

48-Day Supply Of Coal Still On Tap

With Steel Industry Closed Down, Heavy Drain On Coal Stockpile Eased; Walkout Now Two Weeks Old, But Supplies Higher Than Last Year

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The nation's coal strike is two weeks old today but, ironically, coal stockpiles are higher than at the same strike-time last year.

The Bureau of Mines reports a 48-day supply on hand. That compares with the 46-day supply in 1948.

And the coal may last a lot longer than 48 days. Usually a prolonged coal strike shuts down the fuel hungry steel industry.

Now the steel industry is closed by a strike of its own. That drastically reduces the nation's fuel appetite.

One fifth of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers go back to digging coal Monday. But it's still "no work" for his 400,000 bituminous diggers in northern and southern states.

Lewis yesterday signaled a return to work for 80,000 anthracite (hard coal) miners in eastern Pennsylvania who walked out in sympathy with their fellow UMW members Sept. 19.

Also ordered back to the mines were 22,000 western miners.

"The suspension of mining in the western and anthracite area is not now vital to the pending wage negotiations," Lewis said.

The UMW leader is engaged in marathon contract talks with northern and western bituminous mine operators at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. There is no sign of agreement.

The coal strike has idled 32,000 workers on coal carrying railroads. The first industry layoff was reported by the Heyden Chemical Corporation at Morgantown, W. Va. They said they would curtail operations at their ordnance works 25 per cent, effective Monday, to conserve coal.

Company officials said about 50 of its 1,000 employees would be laid off by the curtailment.

Meanwhile, the Virginia Emergency Fuel Commission made plans to procure a 35,000 ton coal reserve for use in event the present coal walkout continues.

The hard coal miners greeted with broad grins the word that they were going back to work. Their pension and welfare fund is separate from the bituminous welfare fund. It was suspension of benefits from the latter fund that brought on the present walkout.

"The news of going back to work" sounds fine, declared Mart Brennan, president of UMW District Seven at Hazleton, Pa. "You can bet all the men will obey John L. Lewis' order."

Michael J. Kosik, president of District One, hailed the back to work dictum as "good news to the men."

A spokesman for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company said operations will resume at 7 a. m. (EST) Monday.

The anthracite miners, who had been working three days a week, are expected to work five days for a while to build up depleted supplies.

Hard coal is used principally for heating homes.

Czechs Hint At Traitors' Trial

Prague, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A foreign ministry official hinted today that a new "Laszlo Rajk trial" may be in the air in Czechoslovakia.

Dr. Antonin J. Lehman, deputy press chief of the foreign ministry, declared in an article in the Prague press that "the same type of traitors" as those convicted in the Rajk trial in Budapest might be caught here.

A Doubtful Victory

Socialist Government Of Britain Wins Confidence Vote Of Parliament Though Disaffection Continues; The Gamble On A General Election; The Timing

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Britain's Socialist government has won a technical victory of doubtful value in its battle in the House of Commons to justify the recent devaluation of the pound sterling as a solution of the country's economic crisis.

Actually the three-day, full-dress debate degenerated into political tub-thumping by both Socialists and Conservatives in preparation for the next general election.

When the duel of words was over, Prime Minister Attlee, with his big socialist majority behind him, first defeated a Conservative motion of no confidence in the government.

He then proceeded to drive through a vote of confidence, in which the Conservatives, headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, sat silent. That the vote was on party lines.

So about all that this eagerly awaited debate achieved was to demonstrate again Attlee's ability to hold his following in Parliament fairly well in line, although there was some disaffection. What the general public really wanted was an indication of government plans for handling the crisis, and of how the Conservatives themselves would

Homecoming Day Plans Completed For October 8

Annual Celebration Closely Follows Fortieth Anniversary Of ETC

Final plans for Homecoming Day for alumni of East Carolina Teachers College, Saturday, Oct. 8, have been announced by Mrs. Ruth Garner, alumni secretary, and Ruth White, assistant dean of women, co-chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

A large group of alumni from many sections of the state is expected to be present.

On annual celebration, Homecoming Day this year will follow closely upon the fortieth anniversary of the opening of the college to students on Oct. 5, 1909. Exercises of the day will have an added significance when events of the early history of the college are recalled during the programs scheduled for the celebration.

Chief events announced by the Homecoming Day committee include a meeting of the Alumni Council, a luncheon, a football game between East Carolina and Elon, an outdoor production of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" by the Teachers Playhouse, college dramatic club, an "open house" reception by President and Mrs. John D. Messick, and a dance sponsored by the Junior class.

The campus will be gaily decorated for the occasion. Student organizations are cooperating in planning a colorful display. Virgil Clark, Greenville senior, is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Dubose Bullard of Wilson, president of the East Carolina Alumni Association, will preside at a meeting of the Alumni Council at 10:30 in the Austin auditorium. Officers of the association and chapter presidents throughout the state will hold a business meeting and a planning session for the year's work.

President John D. Messick of East Carolina will welcome returning alumni at a luncheon in the North Hall at 12:30 o'clock. W. R. Marshall, dean of men, will preside. A program of music will be given by Gladys Reichard and Robert Carter, faculty members of the department of music.

Shirley Cowburn of Lumberton and Claude B. West, Jr. of Greenville will head the cast of a 40-minute version of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" to be presented at 7:00 o'clock in the evening in an outdoor setting on the campus.

President and Mrs. Messick have extended an invitation to an "open house" in the evening to alumni, students, staff members, and friends of the college in Greenville. They will entertain in their new home on East Fifth street, into which they moved during the past summer.

Later in the evening the Junior Class will sponsor a dance in the Wright building.

Find Child Safe After Long Hunt

Honesdale, Pa., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Two-year-old Betty Quinman was found today alive and well in thick woods, nearly a mile from her home. She had been missing for 24 hours.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Quinman, disappeared yesterday afternoon from the farm of Emery Marks, near Galilee, close to the New York border about 25 miles northeast of here. Her parents are employed at the farm.

Mor than 150 men, led by state police, searched the woods throughout the night for the child.

Germans Crash Border Line Of Western Zones

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 1.—(AP)—An unexpected invasion of western Germany by Germans from the Russian zone began in the British zone this morning, border police reported.

More than 2,000 persons without proper papers or authority crashed through police lines at Herrenburg near Luebeck, police said.

Thousands of others were expected to force their way into the American and British zones today and tomorrow, as a result of Russian relaxation of border restrictions.

The Russians were reported planning to open several border points in a "World peace day" celebration.

In a similar move on Sept. 2-3, an estimated 42,000 East zone Germans swarmed through police lines into western Germany to buy out stores in border towns.

New Appeal By American Ship

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—(AP)—One of three American ships held at the mouth of the Yangtze River by a Chinese Nationalist destroyer today made a new appeal for United States assistance.

Capt. Henry Scurr of the Independent Line's Flying Independent said the Chinese warship had refused his request to move to safer waters in the face of worsening weather.

Results Of Pitt X-Ray Survey Is Told Association

County Health Officer Reports 28,616 X-Rays Taken; 23 TB Cases Found

By CHESTER WALSH

Dr. T. G. Basnight, Pitt County health officer, at a recent meeting of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association, made an interesting report on the recent mass X-ray survey in the county.

President J. H. Waldrop, vice-president and cashier of the Guaranty Bank & Trust Co., presided.

The report showed that 28,616 X-ray pictures were made, an exceptionally good response by the people of the county. Children under 16 were not included in the survey.

The association unanimously reelected Waldrop as president and all of the directors.

The health officer's report of the mass X-ray survey was broken down into numerous categories. Twenty-three cases of tuberculosis were revealed in the survey. Five hundred and thirty-six of those tested were X-rayed a second time. These were classified into 15 different categories.

Frank W. Webster, executive secretary of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association, and Miss Sara Peatross, field director, were present and made timely remarks.

Mrs. D. L. Moore submitted the treasurer's report, which showed that in round numbers $3,000 had been spent on the mass X-ray program; $2,700 was spent for a new X-ray machine to be given to the county health department, and $4,000 of the annual Seal Sale, was spent for expenses, X-rays and state appointment.

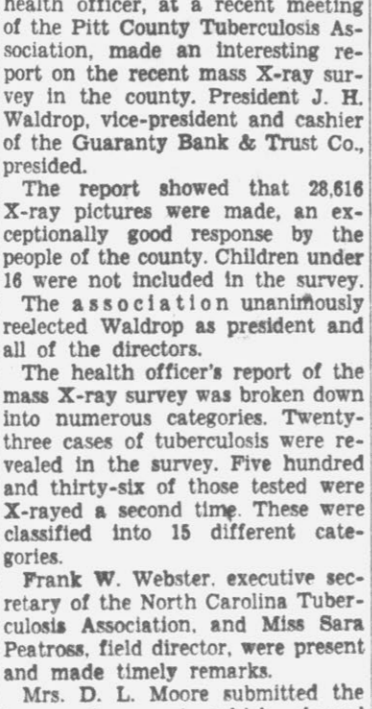

Mrs. J. Bryan Brown was chosen county chairman of the Seal Sale this year and Mrs. R. H. Evans was

Boy's Parents Still Hoping For Miracle

Boy's Parents Still Hoping For Miracle

By EUGENE PRICE

Little Thomas Alfred Worthington Jr., a tow-headed seven-year-old with blue eyes, listened while his mother read to him from his little Bible last night, then said his prayers and hopped into bed.

Doubtlessly he re-lived some of his day's activities as he drifted into dreamland and perhaps the thought of tomorrow when he would again be able to ride his undersized bicycle around the yard and maybe even go to school again.

In those respects Thomas Alfred is no different from any other seven-year-old farm boy. In another sense he is very different.

Medical authorities say the Winterville, Route 1, lad is hopelessly in the clutches of incurable leukemia.

His case has been diagnosed locally at Duke Hospital in Durham, and at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md. Each gave the same report. Leukemia, no cure.

For the past seven months the boy's life has been one doctor's office after another. It started with measles and virus pneumonia back in the windy month of March of this year.

He seemingly never fully recovered from his illness. Hoping they had found his trouble, medical authorities had the boy's tonsils removed in May.

They learned shortly afterwards that Alfred's illness was of a more serious nature. In July he was sent to Duke Hospital where it was verified that he was a victim of leukemia.

The diagnosis was likewise verified at Johns Hopkins.

To others leukemia means a disease characterized by an excess of white corpuscles. To Alfred it has meant constantly undergoing blood transfusions, days of weakness, and a loss of many of the joys experienced by other boys of the neighborhood. It meant his having to give up school, although not entirely.

To his parents it has meant a desperate and expensive search for someone who might help the boy. A hopeless search so far.

Alfred doesn't realize the fatal seriousness of his ailment. He knows only that he is not well and that every week he has to come to Greenville for a blood test and an occasional transfusion. His parents feel it best that he be perfectly normal.

Many days he feels perfectly normal. He played boyish pranks on his small sister this past week as a reporter talked with his parents as they graded tobacco. He smiled when the photographer kidded him about taking his picture.

In recent weeks the boy has gained

Pitt Countian Held In Raleigh Is Wanted Here

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A 16-year-old Greenville youth, Eugene Lloyd, has been arrested here on charges of larceny of an automobile, breaking and entering, and attempted larceny.

Wake County sheriff's deputies H. C. Benton and G. C. Massey reported yesterday that Lloyd confessed to the three charges shortly after his arrest Thursday.

Pitt County Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson said today that Lloyd is wanted here for the alleged breaking, entering and larceny at the Belvoir high school some weeks ago and the larceny of $63.

Tyson also said that Lloyd is wanted by Lenoir county authorities on the charge of larceny of a state truck.

Russian Effort At Overthrow Charged By Tito

Yugoslav Dictator Says Spies Tried Infiltration Into Army, Govm't

London, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito accused Russia today of trying to infiltrate spies into the Yugoslav army and government in an effort to overthrow him.

The Yugoslav leader, replying to Thursday's Soviet note scrapping the Russian-Yugoslav friendship treaty, charged that the Soviet government, "with diplomatic notes full of insults and threats," followed by demonstrative troop movements in countries bordering Yugoslavia, sought to intimidate the Yugoslav people.

Hungary and Poland yesterday followed Russia's lead in denouncing their mutual aid treaties with Yugoslavia. Other Soviet satellites in the Cominform are expected to take the same step soon.

Tito's new note—its wording mixed with pain and anger toward Moscow—was reported here by Tanjug, the official Yugoslav news agency.

"It is well known that Soviet representatives tried to organize their agents within the Yugoslav government and Yugoslav army with a view of overthrowing the legal Yugoslav government," the note said.

Russia's aim, it went on, was to exert pressure on the Yugoslav people "in order to realize its undemocratic and anti-social ambitions."

Russia and the Tito regime have been quarreling since the Soviet-backed Cominform tossed Yugoslavia out of its membership in June, 1948.

Their bickering reached a climax with Russian denunciation of the 20-year assistance pact which was signed during the war, in 1945. Russia backed its action with an accusation that Tito's government was hostile toward Russia and was a tool of imperialism.

Yugoslavia's answer called it an attempt at "blackmail."

The reference to blackmail was not clear but Russia has been doing what it can to arouse old line Communists in the country to act against Tito.

Previous rumors of Soviet troop movements along Yugoslav borders have been interpreted in this light. Military action there might be expected to scare some Yugoslavs into hewing to the Soviet line.

Alleged Rapist Bound Over To Superior Court

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts found probable cause in the case in which John H. Jones, 31-year-old Negro laborer, is charged with raping Addie Ruth Jones, his six-year-old daughter, last Wednesday night.

The girl testified that her father carried her to a lonely spot near a railroad and abused her. Police had quoted her as saying that her father threatened to kill her if she told on him.

Dr. J. A. Battle, Negro physician testified that the girl was badly abused.

Police testified that Jones has a long police record. He will be tried in Superior Court.

Pay Boost Bills To Committee

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Two bills boosting the pay of nearly 1,400,000 government workers went to a Senate-House conference committee today following their approval in the Senate.

The bills authorizing pay hikes totaling $71,000,000 a year for about 885,000 civil service employees and about 500,000 postal workers—were passed by the late Senate yesterday by voice vote.

Explosions Hit Big Steel Plant

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Twisted wreckage from a series of spectacular explosions which killed eight persons awaited cleaning-up operations today at the big Fairfield Steel Works of Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co.

The blasts yesterday sent huge clouds of acrid smoke over a large area and shot flames and smoke skyward more than 300 feet.

Frost Last Night

The Greenville area experienced the first frost of the fall season last night. It was light, Mrs. C. E. Maiden, local observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, reported.

The first killing frost last year was the night of October 19.

Highest temperature here yesterday was 71 degrees. Lowest last night was 44, and at 5 a. m. today it was 55 degrees.

Help Refugees

Cobb, Ireland, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The kindly folk of this seaport city opened their gates today to 466 refugees making a desperate flight from communism in an old British landing craft.

The boat is the 530-ton Victory, built to carry 50 persons under wartime conditions.

It reached here yesterday after a hazardous four-day crossing of the North Sea from Helsingborg, Sweden. Authorities there had refused to give it a license of seaworthiness.

The vessel's goal is Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Among those aboard are 80 children.

One of the passengers told newsmen the refugees are of 11 nationalities, but that the bulk are Latvians, Estonians, Poles and Hungarians.

He said one thing they have in common is a burning desire "to get as far as possible from Russia."

Budget Deficit Continues Grow

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The federal government spent about $1,400,000,000 more than it took in during the first three months of the 1950 fiscal year, and no relief from red ink financing appears in sight.

The most hopeful guess from an administration expert puts the budget deficit for the 12 months ending next June 30 at $2,000,000,000. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) predicts it may run as high as $7,000,000,000.

While a lot depends on what Congress does with some $14,000,000,000 in appropriations bills still awaiting final action, officials said yesterday that government spending probably will top even the pessimistic record of $41,858,000,000 proposed by President Truman.

And while spending climbs, the government's revenues appear likely to fall below the $40,935,000,000 forecast in January. So far, spending is running 22 per cent above last year, and revenues have increased only two per cent.

These are the official Treasury figures for the first quarter of the fiscal year, through Sept. 30; the government's income: $9,015,000,000. It's pending: $10,419,000,000. The deficit: $1,404,000,000.

Reds Celebrate Birth Of Govm't

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A ten day program celebrating the birth of the communist "Peoples Republic of China" started in Shanghai today.

The first three days were proclaimed a vacation. The celebration will continue through October 10—the old "double ten" Chinese holiday marking the revolution of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen which overthrew the Manchus in 1911.

B-17 Wreckage Seen From Air

Denver, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Lowry Air Base reported today the wreckage of a B-17 plane was sighted on the ground 10 miles south of Trinidad near the Colorado - New Mexico boundary.

Only the tail section was reported intact. Identity of the craft and the fate of its crew were not immediately known.

Pensions For Workers

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The problem of pensions for workers now has moved into the front row of labor unions' thinking. You can be sure it will stay there.

John L. Lewis gave the problem a big push through the pension plan he got for coal miners from the mine owners over the past three years. It called for a pension of $100 a month.

This became a goal for other labor leaders who, if they wanted to retain leadership, could hardly seek less for their people than Lewis won for his.

Now Walter Reuther, head of the CIO Auto Workers, has obtained a $100-a-month pension for his members from the Ford Motor Company. The CIO steelworkers are trying to get the same from the steel firms.

So the Lewis and Reuther pension plans have set a goal and a challenge for other labor leaders. Therefore, it's logical to expect a continued drive for pensions in the years ahead.

Then, once the pension door is wide open, will come the drive for better pensions. This will explain why.

Under the Reuther plan Ford will not hand out a $100 monthly pension to his retired workers. He'll give them only the difference between $100 and what ever social security pension they get from the government.

The average social security pension being paid a retired worker in this country today is around $26 a month. The maximum anyone can get is $44.80. A retired worker's wife, when she reaches 65, gets a pension of her own, half as much as her husband's.

(So the wife of a man who got the maximum of $44.80, would get $22.40, giving the couple a combined pension of $67.20. But Ford pays a pension to a retired worker only, not his wife.)

Since the maximum social security payment is $44.80, the least Ford has to pay a retiring worker is $55.20 to bring his total pension to $100.

But Congress may pass a law—probably not before next year—increasing social security pensions as much as 70 per cent.

Supposing that happens and a retiring Ford worker—who under the present law got the maximum

Babson Discusses "Brain Foods"

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 30.—I am not a dietitian and am not justified to discuss what the average reader should eat or not eat. This is something about which you should consult your physician, who—moreover—should advise you only after a careful examination.

Importance Of Health

In connection with my colleges, Babson Institute at Babson Park, Massachusetts, Webber College at Babson Park, Florida, and Utopia College at the "Center of the U. S." in Eureka, Kansas, we have given much thought to "brain food." Of course, your sons and daughters are best fed on glucose and that oxygen derived lactic acid "burn" to make that inner fire which is the soul. Naturally, iron and traces of other minerals function as catalysts in feeding the oxygen from air through the blood to the brain cells. The great dependence of the brain upon oxygen is shown by the fact that, upon the failure of a sufficient supply of oxygen, our brains are the first to lose consciousness, causing temporarily to function.

Suggestions To Colleges

This column is not written to give any reader medical advice. My appear to grow best on phosphorus, glucose and oxygen. These products are most easily assimilated from salt-water fish, eggs, vegetables and fruits. We especially should avoid unnatural and adulterated products and insist upon a good diet of proteins, mineral salts and vitamins.

Those of us who are dependent upon our brains should—I am told—also cut down on sugars, starches and fats.

Doctor Louis Berman, author of the most interesting book, Food and Character, published by Houghton Mifflin Company, says that our brains feed upon lactic acid derived from glucose and that oxygen derived lactic acid "burn" to make that inner fire which is the soul. Naturally, iron and traces of other minerals function as catalysts in feeding the oxygen from air through the blood to the brain cells. The great dependence of the brain upon oxygen is shown by the fact that, upon the failure of a sufficient supply of oxygen, our brains are the first to lose consciousness, causing temporarily to function.

Ann Kirschner Becomes Bride of Louis DuPree
Hazelton, Pa.—Miss Ann Kirschner, the daughter of Atty. and Mrs. Carl Kirschner of 66 North Laurel Street, was wed to Louis DuPree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey L. DuPree, of Greenville, N. C., on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Trinity Lutheran Church of this city. Rev. H. Clay Brestresser, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a high neckline and long sleeves, lace from her mother's wedding gown trimming the sleeves and collar, and her small cap, with which she wore a short veil. The fitted basque had a front button trim, and she carried white orchids and stephanotis, with stephanotis clipped to her cap.

Miss Jane Kirschner was maid of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Miss Emille DuPree, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Sally Delsroth and Miss Betty Pardee. They wore gowns of russet; with fitted bodices, marquise yokes and short sleeves, with wreaths of ivy in their hair. Their bouquets were of brodiae roses.

Misses Karen and Susan Klotz, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids, and wore gowns in an apricot shade to match the other attendants. They wore wreaths of ivy in their hair, and carried roses of a deeper color with ivy.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of blonde satin with black accessories and a corsage of green orchids; and the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of Damascus steel blue with a corsage of orchids.

Joseph Eaton of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was best man, and the ushers were Frank Belmont of Harrison, N. J.; Howard Stoudt of Philadelphia; Richard C. Wilson, Jr., of Greenville, N. C.; Wilmet Carlisle Jones, Jr., of Jeddo; James Swabb and George Allen of this city.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Hotel Altamont. The couple will reside at Cambridge, Mass.

The bride was graduated from the Baldwin School at Bryn Mawr, and is a member of the junior class at Radcliffe College. Mr. DuPree, who will be graduated from Harvard University in February, has just returned from Afghanistan, where he was with the first Afghanistan Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. A major in archaeology, he was with the 1948 expedition of the Peabody Museum to France. He attended the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy in 1943 and 1944, with fifteen months sea duty; and served with the U. S. Army paratroops in the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan as a first lieutenant from 1944 to 1946.

Parties in Bethel Honor Miss Gurganus
Saturday night Miss Sallie Joe Gurganus and Mr. James Claude Williamson were complimented when Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McWhorter entertained them at a dinner. A delicious three course dinner was served. The honor guests were presented crystal in their pattern. Those present for the enjoyable occasion were: Miss Gurganus, Mr. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Howard Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Blount Jr. and Miss Lecky McWhorter.

Mrs. Robert Weeks entertained Miss Gurganus at an informal dinner Wednesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. B. Stator. Mrs. Weeks presented crystal to the honor guest.

On Tuesday at 1 o'clock Mrs. F. L. Andrews Jr. and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Winesette of Plymouth, entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Andrews in compliment to Mrs. Gurganus.

Tables were prearranged to seat sixteen guests at a delicious three course luncheon served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Benton and Mrs. Eugene Carson. Miss Gurganus received a corsage and gifts and china and silver in her selected patterns. Those present for the luncheon were: Miss Gurganus, Mrs. J. L. Gurganus Sr., Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. Linwood Gurganus, Mrs. R. H. Stator, Mrs. J. A. Stator, Mrs. W. M. Howard Jr., Mrs. J. V. Taylor Jr., Mrs. Z. V. Bunting, Mrs. J. B. Bunting, Mrs. Tom Andrews Jr., Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. D. T. House Jr., Mrs. Louis Ayres, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Donald Jenkins.

Mrs. Hart Entertains At Bridge

Griffon.—Mrs. Claud Hart was hostess on Tuesday night at her home here to members of her contract club and invited players for four tables of bridge. Colorful arrangements of marigolds and other fall flowers were used as decorations in the rooms in which the guests were received. During the progressions Mrs. Hart served Coca-Colas and salted nuts and as cards were laid aside a salad plate was passed.

Highest score award went to Mrs. Thomas Gower and second high to Mrs. Manley Lee. The visitors' prize went to Mrs. Milton Hart. Miss Fieda Hooten, bride-elect of October 29, was remembered with a gift by the hostess.

Players included Mrs. Gower, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Hart, Miss Hooten, Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Mrs. Robert McCotter, Mrs. Jake Worthington, Mrs. Bryan Davis, Mrs. John Coward, Mrs. Paul Bradley, Mrs. Wilbur Murphy, Mrs. Albert Tyson, Mrs. Walter Murphy, Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mrs. Carey Garris and Miss Doris Smith.

Mrs. Mewborn Gives Supper Party

Griffon.—Mrs. Robert Mewborn had as guests for supper and bridge on Thursday night members of her contract club and invited players for five tables. The home for the occasion was ensuite and decorated with bowls of dahlias and other fall flowers. As the guests arrived they found their places at the tables where a delectable supper plate was served after which cards were enjoyed. During the games Mrs. Alton Chapman compiled the highest score and Mrs. Eleanor Gower the second high for club members and Mrs. Thomas Gower high among the visitors. Making up the tables other than the above were Mrs. Raye Mewborn of Newport News, Va., a guest of Miss Louise Mewborn, Miss Hazel Patrick, Mrs. L. D. McCotter, Mrs. H. P. Quinerly, Mrs. Thurman Williams, Mrs. Jack Chapman, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Mrs. Jack Tucker, Mrs. J. L. Quinerly, Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, Mrs. M. B. Hodges, Mrs. W. I. Bissette and Mrs. L. L. Mewborn.

East Carolina Teachers College Is Soon 40 Years Old

Many Changes Seen Since Oct. 5, 1909 But Chief Purpose Remains Steadfast

By MARY H. GREENE
East Carolina Teachers College will be forty years old next Wednesday, October 5, 1909, the school then called the East Carolina Teachers Training School, first opened its doors to students. The four decades of its history have been marked by a record of service to the state, especially to North Carolina, especially in the eastern any institution might be proud.

Training School opened, the plant was adequate, though small in comparison with present facilities. Six buildings were ready for the first students—a girls' dormitory, a boys' dormitory, an administration building, a dining room or "refectory," an infirmary, and a power house and laundry.

The present plant of 22 buildings is no longer adequate for the work of the college. A building and permanent improvements program now under way, will effect great changes in the future. Nearing completion in January is Slay Hall men's dormitory. A handsome home for the college president was recently purchased and redecorated. Under construction now are an auditorium, cafeteria, and gymnasium for the campus Training School. Architect's drawings are in preparation for a new library, gymnasium, home management house, and dormitory for teachers. Plans are also in progress for remodeling several present structures and converting them to new uses.

If life begins at forty, as optimists say, the friends of the college have a right to a cheerful outlook. Prospects for East Carolina are encouraging. An expanding program of services to the people of North Carolina, especially in the eastern counties, enlargement of the curriculum, growth in the size of the student body and of the staff, improvement in equipment, and enlargement of the physical plant are among many evidences that East Carolina continues to grow and to be of increasing usefulness.

Basic Purpose to Train Teachers
True, there have been many changes since October 5, 1909. But the chief purpose of the college has remained unchanged through the years. Stated in 1907, this purpose was "to give young men and women such an education and training as shall fit and qualify them for teaching in the public schools of North Carolina. In response to the evident needs of people in the state, East Carolina now offers a varied program; but, "Our philosophy," said President John D. Messick recently, "is still based on the training of teachers."

Faculty, Alumni
As East Carolina Teachers College enters its fifth decade, a heightened spirit of enthusiasm and of loyalty to the college is evident. Students, staff members, alumni and others feel it; and expressions of pride in the college, its achievements, and its program for the future are frequent.

Led by a group of prominent citizens of this section, including Greenville's leading citizen, ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, Senator James L. Fleming, and W. H. Ragsdale, then superintendent of schools in Pitt County, the cause of establishing in the eastern part of the state a school for training teachers became a reality on March 8, 1907, by act of the General Assembly. The location of the new school was decided upon afterward through a bond issue of $100,000 adequate financial support was assured by citizens of Greenville and Pitt County, and Greenville was chosen as the site.

A stadium and an athletic field made possible largely by citizens of Greenville, were dedicated this fall and are great assets to the athletic program at East Carolina.
For a number of years after the establishment of the school, the campus was none too attractive except for the beautiful groves at the rear. Landscaping and beautification projects in recent years have resulted in a campus of which any school might be proud. Especially attractive are the flowering shrubs and trees and the plantings of camellias which make the spring season colorful at East Carolina.

Much of this optimism is due to the progress made since 1947, when Dr. John D. Messick became president. He has won the respect of his staff by his energy, initiative and ambition to make the college a center of the best type of service. He has established an increasingly cordial relationship between town and gown. He is trusted and admired by students.

Ground was broken for the first building on July 2, 1906, by Governor Jarvis at the northeastern corner of the building which now bears his name. The spade used is a treasured possession of the college. Recently it came into use again when on November 15, 1948, ground was broken for Slay Hall, East Carolina's new dormitory for men, which is still under construction.

Other Services
In the early days, the East Carolina Teachers Training School offered only one- and two-year courses. Nine subjects were taught the first year. The first degrees were conferred in 1922. At present six departments of instruction offer courses at East Carolina. In addition, an Air ROTC unit provides training in military science and tactics.

Acts As Consultant Of National Council
Edward J. Rutan, faculty member of the department of English at East Carolina Teachers College and supervisor of student teaching for the department, is serving at present as consultant to the Commission on the English Curriculum of the National Council of English Teachers. This commission is making a study on a nationwide scale of the teaching of English from the kindergarten through the college.

Robert H. Wright, President for 25 Years
Robert H. Wright, a young North Carolina educator then making a name for himself in Baltimore, was chosen as president. From 1909 until his death in 1934, Dr. Wright labored unceasingly to make the school meet the needs of the people of the state and to improve education in North Carolina through the training of better teachers.

The college offers three degrees—the bachelor of science for those who expect to teach, the bachelor of arts, and the master of arts in the fields of school administration and elementary education, and of secondary education with a minor in business education, English, library science, mathematics, science, or social studies.

Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College since 1947, whose administration has been marked by an expanded program of educational service, an increase in physical facilities on the campus, a growing student body, and a new spirit of optimism and enthusiasm.

Contrary to general opinion, the school has always been co-educational. Twenty men were students during the first year, and a dormitory was provided for them. But it soon became evident that the number of men students would not increase rapidly, and all available dormitory space was assigned to women students. Men dropped out gradually, until during World War I there were none attending the college.

Among other recent additions in the growing educational program are a Testing Bureau, a guidance and counseling program for students, an expanded series of workshops, conferences clinics, and institutions; and a communications center with radio facilities.

Two departments of instruction art and industrial arts, offer a major to fifth place on the morning of May 10 after a double loss to the New Bern Bears. They held on to fifth place until the morning of May 21 when they dropped back to sixth place. May 31 found them in fifth place, which position they held until June 15 when they moved into fourth place spot. On June 25 they moved into third spot once again, but on the morning of the 28th were back in fourth place. Again on July 12 they dropped back into fifth place to stay here until July 23 when they moved into fourth place, which position they held until August 29 when they slipped into fifth place, one-half game behind the fourth place Goldsboro Goldbugs. However the end of the season found them in full possession of fourth place, two full games ahead of Goldsboro and Tarboro who were tied for fifth place. The Greensies ended the regular season with a record of 71 wins and 67 losses for a .515 percentage.

Slow Start, Fast Finish Greenies Always Had Rough Road

By BERT MOYE
The Greenville Greensies finished one of the best seasons here in the past fifteen years on last Friday night as they defeated the Kinston Eagles, 5 to 2, to win the post-season title, after having defeated the pennant-winning Rocky Mount Leads in the semi-finals four out of six games.

to fifth place on the morning of May 10 after a double loss to the New Bern Bears. They held on to fifth place until the morning of May 21 when they dropped back to sixth place. May 31 found them in fifth place, which position they held until June 15 when they moved into fourth place spot. On June 25 they moved into third spot once again, but on the morning of the 28th were back in fourth place. Again on July 12 they dropped back into fifth place to stay here until July 23 when they moved into fourth place, which position they held until August 29 when they slipped into fifth place, one-half game behind the fourth place Goldsboro Goldbugs. However the end of the season found them in full possession of fourth place, two full games ahead of Goldsboro and Tarboro who were tied for fifth place. The Greensies ended the regular season with a record of 71 wins and 67 losses for a .515 percentage.

when they dropped ten straight games pitched, Junior Yohn, 48; most innings pitched, Junior Yohn, 199; most games lost, Art Mascarella, 16; most base on balls, Bobby Harrison, 97; most strikeouts, Junior Yohn, 144.

The Greensies ended the season with the team batting at a .259 clip to take second place honors. They were second in total hits with 1,215; second in total bases with 1,636; fourth in two-baggers with 201; fourth in total number of triples with 30; second in total number of home runs with 60; third in total number of sacrifice hits with 100; led the other clubs in the stolen base department with a total of 252 for the season; and were seventh in total number of strikeouts with 534.

In the semi-finals with the Leafs the Greensies dropped the first two games by the scores of 3-4, and 2-4; but came back to take four straight from the Leafs and earn the right to play the Kinston Eagles, winner over the New Bern Bears in the post-season title. In the final series the Eagles took the first game 11 to 4. However, the Greensies came back and took the next three contests, 1-0, 9-5, and 4-0. The Eagles won the fifth contest from the Greensies, 9-0, but the Greensies came back to win the fourth game by a 5 to 2 margin to end the 1949 season.

From the averages received from the Howe News Bureau we find the following Greensies leaders in the various departments:
Highest batting average, Manager Pappy Williams, .335 for second place honors in the league this season; most home runs, Manager Pappy Williams, 15; most runs batted in, Manager Pappy Williams, 122; to lead the league for this season; most runs scored, John Tepedino, 132; to lead the league for the current season; most two-base hits, Manager Pappy Williams, 31; most three-base hits, John Tepedino, 12; to lead the league this season; most total bases, Manager Pappy Williams, 242; most stolen bases, Willie Mauney, 49; most times at bat, Willie Mauney, 535.

In the Greensies pitching department are found the following: Best won and lost percentage, Vernon Mustian (7-4), Yohn (13-8); most

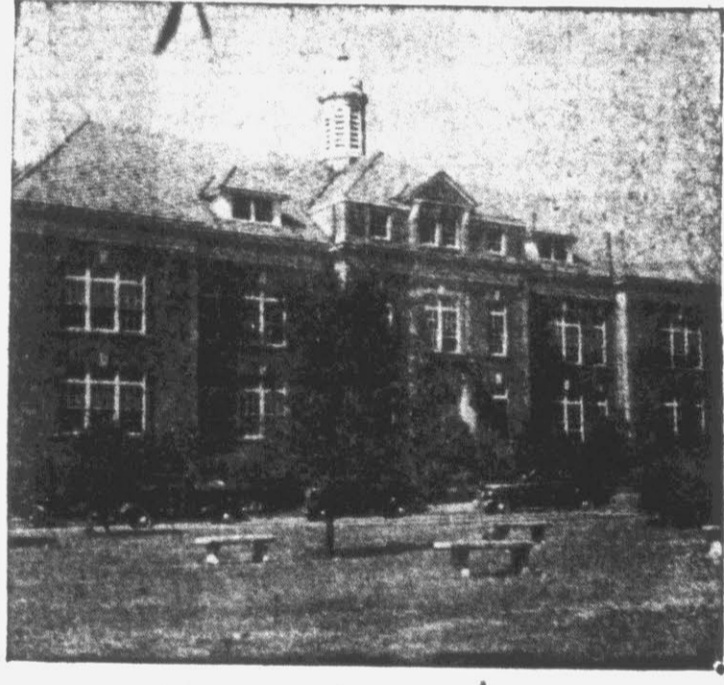

Of the more than 30-odd players who started spring workouts with the club, six of them remained with the Greensies throughout the entire season. They were Manager Pappy Williams, Willie Mauney, Paul Strausser, Jim Lewey, Bobby Harrison and Junior Yohn. John Tepedino joined the club almost at the start of the season and incidentally was the only Greenville player to hit above the 300 mark during the entire season. He ended the season with a .319 mark to take third place honors among the league hitters for the season, played in more games than any other Greenville player, 138 and led the league in triples with 12.

Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College since 1947, whose administration has been marked by an expanded program of educational service, an increase in physical facilities on the campus, a growing student body, and a new spirit of optimism and enthusiasm.

The Austin building on the East Carolina campus was one of the structures ready for the first students when they arrived on October 5, 1909. Then used as an administration building, Austin has since been enlarged and is now a classroom building. It was named for the late Herbert E. Austin, science teacher on the first faculty and later an administrative officer of the college.

Nearing completion is a large men's dormitory which is the first of several buildings to be constructed under the expansion program for the college's physical plant. College officials hope the building will be ready for occupancy by January 1.

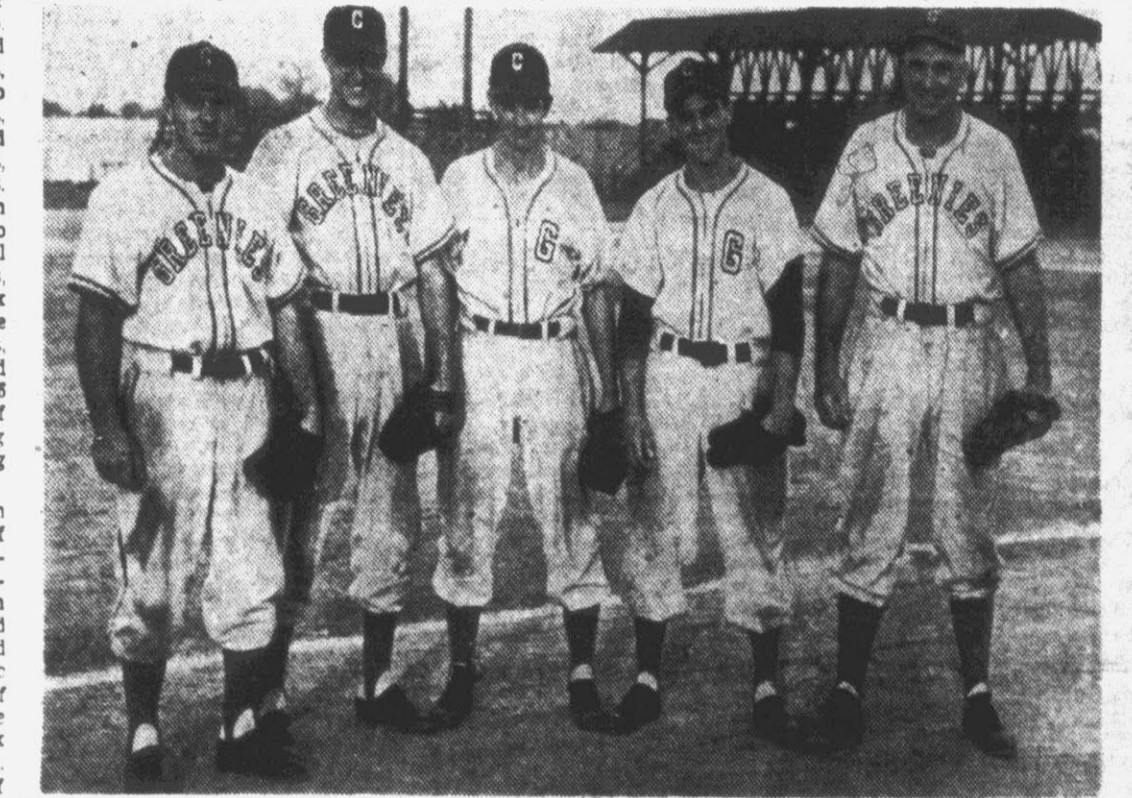

The library building on the East Carolina campus overlooks the well-groomed shrubs and graceful willow trees of the campus circle. With the area expansion of the student body in the past few years, a new library has been placed high on the list of new projects by the college officials.

The Greensies' longest winning streak during the season was during July 30 and August 8 when they won ten straight games in a row. During this winning streak they defeated Tarboro three games, Goldsboro twice, Wilson twice, Rocky Mount once and Roanoke Rapids twice.

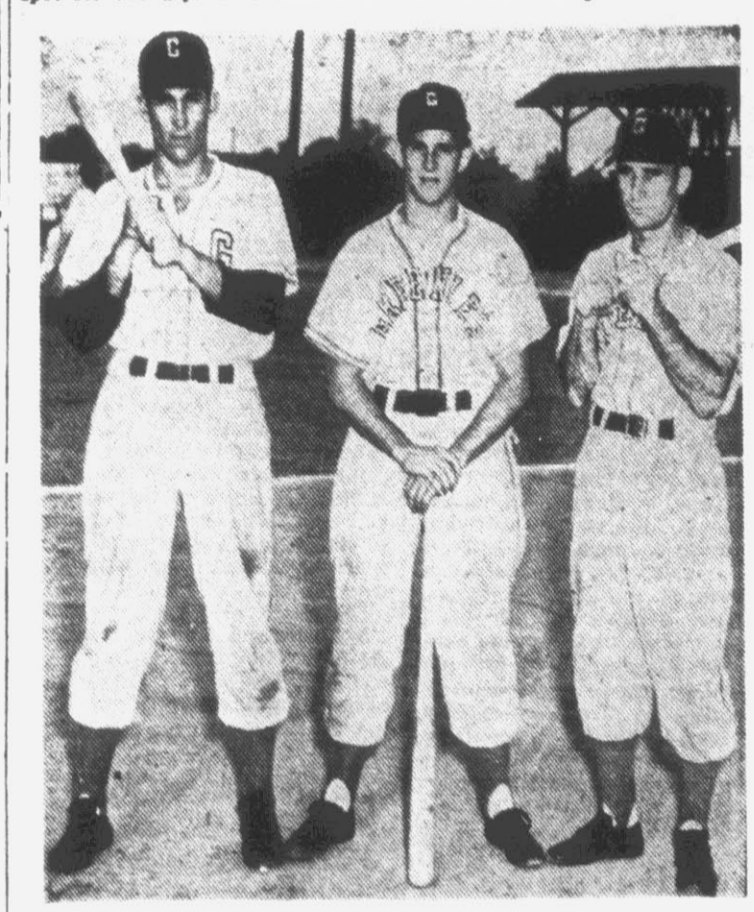

On the other hand the Greensies' longest losing streak was experienced between August 18 and 29

New Grain Silos For Pitt Will Meet Storage Needs

An extensive building program by the Greenville Feed Mills promises to go a long way toward providing storage space for Pitt County grain and eliminate the constant threat of loss due to spoilage, rodents and insects.

Claude Gaskins, manager of the feed mills, announced this week that work is already underway toward the construction of four grain silos and secondary storage units which will house some 30,000 bushels of grain.

The silos, expected to be ready in time for the coming corn harvest, are being constructed at the Greenville Mills shelter here in Greenville. Gaskins says he expects to have a drier completed at the grain storage building by spring in time to take care of the small grains.

Commenting on the construction of the 16 by 40 feet silos Gaskins pointed out the advantages of the expanded storage facilities. "It offers movement of grains at any time," he said, pointing out that farmers can bring their green grain and it can be dried within a few hours and the spoilage menace eliminated.

Bells around the World

The Indians could send a rallying call many, many miles by drums. Each drummer, stationed on a lonely ridge, would listen for the sound of distant drums, and relay the message to others waiting across the valley. Overnight a dozen tribes could be rallied to a common cause.

We don't need such crude methods of communication today. Men with a common purpose can join forces around the world at a pre-arranged time.

World Wide Communion Sunday is such an expression of unity. In every Christian land the church bells will summon men and women to the Lord's Supper on this Sunday.

And the universality of this great religious event will not depend on bells relaying the message from town to town. It will depend on folks like yourself coming to their Church to receive this Holy Sacrament.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Greenville high school's Phantoms came from behind on the opening play of the fourth period to edge a scrappy and unexpectedly powerful Ayden high school eleven 14-13 before some 1500 fans here last night.

R. H. Mason, co-captain tackle of the Ayden Tornadoes, was reported suffering from a slight concussion this morning at the Pitt General hospital. Mason was injured in the last quarter of the Greenville-Ayden high school football game here last night. He was carried from the field to the hospital by ambulance.

Halfback Jimmy Cox bucked over tackle from the two yard line to score the Phantom's tying touchdown and Walter Goor, a reserve halfback speed merchant, skirted end to score the game winning extra point in the last quarter.

It was the first time the favored Phantom eleven had been in the lead since the game started as Coach Stuart Tripp's Tornadoes, led by a dynamic 16-year-old quarterback named Leonard Bullock, led touchdown drives in the first and third periods to keep ahead of the Greenville outfit.

The inspired Ayden team broke the ice in the first after Jerry Britt, guard, and Troy Jackson, tackle, recovered a Greenville fumble on the Phantom 29. Jackson, on a reverse, ran 11 yards down to the 18 for a first down. Bullock picked up five and Hardee broke away to put the Tornadoes on the Greenville three with a first and goal. B. L. Byrd, halfback, went through the line for the tally and Bullock plunged over for the point to put Ayden ahead 7-0.

In the closing minutes of the first half Cox intercepted one of Bullock's passes on the Ayden 32 and ran down to the 18 to set up the tying rally. Perry hit Bob Flye out on the left flank with a short pass and the little quarterback charged through the Ayden secondary for a touchdown. Conway bulldozed over for the point.

Ayden came right back to threaten in the closing seconds of the second period when Bullock ran a kickoff back 41 yards then plunged 20 yards through the line to carry the ball deep into Greenville territory. They lost on downs as the half ended.

The Tornadoes drove 78 yards to their second touchdown after taking the second half kickoff. Long runs by Hardee and Bullock and two passes to Whitehart highlighted the drive which reached a climax when Bullock scored from the two yard line. Hardee was stopped on an attempted plunge through the line for the point.

Greenville led to its second victory of the year by Cox and Halfback Jake Higgs who played an outstanding game in the backfield. Leon Moore, an end, led the Phantom forward wall.

Coach Tripp was high in his praise of the entire Tornado squad, eight of whom played full 60-minute games. It was the lack of reserve strength which began telling on the Ayden boys in the last period.

Lineups: Ayden—Ends, Manning and Whitehurst; tackles, Mason, Jackson and Tripp; guards, Britt, Meeks and Harris; centers, Davis and Hemby; quarterback, Bullock; halfbacks, Byrd and Worthington; fullback, Hardee.

Greenville—Ends, Moore and Nelson; tackles, Crawford, Conway and Ayres; guards, Rowland, Valmright and Brady; centers, Aman and Howe; quarterback, Flye; halfbacks, Cox, Perry, Goor and Higgs; fullback, P. Conway.

Decisive Games Slated Today In Major League Pennant Race

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
This could be the day of decision in the major league pennant races. The Boston Red Sox can clinch the American League flag by knocking off their challengers, the New York Yankees, today at Yankee Stadium.

If they miss, they still have a chance on the last day tomorrow since a Yankee victory today would throw the race into another tie. Over in the National, a combination of a Brooklyn victory and a St. Louis Cardinal defeat could win the championship for the Dodgers, who now lead by one game.

Indianapolis And Montreal Meet

Montreal, Oct. 1—(AP)—The Montreal Royals (International League) and Indianapolis Indians (American Association) meet here tonight in the opening game of the Little World Series.

The Royals are 8-to-5 favorites to take their second straight postseason classic of the Triple-A circuits. Last year, the International leaguers whipped St. Paul of the American Association.

Stengel ignored the well-meaning advisors who insisted that Berra's place was in the outfield and returned Yogi to his old spot behind the plate, and for good.

Berra took up much of the slack caused by Joe DiMaggio's prolonged absence from the line-up and played a major role in keeping the Yankees at the head of the American League parade. He has already topped his 1948 mark of 14 home runs, and this despite the fact that he was sidelined for three weeks when his left thumb was fractured by one of Dick Starr's pitches. The Yankees missed his punch at the plate during that stretch and his return to action for the final dash to the wire gave the club a sorely needed lift.

Farmville Gridders Post Big 40-13 Score Over Vanceboro

Vanceboro—Coach Elbert Moyer's Farmville high school Red Devils posted a stunning 40-13 win over Vanceboro here last night in the Coastal Athletic Conference opener highlighted by a 90 yard touchdown run by Farmville halfback Claude Tyson.

Farmville, held to a 12-6 first half score, ran wild in the last half as Tyson ran over two scores and passed for another.

Vanceboro's only two touchdowns came on a recovered fumble and an intercepted pass.

Halfback Clarence Joyner put the Red Devils of Farmville in the led early in the first, sweeping end for 15 yards and pay dirt. In the same period he skirted end again for a 10-yard touchdown.

Vanceboro recovered a Farmville fumble on the 20 in the second quarter and a long pass to Troy Laughinghouse was good for a touchdown.

Farmville opened the second half with a 60 yard touchdown march which ended when Tyson bucked over from the eight to score. Joe Smith passed to Carl King for the conversion.

A few minutes later Tyson passed to Albert Cannon for 20 yards and a fourth Farmville touchdown. Again Smith passed to King for the point.

It was in the opening minutes of the fourth that Tyson brought the fans to their feet when he took a hand off from King back on his own 10 yard line and roared 90 yards for a sensational touchdown.

Later in the same period Tyson scored from the five on a plunge over the center. Smith passed to Cannon for the point. Vanceboro scored in the final quarter when Laughinghouse intercepted a pass on the Farmville 20 and scooted to a touchdown. He took a pass over the goal for the extra point.

Tyson, Harry Albritton and Clarence Joyner led the Farmville team in the backfield while George Wooten, Roy Glora, Wilbert Morris and Ernest Morgan led the forward wall.

Coach Dan Drew's boys were paced by Laughinghouse, Ray Whitford, and Claude Wilson. Coach Moyer's boys step out of conference competition next week when they entertain the Tarboro eleven in Farmville.

Boston College Wins 13-7 With Last Period Aerials

Boston, Oct. 1—(AP)—Supposedly buried for the season after Oklahoma's 46-0 drubbing, the Boston College Eagles were back in the major football picture today after rebounding for a 13-7 victory over a capable Wake Forest team.

The Deacons from North Carolina, still bruised by their rugged and unsuccessful tussle with Southern Methodist, managed to keep the air-minded Eagles landlocked and legironed until the final period.

Then the sharpshooting Butch Songin tossed 19 and 42 yard touchdown passes to Joe Diminick to wipe out a 7-0 lead the Southerners built up during the second period.

Wake Forest went into action without Bill George, its outstanding tackle, and had the use of Tom Palmer, another capable tackle, and Bob Jones, a backfield ace, for only a few minutes at a time.

But despite those severe losses, the Deacons gained first blood in the second period when the shifty Nub Smith, after breaking away from three Boston College tacklers, paced 20 yards for a touchdown. That payoff ended a series that was set up late in the opener, when artful dodger Dickie Davis returned a punt 15 yards to Boston's 25.

The Eagles started rolling in the third period, when Songin got its aerial attack clicking in high gear. Wake Forest managed to protect its 7-0 lead until the finale got underway.

But from then on, Boston College dominated matters. Songin completed two long passes before tossing his first touchdown heave to Diminick after eight minutes of fourth period action.

Five minutes later, Songin ended a 60-yard scoring drive with his 42-yard touchdown toss to Diminick.

Wake Forest, favored to avenge last year's 26-9 setback here, was out-statisted 15 first downs to five, made only 58 rushing yards against 125 and completed six out of nine passes for 59 yards against the 14 Songin completed out of 25 tries for 174 yards.

Death Laid To Injury In Game

Roosevelt, Utah, Oct. 1—(AP)—Lyle Lee Benson died yesterday one hour after he was injured in a high school football game.

Benson, regular center for the Roosevelt high school team, was hurt when he tackled a Unithigh school ball carrier. Teammates said he complained of a headache. He was removed from the game and taken to Roosevelt Hospital, where he died one hour later.

His death was believed due to a basal skull fracture.

Roosevelt won the game 7-6.

Churchill Downs President Ailing

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1—(AP)—Col. Matt J. Winn, known to the sports world as Mr. Kentucky Derby, remained in a critical condition today.

Attendants at St. Joseph Infirmary said the 88-year-old President of Churchill Downs had not rallied after a setback late Thursday night.

Winn has undergone two operations recently to correct a stomach ailment.

Yanks' Co-Owner Shares His Box

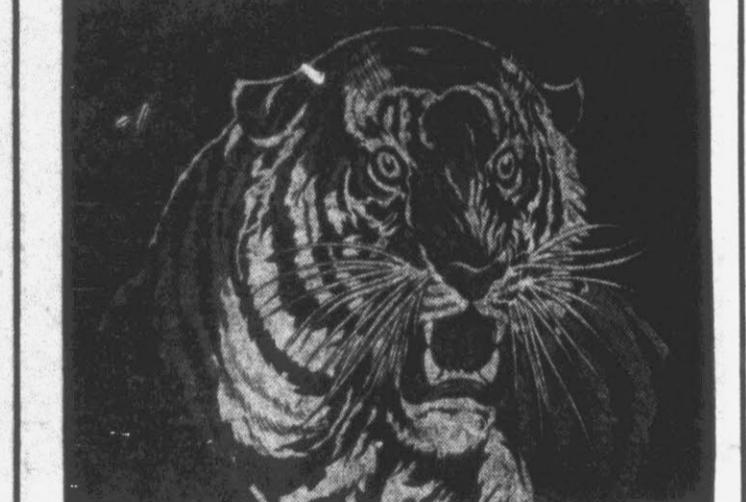

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 1—(AP)—Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, came to the rescue of a president's daughter and her party of eight friends.

His office here reported Margaret Truman, hard pressed to obtain tickets to the crucial Yankee-Boston Red Sox game today, called Webb as a last resort.

Webb promptly made the arrangements—but it cost him part of his private box at Yankee Stadium. The box is shared by Dan Topping, the other co-owner of the club.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 19
 Up in the horse thief settlement of Brad Morden, the real Joe Allison had made a rapid recovery and was on the verge of ripping the place apart.

"This place is driving me loco," he yelled at the woman who had nursed him back to health. "Armed guards all around this cabin. And my brother Jay down there at the ranch with a bullet hole—"

"The door opened from the darkness outside, and Swinnerton and Brad Morden came in.

"You look like you're plumb on the prod," Morden remarked in high good humor.

"Why shouldn't I be?" Joe snarled at him.

"No reason at all. I was a young whipper-snapper myself once."

"Calm down, Joe. We've got news for you," Swinnerton said.

"You calm down! All I want is a gun in my hand and a good horse to keep riding until I find Peg Smith."

Swinnerton looked at the other man. "Let him get it out of his system, Brad," he advised. "Then we'll tell him."

Joe glared at the two of them. "Tell me what?" he snorted.

"Just just rode into camp a little while ago," Brad Morden explained. "Him and Turk Pennock. They quit Randall and pulled their freight."

Randall fired you—or yore brother. I hardly know which—and kicked him off the ranch. Something about you making love to Lucia."

Joe paced up and down the floor and finally turned. "So that's how it is?" he asked passionately. "I'm going down to the ranch and bust things wide open."

"That," Morden grinned, "is exactly what you're going to do. We're going to keep Jay here as a prisoner while you go down to the ranch and figure out some way to let us get at Mike Randall's Morgans. This country is gettin' hot. We're going to pull one more big deal and then haul out. That deal is sixty Morgan horses from the Randall ranch."

Joe started to make another explosive outburst, then wheeled.

Examinations By Testing Bureau

Two tests given to aid students of the eastern section of North Carolina who wish to enter medical or graduate schools will be administered at East Carolina Teachers College during October.

The college has become in recent years a center where students of this section of the state may conveniently take such tests. The program is conducted under the supervision of Dr. Hazel Taylor, director of the Testing Bureau at East Carolina Teachers College.

The Medical College Admission Test will be administered Saturday, October 22. The Graduate Record Examination will be administered Friday and Saturday, October 21 and 22.

Application for the Medical College Admission Test must be made to the Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, by October 8, says Dr. Taylor. Application for the Graduate Record Examination must be made to the same address by October 14. For both, the examination fee must accompany the application.

The Graduate Record Examination will not be administered at East Carolina again until May. Information concerning either test may be obtained from Dr. Taylor.

The testing program of the Graduate Record Examination has been expanded to include an aptitude test designed to measure general scholastic ability at the graduate school level. Many graduate schools now require evidence of fitness for graduate study, as measured by the Graduate Record Examination, in addition to recommendations and school records. A student expecting to apply for admission to a graduate school, says Dr. Taylor, should check with the dean of the school to determine whether ratings on the Graduate Record Examination are required by the given institution.

Soft Music In Animal Shelter

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Now its soft music for the inmates of the new animal shelter of the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The shelter, opened to the public today, also includes bunk beds, a diet kitchen and germicidal lamps. And a drinking fountain which dispenses fresh water to dogs on the street outside is labeled "dog bar."

"Organ music is best suited for the dogs," said Alex Riley, general manager of the society. "The selection must not hit high C or the dogs will begin howling. And be-bop—well, that's out, too."

Promoting Sale Of Saving Bonds

Kenneth C. Wible of Greensboro, deputy director of the North Carolina U. S. Savings Bonds office, was in Greenville yesterday, arranging with County Chairman J. H. Waldrop, bankers, newspapermen, radio station managers, farm leaders and others for the 1949 Fall farm campaign to promote investments in U. S. Savings Bonds.

"A financial reserve is just as important a part of a well managed farm business as land, livestock and equipment," Waldrop said. "Every farm family needs a financial reserve as insurance against emergencies like crop failures, disease in herd or flock, or sickness or accident in the family; as a hedge against lower farm incomes; and to provide financial independence for the later years of life."

"During the 3-month period of the Opportunity Drive which closed July 16 more than $13,750,000 in Series E Savings Bonds were purchased by North Carolinians alone," Waldrop continued. "We consider this an excellent accomplishment, especially since our large farm income had not begun to come in."

Mr. Waldrop stated that the people of North Carolina today hold more than $60,000,000 net, in U. S. Savings Bonds. In Pitt County the net holdings of the people amount to about $9,287,380 in these bonds—an excellent financial reserve for the community as a whole as well as for each individual.

Revised Sign Is Worse Than Ever

Berlin, Germany.—(AP)—The mayor of a small upper-Bavarian town found something had to be done about poaching dogs. So he had signs put up, warning dog owners: "Those who have dogs and run around without leashes, will be shot."

A critical citizen said it should be made clear that the dogs would be shot, and not the owners. The mayor had the sign changed to read: "Those who have dogs and run around without leashes, will be shot—the dogs."

Total Of 19,290 Traffic Deaths

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first eight months of 1949 totaled 19,290, the National Safety Council said today.

The total, including 2,760 in August, was two per cent under the toll for the first eight months of 1948. The August toll was 100 below the July total and eight per cent below August, 1948.

Find Skeleton Of Unknown Man

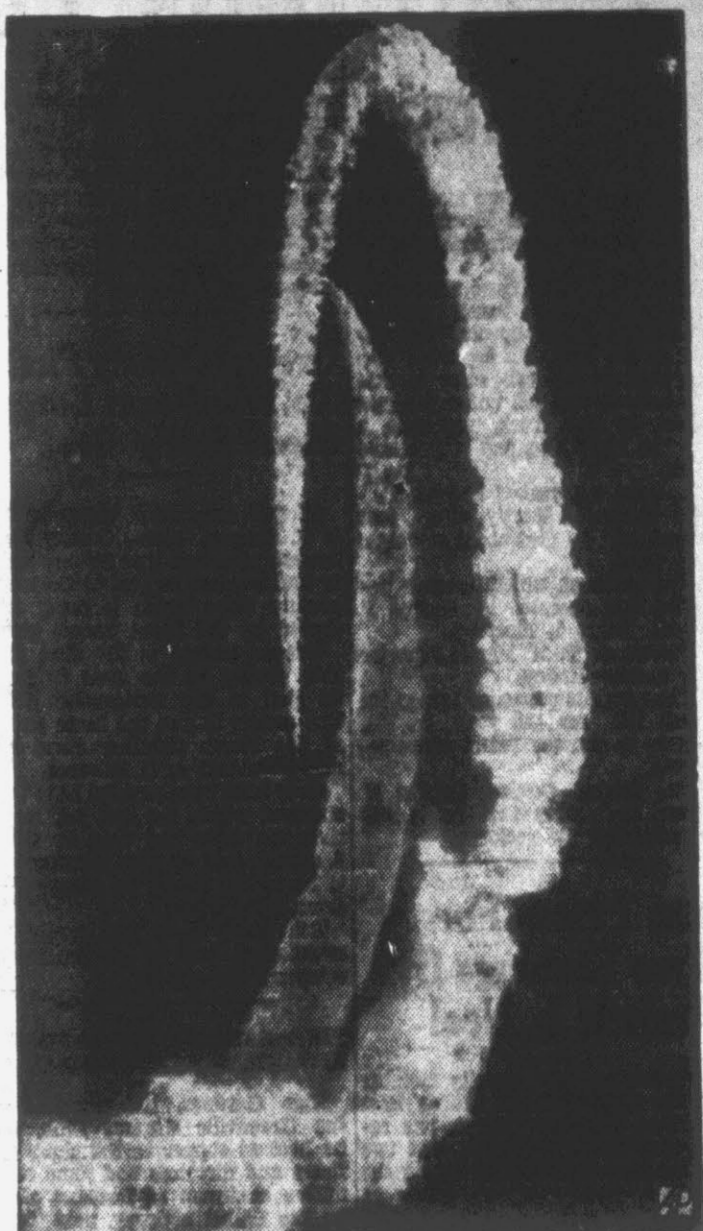

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 1.—(AP)—An unidentified man's skeleton was found beside a railroad trestle near here yesterday, Sheriff T. Alex Hiest reported.

Acting Coroner Cal M. Lawson said the body had been destroyed by vultures, leaving no indication of the man's race or how he died.

Negro Killed In Fall From Truck

James Spencer, Negro man, twenty-two years old, of Pinetown, was killed yesterday afternoon when he fell from the rear of a log truck about three miles from Farmville.

Highway Patrol officials stated today that Spencer was riding on the back of a log truck with his back to the cab when he lost his balance and fell under the rear wheel of the truck, suffering a crushed right side, and a fractured skull.

Spencer was rushed to Pitt General Hospital shortly after four o'clock and he died about midnight last night.

The truck on which Spencer was riding was operated by George F. Keech, Route 1, Pinetown.

Patrolman T. M. Martin reported the accident today.

The accident yesterday brings the death toll for the year in Pitt County to six, the Patrol office reported.

Pitt County Coroner Griffin M. Rouse said today that he is still investigating the accident.

Art Prizes For Two Etchings By Francis L. Neel

Francis Lee Neel, faculty member of the department of art at East Carolina Teachers College, has received official notification that two of his etchings, exhibited during the summer, have won art prizes in Missouri. The studies, entitled "Northward Command Post" and "Transport Harbor," to first and second prizes at the Missouri State Fair, Ledalia, Mo.

This is the second time that Mr.

Neel has won honors in the state of Missouri. In 1948 he won a major prize for his work in water color. The study, in which he blended water color and Indian ink, was commended for its originality of technique.

Neel has been invited to give an exhibition of his paintings, etchings and other art work at the Sheppard Memorial Library in Greenville during January. Among the works displayed at that time will be the two prize-winning etchings.

Greene County First To Win Farm Bureau Membership Goal

It was announced today by Dr. J. H. Harper, Greene County Farm Bureau president that Greene county had reached its goal in the membership drive which is being conducted by the Farm Bureau group.

Greene county is the first sizeable county in the state to reach its goal in the membership drive. The county is also the home county of the North Carolina Farm Bureau. President A. C. Edwards.

Over 2,100 memberships have been obtained within the first four weeks of the drive had been in effect. A grand total of 2,300 memberships is hoped for before the close of the drive, Harper said.

Bob Hart, Snow Hill, wrote 155 members to lead in the number of members brought in.

TIGER GARDNER ENTERTAINS KIWANIANS NEXT TUESDAY

Tiger Gardner, vice-president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, will be host at supper to the club's officers and directors and some committee chairmen at Respos' place on the Bethel highway, next Tuesday night at 6:30. It is an old Kiwanis custom for an officer or director to entertain the group at supper at its monthly business meetings.

Fire Department Called Twice To Oil Stove Fires

During the past 24 hours the Greenville Fire Department answered two calls to fires which originated from oil stoves. It was reported today.

The fire department was called to Center and Mill Streets about 8:45 last night when an oil cooking stove in the home of Savannah Adams flared up and did moderate damage to the house.

The fire alarm was turned in from Box 323.

Early this morning, about 6:00, an oil heater at the home of Mrs. Reba Saterfield on Evans Street began to smoke, and the fire department was telephoned for aid. There was no damage, firemen said.

Firemen cautioned people about the way in which they handle oil heaters and cooking stoves, as the cool weather approaches.

Check the amount of oil in the stove before lighting it is a good practice, firemen said, and if there is too much oil in the stove do not light it until some of it has been removed. Many of the calls which the fire department has this time of year deal with faulty oil stoves, a spokesman for the fire department said.

Squirrel Exodus When Hunters Start Shooting

By CHESTER WALSH

Sounds resembling explosions from the "Battle of Normandy" echoed into the city from Tar river lowlands shortly after sunrise today, when the season for hunting squirrels opened—October 1.

Gunfire resounded over the countryside and squirrels "took to cover." Squirrels started migrating from the river lowlands after the shooting started. The furry rodents came up Summit street in numbers on telephone cables. Some zigzagged along the street; others zigzagged from front yards to the street in the flight to safety from gunfire.

An early riser at Fourth and Summit street said he had seen sparrows in numbers in town, but today was the first time he had ever seen "squirrels in droves" on a city street, scoting along in apparent panic.

A singularly interesting feature of the squirrel migration away from hunters was that dozens of the furry creatures took refuge in two big oak trees in Policeman Raymond Rogerson's yard near Fourth and Summit. Residents who had not oil and cleaned their guns had the temptation of Saint Anthony's when they were in such close range of scores of squirrels seeking safety.

Farmville Pastor Heads Group For Raleigh Meeting

Farmville, Oct. 1—Rev. H. L. Davis, pastor of Farmville Methodist church, will head a group of local Methodists who will attend an Advance mass meeting in Raleigh on Monday, Oct. 3.

The meeting is one of 78 similar gatherings being held across America from Sept. 29 to Nov. 2 as part of Methodism's four-year advance for Christ and His Church. "Our Faith" will be the central theme of the program, which features addresses by a team of three bishops, a prominent minister and a leading layman and laywoman.

A series of eight "Faith booklets," to be studied simultaneously by the church's eight and a half million members, will be officially introduced at the meeting, which will also include opportunity for group discussions and a youth banquet in the evening.

Judge Roberts Jails Negro Woman For Whipping Child

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts sentenced Alberta Tyson, 27-year-old Negro woman to 60 days in jail for "brutally whipping" a three-year-old child.

Testimony was that Mamie Tyson, a relative, placed Joyce Whitby, three-year-old child in care of Alberta Jordan for a short time, and that she whipped the youngster with a thorny switch, inflicting serious and painful welts on its bare back.

Judge Roberts said there will be no fine in this case. "I am going to send you to jail, where you can meditate and think over the brutality of your assault on this child," Alberta Jordan will serve her time out working at the county jail.

putting through. He is, by the way, a very determined man and it will take a good deal to make him change this position.

The leading exponent of an early election is Atlee's Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan, who is a left wing Socialist. Bevan is one of the most brilliant of the Socialist chiefs. They say Bevan has ambitions to be Prime Minister one day, and some political observers think that he may well achieve that great post. Naturally one requisite for success will be a continuance of the Socialist party in power.

What are the chances of that continuance? That's what has even England guessing. If the Socialists solve the economic crisis before election time they will go to the polls full of confidence. If they fail to meet this great emergency, and things are worse at election time than they are now, their chances are likely to be mighty slim against the Conservatives.

Pensions For . . .

social security pension of $44.20—got a social security pension of $76.

What would that mean to Ford? Ford would have to pay less to bring the worker's total pension up to $100. If a man gets $44.80, Ford has to pay him $55.20. If he gets $78 Ford pays him only $24.

Would the Auto Workers in the Ford plant be content to let Ford's contribution to the pension plan grow less because the government pension got bigger? Or would they want the same—or a larger—contribution from Ford to make the total pension larger?

The present agreement with Ford runs till 1955 and may not be reopened till then.

But between now and 1955 the government pension may be increased.

If that happens, union leaders, with the job of trying to get as much by their members as they can, will undoubtedly attempt to push up the total size of their pension where and when they can.

The President's three-man special board which studied the steel dispute with the CIO gave union leaders ammunition by holding that the steel companies could afford a pension for their workers.

The board also gave union leaders ammunition for the future when they said this in their report: "Even if the increase (in the social security pension) now being discussed in congress were enacted they still would not materially increase the purchasing power of workers' pension over the original purchasing power provided in 1935."

The board said the present social security pension rates, fixed back in 1935, were not high enough even

President Opens Chest Campaign

Washington, Oct. 1—(AP)—The 1949 Community Chest campaign got underway today, sparked by President Truman's plea for every citizen to "give generously" to put the $185,000,000 fund over the top.

Mr. Truman said in a nationwide broadcast last night that the Red Feather drive is a "typically American campaign—a peace campaign—and 'deserves the generous support of all of us.'"

"In our form of government," he said, "we Americans have long since passed beyond the confining barriers of state lines into the federation that is the United States of America, serving all the people and being served by them."

Clock Struck 22

A grandfather's clock "struck 24" when they entered at the door," according to a famous old song, dramatizing the "seven ages" of life, but a timepiece at the Pitt County Colored Clinic "struck 22" several days ago for a married couple which had not had a "blessed event" in 22 years.

Mrs. Ned Brady, middle-aged Negro woman, 1419 Short street, Greenville, gave birth to an 11-pound baby girl several days ago at the Pitt County colored clinic, the first addition to her family in 22 long years. The parents named the baby Helen Hadley Brady, in appreciation of services of Dr. Herbert Hadley.

Another Wreck When Car Tried To Pass Truck

A truck owned by the Norfolk Tallow Company, and driven by Walter Cullifer, 801 Pitt Street, Greenville, was damaged last night about 7:00 o'clock when it was hit by a car operated by Willie J. Knight, 1309 W. 3rd street.

According to the Patrol office in Greenville, Knight's car attempted to pass the truck just at the time that the truck started to make a left turn.

Patrolman Paul C. Whitley reported that Knight was cited to court for not having any rear tail lights on his car.

The truck was damaged about $100 and the car was damaged about $20 it was reported.

This was the second wreck in the last two days in which a car had attempted to pass another vehicle just as the other car began a left turn.

purpose is to appeal to colleges to give more attention to the eating habits of their students. Colleges insist that the students be at classes at 9:00 o'clock and remain in the class fifty minutes, yet these same colleges have no rules as to whether the students spend five minutes or thirty minutes on eating a breakfast which is far more important than their class work.

When it comes to other meals, the policy seems to be to feed the students what they want which mostly consists of starches, fats and sweets which they should eat only to a limited extent. Certainly, colleges would be justified in having a special table for those students behind in their grades, insisting that—until they get caught up—they have regular meals, spend a half hour at the table and eat a special diet. Frankly, I believe if colleges would spend more money on food, students might learn as much in three years as they now do in four especially if in the right climate.

The above thoughts also apply to public school lunches. Most large schools now have dieticians but these women are used chiefly to keep down costs and avoid waste. If they don't supply the children with enough hot dogs, coffee and cakes, the kids go on a strike! These dieticians know what the children should eat, but are largely helpless in getting the children to eat properly.

Certainly, the dietician should have absolute control of the lunches eaten by the children who are behind in their studies. This is reasonable. It would be giving the
