

Chinese Gov't Reels Under Two Grave Setbacks

Provincial Governor's Revolt And Chungking Blaze Rocks Nationalists

Canton, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Nationalist Government reeled today before a successful revolt in Yunnan Province and a disastrous fire that killed 1,000 persons in Chungking.

Hard on the heels of these blows came a Chinese Communist drive to cut the railway between Canton and Mengyang, base for South China's main defense force.

The revolt of Gen. Lu Han, governor of the Indo-China border province of Yunnan, apparently was bloodless. But the rebel governor held the provincial capital of Kunming, famed in World War II as the terminus of the air hop over The Hump—the Himalayas—from India.

Reliable reports today said Nationalist troops of Gen. Yu Cheng-wang were in the outskirts trying to force a ring around Kunming.

Lu acted speedily and apparently in a deal with the Communists on Saturday. The revolt was not wholly unexpected. Last week Lu, in a gesture of contempt and defiance, refused to go to Chungking to talk with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Instead, he sent two minor officials.

Sources here said Lu evidently regarded Chiang's invitation as a spider inviting a fly into its parlor. All flights to Kunming were suspended today. American interests there are in the charge of Consul La Rue Lutkins of New York City, whose wife and two children flew out yesterday en route to America.

French officials, though concerned over effects of events in Yunnan on Indo-China, expressed confidence the Reds would not dare attack their border. They took heart from U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson's White Paper warning the Communists not to pass the border of China. French forces were in control of the Indo-China side of the border.

Five swept the banking and Yangtze River front area of Chungking, designated as the next provisional capital of Nationalist China if the Reds take Chungking. Besides the 1,000 killed, 100,000 were left homeless and 7,000 buildings were destroyed.

Cause of the fire was not known here but arsonists with Red sympathies were suspected. Two accused Red agents were executed.

Meanwhile, the Pan Chen Lam reportedly had appealed to Moscow General Ma Pu-fang and Ma Hung-kwei in the northwest for troops to lead into Tibet.

Typhoon Sweeps West Pacific

Tokyo, Sept. 5—(AP)—One of the most powerful typhoons in recent years swept across the western Pacific today. It surged 100 miles east of the American Island base of Iwo Jima and apparently will miss Japan's main islands.

The typhoon carries winds up to 120 miles an hour. Velocities of nearly 50 were recorded on Iwo Jima, 700 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Fountain Girl Is Beauty Queen Of Farmers' Day

Daphne Yelverton Wins Pageant Honors; Peggy McGlohon Is Runner-Up And Janice Roberson Places Third In Big Event

Daphne Yelverton, a 19-year-old brown-eyed brunette of Fountain was chosen Queen of Farmers' Day in Greenville Saturday night from a field of 39 beautiful girls who represented rural communities of eight eastern North Carolina counties.

The winner was sponsored in the Farmers Day beauty pageant by the Fountain Buritan Club.

Placing second in the beauty pageant was Peggy McGlohon of Winterville, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Greenville, and third was Janice Roberson of Bethel, sponsored by the Bethel Rotary club.

Queen Daphne received a royal gift of $300 in cash and 30 gifts ranging from a wrist watch to an inner spring mattress from Greenville merchants. Miss McGlohon received $200 in cash and 20 gifts while Miss Roberson received $100 and 20 gifts from local merchants.

A crowd estimated at 1,500 people jammed into Wright gymnasium to witness one of the largest beauty pageants ever staged in eastern North Carolina. It took the three judges, Kerr Craige Ramsey, speaker of the state House of Representatives; Jack Spain, secretary of Senator Clyde R. Hoy, and Per Andersen, tobaccoconist of Copenhagen, Denmark, approximately one hour and 30 minutes to pick the Queen of Farmers Day from the 39 evening dress clad young ladies in the pageant.

In addition to the runner-up and third place contestants, included in the queen's court were Daphne McLohon of Ayden, Peggy Jean Reason of Walsenburg, Janice Turnage of Ayden, Joanne Galloway of Grimesland, Doris Bridges of Tarboro RFD, Evelyn Fields of Walsenburg, and Ann Horton of Fountain.

Queen Daphne was crowned with a crown of tobacco leaves by master of ceremonies Sam Bundy. The stage of the Wright building

Farmers' Day Is Brought To End

Day-Long Event Closes In Late Hours; Prizes Listed

Greenville's first annual Farmers' day held here Saturday came to a successful conclusion late Saturday night with the crowning of a "queen," a dance at East Carolina Teachers College and a square dance on Evans street in the business section.

The day's festivities began with a mammoth parade at 10:30 a. m. under the direction of Col. Owen Marshburn and an address at the courthouse by U. S. Senator Frank Porter Graham.

The afternoon was devoted to various contests and entertainment for both young and old followed by a banquet at the Olde Towne Inn for the beauty queen contestants at 5:30, with the beauty contest and the two dances later in the evening.

One of the highlights of the evening's events was a street dance held on Evans street near Five Points. The street dance which probably attracted more people than any other event of the day, featured the string music of Candy Jones and his band.

It ran from 8:30 until after 11 o'clock, with the street and sidewalk jammed with dancers and spectators from start to finish.

Charles Whedbee, special events director for the Greenville radio station, who was master of ceremonies at the "Farmers' Day" contests at the courthouse Saturday afternoon, made the event a distinct feature of the celebration. He distributed several hundred dollars in prizes to contestants, and had a cheering word for participants who did not win prizes.

A tremendous crowd assembled on Third street between the courthouse and Daily Reflector office. Farm people from nine counties were recognized in the assemblage. Farm women hurling rolling pins had the crowd ducking and dodging during that contest, and in the husband-calling contest many farmers arrived on the scene so quickly that some suggested that they thought the husband-calling wives were calling them.

Richard Sutton of Chicod won $10 in the hog-calling contest. Mrs. E. O. Smith of Vanceboro won $10 in the husband-calling event. This contest had many entries. Mrs. Hazel Ward of Pactolus won the rolling pin contest, $15, and hurled the firestone weapon more than 100 feet and made the crowd in the street dodge to safety. Mrs. B. T. Jones of Grifton won second, $10, and Mrs. Peter Brown of Belvoir won third prize, $5.

Mrs. Oscar May, colored, of near Farmville, won $20 for having the

The 69-year-old commander of army forces at the Pacific bastion were shattered last night as a strong departing from a Paul Robeson concert ran into a barrage of rocks.

At least eight autos and an empty bus were overturned, and an auto was set afire as demonstrators against the left-wing Negro singer got beyond the control of almost 1,000 law enforcement officers.

Report Increases In Construction

Building Trades Prosper According To New Reports

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—Business is getting better for the men who build houses and those who sell them.

Separate reports issued over the weekend by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Commerce Department, show:

1. Home sales have increased in the last 30 to 60 days.

2. General building activity rose three per cent in August. Private home building shared in the increase. New construction was estimated by the Commerce Department at $1,900,000,000.

3. City construction came within three per cent of the 1948 high during the first six months of this year. More than half of this construction went into new homes valued at $1,800,000,000.

The real estate association got reports of "slight" to "decided increases" in home sales from all but three of 22 cities it surveyed.

Canadians Head For Dollar Talks At Washington

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—A Canadian delegation led by Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson headed for Washington today for critical three-power talks on Britain's financial crisis.

Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain and Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer, are scheduled to reach New York ahead of the Mauretania tomorrow night along with a score of assistants.

The conference is to open Wednesday at the State Department amid an atmosphere of continuing gloom about the immediate chances of finding an easy formula for reversing Britain's economic slump.

Record-Breaking Number Of Freshmen At ECTC

A freshman class, record breaking as to size, began college work at East Carolina Teachers College this morning. Approximately 700 first-year men and women, the largest freshman class in the history of the college, assembled in the Wright auditorium at 9:30 for the first session of the Twentieth Annual Orientation Program observed on the campus.

A student body of approximately 1600 students is expected at East Carolina for the fall quarter. Last year's total for the fall quarter was 1389. Official figures issued in October, 1947, indicated 1401 attending classes, the largest number of students ever to attend the college up to that date.

Figures from the office of Dr. J. K. Long, registrar, indicate that 253 freshman men students and 370 freshman women students had filed applications when administrative

Loaded Bus Hits Parked Auto; 7 Seriously Hurt

Nearly Score Of Other Holiday-Bound Passengers Injured; Minor Accidents

By CHESTER WALSH Seven persons were seriously injured, nearly a score of others painfully hurt, when a motor bus loaded to capacity with Kingston Negroes en route to a Virginia seashore resort for Labor Day, collided with a parked car on highway 11, several miles south of Ayden Sunday about 2:30 a. m.

The bus turned over and was destroyed by fire. The parked car was practically demolished.

State Highway Patrolman R. C. Holt of Ayden, who investigated the accident, quoted Plummer W. Dillahun, 21, colored, of New Bern driver of the bus, as saying that when he saw the parked car, driven by Jesse Lee Harper, 23, colored of Kingston, on the highway, he turned out, but his vehicle collided with the rear end of it, then skidded down the road about 100 feet and turned over and burned.

Dr. Grady G. Dixon, Ayden physician, rendered first aid to some of the passengers. The more seriously injured were taken to Memorial General Hospital in Kingston.

Patrolman Holt listed the following seriously injured bus passengers: Eddie Lee Warren, 29, severe head injury and laceration; Norman Warren, 27, severe shock and bruises; Hosea Dobe, 50, fractured ankle and chest injuries; Henry Cox, 27, cuts on a leg and burns; Leroy Moore, 23, burns on arms; Doris Dillahun, 25, foot and leg injuries; Cora Rouse, 30, cuts on arm and severe face injury. All of the occupants of the bus were Negroes from Kingston.

The highway patrolman is continuing his investigation. State Highway patrolmen in Greenville today reported that there were numerous minor wrecks in this section over the Labor Day weekend.

Patrolman Paul O. Whitely said a 1949 pick-up and a 1935 Chevrolet were involved in a wreck on the Whitchard's Station road about 12:30 yesterday morning, near Broken.

The accident occurred on a dirt road which was only 13 feet wide and the wreck caused damage to the two cars estimated at $300 Whitely said.

No charges were brought against the driver of the pick-up, Mrs. Jack Tripp, Rt. 5 Greenville, or Robert E. Briley, driver of the other car.

ABC Officers Make Raids; Arrest Two Here Late Saturday

Pitt County ABC Officers J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor and Claude L. Manning and Deputy Sheriff Duke Andrews arrested Paul Daniel, Negro of Pactolus, Saturday night after they found two gallons of moonshine whiskey buried in his garden.

Later in the night the same officers, assisted by Capt. S. B. Dorsey and Detective M. E. Corbett of the Greenville police department, arrested Emmaline Dixon, on First Street, after they found a quantity of moonshine whiskey in her house.

Paul Daniel will be tried in County Court Tuesday. Emmaline Dixon was tried in Police Court and convicted. The court fined her $50 and costs.

Rioting Follows Robeson 'Concert'; Scores Hurt

Peekskill, N. Y., Sept. 5—(AP)—Scores of people were injured and windows in hundreds of automobiles were shattered last night as a strong departing from a Paul Robeson concert ran into a barrage of rocks.

At least eight autos and an empty bus were overturned, and an auto was set afire as demonstrators against the left-wing Negro singer got beyond the control of almost 1,000 law enforcement officers.

Glass splinters were so thick on some spots of road that it looked as if a sleet storm had hit the Westchester county suburbs.

Fifty-four persons were treated at hospitals. Fourteen persons were

Governor Sees Dual Role In Big Program

Scott Asserts Public Works Program Will Eliminate Public Service Deficit And Take Up Slack In Employment

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 5—(AP)—Governor Scott declared today in a Labor Day statement that North Carolina's $750,000,000 public works program will:

1. Eliminate a deficit in public services.

2. Take up a slack in employment which may be brought about by a period of business readjustment.

The Governor asserted that the public works program—planned mostly for the next three years—is being pushed forward as rapidly as efficient and economic business practices will allow.

Considerably more than half a billion dollars is now available to state government agencies for use in public improvements, while more than $200,000,000 for public improvements has been provided and programs mapped by the state's local governmental units and other quasi-public organizations, the statement

Oppose Dropping Of Rent Control

Petitions Being Readied To Present Aldermen Tuesday

A protest against removal of rent controls in the Greenville area without a full hearing of the matter will be filed with the city officials at an adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen here tomorrow night.

At its regular meeting last Thursday night the board voted to instruct the city attorney to draw a resolution requesting the governor to cancel rent controls for this area. The action of the board followed the presentation of a petition for cancellation signed by 56 persons Alderman R. E. Howell, who suggested a public hearing on the matter before final action, was the only one to vote against the motion for the resolution.

It was learned yesterday that 10 petitions for deferring the matter for full study, were being circulated and would be presented to the board at tomorrow night's meeting. The petitioners also were urging all citizens interested in the matter to be on hand at the board meeting.

Tomorrow night's meeting is a carryover from the regular monthly meeting last Thursday night at which time all matters requiring the board's attention could not be handled.

Oberhausen, Germany, Sept. 5—(AP)—Britain sent troops into a chemical plant here today to enforce dismantling orders.

German workers had resisted efforts to tear down the factory's equipment which makes synthetic gasoline from coal. It had been ordered destroyed as war potential. British officers estimated that between seven and eight hundred soldiers guarded the plant as German wreckers went about their jobs under guard.

Giant Airliner Takes To Wings

Bristol, Eng., Sept. 5—(AP)—Britain's hope for trans-Atlantic air supremacy, the giant eight-engine Brabazon, made a successful 27-minute test flight yesterday.

The 130-ton ship is capable of carrying 120 passengers nonstop between London and New York. The Brabazon was built by the Bristol Aeroplane Company for the Government-owned British overseas airways company.

Snyder Declares Economy Sound

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 5—(AP)—An encouraging report on this nation's economy was given here last night by U. S. Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder.

"If we have a depression, it will be the richest depression you ever saw," Snyder said in an "off the cuff" speech to the convention of the 32nd division veterans association.

Blistering Attack On Opponents Of 'Fair Deal' Program; President Says His Fight Will Succeed In End; Defends 81st Congress And Claims Progress

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5—(AP)—President Truman today unleashed a blistering attack against the "selfish interests" opposing his "fair deal" program, and grimly promised a fight to the finish for its enactment.

In a scathing speech which apparently set the tone for next year's Democratic Congressional campaign, Mr. Truman declared that this fight will succeed despite a "scarce word campaign" intended to "confuse the people and turn them against their own best interests."

The President said many of his proposals already progressed in the face of such "trumped up slogans" as "statism" and "collectivism."

These, he said, were thought up by "a lot of paid agitators, promoters and publicity experts who make a fat living by frightening the people in the higher income groups."

Asserting that people have always had to fight for progress, Mr. Truman declared "we still have a fight on our hands" against the "selfish forces of reaction and special privilege."

"The people of the United States have been winning that fight for 160 years," he added. "I am convinced that we will continue to win it through the years to come."

As for the argument that the nation "can't afford his proposals," Mr. Truman said:

"The truth is—we can't afford not to put these programs into effect. We can afford them, we ought to have them, we will have them."

The President's free-swinging Labor Day talk at the Allegheny county free fair bristled with familiar 1948 campaign criticisms of the G. O. P.—controlled 80th Congress— which he called "a threat to almost every bit of the forward-looking legislation passed during recent years."

In contrast, Mr. Truman sharply denounced the present Democratic "Congress," labeling it "has" "reversed this backward trend" by ending the "piecemeal destruction of the hard-won protections and benefits that the people have built for themselves."

The Chief executive made no reference to the Southern Democratic Congressmen who have teamed up with Northern Republicans to defeat or delay his civil rights proposals and other key measures.

But he denied flatly the criticism of "some people" that this is "doing nothing Congress"—a label Mr. Truman plastered on Congress time after time when it was under Republican control.

He offered as refutation list of measures passed during the present session "over the fierce opposition of the selfish interests."

And while he conceded that these interests have thus far prevented repeal of the labor-hated Taft-Hartley law, he added this pledge:

"That issue is far from settled. We are going to continue to fight for the repeal of that repressive law until it is wiped off the statute books."

Superior Court Docket Crowded

Five Weeks May Be Needed To Dispose Oct. 31 Docket

With almost two months remaining before the next term of Superior Court, officials announced today that the October 31 docket already has enough cases to require an estimated five weeks to dispose of them.

A check with Clerk of Court D. T. House this morning showed that only 28 cases were cleared from the 180-case docket which faced the court at the term just closed.

Actually, only four of those cases went to the jury. Eight were not proessed and the Grand Jury failed to return a true bill in one. In the other cases, pleas, or motions, were entered.

A number of the cases which were on the docket and were never reached were old cases, some of which have appeared on the docket since 1945. There were two non-support cases which have been pending for four years.

House said this morning that even had the docket been cleared last term, there would be enough cases to more than fill the October term. Three burglary cases, a rape case and a number of others have already developed since the September docket was begun.

A special term has been requested for November in an effort to clear the docket, court officials reported.

Holiday Toll

Labor Day weekend traffic deaths passed the National Safety Council's prediction of 280 today, and an all-time mark for the late summer recreation period appeared virtually certain.

With the heavy surge of home-bound traffic still to come 284 persons had been killed in auto mishaps. And deaths from all accidents stood at 358.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Gray, daughter of Mrs. Lucy C. Gray and the late Mr. Abe Gray of Stokes, N. C., and Mr. Raymond Uzzell, son of Mr. Richard Uzzell and the late Mrs. Uzzell of Goldsboro, N. C., was solemnized in a ceremony on Friday afternoon at the Eighth Street Christian church. The Rev. H. G. Haney, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The vows were spoken before an altar decorated with tall baskets of tube roses and gladioli, three and seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa with white tapers. Single candelabra were used by the kneeling bench with tall cathedral candles.

Rich green huckleberry, oregon and trailing plumosa were used to complete the setting.

The pews were marked with Colonial bouquets of white asters.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Frances Sanderson.

Given in marriage by her brother D. S. Gray, the bride wore a gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with marquisette yoke, a fitted bodice and a full skirt tapering into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion fell from a Duchess shaped bonnet. She carried a bouquet of white asters, gladioli and tuberose centered with a white orchid and showered with tuberose.

Mrs. George H. Harrison Jr., sister of the bride was the matron of honor. She wore a heavenly blue sheer over blue taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of better times roses tied with matching ribbon and wore matching headdress.

The brides maids were Miss Jacqueline Barnhill, Stokes, N. C., Miss Margaret Smith of White Lake, N. C., Miss Lila Rosa Melvin and Mrs. John Lautares, Jr. from Greenville, N. C. They wore similar designed gowns in mint green, ice blue, picardy and yellow taffeta and carried baskets of brandywine, better times and yellow roses tied with contrasting ribbon and wore matching headdress.

Little Miss Sara Elizabeth Oakley, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white satin gown with a veil similar to the bride's. She carried a basket of roses.

The bridegroom had as his best man Mr. Charles Septer, Norfolk, Va. Ushers were Mr. Frank Hog, New York City, Mr. McDonald Eare, Newport News, Va., Abron and Alton Gray, Stokes, N. C., brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Gray, mother of the bride, was gowned in a designed black faille and wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cyrus Jones, sister of the groom, wore black crepe and an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's mother at the Woman's Club. After the reception, the couple left for a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore dark green gabardine knobby suit with matching accessories and an orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return they will make their home in Rich Square, N. C., where they both will teach school.

Mrs. Uzzell received her education from Stokes High School and a B. S. degree from E. C. T. C.

Strength FOR THE DAY. ALBERT SWEITZER, UNIVERSAL MAN. A newspaper interviewer recently referred to Albert Sweitzer, the Alsatian philosopher, missionary, doctor, writer, and musician, as a "universal" man like Goethe, whom he particularly admires. Indeed the description is apt. The modern world has very few men who could fit into this category. Most men today are content to learn one trade or profession, and their highest ambition is to make enough money so they will no longer have to practice this profession. For some, the purpose of living is acquisition and for others the purpose of acquisition is living. Most men think of what they can make for themselves rather than of themselves. Only a few ever think of what they can make of the world.

But Albert Sweitzer, in such glowing contrast to the average man made himself a master of three professions purely from a love of knowledge. And, even more important, he devoted his achievements not to his own personal benefit, but to the service of mankind. He might have been famous, but he chose to be obscure; he might have been rich, but he chose to be helpful. It was by such complete service that Sweitzer was changed from a talented to a "universal" man.

Around Capitol Square. BIG WORKS—Newspaper readers have become so accustomed to big figures in government budgets, the statement that North Carolina will spend three quarters of a billion dollars in construction work during the next few years doesn't mean much. When broken down to show this means about a million dollars a day for every working day cut loose in public works, most of it for wages in some form, the item becomes impressive. BREAKDOWN—One of the last acts performed for Gov. Scott by Charles Parker before leaving as his private secretary to take over the state advertising-news division, was to prepare a breakdown statement issued by the governor today on prospective public works spending within the next three years. Roughly divided these expenditures will be channeled as follows: Public roads: $450,000,000. This includes $200 millions in rural road bonds and about the same amount in regular highway revenue for state roads and many millions on city streets. Public schools: $100,000,000, minimum. This includes $50,000,000 state money and at least as much derived from local bond and tax sources. Permanent improvements at state institutions: $100,000,000. The general assembly of 1949 appropriated for this purpose $72,000,000 following an allocation of $47,000,000 by the 1947 session. Greater part of this is yet to be spent. Local hospitals: $300,000,000. This does not include work at state-operated hospitals embraced in the permanent improvements program. It is the federal, state and local money going into county or district hospitals and health centers. Ports: Of the $750,000,000 bond issue for ports development at least half is expected to go into new construction, in addition to acquisition of present installations at Wilmington and Morehead City. Transmission lines: Electric power and telephone lines built by government sponsors co-operative is expected to run about $20,000,000 during the next few years. PRIVATE—In addition to these specific governmental items, private business is entering upon a stupendous construction program. Power companies are building new generating plants and transmission lines; telephone companies are trying hard to keep up with demand for expanded services, and hundreds of millions will be spent on quasi-public and private housing projects. LABO—Since the statement was released on Labor Day, the governor emphasized the labor angle. He said that while the state program was not specifically designed to take up slack in employment, it is coming at a time when some cut-backs are appearing in both government and private payrolls. He noted that a major part of the money would go for wages—either directly on the construction jobs in processing and transporting materials. Prospect of two and a half to three million dollars a week in wages on public works should tend to stabilize the labor situation in North Carolina. Possibility of competition for available labor among state projects and with private construction may run all costs up a bit, but will be reflected in more spending by the workers.

INTERESTED—Further testimony to active interest in Young Democrat circles comes from Catawba County. Noting news reports that Nash County YDC had doubled its membership this year—from about fifty to around a hundred, a Catawba writes that the Catawba County club increased its membership nearly three times—from 156 to 550 since January 1 and has set a goal of 1,000 for next year. CONTRAST—The contrast in YDC interest as well as in total votes in Nash and Catawba points to the influence of strong Republican opposition. Nash County with census population in 1940 of 55,808 people cast 8,371 votes in the governor's election last fall. Catawba County with 11,863 population cast 19,987 votes for the three candidates for governor last year. In other words, Catawba voted 23 1/2 percent of its population, while Nash voted only 15 percent. But Nash gave 95 percent of its total vote to the Democrats, whereas Catawba gave only 60 percent.

Somebody Told Me... By I. J. (Jack) Edwards, Jr.

Yesterday afternoon Guy Smith Stadium was over-loaded with baseball fans, who were treated to a beautiful ball game. The Greenies fans have their fingers crossed, hoping that we'll have many more opportunities to see them play this season. But yesterday's game was the last scheduled home game. Greenville is tied for fourth place with Goldsboro. Tonight's performance in Kinston, plus Goldsboro's fate, will determine whether or not the Greenies make the playoffs. The race for the playoffs is close enough to draw the fans. Yesterday every seat in the stadium was filled, and fans were sitting in the outfield on the grass. Wife Rachel and I arrived early enough to make the right-field bleachers. Two times sixty cents is $1.20, and the only sensible thing to do is to consider whether or not a ball game is worth that much money. Yesterday there were many colorful features of the game, each of which made it well worth that price.

As always, the crowd supplied a great part of the entertainment. The sun was beating down hard in the right-field bleachers, so Sam Northrop Jr. retrieved a quantity of cardboard scoring sheets to be used as sun shields. Sam passed them out in the crowd, and was labeled the first hero of the game by the fans in our area: Bancroft Moseley, Johnnie Lauters, Ford McGowan, Clarence Tugwell, Dick Fleming, Hogan Gaskins, Holly VanDyke, Raymond Sugg (a former Greenie), and the publisher of the Daily Reflector, D. J. Whichard Jr. Mr. Whichard tore his sheet in half, punched a hole in it, and pulled one of the curls of his hair through the hole to secure the sheet on his head. "What would you do if you were bald?" I asked him. He admitted that baldness would create a problem and answered, "Get sunburned." Old Man Sun wouldn't let up, so the fans had to stretch their ingenuity in order to cope with it. Mrs. Fred Sauer saw that her small son was anxious to shed his shirt, so she put it on her head to shield the sun. Joe Taff knotted his hanky at the corners. Too bad Sam didn't have enough cardboard for all the fans. The Greenies would rather beat Kinston than any team in the league, and it seems that they find the Eagles harder to beat than the rest. It was worth that $1.20 to see Manager Pappy Williams leave his feet to grab a line drive and deprive Kinston's manager, Steve Collins, of a sure hit. Johnny Tepeдино's stealing home was a pretty play, and the way Sindo Del Valle dances around second base is always entertaining. But above all, the two-hit pitching of Vernon "Preacher" Mustian was worth the price of admission. Earlier in the season I asked Manager Williams what he says to

Is Your Child the "One in Five"? One school child in five is retarded because his vision is defective. Poor vision is a great handicap to a child. It forces him to work harder to master his studies; handicaps him in his relationships with other children and grown-ups, too. his pitchers when he walks in to the mound for a conference, following a couple of walks or hits. Pappy says he asks them about the date they had last night, or tells them a quick joke. Anything, he says, to get their minds off the fact that they are losing control. But yesterday Preacher was so consistent in getting the Kinston players out that no words from Pappy were necessary. The privilege of yelling at the players comes along with the rain check. Harry Soulas, the Kinston first baseman, dropped a pop fly in front of the right-field bleachers, and the fans really let him have it. One Kinston fan made the mistake of letting us know that Harry runs a hot dog stand in New Bern during the off season. "What's the matter, Harry?" the fans yelled. "Ya need a hot dog?" It's been a great season for the Greenies. The games have been well worth their price, even for a close spender. We hope the season isn't over for us. And I thank you.

Washington Letter

Washington—Though the center of world power has shifted and this nation has entered prominently into world affairs, it has been charged that Americans are among the worst linguists in the world. "If true, this reproach is less attributable to lack of resources and energy than to improper instruction and methods," says Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Regent of Georgetown University. "The living languages have too frequently been taught as means to acquire intellectual discipline. Emphasis upon practical oral and written command of a language as prerequisite to advanced literary courses is academically questionable." In a stride toward strengthening its training of men and women for professional careers in the field of foreign languages, Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service is opening an Institute of Languages and Linguistics this fall. Threefold aim of the new institute, believed the only one of its kind in the country, will be to offer specialized training in languages to conduct creative research in the field of contemporary linguistics and to pursue the growing quest for improvement in technical pedagogical aids in the teaching of languages. For the first time the degree of Bachelor of Science in Languages will be awarded. Three years of intensified studies—one normally to be spent abroad—requiring the attainment of proficiency in at least two foreign languages will be required for the diploma. Intensified, condensed and repetitive instruction, such as was used during the war years in training of overseas service personnel, will be used in the institute to give the student as early as possible a practical command of the languages in which he wishes to specialize. The combined use of standard and new technical devices will permit certain innovations in methods of instruction toward the same end. Col. Leon E. Dostert, former interpreter for General Eisenhower and developer of the systems of simultaneous interpretation used at the Nuremberg trials and at the United Nations, will be director of the institute. Assisting him will be Dr. Jean Deny of Paris, who has been appointed vice director. Dr. Deny has been administrator of the famous Ecole Nationale des Langues Orientales Vivantes in Paris. He is also a specialist in the Turkish and Middle Eastern languages. Dr. Walsh, a skilled linguist who supervised the Army's language and area program at the University during the war, will be in general charge. Approximately 50,000 organizations now use stamp meters for supplying their correspondence with the necessary postage.

German Expert Says New Jets Can Down B-36

Bonn, Germany, Sept. 3—(AP)—Willy Messerschmitt, noted German airplane designer, said today the new U.S. B-36C super bomber can easily be shot down by a modern jet fighter. "The new jets can shoot any bomber out of the sky," declared the man who built the first jet fighter ever used in combat. With plane building barred in post-war Germany, Messerschmitt now builds prefabricated houses. He came to Bonn to negotiate a contract for building several hundred homes in the overcrowded West German capital. Asked about aviation progress in Russia, Messerschmitt replied: "I don't know. But I do know that many of my best constructors and engineers are now in the Soviet Union."

Miss America Entries Arrive

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 5—(AP)—Twenty-two shapely lassies, each hoping to be chosen the fairest one of all, most officials of the Miss American beauty pageant here today.

A boardwalk Mari Gras parade will greet them.

The girls are officially the come-ho-ho representatives of 45 states—Canada, Puerto Rico, the Hawaiian Islands, and the cities of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Washington. All have won regional contests in their home areas.

Today they will register at the Traymore Hotel. Tonight they will have a session with pageant officials at which they will be told how Miss American contestants must behave between now and Saturday, when the winner will be chosen.

No falcons, the young hopefuls will be warned.

Miss America pageant officials will stand for no padding in bathing suits.

No smoking or drinking. At least not in public.

And absolutely no male companions. Not even papa or kid brother.

The girls will be free to stroll the boardwalk, and breathe all the salty ocean air they wish.

The first preliminary contest will take place tomorrow, and by Saturday the field will be narrowed down to 15 finalists, on the basis of face figure, poise, and talents ranging from singing and piano-playing to dressmaking and horseback-riding.

Council To Take Up Resignation

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 5—(AP)—The Raleigh City Council will consider at its meeting tomorrow the resignation of this city's first manager, Roy S. Braden.

Braden submitted his resignation to Mayor P. D. Snipes Saturday. In his letter, Braden explained his action was caused by a "whispering campaign" against his character and added that his health had been affected and he needed a rest.

Raleigh voted about two years ago to replace the old commission type of government—which had prevailed here since 1910—with the council-city manager form of government. Braden, 60, was the first man to fill the post when he came here from the city management of High Point.

Walter S. Coley, 55-year-old Raleigh painting contractor, recently brought a personal complaint to the City Council charging that Braden had been attentive to a woman friend of his. However, although Braden twice requested a hearing on the matter, the council has denied the hearing on grounds that Coley did not make his complaint specific.

Greenies Gain Shoutouts Against Wilson And Kinston

Lewey And Mustian Star As Locals Maintain Fast Pace

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greenies made a clean sweep of their week-end series by whitewashing both the Wilson Tobs and the Kinston Eagles to maintain their tie for fourth place in league standings.

The Greenies handed the Tobs a 16 to 0 shellacking on Saturday night over in Wilson, marking the sixth time this season that they have shutout the Tobs, and then came home before approximately 3,500 fans here Sunday afternoon to hand the Kinston Eagles a 7 to 0 shutout. This was the first time this season that the Greenies had shutout the Eagles and marked the 14th shutout of the season registered Manager Williams and his boys in the circuit this year.

Saturday's Game

The Greenville Greenies went on a scoring rampage over in Wilson Saturday night to trounce the cellar-dwelling Tobs 16 to 0, behind the six-hit pitching of Jim Lewey. The win for Lewey was his tenth of the season, his sixth against the Tobs and was also his second shutout against them this season.

The Greenies scored once in the first when Paul Strausser walked, stole second and scored on an infield out, and then for the rest of the game scored in every frame with the exception of the second, fifth and ninth frame.

After scoring three runs in the third on three walks, two singles and an error, they came back in the fourth with a big seven-run spurge on four hits, two errors, three walks, and a hit batsman.

One run was scored in the sixth on an error and a single; two more in the seventh on two singles a walk and an error; and two more runs in the eighth on two errors, a single, three walks and a stolen base.

Jim Lewey held the Tobs to six well scattered hits in registering his tenth win of the season. He has suffered twelve defeats. H. Pittman with two stagies was the only Tob to gather more than one hit off his offerings.

Gonzales Faces Schroeder For National Title

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 5—(AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles was one jump away from his second straight national tennis championship today.

But the man standing between the 21-year-old Mexican-American and a successful defense of his title was top-seeded Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., who has beaten him seven times in eight previous tries.

The two Californians won their way to the final of the 86th annual tournament yesterday.

which drove in four runs. Paul Strausser, Hubert Smith and Sid Varney with two singles each and John Tepedino who only collected one single but drove in five Greenville runs, were the big guns.

Score by innings: R H E
 Greenville 103 701 220—16 12 1
 Wilson 000 000 000—0 6 7
 Lewey and Varney, Mauney, Barnes, Foulkes, Rose and Bernardini.

Sunday's Game

Vernon (Preacher) Mustian turned in a neat two-hitter here yesterday afternoon as the Greenies in the first of a three-game series by a 7 to 0 score.

Only 27 men officially faced Mustian as he issued only two free passes to first. During the first five frames only 16 men had been to the bat, one of them being issued a free pass to get on base and all three men were left stranded when the inning ended.

The Greenies had two big frames in giving Mustian his seventh win of the season and his second within a week with four runs in the sixth frame and three runs in the eighth.

In the fourth, Valle led off with a walk. Denier sacrificed him to second. Palica was safe on Collins error with Valle taking third. Strausser singled into rightfield bringing in Valle with Palica going to second. Graham singled bringing in Palica. Tepedino forced Graham at second. Williams singled to bring in Strausser. Willie Mauney was given an intentional pass to load the bases and then Tepedino stole home from third for the fourth marker of the game.

In the eighth frame, with two men out, Graham walked, Tepedino doubled and Manager Pappy Williams followed with a single to bring in Graham and Strausser. Willie Mauney then came through with another smashing double into centerfield to bring home Pappy Williams from second.

A clean single through third base and shortstop by Jerry Frye in the sixth frame and single into left centerfield by Ned Hollis in the ninth frame, were the only two hits garnered off the offerings of Mustian. Hy Chapin started on the mound for the Eagles but was sent to the showers in the sixth frame after he had given up two hits and two men were on base with only one out. Jimmy Wallace pitched the remainder of the game and gave up five hits and four runs.

Manager Pappy Williams with two singles in four trips to the plate which drove in three of the Greenies' runs was the only Greenie to get more than one hit.

Again your attention is called to the double-header to be played over in Kinston tonight which winds up the regular season's play. The first game will be a seven-inning affair and will get under way at seven o'clock with the second game, a nine-inning affair following immediately.

Rumor Mill Has Onslow Slated To Lose Job

Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—The rumor mill is trying to grind Manager Jack Onslow of the Chicago White Sox out of a job and his bosses aren't helping much to slow it down.

The name of Stanley (Bucky) Harris popped up yesterday as the successor to Onslow, who is in the Sox front office dog-house for attempting to find out whether he will fish or manage next season.

General-Manager Frank Lane immediately denied the rumor that Harris, one-time "boy" pilot of the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees' 1947 Manager of the year, will replace Onslow.

Army Sergeant Is Pistol Champ

Pt. Sheridan, Ill., Sept. 5—(AP)—Tech. Sgt. Huelet Benner of Ft. Knox, Ky., was the new National Pistol champion today, but the decorated titleholder, Policeman Harry Reeves of Detroit, owned a new meet record.

In the three-day championships which ended here yesterday, Benner staved off a rousing finish by Reeves to take the crown with a total of 2,592 of a possible 2,700 points; Reeves wound up with 2,579

TONIGHT'S GAMES

- Greenville at Kinston (2)
- Goldsboro at R. Rapids (2)
- New Bern at Tarboro (2)
- Rocky Mount at Wilson

Well, tonight will ring down the curtain on Coastal Plain League, and what a finish it will be! There are two big $64 questions—Can Greenville beat Kinston tonight and can the Roanoke Rapids Jays gain a split with Goldsboro so that we might gain full possession of fourth place? Of course should Greenville win two games and even though Tarboro beats New Bern that will still put Greenville in the playoffs. However, should Goldsboro and Greenville gain a split with their respective teams and both teams end up in a tie, then that will mean that Greenville and Goldsboro will play one game on Tuesday night (place unknown) to decide who is to be in the playoff. Should Tarboro come up and the race end in a three-way with Goldsboro and Greenville (and they still have a good chance) then when the curtain rings down on tonight's games, Tarboro must play Goldsboro Tuesday with the winner taking on Greenville on Wednesday. The winner of that game will be the fourth club in the first division and consequently will make the playoff. Should this occur this means that the playoffs will be a day late starting, as plans now call for them to get underway on Thursday. This was decided at a meeting of the six top clubs at a meeting in Williamston Friday afternoon. NOW IS THE TIME TO COME TO THE AID OF YOUR PARTY and that party is Greenville when they meet Kinston over there tonight. Make your plans to attend this doubleheader which will get underway at seven o'clock.

Congratulations to Johnny Tepedino on being chosen by the fans as being the most valuable Greenville player this year. Tepedino is the only Greenie player that has hit consistently since joining the Greenies and has hit over the 300 mark all the year. It is an honor well deserved by a player that has really done his bit toward putting Greenville where they are today in the standings. Also my congratulations to Willie Mauney, who was defeated by the narrow margin of one vote. Mauney is also a great player and is always in there hustling—no matter what the score may be.

Sport Slants By Pap

Jack Lee, sportscaster for the radio station in Goldsboro wired Red Benton, manager of the Rocky Mount club, and thanked him for giving that game to Greenville over in Rocky Mount on Thursday night when the Greenies won by a 14 to 4 score. Having witnessed this game I could see no giveaway by the Rocky Mount Leafs during that contest as Greenville took advantage of the breaks and made good on them. I wonder if he wired Manager Ross Morrow of the Tobs and thanked him for our 16 to 0 defeat over the Tobs Saturday night. There is one thing certain, if Greenville wins a game you can bet your bottom dollar that it was heads-up baseball and not a giveaway by the other club. As Manager Pappy Williams stated—"There hasn't a club in the League given Greenville a thing this year."

The official mythical 1949 All Star Coastal Plain League teams, as selected by sportswriters and sportscasters through the circuit are as follows:

Most valuable player — William "Spec" Padgett, rookie righthander, 22-game winner for the New Bern Bears.

Other Greenville players receiving honorable mention were: Varney and Yohn.

Speed Pilots Praying For Good Weather In Big Race

Cleveland, Sept. 5—(AP)—Pilot of the world's fastest competitive planes prayed as they worked today, pleading for good weather and a fair chance at the $16,000 first prize that goes with the Thompson trophy.

The forecast, however, was unfavorable. Late afternoon thunder-showers with gusty winds were predicted.

The Thompson, reduced in distance from 300 to 225 miles, is the outstanding event of the National Air races. The planes will be shooting this year at a $2,000 bonus for setting the record of 396 miles an hour set by Cook Cleland of Cleveland in 1947.

Air Force jet fighters will fly the Thompson again this year after skipping one season.

The finals in the Goodyear race for midjet planes, with a first prize of $7,000 and a consolation race for the baby speedsters, also are scheduled.

The jet Thompson is set for 2:35 p.m. (EST) and the propeller Thompson will follow an hour later.

Two Promising AC Grid Prospects Out Of Action In Opening Practice

At least two of Atlantic Christian College's most promising football prospects were missing last week when Coach Bill Crutchfield and Bobby Reynolds began their fall workouts, according to reports from Wilson.

Ned Ligon, ACC's little All-American guard last season, did not report for opening practice. Reports from Wilson say he may devote full time to his studies this season and give up football.

Harry Helmer, whose unucanny punting ability saved the Bulldogs in many instances last season, was also missing from the practice roster. He is pitching baseball for Norfolk in the Piedmont League and should his team go into the playoffs, he will not be able to report until after the Bulldog's opener with Catawba College.

On hand for the opening practice sessions were such back field standouts as Jack Allsbrook, Rocky Mount tailback; Gene Maggel, Bloomfield, N. J., quarterback; Pat Patterson, Rocky Mount right half; and Clyde Sullivan, Wilson fullback.

Returning to the line will be Billy Beamon, Wilson tackle; Jack Cashlon, Sanford, center; Paul Glazner, Charles, Mass. tackle; Dave Green, Wilson end, and several others.

The HOUSE on LILAC STREET

Chapter 26
Morris Diehlman crossed the district attorney's office and shook hands with the D.A.
"Hope I didn't keep you waiting?" Diehlman said.
"Not at all. I believe you know everybody except Dr. Reidy." The D.A. indicated the others already seated.
Diehlman nodded as the introductions were made, then seated himself.
"We've got a big case on our hands around the room. I think we can forego the preliminaries. We all know that we are face to face with a ruthless gang of criminals who have been cleverly organized. That such a syndicate could exist at first seemed—well, fantastic. Now, however, on the evidence brought to light, there can no longer be any doubt either of its existence or its magnitude.
"Piecing together the work of various investigations we have come to one conclusion. Their business has been widespread murder—murder for a price. Poison seems to have been their favorite weapon, though they haven't hesitated to use other forms of violence. It's pretty evident that they are the source of the counterfeit currency that has been flooding this and neighborhood states.
"He waited for a moment. When no one spoke he went on.
"We're getting ready to close in on the lesser fry that make up the organization. In some instances we're pretty certain of the names of the ringleaders, but we aren't make a move until we're sure. We can't risk an acquittal. Investigators are working on this angle now.
"As you know, gentlemen, this office has for several months been working on various aspects of this case without any comprehension of the insurance fraud angle. Then when Mr. Diehlman and Mr. Kent approached me on behalf of the other companies affected, we realized that the wedge to crack this gang. You've permitted us to consult your files—files on death claims where you've paid up. They've disclosed a strange pattern. Each victim has died of pneumonia, gastric-enteritis or a heart attack, and in each case, prior to death, considerable insurance has been placed on his life.
"Obviously some members of the insured's family in each case have cooperated with the gang. By counting on such persons' cupidity and greed, the ring has achieved success—for a time. Now this standardized method of killing has proved the one big mistake that means their downfall.

"All the companies have also had a number of claims for double indemnity where death was due to violence. You mentioned a case to me that occurred only the other day?" He looked at Diehlman. The latter nodded.
"Yes. It was on a man named Warnock. The policy had been written by one of the agents we were suspicious of. We'd previously agreed that any cases written by these men should come under careful scrutiny. There was a definite slip-up in this Warnock case. They got a bit too eager, or maybe they were just too sure of themselves. At any rate, only a few days after the policy was issued, he died in a motor accident—so it appeared until we had a report from the medical examiner. This proved conclusively that the man was dead when he hit the water, that he couldn't have received the injuries to his head and neck in the course of the accident. He'd been deliberately murdered. In fact, he'd been dead several hours before the car went into the pit, and they skillfully framed it to look like an accident. In the ordinary course of events, we would never have questioned it."
"I wondered, Dr. Adams, if you would give us a report of the further steps which have been taken," the district attorney asked. "I had hoped that the medical examiner himself could be here today, but that wasn't possible."
"We have to date obtained exhumation orders for some twenty bodies," Dr. Adams addressed the others. "We have found traces of arsenic in every one of them. Now a person suffering from arsenical poisoning, pneumonia, gastric-enteritis or heart ailment, depending on the method and quantity of poison administered. It was a smart angle, but they overlooked one thing. They didn't count on the fact that arsenic also causes the tissues to remain unusually well preserved. Being metal, arsenic never decomposes; and in examining the remains we've been able to discover the exact amount of the dosage which caused death. They did not apparently kill outright, but poisoned the victim over a long period of time."
He turned toward Dr. Reidy. "I would like you to tell the others what you told me the other night. Somehow I feel it has a definite bearing on the case."
"I'll be glad to, for what it's worth. I happened to mention it to Dr. Adams when I saw him at a meeting of the local medical association the other night, and he thought you might be interested."
He took out of his pocket the small cardboard box he had previously shown to Derris. Briefly he related the events leading up to his discovery that the capsules contained arsenic.
"Unfortunately I find that Dr. Bayles is out of town for a few days, but when he comes back he may be able to assist us."
"Have you written to the Madison Company about this?"
"I did better than that—I went to see them. They admitted it was like the samples they've been sending out recently but were at a loss to explain the arsenic. They promised to investigate, and let me know. I doubt if it'll come to anything, though."

"It's a very interesting point," the D.A. agreed. "Would you leave the box of capsules with me?"
"Of course," Reidy said, "and if I hear anything further, I'll let you know right away."
"I'd appreciate it if you would, well, that seems to bring us all pretty well up to date. As soon as I receive certain additional information I've been waiting for, we can make our arrests. You'll be getting a call from me."

Says Tito Split With Soviet Of Long Duration

Paris, Sept. 3 — (AP) — Yugoslavia's Premier, Marshal Tito, has been on the outs with the Kremlin longer than anyone suspected, an American professor said yesterday.
Prof. Kirtley Mether, Harvard geologist, who lunched with Tito in Yugoslavia last week, said he asked his host if relations with Stalin were harmonious during Tito's Moscow visit in 1944.
"They were not," Mather said Tito answered.
In 1944 Tito was leader of the Yugoslav partisans in the war against Germany and to all appearances had been hand-picked by Moscow for the job. He took over the country as Prime Minister following liberation in 1945.
The formal break between Tito and his erstwhile comrade came in June, 1945, when the Cominform blasted him for too great independence from Moscow.
"I doubt if it'll come to anything, though."
"It's a very interesting point," the D.A. agreed. "Would you leave the box of capsules with me?"
"Of course," Reidy said, "and if I hear anything further, I'll let you know right away."
"I'd appreciate it if you would, well, that seems to bring us all pretty well up to date. As soon as I receive certain additional information I've been waiting for, we can make our arrests. You'll be getting a call from me."

American Troops In Border Fight

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 3 — (AP) — German border police reported today that U.S. constabulary troops and Czechoslovak border police exchanged more than 600 pistol shots near Hof early yesterday.
The reason for the gunfire between American and Czech border elements could not be immediately determined.
German eyewitnesses reported that Czech border guards first opened fire on an American and German border patrol late Friday night.
The shooting was repeated during the night of Saturday to Sunday when an American constabulary patrol approached the Czech border. German police said that, as far as they knew, nobody was hurt in the exchange.

One German official described the incident as "aimless shooting." The exchange early yesterday morning lasted four hours, the police said.

Fixed Things

Waynesville, N.C., Sept. 3 — (AP) — Bob Cook, crippled by polio, faced a problem last week. Bob wondered how he would get his wheel chair up three flights of stairs in the eighth grade classroom at Bethel school.
Principal E. J. Evans, opening a new school year, fixed things. He moved the eighth grade to the basement.
The United States produced more than 3,500,000,000 bushels of corn in 1948, about a billion more than were produced in 1938.
