General Approval Of Truman Choice

Surprise Selection Of Tom Clark As Supreme Court Justice And Sen. J. Howard McGrath Gains General Approval Of Senators

Washington, July 29—(AP)—President Truman's surprise choice of Attorney General Tom Clark for the Supreme Court and Senator J. Howard McGrath for attorney general gained general approval of senators today.

Although the President told his news conference yesterday that Clark and McGrath hadn't finally agreed to the shift, there seemed little doubt the two will announce their formal acceptance next week.

Clark, 49-year-old Texas lawyer, would fill the court place left vacant by the death of Associate Justice Frank Murphy.

Moving into Clark's place as the nation's chief legal watchdog would be McGrath, 45-year-old chairman of the Democratic National Committee, former solicitor general and former governor of Rhode Island.

If arrangements can be made this weekend for appointment of his Senate successor, McGrath is expected to agree to accept the cabinet post.

Friends said that once he is confirmed, McGrath will resign as Democratic chairman. That would leave the post open for William M. Boyle, Jr., formerly of Kansas City, who has been serving as executive assistant at a $30,000 yearly salary.

Clark indicated in a statement that he is ready to take the court post.

Observing that the President had bestowed a great honor on him by offering the place, Clark said:

"It is with humility that I approach it. Such a position is the greatest challenge that can be placed before a lawyer. I hope I am worthy of the honor the President has paid me."

McGrath said he wants to talk to his family and friends in Rhode Island before he decides finally.

Despite his position as Democratic national chairman, the Rhode Island senator seemed likely to escape any serious criticism in Senate consideration of his appointment.

Whether Clark would get by without some harsh words remained in doubt. Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will handle both nominations, has had some recent brushes with the attorney general.

Senator Kem (R-Mo.) criticized Clark in the 80th Congress for what he said was the attorney general's failure to prosecute vigorously Kansas City vote fraud cases.

Kem wouldn't comment on the possibility that he would renew his attack on the present cabinet member.

In any case, indications were the Senate will confirm the appointments within a relatively short time after they are sent to it officially.

Some People Steal Anything

Cumberland, Md., July 29—(AP)—Some people will steal anything—from anybody.

City Police Officer C. D. Mangas had finished work and was heading toward a cruiser. The desk sergeant radioed from police headquarters to ask if Mangas wanted to buy a screen door.

"What for?" replied Mangas. "I don't need a screen door. The summer's almost over."

"That's what you think," replied the sergeant. "Your wife just called and reported your front screen door was stolen."

Acheson's Statement

Secretary Of State Points Out That Appeal Of International Communism Grew Under Threats Of Force; Communism Defined; Original Conception Of 'Ideal'

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Secretary of State Dean Acheson made a statement yesterday about Communism which is likely to cause puzzlement among some intellectuals who have been "winning" the Red line as a Utopian political ideal.

In making a plea before the House Foreign Affairs committee for approval of the administration European arms program, the Secretary pointed out that "throughout this struggle there has been in existence behind the iron curtain the greatest peacetime combination of military force, the world has ever known." Then a bit later he said:

"The fact is that the appeal of international Communism is not, contrary to the self-serving assertions of the Soviets, an appeal to the minds of men. International Communism has made its gain in Europe not by any international or spiritual attractions but by the threat that derives from the existence of large forces, and the ruthless application of force wherever this has been necessary to achieve its objectives."

That strikes me as calling for a definition of "Communism." As pointed out in earlier columns, the original Communism of generations past was a beneficent ideology abolishing private property and establishing a social order in which it was one for all and all for one.

However, by the beginning of this century Communism had been split into two sections—the Bolsheviks, who were the majority, and the Mensheviks, who were the minority. The Bolsheviks, led by Lenin, adopted the doctrine of direct action. The "help" that the rule of the proletariat could only be achieved by actual revolution and bloodshed. This was exemplified in their successful revolution of 1917 when the Czar was overthrown and "liquidated" with his immediate family.

Since then the Bolsheviks have been in power in Moscow first under Lenin and for the past quarter century under Stalin. Direct action and strong arm have prevailed. That's what Mr. Acheson refers to as "the ruthless application of force." It is of the cardinal tenets of Communism as practiced by the present Bolshevik regime.

The original brands of Communism and Socialism of course had much in common. We get the reflection of this fact in the name of the Russian Commonwealth—Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. However, there is a wide reach between Socialism and Communism these days. That fact was emphasized in a chat which I had earlier this week in New York with Japan's former Socialist Premier Tetsu Katayama.

New Pitt County Hospital Begins To Take Shape

Workers erect wooden forms for pouring concrete walls in a section of the $1,400,000 Pitt County hospital being constructed just off the Greenville-Falkland highway west of Greenville. Pictured above is a portion of the basement section of the building which will be the boiler room. The hospital will be a fireproof building finished on the outside with a reddish brick selected last week by members of the board of trustees. (Staff photo by Roy Hardee.)

Appropriations Pile Up Behind Senators

Total Of Nearly $27 Billions In Appropriations Caught In Senate Log-Jam; Joint Committee Works To Keep Government Going

Washington, July 29—(AP)—A total of $26,809,282,632 in appropriations piled up today behind a piling Senate and there appeared little chance of a quick break in this log jam.

A bipartisan bloc in economy advocates is challenging almost every expense item in an attempt to chip off a few millions here and there.

A Senate-House committee meanwhile worked on a compromise to keep the government's vast machinery rolling with emergency funds until the cash can be provided by appropriation.

The House and Senate passed a stop-gap measure yesterday—the second time this year—to provide a part of the money which should have been available by July 1. The house voted to keep the money flowing to agencies through August. But the Senate put the cut-off date at August 15. Conferees are trying to work out this difference.

Not only the domestic government agencies but the huge foreign recovery program was caught in the jam. But an extension of emergency spending will keep the aid program going.

An official of the Economic Cooperation Administration said the agency could spend at the rate of about $300,000,000 in the next month if the emergency resolution is approved.

The house-passed money bills which still must receive Senate approval are:

Foreign aid, $5,723,724,000.

Third deficiency $127,032,243. This is to supplement funds provided previously.

Independent offices including the Atomic Energy commission, $7,636,000,000.

Interior department, $590,685,911.

Military, $12,731,834,478.

Modification Of Prison Rules On Punishment Seen

Raleigh, July 29—(AP)—A modification of rules regarding punishment of prisoners may result from the conviction today of a prison camp superintendent on a charge of assaulting a prisoner.

Dr. Henry W. Jordan, Highway Commission chairman, said he planned to recommend to the Highway Commission a modification of the rules on punishing prisoners.

Ned Carpenter, superintendent of the Richmond County prison camp, was sentenced by Judge Susie Sharp today to nine months on the road, suspended on the payment of a $200 fine and costs. Carpenter gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Carpenter was accused of having a prisoner, Clarence Lett, punished last August 11 by being handcuffed to prison bars. Lett confessed he was kept in this position for 63 hours, but prison officials said he was released after 52 hours.

Greensboro Aims At Leaf Market

Raleigh, July 29—(AP)—Steps for the formation of a tobacco market at Greensboro were taken here today.

A charter for the Greensboro Tobacco Board of Trade, Incorporated, Greensboro, a non-stock organization, was filed in the office of Secretary of State Thad Eure.

The organization is an object of the "charter" listed as an object of the organization "to promote, encourage, regulate, facilitate, and expedite the purchase and sale of leaf tobacco in tobacco warehouses."

Hawaii Smashes Labor Precedent

Legislation To Put Gov't In Stevedoring Business

Honolulu, July 29—(AP)—Legislation to end Hawaii's 90-day lock strike by putting the territorial government in the stevedoring business today appeared set for enactment Saturday.

CIO longshoremen countered with a call to spread the tieup to the life coast.

A special session of the Hawaiian legislature came out of a closed session late yesterday with Senate-House agreement on what it believes is a precedent-smashing bill: government entrance into a strike-bound industry without seizing struck firms.

The measure would simply empower the territory to start its own stevedoring business. Hiring of any of the 2,000 striking members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union would be prohibited. So would use of the seven struck firms' employees and equipment "unless necessary."

ILWU stevedores, who struck May 1 for a 32-cent hike in their $1.40 hourly basic wage, responded quickly with a move to carry out their threat to extend the tieup to the West coast.

They approved a resolution calling on all maritime unions—longshore and seafaring—to prevent Matson Navigating Co. from sailing its ships from Pacific coast ports to Hawaii. Matson is the biggest mainland-islands carrier.

The legislature's bill was labeled "clearly strikebreaking" by ILWU Regional Director Jack Hall. He said the government would be hiring "scabs."

Big Agriculture Centers In Each County Proposed

Washington, July 29—(AP)—A model demonstration farm in every agricultural county, and a county agricultural building on each of the farms, is the objective of a surprise move introduced in Congress.

The idea is to provide federal grants to help counties establish centers which would bring under one roof all federal, state and local agricultural agencies.

The buildings would be set on model farms, also established by the counties with federal aid, to demonstrate advances in farming developed at the various agricultural experiment stations.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) father of the model farm part of the plan, estimated it would cost $250,000,000. He based the figure on an estimate that 2,500 counties would participate. He wants the federal government to put up a third of the total cost.

He proposed that title to the properties be held by the counties, the farms to be operated by the land grant colleges or some other agency under a joint state and federal plan. A house agriculture subcommittee to which he described the plan yesterday liked it so well that chairman Grant (D-Ala.) said he would seek full-scale committee hearings on it, with the idea that it might result in pressing for its adoption by the next session of Congress. U. S. Department of agriculture spokesmen praised it too, as something they long have contemplated but never proposed.

Unusually Heavy Docket Awaiting Judge Parker

An unusually heavy docket will confront Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids when a mixed term—civil and criminal—of Superior Court is held here the week of August 29. Clerk David T. House said today.

About 100 cases were left on the docket at the close of the last term of (criminal) court, and 45 new cases have been added to the docket.

The Halifax county jurist is riding the Fifth District Circuit the last half of the year.

A civil term of court is scheduled for the week of August 22. The mixed term will be held the following week. Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy said the mixed term, will be devoted principally to the trial of criminal cases.

Some important cases are on the criminal docket for trial. They include charges of murder, attempted rape of a 13-year-old girl, seduction, non-support of an illegitimate child, armed robbery, larceny, forgery, driving motor vehicles after driver's licenses were revoked, assault with deadly weapons with intent to kill, burglary, reckless driving, etc.

There are on the criminal docket more than a score of cases involving driving motor vehicles while drunk. Nearly all of these cases are up on appeal from lower cases in the county. Some defendants in driving drunk cases requested jury trials.

Economist Says Steel Profitable

Robert Nathan Claims Industry Can Easily Hike Wages

New York, July 29—(AP)—A one-time New Deal economist today pictured the steel industry a highly profitable one that can easily afford to pay more money to its workers.

Robert R. Nathan, former war production board official, appeared as the chief witness for the CIO United Steelworkers before the three-man panel named by President Truman to try to avert a steel strike.

Nathan's presentation was loaded with statistics presented to the fact-finders by means of large charts.

"The annual rate of earnings of 19 leading companies in the steel industry in the first quarter of 1949," he told the board, "were approximately $800,000,000 after taxes, which were far above 1948, nearly double the 1946-48 average, and two and one-half times the average of the war years."

But, he declared, "the steel worker has not shared appreciably in the profitability of the steel industry. He contended that hourly rates of pay of production workers in the industry increased by only one-seventh between 1939 and 1949, whereas productivity per man hour rose by 50 per cent over the decade.

President Philip Murray of the Union disclosed to the Presidential board yesterday that the steel workers are demanding a 30-cent an hour package, including 12 1-2 cents for wages.

Sec. Johnson Says No U. S. Troops In Military Aid Plan

Slow Reduction Of Airlift Into Berlin Planned

Big Stockpile Of Supplies Built Up; Tapering Off Starts On Monday

Berlin, July 29—(AP)—American and British Military Governments announced today the combined Berlin airlift will be reduced by gradual stages starting next Monday.

A joint statement said: "In view of the favorable stock position in Berlin, it has been decided to reduce the airlift by stages commencing August 1, 1949."

The city has upwards of five months' stockpile of essential supplies, built up since the Russians lifted their blockade May 12.

The airlift, which once hit a peak of delivering almost 13,000 tons in one day, has been averaging 8,000 tons. The western sectors of Berlin have existed during the blockade on as little as 3,000 tons but need between 12,000 and 15,000 for normal life.

Road, rail and barge traffic now are bringing almost 20,000 tons daily.

The joint announcement made it clear that the framework of the airlift would be maintained in such a way that it could be revived if any new blockade tactics were attempted.

The airlift was started by Gen. Lucius D. Clay on June 26, 1948. Fifty-nine airmen lost their lives in crashes, including 31 Americans and 28 British.

Specially designed radio systems enabled four-engined C-54s, workhorses of the lift, to defeat winter weather. When the Russians indicated a willingness to call off the blockade and cold war, the airlift was generally credited with being the weapon that held the allied and anti-Communist position in Berlin.

RAP and American fliers joined today at Fassberg, in the British zone, in a ceremony commemorating the men who died in crashes on lift operations.

Two thousand American, British and French troops paraded. An American chaplain read a roll of honor of the men who died in the parading troops halted on a landing strip for 30 seconds of silent tribute. The roar of allied airlift planes provided a background for the ceremony.

Barkley Assures Truman Foreign Aid Bill Coming

Washington, July 29—(AP)—President Truman got assurance that the snarl over foreign aid will be straightened out today and some sort of bill will be brought back before the Senate.

Secretary of the Interior Krug told reporters about it after a cabinet meeting at the White House.

He said Vice President Barkley spent some time explaining "the mess on the ECA bill" to Mr. Truman.

Barkley Krug said, assured Mr. Truman that the matter would be straightened out and some kind of measure brought out during the day.

The job on the $5,723,000,000 money measure for European recovery fell to the Senate Appropriations Committee, which got it back as the result of a technical tangle on the Senate floor.

Recaptures Past Which Eluded Her Nine Years

New Rochelle, N.Y., July 29—(AP)—The past, which had eluded her nine years, has been recaptured by Mrs. John A. Norton.

The 26-year-old housewife and mother of two small children was reunited here yesterday with her two brothers, Stanley and Ferdinand Kobalanski, of Braddock, Pa.

Until her memory was restored last Tuesday through hypnosis, Mrs. Norton hadn't even known she had two brothers, nor had she been able to recall anything about her girlhood, her parents or her old home.

Now, she plans a trip to Braddock to visit her parents soon.

"We searched for her for seven years," one of the brothers said. "Then we felt there was no use looking further. x x x we thought she must be dead."

Patrolman Hurt In Auto Wreck

New Bern, July 29—(AP)—A highway patrolman and two other men were seriously injured in an automobile accident on Highway 70 two miles west of here Thursday night. Warrants for both the civilians were issued Friday morning.

Patrolman Carl C. Jones suffered a broken elbow and thigh and multiple lacerations. Russell Bryce Hu of Mount Olive received a fractured foot and many face cuts and Robert C. Carr of Goldsboro was given a compound fracture of the knee and numerous cuts on the face.

Dusty Atlantic

Boston, July 29—(AP)—The Atlantic Ocean is dusty.

That's an official Navy report and to drought-bound New England it's more plausible than any sea-monster.

The U.S.S. Livermore, en route to Boston from Bermuda with 200 New England reservists, radioed First Naval headquarters last night that she had sighted this:

"Large patches of dust on the surface stretching as far as the eye can see."

Real dirt, the Livermore said, and samples of it were collected for study by Washington experts.

Scattered around, too, were a lot of sponges, the destroyer reported.

The Navy's only explanation to date was—"Inexplicable."

Probers Acquire 'Hot' Testimony

John Maragon, Vaughan's Friend, In Secret Hearing

Washington, July 29—(AP)—The secret testimony of a fast-talking White House visitor quizzing in the "five percent" inquiry was rated "plenty hot stuff" today by a Senate source.

The witness who gave the sworn testimony is dapper John Maragon, a one-time bootblack who now, he says, calls many top government officials and Congress members by their first names. He listed President Truman's military aid, Maj. Gen. Harry M. Vaughan, as one of his good friends.

Maragon late yesterday spent more than an hour behind closed doors with Senators investigating allegations of the use of influence in the awarding of government contracts.

"We got some pretty hot stuff from Maragon. It was interesting," said a person thoroughly familiar with what went on at the hush-hush session. Maragon himself said that "honest, there is nothing in it yet."

He added: "There may be in a couple of weeks."

At first Maragon flatly denied that he had been before the Senate's special investigations subcommittee. An hour and a half later he acknowledged that he had testified.

The term five percent has been applied to persons who charge a fee for help in getting government contracts for others. Time practice in itself is not illegal. The subcommittee wants to find out whether any of commission men have attempted to influence government officials in the awarding of contracts as has been alleged.

Kick-Off Dinner Wednesday For Athletics Drive

A "Kick-Off" dinner for Greenville businessmen will be held at East Carolina Teachers College Wednesday evening for the beginning of a drive to raise funds for athletic scholarships for the coming year.

Last winter in a similar drive Greenville businessmen solicited firms and individuals in Pitt and surrounding counties and raised $25,000 which was used to build a new 3,000 seat stadium at the school. The men at the same time organized the East Carolina Teachers College Education Foundation to provide athletic scholarships for the school.

Tom Clark's New Job

No Rags-To-Riches Story For Prospective New Member Of Supreme Court; Background In Summary; What Will Happen When He Sits With Court Next Fall?

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 29—(AP)—Tom Clark's been doing all right, all his life. No rags-to-riches story, his.

Father was a lawyer. He's a lawyer. Finished college, finished law school, practiced in Texas.

Worked for the government 12 years. Been U. S. Attorney General since 1945.

Big smile, quick handshake. Piety in the papers often. Wavy hair.

Wears Texan hats, bow ties. Has 150 of them. The ties, that is. Rainbow color.

Always tells visitors: "Come back and see me any time. The door is always open."

Great joiner, great fraternalist, great party-goer, member of all kinds of clubs and outfits:

Mason, Shriner, of the Scottish Rite, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Alpha Delta, National Press club, University club, Chery Texas and Federal Bar Association, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Eagles, Exchange Clubs, and Rotary International.

Now he's going to join the Supreme Court, than which nothing's more exclusive. Only 9 members.

Clark's only 46.

His great friend, President Truman, who made him Attorney General four years ago, said yesterday he'll nominate him for the Supreme Court to succeed the late Justice Frank Murphy.

Clark can't make it, though, unless Senate members approve. This seems a lead-pipe cinch. Senators said at once the nomination seemed all right to them, some said very good, excellent.

President's loyal to his loyal friends. Clark's been loyal. Stuck with the President when fair-weather friends deserted last fall, thinking political campaign was lost and Mr. Truman's eggs were cooked.

Going to be interesting, seeing what happens next fall when court justices come back, sit down, start business, and Clark sits down as one of them.

Everything not always hunky-dory on the court. Been plenty of squabbles there.

That's why Mr. Truman several years ago appointed another great friend, Fred Vinson, famous as purveyor-of-off-on-troubled-waters, to be the court's Chief Justice.

Big solemn Vinson—looking as if Time Magazine once said, like a sleepy sheep—passed his morning oils on the troubled court, did what

David Sings Songs of Trust

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 34; 37; 46; 91; 138:3, 7.

I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

The Lord maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder.

He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

DAVID SINGS SONGS OF TRUST

PSALMS EXPRESS RELIANCE ON GOD'S GOODNESS

Scripture—Psalms 34; 37; 46; 91; 138:3, 7; 143:8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. THE AFTERMATH of World War II has left the world jittery, restless, fearful of what may be in store for it.

David the king passed through many conflicts, experienced many sorrows, some brought on by his own mistakes or selfish, shortsighted actions.

In the Psalms allotted to our lesson today he registered this faith, and may we not also rely on his experience to secure a more hopeful outlook.

"O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together. "I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."

For small children this lesson may be quite difficult, but one way to interest them is to ask of what they are afraid.

Fathers and mothers can do much to allay such fears. They can point out that darkness is only absence of light.

As we recall David's troubled and adventurous life, how he was forced to flee from home and hide in caves and other lonely, desolate places.

The present holder of the title is Ronald Sullivan of High Point, a student at the University of North Carolina. He won it in 1947.

The meet is open to any aspiring candidate of either state. Dick Misky, athletic director of the High Point YMCA, is now receiving entries.

In conjunction with the physique contest there will be a demonstration of weight lifting by Allison Abernethy and Joe Masten.

Vice President Alben W. Barkley flew to St. Louis Sunday for an almost unnoticed social call on Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley (above), a widow he met recently in Washington.

Barber Sued For Crick In Neck

Cleveland, July 29—(AP)—An East Side barber is being sued for $25,000 on charges he put a crick in the neck of an 18-month-old baby.

A common pleas court petition says the child, David Nelson, now has his head at a 30 degree angle and is unable to move it right or left.

The action was filed by the baby's father, Edward Nelson, against Charles Aparino. While giving the baby his first haircut on June 24, the suit alleges, Aparino twisted the child's head.

Police Answer Numerous Calls Here Each Night

By CHESTER WALSH. The police radio patrol cars handle numerous and unusual complaints during the nocturnal hours.

Last night a complaint was received at headquarters that a neighbor was playing a radio too loud in the 100 block on Evans street after midnight.

Another report was received last night that a small child in a car parked on Eighth street, near Evans street after midnight, was crying and apparently in distress.

A daytime request to police for assistance went in from John Anderson. He wanted to move a spike-wheel tractor across the pavement near Garris-Evans Lumber Company on boards.

Another complaint to police during the night was that a youth who lives on the Farmville highway near Greenville had been prowling suspiciously on the college campus.

And on through each night, these reports go into the police. They are promptly investigated, nuisances are abated, family rows are broken up, and other police duties are performed without the need of warrants.

Operatic Singer Hits High Note In Damage Suit

Los Angeles, July 29—(AP)—Operatic soprano Vivian Della Chiesa hit a high note in anger as she filed a $500,000 damage suit charging false arrest.

The singer, taken into custody on a warrant obtained by Concha V. Savage for an alleged unpaid debt, told the court yesterday it was the same old case of mistaken identity.

Two years ago the singer successfully maintained in court that she was not the Miss Della Chiesa, also known as Vraie Diva, to whom Miss Savage, a former voice teacher loaned money 25 years ago.

Superior court here ruled that any further action against Miss Della Chiesa would be construed as contempt of court.

The contents she was taken from her hotel and forced to make bail to avoid being locked up in county jail.

Big Delegation Of Firemen Due At Beach Meet

Carolina Beach, N. C. July 29—(AP)—The largest delegation of firemen ever to assemble in this state is expected to converge on this resort August 15 for the 62nd annual North Carolina Firemen's convention.

The four-day convales is expected to attract 1,500 firemen and their wives, according to C. W. Hewitt, chief of the department here which will act as host.

Principal speakers will be Harry A. Greene of Raeford, a member of the House of Representatives; Walde C. Cheek of Raleigh, North Carolina Insurance commissioner; and J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Jr., of Raleigh; and George W. Gardner Association president.

More than one billion tons of steel are said to be in use in America today.

Seek Prevention Of New Tragedy

Raleigh, July 29—(AP)—Raleigh firemen have launched a drive to establish fire safety measures for the protection of several hundred patients at Dix Hill, the state mental hospital here.

Many of the mental patients are housed in locked and barred buildings outside the range of effective fire hydrants.

Fire Chief A. B. Lloyd said yesterday that the hospital authorities had called upon his department voluntarily for aid in setting up an emergency evacuation plan which would permit removal of the patients in the last possible time.

Lloyd commented that he had known for "some time" there was danger of a catastrophe similar to or worse than the Asheville hospital fire of last winter. Nine trapped patients were burned to death in that blaze.

Four or five of the smaller buildings at Dix Hill are at the mercy of chance in case of fire, Lloyd said, because of inadequate pressure on water lines. He added, however, that the main buildings at the institution have sufficient water facilities for combating a blaze.

Teen-Age Club Square Dance

Tonight the Greenville Teen-Age Club will present something different in the way of entertainment at its weekly Friday night dance which will start at 8 o'clock and last until 11 p.m., stated Club Director R. B. (Bob) Lee today.

A special square dance, with music furnished by Evans String Band of Greenville, will be in order tonight, with Mr. Corey calling the sets.

There is no admission charge and during the dance free refreshments will be served, said Lee.

Lee said that "the teenagers in the city have been asking for square dances and the only thing that we could give them up to now has been on records, but tonight we will have a real string band that will play for the dance, so everyone come out and have a big time."

State Files Big Booze Tax Claim

Raleigh, N. C., July 9—(AP)—The state yesterday filed a tax claim against James Hicks of Burlington for $4,031.87 for alleged liquor sales. The sum represents tax, penalty and interest the state claims he owes for sales between May 1 and June 30, 1948.

The claim was the $1st filed by the State Department of Revenue in a crackdown on alleged evasion of the 8 1/2 per cent whiskey tax. The state is seeking recovery of a total of $1,375,269.59.

Strength FOR THE DAY SO KEEP ON PUSHING As Pierre and Marie Curie struggled to separate radium from the materials with which they worked, their tasks seemed almost hopeless. Experiment followed experiment without success, and when at last the number of these experiments had mounted to the hundreds, Pierre was ready to quit. But Marie was of a different spirit. She maintained that though they search all their lives and in the end fall of their goal, they would nevertheless point a way which others at last would follow to triumph. Everyone of course knows the end of the story. The day came when the world resounded with praise for these two courageous and persistent souls. We can only faintly glimpse the possibilities of their triumph, but the fact that radium is now used so largely in medicine indicates what great nuance humanitarian Pierre and Marie Curie were. Our achievements may not be great, but usually they are much greater than we think they are. Our little triumphs have ramifications which go out and touch the lives of many. And every time we persist in some duty, the sum total of the world's goodness has a helpful increment added thereto. Life does not have to be spectacular to be significant; it need only be sincere and dutiful.

FACT-FINDING MAY CLEAR THE AIR Taken as a whole people are reasonable. They have to be in order to get along with each other. Misunderstandings are usually behind most arguments and anything that will clear the air in a dispute is welcomed by both sides. That was the reasoning behind the government's setting up of a fact-finding board for the steel industry and the union which is seeking another general pay increase for its members. There is an unbelievable amount of misunderstanding of how much profit industry earns—and how stockholders and workers fare when it comes to dividing up income. For instance, a group of employes from representative American corporations were recently asked what they figured the average manufacturer earns in peacetime. Their answers averaged 25 per cent. They were then asked what they considered a fair profit, and here the average came to ten per cent. Yet the fact is that, over a 20-year period, corporate profits in this nation averaged a trifle more than four per cent annually. These workers were also asked this question: "Out of each dollar paid in dividends to stockholders, salaries to top management, and wages to workers—how much of this dollar do the workers get?" The average estimate was that workers get 25 per cent, and stockholders and management a whopping 75 per cent. Actually, over an 18-year period, the workers received seven dollars in wages for every dollar of profit. In the best of these years, from the stockholders' point of view, the ratio was four dollars to one dollar. In one year it was $22 to one dollar.

The steel industry is re-

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

The power of the press is a force that is hard to measure. By the time you get around to your Daily Reflector in the afternoon many copies are already en route to states all over the country—to people who are interested in what goes on in Greenville. During the war the Reflector, or any home town newspaper, was a treasure to service men. For example, in Smithfield, N.C., a veteran came home from the war and soon afterwards spoke to one of the civic clubs in town. He pointed out the various members of the club: "Mr. Thompson, I remember when you were selling eggs for 90c a dozen; and Mr. Farlow, when your store caught fire; and Mr. Eason, when you hired a new mechanic at your garage." Of course this veteran had picked up this news from the Smithfield Herald. In order to alert its subscribers, the Herald has a red stamp reading, "Your time is up," which they use a few days before the subscription runs out. Veterans flying combat missions or fighting Japs and Germans on the ground had the natural interpretation of the red stamp on the Herald, and consequently soon paid up their subscriptions several years in advance in order to avoid being reminded that their time was coming to an end. One of the far-away places that the Reflector reaches is Arkadelphia, Arkansas. The subscriber there is Betty Tyson to you, but otherwise known as Mrs. Robert Stark Ligon. The hardest thing in the world is to learn a Greenville girl's name after she marries a non-Greenville. If Betty and her family moved to Greenville I would no doubt call her husband Mr. Betty Tyson. Betty reads the paper from cover to cover, including this column and the Red Oak news. She dropped me a line to let me know that I have a reader, and to give three cheers for the movement to reorganize the Greenville Swimming Team. For three years Betty was the three-meter diver and one of the freestylers of the team. Betty was also a member of the best girls' basketball team in the state, which defeated all comers with one exception for several years up to 1942. Other members: Peggy West (Mrs. Sonny Hicks), Jane Scoville (Mrs. Fred Sauve), Jane Harrison (Mrs. Huker from Raleigh), Doris Roberts (Mrs. Bob Harrington), Lib Wells (Mrs. Ray Masten), Audrey Leggett and Virginia Simpson. The one game the girls lost was the last they played together. Wilson beat them by a one-point margin. Each of them remembers the night well because they tuned up and cried in unison when the game was over. How Betty had time to write a letter is beyond me. It must have been written after her three boys (Stark, 4; Ross, 2; and Drew, 2 weeks) were sound asleep. You might say she has a full-time job, which varies a great deal from the part-time job she had at 12.

Boyle's Column By HAL BOYLE New York—(AP)—People sometimes say: "The only way you can get in the newspapers is to hold up a drugstore or elope with a movie star." So today I'd like to tell you the story of a simple heart—the story of "Mrs. Van." She is a fine old lady who never robbed a bank or ran against Harry Truman for President. "But I've had a wonderful life," she said. "It might not seem so to some people, but it does to her. Mrs. Van is a practical nurse. She is white-haired and 63, but her skin is as fair as milk. I got to know her when she came to stay with a young neighbor couple expecting their second child. She would only accept $10 a week. When the baby came, the young mother said: "Do you know what Mrs. Van did with half of her first week's pay? She bought me flowers." Money doesn't mean much anymore to Mrs. Van. But being helpful does. She likes the younger generation—and disapproves of it. "I don't think they can face life as we did," she said. "They don't have discipline. If I had lived 22 young girls do today I would never have been able to confront the problems I met with in my married life—no never." Mrs. Van was born in Holland and married a carpenter at 21. They had five children when he came to the United States to found a new home here. It was just at the time America entered the first world war, and for two years he couldn't send money back to his family. "I had to move into an abandoned schoolhouse," said Mrs. Van. "We had no breakfast, and the children took a carrot or a turnip to school. For lunch we had potatoes, and I saved the peelings and cooked them for supper. The neighbors felt sorry for us but I was happy. We were all together—the children and I—and we were healthy." After the war she and the children came over, and the family settled in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Van had twins at the age of 39, and one died. Later her husband lost his mind. He spent five years in a mental institution before his death and Mrs. Van had to support the family. "I didn't know the language well," she said. "So I had to work as a scrubwoman and do washing. Then I studied the language with the children and I became a practical nurse. But I never was in want of a job." "Now the children don't want me to work. They say I worked all my life for them, and now I should rest. But I like to help where I can." She has a serene faith that never faltered in her long years of trouble. "You just have to have courage and responsibility," she said. "Without courage there is nothing." Mrs. Van has no desire to revisit Europe. "Here if you work you can have the same things as the rich man," she said. "You can't over there. You don't even buy your groceries at the same store." She is sturdily indifferent to the present plight of the world. "I believe the Lord will have to come and settle it," said Mrs. Van. "And the way the world is going I don't think it will be long. There is an awful tribulation coming, but it won't get me. The Lord will come and take me away first. He will take care of his own."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS Washington — "Everyone here knows about Persian cats and Persian carpets, to say nothing of Persian lamb, but relatively few Americans really know anything about my country, especially what's happening to the women." Curvesome, dark-eyed Malek Chaghaghay, smartly dressed American-style, was talking. After studying fashion design in New York and Paris, she is now lecturing in this country. She is telling American women about the women of her country. Malek's mother, Madame Choket Chaghaghay, in this country on her first visit and speaking little English, was with her daughter when I interviewed her. "In the last 30 years Iran, the name the country now bears, has enjoyed a period of renaissance. All branches of art which captivated the imagination of the entire world during the 16th and 17th centuries have been recreated with remarkable results," Malek told me. Women, she said, have played an active part in this renaissance. His majesty Reza Shah Pahlavi, father of the present king, encouraged and helped it. It was he who instituted the obligatory system of education for boys and girls, abolished the wearing of the veil for women, altered some laws and proposed new ones improving the welfare of the country and leading to more freedom for women. "So women's participation in social life as well as acquiring high degrees in science or art, is comparatively new" said Malek. "My mother, my aunt and a small group of their friends were the pioneers. "But in spite of all their progress we are still far away from the rights you have and the freedom you, our American sisters, enjoy. We are striving to get the vote, to be represented in our Parliament, and we want also to change some of our laws, namely those concerned with marriage and divorces." Malek then showed me some of the exquisite miniature and portrait paintings done by her mother, who started studying at the age of 6 and finally wound up exhibiting her work in the International Art Exhibit in Leningrad in 1935 and in Teheran, where she once got an honorary decoration from the government. Malek's father is a general in the Iranian army and was brought up in France. The family lives in a vast 20-room house in Teheran surrounded by fragrant flower gardens. Probably the biggest festival in Iran is the celebration of the Persian New Year on March 21st, the first day of spring. Candles are lighted. A spiral table is prepared, with a mirrored top on which are placed a bowl of water with a great leaf and a goldfish, a loaf of bread, colored eggs, a special wheat, sweets and flowers, also seven articles the names of which in Persian begin with an "S." During 12 days everyone goes visiting. On the 13th day everyone goes picnicking. Said Malek: "It is really on the 14th day, therefore, that life resumes its normal course." No Sea Monster, But Swimmer Had Good Scare Miami Beach, Fla., July 28—(AP)—Miss Carol Kreig was swimming in the ocean yesterday when something big, black and slimy moved alongside her. Miss Kreig, 17, screamed. "A sea monster" she cried. Her parents took one look and agreed. They splashed ashore and ran to their hotel. A belhop investigated. A crowd gathered. It looked like a sea monster all right. Soon a police squad car arrived, siren howling. Patrolmen Abe Ziskin and John Walsh went on the double to investigate.

Greenies Take 11-2 Defeat At Hands Of Kinston Club

Locals Score Single Runs In Two Innings As Eagles Make Hay In Third Frame; Harrison Credited With Loss

By BERT MOYE
Manager Steve Collins' surging Eagles swamped down on the hapless Greenies over in Kinston last night and gave the Greenies a 11 to 2 whipping for their fifth straight win of the season over Manager Pappy Williams and his boys.

The Greenies managed to score a run in the first frame when John Tepedino reached second on Rosenwinkle's bad throw to first and Manager Pappy Williams singled to bring him home. They got another tally in the eighth frame when Steve Denier singled and Willie Mauney doubled to bring him home.

The Eagles did most of their scoring in the first three frames. In the first they scored one run on one hit, a passed ball and an error. In the second frame, two hits, a walk and an infield out and really put the game away on ice in the third frame when 13 men paraded to the plate and they scored seven runs on five walks, four hits, two errors, a wild pitch and the help of a balk.

Their final tally of the game came in the sixth when Rosenwinkle reached first on Tepedino's error, he stole second, Collins walked and Jerry Frye singled to bring home Rosenwinkle.

Diz Voiselle, registering his fifth straight win against the Greenies this season, held the locals to five hits, and for five of the nine frames held the Greenies hitless. He struck out an even dozen Greenies and failed to walk a man. Willie Mauney with a double and a single in four trips to the plate led the five-hit attack off Voiselle.

Manager Pappy Williams used three hurlers against the Eagles who gave up a total of ten hits, struck out six men and issued eleven free passes to first base. Bobby Harrison, the starting hurler for the Greenies, who allowed six runs in the two frames in which he pitched, was credited with the loss his sixth of the season.

Ned Hollis with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate and Jerry Frye with three singles in four trips to the plate led the 10-hit attack off the three Greenie pitchers.

The Greenies and the Eagles meet again tonight at Guy Smith Stadium in the second game of the series at 7:45 o'clock.

FRANK STRANAHAN
THE TOLEDO STRONG BOY IS A MEMBER OF THE U.S. WALKER CUP TEAM WHICH MEETS THE BRITISH SQUAD IN THE INTER-NATIONAL MATCHES AT AUGUST FOOT GOLF CLUB

At the start of his golfing career, Frank Stranahan seemed determined to make a reputation as something of a "bad boy" in the gentleman's game of golf. The son of a Toledo millionaire, Frank's debut into big time amateur golf circles was accompanied by a series of temperamental outbursts, with a background of bar-bells and muscle flexing. So ambitious was Stranahan to win that he often appeared to act without too much consideration for his fellow competitors.

Boys' League Baseball

Dodgers vs Reds
The Reds were hotter than the weather yesterday and ran roughshod over the Dodgers at the Reds home field in W. Greenville, winning easily 17 to 7. The Dodgers were held to three hits by Jerry Phillips while the Reds were collecting sixteen. Roy Taylor with a triple and Edgar Moore and Howard Allen with singles got the Dodgers three hits. Phillips with a triple, double and single and Bobby Howell, Pat Sawyer, T. Wilkins, Tommy Smith and J. Nichols with two hits apiece were the leaders for the Reds. One of Nichols' blows was good for the circuit.

Giants vs Cubs
The Giants won their ninth game in a row yesterday at Third Street Park over the Cubs, 12 to 4. Walker Lee Allen held the Cubs to three hits and shut them out except in the fourth. Bro Edwards, Register and Roy Martin were the leading hitters for the Giants. Bray, Duff and Northrop got the Cubs hits.

Tigers vs Athletics
The Tigers won their first game of the week defeating the A's at Third Street, 7 to 4. Both teams scored singletons in the first, but the Tigers sewed the game up in the third with six runs. Bernie Harrison for the A's and Bobby Odum of the Tigers led their teams at bat.

Team Standing (Thru July 29)
In the Senior division the Braves are leading with ten wins and eight losses. The Tigers are second with eleven wins and ten losses. The Athletics are third with eight wins and eleven defeats.

The Yanks are leading in the Middle Division with fourteen wins and three losses. The Reds are close on their heels with thirteen triumphs and six defeats. The Dodgers trail with one win and nineteen losses.

The Giants lead the Mite division

Tonight's Games
Kinston at Greenville
Tarboro at New Bern
Wilson at Rocky Mount
Roanoke Rapids at Goldsboro

The Kinston Eagles have now won nine out of fifteen games played with the Greenies this season. The win for Diz Voiselle was his fifth against the Greenies this season; he has a record of 13 wins and 8 losses. The loss was the fourth this season by a nine-run margin by the Greenies. Bobby Harrison now has a record of six wins and four losses and his last night was his first to the Kinston Eagles. It was the 33rd loss away from home by the locals.

In the 15-game series between the Eagles and the Greenies the Eagles have scored a total of 69 runs and the Greenies have scored 53 runs. Understand that efforts are now being made to have the twin bill scheduled here with the Athletics on Sunday after noon and one at night. This is the final doubleheader facing the Greenies at the present time. Frank Mauney has reportedly left the ball club and gone back to his home at Concord.

Snyder Valle, veteran infielder, arrived in the Greenies camp yesterday afternoon. His home is in Lakeland, Fla., and he has been playing professional ball quite a while and about ten years ago played with Manager Pappy Williams in the professional ranks. Russ Meers, former manager of the Roanoke Rapids Jays, hurled a no-hit, no-run game for Elizabeth City against Windsor last night in the Albemarle League.

George Cooper, catcher with Wilson for part of this season, is now with the St. Petersburg club in Florida. The Kinston Baseball Association will open a four-day baseball school Monday morning with Frank Mock, Grainger high school coach, directing and Manager Steve Collins of the Kinston Eagles assisting. Jim Faulks, right-handed rookie catcher of Hagerstown, Md., who was released outright about a month ago, returned to New Bern yesterday and was re-signed by the Bears. Bill See, who started this season down at New Bern, will definitely not return to the Bears this season. After suffering an injured arm, he returned to his home in Keyser, West Virginia, where he is now playing first base for a semi-pro team. Officials said that after a season of rest, See may be back on the Bears' roster next season, if his arm is in shape for a comeback. Much comment has been heard regarding the playing of Sunday night games in the Coastal Plain both pro and con. The biggest kick against the whole affair is that Sunday night is usually the only night in the week that a ball player gets off and they should be given at least one night off a week. The same can be said of those connected with the club, such as scorers, announcers, etc. They like to get off one night a week too and the playing of Sunday night games means seven nights a week. Then there is another angle that must be considered and that is a game which does not start until 9:15 o'clock cannot possibly be played in time to appear in the state newspapers the next morning. All papers have a deadline which must be met by their local correspondents.

Farmville Team Rides Crest Of Four Victories

Farmville, riding the crest of a four-game winning streak that includes one victory over first-place Macesfield and a clean sweep of a three-game series with Saratoga, will play Pinetops this week end in an important series.

Saturday's game will be played on the local park and Manager Bonnie Allen is trying to secure Pinetops consent to a night game. If he is not successful, the game will be played in the afternoon.

The teams play Sunday at Pinetops.

Norman Clark, ace hurler, was injured Wednesday night when he was sliding into home but Manager Allen says Clark will be back in the lineup soon, probably by this week end.

Gets Long 'Ace'

Detroit, July 29—(AP)—Jack Hoffmann, ex-Hollywood cowboy, yesterday scored the longest hole-in-one ever made in Michigan.
Hoffmann aced the par-4 335-yard hole at Indianwood Country Club. He "cheated" the hole, driving straight across the dog-leg to the green and the ball rolled in for a double eagle 1. It's not a national record, however. A 374-yard ace was recorded in Los Angeles in 1924. A 340-yard ace also was reported made in New York in 1940.

Until six months ago Hoffmann, a 6 foot 3-inch 210-pounder, was an actor at Selsnick Studio.

Oslo, Norway, July 29—(AP)—Trailing by only six points going into tonight's third and final program of the "Littl. Olympics," America's touring track athletes are still the experts' choice to pull out a victory over Scandinavia.

Seven events are scheduled on the closing program, plus the five remaining specialties in the decathlon. The United States stars are expected to triumph in the 200-meter run, 1,500-meter relay, pole vault, 400-meter run, 40-meter relay and the decathlon. The Norcids are picked to take the 10,000-meter run and the discus throw.

After the first two nights, the point score is 164½ to 185½ against the Americans.
Bob Mathias, Olympic champion from Tulare, Calif., is known for slow starting and strong finishing in the decathlon competition, so he is being counted on to help the U.S. come from behind.

At the halfway mark, Mathias was third to Scandinavia's Orn Clausen and Irv Monscheln of New York University, with Bill Albans of North Carolina fourth.

Highlighting last night's competition was a world record shot put by Jim Fuchs of Yale, who powered a toss of 17.79 meters (58 feet, 4 27-64 inches) with the 16-pounder. The previously listed world record throw as 57 feet, 1 inch (17.40 meters) by Jack Torrance of the United States at Oslo in 1934.

Traffic Toll Has Slight Decrease

Chicago, July 29—(AP)—The nation's traffic death toll for the first six months of 1949 was 12,810—only 100 lower than for the comparable 1948 period.

The National Safety Council, which reported the figures today, said that a five-month comparison however, showed that the nation's motorists rolled up six per cent more mileage this year than last, and the ratio dropped to 7 deaths per 100,000,000 miles of travel.

This compared with a rate of 7.3 per cent for the equivalent period last year—the previous low rate.

Twenty two states reported fewer deaths for the first half of 1949. And 200 of 471 cities over 10,000 population reported reductions in the number of deaths. No traffic fatalities were reported in 128 cities.

The largest of the communities with perfect records were New Bedford, Mass., Pawtucket, R. I. and Cedar Rapids, Ia.

BORN of the STORM

By Sidney B. Carter

Chapter 23

Tom stood in the doorway. "Telephone for Mrs. Kent," he announced.

"Thank you, Tom," said Priscilla. The ringing of the telephone seemed like a warning of some kind. The old familiar numbness began to spread itself around her heart as she walked to the telephone and listened with every word as she listened and talked.

"Hello," she said. "Yes, Viola... darling, what is it? I can't understand you."

"I'm sorry to have to call you," said Viola, her voice jagged with nerves, "but Kenneth's been brought home."

"Brought home?" exclaimed Priscilla. Her mind broke up into a thousand jagged pieces. Perhaps... Perhaps Kenneth was dead. But Viola went on talking.

"Yes, Priscilla. He's... he's paralyzed." Viola stopped, but Priscilla didn't say anything. "Priscilla, you know I never cared for Kenneth—in fact, I hated him when he did to you—but I can't hate him now. I've just been over there and he's pathetic. Priscilla..."

Viola rattled on in a way that was so unlike her that Priscilla was not one to lose her head. Priscilla heard only a word here and there. Half her mind and all of her heart were in the next room, where Dennis waited for her return. Should she go to Kenneth... or should she stay with Dennis who was nearer... and dearer? She continued to hear Viola's words even after she had replaced the receiver.

I can't hate him now... you must go to him. Priscilla... he begs for you... he wants you to forgive him... he's pathetic... She stared at the soft light spilling into the hallway from the living-room door. There could have been much happiness in this house, much happiness. "Goodbye, Dennis," she whispered. "Goodbye, my darling." And then, with a steady chin, she went in to tell him.

Only the muscles around his mouth told her what the news meant to him. He saw her decision at once. "I'll get the car," he said briefly. "I'll wait for you to pack your things at Mrs. Wilson's and then I'll take you to the Kents."

Priscilla found herself as grateful for his efficiency now as she had been for his kindness in paying her hospital bill. Priscilla knew that when she went, his happiness went with her, yet he did not argue about it. She realized then, as never before, that she could depend on Dennis.

By half past ten they had managed despite the snow-packed roads to reach the Wilsons'. Priscilla packed all of her things she could get into one suitcase, and Dennis took her to the Kent home in the familiar, down-at-the-heel part of town. He kissed her hard on the mouth, just before she got out of the car, and she watched him, through eyes blurred with snow and tears, as he drove off. With his usual tact, he had evidently decided not to go inside with her.

Dragging her suitcase beside her, Priscilla trudged wearily up the porch steps of the Kent house. The soft snowflakes that spread wherever the eye could reach, no longer exhilarated her, but added to her despondency. She wanted to lie down and have that white shroud blot her from this world forever.

The house was lighted up from top to bottom and to Priscilla's sur-

Crop-Duster Is Killed In Crash

Smithfield, N. C., July 29—(AP)—A crop-duster pilot burned to death in his biplane yesterday after it hit two power lines, clipped a tree and crashed.

The pilot was identified by Coroner Durwood Creech as Kenneth Mouts, 27, of Lakeland, Fla. He had been working from a landing field near Angier for several months.

The plane fell eight miles northwest of Angier. Witnesses told Coroner Creech the plane hit the lines while the pilot apparently was trying to gain altitude.

Frozen Coffee To Reach Market Possibly This Fall

New York, July 29—(AP)—Frozen coffee is slated to reach the grocer's freezer cabinet this fall. It will be brewed coffee, concentrated and canned.

The frozen ground bean has been available for some time, but requires brewing at home, as any other ground coffee.

The new, ready-to-heat beverage will join a growing list of foods and juices, from ravioli to apple juice, now subject to the quick freeze and the long storage.

While the frozen coffee concentrate may be new to the grocery customer this fall, the product has already been used in automatic coffee vending machines by the Zudd-Melkin Company of Philadelphia. It is not a powdered coffee prepared from the bean, but a concentrate of coffee brewed in the ordinary way and then frozen.

The concentrated coffee is placed in the vending machine, costing around $875. Fresh cream is kept in another refrigerated part of the machine. When the customer inserts a nickel in the slot, boiling water is poured into a cup along with a portion of the concentrated coffee. By pushing a button, the customer can have fresh cream added. The company says 3,000 machines now in operation in public places sell more than two million cups each week.

The company is now readying a machine which will serve steaming coffee from one spigot and iced coffee from another. It is also bringing out an automatic coffee maker, one foot square, to turn out 400 cups an hour from the frozen coffee, for drugstores and restaurants. The third step is to offer five-ounce cans of the frozen coffee to the housewife.

Bids Opened On Road Equipment

Raleigh, N. C., July 29—(AP)—The State yesterday opened bids on about $3,000,000 worth of road-building machinery for the $200,000,000 rural road program.

Charles M. Williams, director of the division of purchase and contract, said the division expects to complete a tabulation of the low bids by Monday.

He said bids "look pretty good." The cost of motor graders, he pointed out, has dropped about $1,000 in the past two months.

The bids were on heavy machinery such as loaders, mixers, scrapers, graders and tractors. There were a total of 27 bids. They ranged from one on wheel-type diesel tractors to 15 bids on drag-line excavators.

Next Thursday the division will

Millions Of Acres Of Land Will Be Helped In New Soil Program

Washington, July 29—(AP)—A shift of millions of acres of land from soil-depleting crops to soil-building grasses, legumes and pastures is the major goal of a $285,000,000 Agriculture Department conservation program for 1950.

The department gave this outline of the program today, in a statement emphasizing need for rebuilding war-worked soils.

More grass and pastures, it said, would support a larger livestock population, and hence consumer supplies of meats and dairy products would be larger.

The program calls for smaller acreages of such crops as wheat, cotton, field grains, flaxseed, soybeans and peanuts. Surpluses are accumulating in the case of all these.

Various soil and water conservation practices are recommended for individual farms. The department aids cooperating farmers in carrying out these practices.

Programs of this nature have been in effect each year since the mid-30's, although they were minimized during the war. The government aid is in the form of materials such as lime, fertilizers and seed; services such as use of power machinery for moving dirt, and cash reimbursements for conservation practices.

The department said the government aid will average less than half of the total out-of-pocket cost of the practices to farmers.

In no case will an individual farmer get more than $2,500 in the form of materials, services and payments. This limit is set by law.

A list of recommended practices will be submitted to state and county agencies. The latter will select those which need local emphasis. Farmers in turn will be permitted to adopt those measures which will help most in saving their soil.

Deaths From Effects Of Late July Heat Wave Are Mounting

(By the Associated Press)

Deaths from effects of a late July heat wave mounted today, with at least 27 fatalities in eastern cities. No immediate break in the hot and humid weather was in sight for the area.

But some relief came to parts of the Midwest. A mass of fresh Canadian cool air moving southwardward brought lower temperatures into the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys. It headed eastward into Michigan and the northern parts of Illinois and Indiana.

The outlook for further movement of the cool air into the sweltering East and South is not good, federal weather bureau forecasters said. They promised another day of hot and sticky weather for most of the eastern and southern sections of the country.

Temperatures—in the 90s over most of the area from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast for the last week—hit record marks for the day in several cities yesterday. Readings of 100 were common throughout New England. Boston's 99 was a record for July 28.

Ten days of torrid temperatures were topped by a 103.6 reading at Columbia, S.C., yesterday this mark has been exceeded there only three times in 62 years.

Nine persons died in Washington from the heat as the capital baked in 96 degree temperatures. Some 83,000 federal and District of Columbia government employees were sent home early because of the oppressive heat.

The hot weather claimed the lives of five persons in Pennsylvania as the heat wave extended for the 11th day. Philadelphia's top mark was 95 and it was 92 in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

New York State also reported five heat deaths, including three in New York City. Two deaths in Albany were attributed to heart attacks induced by the hot weather. The 93.3 reading in New York City yesterday was the second highest for the date in the city's history.

A brief thunder storm drenched New York City and knocked out power lines and felled trees in some parts of Queens. Thunderstorms brought temporary relief in other parts of the state.

Maine and Massachusetts each reported three heat deaths. In Portland, smoking and fire building in the Maine parched woodlands was banned for the third time this year. New England has not had a general heavy rainfall for more than two months.

Two deaths were reported in the current heat wave at Baltimore. At least 10 persons were treated for heat prostration. Heat prostrations were reported in other parts of the East, including 14 in Washington and one in Kearny, N.J.

It is estimated that some 12 million bicycles are in use in this country today.

Okay Stop-Gap Financing For Gov't Agencies

Washington, July 28—(AP)—Faced by the worst appropriations log-jam in recent history, the House today approved a resolution providing stop-gap financing for more than a score of federal agencies.

The measure was sent to the Senate, which was expected to give it prompt consideration.

It would permit normal activities, including the paying of employees, up to August 31 for such agencies as the army, the navy, the Air Force, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Interior Department and the Foreign Aid Administration, whose regular money bills are tied up on Capitol Hill.

Farmville, July 26.—Sam D. Bundy, principal of Farmville school is one of 25 school persons in Eastern North Carolina selected to attend the North Carolina Institute in Driver Education being held this week at ECTC in Greenville. Other institutes will be held at the University of North Carolina and Western Carolina Teachers College, in August.

The institute is a five-day concentrated course in driver education sponsored by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and the Carolina Motor Club with the former giving the instruction and the latter underwriting the expense. Experts in the field of driver education are being used to assist the schools represented in setting up a course in driver education.

Mr. Bundy states that such a course will be offered this year in the Farmville school and a dual control automobile will be furnished to give the practical application.

Service Officer Reminds Vets NSLI Offer Still Open

Pitt county veterans service officer A. B. Corey in a statement today again reminded veterans of World War II that GI insurance is still available to all who had service between October 8, 1940 and September 2, 1945.

The amount ranges from $1,000.00 up to $10,000.00 in multiples of $500.00, issued in six standard forms of policies in addition to the 5-year level premium term. They are: Ordinary life, 30-payment life, 20-payment life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60, and endowment at age 65.

Proceeds of this insurance are exempt from taxation, the claims of creditors, and are not liable to attachment, levy or seizure. Insured may name anyone he chooses as beneficiary, and may elect lump sum or monthly payment settlement to beneficiary.

"Any ex-GI who does not have National Service Life Insurance, better known as GI insurance, should make application at once for such insurance. He may call on the County Veterans Service Officer, who will procure and assist in preparing applications," Corey said.

Reports Indicate Blocked Markets In Georgia Territory

James Keel, of Keel's warehouse, Greenville, has returned from a visit to several Georgia tobacco markets, including Fitzgerald, Vidalia, Tifton and Sylvester, the last named a new market at which no buyers from the independent or big tobacco companies appeared.

Elbert Blount of Edwards, Beaufort county, who will auctioneer for Keel's warehouse this season accompanied him on the trip.

Keel said today that the Georgia markets are heavily blocked and that there is enough tobacco on the warehouse floors now to require a week to sell it. He said Georgia's tobacco crop is not as good as that in this section.

Last Rites Saturday For Mrs. G. L. Allen

Mrs. Minnie L. Allen, 54, widow of George L. Allen, died at her home on the Allen road in the Red Oak Community Thursday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock following several years of illness and three weeks of critical illness. Funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. R. N. Hinnant, Free Will Baptist minister of Micro, Christian minister of Bath, and burial will be in the Allen cemetery nearby.

Mrs. Allen, daughter of the late John Thomas and Minnie Stocks Allen, had spent all her life in the community in which she died. She was married in 1915 and her husband died in 1946. She was a member of Pine Grove Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are a son, L. Thomas Allen, and a daughter, Mrs. James E. Bullock, both of the home; 3 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Vandiford of near Greenville; and three brothers, Albert, Jim and Fenner Allen, all of near the home.
