Senate Coasting To Final Round Of Labor Battle

Climax Apparently Over With T-H Law Accepted For Another Year Or Two

Washington, June 30—(AP)—The Senate coasted into the final skirmishing of its great 1949 labor battle today after writing down as a failure the administration's long drive to repeal the Taft-Hartley act.

The climax appeared to have passed, with one of the most bitterly controversial laws in recent American history apparently assumed of its place on the books for another year or two at least.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, predicted that the second and last instalment of the labor bill offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) would be adopted today—and that if such a bill ever reached the White House it would be vetoed.

A veto almost certainly would be upheld by Congress.

The AFL and CIO, surrendering the fight yesterday, turned violently against the Truman repeal bill which they had supported so strenuously for the last five months.

They called angrily for its defeat because the Senate on Tuesday had injected into it the first part of Taft's labor program—authorizing both injunctions (along Taft-Hartley lines) and plant seizure in "National emergency" strikes.

In other words, the AFL and CIO prefer the Taft-Hartley act, which they believe gives them a good 1950 campaign issue, to a part-way measure containing injunctions and other things they hate.

The Senate agreed unanimously to vote today on the second part of Taft's program—designed to change the Taft-Hartley act in a number of ways but preserve its "essentials"—after voting on a few Republican amendments to it.

Truman Democrats were not planning to offer amendments because they said trying to improve such a bill would be a "waste of time."

One of the pending amendments, sponsored by three New England Republicans, is designed to prevent states from enforcing stricter "right to work" laws than the Federal law.

The three Senators are Baldwin (Conn.), Saltonstall (Mass.) and Flanders (Vt.).

Commissioners Meet Tuesday

The Pitt county commissioners will meet in their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night instead of Monday night.

Charles P. Gaskins, clerk to the board, said the budget for the coming year has been made up by the commissioners, but it has not been adopted, pending the sale of bonds for the Pitt community hospital voted in September 1947.

Information on the sale of the bonds is expected to be received next week from the North Carolina local government commission.

Excise Tax Cut

Washington, June 30—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today voted 7 to 6 in favor of cutting federal excise taxes back to 1942 levels generally. These are the taxes on such things as telephone bills, railroad tickets, silverware, and luggage.

The vote stuck a tax-cutting amendment on to a House passed bill concerned with industrial alcohol permits.

Senator Johnson (D - Colo) proposed it.

On the House side of the capital, Rep. Martin (R-Mass) sought a quick vote on legislation he has introduced for a cut in the excise taxes.

Anti-Trust Suit Filed Today Against Big Du Pont Empire

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark today filed suit to break up the du Pont industrial empire.

The attorney general announced that the action, under the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws, was filed this morning in the U.S. district court at Chicago.

Among the major demands of the civil suit are a divorcement of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., of Wilmington, Del., from General Motors Corp. of Detroit.

It also asked that the du Pont family be required to release its holdings, described as controlling, in the United States Rubber Company of New York.

The suit names as defendants: E. I. du Pont de Nemours, General Motors, U.S. Rubber, Christiana Securities Co., Delaware Realty and Investment Corp., Pierre S. du Pont, Lamont du Pont, Irene du Pont, and all members of the du Pont family related by blood or marriage to Pierre, Lamont, or Irene du Pont who hold voting stock in either U.S. Rubber, Christiana Securities or Delaware Realty and Investment Corp.

Clark's statement announcing the suit said that Christiana and Delaware Realty "are personal holding companies of the members of the du Pont family."

Justice Department attorneys said they understand that no one outside of the family holds stock in these

President Plans Reply To Baruch

Washington, June 30—(AP)—President Truman gets a chance today to reply to recent attacks by two former trusted friends—elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch and ex-Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Baruch's criticism of administration mobilization planning and Byrnes' assault on the Truman domestic program appeared certain to highlight the questioning by reporters this afternoon at the President's news conference (3 p.m. EST).

White House aides said the President saw no significance in the timing of the speeches by the two men who are close friends.

Byrnes, now a South Carolina lawyer, spoke at Washington and Lee University June 18. He said the trend of some proposed legislation raises a danger that every American might become "an economic slave pulling in the gallery of the state."

Byrnes called for a reduction in federal spending, especially for welfare programs.

The flurry hadn't died over this speech—by a man Mr. Truman had backed for vice president in 1944 and whom he later picked as his first Secretary of State—when Baruch delivered his blast Tuesday.

Speaking at the 25th anniversary exercises of the Armed Forces Industrial College, the 77-year-old financier declared that when the National Security Resources Board attempted to act on a complete mobilization plan it was "prevented from doing so" and "has still to be heard from."

He said that by failing to have such a plan ready for any future war, the administration was taking "a needless gamble with our national security."

SLASH PRICES Pittsburgh, June 30—(AP)—A price cut averaging nine per cent on paints, varnishes, enamels and paint brushes has been announced by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.—the first major producer to take such action.

The five states in the flue-cured area—flue-cured tobacco is used in cigarettes—are Florida, Georgia, Virginia and the Carolinas.

Today's session marks the first time the board of governors of the association has been charged with the responsibility of fixing the opening market dates.

In the past, the dates were set by a 15-member marketing committee composed of five members each from the warehousemen, growers, and buying companies.

Insect Spraying Begins Saturday

Insecticide spraying in Greenville in the Junior Woman's Club fly eradication campaign will begin Saturday in the Hillsdale section of the city. Mrs. Johnston Dees, president of the organization, announced today.

Mrs. Dees said residents in Hillsdale have paid a fee of $1 each to have the spraying done to rid their section of the city of flies.

The Junior Woman's Club president stated, however, that the board of aldermen of Greenville has turned over to the club some money to be used in spraying the homes of persons who cannot afford to pay for the spraying, and to spray in sections of the city where there are bad fly-breeding places.

companies, which in turn control E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. Clark asserted: "This case is directed to the breaking up of the largest single concentration of industrial power in the United States. "The growth of du Pont, General Motors, and United States Rubber to positions of market dominance in their respective fields has been marked by the elimination of many independent businesses and a decline in the strength and vigor of those that survived. The relief sought in this case will open the way for small and medium-sized manufacturers to compete for business in markets which have long been closed to them."

Copping A Nap Under Cop's Eyes

Under the watching eyes of Police Sgt. John Compton, this lost, tired little girl naps in Washington park police headquarters while vain efforts are made to locate her parents. She says she is three years old. The only name she gave is Sherry. The sergeant folded a coat for a pillow and set the electric fan to keep the child cool. After a three-hour nap, she was placed in charge of the Women's Bureau of the District Police Department. (AP Wirephoto).

The Greenville board of aldermen will meet tonight in the city hall to set the dates for the 1949 fiscal year.

Retiring Mayor J. M. Boyd said he will present the key to the city hall to Mayor-elect W. S. Stafford at tonight's meeting. Stafford is scheduled to take the oath of office as mayor of Greenville tomorrow at noon.

He will be given the oath by David T. House, clerk of the Pitt county court.

In addition to Stafford five aldermen elected in May will be given the oath of office tomorrow. The five new aldermen who will take office tomorrow are R. E. Rogers, Heber B. Tripp, Dal Cox, W. M. Pollard, and R. E. Howell.

Board Meets To Fix Sale Dates

Raleigh, N. C. June 30—(AP)—Governors of the bright belt warehouse association met today to fix sale dates for the 1949 flue-cured tobacco crop.

Opening dates are to be set for the following belts in the flue-cured area: The Georgia-Florida, the South Carolina, the North Carolina border, the eastern North Carolina, the North Carolina middle, and the Virginia and North Carolina old belts.

The South Carolina Warehouse Association, covering a belt of eight South Carolina markets, was organized recently breaking away from the border belt some months ago.

Whether it will gain an opening-time advantage over the border belt is a matter to be determined by the board of governors. The new association was admitted to membership in the bright belt warehouse association at the belt's convention in Myrtle Beach, S. C., several weeks ago.

The five states in the flue-cured area—flue-cured tobacco is used in cigarettes—are Florida, Georgia, Virginia and the Carolinas.

Today's session marks the first time the board of governors of the association has been charged with the responsibility of fixing the opening market dates.

In the past, the dates were set by a 15-member marketing committee composed of five members each from the warehousemen, growers, and buying companies.

Disaster Stage Nears In New England Drought

By the Associated Press

A month-long drought is reaching the "disaster" stage in southern New England, a Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation official said today.

A hot, rainless June over the area, as well as in parts of New York and New Jersey, has damaged farm, vegetable and fruit crops.

Twenty per cent of the hay crop in southern New England has been lost because of the dry weather, said Carleton L. Pickett, head of the federation. There appeared no immediate prospect of heavy rain in the dry-stricken areas.

New York City's 35 days of drought neared a record. Only 1.6 inches of rain fell in the metropolitan area this month, compared with 7.86 inches for June, 1894, the previous low precipitation.

Judith Coplon Is Found Guilty Of Being Soviet Spy

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Judith Coplon was convicted today of being a spy for Russia.

The jury convicted her on both counts of the indictment against her. She faces a maximum sentence of 13 years in prison and a fine of $12,000.

The jury announced its verdict shortly after 1:30 p.m. (EST) after having her fate in its hands for almost 27 hours. It reported ready to give its decision at 1:10 p.m., 26 hours 58 minutes after receiving the case.

The jam-packed courtroom was deathly silent when the jury began filing in at 1:33 p.m. EST.

The former Justice Department employe was tense as she stood up to receive the verdict.

"The defendant will rise," a marshal cried out.

Her attorney, Archibald Palmer, demanded that each juror be polled and this was done by the clerk Paul A. Roser.

Palmer announced that the verdict will be appealed to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and if necessary, to the Supreme Court.

When the jurors had taken their places, Clerk Roser asked: "Have you reached a verdict?" "We have," Foreman Andrew H. Norford, 34, a telephone company employe, replied.

"What say you as to count one," the clerk asked.

"Guilty," Norford replied. He made the same answer—guilty—when asked how the jury found on count two.

Miss Coplon, 28, a Barnard College graduate, still faces trial in New York along with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian, on espionage conspiracy charges.

Under count one of the indictment under which she was convicted today the maximum penalty is ten years and $10,000.

That count accused Miss Coplon of taking secret reports from FBI files on counter-espionage and subversion with intent to benefit a foreign power (Russia) and injure the United States.

The second count, with a top penalty of three years and $2,000, merely charged removal and concealment of such material and made no mention of an intended use for it.

Raymond P. Whearty, assistant chief of the Justice department criminal division and a prosecutor in Miss Coplon's trial, told reporters: "We definitely intend to try the New York (conspiracy) case."

Up to the time of her arrest Miss Coplon was a $4,479-a-year political analyst in the Justice department alien registration section. She dealt mostly with activities of eastern and central Europeans in this country.

Seek Issuance Of Road Bonds Raleigh, June 30—(AP)—The State Highway Commission voted today to ask for the immediate issuance of $50,000,000 in rural road bonds.

It also approved a proposal to use $5,000,000 of that sum to buy road building equipment to start the secondary road improvement program as soon as possible.

Investigators Wash Hands Of Probing Mob Actions

Washington, June 30—(AP)—A congressional investigating group washed its hands today of further inquiry into Alabama's hooded night-riders troubles.

After a brief hearing yesterday Rep. Byrne (D-NY) said he had no plans for continuing an investigation into flogging incidents which already are under study by FBI agents and Alabama law enforcement authorities.

Byrne is chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee which heard testimony from three Alabama newspaper men yesterday.

The reporters—the only three witnesses called—related accounts of violence by hooded mobs. But they suggested that Congress let the home folks handle the situation.

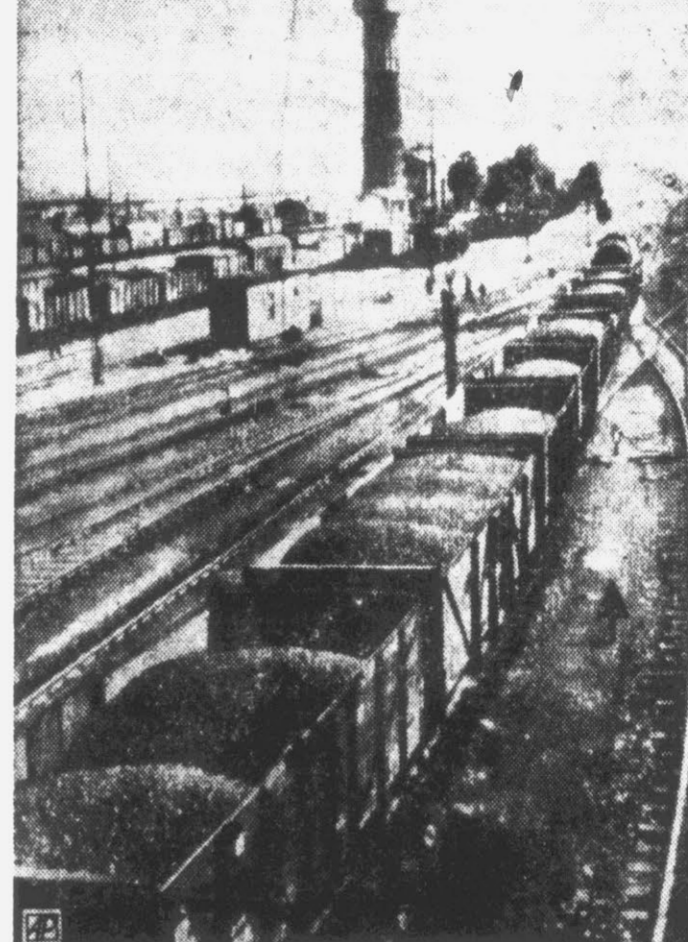

Although Byrne indicated the hearing would not be reopened, Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro Council, demanded that the committee call in Alabama Negroes for testimony on floggings and "terrorism" at the hands of white-sheeted mobs.

"We don't agree that everything is all right in Alabama," said Brown, a white-bearded Negro. "It hasn't been for 80 years."

Byrne adjourned the hearing without comment on Brown's demand.

Berlin's Railroad Strike Ends

A locomotive moves a string of coal cars in Berlin railway yards Tuesday at the end of the 38-day railroad workers' strike. The coal is being transported to the U. S. zone for use in the gas works. The 14,000 anti-Communist strikers walked out May 21 in a dispute over being paid in Russian Soviet zone marks, job security and union recognition. Now they are preparing to resume normal traffic, a task that will take several days to accomplish. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Berlin).

Organized Labor Plans Blacklist

Select Senators For Attack In 1950 Election Campaign

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Organized labor today marks off the senators it will oppose in the 1950 election campaign.

Nine Republicans and four Democrats whose terms expire next year already have been picked—for what labor hopes will be oblivion—in a promised new and bitter drive to repeal the Taft-Hartley act.

Those 13 lawmakers come up for a final blacklisting today—along with 24 holdover Republicans and 13 holdover Democrats who voted with them for the use of government injunctions in national emergency strikes.

The test: whether they support the substitute offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) for the administration's already amended T-H repeal. From all the signs, another name or two could be added to the unions' "enemy" list.

As far as next year's elections are concerned, the list includes Republican senators Aiken of Vermont, Donnell of Missouri, Gurney of South Dakota, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Millikin of Colorado, Reed of Kansas, Taft, Wiley of Wisconsin and Young of North Dakota.

The four Democrats are Senators Fulbright of Arkansas, George of Georgia, Hoey of North Carolina and Tydings of Maryland.

CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green have left no doubt that the unions will be out to get the political scalps of this group in 1950. The two labor chiefs indicated that they will try to attend to the other Taft amendment supporters later.

Has Graduation Day All His Own

West Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Lewis Sterrett, 14, had a graduation exercise all his own.

Crippled since he was 7 confined to a wheel chair, Lewis completed grammar school with the aid of a home teacher. His marks were good.

When graduation day came, Howell Watkins, school superintendent, went to the lad's home at Boynton Beach to present the diploma. The Rev. D. M. Obenshain gave the commencement address. And Miss Sharon Beals played a violin solo.

Order New Trial Of 'Trenton Six'

Trenton, N. J., June 30—(AP)—The New Jersey Supreme court unanimously ordered a new trial today for six Trenton Negroes facing the largest mass execution in the state's history.

After the longest trial in Mercer county history, the six Negroes were found guilty last Aug. 6 of murdering 72-year-old William Horner in his Trenton second-hand store on the morning of Jan. 27, 1944.

Union Contract Expires Tonight As Union Chief Abandons 'No Contract, No Work' Policy While Negotiations Are Continued

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 30—(AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered soft coal miners east of the Mississippi river to work a three-day week starting next Tuesday, abandoning his traditional "no contract, no work" policy.

The contract with the soft coal industry expires at midnight tonight, but Lewis directed his miners to stay on the job for a short work week "to remove the stresses and strains which could cause industry and public irritation."

He told the miners east of the Mississippi to work Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week, when they return from their present 10-day vacation. After that, Lewis advised the diggers to work on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of each week.

There was no time limit to the arrangement, although North and West coal operators believe they have a contract until Aug. 14 under terms of the Taft-Hartley act.

Mines west of the Mississippi are not affected by the three-day limitation, but Lewis advised his members there to begin work on Monday and continue consecutively during the week for the number of days worked by the mines.

However, he restrained them from working on any Saturday.

The same contract terms will remain in force despite the termination of the one-year agreement tonight.

The order blanketed in all East-of-Mississippi operations, including those of the Southern Coal Producers and the U. S. Steel Corporation, with which Lewis is holding contract negotiations.

Negotiations here with the representatives of the North and West, producing about 300,000,000 tons a year, described by Lewis as "the only" but there was no progress to report either.

He also is meeting with Harry M. Moses, chief negotiator for U.S. Steel Corporation, at this resort. Moses fears his mines, producing 27,000,000 tons a year, will be closed down July 13.

Up to today, however, neither Lewis nor Secretary-Treasurer John Owens, who is conducting the Blue-field talks for the union, have offered to keep working next month in exchange for the short week. Although the Southerners like the idea of giving Lewis such control even less than do those from the North and West, he may be able to apply more pressure on them during the holiday weekend.

The North-West operating group has a self-imposed "gag" rule under the leadership of George H. Love, head of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company. The operators, who usually are pleased to relax in a resort hotel like the Greenbrier here, have been told that the night spots are "out of bounds" for them. If they want to forget their troubles, they have to play golf or retire to their quarters.

Protection From Dogs Who Bite

Springfield, Ill., June 30—(AP)—The Illinois Senate has voted to protect the mailman, milkman and meterman from dogs who bite.

It passed and sent to the governor a bill making the owner liable if his dog puts the bite on anyone doing business on the owner's property. The business, of course, must be lawful.

Sen. William Knox of Chicago, who has 19 dogs, said it was a dog-gone good bill.

Reciprocal Trade Act

Cornerstone Of Our Foreign Policy Dies Tonight Because Congress Failed To Get Around To Renewing It; Renewal Anticipated; Delay Embarrassing; Explanation

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 30—(AP)—The reciprocal trade agreement act dies tonight—at least for a while—because Congress failed to get around to renewing it.

This act is a cornerstone in our Foreign Policy. It was first passed in 1934 under the guidance of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull to build up better trade with other countries.

It has been renewed repeatedly since then by Congress, the last time in 1948 when it was made clear the act would die June 30, 1949 unless Congress acted to continue it.

Months ago President Truman told Congress the deadline was approaching and the act should be renewed. The House approved it. But the Senate has dawdled.

Maybe in month or so the Senate will finally do something about it. In the end, Congress is expected to continue the act for at least another three years.

All this is a little embarrassing for this country and a group of our trade experts. They are now in France with the representatives of 33 other countries, all trying to work out trade agreements.

They have agreed on a number of deals—work on them goes back two years—and Mr. Truman has been able to start them moving by approving them.

The trade agreements act gave him this power to approve. But Mr. Truman—in this case, the U. S.—can't Okay any further deals at the French meeting after today, until the act is once more renewed by Congress, whenever that is.

So the Senate's tardiness leaves the work of the American experts in France a little up in the air. Yet, these agreements are important in restoring world trade.

The act means simply this: The U. S. will lower our tariffs on certain, agreed-upon goods imported from other countries provided they reciprocate by lowering their tariffs on certain goods imported from us.

We've made these agreements with 48 countries.

For example: we may want wine from France. France wants machinery from us. We lower our tariffs on French wine coming in here. The French lower their tariffs on machinery going into France.

We may not want French silk. The French may not want our roller skates. So we don't lower our tariffs on their silk. They don't lower

Erwin-Stocks Vows Solemnized

An informal wedding characterized by impressive dignity and simplicity was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the Bell Arthur Methodist church at 5 o'clock when Miss Alice Stocks, daughter of Mrs. Winnie Stocks and the late Mr. Stocks, and Julius Lee Erwin were united in a candle light ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Bruce Strickland played a program of nuptial music. Mr. James Miller, Jr., of Duke University, soprano, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." During the ceremony the pianist softly played "O Promise Me," the soloist sang the "Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

The Rev. Key Taylor, assisted by the Rev. Langill Watson, cousin of the bride, officiated in the ring rites. The bride was given in marriage by her brother and wore a colonial period dress of imported organdy in orange blossom design over blue taffeta with matching picture hat. She carried a prayer book marked with an orchid.

Mrs. Helen Vandford, only sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a gray sheer dress with matching picture hat and carried an orchid bouquet.

reason why Vic, the teen-agers delight, loves his new nose. He says: "Three months ago when I had my nose trimmed, I lost an inferiority complex that I had all my life. It's really awful when you've got a handicap, but in my case, at least God gifted me with a voice which could offset my humiliation a little bit. And, when I was in school I engaged in athletics—baseball and basketball—that helped too.

"But think of other kids. When I was in school the fresh rude kids always were the handicapped ones—buck teeth, pock marked skin, birth marks, club feet, big noses. They had such tremendous inferiority complexes because of these flaws that they acted tough and mean just to be noticed, whereas they really ached to be popular. And, their parents wondered why they were difficult to handle."

Handsome Vic thinks it is up to the parents to do something about these obstacles when the kids are quite young, no matter how much the sacrifice. If they don't, it will cause them grief later, he says.

There are plenty of good plastic surgeons who can perform miracles on the skin; orthopedic surgeons who straighten out club feet, pigeon toes and webbed fingers; orthodontists who do amazing jobs on bad teeth, he says. This work often can be done in free clinics if the family cannot afford to pay.

Vic's main reason for having his nose chopped was a deviated septum which interfered with his breathing. Now he likes his nose so much he's insured it for $100,000.

When he arrived at Dr. Sam Sheer's office for consultation, he says the doctor grabbed his nose and laughingly said, "Boy, oh boy just what I've been waiting for, the longest nose in the world." Vic said that would have been enough to give him a small case of inferiority except that he knew it would be off any minute.

He had a few qualms at first that perhaps his voice might suffer as the result of the operation. But a tonsil operation some weeks before hadn't thrown him off a note, so he took a chance.

Vic is going to Hollywood now for that long overdue screen test. Joseph Pasternack will do it and Vic is confident. He says:

"I'd love to do a picture on my favorite story, 'Golden Boy,' but I don't think I'll get a chance. The story is all about a boy who wanted to be a fighter, and whose father wanted him to be a musician. He stuck by his guns and became a terrific fighter."

In his own case, Vic's parents always have encouraged him to sing although his electrician father did put in a bid occasionally to get him to study electrical engineering. He thinks the wonderful faith his father and mother showed him is why he was able to get ahead "even in spite of that obstacle nose." He says:

"Any kid should be able to depend on his father and mother for help and advice. If they can't turn to them where else will they go? If parents put kids on the right road in the beginning, why should they pick a bad life, which is after all the most difficult to pursue?"

Canada, with an area of almost 4 million square miles, covers a surface almost as large as Europe and larger than the United States, excluding Alaska.

Canada is the world's chief source of nickel and ranks first in the production of asbestos. It ranks second in gold production.

Lucky Strike maintains America's FINEST CIGARETTE LABORATORY

America's largest cigarette research laboratory is your guarantee that Luckies are a finer cigarette!

YOU SEE HERE the largest and most complete laboratory of its kind operated by any cigarette manufacturer in America.

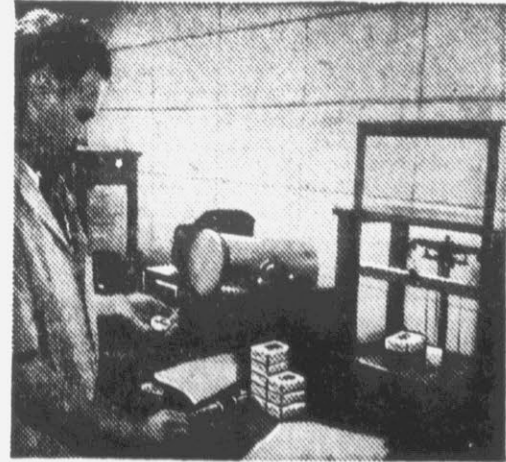

For many years Lucky Strike scientists have delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale. Out of this has grown an elaborate system of quality control. Every step in the making of Luckies—from before the tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the laboratory's watchful eye. Literally hundreds of precision tests are conducted daily to make certain that the Lucky Strike you smoke is a finer, milder, more enjoyable cigarette. As you read this, a constant stream of tobacco . . . samples from every tobacco-growing area . . . is flowing into the laboratory in Richmond, Virginia. These samples are scientifically analyzed, and reports of their quality go to the men who buy at auction for the makers of Lucky Strike.

Armed with this confidential, scientific information—and their own sound judgment—these men go after finer, lighter, milder tobacco. This fine tobacco—together with scientifically controlled manufacturing methods—is your assurance that there is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike!

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine!

So round, so firm, so fully packed. Typical of many special devices designed to maintain highest standards of cigarette quality, this mechanism helps avoid loose ends . . . makes doubly sure your Lucky is so round, so firm, so fully packed.

So free and easy on the draw. This meter draws air through the cigarette, measures the draw. Samples are tested to see if they are properly filled. Tests like this one are your guarantee that Luckies are truly free and easy on the draw.

Strength FOR THE DAY

DARK VOYAGE
A woman gambler! I met one a few years back and must say that never have I seen a person more devoted to a cause than she was to the arduous game of winning stakes. She was expert at cards. Every afternoon she rested, and her diet was prescribed strictly by the highest code of efficiency. She was a woman who by no means needed the money she could win, but she lived for nothing but to play cards every night for considerable stakes and to win. Athletes in training and amateurs in monasteries seldom give themselves to more continuous discipline than did this woman.

It recalled to my mind a statement someone of authority made a few years ago, that gambling is an ingrown and almost ineradicable passion. A gambler lives for nothing but to gamble. Many of them are total abstainers as regards liquor, feeling that they must not drink if they want to win. They will deny themselves anything and do anything to win.
A person who has the inclination to gamble had better keep a long sea mile between himself (or herself) and temptation. The end of that voyage is death.

TEACHERS—Public school administrators are having less difficulty than for many years obtaining well qualified teachers for the next term, according to officials of the state board of education. The much better salaries made possible by the larger appropriation prove attractive. Furthermore, the tightening of the outside "labor market" makes it increasingly hard for young women to get better jobs in business than they can find in the class rooms.

SCHOLARSHIP—Indications are that the scholarship and experience ratings of next year's teachers will be the highest in history of North Carolina education. The trend has been toward higher ratings for several years. In 1946-47, for example, there were 16,403 white teachers employed, of whom 474 held non-standard certificates. Last year there were 17,265 teachers with only 303 non-standard. The ratio among colored teachers decreased more. Three years ago 43 of the 8,851 Negro teachers were non-standard. Last year only 21 out of 6,978 held non-standard certificates. There were 633 white graduate certificate holders last year, 467 of them rating G-12.

REGULATION—Another factor contributing to the higher scholarship and experience ratings of teachers is the regulation adopted by the state board of education, requiring superintendents to show that no standard certificate holder can be found before he can employ a non-standard teacher. Since it now appears likely there will be enough good teachers to fill all positions, state authorities hope that the number of non-standard teachers can be much further reduced—probably eliminated entirely within the next year or so.

HIGHWAYS—While there is apparently no uniformity in procedure among the highway division commissioners, there does seem to be common purpose to work more closely with county commissioners and the public than has been the custom heretofore. The movement inaugurated by Governor Cherry to give real consideration to secondary and county roads is being carried farther and faster by Governor Scott and his newly appointed highway commission. More work was done on county roads during the last half of the Cherry administration than in all the previous time since the state took them over in 1881. With $200 million bond money to spend, Governor Scott's administration hopes to more than double the Cherry record. Improvement of so many miles of county roads necessitates closer cooperation between state highway and local folks.

METHODS—Each division commissioner has adopted his own method of approach. George Coble in the sixth division is having mass meetings of citizens at county courthouses to discuss roads with him and local officials. Coble further says he expects to drive over every mile of public road in his division this year. Dr. R. E. Earp of the fourth division and Joe Graham of the ninth have adopted a fixed policy of meeting with county commissioners. Other commissioners have not decided just how they

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

(While Jack Edwards takes a few days off, this column will be written by Ruel W. Tyson Jr.)

"Somebody Told Me" or rather asked me, to write this column for the next three days, but the "Somebody" who happens to be Jack Edwards, your regular man, didn't tell me what I should write on or about. No "Somebody" has told me anything, so it seems that I am left to my own devices in hunting material for this space. "The person who remains silent isn't the only one who says nothing." The same can be said for non-writers.

Each year as hundreds of students stand on the proverbial "threshold" of high school graduation they slap each other on the back and ardently promise to write, visit, or call each other when they get out in this thing called "life." The class of '49 at the Greenville High School seems to be no different; yet being a distinctive class, the GHS "Forty-niners" put quite a different touch on their promises. During their last class meeting just before graduation on June 2, the "Forty-niners" voted to form an alumni association for the members of the class of '49. Optimistically perhaps, but an alumni secretary and class reunion date were selected.

Louise Batson was accorded the dubious honor of alumni secretary—and I say dubious because attempting to locate 85 people four years from now is a good way to invite insanity. Her job is to keep in touch with each of the 85 class members and see that a majority is present at the class reunion which has been set for June, 1954. Even though she probably will have to have the help of the kindergarten students.

Part of this trend, undoubtedly can be attributed to the delayed entry of men into the world of cookery. Men, it is conceded by all men, are really the best cooks of all when they like to cook. As a matter of fact—this is the argument—take a look through history, and you'll find all the really great chefs were men. To FBI, the M.I.T. mechanical brain and the entire Post Office Department, Louise says that she will have a large group of "Forty-niners" to gether come June, '54.

Speaking of June and graduations brings to mind the other great June institution—weddings. Maybe we are thirty days late with the suggestion, but we would like to recommend a book to all fathers of June brides, or any month brides for that matter. Entitled "Father of the Bride" by Edward Streeter, this little book is about one Mr. Stanley Banks, an average fellow who has the tremendously outmoded idea that a wedding is a simple affair which results in two people getting married. His mind is radically changed however "as he watches the rise of the Greatest Show On Earth and the fall of his bank account." The First Meeting With The In-Laws, The Financial Talk With The Groom-To-Be, The Shattering Conferences On Who Is To Be Invited—all these crucial phases of the American marriage beset Mr. Stanley Banks as "The Father of the Bride."

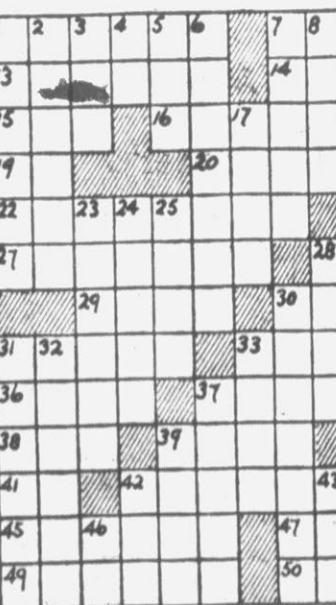

People of this section now have the opportunity to view one of the great marvels of our time only a little over a 100 miles away. The Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill offers for only thirty-eight cents an awe-inspiring recreation of the heavens with narration and music illustrating Nature's profound work—that of the stars and planets. The planetarium show, "Invasion of Mars," will be shown through the first week in July. Evening performances begin at 8:30 each night, while the two matinees on Saturday and Sunday begin at 3 o'clock. And I thank you.

which women will answer that it may be true abroad, but when American men are left to their own devices, they usually eat a fried egg.

Be that as it may, there's scarcely a male over 18 today who hasn't his own special method of broiling a steak—and it's usually over an outdoor fire. The rest of the family fall happily into the plot to turn Pop into a chef, and shower him with big aprons, starched white hats, murderous honed-steel blades. And they pick up after him. Father is the king of his oven or outdoor fireplace, and he's an extravagant user of pots, pans, butter and expensive items which make the budget short the rest of the week. Whatever he's cooking, it's a secret recipe. Male cooks seem to specialize in cooking meats or compounding salads or stewing up strange sauces, and I think that it's because they are the items people are most apt to claim over. I know one guy whose family almost swoons when they speak of his way with steaks. I watched the whole business from a discreet distance one week-end, and preparations started early in the day. It was a matter of getting the outdoor fireplace to a proper degree of heat. Then he slapped about two-inches deep of salt all over the biggest steak I've ever seen. Finally, he threw the whole thing right into the fire.

Within a short time we were eating the steak, which tasted to me pretty much like any steak I've eaten right out of our gas oven, except that there was a pretty salty taste to it. Anyway, I'd peeked, because he wouldn't tell a soul his secret.

Women cooks always have been a little leary about passing around their favorite recipes, just as they do not want the lady next door to have a dress in the same color and style. But these same ladies get eye-rolling and ecstatic nowadays when they are telling you about a "little restaurant" they've discovered.

The "little restaurant" usually turns out to be one of those routine little joints which advertise a French or Italian cuisine and suggests a glass of domestic wine with the spaghetti. But it has a flavor about it, and a girl who can turn out the best baked beans in all of North Overcoat. Is dew-eyed about filet of sole marguery, when eaten on a red-and-white checked table cloth. And she's just as proprietary about her restaurant as father is about his barbecue sauce (he puts 15 times as much pepper in it as most recipes say, and the secret is the effect of peeling the hair from the scalp).

This, one suspects, is another American fad. Sometime soon, someone is going to rediscover the joys of the kitchen-prepared groaning board and we'll start selling the French and Italians and Scandinavians the delights of New England clam chowder, prepared by daylight, in the open.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington — Broadway actress Tallulah Bankhead says that in politics she is psychic—

"I wouldn't run for office because someone else can do it better. I'm much better getting votes for someone else, and what's more I never backed a loser."

The daughter of the late Speaker of the house, William B. Bankhead, was in Washington to play the lead in Noel Coward's "Private Lives" at the Olney, Md., summer theater. She was the guest of the Women's National Press Club at luncheon. Wearing a gaily printed silk dress, a double strand of pearls, the hairless, tawny-haired, sultry-voiced actress said she listened to political speeches of her grandfather, the late Senator John Hollis Bankhead of Alabama, from her perambulator. "At the age of three I was patting kids on the head and telling them to vote for daddy," she said.

She listed the winners she's worked for... her uncle John Bankhead, former Senator from Alabama, the late Mayor La Guardia of New York; Franklin D. Roosevelt; President Truman; the late Congressman Sol Bloom of New York, and more recently young Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., who was elected to succeed Mr. Bloom.

She deplored the fact that Washington has no legitimate theater, called it "an international disgrace and a national scandal." Tallulah said she had worked 15 years on Broadway, longer than any other living star with a 12 weeks' average per year.

Announce Reorganization In College Work Effected

A reorganization of work in education, psychology, administration, and supervision at East Carolina Teachers College has been announced by President John D. Messick. Separation of the work offered in psychology and education and consolidation of the fields of administration, supervision, and student teaching with the department of education have been effected. These changes, says Dr. Messick, have been considered at the college for some time, and the reorganization was approved in May at the last meeting of the board of Trustees of the college. Details have just been announced from the president's office. Dr. Carl L. Adams, a specialist in psychology, will serve as director of the newly formed department of psychology.

gram of student teaching under the head of the department of education. He will also continue as administrative officer in charge of the college Placement Bureau. His work there includes the placement of students and alumni in positions as teachers and, especially in the case of those with liberal arts degrees, in various other types of employment.

Crowd Turns Out To Welcome Chinese Girl To New Country

New York, June 30—(AP)—A six-year-old Chinese girl to her father-to-be, Frank J. Chisari, a 24-year-old radio technician. He wept as he hugged and kissed the girl known only as Ann.

Four years ago, when Chisari was a GI in Kunming, China, he found the girl wounded beside the body of her mother. He took care of her, nursed her back to health.

For a long time, Chisari had been fighting to get the girl to this country. Learning of his efforts, the New York Daily News sent a reporter and photographer to get her.

As they landed at the end of the 12,000-mile flight, a loud cheer went up from the crowd, which had waited for hours at the field. They included members of a Chinese American Legion Post.

Speaking on behalf of Mayor William O'Dwyer, City Council President Vincent R. Impellitteri said: "I am proud x x x to welcome little Ann as our very own."

Chisari had enlisted the Daily News' help after, he said, several agencies gave him "the cold shoulder" in attempts to get permission to bring the girl here.

The State Department later gave the child special consideration to get in under the Chinese immigration quota.

Ann was little more than a baby when Chisari left her in a Lutheran orphanage in China. But when he picked her up yesterday, she threw her arms around his neck. Chisari and his wife, Antoinette, 28, have two other children, a girl the same age as Ann and a boy two and a half. He said he planned to bring up Ann as his own daughter in a strictly "American way."

Army Officer Wins Honors At Camp Lee

Lieut. George L. Jenkins, United States Army, and stationed at Camp Lee, Va., near Petersburg, graduated from the Army Quartermaster School there on June 22 with full honors. The graduation program carried a photograph of the Greenville Negro Army officer and the 43 other officers graduating.

Lieut. Jenkins, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Jenkins, 514 Tyson Street, Greenville, graduated from C. M. Eppes Negro High School, then entered the Army officers' training school, attended Howard University, Washington, D. C., and for a year or two was stationed at an Army post in Japan. When he returned to this country about a year ago he was stationed at Camp Lee.

Winterville Cannery In Operation Again

The community cannery at Winterville, one of the first of its kind established in this state and sponsored by the Winterville Ruritan club, is open daily for business except Saturdays from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Prof. J. H. Mobley, vocational agriculture teacher at the Winterville High school, and head of the cannery, announced.

More than 20,000 cans of fruit, vegetable and meat were canned there last summer. Much of the corn and tomato crops that usually go to waste are now canned at the plant.

Fun With Food For the Fourth

Frankfurters have been called Fun Food because they have always been associated with happy carefree eating. For a safe and sane Fourth of July celebration you'll find them perfect!

Why Not Edible Fireworks?

Sky-rockets ready for the broil or barbecue are nothing more than frankfurters with a meat skewer in one end and a metallic paper tip on the other. Great cannon crackers that look like regular "block-busters" add hilarity to the party, too. For these, cut frankfurters into shorter lengths and insert a clove for the fuse—see picture.

Let the guests help themselves and cook their own. The cannon cracker shorts are just right for skewering into kabobs with onion slices, green pepper squares and tomato wedges between. The full length sky-rocket frankfurters will broil or barbecue as usual.

Tulips From Cold Cuts

Cold cuts, too, need only imagination to be the party-perfect refreshment. Any teenager turned loose with a variety of cold cuts can fashion an effective party platter with plenty of appetite appeal. Our daughter designed this pot of tulips from cold cuts, and not to be outdone, Junior fashioned his allotment into a clever Model T with a cannon cracker under each bologna wheel. Their party platters were not only the hit of our Fourth of July party but the talk of the town for MONTHS. Parties are never work where you just have FUN!

BARBECUED FRANKS

Cook until soft but not brown:

- 1 tablespoon Clear Hook Butter and 1/2 cup chopped onion

Then add and cook down to a thick barbecue sauce:

- 1 teaspoon Wilson's B-V
- 1 cup tomato juice, puree or sauce
- 1 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- few drops Tabasco
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon chili pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon red pepper
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Pour enough of the sauce on to the frankfurters to moisten them. Cover and heat for 10 or 15 minutes to heat through. Serve with boiled rice.

Any leftover sauce may be used for reheating leftover meat, as a basting sauce on broiling frankfurters in the bun with meat slices, steamed frankfurters or cold cuts. You will find these the party refreshment perfect!

Psychological Edge Is Given Nationals In All-Star Event

New York, June 30—(AP)—The National League will face the American League in the 16th all-star game at Brooklyn on July 12 with one psychological edge in its favor. All four of its victories have come on home fields.

Irked by 11 trimmings since the classic originated in 1933 (there was none in 1945) National League President Ford Frick is determined to do everything he can to make this a winning year for his squad.

"We have got to win this game, and it's up to you to get our greatest strength into action," Frick is reported to have told Boston Manager Billy Southworth, who will lead the National League All-Stars. In the past the pilots felt they had a mandate from the fans to follow the vote tabulations. However, Frick is reported to have told Southworth to use his strongest lineup, after the third inning, regardless of the poll.

The fans select only 16 of the 50 players named on the two sides Southworth and Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, who will manage the American League team, must play these selections for the first three innings. They will pick their own pitchers, probably eight or nine on each side.

The fans' vote ended last midnight, but at least three starters for each team remained in doubt. The American League team will be made public July 5, and the National all-star combination will be announced two days later.

Net receipts from the game will go to the baseball players' pension fund. On orders from Commissioner A. B. Chandler, no player will be excused unless he is prevented from appearing because of an injury or illness.

For years it has been the practice of several stars to bow out of the game. Last year Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians and Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals begged off.

Williams Retains Lead In Voting

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugging outfielder, held the individual vote getting honors today as workers continued to tabulate returns in the All-Star poll which closed last midnight.

Final returns of the poll, which will decide the starting lineups for the National and American leagues in the 16th annual All-Star game in Brooklyn July 12, will be announced Saturday.

Williams currently holds an advantage of 115,512 votes over Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's Negro second baseman and National League batting star.

No Intention Of Shifting Giants

Montreal, June 30—(AP)—Charles A. Stoneham, general manager of the Jersey City Giants in the International Baseball League, said last night in a statement that "the New York Giants have never had the slightest intention of moving out of Jersey City."

"As general manager of the team, I can explicitly say that at no time were any such plans considered," Stoneham said "if we had any such plans we would not have signed a new 10-year lease on Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City as recently as 1947."

P. A. B. Widener II's Elmdorf Farm bred six thoroughbred stake winners during 1948.

Sub-Par Palmer 'Shocks' Gallery

Ames, Iowa, June 30—(AP)—The golf faithful in this little college town is shocked at what grim-faced Arnold Palmer is doing to their course.

Palmer, a 19 year old Latrobe, Pa. lad representing Wake Forest College in the National collegiate golf tournament, apparently has no respect for par on the 6,055 yard Iowa State College layout.

The course is a mean combination of everything necessary to make low scoring difficult—woods, hills, water and traps. It carries only a par 71 but there aren't many who better or equal it.

That's why the people here are buzzing about Palmer. The sturdy Wake Forest star, son of a golf professional, posted 70-71—141 for medalist honors in the collegiate scramble for a national crown, a new 36 hole competitive record for the course.

Yesterday he whipped Marion Pfunger of the University of Texas 4 and 3 in first round match play. Again he was under par playing out the round for 4 89.

First business today for the Southern conference champion was an engagement with Harold Spears, Georgia's Southern conference king. Palmer defeated Spears in dual meet last spring but he has a lot of respect for his foe, who eliminated Bob Keller of Miami, Fla., University 1 up yesterday.

The Palmer-Spears contest was the first of 24 second and third

Tonight the Lions Club will tangle with Kiwanis at Third Street diamond at six o'clock in a civic league contest. The game scheduled for last night between V.F.W. and American Lady Corset was rained out and will be played on Friday at the usual time.

Kiner Shadowed By Star Rookie For Extra Tips

Pittsburgh, June 30—(AP)—Pirate Slugger Ralph Kiner is being shadowed these days.

The eye constantly upon the Pittsburgh home run star is that of a sensational outfield rookie star, dynamic Dino Restelli.

And far from being annoyed, amiable Ralph—an outfielder of All-Star parts himself—loves the attention he's receiving.

Restelli's idea in watching every hitting move Kiner makes is to pick up all the tips he can. Dino, a modest young man, recognizes an expert at work.

Dino is by way of becoming an expert himself as a comparison of the two players show. Kiner has hit .350 in 63 games this season.

Restelli's average is .357 in his 14 games with the Pirates. Kiner, currently on a batting spree, has hit .400 in his last 14 games.

Restelli has hit seven home runs in his 14 games, a neat statistic if he can make it stick for the rest of the season. Another circuit belt was washed out by rain. Ralph, in his last 14 games, has hit six homers, one less than Dino.

Maybe Ralph and Dino can get tips from each other. In any event whenever the Bucs are holding batting practice you never find the two sluggers more than a handshake apart.

When Kiner is taking his practice licks, Dino perches high on the back of the batting cage—a study in intense concentration.

When neither is hitting their heads are together, discussing batting grips, stances and pitchers' styles.

Kiner cheerfully imparts all the information he can.

"I like to help anybody," Ralph grinned. "After all, plenty of people helped me. And I figure I've got a lot to learn."

Joe Dimaggio 'Justifies' His $90,000 Salary In 2 Games

Three Home Runs And Six Runs Batted In Show Stuff That Makes A Baseball Star; Helps Yanks Hammer Down Red Sox

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
The same old Joe Dimaggio! Three home runs in two days, six runs batted in and a 500 batting average. That's the stuff that made a $90,000 salary.

The mourners who shed a tear for the poor New York Yankees and their fat paychecks for a crippled star, can toss the crying towel in the wet wash. The Yanks are getting their money's worth from Joe D.

Dimag's ailing heel may slice a few yards off his private acre in center field but he's still Mr. Big with the bat. Ten weeks of fretting in street clothes while his mated led the American League didn't dull his batting eye—at least not in Boston.

Big Joe electrified a giant-sized Tuesday night crowd with a homer and single in his first league appearance since he limped off that same Boston field last October.

That was only the beginning. Yesterday he hammered two homers, one with two men on base, drove in four runs and personally accounted for the Yanks' 9-7 edge over the Red Sox.

This was the big series for the Sox. Rolling fast at home they had climbed to within five games of the Yanks. A series sweep and they would have been up there knocking on the door. Instead they trail the Yanks by seven games and are back in the second division. Joe D. is the man responsible.

Dimag boosted the Yanks back in the game after Boston clubbed wild Tommy Byrne from the hill in the four-run first inning. Joe's homer with two men on off Ellis Kinder left the Sox with a 7-4 lead in the fifth.

After Gene Woodling's double with the bases loaded tied the score in the seventh, Dimaggio hit his game-winning blow off Loser Earl Johnson with the bases empty in the eighth.

Cleveland averted disaster with a six-run rally in the last of the ninth, inning to down Detroit 8-7 in a night game after they were shutout 4-0 by Hal Newhouse in the twilight opener of a double-header.

Bobby Feiler let down the sweating crowd of 65,243 when the Tigers knocked him out in a seven-run fifth inning. But the Tribe bounced back to win for reliever Steve Cromeck when pinch hitter Bob Lemon doubled off Dizzy Trout with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth.

Only Bobby Jones (1926-1930) and Gene Sarazen (1932) have won the U.S. and British Open golf titles in the same year.

Boys' League Baseball

Dodgers vs Yankees

Dick Dickenson pitched the first no hit game of the season in the Boys League Wednesday morning. The Yanks won over the Dodgers 8 to 1. The Dodgers scored their lone run in the sixth on an error. The Yanks garnered eight hits off the offerings of Howard Allen and coasted to victory. Bobby Faulkner with three singles, Dallas Evans with a single and double and Billy Johnson with two singles to lead the Yanks.

Braves vs Tigers

The East End Braves played their best game of the season to win over the Tigers of Third Street yesterday by the score of 12 to 3. The Braves hit hard and often and fielded brilliantly to take an easy win. The winners hit safely fourteen times, six being for extra bases. John Farley and Billy Brady both hit for the circuit. Hilton Quinn with a single, double and triple. Jody Taylor with a double and two singles and John Farley with a homer and two singles were the top hitters for the Braves. Bobby Odum was the only Tiger to get two hits.

Busy Brave

Johnny Antonelli will have to rack up a great number of victories to repay the Boston Braves for that fat bonus, variously reported at sums from $50,000 to $60,000, but it looks as though the youngster is beginning to pay dividends. Johnny scored his first major league triumph over the hard-hitting New York Giants and showed enough in subsequent starts to indicate that he is headed for stardom.

Calumet Colt 'Coaltown' Looms As Tops For 1949

New York June 30—(AP)—With half of the year gone, Coaltown looms as the "horse of the year," but it might be well to postpone handing out the prizes until the Pimlico Special is run late in October.

Horses winning that one usually wind up at the top of the list when the votes are all counted.

Coaltown, the No. 2 Calumet colt back of Citation in 1948, came into his own this season and captured eight straight races until he was upset last Saturday by Star Reward in the Equippose mile at Chicago's Arlington Park.

The speedy son of Bull Lea-Easy Lass has defeated many of the handicap stars in his 1949 campaign. But he might not be able to clinch his claim for highest honors on the turf until the Pimlico Special in Baltimore during the fall meeting at Old Hilltop. There are a lot of others he still hasn't met.

The Pimlico Special, inaugurated in 1937, is designed to be a horse world series. Eligible entrants are the winners of 35 premier American races. The Special has been run 12 times and on eight occasions the winner became horse of the year.

Fifteen of the 35 events have been held, and Fred Hooper's Derby favorite, Olympia, leads in the number of qualifications with three—the Flamingo, Wood Memorial, and Withers.

Coaltown has qualified twice with his victories in the Widener Kinston. The New Bern Bears have been second to the Greentree in total number of shut outs handed other members of the league with six to their credit and have likewise been shut out only twice this season.

The record of the Greentree pitchers to date is as follows: Clark, seven wins and three losses; Yohn, seven wins and two losses; Harrison, three wins and three losses; Lewey, four wins and five losses; Suggs, three wins and one loss; Mascarella, five wins and nine losses; Purdy, two wins and one loss; F. Mauney, one win and no losses; Masonis, one win and one loss; Frankel, two wins and three losses; Little, one win and one loss; Pollard, one win and no losses; Romeo, no wins and one loss.

American Women Monopolize Wimbledon Semifinals Today

London, June 30—(AP)—The supremacy of America's women tennis players is evidenced by the fact that all four semifinals contestants in today's matches represent the United States.

Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., top-seeded among the men and America's only survivor in the male competition, struggled to one of his typical Marathon victories yesterday in gaining a semi-final triumph over South Africa's Eric Sturress, and today the U. S. girls figure to pick up where Ted left off.

Defending champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., opposed Mrs. Patt Todd, La Jolla, Calif., while Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Bellevue, Del., faces Helen Rihbany of Boston.

Miss Brough breezed through her quarter-finals match with Britain's Mrs. Molly Blair yesterday, 6-2, 6-3. Her good friend and doubles partner, Mrs. duPont, reached the semifinals with a 6-1, 6-3 triumph over Mrs. Betty Hilton, also of Britain.

Form points to another final between Louise and Margaret. Miss Brough won the final from Mrs. duPont in 1947 and last year retained her crown by beating Doris Hart, an absentee this year.

Schroeder and Jaroslav Drobny, the Czechoslovakian ace, will clash Friday in the men's final.

Ted pulled his specialty yesterday, outlasting a tired Sturress, 3-6, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2. Drobny had a much easier task in eliminating Australia's John Bromwich, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

A pair of women's doubles quarter-final matches yesterday also saw American girls upsetting their British foes.

Gertrude Moran, Santa Monica, Calif., and Mrs. Todd ousted Patsy Rodgers and Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith, 6-2, 6-2, while Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, teamed with Mrs. Rihbany to defeat Miss E. M. Sutton and Patsy Knight, by the same score.

Mathias Remains Nation's Finest Decathlon Athlete In Tulare Games

Tulare, Calif., June 30—(AP)—Tulare's Robert, Bruce Mathias is still the nation's finest decathlon performer and Tulare remains the happiest city of 12,000 in the country.

"Our Bob," which is no idle phrase in this town, captured the National A.A.U. decathlon crown for the second straight year and kept untarnished the brighter glory he won as the Olympic games champion last summer at London.

The tall, good looking 18-year-old athlete rolled up 7556 points to outdistance a field of 18 rivals gathered from all parts of the nation.

Yost Missed By Washington Club And Joe Kuhel

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Eddie Yost's enforced absence is giving Washington's Manager Joe Kuhel a major headache.

Minus the little, 22-year-old third baseman, the Senators have dropped from a comfortable third place to the second division.

Yost is sorely missed. A steadily improving youngster who gave the Nats a polished infield, he had slammed four home runs in five games just before spraining his ankle in Cleveland on June 8.

Kuhel has no hope of getting the former New York University cage star back into play for another week.

At the time he left the lineup the Senators were playing at a 521 clip and were only six and one-half games behind the front running Yankees. Since that time the Washington club has won but five of its last 13 games.

BOROWY IMPROVED

Philadelphia—(AP)—One of the most improved pitchers over his 1948 record is Hank Borowy of the Phillies. As a Cub last season he started 17 times but went the distance only twice. Through June 6 he had hurled seven complete games for the Phillies, winning five of them.

Ancient Patagonian Garbage Dump Provides Clues To Past

Buenos Aires. —(AP)—Scientists digging in a prehistoric garbage dump have found new traces of South America's oldest civilizations.

Miliciades Alojo Vignati, professor of anthropology at La Plata University museum, and a group of other scientists discovered the ruins which tell a new story of prehistoric Indian culture.

The discoveries were made in Patagonia, a vast, desolate tableland and mountainous region stretching from the territory of Chubut to Tierra Del Fuego, Argentina's southernmost territory.

The lost civilization Vignati and his companions found probably was the forerunner of the tribes, which once formed the powerful Patagonian Indian nation whose warriors were known for their extreme height and big feet.

The scientists found their clue to the lost civilization while poking through a pile of mounds which which turned out to be an age-old garbage dump. They found broken dishes and other articles made of stone and bone.

During two months of work in Patagonia, Vignati said he and his companions had found shelters carved in rock, brightly painted walls and pictographs.

Vignati said only the surface of the vast Indian culture had been touched. More extensive excavations will be made during January, February and March, the Southern Hemisphere's summer months.

Vignati said the explorers were excited when they found an aged Indian woman able to speak the Teshuen tongue, the language used by the Chelilache-Kinks, one of three tribes which long ago flourished in Patagonia.

With her help, he said, the scientists were able to reconstruct a large part of the Teshuen vocabulary which he had believed lost to modern civilization.

Soap Supply For Europe Improved

Oslo. —(AP)—Dr. Eric Mann, former professor in a Los Angeles university and an expert on European affairs, declares: "Soap is one of the items which are plentiful here. No soap should be sent as gift from the United States. Send something else," he says, "but no soap."

Dr. Mann is in Oslo to discuss the establishment of university courses for Americans in the Oslo University. He has been conducting a one-man soap-for-children campaign for the last few years in the United States which has supplied 650,000 pounds of soap to needy institutions all over Europe.

"France, Sweden, Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland—almost all European countries have now all the soap they need—mostly through home production," the doctor says. "Certainly Americans shall continue to help where help is needed. Therefore let us send linen, bed sheets, pillow cases. There is for instance not one single incubator in Oslo. Maybe some Americans will get one for the Rikshospitalet, Barneavdelingen, Oslo."

Dr. Mann says the recovery in Norway after the war is marked but still incomplete as Norway "has suffered unbelievably at the hands of the German invaders who has destroyed a large part of Norway's national wealth."

minist brigades. His story was quoted in Allied-licensed western-German papers. The man said he was recruited for the rebel army from a German prisoner-of-war camp in Soviet Russia.

There are more than 5,000 Germans fighting in the rebel Communist force, he said. The German said he first was taken to a transit camp in Bulgaria. Other German prisoners and "volunteers" from 18 other nations were there. They were trained in guerrilla tactics by veteran ex-wehrmacht NCOs and officers.

"Firearms came from the Skoda plant in Czechoslovakia and the Potemkin plant near Odessa, Soviet Union. We had Italian Beretta guns and German machine pistols of the 1942 type. They even supplied us with Hungarian, Russian and Rumanian shot-guns, manufactured around 1900.

"There were about 15 different types of ammunition, and the one you were looking for was just 'sold out.'"

"We got good food in the Bulgarian transit camp—canned, with American, Russian, German, Hungarian and Rumanian labels. Russian political officers promised us almost everything if we would fight bravely and hold the front. Despite the orders, merits, leading positions and money rewards the German legionaries were promised, they always intended to flee and did flee. But not all succeeded and more than 450 of the Germans died in action during the last two years.

"Morale among the Greek rebel army was extremely low when its attack against Greek governmental troops came to a standstill last winter. Russian officers then picked out hundreds of the legionaries and executed them as a warning example."

Penalized

New York. —(AP)— Looking over last season's statistics, officials of the American Hockey League have decided that penalties incurred by a team affect its standing only slightly. The league champion Providence Reds spent 509 minutes in the penalty box, and the tallest Washington Lions only 14 minutes less—495. Pittsburgh and Cleveland, third and fourth in the west had the most and least penalty time, respectively.

ORANGE-CRUSH "FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR RATES FIRST IN TEST

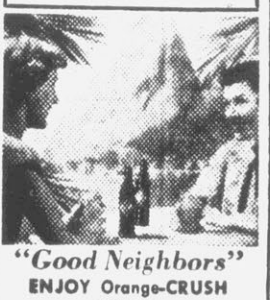

TASTE TESTING WAS FUN... "Really fun," said the women, men, girls and boys who recently took the carbonated orange drink "blind" taste test. Some voted for this drink, some for that, not knowing the names of any at the time. But when all returns were chalked up, Orange-CRUSH with its distinctive "fresh-fruit" flavor, natural color and just-right carbonation was away in the lead.

Scientists reveal reasons why... BROWN BOTTLE PROTECTS "FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR

Many people ask why Orange-CRUSH is always sold in special "krinkly" brown bottles. The reasons are good ones. Orange-CRUSH technicians give the answers:

1. The brown, corrugated glass structure of the Orange-CRUSH bottle resists sunlight. This is most important because sunlight is especially harmful to orange juice, causing it to deteriorate quickly. By preventing these damaging rays from reaching the juice after it has been bottled, the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle carefully guards Orange-CRUSH until you open it and taste all of its delicate, sweet, natural fruit flavor.
2. The distinctive "krinkly" brown bottle identifies Orange-CRUSH so the public can easily and quickly recognize it.
3. Wherever you find Orange-CRUSH, all over the world, it is always bottled the same way—in the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle. There is never a variation to confuse you.
4. The Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle feels comfortable in the hand—a sure grip when pouring. With these facts in mind, look always for the distinctively-shaped, "krinkly" brown bottle that invariably identifies the genuine Orange-CRUSH, that protects its delicate "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color; that fits the hand so well. Be foresighted, be thrifty... buy delicious Orange-CRUSH by the case, with confidence that you get a bigger money's worth, and that its goodness is always protected by the Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle. Keep its picture in your mind.

Bit of Home, Abroad

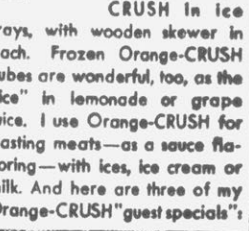

"Good Neighbors" ENJOY Orange-CRUSH IN RIO

Orange-CRUSH is sold in twenty countries throughout the world. So on a "good neighbor" jaunt... for example, to Rio de Janeiro in Brazil... you'd find Orange-CRUSH awaiting your pleasure. A "little bit of home" to cheer and refresh you with its familiar bottled goodness, it's sparkling, zesty, "fresh fruit" flavor!

And no matter where you find Orange-CRUSH you'll find the same delicious "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color protected by the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle.

Taste-Teasers

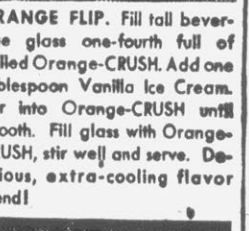

My-o-my... It's really amazing how many delicious variations you can get with bottled Orange-CRUSH! For example, children love "Orange-CRUSH Slices" made by freezing Orange-CRUSH in ice trays, with wooden skewer in each. Frozen Orange-CRUSH cubes are wonderful, too, as the "ice" in lemonade or grape juice. I use Orange-CRUSH for basting meats—as a sauce flavoring—with ices, ice cream or milk. And here are three of my Orange-CRUSH "guest specials":

ORANGE FROSTY. Serve chilled Orange-CRUSH in a frosty glass topped with a sprig of mint. Sheer taste enjoyment with a chicken sandwich or devilled ham sandwich! A snack deluxe for family or guests.

ORANGE FLIP. Fill tall beverage glass one-fourth full of chilled Orange-CRUSH. Add one tablespoon Vanilla Ice Cream. Stir into Orange-CRUSH until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH, stir well and serve. Delicious, extra-cooling flavor blend!

ORANGE SHAKE. Fill paraffin glass one-fourth full of Orange-CRUSH. Into this stir one tablespoon orange sherbet or raspberry sherbet. Stir until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH. Stir well. When it foams it's ready to enjoy. And, um-mm... serve with cookies or plain cake!

Customers Choose Favorite Bottled Orange Drink in "Blind" Taste Test

Orange-CRUSH Enjoyed By Whole Families

Marjorie J., mother, when informed of her choice in "blind" taste test, volunteered: "What I like about Orange-CRUSH is its 'fresh fruit' flavor. I have enjoyed Orange-CRUSH for years, but had not realized that its pleasing, distinctive 'fruity' taste is so distinguishable when compared with other carbonated orange drinks."

Richard J., father: "I made my choice because I found the orange flavor 'sparkle' of this Orange-CRUSH drink particularly pleasing. The makers of Orange-CRUSH have certainly found the formula of tingling taste perfection in a bottled orange drink. There'll be more of it at our house."

Willie J., son: "Orange-CRUSH is so natural tasting—full of the fruity fresh-orange flavor that's tops with me! Does it ever taste good when it's nice and cold—and its sparkly tingle kind of 'hugs your tongue'—and a glassful is gone far too soon! Yes sir, I could go for a bottle of cooling, natural tasting Orange-CRUSH any time!"

Louise J., daughter: "It's the 'fresh-like' orange flavor, with just enough cooling tingle taste, that I like about Orange-CRUSH. At picnics and places I've had a lot of bottled orange drinks, but none of 'em had the rich flavor like you smell when you open a sack of big, ripe oranges—and that's what I think of when I taste Orange-CRUSH."

Men, Women, Children Like Orange-CRUSH Best

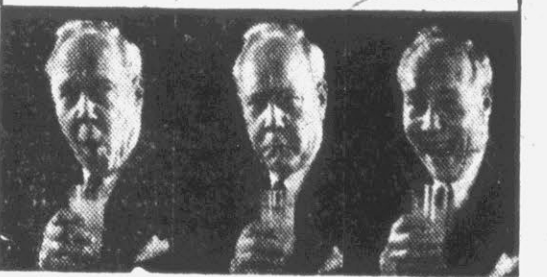

In a most unusual taste test, Orange-CRUSH, famous "fresh fruit" flavored orange drink, proved again why it has been a favorite bottled refreshment for more than 33 years. All comers—men, women and children—were asked to taste several carbonated orange drinks. One was Orange-CRUSH. All testers were served "blind," in cups, none knowing names of orange drinks tasted. An impartial scorer asked, "which drink do you prefer?—which of these do you say has the finest 'fresh fruit' flavor?"

"DIFFERENT" TASTE WINS PREFERENCE

Score marks lengthened in the "Orange-CRUSH" column as more and more said, "This for me!" When asked reasons for this preference, the real story of Orange-CRUSH leadership was told: "Fresh fruit" flavor—just enough "sparkle"—more "cooling"—no foreign "after-taste"—more "satisfying"—"just like it better"—tastes like "more!"

Here was human, present-day confirmation of the reasons why Orange-CRUSH is the best-known bottled, carbonated orange drink—sold in twenty countries throughout the world. Proof, once more, of the qualities that made Orange-CRUSH the official orange drink of the New York World's Fair, Chicago World's Fair, and other great fairs. You, too, can taste the "difference" that has made Orange-CRUSH a world favorite carbonated orange drink for years. Delicious, "fresh fruit" flavored, bottled Orange-CRUSH is sold in grocery stores and fountains all over America. You'll find it in your block, or "just around the corner." Try some today.

 BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 30
 Jeff walked rapidly, unconscious for once that Connie was so close to him. He followed the alley clear to the end of town, then cut across to the one on the far side. Down it he strode, treading softly and easily to the rear of Glenn's place. He nodded as he saw the light in the kitchen window. Glenn, if he had been in Brisco, which Jeff now doubted, had returned.

He passed into the dark stable. Connie gazed in after him. Behind them another stealthy figure felt its way along the alley but they were unaware of its presence.

Jeff knew where a lantern hung; he took it down and lighted it. The horse was in a stall munching hay. Jeff spoke to the animal, then raised its left hind foot. The shoe was unbroken.

He put the foot down, stood for a moment gazing about him, then went to the saddle which straddled a rail at the back of the stable. He raised the leather skirt. Tied there was a worn horseshoe. Its end calk was missing. It was the shoe which had made the tell-tale tracks.

"I reckon this tells the story," he said to Connie, and indicated the shoe. "Glenn didn't know about that broken calk until I told him shortly before the gold robbery. He saw at once how he could use it to put the blame on Slug. Yes, it's clear now."

"What are you going to do?"
 "Go inside and get him. It's got to be done. You'd better stay here."
 "No, I'm going with you. I must see it through to the end."
 "Connie, you mustn't. It'll be hard, caring for him as you do."
 Her voice was quiet and level. "But I don't care for him. I never have."

"But he said—"
 "Can you believe anything he ever said—now?"

He looked at her intently and she returned his gaze without flinching; then he drew a deep breath and started for the house.

that chore and to hell with 'em!" He stepped to the back window and looked beneath the drawn shade. The kitchen was empty but the door to the office was ajar and there was light in the room. He tried the door. It was locked.

The bell had stopped ringing and he could hear the shouts of the mob as it surged along the street. There were men coming down the alley, too. Gun in hand, he ran to the passageway beside the building and sped along it to the street. He slid around a corner, keeping close to the building and inched to the front door with a hand extended behind him he found the knob.

A man came running diagonally across the street toward him. It was Bill Frothingham.

"Hold up there! We got you, Tyler!"

The door was unlocked. Slug pushed it open and started backing across the threshold. Bill fired and he stumbled, still clinging to the door. He pulled himself about and tried to close it. Another shot and he rocked to the impact of the bullet. He fell against the door and it closed under his weight. He found the bolt and shot it, then started for the inner room. He took two stumbling steps and went down.

His body was numb but he was telling himself that he mustn't fall now. He lay like a dead man for a dozen seconds, then gathered his strength for a final effort. He started to crawl toward the office door. Outside he could hear Frothingham calling to men to surround the house.

Lines Form For Driving Licenses

Long lines of people whose names begin with I, J, or K stood on the stairs of the city hall yesterday and today awaiting turns to receive driving checks for new driver's licenses.

Today is the last day for the issuance of new driver's licenses to people whose names begin with I, J and K and after today all persons whose names begin with the three letters will be subject to arrest for driving without a driver's license if they have not received new licenses.

For the past several days hundreds of people have jammed the local licensing office in an effort to renew their driver's licenses before tonight's deadline.

One highway patrolman remarked this morning, "Probably everyone in this initial group who is brought in for not having a proper driver's license will raise Cain because they have not had enough time. This group has had six months to have their license renewed, and a lot of the days during that period we have not had over four people to apply for renewals."

Arrest Youth On Charge Of Forgery

Greenville police yesterday arrested Earl Stocks, son of Mrs. Henry Clay Edwards of near Greenville, on a charge of forgery. The warrant, issued by Bill Moore, manager of the Texaco Oil Company's plant here, charges that Stocks forged a check for $50, using the name of A. J. Russell.

The case will be tried in Police Court Friday morning.

Goodmon Fines, Suspends Walker

Williamston, June 30—Frank Walker, president of the Rocky Mount baseball club, was today fined $200 and suspended for the remainder of the 1949 playing season for hitting umpires Gurley and Tolle on the playing field following the Rocky Mount Greenville game at Rocky Mount June 24th. In a decision handed down today by Ray H. Goodmon, President of Coastal Plain League.

During this suspension, Walker cannot directly or indirectly take any part in the operation or direction of the Rocky Mount club.

In handing down the decision President Goodmon stated: "The imposition of this penalty takes into consideration Walker's many years of honorable service and contribution to baseball."

Judge Hunt Parker To Preside Here Remainder Of Year

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids will ride the Fifth Judicial Circuit the last six months of this year.

The Halifax county jurist will preside over a civil term of Superior Court here the week of August 22.

A mixed term for trial of civil and criminal cases will be held the week of August 29.

The following schedule will prevail the remainder of the year:

- September 12—Civil.
- September 26—Civil.
- October 24—Civil.
- October 31—Mixed term for trial of civil and criminal cases.
- November 21—Civil term, with a special judge to be appointed by the governor.

No Superior Court will be held here during December.

Conflict . . .

That's not strange in view of Moscow's edict that there shall be no interference with the campaign of anti-religious propaganda. Yugoslavia, of course, has been placed on Russia's black list for failure to toe the party line.

While all this is going on in the satellite countries, a less sensational but effective house-cleaning is being carried on by the democracies. Communism has lost ground in elections in Italy, France, the Netherlands and Belgium. And recently Britain's ruling Socialist party ordered its membership of more than 5,000,000 to purge itself of any fellow traveling with communists. Fourteen communist or communist front groups were blacklisted.

Here in our own United States the ideological problem finally is being ironed out. Attorney General Tom Clark summed up the situation recently in an interview on the Gannett radio stations like this:

"Communists in the United States are on the run, as a threat to government, as an influence in labor or as a political party. Our records indicate they have become almost one third smaller in number than three years ago." Alien communists, he said, "are fleeing the country."

X-Rays Drop To 676 Yesterday

Yesterday the six x-ray units in operation in the Pitt county area made 676 x-rays, with unit No. eight at Five Points in the lead with 154 and unit No. 2 at Farmville close behind with 152.

The extra unit recently added to the drive and which has been stationed on the ECTC campus made 71.

The drive so far has netted over 21,556 x-rays and the drive has about six more days to go.

Reciprocal Trade . . .

their tariffs on our roller skates.

This is the crudest kind of explanation, for the whole problem is very complicated, as can be seen from what the experts of the 34 countries in France are trying to do:

To cut down country-by-country deals and end discrimination among countries, they're trying to make agreements by which any country that lowers its tariff on certain products of another country will give all of the other 32 countries the same tariff rather rates on those certain products. (That doesn't mean all products.)

When the trade act was first passed in 1934 our tariffs on foreign goods coming in here to compete with American goods were very high. This was to protect American producers.

So the act allowed the President to cut tariffs where he saw fit, but only after a long study by government experts and public hearings where anyone who thought he might be hurt could complain.

TODAY'S FIRE

A fire caused by a faulty emergency brake in a truck at the corner of Rotary and Fifth Streets was put out today about 12:55 by the Greenville Fire department. Three trucks responded to the call which came from box 54 near the college. There was no damage to the truck other than to the brake. The owner of the truck is not known.

Parking Tickets

Greenville police yesterday arrested Daniel Singleton, a salesman, 1305 South Washington street and charged him with overtime parking and failure to answer the summons of two parking tickets placed on his motor vehicle. Police records show that in addition to two overtime parking tickets issued to Singleton, he ignored a letter from the police warning him to report at headquarters. He will be tried in Police Court Friday morning.

A city ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen provides a fine of as much as $50 or 60 days in jail for violation of the parking law. Police are about to issue warrants for several other motorists who have ignored the summons of the parking tickets, it was learned today.

Chamber Plans Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce office.

William J. Bird, National Affairs advisor of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will be present at the meeting which is to be a joint session with the Chamber's Legislation and National Affairs committee.

The purpose of the meeting is to formulate plans for action on legislation now before the United States Congress, including the Minimum Wage Bill, the Taft-Hartley Act, socialized medicine, and other important legislation.

TOBACCO GROWS DOUBLE ON ELMER BUCK'S FARM

A double tobacco leaf in the Daily Reflector window today attracted attention. It was from a plant on Elmer Buck's plot on the G. C. Buck farm, between the airport and Belvoir. He has seven acres of the Three-Sucker variety of tobacco. Buck put in his first barn for curing Monday. He uses oil-burning tobacco cutters.
