Foreign Aid Tangle Continues In Appropriations Committee

Washington, July 30—(AP)—The senate appropriations committee, trying to unravel a senate snarl over a big foreign aid money bill, clung stubbornly today to amendments which caused all the trouble. The 21-member group slipped together a new bill late yesterday but, ignoring strong administration pressure, refused to withdraw amendments which would: (1) Require the Economic Co-operation administration and the army to buy about $1,800,000,000 worth of surplus American farm products. (2) Earmark $50,000,000 of ECA funds for loans to Spain. The committee re-wrote these riders in an effort to get around senate objections that they were writing new legislation into a money bill in violation of the rules. Vice President Barkley had proposed that the committee offer the foreign aid bill without the disputed amendments, bringing the riders up for a vote independently of the measure. But the committee was in no mood to take the Vice President's advice. This would have made them subject of approval by a two-thirds vote of the senate rather than a simple majority. The original commodity amendment, backed by senator McClellan (D-Ark.) would have required ECA and the Army to buy $2,000,000,000 in surplus farm products. But it was agreed in the revised rider that that general 10 per cent but in ECA funds—already accepted by administration leaders—would apply also to the commodity purchases. The new bill, in brief, also contains: (1) $626,390,000 to carry ECA through the current fiscal year. This is the same money figure contained in the old bill. But the committee proposed to offer a floor amendment stripping out $180,000,000 in loan authority. (2) $1,074,000,000 for ECA spending in the final quarter of the year ended July 1. This is $74,000,000 more than the committee approved in the old bill. (3) $344,000 for a Congressional watchdog committee to check on foreign spending. (4) An amendment to restrict sharply aid to any nation breaking a U. S. treaty. This is aimed at the French for alleged discrimination against Americans in French Morocco. (5) $900,000,000 for government and relief in the occupied areas of Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu islands. No change in figures. (6) $45,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey. No change in figures.

O'Neal House Nears Completion

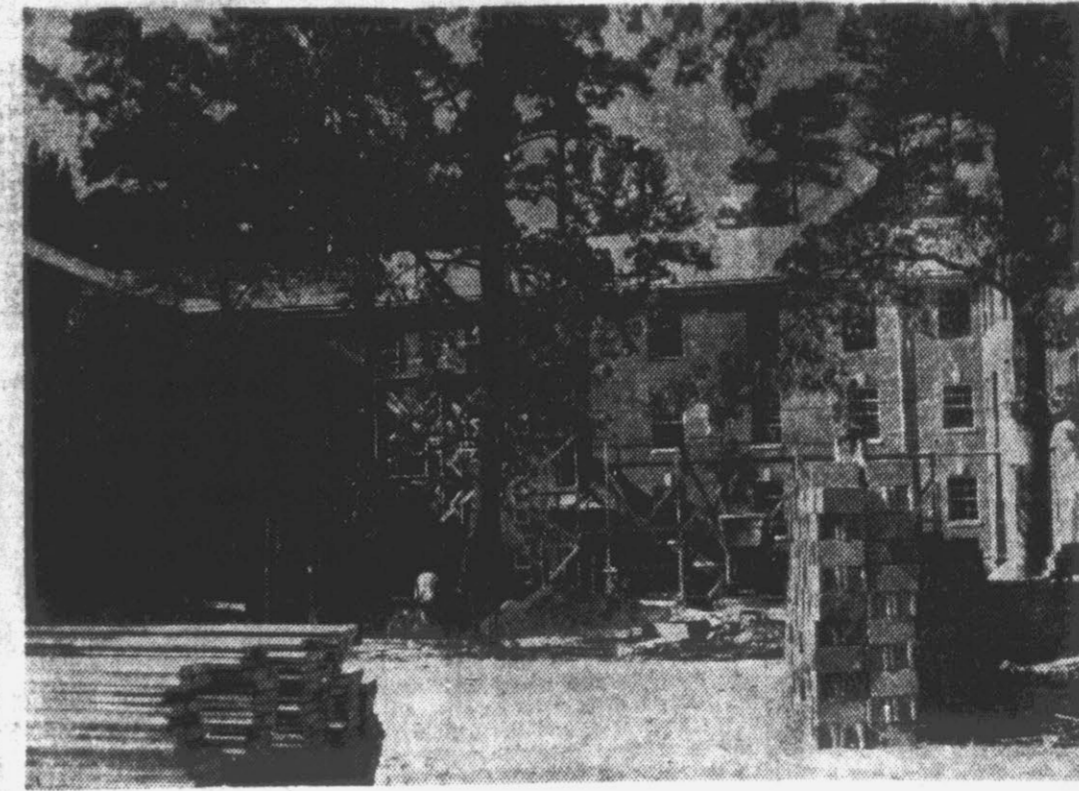

Carpenters put the finishing touches on the house being built by the O'Neal Foundation in Greenville for the widow and mother of William Benjamin O'Neal who was slain last winter. The house is being built by funds contributed to the foundation, and by materials and labor volunteered by citizens of Greenville and surrounding communities. (Staff photo by Roy Hardee).

Aldermen Permit Night Baseball Game For Sunday

Special Call Meeting Held Today; Game Scheduled 9:15 p.m. Tomorrow

The Greenville board of aldermen in a call meeting shortly before noon today passed an ordinance which will permit Sunday night baseball in the city. The Greenville ball club will play the first game of its Sunday double-header at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, with the second game scheduled for that night. Business Manager John Adams of the Greenville Greens announced immediately following the aldermen's meeting that the Greens will play the Tarboro Athletics in Guy Smith Stadium tomorrow night, beginning at 9:15. The movement for Sunday night baseball in the Coastal Plain League was begun this week by the New Bern Bears, and on Tuesday President Ray H. Goodman gave his sanction to the Sunday night ball games provided permission was received by the governing body of the town in which the games were to be played. Goodman also set 9:15 as the time for starting Sunday night games. Mayor W. S. Stafford at the meeting this morning told the Greenville board of aldermen that he was looking through the ordinances of the city he could find no law which permitted Sunday afternoon or night games in Greenville, and therefore if some ordinance were not passed today he would call a halt to afternoon and night Sunday baseball in Greenville. "If some ordinance is not passed, I don't see anything for me to do but to interfere with the Sunday ball games. I had no occasion to look up the ordinance until this morning." President W. Z. Morton of the Greenville baseball club told the aldermen, "The ball club is losing money—Sunday night games will be a means of the ball clubs picking up a few hundred dollars extra. Unless attendance picks up, there will be no more organized baseball in Greenville or in eastern North Carolina." The Greens have three more Sunday home games scheduled for this season. They play Tarboro here tomorrow, Roanoke Rapids here on August 21 and Kinston here September 4.

U. S. Consulate Again Beseiged By Chinese Mob

Communist Police Refuse To Intervene As Consulate Staff Stays In Building

Shanghai, July 30—(AP)—The United States consulate was besieged again today by about 150 former Shanghai employes of the U. S. Navy. The mob, like the one yesterday demanded aggregate back pay and severance allowance equal to 6 1/2 months pay. It was made up of Chinese mostly, but there was a sprinkling of Indians and White Russians. Consulate members were not permitted to leave the building. These included Acting Consul General Walter McConaughy, Naval Attaché Cmdr. Morgan Slayton and Administrative Attaché Reuben Thomas. Others were permitted to come and go but only essential personnel reported for work today lest a general lock-in developed. Thirteen staff members remained in the building last night. (The State Department in Washington said the Communist police "flatly refused to intervene" after mobs seized the consulate yesterday.) The dispute goes back to swift withdrawal of Navy units before the Communists arrived. The workers claim they were not properly discharged; that they received no formal notice. After the consulate was barricaded a few days ago, Thomas opened negotiations with the workers and the Communist Foreign Affairs Bureau. The attaché ultimately offered a settlement averaging three months pay. The Navy and State Departments approved it. The Foreign Affairs Bureau said it wanted to study the offer. The settlement was held up. Thomas said more than half of the workers were willing to accept. The former employes became impatient. They contended that since no proper notice of dismissal was given, the Navy was obligated to continue its payroll. They demanded two weeks additional pay in lieu of the notice and three months' severance pay. The demonstration began yesterday with a handful entering the building. Since small demonstrations have been commonplace, no particular alarm was felt until the numbers grew and leaders announced the three consulate members could not leave the building. Such retroactive pay disputes are by no means confined to foreigners. They had been common since the Communists came in to Shanghai. Labor interpreted Communist propaganda against "foreign imperialists and bureaucratic capitalists" as an open invitation. Workers moved against employers with various demands, some of them dating back months and even years.

Superior Court Cases Date Back Four Years

Clerk Of County Court Says Court Term Of Approximately Five Weeks Necessary To Clear Up All Cases On Docket For August

A court term approximately five weeks long would be necessary to clear up all the cases on the Pitt County Superior Court docket for August, D. T. House, clerk of Pitt County court, stated this morning. House in arriving at his estimate pointed out that 100 cases on the docket were carried over from the last term of superior court in the county, and 52 new cases have been added to the docket for the August term of court. The clerk said, do not include the cases which will be brought into superior court from the municipal recorder courts in the county. House estimated that by the time the August term of court opens approximately 175 cases will be on the docket for trial during the term. The oldest case on the docket for the coming term of court is dated August 1945. A few cases bearing 1946 dates and numerous cases dated 1947 and 1948 have been carried over to the August term of court. House said since he became clerk of Pitt County court in 1945 the county has required at least one special term of criminal court each year in addition to the five regular superior court terms, and in spite of the special terms it has been necessary to carry over cases from one year to the next. Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids is scheduled to preside at the two week term of civil and criminal court here beginning August 29.

FBI Nabs Three In Bank Robbery

Report Case Cleaned Up In Pembroke; Brothers Held

Pembroke, July 30—(AP)—The FBI held today that it has a perfect record in the case of the off-robb Scottish Bank of Pembroke. Four times within the past three years, gunmen have entered the little bank in North Carolina's Sandhill Indian country. Four times the FBI has quickly followed through with arrests. The bank was robbed of $30,667 in the fourth attempt July 21. The FBI reported last night that it has cleaned the case up with the arrest of three youths. One of the three arrested last night was J. E. Blackwell, 19, a former bank employe who told officers after the holdup that the two bandits pulling the job had kidnapped him at pistol point. Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Charlotte FBI office, termed Blackwell's story "a phony." He said Blackwell had admitted planning the holdup with two brothers, Pasquel Rice, about 21, and Clifton Rice, 17. The Rice brothers, members of a farm family near Lumberton, were arrested late yesterday by FBI agents and State Highway patrolmen. The three have been charged with violation of the federal bank robbery law, Brown reported. They are being held in the Cumberland county jail at Fayetteville.

Believe Colorado Uranium Is Ample

Lawmakers Say Deposits Sufficient For U. S. Needs

Washington, July 30—(AP)—Colorado's uranium deposits are ample to supply the nation's vast atomic energy program, Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) said today. Similar assurance came from Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) who declared there is a "tremendous amount of uranium" in the Colorado plateau country. Both Senators are members of the Senate-House atomic energy committee. They spoke out separately as the United States prepared to enter into "exploratory conversations" with Great Britain and Canada on a long range program of collaboration in raw materials supplies and exchange of atomic information. "I have no fear that we cannot secure uranium to operate our atomic energy plants," Millikin told a reporter. "Given proper price incentives and under efficient organization, our domestic supplies available from the Colorado plateau, the surface of which has hardly been touched, will supply a very substantial amount of our needs. And there are other reassuring factors which I am not at liberty to discuss." At present, the United States gets the great bulk of its uranium—the basic material for atomic weapons—from Canada and the Belgian Congo.

Italian Senate Votes For Pact

First Axis Country To Surrender Joins Atlantic Treaty

Rome, July 30—(AP)—Italy, first Axis country to surrender in World War II, lined up with some of her former enemies today despite violent opposition from the country's powerful Communist minority. The Italian senate approved ratification of the Atlantic pact last night, 175-81, and by a show of hands, authorized the government specifically to ratify the alliance with the western powers. The chamber of deputies has already approved. The pact, previously ratified by the United States, Great Britain, Canada, France, Belgium and Luxembourg, will go into formal effect as soon as the Netherlands completes action. Her senate is expected to debate the issue next week. Italy, along with Norway, Portugal, Denmark and Iceland, is associated with, but not a foundation of, the pact. There were 87 members of the senate absent as the vote on the historic alliance against aggression was taken, but the public galleries were filled despite the late hour. Vittorio Emanuele Orlando, Italy's World War I Premier, voted. (Continued on page eight)

Diary Figured In Maragon Hearing

Quizzing Prompted By Secret Diary In Probers' Hands

Washington, July 30—(AP)—A state investigator said privately today that the secret diary figuring prominently in the "five percent" inquiry prompted the quizzing of dapper John Maragon. Maragon is a 56-year-old man-about-town who has called frequently at the White House. During the last two days he has been questioned extensively behind closed doors by a special Senate subcommittee looking into allegations of the use of influence in the awarding of government contracts. Senator Hoyt (D-NC), the subcommittee chairman, has said many names—including those of some government officials and Congress members—are mentioned in the diary in the case. He also has said that doesn't necessarily mean those named are involved in any improper transactions. The subcommittee is trying to find out whether persons who help federal contractors for others for a fee, usually five per cent of the proceeds, have attempted to influence government procurement officials. The group also wants to learn whether any government officials have gone out of their way to be helpful to five percenters. The diary in the case, now in the possession of the subcommittee, belonged to James V. Hunt, a former Army officer and War Assets Administration employe. Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts furniture manufacturer, has said he paid Hunt $1,000 for help in seeking a government contract.

US Chiefs of Staff Arrive In Germany

Attlee Critical Churchill's Talk Says Political Speech Gave Britain 'Black Eye' Abroad

London, July 30—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee accused Winston Churchill today of giving Britain a black eye abroad out of "irresponsibility and party spite." Replying to Churchill's Conservative party speech at Wolverhampton a week ago, Attlee said his abuse of the Labor government "may be taken seriously in other countries," where he is remembered mainly as wartime prime minister. Attlee declared: "Any government which does not contain him is always denounced as incompetent." Churchill told a party rally at Wolverhampton that the Labor government had led Britain into "imminent peril" of communism and national bankruptcy. "I have never been slow to acknowledge his war service," Attlee said in a speech in his own election district, "but during these last four years he has had a bad relapse into irresponsibility and party spite." Attlee's speech was his first purely political appearance in the campaign for the next general elections. He defended the Labor government's nationalization program which Churchill had denounced as "cramping and disastrous." "How disgraceful it is," declared Attlee, "to try and make people believe that all our difficulties are due to Socialist mismanagement." The prime minister said the published policy statement issued last week by the Conservative party made "utterly unsupported charges."

Face Ten Days Of Conferences With West European Military Heads And Survey American Forces In Europe

Frankfurt, Germany, July 30—(AP)—The United States joint chiefs of staff arrived here today in President Truman's personal plane to begin 10 days of conferences with Western European military chiefs and to survey American forces in Europe. The three top U.S. military commanders were greeted at Frankfurt's Rhein-Main airbase by American military governor John I. McCoy and American military chiefs in Germany. Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, said he and Gen. Omar Bradley, U.S. Army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Forces commander, would talk over military problems with Western European leaders. "We will talk with the chiefs of staff of the Atlantic pact nations during our 10-day stay in Europe," Denfeld told newsmen. "We are not going to talk about military aid." Apparently Admiral Denfeld, in saying the talks would not deal with military aid, was referring to specific discussion of the military aid program which is now being debated in Congress. General Vandenberg said "There will be an exchange of ideas with the European military leaders." General Bradley said the joint chiefs will confer in Paris with Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, chief of the Western Union (Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg) staff.

Left His Money And Will In Rhyme

Westlife-on-Sea, Eng., July 30—(AP)—George Tozer left 317 lbs. ($88) and will in rhyme: "All my earthly goods I have in store. To my dear wife I leave for evermore. I freely give, no limit do I fix. 'This is my will and she the executrix." 122 GET DEGREES Raleigh, N.C., July 30—(AP)—A class of 122 students received degrees today at N. C. State College's summer commencement. Governor Scott was scheduled to be the principal speaker.

Dictator Tito Today

His Defiance Of Russia One Of The Great Human Dramas Of The Day; An Account By One Who Was On The Scene; Economic Squeeze; Trade Agreements

By DeWITT MacKENZIE One of the great human dramas of our time is the defiance of Russia by Marshal Tito, Yugoslav dictator, who has been outlawed by the Soviet for pursuing nationalism for his country, contrary to the policy of the Kremlin which holds in effect that sovereignty of communist countries rests in Moscow. I have an illuminating account of this battle from Alex H. Singleton, AP correspondent in the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade, and I want to present him here as guest columnist. He observes that Tito has turned to the Western powers to ease the economic pressure being applied against him by the communist countries of Eastern Europe and continues: For more than a year Tito has withstood Moscow's attempts to bring him to his knees. It is obvious that the Kremlin's order has been to starve him out, and members of the Cominform (Communist Information Bureau) have been following instructions. Trade ties have been cut between Yugoslavia and four Cominform countries—Albania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland. Yugoslav commerce with Bulgaria and Romania is almost dead. Traffic with Russia has been reduced to a trickle. Tito's reaction was made clear in a speech. He declared that Yugo-

Lingering, But Spectacular End To FEPC Slated

Washington, July 30—(AP)—A lingering, but possibly spectacular death, appeared today to be the almost certain fate of the debate-provoking fair employment practices bill. It won approval by the House Labor Committee 14 to 11 yesterday. Rep. Powell (D-NY) who wrote the bill said it would come before the House about Aug. 22. That is only one week before the date Congress is expected to adjourn. If it clears the House in those crowded days—which many representatives say is unlikely—it is certain to generate powerful opposition in the Senate. Some opponents have predicted a filibuster death for it if it reaches the Senate floor.

Carnival Worker Held In Slaying Of Young Girl

Prestonsburg, Ky., July 30—(AP)—A 26-year-old carnival worker was held in an undisclosed jail today charged with murder in one of Eastern Kentucky's most baffling slayings. State police detective Arch Thompson said an eight page statement from a 15-year-old youth implicated William (Bill) Gamble, of near Whitesburg, in Letcher county, Ky., in the slaying of Muriel Baldridge. The body of the 17-year-old Prestonsburg high school cheerleader was found June 28th under a bridge near her home. Police Judge Joseph D. Harkins, Jr., issued the murder warrant. Thompson said Olen Collins of Duco, Magoffin county, claimed to have been with Gamble and the girl when she was fatally beaten on the head last June 27. (Continued on page eight)

Babson Discusses Wages

Gloucester, Mass., July 29—I am happy to be back again on Cape Ann. I am sure there is no better place for summer anywhere in the whole U. S. A.—and this makes a pretty good home for the entire year. Getting A Job Unfortunately, Gloucester—like most of New England—has some unemployment. That is, there are many who cannot get jobs which pay the wages these unemployed want. It is very hard for girls, who got over $45 per week during the war, to work for $25 which is all that many employers can now afford. As my old friends and their children, here in Gloucester, ask my advice as to what to do, I say: "Take the $25 a week job; be the first there every morning; the last to leave every night; and help your employer make some money. The important thing is to 'get your foot in the door.' When I graduated from college, I tramped the streets six weeks looking for a job and finally took one at $8.00 per week. Of course $8.00 then bought more than double what it does now—but this is not the fault of any employer." A Lesson In Economics The cost of honest and sensible (Continued on page eight)

Hart Cotton Mill In Tarboro Plans Reopen Monday

Tarboro, N.C., July 30—(AP)—Officials of the Hart Cotton Mill planned today to reopen the plant Monday despite a 12-week-old strike. Marcus W. Carter, the mill's general manager, said the mill would resume operations Monday because some workers have said they want to work. "The mill is ready to operate and if the people want to work it will be available to them," Carter commented. Police Chief Bob Worsley and Sheriff Tom Bardin said they would be present for the reopening to "enforce law and order." Union officials, who previously minimized the back to work movement, called a special meeting of the workers, members of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, for 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Rap Nomination Of Tom Clark To High Tribunal

New York, July 30—(AP)—The civil rights congress today termed the nomination of Attorney General Tom C. Clark as an associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court "a gratuitous insult thrown into the faces of the Negro people." Clark's elevation to the court would constitute a "major threat to the future of American constitutional liberty," the congress declared in a telegram sent jointly to Vice-President Alben Barkley and Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.). It urged Barkley and McCarran to do "everything in your power" to persuade the Senate not to confirm Clark's appointment. Text of the telegram was released here. Clark has cited the organization as subversive.

Activities Step Up On Hawaiian Waterfront

Honolulu, July 30—(AP)—Activity in Hawaii's 91-day Longshore strike was stepped up today, both along the waterfront and at the conference tables. A non-union stevedore firm sent off the first cargo to be shipped out since the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union hit the picket line May 1. An AFL crew manned the freighters. Two top level industry and labor leaders met for direct peace talks. How they made out was not disclosed. Their conference overshadowed the legislature's efforts to reopen the sex strike plugged Hawaii ports. In San Francisco, Matson Navigation Co., announced it will move a ship to a loading berth there next week and take on cargo for the Islands. Matson is the major mainland-Hawaii water carrier.

See Years Of Tension

American Planners Expect Long Period Of International Tension; Policies Based On Their Crystal-Gazing; Outlook For Russia; Preparedness Date Set Near 1953

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, July 31—(AP)—American planners are looking forward to years of tension between the West and Russia. General Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, said this clearly in his statement to the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday. He was urging Congress to approve speedily this country's plan to arm Western Europe against any Russian attack. And he said: "With our allies, strong or weak, as they may be, we face a long period of tension. "Now that the Atlantic pact has been formed we can surely anticipate that any aggressor (he didn't name Russia) will alternately press and quell the crises, hoping to hold the signatory powers in perpetual irresolution." But how long will it take to arm Western Europe? Defense Secretary Johnson told the same committee about four or five years. So, if the plan starts this year, Western Europe should be pretty well armed by 1953 or 1954. This doesn't mean that by then the armies of Western Europe would be strong enough to defeat Russia, if she attacked. It means—according to the American planners—that Western Europe would be strong enough to hold off the early stages of an attack until this country could go to its defense. Bradley said it would be up to the armies of our allies to bear the brunt of the early attacks until we could mobilize. In the meantime? Bradley said we'd swing into action with the atomic bomb and our long-range bombers. But, meanwhile, what about the Russians? If Europe were armed and we could bomb Russia with the atomic bomb, would Russia be likely to attack at all unless she too had an atomic bomb? That raises the question of time and Russia's ability to make the bomb. And it brings back a warning which isn't mentioned often now but was issued only two years ago this month. In July, 1947 a committee of five men, appointed by President Truman to study this country's aviation needs, issued a report, called "Survival in the Air Age." It said: "We should have an air arm in being capable of dealing with a possible atomic attack on this country by January 1, 1949." The commission was saying that by 1953 Russia may have enough atomic bombs to attack this country. An earlier commission appointed by Mr. Truman—called the President's Advisory Commission on Uni-

Rose Outlines School Progress To Kiwanians

By CHESTER WALSH
"All of the city school buildings will have been paid for in 1952, all bonds liquidated, and the buildings will be in good condition to carry on the work of training the youth of Greenville and adjacent territory," June H. Rose, superintendent of schools, told the members of the Kiwanis Club last night. The school property is worth $1,500,000. Rose was guest speaker at the service club's weekly supper meeting by invitation of Dr. S. M. Crisp, a past president of the Kiwanis Club. President Arthur Tripp presided. Rose made a hit with the members when he said he did not believe in long speeches in hot weather. His message was timely and singularly interesting.

The speaker reviewed the school program here, enumerating the improvement of old projects and new plans for improving the service "we owe to our young people in the way of training."
He stated the cost of operating the schools—about $300,000 a year—and itemized the value of the expenditure.
June Rose did not exactly make a speech—he talked "heart-to-heart" with a group of representative business and professional men about "what we have, what we need, and what we are going to do to advance the welfare and interests of our young people."
Rose spoke happily when he announced that 350 young men, white and Negro, are attending the veterans' schools in Greenville, equipping themselves to become better citizens. He reminded that $600,000 a year comes into Greenville from the government under the GI plan—salaries paid the veterans and for other expenses.
The speaker visualized the future, when the schools will be available 12 months in the year; when there will be kindergartens in the schools, and the arts and sciences and the practical things of life will be taught. He said there are about 3,300 children enrolled in the Greenville schools.
Rose emphasized the fact that the most cordial relations prevail here and that Greenville provides well

The Kiwanis Club endorsed Past President Eli Bloom for lieutenant-governor of the Carolina Seventh Division, and the president appointed the following committee to present his name to the convention: N. C. Brooks, Ed Williford, J. Bryan Brown, David C. Moore, Jr., and Chester Walsh. Bloom is widely known in the Carolina Kiwanis district.

Rita Reported As 'Expecting'

London, July 30—(AP)—The Daily Mail said today Rita Hayworth is going to have a baby.
Quoting a member of the prince's family, it said in a dispatch from Paris:
"Princess Aly Khan (formerly Rita Hayworth) is expecting a baby and is cancelling her engagements."
The princess is now in Deauville the dispatch said. There was no confirmation of this report from any other source.

Heat In Hangar Blows Out Walls

Shelby, July 30—(AP)—A half dozen or so small airplanes were tucked away in the Bridges Airport hangar yesterday before a summer storm struck.
The heat inside the hangar grew so intense that the aluminum sides were blown out. The planes were not damaged, however.

Folks Talk About The Weather On Hot Days, Cold Days, Normal Days

By CHESTER WALSH

Mark Twain, famous humorist and author of the 19th century, is frequently quoted as saying: "Everybody's talking about the weather, but nobody's doing anything about it."

A torrid wave of weather prevailing over this section of the state the past week or 10 days has caused many people to check on weather records and at the same time proclaim that this heat wave is the worst the section has experienced.

The managing editor of the Daily Reflector sent a reporter and a staff photographer to the local U. S. Department of Commerce weather station in Greenville to get some history on weather conditions in the area over a considerable period.

Hot Interview

An interview with Mrs. Carl E. Maiden, observer here, was an interesting experience while the thermometer was registering 101 degrees of temperature and the sun's rays were hot enough to broil strips of bacon and fry eggs on a pavement.

Mrs. Maiden recalled that there have been hotter days than those now being experienced in the Greenville area. Official weather station thermometers show that temperatures have been hovering in the upper 90s here for about 10 days. Official readings show that the mercury stood at 97 degrees Friday a week ago and maintained the same level the next day. Last Sunday and Monday the temperature was 99 degrees. Last Tuesday it ascended to 101 degrees. On Wednesday it was 100. Thursday it was 97, and yesterday (Friday) it stood at 97.

The hottest temperature recorded in the Greenville area during the past 10 years was 106 degrees on August 30, 1948.

Mrs. Maiden, official observer here, said the hottest period recorded on her books was in July, 1940, when the mercury stood in the upper 90s for more than a week, soaring one day to 104 degrees; next day, 104 again, and 100 degrees the following day and continuing at the 100-degree level for three more days.

10 Degrees Above Zero

Appreciating contrasts, the inquiring reporter asked the weather observer about cold weather in this area. Mrs. Maiden said her records show that the mercury went down to 10 degrees above zero on December 20, 1942, a year after World War II started.

Checking on cold weather records she reported that the temperature went down to 13 degrees above zero on December 26, 1948, the day after last Christmas, freezing exposed bottled milk and breaking the bottles.

She checked on the big snow of February 9, 1948, when 13 inches of the fleecy flakes fell and drifted during a 24-hour period, and recalled that nearly all traffic was blocked in this area and that rural mail carriers had to suspend operations for a day or two.

The highest wind recorded in her books during the 10-year period was some years ago when the velocity reached 36-30 miles an hour.

and "that's a damaging wind," she added.

Rainful Record

The heaviest rainfall in the Greenville area was on a Saturday night and Sunday morning, September 6-7, 1947, when nearly 10 inches of rain fell in the form of a cloudburst, stalling traffic, inundating two tobacco warehouses and destroying thousands of dollars worth of leaf tobacco on the floors.

This deluge, she said, also washed out bridges over the area, flooded the Washington highway and damaged the bridge and pavement at Rock Springs in the eastern part of Greenville. Green Mill Run overflowed its banks and damaged crops in fields.

"This deluge was the heaviest rainfall I ever witnessed," she said. "Greenville then was a Government Airways Station and I was expected to check my rainfall gauge at 1 a. m. and report to the Raleigh-Durham Airport. The rain gauges are in our back yard. I donned a raincoat and rubbers and started to make an observation. The rain was falling in such torrents that I could not see my hand before me with the aid of a flashlight.

Only Report Missed

"That was the only time I failed to make an official reading of my instruments on scheduled time. Nearly 10 inches of rain fell in as many hours—9.72 inches, to be exact. It caused the worst flood here ever recorded. Through traffic had to be detoured because the Washington highway and connecting streets of the city were flooded beyond the safety depth," she said.

Rainfall in the Greenville area during the past three years was as follows:

1946—49.79 inches.
1947—67.50 inches.
1948—57.40 inches.

Mrs. Maiden, who has a fine sense of humor, recalled another big rain in the Greenville area in late July four years ago. "A drought prevailed in the section. Tobacco was not growing. Farmers in some sections of Pitt county sold their hogs in midsummer when they realized that they would not harvest enough corn to feed their livestock. The situation was desperate.

The Black Snake

"I remember that a Reflector reporter, on a day late in July, wrote something about an oil dealer hanging up a black snake between two sticks near his place of business believing that exposing a suspended black snake to the sun when rain was needed, would cause it to rain. "In a few minutes after my Daily Reflector came, the rain came. Five and one-half inches fell here within a two-hour period and flooded the city's streets and several houses on Seventh street.

"It was going to rain anyway and the snake had nothing to do with the precipitation. The blessing of it all was that the tobacco crop was saved and the plants grew to unusual proportions during the next two weeks. I go by the scientific instruments," Mrs. Maiden said. "I don't believe in ground-hogs and blacksnakes as weather prophets. That stuff's a lot of bunk," she added with emphasis.

Government Station

The government weather station was established here in 1919, when B. T. Clark, the first official observer, was working for the Greenville Utilities Commission. A flood gauge was placed on the river about that time and Mrs. E. T. Clark had charge of that. She also had a rain gauge to give information about possibility of flood in the river and reported to headquarters. When Mr. Clark died in 1941, Mrs. Clark at the Greenville Machine Works took over the two stations.

In 1939, the federal government established an Airways Station in Greenville. Reports were made every six hours on wind velocity, barometric pressure—maximum and minimum; dry and wet bulb; and clouds, type and direction of movement. These reports were sent to the Raleigh-Durham Airport. J. A. (Snooky) Clark, at the Greenville Machine Works, took over and continued until his death in 1945.

Began in 1946

Mrs. Carl E. Maiden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, took charge of the Airways Station and other instruments in 1946 after her brother's death. She was paid a substantial salary for her work. Mrs. E. T. Clark still has charge of the river gauge.

After the war closed, in 1948 Rocky Mount established a regular air service. Influential citizens there persuaded the government to move the Airways Station from Greenville.

Incidentally, weather observing has been a hobby with Mrs. Maiden since she was a young girl. She has had numerous interesting and sometimes dramatic experiences in the work. She has been able to provide weather information to tobaccoists, farmers and travelers, and has had pleasure in the work, she said.

Mrs. Maiden manifested a fine community spirit, a government official stated, when the Airways Station was moved to Rocky Mount. She became a volunteer weather observer here for the government without pay, and is carrying on the work as a hobby. Her station is inspected regularly by officials, and she has a good record.

Recent Old Fashioned Revival Here Drew Thousands From All Over Pitt

By ROY HARDEE

There was a time in the not too distant past when traveling ministers frequently visited the small cities and towns of the South holding tent revivals and doing evangelistic work among the people in the various communities.

Since that yesterday, however, tent meetings and tent revivals by traveling ministers of the Gospel have become rare in this section of the country.

During the past five weeks in Greenville, however, approximately 20,000 people from the city and the surrounding rural areas have flocked to a tent in the west section of the city where a 24-year-old preacher has been conducting an old-fashioned revival.

The preacher is the Rev. Millard Maynard, who was ordained by the Church of God when he was 19 years old. Since that time he has been pastor of a church at Morehead City and has been conducting tent revivals in various sections of North Carolina.

The tent meetings are held each night with the highlight of the meetings each week coming when the Dramatized Sermon is presented. This sermon is called "Blackout on Calvary" and pictures the last hours which Christ spent on earth before His death on the cross.

During the dramatized sermon a large painted picture of Christ is shown and lighting effects create a stormy and weird impression on the crowd in the darkened tent, while the preacher tells of the ordeal which Christ went through for the people of the world.

When the sermon starts the crowd is silent and no one stirs, but as the sermon goes on, the emotions of the people began to mount and soon cannot be restrained. Some of the people began to express those emotions openly and as the sermon reached its climax the group of people are usually worked up to such a state that it takes quite a while for them to be quieted.

In the group that attends the meetings, there is a marked contrast in the age groups. Large numbers of children are in evidence everywhere while the older folks make up a large part of those present. Often during the course of the meetings a woman may be found with a small infant in her arms, and also many people who have come from miles around to be present at the meetings.

During the camp meetings on a week end night a large number of cars are usually clustered around the tent and often the roads leading to the tent are blocked by trucks which have brought people in from the county who could not have come otherwise.

Following the sermons each night there is a healing and prayer service.

It is after the sermons and the prayer services that many of the converts are won and so far 135 converts have been won from the 5,000 average weekly attendance which the revival has drawn so far.

At one of the healing services an old lady is reported to have come forward on her crutches asking to be cured of her crippledness.

Following the services the old lady went home and the next day she was reported to be able to walk. Stating that the beliefs of his followers are based largely on emotional appeal and from certain passages in the Bible. Rev. Maynard said that in the Bible may be found passages which say that one should "make a joyful noise unto the Lord" and that the Lord should be praised by shouting and praising Him openly, thus the reason for the reactions of many of the people who attend the meetings each night.

The Rev. Millard Maynard (left) a young preacher from an old school of evangelist ministers, holds a revival meeting from the pulpit of his tent which has been in Greenville for the past five weeks. Thousands of people from Greenville and surrounding communities have flocked to the old fashion revival. (Staff photos by Roy Hardee).

Hundreds of people who were unable to get a seat in the tent which holds approximately 1,100 people, listen to one of Rev. Maynard's dramatized sermons from outside the tent. Crowds estimated as high as 1,000 attended the revival meeting on a single night while it was in Greenville.

Music plays a large part in the services and is directed by "Grandfather Price" who has been working with the church for the past twenty years.

Group singing is held nightly and many selections are rendered by "Grandfather Price" and Rev. Maynard.

The big canvas tent which is used to house the revival meetings seats

1100 people and on week end nights the tent is filled to overflowing and many people gather on the outside to watch and hear the meetings. People often observe the revival from their parked cars near the tent.

Young and old alike are brought to the camp meetings. Here a grandmother holds a small child as she listens attentively to the sermon from a bench in the tent.

Policemen Have Place To Relax

By CHESTER WALSH

When plans were drawn for the City Hall, back in 1939, they provided for a large room and a spacious hall on the second floor to be a recreation center for the members of the Greenville police department. Marvin K. Blount was mayor of the city at that time.

Nearly 10 years passed before the place was furnished and made available to the guardians of the law when they are off duty. It is now furnished and suitable for the purpose it is to serve.

Shortly after the City Hall was occupied, World War II started and the recreation rooms were occupied by the two draft boards until some time after the war ended.

During Mayor J. H. Boyd's administration, the recreation hall was turned over to the police department. The city provided a linoleum floor covering for the reception room. The policemen gave a "policeman's ball" at the college about a year ago and netted a substantial sum of money. They used part of it to buy furniture and turned over the remainder to the policemen's benefit fund, from which aid and assistance may be given ill, wounded or injured policemen in time of need.

Well Equipped

The reception room is conveniently and attractively furnished. It contains comfortable chairs and lounges similar to those used in hotel lobbies; tables for games; a combination radio and phonograph set; two ceiling fans; stands for a library and magazines, and a Venetian blinds and draperies cover the windows.

The reception room is upstairs over the police station and next to Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church education building. It is available to the officers 24 hours a day.

The police work in three eight-hour shifts. Sometimes the men, in time of trouble, have to work extra long hours. In case of a big fire or a hunt for criminals, assisting the sheriff or highway patrolmen or other law enforcement officers, when some of the men do double duty, they find the recreation facilities exceptionally convenient.

Hall Extensively Used

The large hall in the rear of the reception room can seat nearly 100 persons at a banquet or supper meeting, and it is frequently used for this purpose. No cooking facilities are provided. Food is prepared elsewhere and taken there.

Law enforcement officers in large groups have held meetings there. The Greenville police department has several times used the hall for police schools for officers of Greenville, Pitt county and Washington.

Several FBI training schools have been held there, one quite recently. The recreation center is equipped with two shower baths; adequate toilet facilities; 10 metal lockers and four standard army bunks for

The recreation room of the Greenville police department on the third floor of the city hall would be a credit to most any swank men's club. The recreation room is for the use of members of the Greenville police force and other law enforcement officers who happen to be in the city. It was furnished at a cost of less than $100 to the city of Greenville. Most of the furniture and fixtures were given by merchants of the city. (Staff photo by Roy Hardee).

sleeping, and ample coat racks.

Originally Planned for Gym

It was originally planned to use the large hall as a gymnasium for training police officers to handle dangerous prisoners, but it has not been equipped for that yet.

At a recent training school held there, Federal Bureau of Investigation specialists demonstrated to the police methods of disarming dangerous persons or criminals, and the local police received innumerable benefits from the training.

The police recreation center is valuable in other ways. If an officer has been doing double duty when some crime has been committed, he may, when relieved, go there, take a shower, change clothes and rest until his time arrives to go back to duty.

It frequently occurs that policemen who are on night duty are witnesses in court—Police and Superior—and have to remain up most of the day waiting to be called to testify. They, in turn, find the showers and other facilities at the recreation hall convenient.

Shifts Change Every 8 Hours

The police officers change shifts at 8 a. m., 4 p. m., and midnight. The public wonders sometimes why so many of them are in the station at the same time. The change of shifts takes but a very short time, and then the men are again on their beats, policing the city—one on a motorcycle, two in each of the police radio patrol cars, and the others on foot.

Chief Page is using an exceptionally effective method of placing his men to get the best results. Law enforcement authorities from other parts of the state who have been here stated that the Greenville force is one of the most efficient in the state. Judges presiding over Superior Court here have spoken in court of the splendid cooperation between the Greenville police, sheriff, highway patrol and other agencies.

Incidentally, the local force is a member of the State Law Enforcement Officers' Retirement Fund with headquarters in Raleigh, and the members contribute to its maintenance.

Businessmen and others who have visited the police recreation hall at the City Hall have expressed approval of the interest the city administration is taking in the welfare of the officers who maintain the peace and safety of the city.

Greenville Police Roster

Following is a roster of the officials and members of the police department:

Chief Lester D. Page, Johnston Dees, desk sergeant and clerk of Police Court; Oscar Aronid, file clerk.

Capt. John R. Mobley, Patrolmen T. E. Gladson, R. W. Harris, H. F. Lawson, C. H. Christopher, H. E. Wooten and W. L. Brewer.

Lt. George A. Crawford, Sgt. W. E. Peterson, Patrolmen J. H. Little, J. L. Whitchard, D. E. Todd and J. R. Tripp.

Lt. Raymond T. Rogerson, Sgt. R. W. Corbett, Patrolmen W. D. Berg, P. L. Jewett, L. C. Sumrell, R. D. House and J. E. Mills.

Clung To Rock In Miracle Escape

Los Angeles, July 30—(AP)—The Coast Guard reported today the rescue of a 53-year-old woman, who for 18 hours clung to a rock pinnacle off San Clemente Island while heavy swells exploded spray over her.

Her husband, Theodore Homer, 56, is missing after their 26-foot fishing boat, "Marjorie Mae," smashed against the rocks of the island 60 miles southwest of here last Thursday evening, the Coast Guard said.

Upon being rescued yesterday by a Coast Guard cutter, Mrs. Mae Homer told Lt. (jg) R. G. Schwind that her husband, who remained aboard the craft, helped her to the rocks. She said she called to him to follow her, but she didn't see him again. He wore a life-preserver.

Lt. Schwind said Mrs. Homer's escape was miraculous, in view of the heavy seas. When rescued, she was semi-conscious. Her shoes were gone and her clothing torn. Mrs. Homer said waves knocked her off the pinnacle several times.

The Homers, of Los Angeles, had

Strength FOR THE DAY

WALK THE ENEMY

Fear is man's greatest enemy—fear of illness, fear of poverty, fear of accident; anxiety about loved ones, disquietude over the fact that one may be displaced socially, fear lest one may lose his position; and worst of all, fear of fear.

There is no power adequate to fight fear except the power of faith. Believe deeply enough in the goodness of God, in the sufficiency of Jesus Christ, in the eternal significance of life, and you will make an onslaught against fear that will at last bring about its defeat.

Just a few days ago I talked with a woman who told me that for many years she had been a most pronounced worrier. Her life was positively cursed with a haunting sense of fear. Then there came upon her a great calamity, and out of that troubled circumstance she wrested a faith in God which changed her whole outlook. Today she fears nothing, and the result is that she has nothing to fear.

There is no enemy that can tear down life so effectively as fear. It is of no avail that we tell ourselves that our fears are foolish. We only cure the disposition to worry when we restore our whole personality to robust spiritual health. We need to cleanse our souls of the doubt from which fear arises.

THE TIME ELEMENT

As a general rule, justice is sure in North Carolina courts, but the swiftness of court action in the state practically has become a thing of the past.

The backlog of 100 cases which remained on the docket for trial in Pitt county superior court at the close of the last court term is only one of many instances in North Carolina which indicate that something should be done to speed up the state court system and procedure.

The cases which have been brought forward to the August 1949 term of Pitt superior court date back as far as August 1945, and numerous cases which were booked during 1947 and 1948 still remain for trial.

Since 1945 and even in the years before, Pitt county has required at least one special criminal term of superior court each year in addition to its five regular criminal terms of court, and still cases have been carried over from one year to the next.

The court system of North Carolina at the present time is inadequate to meet the needs of the people of the state, and steps must be taken to bring the court system up to date if justice is going to be properly administered in North Carolina.

A POLITICAL DREAM

The federal government has done a lot of things and has financed many a deal for the politicians, but Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts has come forth with a plan which use public funds directly for financing presidential election campaigns.

Lodge's proposal came in the form of a resolution authorizing the Rules and Administration committee to inquire into the feasibility of the proposal.

The Wonderful Wizards Of Washington

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Most of us make a living by selling something, whether it be our services or merchandise. We have to convince the customer that we have a better product or service than our competitor at a better price, considering the comparative value.

Unfortunately, there are salesmen in this world who know that they have something to sell that is of no value whatsoever, and yet they are dishonest enough to sing the praises of a worthless product. You know as well as I do where these sales will end up—and it'll be even hotter there than it's been in Greenville for the past five days, if that is possible.

The particular salesman I have in mind today was selling Florida real estate. His prospect was a North Carolina farmer who was interested in buying property in Florida, but was the type who guarded against buying the proverbial cat in the bag.

While looking over the land the farmer noticed the difference in the color of the trees; thinks the bottom four feet of the bark was darker than the top part. The reason, of course, is that during the wet season water floods the property up to four feet on the trees. When the farmer asked the salesman about the difference in the bark, the old familiar stall went to work, so the farmer let the subject ride.

The subject was bound to come up again, and the second time the salesman was ready. He explained that hogs from a nearby farm had rubbed themselves against the trees and left mud there.

That reply cinched the sale. The farmer decided against buying the land, but placed an order for 100 of those hogs.

Do radio commercials just about drive you out of your mind? Would it help any if I told you that they have that same effect on Howard S. Meighan, the president of the Columbia Broadcasting System? That's true. Meighan last week said, "The basic flaw in radio is the insincerity of language and manner used in the average commercial."

For years Meighan has campaigned against the "inefficiency of insincerity." Last fall he had secret recordings made of each announcer's readings of commercials at a Minneapolis radio station. When the records were played back most of them admitted that they sounded terrible. One said that he had had to read the same commercial for two and one-half years and that he was almost as bored as the audience.

Meighan continued, "Most announcers fail to comprehend the informality of listening. They are up on a soap box while the audience is flopping on the couch."

As an example of the informality he thinks radio needs, Meighan cites Disc Jockey Arthur Godfrey. A disciple of Godfrey's technique: "You can depend on NBC crackers to be fresh and crisp at all times. Oh yeah? Try putting them out in the rain and see how crisp they are." Godfrey seems to look up from the script to insert his classical statements about his products. We, the public, eat up the chatter and the crackers. We need more Godfreys on the radio.

And I thank you.

HOUSING—The whole question of perquisites, including living quarters, bothers many of the state departments and institutions. The highway and public works commission is the latest agency to attempt some equitable basis for solving the problem. Previously the state board of hospital control at its several units, the state department of agriculture at its test farms, and most of the educational institutions throughout the state have made effort to find the answer. None of these agencies is very happy about progress made to date, but each is still trying to improve the situation.

COMMON—Basically the problem is the same at every state institution which provides housing, laundry service, garden space or commissary operations. In several respects the situation is different at each point. In some instances facilities are provided solely for convenience of the employed personnel; at other points some types of perquisites are required for proper administration of the institution. Such items as laundry service, medical attention and some other perquisites are not necessary attributes of any state job. But it is absolutely essential that prison officials, medical and nursing staff members of state hospitals, draw bridge tenders and some others be called at any hour every day and night in the year. Farm superintendents and laborers, officers of educational institutions and some others may find it convenient to live on the campus, but not as essential as in the other cases cited.

UNIFORMITY—The several departments concerned are striving toward uniformity of policy, not only within their own bailiwicks but also as among the different departments. That is a big order.

HOSPITALS—The state hospital system seems to have progressed further than most other agencies in equitable handling of this situation. When aroused state consciousness of inadequate treatment of mental patients started the expansion and improvement program in the hospital system, which took its first big jump in the 1943 general assembly. One of the main handicaps was housing for personnel. It was recognized that while better hospital wards were needed the chief problem was to reduce the patient load on doctors, nurses, technicians and attendants. These required workers could not be had until housing was provided for them. During the war years concessions had to be made and oftentimes new employees were promised living quarters and other perquisites without too careful appraisal of their value. The hospital board built a lot of new houses, mostly by force account of timber cut from its lands, but not enough to go around. So the problem arose of one employee having a house in addition to his salary, another having the same salary and no house. A committee of the board studied the situation, put an appraised value on every house or apartment and figured that as part of the compensation paid the employee.

TEST FARMS—The department of agriculture faced a similar, though less acute problem, at the test farms. Wartime demands for increased agricultural production required speeding up operations at a time when building was almost impossible. It was less important that test farm folks live on the farm than was the case with hospital attendants. So the problem was less complicated, but fact remained that efficient help could not be obtained without giving the workers a place to live. The test farms have also been working for several years on a formula for equitable valuation of housing, garden produce, and other perquisites. Practically the same condition prevails at the educational institutions, where necessity for on-premise living is not so acute as at hospitals and prisons.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—The week I am most in favor of having is a Be-Yourself-Week. During this period everybody would take a holiday from self-improvement in any form. He would just relax and let himself alone. He would be what he is and nothing more—and I think he'd enjoy it. It would be restful. Fore on of the curses of our time is that practically nobody is satisfied with himself as he is. He wants to change himself in some way he hopes is for the better. But is it for the better? Most of the self-improvement programs I've seen haven't made much difference. You can't change a cabbage into a cauliflower by just putting it in a cellophane wrapper. But that doesn't keep people from frittering their content away in endless and aimless efforts to be something besides what they are. Self-improvement today is one of the biggest American industries. Billions are spent on it.

Are you overweight? Try our 99-day diet. Are you too thin? Try our 101-day diet. It's the same thing—but you just eat more of it. Are you lonely and misunderstood? Take our 35-year course in how to be charming. Then you'll be popular—and misunderstood. Do you want to get ahead in business? Here's a book that tells you how. The more you buy the more the author who writes it gets ahead in his business.

The worst thing about people snarped with self-improvement campaigns is—they want you to improve yourself, too. They develop a kind of cultural snobbery similar to that of a reformed drunk.

This great crusade for personal culture breeds intolerance and breaks up lifelong friendships. If a pal gets hipped on symphony music, you've got to drop Stephen Foster and dogtrot back to Bach with him or he regards you as a moron on the downbeat. Why? If he joins the Book-of-the-Minute Club you must, too, or else he thinks you still secretly read "Elsie Dinmore" at night when the rest of the family is asleep.

I became disillusioned with self-improvement early in life when I took a correspondence course in muscle building. "Don't look like a beanie," said the ad. "Be a panther man. Have muscles that ripple."

Well, it sounded fascinating. I took the course, bought a gadget with coils that you stretched and str-r-ratched—until you were muscles all over. It worked all right. Soon I had muscles that rippled like mad. Then I found I really didn't like my muscles to ripple. It was rather unnerving. But I was stuck. There is no course sold on how to de-ripple your muscles.

So I have gone striding through the years like a panther man, listening to my muscles go ripple, ripple—ripple, ripple. Sometimes I meet strangers and they pause and say, "Do you hear it—that rippling noise?"

And I have to break down and confess it is my muscles.

Never mind self-improvement. Let yourself alone, or maybe you'll end in a worse plight than I am. You may get ripples in the brain.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE TADS

Washington—Alex Morton Fiddesop, principal foreman for the Department of Interior's group of office buildings here, raises pigeons in his spare time. Mr. Fiddesop, a genial, balding man in his late fifties, says he started "fooling" with pigeons when he was 14. He has a house out in nearby Maryland, built a two-story garage where he keeps the prize ones and coops in the yard where he keeps others. Currently he has about 80 of all different types.

He has Fan Tails, Turbitts and Oriental Prills in the second story of the garage—Homers, Tipplers and Tumblers in the coops. "The Turbitts and Oriental Prills are short-faced birds and can't feed their babies, so I raise the Tipplers especially to take care of their young," he said.

Mr. Fiddesop directs a group of men who construct anything pertaining to partitions, exhibits, building furniture (from top to bottom) acoustic ceilings, asphalt tile and linoleum floors. This keeps him pretty busy all day, but evenings and weekends he sticks around the pigeons. This is the first season, however, that Mr. Fiddesop decided to show any of his pigeons.

His exhibit in a recent show—a pair of light green birds with dark green tails. "It was just for a gas," he said. "I bought the pair in a pigeon show in Baltimore last year. After I had them awhile they began to molt and green feathers began to come out. These were replaced by white ones. The pay-off came when the pair had a white daughter." Mr. Fiddesop said he touched the birds up "just for fun" for the show.

Friends sending gifts to Prince Wan Walthayakon, Siam's Ambassador to the United States, on his 57th birthday late this month will wrap them in green. The Ambassador's birthday anniversary falls on Wednesday, and green is that day's lucky color in Siam.

There's a lucky color for every day in the week. Often the women deck themselves out in the color of the day, but generally it's used only in birthday observations. Monday's color is amber, Tuesday's pink, Thursday's orange, Friday's blue Sunday's red. Black or purple are Saturday's lucky colors.

That was Superior Judge Frank G. Swain's ruling yesterday as he granted dancer Dorothy Lee Radford's divorce from Charles Radford, aviation executive.

She testified Radford shoved her off when she tried to sit on his knee while they were watching television. Didn't even say, "down in front."

This little boy is practicing the best of all social traits as he reaches out a helping hand to his timid companion. As he grows older, he is apt to learn that cooperation and mutual helpfulness are the basis of human happiness and human progress.

People who live for themselves alone, who have no concern for the welfare of others, can never achieve life's highest purposes nor realize its fullest joys. These are reserved for the people who have helping hands.

The Bible teaches us to love our fellow-men, to share their burdens, enter into their joys and sorrows, and help them over the rough and difficult places of life. When we do this we emulate the character and spirit of God himself—the spirit of love and helpfulness.

Worshipful hearts and helping hands! These are the teachings of the Church—the precepts of God. The world would be much happier and much brighter if all of us would practice them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Greenies Drop 5-2 Tilt To Kinston In Top-Notch Show

Errorless Defensive Play Thrills Fans As Teams Go Scoreless Until Sixth Frame; Mustian Gives Up 13 Scattered Hits

By BERT MOYE

The Kinston Eagles edged the Greenville Greenies here last night by a 5 to 2 score for their sixth straight over the Greenies in one of the best exhibitions of baseball seen on the local diamond this season. Both teams played great defensive ball and gave the crowd a thrill after thrill with their crowd work out on the diamond.

Both teams were held scoreless until the sixth frame when the Eagles got a run when Jerry Frye bashed a 300-foot homer over the left centerfield after two men had been retired.

The Greenies came back in the sixth to knot the count at one-all when Mustian got an infield hit. Bindo sacrificed him to second and Steve Denier singled to bring him home.

The Eagles got two more runs in the 7th for what was their margin of victory. Martin Mason singled and was forced at second by Ned Hollis. Bruce Hedrick's double scored Hollis. Harry Soufas was handed an intentional pass—the drew five such free tickets for what is believed to be a new league record—and Ray Rosenwinkle was also intentionally walked leading the bases. But R. W. Hapler got an infield hit to bring home Hedrick from third base.

The Greenies came back in the 7th and scored one run on Strauss and Polica's singles and an infield out. The Eagles added their two other runs in the eighth on two walks, a single, triple and a passed ball.

Vernon (Preacher) Mustian went the route for the Greenies and gave up a total of 13 hits, seven walks and struck out five Eagles. It was his third loss of the season—his first to the Eagles. He has one win to his credit.

Jerry Frye with a homer, double and two singles in five trips to the plate and Bruce Hedrick with a triple, double and a single in five trips to the plate led the Eagle's attack.

By Chapin started on the mound for the Eagles and received credit for the win, but had to have help from Claude Volselle in the late innings. The win for Chapin was his third straight of the season and his second against the Greenies. Thus far he has lost no games this season. Both of the Eagle hurlers gave up only six hits which were scattered among six Greenie players.

The Greenies journey over to Tarboro tonight for the first of a series of three games with the Athletics and will return to Guy Smith Stadium Sunday afternoon when they meet the Athletics in a twin bill.

Aussies Display Little Threat In Davis Cup Play

Wilmington, Del., July 30—(AP)—On the strength of their showing here yesterday the Australians cannot be accepted as a serious threat to unseat Uncle Sam in the Davis Cup challenge round a month from now at Forest Hills.

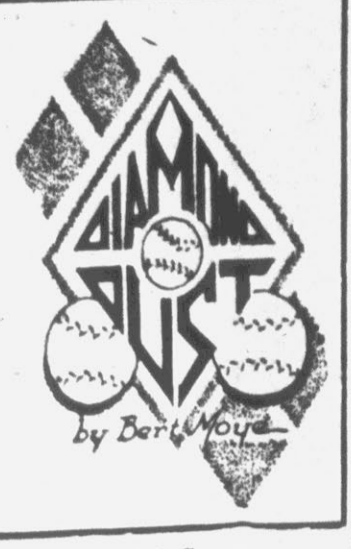

Although they won both their opening singles matches from Mexico and need only to capture today's doubles to advance into the inter-some final against Italy, the Aussies revealed all too plainly that they still do not have a second full blow singles star to help John Bromwich with the chores.

Frank Sedgman, the 22-year-old boy wonder who this year has succeeded Denny Ralston and Adrian Quist as the latest partner for Bromwich, barely staggered through his match yesterday against Armando Vega, younger of the two Mexican brothers.

Eastern Legion Title At Stake

Laurinburg, N.C., July 30—(AP)—The Eastern Junior American Legion baseball championship will be decided here tonight.

The best of five series stood at 2-all for Selma and Scotland county today. Scotland won the fourth game at Selma last night, 16-3. The winner of tonight's game will meet Gastonia, western champs, for the state title next week.

Tonight's Games Greenville at Tarboro Rocky Mt. at R. Rapids Goldsboro at Wilson New Bern at Kinston 0-0-0

The team batting of the Greenies moved up a notch into second place for this week with a .266 percentage. In the various divisions Greenville is first place in total hits with 876; second in total bases with 1,192; third place in two-baggers with 146; fourth in total number of triples with 22; are third in the home run department with 42; are tops in stolen bases with 174; are second in number of base on balls with 476; and in total number of strikeouts, are seventh with 458. The Rocky Mount Leafs continue to lead in team batting with a .273 percentage.

In team fielding the Greenies are still in fourth place with a .948 mark. They are fourth in the double play department with 71 and are third in total number of errors committed with 197. The Wilson Tobs continue in first place among the team fielding of the clubs with a .963 percentage.

In the pitching department Junior Yohn is the leading Greenville hurler with a record of nine wins and four losses and has participated in 34 games thus far this season. Leaders in the pitching department for the Greenies are as follows: Most complete games—Yohn, 11; most innings pitched—Art Mascarella, 124; most hits—Mascarella, 120; most walks issued—Bobby Harrison, 75; most strikeouts—Junior Yohn with 96.

Back To Garden

Santa Clara, Calif. (AP)—Coach Ray Penco's Santa Clara basketball squad will invade Madison Square Garden for the fourth time in a decade next Dec. 26. The Santa Clara team has won two of the three previous titles, all against Nat Halmann's City College five. December's foe will be new to the Broncos—Manhattan College.

In 1939, the Broncos' first appearance in Madison Square Garden, a favored CCNY team was upset 52-49-41. Holman's crew won in 1947, by 56-47.

Valuable Reds

Cincinnati (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds opened the season with the two most recent winners of the International League's annual Most Valuable Player award. Jimmy Bloodworth won the honor in 1948 with Montreal and Hank Sauer, since traded to the Chicago Cubs, copped the title in 1947 while a member of the Reds' Syracuse farm team.

Longest match in PGA history defeated Walter Hagen on the seventh extra hole.

Nats' Relief

Chicago, July 30—(AP)—Ponder Capot and Palestinian tangle again today in another milestone heading towards three-year-old divisional honors.

The turf's three, 1-2-3 in the Kentucky Derby, and four classy challengers clash in the $88,750 classic at Arlington Park, a 1-14 mile feature closing the meeting of the suburban track.

U. S. Speedboat Wins A 'Leg' On Harmsworth Cup

By BERT MOYE

Detroit, July 30—(AP)—The United States, thanks to Detroit's Jack Schaefer's speedy Such Crust I, today was one leg up in its bid to retain the Harmsworth trophy.

But in seeking to repeat today—and thereby claim the cup again for the United States—the three boat American team may have to fight off a comeback attempt by the Canadian challenger, Miss Canada IV.

The E. A. Wilson boat—reported to have been clocked at speeds upwards of 150 miles an hour in Ontario trials—suffered a broken supercharger in yesterday's race. She finished third with an average speed of 66.300 miles per hour.

Driver Danny Arena said that the 30-foot Such Crust "was never opened up in outclassing the other boats in the field. She reached a lap record of 94.945 miles per hour, but her average time for the 48.3 statute mile course was 67.969 miles per hour.

That was roughly three miles an hour slower than British racer Kaye Don's record in 1931 Harmsworth race. Don also held the lap record of 93.017 miles per hour, made in the same race.

The other two American boats in the race both had troubles of their own. Horace Dodge's My Sweetie, turned over finally to driver Wild Bill Cantrell, dropped out in the fourth lap with a broken water line. She was clocked at 89.5 miles an hour just before the mishap.

Stanley Dollar's Skip-A-Long, which duelled with Such Crust in the opening laps, tried to pass My Sweetie in the fourth lap, but got caught in the wash and shipped too much water. Dollar and his mechanic, Ollie Meeks, spent 12 minutes balling her out.

But they got the craft started under her own power and set a blistering pace to overtake the steadily plugging Miss Canada and win second place in the race.

Boys' League Baseball

Tigers vs. Braves The Braves kept their lead at the top of the league with a 6 to 4 win over the Tigers at Third St. Park. The game was one of the fastest and best played of the season. Hilton Quinn held the Tigers to seven hits and struck out five. Billy Tighman got three singles and Bobby Odum two doubles to lead the Tigers. Jody Taylor with three singles and Quinn with a double and single and Bobby Perry with two singles were the leaders for the Braves.

Schedule for Monday Braves vs. Athletics, 9:30 a.m. Reds vs. Yankees, 9:30 a.m. Trojans vs. Cubs, 9:30 a.m. Orioles vs. Wolves, 2:30 p.m. Cards vs. Red Sox, 2:30 p.m.

U. S. Athletes In Oslo Victorious

Oslo, Norway July 30—(AP)—World records in the shot put and discus and outstanding American performances in the distance races today ranked as the brightest features of the first "Little Olympics."

The powerful United States team defeated a combined Scandinavian squad, 238 1-2 points to 224 1-2 in the three night meet that ended last night.

The records fell as James Fuchs of Yale tossed the 16-pound shot 58 feet 4 7/16 inches and Fortune Gordien of Minnesota threw the Discus 182 feet 3 5/16 inches.

Fuchs' mighty heave bettered the list record of 57 feet 1 inch by Jack Torrance of the United States, made here in Oslo, and the toss of 58 feet 8 inches by Charles Ponville of Michigan for which world recognition is pending.

REYNOLDS OWES JOE PAGE MORE THAN A POLITE BOW SINCE JOE RELIEVED HIM TEN TIMES IN THE FIRST HALF OF THE RACE. LET'S SEE HOW YOU WARE. IT WILL HAVE TO BE SLOW. ALLIE'S TENTH TRIUMPH OF THE SEASON WAS A THREE-HIT SHOUT-OUT OF THE BROWNS. Winning Ways... by Pap

Allie Reynolds made his tenth triumph of the current season a momentous one. The veteran right hander of the Yankees scored his first shut-out of the season on that occasion at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, and gave one of his most impressive performances. He fanned 10 Browns, and did much to ease the pitching problems which have been causing Manager Casey Stengel sleepless nights.

Reynolds' pitching record for the season actually isn't as glamorous as it appears on paper. During the first half of the race, Allie usually had to have help in the late innings from Joe Page. Only on a couple of occasions was he able to stagger through to the finish. The Reynolds-Page combination was the nearest thing to the Lefty Gomez-

Johnny Murphy pitching team which the Yankees of yesterday made famous. Page could always look forward to a bit of work when Reynolds was announced as the starter, but now it appears that Allie is determined to go it alone.

The importance of Allie in the Yankee pitching scheme can be appreciated by the fact that Reynolds was sent to Cleveland ahead of the team to rest up for an all-important series with the Indians. Formerly with the Cleveland club, Allie has always put forth a special effort to be impressive against his old teammates. Reynolds became the first Yankee hurler to score over every rival in the American League at least once. He's the key man in the Yankee mound picture, and could bring another pennant to the Bronx Bombers.

V. F. W. Is Upset Victim By 5-4

In a week marked with upsets and well played games American Lady Corset closed the bill of fare last evening with an upset win over V.F.W. by the score of 5-4.

The game went into extra innings, the score was tied at 4-4 after the regulation seven and it wasn't until the bottom of the ninth that the home team, American Lady Corset, rallied for one run and the game.

Amateur Surgery Saves Kittens As Mother Dies

San Diego, Calif., July 30—(AP)—Two women huddled over a dead cat.

Flossie, the Siamese house cat, had died on a couch in the living room. She had been sick a week.

"We could see the kittens moving inside of her," said Mrs. Nettie Smith, 73, Flossie's owner. "We decided we must save them."

Mrs. Vernon Scott, a caller, held Flossie's lifeless but still warm body. Mrs. Smith cut into the abdomen with her kitchen butcher knife.

That was Wednesday. The five kittens were thriving today on formula food prescribed by a veterinarian, who said Mrs. Smith's emergency surgery. He said a substitute mother cat would be better. But Mrs. Smith hasn't as yet been able to find one.

Clock Again Stops Brooklyn And Cards Locked In Tie

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Hall the clock—new chief umpire in the National League.

With two consecutive Brooklyn-St. Louis games called a tie by the timekeeper, the man with the watch is becoming more important than the players.

Curfew struck at 1:10 a.m. (EST) today at Sportsman's Park with the Dodgers and Cards locked in a 3-3 tie at the end of nine innings. National League rules say they can't start a new inning of a night game after 12:50 a.m. (local time) so extra innings were out of the question. A heavy rain delayed the start.

Brooklyn almost missed a chance to tie the score for they barely completed the eighth inning, with St. Louis holding a 3-2 edge, at 12:47 a.m. St. Louis time (CDT).

As it was, the Dodgers managed to push over a run in the ninth on a walk to Roy Campanella, a pinch single by Marv Rackley and an outfield fly by Pee Wee Reese that scored Eddie Miksis, running for Campanella.

It was touch and go at the plate on Miksis who just made it from third after Chuck Diering made a shoestring catch on Reese's liner. Catcher Del Rice dropped Diering's peg as Miksis slid home with the tying run but no error was charged.

Howie Pollet, trying for his 14th win, had a shutout 3-0 at the end of seven innings with Nippy Jones and Marty Marion driving in the runs. A walk and successive singles by Carl Furillo, Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges gave the Brooks two in the eighth. Ted Wilks came in to strike out Pinchhitter Gene Hermanski to end the rally.

Earlier this week on Monday, the Dodgers and Cards played a 4-4 tie at Brooklyn when they stopped the game under an agreement that no inning should start after 3:00 p.m. (EST) to let the teams catch a train to the west.

St. Louis remains a game and a half in front of the runnerup Dodgers with another night game slated for tonight and a day game Sunday.

Herm Wehmer, 22-year-old Cincinnati right-hander, pitched his best game of the season and his first major league shutout as he beat New York with four hits, 3-0, in the only other National League game played.

The loss dropped the Giants into a

Exchange Club Organized At Supper Meeting

The newly-formed Exchange Club of Greenville, operating under authority of the National Exchange Club, held its first meeting at Proctor Hotel last night and Sam O. Worthington, Greenville attorney and member of the State Legislature, was named president. J. Wilton Tetterton was named secretary.

The first Exchange Club was formed in Detroit, Mich., on March 27, 1911, and was an outgrowth of luncheon meetings by a group of business and professional men over a period of years dating from 1896, in which they had exchanged ideas on business and civic matters.

Over the 37 years of service Exchange has grown and expanded into every part of the nation and now has a large, active membership.

Since the formation of the national organization Exchange has authorized and initiated "Crime Prevention Week," observed in thousands of communities this year; has sponsored prevention and control of juvenile delinquency, service to youth being a traditional objective.

Exchange has consistently alerted the public to the threat of communism and has at all times pressed for national preparedness against aggression. Model aviation, wherein youths study, design, construct and fly miniature aircraft, has long been an object of exchange and its work along this line has meant much to many young Americans who served in our forces.

The Executive Committee of the Greenville club is composed of Sam O. Worthington, Roy L. Tripp, George H. Clapp and George W. Gardner.

BORN of the STORM

By Sidney B. Carter

Chapter 24

Mrs. Kent went out and came back in a few minutes. "We best let 'im go to sleep now. The man what bring 'im told me to give 'im one of these pills when he can't sleep," she said, picking up a bottle from the table beside Kenneth's bed. "If he's still up after an hour or so, we gotta give 'im another one but be keeful never to give 'im more'n two in one night. Too many'll kill him. Ya best give 'im one now."

Priscilla went to the bathroom for a glass of water to go with the sleeping pill and when she came back, Mrs. Kent was pouring whiskey. Priscilla stopped her just as she was going to give it to Kenneth.

"No!" said Priscilla, surprised at the sharpness of her own voice. Mrs. Kent drew back and then she glared at Priscilla indignantly.

"What do you mean?" she asked. "Ain't my poor boy got a right to have a drink if he wants one — after all he's been through?"

"That's all right," said Priscilla more gently. "But not at the same time he takes the sleeping pill. Either the drink or the sleeping pill, but not both at the same time. Liquor and opiates don't agree very well."

Kenneth turned his head toward her slowly, his eyes searching her face. "Okay," he said. "Okay. Let Priscilla be the boss for awhile."

Mrs. Kent still glared at Priscilla, but she let it go at that. She and Priscilla supported Kenneth's back while he took his medicine. The two women plumped his pillows and tucked in the covers. She wants me here, Priscilla thought. She'd be frightened with the responsibility all by herself, and yet she still can't keep from resenting me.

"Is Pop awake?" asked Priscilla. "I'd like to see him."

"Yeah," said Mrs. Kent grumblingly. "He's been sick, too. Don't know what I'll do with both of 'em in bed and all the work . . ."

Priscilla walked across the hall to Pop Kent's room and found him sitting up in bed, reading his paper. "Hello, Pop," called Priscilla pleasantly. Mr. Kent looked up questioningly and his face broke into a smile when he saw Priscilla.

"Well, well! Here's our little girl back again. It sure is good to see ya."

Pop's wholehearted welcome and very evident desire to have her remain made it more difficult for Priscilla to refuse Mrs. Kent's entreaty that she move back and help her care for the invalid. "I kaint do it all meself," she whined.

It was arranged for Priscilla to sleep with Dora and take care of any of Kenneth's needs during the night. Mrs. Kent giving her son a small bell, with which he could summon Priscilla if necessary. "Dora'll wash out yer stockin's fer ya tonight and later ya can bring some things, if ya'll come."

During the night Priscilla had to give Kenneth his second sleeping pill and when she woke the next morning he was still asleep. She had a light breakfast, kissed Pop goodbye, and on her way to work she phoned Gertrude. They arranged to meet for lunch.

"Hello, Sofie," said Gertrude as soon as Priscilla had told her the news.

Priscilla flushed. "You'd be a sofie, too, if you could see Kenneth now," she said defensively. "He's so different."

Elmer's Backers Mourn Dead Bull

Swoope, Va., July 30—(AP)—Folks in the northern Virginia community were downcast today. Elmer the Bull is dead.

For a week they had rooted for Elmer in his fight for recovery from the exposure he suffered when he was trapped for 21 days in a railroad culvert pipe.

For those 21 days Elmer stood up to his shanks in water. Railroad workers came along last week and pulled him out. The black Angus had shrunk to a mere shadow of himself. Those three weeks had sloughed off 600 pounds.

Elmer died last night after a hearty meal of all the things that were supposed to make him well. "He'd gained back 150 pounds," said the wife of Elmer's modest owner who consistently declined the use of his name in Elmer's story.

No expense had been spared on Elmer's convalescent diet. Vitamins, eggs, milk and finally oats were his as body builders.

Elmer appeared to like the diet fine. And fan mail attested folks' interest in his progress toward a normal 900 pounds.

But today Elmer was on the way to the rendering factory.

ELECTROCUTED

Sanford, N. C., July 30—(AP)—Robert Alton McNeil, 30, was electrocuted yesterday while working in the Carolina Slope Coal Mine near here. He touched a 440-volt underground cable. Efforts to revive him failed.

The United States has more than 400 steel plants in 200 cities and towns.

Adopted Baby Rejects Mother

Two-year-old Jewel Viree Edwards, subject of an adoption wrangle at Bessemer, Ala., sits snugly on the lap of Mrs. W. H. Sessions and refuses to go to her mother, Mrs. L. A. Edwards (left). Police Chief Lacey Alexander said the child's father is held for investigation of a charge that he sold his daughter to Mrs. Sessions' husband for adoption at a price of $5 00. (AP Wirephoto).

Bobby Gets His Mail—In Piles

Little did four-year-old Bobby Byers realize the great reception that would be given his request for mail. The little boy, who lives in Phoenix, Ariz., is suffering with cancer and doctors say he hasn't long to live. Three days ago newspapers published his request that people write him cards and letters. By Thursday, more than 3,000 pieces of mail had arrived from all sections of the nation. Mail Carrier Arthur Hammon (left) has just brought in a new load and is watching Bobby open a package. Gary's Vice Campaign Settles Down To Exchange Of Charges

Gary, Ind., July 30—(AP)—Gary's fight on vice settled down today to an exchange of charges between city officials and the anti-vice crusaders.

Dr. M. P. Avery, chairman of the Gary Crime Commission, said three members of the Women's Citizens Committee had been threatened by anonymous telephone callers.

The women had been picketing places suspected of harboring gambling games and prostitutes. The pickets went off duty last night.

"One mother was called by a man who told her she was stopping on a bunch of eggs and if she went out to picket she was asking for the undertaker," the dentist reported.

He said the calls had been reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. B. Howard Caughran, U.S. district attorney at Indianapolis, said no action was planned because the calls were not across state lines.

The doctor also took a rap at Eugene Swartz, mayor of this northern Indiana industrial city.

Swartz, who has been under fire from the crusaders, asked yesterday, "How about picketing the well-known country club frequented by members of the Women's Citizens Committee and the Gary Crime Commission, where nearly all the violations complained of within the city of Gary have taken place and continue to take place?"

"Witness, for instance, the recent party where the members were edified by a strip tease entertainment of the lowest sort as a prelude to an evening's activity of $5 limit poker and $200 dice games.

"Let's have no double standards, please."

The doctor's answer to that—and he said he was making it as a personal one and not as chairman of the self-appointed commission—was: "Mayor Swartz is a member of the country club. I am not a member of the country club. I suggest that the mayor present his views of the affairs he mentioned to his board of directors."

Mrs. Russell Griffith, head of the women's committee, ducked what she said was a "cat fight."

Murder Charged Deputy Sheriff

Alice, Tex., July 30—(AP)—A deputy sheriff has been charged with murder in the shooting of W. H. (Bill) Mason, veteran newspaper and radio man.

Mason, 51, was shot to death yesterday on a street of this South Texas town.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Smithwick, about 60, surrendered following the shooting. He pleaded innocent when arraigned.

Mason, program director of Alice Radio Station KBKI, Thursday referred to the deputy in a broadcast as owner of a building which houses a dime-a-dance palace.

In recent radio broadcasts Mason had referred repeatedly to the dance place, criticizing conditions there.

Mason started his newspaper career in Minnesota on the Minneapolis Journal. He had worked on the New York Times, the San Francisco Examiner, the Oakland, Calif., Times, Oakland Post-Inquirer, and the old San Francisco Call.

At one time he was an investigator for Earl Warren, governor of California, when Warren was district attorney for Alameda County.

Mayor Fights Off Masked Band

Mayor C. L. Drake of Iron City, Ga., holds his shotgun beside an old drum behind which he said he squatted during a gun battle with masked men who tried to kidnap him. Said the mayor: "Seven or eight automobiles loaded with uniformed and masked Klansmen approached my house through a cow pasture. I opened fire on them and they scattered in a hurry." Drake said Klan members tried to defeat him in the mayoralty election because he opposed Georgia's Governor Herman Talmadge. (AP Photo).

Young Roosevelt Plans Marriage

New York, July 30—(AP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-NY) is engaged to marry Susanne Ferrin, blonde 28-year-old New York socialite.

It will be the second marriage for Roosevelt, 34 and the first for Miss Ferrin.

She is a graduate of Westover school, Middlebury, Conn. She served two years during the war as a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

Roosevelt, third son of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late President, has two children, Franklin D., III, 10 Christopher, 7, by his first marriage to the former Ethel Du Pont. They were divorced last May.

Roosevelt, a graduate of Harvard University and the University of Virginia law school, was elected to Congress last May from New York's 20th district.

Miss Ferrin's father, the late Lee J. Ferrin, was a New York attorney and chairman of the board of directors of CIBA Pharmaceutical Products Corporation, of Summit, N. J.

Talmadge Praises Work Of His Regime For State

Atlanta, July 30—(AP)—Gov. Herman Talmadge set out today what many observers think will be his campaign theme song for reelection: his regime fights "for the cause of the poor, the needy and the unfortunate."

This was the tenor of a radio "Report to the People" by Talmadge on the tax-raising special session of the legislature which quit Thursday.

Georgia has entered upon a new and better era—one that will be written in the annals of our state as the epoch of humanity," said the governor.

His prepared text praised "a determined and intelligent majority" in the assembly for pushing through a $20,500,000 program of expanded state services and higher taxes.

This program, said Talmadge, "will alleviate much of the suffering, the hunger, and the privation that have existed among groups of our more unfortunate people for too long a time."

State Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwine took drastic steps to impose new taxes effective Monday.

And for the citizen, that meant a quick two-cent increase in cigarette prices, a one-cent hike per gallon in gasoline, and two cents more per bottle of beer.

Armed Gambling Joint Raided, 160 Men Seized

Here is part of the crowd under arrest a few minutes after New Jersey State Police broke into a heavily armed gambling joint at Maple Shade, N. J. The arrested men stand with hands raised and faces showing varying degrees of emotion. The raiders seized 160 persons and confiscated $40,000. Police said the joint was listed as a plumbing warehouse but was elaborately equipped for all kinds of gambling day and night. Officers said operators furnished limousine service for patrons. Life Is Gay, Mad Whirl For Ringtailed Monkeys

Memphis, Tenn., July 30—(AP)—Life is a gay, mad whirl for Pete the Ringtailed monkey.

He got loose from his chain in a Memphis restaurant yesterday and set off on a lark.

Pete's first stop was the middle of a busy street. A car screeched to a halt and a motorist peered out in confusion. Pete jumped in.

He looked the situation over, grabbed the ignition key, and beat it to the top of the rear seat. The motorist protested, and Pete lost his temper and chased him out of the car.

The motorist called the cops. Pete liked one of them, and rode on his shoulder to the station.

He ate all the cake the station boys had and then started pushing out window screens. The sergeant called the Humane shelter.

Pete rode triumphantly to the shelter, where his owner, C. R. McDonald, bailed him out.

While McDonald was chaining him up again, Pete nipped his pocket of $1.50 and stuffed it behind a baseboard.

Spuds Top List In British Diet

London, July 30—(AP)—The staff of life in Britain these days is potatoes, the government disclosed today.

Food minister John Strachey said the British people consumed an average of 266 pounds of spuds a piece in the year ended last June 30.

Next in order came flour, 232 pounds a head, fruit, 119, and vegetables, 116. Strachey furnished the figures in reply to a question in the House of Commons.

thing, and then removed most restrictions on American trade with Yugoslavia.

Tito's trade officials have negotiated a number of agreements with Western European countries.

Naturally, this hasn't pleased the Russians. The Soviet press has blasted away with charges that Tito has been flirting with the "capitalistic, imperialistic" Western world and abandoning principles of Marxism.

Tito's press has blasted back. It has retorted repeatedly that Russia and the satellite countries do not practice what they preach, that their deals with the West have been in far greater volume than those of Yugoslavia.

Through it all, Tito has professed his allegiance to the cause of communism. His chief complaint has been that as it works now, Russia wants to run the show and refuses other communist countries "equal rights" in determining policy.

Put it down, perhaps, to the fact that Tito—alone among the communist leaders of Eastern Europe—won his way to power. The rest of them rode in on the backs of the Red army.

Now it looks as though Tito can keep his legs under him so far as trade goes. It probably will mean that Yugoslavs will have to keep their belts tight, but they are a

President Truman's Theory

It is unpopular amongst businessmen to say a good word for Mr. Truman; but there may be sense in the theory of his leading Cabinet Member Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture. His advice—as I understand it—is to let prices and wages find their natural levels and then have the government protect farmers with subsidies, and protect wage-workers with old age assistance, free medical service, government housing and other "welfare benefits." This is contrary to good Republican doctrine; but I fear it will be tried.

Certainly, the system of price fixing was a big failure; and I believe that wage fixing, either by legislation or labor unions, is bound to create unemployment and hence hold up costs. It seems fine to have a minimum wage of seventy-five cents per hour if you can get a job at that wage; but if your employer can't afford it and you lose your present job at sixty cents per hour you are worse off.

Reduces Costs And Lowers Prices

The above is my advice to farmers; but fight for fair subsidies. My advice to wageworkers is to cheerfully accept the "market wage" whatever it may be, but not be ashamed to take reasonable government assistance. As manufacturers are protected by a tariff, so farmers and wageworkers are entitled to some similar protection.

Of course, the above means either higher taxes or more debt. As taxes are now higher than the country can long stand, the Brannan Policy may force an increase in the Federal debt or a reduction in Federal expenses. It is a crime to waste the peoples money. I favor a cut of 10 per cent for all Departments if the so-called "deficit money" is used for permanent improvements, the Federal Government may be as entitled to increase its debt some years the same as is the Telephone Company; but only when so used. Perhaps we must also recognize: If our capitalistic system (in order to exist depends on encouraging people to spend all they earn during good times by installment buying, expensive advertising and high pressure selling, then it perhaps must in some way take care of these people in lean years when their income is cut off.

Carolina Border Belt Market Opening Average Of $50 Seen

By the Associated Press

An average price of more than $50 a hundred pounds is predicted for first sales on Carolina's Border tobacco belt next Tuesday.

Poundage is above last year but quality has been lowered by recent dry, hot weather. Sales should go over $100,000,000, however.

W. P. Hedrick, marketing specialist with the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, made the price prediction. The belt's opening day average last year was $46.00 for 8,830,768 pounds.

WILL JAMES' "SAND" OPENS PITT SUNDAY

This outdoor hit filmed in technicolor is the feature attraction at the Pitt Sunday-Monday. Cast includes Mark Smith, Coleen Gray (inset) Rory Calhoun and others.

During the 1948 season, North Carolina markets sold 120,284,877 pounds for an average of $51.84, and the South Carolina markets sold 110,498,131 pounds at an average of $50.30.

Producers took particular note of a drop in opening day prices on the Georgia-Florida belt. There the average was $46.70, more than $8 under first sales a year ago.

Tobacco on the huge Carolinas belts usually averages a few dollars above that on the Georgia-Florida belt. That is because the Carolinas offerings are tied into bundles.

The South Carolina markets are Conway, Darlington, Dillon, Kingstree, Lake City, Loris, Mellins, Pamlico, and Timmonsville. The North Carolina markets are Chadbourn, Clarkton, Elerbe, Fair Bluff, Fairmont, Fayetteville, Lumberton, Tabor City and Whiteville.

Delegates Named To 4-H Meeting

The State 4-H Clubs in North Carolina will hold their annual state meeting at State College on August 1-6.

Each club is entitled to send two delegates to the state meeting and these official delegates are elected by the clubs.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide information and training in subject matter, recreation, leadership and to become acquainted with the work being done by other 4-H clubs in the state.

In the state contest to select the state health king and queen, Velma Rae Lee and Kenneth Meeks of Pictolus will represent Pitt County.

A report on the state tractor maintenance school will be given by Billy Rae Allen of Farmville.

Sarah Lewis of Bell Arthur will take part in the State 4-H Dress Revue to be held during the meeting.

Members of the 4-H Clubs in the county who will attend the state meeting are: Corneilia Randolph, Julia Stokes, Wesley Manning and Franklin Garris from Belvoir; Hazel Carris, Sallie Scott Morgan, Billy Rae Allen and Jimmy Allen, Farmville; Peggy Rose Edwards and Robert Lee Edwards Jr., Chicod; Sylvia Gardner, Fountain; Velma Rae Lee, Kenneth Meeks, Pictolus; Tribby Lee Smith and Sarah Lewis, Bell Arthur; and Charles Keel, Bethel.

Locked In, And 'Passed Out'

The Greenville Fire Department's rescue truck was called to 1018 Evans Street last night about 7:15 when it was reported that a man was locked in a bathroom and was unconscious.

When the rescue truck arrived the man, Roy Watkins, a construction worker on the new Pitt hospital, was found in a semi-conscious condition on the bathroom floor. Firemen reported that the lock on the bathroom door had become fouled and that the man had become a prisoner in the room for over two hours and had fainted due to the confinement in the hot room.

Watkins was put to bed to recover from his experience.

Freak Winds Hit Belvoir Section

A freak windstorm over a small area north of Tar River blew down several large trees, but did no property damage about noon Thursday.

People who live in the Great Swamp community in the Belvoir section said the wind storm accompanied by a sprinkling rain swept into the area about noon and lasted only a few minutes. Trees were blown down in several people's yards, and one large tree was blown down across the highway, but was removed by workmen of the highway department.

The storm struck only in an area several miles square.

Bandit Kept His Record Of Crime

New York, July 30—(AP)—An ex-Air Force sergeant, who police said kept his own crime record, was under arrest today.

His detailed accounts of 12 thefts—several of them in tourist-crowded Rockefeller center—showed proceeds of $2,391.10 since his discharge from the Air Force March 4.

He had a dime when arrested last night.

Harry Lewis, 25, formerly of San Francisco, was seized as he allegedly was about to stage his second holdup in an Erie Railroad ticket office in Rockefeller center.

In his mid-town hotel room, police found a bookkeeper's ledger described by detective Captain John B. McCarty as "the most careful and complete set of accounts I've seen kept by a criminal in my 31 years on the force." He added: "I wish all criminals were as methodical in keeping their records."

One section of the ledger, McCarty said, furnished the prisoner's record of holdups: locations, type of victims, amounts taken, dates and times of day.

Other records showed places he intended to rob, with notations as to the best times.

Lewis, who was carrying a .32 caliber automatic when arrested, was booked on charges of assault, robbery and illegal possession of a gun. Asked why he had committed so many reckless robberies, he told police:

But Secretary Johnson said Western Europe, through our arms plan, would be armed by 1953 or 1954.

That would mean it would be ready for an attack somewhere around the time the President's two commissions said Russia might have atomic bombs of its own.

But if, by the middle 1950's, we have atomic bombs, Russia has atomic bombs, Western Europe is armed, and Russia's armies are powerful, as they are now, what then?

It's anybody's guess. No wonder Bradley said we "face a long period of tension."

But Mr. Truman, Secretary Johnson and General Bradley argue that there's less chance of Russia attacking at all if Western Europe is armed.

HURRY UP, HOOPEE, I'M WAITING TO CARRY OUT THE DISHES!

I SAID I WAS THRU, DIDN'T I? IF I WANTED ANY MORE I WOULD HAVE HELPED MYSELF, WOULDN'T I?

THAT'S MY WAY OF FINISHING UP LEFTOVERS!

EAT IT YOURSELVES IF YOU WANT TO GET RID OF IT - YOU CAN'T TURN ME INTO A WALKING GARBAGE CAN!

DON'T THROW IT OUT - IT'LL KEEP IN THE ICE-BOX!
WE'LL DISGUISE IT AND GIVE IT TO HIM FOR LUNCH TOMORROW!

OH, OH! HERE COMES
BIG CHIEF O'TOOLE
AND MRS. O'TOOLE.

HOW,
CHIEF O'TOOLE,
HOW!

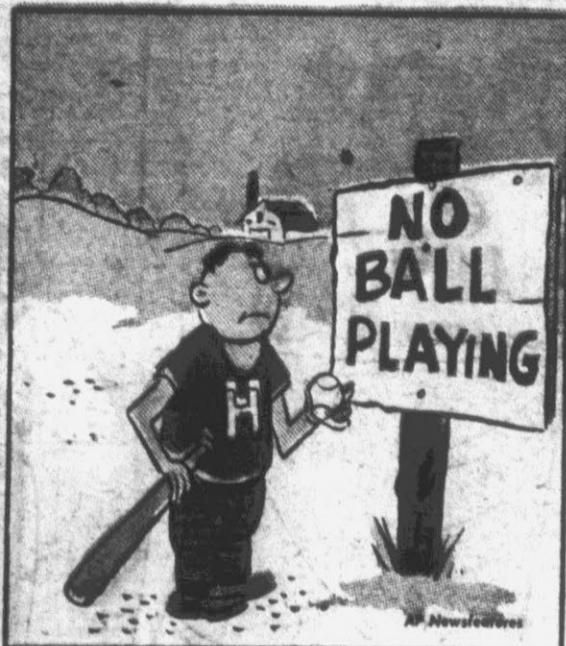

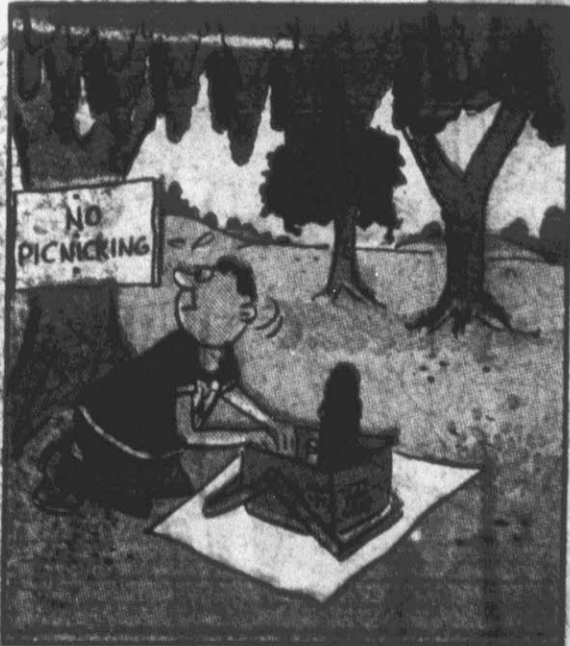

SAY, CHIEF, WHY
DO YOU RIDE WHILE YOUR WIFE WALKS?

SHE NO
GOTTOM
