was a virtual prisoner in his own palace today, as the communist government's war on the Church appeared nearing a climax.

A reliable informant described the Prague archbishop's status as "house arrest."

Two priests from Archbishop Beran's constituency have been arrested and taken away by police after a raid on the consistory section of the archbishop's palace in which police tried to seize church records.

Neither priests nor laymen could get in to see the archbishop without undergoing a police identification.

The customary armed guard stood outside Archbishop Beran's palace. More significantly, the reception desk and telephone switchboard inside the palace gate were manned by secret police.

Two Associated Press correspondents who tried to see the archbishop were told by personnel at the reception desk that "the archbishop says 'No.'"

Raleigh, June 17—(AP)—A nine per cent decline in liquor sales in ABC counties last month was reported yesterday by State ABC Chairman R. W. Winston. Sales for the month were $3,243,280.60, compared with $3,554,869.85 in May of last year.

Frost Cut Deep In Fruit Crops

Raleigh, June 17—(AP)—Spring frosts cut heavily into North Carolina's peach and apple crops. June 1 prospects were for 1949 production well below the average the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said yesterday.

Senators Admit Hoffman Victor In Funds Fight

Push For Big Reduction In ECA Spending Said Now All Washed Up

Washington, June 17—(AP)—Senators said today that Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman had won his fight against a heavy cut in European recovery spending.

"The push for a big reduction is all washed up," Senator Robertson (D-Va.) told a reporter. Other members of the Senate Appropriations Committee agreed. Hoffman has battled with the committee in four long and rough sessions in defense of ECA's multi-billion dollar program. He was down for a return bout this afternoon.

The ECA chief pulled out his ace in the hole yesterday. This was a report showing that a $1,000,000,000 cut in recovery spending actually will mean less purchases of American cotton, tobacco, wheat, butter, lumber and other commodities. The feeling was that with some American business declining farmers and businessmen will want foreign markets especially.

The committee sentiment appeared to be that ECA will have to take another cut in the second year's program—but it will not be anywhere near the $1,000,000,000 some senators suggest.

The House voted ECA $2,568,470,000 to be spent in the first 10 one-half months of the fiscal year beginning July 1 if necessary. Hoffman said he would be satisfied with this and would try to spread the money over 12 months.

See Violation Of Atomic Security

AEC To Ask FBI Check On Story In Nat'l Magazine

Washington, June 17—(AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission will ask the FBI to check an article on atomic security in this month's "Nation's Business" to see if the story itself violates security regulations. Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal indicated yesterday that he thinks it may be a violation.

He described the article to the Senate-House Atomic Committee as "inaccurate," as well as "reckless and irresponsible," and said it refers to "the most highly classified" information.

"We are consulting at the earliest possible date with J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, about possible security violations," Lilienthal said. The article said, among other things, that the United States "should have" about 400 new atomic bombs.

"Nation's Business" is the official magazine of the United States Chamber of Commerce. As such, a note says, it "carries notices and articles in regard to the chamber's activities; in all other respects the chamber cannot be responsible for the contents thereof or for the opinions of writers."

In Albuquerque, N.M., the writer of the atomic story, William Bradford Huie, commented: "What I have written has been part of an effort to inform the American people of mismanagement. I welcome any investigation the FBI chooses to make."

'Reads Like Fantasy'

A Story From Mystic India Shows Up Situation Which Will Play Vital Part In War Of Ideologies; Religion Plays Major Part In Indian Life; Red Obstacle

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Out of mystic India comes a story so strange that it reads like fantasy. Attention is called to it here because it epitomizes a situation which I believe will play a vital part in the great war of the Ideologies developing in the Orient.

On July 1 the old princely state of Travancore will combine with the adjoining principality of Cochin and the 36-year-old Maharajah of Travancore will become Titular head. He will be responsible to the new government of India.

There's nothing startling in this transaction, of course, because some 565 principalities of India are being absorbed by the new Delhi government. The strange part is this:

For 200 years the real ruler of Travancore has been the Hindu God Padmanabha and the Maharajahs have acted as stewards of the Deity. The princes have sworn allegiance only to the God, and every night have deposited the keys of the state treasury at the God's feet in token of this, picking the keys up in the morning.

It took the Indian government about a year to persuade the present Maharajah to change the status of his state. He was fearful that he would be committing blasphemy if he swore allegiance to the Indian constitution or agreed to alter the boundaries of his state. The skeptical reader may say that the Prince was merely stalling

Govm't Rests In Alger Hiss Trial

Prosecution Completes Presentation As Last Witness Takes Stand To Vindicate Chambers' Testimony

New York, June 17—(AP)—The government today rested its case against Alger Hiss, former state department official accused of perjury to conceal evidence of espionage.

The prosecution completed its presentation in 14 trial days. The only witness called this morning was Benjamin H. Firsheim, a stenographer who testified that he misinterpreted testimony which Whittaker Chambers made before the house un-American activities committee Aug. 25, 1948. Chambers, a one-time Communist courier, was the key prosecution witness in the trial.

Firsheim apparently was the "surprise" witness with whom the prosecution had announced it would wind up its case. He was the 33rd person to testify for the government.

The house committee testimony figured in the searching cross-examination of Chambers by Lloyd Paul Stryker, Hiss' attorney. Chambers disputed the stenographic record of the committee hearing which quotes him as saying that the Hiss home in Washington was on "Dent Place."

Firsheim vindicated Chambers on this point. He said there was a question in his mind as to what Chambers had said, but that he made the word "Dent" instead of "Balt" after conferring with a member of the committee staff.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas Murphy had told newsmen after yesterday's climactic session of a "surprise" witness. Henry Julian Wadeigh, whose appearance also was a surprise, had just admitted that he stole U. S. secrets for Russia.

Wadeigh, one-time associate of Hiss in the state department, admitted on the stand yesterday that his Communist sympathies led him to turn over confidential documents for relay to Russian agents.

"I began to take out the documents and give them to unauthorized persons as soon as I joined the state department in March, 1936," Wadeigh testified in a cultured, clipped voice.

The Oxford-educated economist, along with Hiss and three others, has been named by Whittaker Chambers as "sources" of information that Chambers said he relayed to Soviet spies.

Wadeigh, who had kept silent before a Congressional committee nearly a year ago, testified for the prosecution that he "collaborated with the Communists" but was not a party member.

As an official in the trade agreement section of the state department Wadeigh said, he provided documents to both Chambers and to a David Carpenter.

Chambers, an ex-Communist who says he was a spy ring courier, has identified Carpenter as one of the men who helped to make photographs of the documents for relay to Russian agents.

Judith Coplon Denies All On Witness Stand

Declares Allegations In Indictment Against Her Are 'False'; Tells Story Of Kissless Romance With Russian

Washington, June 17—(AP)—Judith Coplon returns to the witness stand today to continue in detail her denial that she ever did anything wrong for her country.

In a 42-minute appearance on the stand late yesterday, the former justice department political analyst ran through her story of a kissless romance with a Russian and further told the jury trying her on espionage charges that:

All allegations in the indictment against her are "false." "She was never and am not" a Communist.

She never engaged in subversive activity of any kind. "Are you guilty of any offense against the United States?" her attorney, Archibald Palmer, asked. "I am not," she replied.

The five-foot, 100-pound brunette honor graduate of Barnard college testified before a packed court room.

As Palmer launched into his questioning, he skipped among dates and places and within a few minutes she had told of a two-month vacation trip to Europe, of her college years, and how she met a Russian. The Russian—the jury has seen him only via an FBI photograph—figures importantly in the case.

He is Valentine A. Gubitchev, 32, an engineer. Miss Coplon and Gubitchev were arrested together in New York March 4 after more than a score of FBI agents had trailed them about the city on three occasions.

Miss Coplon, who received $3,149.60 a year as a government worker, is charged with copying and removing justice department secrets with intent to aid a foreign power, Russia. She and Gubitchev also are under indictment in New York on espionage conspiracy charges.

Utilities Bond Sale And Paving Plans Approved

The Board of Aldermen in special session last night approved the sale of $700,000 Greenville Utilities improvement bonds and authorized asphalt paving for two blocks of Elm Street between Third and Fifth streets. Mayor J. H. Boyd presided.

The utilities bonds are the remaining portion of a $1,000,000 issue voted by the citizens sometime ago for improvement and expansion of the water and light facilities. The last major phase of the program is now in progress and it became necessary to sell the balance of the bonds to meet obligations on the work now being done.

Under the approval for the paving of Elm Street, the property owners agreed to pay the entire cost of the project and the city is to refund one third of the cost at such time as there may be another bond issue for paving programs in the city.

Historic Plane Is Saved From U.S. Scrap Heap

Tucson, Ariz., June 17—(AP)—Saved from the scrap heap, America's atomic bomber, the 'Enola Gay' took to the air again on a test hop yesterday.

Monday it is scheduled to fly to Washington, D. C., and eventually will be turned over to the National Air Museum of the Smithsonian Institute.

Relegated to the lane of idle planes, the 'Enola Gay' remained grounded at Davis-Manthan Air Force base for three years.

For a time this spring it appeared that the ship that dropped the bomb on Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945 would be dismantled. A change of plans, and now the big ship will be turned over to the museum during the Air Force convention which opens in Chicago on Aug. 1.

Moscow Refuses To Tell Fate Of War Prisoners

Soviets Let It Be Known They Want To Hear No More About Matter

Washington, June 17—(AP)—The Russians have refused to tell the United States how many German prisoners of war they still hold or how many have died in captivity. Furthermore, the Soviets say they want to hear no more about the matter.

Moscow's attitude was disclosed today when the State Department published the latest Soviet note on the long-standing controversy. The Department issued with it a statement renewing the United States charge that Russia still holds "several hundred thousand" German prisoners.

Moscow's note, received June 4, served notice that the Soviet government does not propose to carry on the controversy further. It asserted that the United States, Britain and France were to blame for what Moscow said was a failure to work out a four-power plan for repatriation of prisoners.

The State Department declared this was "misrepresentation" and added:

"Four years after the termination of hostility with Germany there still remain in Soviet custody several hundred thousand German prisoners of war. The Soviet government makes no mention in this note of any plans to return to their homes this large number of unrepatriated German prisoners of war."

The three Western powers have been prodding Russia about the prisoners for months. Last January 3 they served notice that all three Western powers had carried out their pledges to release all German prisoners. They called on Russia to do likewise. They said that Russian authorities on at least six occasions had made pledges to free the last captives by the end of 1948.

Teachers Attend College Meeting

More Than 20 Towns In Area Represented At Conference

Approximately sixty teachers of English representing schools in more than twenty towns in Eastern North Carolina attended yesterday, June 16, at East Carolina Teachers College a conference sponsored by the North Carolina English Teachers Association. Dr. M. N. Posey of the college faculty here, who planned the program for the day, acted as presiding officer at both morning and afternoon sessions. Discussions were devoted to phases of teaching literature, speech, reading composition, and grammar.

Dr. Ambrose L. Suhrie, emeritus professor of teachers-college education at New York University, spoke during the morning on Edwin Markham. Dr. Suhrie was a friend of the American poet and based his remarks on personal recollections of Markham and on a close acquaintanceship with his works.

Teachers of literature, said the speaker, should read great works to their students and so interpret literature through the spoken word. For those present he read a number of poems.

Warships Pay Official Visit

Portsmouth, Eng., June 17—(AP)—Ten U.S. warships, led by the 45,000-ton battleship Missouri, dropped anchor at dawn today for an official eight-day visit to Britain.

Four thousand officers and men and 1,200 Annapolis midshipmen making a six-weeks training course are aboard.

John L. Lewis Orders Miners Return Monday

Pittsburgh, June 17—(AP)—John L. Lewis has ordered his 480,000 United Mine Workers back to the pits on Monday.

John Bussarello, president of district No. 5 of the UMW, announced yesterday he had received a telegram from Lewis requesting the miners to end their week-long walk-out on schedule Monday.

Said Bussarello: "The telegram was short—just a few words and simply requested the end of the walkout on schedule. That's what I expected, of course."

Four thousand miners in the midst of new contract negotiations with the industry, called the walkout to "stabilize" the industry. The contract expires June 30.

Actually the miners will work only five days and then get another week off. On June 25 they start their annual paid vacation. They receive $100 apiece.

Meanwhile, a large group of coal operators lugged heads today to map strategy for forthcoming contract talks with Lewis.

The session includes the Northern, Midwestern, and far western operators, president George H. Love, of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, announced.

No date for start of talks with this group as yet has been set. Lewis already has swapped opening remarks with soft coal operators and the U. S. Steel Corp. owner of extensive mines. Talks with anthracite operators will begin July 7.

Extend Deadline In Attempts For Big Four Accord

Ministers Recess Until Sunday For Final Effort On Agreements

Paris, June 17—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers have stretched their unofficial deadline to make another stab at reaching accords on a snarled up Austrian independence treaty and a German trade pact.

Deadlocked early today after a grueling series of 11th hour sessions, the ministers recessed until Sunday and set still another meeting for Monday. The parley had been expected to end last night.

Informed observers said agreement on the German question seems near. They said the issue has boiled down to East-West differences of principle.

Hope for some sort of agreement was bolstered by the fact that the ministers extended their meetings. The German question hinges on a trade and transport accord, over which the ministers have been wrangling for days.

The situation has been complicated by the four-week-old Berlin rail strike, which is still on. The Austrian treaty promises to be a long, arduous task.

Even if the ministers settle their Austrian differences, the pact would take some months to write. Probably it would not be ready for signature until fall, when the ministers are reported planning to reconvene in New York.

An Austrian treaty might widen the gulf between Russia and Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito. Tito's government has put forth several war claims on Austria, which Russia in the past has backed. If the treaty signed, Russia will have withdrawn that backing.

The West believes this would move Tito closer towards them in an economic sense at least.

Furthermore, the Austrian treaty would help stabilize the overall European situation by relaxing tension. This would enable the countries of Western Europe to concentrate more on economic recovery than on military preparedness. The West thinks economic health in their part of Europe is the best possible antidote to Communism.

A Big, Sprawly Giant

The Government And How President Just Got A New Broom From Congress To Tidy Up The Confusion; Plan For Streamlining Must Be Approved By Lawmakers

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 17—(AP)—This is the story of a big, sloppy sprawly giant called the government. And it explains how President Truman just got a new broom from Congress to tidy up the giant.

Ever since its birth in the 18th century, the government has been getting too big for its britches: An agency here doing more or less the same kind of work being done by an agency there; an agency springing up under one department when it belonged inside another; a lot of people doing practically the same work a lot of other people were doing.

All this became pretty obvious. As long ago as 1912 President William Howard Taft sent an overhaul plan to Congress. Eventually Congress acted on some of it. Meantime, the giant got bigger.

President Taft's reorganization plan was the first. Other presidents after him had plans, particularly President Roosevelt.

Some were okayed by Congress. Still, the government grew bigger all it bulged. Finally, about two years ago Congress decided expert help was needed to study the whole government setup and suggest ways of pulling the nose ends together, lopping off fat, and making the whole thing more unbusinesslike and cheaper to run.

It set up a 12-man commission, helped by a big staff of experts and headed by former President Hoover.

The President will send a number of reorganization plans to Congress. He won't try to do the whole reorganization job in one plan or even in one year. Some plans now, some next year.

This will mean eliminating some agencies, combining others whose work overlaps, shifting others around to make them more useful, and, at the same time, cut down the expense of running the government.

Mr. Truman won't have a completely free hand. Before he can put any plan into effect, he must submit it to Congress. If, at the end of 60 days, Congress has done nothing to block the plan, he can go ahead, with it. Congress can block

Five States Pass Depression-Style Aid Laws But Study Indicates No Crisis; No Need For Federal Action Expected For Immediate Future

Washington, June 17—(AP)—Rising unemployment and swelling relief rolls have led five states to pass depression-style relief laws and at least seven cities to revive "work relief" projects.

But an Associated Press survey today suggested no national emergency. It found most states certain they could handle their relief load in stride.

It indicated joblessness has dwindled or stabilized in at least ten states in recent weeks or months. It showed that, almost everywhere, unemployment insurance has been a "cushion" to keep most laid-off workers off "poor relief" until they found new jobs.

An inside-government memorandum made available to A.P. suggests these findings. It says country-wide statistics "do not reflect the emergence of any new crisis." The report adds:

"The current relief situation does not appear to be one which requires (federal) action beyond that already recommended by the President."

President Truman has proposed federal grants for "home relief" to match state aid to "pauper families on the same basis as the federal funds now used for the blind, the aged, and dependent children. Officials say it would cost $230,000,000 a year, and more in bad times.

Mr. Truman said yesterday he does not consider the rise in unemployment and the dip in business a crisis, although total unemployment rose in May to 3,289,000.

Neither does the chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, but Nourse declared in a speech that a "continued downswing" in business is possible. It is too soon to say, the economist added, whether the outcome will be a leveling-off, a new inflation, or a "real" recession.

The Associated Press survey covered 38 states from which data were quickly available. In almost all of them, officials reported rises in the last year in both the relief burden and the number of people drawing unemployment pay.

Five states voted special laws to help cities and counties cope with the relief problem—Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Massachusetts. Three more are investigating the need—Michigan, Colorado and Idaho.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas Texas, first vice president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Clubs will be the principal speaker during the three day meeting.

More than 300 women from the 10 clubs in the district will attend the convention.

The convention for this year is under the sponsorship of District Seven of which Greenville is a part and Greenville will be in charge of the hospitality.

As part of the program being staged for the visiting clubs the Greenville club will present a bathing suit review from the year 1870 until the present day. The swim suits for the modeling are being furnished by Brody's in Greenville.

At the luncheon held today at the Ocean King, Mrs. Chester Walsh of Greenville presided. Tonight the Greenville group will be in charge of a banquet with Mrs. Ruth Meeks in charge.

The convention will close on Sunday morning with a breakfast given by the Ahoskie club.

About 25 to 30 women from the Greenville Business and Professional Club will attend the three-day meeting.

Plan Dance Tonight At Teen-Age Club

The Greenville Teen Age Club will have a dance tonight at the Teen Age Club located at the old N.Y.A. center.

Free refreshments will be served during the dance, according to club director R. B. Lee.

The Teen Age club will be open from seven until 10:30. In addition to dancing all types of games are on hand for use by those attending the club.

Two Are Injured In Auto Accident

Two persons were seriously injured yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident near Chicod School, the local highway patrol office reported today.

The injured, P. W. Brinson and Suzanne Brinson of New Bern, were taken to New Bern Hospital for treatment. The extent of their injuries is not known.

According to Patrolman R. H. Chadwick, who investigated the wreck, the accident occurred near Chicod School about 4:30. The automobile, a 1949 Plymouth, which Miss Brinson was driving, ran off the right side of the road onto a wet shoulder. She lost control of the car and the auto crossed to the left side of the road and struck a pole.

P. W. Brinson was a passenger in the car. The damage to the automobile was estimated at $1,000.

Newman Lewis, principal of the Chicod School, telephoned for an ambulance which took the injured to New Bern for treatment.

Mount Mitchell Thoroughly Wet

Mount Mitchell, June 17—(AP)—More than six more inches of rain fell here in the 24 hour period ending at 7:30 this morning. For the same period yesterday, 3.48 inches of rain were reported, and 3.23 inches reported Wednesday morning. That makes the total 12.82 inches for the last 72 hours—or more than an inch of rain every six hours for the past three days.

To Open Pool On Mondays Free For Children

Because of the large number of children who flocked to the Greenville swimming pool on children's day, sponsored by the local Elks Club, last Monday, Committee Chairman Erskine Duff said today new arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the swimmers.

On each Monday throughout the summer, with the exception of July 4, Duff said, the Greenville Elks will have the local swimming pool opened free of charge to all children who wish to go swimming. Under the new procedure, which has been set up because of the more than 300 children who jammed into the pool last Monday on the inaugural children's day, tickets will be passed out for 15 minutes before the beginning of each hour. When the pool capacity is reached, those children still waiting for tickets will be given tickets for the following hour. With the new plan, Duff stated, the pool will not be overcrowded, and more children will be given an opportunity to go swimming free of charge.

The pool will be open on Mondays from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon, and from 2 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Doris Yelverton Becomes Bride Of Henry M. Mercer Jr.

Fountain.—Miss Doris Lee Yelverton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mordecai DuBose Yelverton of Fountain and Henry Marvin Mercer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marvin Mercer Sr. of Walstonburg, were married Sunday afternoon, June 12th, in a candlelight ceremony in the Fountain Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Richard L. West, assisted by the Rev. Phillip Corey, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Wyley E. Yelverton, brother of the bride, organist, and Lynwood E. Pollard of Tarboro, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of heavy Duchess satin, which featured a high neckline with a yoke of imported illusion. The yoke was outlined with a satin bertha and an embroidery of pearl and chalk beads. The sleeves with self covered buttons extended into calla lily points over her hands. The bodice was fitted and the bouffant skirt worn over hoops extended into a cathedral train.

Her double tiered finger tip veil of imported candlelight illusion edged with chantilly lace cascaded from a satin coronet beaded in pearls. Her only adornment was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried her maternal grandmother's Bible on which was fastened her cascade bouquet of white bride's roses and stephanotis centered with a white purple throat-orchid. Miss Lucile Yelverton was her sister's maid of honor. Her dress was of ice blue taffeta worn over hoops. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline styled with a soft off shoulder bertha. She wore matching gauntlets and her hair that was fashioned of ice blue taffeta from which fell a full shoulder-length veil of ice blue marquisette. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and delphiniums tied with Better Times ribbon which extended to the hem line of her dress.

The bridesmaids were Miss Daphne Yelverton, cousin of the bride, Miss Evelyn Lawrence of Falkland, and Miss Ann Horton. Junior bridesmaids were Misses Earline Lang of Walstonburg and Kippie Williams of Nashville, cousins of the bride. All bridesmaids and junior bridesmaids wore ice blue taffeta dresses, gauntlets and headresses fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor. Their cascade bouquets were of American Beauty roses tied with matching ribbon.

Henry Marvin Mercer, father of the bridegroom, attended his son as best man. Ushers were Jack Beamon, foster brother of the bride, Ted Mercer, brother of the bridegroom, Hardy Henry, brother-in-law of the bride, and Bill Windham, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Yelverton, mother of the bride, wore a dinner gown of mist gray crepe and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Mercer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sea spray gown and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to unannounced points, after which they will make their home in Wilson. Prior to the wedding the bride's parents entertained at a dinner on the lawn. Approximately 90 guests, including the bridal party, the immediate families of the bride couple-elect, and out-of-town guests, attended.

Mrs. Mercer attended the public school of Fountain and Farmville and for the past three years has been in school at Peace College, Raleigh.

Mr. Mercer is a graduate of Fork Union Military Academy and at present is a member of the senior class at Atlantic Christian College, Wilson.

Mrs. Mercer has been the recipient of numerous social courtesies. At a bridge party given by Mrs. A. C. Gay, Miss Yelverton was an honored guest and received a gift of silver. Mrs. J. N. Fountain and Mrs. J. A. Mercer entertained at a luncheon in honor of Miss Yelverton who was presented a corsage and gifts of silver in her pattern.

Mrs. R. A. Fountain Sr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris entertained at bridge for Miss Yelverton. Miss Jacquelyn Speight, another bride-elect, was also honored. Both honorees were presented corsages and also gifts of silver and crystal. Miss Yelverton and Mr. Mercer were honored at a dinner party by Miss Nancy Pruden at her home in Wilson. Miss Yelverton received a gift of silver. Mrs. C. L. Owens, Mrs. J. L. Dozier, Mrs. Hardy Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Jefferson entertained at an informal tea in compliment of Miss Yelverton. A hundred and twenty-five guests called. Receiving with the hostesses and honoree were Miss Alice Turnage, Miss Jacquelyn Speight and Mrs. Arlene Davis, all brides-elect of June.

Mrs. E. B. Beasley was bridge hostess in honor of Miss Yelverton and presented her with a corsage and gift of china.

Mrs. Harrison Forbes entertained at her colonial home near Saratoga at a luncheon in honor of Miss Yelverton who was presented a corsage and gift of silver.

At the home of Mrs. G. W. Jefferson Sr., Mrs. Jefferson, Mrs. G. W. Jefferson Jr., Mrs. Paul Burnett and Mrs. Robert Pierce were hostesses at a bridge party for Miss Yelverton who shared honors with Mrs. Arlene Davis and Miss Jacquelyn Speight, brides-elect. All honorees received corsages and gifts of silver in their selected patterns.

entertained at a tea in Walstonburg honoring Miss Yelverton. Receiving with the hostesses and honoree were Lucile Yelverton, Ann Horton, Evelyn Lawrence and Daphne Yelverton, bridal attendants of Miss Yelverton.

Mrs. R. A. Fountain Jr. and daughter, Miss Betsey Fountain, were hostesses at a Coca-Cola party in honor of Miss Yelverton. The honoree was presented a corsage and gift of silver.

Miss Yelverton and Miss Jacquelyn Speight shared honors at a Coca-Cola party given by Mrs. L. P. Yelverton and daughter, Miss Daphne Yelverton. Both brides-elect were given corsages and gifts in their selected patterns. Mrs. W. R. Williams and daughter, Kippie Williams, were luncheon hostesses at their home in Nashville in honor of Miss Yelverton. Covers were laid for 35. At the place of the bride-elect was a corsage and she was also presented a gift of silver.

On Wednesday, Mrs. C. A. Lawrence and daughter, Miss Evelyn Lawrence, entertained at a luncheon at the Proctor Hotel in Greenville in honor of Miss Yelverton. The honoree's place was marked with a corsage and a gift of silver.

Miss Yelverton was honored at a Coca-Cola party on Thursday morning given by Mrs. D. R. Mercer. Gifts of china and a corsage was presented to the honoree. Mrs. Arlene Davis, another bride-elect, was also honored. Mrs. W. L. Owens and Mrs. Cecil Webb were luncheon hostesses on Saturday when they honored Miss Yelverton and Miss Jacquelyn Speight. Guests other than the honorees were the bridal attendants and out-of-town guests of the brides-elect. The honorees received corsages and gifts in their selected patterns.

On Saturday evening following the Mercer-Yelverton wedding rehearsal, Miss Ann Horton and Miss Daphne Yelverton entertained at a cake cutting. Guests included members of the wedding party, out-of-town guests and members of the immediate families of the bride couple-elect. After Miss Yelverton, assisted by Mr. Mercer, cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Yelverton, mother of the bride-elect, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Mercer, mother of the bridegroom-elect, served lime ice punch. There were approximately 50 guests present.

Luncheon Honors Bride-Elect Fountain.—Mrs. J. M. Horton and Miss Ann Horton entertained at a luncheon Friday, honoring Miss Jacquelyn Speight and her wedding party and honorary brides maids. The living room was decorated with roses, feverfew and baby's breath. A corsage marked the bride's place. The menu consisted of tomato juice with cheese straws, ham, green peas, salad stuffed with cream cheese, olives and nuts and bavarian cream cake for dessert. A pair of silver urns in her chosen pattern was presented to the honoree. Mrs. Hardy Johnson and Mrs. Dennis Mercer assisted the hostesses in serving.

Mrs. Daniel Owens of Herald Harbor, Crownsville, Md., spent Monday night with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Owens.

Flooding Mountain Rivers In State Slowly Begin To Drop

Asheville, June 17—(AP)— Flood waters in mountain rivers began to recede today. Families began returning to their homes. No casualties were reported.

The Swannanoa and French Broad rivers crested here early today and then began dropping rapidly. They had gone more than two feet above flood stage.

Heavy rains this week had wrought heavy damage throughout Western North Carolina, Eastern Tennessee and Northeast Georgia. Crops and dwellings in lowlands have been washed out, causing scores of families to seek safety on higher ground.

Asheville was practically cut off today from the West as the mountain streams surged over highways and swept away bridges. One highway official said that more than 15 bridges in his area alone had been washed out.

Earth slides, resulting from the steady downpour, blocked roadway in numerous places.

The rainfall, reaching more than nine inches in 18 hours in North-east Georgia, flooded the rivers near Clayton, Ga. Twenty families were left homeless. Rabun County Sheriff Lamont Queen reported that a tourist camp was partly swept away at Lakemont. The surging waters also carried away bridges and railway tracks in that re.

E. K. Arrowood, 83, who has lived at Lakemont all his life, said the high water was the worst he had ever seen.

Neighbors Help Burned Farmer

Ransomville, N. C., June 16—(AP)— Neighbors have rallied to the assistance of William Powell, a tenant farmer who was badly burned last February.

Neighboring farmers came with six tractors and 18 teams to plow his land and plant his crop in a single day. Since then they have assisted in the cultivation.

Now the Winsteadville civic club has undertaken a drive for funds to pay for a series of skin grafting operations to keep Powell from becoming a cripple.

Said one club member: "We feel this is too large an undertaking for the citizens of this small farming community to shoulder alone, and we feel that many others would be glad to help this cause if they knew of his plight."

Powell, who has a wife and three children, was badly burned when his clothing caught fire while he was burning brush.

Over 270 Million Pounds Of Leaf Sold By Co-Op

Raleigh, June 16—(AP)— The Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation has sold more than 270 million pounds of tobacco since it was formed in 1946.

The cooperative, which handles the government's price support program for flue-cured tobacco, will hold its annual membership meeting here on June 23.

T. Weeks, manager, said the cooperative bought 66.4 million pounds of the 1946 crop, 232 million pounds of the 1947 crop, and 106 million pounds in 1948.

Weeks said it still has on hand 8 million pounds of the 1946 crop and 30 million pounds of the 1947 crop and 90 million pounds of the 1948 crop, a total of about 128 million pounds.

STOLE FUNERAL MONEY
Derby, Eng., June 17—(AP)— Denis C. Clowes, 26, admitted in court he stole the money his father gave him to pay for his mother's funeral—$106.

He was sentenced to 31 months in prison.

About 45 per cent of the corn crop is fed to hogs.

Arrowood, a tourist camp operator, said every one of his 14 cabins "is waist deep in water." He added that three of his cabins had been swept away and the furniture is "floating around in the rest."

At Canton, 20 miles west of the 100 homes were threatened by the waters of the Pigeon river. The National Guard unit at Canton was alerted for 24-hour flood duty.

No official estimate was available as to the damage throughout the three-state area. No injuries were reported.

The French Broad River was expected to crest at 12 feet—three feet above flood stage—by mid-morning. One of its tributaries, the Swannanoa River, spilled over its banks in many low-lying places yesterday.

Ten-Ounce Milk Containers Are Again An Issue

Raleigh, June 17—(AP)— The State Board of Agriculture will tackle the problem of 10-ounce milk containers again next week.

That will be one of the principle items before the board at a meeting here Wednesday, Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine said yesterday.

Reconsideration of the problem was asked by C. B. Martin, president of Durham Dairy Products Inc., and Judge Junius G. Adams, president of the Biltmore Company, Asheville, as well as by George S. Coble, president of Coble Dairy Products, Inc., Lexington, Ballentine said.

The board rejected a similar request by Coble last summer and instructed D. S. Coltrane, then commissioner, to take legal steps when Coble continued to use 10-ounce containers. Board regulations limit milk container sizes to gills, half-pints, pints, quarts, half-gallons, and gallons.

The court action against Coble ended in a consent judgment for a non-suit without prejudice.

Ballentine said he has received numerous protests from consumers about the restriction against 10-ounce containers. Most of them said they got milk cheaper in 10-ounce containers, costing a dime, than in the authorized eight-ounce (half-pint) containers, which usually sell for the same price, he declared.

Four new members of the board are expected to attend their first meeting next week. They are J. E. Winslow of Greenville, J. Muse McCotter of New Bern, Glenn E. Gilmore of Julian, and O. J. Holler of Union Mills.

Bloody Shooting Is Just A Prank

Pasadena, June 17—(AP)— Excited citizens who telephoned police agreed on the details.

An automobile drove into a busy street intersection. A man leaped out, three others in the car fired at him repeatedly. Then they jumped out, picked up his blood spattered form and threw it into the car and drove away.

That happened at least twice yesterday. Police didn't get much excited. Just a prank of junior college students celebrating the end of school, they explained. The blood? Probably catsup.

Share Dropping

Washington, June 17—(AP)— For the first time in six years, farmers are getting less than 50 cents for each dollar spent by consumers for farm products.

The Agriculture Department said today that the farmers' share dropped to 49 cents in April, and it estimated that the figures will be about the same for May.

The Department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics said the farmer hasn't received such a small part of the consumer dollar since May, 1943. The peak of 55 cents was reached several times between November, 1945, and January, 1948.

Order Warnings For Small Craft

Miami, Fla., June 16—(AP)— Small craft warnings flew today along the Atlantic coast from Charleston, S.C., to Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The Miami Weather Bureau ordered the warnings up at 10 p.m. (EST) last night and said they would remain displayed for 24 hours. Fresh easterly winds and moderately strong winds in squalls were predicted in the area.

Denomination $1,000; principal and semi-annual interest (M and N), payable in New York City in legal tender; general obligations; unlimited tax; coupon bonds registerable as to principal alone; delivery on or about July 21, 1949, at place of purchaser's choice. There will be no auction.

Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates, not exceeding 6 per cent per annum in multiples of one-fourth of 1 per cent. Each bid may name one rate for part of the bonds (having the earliest maturities) and another rate or rates for the balance, but no bid may name more than four rates, and each bidder must specify in his bid the amount of bonds of each rate. Each rate bid must be for bonds of consecutive maturities. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder offering to purchase the bonds at the lowest interest cost to the City, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of the premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds under their respective maturities. No bid of less than par and accrued interest, or for less than all of the bonds, will be entertained.

Each bid must be on a form to be furnished with additional information by the undersigned, enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposal for Bonds," and must be accompanied by a certified check upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable unconditionally to the order of the State Treasurer of North Carolina, for $14,000.

The approving opinion of Mitchell and Pershing, New York City, will be furnished the purchaser. The right to reject all bids is reserved.

THIS IS THE ONE

of America's Four Finest Automobiles

THAT IS MOST MODERN, YET COSTS $875 TO $2,387 LESS* TO BUY

This year, when America's four finest cars are compared, it is apparent that one has created a new degree of motoring luxury.

Because now, for the first time, one is scientifically designed and built with the Unitized body-and-frame—the new, more modern way to build an automobile.

This one car is the new 1949 Nash Ambassador.

This one car has carried aerodynamic styling even to enclosure of front and rear wheels.

This one car achieves record roominess in passenger and luggage space.

This one car has a lower center of gravity, measurably greater stability on curves and at all road speeds.

This one car has America's only valve-in-head high-compression engine with 7-bearing crankshaft 100% counterbalanced. Its fine engineering produces gasoline economy up to 30% greater than the others.

This one car has features not to be found in any other of America's four finest cars—yet it costs $875 to $2,387 less* than the other three. Costs less to buy... costs less to operate.

Your Nash Dealer is eager to have you see and drive the Nash Ambassador today.

*Based on prices reported in Automotive News, May 30, 1949

ONLY THE MOST MODERN OF AMERICA'S FOUR FINEST CARS OFFERS ALL THIS

Famous High Compression, valve-in-head Ambassador engine with the jeweled smoothness of a 100%, completely counter-balanced 7-bearing crankshaft... like the power-plant of the world's most expensive automobile.

Automatic Overdrive! All the ease of semi-automatic transmission, without shippage, lag or power-loss.

Automatic Weather Eye. Fresh air ventilation and heat control. You never have dust, or know cold, front seat or back, in any weather.

Smoothest Ride! Of the four finest cars, only Nash offers the smooth, silent ride of coil springs cushioning all four wheels.

Ideal Head-Room, leg-room, elbow room and luggage space—and all in a low-silhouette automobile.

Twin Beds for Napping, while your partner drives, or luxurious sleeping-car comfort at night. Available only in Nash.

Girder-Built Unitized Body-and-frame, exclusive with Nash, is one solid welded unit, more rigid, safer, virtually rattle-proof and squeak-proof.

Alone of all Four Finest Cars, the Nash Ambassador offers the Uniscope... Cockpit Control... Uniflo-Jet Carburetion... Undivided, curved Windshields in all models.

Jays Stop Greenies By 4-1 As Victory String Broken

By BERT MOYE
 Greenville, six - game winning streak came to an abrupt ending last night at Simmons Park in Roanoke Rapids as Harry Owens pitched his fourth straight win to beat the Greenies, 4 to 1, in the only league game played last night.

The Jays scored all their runs in the second frame when they bunched two of their total four hits gathered off the offering of three Greenie hurlers, aided by three walks and one error. After Johnny Bass had been retired to start the inning, Al Washburn and Dewey Martling were issued walks. Buck Kilpatrick bunted and was safe when Mascarella booted the ball on the play to load the bases. Lacy flew out to centerfield for the second out. Then Pitcher Harry Owens came through with a three-run double, and he later scored when Manager Glenn Lockamy got a single.

The Greenies saved themselves a shut out by putting across their lone run in the eighth frame. John Tepedino led off with a triple and Willie Mauney doubled to bring him home. This was the first run scored off Pitcher Harry Owens in his last 23 innings on the mound.

Art Mascarella started on the mound for the Greenies and pitched the first one and two-third innings until the roof caved in on him in the second when the Jays iced the game, scoring four big runs. Mascarella had all four runs charged against him and was credited with the loss. Bobby Harrison pitched the next four and one-third and gave up no runs and only one hit when he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Don Purdy pitched the remaining two frames and held the Jays to one hit and no runs. Dewey Martling collected two singles in three trips to the plate to account for half of the Jays' hits.

Harry Owens, hurling his fourth straight win, two of which have been shutouts for the Jays, held the Greenies to five hits, all of which were well scattered with the exception of the eighth frame. He struck out eight Greenies and walked six. Sid Varney with two singles in three trips led the five-hit attack off Owens. John Tepedino collected a triple, Willie Mauney got a double and Bob Cohen got a single to account for the other three hits of the Greenies.

The Greenies continue on the road tonight when they travel to New Bern to play Bears a twin bill here tonight. They will be at home here Saturday night to the Bears and on Sunday will play Wilson here.

Sidelights

Well, you can't win them all but it is needless to say that the Greenies are still playing heads-up ball and despite their loss last night are still in fourth place in league standings, a half game ahead of fifth place Kinston. The loss for Art Mascarella last night was his sixth of the season, he has a record of three wins. The win for the Jays was their third over the Greenies this season as against seven reverses. The loss at Roanoke Rapids last night was the 17th defeat handed the Greenies away from home this season. They have won eleven away from home thus far. For your information radio station WCBC at Rocky Mount will carry the Wake Forest-Notre Dame baseball series which gets under way today.

Boys' League Baseball

All the morning games in the Boys League were rained out yesterday and will be played at a later date. The afternoon games were washed out before enough innings could be played to count as a game. When the rain came the Cubs of Third Street and the Giants of the Training School were having a nip and tuck battle with the score all tied up at 6-6 after three innings of play. Dick Evans of the Giants hit two triples before the rain came and Bobby Edwards also of the Giants had two singles. Sugg of the Cubs had two singles for the three innings.

Hamilton Holds 3-Stroke Lead In Motor City Open

Detroit, June 17—(AP)—Lanky Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., held a three stroke lead in the $15,000 Motor city open golf tournament today, thanks to his deadly short irons and an assist from the weatherman.

Hamilton fired a 31-31-63, eight under par, to set a new competitive course record at Meadowbrook Country club yesterday in the first round of the four-day tournament.

He held the three stroke margin over Dr. Gary Middlecoff, the new national open champion from Memphis, Tenn., and Henry Ranson of St. Andrews, Ill., who tied with 66's.

For Hamilton, it was one of his best days since he won the PGA title in 1944. His short irons were working perfectly and the six-foot, slender built marksman left himself with putts of less than eight inches on several holes.

Notre Dame And Deacons Meet

South Bend, Ind., June 17—(AP)—Notre Dame's Midwest championship baseball team squared off against Wake Forest, Southeastern titleholder, today in the opener of a best-two-out-of-three series for a berth in the N.C.A.A. finals at Wichita, Kans., June 22-25.

Wake Forest entered the regional series with the Irish with a 24-2 season record. Notre Dame took the district four (Middle West) elimination series after compiling a regular season record of 18 wins and six losses.

The modern major league record for most bases on balls given up in a season is held by Bob Feller who walked 208 men in 1938.

Weather Affecting Attendance At Pool

The attendance at the Greenville swimming pool yesterday was about 80 people. Last Wednesday a week ago the paid admission at the pool was 320.

The bad weather which has prevailed in Greenville for the last few days has had much to do with the small attendance, said David Jones, cashier for the local pool.

The pool is open each morning, afternoons and at night during the week. The pool is not open on Sunday or Saturday nights.

Eddie Waitkus To Again Play Ball Say Doctors, But Not This Season

Chicago, June 17—(AP)—Eddie Waitkus will play major league baseball again—but probably not this season—says one of the physicians attending the seriously wounded Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman.

Dr. L. L. Braun, team physician for the Chicago Cubs, said it was "still uncertain" whether Waitkus, shot near the heart by an infatuated teen age girl, will be back in the Phillies lineup this season.

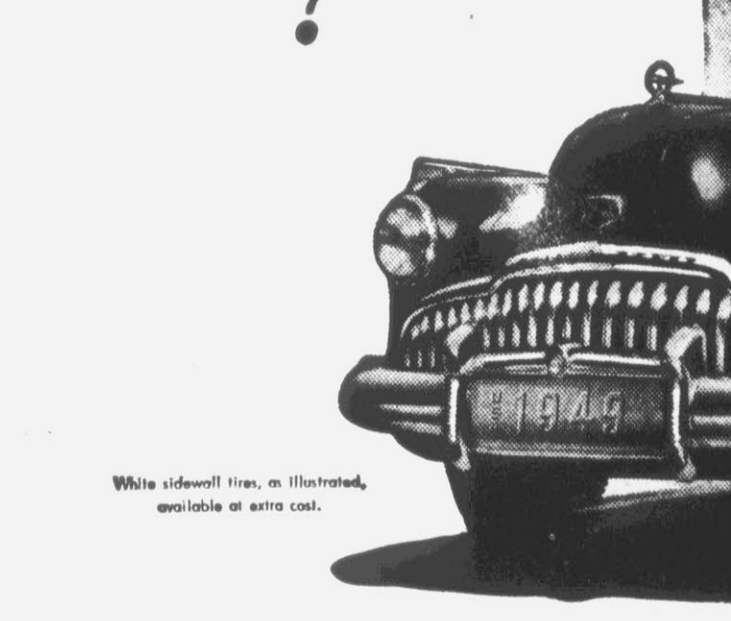

"But I am quite sure," Dr. Braun said, "he will be back playing baseball. Just when it will be I cannot say."

Waitkus has been in the major

The longest scoreless major league game was played between the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field September 11, 1946. It went 19 scoreless innings, was called on account of darkness after 4 hours and 40 minutes of play. Johnny Vander Meer pitched 15 of the 19 innings for the Reds, striking out 14 and giving up 7 hits. The Dodgers won the play-off game by a 5 to 3 score.

The last major league spitball pitcher was Burlleigh Grimes, who bowled out in 1934. All pitchers then using the spitball were allowed to continue using it after this pitch was barred in 1920. Grimes was a youngster in 1920, so he stuck around longer than any of the others: 14 years.

Just how high is "HIGH COMPRESSION"?

WHEN the talk turns to cars and car engines these days, that's a topic you hear much about.

So it's fairly interesting to note that, even back before the war, Buick engines like this one were touring the testing grounds with compressions as high as 10 to 1.

Even later than that this same big Buick power plant has been filling our engineers' notebooks with data on 8 to 1 compression ratios.

What has come out of this? Two or three interesting points.

First of all, that this big Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight already has a compression ratio that

Lamotta Takes Cerdan In Tenth; To Meet Again

Detroit, June 17—(AP)—The "new" Jake La Motta today holds the world middleweight boxing title he chased for eight years but he doesn't know when he can cash in on the prize.

La Motta, an official 10th round knockout winner over Marcel Cerdan of Casablanca last night at Briggs stadium, has a bad hand to show for his trouble. Cerdan, the dethroned champ, has a pulled shoulder muscle.

Jake's crew probably will have x-rays taken of the puffed-up left mitt today. Cerdan's handlers said they would fly Marcel to New York today for further examination.

That leaves the return match, a must according to the original contract, up in the air.

Jake must meet Marcel again with each receiving 30 per cent of the gate in his first defense. The site and date have yet to be determined but a New York park in September would be a good guess.

Jake has to leave his money in escrow until he makes his defense. Cerdan had to do the same thing after beating Tony Zale for the crown last September. La Motta's 15 per cent will be about $19,171.50. Marcel will get 40 per cent or about $51,124.000 of the net gate of $127,000.

er although she had never met him until she lured him to her room in the Edgewater Beach hotel Tuesday night.

La Motta, 8 to 9 underdog in pre-fight betting, was a bit sorry that Cerdan's injury had made his victory easier.

The reformed Bronx "bad boy" felt he could have taken Cerdan anyway regardless of the injury and the way Jake started out, most of the crowd agreed with him.

The last foreigner to win the U. S. Open was Ted Ray of England who triumphed at the Inverness Club in 1920.

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 19

Remembering that it was part of his duties as outlined by Job King to keep the squatters under observation, he spent the rest of that week scouting the south edge of the valley.

He traced trails out and found quite a number of cattle. Pains-takingly he rode about, examining brands; and finally he cut out a cow which wore the Crown brand of Job King. Just one, but that was enough. She was being used, he judged, for breeding. He didn't risk searching further.

Jeff was back in Cougar by noon on Saturday, and there at his desk in the Town Hall he reviewed his findings and reached certain conclusions.

He told his deputy, "It's Saturday and Chuck Gale ought to be somewhere about town. Go out and see if you can find him. Tell him I want to see him here, alone."

Within fifteen minutes Jeff heard the thump of boots on the stairs and Chuck Gale halted in the doorway.

Jeff nodded to him. "Come in, Chuck, and sit down. I want to have a heart-to-heart talk with you."

Chuck glanced about, looked behind him into the hall, then came in and closed the door.

"What do you want to talk about?" he asked, as he seated himself.

"Cattle, Crown cattle. I need a little advice, and I think you're the man who can furnish it."

"Yeah?" Chuck was watching him suspiciously.

"Yes. Here's my problem: The Crown has been losing stock right along, a little at a time."

Chuck's face was as stony as ever, but his hard eyes were glinting. "Go on," he said.

"Sure. Now suppose I should get the idea that the nesters along the fringe of the valley were slipping Jeff's stock away one at a time. Suppose I nosed around and found trails leading up into the hills to some park pretty close to the headquarters of a certain rancher. Suppose that I even found some Crown breeding stock mixed with the stock of that rancher. In that case, Chuck, that would you advise me to do?"

Chuck grinned sardonically. "That's easy. Get a big posse and go up there and call for a show-down."

Jeff nodded. "That was my first thought, but there are several objections to such a course. In the first place, it would mean that somebody on both sides would get hurt, maybe killed. In the second place, the responsibility for that attack would be with me, and if that certain rancher pointed out that he didn't own those parks, that they were open to anybody who wanted to graze cattle there, that the brands on the cattle hadn't been worked over, I'd be in a tough spot and the town of Cougar, as my employer, might be open to suit for damages."

Chuck's grin broadened. "You don't say! Never thought of that."

Jeff was quite sure that he had thought of it. "You didn't? Well, there it is."

"Mister, you don't need any advice from me. You know that you ain't got a case against this rancher. He ain't rustlin' or handlin' rustled stock, for as long as the brands ain't changed he can't sell that stock. And if he can't sell 'em, what'd be the use of havin' them?"

"Well, he might use them to breed. Especially if they were particularly good stock. Calves, you know, are born without brands, or earmarks. As soon as they were weaned he could slap his own brand on them

1949, of Pitt County Superior Court, the undersigned will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, at the Court House door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 12:00 o'clock Noon, on Wednesday, July 6, 1949, the property described in said judgment, to-wit:

Big Vocabulary Said Important

"Vocabulary growth is the ultimate test of academic achievement and of thinking power," Dr. Ambrose L. Suhrie, professor emeritus of teachers-college education at New York University, told students of East Carolina Teachers College Thursday morning, when he addressed them at a specially scheduled assembly program in the Austin auditorium on the campus. He advocated a vocabulary - building program of seven new words a day. Dr. Suhrie was introduced by President John D. Messick of East Carolina. An audience of approximately 500 students and faculty members attended the program.

The English language, the eminent educator said, is spoken by 250 million people living on every continent in the world. "It is the language of one eighth of the human race," he said. Pointing out that such a scholar as Woodrow Wilson is said to have had 60,000 words at his command Dr. Suhrie told the college students that many freshmen can use only 7,000 words. "We cannot think without words," he said. Students, he continued, if they are to succeed in the main purpose of a college education, learning to think, must enlarge their vocabularies. The average college student, he said, must learn 2,000 new words each year. Then, Dr. Suhrie pointed out, in the four-year course, the student will more than double his vocabulary. "Seven new words a day," he stated, "are about what you should learn. Continue this program during vacations," he added.

Dr. Suhrie urged students and teachers to lay great stress on lucid, concise, and forceful expression of ideas. Cleverness, picturesqueness, and artistry follow when clearness has been attained, he said.

Teachers Attend . . . (Continued from page one) ber of selections from Markham's works and discussed the social philosophy of the poet. Dr. Suhrie spoke again in the afternoon on the subject "Our Mother Tongue." He was introduced to the audience by President John D. Messick of East Carolina.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins of Dowagiac, Mich., speech consultant during the summer term at East Carolina, talked on "Meeting Speech Problems." A specialist in the education of exceptional, or handicapped, children, Mrs. Perkins analyzed various of the speech difficulties of school children and gave illustrations from her experience as a teacher.

Seventy per cent of the speech difficulties of children, she said, are articulation defects. She stressed also the causes and the correction of stuttering and outlined case histories to show that this defect is many times caused by psychological maladjustments. At the request of those present she told something of her work among children who have difficulties in hearing.

Speakers of the afternoon and their topics were Dr. Hazel Taylor, head of the Testing Center at East Carolina, "Improving Reading Ability," Deanie Boone Haskett of the Greenville High School, "The Source Theme," and Edward J. Rutan of the department of English at East Carolina, "Grammar as Meaning."

The conference today was one of a series held annually on the college campus here and designed to bring together English teachers of this section of the state for discussion of their common problems. Dr. Posey has served as chairman for the past several years.

Sigmund Spaeth To Visit Campus

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, who has been called "America's most popular speaker and writer on music," will appear at East Carolina Teachers College on Tuesday evening, June 21 at 8:00 o'clock in the Austin auditorium under the sponsorship of the college Entertainment Committee. Ellen Rion Caldwell, committee chairman, has just announced Dr. Spaeth's lecture-recital is the first number of the summer entertainment series on the campus.

Now chiefly occupied with writing and broadcasting, Dr. Spaeth is one of the most widely known music writers in the United States and is the author of twenty-one books, ranging from his popular "Barber Shop Ballads" to scholarly works on music. During the past five years he has appeared on the Metropolitan Opera Quiz and through it has become known to a vast radio audience. Celebrated as a "tune detective" who traces popular melodies to their origins, Dr. Spaeth lectures informally at his public appearances, illustrates his ideas with selections on the piano, and welcomes comments and questions from the audience.

Bible Class On Tour Of Fire Department

The daily Vacation Bible classes of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church toured the Greenville Fire Department today. The groups were told of the use of the many pieces of fire equipment at the station and were allowed to inspect the equipment. Fire Chief George Gardner conducted a question and answer session with the children asking any and every question about the Fire Department.

He charged that in the middle Asia areas of the Soviet Union there are virtually "no Moslem inhabitants left."

Of course the Hindu and Moslem religions are far from being the only ones in the Orient. There are numerous others, but one and all they probably represent Communism's toughest enemy. Even the man who worships a stone idol isn't going to give up his God. Just how this will work out in China remains to be seen. Perhaps the religious resistance there won't be so stubborn as in many other countries, because a large percentage of Chinese subscribe to ancestor worship. Buddhism is the dominant religion, but there are some 48,000,000 Moslems and several million Christians, all of whom may be expected to battle for their faiths. In any event, it will be an Epochal fight.

Reading Club Opens At Library; Record Number Attending

The summer reading club sponsored by the Shepard Memorial Library each summer got under way yesterday with a record crowd of boys and girls in attendance. An Indian theme is being used this year and books about Indians are being featured. At the start of the reading program each boy and girl was given an Indian chief's hat, and for each book read the pupil will receive a feather to wear in the hat. The boy or girl that has the greatest number of feathers in his or her hat will be the leading reader in the club. All boys and girls who did not join yesterday may join some time this week.

New York, June 17—(AP)—Cotton futures today opened 25 to 45 cents a bale higher. Noon prices were 35 to 50 cents a bale higher than the previous close. July 33.00, Oct. 29.35 and Dec. 29.10. Futures closed 35 to 75 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 17—(AP)—Most grain contracts ended lower on the board of trade today after a listless session of backing and filling. Corn and oats showed some strength in early dealings, but sank in the last 15 minutes along with an easier tone in wheat. The bread cereal met selling in view of another clear day in the Southwest speeding up harvesting operations. Wheat closed 3/4 lower to 1/2 higher, July $1.93 1/2-1/4, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, July $1.30 1/4-1/4, oats were unchanged to 1/4 lower, July 59 1/4-1/4, rye was 1/4-1/4 lower, July $1.35, soybeans were 1 to 2 cents higher, July $2.28 1/4, and lard was 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.55.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, June 17—(AP)—The stock market wandered aimlessly today in one of the slowest sessions in years. Price changes either way were mostly in minor fractions. A slight downward tendency developed in early trading but later on a timid comeback cut down morning losses.

The ticker tape took long and frequent rests. Turnover was at a rate of only 500,000 shares or so for the full session.
