

Britons Sail For Washington Talks

Bevin Describes Trip As Probably One Of Most Important Missions In History; Top Planners Accompany Two Cabinet Members To Vital Meet

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 31—(AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Bevin sailed on the Mauretania today for their dollar talks in Washington.

Bevin told reporters it is "probably one of the most important missions in history."

"Unless we can find the right answer to the financial and economic problems," he said, "we shall not have laid a sound foundation for the future peace of the world."

He said he welcomed President Truman's speech in Philadelphia Monday promising to help Britain grapple with her economic problems.

"They won't be solved by talking at each other," Bevin said, "they will be solved by talking with one another."

With Bevin and Cripps are 13 aides and experts—six from the treasury and seven from the Foreign office.

In the party is Sir Edwin Ploewen, chairman of the government's economic planning board. He also is chief planning officer of the treasury.

The two cabinet members carry a 20,000-word brief—the case for the British-banker Sterling Area—which they will present to U. S. and Canadian officials at the conference starting Sept. 7.

The brief carried by the two Ministers was approved by Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet Monday.

It has not been made public, but it is said authoritatively to propose in broad terms that:

1. Britain will cut government spending, try to increase factory output without raising export prices and make a more aggressive bid for American dollar customers.
2. Britain will ask in return that America lower its tariff barriers and guarantee the sterling area a market for dollar-earning raw materials—such as rubber and tin—for a fixed period at fixed prices.
3. Formation of an Anglo-American economic council. A sort of high command of finance and trade, one of its big jobs would be to see that Britain produces the kind of goods which will sell for dollars.

Bevin also is believed to be nursing a project of his own—some sort of "integration" of the currencies of America and the sterling area.

British newspapers have speculated that he has in mind a common currency for Britain, fellow members of the Commonwealth, the United States and Canada.

The best information is that Cripps is against this. He is said to feel that Britain and the Commonwealth should insist on their economic independence.

Howley Predicts Further Russian Berlin Pressure

Retiring U. S. Commandant Says America Learned Lesson In Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 31—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley predicted today Russia would try more tricks to oust the Western Allies from Berlin.

The retiring U. S. commandant of Berlin told a news conference "they will keep trying tricks and pressure as long as they think they can get away with it."

"My guess is that they won't get away with it and I would advise them not to try."

Howley, who published today an 80,000-word report on his four years as American chief in Berlin, said America "is not willing to let bygones be bygones and forget everything that has happened here in the past. We will not forget the lessons we have learned."

In his final news conference before sailing for home next week, Howley paid a long, earnest tribute to the German people of Berlin and predicted "your city will one day be the capital of a united Germany. I cannot say when that will be because there is no way of predicting when the Russians will stop their pressure to tear the country apart."

In his own summary to the detailed report of U. S. occupation in Berlin, Howley blamed Russian efforts to seize the entire city for the friction between the four powers.

"We have succeeded in reviving the social and political life of the city. We have guided the Berlin Germans to a concept of democracy similar to our own. We have not succeeded in reaching agreements in those fundamental conflicts between Russian communism and Western democracy."

The outlook, Howley said, is that the American commandant, who has been involved in dozens of heated vocal battles with the Russians, estimated he had spent 2,000 hours with Russian, British and French occupation authorities in the past four years.

Rep. Roosevelt Will Wed Today

New York, Aug. 31—(AP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the wartime President, will be married today to Socialite Suzanne Perlin of New York, his office announced.

The wedding is to be a small private ceremony. Only members of the two families and a few intimate friends will attend.

The couple got their wedding license last Friday.

Refrigerator's Door Blown Off

Lake City, S. C., Aug. 31—(AP)—The Norman Burch's refrigerator door was blown off in the weekend storm.

The family was eating breakfast while the wind howled and heavy rains beat down. They heard a terrific crash on the back porch. The refrigerator door, apparently caught by a freakish draft, had blown off. Contents of the refrigerator were strewn the porch length.

Events Moving Fast

Significant Developments In Cold War; Czechoslovak Quelling Of Armed Uprising; Yugoslavia's Application For Loan; Another Moscow Note; Disaffection Seen

Fast moving events are highlighting the disclosure in Washington that Russia's grip on its eastern European satellites is reliably reported to be badly shaken by the fight with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Treading on each others heels have come these significant developments:

1. Czechoslovakia's Communist government has announced that it smashed a large armed revolt by conspirators who tried to capture Prague and establish an anti-Soviet regime.
2. Yugoslavia has applied formally for a loan of $25,000,000 from the Export-Import Bank, an American government agency. Tito needs quick cash with which to buy U. S. machinery for his country's copper, lead and zinc mines. Washington officials expect him to get the loan. He also has received permission to buy a three million dollar steel mill from an American concern.
3. Moscow has sent another hot note—its eighth—to Yugoslavia, charging that the Tito government is working "only on instructions of its western masters."
4. Of these developments by far the most important of course is the revolutionary plot in Czechoslovakia. This in itself would be enough to rock the foundations of the Red Eastern European Empire, and it is doubly dangerous since it is coupled with Tito's political revolt, disaffection in other satellite states and the defiance of little Finland which Moscow is trying to force within the Soviet zone of domination.
5. Czech Communist authorities moved fast in exacting punishment. Six accused were condemned to death in secret trials, an unspecified number went to prison and ten were acquitted. The government said the leader was Dr. Jaroslav Borkovec, described as brother of a former chief of the Criminal Investigation section of the Prague police.
6. The official report charged that the rebels were under direction of "a certain western imperialist power" and that a copy of their plan of action was deposited with a western Embassy in France. This western power was not named. Could Moscow have America or Britain in mind?
7. As discussed in yesterday's column, these reports of discontent and disaffection among the satellites is expected to have an important place in the forthcoming meeting in Washington among Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman. Observers are looking for these diplomats to review the strategy of the cold war with Russia in the light of the developments and devise new moves to counter

Saturday Events 'For Everybody'

Farmers' Day Afternoon Program Includes Contests For All Ages And Talents, With Prizes To Add Incentive

Everyone, from the eight year olds who sprint in the 50 yard dash to the housewives who exhibit their rolling pin throwing powers, will have a chance to get into the act during the afternoon events of the greatly heralded and eagerly awaited Farmers Day program Saturday, Henry Brown, afternoon events chairman, explained today.

Celebrations from all over the county will open the afternoon festivity at two o'clock at the Court House where cash awards will be made to the largest family present by the family coming the greatest distance to participate in the program the lady winning the rolling pin throwing contest, and many others.

Features of the afternoon program will be quartet singing contests and fiddling contests, in addition to an old fashioned "haws call-in."

And those not participating in the other various contests will have something to do too. Everyone will register and make his guess as to how many butterbeans are in a jug which will be on exhibition. The winner will get a big cash prize, it was announced.

Beginning at three o'clock, the boys and girls will meet behind the high school for nine athletic events all of which will carry cash prizes. Jack Hedgepeth, local sports caster, will be in charge of the program with various events being judged by such athletic notables as Vernon "Preacher" Mustian, Greenville ace moundsman; Sid Varney, former University of North Carolina football player, and now Greenville catcher, and others.

Included on the afternoon athletic program will be 50 and 100 yard dashes, baseball and football throws for accuracy and distance, sack race for girls, two-legged race, and egg and spoon race, especially for girls.

All the events will be run in two age groups with persons from eight to 12 in one group and persons 13 and over in the other.

Aldermen Facing A Busy Session

Prospective Agenda For Meeting Said To Be Crowded

Mayor W. S. Stafford of Greenville said today the local aldermen apparently will be in for a busy session tomorrow night when they meet at the city hall for their regular monthly meeting.

The mayor said in a conference this morning it has been indicated to him that a group of property owners of the city will appear before the aldermen tomorrow night and ask the city officials to release the governor of the state to release all property in Greenville from rent control regulations.

Also on the agenda for the aldermen's meeting is the consideration of unloading some requests from city merchants, the opening of bids on repairing the culvert on Second Street, and bids for 1,000 feet of fire hose for the city fire department.

A spokesman for the Greenville Ministerial Association, which recently sent to the mayor and aldermen a letter urging the "enactment of laws that will tend to increase rather than lessen respect for God's Holy Day," indicated this morning that no members of the association will appear before the aldermen at the meeting tomorrow night.

In the resolution recently passed by the Ministerial Association and forwarded to the city officials, the ministers of the city went on record as "deploring the action taken recently by the board of aldermen by which motion pictures will be operated during church hours."

The Rev. Ralph Johnson, president of the Ministerial Association when asked today whether members of the association would appear before the aldermen, replied, "There have been no steps taken in that direction to my knowledge. As far as I know, no members of the Ministerial Association will appear before the aldermen in reference to the resolution."

Inch of Rain For City Yesterday

Brief Downpour Floods Streets; Wide Area Affected

By CHESTER WALSH

More than one inch of rain fell in the Greenville area yesterday shortly after 6 p. m., and the downpour lasted a very short time.

Some of the city streets were flooded and water was running over curbs.

The railroad underpass on western Dickson Avenue was flooded for a short time. Reports from outlying sections were that heavy rains prevailed over a wide area.

A one-inch rainfall spreads out a lot of water. According to the local U. S. Weather Bureau rain gauges, such a precipitation would mean one inch of water over a square mile surface.

Improvements and additions made to the city's surface drainage system, especially the big steel reinforced concrete storm sewer pipe laid from Albemarle Avenue to the Coast Line Railroad tracks and on to Tar River, eliminated the standing water on some streets that formerly followed every heavy rain.

A brisk shower shortly before 6 a. m. today brought the total rainfall here up to 1.06 inches.

The creek passing under the Greenville-Bethel highway several miles this side of Bethel was over its banks eight or ten inches last night and temporarily slowed up traffic.

The highest temperature recorded here yesterday was 93 degrees. Lowest night was 68, and at 8 a. m. today the Weather Bureau thermometers stood at 72.

The highest temperature in Greenville a year ago Wednesday was 92 degrees. A torrid temperature prevailed here the two previous days last year, when the thermometer stood at 105 and 102 degrees, respectively.

Husband Skipped After Wedding; Rites Annulled

Detroit, Aug. 31—(AP)—After 26 years, Mrs. Sophie Nichols has decided that, minus a husband, a marriage isn't a marriage.

Yesterday the former Detroit school teacher officially annulled her marriage to Walter Nichols, who hasn't been heard from since he bolted their wedding reception Dec. 23, 1923. She told Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara.

Nichols left after picking up the wedding presents and the contents of ladies' pocketbooks while the others feasted. It was the climax to a whirlwind courtship.

Judge O'Hara agreed that it sounded pretty much like abandonment and annulled the marriage.

President Plans Two Addresses

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—The White House announced today that President Truman's two speeches Monday will deal with (1) labor and (2) agriculture.

The labor speech will be made at the Allegheny County Free Fair at Pittsburgh around 11 a. m. (EST) after a flight from Washington.

Try To Prevent Steel Walkouts

New York, Aug. 31—(AP)—Presidential fact-finders went to work today to shape their recommendations for preventing a National Steel strike. They have abandoned a mediation plan.

The three-man board yesterday withdrew its offer to serve as mediator in the dispute after industry leaders insisted the negotiations would have to be on an individual company basis.

No Confirmation Troops On Move Near Yugoslavia

Little Concern Seen As Rumors Spread Soviet Army Is Near Frontiers

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 31—(AP)—Spreading rumors of Soviet army troop concentrations near Yugoslavia's frontier attended speculation today over the new Russian denunciation of Premier Marshal Tito.

Diplomatic officials in London said British and U. S. restrictions on the sales of military equipment to Yugoslavia may be eased to bolster Tito's regime.

Officially there was no confirmation of troop movements nor of "rumors that Yugoslavia may seek United Nations intervention in her blossoming dispute with Russia."

But it should be emphasized that the Yugoslavs themselves are showing no concern over the possibility that the propaganda and economic struggle between this country and her communist neighbors will turn into a shooting war.

There was no immediate Yugoslav response to the Soviet note, announced yesterday, blasting the Tito government as an ally of the Western powers.

The United States embassy was taking things calmly and showing scant signs of anticipating a showdown now in the Yugoslav-Russian dispute.

American Steel Company representatives, who usually have an ear to the ground for rumors of trouble, pressed long-range projects for development of Yugoslavia's raw ore resources.

While Tito's troop remain alert, there was little public sign they are expecting war. In the Adriatic resort of Dubrovnik, for example, there were a number of army officers on vacation while the rumors were flying 10 days ago.

Korea Asks U. S. For Military Aid

Ambassador Says Attack On Republic Is 'Most Likely'

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—The Ambassador of Korea appealed to President Truman today for military aid to help meet any possible attack by the Soviets.

Declaring "we are right on the spot," the Ambassador, Dr. John Myun Chang, told newsmen that a stack on the new republic "appears most likely."

"We need very quick action by the United States," he said after a 15-minute conference with Mr. Truman.

He told reporters that he had conveyed a message from his President asking arms and ammunition as quickly as possible.

"We feel that there might be some imminent danger of attack from the North and we should be well prepared for it," the Ambassador went on. (The Communists occupy northern Korea.)

"We have very high expectations of the passage of the military aid bill (now pending in the Senate). We want quick action on the part of the United States in supplying arms and ammunition to the maximum degree of allocation. We feel we are right on the spot and entitled to prime consideration. There is no time to waste."

Showdown Nears On Minimum Pay

Senate Leaders Confidently Seek Vote By Nightfall

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—After taking one setback, Senate leaders pressed confidently today for a vote by nightfall on a bill putting a 75-cent-an-hour floor under wages.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois called the Senate into session an hour earlier than usual in an effort to complete the action.

The present fair labor standards act sets a minimum wage for covered workers of 40 cents an hour. The bill before the Senate, like one already passed by the House, would hike this to 75 cents.

Several amendments had to be acted on before the Senate could finish with the bill.

The major fight was expected over a proposal by Senator Ellender (D-La.) to set the minimum at 65 cents an hour until the end of 1950, then gear it to living costs as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. It couldn't go below 55 cents or above 75.

Ellender told a reporter he was hopeful of winning approval for his amendment, but Senator Pepper (D-La.), leading the fight for the Administration, predicted its defeat.

The Administration took a licking last night when the Senate adopted, 50 to 23, an amendment offered by Senator Holland (D-Pa.) and others which Pepper said would take about 200,000 workers out from under the law.

Senators Favor Arms Aid Cut Compromise Plan

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today senators considering President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms aid program "received favorably" a proposal to cut it by $160,990,000.

The slash would be made from the $1,610,990,000 which Mr. Truman asked to help re-arm European nations in the Atlantic pact.

The compromise plan was laid before the combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee after a bi-partisan subcommittee had worked it out.

Connally, head of the foreign relations group, did not reveal the amount or nature of the cut, but other senators supplied the information to newsmen.

Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Dulles (R-NY) had led the fight to hold the Western European aid to an even $1,000,000,000.

Raps Detention Of 2 Americans

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today denounced Russia's holding of two American students in Eastern Germany as outrageous, illegal and improper.

Acheson told a news conference the Americans wandered into the Russian zone illegally but said they were doing no harm and should be released promptly.

Vaughan Returns To Stand And Describes FBI Probe

Deserter Returned

Vienna, Aug. 31—(AP)—Anatole Barsov, one of two Russian fliers who deserted to the West last year, was handed back to Russian authorities today, an official U. S. announcement said.

Barsov had been in the American zone of Austria since Aug. 24 pending completion of negotiations with the Soviets.

According to reports reaching Vienna, the Soviet airman repented his flight about a month ago and asked Russian officials in New York to expedite his return to Russia.

The announcement said the transfer was made at the Enns River bridge this morning.

Barsov and his navigator, Lt. Peter Prigov, crash landed their plane at the American base at Linz last October. They said they had planned to flee Russia for many months and come to the United States.

They told American army officers the Russian people were "oppressed" by Stalin.

A third occupant of the plane, a Soviet sergeant, wanted to return to behind the Iron Curtain and was permitted to do so.

Barsov and his navigator were given political asylum as refugees. The two Russians said they particularly wanted to visit the state of Virginia, having heard about it in "Voice of America" radio broadcasts.

So the two were brought to this country. And the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce took them on scenic tour of the state last February. Prigov has since been reported working on a book in New York.

Legion Takes Up Serious Business

Parade Over, Vets Turn To Writing Nat'l Program

Philadelphia, Aug. 31—(AP)—End of the peacetime draft, continued civilian control of the atom bomb under U. S. monopoly, and a strong anti-Communist law came under consideration today at the 31st annual American Legion convention.

Its gigantic 12-hour parade over the Legion settled down to serious business on the third day of a four-day convalescence.

National Commander Perry Brown Beaumont, Tex., labeled the parade the Legion's "greatest." He said the crowd—estimated by police superintendant Guy E. Parsons at more than 1,500,000—was the biggest ever to view the mammoth spectacle.

But Legionnaires, despite the day-and-night funmaking still going on outside the convention hall, are determined to spell out a program their 3,000,000 members can support.

The major policy-making resolutions—the ones expected to stir up hot floor battles—have been drawn up by the National Security, Americanism, and Foreign Policy committees.

Erle Coche, Jr., 36-year-old Dawson, Ga., candidate for National commander, heads up the National Security committee. He says his group is opposed to extension of the present selective service law beyond next June 30.

Second Mass Break At Reformatory For Girls

Little Rock, Aug. 31—(AP)—Another mass break has occurred at the Arkansas girls' training school where former conditions were described recently by a circuit judge as comparable to medieval dungeons.

Eight girls broke away last night after smashing two doors in the main dormitory.

None had been found by state police.

Mrs. Avanda Pruitt, the head matron, said one of the girls yelled as she disappeared in the darkness: "Not a damn one of you is going to stop us now."

Six of the escapees were involved in the Aug. 14 disorder which touched off a grand jury investigation and led to the indictment of two former school officials on charges of mistreatment of teen-aged inmates.

Vaughan Unperturbed

President's Military Aide Appeared Most Unconcerned Man At Hearing Yesterday During Presentation Of His Testimony; Careful Answers, And Kept His Temper

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—I answered a question by saying "to the best of my recollection, I don't remember that" or "I'm sorry but I can't recall that."

If you give a flat "yes" or "no" answer to a question, and later are proven wrong, you can be accused of lying. But no one can accuse you of more than a poor memory when you say "I can't remember."

Yesterday the general, who has bumbled a bit around Washington by speaking too fast at the wrong times, picked his way with seeming ease among the questions flung at him by McCarthy and Mundt.

If Vaughan felt any tension in that room, where the eyes of senators and the eyes of cameras stared at him while flashbulbs went off in his face, it didn't show. There was never a twitch of a face muscle nor a bob of his Adam's apple.

And when he acknowledged receiving funds for the Democratic campaign in Missouri in 1946—from some of the businessmen he helped, he calmly emphasized that this was not money for him personally.

In short, Vaughan put on a good show: answering evenly, keeping his temper, and brushing aside as perfectly normal things which Mundt and McCarthy seemed to indicate should never have been done.

The unhappy looking man in the room was John Marragon, Greenville, S. C., who was very, very careful in what he said. Over and over he

Musical Program Given Before V. F. W. Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 7032, held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, August 26, at the club house.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Margaret Brown. The opening prayer was offered by the chaplain, Mrs. Lottie Lewis, followed by singing "The Star Spangled Banner." Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ruth Garner, and approved. Mrs. Jennie J. Kilpatrick was initiated in the auxiliary.

General orders were read by the president in connection with a council meeting to be held in High Point on September 9th and 10th. The following delegates were elected: Mesdames Margaret Brown, Carrie West, Lottie Lewis and Kathleen Whichard.

It was voted to send a check to the hospital chairman in Fayetteville to help entertain the patients at Veterans hospital on September 28.

Mrs. Brown announced a district meeting to be held in Washington, N. C. on Sunday, September 4. Delegates to attend are the following: Mesdames Margaret Brown, Jane Broadwell, Lottie Lewis, Mary Moore and Lillian Thomas. Mrs. Carrie West is district president and Mrs. Kathleen Whichard, district secretary.

After the closing ceremonies the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Shyla Todd, entertainment chairman, who in turn presented Miss Ona Shindler and her quartet composed of Bibby Odum, Carl Denton, Howard Proctor and Sam Proctor. The boys sang several spirited numbers which were greatly enjoyed by all.

The hostesses for the month, Miss Kathleen Whichard and Mesdames Kathleen and Dorothy Whichard and Carrie West served sandwiches, cold drinks and cookies.

Banker And Farm Specialist Speak At Bethel Rotary

By CHESTER WALSH
The Bethel Rotary Club, one of the only two Rotary clubs in the United States that owns its own building had one of the best meetings of the year last night. President R. E. Hunnicutt presided.

Guy L. Jones, farm specialist, who has been in charge of the Lower Coastal Plain Tobacco Research Farm, near Greenville, guest speaker, made an interesting talk about the experimental work in growing tobacco being carried on. He made a profound impression by his description of the success achieved in controlling black shank and Granville wilt, affecting tobacco plants. He outlined the methods being used and explained that the 20-acre test farm south of Greenville is used under general farming conditions, specializing in tests with growing tobacco. The speaker answered questions of farmers present at the close of his talk and gave some valuable information about growing and curing tobacco, they said.

W. H. Woolard, president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, who introduced the farm specialist, paid tribute to the excellent and gratifying work the local experiment station is doing. He reminded that tobacco is the foundation of the farming resources of this section, and urged the Bethel Rotarians and others to back up those in charge of the local experiment station.

Mr. Woolard said Guy L. Jones, who has been in charge of the Lower Coastal Plain Tobacco Research Farm since it was established in 1948, is leaving shortly. He is going to State College for post-graduate work and a special degree. The banker introduced Jay L. Apple of Guilford County, a State College graduate, who came here August 1 to succeed Jones as head of the experiment station. Apple spoke briefly and said he is "glad to be working in the best tobacco growing county in the state."

Mayor J. W. Rook, who has been "chief burgess" of Bethel for a quarter of a century, Rotary President Hunnicutt and others present pledged their support to the research farm.

The Bethel Rotary Club holds its supper meeting Tuesday nights at 7 o'clock. W. R. Hunnicutt is president, R. E. Riddick is vice-president, and Harold Staton is secretary. Mayor J. W. Rook, D. T. House, Z. V. Bunting, R. E. Riddick and A. M. McWhorter are directors.

Miss Ricks Honored At Shower

On Monday evening, Miss Bratha Reagan and Mrs. Andy Garcia entertained Miss Elizabeth Ricks, bride-elect, at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Reagan. The honoree was presented a corsage of white gladioli.

Mixed garden flowers decorated the home with a miniature bride and groom on the mantel entwined with ivy.

Brige and rummy were enjoyed at four tables. After several progressions, Mrs. Penrose Perkins was awarded high score, Mrs. Billy Corey, low score, and Mrs. Mitchell Avery was awarded high score for rummy.

The hostesses served coca colas and cornets during progressions and later in the evening served a green and white dessert course.

After refreshments were served, an umbrella, carrying out the color scheme of green and white, laden with gifts were brought in. Miss Ricks received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mesdames Paul T. Ricks, Reuben Avery, J. R. Etheridge, and Miss Clara Seago were among the guests who joined the others for refreshments.

Tea Given For Bride-Elect

On Wednesday afternoon, August 17, the spacious house of Mrs. Roy T. Cox of Winterville was the scene of one of the most outstanding social events of the summer when Mesdames Roy T. Cox, M. T. Spier, Roy E. Davenport, Sr., of Winterville and Mrs. R. P. Wheelock of Farmville, entertained at tea honoring Miss Mamie Barnhill McLawhorn, bride-elect of September 2.

Mrs. Roy Edward Davenport, Jr., of Plymouth, N. C., was also honored. Mrs. J. L. Rollins and Mrs. John R. Carroll greeted the guests at the front door.

Mrs. Ruel Tyson of Greenville presented the guests to the receiving line composed of the hostesses, bride-elect, Miss Mamie Barnhill McLawhorn, Mrs. D. T. McLawhorn, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. C. J. Jenkins, grandmother of the bride-elect, of Edison, Ga., Mrs. Roy Edward Davenport, Jr., and her mother, Mrs. Roy Manning, of Plymouth.

Mrs. Norma Forbes directed the guests in to the beautifully decorated dining room where Mrs. C. D. Langston served lime ice punch from the lovely appointed table. A handsome imported white linen cover was used with a centerpiece of white asters

Three Couples Graduate Together

In these modern times when women are not content to sit at home while the men go out in the world we often find them right along beside their husbands. Such was the case with Mrs. Charlotte Wooten Forest of Pactolus, Mrs. Daisy Lee Latham of Bethel and Mrs. Ruth Basnight of Elizabeth City. Rather than be exalted by their husbands these teacher-husbands followed them right off to college. Now instead of one graduating in the family, there are two. On August 26, East Carolina Teachers College conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Milton Basnight, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Latham and Mr. and Mrs. Ola Forest the master of arts degree. This is the first time in the history of the college that three couples were graduated at the same time. According to the predictions this record will not stand long.

Lyman Gorham Acquitted By Jury On Arson Charge

Who threw the match in James Dupree's gas tank? The prosecution said it was Lyman Gorham. The defense said it couldn't have been. A jury of twelve white men deliberated an hour and twenty minutes before it decided that it must have been someone else.

Gorham, stocky little Negro farm laborer, was acquitted early today of the arson charge which consumed nearly all of yesterday's Superior Court session under Judge R. Hunt Parker.

Gorham was charged with trying to burn a car in which Dupree was sleeping July 24.

It was a dynamic defense put up by Attorney S. O. Worthington. The prominent Greenville lawyer declared to the jury yesterday that it would have been impossible for Gorham to set fire to Dupree's car at around 6 o'clock in the morning as at the same time he was working in a tobacco barn some eight miles away. He expressed doubt that Gorham could have ridden on the back bumper of the Dupree car to the scene of the crime, a theory which was advanced by the state.

Worthington, in his address to the jury, declared that the prosecuting witnesses were "out to railroad Lyman Gorham."

The charges of "railroading" were hotly disputed by Solicitor W. J. Bundy, who declared vehemently that "no one is going to be railroaded as long as I am solicitor."

The state's fight was devoted mainly to an alleged admission of guilt by Gorham. The prosecuting witnesses said Gorham told them some few days after the attempted burning that he had set fire to the car and had stolen Dupree's shirt.

Gorham vigorously denied having ever said he tried to set fire to the automobile.

The odds against women giving birth to quadruplets in the United States are about 650,000 to 1.

ELI BLOOM TO PRESENT PROGRAM FOR KIWANIS

Eli Bloom will have charge of the program at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting Friday evening at 8:30. Music and songs will feature the meeting. Arthur B. Corey and Milo Smith, delegates to the recent Carolina Kiwanis District convention at Chapel Hill, are expected to report on the convention.

Red Oak News

Twenty members and five visitors attended a most enjoyable meeting of Circle No. 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Tyson last Sunday evening. Mrs. Ola Kittrell presided over the meeting and Mrs. Thurman Page conducted the devotional. Her theme was "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

We were sorry that our secretary was unable to attend, but she reported a very nice sum in the treasury over the telephone.

Final plans were made for the old-fashioned lawn party which will be held this coming Tuesday evening, September 6th.

If you have never been to an old-fashioned barbecue dinner out in the country then you have really missed something. Last Sunday Mrs. F. L. Allen and his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Vandford celebrated their birthdays by having over 200 of their neighbors and friends from far and near at a barbecue and fried chicken dinner at the home of Mr. Allen.

The feast, supplemented with many home-made cakes, pickles, salads, sandwiches and ice tea was spread on a long table under the old oaks that have furnished shade at that old homestead longer than anyone present could remember. Among those present were the sheriff, doctors, nurses, tobacco men and bankers and undertakers. We were really prepared for anything that might have happened!

Many useful gifts were received by the honorees. Mr. Fenner Allen was presented a Bible by the members of Red Oak church in recognition of his birthday and his many years of faithfulness to the Sunday school. His record shows that he has only missed two Sundays in ten years. He has been the superintendent for most of those years.

Many people from Raleigh, Portsmouth, South Boston, Emporia and Hyde county, besides from nearby communities were present.

About 50 men, women and children enjoyed a lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tyson last Wednesday evening. Games were played by the children. The older folks enjoyed a short talk by Miss Hazel Garris, president of the North Carolina 4-H clubs. Miss Garris is a fine young person and it is always an inspiration to have her with us.

Short talks by Sheriff Tyson and Mrs. Tyson, Mr. S. C. Winchester (short indeed!) and Mrs. Fred Langford were also enjoyed. We were filled with mingled emotions when we were told that Mrs. Langford had resigned her position as Home Agent for Pitt county.

We know by experience and by hearing those higher up in the Home Demonstration work that Mrs. Langford is considered the most capable and best agent in the whole of North Carolina. What she has actually done for the people of Pitt county will never be known, but she has really put Pitt county on the map in club work. The work has grown by leaps and bounds in the eight years that she has been one of us. We are proud of her. We consider it a great honor for her to have been selected from among all the other extension workers in the state to fill the position of district agent for the 17 Tidewater counties of the state. She will do a good job. We are happy that she will still live in the county and so will still be

Tar Heel Airman Aids Evacuation Of Revolt Area

Lima, Peru, Aug 31—(AP)—M. K. Clapp of Burlington, N. C., pilot of a Panagra flight, assisted Americans, Peruvians and Chileans in fleeing from revolt-torn Bolivia.

He arrived here yesterday from Campo Grande, Brazil, and said he was given permission by Rebel Chierlantis at Santa Cruz to pick up the fugitives. He landed at Santa Cruz airport despite heavy bombing by government force planes. The rebels seemed to be in complete control there, he added.

There were no incidents at the airport, Clapp said, and he was treated courteously by rebel leaders.

Passengers on his ship said rebels claimed control of all important cities in Bolivia except La Paz, Sucre and Potosi.

Bolivian Forces Claim Success

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug 31—(AP)—The Cochabamba radio reported that government forces today recaptured Cochabamba, which rightist rebels had held since Saturday.

Troops under Gen. Ovidio Quiroga took control of the rebel stronghold, 150 miles southeast of La Paz, at 9 a.m. after four days of fighting, the radio announced.

The general staff said last night that most of the resistance in the city of 90,000 population had been crushed, but that actual occupation would be delayed until today to avoid "probable disturbances."

The United States has about 38,000,000 telephones.

Junior Chamber To Hold Important Meeting Thursday

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its bi-monthly supper meeting at the Olde Towne Inn Thursday night at 6:30. President Louis W. Gaylord will preside.

"Farmers' Day" committees are expected to report on arrangements for Saturday, September 3. The committee in charge of the sale of season football tickets at ECTC stadium also is expected to report. This will be an important meeting and all members are requested to attend.

GREEN POINTER HELPS TRAFFIC ON AVENUE

Much traffic congestion has been eliminated at Dickinson Avenue and the Coast Line railroad tracks by the marking of three lanes and a green pointer, indicating to motor vehicle drivers that if they are in the right hand lane, they may turn to the right on the red light, if the green pointer is shown. No left turns are allowed on that thoroughfare west of the railroad unless the vehicle is in the middle lane.

Strength FOR THE DAY

"IF YOU PASSING MEET ME"
One of Walt Whitman's short poems called "If you passing meet me" runs as follows: "Stranger, if you passing meet me and desire to speak to me, why should you not speak to me? And why should I not speak to you? Whitman, like many wise men, had discovered the enrichment of life which comes from the genuine outflow of friendship from one human being to another.

Greeting strangers on the street has gone out of fashion in recent years, except in the smallest communities, and the poet's appeal undoubtedly seems bizarre to many readers now. It is a habit which should be brought back into fashion. Psychologically, it is good for both the speaker and the man greeted, tending to direct their minds outward, and off themselves. Spiritually, it is good also, revealing and encouraging sympathy for fellow beings.

And this habit, good for the individual, is equally good for the group. Democracy works only through the union of the people and works well only when the union is strong and sympathetic. The inhabitants of a totalitarian state, where the power is vested in a dictator, may live in sullen silence and suspicion of each other; but the citizens of a democracy must stand together if their country is to survive. The friendly word of greeting is a fine way to strengthen our bonds with all men.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN MISSET
HANDS OFF—Governor Scott said at his latest press conference that the question of regulating auction tobacco sales had not been officially brought to his attention, and that at present he did not intend to take a hand in it. The governor's statement came in answer to a question which was prompted by the confusion existing on tobacco markets over definition of a legitimate sale. The Bright Leaf Belt Warehouse Association, embracing operators from Florida to Virginia, adopted a rule that no sales would be recognized unless attended by buyers of "the three" major tobacco companies and buyers of at least three other recognized purchasing firms. Court action was instituted in Wake County Superior court by the association for a show cause order directed at the Rocky Mount market for allegedly conducting a fifth sale without the required staff of buyers.

RUMPS—These inadequately staffed auctions have been designated "rump sales." They have been conducted on long established markets at Rocky Mount, Wilson, Kingston, Goldsboro and Smithfield, and at several small markets in the border and eastern belts. These "rump sales" were not recognized by the Warehouse Association, and the Association is going to court to maintain its authority over the matter. But the warehouse association finds itself in embarrassing position because of developments on five markets in the Sandhills section of the middle belt this week.

MORE HUMPS—By authority of the Warehouse Association markets opened Monday at Aberdeen, Carthage, Elerbe, Fuquay-Varina and Sanford, three days ahead of the previously fixed opening date for the middle belt. These markets were accredited by the Association as "legal," and tobacco sold on them brought good prices, but—according to the warehousemen's own definition they were "rump sales" because only two of the three designated major companies were represented. American and Reynolds buyers were on the job, but Liggett & Myers buyers were not present Monday. The story is that LAM respects only the belt-wide opening date of Sept. 1 and will have buyers present on and after that date.

TSAR—A reporter told Governor Scott he had heard the suggestion that the tobacco trade needed a Tsar or czar. If you prefer that spelling for the big boss to exercise authority similar to that wielded by Eric Johnson in moving pictures and the late Judge Landis in baseball, and that Kerr Scott would make a good man for the job. The governor smiled and said "Seems like there are already some folks who want to do that."

READING—Governor Scott apparently is not a very fast reader. Weeks after he had announced appointment of Dr. Frank Graham to

The Man Who Came To Dinner

NOTE—ONE PERSON OUT OF EVERY SEVEN IN THE U.S. REGULARLY RECEIVES GOVT. MONEY!
McNaught Syndicate, N.Y.C. R.C. MANNING

the United States Senate he told newsmen he had not read the letters and telegrams of endorsement for Graham and other candidates. He was quoted as saying Monday night he had not read the letter filed at noon that day by J. L. Horne, resigning from the board of conservation and development. Asked by reporters Tuesday if the SBI investigation of the state advertising business was complete, he said he supposed it was but that he had not had time to read the report.

CHANGE—Horne's resignation was the second from the board of conservation and development in a few weeks. Both stemming from state advertising handling. About two weeks ago Tom Alexander, who was appointed by Scott to the board this summer, resigned because he said he found he was expected to serve just as a rubber stamp for the Governor. Horne's letter continued the same thought, but was couched in more emphatic language. He is quitting after more than sixteen years on the board, most of this time as vice chairman. In Alexander's place the governor named Dr. Locke Robinson of Mars Hill, and for Horne's place he named Sylvester Greene, editor of the Durham Herald. Replacement of Alexander left the board without a representative of the tourist industry; the Greene appointment retains a newspaper man, substituting a morning editor for an afternoon publisher.

Boyle's Column

By MAL BOYLE
East Hampton, N. Y.—(AP)—The fat man lay stretched on the beach, blissfully at peace, lulled asleep by the sea-od sound.

Suddenly a shower of sand fell on his face. The fat man looked up into the serious face of a tow-headed five-year-old boy with a big brow. The boy held an animal book under his arm.

"Let's play a game," he said.

"Go away little boy," said the fat man crossly. "I am paying $14 a day at this resort to get sunburned—and you are standing in my sun."

"But there is nobody else for me to play with," said the boy stubbornly. The fat man could see he was a modern child, used to having his own way.

"If I play one game with you, will you go away?" He asked.

"Yes. Let's play guess-the-animal."

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Garbage is powerful stuff. Those four words hit the paper at 8:30 last night, and not another one left the typewriter until 9:55 when the last man was out and the Greenville Greengies had defeated New Bern, 4-2. Jack Hedgepeth's vivid sports, as always, kept my mind 40 miles from the column. When the game was over and the Greengies had broken the 10-game losing streak I came back to the remarkable fact: garbage is powerful stuff.

Last week I did a column in which I confessed that the one job I hate most is emptying the garbage. Anything you do is more fun, or less antagonizing, if you make a game out of it. So I figured out a way to make the garbage job less annoying. My garbage can is small, and my neighbor, J. D. Wilson, has a big one. When no one was looking I sneaked mine into his can as a great sport.

This was getting to be a lot of fun, but one day my can was full and I had surplus garbage on hand. J. D. was in the back yard, which made the sneak job impossible.

"J. D.," I said, "how about putting this garbage into your can?"

Most of the time I'm glad J. D. is such a nice fellow, but this time I was almost sorry. It just broke my heart when he said, "Sure. Any time you need room just use my can."

Now I have to empty the garbage without the sport of slipping it into J. D.'s can. Just think how much fun it would have been if

The boy, who had been stealing looks at his picture book, now frankly opened it and began going through it page by page.

"Then it must be a protoceras, a phororhacus or a pseudelurus?"

"Nope."

"But it has to be. That's all there are in the book."

"I didn't say it was in the book."

"Oh, well, if it laid eggs it could be a platypus. Or if it was a marsupial it could be a possum."

"Nope."

"Is it a mammal or a reptile?"

"Mammal."

"Oh. Is it a pichiclagio—that's really an armadillo, you know. Or a porcupine, a puma or a panther."

"Nope. I can't think of any more," said the little boy sadly.

"You haven't thought of panda."

"Oh, that right. Is it a panda."

"Nope."

"Then I give up. What could it be?"

"It's a pig!" shouted the fat man happily.

"A pig!" said the little boy, caught between scorn and tears. "A pig! Nobody would ever think of a pig. It isn't fair. I'm not going to play with you any more."

He stamped away across the beach.

"Modern children!" chuckled the fat man, lying down again. He was so pleased with himself he didn't fall asleep for five minutes.

Anchored to failure—by poor vision

The class "dullard" has often proved to be the most intelligent child in the class... when his defective vision was discovered and corrected.

The turned out, to be an active, likeable leader of his classmates... when his defective vision was discovered and corrected.

Poor vision is an unsuspected handicap that is anchoring many fine children, today, to failure. The only way of discovering its presence is by an eyesight examination.

Ridgeway
At Five Points, Greenville, N. C.

he had objected to my using it. By now I should explain to you why I say garbage is such powerful stuff. Not only does it make the average husband miserable, but plenty of people make a living on account of it. The collectors have been earning a living because of the mess for years, but a new department has opened up.

One member of this department is Frank Brown of the City Plumbing Company. Frank read my column on garbage and wrote me this letter:

Dear Jack,

I am quite concerned about your garbage trouble. I agree 100% with all you had to say against it, but Jack, as you can see by reading the enclosed leaflet, it is not necessary. You can install an electric automatic garbage disposal and give your garbage can to J. D.

Yours truly,
Frank M. Brown

That's what I call being an alert businessman, and at the same time a good judge of reserve capital. Frank knows that I can't afford a dispose-all, but at the same time he probably figured I'd print the letter. Thus, publicity. The percentage of business failure is alarming, but we can rest assured that plumbers like Frank will be in business for years to come.

This isn't the first example of Frank's alertness. That advertising phrase, "Frank gets another one," has been well known for years around Greenville.

Thanks just the same, Frank, but I guess I'll keep on getting rid of garbage the hard way. The task might supply me with material for another column some day.

And I thank you.

FISHERMAN GETS SNAKE
Helena, Mont.—(AP)—James Cline went fishing, caught no fish and didn't want to return empty-handed. So when he saw a rattlesnake beside the trail as he headed home he lassoed it with his fish line, and brought it to town and gave it to a carnival.

Washington Letter

Washington—There will be big doings in the capital in October. Jawaharlal Nehru, India's prime minister, has accepted President Truman's invitation to visit the United States. A special welcome mat will be laid out at the Indian embassy, where his sister, Mme. Pandit reigns as the first woman ambassador to Washington.

Handsome, bronzed and silver-haired, Mr. Nehru spent 10 years of his life in prison for his part in agitating for Indian independence. He became India's foremost leader when Mahatma Gandhi was assassinated in 1948. Mr. Nehru, one of Gandhi's most devoted followers, collapsed at his death and was himself almost assassinated.

Mr. Nehru, who will be 60 in November, was born in Allahabad in northern India, the son of a wealthy Kashmiri Brahman, Motilal Nehru, one of India's most distinguished lawyers. The elder Nehru, who eventually joined his son as a Gandhi follower, spent almost as much time in prison as did his son. He died in 1931 after long imprisonment the year before.

Other members of the Nehru family were also imprisoned for civil disobedience, including Mme. Pandit, and Mr. Nehru's beautiful wife, Kamala, to whom he was married in 1916 and who died in 1936. During 1922, when Mr. Nehru was serving a term in prison for his part in organizing the United Provinces agrarian conference, his mother was severely beaten by street mobs. She later died. Mr. Nehru devoted his time in prison to writing. His "Glimpses of World History," "Discovery of India," and his autobiography, "Toward Freedom," written in 1941, received high praise from literary critics.

Nehru received his early education from an English tutor, Ferdinand T. Brooks, who taught him to read the English classics and science. He became a member of the Theosophist Society at 13. He went to Harrow and to Trinity College, Cambridge, where he won honors in the natural sciences—botany, chemistry and geology. After receiving his degree in 1910 he studied law for two years at the Inner Temple in London.

His first visit to England after he became prime minister was in October last year, when he attended the London meeting of the commonwealth prime ministers. He has traveled in many countries—Russia, Burma, Malaya, Spain, Czechoslovakia, Ceylon, China—but this is his first visit to the United States.

Five-foot, ten inches, lean, with aquiline nose and eloquent brown eyes, Mr. Nehru is notably sensitive and humane and possesses "terrific moral courage," his friends say. He

Full Agenda To Confront Commissioner's Session

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 31—(AP)—A full and varied agenda will face the State Highway Commission when it meets here tomorrow.

The group is expected to:

1. Hear from highway contractors who are fighting use of rural road bond money to buy road-building equipment.
2. Consider low bids totaling $2,908,613.52 on 29 road projects. Bids on these projects were opened yesterday.
3. Draft a new prison discipline code.
4. Discuss plans for remodeling or replacing the commission's equipment depot here.

Roadbuilders served notice on the commission yesterday that they will appear to press their opposition to the allocation of $5,000,000 of the $200,000,000 secondary road bond money for buying road-building equipment.

A petition recently sent by the contractors to Governor Scott and the commission warned that the commission might be forced to defend its decision in the courts. They asked that plans to purchase the equipment with bond money either be abandoned or delayed until an advisory opinion could be obtained from the State Supreme Court on legality of this use of funds.

Contracts already have been placed for the equipment. The first of it is expected to begin arriving at the commission's central equipment depot here this week.

Sandwich Board Carrier's Wife Ired . . . Retires

Tokyo, Aug. 31—(AP)—Yasuo Kobayashi, 27, got the only job he could find—walking around town carrying a billboard.

That upset his wife, Katsuko, 28. This was no job for the son of a former Japanese army lieutenant general, she said—and left him.

Yasuo added to his sign this advertisement of his own:

"Bright and cheerful wife wanted. Would-be groom 27 years old."

Eight candidates applied.

Trudging his rounds today, Yasuo said if Katsuko did not return by the end of October he would marry one of the eight.

Colonel Worried Over Movie MP

London—(AP)—The man slouched on the bench at London's Waterloo station was just what a military policeman should not be: Cap over eyes, buttons undone, cigarette dangling from lips. The obvious colonel in civilian clothes bristled with indignation.

"Stand up man," he said. "What do you mean by setting such a slovenly example?"

"Eh, chum?" murmured the reclining figure.

"Dammit sir, what's your number? Who's your e. o.?" bellowed the colonel.

"Now look here, mate"

At that moment he was called to take his place with other extras on the station platform for filming another scene in "Seven days to Noo." The colonel, speechless and scarlet, retreated.

School Building Plans On Agenda

Raleigh, Aug. 31—(AP)—A discussion of the $50,000,000 school building program is expected to be taken up by the Building Committee of the State Board of Education today.

The Building Committee is meeting preparatory to tomorrow's meeting of the full board.

Primary business on the agenda for the full board tomorrow is an ironing out of final details relative

Liquor Stores Beaten In Stokes

Danbury, Aug. 31—(AP)—Stokes County yesterday voted against opening ABC liquor stores by an unofficial majority of 1,093 ballots.

The result from all 21 precincts was against the store 3,487, for 2,394.

Twelve years ago the county voted against the store by 749 ballots in a total of 4,729. An unofficial total of 5,881 votes was cast yesterday.

TEEN TALK

(Dear Judy)

Hold everything, brown-haired girls, before putting that touch of henna or peroxide in your rinse water. Not only the new Junior Miss America, but her two runners-up have brown hair.

Carolyn Rudy, of Bluffton, Ind. the winner, sang and strolled her way to the title. The 17-year-old high school girl grabbed the crown on the strength of her beauty and accomplishments, which included piano playing, singing and baton twirling. So get busy with your bagpipes, girls, if you want to compete for the crown next year. It's not enough to just be plain or beautiful these days. And remember your diet, too — the five-foot-five Junior Queen measures 34 bust, 24 waist, 34 hips — good measurements in any glamor league.

Did the title go to Carolyn's head? Absolutely, not. All she is thinking about is going back to high school where she plans to study journalism. One of her contest prizes is a scholarship to a New York theatrical school.

If you want to avoid hobbling around like an old lady when you are 30, choose your shoes with care now. Or maybe you already are having little troublesome warnings such as a small toe that curls, or a corn or a bunion or a callous.

Pediatricists say that most of their footsore patients blame their foot ills on wearing ill-fitting shoes in their teens. Some girls are ashamed to wear large shoes for fear it will cramp their style, but cramping their feet still is worse punishment. Maybe we'll blame it on the poets for lauding the girl with tiny feet, and perhaps we've played up Cinderella far too much. But it certainly is no disgrace to have big feet these days. Girls are bigger and it goes with size. And wouldn't a big girl look silly with itty bitty feet?

Large scale foot examinations of New York City school children made by pediatricists in cooperation with the city health department showed appalling results. Eighty-five percent of the 350,000 youngsters examined to date are afflicted with foot ailments caused by incorrect footwear say the foot specialists.

Of course it's not all their fault. Mothers often insist that girls wear hand-me-downs that are too-small or too-large. But some teen-agers' foot defects were caused by the habit of wearing high-heeled shoes which pitch body weight forward over-stretching muscles and tendons. Lots of them insist on wearing party shoes on the slightest provocation.

It's not necessary these days to go in for this brand of grown-up glamor. Fancy shoes just make you look silly and over-dressed, besides all the damage they do to your feet. Sensible shoes no longer are ugly as they were when Mom was a girl. Even laced oxfords with leather uppers and soles recommended by orthopedic surgeons and foot experts for school wear are pretty.

Besides oxfords, there are saddle shoes, Mary Janes, monk-toed types, bluchers and a whole range of dressy shoes with special "big-girl" treatment in the form of buckles, laces, ghillie ties, ankle straps. All of these have leather soles needed for support.

Foot experts say young feet grow so fast they reach a new shoe size every one to six months until the age of 15. That's why they should be measured carefully every time a new pair of shoes is bought. Your big toe should lie straight forward without overlapping or underlying the second toe in any degree, when in your shoes. Only by wearing shoes long enough and wide enough can toes be kept in proper condition. Play shoes often are the big bug-a-boos, they further stress. Sneakers do not give enough support to wear at long stretches, also they might create breeding grounds for fungus infections if foot perspiration is hemmed in. Moccasins need to be fitted carefully as soft counters lack a firm grip around the heel. They should only be worn on city pavements if they have good leather soles which will also counteract any tendency this shoe may have towards spreading.

Rural Vote Was Factor Behind Liquor Defeat

Winston-Salem, N.C., Aug. 31—(AP)—Forsyth County yesterday voted against establishing ABC liquor stores, 15,734 to 12,025. A heavy dry rural vote overrode a majority for the controlled stores in Winston-Salem.

The complete, unofficial count of Winston-Salem's 15 precincts was 8,845 for the stores, 7,342 against. In the remaining 17 precincts it was 8,392 against, 3,380 for.

The total vote, 27,759, was a record for any election in the county.

Eighty-Seven Years Old, Still Boy Scout

Par, England—(AP)—Dan Chapman believes in the motto, "Once a boy scout, always a boy scout." Dan claims to be the oldest scout in the world. He's 87.

He still leads Par Troop 1 on 10-mile hikes. He founded the troop and became its scoutmaster back in 1908 the year after the scout movement itself was started.

She Is The Railroad In English Village

Stanhoe, England—(AP)—Railroad trains just couldn't get through this Norfolk village without Mrs. Allen Wells, 48-year-old grandmother and mother of six. For eight years she has been stationmaster, signalman, ticket taker, porter and lamplighter.

She is on the job 17 hours a day and watches a dozen trains pass through. She also finds time to send four children to school or work, keep house and tend a flowerbed.

Unions Can't Agree On Strike Or Negotiations

Baltimore, Aug. 31—(P)—Truck drivers and helpers bargaining for higher wages were in disagreement today as to whether they will strike or continue contract talks.

They include members of locals here, in Cumberland and Hagerstown, Md., Washington D. C., and Winchester, Va.

In Baltimore a union spokesman said negotiations will continue.

In Hagerstown there was talk of a strike.

Agreements covering some 8,100 drivers and helpers expire at 6 p. M. today and at midnight.

Spokesmen for the 85 freight carriers and the AFL truck drivers and helpers local here, said negotiations are to continue, even beyond the expiration of the present contract if necessary.

But in Hagerstown, F. W. Butler, business agent for local No. 992 said the 300 workers there were prepared to walk out if a new contract is not signed by midnight.

Butler said his local and three others—No. 557 in Baltimore, 453 in Cumberland and Winchester, Va., and 639 in Washington—had agreed to act together.

He said the locals would strike if new agreements were not reached by midnight. The locals, he said, claim representation of 5,100 workers.

Eight New Entries Received For Beauty Pageant On Farmers Day

Entries were received today from Mildred Cratch of Choowinity sponsored by the Ruritan club, Alice Clark of Enfield, sponsored by the Enfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, Norris Bridges of Tarboro route three, sponsored by the 4-H club, Doris Bridges of Tarboro route three, sponsored by the 4-H club, Jean Lanier of West Edgecombe, sponsored by the 4-H club, Lots Turner of Oakdale, sponsored by the 4-H club, Jacqueline Leigh of Crisp, sponsored by the 4-H club and Jean Bailey of Tarboro RFD sponsored by the 4-H club.

Counties represented in the Greenville Farmers Day beauty pageant so far include Pitt, Martin, Edgecombe, Beaufort, Craven, Halifax, Greene and Wilson. The deadline for entries in the beauty pageant is midnight tonight.

'Disturbance'

Miami, Fla., Aug. 31—(AP)—A small tropical disturbance of apparent slight intensity was located east of the Barbados, far out in the Atlantic early today.

The weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said it was about 135 miles southeast of the Barbados, pin-pointed at latitude 12.0 north and longitude 57.6 west.

Typhoon Lashes Japanese Coast; Heavy Damage

Tokyo, Aug. 31—(AP)—The worst typhoon in 11 years whipped across crowded Yokohama and Tokyo tonight.

Giant seas lashed the coast. High waves accompanied an 80 mile an hour wind.

Widespread damage was feared in coastal areas.

First Japanese reports said a steamer with 50 passengers aboard was lost off the China coast across Tokyo Bay. More than 200 fishing boats were swept away from the western shore of Sagami Bay.

The barracks of the U.S. Fifth Cavalry Regiment on a peninsula between Sagami and Tokyo Bays were damaged. No troops were reported hurt.

Mustian Hurls 4-2 Win Over Bears As Locals End Long Losing Streak

Greenies Score In Fifth, Sixth, Eighth And Ninth Frames; Play Leafs Here Tonight

By BERT MOYE
The ten-game losing streak of the Greenies came to a close last night at New Bern as Manager Pappy Williams and his boys clipped the New Bern Bears, 4 to 2, as Vernon (Preacher) Mustian held the Bears to six well scattered hits, to gain his first win of the season from Manager Bull Hamons' nine.

The win for Mustian was his sixth of the season. He has suffered three defeats.

The Greenies scored their first run in the fifth frame when Steve Denier reached first on Jake Danis's error. Mustian sacrificed him to second and then Charlie Graham singled to bring Denier home for the first run of the game.

In the sixth frame, after two men were out, Sid Varney blasted a 350-foot homer over the right field wall for Greenville's second run of the game and at this point the Greenies were out front by a 2 to 0 score.

What proved to be the winning run came in the eighth frame. John Tepedino walked and advanced to second on a wild pitch. He moved to third on Pappy Williams' infield out and scored on Willie Mauney's squeeze bunt.

A walk to Steve Denier, who was sacrificed to second by Mustian and Paul Strausser's double bringing home Denier, accounted for the Greenies' fourth tally of the game.

The Bears scored one run in the seventh frame when Bill Bevil singled, stole second and advanced to third on Catcher Varney's error. He came home on Joe Wheeler's single. Jim Burns' single and Jake Daniel's double accounted for the Bears' other run in the ninth frame.

Vernon (Preacher) Mustian had things all his way last night and did not allow a single hit until he had pitched four and two-thirds frames. He had pitched a superb game for the Greenies up to that time and had allowed only one man to reach first base, that being a walk. During the first six frames only 19 men faced him. All six hits given up by Mustian were scattered among as many New Bern players as Jake Daniel getting a double for the only extra-base knock.

Morris Lee started for the Bears, got as far as the ninth inning when he was replaced by Pete King. Sid Varney with a homer and a double in four trips to the plate and Mustian with two singles in two official trips to the plate led the seven-hit attack off the two Bear hurlers.

The Greenies play at home tonight when they meet the Rocky Mount Leafs in the first of a two-game series out at Guy Smith Stadium. Game time is 7:45. Remember, the Greenies have defeated the Leafs an even dozen times this season while dropping six. Come on out and support the club as they make the final dash to gain fourth place position. Your help is most needed at this time.

Team Manager Must Give Fans' Fund To Charity

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 31—(AP)—The manager of the Rock Hill, S. C. team of the class B Tri-State League was ordered today to turn over to charity $160 contributed by fans to pay fines levied against him for arguing with umpires.

President George M. Trautman of the minors coupled the order against manager Richard D. Donknight with a warning to other clubs. He said: "All clubs are solemnly warned that any and all fines imposed upon players or managers must be paid out of the funds of the player or manager involved."

"Any contrary policy on the part of the club, or any evidence of acquiescence by the club in a fan's collection such as took place in this instance, will call for the imposition of severe penalties by this office upon the club concerned."

Ring Champions Sure Of Pay In Fight Carnival

Chicago, Aug. 31—(AP)—Whatever attendance the "Carnival of Champions" attracts at Chicago Stadium Friday night, the six exhibiting world title-holders are certain of collecting their fees.

Promoter Fred Irvin has deposited $21,500 with the Illinois State Athletic Commission as a payoff guarantee.

One of the big items not listed with the commission, however, is retired heavyweight champion Joe Louis' pay for refereeing a four-round exhibition between his successor (NBA version), Ezzard Charles, and Joe Modzele, New Kensington, Pa.

Rocky Mount at GREENVILLE
Goldsboro at New Bern
Kinston at Wilson
Tarboro at Roanoke Rapids

o-o-o
The Greenies' win over the New Bern Bears last night was the first game the Greenies won since August 17. . . The win for the Greenies was number eight over the Bears and as this was the last game of the season between the Bears in regular season play the two clubs now have a 12-8 record in the 20 series. . . Incidentally in the 20 games played between the two clubs the Bears have scored a total of 118 runs and Greenville 101 runs.

The win for Preacher Mustian was his sixth of the season and his first over the Bears. . . The loss by Morris Lee to the Greenies now gives him a record of one win as against three losses for the season. . . Tony Palica, who replaced Charlie Graham in the rightfield position during the contest last night really made a wonderful catch of that long drive off the bat of Pete King. . . Palica had to go back against the right field wall to pull the ball down and it was this catch that no doubt saved the game for the Greenies.

o-o-o
The rumors circulating through the channels here yesterday morning that Umpire Tolle had been suspended for the remainder of the season and that the fine imposed on Pappy Williams had been withdrawn, are absolutely false. A check with President Ray Goodmon's office in Williamston yesterday morning by your writer confirmed the above statements.

o-o-o
President Ray Goodmon took time off from his duties in the Coastal Plain to travel to Greenville to act as judge in the beauty contest to pick "Miss Greensboro Patriot." In an interview with Moses Crutchfield of the sports department of the Greensboro Daily News, President Goodmon cited two main reasons for drop in gate receipts in the Coastal Plain this year. He cited labor troubles in this area, referring to the strikes at Tarboro and Roanoke Rapids and he said the inclement weather during the season was the other factor.

o-o-o
Harry Owens, who was recalled by the Norfolk Club of the Piedmont League, from the Roanoke Rapids Jays, started for Norfolk last night and lasted one and one-third frames before being relieved.

o-o-o
During his stay with the Jays he had a 9 and 6 record. . . Three more home games remain on the Greenies' schedule. . . tonight with the Rocky Mount Leafs, Friday night with Wilson, which will be Appreciation Night for the Players and on Sunday afternoon with the Kinston Eagles.

o-o-o
Southpaw Warren Spahn of the Braves completed the circuit with at least one victory over every other league club when he calmed the Dodgers, 4 to 0, August 20. It was his third shutout decision of the season.

Schroeder And Gonzales On Way To Epic Match

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 29—(AP)—Having taken turns knocking the daylight out of Australia's Davis cup players, Ted Schroeder and Pancho Gonzales today started along the path which should bring them together in an epic match at Forest Hills on labor day.

Schroeder, holder of the coveted Wimbledon crown is seeded No. 1 in the national championships. Gonzales, who will be defending the title he won a year ago, is seeded No. 2, and big Pancho doesn't understand why. By custom, the champion automatically is at the head of the class.

The critics could see little to choose between the rival pair as each scored a second convincing victory over the Aussies in winding up another one sided Davis cup challenge round yesterday.

Rat Terrier Buries Three Dead Puppies Of Litter Of Nine

No story ever is as interesting as an anecdote about a faithful dog and Senator Vest of Alabama immortalized the dog as man's best friend in a wonderful "Tribute to the Dog."

Enoch Elijah Jones, official dog catcher for the city, today reported that "Spot," a rat terrier at the city dog pound, had six puppies and they died. He found nine young puppies of a similar breed whose mother had died. He placed the puppies with "Spot" and she mothered them diligently. One of the puppies died. "Spot" took it by a foot, carried it to a field, dug a hole and buried it. Two more of the puppies died and "Spot" buried them.

The six remaining puppies are growing and they appear to be of a good breed and suitable for pets.

The 299 score posted by Sar-Parks in the 1935 U. S. Open was the highest winning total for the journey in the 122 years.

Sophs Will Draw Most Attention At Early Drills

By the Associated Press
More than ever, the eyes of southern Conference coaches will follow the sophomores tomorrow when the 16 conference squads take the field for pre-season football drills.

Most circuit coaches will tell you it's the sophs, promising youngsters up from last year's freshman teams, who hold the key to the success or failure of some of the loop's most noted eleven.

Wake Forest's Demon Deacons, for one, are placing their faith in an upcoming flock of sophomores who looked like world-beaters last year on a freshman team which lost only one game. Some of these sophs won't be starters but they are depended on to give the Deacons depth enough to take on all comers.

North Carolina, the 1948 juggernaut, was punched full of holes by graduation. Coach Carl Snavely can well use some of the talent which performed for the 1948 Baby Tar Heels. Carolina has no-repeat nic-letmen at tackle and only one at center and guard.

William and Mary will pin its hopes on young Ted Filer to fill the center post left vacant by the departure of rugged Tommy Thompson. And the Indians, strong enough on defense, also are counting on sophomores to fill in the backfield passing and running slots.

Caddies Compete For Scholarship

Columbus, O., Aug. 31—(AP)—Shot-making for keeps starts at 7 a.m. (EST) today for 81 boys and two girls in the fourth annual National Caddie tournament.

They will be playing over one of the toughest championship courses in Central Ohio as they attempt to master the 7,120-yard Scarlet Course on Ohio State University's golf layout. To the champion will go a four-year college scholarship worth $1,500.

Coach Beattie Feathers is three-deep in guards, tackles and centers for his 1949 North Carolina State football team.

Play Thursday

The champions of the three divisions in the Boys League will be determined at Guy Smith Stadium Thursday night. The top two teams in each division will play a "one" game series to determine the champ. The opening game will start at 6:45 p.m. with the league-leading Giants taking on the Cubs. In the second game, the Wolves of W. Greenville battle the Red Sox from the Training School. In the final game the Yanks of the Training School and the Reds of W. Greenville will meet. There will be no admission charge for these games.

Vaneboro Team Will Stress 'T'

Vaneboro's high school football team opened its fall drills today under Coach Daniel Drew.

Twenty-one candidates, eleven of whom earned letters last year, reported for the opening session this morning. It is the second year of football at the school since pre-war days.

Coach Drew, who assumed the helm of sports activities at Vaneboro this year, announced that his team would work this year from the popular and effective "T" formation.

The Vaneboro gridders will work out twice daily until the opening of school on September 8th. Single practices will then be held after school.

Coach Drew is a 1949 graduate of High Point College. Prior to his war service as an infantry officer in the Pacific and European theatres he was a varsity letterman in football, basketball and baseball at Bacone College, Oklahoma.

Redskins Win Without Baugh

Denver, Aug. 31—(AP)—The Washington Redskins of the National Football League can get along without Sammy Baugh, their perennial mainstay—at least when they play the Detroit Lions.

Harry Glimmer, heir to Sammy's passing crown, sparked the Redskins to a 31-7 exhibition victory over the Lions here last night before 13,985 fans.

Stronger Grid Squad For Atlantic Christian Coach

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 31—Fifty-six gridiron hopefuls will report to head coach Bill Crutchfield here tomorrow when he opens the 1949 practice grind of the Atlantic Christian college football squad.

Twenty-two of the aspirants will be holdover lettermen and sophomores from the 1948 squad which showed vast improvement towards the end of the season.

Already tabbed to be an improved team over the '48 aggregation by the rival coaches of the North State conference, Crutchfield's team will need the improvement.

It will tie into a nine game schedule Sept. 16, the likes of which an Atlantic Christian team has never before seen. Opening with Catawba college in Salisbury, N. C., on that date, the Bulldogs will just be starting into their roughest grinds.

With such other conference luminaries as Lenoir-Rhyne, Appalachian State Teachers' Elion, East Carolina Teachers college, and Guilford on the slate and non-conference tilts with Slippery Rock, Newport News Apprentice, and the Norfolk Naval station new coach Crutchfield will need all the strength he can muster.

The squad will be bolstered, however, by such outstanding stalwarts as Ned Ligon, ACO's little All-American guard, Billy Beamon, one of the conferences outstanding tackles, Dave Green, and up and coming end, Jack Cashion, senior first string center, and Jack Allbrook, the fastest, little scabback who ever donned a show at the Bulldog bastion.

Nothing is known of the newcomers. They were handpicked by Crutchfield and his assistant, Bobby Reynolds. They are said to carry the glitter which makes good teams great.

Drobny Would Play Tennis For U. S. If He Is Allowed To Become Citizen

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 31—(AP)—Jaroslav Drobny, the man without a country, wanted to adopt the United States and play tennis on this side of the Atlantic as long as he can lift a racket.

"If I can obtain permission to stay here permanently, I will apply for U. S. citizenship," Drobny said in an interview while awaiting his second round match today in the National Tennis championships.

Disgusted with the Communist regime, Drobny and his former Davis Cup doubles partner, Vladimir Cernik, turned their backs on their native Czechoslovakia several weeks ago.

They left to play in a tournament in Switzerland and never returned. What's more, they never expect to go back. And Drobny is perfectly satisfied with the arrangement.

The chunky lefthander, one of the world's greatest amateur net stars probably is the happiest man in this tournament. Only two things could make him happier—to win the U. S. championship and have some word from the parents he left in Czechoslovakia.

"My mind is free now," he said. "And that helps my tennis. There is no life in Czechoslovakia for a man who wants to think for himself."

Chapter 22
In the Emergency ward at Bellevue Hospital, a business-like doctor spoke to Derris.
"There appear to be no broken bones, young lady, but you've had a nasty shock. It might be better for you to remain here for awhile under observation."
Derris struggled erect. "I tell you I'm perfectly all right and I've no intentions of staying here any longer."
She grabbed a phone and put a call through to Sarah.
"Only a few minutes later, she swept in."
"Well--Sarah's voice and manner were belligerent--"for getting yourself into trouble, you're way ahead of the crowd. First you had me nearly frantic when you didn't come home from the Zodiac, then your office tells me you're back and you call up to say you're in Bellevue Hospital. What craziness are you planning next?"
She sat down on the edge of the bed while Derris quickly related everything that had happened.
"Sarah. I've just thought of something. We've agreed, I think, that someone doesn't want me around any more."
Sarah looked at her suspiciously. "That," she replied, "seems quite evident. So--?"
"So since they've failed, they may try again. To do that, they've got to keep tabs on me. You can bet your bottom dollar they traced me to the hospital, and probably have someone down the street now, waiting to see what happens."
"Well, you don't need to sound so happy about it," the other replied.
"But don't you see?" Derris went on, becoming excited. "This may be our chance to get back at them. Come on--I'll explain in the taxi. I only hope it works."
"So do I," Sarah Murson responded fervently.
Once inside the cab, Derris leaned over to speak to the driver. She held out a five-dollar bill.
He eyed it suspiciously. "What's that for, lady?" he asked.
"I want you to do something for me. Don't worry; it won't get you into trouble. When we pull away from here, don't drive too fast, and keep looking to see if anyone is following us. If there is, be sure they don't lose us."
The driver raised his eyebrows. "Don't lose us? That's funny."
"Never mind. I'll tell you what to do then."
He shrugged. "O. K. You're the boss."
The cab swung away from the curb. Derris sat well back in a corner so that she would not obstruct the rear view mirror.
When Derris saw the driver tense "You're right," he said without turning his head. "Some guy wants to play tag. What next?"
"Don't do anything foolish," Sarah warned. She had been so quiet that Derris had almost forgotten her.
"Don't worry--this time I don't intend to be on the receiving end." Derris spoke to the driver. "This'll depend on how well you can handle a car. I want to lead him along for a while. Then try to make a sharp turn down some street that has a police box around the corner."
There was a dead silence.

You'll have to be fast when you do it, so that you're ahead of him, and the minute you've made the turn, pull up. The last move'll be up to you. Get him stopped near the police box. Make plenty of commotion when you do."
"I'll do the best I can," he replied. And he proceeded to concentrate on his driving.
"Hold on," the driver warned. Swinging around the corner with no perceptible slackening of speed, he slammed on the brakes. The pursuing car came into the turn very fast. Going into a wide skid, tires screaming, it came to a stop with one fender against the lamp-post almost directly across from the police box.
Derris' cab darted forward, cutting off the last avenue of escape. The driver of the sedan slowly climbed out, shaken by the sudden turn of events. "What's the big idea?" he blustered. "You trying to kill me?"
Derris spoke quickly to Sarah. "That's the man that tried to run me down. I'm sure of it. I'll make him wish he'd never tried it before I get through with him."
Already the sound of the voices raised in altercation was bringing results in the form of an advancing policeman.
"Here now--what's going on?" He began to pull out his book. "You, pointing his pencil at the driver of the sedan, 'what's your name?'"
"Just a minute," Derris moved into the foreground. "I'm responsible for what's happened here. I intended that it should. I want you to charge this man with hit and run driving. I'll be glad to come with you to prefer charges."
The patrolman looked at her suspiciously and scratched his head in bewilderment. "Well, now, I suppose if you're right--?"
Within a few minutes they were at the precinct station.
The procession crossed the intervening space to the night sergeant's desk.
The patrolman who had brought them began to speak.
"It's a crazy set-up, sarge. This dame here says she wants to prefer charges against this guy." He gave the latter a shove forward. "Claims he tried to run her down earlier tonight over on Forty-sixth. Ain't that so?" He looked at Derris for confirmation. When she nodded he continued. "Thinks he's a smart guy. Offered me a ten spot if I let him off. Want I should take 'em over to night court?"
The sergeant shook his head. "No, they finished up there about a half hour ago. We'll book him here. How about it?" he addressed the thug.
There was a dead silence.

MAC HICKS Telephone 2662

"You cops got no call to hold me," the man snarled. "This dame's crazy. I ain't never seen her before, leastways till the cab she was in tried to ram me. I'm not going to answer questions till you let me make a phone call. I got my rights." His tirade went completely unnoticed. "Name?" the sergeant asked.

After a short interval of silence the answer came sarcastically. "John Smith."
"Address?" The other calmly continued to write.
Derris glanced at the clock on the wall. The hands pointed to twenty minutes to twelve. The sergeant's voice droned on. (To be continued)

MORE PASSENGERS
Bangkok-(AP)--Passenger traffic on Thai (Siamese) railroads have increased more than four times since before the war. Goods shipments, however, have gone down in volume mainly because of the losses in rolling stock during the war years. During the next 12 months additional rolling stock is anticipated from Japan.

Sponsor Beauty Contest Friday

The Junior Woman's club and the City Recreation Committee will sponsor a beauty contest to be held at the Greenville city swimming pool Friday night at 8 o'clock for Greenville girls.

So far there are 14 contestants entered in the beauty contest and more are expected to enter before Friday night. A special section of seats are being erected for all persons who come down to watch the selection of the beauty queen. In addition to the crowning of the queen and the runner-ups there will also be included in the program a series of swimming demonstrations including diving, and swim races.

The Junior Woman's Club and the Recreation Committee are holding the beauty pageant as a grand finale to the summer activities of the two groups. It was stated today

A surprise will be in order for all who attend the contest as one boy will be dressed up like a girl and will be taking part in the beauty contest with the girls. Come down to the show and see if you can pick out the boy who looks like a girl in the appeal made by the sponsors.

J. M. Boyd will present the winners with prizes which have been given by various business firms in Greenville. Judges for the contest will be Mrs. Key Brown, Dink James and Joe Taft.

All city children will be admitted free of charge to the Greenville swimming pool all day Friday, while Saturday will be set aside for use by all farm children who come to town to enjoy the "Farmers Day" celebration to be held in Greenville September 3. The swimming pool will close for the year on Saturday, September 3, swimming pool officials reported today.

J. M. Johnston To Be Buried New York

Funeral services for James M. Johnston, 37, former Greenville citizen, who died at a Long Island

N. Y. hospital Tuesday morning after several days' illness, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Long Island.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Alma McGinnis Johnston; two daughters, Phyllis and Christine, of the home; his mother, Mrs. F. V. Johnston of Greenville; three brothers, Lt. Col. F. V. Johnston of Fort Bragg, and Alton R. Johnston and Steven Johnston of Greenville; two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Gray of LaGrange, and Margaret Johnston of Tarboro.

Call Firemen To Burning Debris

The Greenville Fire Department was called last night at 8:30 to the old Airport Inn to put out a fire which had started when the remains of the old building were being destroyed.

The Airport Inn burned several months ago and only one section of a storage building and the burnt timbers of the eating place remained after the fire.

It was reported by firemen that the owner of the Airport Inn, Leroy Cherry, was having the old timbers burned yesterday in order to clear up the place when the fire got out of control.

The danger of flying embers setting fire to nearby structures caused the firemen to be called. The burning of the old lumber was started sometime in the afternoon and the blaze got out of control before it could be put out, firemen said today.

Hose had to be laid from a water plug at the airport before the fire could be controlled.

Firemen today warned people about burning trash or other things on their property without first contacting the fire department. It was pointed out by firemen that a fire truck is usually sent out where there is to be any burning of trash on private property.

Advises Young Workers Return To Schoolbooks

Raleigh, Aug. 31—(AP)—Labor Commissioner Forrest H. Shuford had a word of advice today for more than 3,000 teen-agers who worked at vacation jobs this summer: Go back to school.

Shuford pointed out that in July factories employed 31,500 fewer workers than they did in July 1948 and that in July the Unemployment Security Commission had 68,000 job applications in its files.

"Boys and girls who have not finished high school should return to the classroom and complete their education," he said. "And not look for jobs in industry. Your best weapon in a competitive job market is a good education. You will earn more and be better, happier citizens if you finish school."

Events Moving . . .

(Continued from page one) the Kremlin's drive. One dramatic new move already has been made in allowing Tito to buy the steel mill which will be important in strengthening his military potential for defense. The probability of a loan, or loans, fits into this picture.

A significant aspect of this situation is that disaffection often is like an avalanche in the way it gathers weight as it progresses.

Woods To Learn Controls Outlay

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Housing Expediter Tigue Woods will pay a call on budget officials next week to decide how much money he can spend on rent controls. Then he will start cutting controls back.

Officials emphasized, however, that where rent ceilings are lifted care will be taken to protect tenants against eviction and rent overcharges.

The housing agency is now making broad surveys to find out where controls can be raised with the least possible hardship. Woods, now on vacation, will tie this information in with budget data in deciding where to decontrol.

Meanwhile, to keep such action at a minimum, the expediter's office has started a general economy drive intended, one official said, to "streamline control operations" all along the line.

Discharge notices already have gone out to 619 employees, mostly in regional rent control offices.

Vaughan . . .

Maragon—he's about the same age as Vaughan, 56—has a bald head and prominent eyes, and his fingers, which his son describes as being "big as bananas," have been in many pies.

And yesterday, while Vaughan added to the belittlement, Maragon watched from the rear of the crowded room where he was squeezed against the wall.

Vaughan handled the name of Maragon very lightly. Yes, he had known Maragon since around 1941 when Vaughan was secretary to the then Senator Truman in the Senate office building.

"Maragon," said Vaughan, "was one of those Senate office building characters." Maragon, leaning forward to hear every word, seemed to wince when Vaughan said that. And then Vaughan told how Maragon visited his office in the White House, used his phone in the reception office, and even had outside calls put through to him there.

Vaughan said when he found out about that, he told his secretary not to let Maragon do it again. He reprimanded Maragon, Vaughan said. One of the senators asked if Maragon stayed away after that.

"No," said Vaughan, getting a little ungrammatical for a moment, "he don't reprimand easily."

In the back of the room Maragon had a hurt look in his eyes.

O'Neal Family . . .

(Continued from page one) The project was described by the Rev. Leon Russell of Jarvis Memorial church here as "one of the finest things ever known in this community." He told the small gathering that it was proof that kindness, understanding and brotherhood still live.

Various leading figures in the campaign were called upon for remarks during the service, all of them expressing their pleasure in having a part in the campaign.

The United States has more than a dozen communities named Berlin.

No 'Stopgap'

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—President Truman and his Democratic high command today discarded suggestions of a stop-gap extension of the reciprocal trade agreements law. They elected to fight for the full program at this session.

Senate majority leader Lucas and Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee announced the decision after a conference with President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson at the White House.

Attempts United Farm Bill Front

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—President Truman called key Democrats to the White House today to iron out their differences on farm legislation.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois headed a Senate group that included Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Senator Anderson (D-NM), who used to be Secretary of Agriculture under Mr. Truman.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee was on the list. So was Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, who still is carrying on a stumping tour on behalf of his farm subsidy program, which both the House and Senate have cold-shouldered.

Anderson is the author of a compromise farm plan which has split the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The Anderson plan would keep the present high-level rigid price supports under the six "basic crops"—corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts—but would permit flexible supports for the others.

Thomas, chairman of the group is backing a farm bill passed by the House which would continue for another year the relatively high-level program used during the war to stimulate farm production.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Aug. 31—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices 26 to 50 cents higher. Tops of $19.75 at Winston, Goldsboro, Wilson, Greenville, and Washington.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Aug. 31—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady at 20; eggs steady. A large 59.

Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 31—(AP)—Wheat showed some underlying strength on the board of trade today despite prospects of large deliveries of cash grain on September contracts tomorrow. It was estimated that around 1,000,000 bushels would be tendered on these contracts.

Except for soybeans, the rest of the market was relatively quiet. Wheat closed 1/4-1/8 higher, September $2.00 1/2, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, September $1.28 1/2-3/4.

Oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher September 67-67 1/2, soybeans were 3 to 4 cents higher, November $2.34 1/4-1/2, and lard was 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.12.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Aug. 31—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 15 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher today.

Noon prices were unchanged to 45 cents a bale lower than the previous close. Oct. 29.78, Dec. 29.78 and March 29.71.

Futures closed 15 to 55 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Middling spot $1.43, unchanged.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 31—(AP)—The lightest of buying breezes kept the stock market on a steady course today. The market was virtually trendless. Price changes were mostly in small fractions with gains and losses well scrambled. Numerous shares remained at Tuesday's closing levels or slowly swung between the plus and minus columns. Turnover hit a rate of about 700,000 shares for the full session.
