Acheson Affirms Belief Peaceful Solution Coming

But Warns UN Delegates Ending East-West Differences Won't Be Easy

New York, Sept. 21—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today reaffirmed his belief that East-West differences can be ended peacefully, but warned that a solution will not be quick or easy.

In a solemn American policy speech before the United Nations assembly, Acheson promised the 59 National delegations the United States is ready to do its part. As expected, his tone was conciliatory.

His declaration blamed Russia for the "profound sense of insecurity" which he said has enveloped large areas of the world and has led to such steps as the formation of the North Atlantic Alliance.

It is the main task of the assembly, he said, to try to solve the problems which lay behind the cold war.

"I pledge for the United States unrestrained support and devotion to a concerted effort to this end," he said.

Acheson made no direct appeal to Russia for a general settlement, but did call for Soviet cooperation on several specific problems such as the Balkan dispute and Korea.

Acheson said this session of the assembly, comes at a time when the main postwar adjustments have been completed and it is possible to see with more clarity what the real problems are.

Some of them, he said, "are of a terrible seriousness."

He added:

"They are too deeply rooted, in many instances, to be rapidly overcome by persuasion or compromise or by isolated diplomatic gestures.

"Any people, becoming aware of the depth of these problems, despair of their solution by peaceful means. We have never shared this feeling, and we do not share it today."

Belvoir School Gymnasium Now Nearly Complete

A $45,000 gymnasium at the Belvoir school is nearing completion and should be ready for use by the Belvoir school children within 30 days, D. H. Conley, superintendent of county schools, announced today.

Framework and sides of the steel structure already have been erected, and most other work has been completed with the exception of laying the floors, putting in the glass and making the finishing touches to the building.

In addition to the spacious floor which will be used for indoor athletic events, the building will house locker rooms and showers, a lunchroom, kitchen and two classrooms.

Hold Hearing On Damage Rate Cut

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—A public hearing on a proposed downward revision of automobile damage rates was scheduled for today.

State insurance commissioner W. C. Cheek, who will preside over the hearing, said the proposed changes would save Tax Hec, auto policy holders about $26,990 annually.

The revisions were proposed by the N. C. Fire Insurance rating bureau. No change was suggested for liability rates.

SET DRIVE GOAL

Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—A committee pondered today how to raise $7,800 a day for the next thousand days or so to insure removal of Wake Forest college to a new, larger campus in Weston-Salem.

AMG Rule Ends

Bonn, Germany, Sept. 21—(AP)—Military government rule in western Germany ended today and was replaced by a high commission of the United States, Britain and France.

The ceremony opened with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer informing the three allied high commissioners that he had formed a German federal government.

Andre Francois-Poncet, speaking for the commissioners said in reply that an occupation statute—a form of peace treaty—went into effect "at this very moment."

The occupation statute gives the Germans far greater rights of self-government than they have possessed since the war. Under the statute, the allies retain control only over such key affairs as foreign trade and relations, demilitarization, decartelization and displaced persons.

Adenauer described the occasion as the "first contact between the Germans of the Federal Republic and the Allied High Commission."

Report Guerrilla Threat Crushed

New York, Sept. 21—(AP)—The United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans (UNSCOB) today said the Greek army has eliminated organized guerrilla resistance along the northern borders of Greece.

The commission warned, however, of "increased gravity of the threat to peace" if Greece's communist northern neighbors, Albania and Bulgaria, continue aiding guerrillas in defiance of U.N. assembly resolutions.

The commission concentrated the weight of its criticism on Albania, asking the General Assembly to find Albania "primarily responsible for the threat to peace in the Balkans."

Greece last week threatened to send her troops across the Albanian border unless that Soviet satellite stopped helping guerrillas. The Greek government said then it felt entitled to do so under Article 97 of the United Nations charter which outlines measures a nation may take in self-defense.

The Greek action drew an adverse reaction in Moscow, and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also poured cold water on the Greek plan by announcing they could not go along with it.

The U.N. Balkan Commission statements were made in a supplementary report to the fourth session of the General Assembly.

Selden Chapin Nominated For Ambassadorship

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—President Truman today nominated Selden Chapin, State Department career officer, to be ambassador to the Netherlands.

Chapin was named to succeed Dr. Herman Baruch who resigned recently.

The retiring ambassador, brother of the presidential adviser, Bernard M. Baruch, said in a recent call on the President that he felt that at the age of 77 he should avoid spending another winter in the cold Netherlands.

Chapin, 50, is a native of Erie, Pa. He has been serving as an advisor to Secretary of State Acheson since he was brought back from Hungary early this year. His recall from Budapest was demanded by the communist Hungarian government after he was named in testimony at the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

Firemen Taste Own Medicine In Fire House Rain

Gastonia, Sept. 21—(AP)—Gastonia firemen got a taste of their own medicine Monday night. The boys who have poured streams of water in many a burning building found themselves in a drenching rainstorm—inside the fire house.

The puzzled fire fighters with water sprinkling through the ceiling, dashed outside. There was scarcely a cloud in the sky.

Inside, the downpour stopped as mysteriously as it began.

They soon figured out what had happened. An overhead water storage tank, several feet from the fire station, had overflowed, sending several thousand gallons spilling over the rim. An operator quickly turned off the pump. Only slight damage resulted.

Bank Robbers Get Prison Term

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—Two young bank robbers and an inside accomplice were sentenced today to penitentiary terms.

Clifford Rice, 17, and Pasquel Rice, 21, both of Lumberton, received five and eight-year sentences, respectively. J. E. Blackwell, 20, clerk of the bank of Pembroke, drew eight years. All pleaded guilty yesterday.

Union Complains To N. C. Supreme Court On Judge

Seek Writ Of Prohibition Against Burney; Charge Arbitrary Actions

Raleigh, Sept. 21—(AP)—Striking workers of Tarboro's Hart cotton mill today petitioned the state supreme court for a writ of prohibition against Superior Court Judge John J. Burney.

The supreme court was asked in the petition to issue a writ of prohibition against Burney.

It alleged that the judge has "acted in an arbitrary manner" and "without any jurisdiction or authority" in directing Edgecombe County Sheriff Tom Bardin to carry out a court order against mass picketing.

The complaint claimed that pursuant to "verbal directions and order" from Judge Burney Sheriff Bardin has announced to Hart workers and representatives that:

1. The strike is lost and the workers should return to work.
2. He will enforce compliance with the mass picketing order "as he construes its provisions."
3. That he will "use such powers of arrest and force as may be necessary to carry out these things" and will call upon such aid as may be necessary, including the state highway patrol.
4. That "he is acting upon the advice and pursuant to the directions" of Judge Burney.

The petition claimed that as a result of Judge Burney's orders the petitioners "have been denied their lawful right of free access to the public streets and roads and areas surrounding the Hart Cotton Mills, Inc., and have been deprived of their right to visit with and communicate with their friends and fellow employees, and have been deprived of the freedom of speech and communication guaranteed them" by the federal constitution.

'Pay Up' Order By John L. Lewis Serves Ultimatum To Southern Coal Mine Owners

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 21—(AP)—John L. Lewis turned to vital contract talk with northern and western coal operators today after serving a blunt "pay up" ultimatum to southern mine owners.

As coal pits across the nation remained idle for the third straight day, Lewis' United Mine Workers union gave notice that it would not bargain further with the southern operators until the operators have paid up their royalty contributions to the miners' health and welfare fund.

UMW Secretary Treasurer John Owen announced that stand yesterday at Bluefield, W. Va., where the union has been holding contract talks with the southern operators.

Lewis attended only the opening southern negotiations at Bluefield last May. But he was on hand for the bargaining with northern and western owners—and for separate talks with representatives of mines owned by the United States Steel Corp.

There were rumblings among the coal operators that the negotiations should be broken off while Lewis' 480,000 soft and hard coal miners are out on strike. But few expected that issue to be pressed hard.

Instead, most thought Lewis now would begin to bargain in earnest for a new contract to replace the one which expired June 30. There have been only sporadic meetings between the United Mine Workers and the operators since last May, with little real discussion of contract terms.

Exile Returns

Boston, Sept. 21—(AP)—Henry M. Blackmer, 80, Colorado millionaire who fled this country 27 years ago to escape festering in the tea pot dome scandal, arrived here today by plane from France.

Without the fanfare that marked this flight from this country, Blackmer stepped off an Air France plane as just another passenger.

Oliver Remington, assistant U. S. commissioner of immigration, revealed Blackmer's identity at the airport.

Nearly 4,000 At Marine Concert

Approximately 3,800 people heard the United States Marine Band when it appeared in two concerts at East Carolina Teachers College Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Responding to enthusiastic applause, the "President's Own" band followed its scheduled numbers with many encores from its stirring march repertoires.

Children of almost all Pitt county elementary schools attended a free concert in the afternoon. All seats in the Wright auditorium on the college campus were taken, and part of the audience stood for the performance. Hit numbers on the afternoon program were a marimba solo by Musician Charles Owen and Heywood Jones' "At the Circus" with Musician Dale Harpham as narrator.

The evening performance was the first number presented by the college Entertainment Committee in its 1949-1950 series of programs. A sell-out crowd of approximately 2,000 from the campus, Greenville and other towns in the eastern section of the state was present.

Appeal Not Yet Decided Upon In Rump Sale Ruling

Louisburg, N. C., Sept. 21—A Superior court injunction was signed yesterday prohibiting the Rocky Mount tobacco market from holding rump sales.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle signed the order on petition from the Bright Belt Warehouse Association.

The Association asked that operators of 14 Rocky Mount markets be enjoined for the remainder of the sales from operating a sale without an adequate set of buyers.

The Association defined an adequate set as buyers from each of the big three tobacco companies—R. J. Reynolds, American Tobacco and Liggett and Myers—and buyers from at least three other companies.

Frizzelle's order came 22 days after the Warehouse Association filed the court action, considered a test case.

Expected to abide by the Judge's order are warehousemen at Kingston and Smithfield, although the order does not apply to them.

Kemp D. Battle of Rocky Mount council for the Rocky Mount warehousemen, said that the injunction "of course, will be abided by."

He said it was too soon to decide whether to appeal the injunction order to the state Supreme Court.

Scott And Hart Cotton Mill Officials Conferred

Raleigh, Sept. 21—(AP)—Governor Scott has a lengthy discussion last night with management representatives of the Hart Cotton Mill.

The Tarboro mill has been struck-bound for four months. After the conference in the governor's office little progress was made toward bringing about a settlement of the strike.

Present at the confab were Marcus Carter, general manager of the mill; Whiteford Blakeney of Charlotte, mill attorney; John Marshall, mill attorney; John Marshall, the governor's private secretary; and Attorney General Harry McPherson.

After emerging from the governor's office, Blakeney declared the chief executive "just wanted to get the company's version of what has been going on."

"We undertook to outline it as best we could," the lawyer added. The governor also said his prime purpose was "to get their viewpoint." Scott declared "I already had the labor boys' report and the sheriff's. I wanted to hear from these fellows too."

Asked if he had any plans for action as a result of the conference, the governor replied, "No." He added, however, that the highway patrol is on the alert in the event of trouble and "has been for several weeks."

Daniels Sees No Party Disloyalty On Civil Rights

Says Southern Democrats Can Be Loyal To Party Though Opposing Stand

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—Jonathan Daniels says a Southern Democrat can be loyal to the party and not support its civil rights proposals.

Daniels, editor of the Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer, is regarded by some politicians as the Southern-er closest in touch with the White House.

His views were in a letter he sent on request to Ashton Williams of Lake City, S. C., who is trying to make peace between the States' Rights Democrats and pro-Truman Democrats. Williams released the letter here yesterday. He said he would send copies to leaders in South Carolina and other states who also are interested in a peace-maker role.

The letter said in part:

"Of course, all Southern Democrats do not, and are not expected to, agree with all the specific programs of the President or the specific details in the platform of the party with regard to civil rights. But it is the essence of both Democracy and the Democratic party that in its great internal battles the will of the majority must be the program of the party.

"There is no proscription against dissent in the Democratic party (to proscribe means to ostracize, outlaw.)

"The essence of its strength, as I have suggested, comes from the strong differences of men within it. But good Democrats, North and South, will do their fighting within the party and not desert it in the conflict with their ancient enemies, the Republicans, the Dixie-Crats, the Wallaceites, or any other mortal enemy of the party of their fathers."

Daniels is Democratic National committeeman from North Carolina. He was a member of the credentials committee which recommended to the National committee recently that Southerners who didn't support Mr. Truman in the campaign not be seated on the committee.

Report Revolt In Chinese Province

Canton, Sept. 21—(AP)—Trustworthy Chinese reports today said 20,000 Moslem troops had revolted against the Nationalists in Arid, northwestern Ningxia province and gone over to the Reds.

The Moslems belonged to the command of Gen. Ma Hung-Kwei who is estimated to have 80,000 men under his command in Ningxia. Ma has been in Chungking trying to get Chiang Kai-Shek to allot much needed arms to his troops.

The Ningxia revolt report followed word both in Nationalist China and Communist Shanghai, that 100,000 Nationalist troops in Suiyuan province, also in the northwest had gone over to the Reds with their arms.

Private reports here today said a strong Communist force was striking westward toward Ningxia from adjoining Inner Mongolia.

Fighting for the big seaport of Amoy rose to full crescendo today in the wake of Chiang Kai-Shek's appeal to defy Communist Serdorm and save China from becoming a Russian Vassal.

Official dispatches said three Red armies with two artillery regiments in support were assaulting the once thriving port 275 miles east-northeast of Canton.

Fall of Amoy, mainland headquarters of the Nationalist southwest China command, probably would herald a big Communist drive from the coast on already threatened Canton.

House Members' Vacation Ends

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—House members return today from a month's vacation, with enough unfinished business on hand to keep them here the rest of the year.

They probably won't stay that long. "Around November 1" is the target date of congressional leaders for final adjournment.

Despite messages sent to Democratic members last week by party leaders, the House doesn't plan to transact any major business this week. Party spokesmen explained that the recall messages merely were intended to assure the presence of a quorum, 217 members.

Flagpole Sitter Stays On Perch

Cleveland, Sept. 21—(AP)—Flagpole Sitter Charley Lupica isn't coming down from his perch yet, even though his Cleveland Indians no longer have even a mathematical chance of winning the pennant.

"I really am burned up when people ask me if I'm coming down," he said. "I don't care what those fair weather friends say about the Indians. I'm still with them."

Truman Asks New 6-Day Steel Truce

President Also Asks Steel Concerns And Union Resume Collective Bargaining; Truce Sought In National Interest

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—President Truman today asked a new six-day strike truce in the steel dispute.

The President also asked that the steel concerns and the CIO steel workers union resume collective bargaining on their own.

He said federal mediators would be available to assist them.

Cyrus Ching, mediator chief who announced Mr. Truman's new truce request, said no reply had yet been received from either union or companies.

The present truce runs out Saturday midnight and the union is poised for a walkout by its 1,000,000 members at that time.

The President asked that the truce be maintained until 12:01 a. m. Saturday Oct. 1 in the "National Interest."

President Philip Murray of the Steelworkers advised Ching that the union will decide on its reply to Mr. Truman's request at a union wage-pooly committee meeting at Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Ching said he has no plans now for further meetings with union and companies for the time being—expecting them to go to bargaining with each other on their own as the President requested.

The President's request was made in a letter he sent to Ching in the midst of government-sponsored efforts to work out a settlement of the dispute over pensions and insurance.

His letter stressed the importance to the nation of averting a crippling steel strike.

Every possible move, Mr. Truman said, should be taken to avert such a stoppage; therefore he was asking the new strike deadline extension.

Ching had visited the White House earlier in the day to report to Mr. Truman on his efforts to head off a strike.

Presumably Ching suggests that time that Mr. Truman's new truce.

Ching's talk with the President delayed for 45 minutes the mediation chief's scheduled resumption of talks with union and industry representatives.

There were reports that conciliators working on the case were eyeing a reported offer of an employer-paid pension plan in the automobile industry as possibly offering an avenue for a steel settlement.

Pitt Schools Count Many New Students

Enrollment in Pitt county schools for the first two weeks of the 1949-50 session has shown an increase of approximately 1,000 students over the school attendance in county for the first month of last year.

Figures released today by D. H. Conley, superintendent of county schools, show enrollment in the white schools of the county for the first two weeks at 3,760, and the enrollment in the Negro schools at 5,752. Enrollment in the Negro schools has shown an increase of approximately 800 students over the first month of last year, Conley said, and the white schools have shown an increase of approximately 100 students over last year's opening.

Commenting on the large increase in Negro students in the county schools this year, Supt. Conley attributed the increased enrollment to the fact that children born during the war years when the birth rates of the country showed an increase are entering school for the first time this year, and to a "general awakening for education among the colored people."

Pitt county schools at present are

Student Ticket Drive Extended

The campaign to sell 800 student and adult season tickets to Greenville High School athletic events started into its final three days today, over 500 tickets short of its goal.

Principal O. E. Dowd said this morning that another week may be added to the campaign, originally scheduled to come to a close on Friday of this week.

The high school athletic department, however, received a welcome boost from the Greenville Jaycees in the form of a $100 check. The money was awarded to the school last week at a regular Jaycee meeting, "to help the high school out a bit," President Louis W. Gaylord, explained today.

In connection with the ticket campaign, Dowd declared this morning that the campaign so far failed to produce the enthusiasm he had hoped. Around one hundred tickets have been sold at the high school, and something like 125 adult tickets have been sold, he estimated.

As a final attempt to hike the sales, the student council of the school and school officials will make a last plea to the students at an assembly Friday morning. The assembly will feature a pep rally to send the high school football team against the potent New Bern Bears on Friday night.

Background Of Crisis

The First Of Two Stories Dealing With Britain's Financial Crisis, How It Came About And How She Moved To Meet It By Devaluing The Pound, Trade Balance

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—A country devalues its money because it has to.

In Britain's case, it was as simple as this: Pounds would buy so little as compared with dollars, that people didn't want pounds.

They were willing to pay a premium, in pounds, to get hold of dollars.

And as long as Britain insisted that a pound was worth $4.83, the many foreigners who thought otherwise didn't do business with Britain.

Now Britain says a pound is worth $2.80. A pair of British gloves that was marked one pound—or $4.03—can be bought for 30 cent less.

That is a more realistic price, by the standards of Americans and a lot of other people. Britain therefore should sell more gloves—and more of everything else she makes.

The question arises: Why do countries have fixed, "official," rates at all? Why don't they just let currencies find their own level in the financial markets of New York or Paris or Switzerland, and let values fluctuate like wheat prices?

This is why:

A businessman who sells to foreigners must know the value of the money he will receive when his cargo reaches port. Otherwise he cannot safely quote a price, figure a profit, or be sure of avoiding loss.

And a businessman who places orders abroad for quantity deliveries over a long period of time must be sure that the foreign currency is stable enough to insure his getting his money's worth.

Therefore, nations set great store by the stability of their currency. Otherwise they must cease to be trading nations. The Italians used to talk bravely of defending the lira "with 10,000,000 bayonets."

It takes more than bayonets to keep a currency stable.

In Britain, there was a wartime and postwar inflation. Britain was short of goods, her factories flattened. She couldn't export until she could feed and fuel and house her own people. She imported far more than she exported. She couldn't earn enough dollars by selling to America to pay for what she bought.

The "unfavorable balance of trade" became a chronic deficit and finally, a crisis, when the last remaining reserves of dollars ran desperately low.

Meantime people in Britain had

Leave Leprosarium For New Home

Major and Mrs. Hans Hornbostel pause at New Orleans enroute to their new home at Malverne, Long Island, N. Y., following Mrs. Hornbostel's release from the national leprosy hospital at Carville, La. Mrs. Hornbostel entered the hospital on June 2, 1946, to be treated for Hansen's Disease (Leprosy), probably contracted while a prisoner of the Japs in the Santo Tomas prison camp in the Philippines. The release of her husband, a survivor of the Bataan death march, to be allowed to live with her at the hospital brought international attention to the case. (AP Photo).

Red Oak News

It was a great "homecoming day" at Red Oak last Sunday when hundreds of members and friends from far and near came back to "the little white church in the wildwood" for a day of worship, good singing, fellowship and good food.

We were glad to have the New-somes from Emporia, Va. Mrs. Newsome was before her marriage Miss Ellen Moss and taught in the neighborhood school years ago. We also had visitors from Blackstone, Va. A member from Maryland, one from Pennsylvania, Mr. H. C. Smith's daughters, Ruby and Minnie Ella, came just for this special occasion as did members from Raleigh. We also had with us a young lady who was a faithful attendant at Sunday school for many years and who has made her home in California for many years.

Dr. Haney of the Eighth Street Christian Church in Greenville teases the folks at Red Oak by telling us that Greenville is a suburb of Red Oak. Well, if that be true, we had many of our friends and neighbors from our "Greenville suburb" Sunday. We really appreciate the interest that the townspeople of Greenville show in our little church, not only on our homecoming day but on every day throughout the year. We just could not do without them. They have meant much to the work we are striving to do in our community and it makes us happy to have them with us on any occasion.

The highlight of the day was an ordination service conducted by the minister, Rev. Harold Tyer, and in which about 20 men took part. Eleven new members were extended the right hand of fellowship. Mrs. William May sang "I've Done My Work" at the morning period. A bountiful picnic dinner was spread on a long table under the shade of the trees and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A song-fest was enjoyed in the afternoon program. An octette composed of Mrs. William May, Miss Pattie Jenkins, Mrs. James Allen, Mr. Herman Gaylor, Rev. Lawrence Tyson, Rev. Harold Tyer, Mr. Hazard May and Mr. J. B. Kittrell sang "Whispering Hope" and "Where We'll Never Grow Old." We knew J. B. could eat, but we didn't know he could sing so well!

Mr. Orphie Stancill of Mt Pleasant, Mrs. Evelyn Smith of Reedy Branch, Rev. Lawrence Tyson of Piney Grove, Mr. Leon Barnhill of Sweet Gum Grove, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell of the Methodist Church in Greenville, all brought greetings from their respective churches.

Thus a perfect day ended. May we add this thought: It is our prayer that each succeeding year finds our church a greater force in our lives and in the life of our community. The year is closed, the record made. The last deed done, the last word said.

The memory alone remains. Of all its joy, its grief, its gains. And now with purpose full and clear, We turn to meet another year.

Circle No. 1 met Sunday night in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Allen and in spite of the terrible storm which raged all around, fifteen of our members answered to the roll call.

Mrs. Ola Kittrell presided over the meeting and Mrs. Allen read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Thurman Paige was elected chairman and a new secretary and treasurer will be appointed at the next meeting. Mrs. H. R. Allen will still remain treasurer of the building fund.

The members of the church will sponsor an old time country auction sale at an early date in October. The following chairmen were appointed: Mrs. B. L. Tyson, publicity; Mrs. James Allen, handicraft; Mrs. J. T. Manning, Mrs. F. L. Allen, cakes; Mrs. Clyde Bright, Mrs. W. S. May and Mrs. H. H. May, home-made candy; Mrs. Mary Stocks, Miss Ella V. May, Mrs. Ada Evans, Mrs. H. R. Allen and Jarvis Tripp, Jr., fruits, vegetables and flowers; F. L. Allen, poultry eggs and meat; Mrs. W. T. Page and Mrs. Doc Smith, canned foods; Mrs. Jarvis Tripp, solicitation. Members of circle No. 2 will be asked to have complete charge of a supper which will be served before the auction. It is hoped that all these committees will get together and outline their plans at once.

Known Noronic Toll Is Now 130

Toronto, Sept. 21—(AP)—The known death toll in the burning of the pleasure ship Noronic, one of the worst Great Lakes disasters in 100 years, stood today at 130, other 19 passengers still are missing.

Just after flames had blanketed the cruise ship at a Toronto dock early last Saturday it had been feared at least 200 had died.

Kitten-Drowning Can Be Fatal

Alencon, France, Sept. 21—(AP)—Henri Villette, 67, set out today to drown a kitten.

He threw the kitten into the water, then lost his balance and fell in himself.

The kitten crawled out. Villette drowned.

Rail Passenger Deaths Are Cut

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today the railroad's passenger death rate last year was the lowest in a decade.

Deaths of travelers in train accidents during 1948 totaled 55—a rate of 1.33 deaths per billion passenger miles of operations. This compares with 75 passenger fatalities in 1947 and 118 in 1946.

The office of United States Attorney General was organized by an Act of Congress in 1789.

Mrs. William May will have charge of the records, and Leroy James, James Sydney Allen, Milton May and William May will have charge of the sales.

Mr. Reginald Austin of Scotland Neck will be with us again to auction off our products and a big time is expected by all.

Seeks Shorter Period Of Time For Medical Study

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP)—A plan for shortening the period of time to take to get a medical education was presented to Governor Scott yesterday.

A Greensboro surgeon, Dr. R. B. Davis, chairman of a committee of the State Medical Society which is studying medical education, unfolded his suggestions to reporters before entering the governor's office.

Davis said it now takes 13 years to become a medical specialist. This includes four years of pre-medical school, four years of medical school, a year of internship, a year of residence in a hospital, and three years of graduate work.

He would shorten the time by letting acceptable high school graduates go directly into a six-year medical training course. And he'd eliminate what he termed unnecessary courses.

"For instance, I think as a doctor," he said, "I don't need to know about the anatomy of frogs. I'm not going to work on frogs. You spend a lot of time studying the anatomy of cats and dogs and frogs. I think students should study human anatomy—and I'd bring that down into the six-year course."

"During that six years," he continued, "I would give a student enough practical medical knowledge to send him out into the field for five years as a general practitioner. That would fill the gap we have in rural areas."

After five years as a general practitioner, Dr. Davis said, the doctor could resume study to become a specialist if he wanted to. And he should get priority on a place in a graduate school, he added.

Another aim in his plan is to "break this cost of medical training." Studies show it takes about $61,000 to educate a doctor, Davis said.

Last Rites Thursday For Richard Poole

Mr. Richard A. Poole, 51, died at his home, 1308 Myrtle Avenue, at 2:15 o'clock this morning. He had been in failing health for the past 18 months and critically ill for the past twelve days. Funeral services will be conducted at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Leon Russell, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, a former pastor, and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. The body will be carried to the church one hour prior to the time of service and members of the Greenville Masonic Lodge will have charge of the service at the grave.

Mr. Poole was born and reared in Raleigh and lived in Norfolk before coming to Greenville in 1935. He had been employed by the Norfolk-Southern Railway for 30 years before his retirement in April, 1948. He was a member of the Greenville Masonic Lodge No. 284, A.F. & A.M., a 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Mason, a member of Sudan Temple, Greenville Shrine Club, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Order of Railway Conductors, and Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ada Mae Pierce of Norfolk to whom he was married in 1921; four daughters, Mrs. J. E. Burns and Mrs. B. F. Wilson Paxson of Norfolk, and Mrs. H. F. Smith and Mrs. J. D. Barnhill of Greenville; eight grandchildren; five brothers, John, Henry and Edwin Poole of Raleigh, Charles of Miami, Fla., and William of Atlanta, Ga., and five sisters, Mrs. J. O. Morton of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Charles Phelps of Durham, Mrs. William Boyce of Louisburg, Mrs. Edgar R. Brigman of Raleigh and Mrs. Port Coates of the Philippine Islands.

Eastern Carolina Farmers Interested Livestock Industry

College Station, Raleigh, Sept. 21—Eastern North Carolina's rapidly growing interest in livestock was demonstrated at a feeder calf sale held in Rocky Mount last week, says L. I. Case, in charge of animal husbandry extension at State College.

The sale, first of its type ever held in Eastern Carolina, attracted a crowd of 800 persons, Case said. He added that the demand was strong and selling prices were good the 131 animals averaging $27.86 per hundredweight.

The event was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce of Rocky Mount, the State Department of Agriculture, and the Extension Service. All animals were graded prior to sale.

Similar sales for Western North Carolina will be held at the stock yards in West Jefferson on September 27 and at the stock yards in Asheville on September 28. About 425 calves will be offered for sale at West Jefferson, and about 200 at Asheville. In addition, some 100 calves will be auctioned at a sale in Pembroke, Robeson County on October 7.

DOG CATCHER'S TRUCK INVOLVED IN COLLISION

The city dog catcher's truck, driven by Enoch Elisha Jones, and a car driven by Miss Elizabeth Simmons, 141 West Seventh Street, collided on Washington Street yesterday afternoon. Slight damage was done both vehicles. The police report of the collision stated that it occurred when Jones drove out into the traffic lane from the curb. Damages were satisfactorily adjusted. No arrest was made.

Dr. H. G. Haney Is Speaker At Legion Meeting

Approximately 65 members of Pitt county post 39 of the American Legion met last night at the Legion home for the regular monthly meeting of the post.

Dr. H. G. Haney, principal speaker at the meeting, delivered an address on "What Makes a Good Legionnaire."

During the business sessions of the meeting plans were discussed for the Armistice Day parade and other activities when Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray will deliver the principal address in Greenville. It was announced to members of the post that Kochman Heldrivers will appear in Greenville on October 2 under the sponsorship of the American Legion as a preview of the Pitt county fair which will open October 3.

A report from the membership committee stated that memberships of the post for the coming year already total 167.

Vice Commander Howard Moyer presided at the meeting in the absence of Commander Ty Wagner, and a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions of respect to be sent to the family of D. H. Wagner who died in West Fairview, Pa. Saturday afternoon.

Co-captains Mariano Stalloni and Jack Miller of the University of Delaware football team were high school teammates.

Strength FOR THE DAY
EVEN AS A FATHER
Everyone who has had children or even lived in the same house with them knows how trying they can be. Fathers and mothers of small babies sell with what despair and weariness they drag themselves out of bed night after night to feed their wailing infants. Parents who return home to find crayon marks all over the new wallpaper can testify how difficult it is to keep their tempers.
Yet despite all the annoyances and real griefs which children cause, their parents' love is one of the very strongest emotional forces in the world. Remarkably enough the child's worthiness to be loved makes little difference; we have all known of mothers who never ceased to trust and love the most undutiful and dissolute of sons.
Thus when we see within human parents such power to love the children who often cause toil and trouble, we are given a new insight into our Heavenly Father's love for human beings. As God's power is greater than ours, so is His capacity for love. Even the wickedest child cannot place himself beyond the love of his father; and so it is not within our power to get out of reach of God's love. The love is always there, if we will receive it.

Around Capitol Square
BONDS—State Treasurer Brandon P. Hodges does not believe the British monetary situation will have an appreciable influence upon the bond market, or affect the sale of fifty million dollars state real road bonds on Wednesday. The bond market is very sensitive, he said, and there is possibility of worldwide reaction to devaluation of the pound sterling affecting American finances in the future. He is more concerned right now about possible influence of domestic management-labor difficulties upon next week's sale. If by next Wednesday the country is faced with extensive strikes and other disruptions of normal procedure, investors in long term securities might be more cautious than if everything is running smoothly.
INFLUENCE—Governor Scott said at his press conference Tuesday he had not formed an opinion as to probable influence of British monetary arrangements upon sales of tobacco, cotton or bonds in North Carolina. Off-hand impression was the effect would not be very noticeable.
PRISONERS—Most of the press conference time was devoted to discussion of paroles and prison discipline. The governor said he was moving slowly waiting for reports on thorough investigations he had requested officials to make as basis for formulating permanent policy. He observed that discipline of prisoners has many common attributes with discipline of children in a family. Personal characteristics of state of physical and mental health of individuals have as much to do with proper handling as does literal interpretation of court sentence. The governor indicated that while he was not satisfied with existing conditions he thought some incidents had been "played up" beyond their real significance.

New York—(AP)—Sam, a cigar-smoking, saki-drinking big wheel from Osaka, thinks one American product, has only a limited future in Japan.
The product is—falsies.
"If Japanese girl wear European dress," said Sam, "maybe falsies all right."
"But if she wear Kimono—no!"
It seems the Japanese feminine ideal is a bumpless silhouette.
"Sam"—A nickname he picked up here—is Isamu Saheki, 47, managing director of the Kinki Nippon railway, the largest independently owned railroad in the Orient.
The railroad owns a chain of hotels department stores and theaters, and Saheki is visiting America to drum up some tourist business for the land of Cherry blossoms.
"Business bad now, better next spring," he said. "How's stock market doing?"
We had a long talk with Sam and the interpreter he leaned on when his own thoughts exceeded his English—George Alexander, Tokyo traffic manager for the Northwest Airlines.
The Japanese Silk Association asked him to find out why American women prefer nylon stockings, and Sam said:
"Feel that silk stockings are more flattering to women's legs than nylon."

Twice last night I chased after the leader for an interview, and twice he lost me. Major Santelmann has been the leader since 1940, so when I found a sergeant who has been with the band for 26 years I decided luck was with me.
The sergeant, John Gworek, was full of answers for my questions. Somehow I always have money on my mind, so one of my first questions was, "Where does the money from this performance go?" The sergeant told me it would be used to pay expenses. Later with pencil and paper I figured that Uncle Sam paid, in salary money, about $7,500 for last night's performance. Maybe the admission money paid the gasoline bill, bought the major a steak, and each member a hot dog.

Confidence
Governor Scott has full confidence that at least one state official will relieve him of worry about availability of funds. A reporter recalled that Dr. Ellen Winston, commissioner of public welfare, had said all of the $350,000 tentatively appropriated for matching federal general assistance money would revert to the state's general fund through failure of the congress to make funds available. The reporter thought maybe some of the amount would not revert. The governor smiled and said: "If there is any possibility, she will find it. I don't need to worry about that."

Washington Letter
Washington — Elkanah Watson, friend of Benjamin Franklin, proudly exhibited some of his fine Merino sheep in the public square at Pittsfield, Mass., back in 1807. His neighbors liked the idea of showing farm products, with barter not the primary object. They began organizing group exhibits at Pittsfield in 1810. They became the pattern for the truly American county fair of today.
This fall, through late October, more than 2,000 county fairs will be held throughout the nation, attracting an estimated 50,000,000 people. In September alone, some of the large farm exhibits billed as state fairs expect admissions of more than 100,000.
There will be state fairs at Detroit, St. Paul, Columbus, Sacramento, Syracuse, Louisville, Salt Lake City, Des Moines, Trenton; at Hutchinson, Kas.; Staunton, Va.; Lewiston, Me.; and Huron, S. D.
In Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania, the lists of autumn fairs run to 100 or more. Basically

Washington Letter
Washington — Elkanah Watson, friend of Benjamin Franklin, proudly exhibited some of his fine Merino sheep in the public square at Pittsfield, Mass., back in 1807. His neighbors liked the idea of showing farm products, with barter not the primary object. They began organizing group exhibits at Pittsfield in 1810. They became the pattern for the truly American county fair of today.

They are still devoted to agriculture despite the profusion of side attractions, which includes politicking in this presidential campaign year," notes the National Geographic Society, which has made a study of fairs over the past.
Joseph W. Hiscox, chief of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Exhibit Service, says that 25 car-load exhibits will be sent out to fairs direct from the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Hiscox, 70, who is retiring after 30 years of service as Uncle Sam's agricultural exhibit wizard, developed federal fair contributions from practically nothing to the great mass educational showings they are today. The government's exhibits point out new and modern methods in agriculture, home economics, animal husbandry, forestry preservation, soil conservation. In addition, many state agricultural colleges put on exhibits at even the smallest fairs.
At the fair, the farmer examines new methods and machinery, trade ideas with his country neighbors to improve his results. He exhibits his finest grain, produce and livestock. His wife shows pies, relishes, flowers and needlework. Youthful farmers, inspired by farm clubs, now vie for blue ribbons along with their parents.
Ending a 51-year lapse started by the Spanish-American War, New York will have a fair at Rockefeller Center, in the very heart of Manhattan. A real farm-exhibit fair it will boom for 10 days late this month. The first New York county fair was in 1828.
Elkanah Watson didn't organize the first fair, the National Geographic Society points out. There were fairs in ancient Babylon, Nineveh and Tyre. Trade fairs were always important in Europe's history. Farm market fairs attracted American colonists prior to 1650. Stressing the farmer, rather than the merchant, the county fair of today is still a good old American pastime.
Persons 65 years and more of age have the highest traffic death rate of any age group.

Negro Youth of Kinston Is West Point Alternate
Kinston, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP)—Leroy Jones, Kinston Negro youth was second alternate today for an appointment to West Point on the recommendation of Senator Frank P. Graham of Chapel Hill.
Jones, former newsboy and student at St. Augustine University in Raleigh, was believed to be the first Negro candidate for the military academy ever named by a Southern senator.
In announcing his appointees in Washington yesterday, Graham said Jones won his second alternate's position through a competitive examination which saw one appointee and two alternates named to both the naval and military academies.

Music Transcends Berlin East-West Political Rift

Berlin, Germany, Sept. 21—(AP)—This war-shattered capital is having its gayest and fullest season of concert, opera and drama since Hitler harnessed the arts to politics.

The traditional German love for music and the stage is transcending even the East-West political chasm that has partitioned the city.

The State Opera in the Russian sector presented Richard Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier." A few blocks away, also in the Soviet sector, the Komische Opera presented Bizet's "Carmen." The City Opera in the British sector played Puccini's "La Boheme."

A German troupe enacted "Hamlet" in a British sector theater, and two theaters in the American sector had performances of plays by the famous German playwright Carl Zuckmayer.

There was a concert by the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, and two major recitals in other theaters, one of them by Metropolitan Opera baritone, Mack Harrell.

Showgoers and opera lovers are turning out in throngs to restore their city to its cultural eminence in Europe.

To do so, many have to pick their way to the theater, in formal evening clothes, past heaps of rubble from Allied bombs.

The repertoire is international in complexion, although there is a strong flavoring of such German national favorites as Goeth, Schiller and Wagner.

Berlin officialdom, both East and West, has taken an interest in the theater and is providing money to back it.

The West Berlin magistrat, for instance, is supporting the new "Freie Volksbuehne" (Free Peoples Theater) in its opening performance of Hamlet.

The city has six major symphonies.

Residents of both East and West Berlin travel back and forth to their favorite performance. Their only restriction is the lack of proper currency.

Tortured Victim Before Murder

Gatlinburg, Tenn., Sept. 21—(AP)—An officer said today that a wealthy tourist court operator apparently was tied to a chair and tortured before he and his housekeeper were murdered at their home near here.

Seventy-year-old Charles Perry was found in the kitchen of his home yesterday, his throat slashed and a woman's slip knotted around his neck.

Sheriff J. Roy Whaley said Perry's body was slashed 13 times and that his wrists had rope burns. This indicated Perry had been tortured before his assailant slashed his throat, the sheriff theorized.

In the bedroom officers found the housekeeper, 43-year-old Miss Josie Law. She had been stabbed in the heart twice.

Whaley said he believed the slayer tried to torture Perry in the hope he would tell where his money was hidden. The sheriff said Perry was worth a lot of money, "perhaps over $100,000."

The killing apparently was done by a professional, Whaley added, "someone who wore rubber gloves." He said he found part of a rubber glove clutched in Miss Law's hand.

They'll Try To Head Off Steel Strike

Cyrus S. Ching (center) head government mediator, sits at a conference table in Washington with Philip Murray (left), steelworkers union head and Benjamin Fairless, spokesman for the steel companies, as they start discussions to head off a major strike. Murray said a strike of his 1,000,000 unionists in the industry could be averted only by settlement on the basis of pension-insurance recommendations made by a presidential fact-finding board. The employers object to the board's suggestion that the companies bear the full expense of a security program. The steel workers still are at their jobs under a strike truce that will expire Sunday. Johnston County Becomes 34th To Go Bone Dry Smithfield, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP)—Johnston yesterday became the 34th of North Carolina's 100 counties to go bone dry.

The county voted to discontinue the legal sale of beer and wine by an unofficial majority approaching 2 to 1. Whisky sales had been outlawed.

The vote from all 29 precincts was reported as:

Against beer 3,734, for 2,161.
Against wine 3,817, for 2,048.

Six other counties have scheduled beer-wine elections. They are Ashe, Clay, Lee, Moore, Sampson and Wayne.

Gonzales Signs To Play Kramer

New York, Sept. 21—(AP)—From now on Richard (Pancho) Gonzales will play tennis for money instead of fun and glory.

The 21-year-old Mexican-American from Los Angeles, winner of the U.S. amateur singles title this and last year, hardly had hopped off a plane from his home town yesterday before he signed a one-year contract to play Jack Kramer in close to 100 matches around the country, beginning the night of Oct. 25 at Madison Square Garden here.

Except for 1918, Cornell and Penn have met on the football field every year since 1893.

Heart Ailment Is Fatal For Actor

Los Angeles, Sept. 21—(AP)—Richard Dix, square jawed two-fisted hero of 218 motion pictures died of a chronic heart ailment yesterday in a Hollywood hospital. He was 54.

Dr. George O. Berg, who was present at the deathbed, said the actor was still fighting courageously in his last battle for life.

"He was conscious to the last spasm, a gamester who wanted to live. He fought for life courageously but his reserves were too depleted. He smiled at Mrs. Dix and at 10:10 he passed away," the physician said.

Dix, born Ernest Carlton Brimmer in St. Paul, Minn., was married twice. His first wife was Winifred Coe, a San Franciscan. They had a daughter, Mary Ellen. They were divorced in 1933 and he married Virginia Webster in June, 1934.

Dix saved his money in the days before high income taxes. He spent his later years on a lavish ranch with his wife and their three children, Richard, Jr., and Robert 13, and Sarah Sue, 11, an adopted daughter. He refused to have a telephone.

Two-thirds of the persons killed in city motor vehicle accidents and about one sixth of those killed in rural traffic accidents are pedestrians.

Cards Confident But Crippled; Musial Laid Up

St. Louis, Sept. 21—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals were a confident but crippled lot today as they prepared to face Brooklyn's determined Dodgers—the team they must turn back in order to win the National League flag.

Injuries during the last couple of days have made the outfit look more like a clinic than a ball club. The latest to be hit was Stan Musial, the man the Cards could most ill afford to lose.

Musial pulled a muscle in his left leg yesterday while beating out an infield hit in the third inning against the Philadelphia Phillies. He aggravated the injury two innings later when he legged out a three-base hit, and was forced to retire from the game.

The champions of the City Softball league were guests at supper at the Olde Towne Inn last night, with the Carolina Sales Corporation as host. Ed Williford, pinch-hitting for President James T. Little and vice-president Ed E. Rawl, was master of ceremonies.

The championship trophy was presented to John McDonald, manager and coach.

Bill Dole, football coach at ECTC was guest of honor, and he was given praise for his interest in athletics in Greenville.

Dave Mosier, commercial manager of the Greenville radio station, and star pitcher on the championship softball team, reviewed the season's activities, felicitated the manager and players and had some nice things to say about the umpires (who were present) and then chirped something about "balls and strikes." The umpires did not applaud; others did.

Incidentally, Mosier, back in 1939-40, before he became an officer in the U. S. Navy in World War II, pioneered with Howard Waldrop, Louis Tebeau, Ramsey Potts, famous Carolina star, and others in popularizing softball in Greenville.

The Carolina Sales team won 6, lost 2 games and defeated the Jaycees in straight games for the city softball championship.

Members of the team were Jimmy Cox, Bill Taylor, Gene Skinner, Bobby Clark, Howard Waldrop, Vick Nichols, James Hudson, Amos Leggett, John (Always optimistic) Lautares, Dave Mosier and Ed Warren. The guest of honor was Jimmy Little, the bat boy.

Special guests were the umpires: Roger Thrift, Bill Darby, Jim Blake and Leon Ellis, Louis Tebeau and a newspaper reporter.

Dogs Learn The Awful Truth; Rabbit Is Phoney

Morehead City, Sept. 21—(AP)—Eight greyhounds have learned something little racing dogs are never supposed to know: the fuzzy little bunny they chase night after night is strictly a machine age contraption and not a live rabbit at all.

It all happened when the eight hounds were racing in the rain Monday night. The water caused the mechanical rabbit, which travels on an electric trolley, to slow down before it reached the finish line. Six of the dogs sped on past, but two caught the bunny. The others rushed back for the kill.

The race was scratched and the remainder of the night's program was called off because of the rain.

Lottery Trial Is Again Scheduled For Next Friday

Greensboro, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP)—The trial of Francis Duval (George Smith) on lottery charges is scheduled for Friday after having been postponed four times.

All the postponements involved Earl Black, a key state witness. First he was missing, and then, when found, he refused to testify.

The case was docketed for city-county court yesterday. It was postponed until Friday when Solicitor E. D. Kuykendall said Black refused to testify.

Mary Ellen Brown, 39, of Greensboro, Route 1, alleged to be one of Smith's lottery workers, also will be tried Friday. She is charged with conspiracy to operate a lottery.

IT OFTEN DEPENDS ON YOUR EXECUTOR

whether your heirs receive the maximum amount from the estate you leave

When you think of the estate you will leave your heirs, do you think of the total amount you have accumulated? There may be a big difference between what you leave and what they actually receive—and the amount of that difference often depends on the efficiency of your executor.

Naming an inexperienced executor (or neglecting to draw up a Will) has in many cases proved the costliest mistake in a lifetime of otherwise good business judgment. For settling an estate today requires skill, technical knowledge and seasoned experience if unnecessary costs and the possibility of serious losses are to be avoided.

This bank specializes in the settlement of small and large estates. When you name us as executor under your Will, you can feel certain that your heirs will receive the maximum inheritance possible from your estate. Each estate is under the personal supervision of experienced officers; it is handled as a separate unit and funds are not mingled with any other assets.

Whether your estate is small or large, this is something you should not put off any longer. So may we suggest that you consult with your attorney now about what you want to do for your family.

Judge Jimmy Roberts Bears Down On Weekend 'Sinners' In Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
 In Police Court Monday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts gave Daniel Jones, colored, two years on the roads for larceny of 76 cents from Claude Brown, colored man. He was originally charged with highway robbery. The court gave Lillie Jenkins, middle-aged colored woman, six months in jail for disorderly conduct, being a public nuisance at the baseball park and resisting arrest. Testimony was that the woman staged a "one-woman riot" outside the park after the game Saturday night.
 Paul J. Snell, alias James P. Brown, colored, received sentences on three charges totaling eleven months on the roads. He got six months for assault with a deadly weapon, two months for embezzlement, and three months for driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license. The sentences are to run consecutively.
 Fourteen defendants charged with being drunk, faced His Honor on the "Monday morning parade," and all of them drew sentences.
 Drunk: William Smith, colored, 30 days or $25; Rufus Barrington $15; Roy White, 30 days or pay $35, and he appealed; Gray L. Hardee, $15; Johnny Vance, Eddie Battle and Jesse Williams, all colored, each paid $15; Snodie Little, colored, 30 days on the roads; Marie A. Hall, $15; Melvin Livingston, $15; Henry Joyner, colored $15 or 30 days; Robert Clark, colored, $15; Eddie Powers, colored, $15; Haywood Carney, colored, costs.
 Roy Smith, colored, was convicted on three charges. The court fined him $15 for assault with a deadly weapon, $50 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon; $15 for disorderly conduct. Total—$80.

 John R. Buck and Fred D. Johnson, each paid $25 and costs for driving without an operator's license.
 Ray Tyson, colored, embezzlement, paid $20 and $45 to the prosecuting witness.
 Sylvester Vick, Jr., paid $15 costs and $10 to the prosecuting witness for disorderly conduct, profane language and assault. He also paid $15 costs and 50 cents to a cafe operator for failure to paying for a meal.
 Alfonso Hicks, colored, paid $15 for improper use of auto license plates.
 Rayfield Sawyer, drunk and indecent exposure, 30 days in jail or pay $25.
 Assault with a deadly weapon: Jesse Williams, colored, not guilty; Randolph Williams, colored $50; Irene Dixon, colored, $15; Walter Dewson, colored, $20

Mileage Target

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP) Governor Scott set a mileage target yesterday for the Highway Commission to shoot at in laying rural roads.
 The governor declared in a speech at Wilton in southern Wake County that "I am asking the state highway chairman and chief engineer to make this their daily goal:
 "The building of one mile of hard surface road each day in each highway division for the next three and one-half years, plus three additional miles of stabilized roads in each division daily, or a state-wide daily total of 10 miles of black top, and 30 miles of stabilized roads."

Farm Forester Working In Pitt Assist Farmers

T. M. Hasell, farm forester for the N.C. Department of Conservation and Development, is now working in Pitt County, according to County Forest Warden N. S. Tyson.
 Hasell's job is to assist farmers and other small woodlot owners in the practice of good forestry in their woods. Available to any private timberland owner, the farm forester program includes advice and actual assistance in woodlot planning, marking timber for selective cutting, marketing timber, and drawing up timber sales contracts. Timber marked for selective cutting is estimated by the forester as it is marked, but State Forest Service personnel do not estimate entire stands of timber for the purpose of determining gross timber volume.
 Farmers wishing to obtain farm forestry service should contact County Forest Warden Tyson or write directly to the district forester, N.C. Division of Forestry, New Bern. Farm Forester's Hasell's services are available to residents of Pitt, Jones, Greene, Lenoir and Craven Counties. Two other graduate foresters, working out of the New Bern district office, are available to residents of other counties in this area.

Death Demanded For 8 On Trial

Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 21—(AP)—The state today demanded the death penalty for Laszlo Rajk, Hungary's former Communist police chief, and his seven co-defendants on trial for treason.
 Chief Prosecutor Gyula Alapi also denounced the United States and Yugoslavia as the trial neared an end.
 Alapi accused the eight defendants of serving as spies for the U.S. as well as for Marshal Tito. He declared:
 "Belgrade and Washington are together in the dock with these defendants."
 Since seven of the defendants have pleaded guilty—and the eighth said he was "partly guilty"—the defense is not expected to call any witnesses.
 Rajk, former foreign minister and former minister of the interior, was once regarded as Hungary's No. 2 Communist. Last week he poured out a confession from the witness stand in which he declared he plotted with American and Yugoslav agents to overthrow the Communist government.

Storm Warning For Caribbean

Miami, Fla., Sept. 21—(AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau in San Juan, Puerto Rico, issued the following storm advisory No. 1 at 9:30 a.m. (EST) today:

Northeast storm warnings are ordered for the Virgin Islands and hurricane warnings for Puerto Rico.

A small tropical storm that developed during the night has been located at 9:30 a.m. (EST) at approximately latitude 16.3 north, and longitude 64.5 west, or about 100 miles south-southeast of St. Croix.

This storm which now has winds of 20 miles per hour near the center is believed to be increasing rapidly in intensity and is expected to reach hurricane force within the next few hours.

The movement of this storm is uncertain, but it is believed to be moving west-northwestward about 12 miles per hour.

Orchestra Opens Activities With Monday Meeting

The East Carolina Orchestra, made up of musicians in and near Greenville, started its activities for 1949-1950 Monday evening of this week at an organizational meeting held on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College.

Dr. Rudolph R. Willmann, director of music at the college here, who organized and conducted the orchestra last winter, has announced that approximately thirty musicians will make up the personnel of the group during the present school year. Students and faculty members of the college and other instrumentalists from Greenville and Ayden were present for the meeting Monday.

A concert during the winter quarter will be given as the first public appearance of the East Carolina Orchestra, according to Dr. Willmann, and other programs will be scheduled for later in the season. Since the formation of the orchestra last January, the orchestra has made three public appearances, one of them being a concert given as part of the Community Arts Festival in Greenville during the spring.

Rehearsals are scheduled for each Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the Wright building on the college campus. Instrumentalists living in the eastern section of North Carolina may become members of the group.

The first European to cross Africa from ocean to ocean was David Livingstone, who completed the journey in 1856.

Divers Search Ill-Fated Noronic

Diver Pete Montour descends a companionway to 'D' deck of the fire-gutted S. S. Noronic at Toronto in a grim search for bodies below the sunken decks of the charred cruise ship. The number of known dead stands at 121 and 84 passengers still are reported missing. Red Cross officials expressed the belief that many of those unaccounted for had gone to their homes without reporting their survival. (AP Wirephoto)

Duplin Pageant At Kenansville Starts Thursday

Two 100-voice choirs will be featured in "The Duplin Story" when that historical play, with music, is presented at Kenansville September 22, 23 and 24.

The choirs, representing the finest singing voices in Duplin County, have been rehearsing for weeks. "The Duplin Story" Choir, under the direction of Mrs. A. D. Wood of Charity, has reached a professional peak, according to Sam Byrd, famous author of Mount Olive, director of the pageant.

"The choirs will furnish orchestral-like accompaniment to the scenes," Byrd said today. "Mrs. Wood has directed her choir with indefatigable precision," he added.

The Liberty Hall choir, made up of teachers and principals of Duplin County's Negro schools, will be featured in the scenes concerning the War Between the States and the tobacco field scene toward the opening of the play.

Music for the show will be made up of songs of the periods between 1749 to 1949, the 200 years since the founding of Duplin County.

The population of Australia is approximately 20,000,000.

William J. Brinson Buried In Duplin

Funeral services were held for William J. Brinson, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Whaley, Beulaville, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Bryant Linstert officiated. Burial was in the Williams' Cemetery.

Mr. Brinson had been in declining health for several years and critically ill about one week. He was a retired farmer and member of the Lyman's Primitive Baptist Church of Duplin County.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edie Williams Brinson; three daughters Mrs. E. K. Bonham of Princeton, Mrs. Amos Brown and Mrs. Lewis Whaley of Beulaville; three sons Bland Brinson of Ayden, Archie and Doris Brinson of Chinquapin; 25 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

KIWANIS BULLETIN RESUMES PUBLICATION NEXT WEEK

The Greenville Kiwanis Club's weekly news bulletin will resume publication next week, reviewing the club's activities. Dr. John O. Reynolds of the East Carolina Teachers College faculty will present the program. Eli Bloom is program chairman. President Arthur Tripp will preside.

Greenies Drop Kinston To Take Lead In CPL Finals

Play Eagles Here Tonight After 9-5 Win In Kinston

Locals Take See-Saw Contest With Five-Run Rally In Sixth; Mascarella Goes The Route After Shaky Start; Varney, Strausser Lead Hitting Attack

Pappy Williams' Greenville Greenies jumped into the lead for the Coastal Plain play-off championship in Kinston last night, downing the Eagles 9-5 to post a 2-1 lead in the finals.

The Greenies rallied five runs in the sixth inning to win before a crowd of an estimated 4,000 fans. Art Mascarella, holding the Eagles to seven hits and shutting them out after the third inning, went the route for the winners.

The Eagles, jumping on Mascarella for two runs in the first and rallying three more in the third, look an early lead to hold a 5-3 advantage at the end of the third frame.

The score remained unchanged as the teams battled to a scoreless deadlock for two innings. Then the Greenies opened their offensive attack which won the game in the sixth.

Manager Williams led off with a single. Willie Mauney followed with a walk and Sid Varney connected for a timely single to score Williams. Mauney scored on Valle's fly to deep rightfield. Denier took first on four balls and Varney scored when Mascarella hit a hopper to first and first baseman Harry Soufas hit Denier in the back with the ball on an attempted double play.

The Eagles yanked Vincent Jones, the second Kinston pitcher, in favor of Hy Chapin in an attempt to halt the merry-go-round. But Strausser tied off on the new pitcher with a single to left-center and Denier roared into home. Manager Steve Collins threw wild to the plate on the relay and Mascarella scored from third.

The masterful hurling of Mascarella prevented the Eagles from ever threatening the Greenville lead and Manager Williams' boys posted another run in the eighth to add insult to injury.

Centerfielder Strausser and Sid Varney welded the big bats for the Greenies in the affair, collecting two for four and two for five respectively.

Romankowski garnered three for five to be the only Kinston batter to get an extra hit.

The two teams return to Greenville for the fourth game of the finals tonight.

Deacs Prepare Defense Against Doak Walker

Wake Forest, Sept. 21—Wake Forest's Deacons are laying most of the emphasis on defense this week as they seek to devise methods of stopping Doak Walker and Company of Southern Methodist's Cotton Bowl champions. The teams play at Dallas, Texas Saturday night in one of the leading inter-sectional games of the week.

The celebrated Walker, a unanimous two year All-America choice, isn't the only Mustang back the Deacons will have to stop in their bid for an upset victory. Kyle Rote, Dick McKissack, Frank Payne, Gene Roberts, John Champion, Bill Weatherford and Bill Sullivan are other top-notch backs who will bear close watching.

Washington Club Sinks To Record

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—All this yackety-yak about the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals—yet who sets the record? The Washington Senators, that's who.

Without fanfare—and sometimes with hardly a fan—the Senators have quietly but efficiently gone about making themselves the worst Washington club in 40 years.

They clinched that unfortunate record last night when they lost to the St. Louis Browns, 15 to 6.

If they win every game from now on (and the odds, roughly, are 462 to 1 that they won't), they still won't be able to win as many games as the 1919 and the 1948 Washington teams did. Each of those won 56.

The present Senators have won 45. And since they have only 10 games to go, it's pretty obvious that 55 victories is the best they can do.

You have to go all the way back to 1909 to find a Washington team that did worse. That one won only 42 games.

Strangely, this year's team started out as if it might amount to something.

It once won ten games in a row, which so overwhelmed long suffering local fans that they staged a big welcome-home.

Not since the Philistines bet on Goliath has confidence been more misplaced.

The Senators have won only 11 of their past 67 games, and only 14 of their last 88.

It was more than a coincidence that the Red Sox moved back into the thick of the American League pennant chase just about the time Ted Williams moved to the top of American League batting averages. Williams won his fourth individual batting crown last season with a mark of .369, and was a hot favorite to repeat when the pennant race got underway last spring. Ted started slowly. In fact, some of his own teammates, principally Dom DiMaggio and Vern Stephens, gave him quite a scare in the early stages of the race.

Williams wasn't in very good shape when the All-Star game rolled around so he failed to match his sensational hitting of past All-Star appearances, but he did supply the

Aim For All-U.S. Semi-Final Play

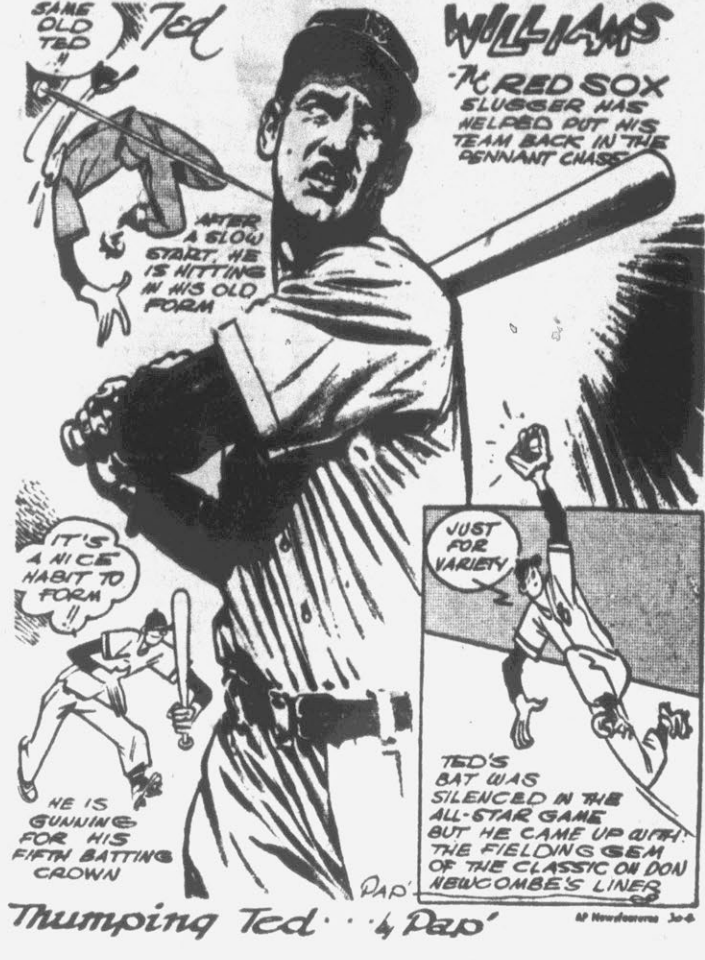

Tadworth, England, Sept. 21—(AP)—The United States Ryder Cup players aimed today for an All-American semifinal in the British Professional Golfers' Association tournament.

But they admitted they expected plenty of trouble on the way to the round of four.

"These British boys can be plenty tough," declared Johnny Palmer, the only one of the eight American entrants to play yesterday, "and a lot can happen in an 18-hole match."

Arthur (Slick) Morton, in his first season as football coach, is the 20th gridiron mentor at Mississippi State.

fielding gem of the classic. With the bases loaded and none out in the second inning, Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's big righthander, connected with one of "Virgil Trucks" offerings and crashed it toward the left field seats. The drive was just short of the stands, but appeared to be a certain triple. With a running leap Williams snared the drive and held the National Leaguers to a lone run.

Ted was thrilled by the 2,000,000 top all selections for the All-Star line-ups. There have been times when Williams showed little regard for the attitude of the fans, but the lanky slugger was genuinely impressed by this tribute, and was determined to show the fans that he appreciated the pat on the back.

Harvard Squad To West Coast

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 21—(AP)—Harvard's football squad will have a light workout today before bussing to Boston and a flight to the West Coast for its first scheduled game in that area in 76 years of gridiron history.

The Crimson will open its season against highly regarded Stanford Saturday.

This trip will be the sixth lengthy one ever taken by a Harvard football squad and was made possible only because classes have not begun.

Babe Zaharias To Defend Crown

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—A four-way battle is expected to highlight the fourth annual Women's National Open Golf Tourney which gets underway tomorrow at Prince Georges Country Club.

Leading the star-sprinkled field will be defending champion Babe Didrikson Zaharias, national amateur runner-up Dot Kieley, national girls titlist Marlene Bauer and in all probability the national amateur queen, Dot Germain Porter.

Mrs. Porter, a 25-year-old mother from Philadelphia and now only a week-end golfer, hopes to compete.

State Wingback Now Ineligible

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 21—(AP)—Gordon Goodman, N.C. State varsity wingback, is not eligible for more college football in the Southern Conference.

State College officials were informed of this yesterday by the conference's eligibility committee.

Goodman, a 188-pound senior from Ft. Worth, Texas, will be replaced by Norman Sloan, a 185-pound basketball star from Indianapolis.

Bernie Bierman and Chris Cagle are former Mississippi State head coaches of football.

Midget Gridders Tangle With Kinston Red Imps On Thursday

The Greenville Midgets will tangle with the Kinston Red Imps, Thursday night at the ECTC stadium at 8:30 to open their 1949 gridiron season.

The Midget team is composed of boys who are under 105 pounds and have not as yet reached their 14th birthday.

The Greenville Midgets last year boasted of a 1-2 record, one which they will be trying to better this year.

No report as to the strength of the Kinston team was on hand today as neither team has been tested so far this year. The teams will be about equal as far as weight is considered.

Both of the Midget teams will be running from a T formation this year. Last year the Midgets from Kinston handed the "small boys" from Greenville, a stunning 33-0 defeat, for which the locals will be gunning for revenge.

As a group, the 1949 version of the Midgets will be light in weight but high in spirit, Kittrell said today.

"Four teams make up the Eastern conference with Washington, Kinston, New Bern, and Greenville. The Western conference teams are Burlington, Sanford, and Durham. The state Midget football championship game will be played in Burlington this year.

During the past week, Coach Bill Kittrell has been stressing blocking and pass defense, which the locals have been weak in.

Kittrell this year is coaching the line, while Bob Ostrander, a former East Carolina Teachers College full-back, is serving as head backfield coach. Both coaches seemed pleased with the team's showing up to date.

The Midgets this year are mainly inexperienced boys with only four regular starters back from last year's team, Kittrell said. The entire team will average about 90 pounds, Kittrell stated, "and it is about the lightest team that I have coached in Greenville."

While not commenting on the outcome of the contest on Thursday night, Kittrell would only say that he thought that his team would put up a good fight all the way, when they met the Kinston Red Imps Thursday night.

Willie Pep Easy Victor In Fight

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 21—(AP)—Offers poured in on Featherweight Champ Willie Pep today after his easy seven round kayo triumph over Eddie Compo.

The 21-year-old Compo, six years younger than Pep, hit the deck twice in the fifth for the count of nine and again in the seventh before the finish. It came with Goldie Goldfarb, Compo's chief second, waving a towel and yelling that the kid was through. Referee Conway agreed.

In the dressing room, Manager Lou Vicenti thought Pep's ninth defense of the title he won in 1942 probably was his easiest. Willie, elated over the victory, said Compo "is a game kid. I was never worried. I asked the referee to stop it twice before he did."

Compo, sobbing and broken-hearted over the outcome, suffered his first knockout and his second loss in 61 fights. Pep's brilliant record now numbers 142 wins, two defeats and one draw in a career that began in 1940.

AC Meets Elon With Fast Back Still In Hospital

Wilson, N. C., Sept. 21—The Atlantic Christian College football team will be without its most potent offensive weapon Saturday night when it plays its first home game, a North State conference battle, with Elon College.

Little Jack Allsbrook, ACC's speedy scabbard, was still in a Salisbury hospital today where he has been since last Saturday night when he sustained a brain concussion in ACC's 39-0 loss at the hands of strong catawba college.

Allsbrook managed to get into about three full quarters of play before he was injured. He carried the ball on offense five times for 17 yards and an average of 3.4 yards per try. His punting was outstanding. He kicked six times for an average of 37.1 yards per punt.

His kickoff returns were also commendable. He ran one back 15 yards and another for 35 yards.

Nat'l League Flag Race Comes To Climax Today

The knock down, drag out battle being waged by the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant comes to a head today. The arch rivals open a three game series in St. Louis.

The pennant-hungry foes will clash twice today, once in the afternoon and again at night. The third game will be played under the lights tomorrow.

The combatants tuned up yesterday for their vital series with victories. The Cards knocked off the Philadelphia Phils, 7-5, and the Dodgers sacked the Chicago Cubs 5-0, to remain a game and a half behind the Red Birds.

Gridiron Lined With Quicklime; Players Burned

It was a pretty hot football game at East Carolina Teachers College stadium last Thursday night, thirteen Cherry Point Marine gridders and some three or four East Carolina boys mused today and officials didn't doubt it a bit.

There was a mixup on lime orders and the gridiron was lined with a form of quick lime, which combined with the wet turf to just about set the field on fire. At least three of the East Carolina boys received minor burns and 13 Marines were nursing burns.

Officials looked into the matter and the mistake was found. Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, athletic director at East Carolina, said a different kind of lime would be used hereafter.

LAGER BEER means BETTER BEER ...when it's really LAGERED

Budweiser is one of America's really true LAGER beers. Public records indicate that beer, on the average, is aged thirty days or less—whereas the secondary fermentation process alone exceeds that period in the production of BUDWEISER.

This secondary fermentation period is our special method of AGEING and gives NATURAL CARBONATION to BUDWEISER.

To bring you more true Budweiser Lager Beer, Anheuser-Busch is completing the world's largest BREWED AND BOTTLED IN ST. LOUIS lagering cellars. The finest brewing ingredients plus this longer ageing period assures the superior quality, the delicate flavor and the exquisite bouquet which set BUDWEISER apart from any other beer. There's nothing like it... absolutely nothing.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 10

Jay saw the dark outlines of possibly a dozen crude shacks and at least fifteen corrals farther out on the prairie. The horse rider must have been pretty sure of his strength and cunning to have such a big camp within thirty or forty miles of a big ranch.

They rode up and swung down a dozen or so riders lounded about both on the porch and inside.

"Lo, boys," Pennock greeted them as they mounted the porch. "Look who I got with me."

"Hi, Joe," several men greeted Allison, though there was something curious, almost strained in their looks. Jay knew that word of Joe's getting shot in the raid on Randall's Morgans was bound to spread. He'd just have to let things go and see what happened.

They went inside and a pretty dark-faced, dark-eyed girl who was either half or full-blooded Mexican came over and looked up with a bright glance.

"So? You have come back at last?" she asked, and he caught the faint trace of an accent in her voice.

"Yep, he's come back. Lucia," chuckled Turk Pennock, turning, glass in hand. "But it won't do you any good this time. Old Man Randall laid down the law to him plenty."

"Who is this old man Randall?" she demanded. Pennock, with a puffaw, replied for him. "Shucks, Lucia, didn't he ever tell you as how he's goin' to marry Randall's ranch one of these days? That gal ever there—"

"So?" Lucia demanded. "I let you kiss me an' now you have another girl all the time!"

Jay squirmed at the laughter of several men and was glad when she flounced over and leaned beside Turk.

"That's all right, honey," he drawled, and slid an arm around her waist. "I'll kiss you any time, and I ain't got no other girl."

A lithe-looking Mexican rider moved in, wariness in every movement of his body. "Lucia, she is my girl," he said in slow, precise English. "You keep away from her, Joe. You understand?"

"Take it easy, Miguel," grinned Turk.

"I am no man's girl," she informed the three of them. "And my father is an American and I was born here."

"You are my girl," the border Mexican insisted. "Some day I take you with me to Mexico."

"Her paw might hev something to say about that," grinned Turk good-humoredly. "He catches a greaser from across the line foolin' with Lucia an'—"

Something like a snarl broke from the Mexican rider's lips at the word "greaser," the greatest insult you could utter to a Mexican. His hand flashed to his hip and started up, but Jay was standing beside him and his hand flashed down holding the gun in its sheath.

"Turn loose!" snarled Miguel. "I keel you, I keel both of you now!"

Rage had changed his precise English. He was snarling like a cat. His dark, handsome face contorted. But Jay's fast action had given Turk and the others time to move. Three men were on the Mexican rider in a flash. They held him while he struggled and cursed in Spanish. One of them slipped the gun from its sheath, laughing, and handed it over to the man back of the crude eight-foot bar.

"Here, Limpy, put this back there till Miguel cools off. Come on, boys; cut it out. You know what Brad's orders are about fightin' amongst ourselves in camp. Cool down, Mig. Joe an' Turk don't want your girl."

"I am not his girl," snapped Lucia. She stood, slim and willowy, head back, her eyes flashing. She was not at all disturbed that the trouble had been over her.

They released the Mexican rider. His face was a shade paler, his eyes bright. He had regained his composure.

"Some day I kill you for this, Joe," he said quietly.

"Aw, fergit it, Mig," Turk said good-humoredly.

He turned to Joe, the matter now past. "If you ever git in a jam, Joe, an' need a friend, you won't have to send word more than once to Turk-Pennock."

"I, too, do not forget," the Mexican vaquero said with a significance in the words that left no doubt as to his meaning.

Jay turned to the bar and heard footsteps beside him and looked up into the face of Jim Swinnerton. The lawyer was smiling.

"That was a nice bit of work, but you've made an enemy. We don't allow that kind of thing here in camp. So watch your step. . . . Joe That makes two enemies you've got here now." This last in a very low voice. "Peg Smith is here."

"Yes?" Jay answered in an equally low voice, inaudible to all but Swinnerton above the hum of conversation in the room.

"Maybe we'd better take a walk. Your brother is here, too. Hank brought him in on a travola. My orders." (To be continued)

Meals Of Steak And Milk Soon To Be Had By Needle

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 21—(AP)—Sick people who can't eat will soon be able to get meals of steaks and milk by needle injections.

The shots will supply the chemical bricks from which other proteins are made. The food bricks will be shot into the blood, to be used exactly like food taken by mouth.

This new feeding can save the lives of people near death from starvation, or who can't eat because of cancer of the stomach or diseases that interfere with normal digestion.

A little of this needle feeding has been tried already. But the cost is terrific and only a small amount of the food bricks have been made.

Today, Dr. Jesse P. Greenstein, biochemist of the National Cancer Institute, announced a cheap, simple method of mass producing these protein bricks, called Amino Acids.

The new method can produce all eight of the Amino Acids which the human body must get in food, he told the American Chemical Society.

It produces them in a safe, pure form that won't cause bad reactions or shock. It can make them by the pounds, instead of fractions of ounces as by present methods, he added.

One of these food bricks, Methionine, has been selling at $6.50 a gram, which is 1-200th of an ounce. The new method made it for 80 cents a gram. A human needs at least several grams a day. Similar savings can be made in making all the other essential food bricks, he reported.

The new method will be made available to commercial producers, since the cancer institute doesn't have facilities to make the materials in amounts needed by hospitals and doctors.

Navy's Training Films Are Used In Latin America

Washington—The navies of five Latin American countries are being trained the U. S. way through a series of training films made and used during the war and since. The films, on a wide variety of subjects from elementary first aid to highly technical operation of mechanical devices, have been sent to U. S. naval missions in Brazil, Venezuela, Colombia, Chile and Ecuador.

The films are used by the naval missions in training the navy personnel of the cooperating countries and remain in their custody. The five republics share in the cost in that they send their own naval officers here to work out their own translations and edit the sound tracks into Spanish and Portuguese. Some 500 more or less basic training films have been selected from the Navy's full list of over 4,000.

Though some of the highly skilled translators are assistant naval attaches to the Latin American embassies in Washington, most of the naval officers are sent directly by their governments. Several of these officers have voices as good as the professional foreign language narrators and do the actual narrating themselves.

In some instances the officers had to work out their own phraseology for technical terms. The Brazilian officers compiled their own dictionary. For instance, in Portu-

The new rate will be $2.80 as compared with the old value of $4.03. The long expected devaluation by Britain is a bold gamble at solving her financial crisis by selling more and cheaper goods to America. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London).

To Rest Case In Tax Fraud Suit

Greensboro, Sept. 21—(AP)—The government was expected to rest today in its tax evasion suit against Josephus D. Parker of Eagle Springs. The case involves an alleged attempt to defraud the government of more than $114,000 in victory and income taxes. Latest evidence tended to show that Parker's income for 1946 was understated by $13,000.

broad rally in today's stock market cut deeply into yesterday's large losses. A sudden turn for the better in a tense labor situation created enough demand to lift prices fractions to around 3 points.

Steel, motor, utility, rubber, and radio and television stocks were among the strongest but buying spilled over into most other groups as well. Mail order issues held back. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,100,000 shares for the full session.

The Latin American navies are being trained U. S. fashion in such subjects as fire fighting aboard ship, the principles of the gyroscope, night plotting, nautical astronomy, aerial map reading, the Diesel engine, aerology (what you do in a plane in a fog, how to fly the weather map and so forth).

End Acoustical Treatment Rooms

Acoustical treatment of various music classrooms and studios and of the campus radio station and an auditorium in the department of science at East Carolina Teachers College has just been completed.

The work was done under the supervision of acoustical engineers. It includes sound treatment of music classrooms and studios in the Austin and Wright buildings, of the campus radio station in the Graham building, and of a small auditorium used for classwork in the Flanagan building.

The function of this acoustical treatment of music rooms, according to Dr. R. R. Willmann, director of the department of music here, is to improve the sound properties of the rooms so that more accuracy and a higher type of development in music might be made possible than in the average untreated room. "The improvement," he comments, "is in keeping with the progress and advancement now being made by the music department of East Carolina."

Background Of . . .

(Continued from page one) pounds. They were at work. They wanted goods and foodstuffs and comforts. They could get them from the United States but they had to have dollars to do so.

England clamped restrictions on the number of dollars it would give its people for pounds. As dollars got scarcer, people were willing to put an extra value on them.

The inflation made things worse. The Labor Government had let wages rise. Its social welfare programs, aside from questions of merit or desert, imbedded taxes into the costs of production. A pound bought less and less, whether it was held by a Britisher or a foreigner. American prices went up, but not nearly so fast.

There were lots of pounds floating around, but they didn't represent the goods that people wanted. Foreigners selling to Britain soon held more than they needed. They demanded dollars instead.

All the while Britain was making fine recovery—within the British Isles. Production rose. Exports moved 50 per cent ahead of prepwar.

But that wasn't enough. Last April the channels of trade became choked with pounds. British exports began to fall. Even with Marshall Plan help, the gap between dollars owed and dollars earned began to widen.

A U. S. Navy pilot when he is ready into his plane may have 40 pounds of clothing and gear on him.

There must be great rejoicing in Cyrenaica at this promise of independence. Mussolini settled Italian colonists on the land. Many of the Senussi died of terrible privation in the desert.

The survivors swarmed back to their farms, however, while the tracks of Rommel's retreat still were fresh. The Italian colonists fled with the German troops, and I found Senussi farmers again working their beloved soil within sight of the huge signs "II Duce," which were painted across the front of all colonial farm houses.
