Social Security Expansion Plan Is Sent To House

Rules Committee Bars Any Change In Legislation; GOP Cries 'Doublecross'

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The House Rules Committee today sent Social Security expansion legislation to the House under a rule barring any changes.

That means the House must accept the bill "as is" or turn it down. House debate probably will begin tomorrow.

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), head of the Ways and Means Committee which drafted the measure predicted it will be approved overwhelmingly.

The Rules Committee vote to bar amendments was 5 to 4. One member said five Democrats supported the rule and four Republicans opposed.

Republicans already had accused Democratic leaders of a doublecross for bringing the legislation up at this time.

"There was a definite understanding," Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) told a reporter, that this legislation would not be brought up until next January.

Rep. Mason (R-III) also said there was such an agreement in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handled the social security bill.

Speaker Rayburn says the Democratic leadership never made any agreement to delay action until next year.

Regardless of who is right, the bill is on the House work schedule for this week. It is supposed to come up tomorrow for its first taste of debate.

Whatever the House does, the Senate plans no action until next year. Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee has predicted Senate approval then of social security expansion.

Senate To Strip Disputed Issue In Housing Bill

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Sponsors of legislation to spur building of moderately-priced homes agreed today to strip the bill of a hotly disputed section in a move to win Senate approval.

The measure is slated to be called for debate later this week.

One provision which has been under fire would authorize up to $100,000,000 in government loans to cooperatives and other nonprofit organizations.

The loans would be payable over 50 years at three per cent interest.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) Chief sponsor of the bill, told a reporter that section will be taken out of the bill and made a separate measure for consideration next year.

AFL Chieftains Plan Drive For Shorter Hours

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 3 (AP)—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor today charted a union drive for fewer working hours in industry.

Delegates at opening sessions of the annual AFL convention received a report from AFL officers recommending a shorter work day and work week as an immediate economic goal.

The report from the policy making executive council said fewer working hours are needed because the nation is becoming productive enough to spread employment to give more individuals jobs and provide all with more leisure.

Agree To Delay On Civil Rights

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders and President Truman agreed today that Congress should put off consideration of civil rights measures until the session starting in January.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic floor leader, said after a conference with the President that "it seems doubtful that a prolonged discussion of any civil rights bill at this session would be helpful."

Lucas said a fair employment practices commission measure probably would be the first to be considered in January.

Portion Of Coal Miners Go Back To Work As Directed

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—One fifth of John L. Lewis' coal miners went back into the pits today but nearly a million other steady and coal workers remained on strike for pension benefits.

There are hints the federal government may step into the dispute—but officially no one is talking.

Some 800 anthracite (hard coal) diggers ended two weeks of idleness in eastern Pennsylvania. And 22,000 soft coal diggers trooped back to mines in western states.

It's a morale booster for America's householders since virtually all of the coal mined by the returning 102,000 is used for home heating.

Coal is used in industry, however, must continue to bite into a 46-day supply of bituminous stockpiled above ground.

How much steel is available? About enough for four to six weeks. The double-barreled steel-coal strike—led by 513,000 CIO steelworkers and nearly 400,000 soft coal miners—made big dents in America's economy.

If it continues another month the over-all loss in wages and sales is expected to reach a billion dollars.

All told 53 basic steel plants and 50 iron ore mines in 27 states are shut tight. That's 96 per cent of the nation's steel mills. A handful of companies, notably American Can Company with 15,000 workers in 28 plants, agreed to union terms.

A few companies with independent unions also are operating.

But a new strike threat hangs like a sword of Damocles over industrial America. The steelworkers union has 500,000 more members working in 700 steel fabricating plants from coast to coast.

Their contracts start running out Oct. 15. And the union says the men will quit work unless management grants free pensions and free insurance.

Never before in the nation's history have coal mines and steel mills been struck together. Both are basic industries, vital to continued production of nearly every necessity—iron ore generators to baby carriages to hairpins.

Philip Murray, CIO United Steelworkers president, called his men out on the picket line. He wants company-aid pensions and special insurance. And he says his men will strike until they get them.

Lewis didn't order any strike—but his men quit work anyway, on September 18 after the bushy-browed miner chief announced suspension of payments from the mine workers' pension and welfare fund.

He said the fund was nearly broke because some southern operators failed to pay their 20-cents-a-ton royalty.

Lewis told the 102,000 to return to work because there was no need for them to stay out of the pits. He resumes contract negotiations with operators on Wednesday. But he never told anybody exactly what he wants to make peace in the coal fields.

The 50-year-old jurist responded well to blood transfusions and emergency treatment given on his arrival from the accident scene, 77 miles away.

But for several days, his doctors said, the danger of pneumonia will be acute. As soon as his improvement permits, further examinations are planned to check against the possibility of other internal injuries.

Mr. Douglas, who was in the east, their daughter, Mildred, a student at her father's alma mater Whitman College at Walla Walla, Wash., are on their way here to be by his side.

Douglas mentioned frequently as a possible Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, was hurt on the eve of the Supreme Court's new term and two weeks to the day from his 51st birthday.

He had flown here from Seattle for a brief visit in this city where he spent his boyhood and helped work his way through grade and high school as a newspaper carrier.

He had planned to return to Washington, D. C., last night by plane.

The several hour horseback trip to the Chinook Pass area of the high Cascades had been planned in connection with Douglas' book, soon to be published.

With Eon J. Gilbert, Yakima fruit broker who has been a close friend since they were youngsters, Douglas visited mountain spots mentioned in the semi-autobiography.

William Douglas Severely Injured In Mountain Trip

Frightened Horse Fell On Supreme Court Justice; Responds To Care

Yakima, Wash., Oct. 3 (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas, one of the leading liberals of the U. S. Supreme Court, was injured gravely yesterday in the Cascade mountains he loved as a boy.

He suffered 13 rib fractures and a punctured lung when his frightened horse fell and rolled on him.

His chances of full recovery, however, appeared excellent today. Doctors attending him at a Yakima hospital said his condition was not critical. The stamina gained from an active, outdoor life away from his judicial duties stood him in good stead.

But for several days, his doctors said, the danger of pneumonia will be acute. As soon as his improvement permits, further examinations are planned to check against the possibility of other internal injuries.

Long Operation For Vandenberg

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 3 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) underwent a five hour lung operation at University of Michigan hospital today.

Vandenberg entered the hospital last Monday for a checkup. Nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Dr. John Alexander, surgeon in charge, said only that the Senator was operated on for a lung lesion. He said Vandenberg's condition was "satisfactory."

Senate Tackles Farm Measures

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Senate buckled down today to a scrap over farm legislation—a politically hot issue that has criss-crossed party lines.

Mindful of the way President Truman made in the mid-west farm belt in his election campaign last year, Senators came to grips with the problem of how far the government should go in supporting farm prices.

Worst Fire In Miami May Cost Paper $750,000

Miami, Fla., Oct. 3 (AP)—A stubborn fire that broke out in the Miami Herald's storage warehouse Saturday night still smoldered today after causing damages estimated at $750,000.

Fire Chief Henry R. Chase called it "the worst fire I've ever fought. It estimated it would take two more days to conquer the unspectacular blaze.

James L. Knight, business manager of the Herald, estimated the loss of $750,000 in newspaper and damage to the new four-story reinforced concrete warehouse, which adjoins the publishing plant in downtown Miami.

Knight said losses from newspaper alone would run about $600,000.

Navy's Big Giveaway Was An Enlisted Man's Dream

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 3 (AP)—Hey, mate, look what's happened to Uncle Sam's Navy.

Seaman First Class Boyd E. Tallada of Tannersville, Pa., is deliberating today whether or not to enlist for another hitch. If every day could be like the day a spent last week, Tallada would jump to sign up again.

Here's what Tallada did in just one day:

He had breakfast in bed and was excused from all duty. He then made a helicopter inspection flight over Task Force 61, rode in a new snorkel submarine and had dinner with his skipper. He made his private quarters in a big stateroom aboard the battleship Missouri, having his slightest whims answered by his private secretary—an Annapolis midshipman.

Then he lived an enlisted man's dream for 45 minutes. He took command of the Task Force of five destroyers, four destroyers—minelayers and the battleship Missouri. From the bridge of the big Mo, he sent the big ships through their battle paces. When he'd finished an admiral stepped up, handed him a cigar and held him a light.

Tallada won "His Day" by finding the one millionth page in the Task Force's daily mimeographed newspaper. The big giveaway contest was only for enlisted men.

Scott Launches New Peace Effort In Mill Walkout

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 3 (AP)—Governor Scott has launched new efforts to end the five-month-old Hart Cotton Mill strike at Tarboro.

He made public last night identical telegrams he sent to Marcus Carter, general manager of the mill, and Lewis Conn, representative of the textile union workers of America, CIO. He invited both sides to meet in his office Thursday morning.

With the purpose of entering discussion leading to a solution of the problem," Scott telegraphed, "I am inviting you together with your associates as you deem necessary to act with authority to attend a conference in my office."

The Governor stated that an invitation to attend the conference is being extended to the federal conciliators, North Carolina's commissioner of Labor and his associates.

The mill has been the scene of several disorders since its some 500 workers went on strike May 12. The mill had a weekly payroll of about $200,000. Approximately 100 workers on the job now, many of them new workers.

The strike began when the workers' contract expired and negotiations for a new one failed. The union has asked unsuccessfully for a renewal of the old contract. Carter has declined to submit the issues to arbitration.

On occasion, strikers have been arrested for fighting. A judicial restraining order has been issued limiting picketing, and last week 49 union members were fined for violating the terms.

Russia Breaks With Nationalist Chinese

Give Diplomatic Nod To New Red Regime; Also Accuse Western Allies Of Trying To Split Germany In Bonn Gov't

Moscow, Oct. 3 (AP)—Russia has finally broken with the Nationalist government in China to give the diplomatic nod to the new Red regime there. At the same time they accused the Western allies of trying to split Germany by setting up a separate government in their zones.

The recognition of Communist China was announced yesterday in a note to the premier of the Central People's government at Peiping from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Another Soviet note, delivered to representatives of the three big western powers in Moscow, rapped the creation of the west German government at Bonn.

It charged the U. S., Britain and France had broken Big Four agreements to try to regain political and economic unity of Germany.

Meanwhile, Romania joined the parade of Soviet-style "People's Democracies" in scrapping her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia. Poland

Investigate Air Tragedy Cause

CAB Studying Whether Small Plane Was Overloaded

Los Angeles, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today is investigating whether the plane which crashed in a busy midtown boulevard, killing Crooner Buddy Clark, may have been overloaded.

Five others, including Sam Hayes top west coast NBC newscaster, were injured in the crash Saturday night. The plane was returning from the Stanford-Michigan football game at Palo Alto when its gas ball ran out.

James N. Peyton, regional CAB chief, said:

"Two-engine Cessnas of that type usually carry a pilot and four passengers. This plane was carrying five passengers. We are investigating the x x x possibility of whether the plane may have been overloaded."

Hayes, 44, suffered minor injuries. Hayes' wife, Sally, 28, suffered leg injuries. Frank Berend, 56, National Broadcasting sales executive, sustained head injuries, and Jennings Pierce, 52, also an NBC executive, suffered a brain concussion. All were reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Clark, 38, was a top recording and radio artist. In recent years he starred on his own NBC program "The Contented Hour" and previously on the "Hit Parade."

"The Contented Hour" switched this season to the Columbia Broadcasting System and Clark was to have made his CBS network debut last night. The show was canceled until a successor could be named.

Supreme Court Opens Fall Term With Vacancies

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Supreme court came to the opening of its fall term today with prospects that it may not be operating on a full nine-justice basis for weeks to come.

It is indefinite when Justice Douglas can return to work. He suffered broken ribs and a punctured lung yesterday in a fall from a horse in Washington State.

Also the Senate has yet to act on President Truman's fourth appointment to the court, that of Judge Sherman Minton to succeed the late Justice Wiley B. Rutledge. The Senate Judiciary committee has the Minton nomination under consideration.

Pitt County's Agricultural Fair Opens; Many Exhibits

Record Number Of Entries To Be Exhibited And Judged During Week Long Event; Judging Gets Underway Tomorrow At Noon

The greatest Fair in the history of Pitt County opened officially today as farm and home demonstration officials, 4-H, FFA and other rural organizations brought in a record number of entries to be exhibited and judged during the week long event.

At noon today the fairground was a scene of all-out activity as those in charge speeded up operations in an effort to have the exhibits completed by 6 o'clock.

Four 4-H booths, carrying out themes of nutrition, home beautification, safety and corn production, make up one corner of the exhibit building. The major part of the exhibit building is devoted to demonstrations by seven Home Demonstration Clubs from all over the county. Eight Future Farmers of America exhibits are being shown in the southwest end of the building.

Home Demonstration exhibits carry out such themes as picture arrangement, flower and furniture arrangement, landscaping, the living home, home gardens, citizenship and others.

Four-H Clubs from Bell Arthur, Fountain, Falkland and Grimesland have booths while Home Demonstration Clubs with booths include Sweet Gum Grove, Belvoir, Red Oak, Farmville, Renston Nobles, Ballard and Falkland, FFA clubs from Chicod, Farmville, Bethel, Stokes, Grifton, Ayden, Winterville and Belvoir have exhibits in the exhibit building.

The first of a record number of livestock began pouring into the west side of the fairground during the morning.

Judging will get underway at noon tomorrow with a record number of premiums being offered for the best exhibits. The exhibits will remain at the fair throughout the week.

The exhibits are not commanding all the attention at the fairgrounds today, however. Prell's Shows, which will feature the midway for the fair, is going up for the fair.

A number of other attractions on the grounds are features of Prell's Shows. Personal appearances of Ken Maynard and his horse Tarzan and a top notch hillbilly show will be special attractions at the fair each day.

Law Enforcers Get Invitation To Raleigh Meet

Pitt County Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson, Greenville Police Chief L. D. Page and Pitt County ABC Chief J. M. Ward today received letters from Governor W. Kerr Scott inviting them to a meeting of the state's law enforcement officers in Raleigh.

Governor Scott called the meeting of law enforcement officers of the state's 100 counties to discuss and devise "ways and means of combating the illicit liquor traffic in North Carolina."

The meeting is to be held in the House of Representatives room at the capitol on October 12.

Governor Scott in his letter to the law enforcement officers stated, "It is not my purpose to dictate law enforcement policies for your community," but added that he thought through closer coordination and planning, the illicit liquor traffic in the state could be cut down.

Why A Steel Strike?

President Truman Didn't Use Taft-Hartley Act Provisions To Delay Walkout; He Still Can Do So; What Has Been Done And What Can Be Done In Situation

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—You may be wondering: Why is there a steel strike? I thought the Taft-Hartley Act was supposed to stop big strikes?

First, T-H can't stop any strike but can only delay one. Second, President Truman hasn't used T-H in the steel case but still can if he wishes to.

The strike, which started Oct. 1, already was delayed 78 days by presidential action. If Mr. Truman wants to use T-H now, he can stop it for another 80 days.

This is an explanation of what has been done and can be done. The CIO Steelworkers were supposed to strike at midnight, July 10. On that day Mr. Truman appointed a three-man fact-finding board to look into the case, hear both sides, and recommend a solution.

So, until the board could finish its work, the steelworkers and the steel owners agreed there'd be no shutdown or strike. The board reported back to the President Sept. 10.

A couple of times between Sept. 10 and Oct. 1 a strike seemed near, but was delayed upon the President's request. When it finally started Oct. 1, 78 days had elapsed

An Encouraging Sign Of The Times Is The Great Number Of Americans Who Show Interest In Current Events; Cold War In Spotlight With World Series

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Small straws show which way the wind blows.

One of the encouraging signs of our harassed times is the great number of people of both sexes and all ages whom one sees grounded about the news printers on a pleasant afternoon. Maybe my imagination is working overtime, but that's the way it strikes me.

"And what," demands the lady from Texas, "do you find encouraging in that? They're reading about Russia having the atomic bomb, I suppose—or about Marshal Tito and his troubles with the Kremlin—or about the cold war."

Well, madam, I reckon they're reading about those things in order to get to anything else these days. But their big interest of the moment probably is centered in the baseball championship battle. And that's the way it should be.

Interest in the lighter things of life doesn't mean there is no interest in the serious problems. Even the hangman plays checkers when he's off duty.

There are no people on earth more deeply interested in world affairs than Americans, or who are better informed. I've traveled about our country a good deal, discussing foreign affairs, and can testify that even our very young folk of high school age are very well informed. Our country has undergone a wonderful development in this respect during the past generation.

No, Americans aren't neglecting weighty matters for baseball. They're just maintaining their perspectives by balancing their mental diets. One-food diets aren't healthful.

It probably is true that the average American is fed up to the neck with the constant barrage of news about the cold war. We've been bombarded with it day and night ever since the end of the World conflict, and it certainly frays the nerves.

Of course the answer is that most of the affairs of mankind today are interlocked with developments of that cold war. Its ramifications even affect the individual's pocketbook through taxation, and thus it becomes a constant intruder in the home. The problem of whether Mary and Bill can go to college probably hinges on it. So does the question

Art Gallery To Open Tuesday

The local art gallery on second floor of Sheppard Memorial Library will open for the season Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The board of directors has been busy all summer making plans for interesting exhibits and programs for this season and announce that an unusually fine schedule has been arranged one in which the people of Greenville and surrounding communities will find much of interest and cultural value.

For the October show there are three separate exhibits: First, fifteen flower paintings done in oil by Mildred Hayward of Chicago and New York. All of the paintings in the show have been recently exhibited in a one man show by Mrs. Hayward at the Mitch Gallery in New York which was most enthusiastically reviewed by the press. Mrs. Hayward is both an author and a painter. Published writings are "Christ Appears," "Light Breaking Through," "Miracle at Sea" and "How Honey Bear Got His Name." She is a member of the Colonial Dames of America, The Colony Club, New York Women Poets, The Pen and Brush Club, National League of American Pen Women, The Guild Hall of Southampton, the Norton Gallery, the Everglades Club and the Four Arts Society of Palm Beach, Fla. Her paintings have been shown in many museums and art organizations throughout the country and are in several important private collections.

Second - thirty photographs by Albert Barden of Raleigh. These photographs represent the interest of the photographer over a period of twenty-five years, in preserving, by means of his camera's lens, North Carolina incidents and scenes he felt worthy of preserving. Mr. Barden, born in England and early apprenticed to his photographer father, came to North Carolina in 1907. He has traveled all over our state and his photographs depict much of interest: turpentine trees tobacco-housing, Wright Memorial Rosnoke Island, pictures of the Capitol and others. This exhibit was in the State Art Gallery for September and was a very popular one with the visitors to that gallery.

Third - A showing of sea shells taken from the collections of Messrs. L. A. Stroud, T. E. Hooker and J. H. B. Moore.

Gallery hours are from two until five-thirty every afternoon except Sunday. Admission to all shows is free and the public is cordially invited. Teachers may arrange to take groups of students during special hours in the mornings by calling the library and telling which hour they wish to go.

FRESHMEN TOGETHER—Mrs. Sally Schweinler's freshman "beanie" is fitted by her son, David, after they registered as first year students at College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

Pope Pius XII, in a recent address to the members of the International Family Union, urged that such a "union of families" be strengthened and developed throughout the world to help establish a Christian family spirit and to counteract the forces that are working to place the family under "full dependence upon the state and public powers in order to make the family serve ends that are foreign to it." It was presumed that he was criticizing the communist program and all states that insist upon government education of children.

Miss Margaret G. Felton, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Ralph A. Felton, of Drew University, Madison, N. J., is enroute to communist-controlled Peiping, North China, where she will be united in marriage to Prof. James H. Pyke, missionary faculty member of the University of Yenching staff. Miss Felton is believed to be the first woman missionary—recently named as such by the Methodist Church—to whom Chinese communist authorities have given permission to enter their territory. A native of Ithaca, N. Y., she was educated at the University of Delaware, lived in China and Korea with her parents, and did social-educational work in Puerto Rico.

Fifteen teams of church women, five persons per team will "invade" 37 cities in every state west of the Mississippi from Oct. 4 to 7, to present the international and interdenominational services of the United Council of Church Women, and to "demonstrate the power is possible when Christian women work together." It is announced by Mrs. Harper Sibley, Council president. The teams will be from all parts of the country, the attendance will be interdenominational and interracial at the meetings; and the ideas and experiences of all in "working together for a world community shaped according to the Christian ideal" will be shared by all. These meetings and seminars will be held in Phoenix, Ariz.; Forest City, Little Rock, and Hope, Ark.; Whittier, Santa Monica, Santa Barbara and Oakland, Calif.; Denver, Col.; Nampa Idaho; Davenport, Des Moines, and Sioux City, Iowa; Topeka, Kan.; Minneapolis, Minn.; St. Joseph, and Columbus, Mo.; Glendive, Livingston, and Butte, Mont.; Omaha, Grand Island, North Platte and Sidney, Neb.; Reno, Nev.; Boswell and Albuquerque, N. M.; Bismarck, N.

D.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Salem and Medford, Ore.; Sioux Falls, S. D.; Dallas, Texas; Salt Lake City, Utah; Spokane, Wash. and Rock Springs, Wyoming. Nine-tenths of the big game animals in the United States are deer.

Initiate Members Of Delta Kappa Gamma

Four new members were accepted into membership in Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society for women teachers, at a combined business and luncheon meeting held at the Episcopal Parish House Saturday afternoon, October 1.

Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll of Farmville, faculty member of East Carolina Teachers College and teacher in the Training School, and Miss Gladys Chadwick and Miss Lena Nelson Duncan, high school teachers from Beaufort, were initiated as members of the Delta Chapter. Miss Kate Blanchard of Plymouth was initiated as a member of Phi Chapter.

Present for the meeting were approximately 50 members from the two chapters, which include in their territory about ten of the eastern counties of the state. Mrs. Nettie B. Herring, president of the Delta Chapter, presided at the initiation ceremony.

The luncheon was the annual birthday celebration of the organization. Three cakes decorated in the society colors of red and gold and bearing lighted candles were placed on the table, which was arranged in a hollow square. With Mrs. Herring as toastmistress, a program marking the event and indicating some of the major activities of the organization was presented.

Miss Laura Bell of Greenville gave a report on the state meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma last May in Southern Pines. Progress made on the fellowship made possible for a graduate student from a foreign country was outlined by Miss Elizabeth Walker of East Carolina Teachers College. Miss Genevieve Foucher, a student from Algiers, is now completing work on the doctorate on a DKG fellowship at the University of North Carolina, said Miss Walker. Dr. Lucile Turner, one of the founders of the state chapter and of the local chapter, gave a brief summary of the history of the Delta Kappa Gamma society.

Invited To Serve On Library Committee

Elizabeth S. Walker of the library staff at East Carolina Teachers College has been invited to serve as a member of the Committee on Administration of the Division of Cataloging and Classification, American Library Association. Her term will run from 1949 through 1951. Miss Walker is also serving at present as chairman of the Southeastern Regional Group of Catalogers.

She will attend, Oct. 26-29, a regional meeting of the American Library Association in Miami, Florida. At this convention she will act as presiding officer of the Division of Cataloging and Classification.

Store Damaged By Sunday Fire

An early morning fire Sunday about 12:15 did considerable damage to a combination grocery and meat market operated by Tanager Hill on Contentnea Street.

The frame and tin structure is believed to have caught fire from a coal stove located in the building, for when firemen were called the flames had gained much headway in that section.

Firemen were delayed in responding to the call because of a failure on the part of the fire alarm system. The first round of the alarm rang the correct number 154 while the next three times 254 was turned in. Firemen had to be sure of the location of the fire before they started out. The necessary repairs to the fire alarm box were made this morning, firemen said today.

No estimate of the damage was known but it was believed that the contents of the store was badly damaged by fire and water.

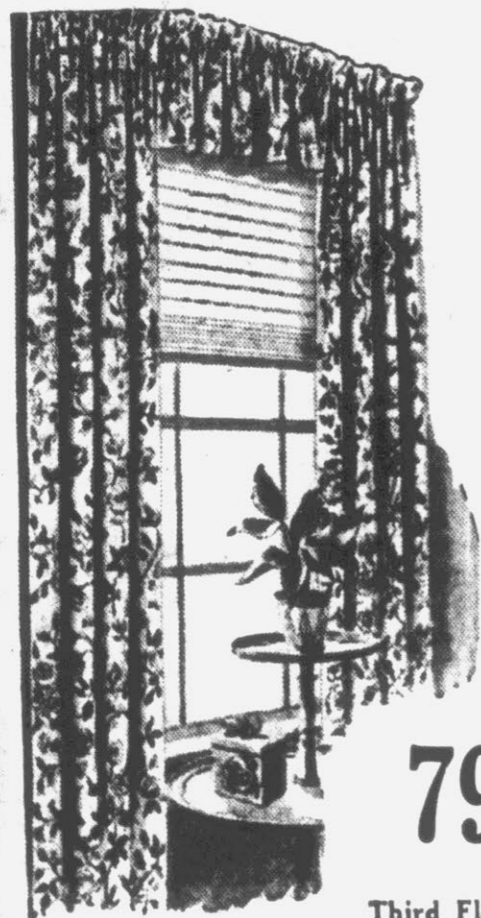

Flames from the burning building could be seen from a good distance away, it was reported. The Greenville Fire Department battled the flames for over an hour before putting the blaze out.

Peso Devalued

Buenos Aires, Oct. 3—(AP)—Argentina today devalued the peso almost 90 per cent in relation to the dollar.

The rate was fixed at nine pesos to the dollar, compared with the old rate of 4.875. The peso was devalued to 25.20 to the British pound sterling of the old rate of 19.37.

This South American nation also suspended all imports at least temporarily.

The central bank put into effect the reshuffled exchange rates. It also issued a 30-page list of items which can be imported but said the method of asking for import permits will be set up later. There was no immediate indication of when this would be done.

Officers Raid Home And Find Quantity Bootleg Whiskey

ABC officers, sheriff's deputies and Greenville police, seeking some other alleged violator of the liquor laws, found four gallons of moonshine whiskey on the premises of William Smith, Negro on Ward St. Sunday and arrested him. They charged him with possession of illegal whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Those participating in the raid were ABC Officers J. M. Ward, J. M. Taylor and Claude Manning, deputies Duke Andrews and Jasper L. Mills and Capt. S. Bowen Dorsey and Detective M. E. Corbett of the local police department.

Friends Give Up After Funeral Lasted 4 Days

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3—(AP)—The 500 friends and relatives of Sofi Marion gave up today.

Her funeral, they agreed, was a great success but they couldn't take any more.

Sofi, owner of a roadside inn and tourist cabins, left careful instructions that "everyone have a good time at my funeral. I don't want anyone to be sad."

She always gave big parties and she wanted her last one to be the biggest of all. She wanted it to last a week.

But her guests only lasted four days. They had eaten of the eight lambs and three roast hogs and had drunk the 20 barrels of wine Sofi made herself.

Strength FOR THE DAY

PEACE CAN MISBEHAVE
Just before his death in 1924, Woodrow Wilson said to Lord Lothian, "The great tragedy of the last six years is the fact that the American failure to meet world responsibilities means that the job will have to be done over again in twenty years, and at ten times the cost."

What must have been his feelings to have seen his dreams crushed to the earth as they were. He went to Europe shortly after the signing of the armistice and was received as few men have been in history. His fourteen points were discussed on the steppes of Russia, in the South Sea Islands, in the jungles of Africa as eagerly as they were discussed on the boulevards of Paris and on the streets of London and Washington. It seemed as if God's great servant destined to lead mankind into age-long peace had put in his appearance.

Then came the petty back-biting, the unwise diplomacy and the emergency at the council table of men who thirsted for revenge, and above all wanted to see the old status re-established, which would put power into their hands and into the hands of men of their class. Poor, broken Woodrow Wilson, in the early twenties, saying a few halting words over the radio a short time before his death and sounding more like a ghost than a human—this was what was left of the great peacemaker after he had been shovelled by the unprincipled diplomats of Europe and manhandled by partisan politicians at home.

Around Capitol Square

AROUND CAP. SQUARE
TYPE—Governor Scott has been much milder in public speeches recently than he was some months ago. He had prepared and read copies of his speech at opening of the Carolina Power and Light plant at Lumberton. It was commendatory of many phases of power company operations, very critical of some others, but upon the whole it was a "nice" speech. When he stood before a big crowd to deliver the speech, the governor just couldn't resist the temptation to revert to type. He interpolated some caustic comment about power companies, the general assembly and the utilities commission. It was just too good a chance for him to miss "digging" at somebody.

QUORUM—The power plant opening brought together a large group of civic leaders representing communities served by Carolina Power and Light. One visitor suggested that the state bar association and the state press association could each hold a meeting with a quorum present.

POLITICS—There wasn't supposed to be anything political about the gathering, but with so many public officials and editors around politics naturally got some attention. The real contest for many legislative seats are scheduled for next spring was discovered in numerous one-minute interviews. Time after time your reporter was told by legislators they expected to come back "if the people will let me." It was also evident that some of them will encounter very pronounced opposition.

"LUMBBEE"—Official program and all other speakers referred to the river flowing near by the plant as the "Lumber River." Congressman Eitel Carlyle gave it the old time affectionate Scotch pronunciation and called it the "Lumbee." He made the expression sound like he loved the placid stream and its surrounding territory.

ERRORS—Typographic errors in newspapers can be embarrassingly humorous sometimes. Visitors at the power plant opening were handed free copies of a special edition of the Robesonian, afternoon paper at Lumberton. The leading story about the affairs referred to Kerr Scott as North Carolina's "former governor." Everybody knew it was meant to read "farmer governor." Then another place the obstreperous Lincoln had reversed the error, dropping an "a", where it should have been an "o" and making it read "Governor Kerr Scott." The governor himself joined in the fun and said he reckoned a lot of folks wished that first designation were true.

WELCOME—It was the power company's day and for most part presence of the governor was incidental. Not so with one filling station at Lower Subonia, a small community just west of Lumberton.

It Must've Been A Shock—

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

For the time being all of the fuss about lifting rent control in Greenville has quieted down, but there's at least one telltale story left in the issue:

During the open forum in the city hall last week one Greenville lady rose to her feet. "People keep saying that there is a housing shortage in Greenville," she said, "but I have two apartments available for rent. They are very desirable, so I can't see that there is any shortage if they continue to be available."

A deep voice from the opposite end of the hall asked, "How much?"

The lady said that one is $50 a month and the other is $85. An undercurrent of mumbles was stopped when the voice said, "How about children?" The lady admitted that she prefers adults.

A few minutes later one of Greenville's Negro citizens was expressing her views on the possibility of lifting rent control. She

New York—(AP)—The nice thing about the sun is that it only comes up once a day.

Here along Broadway, where people grind their dreams underfoot on the street of failure, few folk are interested in the color of the sun unless it has been tentatively approved by the federal communications commission.

The dawn may come up out of Jamaica like China across the Bay—but it has to have a commercial appeal, a sort of sponsored madness.

Actually the day erupts in a blue and gold surprise. It is like a relict with a burst of kindness in its petals. It comes so softly it bows you off your feet, because you aren't prepared.

I am talking about morning in a place called Manhattan, where the wise and the weak folk of a confused world mingle—and are mangled.

The famous folk by this hour have amused the mass, had their herring or bacon and eggs, traded the rich gossip of the inner fraternity of entertainment, and gulped sleep—or the sleeping pill that leads to sleep.

Broadway and its side streets to the stranger and the garbage man, banging into ringing cans the un-eaten steam fragments that fatten New Jersey hogs.

The sound is a crime of prosperity. It rings the hidden pigeons awake. Where they hide at night, it is hard to know. But somehow they always awake to a feast of plenty, these feathered, importunate pilgrims of Manhattan.

Someone on the way home spills a sack of popcorn—deliberately—and hours after he has gone the sleepy birds flutter down to collect his contribution. If the pigeons picked a mayor it would be someone unknown to anybody but them. It would be the man with the popcorn. He elects himself.

The people themselves—all workmen and jaded playboys who keep a city alive between dawn and dusk—wonder sometimes what they have done to justify belonging to the human race.

The pigeons have a simple ethic.

Is Your Child the "One in Five"?

One school child in five is retarded because his vision is defective. Poor vision is a great handicap to a child. It shows him up in every way. It forces him to work harder to master his studies; handicaps him in his relationships with other children and grown-ups, too. It tends to warp his personality—and generally sets him back in his struggle to get ahead and make his mark. Make sure your child's vision is right! Don't handicap him!

Ridgways OPTICIAN
At Five Points, Greenville, N. C.

Their loyalty is to the nest and the eggs, not the largest of that strange two-legged opportunist—man.
So every blue-gold dawn is a trumpet to a fresh adventure.
Whether that adventure lies in old Manhattan or the widening world we work in its another matter.
You can take it any way you want to, but you can't pass on the chaos of civilization either to the pigeons or the sun.
The sun has its own daily responsibility, but the pigeons have no sense of guilt. They wing where they wish to the goal set for them before they were eggs.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON LETTER Spoon
By JANE EADS

Washington—As inevitable as the callopi in a circus parade is a low-slung, sleek black convertible limousine in any parade or out-of-town trip of the president. This car is one of three nine-passenger custom-built, bullet-proof automobiles used by the U. S. Secret Service in protecting the chief executive. Frequently the president himself rides in the car.

Tagged the "Queen Mary," "Queen Elizabeth" and "Sunshine Special" by the late President Roosevelt shortly after they were built in 1933, the three cars are readily identified by a "POLICE—DO NOT PASS" sign on the rear. These cars have traveled thousands of miles and crossed every state in the union. One was shipped to Yalta for the Big Three conference in 1945. Another was sent to Mexico and Canada for trips made by President Truman.

The official publication of the American Automobile Association reports that the cars were made by the Ford Motor Co., and General Motors Corp. from plans drawn up by the Secret Service. The pair of "Queens" cost about $200,000 apiece, the "Sunshine Special" about $30,000.

They are leased to the government at a small annual rental by the two companies.
The "Sunshine Special" is bullet-proof from every angle, with extra heavy glass windows, bomb-proof bottom and heavy-duty steel motor hood and sides. The rear compartment is protected by an automatic bullet-proof windshield which can be thrown around the back seat, simply by pressing a button. The "Queens" built along the same principle, have shatter-proof windows.
Two specially-built platforms, on the rear bumpers of each, provide places where Secret Service agents stand during parades. The agents also stand on the running boards so they can jump off easily and run to the President's car in the event of an emergency. Each car is equipped with two-way short-wave radio which agents use to keep in touch with the White House and other Secret Service cars. There are fire-arms in each as well as sirens, flashing red lights and the illuminated police signs on the back.

The Secret Service says that each of the cars has been driven about 130,000 miles and has been shipped many thousands of miles more. When the President is in town they are parked in the White House garage along with other White House cars where they are kept in top-condition at all times by a team of specially trained mechanics.

Service To Youth, Theme Of Pitt County Teachers

"Go ye therefore and teach"—the scriptural text of Miss Oma Bliss Lewis who opened the first meeting of the Pitt County Unit of the NCTE held in Austin auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College on September 28. F. H. Hodges, president of the association and D. H. Conley, superintendent, welcomed the teachers to a year of "Service to Youth," the theme of the association.

Mrs. W. C. Latham, Bethel teacher, and L. V. Godwin, high school supervisor, spoke briefly on the professional responsibilities of the teachers on whose shoulders rest much of the great answer to the world's problems.

Following the general session the special committees for the association were appointed by Mr. Hodges as follows: Professional Service—Mrs. Ruth Flanagan, chairman; Miss Jane Highsmith, and Mrs. Keith Cain, Public Relations—S. D. Bundy, chairman, Mrs. Mary Mayo and Mrs. Minnie Stancill; Legislative—Mrs. Herman Baker, chairman, Frank Toothman, and Alan Stoddard; Planning and Resources—Garland Bailey, chairman, Mrs. Jesse Brewer, and Mrs. Edith Worthington; Federal Aid—Newman Lewis, chairman, Mrs. Berkley Rutledge, and Miss Bertha Johnson; International Relations—J. L. Cashwell, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Crawford, and Jack Johnson.

Tug Dispatched To Tanker's Aid

New York, Oct. 3—(AP)—A 10,000-ton American tanker has lost her propeller in the Atlantic about 400 miles east of Wilmington, N.C., and a tug has been dispatched to her aid from Baltimore, the Coast Guard reported today.

The tanker, the S. S. Clarke's Wharf, operated by the Trinidad Corporation, of New York, was en route from Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, to Boston.

In addition to a Moran Towing Corporation tug dispatched from Baltimore, aid is available from the Trinidad Corporation, which is in the same vicinity. The Rock Landing was ordered to stand by. Coast Guard vessels were ready to assist if needed.

Weather in the vicinity of the Clarke's Wharf was reported moderate.

'Witch-Doctor' Brings Trouble

Salvador, Brazil—(AP)—Antonio Felix, a 50-year-old worker, decided an evil spirit had taken over his body and went to see a female witch doctor to get him out. She tied him to a chair and beat him with a sword of ogum—a tough, leathery palm leaf shaped like a sword.

Then she placed a pot full of black powder under his nose and told him to look at a pretty little thing inside. He looked. She dropped a lighted match in the pot to blow the evil spirit back where he came from. He is now in a hospital seriously burned. She is in jail.

Glaciers Reveal Warmer Weather For Canadians

Calgary—(AP)—One of the world's slowest-action "thermometers" has indicated that the Canadian climate, in western Canada at least, has been milder than normal. The thermometer is a number of glaciers in the Canadian Rockies and "readings" have been taken by survey parties, armed with transits.

W. T. McFarlane, Calgary civil engineer, said after the recent survey that the rate of recession on five Alberta glaciers since 1945 has averaged 100 feet a year. Measurement of the movement of the glaciers was started by the Canadian government in 1945. McFarlane said there is no indication, however, that the glaciers will continue to recede. Geologists have reported that glaciers in other parts of the world made periodic advances and retreats with changes in climate. Each cycle is said to last about 35 years.

Charge Negro With Attempted Robbery Of Pollard's Store

Policeman J. E. Mills set a trap for a would-be robber here Saturday and the trick worked. The officer, working on a report that someone had tried to break into Pollard's Store on Pamlico Saturday morning. He watched Saturday night and said he caught Preston Jayne, 22-year-old Negro, trying to break into the place after midnight and arrested him.

Mills also caught Harvey Evans, 22-year-old Negro, trying to break into Harvey Evans' eating place on Pamlico Avenue, the record shows.

Game Wardens Will Be Uniformed In State This Year

Acting Chief of Law Enforcement for the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission Frank Wade of Raleigh was here today with about 40 district game and fish enforcement officers to take measurements for new uniforms. The meeting was held in the courthouse.

The game and fish protectors here represented the first, second and third districts, including about 35 counties. The eastern district is that area east of Raleigh, extending from the Virginia line on the north to a point south, near Burgaw, in Pender County; District Game and Fish Protector J. O. Teele of Greenville said.

Bee Responsible For Auto Wreck

Kinston, N.C., Oct. 3—(AP)—A bee flew in the window of a passing car with these results:

The driver suffered a sting on her neck and lost control of the car. The car ran up on the curbing, traveled about 30 feet with two wheels on the curb and two on the street, struck a steel light post and broke it off at the ground.

Police Capt. Norman Byrd said the driver, Nancy Conn McCauley, Goldsboro school teacher, was not injured.

Pickpockets Try New Technique

Cairo—(AP)—Two men stopped pedestrians on the street, explained they were political police, and searched them. A detective passed by, took one startled look and arrested both men.

They were two of Egypt's best-known pickpockets trying out a new technique.

Thrift's Passing Is One Bright Spot In Pirates Loss To Hampden-Sydney

Bucs Outplayed, But Rise To Occasional Heights, In 20-7 Setback On Saturday

Hampden-Sydney, Va., Oct. 3.—Hampden-Sydney turned a pair of self-made breaks into scores and broke Clarence Holland loose on a 92 yard touchdown run in the second and third quarters here Saturday to turn back East Carolina Teachers College 20-7.

Completely outplayed during the game, but rising to occasional heights on the strength of the brilliant passing of Quarterback Roger Thrift, East Carolina came back to score in the fourth quarter after the Tigers had completed their damage for the afternoon.

Thrift's 28-yard pass to Doug Bryant, who took it on Hampden-Sydney's seven and scooted over, was the Pirates' scoring play. It climaxed a sustained drive of 91 yards. Jim Denks place-kicked the extra point.

After a listless first quarter in which neither team showed much power, the Tigers struck quickly for two touchdowns in the second period. Garrett Leonard, Hampden-Sydney defensive halfback, set up the first score by grabbing the ball from ECTC Fullback Johnny Smith to give the Tigers a first down on the Pirate 26.

Holland hit the line to five yards and Leonard added one. Then after one pass had fallen incomplete, Freshman Bill Blair connected with an 18-yard aerial to End Ed Moore on the two. Three plays later Numa Bradne rammed over from the one. Blair's placement was wide.

End Chuck Pusinelli spilled Thrift while he attempted to pass from his own 25 and Gladstone Smith fell on the loose ball on the 19 to give the Tigers their second scoring opportunity. Howell Gruver reeled off 16 yards on the first play following and then carried it over from the three. Blair's kick made it 13-0.

Early in the third period Holland took a handoff from Quarterback Doug Chapman and swung down the left sidelines for 92 yards and Hampden-Sydney's final touchdown. Again Blair's kick was good. East Carolina almost scored on the kickoff following Hampden-Sydney's score. Substitute Jack Benzle returned the kick 77 yards to Hampden-Sydney's eight before being brought down from behind. On the third down, Tommy Edmonds Tiger safety, intercepted Dick Silers' jump pass in the end zone to end the threat just before the half.

Thrift had trouble with his receivers throughout the game. They dropped several passes. Hampden-Sydney, primed for ECTC's aerial attack, intercepted four passes.

Both teams completed seven passes for 106 yards. Hampden-Sydney outpassed East Carolina 275 yards to 78. First downs were 10-8, Hampden-Sydney.

Leahy Bitter At Officiating In Washington Game

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 3.—Who got hurt the most in that Washington-Notre Dame football fracas Saturday—the Huskies of Irish Coach Frank Leahy?

Four Washington backs and a lineman got damaged as Notre Dame belatedly turned on its steam at Seattle and rushed to a 27-7 victory. But Leahy's feelings were hurt.

He put a big blast on the officiating and asserted "we had to play four extra men."

Notre Dame lost 135 yards in penalties in the contest, while Washington was set back 20.

Leahy still hadn't cooled off by the time he reached Chicago last night. He repeated his charges:

"The officials did their best to protect coast conference football," he declared angrily, adding he was "tired of accepting incompetence politely and without comment."

Officers Stand Guard At Game As Riot Rumored

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A rumor that a gambling syndicate planned a riot during the Brooklyn Dodgers-Phillies game brought a detail of 100 detectives to Shibe Park yesterday.

George F. Richardson, assistant superintendent of police, said the rumor was that New York gamblers betting on the Dodgers to win the pennant, had planted fans throughout the park to start a riot if necessary to beat the Phillies.

Usually 30 detectives are assigned to big league games. Richardson said when he received the report of the rumored riot from traffic inspector Herbert J. Kitchenman he ordered the city's eight detective divisions to send as many men as possible to the park.

Agriculture in the United States is estimated to provide a livelihood for more than 30,000,000 people.

'Toss-Up' Series Despite Odds On Weary Yankees

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Despite the odds favoring the New York Yankees over the Brooklyn Dodgers the 46th World Series opening Wednesday at Yankee Stadium looks like a toss up.

Here are two battle-weary clubs that struggled through the terrific tension of a dying gasp finish. Nobody is fresh and eager. Both could stand a month's vacation. Instead they move on to the series. There will be no days off, barring bad weather, in the best-of-seven competition with the scene shifting to Brooklyn Friday.

The Yanks weren't supposed to win but did. With only one 300 hitter, ailing Joe DiMaggio, in their lineup, they whipped the Boston club that figured to be better "on paper."

Manager Casey Stengel's artful juggling despite 71 injuries and the team's ability to take trigger-quick advantage of every opening, made the difference.

... rascal, the only 20-game winner in the series, was of little help in the stretch drive until he came through with his vital 5-3 clincher yesterday, the last day of the season.

"The big man on the Yanks' staff was Fireman Joe Page, the relief ace, who strode from the bullpen 60 times during the 154-game season. Smokey Joe may well be the key man in the wrestle with the Dodgers.

Manager Burt Shotton has no Page in his bullpen but he has a club that outhit the Yanks 270 to 267, stole more bases 114 to 57 and hit more home runs, 153 to 115.

To top those interesting statistics Shotton has Jackie Robinson, the batting champion of the National League at .342. Carl Furillo, "the arm" of the outfield, finished with a surprising .322 and both of his alternating left fielders Luis Olmo (.308) and Gene Hermanski (.304) are in the charmed circle.

The Dodger home run punch is well divided down the lineup with 23 for Duke Snider and Gil Hodges 22 for Roy Campanella, 18 for Carl Furillo and 16 for Robinson. The Yank power is concentrated on Henrich's 24, Yogi Berra's 20 and Joe DiMaggio's 14 homers.

Yanks Rate Solid Favorites To Win World Series Crown

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Still puffing from the closest two-league finish since 1908, the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers collide Wednesday in the city's eighth subway World Series.

The fall championship playoff finds the Yankees in familiar surroundings. This is their 16th appearance in the classic and the New Yorkers are solid favorites to capture their 12th world title.

The early odds establish Casey Stengel's taped-up athletes as a 10-17 choice. If you like the Yankees you have to lay $17 to win $10.

The first two games, Wednesday and Thursday, will be played in Yankee Stadium, the vast structure in the Bronx that seats 70,000. Without interruption, the Series moves across the river to the 35,000-capacity Ebbets Field Friday for three games, in case there isn't a sweep. The last two games, if necessary, return to the Stadium next Monday and Tuesday.

Inflation has made this New York's first "dime" Series. The subway fare has been raised from a nickel to ten cents since the last inter-borough battle in 1947 when these same Yankees outlasted the Dodgers, four games to three.

The Dodgers, who have been in four previous World Series and never won, also bowed to the Yankees in 1941 by four-to-one.

New York and Brooklyn squeaked through to league championships yesterday in a spine-tling season climax.

The Yankees punctured the hopes of the confident and material-rich Boston Red Sox, 5-3, before a crowd of 68,055 at Yankee Stadium. Vic Raschi set the Sox down with five hits, three of them coming in a bold ninth-inning three-run rally.

The Dodgers pushed across two runs in the tenth inning to repel the Phillies at Philadelphia, 9-7. They thus escaped a tie and three-game playoff with the pursuing St. Louis Cardinals, who bounded out of a slump to whip the Chicago Cubs, 13-5.

Wofford Breaks Catawba Scoring Record By 14-0

By the Associated Press

Three firsts were hung up in North State Conference football circles last weekend.

Wofford became the first team to hold Catawba scoreless since the end of the 1939 season. Wofford won 14-0 and ended Catawba's national scoring record at 89 straight games.

High Point defeated Pope Field 107-0, probably a modern collegiate scoring record in the state.

And High Point played against two Negro members of the Pope Field team. It was reportedly the first time a North Carolina collegiate football team has played against Negroes within the state.

There was only one strictly conference game, Appalachian defeating Elon 14-0.

Western Carolina Teachers whipped Tusculum 20-0. Lenoir-Rhyne defeated Newberry 27-13. East Carolina Teachers lost to Hampden-

Touchdown Club Smoker Tuesday

A dutch smoker for all persons interested in organizing a Touchdown club for Greenville is scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:30 at the Greenville country club.

A spokesman for the organization committee of the club said the sole purpose of the Touchdown club is to foster the continuation of good sportsmanship and a better understanding of sports in general. Tentative plans for the club call for annual dues of $2 which will be used to pay the expenses of speakers at the meetings, and weekly meetings for a dutch smoker and a sports program.

Movies of the North Carolina-North Carolina State football game will be shown at the meeting tomorrow night, the spokesman said. He emphasized that all persons interested in sports are invited to attend the meeting and help with the organization of a Touchdown club for Greenville.

Hail Colts For First Victory

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Some 3,000 people staged a rousing welcome last night at Municipal Airport for the Baltimore Colts, cellar-dwellers of the All America Conference who had just won their first football game in six league starts.

After five straight defeats, four of them on the road, the Colts copied a 35-28 thriller from the heavily-favored Buffalo Bills yesterday in Buffalo's Civic Stadium.

Army-Michigan Game Headliner

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Army and Michigan, two of the nation's college football titans, clash in an old time Donnybrook Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Although this probably will rate as the No. 1 fracas of the day, several other tilts are calculated to hoist the blood pressure to dangerous levels. For instance:

Texas and Oklahoma, two old buddies who have been battling each others' ears off in a traditional rivalry dating back to 1900. They meet at Dallas, with no holds barred.

Ohio State and Southern California at Los Angeles, with the Trojans determined to boost Pacific Coast grid prestige, and the Buckeyes hoping this won't be the only trip West this season. They'd like to return New Year's Day as the big 10's representative in the Rose Bowl.

And down in Annapolis, Md., a rejuvenated Navy eleven tackles Duke, a revitalized Blue Devil array that could be heading back to the football heights.

There are plenty of others on tap as the collegians swing into full gear, but these are the big ones.

Batting Crown For George Kell

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—George Kell, the new unofficial American League batting champion, knows how to hit the ball. But more important—he knows when to hit it.

After breathing on the neck of Ted Williams in the American League standings during the tight pennant drive, the Detroit Tigers' third baseman uncorked two hits against Cleveland yesterday and won the crown.

'Big Murder'

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—(AP)—"Read all about the big murder," yelled a newsboy on a Philadelphia street corner.

Passersby stopped either to buy papers or look over the shoulder of someone who had.

"I don't see anything about a murder," said one buyer.

"Read all about it," yelled the newsboy. "Yanks murder Red Sox."

DOUBLE TROUBLE

AP Newsfeatures By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 20
Joe left the settlement early the next morning, riding on Rafter R horse and leading the other. He and Jay had talked into the small hours while his brother told him in detail of everything that had happened there. Joe had it all pretty well down in his mind.

His brother was the greatest man in the world and Joe worshiped him, but Jay's own weakness lay in the fact that he didn't know how to handle women like Ellen Randall. He wondered about this Mary, who had fallen in love with his brother. She must be something very special to make Jay get that uncomfortable look on his face when he mentioned her. Joe chuckled good-naturedly to himself as he worked his way across the flats toward Old Sandstone's west end. All that was needed was for him to bring Ellen back into line and everything would be all right. Explanations could be made later.

Impatience claimed him and he loosed his arm from the sling. It hurt a bit when it swung, but there was nothing wrong with his other hand. Like Mike Randall, his temper rose with his emotions, and by the time he hit the ranch that afternoon a small tornado was boiling inside him—indignation at the way Jay had been fired and at Ellen's attitude. Well, he'd fix that in a hurry, he told himself grimly.

He rode up and swung down back of the east wing, strode around the building, and came up on the front porch where sat Mrs. Randall and John Selzer's wife. "Why, Joe! exclaimed the ranch woman, rising. "You're back so soon?" "You bet I'm back. Where's the old man?" "He and John are out riding somewhere around the ranch." "Where's Ellen?" he demanded. "She and Mary went down to the big tank to catch some catfish for supper."

"Good. I'll go down and see her." "All right. Go down and try to straighten it out between you young'uns. But I don't know about Mike. He's cooled down a little and may be a bit ashamed of driving you off the ranch. At least Ellen accused him of it."

"I'll go down an' see him, but I want to see her first," he answered grimly. "She's either coming with me or I stay here and Mike can go jump in the tank. And if he don't like it, I'll tick the seat of his pants," he scowled. She gave a hearty laugh. "That I would like to see. Joe. Now you just cool down and go straighten things out with Ellen."

Joe mounted and loped off past the corral, heading south and west. A mile below a great dirt dam had been thrown up across a narrow, deep swale and the sunlight shimmered on water backed up for a 25 PUREBRED HOGS AT AUCTION, October 8, 1949, 11:00 A. quarter of a mile. He thought of the many times he and Ellen had gone swimming in there on Sundays, she in an old dress and he in short-sleeved shirt and pants. They'd splashed and had water fights and floated around clinging to wooden barrels.

Ellen saw him come sliding down the bank with clouds tumbling ahead of him and turned her gaze back to the cork, her lovely face impassive. He hauled up and looked down. "Well," he snapped at her, his anger rising, "ain't you glad to see me?"

"No," she said calmly. "I was hoping you'd never come back." "Quarrelin' with me, huh?" "No, Joe. I'm not quarrelin' with you. I love every word I say. I don't love you any more."

"Pah! How many times have I heard that? Now look here, Ellen"—sitting himself beside her—"let's cut out this monkey business. I shouldn't have blowed up an' left like I did, but what could I do after that old hard-headed range bull treated me the way he did? I—"

"You'll not talk about Mike that way," she cut in icily. Both had forgotten Mary. She sat in silence, something unfathomable in her clear eyes.

"The devil I won't!" he yelled at her. "I'll call him any blasted thing I please and to his face too, the old—"

Her hand made a hard resounding splat against the side of his face, and the fight was on. He slapped her back and then grabbed her in his arms and fought to kiss her while she fought back at him wildly.

"Get your hands off me," she panted. "Don't ever touch me again, understand?"

Mary had risen to her feet lifting the pole with its dripping line. "You two go ahead and fight it out," she said. "I'll go on up to the ranch."

Ellen's eyes were blazing, her red hair shining in the sun. "I mean it, Joe. You led to me once too often, and that I can't stand. Wait a minute, Mary, and I'll go with you."

Joe brought in her pole and picked up the string of fish they had caught. They left the poles in the fork of a mesquite tree and mounted. The ride back to the ranch was made in silence for the most part. They swung down and he gave Ellen the fish he had been carrying.

"See you tonight, honey? After supper?" he asked, much happier now.

"Not tonight or any other night," she answered. "We're through, Joe." He stared at her, his face blanching a bit. "I'm danged if I don't think you mean that," he said. She said, "I never meant anything more in my life."

on the 30th day of September, 1949, in the action entitled "James D. Scott et al vs. Samuel Weatherington et al," the undersigned commissioner will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash before the courthouse door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, on Tuesday, the 1st day of November, 1949, at 12:00 o'clock noon the following described lands to-wit:

All those certain four tracts or parcels of land situated and being in Winterville Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, lying east of the old road leading from Greenville to New Bern and south of the county road that leads from the W. L. F. Corey lands to Cox's Mill and more accurately described as follows:

First Tract: Adjoining the lands of the late Samuel Corey on the north, the lands of Ed Smith and others on the east, the lands of Josephus Gaskins on the south and the lands of W. L. F. Corey on the west, containing 30 acres, more or less, and being the tract of land that was formerly owned by Ed Weatherington and which descended to his heirs upon his death, reference being had to deed from John Page to Ed Weatherington of record in book Q-5 at page 70, and also the deed of record in book T-5 at page 72.

Second Tract: That certain tract of land lying within the Zephia Worthington land plot known as a part of the Providence Cooper land that he bought of Baron Canada, containing 1 1-2 acres and being the same land described in deed from W. L. F. Corey to Ed Weatherington recorded in book R-4 at page 673.

Third Tract: That tract of land bounded by the lands of Emer Tyson, William Haddock et al, beginning at a lightwood knot near Emer Tyson's line and running north to Church Huell's line, thence with Church Huell's line to his corner thence a southerly course to the cart path, thence with the cart path to the beginning, containing 2 acres more or less, and being the same land conveyed to Ed Weatherington by Josephus Gaskins in deed recorded in book W-5 at page 306.

Fourth Tract: Adjoining the lands of Henry McLawhorn, Church Huell, et al, beginning at a pine on a cart path at the said Josephus Gaskins' line, said Ed Weatherington corner running with the dividing line of said Gaskins and Weatherington 280 yards to the corner of Henry McLawhorn, Church Huell and others, known as the old Page corner thence a westerly course with the old Page line, 300 yards to a path thence a southerly course to a pine on the above mentioned cart path near a maple, thence with the path, 260 yards to the beginning, containing 12 acres, more or less, and being the same land that was conveyed to Ed Weatherington by Josephus Gaskins and wife, Harriette A. Gaskins by deed recorded in book Q-6 at page 80.

The land has 5.9 acres tobacco allotment for 1949.

This land is being sold for division among the heirs at law and the purchaser will be required to deposit 10 per cent of bid on day of sale to show good faith.

This the 30th day of September, 1949.

S. O. WORTHINGTON, Commissioner. Oct. 3-10-17-24.

Daredevil Motorcyclist Survives Crash In Stunt

By CHESTER WALSH

Robert Coble, 23-year-old, daredevil motorcyclist, with Jack Kochman's "Hell Drivers," who had a bad fall while traveling 60 miles an hour to make a flying leap from ramp to ramp at the Airport yesterday, was not seriously injured. No bones were broken.

He suffered severe abrasions of the chest, lacerations on his face, lost one tooth and had another broken off. Dr. J. L. Winstead, surgeon at Pitt General Hospital, stated shortly after the accident. A hospital attendant said today the injured motorcyclist is satisfactorily improving.

Coble's motorcycle stunt was one of the features of the Jack Kochman "Hell Drivers" show Sunday the first feature of the annual Pitt County Fair, which starts Tuesday.

The crowd of a thousand or more spectators were frozen in horror when Coble, on his motorcycle, speeded down the paved runway, rode up the inclined wooden ramp, leaped across a wide space, and then his rear wheel struck the end of the second ramp.

He and his motorcycle were somersaulted through the air. He landed on his face on the pavement, the motorcycle apparently falling on top of him. He didn't move. Attendants moved the motorcycle. They were warned by the manager at the public address system not to lift him.

A Greenville Funeral Home ambulance, in charge of Marshall F. Clark and a nurse, standing by took the injured stunt rider to Pitt General Hospital.

Coble has had several bad spills since he went with Kochman's "Hell Drivers." Yesterday's mishap "was a close call," he said after he recovered somewhat from the shock.

Funeral Services For Wreck Victim Held At Vanceboro

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruby Laughinghouse Rief, 25, who was instantly killed in an automobile accident in Vanceboro about midnight Saturday, were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Laughinghouse, near Vanceboro at 3 p.m. today by Rev. W. R. Crowder, Methodist minister of Vanceboro. Burial was in the Laughinghouse family cemetery nearby.

Mrs. Rief was born and reared in the Vanceboro community. She attended the Vanceboro schools, graduating from the Vanceboro Farm Life School in 1941. She also attended Norfolk Business School, Norfolk, Va., and was employed at Cherry Point Marine Base for some time. She was a member of Reunion Free Will Baptist Church near Vanceboro.

Surviving are her parents and three brothers, Richard E. Raymond A., and Donald G. Laughinghouse, all of the home.

Two Killed, One Injured In Wreck

Two persons were killed and another was seriously injured when a car in which they were riding got out of control on a curve in Vanceboro Saturday at midnight. The car struck a tree and wreckage was scattered along 150 feet of pavement, authorities reported.

Mrs. Ruby Laughinghouse Rief of near Vanceboro and Pfc. Milton Peoples, a Cherry Point Air Base Marine, whose home was in Knoxville, Tenn., died in the crash.

Mrs. Laughinghouse's body was taken to S. G. Wilkerson & Sons Funeral Home in Greenville. The Marine's body was taken to the Marine base at Cherry Point.

Riley Hughes of Vanceboro suffered severe head lacerations and is in a serious condition at a New Bern hospital.

This was the sixth highway death to occur in Craven county during the past 10 days, state highway patrolmen stated.

The name of the driver of the car was unavailable today.

James A. Rogerson Funeral Held Today

Mr. James A. Rogerson, 67 died near Greenville at one o'clock Saturday afternoon following five years illness. Funeral services were conducted at the Beargrass Primitive Baptist Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Elder A. B. Ayers, and burial was in the Harrison cemetery near Beargrass.

Mr. Rogerson was born, reared, and spent the most of his life in the Beargrass community. He was married to Eva Estelle Webb of Martin County, and she died in 1937. Since her death he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. John M. Fleming near Stokes. He was a member of the Beargrass Primitive Baptist church.

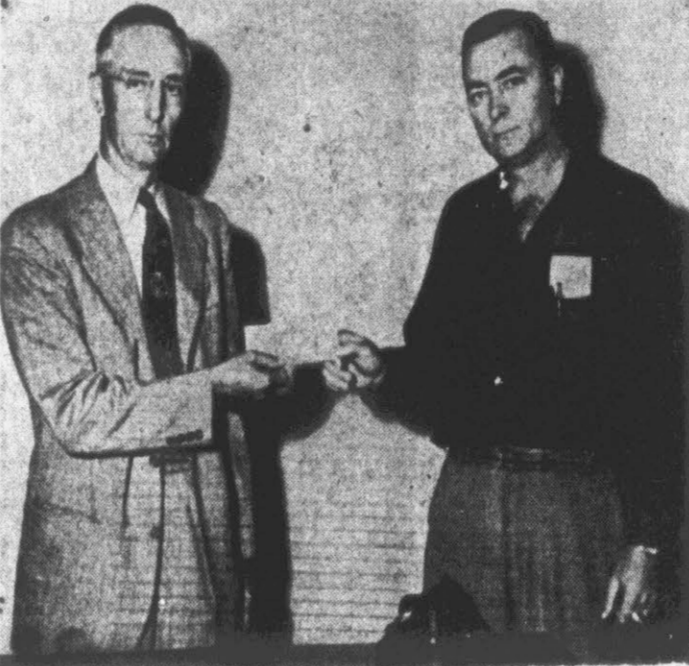

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. John M. Fleming of near Stokes and Mrs. David G. Gay of Roanoke Rapids; four sons, Coy R., Eli, and Gus Rogerson of near Robersonville, and Norman E. Rogerson of Greenville; 15 grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Joe Williams of Morehead City and Mrs. Ella Peele of Williamston.

Needs Teachers

The Greenville High School needs three teachers—one for the high school, one for grammar grades and one special teacher of reading, City Supt. of Schools June H. Rose said today.

A shortage of teachers in the state continues to exist despite the fact that the recent General Assembly gave teachers a slight raise in pay, the record shows. Rose said he advertised in southern newspapers for teachers, including the Atlanta papers. Responses indicated that teachers are making more money in other lines.

Buys First Shrine Circus Ticket

Mayor W. S. Stafford is shown above receiving the first ticket to be sold in Greenville to the Shrine circus, which will be held here on October 18, from Walter Lee, chair man of the ticket drive in the city. The proceeds from the circus will go to aid the cripple children in North Carolina, who are in need of medical attention and who can be helped by the proper care. (Staff Photo by Roy Hardee).

Balkan Peace Bid Again Attempted

Lake Success, N. Y., Oct. 3—(AP)—A new effort to end the vocal—and sometimes shooting—conflict between Greece and her Communist northern neighbors gets underway today.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, President of the U. N. General Assembly, has called a meeting this morning of the four-member Balkan conciliation committee chosen unanimously by the Assembly's political committee last week.

Romulo, who heads the committee, will meet with Lester B. Pearson of Canada, chairman of the political committee; Selim Sarfer of Turkey, vice-chairman of the political committee; and U. N. secretary General Trygve Lie.

The plan approved by the committee calls for invitations to Albania and Bulgaria to send special representatives to appear before the conciliation group. The other nations involved, Yugoslavia and Greece, already have delegations at the U. N. meetings. The Bulgarian representatives have arrived in New York but it is not yet known when the Albanians are due here.

The conciliation task has assumed some urgency since the U. N. special committee on the Balkans reported recently there was danger of a serious outbreak of hostilities in the Balkans unless Bulgaria and Albania stopped aiding the Communist-led Greek guerrillas.

intended to give more time for the union and a company to reach a settlement. Meanwhile, the President calls back his T-H board and asks for a report on the latest developments.

This report must be made within the first 80 of those 80 days covered by the no-strike order. The President makes the report public. If, at the end of the 80 days, there's still no settlement, the National Labor Relations Board steps into the picture.

It has 15 days—after the elapse of the first 60—to hold a vote among the union members to see whether they—even though their leaders reject the idea—want to accept a company's latest offer.

That uses up 75 of the 80 days. In the next five days the NLRB must tell the attorney general the result of the vote. Then, with the 80 days used up, he must go into court and have the no-strike order dismissed.

At that point, after 80 days' delay, a union is free to strike. At this point the President sends a full report to Congress. Then it's up to Congress to take any special action it wishes, by passing some special act to delay a strike further. This hasn't happened yet.

So, although the steel strike was delayed 78 days without benefit of T-H, Mr. Truman can still use T-H to stop it for another 80 days by going through the various steps outlined here.

of whether there can be roast beef on our table.

Sure we're fed up with all this bickering and the consequent drain on our resources. But we're not going to let ourselves develop one-track minds over it. It's no good sitting at home biting our fingernails and brooding.

It's the fellows with one-track minds, and no time for a smile, who are responsible for most of our grief. Heaven save us from the day

FOOD FOR PETAIN—Mme. Petain (right) is aided by Mme. Fernande Nolleau in packing food to take to her husband, ex-Marshal Henri Petain of France, on the Ile d'Yeu off the French coast where he is serving a life sentence for treason.

RUPTURED

SEE THE DOBBS TRUSS
BULBLESS — BELTLESS — STRAPLESS

If you suffer with Hernia, (Rupture) we invite you to a Free Demonstration fitting of the DOBBS TRUSS by a Factory Representative Tuesday Afternoon, October 4th, 1 P. M. to 7 P. M. The DOBBS TRUSS is different from conventional type trusses. No Belts or Straps to bind and chafe. Lightweight, sanitary, wear when bathing. Does not hinder circulation. It only presses the body in two places. If your rupture is larger this year than last, it may be due to your wearing the wrong truss, perhaps, one with a knob that fits into the opening and spreads the muscles apart. The DOBBS TRUSS has a CONCAVE PAD that fits over the rupture like the palm of your hand and supports the muscles in a more natural position. Holds with utmost security and comfort. These trusses will be demonstrated to you without obligation and you will not be urged to buy. For Men, Women and Children.
