Predict Victory On Housing Bill By Easy Margin

Demo House Leaders Claim 30-Vote Edge; Opposition Refuses To Give Up

Washington, June 23—(AP)—Administration Democrats confidently predicted victory as the slim-bang house debate on public housing started off with a fist fight—went into its second day.

House leaders claimed a margin of 30 votes for President Truman's hotly contested housing bill. One of the major domestic points of his "fair deal" legislative program.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters the administration is sure to win.

However, lawmakers spearheading an opposition team of Republicans and Southern Democrats insisted the issue is still in doubt. Rep. Wallace (R-Ind.) said Republicans may have substituted ready when voting begins, probably tomorrow.

The opposition appeared split over whether to make an all-out fight to kill housing legislation for this year, or offer a substitute.

Halleck said some Republicans are discussing compromise, but he added that if a substitute is offered "there will be no surrender on fundamental principles."

Opponents shouted "Socialism" at the bill yesterday as floor debate opened, and cried that the administration proposal imperils the financial soundness of the government.

The bill's backers—including some Republicans—kept up a running argument that billions put into publicly-owned housing would be a good investment in better citizenship, by reducing juvenile delinquency and crime, improving health, and installing confidence in democracy.

The legislation proposes a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent public housing and farm housing aids. Its cost has been estimated all the way from $7,500,000,000 to $20,000,000,000.

The tension broke into a fist-swinging brawl yesterday. The principals were the 83-year-old dean of the house, Stephen Speth (D-Ill.), a stout supporter of the bill, and Rep. Cox (D-Calif.), a bitter opponent.

The scuffle developed in an argument over how long Cox could speak on the bill. Speth was controlling the time at that point. The word "liar" was flung, and each of the two landed a couple of blows as they stood toe-to-toe on the house floor.

Another member separated them before damage was done. Later Speth and Cox shook hands and said "sorry."

Nearly Finished Quizzing Coplon

Government Prosecutor John M. Kelley Jr. said he might finish his questioning before the end of the day.

Blisters Fail To Dampen Spirits

Jacksonville, Fla., June 23—(AP)—Mrs. Julia Roka St. Clair and her son, Dolphie, were approaching the Georgia line today "barefoot" as they began the third day of their journey to Detroit by wheelbarrow.

Though suffering blistered heels, Mrs. St. Clair was in gayer spirits than when she began the jaunt from Jacksonville.

"We're making out fine," she said.

Austrian Peace Hopes

The Paris Conference And How It Affected The Outlook For Austria; Dangers Of Immediate Strife Recede; Dr. Karl Renner Fearful Of Broken Unity

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Moscow's Communist party organ Pravda reaches the general conclusion that the big four Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris has aided in "easing" the international atmosphere.

We may accept that appraisal guardedly as correct, I believe, although we reach the conclusion by a different route than Pravda. Moreover, this easement would seem to have been achieved more because of what the conference proceedings imply than because of what they specifically carry out.

The atmosphere of the conference was that of a truce marking a forced halt to the great offensive which the Muscovites have waged since the end of the World War to extend Communist domination westward towards the English Channel.

The counter drive by the western democracies (the Marshall plan, the Atlantic pact, aid to Greece and Turkey, and so on) have been effective. The dangers of another global war have receded.

So the world does breathe easier. At the same time it knows—or certainly should know—that this isn't the finish of the conflict of the isms. That will continue, perhaps long after your time and mine. But so far as the western world is concerned, the Red drive is likely for at least the immediate future to be confined largely to fifth column activities

Acheson Takes Foreign Policy Talk To House

Appearance Before Committee Is Follow-Up To Appeal For Senate Haste On European Rearmament Program

Washington, June 23—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today carried to the House his sales talk for swift action on European rearmament after an encouraging visit to the Senate.

Acheson prepared to go before the House Foreign Affairs Committee following his report yesterday to the Senate foreign relations group on the results of the Paris foreign ministers conference.

He told the senators that the inability of the Western delegates at the conference to come to any real agreement with Russia emphasizes the need for both the North Atlantic pact and the related arms program.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, a Republican leader in foreign affairs, said afterward that "Congress can't adjourn without acting on both." Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois expressed much the same opinion. So did Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Acheson's plea also got backing from the nation's state governors, meeting at Colorado Springs, Colo. They passed a unanimous resolution urging swift pact approval, followed by any action needed to give the treaty "full force and effect."

Only the Senate need approve the Atlantic treaty. Both House and Senate would have to okay the plan to re-arm this country's Western European friends.

At his closed-door meeting with the senators, Acheson suggested that this process might be speeded if the House were to begin work on the arms proposal before the Senate completes action on the treaty.

which are aimed at crippling non-Communist countries economically and spreading the Red ism. And meanwhile, as Secretary of State Acheson told the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Russia intends to hold onto the gains she has made.

President Truman in his statement about the conference Tuesday found that "genius progress" was made toward the conclusion of a treaty with Austria. He pointed out that during the four years since the war's end Austria has been under a regime of occupation, although at the first Moscow conference in 1943 it was solemnly declared that she was to be regarded not as an enemy country but as a liberated country, the first victim of Nazi aggression. Certain Soviet claims placed obstacles in the way of speedy conclusion of a treaty.

Mr. Truman said the Austrian people "should be commended for their attitude of patient understanding throughout the protracted negotiations." I had a close-up of that attitude in March of '46 when I visited Austria, which then was suffering from the scourge of privation and was hamstrung by the occupation.

I had a long talk with Dr. Karl Renner, president of the provisional government. Our conversation dwelt largely on world peace, and it is worth noting that the Austrian people

Will Fight Even 'Trial Run'; Issue Expected To Echo In 1950 Campaign

Washington, June 23—(AP)—A group of Republicans girded today for a fight against even a "trial run" for the Truman administration's new farm program.

The battle will echo in next year's congressional campaigning in farm areas.

A House Agriculture subcommittee yesterday approved 6 to 2 a new farm bill that would:

1. Permit Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to experiment on three crops in 1950 with his proposed "production payment" farm program. Brannan contends his program would mean cheaper food and assured income for farmers.

2. Kill the 1948 Aiken law, which is scheduled to set up next year a flexible 60 to 90 per cent parity price support program for agriculture. Parity is a price level set arbitrarily some years ago as a standard considered fair to both farmers and consumers.

3. Create a new parity-of-farm income system, as proposed by Brannan, and support prices of major crops at 100 per cent of that standard. This might mean for most crops the highest price supports ever attempted by the government.

Prices of crops are now supported at 90 per cent of the old parity standard.

The bill approved by the subcommittee goes before the full committee today.

Brannan has indicated he would like to try out the "production payment" plan first on hogs, potatoes and wool. The subcommittee banned any experimenting with wool, milk or butterfat, but gave him a clear field otherwise.

Under the production payment proposal, prices of perishable crops would be permitted to drop to whatever the market would pay. Then the government would pay subsidies to farmers to make up the difference between the market price and the parity-of-income level. This Brannan contended, would mean cheaper food and a fair return for farmers.

The plan has been attacked by some farm organizations as a "dole."

See Close Vote On Injunction Clause

Washington, June 23—(AP)—Both its friends and foes today predicted a close senate vote on whether to keep the Taft-Hartley law's injunction provision against critical strikes.

Backers of the injunction won a pair of preliminary victories late yesterday when the senate soundly defeated two other plans for dealing with strikes which threaten the national welfare.

But the senators in that pro-injunction group said they are keeping their fingers crossed. And those opposed to the injunction method declared they still are in the running.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) one of those against the Taft-Hartley provision, put it this way: "The vote is going to be very close, and I think we have a chance to beat the injunction."

On the other side, Senator George (D-Ga.) said: "I think those of us who want to retain the injunction have a slight edge, but the vote is going to be very, very close."

In yesterday's balloting, the senate first rejected, 55 to 27, the Douglas-Aiken plan for handling national emergency labor disputes. Its backers expected it to pick up quite a few votes on the second round, with the issue narrowed to a choice between seizure and the injunction.

After battling down the first round, amendment 3 by senators Douglas (D-Ill.) and Aiken (R-Vt.), the senate next swamped a national emergency plan sponsored by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.). The vote was 87 to 13. Under the Ives amendment, Congress would have been required to deal separately with each critical strike.

Rejection of the two amendments was not an undiluted triumph for those who favor the Taft-Hartley injunction.

In both cases those in that group mustered the 55-vote strength. But they were joined by senators who are against any change in the administration bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and replace it with a modified version of the old Wagner act.

Most of those senators were expected to vote for the Douglas-Aiken amendment on its second round around, rather than for the only alternative—the Taft-Hartley injunction provision.

Also, some senators who voted for the Ives plan and against the Douglas-Aiken amendment were expected to switch to the latter on the second round.

Those prospects led Douglas and Lucas to predict that the showdown vote will be nip-and-tuck. George agreed for the same reason.

Before getting around to another vote on the Douglas-Aiken plan the senate had to vote on still another national emergency amendment, sponsored by Senator Morse (R-Ore.). It is similar to the Ives plan in that it would require Congress to deal on a case-by-case basis with each critical strike.

But Morse's amendment would let the government seize struck plants unless Congress vetoes a presidential recommendation calling for that. The Oregonian's plan would bar injunctions except where Congress authorized them in particular cases.

President Okays Allowance Hike For Legislators

Washington, June 23—(AP)—President Truman today signed a bill giving House members an additional $3,000 each for clerk hire and $500 a year for telephone and telegraph messages. In doing so he repeated that the salaries of top government officials should be raised.

The President said in a message to Congress that he signed the increased allowance measure willingly because he believes it is in the interest of the government and the people to provide for the efficient conduct of the public business.

But he indirectly chided the legislators for taking care of themselves while ignoring officials in an executive department and agencies who have not had a raise in years.

"Important as it is for members of the Congress to have adequate clerical assistance," he said, "it is at least of equal importance to have men of ability in the key executive positions of the government. The best laws can be ruined by poor administrations."

Hot Weather

The local Weather Bureau thermometer registered 81 degrees at 11 a.m. today and the mercury was ascending. Partly overcast skies during the forenoon and light breezes from the northwest offset Old Sol's rays. Light showers early today were not heavy enough to make more than three one-hundredths of an inch of rain on the Weather Bureau gauge.

The highest temperature Wednesday was 94 degrees during the afternoon. The temperature in this area has averaged 94 degrees since last Saturday, with the exception of Tuesday, when the mercury registered 92.

Prepare Report On Milk Inquiry

Pitt County Health Officer Dr. T. G. Basnight said today a report will be made to the board of health at its regular meeting tomorrow night on the findings of a milk investigation carried out by the local department.

Dr. Basnight did not comment on the content of the report which will be given to the board.

The board of health in its regular meeting in May instructed the local health department to make a thorough investigation of all pasteurized milk being distributed in Pitt County which is processed in plants outside the county. The action was taken by the board following a hotly contested ruling by the board which would ban all milk from the county except that which is bottled within Pitt county.

The county's ruling was passed by the board at a special meeting in May, but at the regular meeting of the board during May, the effective date of the ruling was postponed pending the findings in the investigation by the county health department.

Dr. Basnight said members of the health department have been conducting the investigation of the milk since the last meeting of the board a month ago.

X-Ray Total Is Now Over 16,000

As the Pitt County X-ray drive goes into its third week the mobile X-ray units operating in the county have made a total of 16,004 X-rays. This is better than half of the assigned goal of 30,000 X-rays for the five-week period which the drive is on. The drive closes July 7.

Up until Wednesday of this week, the daily average of X-rays made by the five units was well over 1,000 per day, but only 992 were made yesterday.

Unit No. 5 at Five Points reported 250 X-rays yesterday and at 11:30 a.m. today a long line of people had formed before the unit waiting to have pictures made despite the hot weather.

their families.

The church gave flowers in remembrance to J. A. Conway.

Joint Hostesses At Picnic Supper

On Saturday evening, June 18, Mrs. N. O. Warren and Miss Iva Shelburn entertained at a picnic supper at the "Gold Nugget" on the Pamlico river, honoring Miss Rosamond Nicholson and Mr. Hoyt Minges.

The guests began assembling about 4:30 and enjoyed swimming and boating. A delicious picnic supper was served to about 50 guests, including the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

Miss Shotwell Luncheon Hostess

Miss Muriel Shotwell was hostess at a luncheon on Tuesday at 1 o'clock honoring Miss Rosamond Nicholson, bride-elect.

Covers were laid for 16 and each place was marked by pastel celluloid baskets filled with nosegays of mixed flowers. Mixed garden flowers were used throughout the house. Miss Nicholson was given a corsage of yellow calla glads.

A three course luncheon was served. The honoree was presented with her wedding invitation handpainted in a gold leaf frame.

Youth Revival

Youth revival at Mount Pleasant Christian Church, June 26 through July 3, conducted by William Clayton, of Creswell, N. C. The theme for the meeting will be, "Let the Church of Today Support the Church of Tomorrow." Services begin each evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

Informal Tea Compliments Bride

Mrs. W. Vernon Tyson and Mrs. C. L. Lupton of Greenville were hostesses at a tea Monday afternoon from 4:30 until 6 o'clock at Mrs. Tyson's home on Maple Street, complimenting Mrs. Dawson Jefferson, bride of June 10th.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Tyson. In the receiving line were Mrs. Jefferson, Mrs. Bertha Parker, mother of the honoree, Mrs. C. D. Smith and Mrs. C. L. Lupton, sisters of the honoree.

The living room was decorated with floral arrangements of mixed summer flowers. In the dining room the decorations featured the bridal motif. The table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and feverfew in a crystal bowl. Burning white tapers in crystal candelabra flanked the centerpiece. Magnolias and burning tapers were used on the buffet.

Miss Marion Brown invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. Ted Steig presided at the punch bowl. Miss Frances Aman and Mrs. C. B. Roebuck assisted in serving sandwiches, cheese straws, bridal cakes, mints and nuts.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. W. C. Eagles.

Approximately 125 guests called during the afternoon.

Vivian Gray Allen Becomes Bride Of Raymond S. Smith

Red Oak Christian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Wednesday afternoon, June 15, when Miss Vivian Gray Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Allen of Greenville, and Raymond Stanley Smith, son of Mrs. R. H. Smith and the late Mr. Smith of Kinston, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony.

Four floor standards of white glads and fern were placed against a background of huckleberry plumosa. In the center was a beautiful arrangement of sprays of white Florida bracken.

Seven, nine and twelve-bracked candelabras covered with rich green huckleberry held burning tapers.

Single candelabras with tall cathedral candles and decorated with white glads, gypsophelia and plumosa were used on the altar. The kneeling bench was decorated with gardenias, plumosa and white satin bows. A three-branched candelabra was used on the piano.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the presence of hundreds of friends by the Rev. Harold R. Tyler of Bath, pastor of the bride.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was presented by Miss Virginia Bell Cooper of Ayden, pianist, and Miss Audrey Gaylor, a classmate of Miss Allen, soloist. Miss Gaylor sang "I Love Thee," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Allen, selected for her wedding gown a Maurer Model of Duchess Satin, fashioned with a marquisette yoke. It was made with a fitted bodice and calla-lily points over the hands. A bouffant skirt over a hoop fell into a circular train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seeded pearls.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade shower of white carnations, valley lilies and pom-pom chrysanthemums with a removable corsage of white orchids. Satin leaves edged with silver were used. The bouquet was tied with eggshell satin ribbon.

Miss Nancy Allen was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a white embroidered marquisette dress made with off the shoulder and pinafore effect and white lace picture hat. She wore white lace mitts and carried an arm bouquet of Better Times roses tied with Better Times ribbon.

Mrs. Leroy James, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress and bouquet were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Edna Taylor of La Grange, Miss Frances Yelverton of Stantonburg, Miss Flo Bernier of Ponce, Puerto Rica, and Mrs. Nathan Thomas of Ayden, classmates of Miss Allen at Atlantic Christian College.

They wore identical white embroidered marquisette dresses patterned with off-the-shoulder effect with picture hats and mitts to match. They carried colorful bouquets of pink, orchid, yellow and blue California daisies tied with Nile-green satin ribbon.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Edna Hemby of Maury, Miss Annie May of Greenville, Miss Margaret Hemby of Arthur and Mrs. Charles Tucker of Greenville. They wore summer evening gowns in pastel colors and corsages of gardenias.

The bridegroom had as best man his brother, William Smith of Kinston. Groomsman were Leroy James of Greenville, Clifton Morris and W. C. Pate of Kinston, Bobby Clark of Georgia and Roy Tart of Dunn.

Mrs. Allen, mother of the bride wore a blue crepe dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a sheer black dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at their home. Pink glads, pastel shades of larkspur, feverfew and snapdragons were used throughout the house.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Leon Tyson greeted the guests at the front door and introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Smith, the bride and groom and the bride's attendants.

The guests were directed to the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tucker where Mrs. James Allen served cake and Mrs. Travis Crawford poured punch from a beautifully appointed table covered with a lace cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of white snapdragons, feverfew and fern flanked on each side by three-branched candelabras and tall burning tapers. The bridal motif of green and white was used for decoration throughout the dining room.

Miss Margaret Hemby presided over the bride's book.

Miss Annie May directed the guests to the gift room where a beautiful array of gifts were on display testifying to the popularity of this young couple.

over a green cover and centered with white gladioli and ivy arranged around crystal candle holders with white candles. The buffet was decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli and feverfew.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. Charles Tucker.

The hostesses presented Miss Allen with a corsage china in her selected pattern.

Approximately forty-five guests called between five and six.

On Tuesday evening following the Smith-Allen rehearsal Mrs. Leroy James and Miss Nancy Allen entertained at a cake-cutting at the Red Oak Community Building. Guests included members of the wedding party, out-of-town guests and close friends of the bridal couple-elect. After Miss Allen, assisted by Mr. Smith, cut the first slice, Mrs. James Allen served the wedding cake and Mrs. F. L. Allen served lime-ice punch. Nuts and mints were also served.

Miss Edna Hemby honored Miss Allen with a kitchen shower at her home in Maury.

Mrs. Lizzie Vandiford and Mrs. Ethel Crawford entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. Vandiford on Monday, June 13, honoring Miss Allen.

Guests were greeted on the front porch by Mrs. Travis Crawford and invited into the living room. Receiving with Mrs. Vandiford were Miss Allen and her mother, Mrs. H. R. Allen.

Inviting guests into the dining room was Miss Ethel Crawford. The table was covered with a lace cloth

High Prelate In Semi-Captivity

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 23—(AP)—Catholic priests said today that Czechoslovakia's communist government apparently has succeeded in clamping a wall of silence around Archbishop Josef Beran. The archbishop is in semi-captivity now in his palace in Prague. The informants said all their contacts with him had been broken off since last weekend.

Vatican informants and informed diplomatic sources here expressed the belief Archbishop Beran might be formally arrested at any time. The communist regime has accused him of anti-state agitation. He has resisted the communists' campaign to bring the church under state control and to crush the influence of the Vatican in Czechoslovakia.

The diplomatic sources said they thought it was only a question of time until the communists believed they had built up their case against the archbishop sufficiently to bring it to a showdown.

Birthday Club Honors Guests

On June 20 at 7 p. m. the Birthday club met at the Tobacco Town Inn honoring Miss Bernadine Ballance on her birthday and Mrs. Tom Smith, a recent bride. The places of the honorees were marked with corsages of pink roses and a beautiful birthday cake centered the table. After a very delicious steak dinner was served, the gifts were opened. Miss Ballance received many useful and attractive gifts and Mrs.

Strength FOR THE DAY

SUGGESTIVE EVEN TO THIS DAY Once in history there appeared a man who had everything heart could desire. This man was King Solomon. He had power which made his neighbors tremble. He had such wealth that neither he nor his counselors could compute it. He was among a half-dozen of the most learned individuals who have ever appeared in human history. Every indulgence of the flesh was his for the asking, and it seemed that the multitudes of the whole world positively fell over themselves in their excited eagerness to serve him.

Was he happy? Few men have been less so. One of the saddest books ever written is Ecclesiastes, a regretful appraisal of life by Solomon, the old roue, who, having indulged in every pleasure and having enjoyed every honor which this world could bestow, came to the end of his life with about the worst taste in his mouth that anyone has ever experienced.

The point does not need to be labored. People who have their own way in everything generally miss happiness by a mile. Strange as it may seem, the people who have to suffer most, frequently get the most out of life. The pampered darlings grow up discontented and often drink themselves, worry themselves, or bedevil themselves to early graves.

An occasional reading of the book of Ecclesiastes constitutes a wholesome corrective in the field of thought and action.

Around Capitol Square

TELEVISION—North Carolina is venturing into television for expansion of its national advertising campaign. The state division of advertising and news has signed an agreement with a national television production outfit to prepare and distribute over the NBC circuit for a fifteen minute program portraying places and events in this state. The program will be prepared during the month of July, but date of showing has not been definitely set. Television has come along since the state advertising program was inaugurated. With his usual alertness to opportunity Bill Sharpe, director of the advertising division, decided to get in among the first states. The trial venture will cost only $400. The state of New York is spending this year more than $6,000 on television advertising.

REWARD—Word comes from Haywood county that the people there fully expect to elect their long desired Pigeon River highway built, as reward for their vote on the road bond issue. Haywood voted 6097 to 933, or about five and a half to one, for the road bonds. At other end of the state, Dare and Tyrrell counties have long desired extension of US 64 to the coast, entailing two big bridges. In the rural road bond election Dare voted 1199 to 73 better than sixteen to one, and Tyrrell turned in 595 to 52, more than eleven to one, for the issue.

NO EFFECT—There is small likelihood these votes will influence allocation of primary highway funds, but if Haywood claims the "reward" Tyrrell and Dare should get their bridges too. Actually Dare did much better by the bond election than most other counties. Haywood and Tyrrell voted about 60 per cent as many as in last fall's general election, whereas Dare came through with one hundred votes more than cast in November—one of the few counties to get such a record. Since 75 counties turned in majorities for the bond issue, one county tied and only 24 gave margins against the bonds, it is obvious that every favorable voting ballwick cannot get anything it wants in both primary and rural road construction.

REDISTRICTING—The constitution requires that the general assembly of 1951 redistrict the state for election of state senators. There is imminent prospect that rapid growth of Pacific coast states may affect representation in the national congress as to occasion loss of one representative from North Carolina. In that event the general assembly would be forced to rearrange the congressional districts. In opinion of several observers that would be the appropriate time to complete the redistricting job for superior court judges and solicitors.

JUDICIAL—Prior to 1942 each judicial district had a judge and a solicitor. A constitutional amendment ratified that year provided for separate solicitorial districts, so that there could be more or fewer solicitors than judges. Pursuant to that constitutional authority the assembly of 1943 established solicitorial districts with boundaries coterminous with then existing judicial districts. Meantime, that legislature continued the commission appointed in 1941, at some time the amendment was submitted, to study this question. The study commission has been continued by each succeeding general assembly, without achieving progress toward solution of the problem. Judges and solicitors have been elected and reelected on same areal basis as applied before ratification of the amendment. The situation is more complex than with respect to congressmen and state senators, because of conflict with terms of court in the several counties. Each general assembly approached the subject obliquely and then steered away without action. Since the next legislature cannot avoid redistricting for senators and perhaps for congressmen, thought is that one tearing up might suffice and the judicial solicitorial districts revamped at same time.

Huckster For Communism

REC-MANNING-72 McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

Somebody Told Me . . .

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

One Sunday morning last March I was standing near the door of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house, UNC, Chapel Hill, when the president of the University, Frank Porter Graham, walked in. Dr. Graham bore the news that Senator J. Melville Broughton had died early that morning, and he was looking for the late senator's son, Bob, to be sure that he had received the sad news.

Those of us who received Dr. Graham that morning never imagined that he would be the one to replace Broughton in the Senate. Almost the same group was later speculating on the appointment, decided it would go to Capus Waynick.

The June 18 issue of "The Saturday Evening Post" includes an article on Senator Graham, "Fighting Half-Pint of Capitol Hill." As a graduate of the University I naturally ate up every word of the article, but I was particularly interested in what the article said about the senator's lack of association with Communists.

It's a funny thing about the talk concerning Communism at Chapel Hill. You can hear more about it here in Greenville than you can there. Granted, the student newspaper printed a picture of the head of the Communist party at Chapel Hill. The reaction of most of the students: "Well, so that's what a real live Communist looks like. I've heard we have them here, but that's the first time I've seen one."

To quote from the "Post" article: "In Dr. Graham's files at Chapel Hill are the names of 221 different committees on which he has served, or signed statements for, or contributed to, or sponsored in one way or another during the past twenty years. All of them are for the betterment of man's lot on earth, allegedly, and 'three or four' of them, he admits, have recently been listed as Communist fronts by the attorney general's office."

"The explanation seems to be that the guileless little man is a willing crusader for any organization with the word 'liberty,' 'freedom' or 'advancement' in its title. Any time people come in and tell him that they are trying to improve something or that somebody has suffered a great injustice and should be defended, he allows them to put his name on their stationery as a believer in the cause."

When attacked by Radio Commentator Fulton Lewis Jr., Graham said: "I have always been opposed to Communism and all totalitarian dictatorships. I was on committees against Hitler, Mussolini and Franco. I was for aid to China against Japan; against sending scrap iron to Japan."

"I have been called a Communist by some sincere people. I have been called a spokesman for American capitalism by Communists and have been repeatedly called a tool of imperialism by the radio from Moscow. I shall simply continue to oppose Ku Kluxism, imperialism, fascism and Communism whether in Iron, Indonesia or behind the Iron Curtain."

Shall we say that Dr. Graham put his cards on the table? And I thank you.

perhaps a million years," said Knight "but he didn't assume his present manlike shape until the cro-magnon man of Europe, some 30,000 years ago.

"And the cro-magnon was just as good a man as we are, mentally and physically. The cro-magnons averaged 5 ft. 9 inches tall, but some were 6 feet 3 or 4 inches.

"You could bring a cro-magnon to New York City today and after you had shown him a few wonders, he'd be able to get along all right."

He'd be able to appreciate television as well as the next Cliff Dwellers. Knight is convinced that mankind's biggest defeat is his failure to develop spiritually.

"With all our advantages we haven't advanced spiritually, as we can and should and must," he said. "I don't think that spiritually we are better than cro-magnon."

"Confusus, Christ, Mohammed—these and other messiahs have told us a thousand times what to do. We know what to do—but we don't do it. I don't know what to make of modern man. He throws away his possibilities. He is a deliberate fool—the worst kind of a fool."

But Knight thinks there is little use for man to trust that nature will bail him out of the trouble he is getting himself into.

"He will destroy himself unless he returns to more spiritual ways. He's a goner. "Nature never helped any animal out of a hole. She won't help man out either. And he has problems just like any other animal."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS Washington—July 1 will be moving day on Capitol Hill. Workmen will begin tearing off the roofs of the Senate and House wings of the Capitol building and members will have to carry on their business in temporary quarters.

There just won't be any room for tourist visitors after that. Congressmen will crowd into the Ways and Means Committee room. Senators will cram into the old Supreme Court chamber in the central portion of the Capitol building.

The Ways and Means committee room, on the first floor of the new House office building, completed in 1931, is air-conditioned and the acoustics are good. Chief Doorkeeper William Moseley Miller, better known as "Fishball," says the doors are good—"easy to control for entrances and exits."

The Senate will be moving into its original quarters, where it met from 1800 to 1850, and where the Supreme Court held forth until it moved into its own handsome new building in the 1930's. It was in this chamber, right after the capital was moved from Philadelphia to Washington—on Nov. 22 1800, to be exact—that the second session of the Sixth Congress was opened by President Adams.

The Secretary to the Senate manority, Felton M. "Skeeter" Johnson, told me that most of the Senators prefer meeting in this room, even under crowded conditions, but if it is found too noisy they will have to move over to the Caucus room of the Senate office building.

Reasons they prefer the old room are that it is nearer the Senate restaurant, the Senate library and the document room. But the 96 senators will have to do without desks and only a limited number of news and radio men will be admitted because of the smallness of the chamber.

"The room worked out alright in 1940 when they were re-inforcing the ceiling of the Senate Chamber, but the Senate then was not in session every day and there were not so many important bills up for consideration," "Skeeter" said.

The Caucus room in the Senate office building is much more commodious but the acoustics are bad.

"Every man would have to have a loud speaker. Lord knows how they'd get themselves heard otherwise," said Mr. Johnson—"and Lord knows they want to be heard."

Undecided Over Milk Containers

Raleigh, June 23 —(AP)—The State Board of Agriculture is still undecided whether to authorize the use of 10-ounce milk containers.

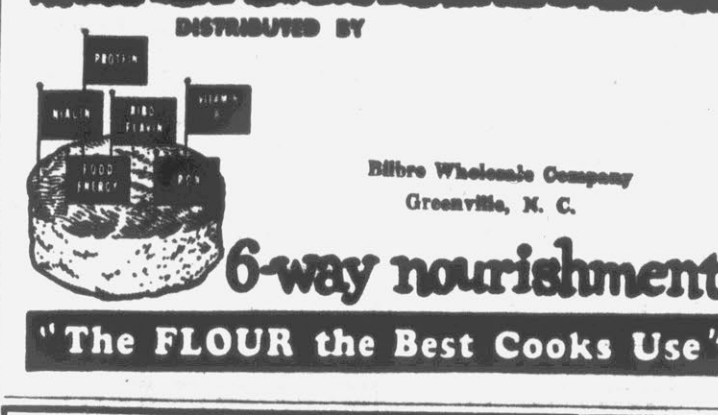

Meeting in session yesterday to act on the matter, the board decided to postpone a final decision until it wants to investigate further and hear more testimony on the matter.

The 10-ounce milk container was disapproved by the board last year. Favoring the use of 10-ounce containers were George S. Coble, president of Coble Dairy Products of Lexington and E. D. Mitchell, manager of Biltmore Farms, Asheville. Heading the opposition were R. G. Lytle, manager of the North Carolina Milk Producers Federation, and Mose Kiser, manager of the Guilford Dairy Cooperative Association.

The board unanimously confirmed the naming of two Agriculture Department division heads. They were Harry Westcott of the division of markets, and Dr. W. L. Nelson of the soil testing division. Nelson succeeds Dr. J. P. Reed and Westcott the late Randal B. Ehrhardt.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Tired of eating the same old things? Want a new flavor thrill?

Then why not try some tasty marrow from a woolly mammoth aged row from a woolly mammoth aged leekbox? You'll never forget it!

Charles R. Knight has remembered the sensation for 25 years. He is an artist famous for his pioneering paintings of prehistoric life.

"About a quarter of a century ago the American museum of natural history got some bones and flesh from a woolly mammoth, trapped in the Alaskan ice perhaps 10,000 years before," he recalled.

"We were curious as to what it would taste like, so we tried some of the marrow. It tasted exactly like rancid grease."

Nobody asked for a second helping. Knight feels he was luckier than some Russian scientists who dined on the flesh of another woolly mammoth caught long ago in the Siberian deep freeze.

"They got awfully sick," he said. "All the world's a graveyard at this 74-year-old artist who perhaps as much as any one man has helped the past come alive. Since 1894 he has specialized in painting prehistoric men and animals, and he was the first to do so scientifically."

Wildlife Board Members Named

Raleigh, June 23 (AP)—Four new members of the State Wildlife Resources Commission were appointed by Governor Scott today.

Commission members replaced included Thomas J. White of Kinston, commission chairman. White's term expired last January, but he continued to serve until his successor was appointed.

The governor appointed Robert Sadler of Bayboro to succeed White as the commissioner from District Two.

Sadler owns and operates an ice-manufacturing plant.

O. L. Woodhouse of Grandy, businessman, farmer and member of the Currituck County Board of Education, was appointed to succeed Joseph R. Winslow of Robertsonville as commissioner from District One.

G. E. Beal of Red Oak, a tobacco warehouseman, was appointed to represent District Three. He succeeds S. B. Coley of Raleigh.

Terms of Winslow and Coley also expired last January.

The governor appointed Ernest

McGowan of Lumber Bridge, farmer and retired Army officer, to represent District Four. He succeeds Harry A. Green of Raeford, who resigned to serve in the General Assembly.

ARK HUNT STARTS
Greensboro, June 22 (AP)—Dr. A. J. Smith, Greensboro's Ark-hunting Bible school dean, may be off on the first leg of his 5,000-mile quest.

Dr. Smith has not been seen since early this week on the High Point road campus of People's Bible School, and school officials are keeping mum on his whereabouts.

Ice-Pick And Teeth Figure In Three-Way Fight

By CHESTER WALSH
Arnell Covell, 49-year-old tobacco worker and "sometime lay preacher" at Pentecostal Holiness Negro Church, suffering from an ice-pick stab wound in a shoulder, allegedly inflicted by Irene Singleton, Negro, near Covell's home, 220 Boyd Avenue, last Monday night, today signed a warrant charging the woman with an assault with a deadly weapon.

The middle-aged Negro had the sympathy of authorities and others at police headquarters this morning. Police said Covell has never been in any trouble and bears a good reputation. Tobaccoists provided bail for Covell and he was released.

Covell told police that in resisting the alleged ice-pick attack of Irene Singleton, he had to bite her hand in self-defense. She had him arrested for assault on a female.

Minnie Greer, Irene Singleton's mother, swore out a warrant against Covell, charging him with the larceny of her automobile.

Covell told police that last Christmas he spent some money having the woman's automobile repaired; that she left the car at his house and gave him the keys, and that her charge of larceny of the car was wrong.

The case will be tried before Judge J. W. H. Roberts in Police Court Friday morning.

Heavy Docket In Recorder's Court

By CHESTER WALSH

In Pitt County Recorder's Court Tuesday afternoon, Judge Dink James found Herbert L. Rives, Jr. of Bethel, guilty of driving a motor vehicle while drunk and careless and reckless driving. The court gave Rives six months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $100 and costs, ordered that his driver's license be suspended for a year, and placed him on probation for two years and ordered that Rives not drink any alcoholic beverages and remain sober during that time. He gave notice of appeal to Superior Court. Rives also was found guilty of resisting arrest. Sentence in this case is included in the first case.

Floyd Cherry, alias Robert Taylor, was convicted of driving while drunk and the court fined him $100 and costs and ordered that his driver's license be suspended for a year. Joe Baker received a similar sentence for driving while drunk. Lonnie Jones, colored, who was charged with trespassing, was found guilty of being a "peeping Tom," and the court gave him four months on the roads, suspended on payment of court costs. Judge James placed Jones on probation for two years and ordered that he not be out by after 7:30 p.m. any night for a period of six months or longer.

Bible School Closes In Fountain
 The two-weeks Union Bible School conducted by the Presbyterian and First Baptist Churches of Fountain was brought to a fitting close Friday night in the Fountain First Baptist Church. There were ten enrolled in the Nursery Department, 166 in the Beginner Department, 23 in the Primary and 24 in the Junior Department, making a total of 73 pupils. Mrs. Edgar Case was the leader of the Nursery Department, assisted by Miss Wilma Grace Owens, Mrs. Cary Gaynor and Mrs. Carter Smith were the teachers in the Beginner department, with Ann Harris as assistant. Miss Melba Jean Baker was teacher of the Primary; she was assisted by Katherine Baker. Mrs. M. E. Smith had charge of the Juniors. Mrs. W. R. Harris had charge of the music, and Rev. Phillip M. Cory, pastor of the Fountain Presbyterian Church, assisted in the music and served as superintendent of the school.

Netherland Reds Lose Heavily In Local Elections

Amsterdam, June 23 (AP)—Dutch Communists lost heavily to the right wing in yesterday's municipal elections throughout the Netherlands. The Communists lost almost half of their seats in municipal councils, holding only 111 as compared with 213 seats they gained in the 1946 elections. Compared with the 1948 Parliamentary elections, however, the Communists lost only one-half per cent of their popular vote.

The right wing liberal party won 156 seats as against 97 in 1946. Two right wing protestant parties—the anti-revolutionary and Christian Historical parties—together gained 50 seats for a total of 433 against 383 in 1946.

The middle-road Catholic Peoples party and the labor party, which form the present coalition cabinet, maintained their dominant position.

 The Rev. Cory then awarded the certificates, with the aid of the respective teachers, and gave each pupil a booklet, "Bible Helps For Little Children." Rev. Cory gave each leader a certificate in appreciation of their fine work, and expressed appreciation to the women of the Presbyterian Church for furnishing refreshments for the school each day of the first week, and the women of the Baptist Church for the second week, and the Junior Women's Club for the lovely picnic they gave the school at the close of the Bible School Friday noon.

The Rev. Richard West, pastor of the First Baptist Church, pronounced the benediction.

part harmony.

The closing exercises consisted of the entire school marching into the church singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Then they gave the salutes and pledges to the U.S. Flag, the Christian Flag and the Bible. They sang one verse of "America," "Stand Up For Jesus," and "Jesus Loves Me," respectively, at the close of each pledge.

The Junior Class sang "Fairness Lord Jesus" in two-part harmony. Then the Nursery Department sang the following songs: "Jesus Loves Me," "I Wash My Hands," "God Is Very Near," "We'll Obey," and "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star."

The Junior Department sang "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations." The Beginners sang the "Glad Song," the "Wonder Song." They recited the Ten Commandments from memory. They then sang "The Loving Kindness of Jesus" and "Primary Prayer Song."

The Junior Department sang "I Would Be True" in two-part harmony, then the Primary Department sang "This Is My Father's World," "We're Glad For Everything," "Vacation Bible School Is Here," "Janice Johnson recited the Twenty-third Psalm, and the Primaries sang "Friends" and "Praise Him."

The Junior Department, acting as the choir, then sang the concluding number, the spiritual "Lord I Want To Be a Christian," in two-

Delay Execution For Final Appeal

Raleigh, June 23—(AP)—A 30-year-old prisoner's execution date has been delayed so he may appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Allen T. Reid, Wilson county Negro, was scheduled to die in the gas chamber at Central Prison July 1. He had been convicted of first degree burglary with intent to commit rape last Sept. 2.

However, Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the State Supreme Court yesterday signed a stay of execution. The delay was obtained by Herman L. Taylor of Raleigh and C. J. Gates of Durham, Negro attorneys.

The State Supreme Court had upheld the conviction.

Reid's attorneys said they would appeal to the U. S. high court on the grounds that errors were committed at Reid's trial. They also claim there was insufficient evidence to convict him and that his conviction was in violation of the U. S. Constitution.

Reid was convicted of breaking into the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes of Wilson and of attempting to attack Mrs. Barnes whose husband was away from home.

Sympathetic Dog Adopts 'Possums

Miami, Fla., June 22—(AP)—A sympathetic dog has adopted two baby 'possums.

Snigs brought them home in her mouth from nearby woods and persisted in trying to feed them along with her own eight puppies.

Snigs' owner, Garnett Nege, said the inches-long opossums were too small to obtain nourishment from their foster mother in the normal way. So they were given food through an eye-dropper.

Dutch Airliner Crash Leaves No Known Survivors

Bari, Italy, June 23—(AP)—A four-engined KLM (Royal Dutch Airlines) plane crashed in the sea off this southeastern Italian port today, killing between 30 and 40 persons.

Americans, Dutch and Turks were said to have been aboard. Apparently there were no survivors.

A Bari port official said 24 bodies had been recovered, many badly burned. These included 16 men, five women and three children, he said.

Recovery of other bodies believed trapped in the wreckage was hindered by choppy seas. Italian navy divers and patrol craft were aiding in the recovery operations.

The plane crashed in bright, clear weather. A light northeast wind was blowing. Some accounts said the transport went down in flames from a height of about 15,000 feet.

KLM officials in Rome indicated the plane may have been off its course and possibly was trying for an emergency landing at an airport near Bari. The plane was en route from Batavia, Java, to Amsterdam. Baggage and other effects recovered indicated at least one of the passengers boarded the aircraft in Batavia.

ceeded in untangling the rope that was holding his boatswain's chair. Wilson was up there for two hours before he could attract anyone's attention.

Then as firemen arrived they found the location of the smokestack would not allow them to raise a ladder directly to Wilson. They had to angle the ladder to reach the tangled part of the rope.

Fireman Robert Bickel climbed to the top and it took him another hour to straighten the rope.

Typhoon Death Toll Set At 143 By Jap Police

Tokyo, June 23—(AP)—Rural police today set the official death toll in Tuesday's devastating typhoon in Southern Japan at 143 persons.

Still missing were 206 persons, all Japanese. Some 840 others previously reported missing were found.

Still unreported are 93 passengers and crewmen of the ferry boat Aoba Maru which foundered in the inland sea.

Thirty-four bodies of the ferry victims have been recovered. An American and three Japanese aboard the ferry were rescued.

Most of the dead were from Kyushu, Shikoku and Southern Honshu islands.

Honorable Judges:

By patronizing our home owned independent retail food stores, I enjoy the personal interest and friendship of the grocers, profit by their reasonable sales and intelligent selection of brands and save time by the use of delivery service and other accommodations and, at the same time, experience the keen delight of knowing that the home circulation of my food money is a contributing factor to Greenville's growth and prosperity. That's a lot for my money—more than I can afford to miss.

Sincerely,

Deacs Top Trojans; Now Play Texas

Wichita, Kas., June 23—(AP)—The Wake Forest Demon Deacons and Texas Longhorns meet in the winner's bracket game of the National collegiate athletic association's championship baseball tournament at 9 p. m. (EST) tonight.

Paired in the second game of the double elimination tourney are South California, the 1948 National Collegiate champion, and St. John's of Brooklyn. The loser in this game, scheduled for 11 o'clock, will be eliminated from championship consideration.

Texas swarmed over St. John's 7-1 in the opener, the Longhorns backing pitcher Murray Wall's eight hit job with a timely attack. First baseman Tom Hamilton cracked two home runs for the Texans.

Nicholas, a 19-year-old sophomore, pitched three-hit ball and fanned 9. The championship will be settled Saturday.

Hopes Her Joe Will Quit Ring

Camden, N.J., June 23—(AP)—Mrs. Arnold Cream says she hopes that her husband is through with the fight game.

Mrs. Cream, the wife of "Jersey Joe" Walcott, went for a ride last night, coming home shortly after Walcott had lost his try at the NBA heavyweight title. Cream is Jersey Joe's real name.

Asked whether she thought Joe would try again, she replied "I hope not."

Only four perfect baseball games have been pitched in the major leagues since 1900.

Jaycees Defeat Lions By 17 To 5 In Civic League

Game Tonight
Carolina Sales vs. Carolina Dairy

The Jaycees last night served notice on other teams in the Civic League that they will be tough to handle this summer as they snowed the Lions Club under by a 17-5 count. The Jaycees presented a well-balanced team with plenty of hitting and fielding power. They exploded for eleven runs in the third to put the game on ice.

Brown pitched no-hit ball for three innings, and Gaylord and Dill looked fine in the field. The Lions put together a four-run rally in the seventh, but it wasn't enough.

After The Match, Walcott Asserts His Conqueror Is A 'Dirty Fighter'

Chicago, June 23—(AP)—Having hung his leather at Ezzard Charles without avail, Jersey Joe Walcott has decided to fling some mud.

While Charles, newly-crowned NBA heavyweight boxing champion, was paying somewhat of a tribute to loser Jersey Joe by saying "he can take it," Walcott called the 27-year-old Cincinnati belter "a sneaky puncher."

Weary Walcott, a shopworn contender who missed his third try at the crown at Comiskey Park last night on a unanimous decision, told a dressing room crowd that "Charles is not a great fighter—he's a sneaky puncher who hit coming out of the clinches. When the referee broke us, I stopped fighting, but that dirty fighter kept banging away."

Davey Miller, veteran referee, discredited Walcott's charge.

"I thought both fighters broke pretty well for big guys," he observed. "I didn't see any punches thrown coming out of clinches."

Walcott, 35-year-old father of six children, is not ready to call it quits. "I'll fight Charles again next week if it could be arranged," he insisted. "I'm going to Camden (N.J.) to rest. Then I'll be ready to fight anybody."

Greenies Punch Out Clean Sweep Of Kinston Series

Take Twin Bill By Scores Of 7-6, 5-3 To Clinch Position

By BERT MOYE
 Manager Pappy Williams' Greenville Greenies tightened their hold on fourth-place in the Coastal Plain League over in Kinston last night by taking both ends of a double-header from the Eagles, 7-6 and 5-3, to give the Greenies a three-game sweep in the crucial series.

First Game
 The Greenies took the seven-inning opener against the Eagles to come from behind a 3-0 deficit in the fifth frame to score in the next three innings and edge out a 7-6 win over the Eagles.

The Eagles scored in the first frame on two singles and a stolen base, added two more in the third on two singles, two Greenie errors and a walk and then came back in the sixth frame to score a singleton on two singles, a sacrifice and an infield out, and two more runs were added in the seventh on two wild pitches, a double and a single, a walk and an error.

Greenville scored two runs in the fifth on a walk, single and two errors, added four more in the sixth on doubles by Varney and Cohen, a triple by Phil Godfrey, single by Denier, stolen base and an error.

They scored their winning run in the seventh when Mauney singled, advanced on a wild pitch and came home on Bob Cohen's single.

Art Mascarella got credit for the win, but ran into hot water in the seventh frame when he allowed two hits and one run and had to help from Junior Yohn, who came into the game with one out to put out the fire. It was his second time as relief hurler for the Greenies, and he came through in great style to hold the Eagles in check.

Ed Robinson with three singles in four trips to the plate led the attack for the Eagles. Bob Cohen with a double and a single led the ninth-inning attack off the two Kinston hurlers.

Score by innings:

Greenville	000	024	1-7 9 3
Kinston	102	001	2-6 11 3

Mascarella, Yohn (7) and Varney; Oofsky, Keyes (6) and Backo, Boehmer.

Second Game
 The Greenies came back in the nightcap to take a 5 to 3 win as they handed Veteran Sam McLawhorn his first defeat against the Greenies this season.

The Greenies did all their scoring in the first four frames. They scored two runs in the first frame on a single, walk, passed ball and three Eagles errors. They tallied one in the second on an error, single and an infield out.

Their winning runs came in the fourth frame when they put across two markers on a walk, sacrifice hit, Tepedino's single, hit batsman, wild pitch and an error.

The Eagles' runs came in singletons, scoring one in the first frame on four successive walks; one in the fourth on three singles; and one in the sixth on two singles and an error.

Frank Mauney, brother to Willie Mauney, started on the mound for the Greenies, and after striking out the first two men, lost his control and walked the next four men. He was replaced by Don Purdy, who finished the game as he scattered nine hits.

Sam McLawhorn went the route for the Eagles, gave up only six hits, but his teammates failed to support him.

Greenville's six hits were scattered among as many players with Sid Varney getting a double for the only extra base knock of the game.

Sam McLawhorn with a double and a single and Romankowski and Robinson with two singles each led the nine-hit attack for the Eagles.

The Greenies and the Rocky Mount Stadium meet here at Guy Smith Stadium tonight in the first of a two-game series. Game time is 7:45 o'clock.

Says Schroeder Will Be Winner At Wimbledon

London, June 23—(AP)—Jack Kramer, who is well qualified to pass an opinion, says Ted Schroeder will win Wimbledon's singles title because he plays "advanced tennis."

The professional ace who has returned to the scene of his notable amateur triumphs in doubles and singles of two years ago, explains "advanced tennis" this way:

"It is quick cutting off of rallies by rushing to the net for kills or angled volleys."

Very few top amateurs play that aggressive type of game, being too lazy, slow or inadequate, according to Jack, who is not defending his title in the national professional championships now under way at Forest Hills, N. Y.

"But that is Schroeder's game and unless someone can do it better, he will win," Kramer added.

City Swimming Team To Tarboro Tuesday In Test

By ROY HARDEE

The newly formed Greenville city swimming team will travel to Tarboro next Tuesday night to take part in a swimming match with the strong Tarboro team.

Starting Wednesday and continuing through today the swimming team has been holding intra-squad meets to determine who will compose the traveling teams which will take part in the meet with Tarboro Tuesday and with Kinston the following week.

This year is the first time that Greenville has had a swimming team while Tarboro has had an active team for the past seven years and is rated as one of the best in the state according to Jack Edwards Jr., assistant coach.

The swimming team is divided into three separate units, Juniors, Seniors, and Midgets. The Midget team is made up of those boys and girls under 14 years of age, while the Junior team is composed of those who have not yet reached the age of 17. The Senior team is selected from men and women over 17.

According to the Greenville coaches the local Junior team is very strong and is the bright spot in the swimming group as a whole.

Tarboro does not have a Junior team and it is not known yet if the Greenville Juniors will get a chance to perform.

Coach Amyette, head coach of the Greenville swimming team, said yesterday, "It is not too late to try out for the swimming team and we really need some more men and women for the Senior team as that is our weak spot."

Bob Davis who is a long distance swimmer on the senior team is acting as head Midget coach this year.

The following is a list of the members of the Greenville team.

Junior team: Joe Rowland, Milton Foley, Bobby Long, Jake Higgs, Kent Lee, Billy Riley, Louis Howell, Sarah Lee, Carolyn Barnhill, Tommy O'Neil, Vernon Winstate.

 Kinston at Wilson (2)
 Tarboro at R. Rapids
 Goldsboro at New Bern

Sidelights—Greenville wound up its double-header schedule last night for the time being and so far this season have played a total of 11 twin bills. Greenville has won both ends of a double-header four times winning from Roanoke Rapids, Wilson, Rocky Mount and Kinston. . . . Have lost both ends of a double bill to New Bern on two occasions and Kinston once. . . . In another doubleheader with Wilson they lost the first game and the second game ended in a 4-4 deadlock. . . . The Greenville club now has six wins against the Eagles and four losses. . . . Don Purdy annexed his second win as against one loss and Art Mascarella now has a record of five wins and six losses. . . . The Greenies are now five games behind top place Goldsboro three and one-half games behind second place New Bern, and one and one-half games behind third place Rocky Mount and after winning the three game series with Kinston are three and one-half games ahead of them. . . .

Boys' League Baseball

Braves vs. Athletics
 The Third St. Athletics came from behind to score five runs in the fifth inning to take a 10 to 6 victory over the league leading Braves from the East End. Leading hitters for the A's were Milton Foley with three singles and a double and Kent Lee with two singles. Hilton Quinn with two triples, Doug Morgan with a double and single and Billy Wooten with two singles were the leaders for the Braves.

Yankees vs. Reds
 The West Greenville Reds won their second successive victory over the Yanks from the Training School yesterday. The hard hitting Yanks were held to two hits by Gene Hudson of the Reds, while his teammates were hitting the ball all over the lot. The final score was 20 to 3. Pat Sawyer with four singles in four tries was the leader for the winners. Howell, Hendrix, and Fields got two hits also for the Reds.

Cardinals vs. Indians
 The Indians after trying hard for the first ten days of the season to win, got their first victory yesterday afternoon at the expense of the Cards by the score of 13 to 10. After two innings the Indians led by the score of 7 to 1, then the Cards took the lead when they scored seven runs in the third. In the fourth the Indians scored three times to take the lead for the remainder of the game. Billy Johnson with a triple and two singles, Stuart Savage with a homer and double, and Dunn, Conway and Bill Allen with two singles were the leaders for the Indians. Edward Lee got a double and two singles and Speight had a double and single to top the Cards attack.

Wacott Convincingly Beaten By Cautious Ezzard Charles

Chicago, June 23—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, who wanted to be a ring champion ever since he started boxing at the age of 14, has realized his burning ambition.

Last night, after 13 years of slugging his way to the top, this little 27-year-old Cincinnati Negro won the NBA version of the world heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis by decisively defeating Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15-round battle.

Charles won the unanimous decision of the three officials, approval of the National Boxing Association the consent of Louis and the blessing of the newly formed International Boxing Club, promoters of the bout, which has an exclusive three-year contract with Charles.

Charles' victory over the 35-year-old Camden, N.J., family man was decisive. Walcott staked everything on a knockout blow in the first two rounds. But the faltering veteran, who one year ago was beaten into submission by Louis, had lost much of his speed and ring cunning as the result of a year's absence from the ring.

Charles fought a cautious battle. He had his aging foe on the way to a knockout in three different rounds, but Jersey Joe possessed the ring generalship to escape a knock-out. He backpedaled and failed to fight in the closing rounds. Between the 12th and 13th, Joseph Triner, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, ordered Referee Dave Miller to tell Walcott's handlers to make him fight.

Walcott apparently fought only to remain on his feet until the finish.

Charles at 181 3/4 gave away 13 3/4 pounds to Walcott, who scaled 195 1/2.

The two judges were in complete accord with Referee Miller in scoring the fight. Judge Frank Spinks, McAdams voted 78-72 for Charles and so did Judge Harold Marovich and so did Judge Harold Marovich. Referee Miller's card gave 77 points to 73 for Charles.

The announcement of the unanimous verdict knocked Jake Minto one of Charles' four managers, into a complete faint. He collapsed in a neutral corner when Charles was proclaimed the new champion. He quickly recovered, however, and left the ring under his own power after a stretcher had been hustled in to carry him out.

Seixas Upset By UCLA Netter

Austin, Tex., June 23—(AP)—Minus both its top-seeded singles and doubles entries, the National collegiate athletic Association tennis tournament staggered—and the heat makes that word appropriate here—into the quarter-final rounds today.

Vic Seixas of North Carolina, who had been ranked first in singles, was upset by little known Gene Garrett of UCLA yesterday, 6-3, 6-3. The top seeded doubles combination of Arnold Saul and Bob Perez of Southern California was taken out by Gardner Larned and Buddy Behrens of Rollins in a match that went 48 games—11-9, 5-7, 9-7.

Forestry Division Plans Produce More Seedlings

The North Carolina Division of Forestry plans to produce nine million seedlings in its nursery at Clayton this year. Pitt County Forester Warden N. S. (Kid) Tyson reported this represents a considerable increase over the number of seedlings produced last year, since the nursery's personnel attempted to produce only six million seedlings, and this number was reduced to four and one half million as a result of white grub damage. A new control of the white grub is being tried this year, and the damage will be kept to a minimum if the control meets expectations.

Warden Tyson pointed out that it will be necessary to obtain a large supply of pine seeds this year for planting in the nursery. The seed supply has been limited for the past few years because of poor seed years, and the North Carolina Division of Forestry plans to buy as many pine cones as possible this year in order to replenish their seed supply. Anyone interested in collecting and selling pine cones in this county can obtain full details from the forest warden concerning the time to collect the cones and the types of cones needed.

Orders for nursery stock should be placed in the late summer or early fall. An order blank and price list of available seedlings will be supplied by Tyson to anyone in Pitt County who is interested in obtaining them.

Tyson said the Division of Forestry has other services available to residents in Pitt county, in addition to providing fire protection and planting stock. One of these services is providing technical advice to landowners desiring information about the best practice to employ on timberland. Landowners will be shown how to obtain top production from timberland through thinning and stand improvement cutting. Trees that need to be removed will be marked, the volume of marked trees determined, and advice on the manner in which the highest return will be obtained. Owners can also get assistance in drawing up contracts for timber sales on areas where marking is done. The price of the paint used in marking is the only charge for these services.

Forest Warden Tyson expressed that the people of Pitt county can increase the income from their timberland each year by following sound forestry practices. He and members of the district office in New Bern are willing to help landowners to obtain increased production in any way possible.

Tobacco Men To Meet Tomorrow

Raleigh, June 23 —(AP)—The annual membership meeting of the Blue-cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation will be held at N. C. State College tomorrow.

Growers from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida are expected to attend the meeting at which H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, will be the principal speaker. Three directors will be elected to succeed three whose terms have expired. They are: J. E. Winslow of Greenville, George Socklow of Elton College and Bill Hooks of Whiteville.

TOUR OF DUTY
Charleston, S. C., June 23—LCDR Jonathan W. Foley, Jr., of Greenville has received orders to report for two weeks active duty in the Naval Reserve. Foley has been assigned to Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

Carefree Summer Eating That's Good

Without straining your budget or sacrificing nutrition, you can provide GOOD eating for your family on little kitchen-spent time. Yes, and zoom your reputation as an excellent cook, too. How? By making delicious "quickies" in endless variety from those Wilson-ranned meats that just can't be beat for their fine quality and rich flavor. They are pre-cooked and ready to serve.

Take Wilson's 4 MOR Meats, for example. There's delicious, tender, quality beef, pork, veal or lamb in those economical MOR leaves of solid meat. MOR slips out of the can like magic. No bone, no waste—just solid meat—pre-cooked with all the rich, natural juices left in.

MOR meats offer you wonderful sandwich variety. Stock all four in your pantry and you'll be ready at a moment's notice for tasty, thrifty porch or picnic eating.

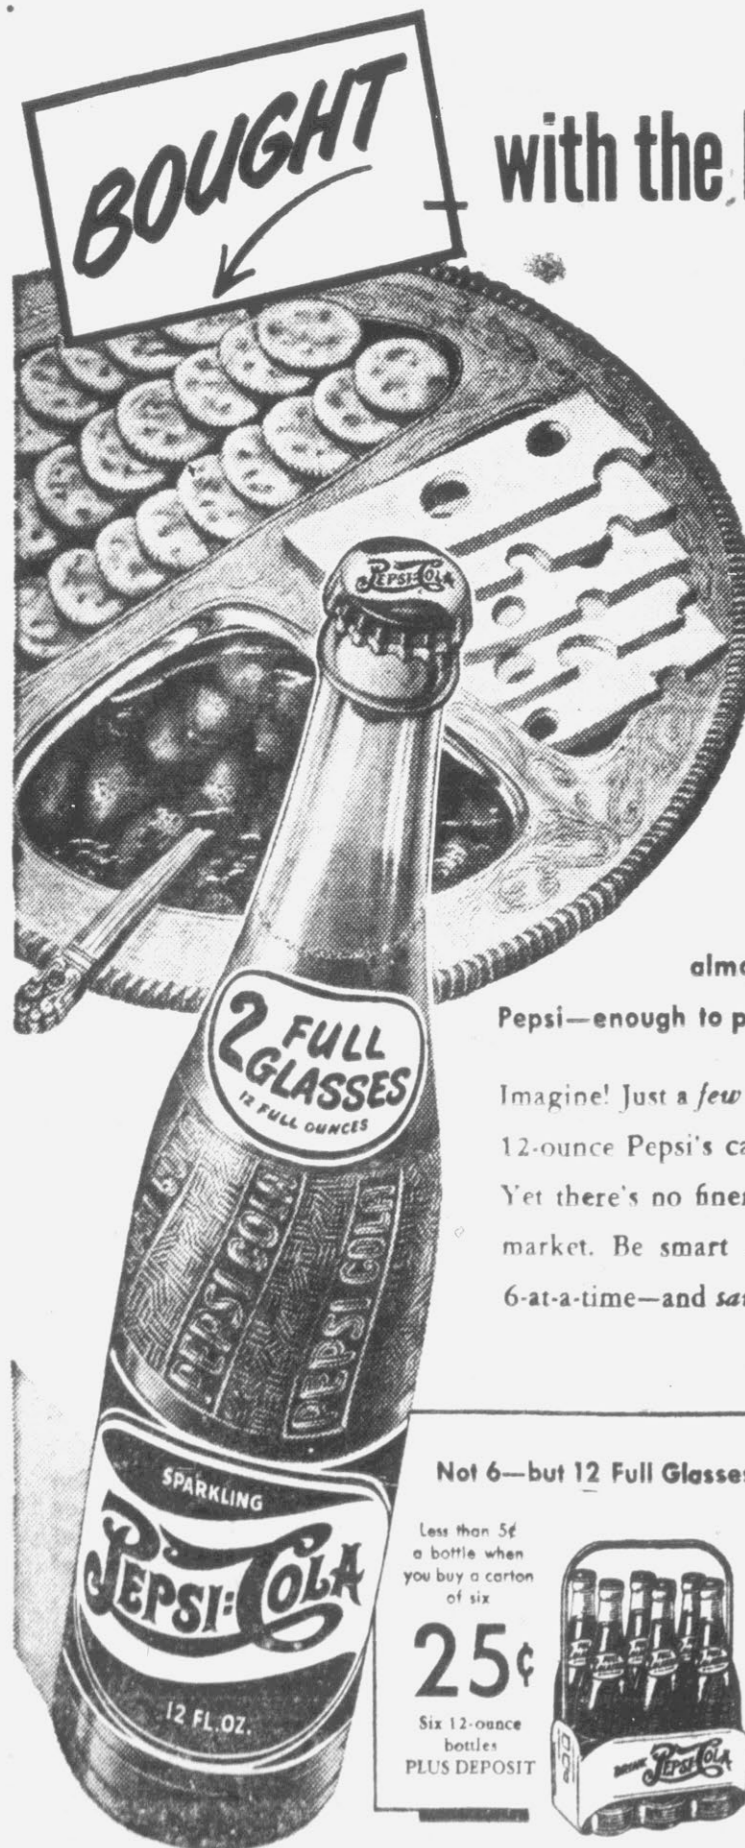

And don't forget the other Wilson canned meats like the delicious Wilson's Certified Salads—ham, pork and chicken. Wilson's Certified Corned or Roast Beef, Potted meat or Deviled Ham. All are top quality Wilson products—a delight in any sandwich.

HOT BROILED MOR SANDWICH

Shred into mixing bowl:
1 can Wilson's MOR, your choice of beef, pork, veal or lamb
Then blend in:
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon pepper, no salt
1/4 cup chopped raw onion, optional
2 to 4 tablespoons chopped parsley, optional
Spread generously on:
2 slices of bread or in 8 buns
Place 2 inches below the heat in a pre-heated broiler for about 3 minutes or until it begins to brown. Serve immediately—they're wonderful!

Only the brave

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 24
Connie had backed away from him and now stood staring, one hand grasping the door frame as though for support. "You say it was — a broken calf?"

"Yes. On the left hind foot. Why?" She straightened with something of an effort.

"Nothing. Nothing at all. As you say, Slug was careless; so careless that —"

"That what?"

"Never mind. It was just a crazy idea. Good night, Jeff. Good luck!" The search was resumed and went doggedly on. The Crown crew joined them and together with Jeff and Glenn and the guards and deputies moved literally foot by foot toward Cougar until fully half the distance had been covered without a sign of the missing box or its thief. At last to Jeff came the growing conviction that they were on the wrong trail entirely. No man could have transported that box this distance in broad daylight and on the back of a horse without being seen by somebody.

He rode swiftly toward Briscoe then cut away to the west until

A sudden doubt seized Jeff. Something about the figure was wrong; the size, or the shape — "Step away from the box — down to the edge of the creek so I can see you."

The man obeyed slowly. Jeff followed him step by step. The other took one final step sideways and the moonlight fell full on his face

Glenn!

Jeff stood there staring, mouth open. The gun dropped slowly until its muzzle was pointed at the ground. "Glenn! What in the world —!" He stepped forward, overcome with shock and bewilderment and disbelief. And quite suddenly Glenn Gleason leaped to meet him and the right hand which he had lowered came up again in a savage arc. The rock-hard fist caught Jeff squarely on the point of the chin and he went over backwards as though driven by a battering ram. His head struck a corner of the iron bound box and the moonlight abruptly vanished in a pall of darkness.

Five Greenville Men At Air Base

Orlando, Fla., — June 23—Five students from East Carolina Teachers College, all from Greenville, N. C., are among the 500 Air Force ROTC trainees reporting for six weeks summer training duty at the Orlando, Fla., Air Force Base, where the annual encampment is being held for the second successive year.

The men are: Charles D. Rice, 21, Claude B. West, Jr., 25, William F. Waters, 23, Virgil S. Clark, 24, and Oliver P. Hedgepeth, 23.

They have enrolled for the summer training at Orlando as a prerequisite toward obtaining Air Force commissions next June on completion of their college academic courses.

Eight other educational institutions throughout the seven southeastern states of the 14th Air Force area are represented at the camp, where students are specializing in subjects pertaining to Air Force supply and administrative functions.

Rice, West, and Hedgepeth are Navy veterans, while Waters and Clark formerly served with the Air Force during the last war. Clark is cadet first lieutenant of his AFROTC unit and is also president of the unit's officers' club.

Waters is married to the former Christine Lilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lilly of Williamston, N. C. Hedgepeth's wife is the former Betsy Ann Fyfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Fyfe of Greenville, N. C. The other three are not married.

Brawling, under British law, is the offence of quarrelling or creating a disturbance in church.

Brazil is somewhat larger than the United States and three times the size of Argentina.

Jeff put on his hat, drew his gun and began inching toward the ford on his stomach.

Jeff heard the harsh rasp of a hacksaw blade. He crept still closer, trusting to the fellow's concentration on his task and the scrapping sound of the blade to cover his movements. He leaped forward, his gun coming up to a level.

"Hold it, Slug!" he said sharply. "Don't move or I'll drop you!"

With a startled gasp the other spun around.

"Get your hands up where I can see them."

Slowly the hands of the other crept up and just as slowly he rose to his feet. In the moonlight he loomed tall and bulky. He was standing with the moon behind him and Jeff could not distinguish his fea-

Sift Reports Of Five-Percenter

Washington, June 23 — (AP) — Senate investigators sifted today through fresh reports of "five-percenters" who claim they can help businessmen get government contracts.

Senator Hoyt (D-N.C.) said announced plans for looking into a deal turned up this week by the New York Herald Tribune had brought in reports of similar cases. He said they were "individual instances" rather than large-scale solicitations by one particular person or firm.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, headed by Hoyt, started an inquiry two days ago into the reported deal between James V. Hunt, a former lieutenant colonel in the Army Quartermaster Corps and Paul Grindle, a Framingham, Mass., furniture manufacturer.

Grindle said he had made a $1,000 down payment to Hunt for help in getting government contracts and also had agreed to pay Hunt an additional $500 a month for one year and five per cent of the gross amount of any contracts he got.

Other reports along this line had come to the committee even before the investigation, Hoyt said, but he added there is no evidence to indicate it is a "wholesale" practice.

William P. Rogers, chief counsel of the committee, said he has talked to Hunt and officials in the War Assets Administration. Hunt was employed by War Assets after he left the Army. He now has offices here as a "management counselor."

Rogers said Hunt, who has declined public comment, was "co-operative."

The committee staff is making careful check of WAA files to see whether records there connect Hunt with disposal of billions of dollars worth of surplus property.

ere, may not seem world-shaking they're not. But they give a picture of how complex and twisted around a lot of the government machinery is.

Child Injured As His Bicycle And Auto Collide

George White, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. White of 511 East Ninth street, was injured yesterday morning when the bicycle which he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. John Clark of Greenville.

Physicians said the child suffered a fractured collar bone and minor cuts and bruises.

C. A. White, father of the child, said the boy rode his bicycle out of a driveway directly into the path of the slow moving automobile, and the driver had no chance to avoid the collision. Reports of the accident said when the car and the bicycle collided the child was thrown into the air and landed on the hood of the car and then fell to the pavement.

The child was taken to the hospital, but was released after treatment.

Old Typewriter Taken To Court

New York, June 23 — (AP) — A former handyman for Alger Hiss testified today that the FBI offered him $200 for an old typewriter which the defense produced yesterday.

Raymond Catlett, 27, the Negro handyman who worked for the Hisses in Washington, D.C., so picked the prosecutor that he began shouting questions until defense counsel objected.

The prosecutor, Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy, became annoyed with Catlett's reference to what Murphy called "this alleged $200 offer."

The battered old Woodstock typewriter became a silent witness for Hiss yesterday at his perjury trial. Catlett and his mother, who served the Hiss family as a maid, related part of the machine's history to bolster Hiss' defense.

The prosecution charges an old typewriter was used by Mrs. Hiss in 1937 and 1938 to copy State Department documents for transmission to Whittaker Chambers, Chambers, courier for a prewar Soviet spy ring, charges Mrs. Hiss copied the documents and that Hiss gave him the copies.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, June 23 — (AP) — Cotton futures opened unchanged to 10 cents a bale higher today.

Noon prices were 20 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close, July 33.20, Oct. 29.38 and Dec. 29.26.

Cotton futures declined into new low ground for the day in late dealings, influenced by nearby July liquidation.

Futures closed 10 cents to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, June 23 — (AP) — Timid buying was enough to boost the stock market today.

Leading issues moved up fractions to around a point following a short period of hesitation when the market opened.

The day's sales were far from impressive. Turnover was at the rate of around 700,000 shares for the full session, which would compare with 550,000 yesterday, one of the smallest totals in recent years.

Seek Testimony From Reporter

Washington, June 23 — (AP) — Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today he has asked a Birmingham Post reporter, Clark Stallworth, to come to the capital to tell what he knows about floggings in Alabama by hooded gangs.

Stallworth was attacked recently while seeking evidence of the floggings.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee which has ordered a probe of the incidents, told of inviting Stallworth to come here on leaving the White House after a talk with President Truman.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, June 23 — (AP) — (NCDA) — Fryers and broilers steady at 25; eggs steady, A large 51.

Hog Market

Raleigh, June 23 — (AP) — (NCDA) — Hog prices steady to slightly stronger. Tops of $20 at Kinston, Tarboro, Wilson, Greenville, Goldsboro, Washington and Rocky Mount. Richmond slightly stronger at $20 1/2.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 23 — (AP) — A little increase in hedging pressure served to send wheat lower on the board of trade today. The bread cereal was down more than a cent most of the session, showing little rallying power.

Corn and oats also sank, largest losses being recorded by the July contracts. Deferred months lost only minor fractions. Soybeans and lard suffered fairly wide declines.

Alabamans Plan Carry On Fight Against Thugs

Birmingham, Ala., June 23 — (AP) — Leading Birmingham residents are moving ahead with plans for a permanent organization to fight activities of white robed night riders.

This was decided at mass meeting last night attended by more than 200 representatives of various church, civic, social, veteran and fraternal groups in the district.

A resolution said the group proposed "to mobilize our citizenship in support of decency, law and order."

A spokesman said the committee will not be a "vigilante" organization, but will cooperate with law enforcement officers in an attempt to halt night riding activities.

Austrian . . .

thy of note that he is among those nominated for the 1949 nobel peace prize, which is yet to be awarded. I saw Dr. Renner just after Winston Churchill's famous "Iron curtain" speech in Missouri and Renner voluntarily commented:

"We have one main sorrow—just now aroused by the dispute between Churchill and Stalin. The unity of the world is out of life, and the end of unity would be the end of Austria. x x x hope that there will be agreement between the western allies and Russia. I hope that in the agreement Russia will not be forgotten."

"As soon as our international status is fixed we want to be a member of the U. N. and take up friendly relations with all nations. x x x We are absolutely for peace."

Well, President Truman says "we have reason to hope that before the end of the year the treaty may be signed." If and when that happy signing takes place, Austria should become a steady influence in Europe. She wants to be friendly with both the Russian bloc and the western nations, though she has no leaning towards Communism, since she is highly religious. And religion doesn't mix with Communism.
