Heavy Selling Of Tobacco, Rising Prices Reported

Estimated 40 Percent Of Eastern Belt Crop Sold; Sales Moving Faster

Yesterday sales on the Greenville tobacco market totaled 1,495,910 pounds and brought an average price of $47.85 per hundred pounds according to figures released today by Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee.

On Friday of last week the local market sold 1,774,228 pounds of leaf for an average price of $46.46 per hundred pounds.

During the four selling days last week, the local market sold 5,527,117 pounds of tobacco and brought the total pounds sold during the first 15 selling days of the season to 21,520,876 pounds; an average of approximately 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco per day for the first 15 days of the market.

Last week's sales showed gains of $1 to $8 per hundred pounds on the various grades of tobacco with the largest increases coming in the green and red grades of lower qualities. The greatest volume of sales was of the heavy tobaccos which showed price increases of $1 to $7 over the previous week's sales, and non-descript tobacco was $1 to $4 higher than the week before.

According to government reports on the Eastern belt, tobacco in this section is moving through the markets 30 per cent faster than last year, and based on the government estimates of the crop poundage approximately 40 per cent of the tobacco produced in the Eastern belt already has been sold on the auction floors.

Since August 1, the government has reduced its estimate on Eastern North Carolina tobacco by 15,500,000 pounds, and has set its present estimate of the eastern tobacco crop at 384,400,000 pounds. According to the government report, the season's sales in the Eastern belt through last Friday totaled 171,105,449 pounds of tobacco, and brought an average price of $44.59.

During the 1948 season, when the Greenville market was open for 61 sales days, the producers' sales on the Eastern belt markets totaled 354,486,885 pounds, and the Greenville market sold a total of 53,707,915 pounds of tobacco.

Indications on the markets of the Eastern belt at the present time point to an early closing of the belt's markets by mid-October. Individuals closely connected with tobacco and farming in the eastern area have indicated that if rainy and bad weather continues in this section, preventing the farmers from harvesting hay and other crops, the tobacco will continue to flow through the markets 30 per cent faster than last year.

If good weather prevails, however they say farmers will save the other crops and the flow of tobacco to the auction markets will slow down and the selling season will not be cut so short as indicated at the present time.

Hawaii Deadlock Still In Effect

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Peace talks in the Hawaiian dock strike have broken up in failure, and there is no sign today of early settlement.

The U. S. mediation and conciliation service, stood ready to try to help again if the chance arose.

Cyrus S. Ching, chief of the service, announced last yesterday that "the parties remain so hopelessly far apart in their thinking that further mediation at this time would be of no avail."

A Briton's Viewpoint

London Editor, An Authority On British Affairs, Has Been Sympathetic With Gov't Policies And Actions; Sees Grave Dangers In Some Of Them; Interview

Industrial News Review

U. S. News and World Report has published an unusually interesting interview with Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the Economist of London dealing with Britain's difficulties and their possible solution. What gives it a particular importance is that Mr. Crowther, who is regarded both here and abroad as an outstanding authority on British affairs, has been sympathetic with many of the Labor government's policies and actions—but, at the same time, sees grave dangers in some of them.

Thus, in one section of the interview, he said, "Taxation is so heavy now that there really is very little reward for anybody to work any harder. And I'm not only talking about the high-income executive, I'm talking about the ordinary workman. He knows that, as soon as his earnings exceed about $30 a week for a single man, as much as 36 per cent is deducted in tax off any additional money that he makes."

Dollar Accord Seen Averting General Election In Britain

London, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Informal British political sources said today they believe the three-nation Washington dollar accord has averted an autumn general election in Britain.

These informants said failure of the conference in the American capital would have compelled the Labor government to seek a new electoral mandate for pressing its own long-term cure for Britain's economic ills.

Government officials were silent on the election issue. They said only that the 10-point program laid down yesterday by U. S., British and Canadian economic experts has staved off immediate widespread unemployment and short-time work in England.

These officials based their opinion on the statement of Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that no further dollar-import cuts are being considered now.

The political sources, ranging from Labor ministers of Parliament to party officials, said Prime Minister Attlee and most members of his cabinet are opposed to capitalizing politically on the results of the conference. They want to avoid possible charges of opportunism, the informants said.

Treasury officials said while no new dollar import cuts are being planned, the 25 per cent $400,000,000 slash in Britain's hard currency spending program ordered in July remains in force.

One of Cripps' first tasks when he returns will be to put a revised dollar import program—taking into account this 25 per cent slash—before the cabinet.

Mainly affected will be sugar, tobacco, timber, paper and pulp, non-ferrous metals, cotton, steel and machinery.

Britain hopes to offset some of the losses by buying these things in non-dollar areas.

This country gets one-third of its raw cotton from dollar countries; two-fifths of its non-ferrous metals; one-fifth of its timber; one-tenth of its hides; one-eighth of its paper—making materials; three-fifths of its rosin and practically all its sulphur and carbon black.

In the view of Treasury officials effect of the cuts will become apparent within the next two months. These officials said the employment situation is unlikely to be felt in industries using these materials because Britain is in a position to run them on existing stocks for some time to come.

The officials cited the case of cotton. Britain gets one-third of its supplies from the United States. It consumes about 30,000 tons a month. Its stocks total 323,000 tons. This means the industry could operate on stocks for at least ten months—even if it weren't receiving supplies from soft currency countries.

Wallace decided to skip election. He won't run this year; speakers hint 1952 campaign.

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace has decided not to run for any office this year.

His course has left the choice wide open for an American Labor party candidate for U. S. Senator in New York at the November election.

Wallace's decision was announced late yesterday by Rep. Vito Marcantonio, state chairman of the A.L.P. The A.L.P. high command is scheduled to name a senate candidate tonight, and Marcantonio said the nomination is "wide open."

On Thursday, Sen. John Foster Dulles, Republican, is scheduled to receive the GOP nomination, and former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, a Democrat, both the Democratic and liberal party nominations.

The Senator elected will serve about a year remaining of the term of Robert F. Wagner, expired and alling Democrat, who resigned. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named him his foreign affairs advisor.

At dinner in Wallace's honor last night, speakers made no reference to the efforts to get Wallace to run for the Senate.

But Marchantoni and Paul Robeson, left-wing Negro singer, suggested in speeches that Wallace might run for President again in 1952.

At the dinner Wallace said that "a welfare state should be the goal of everyone who calls himself a liberal."

Reich Stalemate In Pact Talks

New York, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Contract negotiations between the strike-threatening A.P.I. International Longshoremen's Association and east coast shipping operators are reported in stalemate.

Another session has been scheduled for Thursday.

Negotiations reopened yesterday and after the meeting Harry Haselgren, secretary of the union's Atlantic coast district, said: "We made no progress toward settlement. We are at a stalemate."

View Pennsylvania Vote As Administration Test

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 13.—A matron of 65 and a 41-year-old lawyer are pitted against each other today in a special Congressional election that is looked on as the first test of the Truman administration since last November. The election highlights Pennsylvania's primary.

Both Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., the Democratic candidate, and Republican John Sayler are political novices.

They are fighting for the 26th Congressional district seat vacated by the death of Mrs. Coffey's son, Robert L. Coffey, Jr. The district comprises three counties—Cambria (Johnstown) Indiana and Armstrong.

Coffey, an Air Force Reserve Colonel, was killed in a jet plane crash last April.

His mother has pledged herself to carrying out his program. This includes outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and complete support of the Truman "fair deal" program.

Sayler campaigned on the stand that the issue "is the American way of life, free enterprise and opportunity versus the regimented, semi-police state and the socialistic, welfare state philosophy."

The fight will be a test of Democratic strength in highly unionized Cambria county against GOP forces in agricultural Armstrong and Indiana counties.

Republicans have a 7,000 plurality in registration in the three counties. The GOP registration margin was 12,000 in 1948 when young Coffey upset Harve Tibbott, veteran Republican, 62,061 to 50,000.

Talks Of Senate Hearing If Navy Aviation Curbed

Sen. Russell Favors Action If Johnson Abolishes Air Arm Or Marines

By MAX BOYD

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said today there may be some Senate hearings if Secretary of Defense Johnson lays a heavy hand on naval aviation. He added that he doesn't expect the defense chief to do such a thing, however.

Russell, a member of the Senate's armed services committee, took the position that the Senate is not justified in starting an inquiry on the basis of the "general statements" made Saturday by Capt. John G. Crommelin, a veteran naval officer.

Crommelin contended the offensive power of the navy is "being nibbled to death" at the Pentagon, the enormous office building which houses the department of defense.

The naval officer said he hopes his statement will blow the whole thing open and bring on another Congressional investigation.

Crommelin already is due to testify before the House Armed Services committee soon after it resumes hearings on Navy-Air Force matters October 5.

Senator Russell told a reporter that he would favor a Senate inquiry if Secretary Johnson should move to abolish Naval aviation or the Marine Corps. But he said he doesn't think the secretary is going to abolish either of these naval branches.

"Of course," the Senator added, "there may be something going on that I don't know about."

He said it took a lot of courage for Crommelin to speak out, and that he understands how navy officers feel and is sympathetic with them.

One of the highest ranking navy officers ever—five star Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey—spoke out yesterday for Crommelin. Halsey said:

"I feel very strongly he is attempting to do something for the good of the country and that he has shown wonderful courage in jeopardizing his career by doing this. I feel he deserves the help and respect of all naval officers."

When Crommelin first issued his statement, he said he realized he was risking his career. However, he told reporters yesterday that so far "nobody has said boo" to him.

The late secretary of defense, James V. Forrestal, was quoted yesterday by a naval aeronautical engineer as having said that "I fear for the striking power of the navy after I leave office."

'Dare' Russia

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Yugoslavia dared Russia today to take her complaints against this country to the United Nations.

Moshe Pijade, one of Premier Marshal Tito's top-ranking spokesmen, said in an article in the official newspaper, Borba: "Yugoslavia will have nothing to lose."

Pijade's blast, latest broadside in the war of words between the Kremlin and Tito's regime, was touched off by an article in the Russian foreign policy weekly, New Times, which had accused Yugoslavia of duplicity in her dealings with neighbor Albania.

Pijade, former newspaperman and author who is the Yugoslav party's top theorist said the Russian claim that Yugoslavia sold out the cause of the Communist-led Greek guerrilla rebels amounted to nothing more than a plain lie. He said the Soviet-dominated Cominform propaganda "poisons the European atmosphere."

Chances Look Bright For Peaceful Solution Of Wage Dispute That Threatened Tie Up Nation In Economic Knots

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(AP)—There won't be any steel strike for the next 11 days—and after that maybe none at all.

Chances look bright for peaceful solution of the steel wage dispute that threatened to tie the nation in economic knots.

The CIO United Steelworkers and six major steel producers have agreed to an 11-day extension of the strike truce sought by President Truman.

That truce begins at midnight tonight—the hour originally set for the nation-wide steel walkout. It will continue until September 25.

The steelworkers also accepted the recommendations of the President's steel fact finding board—even though it meant giving up a fourth round wage increase.

The men who make steel will have to be satisfied with the average $1.65 an hour they now receive. The union won three increases totalling 46 cents since the end of World War II.

Maurice J. Tobin, secretary of labor, predicted the steelworkers' acceptance of the board findings will result in "national prosperity such as this country has rarely known."

Tobin made the prediction at Kansas City where he is on a building dedication.

President Truman made no immediate comment on the CIO action.

But a top White House associate said the President regards the agreement won in the steel controversy as a forerunner of widespread peaceful settlements in other industrial disputes.

The advisors said Mr. Truman expects the union and the steel companies to reach a speedy settlement based on the formula concocted by his board.

The first steel company to reply after the union's position was announced was Republic Steel Corporation of Cleveland, Republic, the nation's third largest steel producer, said it is willing to bargain pensions with a view of completing a study of the problem by March 1, 1950.

Famed Atlantic City Fire Burns

$200,000 Blaze Guts Million-Dollar Pleasure Palace

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A $200,000 fire ripped through 300 feet of the famed million dollar pier early today.

The well-known landmark, which juts 1,900 feet into the ocean on the downtown section of the boardwalk, caught fire about 4:30 a. m. A northeast wind blew roaring flames down the beach away from Boardwalk hotels.

The pier's huge ballroom, near the short end, was gutted completely. Twisted roof girders fell into the blaze. Fire Chief Rex Parley set the damage estimate at $300,000.

The long pleasure palace was closed on Labor Day for the winter.

No one was injured. Caretaker Walter Merchant and his bride of three weeks, Florence, were helped down a ladder to their living quarters about midway out the pier.

The resort's fire department brought special high pressure equipment into play. The hose lines were run from the high pressure boardwalk system, independent from the rest of the city. It had been installed for just such an emergency.

Firemen also used Atlantic City's "deluge tower," a huge, 100-foot-high hose carrier, which spews out almost 10 times as much water as an ordinary fire hose, and under high pressure. These special measures enabled the hardworking firemen to contain the blaze in a relatively small shoreward section of the pier.

Despite the early hour, thousands of curious townfolk turned out to watch the spectacle. The flames lit the sky for many miles. Police roped off the area to keep spectators back.

W. S. C. S. Holds Regular Meeting
The W. S. C. S. of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting at the church Monday, September 12. Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick had charge of the devotional and program and chose as her theme "Faith." She used as her scripture the first three verses of the 11th chapter of Hebrews. By faith one reaches up to God, out to others and is able to do great things for the Master. In presenting her program Mrs. Kirkpatrick posed many constructive and stimulating suggestions as to things members of the Society could do to encourage larger attendance, deeper interest, and more enthusiasm for the women's work. Among her thoughts were the following: Start and close on time, transact only essential business, have a limited time allotted to the program, have the business session first, and above all, for individual members to feel a deeper sense of responsibility and to radiate more friendliness, cordiality and sociability.

At the conclusion of the program the president, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Jr., presided over the business session. The minutes were read and approved by the recording secretary, Mrs. M. K. Blount. Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ed Williford and a total of over three hundred dollars was recorded from all the circles during the month. Mrs. Charles Reynolds, missionary education chairman, reported dates for the first mission study class of the year, to be held jointly with the ladies of the Presbyterian and Christian churches. The dates are October 12, 13 and 15 from 10 to 11:30 a. m. and the study book is entitled "Missions at the Grass Roots."

Reports were given from each circle. The appointment of Mrs. Harry Forbes as historian was announced and Mrs. Rufus Stark was elected to represent the Society on the Board of Education. The president announced that the central zone meeting of the New Bern district would be held on Thursday, September 15, at the Wharton country church, located just off the Washington-Paculus highway. A number present planned to attend. The meeting was then adjourned.—Reported.

Pitt Boy Scout Committee Has Meeting Monday

By WYATT BROWN

The Pitt District Committee of Boy Scouts of America met last night at the Presbyterian Church together with the Scoutmasters of the troops in the county. Jack Hogarth, field executive, explained the inclusion of eight-year-old boys in cubbing and the permitting of 11-year-old boys entering Boy Scout Troops.

Executive Hogarth also gave more details on the "inspection" each troop will have. A Scout official will visit each troop in the county before the end on September and make a detail inspection of the troop, its membership and activities in line with getting Scouting launched for the season.

Another announcement was to the effect that in the future Boy Scouts will not be required to review their merit badges before the Board of Review. The Board of Review, whose chairman is Errol S. Webb, will still pass boys from one class to another—Tenderfoot to Second Class, Second Class to First Class, from First Class to Star, from Star to Life, from Life to Eagle and so on.

The Troop Committee from the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints reported their troop ready for registration. The Memorial Baptist Church announced that one meeting had been had with boys and that their troop will soon be going ahead with registration.

The senior unit was represented by Erskine Duff of the unit committee. He said the senior unit under Alan Powell was meeting regularly at the Methodist Church but that they were still looking for a meeting place on the river. Mr. Duff said the unit would get a cruiser as soon as they had a satisfactory meeting place.

Scoutmaster Mark McGlohon and Troop Committee Chairman R. E. Boyd of the Winterville Troop reported they had been active through the summer and were all set for a good year. Scoutmaster William R. Stroud reported his troop all ready for a good year.

Advancement Chairman Erroll Webb reported a few boys coming up to the Board of Review which meets each third Monday night at the Methodist Church. He advised all boys who wanted to pass merit badges to see him for the name of the proper counselor.

Wendell Smiley, cubbing chairman, reported plenty of Cubs but a shortage of Den Mothers. Rev. L. W. Topping, Cub Pack chairman of the Presbyterian Church, Cub Pack, said he also found plenty of boys but few Den Mothers.

Scoutmaster David Whitehead of the American Legion Troop and Scoutmaster Bill Drum of the Methodist Church Troop find their troops full now. Boys wanting to join troops will find opening in Scoutmaster John Hardee's Christian Church Troop and the Memorial Baptist Church Troop. Boys over 14 will find Senior Scouting ready for them in Counselor Alan Powell's Rotary Club Senior Unit.

Others present last night were Kelly Aheyunis, Scoutmaster of the Bethel Rotary Club Troop, Raymond Smith, Pack Master of the Presbyterian Church Troop, Alder, Hollywood Church Troop Committee chairman, E. C. Forlines of the Winterville Troop Committee, Joe T. Baldree, chairman Troop Committee Latter Day Saints, E. M. Bass of the Memorial Baptist Troop, Wyatt Brown, chairman of Pitt District Committee.

The home was decorated with arrangements of fall flowers with roses and asters predominating. The individual tables were centered with old fashioned nosegays. Mrs. Davenport's and Miss McLawhorn's places were marked by corsages.

Mrs. Elwood Davenport, Mrs. Charles McLawhorn and Miss Clara Lou Dail assisted the hostesses in serving an ice course. Lime punch was served during the evening.

Mrs. Donald Langston won high score. The nosegays were given as table prizes.

The honorees were remembered with gifts of linen and silver.

W. S. C. S. Holds Regular Meeting
The W. S. C. S. of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting at the church Monday, September 12. Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick had charge of the devotional and program and chose as her theme "Faith." She used as her scripture the first three verses of the 11th chapter of Hebrews. By faith one reaches up to God, out to others and is able to do great things for the Master. In presenting her program Mrs. Kirkpatrick posed many constructive and stimulating suggestions as to things members of the Society could do to encourage larger attendance, deeper interest, and more enthusiasm for the women's work. Among her thoughts were the following: Start and close on time, transact only essential business, have a limited time allotted to the program, have the business session first, and above all, for individual members to feel a deeper sense of responsibility and to radiate more friendliness, cordiality and sociability.

Wilson Police Warning Public Flimflam Game

By CHESTER WALSH

Wilson police have under observation and available for arrest two alleged Negro flimflammers who work the old "lost and found" game of a pocketbook with a lot of money in it on various tobacco markets.

The racket is like this: A convincing talking woman picks out some unsuspecting Negro in the tobacco market area, tells the victim about finding a pocketbook with a lot of money in it, offers to divide with the victim if he or she will "chip in" some money to make change. The racket has worked in Greenville numerous times, but the police have rounded up all of the cases but one.

The Wilson chief of police stated in a message to Greenville Chief Lester D. Page that two of the flimflam racketeers are in Wilson, and that they are available for arrest on testimony from any victim of their operations. They are Jean Young, 47-year-old, 221-pound Negro woman, with a "benevolent and persuasive manner," and Lawrence Dudley, 47, dark brown complexion, who "talks like a preacher." Dudley is of slight build and "effusively friendly with strangers," particularly Negroes.

Any pocketbook victim who has lost money by the trick should contact Chief Page at the Greenville police department.

Boy Arrested For Brutal Attack On Small Playmate

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 13—(AP)—Eleven-year-old John Schiller, morose and tight-lipped, was held today for a vicious attack on a small playmate.

Arrested at his schoolhouse, the boy admitted he beat and slashed four-year-old Michael Lyon in a vacant lot and then tried to strangle the shaler lad.

In probate court yesterday John admitted that he had told Michael: "God told me you're supposed to die today."

But that was all he'd say. Michael was found unconscious in the brush-covered lot last Thursday. He was suffering from 26 knife wounds and bruises.

Later he told police that an older boy, with gold bridgework in his front teeth, had attacked him.

John, son of a factory worker, Joseph Schiller, was arrested at his Lutheran Parochial school.

Carried to court from his hospital bed, Michael identified John.

"That's him" he said. "He beat me. He had a knife. I went to sleep and didn't remember anything after that."

Michael's step-father, Forest C. Barden, a state insurance inspector, and his mother accompanied him to court.

Judge Clair R. Black questioned John, and the boy told of taking Michael for a ride on the handlebars of his bicycle.

In the vacant lot, according to his story, he beat Michael, slashed him with a jack-knife, and cut him on the forehead with a sharp stick. Then he knocked a piece of rope around Michael's neck and also choked him with his hands. Then he threw away the knife and fled.

Judge Blair ordered that John be given an intelligence test and a psychiatric examination before further court action.

'Northeaster' Moving Inland

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—The Weather Bureau reported early today that the storm which buffeted the Carolina coast yesterday had moved inland and was expected to head north.

The bureau, which earlier had described the storm as a "typical wintertime northeaster," said that at 8 a.m. (EST) the disturbance was centered between Lumberton and Wilmington, N.C. It was then heading toward the west "but will curve to a northerly direction this morning."

Suggests Change In Prison Terms

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 13—(AP)—Should North Carolina pass a law which would send habitual criminals to prison for life?

Paroles Commissioner T. C. Johnson said yesterday the state might be wise to pass such a law. He pointed out that many states have statutes providing a life term for persons convicted of a certain number of felonies.

Johnson also declared it might be wise to pass a law in regard to indeterminate sentences, sentences providing both a minimum and maximum sentence.

He suggested the paroling of prisoners on the basis of their minimum sentence and of releasing them altogether on their maximum term. Under the present system, he said, the maximum sentence is meaningless. He pointed out that prisoners are credited with gained time for good behavior and released on the basis of their minimum sentence.

'Four-Way Test' Said Yardstick For Rotarians

By WYATT BROWN

Rotary's "four-way test" was presented as a yardstick for determining whether a man is a real Rotarian last night when Russell Foster, program chairman of the Kinston Rotary Club, posed the question, "Are You a Rotarian?" He used illustrations, definitions and exhortation in making his point.

The "four-way test" is: (1) Is it the truth, (2) Is it fair, is it honest, (3) Will it build goodwill, will it build friendship, (4) Is it beneficial to all concerned, is it profitable to all concerned?

In conclusion he stated emphatically that no one can consider himself a Rotarian unless he can answer in the affirmative that he puts service above self.

Guests of the club were Ruel Tyson Jr., R. O. Everett, and Tommy Pace. Visiting Rotarians were Norman Winslow of the Washington club and Wilbur Ormond, Jack Quinerly and Frank Kilpatrick of the Ayden club and John Bunting of the Bethel club. Rotarians were requested to support the Greenville high school athletic program by the purchase of season tickets to athletic events and $180 worth of tickets were sold. Ernell Webb, club president, presided.

Get Together On One Spelling Of Family's Name

Detroit, Sept. 13—(AP)—From now on there's going to be less confusion over spelling the Fantaro family name.

The five sons and two daughters of an Italian-born immigrant discovered their father had given each one of them a differently spelled last name in registering their births.

Juan's was Fantaro, Donald's Fantore, Angelo's Fornaro, Anthony's Fanilator, Joseph's Fantora, Elizabeth's Ferneti, and Nellie's Fernetto.

All agreed on Juan's last name and Probate Judge William F. Cotter made it official.

In the first persecutions of Christians in Rome, under Nero, the Apostles Peter and Paul were said to have been martyred.

Warns Major Distillers State May Vote Dry In '51 Election

Raleigh, Sept. 13 —(AP)—State ABC Chairman Robert W. Winston warned major distillers yesterday that North Carolina might vote dry in 1951.

That is, Winston said, unless the large liquor distillers cooperate in a campaign against bootleggers.

Winston has been conducting a vigorous battle against bootleggers since he took office four months ago. He sounded yesterday's warning in a letter addressed to big distillers in which he sought their "active support" in his drive.

He specifically advised he wants the distillers to tell their distributors and exporters in the District of Columbia and in Illinois to quit selling to Tar Heel bootleggers.

In July, the state of Maryland closed its doors to the bootleg trade at Winston's request. Maryland passed a regulation forbidding its liquor distributors to sell in any portion of a state where liquor is illegal.

Since then, Winston said, he has learned that some bootleggers have begun buying in Illinois and "by way of the grapevine" that others are being supplied from Washington. In his letter, Winston told the distillers:

"I am now writing to request that you write your wholesalers and exporters in both the District and Illinois to the effect that if they are selling North Carolina bootleggers such practice must cease or else you will take drastic steps in an effort to help this board enforce the laws of this state."

Winston asserted "the tremendous activity of the bootleggers in the dry areas of this state is doing much to create sentiment against alcoholic beverages. Unless you distillers give me your active support in the drive that I am making on bootleggers, it will not surprise me one bit to see North Carolina go dry in 1951. There is a widespread attitude on the part of the people that the distillers can stop this practice."

Indian Summer

The highest temperature in the Greenville area yesterday was 73 degrees. Lowest last night was 68, and at 8 a.m. today it was 76 and steadily rising. Mrs. Carl E. Maiden, local observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau, reported.

The highest temperature yesterday a year ago was 85 degrees.

Rainfall here yesterday averaged about a quarter of an inch. Sunrise today ushered in a day suggesting that Indian Summer is not far away. The wind was from the east during the forenoon.

Committee For Purebred Swine Sale Appointed

A three-man committee was appointed last night to complete arrangements and be in complete charge of the purebred swine sale which will be a feature this year of the annual Pitt County Fair.

Joe Moyer Jr. of Farmville, Henry Smith of Fountain and Marvin Barnhill of Stokes were appointed by Purebred Swine Association President J. H. Boyd at a special meeting of the group at the Agricultural Building here last night.

Officials expressed the belief that 35 to 40 hogs would be entered in the sale this year. Only members of the purebred association are eligible to enter their hogs.

The association currently has a membership of 26 and is rapidly gaining popularity, officials said.

Extensive Tests Facing Freshmen

An extensive testing program among freshmen entering East Carolina Teachers College this fall is now in progress at the college. Under the direction of Dr. Hazel Taylor, director of the Testing Bureau at the college here, the new students are taking a series of psychological examinations, tests of speed and comprehension in reading, and adjustment and study habits inventories. Various faculty members at the college are assisting Dr. Taylor in administering and scoring the tests.

Results of the testing program will be submitted to faculty advisers of freshmen and will be used by them in the guidance and counseling program organized to benefit students at the college. Scores will be available by next week.

Students making low scores in reading will be given the opportunity of taking courses in remedial reading, which are offered throughout the school year. Education I, a required orientation course for freshmen, also offers aid to all new students in speed and comprehension as readers.

Survey Schools In Tyrrell County

As members of the state Survey Panel Board appointed to investigate building programs for school systems in North Carolina cities and counties, Dean Leo W. Jenkins and Dr. Allan H. Hurlburt, director of the department of administration and education, at East Carolina Teachers College visited schools in Tyrrell County this week. Ralph Hodges of Washington, N.C., civilian member of the board, was also present for the survey. Dr. Jenkins served as chairman of the work conducted in Tyrrell.

A similar survey of the Rocky Mount city schools will begin on September 21, with Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, director of the Division of Instructional Service of the state Department of Public Instruction as chairman. Dr. Jenkins and Dr. Hurlburt will cooperate with Dr. Highsmith there, and during the coming year will visit other city and county systems in North Carolina to determine their needs in the building program for state schools.

Chief Gardner Warns Against Fires This Fall

Fire Chief George Gardner today issued his annual warning to householders and business places to have their stove pipes and chimneys repaired before the cold weather sets in.

"Fire prevention is our policy here in Greenville, and we are warning the people not to wait until some cold days to repair worn-out stove pipes and defective flues."

The fire chief also warned businessmen and storekeepers to eliminate the fire hazard of a lot of paper and trash and other inflammable material littered in the rear of their premises.

Chief Gardner also warned residents.

Since the time of the first President also, it has been the official White House musical organization. It has played for the inauguration of every President since Thomas Jefferson; has supplied the

Europeans Still Think America Is A Land Of Plush Millionaires

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeature Writer
Neuilly-sur-Seine, France — We three — a French woman, a Briton and an American — sat down to a good French meal. Conversation at first was personal, what we had been doing, things we had seen and read.

The maid brought the first course, foie gras, and melons have been particularly good in France this year. The British woman's eyes lighted up and she was frankly, gleefully greedy as she selected the ripe, succulent fruit.

"I — the American — had not been in England and asked if the food situation was really as bad as written accounts indicated. She answered sharply, with an edge to her voice that was almost unfriendly. "Great Britain is poor and she is always going to be poor," she responded. "We British persist in treating our situation as if it would be gone tomorrow. We won't face reality. But things are not going to be any better for us, and we might just as well face up to it. We must reduce our standards of living."

"Why do you say there will never be a recovery," I asked. "Because with the loss of India, the Empire is lost?"

"No, not just because of India," she said. "In the other days England was great because we made things that other countries wanted

Now those countries can make things for themselves and other nations don't have to buy them from us.

She looked at me a little antagonistically.

"After all," she said. "There's nothing disgraceful about being poor. It is honorable because we persisted in trying to save all of Europe from Hitler."

I said — with rather poor manners too — that while it was true the British Isles undertook the defenses of Western Europe, she was also defending herself as well.

"But if the situation is as black as you say," I continued, "why don't some of the British go to Canada or Australia?"

There was another pause as the fish course was served. Delectable fillets of sole, rolled and covered with a rich white sauce.

"You don't know the problems," she said. "I know some families who would like to go. But the colonies don't want old people. And then there are some families with children who aren't just right — crippled, even, from the blitz — and they aren't wanted either."

We talked generally as the meal progressed to the chicken cooked in wine, with the tiny browned potatoes and the petit pois.

"But you Americans with all your dollars," she said, "you don't have a thing to worry about."

I said that maybe we had a lot of dollars, but the average American didn't see very many of them. She laughed and told a bitter little joke about the British dentists and doctors who had to go to the Riviera to try to spend the huge amounts of money they were making under the British national health insurance.

"Everyone," she concluded, "is getting teeth and glasses because it doesn't cost anything. But how long can we keep doing things like that?"

I decided to change the subject and turned to my hostess.

"What are the French amused at what are they laughing about?"

She spooned from a crystal bowl some tiny wood strawberries and covered them with rich, Norman cream.

"Well," she said carefully, "there's really not much to laugh about. Prices are high, food is very expensive and we don't know what is just beyond the horizon. France is bitter, and France is very poor."

I told about a letter I'd received from home, and complained a little bit because some repairs to my house and car were going to cost more money than I'd expected. They both listened to my complaints with lifted eyebrows.

"Why do you mind a few hundred dollars?" The British woman asked, and her meaning was not as gay and joking as her words. "You have lots of money. In fact, you Americans have all the money in the world."

I shook my head and said no. But the Frenchwoman and the British woman didn't believe me.

Mr. Francis Drake in 1579 went ashore in Martin county, California, and nailed a metal plate to a post, claiming that region for Queen Elizabeth of England.

Report Defeats For China Reds

Canton, Sept. 12 — (AP) — Red setbacks on all South China fronts were claimed today by a spokesman for the ministry of national defense.

He pictured the communists as retreating in Hunan and Shenai provinces.

An army spokesman said Jucheng 170 miles north of Canton, had been retaken by the Nationalists. Tzessing, 195 miles north of Canton also has been retaken, the defense ministry spokesman said.

The Nationalist position east of Canton on the Nahkow railroad was reported improved.

An attempt by the communists to land on Pingtan Island southeast of Fochow, the fallen capital of Fukien, was beaten back with heavy losses, a spokesman said.

At Chantai, 25 miles northwest of Amoy, another Red attack was said to have been beaten back. A Nationalist counterattack from Tung-an, 25 miles north of Amoy was said to be making progress.

Gen. Pal Chung-Hai, central China commander, arrived in Canton yesterday. He said he was more optimistic than ever over the Central China situation. He predicted a big battle soon in his area but said he was confident of the outcome.

Boy Is Held In Mother's Death

Huntington, W.Va., Sept. 13 — (AP) — A 14-year-old Kentucky schoolboy was held in jail here today after he told state police he shot his mother to death while she lay sleeping in their Sharondale, Ky., home.

A state trooper quoted the sixth grader as saying his mother had occasionally beaten him with a poker.

Sgt. Beryl Langford said James Pearl Edmiston told this story: After his father, Pearly Edmiston, went to work yesterday in a nearby mine he got his father's 12-gauge shotgun and fired one shot at his mother as she slept.

He then took her purse containing $12 and headed for Huntington in the family auto. After running out of gas near here he asked a filling station operator to call West Virginia state police, saying he wanted to surrender.

He was taken into custody a few minutes later and held in Cabell County jail here pending the arrival of Pike County, Kentucky, officers with extradition papers.

The husband found the woman's body. Magistrate Alex Blackburn said she had been killed instantly by a shotgun charge in the neck.

Offers 'Cure' Of Shorter Working Hours, Same Pay

Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 12 — (AP) — The president of an AFL tobacco workers union suggests shorter hours with the same pay as a partial answer for people thrown out of work by new or improved machinery.

John O'Hare, president of the tobacco workers international union, told a meeting of the union's southern allied shop committee here Saturday.

Unless relief is found for technological unemployment, the nation's economy will be depressed by "huge blocks of unemployed workers," he urged the committeemen to get a "shorter work hours with the same pay" clause in contracts.

A resolution was adopted pledging full support to a drive for a contract with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company here. The National Labor Relations Board has quilled the union for a collective bargaining election at Reynolds.

"The tobacco industry is an industry of big profits," O'Hare said. "We want them to make profits, but we who work in the factories ought to get some, too. . . . They will say that the plan is crazy. But they said the same thing about the eight-hour day."

Malaya Invites New Designs For A Flag

Singapore — (AP) — Designs are invited for a flag for the Federation of Malaya.

The colors should be yellow, red, white and blue and the design should be as simple as possible. Such symbols as a kris (curved knife), a tiger or a crescent may be incorporated. The general design should be symbolic of the Federation and the unity of the nine states and two settlements.

Barter Talks By Mexico And Italy

Mexico City — (AP) — Mexico would be glad to trade more goods with Italy. She might even take small complete industries from Italy, machinery, materials and workers with the know-how. One of these barter deals — Mexican sugar for Italian rayon yarn — has been successfully concluded. It was for a value of "several million dollars." Both sides were satisfied but the deal will not be renewed. Mexico now produces all the rayon she needs and Italy has found a cheaper place to buy sugar.

Barter deals are not as easy to arrange as they seem. Two countries must first find products they can export and which the other needs. Then they have to agree on the value of these goods for trading purposes.

Spreading U. S. Schools Rapped

Moscow — (AP) — The Teachers Gazette has accused the United States of a "pedagogical expansion."

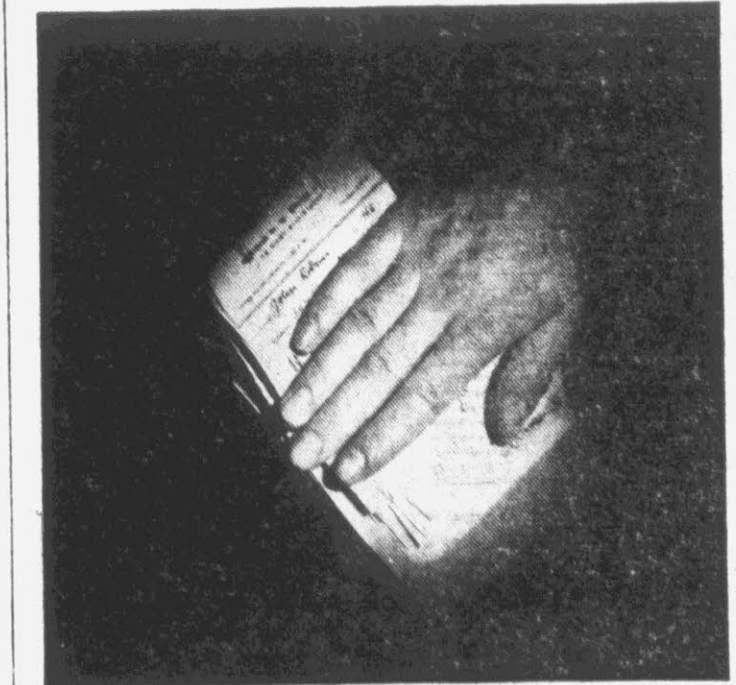

This kind of expansion, the paper said, is manifested above all in the systematic spreading of American schools and higher educational establishments in South America, Africa, Asia and Europe.

"These educational establishments," said the paper, "are converted into outposts of American 'democracy', and active executors of American ideology and American policy."

NON REPETAT.

The customer asked to have her prescription refilled. But as the pharmacist looked up the prescription in his file, he found that the physician had marked it "non repetat." — do not repeat. The pharmacist didn't refill this prescription.

It is the pharmacist's business to fill prescriptions and usually he will gladly refill them, but there are certain instances where ethics or the law do not allow him to do so. One of these is the prescription marked "non repetat." The physician here specifically indicates that he wishes the patient to take only the quantity of medicine originally prescribed.

The pharmacist will carry out this instruction just as painstakingly as he does any other contained in the prescription. By so doing, he is acting in the interest of your safety and your health. — Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

Dole Says More Practice Needed

East Carolina Mentor Sees 'Wonderful Progress So Far', But Would Like More Preparation For Thursday Opener

By EUGENE PRICE
With only two weeks of practice behind them, Coach Bill Dole's East Carolina Pirates blow the lid off their 1949 gridiron schedule with a non-conference tussle with a smooth operating, keyed to perfection, Cherry Point Marine outfit here Thursday night.

Despite "wonderful progress so far," Coach Dole declared last night that his team would be far from its best for the opening encounter. "A team should train twice daily for at least three weeks or a month before opening its season," he said.

He pointed out that even longer would be necessary to break in a new team to a completely new system such as has been inaugurated at East Carolina this fall. "In a sport as highly exacting as football 13 days just hasn't been enough time to do a thorough job," Dole asserted.

But the new head Pirate coach promised the Cherry Point a tough fight. He declared that his boys would be battling from the starting whistle until the end of the game. He declined to make any prediction of the outcome.

Dole is looking for a powerful opponent in the Cherry Point team. The Marines smothered an Edenton Flyer aggregation 30 to nothing two weeks ago. When they invade the local stadium, the Devil Dogs will be making their fourth appearance against outside opposition. They scrimmaged with Duke's freshman team last week.

The Pirates are expected to face a team keyed to perfection by its long practice periods. The Marines began drills in early August. The Bucs did not start until September.

Proven Talent

New York—(AP)—A prospect may come up with an occasional diamond in the rough, but most buyers look to South Africa for a steady flow of gems. That's probably why 12 of the 224 players on All-American Football Conference rosters are from Notre Dame, with nine from Ohio State (eight with the Cleveland Browns), eight each from Southern California and Georgia, six from LSU and Purdue and five from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Oregon and Texas. There are 94 colleges and junior colleges represented on the seven AAFC rosters of 22 men each.

But Coach Dole is making no all-bis, win, lose or draw. "Albion don't change the score," he said last night. "If we have some injuries, we can't let it make any difference. We have to do the best we can and accept the outcome," he concluded.

Though his starting lineup could not be definitely determined as early as last night, Dole said the Pirates should receive the kickoff, would probably start Eddie Tanner and Dwight Shoe at the end positions; Al Auerbach and Ken Booth at tackle; Reggie Byrd and Don McKenzie at guards; Pete Prominski at center; Roger Thrift at quarter; Mike Kovach and Frank Maennle at halfbacks; and Doug Bryant at full.

Should the locals elect to kick the lineup will probably feature Stan Peele and Bob Bradley or John Daughtry at ends; Keith Kilpatrick and Booth at tackle; McKenzie and Auerbach at guards; Joe Polilli and Bob Boyd, backer up; Maennle and Jim Danks at half backs; and the safety position was still uncertain.

Three-Way Race In Nat'l League

New York, Sept. 13—(AP)—Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn takes an eight-point lead into the final three weeks of the National League batting title race with Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial of St. Louis closing fast.

Robinson's .347 is hardly safe with Slaughter batting .339 and Musial boosting his average another five points to .331. It's a three-way fight to the wire.

Italy Honors Boxer's Record

Rome—(AP)—Italian boxer Gino Bondavalle, who in 23 years of boxing fought 623 matches and lost but nine, has been honored by the government with the gold medal of sporting merit and has been made a "Knight of the Sporting Merit Star of St. George of Anthiochia."

Recently retired, Bondavalle won two European and two national titles during his years of campaigning in the bantamweight, featherweight and lightweight ranks.

Tonight's Games
Greenville at Rocky Mount
New Bern at Kingston
Last Night's Results
Both games rained out.

STANDINGS (Semi-Finals)

Rocky Mount	2	0	1.000
Greenville	0	2	.000

	W	L	Pct.
New Bern	2	2	.500
Kingston	2	2	.500

For the third time in the past five days the Greenville-Rocky Mount semi-finals series were rained out and it also marked the third contest to be rained out over in Rocky Mount. This simply means that the two teams will attempt to play again tonight in Rocky Mount, weather permitting. Also rained out last night were the semi-finals series being played between the Kingston Eagles and the New Bern Bears over in Kingston. These two teams will likewise meet again in Kingston tonight, weather permitting. And speaking of the series Greenville and Kingston are just about in the same position. Kingston can lose two more games and be eliminated while the Greensies can lose two more games and be eliminated. The Greensies, however, have failed to earn a victory in the semi-finals playoffs and since there are five more games to be played, provided the series is extended to the full seven games, then that means that the Greensies have got to win four out of the next five contests with the Leafs in order to be in the finals against the winner of the Eagles-Bears series.

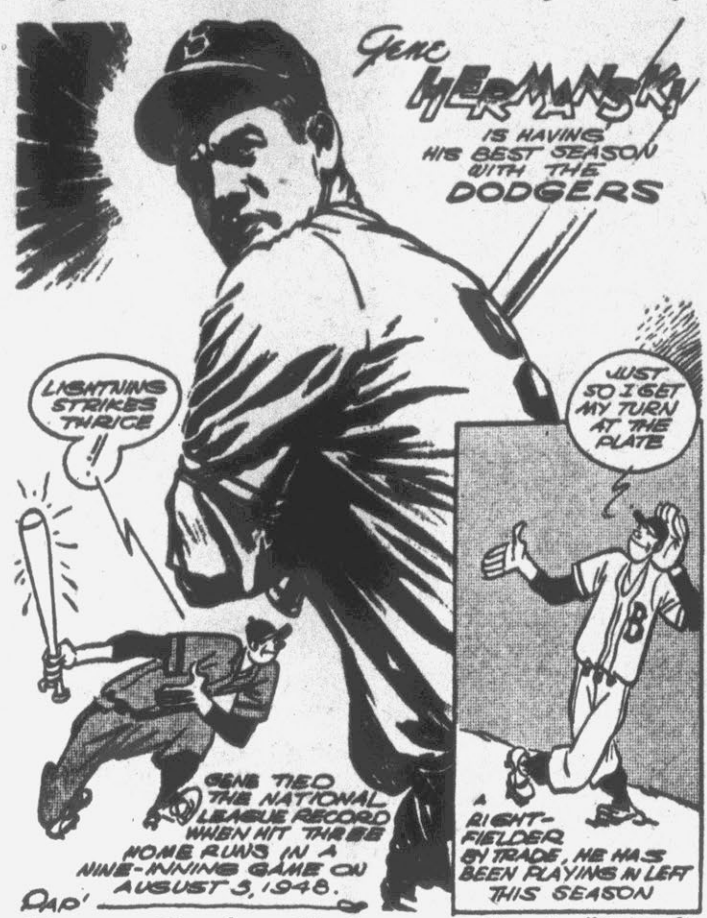

Art Mascarella, who has had hard luck when it comes to winning games this season, also suffered another loss somewhere in Greenville last Friday. Art had the misfortune to lose his pocketbook containing a sum of money and some valuable papers in it. Art said the papers were very valuable and if any one has found this pocketbook will they be so kind as to give it back to him. Just drop by the Reflector office and leave the pocketbook and it will be turned over to Mascarella immediately.

Below is the third and last in a series on the record of the Greensies during the 1949 season.

In the shutout games this season the Greensies have shutout their opponents 13 times, while being blanked by the opposition 8 times. Individual teams: Greenville shutout Tarboro twice, and was shutout by the A's once: Greenville 2, Rocky Mount 1; Greenville 2, Roanoke Rapids 0; Greenville 1, New Bern 3; Greenville 1, Kingston 3; Greenville 0, Goldsboro 0; Greenville 6, Wilson 0.

Art Mascarella has pitched four shutouts—two against Tarboro and one each against Roanoke Rapids and Rocky Mount and has lost by three shutouts, two being by Kingston and one by Tarboro. Jim Lewey has pitched three shutouts, two against Wilson and one against New Bern and has been the victim of one blanking by the New Bern Bears; Norman Clark pitched two shutouts, one against Roanoke Rapids and the other against Wilson, while not being blanked this season; Junior Yohn has one shutout to his credit, that being against Wilson, while he has been blanked once by New Bern; Bobby Harrison has pitched Gene Hermanski, a semi-pro ball club, has thumped a number of home runs, too. On one occasion when the Dodgers were floundering in the second division, Hermanski visited Ebbets Field and paid a call on Branch Rickey. "Gee, Mr. Rickey," said Gene, "you know the Bushwicks are playing better ball than the Dodgers." Rickey never raised his eyebrows higher.

Hermanski insists that he is a right fielder by trade and dislikes playing left field. However, Manager Burt Shotton has placed Carl Furillo, the Arm, in right, so there is nothing Gene can do but strut his stuff in left since he is determined to have a regular job in the Dodger line-up.

In 1943, Gene was transferred from the Navy to the Coast Guard. Enjoying the status of a civilian for a month, Hermanski donned a Dodger uniform and helped the Brooklyn club in 18 games, batting an even .300. He took advantage of his leaves while in the Coast Guard to play with the Bushwicks, Brooklyn's famous semi-pro ball club.

Griffith Backs Washington Club

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—Vice President Cal Griffith of the Washington Senators today labeled suggestions that the team be booted out of the American League "a lot of nonsense."

Griffith said he was shocked by the exhibition of baseball the Senators staged Sunday in New York when they lost to the Yankees 20-5. But, he added, "this isn't the first time this has happened to a club."

Replying to criticism by one writer that the Nats are "chronic also-rans," he said, "that guy ought to take a look at the past records of the White Sox and Browns."

Griffith admitted that his club which is currently reeling 42 games off the pace in eighth place, is in a sad state, but added:

"There's nothing wrong with this club we have right now that a Joe Magglio or Ted Williams or Joe Page wouldn't cure."

Referring to another suggestion that bad ball teams, like the Nats of 1949, drive customers away, Griffith said the club has already drawn over 600,000 people.

He also pointed to the fact that the Senators have made money year after year.

Griffith scored more than 800 runs; their opponents ran up a total of 689. Down the line it reads like this: Greenville 160, Leafs 102; Greensies 120, Wilson 93; Greensies 100, A's 104; Greensies 117, Jays 83; Greensies 101, New Bern 118; Greensies 127, Goldbugs 107; Greensies 80, Eagles 82.

Graziano 'Club' Meets Tomorrow

New York, Sept. 13—(AP)—The members of the "I want Rocky Graziano" club will be rooting loud and, they hope, not too long for the New York tough boy to stop Charlie Fusart at the Polo grounds tomorrow night.

The rough, former middleweight titleholder with the explosive punch is the hottest attraction in the business now that Joe Louis has put aside his gloves.

Because of Graziano's presence, the International Boxing club is looking for a crowd of around 30,000 and a gate of $200,000 or more Wednesday providing the weather is right.

The bout marks the 27-year old Rocky's first fight here in three years. Suspensions and personal troubles kept Rocky a road performer as far as his hometown was concerned.

The bookmakers have made Graziano a slight choice. The odds are fluctuating between 5 to 6 and 5 to 7.

Cherry Point To Field A Powerful Eleven Thursday

What might the East Carolina Teachers College Buccaneers expect of the Cherry Point Marines?

A look at the Marines' roster shows the locals can expect a heavy ball club. A look at their scrimmage games shows the Marines are powerful. Their month and a half period of practice should be on their greatest advantages.

In view of last year's game they will be favored.

The probable starting Marine line will average around 190 pounds compared to the slightly better than 180 pound line expected to start for the Bucs. The backs from Cherry Point will average almost to the pound the same weight as the locals, around 177.

One of Cherry Point's number one advantage will probably lie in experience. At least five of Coach Bill Dole's probable starters are rookies in college football.

A 180 pound halfback named Jack Christiansen, well remembered by local players from last season, is expected to play a major role in the Marines offensive attack.

Another major threat is Tom Shepherd, 175 pound passing ace from last season. Shepherd was injured in practice early this year but advance reports say he will be on hand to give the Pirates some headaches from the air on Thursday night.

The Cherry Point line, heavy, experienced and rugged, is expected to be one of the more potent forward walls to stand up in front of the Bucs this year. It showed at Edenton that it was capable of halting offensive plays and relatively effective in blasting holes in their opponents' defensive stands.

Two outstanding coaches, both new to their 1949 charges, will face each other in the game. East Carolina's Bill Dole, producer of two consecutive State Championship high school teams, and Cherry Point's Captain Jim Tuma, whose Miramar Marine Corps Air Station grid outfit won the Pacific Coast championship, will be battling wits from the sidelines.

Triumph For Doctors If Yanks Win Pennant Race

By FRANK ECK
New York—If the Yankees win the American League pennant, an assist is due Dr. Sidney S. Gaynor. He's the Yankee team physician and the man who helps put nine able bodied players on the field.

The Yankees have suffered some 63 various injuries and ailments this season, making Dr. Gaynor's job pretty much of a full time operation.

In his second year with the baseball team and third with the Yankee football team, Dr. Gaynor says "if you had that many injuries with a football team people would say you didn't know your business."

The doctor, who put in four years with the Navy Medical Corps, starting as a lieutenant and winding up as a commander, had two years early in the war with the Marine Corps at Okinawa. Born in New York City, he is a graduate of OCNY where he competed as a backstroke swimmer in the early 20's.

"For winning spirit you can't beat the Yankees," says Dr. Gaynor. "There is no begging off because of an injury on this team. The spirit is terrific. Take Henrich, for example. He broke his toe in Washington and I thought he'd be out for a week. There he was ready to play the next day. And Joe DiMaggio—well, he's the greatest competitor I've ever seen."

"Sometimes it's tough to tell Manager Casey Stengel about a player's injury. But that's part of my job. I must tell Casey. The players won't do it. They want to play too badly."

Dr. Gaynor, an orthopedic surgeon with a private practice, says the main thing is the judgment of time. "I've got to be able to tell when an injured player is ready," he says. "If the doctor boots one no one forgives him."

About Henrich's injured back, the doctor says it's a fracture of the transverse process of the lumbar vertebrae due to direct impact. "It's a common football injury," he says, "but it doesn't leave permanent disability."

With the start of the football season, Dr. Gaynor has been doing a good portion of his sleeping in Pullmans. When the football Yankees played Cleveland an exhibition in Akron he went with the team, leaving the baseball Yankees in Cleveland. Then he went back to Cleveland to pick up the baseball team and returned to New York. After a recent football game in Charlotte, N.C., the doc stopped off at Washington to treat Henrich and Yogi Berra. He returned with the baseball team.

Texan Keeps Big Jinx Going In Women's Amateur

Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 13—(AP)—A little Texas gal with a winning smile and a big heart kept a nine year jinx going in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Pretty Joanne Barr Tracy, an unknown lady of the links from Dallas, spoiled sturdy Grace Lenzky's 22nd birthday yesterday by eliminating the defending amateur champion, 1 up in the first round of the 1949 U.S.G.A. Tournament.

The jinx Mrs. Tracy upheld was the failure of any women's amateur queen to repeat since Betty Jameson won in 1939 and '40.

The 26-year-old mother of a two and a half year old girl was the most surprised person on the historic Merion Golf Club course when each other in the game. East Carolina's Bill Dole, producer of two consecutive State Championship high school teams, and Cherry Point's Captain Jim Tuma, whose Miramar Marine Corps Air Station grid outfit won the Pacific Coast championship, will be battling wits from the sidelines.

Wake Forest, N.C., Sept. 13—(AP)—Wake Forest's wandering gridders were expected to return to the campus today.

Three of the team's top stars have been missing from practice since Thursday. They are Halfback Bill Gregus, Guard Ray Ciccia, and End Ed Bradley, all first stringers.

Wake Forest athletic officials said the trio had been home and had advised that they were en route back to school. Gregus' home is Toledo, Ohio, Ciccia is from Ansonia, Conn., and Bradley is from Stratford, Conn.

Williams Keeps Big Lead At Bat

Chicago, Sept. 13—(AP)—Boston's Ted Williams maintained a wide lead in the American League batting race today with .352.

His .352 was a one point drop from a week ago. Second place George Kell of Detroit lost two points for .339 but was 20 points ahead of third place Bob Dillinger of St. Louis.

Chapter 3
Jay stripped off hat and shirt and hurriedly washed in a basin of cold water. He put on a clean shirt, cautiously opened the door, and peered into the hallway. It was empty, and Jay hurriedly went toward the back door.
He knew Joe. Joe liked to drink, and if he'd been in Ashbury very long he'd be known in the saloons. He strolled over to a bar and the bartender grinned at the sight of him.
"Say, where you been keepin' yourself lately? Ain't seen you in a month of Sundays."
"Been down home," Jay said briefly. "Visiting the folks. How's things been going?"
"All right, I reckon. I saw Ellen on the street a little while ago with her ma and pa. You going back to ridin' for Randall?"
So her name was Ellen Randall. Knowing her name helped a lot. Jay shrugged. "Quen sabe? A man has to make a living somehow. Seen Jim around?"
"Jim who?"
"Swinerton," he said.
"Oh, Jim. Sure, he's around some place. Tried his office?" He went to the end of the bar fronting the street wall and peered out. He turned. "I expect you'll find him in his office. I see the front door open." He came back and put a glass on the bar, reaching for a bottle behind him.
"Same thing?" he asked, and poured without waiting for an answer. It was straight rye, one hundred proof, without a chaser.
"Sure thing," nodded Jay. It looked as though he were going to have a hard time filling his brother's shoes until he got this mess straightened out. Joe was a hard drinker and Jay didn't care much for the stuff.
But he was tired from the long ride and the fiery liquor was welcome.
He crossed the street and made his way along the boardwalk to the open door of a small one-story building with two windows on the front wall, one on either side of the open door. Lettered on one were the words: James Swinerton, Attorney-at-Law.
Jay went in. The place was deserted except for the man who sat back of the desk going over some papers. He was in his thirties, blond and well built, and clean-shaven. The pencil dropped from his hand. He rose slowly. "Good heavens!" was all he said for the moment.
"It's impossible!" he said. "It just can't be! And yet I know it must be. You're Jay Allison, aren't you?" Jay nodded, waiting. "Where's Joe?" he finally asked.
Swinerton got up and closed the front door.
"I haven't got much time," Jay said impatiently. "I got in on the train just a little while ago. Took a room at the Ford and the next thing I know a red-haired girl grabbed me and started hugging me."
The lawyer laughed. "That's Ellen Randall. She and Joe are engaged to be married."
"I know that," grunted Jay. "She told me that much. I'm supposed to go over and eat supper with them as soon as I finish bathing and shaving. So I haven't got much time."

Administers Oath To Young Attorneys Here

By CHESTER WALSH

In Superior Court yesterday, Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids administered the oath to two young attorneys.

They were Robert Dixon Rouse Jr. of Farmville, who will be associated with Attorney John B. Lewis of Farmville, and Kenneth Gray Hite of Raleigh, who will be associated with Judge Dink James of Greenville. Rouse is a graduate of the University of North Carolina; Hite, Wake Forest College.

The following divorces were granted on the grounds of two years' separation: Lula Hardee vs. Francis Hardee; Hattie Jackson vs. John W. Brown; Wilbur Brown vs. Johnnie Jackson; and J. B. Kidd vs. Rachel Kidd.

Judge Parker ordered a non-suit in the action of O. S. Green and others vs. N. C. Greene and others, involving interpretation of the will of James E. Green of Winterville. The court ordered the non-suit upon testimony that another suit is pending concerning this will.

James E. Green, for many years an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at Winterville and an extensive property owner, committed suicide by jumping in a well more than a year ago. He left the bulk of his estate to N. Cortez Green of Williamston.

Interpretation of Green's will hinged upon certain mortgage notes left to one of the heirs. It was shown that these mortgage notes had been foreclosed and that James E. Green was the owner of the property involved. The court deemed it best to order a mistrial in order that the entire case may be tried on its full merits.

The court was engaged at today's forenoon session in hearing the case of Lottie Harris vs. the Veneer Products, Inc., involving timber rights.

Henry Whitehurst, a witness for the plaintiff, was ordered jailed by Judge Parker when he appeared to be intoxicated when called to the witness stand.

Jimmy Ray Tripp paid $25, costs deducted, for assault. The court placed him on probation for a year and ordered him not to visit any cafe in Greenville after 5 p. m. for a year.

Clean-Up Drive Said Going Well

Greenville's clean-up campaign which is being conducted this week is going well, Mayor W. S. Stafford commented this morning.

Mayor Stafford, who asked the city to declare September 12 through Sept. 19 as clean-up week in Greenville, said checks throughout the city indicate that citizens are co-operating with the city officials in a concentrated effort to improve the appearance of Greenville.

Commenting on the campaign this morning, Mayor Stafford remarked, "The campaign is going fairly well, and the city officials will be greatly appreciative of cooperation of all the citizens in the campaign."

The mayor said property owned by the city is being cleaned of debris and weeds, and that dead limbs are being removed from trees about the city. He also said city trucks are available for hauling debris from property in the city which has been cleaned up.

Steel Wage . . .

boss of U. S. Rubber Co. He had suggested the fact-finding board in the first place.

When Murray yielded, Ching had half his battle, at least, and he could only hope that industry would quickly follow.

Of course, Ching is not always successful. In the Hawaiian dock strike dispute, for instance, he had to announce last night that "the parties remain so hopelessly far apart in their thinking that further mediation at this time would be of no avail."

Two other troublesome matters are on his docket: The Goodrich Rubber strike and the Bell Aircraft Company dispute in Buffalo. He has stayed on the sidelines in the Buffalo strike out of deference to the New York State mediators.

Devaluation . . .

competes in the American market with U.S.-made goods. Europe's opportunities to narrow the gap by cutting profits or costs are limited.

3. "Where a price reduction of the magnitude indicated x x x is necessary to expand exports, it would in many cases seem possible only through an adjustment of the exchange rate."

The deficit countries, it was declared, "cannot afford to forego any suitable instrument, including any necessary exchange adjustment, that could expand their dollar exports."

American cities grew at a much slower rate in the 1930-40 decade than ever before.
