Elder Statesman Baruch Attacks No Preparedness

Lack Of Mobilization Plan By Administration Hit; Need Never Greater

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Bernard Baruch took the Truman administration to task today for failing to have ready a stand-by total mobilization plan for a possible new war.

The 77-year-old elder statesman said the need for such a plan "never was greater" because "the cold war is as total as actual war."

"Yet," he said, "with the cold war dragging into its fourth year, we still lack any effective plan for the swiftest possible mobilization of our resources to insure reaching our allies in time."

Baruch's text was prepared for graduating exercises commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

"Additional delay," he warned, "is a needless gamble with our national security—a needless invitation to disaster."

Baruch noted that when the last war ended Congress created the national security resources board to frame a complete wartime mobilization plan.

"When this agency attempted to act it was, as you know, prevented from doing so," he said. "It has still to be heard from."

Baruch told a reporter he meant a mobilization plan drafted by the national security resources board under Arthur M. Hill was his chairman. Baruch described it as "a full mobilization plan, including price controls and allocations of materials."

He said the board approving it included seven cabinet members, yet President Truman turned it down.

Baruch said "what needs to be done is well known. The mobilization experience of the last two wars should be embodied in the best possible plan that can be devised as of today, and promptly enacted into law, ready to be put into effect on proclamation of the President, with the concurrence of Congress."

Baruch said it is time the American people realize how great is the responsibility of preparedness, and added:

"In times of peace all too many people have tended to jeer at members of the armed forces to laugh off their warnings, to give little heed to what they have sought for defense."

"Then, suddenly, war erupts! The much-maligned military are expected to spend billions in furious yet efficient waste, to recruit and train in a matter of months millions of men who never held a rifle before, to organize global operations touching places most Americans never heard of. x x x

"There must be an end to prevailing indecisions. An over-all global strategy for prolonged peacekeeping must be formulated."

Pedestrians

Spring Lake, N.J., June 28—(AP)—The pedestrian is the biggest problem in traffic law enforcement, Major Gen. Philip B. Fleming told New Jersey's police chiefs today.

Almost three out of every four pedestrians killed in motor-vehicle accidents, Fleming said in a prepared address, either were violating a traffic law or "engaging in some unsafe action."

Fleming is chairman of President Truman's highway safety conference.

"Pedestrian enforcement is sadly lacking," he said. "Crises in all population groups reveal dangerous weaknesses in this vital phase of safety work."

Relations With China

Inside Story May Be Revealed Soon; Questions Raised; Recognition Of Red Regime; 'Responsible Government'; United Action By Western Powers

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Secretary of State Acheson says the complete inside story of American relations with China may be told soon. It should be a best seller.

This statement was more or less consistent with two striking developments in the U.S. Senate. In one case several senators took the floor to criticize the American policy toward Communist China. In the other, 21 senators (15 Republicans and 6 Democrats) sent President Truman a letter asking for assurances that the United States would not recognize the communist regime but would continue to support the Nationalist government.

Naturally the paramount questions involved are those raised in the senatorial letter—whether America shall continue to support the Nationalist government and whether she shall refuse to recognize a communist government. Satisfactory answers call for much more detail than is implied in the general phrasing of the questions.

Thus far Washington has taken the general attitude that it wouldn't recognize any communist regime so long as a responsible Nationalist government existed. The U.S.A. wasn't going to do anything to contribute to the Nationalist collapse.

Well and good, but what constitutes a "responsible government?"

U.S. Production Slowup Is Noted

Output Declines With Prices; Seriousness Is Argued

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The nation's production machine has throttled down to its slowest pace in three years and no end to the slowdown has yet been sighted.

The federal reserve board reported a 10.8 per cent fall in production from last November's peak to the end of May. The board said another 2 to 3 per cent drop is indicated for June.

Production is coming down with prices, and accompanying factory closings or slowdowns are boosting unemployment in the process.

The reserve board's report yesterday said output in May remained 74 per cent above the average for prewar 1935-39. But it was nearly three per cent under April and more than nine per cent below May, 1948.

Meanwhile, there was no agreement over just how serious the nation's economic situation is. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer and a man who once held that cabinet post Henry Wallace, disputed the point in a radio debate last night.

Sawyer insisted we are "still in an era of prosperity such as we have not enjoyed in our history," despite declining business and increasing joblessness.

Better Weather For 1949 Crops

It Was Warmer Last Year And Scattered Rains Helpful

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville area is experiencing an unusually torrid period of weather. Weather Bureau records show. The temperature here for the past 10 days has ranged around the 94-degree mark, leveling off one day—last Tuesday—to the 92-degree mark, and on several days ascending to 98 degrees. Scattered mild thunderstorms have tended to lower the temperature for a short time.

Highest temperature here yesterday was 98 degrees. During last night the mercury descended to 71 degrees. At 8 a.m. today it was 77, and the mercury had climbed to 89 degrees at 11 a.m., and it was on the way upward.

The temperature here one year ago today was 102 degrees. Weather Bureau records show, and the hot weather continued until July.

Total rainfall for last June was slightly less than three-quarters of an inch, and the precipitation occurred during the first few days of the month. Comparing last year with this year, the rain then was drizzle—not storms. Yesterday's thunderstorm about 5 p.m. caused the temperature to drop from 96 to 76 degrees at 6 o'clock.

Total rainfall last June was .72

Hopes To Avert Walkout Fading

Southern Coal Operators And UMW Continue Deadlocked

Bluefield, W. Va., June 28—(AP)—Hope for avoiding a Southern soft coal strike was fading today as Southern operators continued their deadlocked contract talks with the United Mine Workers.

The union turned down the operators' main demands early in the conference, now more than a month old. But President Joseph E. Moody of the Southern Coal Producers Association disclosed yesterday that the operators have not yet softened these demands.

Moody also said the union negotiators, headed by UMW Secretary-treasurer John Owens, still have not made a formal contract offer of their own.

The present contract runs out Thursday but the real strike deadline—the union's "no contract—no work" policy—would be July 6—the day the miners are due back from their annual 10-day vacation.

For the second time, the union yesterday blocked a Southern operators' move to stretch the July 6 deadline until August 15, if necessary. Union negotiators voted down a similar motion here 10 days ago.

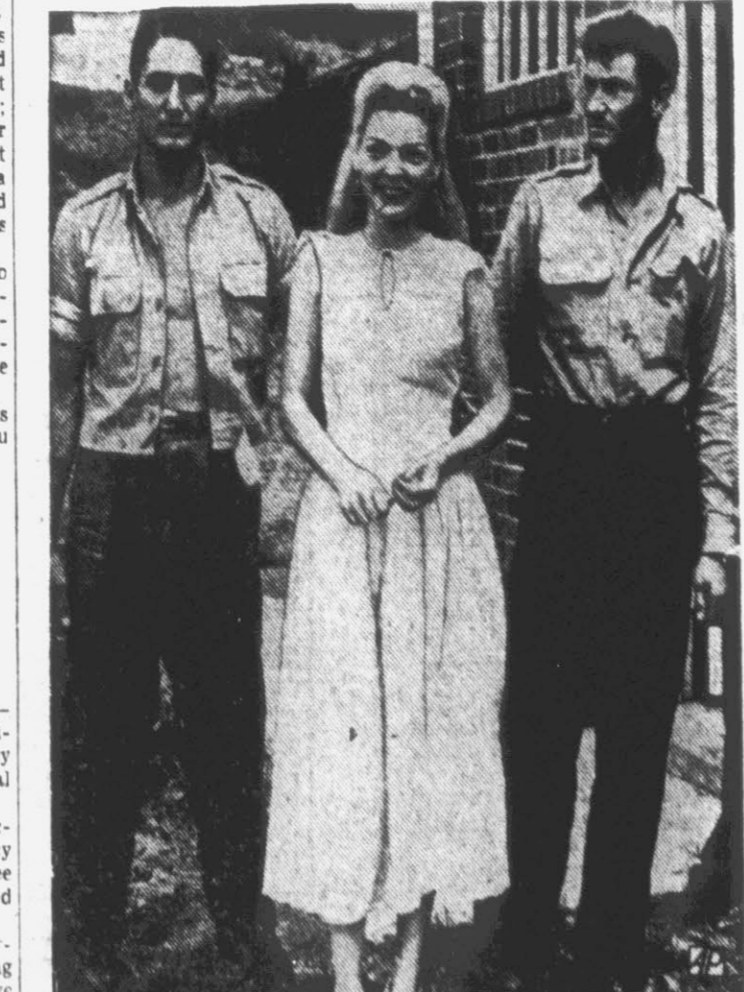

It was rumored that a majority of the SCPA negotiators want to soften their demands but are blocked by one or two members who refuse to back down. It takes a unanimous vote to pass any motion that comes before the negotiators.

Final Pleas Are Heard By Jury Trying Coplon

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The federal court jury trying Judith Coplon on espionage charges today heard final pleas for her conviction and acquittal.

These arguments will be followed tomorrow by Judge Albert L. Reeves' instructions to the jury on points of law. The jury of eight men and four women will begin deliberating the fate of the former Justice Department worker as soon as the judge has finished—probably shortly after noon.

Divisions Arise Over School Aid Bill In Congress

Lesinski Says Barden Trying To Kill Aid For Education By His Terms

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Deep-seated differences over federal aid to education erupted in Congress today following a bitterly worded exchange yesterday between Reps. Barden (D-NC) and Lesinski (D-Mich.).

Lesinski, chairman of the House Labor Committee controlling the education bill, accused Barden of editing an "anti-Negro and anti-Catholic" substitute and of trying to "kill" aid for education once and for all.

Barden countered in a prepared statement with a charge that Lesinski had made "a false statement" unsupported by fact.

The bill, a substitute for a Senate-passed measure, was approved 10 to 3 by Barden's labor subcommittee.

But Lesinski told reporters yesterday the substitute "is dead."

After the House returns from its July 4 holiday, Lesinski said, the labor committee will be called to consider a new bill fashioned along the lines of the measure passed by the Senate.

The Senate measure would make available $350,000,000 a year in grants to assist the states. Each state would be allowed funds at the rate of $5 per pupil, plus additional aid up to $29 for the so-called "backward" states.

Barden's substitute also provides $5 per pupil, but makes other sharply differing provisions.

It provides that the money may be spent only for "current expenditures," specifically prohibiting expenditures for transportation and health and welfare activities. And it says the aid must go only to public schools.

This was one of the chief targets of Cardinal Spellman, who saw it as a ban on federal assistance to parochial and other sectarian and private schools.

Barden said transportation was excluded because committee investigation disclosed that "48 states had more than 48 different systems, types and methods of transportation."

"The committee therefore decided it was a matter to be left to the states," he said, "and that we would not enter in that hay field."

Berlin's Railway Strike Is Ended

Workers Return To Jobs After 38-Day Long Walkout

Berlin, June 28—(AP)—Berlin's 38-day rail tieup came to an end today as strikers went back to their jobs and the Soviet-directed management resumed control of the west Berlin stations.

Traffic did not resume immediately. The management prepared to direct test runs over the tracks which had been idle since May 21, when 14,000 anti-Communist employees struck.

Western railroaders said a few hours work on signals, switches and torn-up trackage was needed to get the freight yards in service again.

The Soviet management said it would have to send inspection teams around before allowing either inter-zonal freight trains or the city's

Coal Operators Said Ready To Reject No-Strike Offer

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 28—(AP)—Coal operators of the North and West were reported ready to reject today John L. Lewis' offer to forego a strike next month in return for a three-day work week.

The operators took a vote on the question yesterday in a private huddle in Pittsburgh.

There was little doubt of their answer—that they could not agree because of the legal risks. They fear that if they join the union in limiting the work week, they would run the chance of government action under the anti-trust laws, on the ground it would restrain trade.

But many operators here and elsewhere seemed to like the idea. They said privately that they might go for it if it could be accomplished without legal risk, or without committing them too much to giving Lewis control over the industry's output.

On the other hand, a spokesman for the Central Pennsylvania Coal Association said his group was against the proposal because it was "too costly." He said mines would have to be kept in shape for full production, although actually operating only at about 50 percent capacity.

Publicly the operators and Lewis wouldn't even discuss the plan. The operators planned to hand their formal answer to Lewis when the bargaining conference resumes here at 3 p.m. (EST).

There were reports that some sort of a counter-proposal would be offered by the bushy-browed union leader.

In all bituminous fields, the present contract expires June 30. However, the miners are on a 10-day vacation ending July 5, and the real strike deadline is not until after that holiday is over.

A mine strike in the absence of a contract is the usual pattern in the coal industry.

Lewis has three objectives in offering to keep the mines open while he negotiates a new agreement. They are:

1. He would not have to call a strike at a time when it would be tough on the 400,000 soft coal miners and their families, already hard pressed to keep households going on shrinking take-home pay.
2. He would stabilize employment, spreading it among his entire membership. This naturally is attractive to those now on short rations, but not so popular with those able to work five or six days a week at a few scattered companies.
3. He would cut into the huge reserves of coal above the ground, which hurt him at the bargaining table. When that is reduced, he can make a better deal for a new contract.

Canadian Liberal Party Triumphs

Political Landslide Reminiscent Of Roosevelt 1936 Vote

Toronto, June 28—(AP)—The Liberal Party of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has won a smashing political victory reminiscent of the 1936 landslide of the Roosevelt New Deal.

Returns today from the national election showed the Liberals—Canada's nearest equivalent to the Democrats—had won 193 of the 262 seats in a new House of Commons. They led in all provinces but Alberta. It was the greatest party triumph in Canadian history.

The Progressive Conservatives, the main opposition party, took 42 seats. The other Commons members will come from minor parties.

The Canadian party dominating the House of Commons names the government. The Liberals now have a mandate until 1954. That will run their incumbency to 18 years—they took over from the Conservatives in 1935.

It was a personal triumph for St. Laurent, who has been in politics only eight years. The soft-spoken French-Canadian, 67 years old, assumed the prime ministry last November when W. L. Mackenzie King bowed out because of ill health. King personally selected St. Laurent to lead the Liberals to victory.

Czechs Charge Vatican Envoys Engage In Plot

Prague, June 28—(AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government today accused members of the Vatican's diplomatic staff here of subversive plotting against the state.

The direct attacks upon the Holy See's representation here were made in official statements and articles in the controlled press. Some diplomatic quarters regarded the statements as a highly significant development in Czechoslovakia's church-state fight.

The sources noted especially an attempt of the government to liken the situation here with what it called the "Vatican-Mindszenty plot" against the Hungarian people's republic.

The informants said the attacks might mean the Czechoslovak government planned to demand the recall of the alleged "plotters" or might even be building up a case for severing diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

New restrictions on the Catholic church accompanied the government's attack on the Vatican and what it called the "reactionary Czech hierarchy."

Taft Labor Law Terms Survive In Senate Test

Finance Experts Called In Crisis

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The Taft plan to deal with national emergency strikes by both court orders and plant seizure survived a Senate test by two votes.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) lost, 46 to 44, an effort to knock out the court orders provision from the double-barreled proposal offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

That put up to the Senate whether it would write the Taft plan into the administration's labor bill.

Before the test on the Lucas move the Senate rejected a straight-out proposal to keep Taft-Hartley law injunctions against national emergency strikes.

The vote was 54 to 37.

It was a big preliminary victory for the Truman administration in the Senate scrap over a new labor law.

But it came in a parliamentary situation leaving a chance that Senators wanting to keep this provision of the T-H law might yet finally win.

While the first round went to the administration group, at least one and possibly two more hurdles remained.

The first vote was on an amendment sponsored by Senator Holland (D-Fla.) and others. It simply proposed to keep the provision of the present law which lets the government get court orders to block strikes impeding the national health or safety.

But before the Taft proposal could come to a vote the administration planned an effort to strike out the injunction provision from it, leaving only the seizure provision.

Sensors Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, had offered an amendment to change the Taft plan.

Both sides went to extraordinary efforts to get every vote they could for the big test. Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) completed a 4,900-mile flight from Europe only an hour and a half before the voting.

Vice President Barkley, who could vote only in case of a tie, flew back from a visit to Los Angeles.

Plan To Deal With National Emergency Strikes By Both Court Orders And Plant Seizure Wins By Two-Vote Margin

Due Process Of Law

Supreme Court Decision Would Limit Police Pressure In Obtaining Confessions; Limits Undefined; Legal Wording Still Leaves Question Up In Air

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The Supreme Court has told American cops to do a real detective job instead of trying to pressure a suspect into making a confession against himself.

The pressure doesn't necessarily mean beating a prisoner. It may mean talking to him so long—(how long wasn't made clear by the court)—that he finally caves in and confesses.

But how long then do cops have a right to question a prisoner without depriving him of his constitutional rights, rights which the court says are protected?

One minute? One hour? One day? Two days? Five days? The court did not say precisely.

So police undoubtedly will still use their own judgment about holding a man indefinitely, questioning him in relays to get a confession, and then using it to get him convicted and sentenced to jail or death.

When that happens, though, and the convicted man appeals to the Supreme court, there's a good chance the court will rule in his favor and throw out his confession and the conviction which followed it.

Future decisions of the court can't be predicted, of course, but that's how the court acted yesterday in the case of three Negroes, all found guilty of murder: one in Pennsylvania, one in Indiana, and one in South Carolina.

In each case the men were grabbed as suspects by police, questioned by them in relays for days. None was beaten. All three confessed. All three were convicted.

Until he had confessed, none of the men was allowed to see friends or a lawyer, and none was told he had a constitutional right not to say anything which might later be used against him.

In all three cases the Supreme Court upset the conviction and ruled the men had been deprived of their constitutional right of "due process" of law.

Which means it was contrary to the constitution to hold them so long for questioning before letting them see a lawyer—who would have told them not to confess—before charging them.

Said the court: "There is a torture of the mind as well as of the body. The will is as much affected by fear as by force... a conviction (which) is the product of sustained pressure by the police... does not issue from a free choice."

In other words, the court said, the men had not really made a voluntary confession. The court went on:

Women In The Church

According to Justice Mrs. Justine Wise Polier, of the Domestic Relations Court, New York City, white Jews number about 30 per cent of that city's population, only 10 per cent of the city's juvenile delinquents are Jewish. Home life, which is sacred to Jews, is believed to be a leading cause of this disparity.

A recent poll by the Presbyterian Outlook, of Richmond, Va., disclosed that 80 per cent of the elders and ministers of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. reached by the canvassers favored equal representation of men and women on committees; 100 per cent favored a voice for women in church action; 66.7 per cent favored women elders; 6 per cent approved women ministers; 73.3 per cent favored equal rights of men and women in all church matters.

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church recently selected sixteen young women as foreign missionaries and twelve as home missionaries and they have been commissioned by the Board of Missions and Church Extension. These 28 were part of a group of 55 commissioned by Bishops W. W. Peele of New York and Herbert of New York—and part of 1000 to be chosen by 1953. The young women going into foreign service are: Joy L. Anderson, of Baltimore, Md., to India as a nurse; Elizabeth S. Beale of Sandwich, Mass., to Cuba as a nurse; Frances W. Bigelow of Evanston, Ill., to Uruguay in educational work; Frances A. Burns, of Commerce, Texas, to Brazil in educational work; Jean Cale, of Uniontown, Pa., to India as a nurse; Ida M. Draft Evader Is Nabbed By FBI

Rochester, N. Y., June 24—(AP)—Wyatt A. Cooper, 41 of Spartanburg, S. C., was arrested today by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents on a charge of draft evasion.

Harry G. Maynor, FBI agent for the Buffalo district, said Cooper failed to report for induction at Spartanburg Nov. 26, 1943. A South Carolina Federal grand jury indicted Cooper Sept. 8, 1948 on a charge of violating the selective service code.

Had A Fortune, Didn't Know It

Cairo —(AP)—A ragged beggar who pleads for alms in the shadow of the Pyramids had a fortune in stolen jewels. But he didn't know it. Police for months had been hunting $80,000 in gems taken last summer from Mrs. Nahas Pasha, wife of the Waftist Party leader. Finally they caught the thieves. After holding out until the police fed them a chicken dinner, they admitted they had given many of the jewels to a beggar named Bahluk. The jewels were wrapped in a package and the beggar didn't know what they were, they said. He had been instructed to hide them.

After questioning, Bahluk was released. "I just never got around to looking inside that cloth," he admitted ruefully.

Determines Best Time To Cut Hay

Davis, Calif.—(AP)—The best time for cutting vetch and oats for hay has been determined by Professor B. A. Madson and L. G. Jones on the Davis campus of the University of California.

Vetch is best for hay when cut in full bloom. Oats makes good hay if cut when the grain is in the soft-dough stage.

Bendix Aviation Strike Near End

Washington, June 28 — (AP) — Secretary of Air Symington announced an agreement today for settlement of the strike that has closed the Bendix Aviation Corp. plant at South Bend, Ind., for 70 days.

Terms agreed to by company and United Auto Workers officials were kept secret pending study and a vote by the workers.

Symington summoned the union and management spokesmen here for conference which ran through last night and into this morning. He said he did so because of the effect of the stoppage on production of airplane engines.

President Walter Reuther of the UAW said both parties were fully conscious "of the compelling needs of the Air Force."

M. E. Ferguson, Bendix president said he was happy to see the end of the strike.

"We can resume production of very much needed aircraft and airplane parts," he added.

Symington said agreement had been reached on the three major issues involved in the dispute.

He reported that Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson and Arthur C. Viat, federal mediation service representative, stayed with the negotiators throughout last night.

Mrs. Joseph M. Taylor

Taylor-Little

Miss Mamie Lee Little, daughter of Mrs. Robert Lee Little and the late Mr. Little of Grimesland, and Joseph Marion Taylor, son of Mrs. George Ernest Moore and the late Ray G. Taylor of Raleigh, were married in a candlelight ceremony on June 11 at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Salem Methodist Church. The Rev. C. G. Nickens officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Elizabeth Edwards of Simpson and Mrs. Edgar Denton of Greenville, vocalists, rendered a program of wedding music prior to the ceremony. The vows were spoken before an altar of green pines, of white gladioli, trailing ivy with daisies, and candelabras.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert G. Little, wore a gown of candlelight duchess satin fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with brocade and having long tight sleeves which ended in calla lily points over the hands. Miniature satin covered buttons extended down the back of the fitted bodice and the full skirt extended into a long train. The fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of mums, valley lilies and stephanotis with streamers. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a wedding gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hugh Sumrell Jr. of Simpson attended the bride as matron-of-honor. Her gown was of green organdy over green taffeta and fashioned with a fitted bodice, low pointed neckline, and a full hoop-skirt. She wore matching mitts of organdy, a picture hat and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed summer flowers, with green streamers.

The bridesmaids were Misses Peggy Gardner and Tull Edwards of Raleigh. They wore gowns of yellow embroidered organdy over taffeta, fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor. They wore matching mitts, picture hats and carried bouquets of summer flowers, with yellow streamers.

Little Miss Jean Hogan of Chapel Hill, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was of white organdy and she wore a picture bonnet. She carried a white satin basket and scattered rose petals as she went down the aisle.

Master Billy Little of Grimesland, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer and carried the rings on a miniature white satin pillow.

William Moore of Raleigh attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were William E. Little, brother of the bride, Jack Chamberlain, J. Warren Smith and Julius Siler, all of Raleigh.

Honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert G. Little of Grimesland, Mrs. Clyde Hogan of Chapel Hill, sister of the bride, Misses Grace Wyatt and Dorothy Wyatt, Jenny Seago of Raleigh, Misses Jean Briley, Rebecca Ann Pate, Peggy Edwards and Mrs. Bruce Cozart of Simpson and Mrs. J. C. Galloway Jr. of Greenville. They all wore gardenias in their hair.

Mrs. Little, mother of the bride, wore a gown of dusty rose crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of brandywine roses.

Mrs. Moore, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of aqua crepe trimmed with lace and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Little.

The reception rooms were decorated with arrangements of early summer flowers, greenery and candelabra holding burning tapers. Mr. R. G. Little introduced the guests to the bridal party and Mrs. Bruce Cozart directed them into the gift room where all of the lovely gifts were displayed. Mrs. J. C. Galloway Jr. presided over the bride's register and Mrs. R. G. Little invited the guests into the dining room where punch, nuts and bridal cakes were served. Mrs. Clyde Hogan presided at the punch bowl and the honorary bridesmaids assisted in serving. Mrs. W. E. Little acted as hostess during the reception.

Following the reception, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For traveling, the bride wore a toast suit, matching straw hat and accessories of toast and white. She wore a Natural Orchid Corsage on her suit.

Mrs. Taylor attended East Carolina Teachers College and is a graduate of Hardbarger's Business School. She was employed in the Purchasing Department at State College for three years and lived at home prior to her marriage.

Mr. Taylor is a senior at North Carolina State College. During World War II he served with the United States Army in the Pacific theater.

After June 20 the couple will be at home in Goldsboro, where Mr. Taylor will hold a position with Dewey Brothers, Inc.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Siler, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Edmondson, Mr. Jack Chamberlain, Mr. J. Warren Smith, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond Smith, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Misses Dot and Grace Wyatt, Miss Mildred Perry, Miss Kathy Tilley, Mr. William Moore, Miss Jenny Seago, Miss Tull Edwards, Miss Peggy Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Semple, all of Raleigh; Mrs. W. C. Waters, Mrs. Bill Talley, Mrs. Lucy Talley, Mrs. Thomas Talley, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagwell, Mr. Marshall Bagwell, Mr. Bill Waters and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bagwell and Mrs. Ruf Eiks, all of Washington; Mrs. Parker Peale, of Wilmington; Mrs. W. H. Warden and Gayle Wharden, of Winston-Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mendenhall, Mr. and Mrs. Kneezee Harrison and Miss Joyce Mendenhall, all of Williamston; Mrs. Ruby D. Griffin, Goldsboro; Miss Lila Sumrell, of Raleigh; Mrs. Dan Mizell, of Tarboro; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Best, of Pinetops; and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Nobles of Stokes.

Following the rehearsal Friday evening, Mrs. Bruce Cozart and Mrs. J. C. Galloway Jr. entertained at the home of Mrs. Cozart at a cake-cutting honoring the bride and bridegroom-elect, members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests. The home was decorated with summer flowers, candles and wedding bells. The table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white bridal flowers and white burning tapers. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded with gardenias, stood at one end of the table while punch was served from the other. After the members of the wedding party had pulled the ribbon and the first slice was cut by the honorees, it was served by Mrs. Clyde Hogan and Mrs. Billy Wayne Tucker.

Leggett-Mullen Vows Spoken In Bethel

Miss Elizabeth Mae Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mullen of Bethel and Mr. Jennie Leggett, son of Mr. Elles Leggett of Washington, North Carolina, were married Sunday afternoon, June 19, in a candlelight ceremony in the Bethel Baptist church.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John Mayo, organist, and Mrs. Wadie Ward, soloist. Mrs. Ward sang, "Because," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding gown an original model of heavy ivory satin. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom and carried a white prayer book with an orchid showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Toddy Smith was the maid of honor. She wore a pink organdy dress with a picture hat and white arm length gloves. She carried a bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

Members of the bridal party and friends attended.

The recreation room was decorated with summer flowers consisting of gladioli, larkspur, feverfew and baby breath. The table was decorated with gladioli and feverfew arranged about burning white candles. The bride-elect and mother were presented with corsages.

Power Shut Off When Line Broke Monday

Power was shut off temporary yesterday when a high voltage power line broke on Fifth street. The business section. Service men from the water and light department repaired the trouble and service was resumed. This was the second time in the past two weeks that power lines have fallen in this area. Three lines fell in the same place a week ago.

"Bad" comes from "bidan", an Anglo-Saxon word meaning to pray, but it has come to mean a pierced ornament from its association with the use of rosaries in praying.

HARD WORK NEVER HURTS ANYONE

What most often breaks a man down? Overwork? Very seldom does overwork break any man down. It is generally not overwork but under-living that makes a man snap.

Psychologists express it by saying that hard work within reasonable limits never hurts anyone, but that almost any effort, or in fact no effort at all, accompanied by inner conflict will eventually break down the health of body and mind. Such a person is broken not by circumstances which impinge upon him from without, but by a lack of inner adequacy—a starved soul, a vacant mind, an aimless life which leads first to restlessness then to stress and finally to despair.

What people need to get rest from is not from their work, but from themselves. An excess of purpose, determination and grit would save half our cases of nervous breakdown. Most people's need is not a better fortune with reference to circumstances, but a better co-ordination of fundamental impulses and desires.

It is not anything from without that as a rule breaks a man down; it is some dreadful conflict being carried on within the confines of self.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN MISBET

WORKING—North Carolina's 424 highway patrolmen were on the job an average of about 12 hours and traveled 110 miles every day, including Sundays, during the month of May. Total distance traveled was equivalent to 60 times around the globe at the equator, and enough to cover every mile of state and county roads 23 times during the month. The Buicks in which they rode delivered at the rate of a little over 14 miles to the gallon of gasoline purchased. The activities report shows that absences with leave amounted to 1,080 days and an account of sickness 80 days. That means the average patrolman had just two and a half days off during the month. Indicating that the boys weren't just riding around for fun the report lists 5,450 arrests, 5,761 citations and 2,411 warning tickets issued; 9,048 complaints and 998 accidents investigated; 95,456 drivers licenses and 77,786 vehicles inspected. May was a busy time for the patrolmen.

DIFFICULT—L. Y. Ballentine, commissioner of agriculture, brought back from the regional conference of state agriculture officials at Atlanta two illustrations of the difficulty in fitting national farm legislation to peculiar needs of every section. An Oklahoman told him they figure ten acres of grazing per dairy cow in that state. In North Carolina with the improved pasture program well underway the goal is two cows on one acre. Cotton growers in large areas of Texas are satisfied if they get a bale of cotton from seven or eight acres. North Carolina has almost reached the bale an acre average. And because this state produces more than two-thirds of all flue-cured bright-leaf tobacco, many of the regulations desired in other states would work severe hardship on Tar Heel tobacco farmers.

BUS FARES—The state utilities commission has under consideration several petitions for increased fares on city bus lines. It is generally conceded that city bus fares are lower than conditions justify in some places, and there might not be much popular protest at increases. The High Point Enterprise editorially calls attention to one phase of the matter deserving special attention. That is the schedule of fares for school children. Elementary schools are usually spotted around the cities so that the pupils can walk to and from home. The high school in many instances is as much as three miles away, making it impractical for pupils to walk. They must depend upon the family car or the city bus for transportation.

NOT FREE—This is a case in which the state laws discriminate against city high school pupils in favor of those living in the country. The state provides free transportation for rural pupils living more than a mile from the schoolhouse, for both elementary and high school grades. The state does not provide free transportation for pupils of city schools. Two or three cents increase in bus fare is not noticeable for occasional riders, but families with several children in school quickly feel the impact of that increase.

Nothing Political, Of Course

twice a day on the family budget. EQUALIZATION—In adjusting city bus fares the state authorities should provide some equalization of this differential between rural and city children. Special tickets good only on trips to and from school might be issued at lower rates. If this arrangement seemed to be unfair to the bus lines, some method of state subsidy should be worked out. There is no doubt that discrimination now in the state furnishing free buses for country children, while requiring those living in towns and cities to pay their own fare.

Boyle's Column

New York —(AP)—Ever wonder what happened to good old Frank Merrill after he left Yale?

He seems to have been lost in the crush of years, but a number of old Yale's other sons have done right well by themselves.

Yes, sir, the lads who stayed up all night a quarter of a century ago singing "Boola, Boola" can sleep late now because they are making plenty of "Moola Moola."

The class of 1924 has done all right for itself. In fact I have come to the conclusion, after studying some statistics compiled for the class' 25th reunion this year, that one of the signs of a misspent life is not to have been graduated from Yale University the year Calvin Coolidge was elected President.

These highly secret figures were smuggled to me by a ribald friend who sent them, hidden in an old newspaper, via an intermediary. The man traveled on a coach car of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway to avoid detection.

The statistics show that 26 years after leaving Yale's Ivory Tower the boys have an average earned income of $17,210 and an average income from all sources of $25,111. The largest single income was a tidy $400,000.

The boys have turned out to be good steady husbands. They carry an average of $65,262 in life insurance—enough to cheer any prospective widow. Some 71 percent have one or more servants and only 7.1 percent have wives who work out of the home.

More than 82 percent have never been fired from a job and 12.2 percent were only fired once.

The class of 1924 produced only one clergyman, one coroner, one

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

During the war there was a term used in army hospitals, EPTI, which the Medical Department deemed of utmost importance. Those letters stand for "existed prior to induction," and mean that if you had the ailment before you entered the service the army is not liable for continuous treatment after you are discharged. Therefore, on every medical record such a notation was made, if applicable.

The Veterans Administration is well aware of one inevitable happening that took place before and during the term of service of America's 14 million members of the armed forces. One million of the veterans have had their teeth fixed at the taxpayer's expense, and no one can deny that teeth did decay during war service. This project has cost the taxpayers more than $67 million. In 1947 alone, 657,254 treatments (ranging from fillings to full plates) were given at a cost of almost $43 million. Of these, 600,400 were by local dentists on a fee basis, the rest by the VA's own staff dentists.

Before any of you veterans get too interested in going to see your dentist, I'd better tell you the catch. If cavities or other dental troubles show up within a year after discharge (provided the veteran has served at least 6 months), the trouble is presumed to be service-connected. The ex-serviceman can get free dental service for as long as he needs it on any tooth treated in his first year out of the service.

The veteran with an aching tooth may have to wait four months to get free care, or his dentist may have to wait four months for his pay. A typical question that has arisen: If the veteran has one front tooth with a cavity that developed while he was in service, and this affected the tooth next to it, which can be filled? Answer: Only the tooth with the service-connected cavity. But if both teeth have to be pulled out, the VA will pay for a bridge for both gaps. Sounds like a square deal to me.

Tonight the newly-organized Greenville Swimming Team will meet the highly-regarded Tarboro team in Tarboro. The first home meet has not been scheduled as yet, but it will be in the very near future.

It will be interesting to see how the Greenville swimmers will stack up against a team that has been active throughout the war years, particularly since we have not had a team here in seven years.

Remember that your support will have a great deal to do with the success of the team this summer. And I thank you.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JEAN KADS

Washington—Doctors and lumbermen, farmers and business men all have fresh-spirited Oregonians flew into the capitol the other day to get a quick look-see at their government in action. There were about 100 in all, including some wives and youngsters, and the men were flying their own planes. They stopped over on a return flight they'd made from Portland, Ore., to their namesake city, Portland, Me.

None of the men is a professional flyer. There was Carl Brandenfels, inventor of a concoction he swears will grow hair on bald heads, and there was Ernest Haycox, successful writer of a mass of fiction and movie scenarios, including "Union Pacific." Mr. Haycox just "came along for the ride." His "plane host" was Anthony J. Dwyer, lumberman, president of the Portland Rotary Club.

Others in the group included Frank Womack, assistant manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and handsome, greying L. S. White of the Aero Credit Corp. Their two organizations were more or less in charge of the group.

The Oregonians began touring about the blue several years ago and have already visited Alaska, Mexico and most of the western states, traveling in all about 22,000 miles. They say their next junket will be to Cuba, and later on they hope to fly to Europe. L. S. White, spokesman for the group, told newsmen in Washington: "We're out to see America first. You haven't seen America until you have seen it from the air. We're out to make friends for Oregon and the northwest and friends for aviation. We are the living answer to a recent magazine article that calls all private flyers 'stupid, damn fools that ought to be ruled off the air.' On six previous tours we have flown 18,000 route miles—more than 1,500,000 passenger miles—from the tropics to the Arctic, from the lowest to the highest points on the continent, through the country's worst terrain and weather, with no more than one cracked propeller."

"And that doesn't mean we're supermen," he said. "None of us is a professional pilot. Our average age is about 46. Our safety record is the safety record of the modern light plane flown with ordinary care."

SBI Goes Into Union Charge Of Marion 'Reign Of Terror'

Marion, June 28 —(AP)— The State Bureau of Investigation today delved into the circumstances which prompted a labor union to assert that "a reign of terror" exists in this furniture making town.

The AFL Upholsters International Union telegraphed Gov. W. Kerr Scott that "a virtual reign of terror exists in the town of Marion." The union asked for help and an investigation.

"Absolutely false and without any foundation of fact," declared Mayor

J. W. Streetman, Jr., in commenting on the union's accusation.

The mayor said there had been "a few fist fights between employees of the Drexel Furniture Company and union organizers." All parties involved have been arrested, tried and convicted, the mayor added.

Court records show six men were convicted of "an affray" in mayor's court June 17. They were given suspended sentences of 30 days each and assessed court costs. Two union organizers were in the group.

Two Additional Prison Terms Handed Killer

Belmont, N.Y., June 28 —(AP)— The convicted slayer of an elderly farm widow must serve two additional prison sentences after completing 10 to 20 years for first degree manslaughter.

Mauris Holshouser, 26, a former carnival worker from Mocksville N.C., pleaded guilty in Allegheny County Court yesterday to stealing two automobiles before and after bearing Mrs. Lena G. M. Robinson, 73, of Scio, to death last September.

Judge Ward M. Hopkins sentenced Holshouser to a total of 7 1/2 to 15 years in Attica State Prison on two grand larceny charges. The judge stressed that the sentences are not to be served concurrently.

Highway Death Toll Goes Down

Raleigh, June 26 —(AP)— Fatalities on Tar-Heel highways showed a decrease last month for the first time since January.

The Motor Vehicles Department reportedly yesterday that 48 persons were killed on the state's highways in May, compared with 62 during May of last year. The figure represents a 23 per cent decrease.

May's figures brought to 303 the number of persons killed during the first five months of the year. The decrease was attributed to less traffic on the highways.

The Drexel plant is listed in the N.C. Manufacturers directory as an employer of about 600 persons.

The SBI entered the case after the union president, Sal B. Hoffman of Philadelphia, wired Gov. Scott on Sunday.

"Urgently request investigation at your direction of virtual reign of terror against our union's organizers at Drexel Furniture plant in city of Marion x x x."

The wire added that two of the organizers had been beaten, once in the presence of city police officers.

Gov. Scott is expected to return to the state capitol at Raleigh late this week from the National Governor's Conference in Colorado.

'Smoke-Jumpers' To Demonstrate In Treeless Area

Washington, June 28 — (AP)— Faced by an absence of forest fires in downtown Washington, the Agriculture Department planned to stage one today, so it could show how its parachutists put them out.

The smoke-jumpers, who operate in the West under the Department's Forest Service, will leap from a plane over the Washington Monument area into a fire "stimulated by smoke pots.

The Department's announcement said:

"They will then be accompanied by police escort to the National Press Club, where they will present awards to a half dozen of America's topflight industrialists in recognition of the advertising support American business has contributed to the fight against forest fires."

State's Measles Outbreak Slips

Raleigh, June 28 — (AP)— Although 470 cases were reported for the week ending June 18, the state's measles outbreak is definitely on the decline.

That is what Dr. Charles P. Stevick, the state's epidemiologist, announced yesterday.

Dr. Stevick also said that 38 cases of polio have been reported since Jan. 1. Last year at this date 423 cases were reported as the state's worst polio epidemic daily became worse and worse.

Greenies Trounce Goldsboro By 7-2 Margin; Homers By Mauney, Varney

Visitors Score Twice In First, And Yohn Pitches Shut-Out Ball For Rest Of Contest

By BERT MOYE
Manager Pappy Williams and his Greenville Greenies defeated the Goldsboro Goldbugs here last night 7 to 2. The win for the Greenies was their third straight win against the Bugs in as many games.

Willie Mauney and Sid Varney sparked the 12-hit attack against the two Bug hurlers, with Mauney collecting a homer in the fifth to put the Greenies out front and in addition to his homer got a double in the seventh frame to drive in another run. Sid Varney, who got three for four, collected a two-run homer in the seventh and also drove in another run with a timely single in the first frame.

The Bugs made their only two runs of the game in the first frame when Steve Mizerak walked, Johnny Lisk doubled and Leo Katkaveck singled to bring in the two runs.

The Greenies scored in the first when Denier singled, Tepedino singled, Willie Mauney forced Tepedino at second with Denier taking third and then Varney singled into right field to bring home Denier.

They knotted the count at 2-2 in the third frame when Tepedino got an infield hit, advanced to second on a wild throw by Third Baseman Katkaveck, stole third and came home on Bob Cohen's fly to deep left field.

Willie Mauney's homer over the right field wall in the fifth accounted for the third run and they came back in the seventh to score three more tallies when Tepedino singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch, Willie Mauney's single brought him home and then Sid Varney homered over the right field wall to clear the bases.

The final run of the Greenies came in the eighth when Strausser walked, stole second and then came home when Pitcher Adametz threw wild to second in an effort to pick him off the base.

Junior Yohn went the route for the Greenies and gave up 10 hits, but kept them well scattered. The win for Yohn was his seventh of the season and his second against the Bugs this season. He has suffered two defeats.

Leo Katkaveck with three singles in four trips to the plate led the attack for the Bugs, with Chuck Sedor getting two singles in four trips to the plate.

The Bugs used two hurlers with Monk Whiteheart, who pitched the first six and one-third frames, being credited with the loss. Adametz relieved him in the seventh following Varney's roundtripper.

Sid Varney with a homer, double and a single and John Tepedino with three singles led the 12-hit attack of the two Bug hurlers. Willie Mauney in addition to his homer collected a double and Steve Denier got two singles in five trips to help out the cause.

The Greenies journey over to Goldsboro tonight to meet the Bugs in the second game of the series between the two clubs.

Dimaggio Hopes Can Soon Resume Outfield Berth

New York, June 28—(AP)—"It felt good—I mean playing out there felt good."

That's the way a happy Joe Dimaggio described the first baseball game he's played since April 11, back before the start of the season.

The New York Yankees' $90,000-a-year bench warmer took over his old centerfield spot and went the full nine innings in an exhibition game against the giants last night at Yankee stadium.

He didn't help much in the Yanks' 5-3 victory. He popped up weakly in four times at bat, walked once and made two easy putouts afield.

But he was so encouraged that he is counting heavily on getting back into regular competition in the three game series with the Red Sox, opening tonight in Boston.

"I'd like to play, and I think I can play soon," he said. He said his ailing right heel hurt some, but not much.

"I'm ready to go when I'm called on. It's up to Manager Casey Stengel."

Stengel, who announced Joe would be in the Yankee party taking off for Boston, said he took Dimaggio's play in the exhibition game as a "sign he'll be available this week against the Red Sox."

"I'm happy, very happy, about the way the whole evening went off," Stengel added. "Having Dimaggio back will mean much, yes sir. Joe surprised me at being able to go the whole nine innings."

The Yankee pilot wouldn't say whether he planned to start Joe in centerfield in the Red Sox series or whether he would use him for pinch-hitting purposes.

Dimaggio, the American League's most valuable player in 1939, 1941 and 1947, acknowledged his batting was a bit rusty as a result of his long absence from competition.

"I wish I could have done something at bat," Joe said, "but Kirby Higbe kept throwing me knucklers, and I was out of practice against that dippy-do stuff."

Boys' League Baseball

Braves vs Athletics
The Tigers of Third St. strengthened their lead in the Senior Division with a 8 to 4 win over the second place Braves. Leading hitter of the game was Syd Briley with a double and single.

Reds vs Yanks
In a see saw game this morning at the Training school, the Reds from W. Greenville rallied for two runs in the last inning to come from behind to take a 11 to 10 victory over the Yanks. The win gave the Reds a comfortable lead in the middle division. After taking a commanding four run lead in the third, the Reds fell behind and had to score four runs in the last two innings to win. Pat Sawyer and Bobby Howell were the leading hitters for the Reds with three hits each. Dallas Evans and Edwards got two hits each for the Yanks.

Indians vs Red Sox
The Indians scored three runs in the sixth to break a tie and win their third game in a row in the Junior Division. Their victims were the Red Sox who saw their losing streak continue after a fast start in the league. The Indians have made a great comeback after losing their first five starts. Staton with four hits and Ike Riddick and Williams with three each were the leaders for the Sox. Nobles with a homer and two doubles and Conway with triple and double were the top hitters for the Indians.

Cubs vs Giants
In a mighty battle, the Giants from the Training school won their first game of the season after losing three close ones. They defeated the Cubs of Third St. 20 to 17. The Giants got off to a 8 to 4 lead in the second but the Cubs came fighting back to tie the score to make the game go to two extra innings. The Cubs scored three runs in the last inning to tie the score. Buck Flye struck the telling blow in this inning, a long homer to score two runners ahead of him. The Giants came right back in the first extra inning to take a two run lead only to have the Cubs in the lower half of the inning to tie the score again. In the second extra inning the Giants scored 4 more runs and the Cubs could manage only one. Leading hitters for the Giants were Edwards with four singles, Luslan Bryson with a double and single, Eddie Evans with two singles. For the Cubs, it was McArthur with a triple and three singles, Arnold with three singles, Buck Flye with a homer and single and Bray with two singles.

Tonight's Games
Greenville at Goldsboro
Wilson at Tarboro
Kinston at Roanoke Rapids
Rocky Mount at New Bern

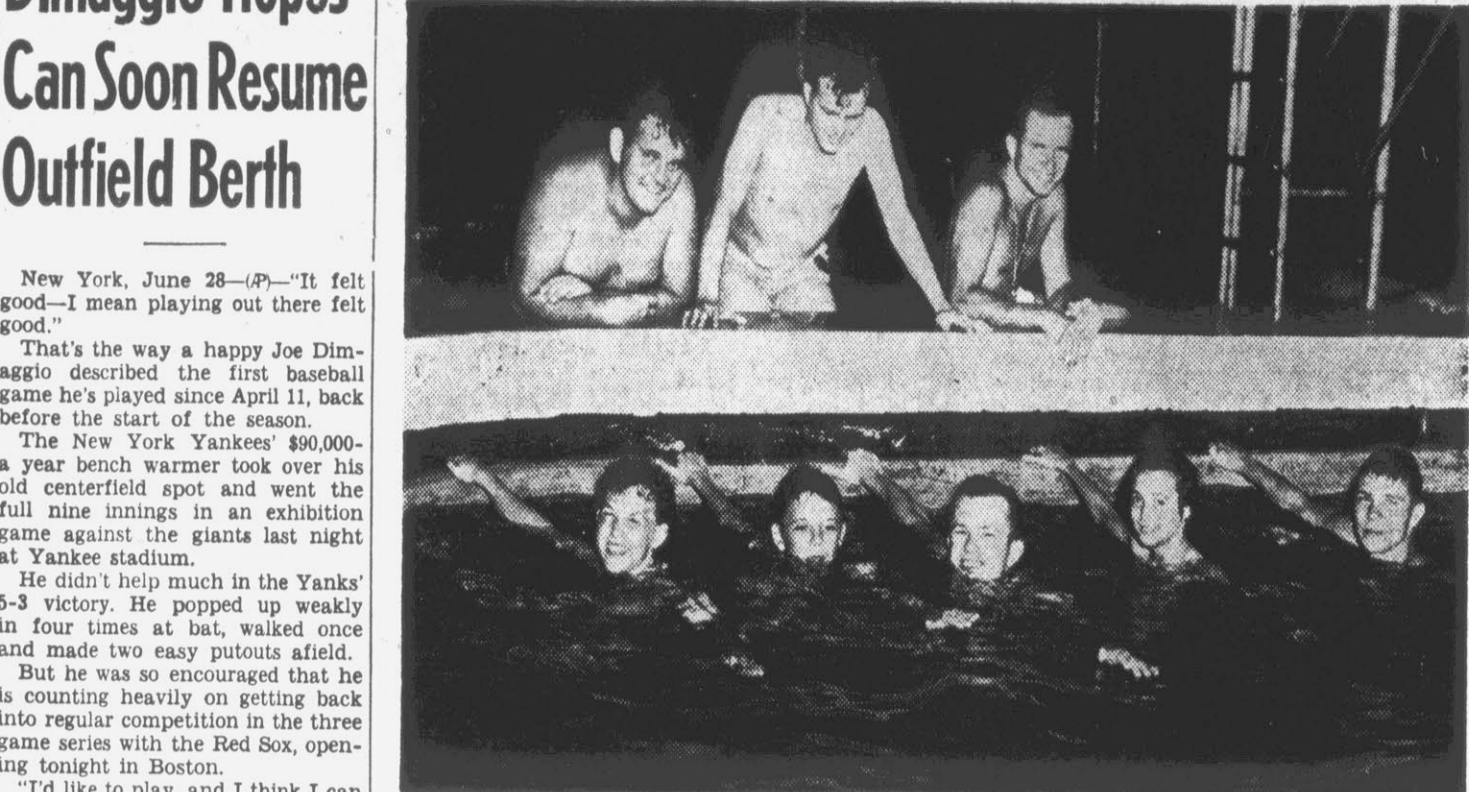

Sidelights—The Greenies' win over the Bugs was number 6 and gives them a record now of six wins and three losses. The win for Yohn was number 7; he has suffered two defeats. Goldsboro made two double plays, the Greenies one. The Greenies had eight men stranded on bases, the Bugs 10. Five bases were stolen by the Greenies and only one by the Bugs. The Greenies now have won 23 games at home while losing only 11, which isn't bad for local fans.

A meeting of Coastal Plain League directors is being held here this afternoon at the City Hall at which time the appeal taken by Goldsboro's Bugs on a game awarded to Kinston by protest by President Ray Goodmon will be heard by the directors. Goodmon awarded the game to the Eagles and the appeal was taken to the directors. Other things are scheduled to come up at the meeting here this afternoon.

Around the Circuit—Charlie Nordmeyer, limited service pitcher, who was recently given his release by the Wilson Tobs, has been signed by the Greenies. Phil Godfrey, who was here on option from the Durham Bulls, has been sent back to that club to make room for Nordmeyer. Robert Perry, limited service shortstop, and Fred Schuback, limited service catcher, have joined the Tarboro Athletics. Perry is a free agent and played for Dunn-Erwin and Wilmington in the Tobacco State League last season. Schuback goes to the A's on option from Kewanee. Dave Fowler, veteran catcher of the Rocky Mount Leafs, has been given his release. Ray Bandy of Rocky Mount has been named as acting president of the Rocky Mount Leafs. Vito Costanza, right-handed pitcher from Rochester, N.Y., has joined the Jays' hurling staff. Jimmy Burns, limited service outfielder, has been purchased by the Bears from the Burlington club of the Carolina League. Haywood Kelly, rookie first baseman, and who played with East Carolina Teachers College last season, has joined the New Bern Bears.

An Old-Timer's game will feature a triple-header at Wrigley Field in Chicago July 9, which also includes

Bob Mathias Puts Olympic Games Prestige On Block In Tulare Games

Tulare, Calif., June 28—(AP)—Youthful Bob Mathias puts his Olympic games prestige and his National A.A.U. decathlon crown on the block tonight and a score of more rivals begin attempts to wrest it from him before the king's home town admires.

Mathias, at 17 years of age the youngest athlete ever to capture the Olympic title, scoring 7139 points in the games at London last year. He is the hero of a two-day celebration here as he goes against the nation's best in the 10-event competition.

On tonight's schedule are the 100-meter dash, the broad jump shotput, high jump and 400-meter run. Tomorrow night the 110-meter high hurdles, discus throw pole vault, javelin toss and 1500-meter run round out the exacting decathlon program.

The A.A.U. brought the decathlon championship here in tribute to Bob's Olympic games conquest.

Only two players in the majors have made over 2,000 hits—Dixie Walker of the Pirates and Luke Appling of the White Sox.

Dom DiMaggio Is Challenging Kell

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Dom DiMaggio, little Boston Red Sox outfielder, surged 14 points to 339 during the week to challenge injured George Kell of the Detroit Tigers for the American League batting lead.

The side-lined Kell maintained top spot with 353, but Dimaggio climbed into contention only 14 points behind.

Boston's Ted Williams, the 1947 and 1948 A. L. batting champion, continued in third place with a five point increase to 319.

Domination Of Amateur Tennis Fraying At Wimbledon has continued. Other American stars eliminated early were Gardner Mulloy and Earl Cochell. Having barely defeated Sedgman who is only 21 years old, Schroeder tomorrow. The South African, runner-up to Gonzales in the United States final last fall, yesterday eliminated Frank Parker of Los Angeles in five sets. If Ted gets past Sturgess, neither Drobny nor Bromwich—which ever he may meet in the final on Friday—figures to be exactly a pushover.

Drobny yesterday pushed past Brown. American prestige is standing up much better in the woman's singles competition, with four from the United States scheduled to face an all-British quartet in tomorrow's quarter-finals. The chances are bright for an all-American semifinal. The pairings: Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Cal., vs. Mrs. W. N. Blair; Mrs. Patt Todd, La Jolla, Cal., vs. Mrs. J. J. Walker-Smith; Mrs. Helen Rihbany, Boston, vs. Mrs. E. W. Dawson-Scott; Mrs. Margaret Osbourne duPont, Bellevue, Del., Mrs. B. E. Hilton.

New Group Of Fight Promoters Plans Challenge

New York, June 28—(AP)—A new boxing organization came out swinging today with the assertion it was ready and willing to buck Madison Square Garden for the metropolitan fight fan's dollar. The ambitious newcomer to the promotional wars is the American Boxing League, Inc., backed by an amusement park director, Jo Wiseman, and David Charnay, one-time head of the dissolved Tournament of Champions (T. of C.). Charnay was the reluctant dragon of the T. of C. which sold out to Madison Square Garden last May after competing with the 20th Century Sporting Club and the Garden for two years. Charnay said he didn't want to bow out but was outvoted by other members of the firm.

Major League Attendance Totals Below '48 Record

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer
The Majors are headed for an attendance decline from last year's record breaking totals, comparative figures showed today. With most of the 16 clubs having played nearly half their 77 home games, a check revealed that only six clubs are ahead of last year's figures. Through games of last night, a total of 6,000,000 fans paid to watch the teams in action, as compared to the 8,965,152 who saw the same number of games in 1948. That is a drop of 376,714. At this rate, the majors are certain to fall approximately a million behind last year's record figure of 20,843,345. The Cleveland Indians have suffered the biggest drop, having drawn about 145,000 fewer fans than in '48 at a corresponding date.

Babysitter Said Scalded Infants

Hammond, Ind., June 28—(AP)—A 14-year-old babysitter was accused today of putting a set of twins in bath water so hot that 16-month-old Carol Gora died.

The baby girl's brother, Robert, was in critical condition in St. Margaret's Hospital as a result of the scalding last Thursday night.

Police started an investigation when the girl fled yesterday but refused to say whether the unnamed babysitter will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Deputy Coroner B. W. Chidiaw said the girl reported she had felt the bath water and decided it wasn't too hot. Chidiaw said she told him she took the children out of the water when she returned to the bathroom and found them screaming.

The father, Joseph Gora, 26-year-old pipefitter's helper, told Chidiaw the baby sitter's brother was waiting when he and his wife returned from a shopping trip. Gora said the brother told him of "skin coming off the babies."

Dr. Michael L. Allegretti, family physician, said the twins had third-degree burns over half their bodies.

Cruel Murder Of Child Confessed

Fear Diaper Dye Fatal For Babies

Lansing, Mich., June 28—(P)—The cruel death of tiny Walter (Peewee) Eaton was officially listed as solved today as the result of a neighbor's volunteered confession.

Four-year-old Walter's slaying, which shocked this capital city of Michigan, was charged to mustached Dudley Beatty, 29, father of four children.

Haggard and nervous, Beatty walked into police headquarters yesterday.

"I want to give myself up," he said.

Police Inspector Paul Taylor said that Beatty, an unemployed factory worker, then blurted out a story of luring "Peewee" to his death Thursday night in a dark vacant lot.

The boy's throat was slashed with a broken beer bottle. Authorities said he also was abused sexually.

"I knew him and his family. I don't know why I did it," Taylor said Beatty told him.

"I don't know," he repeated. "I'd been drinking."

Lake Wales, Fla., June 28—(P)—A strange illness that turned newborn babies a bluish tinge at times, caused the death of a fourth infant today.

One other baby is still under treatment.

Miss Bree Kelly, superintendent of Lake Wales hospital, said doctors believe the attacks were caused by poisoning from a laundry dye used in marking diapers.

The five infants became ill June 21 a few hours after the first batch of diapers marked with a new dye containing aniline oil was used, Miss Kelly said.

Only last Friday, the American Medical Association Journal urged special precautions against poisoning babies with aniline dyes used to mark diapers. The Journal said 72 cases of poisoning from coal tar derivative dyes had been reported and that five infants had died.

"Prevention of such accidents is diaphanous after they are stamped, and thoroughly dried before use, the dye becomes fixed and absorption does not occur."

At the hospital here, a mother who noticed her baby turning blue called a nurse's attention to it. The strange color soon was found on all five, the only babies in the hospital nursery at the time.

The blue tinge appeared to come and go, but the babies seemed to be making a good recovery. Then one died unexpectedly Saturday, another Sunday and the third yesterday. They were six to nine days old.

Although it was ten years ago that Lana Turner was crowned the first sweater queen, she still ranked in second place this week.

Great Salt Lake Is Rising Again

Salt Lake City—(P)—The Great Salt Lake, shallow remnant of prehistoric Lake Bonneville, is rising slowly again. The lake has 350 miles of shoreline and is fed by many mountain rivers and creeks. After dry periods of several years, evaporation of the highly saline water occurs at a rapid rate, and the lake level falls. Scientists report it is about five feet higher than at its all-time recorded low reached in 1940. Its highest known level came in 1870.

Chapter 28

Connie sped to the back of the stable on winged feet. Her heart was thumping madly, her cheeks were hot and the tears on her lashes were tears of joy. Chuck—dear, dear Chuck!

She seized the shadow which was Jeff by an arm, clinging to it tightly.

"You must go at once, Jeff. When this thing's settled you can come back. You must come back!"

"Connie, I can't go until some things are clear to me. How do you know I'm not guilty?"

"Because I know who is! It's—"

She stopped.

"Yes, Slug Benjamin, of course. I've got to find him, get the truth from him. And if he won't confess, I'll prove that he murdered John Stover by that broken shoe on his horse's left hind foot."

She could not side her distress. "Jeff, I wish you wouldn't. It's not safe to stay near Cougar; it's only a matter of little time before they find you've gone."

"I've got to, Connie."

"If you stay, I'll stay with you," she said firmly. "Where are you going to look for Slug?"

"I've a hunch I can locate him through Mike Pacheco. Mike knows all the riff-raff in and around Cougar."

He took her arm and they went out the rear entrance and turned to follow a course parallel with the alley. They were behind Pacheco's saloon.

"I've got to get him out here," said Jeff. "But how?"

"I'll get him for you. I can send somebody in to tell him that a man is waiting in the alley for him." Jeff got the gun which Chuck had put in the saddle bags, and with it in his hand went to the back door of Mike's place.

The door swung wide and Mike Pacheco stood lined in the entrance. "Who sees?" he said, and stepped outside.

Jeff reached out a long arm and clutched him by the shirt collar. He jerked Mike away from the entrance and kicked the door shut.

"Not a peep out of you, Pacheco," he warned.

He heard light footsteps behind him and turned his head.

"It's me," came Connie's voice.

assault took Slug off guard. He whirled the fellow around and brought the gun barrel down on Slug's head. He sagged to the floor.

"Light the lamp, please."

The wick caught and the shadows drew back. Slug lay on the floor, but his legs moved slightly. Pacheco stood wide-eyed and scared. Connie had drawn the thirty-two-twenty Colt she usually carried.

"Sit down on the bunk, Mike," Jeff directed, and Mike obeyed. Connie watched him closely, her gun still in her hand.

Slug groaned and opened his eyes. For a few seconds they gazed at Jeff without the light of recognition in them; then Slug abruptly sat up, his hand feeling for his gun.

"I took your gun," Jeff told him. "Get up and sit in that chair."

Mike stepped into the alley and turned to the left. Jeff followed closely, still gripping him, and Connie marched beside Jeff. Mike picked his way along the alley for some fifty yards, stopping behind a darkened cabin. He gave a peculiar rattle on the door and almost instantly Jeff heard the noise of a bar being removed. The door opened.

"That you, Mike?"

It was Slug Benjamin's voice. Jeff couldn't see the man, but he knew Slug was standing just within the doorway. Slug spoke again, and there was sudden suspicion in his voice.

"Who's that with you?"

Jeff gambled. With one swift motion he thrust Pacheco aside and leaped through the doorway. His arms went around a bulky body and the two of them staggered back into the darkness. The suddenness of his

"You're lying like a dog!" cried Jeff, and the hand which held the gun was shaking.

He said, "Connie, you mustn't believe this. You just can't. No matter what Slug says, the man who did those murders rode a horse with a broken shoe. I'll bet my life we'll find that horse belongs to Slug."

Slug cried, "You crazy? You think I'd carry an advertisement like that around with me? For weeks? Good Godfrey, Tyler! My horse is in the shed out back; go out and examine his shoes for yourself."

"You've probably changed them by this time." Doubt was creeping into Jeff's mind in spite of his fight to prevent it. Somehow this talk of Slug's sounded straight.

"I'd a' changed it long before this! My gosh, Tyler, with half the world lookin' for me, do you think I'd neglect my horse's feet?"

Brand New Farm Bill Has House Committee's Okay

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The House agriculture committee approved today a brand new farm bill authorizing a three-crop "trial run" for the Truman administration's controversial "production payment" program for agriculture.

The measure went through on a 17-9 vote against virtually solid Republican opposition.

It sets up a major issue as Democrats and Republicans scramble for the midwest farm votes in the Congressional elections next year. Some farm groups already are assailing the administration's idea as a "subsidy" and a "dole."

The measure would maintain price supports at higher levels for most crops than under the present program.

It would repeal the farm bill enacted by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress, with its 60 to 20

German Again Presents His Bill

Wilmington, June 28—(AP)—/hopeful German, John O. Ostera of Stuttgart, has once more presented the New Hanover county commissioners with a $300 bill for back wages.

He has been presenting them ever since the end of World War I, when he was detained in the stockade for 10 months on suspicion of spying for the Kaiser and then deported to Germany.

Ostera claims it was "false arrest to get slave labor" and that he was "robbed of $300" and that despite Ostera's modest valuation of his services, Addison Hewlett, Sr., chairman of the commission, once more pikeholed the request.

Jasper L. Phillips, district engineer at Kinston, will replace Irving at Greenville as assistant division engineer. Heber Gray, maintenance supervisor at Kinston, will succeed Phillips.

Ralph Pollock, resident engineer at Kinston, will exchange posts with J. B. Cutchin, district engineer at New Bern.

Phillips, the new assistant division engineer, is a native of Lenoir County and an engineering graduate of the University of North Carolina. He has been with the highway commission since 1921.

"Ours is the accusatorial as opposed to the inquisitorial system . . . under our system society carries the burden of proving its charge against the accused, not out of his own mouth. It must establish its case, not be interrogation of the accused even under judicial safeguards, but by evidence independently secured through skillful investigation."

In a separate, agreeing opinion, Justice Douglas said "this is another illustration of the use by the police of the custody of an accused to writing a confession from him. The confession so obtained from literate and illiterate alike should stand condemned."

But Justice Jackson, referring to the various safeguards citizens have under the constitution, said:

"I doubt very much if they require us to hold that the state may not take into custody and question one suspected reasonably of an un-witnessed murder."

"If it does, the people of this country must discipline themselves to seeing their police stand by helplessly while those suspected of murder prowl about unmolested. Is it a necessary price to pay for the fairness which we know as 'due process' of law?"

Still left unanswered after all the Justices' long and careful legal wording was the question: How long should police be able to question a suspect to get a confession out of him.

The court spoke only of "protracted, systematic and uncontrolled" questioning. It didn't mention time in minutes, hours or days.

of an inch, or less than three-quarters of an inch of precipitation. Total rainfall this June, up to yesterday, was slightly more than two inches, and scattered.

For the benefit of farmers and gardeners, about the same amount of rain fell here last year as fell the first six months of this year, but the rain this year has been scattered over a longer period.

The heaviest rains in 1948 were early in the year, at a time to cripple and hold up winter farming operations. General light rains fell in this area during the time this year when farmers were transplanting tobacco.

Some farmers complain of the bottom leaves of tobacco plants burning in the fields, due to lack of rain. However, farmers in the Vanceboro section of Craven County have overcome this "blistering" of bottom leaves of tobacco plants by not cultivating the crop too frequently and permitting some grass to grow alongside the plants, Kitchin W. Cobb, pioneer Greenville tobacco market sales supervisor and farmer, said.

Farmers in town today who are curing the leaf reported that they are having trouble holding down the heat in the tobacco barns—both wood and oil burning types.

There is a feeling in some well informed quarters that Russia won't be able to supply the victorious Chinese communists with necessities. This presumably would force the Reds to turn to the Western world, thereby creating a contact which might color their ideological conduct.

Perhaps that's a valid argument. Maybe it's just a bit of salve for the conscience in recognizing a regime which in theory at least is a mortal enemy.

Reading Club Has 158 Boys, Girls Enrolled

The summer Vacation reading club at the Sheppard Memorial Library now has a total of 158 boys and girls enrolled for the summer reading program.

The reading club which is held each summer is featuring this summer the life and habits of the American Indians. Special books on the Indians have been purchased for the club to use during the summer.

The 158 members enrolled so far are nearly a record for the club, reported Miss Irene Hester, librarian.

The reading club will stay open for the remainder of the month of June and all of those people who have not joined and wish to do so should do so at once.

Clear Policeman Of Death Charge

Charlotte, N. C., June 28—(AP)—A Davidson College football player and part-time policeman today was cleared of charges that he murdered a man he tried to arrest.

The Mecklenburg county grand jury last night returned a "no true bill" on an indictment against William Taylor Moore, Jr., for the shooting of Harold Lewis Brack. The shooting took place June 5 when the policeman went to Brack's home in Davidson to investigate a complaint that he was drunk and disorderly.
