

Daniels' Appeal Is Filed Too Late

Judge Upholds Motion By Bundy Which Would Prevent Appeal Being Heard Before State Supreme Court; One Day Late In Serving Statement Of Case On Appeal

Two Pitt county youths under sentences of death, temporarily at least, have lost their appeal to the supreme court following a ruling handed down yesterday by Judge Clawson L. Williams in Kinston.

Judge Williams, who sentenced Bennie Daniels and Lloyd Ray Daniels to death after they had been found guilty of first degree murder in Pitt Superior court early in June yesterday upheld a motion by Solicitor W. J. Bundy of the fifth judicial district which would prevent the appeal being heard before the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Bundy's motion to deny the appeal of the case to the supreme court was based on the failure of the defense attorneys to serve their statement of case on appeal on the solicitor within the time allowed by the court. The statement of appeal was served on the state one day after the allotted 60-day period set up by the court.

Solicitor Bundy said in a statement this morning, "They were one day late in serving the statement of case on appeal. I served on them 132 amendments and exceptions to their statement of case on appeal in which I specifically reserved the right to move before the trial judge (Clawson L. Williams) to strike out the defendants' statement of case on appeal, because of the failure of the defendants to serve the case within the time fixed by the court."

The court which tried the Daniels cousins for the murder of William Benjamin O'Neal adjourned on June 6, and the defense was given 60 days in which to serve the statement of appeal on Solicitor Bundy of the fifth judicial district. Judge Williams found in the hearing yesterday that the statement of case on appeal was left in the office of the solicitor with the solicitor's secretary on August 6—61 days after the adjournment of court.

The defendants, through their attorneys G. J. Bates and Herman Taylor, admitted at the hearing yesterday that the case was not served on the solicitor until 60 days had expired. Judge Williams found there was no extension or waiver of time for serving the statement of case on appeal and none was requested.

The solicitor's amendments and exceptions to the defense statement were served on one of the attorneys for the defense on September 5, within the 45 days allowed the state for reply to the defense statement.

Bundy said the defense attorneys yesterday expressed the opinion they will appeal to the supreme court on the ruling made yesterday by Judge Williams, but the original appeal of the case can not be heard by the high court unless the ruling handed down by Judge Williams yesterday is set aside.

The appeal of the original case against the Daniels' cousins was scheduled to be heard by the North Carolina supreme court in October but early this week the defense attorneys filed with the Supreme court a petition for extension of time before the Supreme court hearing.

Yugoslavia Banished

Moscow's Cancellation Of Friendship Treaty To Be Followed By Remaining Cominform Countries; Significance; A New Brand Of Communism 'Built By Tito'

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Russia's abrupt cancellation of her treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia, thereby setting a fiery example which her satellites may be expected to follow, further tightens the banishment of Marshal Tito from the Bolshevik fold.

The Yugoslav dictator now is decidedly on his own until he makes new friends who at this stage obviously must come from the democracies. I imagine his sensations are something like those of your correspondent one day in the first World War when he got caught in the middle of a German barrage of high-power shells. I wasn't exactly lonesome, you understand, but did have a feeling that I could do with a little friendly encouragement.

Thus far the only kindly word Tito has received from his old comrades is contained in an article published by "The Literary Gazette" in Moscow. The Gazette says history soon is going to offer him a choice—"Either rat poison, like Hitler, or a soaped rope, like Mussolini." The article adds that "there is good reason for the Belgrade dwarf to go crazy."

Moscow accuses Tito of lining up with "foreign imperialist circles," specifically Russia charges that the

'Fighting Words' By President In Kansas City Talk

Threatens To Keep Congress In Session Until It Enacts 'Fair Deal'

Kansas City, Sept. 30—(AP)—President Truman confronted Capitol Hill opponents today with a new threat to keep Congress in session until it enacts his entire "Fair Deal" program.

And, if that course fails, he said the Democrats "will win with that program" in 1950 and again in 1952.

In fighting words, he sounded the keynote for Democratic orators in next year's congressional campaigns at a testimonial dinner for the party's national chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr. Boyle, like the President, is a Jackson County Missourian.

The President, speaking last night at the end of a program in which a long list of talkers, including Vice President Barkley, preceded him also:

1. Promised to battle for measures to raise the country's income to $300,000,000,000 annually and establish "an income level in the country of $4,000 per family per year" which he said "is not a pipe dream."

2. Hinted that Barkley, a frequent caller on Mrs. Carleton Hadley of St. Louis, might be getting married soon.

3. Declared that the country needs a "real, honest free press" worse than anything in the world.

4. Said that in these critical days of an uneasy peace, "it is dangerous to try to go back" to the 1890 isolationist attitude and that the country must "catch up with the moral spirit that will match the material in which we live."

The dapper, gray-haired chief executive, speaking before several thousand of the party faithful, declared that his party will battle on for enactment of its 1948 platform pledges.

"Now, I have told the Congress and the leaders in the Congress that we are going to fight it out on that basis if it takes all summer, an winter, and all next summer," he said.

Couldn't Stop, Had No Brakes

Nearly four hundred cars were checked by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday night when a road block was set up near Greenville to inspect cars for faulty brakes, lights and unauthorized stickers on glass of the cars. Patrolman Paul C. Whitley is shown striking a ticket for a man whose car was found to be in such condition as to make it unsafe to be on the highway. The car failed to stop at the inspection station and had to be chased by the patrolman. When asked why he did not stop, the man said, "I don't have any brakes." (Staff Photo By Roy Hardee).

Last Ditch Effort To Prevent Strike

Big Steel And CIO Meet With Mediators, But From Coast To Coast Industry Begins Preparation For Walkout

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30—(AP)—Big steel and the CIO got together with federal mediators today in a last ditch try to stave off a nationwide steel strike at midnight.

But even as they met, the news was not good. From coast to coast, and from the gulf to the border, the gigantic steel industry banked its fires in readiness for the strike. And thousands of Philip Murray's United Steel workers jumped the gun in wildcat walkouts.

William N. Margolis assistant director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, and Peter Seitz, its general council, met with the disputants.

Surprisingly, there was an air of good humor. Nobody mentioned in public the point at issue: Should the union help pay for its insurance and pensions?

But Murray joked with reporters and he grinned as he asked Margolis: "Is the enemy here yet?" A mediator has no power—other than the power of suggestion. Sometimes he can hit on an idea that is acceptable to both sides. But neither the union nor the companies needs to pay any attention to what he says.

As production dropped, as picketing started, the two sides still seemed far apart.

Chief Charged With Running Off With Girl

Carthage, N.C., Sept. 30—(AP)—The Police Chief of nearby Robbins was brought today on a charge of abandoning his wife and children and eloping with a high school girl.

Sheriff C. J. McDonald said he has a warrant signed by Mrs. Ruby J. Lanier against her husband, police chief John J. Lanier.

The warrant charges the 30-year-old police chief with "wilful and felonious" abandonment of Mrs. Lanier and her two young children, the sheriff reported. The warrant also names Geraldine Stutts, 17-year-old student at a Robbins high school, as the girl Lanier eloped with last Tuesday, McDonald said.

Heads Drive By Community Chest

F. Badger Johnson Jr. Says Campaign To Open Nov. 1

F. Badger Johnson, Jr. will head the 1949 Greenville Community Chest drive, it was announced today by James T. Little, president of the local organization.

Although complete plans for the Community Chest campaign for Johnson said this morning, the drive will begin on November 1 with a special girls solicitation and will be followed by a house to house canvass of the city.

Members of the board of directors of the organization met last night to work out plans for the 1949 campaign, but complete arrangements are not expected to be announced until early next week.

Johnson, who will head this year's red feather drive, came to Greenville in 1938 and was associated with Carolina Sales. He entered the army in 1942 as a private, and was discharged from active service in October 1946 with the rank of captain.

He returned to his position with Carolina Sales where he remained until March 1948 when he joined John Flanagan Buggy company as general manager.

Economy Talkers Throw In Sponge Following Defeat

Let's-Save-Money Choir Doesn't Look For Another Try Until 1950

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—Senate economy talkers threw in the sponge today—for this year—after another setback in their drive to cut federal spending.

"I don't look for another try until next session," said Republican Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, a leader of the let's-save-money choir.

The same sentiment was voiced by Senator McClellan of Arkansas, one of the chief economy speakers among the Democrats.

The move to whittle federal expenditures collapsed yesterday when the Senate rejected 39 to 24 an amendment offered by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.).

It would have required President Truman to reduce authorized spending by from 5 to 10 per cent for the fiscal year which began July 1. Ferguson estimated that his plan would have saved up to $4,000,000,000 and that it would have come close to balancing the budget.

The Michigan lawmaker tried to tack his amendment on to a bill to boost the pay of cabinet members and other top bracket government officials. The Senate approved the bill after defeating Ferguson's proposal.

The amendment is the same one the Senate batted down a few weeks ago when it was offered to the military appropriation bill.

After the defeat yesterday there were some off-the-floor explanations of the outcome by senators who voted for the amendment.

They said the ballot was not an accurate barometer of economy sentiment in the Senate because Mr. Truman had appealed for passage of the pay bill.

Church To Build Education Annex

First Presbyterian Church Members Vote Construction

Members of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville in a congregational meeting Sunday night voted unanimously to undertake the construction of a new educational building for the church.

The Rev. Leonard W. Topping, pastor of the church in revealing plans for the construction of the new building said members of the church finance committee have set a goal of $50,000 to be raised in a current drive to supplement the $15,000 which the church has in its building fund at the present time.

When two-thirds of the $65,000 total is on hand, Rev. Topping said, work on the educational building is expected to begin.

At the meeting Sunday evening, the report of the planning committee of the church was presented by Chairman James S. Ficklen and unanimously adopted by members of the congregation.

The recommendation of the planning committee were: "First: That we erect an educational building on the lot adjacent the church, which lot we consider quite adequate for our needs."

"Second: We recommend that this building be so planned that it will take care of the entire Sunday school."

Breaks 'Em All

Los Angeles, Sept. 30—(AP)—Traffic Judge Roger Pfaff took a look at the front row and groaned: "No, not you again!" Addressing the courtroom, he said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this boy (a minor) before me got a car three months ago. Since that time, he has broken every traffic law in the book. Yesterday, on the advice of this court, he sold his car."

He took a look at the charge and announced: "Two dollars fine for jay-walking."

Plan Collections For CROP Drive

Two Carloads Of Pitt Corn Slated For Overseas Aid

Plans for raising two carloads of corn to be sent overseas in connection with the Christian Rural Overseas Program reached completion last night as Pitt County leaders in the project met in the Agricultural Building here.

The week of November 7-13 was set aside as collection dates for the campaign and the various township leaders were given instructions by the chairman as to "the suggested methods of solicitation."

On a motion by Dr. H. G. Haney, it was decided to have each township chairman to sketch his community, divide it into small sections and appoint solicitors for each section.

The solicitation will get underway immediately. Solicitors will visit each home and ask that the persons to make a pledge to give so much corn or something which can be converted into corn for the campaign. The pledges will be recorded on a card.

The corn will be collected the second week in November and brought to Greenville where Frank Brown is making plans to provide a central storage place from where the grain will be picked up by the Friendship Train.

L. N. James, corn mill operator of Bethel, advised the group last night that if the corn was brought to his mill with bags he would shell and bag it at no cost.

In opening last night's meeting, Co-Chairman J. P. Harris pointed out the five points of the program citing that it is a Christian rural community commodity and personal solicitation undertaking. He declared that it should be taken as a great opportunity to help others.

Second Theft Of Tobacco In Pitt

Approximately 400 Pounds Quality Leaf Taken Near Bethel

Pitt County law enforcement officers today are investigating the second theft of a large quantity of tobacco reported in the Bethel section of the county this week.

Deputy Sheriff J. L. Mills said J. L. Brown yesterday reported the theft of approximately 400 pounds of top grade tobacco from the second story of a pack house on his farm about four miles from Bethel.

Mills said the tobacco thief or thieves apparently took the tobacco from the pack house, carried it across a potato patch and loaded it on a vehicle parked on highway 11. The top grade tobacco which was stolen, the officer said, is valued at approximately $70 per hundred.

Earlier this week in a similar robbery approximately 400 pounds of tobacco was taken from the farm of Dr. Paul Jones, about two miles from Bethel. Officers are continuing the investigation of both cases, but have made no arrests.

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—Major Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, hero of the battle of the bulge, was confirmed by the Senate last night as the new chief of the Army's Chemical Corps.

Pick-Up In Production

Economists Predict Production Gains Will Continue Through November Barring Blow Of Major Strikes; Monthly Production Rates; Seasonal Phenomenon

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—Economists predicted today that the pick-up of industrial production which began in August will carry through November—barring a body blow from major strikes.

This forecast came after the Federal Reserve Board announced last night that output of the nation's factories and mines had gained five per cent last month, halting eight straight months of recessionary decline.

Lewis Orders 80,000 Anthracite Miners And 22,000 Soft Coal Diggers West Of Mississippi To Go Back To Work Monday; Action Taken To 'Minimize Loss'

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 30—(AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered Pennsylvania's 80,000 hard coal miners and 22,000 soft coal diggers west of the Mississippi to go back to work Monday.

As far as these men are concerned it ends a walkout started Sept. 19.

The move was announced in a telegram from Lewis to presidents of the affected United Mine Workers' districts.

The telegram said: "The suspension of mining in the western and anthracite areas is not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

It said the action was taken "to minimize loss to all parties."

The telegram was released here by UMW vice-president Thomas Kennedy.

In the absence of Lewis, Kennedy heads the union bargaining team in contract negotiations with northern and western soft coal operators.

The order affects the three UMW anthracite districts in eastern Pennsylvania and seven bituminous districts covering Washington, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri, Wyoming, Utah, and Montana.

Soft coal production in these states is estimated at less than 10 per cent of the national total. The hard coal districts produce some 57,000,000 tons of hard coal each year.

Kennedy said the western production goes largely to domestic markets. Mines west of the Mississippi, he explained, do not compete with the big eastern fields and the action was taken to meet special problems in the west.

Reports of an end to the anthracite strike were heard yesterday but union officials declined comment at the time.

More than 20,000 soft coal miners in the north, east and south still will be idle. Contract negotiations at White Sulphur Springs and at Bluefield, 90 miles away, have been thoroughly bogged down.

Scott Is Warned Coal Supplies Are Running Low

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 30—(AP)—North Carolina coal dealers warned Governor Scott today that they had a 10-day supply of coal on hand in North Carolina.

The governor was presented a letter asking that he urge President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley labor law to end the coal strike.

The governor had no comment immediately on the request.

The letter was drafted following a meeting of officers of the N. C. Retail Coal Merchants Association here yesterday.

The letter said a survey of 35 members of the association "shows that there is not more than 10 days supply of coal on hand in the coal yards in North Carolina."

W. T. Kyzer, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said the boys and their fathers have been invited to the banquet to be held at 6:30 at Respass barbecue place.

The banquet Wednesday night will follow the junior swine show at the fair Wednesday morning, and the $400 in prize money for the swine show will be awarded to the winners at the banquet. Principal speaker at the banquet will be David S. Weaver of Raleigh, assistant director of the North Carolina agriculture extension service. Master of ceremonies will be Sam D. Bundy of Farmville.

9 FFA members. C. J. Goodson, assistant county agent, said approximately 35 entries in the junior purebred swine show are expected this year. A registered Duroc Jersey pig will be presented as one of the awards to the boy who shows the grand champion pig in the junior swine show.

Agriculture Department Plans More Secrecy In Its Forecasts

Washington, Sept. 30 — (AP) — The Agriculture Department has decided to be a little more secretive about its forecasts of market demands for farm products. In 1950 it will drop a decade-long practice of announcing — ahead of the production season — a set of goals for various commodities, together with its basis for determining those goals. It is hoped this will save officials from red faces when their forecasts turn out wrong.

Propose End Jim Crow In Church

San Francisco, Sept. 29 — (AP) — A proposal to abolish so-called "Jim Crow" restrictions within the church was before the 86th general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America today.

A resolution introduced by Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse of New York, a lay member, in the House of Deputies, proposed:

"Every communicant or baptized member of the church shall be entitled to equal rights and status in any parish or mission church thereof."

"He shall not be excluded from the worship or sacraments of the church, nor from parochial membership because of race, color or nationality."

There was no indication when the resolution would be acted upon.

More liberal interpretation of the Episcopal marriage laws was recommended by a special committee of the House of Bishops. No change will be made for at least three years, however.

The committee recommended appointment of a joint commission on holy matrimony. It would consist of three bishops, three presbyters and three laymen. They would study the matter three years and report to the next general convention on possible amendment of existing canons.

A major question has been whether the stated grounds for nullifying a marriage, in the eyes of the church, must have existed before the marriage, or if they are valid when they occur after the marriage. The committee took the position that the grounds are acceptable if they occur after marriage.

BRIEF INTERFERENCE

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 29 — (AP) — There was some unexpected interference as officers moved in to seize a 90-gallon liquor still near here yesterday. A rattlesnake began shaking his 13 rattles.

But he lost his head, literally.

Perfect Weather And Large Football Crowd Is Expected

Perfect football weather and the best high school football crowd of the season is expected tonight when the Greenville high school Phantoms and the Ayden High Tornadoes tangle in East Carolina's stadium at 8 o'clock.

Both teams wound up preparatory drills yesterday with light workouts. The Greenville club was given a final morale boost at a pep rally assembly this morning.

Over in Ayden yesterday Coach Stuart Tripp's boys sharpened their passing offense and defense for what may be one of the most exciting aerial football exhibitions staged by a high school team here this year.

Ayden boasts a running, passing and kicking quarterback who can play ball with the top backfield men in high school football in this section. He is sophomore Leonard Bullock a tall, well built boy who is expected to give the Phantoms considerable trouble tonight.

And the Ayden team, working in light gear, looked fast and somewhat heavier than they were originally thought to be. Ayden will probably match Greenville pound for pound in the line. They will probably be some lighter in the backfield.

Coach Boley Farley's boys, favored to take the contest, will be tangleing with a team determined to score an upset, the contest being viewed in Ayden as THE game of the 1949 season.

Coach Farley disclosed yesterday that his boys did not look up to par for the game. But the Greenville squad, which has looked impressive in both its games this season, is expected to put up a stiff fight to repel the invasion by the Tornadoes.

It will be the first time the two schools have met since Coach Farley came to Greenville. Greenville is a member of the fast Northeastern Conference, while the Ayden boys are competing in the Coastal Athletic loop.

Saturday Foes Primed For Win Against Pirates

Hampden-Sydney, Va., Sept. 30—Hampden-Sydney is prepared to shoot the works at East Carolina Teachers Saturday afternoon in the attempt to make its second football venture more successful than the curtain-raising encounter with Guilford last week. The Quakers downed the Tigers by a one touch-down margin, 19-13.

Now that the loss to Guilford is behind, the Tigers are particularly anxious to provide the first home crowd of the season with something of material value to shout about—a victory, for instance.

Saturday's game, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock at Death Valley will be the first football meeting between Hampden-Sydney and ECTC in the history of the two schools. That is another reason why the game has been labeled a "must" by Tiger Coach Morgan Tiller.

Tiller is not taking a victory for granted, however. He stayed in North Carolina following Hampden-Sydney's game with Guilford last Friday night for the express purpose of scouting the Pirates as they matched plays against Lenoir-Rhyne. Tiller returned to Hampden-Sydney with the general report that ECTC displayed a hard-charging, aggressive ball club and the specific warning to watch out for the passes of Quarterback Roger Thrift, 180-pound Chapel Hill product.

Deacs' Tackle Is Out Of Line-Up

Boston, Sept. 30—(AP)—The Boston College Eagles, de-feathered 46-0 by mighty Oklahoma last week, will attempt to rebound against Wake Forest's well-balanced football forces tonight at Braves Field. Wake Forest, shaded previously by the Southern Methodist, has lost the services of Bill George, an outstanding tackle.

Wolfpack Looks To Snap Losing Streak Saturday

Raleigh, Sept. 30—North Carolina State's Wolfpack will be seeking to snap a four game losing streak which extends back into the 1948 season, Saturday night at 8 p.m. in Riddick Stadium when Coach Beattie Peathers sends his squad against Clemson's Tigers.

State dropped its season opener 36-6 last week to Carolina's Tar Heels. The three other defeats came in the final trio of contests last year at the hands of Virginia, William and Mary and Villanova.

But despite past performances State is being called a six-point favorite over Clemson here Saturday night under the lights. Clemson suffered a 33-7 licking at Moulton, Texas last week and it is perhaps this lopsided loss which makes Clemson the underdog.

However, close observers of both State and Clemson expect a tight battle. The Tigers exhibited plenty of offense despite their licking by Rice and statistics show that Clemson marked up 22 first downs to 30 for the Owls last week. Fumbles and intercepted passes proved costly to Coach Frank Howard's team and the Rice contest is not believed to be a fair medium for judging the 1948 Southern Conference champs.

Whatever happens in the State-Clemson go, everyone believes both teams will be at their best. State came through its defeat at the hands of Carolina in good condition and the Tigers had no sizeable wounds to show for the Rice setback.

A wide-open game has been forecast for both Clemson and State relying considerably on their overhead attacks to whip the other.

Philosophical

Athens, Ga., Sept. 30 —(AP)—Philosophical football note for 1949:

Pasey Rocco, safety man for the University of Georgia's Bulldogs, has a pair of work gloves tucked to his wall here. He explains: "They remind me what I'd have to do if I ever thought football was too tough and quit school."

James Polk was the shortest-lived of all American presidents. He died at 48.

Brooklyn Moves Ahead Of Cards

By RALPH RODEN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers held the upper hand in the National League's pennant scrap today while the American League's scramble remained a dead heat between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn, pre-season favorite to cop the National's bunting, roared into the lead yesterday by mopping up the 1948 Kingpin Boston Braves, 9-2 and 8-0, while the St. Louis Cardinals lost again to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2.

The Dodgers' killing in Boston boosted the Brooks half a game ahead of the Cardinals. Brooklyn has two games left to play with the third place Phils in Philadelphia while the Cards have three to go with the last place Cubs in Chicago.

While the Dodgers ascended to the top of the National League, rain kept the Red Sox and Yanks tied for blue ribbon honors in the American League.

New York's game with the Philadelphia Athletics in the Stadium was rained out as was the encounter between the Red Sox and the last place Senators in Washington.

The two American League contenders are scheduled to play off their washed out games today. If rain intervenes, the games will be cancelled at the Yanks and Red Sox are scheduled to open a two-game series in the Stadium on Saturday.

Durham, N.C., Sept. 30—(AP)—Coach Wallace Wade said today that "a victory over Tennessee will go a long, long way" in helping Duke to a football comeback.

The 57-year-old mentor expressed plenty of confidence in his 1949 edition of the Blue Devils. But he added a note of pessimism about Saturday's game with the Vols at Knoxville.

"Tennessee's awful hard to beat at home," he said. "We've only beaten them there once. They seem to have a jinx on us when we play in Knoxville."

However, jinx or no jinx, the gray-haired veteran foresees a victory over General Bob Neyland's outfit as the team enplaned for Saturday's game.

Midgets Idle This Weekend As Plans Fall Out; New Bern Next

Coach Bill Kittrell's Greenville Midgets, idle this weekend when negotiations for a game with Washington or Kennedy Home fell through, will continue their heavy workouts today in preparation for next Thursday's tilt with New Bern's Bears, already tagged as the team to beat in the midget football world this year.

Four changes are being tried in the local midget lineup in practice this week following weaknesses observed in Greenville's opener in which they scored a 7-0 win over Kingston.

Kittrell said yesterday he is running Billy Johnson at left end and Walter Lee Perkins at left guard to add strength to the forward wall. Pat Sawyer, outstanding backfield man, has been shifted from fullback positions. Bob Howell, the kid who scored Greenville's touchdown in their opener, has been stepped up from second string fullback to the first string position.

The Greenville boys are currently concentrating on blocking and tackling with Assistant Coach Bob Ostrander working with the line.

Commenting on this week's practice sessions the midget mentor declared yesterday that his boys were showing up very well and are looking forward to the game with New Bern. Last year the locals beat Kingston 7-0 in their first game and dropped the last one 13-7.

This season New Bern is rated heavier than last year's squad and Kittrell says the Cubs probably will be better than the 1948 edition. He will have a better idea about the New Bern squad's strength after tomorrow night when New Bern plays Kingston.

The local midget team is rated just as powerful as last year's squad by Coach Kittrell.

In all he has 40 boys working out each day at the West Greenville school. Some new boys have shown up recently, Kittrell says and he invites others who might be interested to come round. The boys are picked up by bus at their respective schools as soon as school is dismissed and are returned to the school's following practice.

Baby puts a button in her mouth and chokes on it. Mother, keeping her wits about her, telephones the doctor. Mother, working from doctor's telephone instructions, removes button lodged in baby's throat. No ill effects to baby, but, as mother gratefully tells doctor, "we had a narrow escape." What do you think mother's telephone was worth to her at that moment? For the answer, ask yourself, "What would it be worth to me?"

Turk's red face registered anger mingled with surprise. "No! Why, the old—!" And he let go with a string of oaths.

"You can't blame him, Ellen. It's an only child, Turk, and a girl at that. So as soon as I can be moved a bit I want you to get a rig and get me out of here."

"Where to?"

"The settlement, of course. It might be handy for me to be around when you tangle with your friend from the Rio."

"By the Almighty, I'll do it," Turk swore. "Just send me word."

"The days flowed by. It was late August now and the weather was burning hot. Jay could leave his bed now and even walk around a bit.

There came a day when he could walk around in the yard and go down to the fence to whistle at the Morgans. Blue Star would come for the sugar and so would many of the spurs rattling, not heeding his wife's protests. Randall burst into the room to see Ellen and Mary with the two men.

"Turk, what are you doing here?" snapped the owner.

"Shucks," drawled the big man, "things are quiet up there, an' seein' as how Joe sent word fer me to come an' git him, I ups an' throws his saddle on a hoss and come down."

"Is that why you came?" Ellen demanded, and Jay saw the quick catch in her eyes, heard it in her voice.

"Why, shore."

"Good," snapped Randall. "You come on downstairs and I'll pay you off."

"Oh, no!" Ellen cried. "Dad, you're making a mistake in taking that attitude. It's not fair. He's still sick."

"He gets off and that's flat. I fired him once and now I'm doing it again, just to make sure. You're fired, Joe!"

"Why, you old bull-headed mossa-back!" Turk roared back at him. "Somebody oughta hit you between the hawsns with a club an' knock some sense in yore head. You better send a couple of riders up to the line camp right away, because after tomorrow me an' Joe ain't a-goin' to be there. Pay me off, too!"

Randall went out and slammed the door shut behind him. Jay, his arm strapped to his side, looked at Ellen.

"I'm sorry it had to end this way," he said, and meant it. He didn't know what Joe was going to do now. It looked as though things were all smashed up.

"So you're leaving, running out?" the gut out, low-voiced.

"Not much else I can do."

"You ought to know Dad by now. He'll cool off by tomorrow, and then I'll take him in hand. Will you reconsider and stay at the camp?"

He shook his head. It was more than pride, after having been denounced and fired. It was Joe. He had to get back to Joe.

He saw the fire in her eyes begin to rise, the misunderstanding of his motives; motives he could not reveal. Her head went up. She started to say something and didn't finish it. Instead, she went toward the door. "I'll go down and collect our pay," Turk said, and he too went out.

It left Jay alone with Mary Seltzer. She looked at him with that level-eyed look.

"Joe, I'm sorry," was all she said. "So am I. But the cards fell that way."

"Where are you going?"

"I don't know," he said, and shrugged his one good shoulder.

"Does it matter?"

"No, I guess it's not too important," she answered in a very low voice. He stepped closer to her.

"Mary, something's happened to Ellen these last weeks. Just what I don't know. She's changed, I don't know why. Maybe because she was siding her old man, though she didn't act like it just now. But I owe you a lot. You've been more than good to me while I've been sick. I'd like to show my appreciation in a very small way. Can I kiss you good-bye?"

"No, no, please don't, Joe!" she cried out, and he saw something akin to sheer terror in her eyes.

But his good arm had slipped around her slim waist and he bent down and pressed his lips gently to hers. Then she had her arms around his neck and was crying softly.

"Why did you do it?" she wept. "You shouldn't have! I fought against it and fought against it. Ellen is my friend. We went to school together. She belongs to you. And now..."

She couldn't finish it, and neither could Jay Allison. He stepped back from her surprised, a little shocked, not knowing what to say.

He said gently, "I'd better be going now."

He went down the stairs and thought, what a mess I've lined up now!

Jaycees Enjoy Talk On Safety

By CHESTER WALSH

"You have two chances on a highway," O. C. Langston, State Highway patrolman of Vanceboro, now a member of the State Highway Safety Division, said in an after-dinner speech at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting at Old Town Inn last night.

"If you are driving, you have two chances: one of being involved in a collision with damage to either one or both vehicles; you have a chance of not being injured or receiving injuries, and if your injuries are fatal, you still have two chances in the hereafter," he said with dramatic emphasis. The speaker did not name the two places. J. B. Kittrell, in charge of the program, presented the speaker. President Louis W. Gaylord presided.

Langston's talk was along common sense lines about safety on highways and streets. Some of the Jaycees agreed that his message should have been recorded and the record distributed to the schools of the state. No speaker at a Jaycee meeting has received more rapt attention than Langston, they agreed. His message may be summed up in a warning that the time has come for safety measures to be taught in the schools.

Sam Weeks inducted Walter Whitehurst of the Carolina Sales Corporation as a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. President Gaylord welcomed R. O. Everett, a former resident here back to the home town. He read a letter of thanks from High School Principal O. E. Dowd for the Jaycees' check for $100 for the high school athletic fund.

An invitation was acknowledged from Arthur L. Norcutt's music class to attend a concert at Epps Negro High School Sunday, October 2, at 5 p.m.

would take his orders from Moscow. This means Tito has inaugurated a new brand of communism for his state. And that, of course, is a turn of events which is of vast importance to the Western nations.

Observers are speculating whether the Yugoslav dictator's example may inspire other discontented satellites to try to follow suit in maintaining their nationalism.

As this column previously has pointed out, there is small similarity between the relatively beneficent communism, which was born generations ago, and the Bolshevik brand which insists on internationalism under Moscow's control.

The cold war between the Russian bloc and the democracies revolves about this difference. International communism just can't mix with any other ism which insists on the retention of national sovereignty.

However, it is still too early to declare that Tito's brand of communism can't live in amity with other national isms.

Farm Family in Miracle Escape

A farm family riding on a horse drawn cart narrowly missed being killed or seriously injured early last night when the cart in which they were riding was rammed in the rear by a car, and derailed.

Ferney Chancey, colored, of near Stokes, and his family were thrown from their cart into a ditch some distance away by the impact of the collision. The mule was hurled in the ditch but was not hurt. Parts of the cart were found all along the highway, Patrolman Paul C. Whiteley reported.

According to reports, a car operated by Leroy Sutton, Route 5, Greenville, was traveling on the Beargrass road when it came upon the cart. Sutton stated that he did not see the light which the cart was carrying, Whiteley said. Damage to the car was estimated to be about $100.

Chancey, the driver of the cart, received a light leg injury when thrown from the cart, it was reported.

Auto Collision Suit In Court Is Compromised

In Superior Court yesterday the suit of L. R. Jones of Pitt County against H. L. Withrow of Craven County, involving a collision of two cars, was compromised and settled.

Jones was suing for $302.96 damage to his car and $100 for loss of use of the vehicle while being repaired.

The court ordered that Withrow pay to Jones the sum of $302.96, payments to be made in 15 installments monthly, the first payment to be made October 29.

The defendant was ordered to pay court costs in installments of $15 monthly after the principal sum has been paid.

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids adjourned court shortly before noon.
