Elbert Mills, Route Three farmer, and Franklin Bowling, Farmville 4-H'er, cashed in on almost $100 dollars in premium awards yesterday, sweeping 12 first and 10 second place wins in the poultry division of the American Legion Sponsored Pitt County Fair.

Mills alone captured seven first place awards and six seconds to take home over half a hundred dollars in prizes of five dollars and three dollars.

The Greenville Route Three poultry raiser won all but two of the nine premiums offered for New Hampshire Red chickens. Roy Thomas Bowling, Farmville, took the remaining two honors. Mills also won all six awards offered in the turkey division.

Franklin Bowling missed making a clean sweep in the Barred Plymouth Rock class by one premium that one going to Lindsey Edwards of Grimesland, for his pen of matured chickens.

N. S. Tyson, Greenville Route Two, won first and second place premiums in the White Plymouth Rock class, took first place in the Buff Rock class, and won all three ribbons in the cattle show, exhibiting the top Jersey, Guernsey, and Holstein cows.

The Belvoir Home Demonstration club, carrying out a theme of "Produce, use and save," won the top place premium in the Home Demonstration Educational Booth division. The booth demonstrated home utensils and apparatus which can be used to preserve foods and the foods which can be prepared for future use.

Ballards "Homestead Planning" won second place; Falkland, using "Live at Home" as its theme, placed third and Red Oak, stressing correct picture arrangement, was fourth.

In the 4-H Educational booths, Falkland placed first with a safety exhibit, followed by Grimesland Bell Arthur, and Fountain in that order. Bethel won the Future Farmers of America Educational booth award with an exhibit on farm raising. Grifton, Belvoir and Farmville placed in that order.

Judging was done by New Bern farm and home demonstration officials including A. T. Jackson, county agent; Paul Cox, assistant county agent; and Miss Lovelace Waller home agent.

Today's program includes the judging of some 80 swine entries including 30 4-H and FFA hogs which will compete for the Grand Champion award and a pig being offered by the Drum Hatchery of Greenville.

Judging began at 10 o'clock this morning with Jack Kelly, swine specialist of the State Extension Service, selecting the winners.

One of the highlights of the fair program will be the presentation of awards to winning 4-H members at a banquet sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, at the Res-Pess tonight.

A complete list of winners in the various pantry, clothing, and other departments was not available at press time today but will be carried in a later issue.

Communitistic Germany

Russia Shows Signs Of Creating Communist State Out Of Eastern Zone; Tug-of-War Between East And West To Achieve United Germany; Merger Difficult

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Russia shows signs of being about to create a new, communist-dominated German state out of her eastern zone of occupation, with Berlin as its capital.

This will be calculated to offset the German republic recently established at Bonn by the three Western zones under guidance of America, Britain and France.

When these two Germanys are functioning there will ensue a tug-of-war between Russia and the three democracies to achieve a united Germany—communist if the Soviet wins and democratic if the Western trio are successful. The future history of continental Europe will be heavily influenced by the outcome of this struggle, for ultimately Germany may well resume her old position as the keystone of Central Europe.

That is, she will resume it if she is reunited. And on that score there can be small doubt unless events take a wholly unforeseen turn. It isn't the nature of the Germans to be separated. By hook or by crook the two divisions will unite to reestablish the fatherland as soon as they see an opening.

Active Work On Pooling Military Might Is Begun

Atlantic Pact Defense Chiefs Convene Today In Session At Pentagon

Washington, Oct. 5—(AP)—Defense chiefs of the United States and 11 other Western nations start active work today on plans to pool their military might against any aggressive attack.

They made up the defense committee provided for in the new North Atlantic pact. U. S. military headquarters in the Pentagon was the scene for the opening meeting (2:30 p. m. EST).

The main tasks of the group in the two-day session are to set up eight or more organizations which will do the real military spadework, and to clear the way for the billion-dollar flow of American arms aid just approved by Congress.

President Truman's Sept. 23 announcement of the Soviet atomic explosion gave a sombre urgency to the meeting, but did not advance it. Arrangements have been in progress for weeks.

Britain's A. V. Alexander and Paul Ramadier of France were among the defense ministers on hand.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, top American representative and chairman, was on the program for an informal welcome address before doors were closed for the initial working session.

As a first order of business, the defense committee had the creation of (1) a military committee composed of chiefs of staff, (2) a three-nation standing group with the United States, Britain and France represented, (3) a supply and production board to supervise the distribution and manufacture of arms and (4) five regional planning groups.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the American joint chiefs of staff, is the U. S. representative on both the professional military committee and the three-nation standing group. The latter is in the nature of an executive agency for the whole body to bolster the safeguards of Western Europe and the North Atlantic area.

Wholesale Food Prices Hit Low

New York, Oct. 5—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index dropped to the lowest level in three years during the past week.

It declined to $5.65 from $5.67 in the preceding week and was 13.2 per cent below the year ago index of $6.51.

The new figure is the lowest since the week ended Oct. 8, 1946 when the index was $5.40. Shortly thereafter, the last OPA controls on livestock and meats were removed and prices skyrocketed.

He told detective Sgt. Conwell Keller: "Two things I could never resist are silver coins and lovelorn women. And they've both caused me grief."

Hoffman Claims Removal Europe Trade Barriers

Britain, France And Italy Agree To Lifting Of Import Restrictions

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5—(AP)—Paul G. Hoffman reported today that Great Britain, France and Italy have agreed to a sweeping removal of trade barriers between themselves and other Marshall Plan nations.

The Economic Cooperation administrator said the three countries have lifted import restrictions on as much as 55 per cent of their total purchases from the 13 other countries participating in the European Recovery program.

"This is a practical move towards creating within Western Europe the same sort of free intercourse that has proven so fruitful among the 48 states in our own country," the foreign aid chief stated.

Hoffman's statements were made in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Federation of Labor convention.

He did not list specific commodities or goods on which the Marshall Plan's "big three" countries were dropping restrictions. Nor did he say when the action will become effective, Hoffman said only that:

"Italy, Great Britain and France are lifting quantitative restrictions and import quotas from as much as 55 per cent of their total imports from other Marshall Plan countries."

He described the action as "an historic step" which will further the cause of European recovery, economic stability and world peace.

The prime impact of the action on Europe's people, Hoffman went on, will be in a higher standard of living for the workers of the free countries of Western Europe.

There is an intimate relationship between lower trade barriers and lower costs," Hoffman told his audience.

NSLI Dividend Checks In Offing

VA May Begin Mailing Payments Before Christmas

Washington, Oct. 5—(AP)—The Veterans Administration may start paying the $2,800,000,000 GI insurance dividend before Christmas — at the rate of a million checks a week.

As soon as the bulk of those payments is out of the way the agency will get to work on a second special dividend, the size of which has not yet been determined.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., has ordered completion of the first dividend payment, to some 16,000,000 World War II veterans, by next June 30 if possible.

The VA insurance section had expected to start the payments in January, on a 200,000-checks-a-day basis. But a spokesman told a reporter:

"There is a possibility that we might start them before the first of the year."

"We will go just as fast as we can, and if we can beat the January deadline we will."

About 12,000,000 veterans have applied for the dividend since application blanks became available Aug. 20.

ECTC Observes 40th Anniversary

Today's Ceremonies Stress Great Past And Greater Future Of Institution; Alumnus J. H. Waldrop Delivers Chief Address

East Carolina Teachers College today marked the fortieth anniversary of the opening of the school to students with ceremonies stressing the great past and the still greater future of the institution.

Approximately 1500 students, faculty members, alumni, and other guests assembled in the Wright auditorium this morning at 10:00 o'clock for exercises appropriate to the occasion.

East Carolina President John D. Messick presided at the exercises. "We meet together today," he told the audience, "in honor of those who carried on before us, in memory of those who worked diligently for us in the past, and in appreciation of the many opportunities they have afforded us."

Dr. J. Y. Yoener, state superintendent of public instruction from 1902-1919 and first chairman of the Board of Trustees of the institution, was among those present for the occasion. The beloved and venerable educator, who was one of the most active leaders in the early progress of the college and who has been through the years a constant friend of East Carolina, was given an ovation by the audience when he was introduced by Dr. Messick.

"No estimate," said Dr. Yoener, "can be placed on the value of this great institution to the people of North Carolina." He spoke of his pride and pleasure in being one of the small group of men who worked for the establishment of the East Carolina Teachers Training School and who were instrumental in its development.

"May this institution go on through the centuries," he said "benefiting the minds and souls of men." Obviously touched by emotion, he concluded "I shall carry in my heart the memory of this child at whose birth I was present."

Miss Kate W. Lewis of Greenville, a member of the original faculty of the college, was presented by Dr. Messick to the audience. Mrs. L. B. Fleming, of Greenville, a member of the first graduating class in 1911; former Board members P. C. Harding and R. R. Taylor; and Arthur

Need Funds For Six Scholarships

Over $700 Collected Yesterday; Radio Campaign Tonight

Funds for only six scholarships are needed to complete the ECTC athletic scholarship drive being conducted by Greenville businessmen, Committee Chairman Ed E. Rawl said today.

Rawl reported this morning that over $700 was collected yesterday for the athletic scholarship fund, and pointed out that an effort is being made to complete the drive this week.

A radio program under the direction of Ed Bloom has been arranged for tonight over station WGTC in celebration of the 40th anniversary of the opening of East Carolina Teachers College, and Rawl said, contributions to the athletic scholarship fund will be received by the radio station during the program.

Director Ed Bloom said the program will begin at 8:30 and will include entertainment by a number of local people, as well as the appearance of President John Messick of the college, Coach Bill Dole and various members of the ECTC football team.

"We are going to try to wind up the drive if possible tonight," Rawl commented, "and present the full scholarship fund to the college for a birthday present on its 40th birthday."

Spartanburg, S. C. Oct. 5—(AP)—Thirteen men and four women pleaded guilty in federal court here yesterday to charges of participating in an alleged $1,000,000 Philadelphia to South Carolina illicit narcotics ring.

None of the defendants was sent to jail on the narcotics charges, although one man was given a six months sentence to run concurrently with a sentence he is now serving for auto theft.

Judge C. C. Wyché imposed suspended jail sentences of up to two years and fines up to $500.

A 42-count indictment was returned by a federal grand jury in Greenwood last May. It charged that Mrs. Matthew Slater and Margaret Mary Lisco, both of Philadelphia, stole large quantities of morphine from Sharp and Dohme, Philadelphia manufacturing chemists, and got the narcotics into the hands of the alleged ring.

Greek Guerrillas Transfer From Albania To Bulgaria

Athens, Oct. 5—(AP)—Reliable sources reported today that the Greek guerrilla headquarters had been moved from Albania to Bulgaria and that 8,000 guerrillas were being transferred between the two countries by sea.

Veteran observers said the transfer shows three possibilities. The guerrillas might be used from a Bulgarian base as a spearhead in the Cominform's campaign against Premier-Marshals Tito of Yugoslavia.

2. Guerrillas attacks against Greece from the Bulgarian border might be renewed.

3. It could mean isolated Albania has been written off as a base of guerrilla operations against Greece or Yugoslavia.

An independent source said some of the guerrillas in Albania are going first to Czechoslovakia for training before taking up their new base in Bulgaria.

The Athens newspapers today reported that Czechoslovakia had agreed to return 138 Greek children, refugees of the Greek civil war.

The Greek government claims the children were abducted by guerrillas.

In Prague, Greek officials said they were still negotiating with Czech and Yugoslav authorities for the repatriation of the children, but declared they were uncertain when a final agreement would be reached.

Scott Receives Union's Protest At Police Action

Beating Of Tarboro Mill Striker Charged; Chief Denies Blows Struck

Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 5—(AP)—Governor Scott today received a telegram protesting the alleged beating of a Hart Cotton Mill striker by Tarboro police yesterday.

Tarboro's Chief of police, however, asserted that Robert Stokes was not beaten by the police but was injured as he resisted arrest.

The Governor's office released this telegram from Howard E. Parker, representative of the textile workers' union of America (CIO).

"The unwarranted brutal beating inflicted this afternoon upon Robert Stokes, a citizen of Tarboro, by three members of the Tarboro police force, is a disgrace to the state of North Carolina, and a blot upon law enforcement everywhere. On behalf of the workers of Hart Mill, members of local 316, textile workers union of America CIO, I respectfully and strongly urge you as chief executive of the state to use your good offices to bring an end to police brutality in Tarboro."

The Governor was out of the city and not available for comment. He has asked representatives of both union and management to meet with him tomorrow in an effort to end the five-month old strike.

Chief of Police W. Robert Worsley said that Stokes was arrested after he cursed the policemen, and Stokes "resisted strongly, fighting them for all he was worth, x x x at no time did any officer strike him, but they did have some strenuous tussling with him to get him in the car and keep him there."

The chief said Stokes may have hurt his head when officers pushed him in a cell although none of the officers saw it. Later, Stokes was found in his cell covered with blood, the chief said.

Seventeen Plead Guilty To Drug Ring Charges

Gov't May Act On Steel Exports

Said Considering Action In Face Of Dwindling Inventories Which Threaten Idleness To Hundreds Of Thousands In American Industries

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5—(AP)—The government is considering clamping down on the export of steel in the face of dwindling inventories which threaten idleness to hundreds of thousands in American industries.

Many companies are taking precautionary steps of their own as the nationwide steel strike goes into its fifth day.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation put a rationing system into effect today on many appliances.

There's no sign of peace in the steel strike.

And the picture remains almost as dark in the coal walkout.

The double-barreled attack on America's economy has idled $13,000 steelworkers and $80,000 United Mine Workers.

The issues are about the same. The workers want a better pension and welfare program.

Let's take a look at the picture in steel:

Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers, is standing pat on his demand that industry pay all the costs of a pension and welfare program. Industry is standing pat, too. It will pay up to 10 cents an hour—but insists workers chip in a few cents an hour, too.

There are no negotiating sessions in sight. The government is keeping hands off for the present.

That doesn't mean the government isn't concerned. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer says he's considering imposing export controls on steel. That would keep more steel in America, prolonging employment in many industries in case the strike isn't ended soon.

Almost as Sawyer was talking Westinghouse placed a number of home appliances on an allocation basis to distributors and dealers. These include large model refrigerators, electric ranges, washing machines, clothes dryers, vacuum cleaners, water heaters and fans.

Discussions of the steel walkout are coming from Detroit. For the most part, auto companies have enough steel on hand to make autos for a month, over 8,000 employees of Packard Motor Car Company will be idled tomorrow and Friday. Packard wants to survey the situation and adjust its working schedule to the supply of steel on hand.

There's not a great deal of worrying over the lack of coal although the UMW without of soft coal miners is now in its 17th day. There is still enough coal above ground to keep most of industry humming at least another month.

Reports of sporadic violence come from the soft coal fields daily. In Pennsylvania a coal tippie—coal preparation structure—was damaged by an explosion yesterday at the C. V. Fink and Son mine near Clearfield. And several trucks hauling non-union coal were dumped along roadways near Hollidaysburg, Pa. Three men were arrested. Two pickets were fined in the stoning of non-union coal truck drivers in Cambria County, Pa.

Social Security Law

First Of Two Stories Explaining In Some Detail The Present Social Security Program And How It Would Be Changed Under The House Bill Being Acted On

By JAMES MABLOW

Washington, Oct. 5—(AP)—This is an explanation of two things: (1) the present social security law and (2) the changes which would be made in it if the bill now in Congress becomes law.

The House may pass it this week. But the Senate isn't expected to act before 1950. So don't look for changes before next year.

Nevertheless, the bill shows Congress' thinking on social security. This story deals only with the old age and survivors insurance part of social security, and the workers covered by it. Millions aren't.

The worker—when he quits at 66 or older, he gets a pension based on his earnings during his covered years and the tax he paid.

The most any retired worker can get now is around $40 a month, the least is $10.

If the bill becomes law, immediately all those already on pension would get an increase but the most anyone could get would be $64, the least $35.

French Premier Reportedly Set To Resign Post

Paris, Oct. 5—(AP)—French Premier Henri Queuille has virtually decided to resign, a cabinet spokesman said today.

The spokesman said, following a meeting of the Ministers, that the government was deadlocked over wages and prices.

The spokesman, Robert Bruyell, undersecretary of State, said Queuille would see President of the Republic Vincent Auriol this afternoon.

Normally, when a Premier decides to quit, he formally presents his resignation to Auriol. It is up to Auriol to either accept the resignation or try to talk Queuille into staying on.

For anyone would be $64.)

The wife—The wife of a pensioner worker gets for herself a pension one-half as large as her husband's when she reaches 65, but not until then. (The bill would not change this.)

Since now the maximum for a retired worker is around $45, and his wife gets half, or $22.50, the most an over-65 couple can get under present law is around $67.50.

Under the bill the maximum couple would be around $103.50. Figured this way: A maximum of $69 for him, plus one-half or $34.50 for his wife.

The widow—Under present law the widow of a pensioner worker who died gets her pension raised from her regular pension of one-half his pension to three-quarters of his pension—if she's 65 or over.

(The bill would leave that unchanged but adds this: At the time of his death the over-65 widow additionally would get a lump-sum payment equal to her husband's pension for three months.)

If a pensioner worker's widow is

Winterville F. H. A. The Winterville Future Homemakers held their first meeting of the school year 1949-50 on September 30 in the Grammar Grade auditorium since there wasn't room for us in the High School library.

We are proud to say that we now have sixty-five members in our club and we hope to have more in a few days.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Barbara Worthington. Then we repeated the creed. The minutes of the executive board meeting which met on August 13, were read by our secretary, Marilyn McArthur. June Haddock gave the treasurer's report.

Jacquelyn Branch was elected as our representative to the Student Council.

Initiation of new members was discussed and a committee was appointed to plan the initiation program. They are: Jean Little, Billie Ange, Betsy Castelloe, Jacquelyn Branch, and Virginia Braxton.

The president explained the point system to us. She appointed a girl in each class to look after the points of the girls in her class. In the freshman class—Faye Branch and Dorothy Branch. In the sophomore class—Dorothy Evans. Ruth Little has charge of the Juniors and Seniors.

We are planning to have a Mother-Daughter banquet in November. This is our first banquet and we hope to make it a success.

Our president told us about the county meeting in Ayden on October 8. Each person is to take a picnic lunch. Winterville has volunteered to take charge of registration at this meeting. A committee was appointed for this. They are: Ruth Little, Rebecca McGlohon, Amy Cayton, and Bealee Brickhouse.

The program which was given by the officers was as follows: Marilyn McArthur gave a brief report of the history of F. H. A., its significance and the number of clubs in America today. Jacquelyn Branch explained the creed to us and Deyne McLawhorn explained our motto. Marjorie Little told us about the club flower and Amy Cayton explained the emblem. Emma Lou Mills read the purposes of F. H. A.

and Barbara Worthington told us of the many privileges membership in F. H. A. gives to us. After the meeting we were served delicious refreshments at the Home Economics cottage by the refreshment committee — Dorcas Cayton, Emogene Nobles and Betsy Castelloe. —Wilma Wiggins, Reporter

Tar Heel Tax Collections Show Drop In September

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5—(AP)—Tar Heel tax collections took their biggest drop last month since the end of the war.

Revenue commissioner Eugene Shaw, in his third monthly report since assuming office, said yesterday September's collections dropped almost 16 per cent compared with September, 1948.

September collections from 10 general fund tax sources said Shaw, totaled $6,747,174, or $1,231,405 below the $8,078,579 the state took in September last year. The percentage drop was 15.84.

In a statement accompanying his report Shaw declared that the figures do not necessarily predict a trend.

"It would appear," he states, "that the volume of sales has not substantially declined and with general reductions in prices of taxable merchandise, there would be some indication that the number of sales transactions has probably increased."

Last month's declines were accounted for by drops in income tax, franchise tax, and beverage tax receipts. The income tax brought in $2,284,566, off about $600,000 from a year ago; The franchise tax $157,565, off about $500,000; and the beverage tax $715,466, or about $200,000.

The sales tax, the most up-to-the-minute indicator of tax income trends, was down for the third straight month, but was off but slightly.

Sales tax receipts last month were $3,254,097, compared with $3,354,910 a year ago—a difference of $100,813.

Although general fund revenues fell, highway fund collections continued to gain. Total receipts in this fund last month were $4,580,514, up $480,074, or 11.71 per cent.

Safety Division Fighting To Cut Bicycle Deaths

Raleigh—In an effort to combat a bicycle death rate averaging three a month—two of these being under 20 years of age, the Highway Safety Division of the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles has launched a campaign to organize bicycle safety clubs throughout the State, the Department reported today.

During the first eight months of this year 26 persons were killed in bicycle accidents. Fifteen of these were under 20. Oddly, all 15 were boys. In the same period 156 persons were injured, 117 being under 20, and increase of 43 in injuries among youngsters over last year. Of the 117 who were hurt, 108 were boys and 12 girls. Division officials accounted for the higher incident of deaths and injuries among boys by pointing out that more boys than girls ride bikes and that boys are inclined to be more daring than girls.

With the opening of schools throughout the State, the Highway Safety Division saw increased hazard in carelessly operated bicycles as youngsters pedal back and forth to school and band together for fall outings.

Working through its field representatives, the division is assisting interested communities in laying the groundwork for setting up bicycle safety clubs, with local organizations sponsoring the groups. In communities where no interest has been expressed, field representatives are attempting to arouse interest by pointing out that bicycle accidents rate high on the list of highway mishaps that kill and injure the youth of the state each year.

Under the supervision of E. E. Helms, Raleigh, chief of the driver improvement and educational section of the Division, a number of pamphlets have been prepared outlining methods of organizing bicycle safety clubs, conducting bicycle operation and maintenance tests and stimulating interest in safe bicycling through contests and games.

Safety experts have found that bicycle safety clubs have had a marked effect in cutting down on accidents in areas where they have been organized. Helms said. Traffic regulations, proper method of riding in traffic, singly and in groups and maintenance of equipment are stressed. In addition to promoting safety of riders, the clubs have been instrumental in combatting juvenile delinquency by giving youngsters a healthful recreational activity for their leisure hours.

Quickly Done

New York, Oct. 5—(AP)—John Quickly, 35, appeared yesterday before Magistrate Eugene K. Canudo to answer a charge of driving too quickly.

"You should drive more slowly, Mr. Quickly," the judge remarked after the defendant pleaded guilty.

The judge quickly fined Quickly $5, which Quickly quickly paid, leaving the court hastily.

Girl Scout News

The Greenville Scouts have been taking advantage of the wonderful fall weather to spend each Saturday at Camp Hardee. 19 girls from Mrs. Ben Harrison's troop 9 spent the 24th of September at camp. Happy Helen was really bulging at the sides when that many Scouts loaded in. They had a very happy time cooking lunch on the open fireplace and playing games.

Thirteen girls from Mrs. Hoot's troop spent October 1st at camp. They cooked a delicious one-pot meal on the open fire. All the Scouts who have eaten a Camp Hardee one-pot meal know just what a treat the girls had. They played games and had a wonderful time.

The Junior Woman's Club has designated Saturday, October 8, as the day to sell tags for the Watson Memorial Fund. This fund is used for the children's wing at the hospital and exists for the benefit of little children. Special attention is given to underprivileged children. The club, very fittingly, has asked the Scouts to assist them in the "Neighborhood Sale" of the tags. No Scout need leave her immediate locality to assist in this worthy cause.

The Scout who collects the most money will be given a prize, and each Scout who assists will be given a pass to the picture show.

The tags and cans will be taken to the curb market and given to Troop 10 Thursday. The cans and tags will be taken to the Third Street school for Troop 19. All Scouts who attend the Training school will pick up their cans and tags at the home of Mrs. H. M. Swayne, 120 Park Drive. For the benefit of the Scouts who are not familiar with the location of Park Drive, it is in the vicinity of Woodlawn Avenue.

Strength FOR THE DAY

BEING SET IN OUR WAYS
Several years ago it was discovered that some of the walls of Lincoln Cathedral in England were beginning to crack. Inasmuch as the great cathedral is built on solid rock, this circumstance greatly perplexed architects, until at last they discovered that the cathedral walls are built on rock which holds the walls so rigid that they have no opportunity to give even to the slightest degree. The result is that the traffic on a nearby highway had begun to disintegrate certain sections of the cathedral walls and to cause them to crack.

Cathedrals and human life must both be built on solid stone foundations. But there is such a thing as having the solid underlying rock so rigid and unyielding that the vibration of modern life will cause the superstructure to crack. There is, for instance, such a thing as maintaining our customs, and even our conscientious scruples, with such rigid inflexibility that the turmoil of this modern world will break up at last the things we prize most.

It is hard to know just how much we should give in to modern life and how rigid we should stand out against it. We must build the house of our life upon rock, not upon sand, but we must be sure that the rock is not so unyielding that our superstructure will be unable to withstand the strain which modern life puts upon it.

FORTY YEARS

Today East Carolina Teachers College celebrates the 40th anniversary of the opening of its doors to students. On the campus of the institution more than 1,600 members of the faculty and student body today paid tribute to those who lead the college at the present time, and to those who were instrumental in the institution's foundation and guided it through its infancy.

When East Carolina Teachers College opened its doors on October 5, 1909, the student body numbered 128 men and women representing four states and 31 North Carolina counties. Today the student body of over 1,600 represents 78 North Carolina counties, 15 states, and Iraq, Cuba and the Canal Zone.

The growth of the college, however, can not be measured by the number of students alone, for it has progressed from its modest beginning to its present position as one of the leading teachers colleges in the country.

Its contribution to Greenville and Pitt county cannot be measured alone by the thousands of men and women it has brought into this community during the past 40 years, or the millions of dollars these students have spent with local merchants during their months and years at the college.

East Carolina Teachers College has been a great factor in the advancement of eastern North Carolina during the past four decades. Thousands of boys and girls from the farms and rural communities in this section of the state have received their degrees from this college, and have returned to the communities from which they came to take a part in the great social, economic Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Yesterday was children's day at the Pitt County Fair, so last night Wife Rachel and I joined the crowd. Aside from taking in the sights, I planned to do a column on the movie star, Ken Maynard, and his wonder horse, Tarsan. Many is the Saturday afternoon that I've sat in the State Theater open-mouthed at Ken's feats on the screen. The rest of the week I imitated those feats on a tobacco stick with a rubber pistol. The others could be Tim McCoy or Bob Steele all they pleased. I was Ken Maynard.

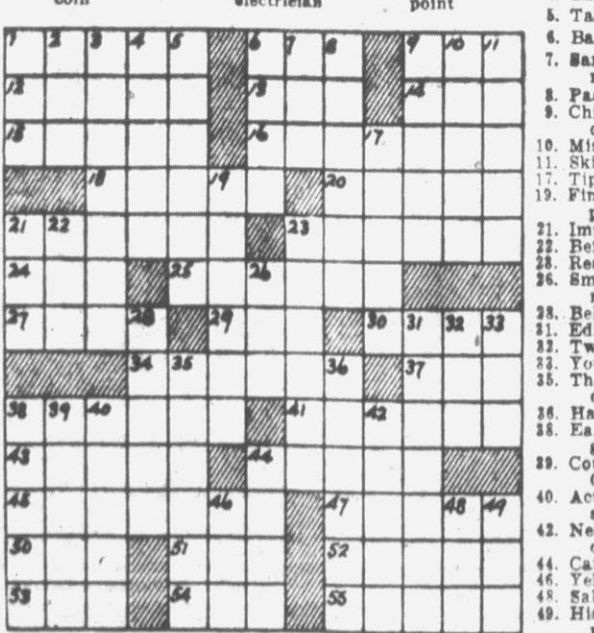

Quite often it's necessary for me to act like I own the joint to get into the right places for column material, but last night it didn't work. With the air of P. T. and political uplifting which this section of the state has experienced during the past 30 years.

As the college passes another milestone in its years, it is passing another milestone in its progress and growth; for not since its beginning, has the institution experienced as great an expansion program as is now being undertaken.

In his inaugural address as first president of East Carolina Teachers College, Dr. R. H. Wright said, "I see in this school not a vision or a dream, but the fulfillment of a prophecy." The people of Greenville, Pitt county and eastern North Carolina today see in the school not only the fulfillment of a prophecy, but visions and dreams of greater advancement for this section of the state in years to come.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—It was after midnight when the fellow came in. He moved up to the bar with a loping stager.

"Gith me a beer," he said. The bartender, who had measured his walk, said: "Just ran out, bud, better try the next bar."

The newcomer said: "Buth lithen, mithen—" And the bartender said sharply: "You heard me! Beat it! We can't serve anybody's who had too much."

The man started to object. Then he looked down the bar and saw a gentleman, by act of Congress, wearing the uniform of an army captain.

"Exthuth me, thir—" he started to say. Then he saw the captain's bored look of distaste. He reached for a pencil and scrawled on a pad: "I was lieutenant in infantry. Shot through mouth—can't talk. Hit in rear end—that's why wiggle. Sorry. No drunk. Only want drink one beer. Appreciate help straighten out."

The captain read the note and flushed a deep red. "Draw the guy a beer," he said angrily. He shoved the note at the bartender, who read it and flushed. Then the barkeep said quickly: "Yeth—yes, sir—what'll you have?"

"Juth a beer—remember?" said the ex-lieutenant. Well, the man had a beer—and a beer—and another beer. The foam seemed to float him a little.

"Sir," said the bartender, pouring a fourth beer he wanted to offer. "I ended up myself with a platoon in the Pacific. I'd been with the boys all the way... but when they offered me a battlefield commission, I..."

"Thankth," said the stranger. "I appretthiate it... I understand... but I'd rather buy my own. I got wife and two kidth... but government paying me penthion at both endth."

He gulped his beer, scribbled a note to the Captain and wobbled out the door. The Captain looked at the note and started to put it in his pocket. "Well?" said the bartender. "I don't think you want to see it."

The stubborn, unsocial child has often turned out to be an active, likeable leader of his classmates... when his defective vision was discovered and corrected. To Exhibit Best In Photography

Representing the American way of life as seen through the eyes of high school students, sixty-two photographs will be exhibited at East Carolina Teachers College October 8 through 15. The exhibit is shown under the sponsorship of the East Carolina department of art and will be located in the college library. Those interested in fine photography are invited to see the pictures.

The exhibit consists of a selection of prize winners from the fourth annual National High School Photographic Awards sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company. Included among photographs are first, second and third prize winners from the four contest classes, and also a selection from the remaining 335 prize winning prints.

The diversity of subject matter testifies to the wide range of interests among teen-agers in photography as an art and in visual interpretation of Americana. Street scenes, public buildings, farm life, children, pets, animal and flower close-ups and pictorial scenes will hang side by side with action shots of school activities taken at football and basketball games and track meets. Many pictures made in the classroom and the laboratory and showing various other phases of school life will also be shown.

The exhibit is now on tour throughout the United States.

National Honors For John Dewey

East Carolina Teachers College will participate in a nation-wide celebration in honor of John Dewey, famous educator and philosopher on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday, October 30. A dedication ceremony during which the lounge and reading room of the Graham building will be named "The John Dewey Reading Room" will constitute a major part of the program conducted on the East Carolina campus, President John D. Messick of the college has announced.

The program here will be one of many held in selected colleges and universities throughout the United States. As the culminating event of the national observance of John Dewey's birthday, a dinner in his honor will take place in the Hotel Commodore in New York City.

Dr. Messick will be chief speaker at an assembly held in the Wright auditorium on the East Carolina campus. He will talk on "Contributions of John Dewey to Education." Members of the college organizations of the Association for Childhood Education and the Future Teachers of America, freshman students majoring in education teachers in the city school system of Greenville, and faculty members of the college have been invited to attend.

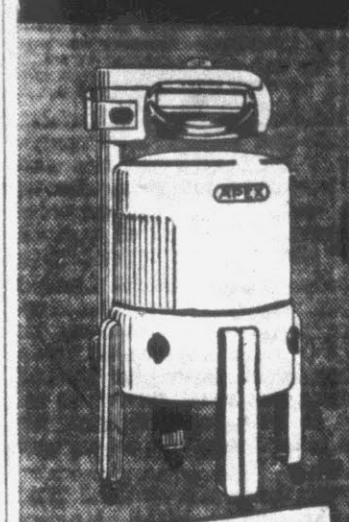

A tea for those present at the dedication ceremony and the assembly will be given in the Graham building as the final event of the day's program.

Key To World Stability Seen In World Trade

Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 5—(AP)—A long-time, former president of the American Farm Bureau says the key to world stability is world trade.

"Anybody who thinks he can eat, drink, chew or wear all we produce is crazy," Edward A. O'Neal declared yesterday.

The former AFB president said in an interview "we've got to trade to survive as the greatest power in the world for Democracy. We used to be extremely Nationalistic—we tried high tariffs, for example—and it didn't work."

O'Neal had a special word of warning for North Carolinians. "You're going to be in a hell of a shape in North Carolina he asserted, unless you have world trade—and I hope you'll quote me on that."

Cullowhee, N. C., Oct. 5—(AP)—The audience loved Margaret Truman in her first appearance on a Southern concert tour.

The soprano voice of the President's blonde daughter delighted a capacity audience at Western North Carolina Teachers College here last night.

Her program ranged from an operatic aria to American folk songs. She sang in English, Italian and German.

Gets A Fortune, Doesn't Want It

Teddington, England, Oct. 5—(AP)—Harold Greenwood inherited $22,400 but he doesn't want it.

"I'm too old to do anything with it," said Greenwood, who is 73.

He inherited the money from his 78-year-old brother Ernest, a recluse, whose hoard was found in a bank after he died.

Ancient Turtle Crawls On Beach Gives Up Ghost

Belmar, N. J., Oct. 5—(AP)—An old, dying, 700-pound turtle crept out of the ocean and gave up the ghost on the beach here yesterday.

The huge creature's cracked and battered shell led fishermen to believe it had been struck by a ship at sea.

They said it is not unusual for turtles, when they feel death approaching, to try to reach shore so as not to be torn apart by other sea creatures in their final weakness.

But he created a big disposal problem for the borough.

Police looked the hulking carcass over, guessed at its weight, and called in the street department.

The street department men said they'd take care of the turtle with a tractor, a block and tackle, and a wagon.

Tobin Calls For Solidarity In Labor Struggles

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin today called on organized labor to replace discord and cross-purposes with "the solidarity of cooperation" to secure such objectives as repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

"It has already been proved that when an international crisis is being faced, or when the labor movement is being threatened within a state or in Washington, AFL and CIO can work together effectively and harmoniously," Tobin said in a speech prepared for the National AFL convention.

Natural carbonation—not pumped-in gas

We, too, could make a beer of sorts in 30 days or less, but not BUDWEISER. Thirty-day beer must be pumped up with CO₂ gas to make it bubble. To brew Budweiser, we really age it and let Mother Nature enrich it with bubbling, natural carbonation. An expensive process which enhances the exquisite bouquet and highlights the distinctive taste of Budweiser.

Tasting is testing. Try a bottle of Budweiser today. There's nothing like it... absolutely nothing.

Alger Hiss Asks Trial In Vermont

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Alger Hiss wants his second perjury trial shifted from New York City to the U. S. District Court in Vermont, on the ground he cannot now get a fair trial here.

The former State Department official, whose first trial ended last July 8 with the jury deadlocked eight-to-four for conviction, announced his plan in a statement yesterday.

Government prosecutors said immediately they will oppose the transfer.

Hiss faces retrial next Monday on a charge that he lied when he denied before a federal grand jury that he had ever given State Department secrets to Whittaker Chambers, self-styled former Communist courier, for transmission to prewar Soviet spies.

Methodist Youth Retreat Staged

The officers and counselors of the Youth Division of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, attended an "Officers Retreat" at Mimosas Shores during the past week end.

At the meeting which was held Saturday and Sunday morning, the group made plans for the year's work.

Saturday, most of the morning was taken up with discussion groups, during which time the aims and objectives for the 1949-50 year were taken up. The value of the Methodist youth group to the church was pointed out during the meeting. The theme for the year's work is "Jesus Way, Our Way." Each month there will be emphasis placed on the "Advantage for Christ, and His Church," in all meetings.

During the year discussions will be held on, "Our Faith in God, Christ The Bible, Love, Prayer, Immortality, The Holy Spirit, and the Kingdom of God."

During the afternoon the executive council met in a private session.

Saturday evening the young people were treated to a "Cook Out" which was planned by Mrs. A. L. Tucker, and Miss Ramona Rouse. A vesper service followed the fellowship hour which had as its setting the quiet of the riverside. Rodney Fulcher, Methodist youth District President, then gave an inspirational message on "Service to God."

The evening discussion groups were opened by Miss Barbara Russell, president of the Senior Fellowship and Miss Janice Ormond, president of the Intermediate Fellowship groups, at which time a report from the executive council was given.

Mrs. J. H. Waldrop announced that two big events will be sponsored by the World Friendship group International Weekend, in February and "World Friendship Bazaar" in March.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship group this year is striving to have varied programs which are both interesting and helpful to the members who attend the meetings. Miss Ramona Rouse, director of Christian Education at the Methodist church said today.

The Youth group returned to Greenville Sunday morning. Officers of the young People's Fellowship group attending the meeting were: President Barbara Russell, vice-President, Donald Tucker, Secretary, Mitzi Sue Taylor, Treasurer Lyman Ormond, Pianist, Carolyn Clapp; Intermediate Fellowship officers, President Janice Ormond vice-president Johnny Russell, secretary, Joan Manning, Treasurer, Lenna Rose, and the counselors, were, Mrs. J. Chinese Music Is Discussed At Lecture Club

George E. Perry of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers College discussed Chinese music before members of the Faculty Lecture Club Monday evening October 3. The meeting, held in the music room of the Austin building was the first scheduled for the 1949-1950 term.

To illustrate his remarks, Perry sang a number of classics and folk songs of the Chinese people and pointed out the type of subject matter, melodies, and accompaniments characteristic of them. Mrs. Margaret Gilbert of Greenville acted as his accompanist. Typical Chinese instruments were illustrated by recordings.

In discussing modern Chinese music, Perry emphasized the influence exerted by the Christianization of large groups of the Chinese people and their consequent knowledge of the music of the Western world. He also indicated that modern jazz has influenced Chinese music of the present day.

Dr. Lawrence Brewster, president welcomed about thirty members to the meeting and discussed the purposes of the club. Perry was introduced by Mary H. Greene, chairman of the program committee, who also announced speakers and topics for meetings to be held later in the school year.

THE TREND OF THE TIMES...

Lem was right. The trend of the times is don't be caught napping, and that is the reason the beer retailers of North Carolina are cooperating 100 per cent with the Malt Beverage Division of the North Carolina ABC Board. They are cooperating with the Malt Beverage Division to be sure that the people of North Carolina have the kind of retail beer establishments that the General Assembly had in mind when it established the Malt Beverage Division.

"O L E" Josh was ain't on a leg in front of Lem's store the other day. Suddenly he looked up and drawled, "Did you fellows see where the Governor was down to Lumberton last week to help the Carolina Power & Light Company cut in their new steam plant to make electricity? They tell me they don't need any more electricity now. What do you think of that?"

Lem stopped sortin' apples to say, "Yep, they tell me that they don't really need that electricity now, but that they want to be sure they have it when they do need it. That's the trend of the times—don't ever be caught napping."

Greenville Athletic Association To Abandon Greenies

Offer Franchise For Sale After Financial Loss

Greenville's Greenies, the team which roared to the Coastal Plain Class D baseball play-off championship, may drop out of the league.

Stockholders of the Greenville Athletic Association yesterday decided not to operate the baseball club in the Coastal Plain loop in 1946 after suffering a financial loss in the season just past.

The franchise, purchased by eight local baseball enthusiasts when the Greenville Baseball Club Inc. went broke last year, will be offered for sale. Officials said every opportunity for acquiring and operating the club will be made available to Greenville fans in an effort to keep Greenville in the league.

If the franchise is not purchased locally, however, the stockholders probably will find anxious buyers in any of a number of neighboring cities which have long wanted to get into the league. Wilmington and Henderson are among the cities which will probably make a bid for the vacancy.

At present the team is intact, boasting the same players it used to win the play-offs over Kinston. Officials said no changes would be made until the player-draft which will be held later this month. None of the rookies will be drafted.

Officials could give no estimate of how much they lost this year. They were certain, however, that they operated at too great a financial loss to undertake sponsoring the team next year.

Last year the team was operated by the Greenville Baseball Club Incorporated, a group which was defeated financially and gave up after the first season.

The eight stockholders who purchased the franchise for the past season included: W. Z. Morton, president; R. M. Garrett, J. S. Picklen, R. E. Rogers, Lee Hannah, E. E. Rawl, J. C. Lanier and G. V. Smith.

Should Greenville not operate in the Coastal loop next season, it will bow out in the same fashion as it made its debut, as a champion. The Greenies won the championship in 1934 when they first joined the Class D circuit.

They failed to land a championship again until this year when, led by Manager Pappy Williams, they fought up from the canvas to go into the play-offs and sweep the series.

'Souvenirs'

St. Louis, Oct. 5—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinal fans who applied for World Series tickets here will get them.

But they'll be marked "souvenir."

The tickets are being mailed along with the returned checks and money orders, a club spokesman said today.

Over 100,000 requests were received by the club for tickets to the games that won't be played.

Light Rain Falls At Series Site

New York, Oct. 5—(AP)—A light rain began at dawn today throwing into doubt play of the first world series game between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

At 9 a. m. a light drizzle was falling.

The forecast for the day was "cloudy and mild with a few showers."

Decision on playing a world series game is in the hands of the baseball commissioner, A. B. Chandler.

There has not been a postponement of a series game since 1941, and the policy is to play if conditions are at all favorable.

In the event of a postponement, the entire series is set back one day. As it is now scheduled, the first two games are today and tomorrow in Yankee Stadium, with the third and fourth Friday and Saturday at Ebbets Field.

The series is a best four-out-of-seven contest, and the fifth game, if needed, is Sunday at Ebbets Field, with the sixth and seventh on following days at Yankee Stadium.

The 1946 series, which may be the richest ever due to Yankee Stadium's 70,000 capacity and the fact the prices a year ago were lifted to $8 for boxes and $4 for reserved seats, is a complete sellout.

Touchdown Club Organized Here

Between 35 and 50 local men last night organized the Touchdown Club of Greenville at a Dutch smoker at the Greenville Country Club.

Erskine Duff was named Referee of the club, Withers Harvey was named Umpire, and Gentry Galloway was named Head Linesman.

George Hogan, executive secretary of the University of North Carolina educational foundation, was present at the meeting and showed movies of the Carolina-Georgia football game which was played Saturday in Chapel Hill, and movies of the Carolina-State football game.

Hogan was introduced by Lee Polger.

Referee Duff said today the next meeting of the organization will be held at the Country Club at 7:30 on Oct. 19, and regular meetings of the club will be held every two weeks.

A scrub team to be composed of one representative from each of the local alumni associations of Duke, Wake Forest, State and Carolina, and two other members at large will be named at a later date, Duff said.

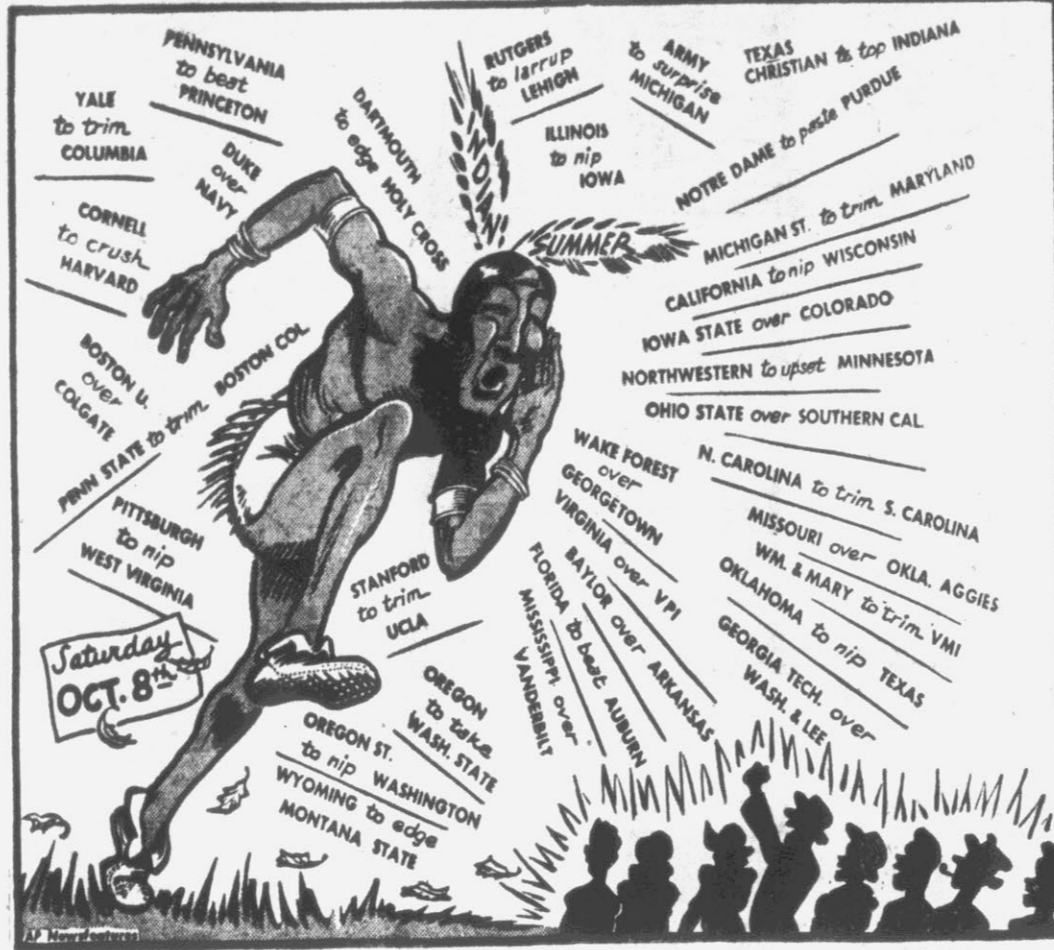

"Everybody is invited to attend the Dutch smokers," Referee Duff explained today, "and we hope to have an ultimate membership of 100 to 125 members in the Touchdown Club of Greenville."

Heavy Fine For Card Cheating

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 5—(AP)—Two men convicted of cheating at cards in Williamson have been fined a total of $19,300 and sentenced to one year in jail each by circuit judge C. V. Ferguson.

The men, Junior Mullitt and Oliver Newsome were convicted yesterday of cheating Kiryl Georgerly of $3,680 in a poker game last May 3 in Williamson.

Dole Works Crew On Past Mistakes

"We made plenty of mistakes last Saturday. Let's work on them," were the words Coach Bill Dole greeted his East Carolina squad Tuesday afternoon as the Pirates' practice session got underway.

Coach Dole, carrying out his plans for a strenuous week's work, drilled his squad hard on mistakes evident in last week's game and also had his squad running through every play they have.

In their last game the Pirate blocking was definitely not up to par and considerable time is being devoted to blocking assignments. No pictures were taken of last week's game so just who, or how many, were missing blocks is not known. Using the only road open to him Coach Dole has his entire squad working on blocking. Said Coach Dole, "You can never get too much blocking. A ball carrier goes only as far as his blocking will let him."

Mac Lewis, 155 lb. guard, is still in the infirmary with a nose injury. Coach Dole praised the rugged little guard by saying, "Up until the time he was injured Mac played a fine ball game. He is small but has plenty of fight and drive and really made trouble for Hampden-Sydney. They never did push him out of the play and Mac was at the bottom of every play that came his way."

Don McKenzie, 200 lb. tackle, suffered a leg injury and worked out in light equipment. McKenzie and Lewis are the only two Pirates on the casualty list and barring injury in practice session the Pirates will be nearly at full strength for their conference battle with a fast Elon club.

Mites Playing New Bern Here On Thursday Night

Coach Bill Kittrell's Greenville Midgets, idle last week after their 7-0 win over Kinston two weeks ago will play host to New Bern's Cubs here Thursday night in a gridiron classic getting under way at 6:30.

New Bern, rated one of the top teams in the midwest football world this year, topped Kinston's Red Imps 12-0 last week on the sensational running of some fleet footed little backs who are capable of going all the way once they break loose.

Greenville, defeated by the New Bern boys in their second game last year and rated a one-touchdown underdog, will be gunning for an upset Thursday. Coach Kittrell said yesterday that his boys have been working hard in preparation for the contest.

Kittrell has made some changes in an effort to give the Mites the added power they will need to knock over the Cubs. In the backfield he has elected to use Pat Sawyer, a much improved ball carrier, at the quarterback post. Bob Howell, the boy who ran the Mites' touchdown against Kinston, will go in at full Gen. Duffin and Bob Shackelford will play the halfback positions.

Others slated to see considerable action are Tommy Saleed, Ike Riddick, Angus Duff, Hughie Harrison, Barney Barrett, Charles Hollingsworth, Edgar Moore, Charles Polard, George Sideras, Tommy Key Norris, and Billy Dunn.

Optimism Rampant For VMI Chances Saturday

By The Associate Press

Virginia Military Institute's Keydets aren't paying much attention to the odds in considering their chances against formidable William and Mary Saturday afternoon at Williamsburg.

Optimism was rampant at the Keydet football camp at Lexington today where coach Tom Nugent sought to ready his reserve-thin line for its battle against the massive Indian forward wall.

Nugent wasn't much worried about the V. M. I. offensive in Joe Veitri he figured he had just as good a passer as the favored Indians could put on the field and the Keydet backfield also is well-stocked with runners.

The line was the problem and Nugent admitted he still hadn't found the right tackle combination for the game. He was in hopes, though, that giant Jack Frankberger, a sophomore, would recover from a knee injury in time to take his place in the lineup. The Keydets will need weight up front against the Indians in the Southern Conference fray.

Last year, the Indians won, 31-0 it was their seventh straight victory over the Keydets.

First Basketball Practice Session Held By Pirates

East Carolina Teachers College's basketballers met for their first practice session Monday with loosening up drills and shooting dominating the opening workouts.

Of last year's team, which finished 4th in the conference and advanced to the semi-finals in the tournament, all but three men return to the hardwood. Gone are Charlie Bill Moyer, All-Conference forward, and guards Bob Shufford and Ben Harrison.

Heading the list of returning lettermen will be Lou Collier, All-Tournament forward, and 6'7" Jack Evertson, 2nd team All-Tournament forward. Toddy Fennell, Len Bauer, and Frank "Mr. Rebound" Maennle fill out the squad, along with Ed Tanner and Jim Blake.

Newcomers hopeful of making the Pirate team are Warren (Sonny) Russell, New Bern high school great who won the outstanding player award at the Greensboro All-Star game. Richard Blake, Camp Lejeune High, who was voted Class B All-State center. Roger Thrift consistent scorer two years ago but unable to play last year, may return to the court this year.

Last year the Pirates scored 931 points with one man hitting for over 200 points, Towering Jack Evertson racked up 212 points to lead the Pirates and was followed by Charlie Bill Moyer with 188, Toddy Fennell 137, and Frank Maennle with 131. Len Bauer, sturdy ball handler, tossed in 96 points for the Pirates. Lou Collier, who saw little action until late in the season, racked up 75 points and Ed Tanner 61.

Heavyweight In Critical Shape

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 5—(AP)—Heavyweight Boxer Enrico Bertola, who collapsed in his dressing room last night after dropping a 10-round decision to Lee Oma, was reported in critical condition today.

Emil Nanny, manager of the 25-year-old Chicago fighter, said Bertola underwent an operation this morning for removal of a blood clot from his brain. Nanny quoted the doctor as saying that the boxer, a former resident of Italy, had "a very good chance" of recovering despite his critical condition.

Nanny said Bertola had been in his dressing room about 15 minutes last night when he complained of feeling sick on his stomach. He was sitting on a table when he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Oma, weighing 196½, seemed on the verge of scoring a knockout in the final round, but had to settle for a unanimous decision before 7,861 fans at Memorial Auditorium. Bertola weighed 194.

Oma pummeled his opponent with both hands from the start, but never succeeded in knocking him down. Bertola's only trip to the canvas came in the third round when he missed with a wild left and lost his balance. Bertola left the ring under his own power.

Arizona Fliers Nearing World Endurance Mark

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 5—(AP)—Two Arizona fliers expect to better the world endurance flight record tonight.

Bob Woodhouse and Woody Johgeward of Yuma will pass the old mark of 1,008 hours at 9:15 p. m. (EST), barring any last minute difficulties. They are flying a light single engined plane.

Although tired, and suffering from leg cramps, they say they will stay in the air for another week if possible and come down on Columbus day, Oct. 12.

By that time they will have been in the air seven continuous weeks. The 1,000 hour record was set last spring by Bill Barris and Dick Riedel of Fullerton, Calif.

Challenge Time Comes Again For Two Titlests

Honolulu, Oct. 5—(AP)—Challenge time came again today for Sam Ichinose, right on semi-annual schedule. This time he is issued them to a brace of world boxing champions.

The melancholy manager offered Rinty Monaghan, the Irish crooner, 7,000 pounds sterling to defend his world flyweight title against Dado Marino, a perennial contender. Devalued pounds, of course, Sam slyly whispered, but no matter how you slice it, that is $19,600.

And he offered Willie Pep 40 per cent of the gate to hazard his featherweight crown against Henry Davis, rated the No. 3 contender by the National Boxing Association.

In a burst of generosity, Sam Samuel threw in two round trip tickets and expenses with each offer.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 22
He spent the night alternately lounching in the saddle, sitting with his back against a fence post and smoking thoughtfully, and riding his part of the big horse pasture fence. When he rode in at daylight Harry was down at the corral, turning in some of the saddle stock. They looked at each other silently for a moment; then both burst out laughing. "Here, I'll give you a hand with the saddle," Harry said, going to work.

"Thanks," yawning. "I'm going to roll in and sleep all day."
"Everything quiet?"
Joe Allison nodded. "Did you see Ellen last night?"
"It was Harry's turn to nod."
"She still mad at me?"
"Frankly, I don't know, Joe. It's hard to tell what Ellen thinks sometimes. It was that way back East."
Joe said soberly, "I got a hunch she means it this time. I know up into one of the territories. I think there's a better future for a lawyer up there."

"When are you going?"
"In a couple of weeks or so. I've a few more affairs to wind up and then I'll close my office. And some friends have been hinting about giving me a party—"
He didn't get any further, for Mike Randall was a man who never believed in doing things by halves. He slapped his thigh a resounding blow. "Why, dog-gone it, Jim! Why didn't I think of it before? You bet you'll get a going-away party. You name the date and we'll have every rancher in the country out to the place for a dance and barbecue."
"Now hold on a minute, Mike," protested the lawyer. "The fall roundup will be starting next week and your own men will be on the range, as will men from all the other outfits. Most of the owners will be with them. It wouldn't be fair to Hank. But—" he went on seriously, "if you'd care to have me out for an evening with just a few friends, I'll consider it an honor to accept."
"You've just accepted. Name the night."
"I'll be all cleared up by a week from this coming Saturday. I could ride out with my pack horse, stay all night, and set off Sunday."
And thus it was agreed. Five night later Jay had a visit from Hank. The raid would come on the following Saturday night while the party was in progress. Old Jim was a slick one, all right, all right, Hank had chuckled gleefully.

Joe Allison, still on night guard, received the news with mingled dread and relief. Whatever happened, it would end the suspense of Jay being held up there prisoner, of being around Ellen—his strange new Ellen who looked at him with that unfathomable something in her eyes—of being near Mary Seltzer.

Truck Victim's Death Accident, Coroner Finds

A coroner's jury in session at the courthouse last night found that James Spencer, 22-year-old Negro of Pinetown was accidentally killed when he fell from a log truck near Farmville last Friday. Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided. George F. Keech, Route 1, Pinetown, driver of the truck, who was returning a group of workers from pulp logwoods to their homes, was the principal witness. He said he felt the truck strike an obstruction on the highway, slowed up and saw in his mirror that one of the workers had fallen from the truck. Spencer, in moving about the truck, missed the balance and fell off, one of the right wheels passing over him. His skull was fractured and his body was badly mangled. State Highway Patrolman T. M. Martin of Farmville, who investigated the accident, verified Keech's testimony.

J. Herbert Waldrop, alumnus of East Carolina who is now vice president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. of Greenville, delivered the chief address of the morning. After tracing events leading up to the establishment of the institution Waldrop recalled what the school was like when as a boy of fifteen he was in the school and enrolled as a student in 1910. He paid tribute to Dr. Robert H. Wright, first president of the institution.

"Years after I was a student here," said Waldrop, "I was appointed a member of the Board of Trustees. I am proud," he stated, "that during my term I was given the privilege of voting for Dr. John D. Messick as the new president of East Carolina Teachers College."

Service to the people of North Carolina, Dr. Messick told the audience, has always been the aim of the college. The chief purpose of the school, he added, was originally and has remained primarily the training of teachers for the public schools of the state.

New conditions and new demands, he explained, have caused the school to expand its services and Ideologically the advantage in the battle for unity will lie with the three Western zones. Nazism still claims a good many adherents but communist never has had much strength there.

On the face of it, the prospects of western Germany being won over to the Soviet side seem remote. On the other hand, encirclement of eastern Germany into the Bonn government will be difficult so long as Russian military occupies that zone.

Social Security . . .

(Continued from page one) under 65 she gets no pension herself until she reaches 65 under present law. But she does get at the time of his death a lump-sum payment equal to his pension for six months.

(Except for making the lump-sum payment in her case equal to his pension for three months, instead, of the present six, the bill would make no changes.)

Suppose a covered worker dies before reaching the pension age of 65. What happens to his widow if she's under 65? She'll get:

1. No pension until she reaches 65 but then she'll get a pension equal to three-quarters of what his pension would have been.

2. But she does get at the time of his death the same payment a pensioned worker's widow gets—both under the law and under the new bill.

The widow with dependent children—if a covered worker dies, before or after 65, and leaves a widow with one or more children under 18 years of age, then—

Under present law she gets the lump-sum payment, plus three-quarters of her husband's pension rate, plus one-half his pension rate for each child under 18. The payment for each child stops as each reaches 18. If the widow is under 65 when the last child reaches 18, the three-quarters payment to her stops until she reaches 65. Then she gets it again.

Under present law such a family of widow and minor children, no matter how many children, can receive no more than a total of $84 a month. The bill would raise the maximum for such a family to $150 so long as the children were under 18. That $150 is a maximum figure. Most such families would receive

Deer Hunt In West To Be Held During Latter Part Month

District Game and Fish Protector J. O. Teel of Greenville today announced that hunters desiring to participate in deer hunts in Western Carolina must send their applications to the Raleigh office of the N. C. Wildlife Resources Commission by Oct. 8.

Teel called attention to an appeal of the Wildlife Resources Commission to hunters to turn into headquarters any bands they may find on doves they shoot during the open season. The bands contain a serial number which indicates the locality where the dove was killed. Information from the bands on the doves is important to dove management and control, he said.

The Wildlife Service is offering cash prizes for dove bands turned in. More than 2,500 doves have been banded in North Carolina. It is believed that many of these doves will be killed in the state during the present hunting season. Some bands recovered from doves killed in this state were placed on the birds' legs in Massachusetts and Indiana.

Stunt Motorcyclist Injured Last Sunday Decides To Retire

Robert Coble, 23-year-old Reading, Pa., motorcycle stunt rider, who was injured when his machine missed one of the ramps at the "Hell Drivers" show at the Greenville airport last Sunday afternoon, has quit the stunt riding business.

Coble, whose motorcycle fell in a 60-mile-an-hour jump from one inclined ramp to another, was painfully injured when he and the machine somersaulted and landed on the hard runway. Spectators were horrified when he fell and lay prostrate on the ground. He was taken in an ambulance to Pitt General Hospital. A surgeon there said Coble received severe abrasions on his chest, lacerations on his face and lost a couple of teeth, was not seriously injured.

Girl Runs Into Passing Car; Painfully Hurt

Mildred Cherry, 11-year-old girl was painfully injured today about 12:45 when she ran into the street and hit a passing car.

According to reports, the little girl was walking along Fifth street when a dog scared her and she ran into the street and into a car driven by William C. Stokes, of Johnston Street, Greenville.

Stokes' car was heading towards Five Points at the time that the girl ran into the street and struck the rear of the car, the police department reported.

The Greenville Fire Department's rescue truck was called to the scene and the girl was taken to Pitt General hospital where her condition was reported to be good. Attending doctors stated that the girl suffered numerous cuts and bruises about the face and right leg, but that if her condition improves she will probably be released tonight or early tomorrow.
