Hoosier Lawyer New Commander American Legion

World War II Veteran Chosen; Philadelphia Goes Back To Quiet Normalcy

Philadelphia, Sept. 2—(AP)—The American Legion's new National Commander—40-year-old George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind.—was elected today to make that organization "an important voice in the nation's political and social life."

The Hoosier lawyer—the first World War II veteran ever named to head the Legion—was chosen yesterday in a nip-and-tuck race with three other candidates. The job pays $15,000 annually and carries with it a $35,000 expense allowance.

Philadelphia, its streets washed clean of legion literature, resumed quiet normalcy today after four days of serious discussion, speech-making, politicking and parading that marked the Legion's 31st National convention.

Craig rolled into office on thumping majorities in a half dozen of the Legion's biggest state departments—Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Indiana and New York.

The new leader, serenaded by a Hoosier band as he strode to the rostrum, accepted the responsibility of "making the Legion an important voice in the nation's political and social life."

"My generation has already carried the responsibility of National Security in time of war," Craig said, "and now we join in unity of purpose, our old comrades x x x in promoting and safeguarding those principles necessary for our continued strength and prosperity as a nation."

Balkan Threats Fail To Scare Diplomats

Western Observers In Bucharest Do Not Believe Cominform Will Go To War Against Tito Over Differences

Bucharest, Romania, Sept. 2—(AP)—Western diplomats in Bucharest do not believe the Cominform countries will go to war against Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

They are not unduly concerned with reports published abroad that troops are being concentrated against Yugoslavia.

Bucharest is headquarters of the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) and therefore an extremely sensitive listening post.

A Romanian spokesman declared yesterday that reports of troop concentrations were "unfounded and an act of provocation."

As far as the underground opposition here and in other Communist countries is concerned, however, the Tito-Cominform split has come as a bonanza.

These countries have not settled down under their Communist regimes as is proved by local government appeals for renewed class vigilance.

City To Ask End Of Rent Controls

Aldermen Instruct City Attorney To Draw Up Resolutions To Be Forwarded Governor; Many Topics Covered At Session

Greenville aldermen last night instructed the city attorney to draw up proper resolutions to be forwarded to Governor Scott asking that rent controls be removed from property located in the city of Greenville.

The action asking that property in the city be taken under the wartime rent control regulations came after Frank M. Wooten and J. C. Williams presented to the aldermen a petition signed by 56 local citizens asking the proper steps be taken by the aldermen to have the controls removed.

Alderman R. E. Howell, who suggested a public hearing on the petition be held before action was taken by the aldermen, was the only member of the board to vote against the petition.

V. C. Fleming, Jr., chairman of the Greenville Farmers Day program, appeared before the aldermen and requested the city parking meters be covered Saturday, and that the city streets about the court house be blocked off for Senator Frank P. Graham's address tomorrow morning. Fleming also asked the aldermen for permission to hold a street dance on Evans Street between Five Points and Fourth Street Saturday night. The requests were granted.

At the request of A. B. Corey, the aldermen granted the Pitt County fair, sponsored by the American Legion permission to operate without paying a city tax.

Police Chief Lester D. Page presented the aldermen a list of six changes in traffic regulations of the city which he urged be adopted in the interest of public safety. The changes proposed by Page and adopted by the aldermen will prohibit parking on the north side of Chestnut Street from Grande Avenue to Boyd Avenue; institute one-way traffic from Fifth Street to Fourth Street on Reade Street beside the high school; prohibit parking on the north side of Fourth Street from Ocotanche Street to the

Mass Poisoning Of Dogs Probed

Falkland police are investigating what appears to have been a mass poisoning of dogs in the community during the past several days. Authorities report that 22 dogs have died.

Owners are cooperating with police in investigating the unusual deaths among the canine population. Frank Peaden is police chief at Falkland.

Some owners of the dead dogs reported that when stricken the animals became paralyzed and appeared to suffocate, indicating strychnine poisoning. Some of the dogs were valuable hunters.

Two dogs were found dead on the highway in Falkland Wednesday morning. At first, observers believed they had been killed in traffic. Closer investigation indicated that they had been poisoned.

Reports of other dogs dying continued to be made and caused considerable alarm. One man, whose

Their progress in some cases has been disappointing, but still western Europe as a whole has gained strength and courage.

Moreover, the Atlantic pact has been created by the western Democracies as a unified defense against aggression upon any one of them. At the same time the Democracies of Europe are in process of creating a United States of Europe which has been the dream of idealists for generations.

All these things have provided a powerful deterrent to Moscow's ambitions, but an even greater factor has been the fact that unrest and even disaffection have been showing themselves among the Red satellites. There is the open defiance of Yugoslavia, the actual revolutionary plot in Czechoslovakia, and the troubles in Hungary.

In short, Moscow has troubles enough of her own to keep her busy without devoting much energy to waging a cold war against the Democracies. It looks from here as though she has changed her policy in order to consolidate her own shaky

Judge 'Throws The Book' In Reckless Driving Case

The State Highway Patrol office here is of the opinion that one Joe Nathan Hardy, negro automobile stunt flyer, will think twice next time before "buzzing" a strange motorist on the public highway.

Hardy was arrested by Patrolman Dick Chadwick late yesterday afternoon on a careless and reckless driving charge after he tried to run a private car off the New Bern highway about five miles from Greenville.

Hardy was charged with trying to run an off-duty highway patrol officer, Cpl. Logan Lane, of Roanoke Rapids, off the highway on the New Bern highway yesterday afternoon three times while he was traveling to Greenville with his family in his private car.

Five-Percenter Probe Goes Into Recess; Work Studied

Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—The government started queezing closed the doors on five percenters today as probing Senators paused to take stock in their month-long search for improper influence in federal contracting.

Chairman Hoye (D-N.C.) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee recessed the inquiry yesterday for at least a month while the staff studies the evidence taken thus far.

The government's chief purchasing officer, Jess Larson, assured the Senators before the hearings closed that the middleman in government contracting is on the way out.

Larson, who heads the new government services administration, testified that he, secretary of Defense Johnson and Budget director Frank Pace had worked out a plan to make direct contracting easier for small businessmen. Unethical firms will be blacklisted and federal employes warned about taking favors, he said, adding: "It is my honest opinion that his procedure, together with the policy of decentralizing procurement and the maintaining of adequate, courteous and efficient information centers will cause the so-called five percenter to wane and die because there will be no need for his services."

The term five percenter has been used to describe those who seek out government contracts for others for a fee—usually five percent. That activity isn't illegal, but the Senate group has been searching for signs that it involved "influence peddling."

No sooner had the committee suspended hearings for the present than some members began to look toward the time when the inquiry resumes.

When that time comes, William Helis, oil operator and racing figure, probably will take over the spotlight which centered during the first phase of the investigation on President Truman's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan.

Senators Mundt (R-SD) McCarthy (R-Wis) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) all have demanded a chance to question Helis. His name came up in the hearings repeatedly—Usually linked with that of the President's aide.

McCarthy said—and Helis' son denied—that the oil man had an interest in a California race track which got scarce building materials last year after Vaughan had talked to housing officials.

Decided Advance For Leaf Prices

Greenville Market Prices Go Up Over Previous Sales

Prices on the Greenville tobacco market took a decided advance for all grades of leaf yesterday as the local warehouses sold approximately 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco.

Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee said this morning smoking leaf on yesterday's sales showed increases in price from $10 to $20 per hundred over previous sales, while the most noticeable increase came in the prices paid for tips. The common to best tips offered on the sales yesterday brought from $5 to $15 per hundred above the consistent prices of the past several days.

The pronounced jump in prices on the Greenville market yesterday brought hundreds of farmers to town last night with large loads of tobacco for today's sales. By 11:30 this morning, approximately two million pounds of tobacco were on the local warehouse floors for sale today.

Whedbee said prices on today's sale held steady with the peaks which were reached in the advance of prices yesterday. Today indications from tobacco warehouses were that sales would continue heavy for an indefinite period.

Police Chief Emmett Gray said the trio, riding in a green car, forced a company truck off a road. One of the men held a gun on the driver, Bill Gallman, while a second man removed the payroll.

Two women employes of the company were in the truck with Gallman.

New York, Sept. 2—(AP)—Approximately 65,000 East Coast Longshoremen, faced with an employer demand for a wage cut of 13 cents an hour, will strike Sept. 30 if they do not get a wage boost, their union president said today.

Grand Jury Critical Of County Home Condition

The Pitt County grand jury recommended in its report to the court this week that "immediate attention" be given to conditions at the Pitt County home.

The report of the grand jury states that the walls of the building are in a bad state of repair, and roof leaks are causing considerable deterioration to the building.

The report also listed faulty and obsolete electric wiring in the building and plumbing in bad repair as matters which need immediate attention.

The grand jury found an "inadequate supply of meat and insufficient variety of foods" in the storeroom of the county home. The report also pointed out that two inmates of the county home at the present time are tuberculosis cases and one has the disease in an advanced state.

The members of the grand jury found the report states, there is an acute shortage of labor to efficiently operate the properties of the county home including the 85 acres of cultivated farmland which is the property of the county home.

The grand jury recommended a telephone extension be installed in the main building for the use of the matron.

The report stated a member of the state highway patrol had appeared before the grand jury and informed the jury that all school buses in the county have been inspected by highway patrolmen and have been found in good condition.

All school bus drivers, including any principals who may be called on to drive school buses, have been duly certified by the state highway safety commission.

The grand jury received from the county auditor records of the Justices of the Peace during the past two years, and in the report, the grand jury said in the records show "all funds properly accounted for; however, there were eight delinquent in filing their dockets since the last term of court, and two delinquent prior to that time."

The report of the grand jury contained a recommendation to the board of commissioners that a reward be offered for the arrest and

Stiff Term For Road Violators

Two Years And Sixty Days In Jail For Traffic Violator

Israel Blount, Negro of near Stokes, was handed a stiff two-year-and-sixty-day jail sentence in Superior Court today "for complete defiance of the traffic laws of the state."

Blount pleaded guilty to reckless driving and driving without a permit.

Judge R. Hunt Parker threw the book at the Negro defendant after reviewing his record which showed a series of traffic violations occurring after the man's license had been revoked for drunken driving.

The judge denied a request that Blount be allowed to finish getting in his farm crops before going to jail. "A man of this kind is liable to get drunk and kill someone with an automobile," the judge said.

Blount was charged with running a 1936 Ford into a tobacco barn near Stokes. The car was completely demolished and the driver miraculously escaped death. He received two broken ribs in the wreck.

The judge told the defendant that he was passing sentence after taking his record in consideration. On the reckless driving charge, the judge gave Blount two years in jail and ordered that the man be put to work on the public roads.

The no-operators count netted the Negro 60 days, the term to begin when Blount finishes the two-year stretch.

Extensive Drive On Boll Weevils For Pitt County

County Agent Says Campaign Planned Next Year; Considerable Losses Found

County Agent S. C. Winchester disclosed today that an extensive campaign against cotton boll weevil would be attempted next year in an effort to reduce boll weevil damage to Pitt County cotton.

The county agent reported that considerable damage due to the weevils has been experienced this year. He said the damage would far exceed last year's loss and probably would be the worst in years.

Because of the rank weed growth, the lower portion of the cotton has been shaded and the sunlight has not been able to get through to kill the weevil in the early stages this year, it was explained.

A number of farmers have dusted their crops and arrested the weevil attack to some extent. The farmers who dusted their crops at the offset and redusted during the migration period will probably be free from most of the damage, Winchester pointed out.

Extensive damage will be felt, however, in the fields where the crops were never dusted or were not redusted during the August migration period.

Citing the success of a major attack on the boll weevil in Halifax county this year, Winchester said such a plan would be attempted here next summer. In Halifax, an effort was made to dust every field and the boll weevil menace was reduced considerably.

In Pitt, meanwhile, farmers are carrying out an extensive defoliation program by aerial dusting. This farmers responded immediately to a suggestion by the county agent this week that they defoliate their cotton to assure themselves of a better grade product.

Cotton picking should get underway here next week and the harvest should be a fair one in two weeks, the county agent's office reports.

The Wage-Hour Law

Changes In Present Law Agreed Upon, But Extent Of Changes Yet Undetermined; Two Different Bills To Be Made Into One; General Review Of What's Ahead

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—The wage-hour law will be changed. The House and Senate have agreed on that. But they haven't agreed on exactly what changes to make in it.

They've passed two different bills agreeing on some changes in the present law, disagreeing on others. Now a committee of Senators and Representatives must compromise their differences in a single bill.

That must be approved by the full House and Senate. The approval is pretty certain. Not until then, though, will the law be changed. Until then it's impossible to say precisely what the new law will be.

Therefore, this can be only a sketchy explanation. Under the wage-hour law, passed in 1938, workers employed by firms doing business across state lines—with some exceptions—must now:

1. Get paid no less than 40 cents an hour. That's the minimum wage they can get. That's why this is sometimes called the minimum wage law.

2. Get time-and-a-half pay for every hour worked over 40 hours. This was the law that established the 40-hour week for businesses in interstate commerce. (The law passed in 1938 specifically said it did not apply to some types of businesses and their employes, even though their products went across state lines. They were exempt.

Is Tension Easing?

The President's Hopeful Outlook on the War of Nerves; Why Cold War Has Lost Some Of Its Old Steam; Red Offensive Halted; Disaffection Among Satellites

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

President Truman says the war of nerves between the Communists and the Democratic nations is very decidedly slackening off and he is hopeful it will end soon.

That's an exceedingly encouraging statement, since we are entitled to believe that it is based on official American reports from the cold war theater.

The President of course wasn't talking about the current reports of Soviet troop movements near the frontiers of Yugoslavia, which, under Marshal Tito's leadership, is politically rebellious against Moscow. Yugoslavia, while not subscribing to Russia's brand of international Communism, isn't Democratic nation.

No. Mr. Truman was speaking of relations between the Soviet Union and the western Democracies.

The European cold war certainly has lost much of its steam in recent weeks. Why? Well, there are several reasons.

For one thing the Communist offensive for the spread of Communism westward across the continent long has been definitely halted along the line which it now holds through central Europe. The nations west of that line no longer are gravely threatened with Communism, much less with being absorbed as satellites. Actually Communism has been losing power in countries like Italy and France where it long

Accuse Navy Of Holding Seaman

Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—Counsel for James Patrick Ryan accused the Navy today of holding the young seaman in a hospital mental ward for months without letting him see a lawyer about his defense against a desertion charge.

The basis of the defense is Ryan's account of being shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion as he tried to catch his ship in France after missing it in Italy.

A strip of land 30,000 square miles in extent, inhabited only by polar animals has been added to the area of the United States. For the first time in history of the world an accurate chart of the globe may now be made. Dr. Cook's discovery will finally settle the question of the earth's ellipticity—whether or not there is a flattening of the surface at the poles.

The umpire can now retire and live on his laurels and the big salary received will patch up his wounds.

Find Remains of Old Civilization

New York, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Extensive remains of a primitive group of hunters, who roamed the American West thousands of years before Christ's birth, have been unearthed near Cody, Wyo., it was disclosed here today.

Dr. Loren Eiseley of the University of Pennsylvania said the Wyoming camp site probably dates back to between 5,000 and 13,000 years before Christ.

He called the find one of the most important ever made in connection with the culture of the Yuma, the Nomadic group who disappeared centuries ago as a cultural unit. They were among the earliest known inhabitants of the New World.

Dr. Eiseley estimated that the ancient camp site covered about 800 square feet of a terrace overlooking Sage Creek, five miles northeast of Cody.

The valuable deposit of tools, weapons and food remains were preserved through the centuries by dusty desert sands, now covering the camp site to a depth of about 10 inches.

The Yuma were foot hunters who roved the high plains of the American West in search of bison. Evidence of their existence have been found before, Dr. Eiseley said, but never so extensively or in a deposit that may enable scientists to fix more accurately the period in which they lived.

Teen Age Club Plans To Continue Operate

It was announced today that the Greenville Teen Age Club will be open on Saturday night and on Sunday from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. as long as the attendance at the club justifies that it be kept open.

The letter "S" is said to be the most frequently used capital initial letter in the English language.

Tots Found Dead In Refrigerator

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 2—(AP)—A citywide search for two small St. Paul children ended last night when their smothered bodies were found in an ice box, stored in a neighbor's garage.

The tiny victims were Franklin Sherer, 5, and 2½-year-old Sandra, a tot for whom Mrs. Stanley Sherer, the boy's parents, were caring pending her adoption by the family.

Mrs. Sherer missed the children shortly before dinner time and called police. Squad cars were alerted.

But it wasn't until four hours later that one of the officers found Franklin's tricycle in the garage of John Linnerooth, next door neighbor of the Sherers. The Linnerooth family had been absent since noon yesterday, attending the State Fair.

Officers opened the refrigerator to find the tots curled up in separate compartments behind tightly closed doors. Fire department rescue squad members used oxygen for an hour in a vain effort to revive them.

Police said they would question playmates to learn if the two pulled the doors closed accidentally or whether they had been shut by other children. They could not be opened from the inside.

Farmville Fire Dept. Kept Busy During August

Farmville, Sept. 2.—The Farmville Fire Department was kept busy during the month of August, being called out six times to extinguish fires. In August of last year the department did not have a single call.

The first call was on August 11 to a fire in a trash pile back of the Davis hotel. On the fifteenth the house occupied by Claude Vines in Washington Heights was destroyed. On Saturday night, August 20, about 11:30, the department answered a call to 203 Cotten Street where a mattress was on fire in a room occupied by George Barrett. Early in the morning, about an hour later, the firemen were called back to the same address and found a mattress burning on the other side of the house in a room occupied by James Davis.

The next fire was a burning automobile in front of the Christian Church on August 25. The sixth alarm came on Monday morning of this week as firemen were called to extinguish a fire in the kitchen of a house on South Barrett Street, owned by M. V. Jones and occupied by Lyman Tyson. The fire was confined to the kitchen and was out five minutes after the hook-up to water was made.

According to fire department reports, nearly all of these fires were caused by negligence.

Youth Gambles His Life With Plea For New Trial

A 20-year-old prisoner says he is willing to gamble his life for his freedom.

Lauri D. Taylor, Greenville youth who faces three life terms in State Prison at Raleigh, plus a ten year sentence, asked this week that he be given a new trial on grounds that he did not have counsel when he pleaded guilty to second degree burglary on three charges in 1947.

Presiding Judge R. Hunt Parker granted the request this week, and the case will be re-tried in the October term.

Solicitor W. J. Bundy says he will ask for a verdict of guilty to first degree burglary on all three counts when the case is tried.

Conviction could send the youth to his death in the state gas chamber.

Regardless of how the new trial comes out, Taylor will have to serve out a 10-year sentence for breaking and entering. Taylor, who looks more than his 20 years, appeared in court this week with a representative of State Prison. The youth wore the traditional crew cut and blue denim prison garb. Appointed as counsel for the prisoner are W. W. Speight and A. E. Corey, both prominent Greenville attorneys. The Muslim University at Al-Azhar, in Cairo, Egypt, was established in 970 A. D.

TREATING SPIRITUAL AILMENTS
In dealing with diseases, whether they be physical, mental, or spiritual, we need always to get behind the symptoms and try to find out and treat the causes.

This is well recognized in the practice of medicine. It is not so well recognized, however, in dealing with diseases of personality, particularly with the diseases of what might be called a spiritual nature. It is the glory of Christianity that it deals not with symptoms but with causes. Jesus declared that he came to change men's lives, and he was quite confident that enlightened men would change the conditions amid which they lived. He lived amid slavery yet he seems never to have denounced it. Instead he gave men a feeling of their supreme worth as children of God, and slavery vanished in time.

Most of the things in life we call evils are symptoms of deeper evils. Slavery, war, and poverty are symptoms of human avarice and the desire of some men to rule their fellow-men. Anger which breaks into violence is the indication of a life at variance with itself, in conflict as regards purpose and emotions. To treat symptoms alone is medical quackery; to treat symptoms of moral and spiritual evils without getting down to the cause of these things is to beat the air.

"FARMERS' DAY"

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," is an old saying that's popular any time of the year; but it merits special consideration in this part of the country at this particular time.

Long gruelling hours of labor on the tobacco farms have reached their fruitful conclusion and it's time to let off some steam. There has been plenty of work, and the natural desire of everyone to avoid being "dull" provides the best available excuse for play come Saturday.

Some people get a quiet enjoyment out of watching others participate in contests such as hog-calling, novelty athletic events, dancing and singing . . . but if it's fun to watch, it's more fun to be a part of the show.

The Farmers' Day program is set up so that everybody can get into one or more features. It's the most elaborate project attempted in Pitt County for many years, and promises to become the most successful.

It will be a day for everybody; the kind of a day one looks forward to in succeeding years, for we're sure there will be others.

Just don't miss it this year.

PUBLIC FORUM

Discussing problems of interest to this community. In all cases names must accompany any communication.

Dear Mr. Editor:
Whatever may be said either for or against the recent protest made by the Ministerial Association of this city against the aldermanic action favoring Sunday movies and Sunday ball games, it remains a fact that when the majority of aldermen voting gave the "green light" to such questionable amusements on the Lord's Day, they did nothing more nor less than set themselves down as on the side of unrighteousness. When I cast my vote for alderman, at the last election I was hoping for better than this of the man I voted for. If I blundered in casting my vote as I did, which it seems I did, then I want to be the first to acknowledge my humiliation over the fact. And I pray God that he will save me from such a blunder again. Possibly there are others who feel the same way about it.

Those who operate the Sunday movies do so that they may profit financially thereby. If there is any question in your mind about how God views upon those who would pollute his holy Sabbath by using it for financial gain, then read what his servant Nehemiah threatened to do to those guilty of such violation upon the Lord's Day. One thing certain is that, who are filled with the Spirit of God will not operate such places upon the day of the Lord; and it is just as certain that those who are followers of the Spirit of God will not frequent such questionable places of amusement on the Sabbath. The argument that such is conducive to recreation and rest falls to the ground like a dead duck when one properly considers the terrific strain upon the eyes which fatigues when the body as a whole. And the physical strain upon the boys playing ball on Sunday is one of the most extreme and taxing. The educational value of the movie, too, has been grossly exaggerated. And as for the moral or spiritual value comparatively speaking, that is almost completely nihil. "Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy." That is the command of the Lord God of heaven and earth. It would be well, too, for us to remember the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah, and that God still has his ways of wiping cities of unrighteousness from the face of the earth. How we do need to pray "Thy kingdom come: thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." When God's kingdom gets into the hearts of people they will need no laws against those who would seek to turn the Sabbath into a day of financial gain and take the minds of the young off the sacred and holy things that makes for good citizenship and obedience to the laws of God himself as well as the laws of God himself. If we cannot consistently legislate against such Sunday amusements then we have no right to demand that the stores close up on Sunday. What kind of a heathen city would we have with every thing wide open on Sunday? This is a question that embraces our civil life as well as our spiritual concerns.

Somebody Told Me . . .

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Everybody seems to make a joke of the way a woman drives a car. If she signals for a right turn and turns right everyone concerned is amazed. Whatever she does wrong is taken with a sigh and the statement, "Oh well, it's just a woman driver."

This sort of talk has been worn out for years. Personally, I think women bridge players are a much better topic of conversation, when compared to men.

The main difference in men and women at a bridge table is the reason they pulled up a chair in the first place. Women seem to have decided that straight-back chairs are comfortable for talking, and the bridge table separates them just the right distance. Their idea, it seems, is to see how much talking and how little bridge playing they can do. The game is really a nuisance to them, because it disturbs the conversation. Every 15 minutes someone says, "Who dealt?" "What did you bid?" or "Whose play is it?" But I shouldn't be too hard on the women, because some of them do like to play the game. More of them, however, use it for a gab fest.

Men like to play the game, fast and hard. Last week Booger Scales telephoned me to let me know that he and Burney Warren were ready to take on George Laureates and me at 8 p.m. in Warren's indoor gymnasium.

It would be worth a pretty penny to know what Ed Culbertson would say if he could see Booger in action. In the first place, Scales probably wouldn't know who was watching him. The first time he heard Culbertson's name he thought it was the president of the company his bridge opponent worked for. "They spoke of him with so much respect," he says.

When Scales makes a bid or succeeds in setting the opposition, he jumps up, seizes his partner's hand, shakes it and tells him what a good team they make. Some day he'll probably jump over the table like a tennis player jumps over the net to congratulate his opponent.

RAILROADS—Thursday was railroad day for the state board of assessments. All of the major railroads and most of the short lines had representatives to protest against increased valuations placed upon their properties by the state board for local tax levies. The state collects no ad valorem taxes from railroads, but in order to equalize as nearly as possible tax payments in the several counties and municipalities the state board of assessments determines the valuation. Local boards still fix the tax rate which varies widely throughout the state.

VALUATIONS—There is a rather intricate but not very complex formula for determining the valuation. It involves track mileage gross and net operating income, market price of the railroad company's stocks and bonds, and other factors. Basic assessments are made quadrennially, which means there has been little change in valuations of railroad property since 1945 and the appraisal approved this year will prevail until 1953 subject to adjustments necessitated by unanticipated conditions.

DECLINING—The railroads contend, and show by official figures that they are apparently entering a period of declining net revenue and that valuations fixed now might well be out of line next year and thereafter. In answer to questions propounded by State Treasurer Brandon Hodges, railroad spokes-

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Some wise men believe that the greatest shock in life to the nervous system occurs at birth. It's such a change.

This I hold to be a grievous error. The average man is usually born only once. He has small memory of the occasion, and it merely leaves him with a slight feeling of gratitude toward his mother. Some mothers even claim their offspring lose this sensation in time.

A greater shock to the nervous system than birth is coming back to work after a vacation, because it is an annual agony. Medical science has done much to make birth as pleasant as possible for all concerned—except for the forgotten man with the pocketbook who caused it all. But it has done nothing to cushion the mental suffering a man undergoes at having to return to his job after two carefree weeks of holiday.

This is the cruelest ordeal inflicted by a heartless civilization. The poor wretch lies shivering in his bed as the alarm clock bugles a call for him to rise and do his duty. Madly he tries to crawl back into his dreams, hoping vainly that somebody will drop an atom bomb or lightning will strike the place he earns his daily bread—anything to stay joyously carefree for another week, a day, an hour . . . a minute . . . longer.

"Get up," says his remorseless hausfrau, "and go earn me living."

And shivering and shaking, the dependent creature gets up, puts on his hairshirt, scratches himself and hopes off to his daily routine at office or factory.

All day long glibbing co-workers keep coming by and asking if he had a nice time at the seashore or "where you been? I haven't seen you lately."

For a whole week the fellow doesn't do enough work to break a grn's back. He daydreams—listening to the sea's song grow dimmer . . . dimmer . . . dimmer. By Friday he has accepted the harness again, but meanwhile his soul has suffered an immortal blow.

Cut such a man open and you'll find he shows his ribs much in the same way as the ants in its trunk betrays a tree's antiquity. You count the big scars on his nervous system—one for each year he returned from a vacation—and add 21 for the time he spent learning to earn. The total will tell you exactly how old he is in suffering.

Such wounds could easily be avoided by a system which permitted a man to adjust himself gradually again to the daily treadmill.

The first day back a man should have to show up only for an hour in the afternoon. He would walk around wearing a big sign around his neck saying:

man admitted that assessments in 1945 did not adequately reflect improved conditions over the 1941 listing.

BOARD—The state board of assessments, which evaluates all public utilities property, is entirely an ex-officio body. It is composed of the commissioner of revenue (State gene Shaw) as chairman; the state treasurer (Brandon Hodges); the attorney general (Harry McMullan); the director of tax research (W. O. Butler); the chairman of the utilities commission (Stanley Winborne), and J. C. Bethune as secretary.

SOUTHERN—The case of the Southern Railway Company is typical. While figures were different and manner of approach not exactly the same, presentations of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard, the Norfolk-Southern, the N and W and all the others followed the same general pattern. The Southern's case was presented by Haddon Johnson of Atlanta, tax commissioner for the system, and Col. W. T. Joyner of Raleigh, division counsel. These men told of many miles of non-productive "dead end" branch lines which, under the assessment board formula had to carry full mileage value.

COMPARATIVE—Gist of the presentation, however, revolved around percentage figures, Johnson said that of Southern System totals North Carolina had 18.66 percent of track mileage, 19.59 percent of patronage use, and 20.5 percent of revenue production. Of all taxes paid other than federal, North Carolina and its subdivisions last year got 26 percent. This included franchise corporation, income and other indirect levies. On ad valorem levies alone North Carolina and its subdivisions received 33 1-3 percent of property taxes paid in all states. He contended that 26 percent of all property taxes, considered against less than 20 percent of mileage, use and revenue, was out of line. Those are last year's figures. The state percentages of investment, use and revenue are approximately the same this year, but the board of assessments has upped the valuation more than ten percent—from a little more than $63 million to about $70,500,000. The railroad man contended further that this represents more than 75 percent of present inflated values whereas other property in the state is valued at average of less than 50 percent, a great deal of it not above 33 1-3 percent.

New York—(AP)—Some wise men believe that the greatest shock in life to the nervous system occurs at birth. It's such a change.

This I hold to be a grievous error. The average man is usually born only once. He has small memory of the occasion, and it merely leaves him with a slight feeling of gratitude toward his mother. Some mothers even claim their offspring lose this sensation in time.

A greater shock to the nervous system than birth is coming back to work after a vacation, because it is an annual agony. Medical science has done much to make birth as pleasant as possible for all concerned—except for the forgotten man with the pocketbook who caused it all. But it has done nothing to cushion the mental suffering a man undergoes at having to return to his job after two carefree weeks of holiday.

This is the cruelest ordeal inflicted by a heartless civilization. The poor wretch lies shivering in his bed as the alarm clock bugles a call for him to rise and do his duty. Madly he tries to crawl back into his dreams, hoping vainly that somebody will drop an atom bomb or lightning will strike the place he earns his daily bread—anything to stay joyously carefree for another week, a day, an hour . . . a minute . . . longer.

"Get up," says his remorseless hausfrau, "and go earn me living."

And shivering and shaking, the dependent creature gets up, puts on his hairshirt, scratches himself and hopes off to his daily routine at office or factory.

All day long glibbing co-workers keep coming by and asking if he had a nice time at the seashore or "where you been? I haven't seen you lately."

For a whole week the fellow doesn't do enough work to break a grn's back. He daydreams—listening to the sea's song grow dimmer . . . dimmer . . . dimmer. By Friday he has accepted the harness again, but meanwhile his soul has suffered an immortal blow.

Cut such a man open and you'll find he shows his ribs much in the same way as the ants in its trunk betrays a tree's antiquity. You count the big scars on his nervous system—one for each year he returned from a vacation—and add 21 for the time he spent learning to earn. The total will tell you exactly how old he is in suffering.

Such wounds could easily be avoided by a system which permitted a man to adjust himself gradually again to the daily treadmill.

Vatican Upholds Cushing In Doctrine Controversy

Boston, Sept. 2—(AP)—A five months dispute between the Boston Hierarchy and a Roman Catholic group over whether there is salvation outside the Catholic church still appeared unsettled today despite a Vatican ruling upholding Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

The decision was announced by Archbishop Cushing in "the Pilot," official publication of the Boston Catholic Archdiocese. The announcement said the ruling was made by the Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office, over which the Pope presides.

The controversial group, led by the Rev. Leonard J. Feeney, S. J., was persisted in the contention non-Catholics could not be saved. The church holds otherwise.

The group has held to its position in face of a stern interdict against their organization—St. Benedict's center—and the "silencing" of Mr. Feeney.

Referring to the group's stand the letter from the sacred congregation declared:

"x x x It is clear that the doctrine presented (by the group) x x x as genuine Catholic teaching is far from being such, and can do nothing but grave harm to those who are in the church and to those outside it."

The communication from the Vatican also named Mr. Feeney and strongly criticized him for his part in the controversy.

"It is beyond understanding," the letter read, "how a member of a religious society, namely Father Feeney, can present himself as a 'defender of the faith' and at the same time not hesitate to attack the Catechetical teaching proposed by legitimate authorities, and not even fear to bring upon himself the weighty sanctions of common law leveled against his grave violations of duty as a religious, as a Priest, and as an ordinary member of the church."

The censure apparently referred to Father Feeney's vigorous public attacks on Archdiocesan leaders including Archbishop Cushing and the most Rev. John J. Wright, auxiliary Bishop.

Father Feeney indicated he was not satisfied with the Archbishop's announcement of the Vatican decisions.

"St. Benedict's center," Father

Dividend Check For Veterans Of World War One

World War I veterans still holding permanent type U. S. Government Life Insurance policies are scheduled to receive special dividend checks early in Sept., the Veterans Administration said today.

Some 435,000 veteran-holders of World War I insurance will receive checks ranging from a few dollars to several hundred dollars. The payments total 40 million dollars and will go to persons who took out USGLI policies on a permanent plan at any time prior to January 1, 1944 and kept them in force through December of 1948.

Not all permanent plan policyholders are entitled to this dividend because some have not built up their full reserve, the VA reported. Moreover, no special dividend is payable on any USGLI term policy.

Well, there's no business where you can't do things right and still stay right up there. Key Witness Is Put Under Bond

Greensboro, Sept. 2—(AP)—Earl Black, key witness in two big lottery trials, was under $5,000 bond today for his appearance Sept. 30 in Municipal County Court.

That is the day Francis Duval (George) Smith is to be called to trial for the fifth time on charges of conspiracy to operate and operating a lottery.

Smith is under $15,000 bond here and $10,000 at Wilmington, where he is similarly charged.

The absence of Black and another key witness, Mrs. Jean Webster Wyrick of High Point Road, caused Smith's trial here to be postponed four times. Mrs. Wyrick has not been located.

Black surrendered yesterday to police, saying he returned to prepare a defense for his own trial. He, along with Charlie Fales of Wilmington, is charged with the torture-robbery of G. F. Waddell Guilford County restaurateur.

Dole Talks It Over With Returning Lettermen

By FRANK HOGG
Coach Bill Dole put his East Carolina "Pirates" through their first scrimmage session yesterday afternoon. Knowing too well how pressed for time the squad would be for practice before the opening game on Sept. 15 Coach Dole instructed all his men to report for the first practice session in condition. Every man on the squad reported in playing shape knowing they had equal chance to make the squad and that time element was a big factor. After a short kicking drill with Frank Maenne, Bill Darby, Jack Benzie and Sandy Siler doing the punting, the squad turned to learning the plays to be used under Coach Dole's system. Splitting his squad into four teams, Coach Dole and Jack Boone instructed their squads on the play routines. The last hour of the practice was devoted to a highly spirited scrimmage. Many of the backfield candidates turned in nice runs, but at present Coach Dole is placing his emphasis on timing and blocking. With the squad numbering over 60 men Coach Dole will have to cut the squad down in order to get better results from practice sessions.

Tonight's Games

The Greenies last night showed their old batting power and really did some nice hitting against the Leafs. In addition to their power at the plate they played a great defensive game and played heads-he awaited the call today for his third round match in the National Tennis championships.

"The way I look at it, any one of seven or eight players could win the championship. It's just like it was at Wimbledon this year."
The man who walked off with the British tourney pointed out that all four quarter-final matches went five sets. "And I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the same thing happens here."

As an example, Schroeder pointed to the way young Art Larsen, lean left-hander from San Leandro, Calif., came from behind to dump John Bromwich, Australian Davis Cup captain, 3-6, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, in a terrific match yesterday.

Tonight, when the Greenies play the Wilson Tobs in the final home game of the season, will be Player Appreciation Night for the Greenie players. The promoters of this event are most anxious to make it a huge success and the writer is sure that you fans want to show your appreciation to the boys who are doing their utmost to gain a berth in the play-offs this season. To you merchants and individuals who have not donated, it is certainly not too late, and if you have not contributed and want to do so, then come by the press box tonight when you go to the game and leave your gift for the boys. They will certainly appreciate it and they will deserve more than a pat on the hand for the fine stand which they are putting up to gain that coveted fourth place before the season closes on next Monday. When Roanoke Rapids had player appreciation night Tuesday a total of $498.15 was realized from contributions. When the Wilson Tobs had their Appreciation Night only $84 was distributed among its players. The Kinston Eagles on their recent appreciation night contributed $1,500 to be distributed among their players.

"One of the reasons the Leafs can't get anywhere against Greenville is Bobby Harrison. He handles the Leafs as if they were a bunch of little kittens. He has been poison to the Leafs all year. He has a one-hit shutout over them in Municipal Stadium and a 4 to 1 four-hitter over them over in Greenville recently. Oh, he really casts the evil eye on those Leafs. Wednesday night in Greenville he nonchalantly loads the bases with Rocky Mount people with not a soul out. But they can manage only one run. Another was cut out by the catcher at home plate, then Master Bobby decided there wouldn't be any more scoring. There had been enough foolishness, besides Pappy was getting nervous. There was even someone in the bull pen warming up. But Jim Lewey came on the scene and finished the game—and the Leafs."

Charles, the Cincinnati heavyweight who won Louis' vacated title will receive $2,000 for his bout with Modzelle, the New Kensington, Pa. 178 pounder. Similar purses will be given the three other champions while Jake La Motta, the new middleweight title holder, will get $3,000 for his match with Al Winn of New York.

Joe Louis, retired heavyweight titleholder, is scheduled to referee one of the six four-round exhibition bouts—between Ezzard Charles and Joe Modzelle.

In addition to the six exhibition bouts, Sandy Saddler of New York former featherweight titleholder and Harold Dade of Chicago, who once held the bantamweight crown, will clash in a 10 round bout.

Another 10 rounder will match Artie Towne of New York and Lloyd Gibson of Cincinnati, at 160 pounds.

To finance his card of two 10-round bouts and six four-round exhibition affairs, promoter Fred Irvin has filed $21,700 with the State Athletic Commission as guarantee money due the 16 fighters. The profits are slated to go to charity but Irvin estimates the carnival must draw more than $60,000 before any gain can be realized.

Charles, the Cincinnati heavyweight who won Louis' vacated title will receive $2,000 for his bout with Modzelle, the New Kensington, Pa. 178 pounder. Similar purses will be given the three other champions while Jake La Motta, the new middleweight title holder, will get $3,000 for his match with Al Winn of New York.

Further, 13 of the Cards' games are against the seventh and eighth place Cincinnati and Chicago clubs. They've already won 21 out of 31 from these basement bargains.

The Cards have 13 to play with the third and fourth place Boston and New York teams. They've played over 500 ball against these first divisioners, winning 15 and losing 16 to the Giants and Braves.

In the American League, it is likely the seven games between the League leading New York Yankees and runnerup Boston Red Sox will settle the issue. The Red Sox trail the Yankees by three games. Their chances are not bright by any means but they're not as dark as those of the Dodgers.

Boston plays 14 of its remaining 25 games at home, but the Yankees play 23 of their 29 games at friendly Yankee Stadium.

Art Mascarella Hurls 14-4 Win Over Leafs; Greenies Hit Hard And Often

By BERT MOYE
The Greenville Greenies pounded two Rocky Mount hurlers for a total of thirteen hits including four homers, two by Manager Pappy Williams and one each by Sid Varney and John Tepedino, to wallop the Leafs 14 to 4 over in Rocky Mount last night.

The Greenies got off to a fast start by scoring a total of ten runs in the first four frames. John Tepedino's single followed by Manager Pappy Williams' first homer of the evening accounted for two runs in the first inning. Singles by Valle and Mascarella together with two errors and a sacrifice and climaxed by John Tepedino's 350-foot homer over the centerfield wall with two mats aboard gave the Greenies six runs in the second frame, after which they were never headed.

They added singletons in the third and fourth frames, three more in the seventh frame and Manager Pappy Williams' second homer of the evening in the ninth inning gave them their final tally of the evening.

The Leafs did all their scoring in the seventh inning when they showed across four runs. McJunkin's single, Frank Gardner's double followed by three errors gave the Leafs their four unearned runs in the eighth stanza.

Art Mascarella went the route for the Greenies to gain his ninth win of the season. He has lost fifteen. Although Mascarella was hit hard, he managed to keep them well scattered, and up until the seventh frame, the Leafs had failed to get a man past second base even though the Leafs had collected a total of eight hits up to this point.

Babe Johnson and Walt McJunkin each with three singles in five trips to the plate, led the 13-hit attack off Mascarella.

Lefty Cole Jacobs was the starting hurler for the Leafs and was yanked out in the second frame after allowing five hits and eight runs to the Greenies. Don Purdy, former Greenie player, went the rest of the route for the Leafs and gave up eight hits and six more runs. Jacobs was charged with the loss, his eighth of the season.

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 2—(AP)—"This is a wide open tournament," said top-seeded Ted Schroeder as he awaited the call today for his third round match in the National Tennis championships.

The man who walked off with the British tourney pointed out that all four quarter-final matches went five sets. "And I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the same thing happens here."

As an example, Schroeder pointed to the way young Art Larsen, lean left-hander from San Leandro, Calif., came from behind to dump John Bromwich, Australian Davis Cup captain, 3-6, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, in a terrific match yesterday.

Tonight, when the Greenies play the Wilson Tobs in the final home game of the season, will be Player Appreciation Night for the Greenie players. The promoters of this event are most anxious to make it a huge success and the writer is sure that you fans want to show your appreciation to the boys who are doing their utmost to gain a berth in the play-offs this season. To you merchants and individuals who have not donated, it is certainly not too late, and if you have not contributed and want to do so, then come by the press box tonight when you go to the game and leave your gift for the boys. They will certainly appreciate it and they will deserve more than a pat on the hand for the fine stand which they are putting up to gain that coveted fourth place before the season closes on next Monday. When Roanoke Rapids had player appreciation night Tuesday a total of $498.15 was realized from contributions. When the Wilson Tobs had their Appreciation Night only $84 was distributed among its players. The Kinston Eagles on their recent appreciation night contributed $1,500 to be distributed among their players.

"One of the reasons the Leafs can't get anywhere against Greenville is Bobby Harrison. He handles the Leafs as if they were a bunch of little kittens. He has been poison to the Leafs all year. He has a one-hit shutout over them in Municipal Stadium and a 4 to 1 four-hitter over them over in Greenville recently. Oh, he really casts the evil eye on those Leafs. Wednesday night in Greenville he nonchalantly loads the bases with Rocky Mount people with not a soul out. But they can manage only one run. Another was cut out by the catcher at home plate, then Master Bobby decided there wouldn't be any more scoring. There had been enough foolishness, besides Pappy was getting nervous. There was even someone in the bull pen warming up. But Jim Lewey came on the scene and finished the game—and the Leafs."

Charles, the Cincinnati heavyweight who won Louis' vacated title will receive $2,000 for his bout with Modzelle, the New Kensington, Pa. 178 pounder. Similar purses will be given the three other champions while Jake La Motta, the new middleweight title holder, will get $3,000 for his match with Al Winn of New York.

Further, 13 of the Cards' games are against the seventh and eighth place Cincinnati and Chicago clubs. They've already won 21 out of 31 from these basement bargains.

The Cards have 13 to play with the third and fourth place Boston and New York teams. They've played over 500 ball against these first divisioners, winning 15 and losing 16 to the Giants and Braves.

In the American League, it is likely the seven games between the League leading New York Yankees and runnerup Boston Red Sox will settle the issue. The Red Sox trail the Yankees by three games. Their chances are not bright by any means but they're not as dark as those of the Dodgers.

Boston plays 14 of its remaining 25 games at home, but the Yankees play 23 of their 29 games at friendly Yankee Stadium.

No-Hit Mound Performance Is Highlight Boys League Finals

Scores: Mite League, Giants 1, Cubs 0; Middle League, Red Sox 9, Wolves 5; Junior League, Reds 4, Yanks 2

A triple header, featuring the most sensational pitching duels ever witnessed in Greenville's Guy Smith Stadium, marked the end of summer league baseball play last night. The finals, witnessed by some 300 fans, were highlighted by the dynamic no-hit mound performance of Gene Hudson who hurled the West Greenville Reds to a 5-2 win over the Training School Yanks in the Junior League.

The Junior loop finals marked one of the most unusual happenings to greet fans here in many days. Boasting a no-hitter, Hudson's team had to rally for four runs in the bottom of next to the last inning to win. They trailed 2-1 after the fourth, until the last when the Reds teed off with two doubles, a single and two errors to send four runs across the plate and wrap up the championship.

Hudson fanned four batters in the six-inning contest. Rightfielder Casper and Shortstop J. Phillips led the Reds at the plate with a single and a double apiece.

Losing pitcher in the Junior game was Faulkner who had a three-hitter until the last inning. It was a one in a life-time streak of hard luck for little Alton (Bucky) Fye who lost a 3-2 contest despite his one-hitter in the Training School Giants-Third Street Cubs Mite League finals.

Walker L. Allen, a diminutive eight-year-old right-hander, recorded the win from the hill for the Giants, limiting the Cubs to three neatly scattered hits and shutting them out until the last frame.

The winning run in the contest was scored by Catcher Edwards who walked in the fourth. The Giants rallied two in the third on a hit batter, a double, a walk and force. Hits in the contest were divided. In the Middle League, the Training School Red Sox scored a crushing 9-3 win over the West Greenville Wolves to wrap up the crown. And it too was a sensational pitchers' duel, marred by a six-run mercy-go-round in the fourth when the Red Sox capitalized on a walk, two errors, a stolen base and four singles.

Losing Pitcher Charlie Pollard allowed only one hit during the other innings. Winning moundsman Ike Riddick held the losers hitless until the last two stanzas. He gave up one hit in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Nobles and Taft with two singles paced the winners at bat. The Wolves' hitting was divided.

Six Ring Champs In Chicago Show

Chicago, Sept. 2—(AP)—Six world boxing champions will appear in the Chicago Stadium ring tonight in a carnival of champions' charity card.

Joe Louis, retired heavyweight titleholder, is scheduled to referee one of the six four-round exhibition bouts—between Ezzard Charles and Joe Modzelle.

In addition to the six exhibition bouts, Sandy Saddler of New York former featherweight titleholder and Harold Dade of Chicago, who once held the bantamweight crown, will clash in a 10 round bout.

Another 10 rounder will match Artie Towne of New York and Lloyd Gibson of Cincinnati, at 160 pounds.

To finance his card of two 10-round bouts and six four-round exhibition affairs, promoter Fred Irvin has filed $21,700 with the State Athletic Commission as guarantee money due the 16 fighters. The profits are slated to go to charity but Irvin estimates the carnival must draw more than $60,000 before any gain can be realized.

Charles, the Cincinnati heavyweight who won Louis' vacated title will receive $2,000 for his bout with Modzelle, the New Kensington, Pa. 178 pounder. Similar purses will be given the three other champions while Jake La Motta, the new middleweight title holder, will get $3,000 for his match with Al Winn of New York.

The HOUSE on LILAC STREET
by FRED BAYARD

Chapter 24
Haid Scott hailed a cab. He said "Times Square," and got inside. He watched carefully but was certain he had not been followed.

Paying off the cab, he strolled into the lounge of a hotel. Then out the back way, into another cab to Grand Central Station.

Wasting no time, he removed his hat and felt under the leather band, extracting a small strip of paper. After reading the message carefully, he pulled out his lighter and watched the paper curl to a brown crisp.

He took out his notebook and jotted down several lines. Tearing out the sheet, he folded it and inserted it under the hat band.

His next move was to make for the lockers. He took out a key, opened one, and removed a brown fedora. As he was in the act of putting it on, a man sorting some luggage in the locker next to his looked up and grinned.

"That's a smart idea, bud. The rain would sure have made a mess of that light gray felt one you were wearing."

When Derris and Sarah reached home, Dr. Bayles' car was standing in front of the house.

He greeted them. "I haven't seen you in Pine Hill for several days, and I've been so busy I've had no chance to run over. What's new? Anything?"

"Things have been happening thick and fast," Derris answered. "But come inside for a moment. I imagine you're used to being up late at night."

"What's all this about?" he asked, puzzled.

"She's knocked down by a car tonight," Sarah spoke up before Derris could answer. "It's nothing less than a miracle that she wasn't killed."

Dr. Bayles looked troubled. "I'm beginning to think you're right and I've been wrong about some of the things that have been going on. You must promise me, young lady, that you'll be more careful. Don't go wandering around alone."

"Don't you think you should prescribe a mild sedative?" Sarah asked.

"That mightn't be a bad idea," he agreed over Derris's protest. "I'll just step out to my car. I left my things in it."

"I'm sorry," he said when he returned. "I don't seem to have what I was looking for. However"—he held out a small box—"these should do just as well." He took out a white capsule and held it to the light. "This stuff is a sample of a new type of aspirin that the Madison Company has developed. 'Biodal,' they call it. They've sent these out to all the members of the medical profession. It's quite safe if you follow the directions on the box. It's all I have with me," he added apologetically.

"That's all right," Derris took the box from him. "I don't really think I need anything. I won't have any trouble getting to sleep tonight."

"Do whatever you think best. I'll probably see you in a day or so. Good night, ladies."

Something had awakened Derris. It seemed to come from Sarah's room.

Sarah's voice sounded faintly in reply to her hurried knock. The housekeeper had gotten out of bed and was half sitting, half lying in

Went West
Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 2—(AP)—Tens of thousands of Soviet-zone Germans took Horace Greeley's advice yesterday and went west.

They skipped Russian-sponsored "Peace Day" demonstrations in the Soviet zone for the opportunity to buy food, clothes and liquor in the western zones. More than 45,000 East Germans took advantage of Soviet relaxing of border controls — aimed at getting West Germans to come east for "Peace Day" — to swarm over in the opposite direction for a shopping spree.

By nightfall most of them, loaded with food, clothing and in some cases just loaded, had returned to the Russian zone.

Misses Evelyn Glover, Rosa Moore and Josephine Braawell, teachers in Pitt county spent the summer in Atlantic City, N. J., returned last Friday to resume their posts of duty.

One of the happiest events in the lives of the Annie Wilson family was their first reunion last Sunday at the Triumph Baptist church sponsored by Mrs. A. B. Taft. There were 102 descendants present. A very enjoyable program was rendered first, in chiding readings, solos and remarks. The theme was Love. Miss Annie Ebron read a paper entitled "Love," which was a masterpiece. After the program an organization was formed consisting of president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and advisor. Rev. Willis W. Stator, co-advisor. The collection given was divided equally among the eldest members of the family. Mrs. Penny Langley, the oldest member present has passed her 79th year gave beautiful remarks. After this a lovely handshake and a basket picnic was enjoyed in the church dining room. Members of the family from out of the city were Mrs. Glenn Wyatt of Chicago, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Burley Taft and Mrs. Mary Sheppard from Kinston.

Atlantic Pact Defense May Be Up To Group
Washington, Sept. 1—(AP)—The 12 Atlantic Pact countries probably will entrust their defense planning to a small steering committee instead of a single supreme commander.

Diplomatic officials reporting this today said all countries represented on the steering group would have equal rank with no single boss. Decisions would be taken by unanimous vote.

These officials described the steering committee idea as more practical in peacetime since it would not give any one country the responsibility for mapping the defense strategy of 11 other member nations.

A final decision is expected when foreign ministers of the pact countries gather here September 17 to put the treaty into operation.

After a relapse Wednesday he was reported yesterday as having shown improvement.

At the hospital today were members of his family, Mrs. Rutledge and their son Neal, and two daughters, Mary Lou and Jean Ann.
