

Kaiser And CIO Steelworkers In New Agreement

Steel Walkouts Spread To Other Plants; Kaiser Accepts Board Terms

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6—(AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers made peace with Henry J. Kaiser but spread their walkout to two ore plants today.

And as the nationwide steel shut-down over pensions reached the sixth day, the federal government—still ignoring Philip Murray's battle with Big Steel—announced it would try to settle the 18-day-old strike of 400,000 soft coal miners.

The ranks of 500,000 striking steelworkers were joined last night by 1,500 at the Atlantic Steel Company in Atlanta and 2,800 at the Riverdale plant of the Acme Steel Company near Chicago.

Atlantic is a basic steel plant which also does some manufacturing while Acme's Riverdale plant is primarily a fabricator.

Despite these developments there are no signs of an early peace in the double-barreled steel-coal walk-out.

Sporadic violence marks the coal strike. A few thousand non-union miners continue digging with protection of heavily armed guards and police.

Kaiser Steel's acceptance of contract demands was announced last night by Murray, president of the steelworkers.

Kaiser did what Big Steel refuses to do. It signed an agreement to give four cents per man-hour for insurance and six cents an hour for pensions paid completely by the company. The plan is retroactive to Oct. 1. Thirty-five hundred employees at its Fontana, Calif., plant will benefit. Their contract was due to expire October 15.

The Kaiser agreement, which follows the exact recommendations of the Presidential fact finding board, is the first reached since the strike began. And the West Coast firm is the second basic steel producer to accede to the union's demands.

Portsmouth (Ohio) Steel, with 4,000 employees, signed before the strike deadline six days ago. American Can Company with 14,000 employees also agreed to a pension and insurance program before the strike was called.

Prison Inmates Had Punchboard

Raleigh, Oct. 6—(AP)—Now inmates of Central Prison have tried to add a punchboard to the routine.

Warden Joe Crawford reported yesterday he had found an improvised punchboard concealed in a garbage can.

He said its owner had been using it for a game called "put and take." You punch out a slip of paper and either put or take from five cents to a dollar depending on what you find on the slip.

Harry Bridges Says Dock Strike Is Ended

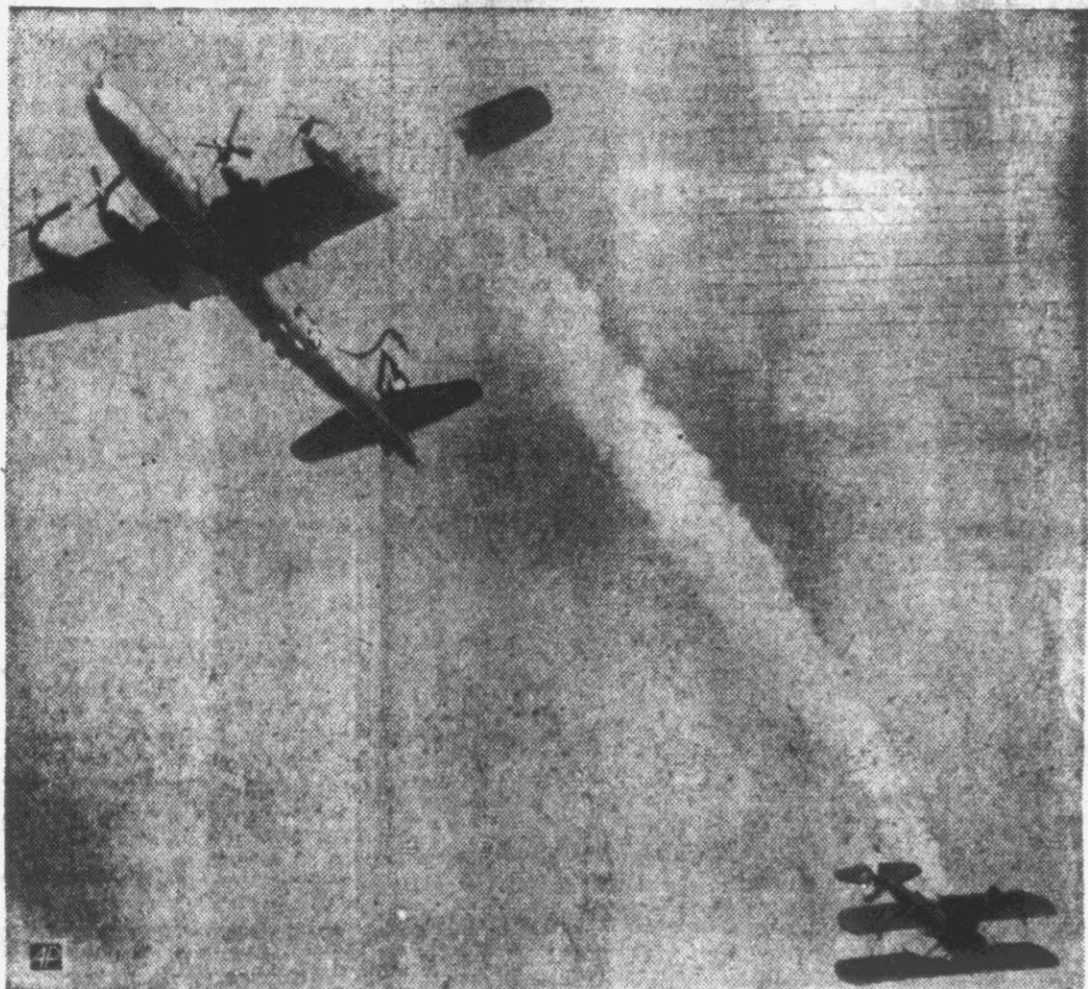

Honolulu, Oct. 6—(AP)—Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, announced today he had negotiated a settlement of the 159-day-old Hawaiian dock strike, but there was no immediate confirmation from employers.

Signs Arms Aid

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—President Truman today signed the $1,314,010,000 arms aid bill calling it "a notable contribution to the collective security of the free nations of the world."

The legislation authorizes American arms for 14 countries in western Europe, the middle East and the Far Pacific to help them resist Communism.

Close Call For Acrobatic Plane And A B-29

Chet Derby, in an acrobatic exhibition at the air show in Oakland, Calif., flies his smoke-trailing plane (right) through the air and barely misses an Air Force B-29. This unscheduled event occurred when the low-flying B-29 passed over the air field. Derby, flying upside down and unable to see what was above, came within five feet of colliding with the huge military plane. This outstanding picture was made by photographer Bill Crouch of the Oakland Tribune. (AP Wirephoto).

Farm Youths Urged To Seek Balanced Farm Economy

D. S. Weaver, assistant director of the State Extension Service, challenged Pitt County 4-H and Future Farmers of America boys to work for the progress of agricultural North Carolina last night at a Chamber of Commerce-sponsored banquet honoring farm boys and their parents participating in Pitt's record breaking 1949 Fair.

The dinner meeting, held at the Respass, was highlighted by the presentation of awards to 28 4-H and FFA youths taking part in the fair. Presentations were made by D. J. Whitchard, president of the American Legion-sponsored fair.

Weaver, in his address to the group of near 100, declared, "We have a great state of potential wealth. He pointed out, however, that "We are an unbalanced state," explaining that North Carolina's production of livestock is very low.

"We don't want to balance it by cutting off what has made us, but to bring the other things up to where they should be," Weaver cautioned.

The speaker cited the low financial condition of the state agriculturally and urged the boys to realize that North Carolina and the nation must "... go forward in an economic unity."

Weaver lauded the local Chamber of Commerce for its interest in the fair and farmers. Never, he said, had he seen a Chamber of Commerce take such an enthusiastic part in such an event.

Among the numerous prizes awarded were three showmanship awards offered by the Chamber of Commerce. Hubert Garris of Farmville took the first prize place, followed by R. H. Heath and Hubert Brown.

To little 10-year-old Ray Hardee of the Grimesland 4-H club, went one of the most coveted awards of the fair. It was Ray who produced the Grand Champion hog of the fair in competition with 31 other 4-Hers and FFA youths.

Ray's Poland China senior pig took the blue ribbon in its class, the breed champion award and finally the Grand Champion honor. Fourteen-year-old Hubert Garris of the Reserve Farmville FFA raised the Reserve Champion pig, a Duroc senior pig which also won the creed championship and the blue ribbon in its group.

R. H. Heath of Grimesland raised the Reserve Champion Poland-China and Eason Clark, Belvoir raised the Reserve Champion Duroc. Blue ribbon awards for swine production went to Leon Raymond Hardee, Grimesland; Eugene Hardee, Grimesland; Kenneth Owens Fountain; Hubert Brown, Stokes; N. C. Hardee, Grimesland; Jimmy Allen and Billy Ray Allen, both of Farmville; and Earl Hardee of Grimesland.

'Hot Seat' Gag Starts Involved Chain Of Events

Detroit, Oct. 6—(AP)—A welder's "hot seat" gag at a car factory here yesterday had these results:

Robert Gunn, 40, a welder, is in a serious condition from a head injury.

Edward Fife, 28, victim of the gag, is held on an assault charge pending the outcome of Gunn's injury.

Fife told assistant prosecutor Nathan Yauffman he clouted Gunn over the head with a ballpeen hammer after Gunn, lust to see him jump, heated his metal seat with a welding torch.

Gunn, in a hospital, was unable to make a statement

Navy Captain Is Expecting Court Martial For Acts

Crommelin Suspended, Under Restriction For Revealing Correspondence

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Navy today suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin from duty and restricted him to his home.

The action followed swiftly on the heels of Crommelin's public acknowledgement last night that he had given news reporters what the Navy called "confidential" correspondence from three admirals to Secretary of the Navy Matthews about the state of Navy morale.

Crommelin himself was the first to disclose the Navy's action.

He told reporters of it when he came out of the office of Vice Admiral John Dale Price, vice chief of naval operations. The action was taken by Price.

The Navy then issued an announcement which said:

"By direction of Navy Secretary Matthews, Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, has taken steps to have appropriate charges placed against Captain Crommelin."

It added that pending preflight of these charges, Crommelin had been suspended from duty and restricted to his home.

Indicating that he anticipated a court martial trial, Crommelin told reporters that a close friend, Capt. J. L. Kane, chief of naval aviation plans, would be his attorney.

Under Navy procedure, the office of the inspector general will make an investigation and recommend action to the Navy high command. Rear Admiral H. R. McCann is inspector general.

If the inspector general's office finds that Crommelin has violated Navy regulations it could recommend court martial.

When Crommelin arrived at his office this morning he found orders to report to McCann's office. He was on his way there when a naval officer met him and instructed him to go instead to see Price.

Hunt Scene Of Suspected Crash On Mt. Mitchell

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—Searchers moved up the eastern slope of Mount Mitchell in fog and rain today, after two residents of Thera reported hearing what they believed was a plane crash.

Forest ranger Tom Huffman of the Busick Station led one group which was equipped with a portable radio transmitter.

Among the searchers was Mas Robinson, who along with Frank Bowditch told of hearing the crash about 10:30 a. m. yesterday.

They reported it to forest officials when they learned a C-47 en route from Washington to Mobile had not been heard from since leaving the capital yesterday morning.

Airforce and navy planes had been seeking the two-engined transport since it had been listed as unaccounted for.

AFL Claims Big Farm Alliance

St. Paul, Oct. 6—(AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders today claimed success in cementing labor-farmer political alliances for a joint drive in the 1950 Congressional elections.

They said they have worked out deals with farm groups in various sections of the country to cooperate "in electing our friends and defeating our enemies" in next year's important campaigns.

Expensive Slug

Detroit, Oct. 6—(AP)—Edward Temple, 47, a city tax collector is out $240 because he put a slug in a parking meter.

Temple was fined $100 yesterday after pleading guilty in traffic and ordinance court to using a slug to park his car. A two weeks suspension from his job in the city treasurer's office cost him $140.

"I admit it was a cheap trick," Temple told Judge George T. Murphy.

Paris, Oct. 6—(AP)—President Vincent Auriol accepted today the resignation of Premier Henri Queuille, and the extreme right and left both immediately began clamoring for a return to power.

Queuille offered his resignation yesterday after a bitter cabinet deadlock on the wage-price issue, and Auriol was unable to persuade the Radical Socialist (Conservative) leader to reconsider.

The Communists and the followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle on the extreme right had been excluded from Queuille's coalition, which had managed to give France some political stability by remaining in office a year and 25 days, longer than any other post war French cabinet.

The Socialist President began consultations with political leaders after Queuille refused to bring his cabinet quarrel before Parliament for an airing. Queuille feared a bitter debate might result in an irreparable split among the parties which formed his middle-of-the-road coalition. Such a split might make a new cabinet on similar lines impossible. Thus, the only solution which is a new general election, which is what De Gaulle has been clamoring for.

Robert Hannegan Dies Suddenly In St. Louis Today

St. Louis, Oct. 6—(AP)—Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general and one-time owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, died today at his home here.

The cause of his death was not immediately disclosed but Hannegan had been in failing health for some time.

His wife was at his bedside. A friend who notified the press of his death said it occurred between 10 and 10:30 a. m. (EST).

Hannegan, who was only 46, gave his health as the reason for selling his interest in the Cardinals last winter.

He retired as postmaster general in November, 1947, to head a syndicate buying the St. Louis baseball club. He also had served as chairman of the National Democratic committee and directed the party's 1944 Presidential campaign.

Sovereignty Promised To Satellite German Republic

Berlin, Oct. 6—(AP)—Russia made a paper promise of sovereignty today to the satellite German Republic which will be proclaimed in east Berlin tomorrow.

The official Soviet organ Tagliche Rundschau declared a sweeping renunciation of occupation rights would be made by the Russian authorities after the creation of the new Democratic all-German government.

Only administrative supervision will be exercised by the Russians in the future, it was stated.

The official organ apparently confirmed earlier reports that Soviet Ambassador Vladimir Semenov would supplant General Vassily Chukov in the governmental control of nearly 18,000,000 east Germans, leaving Chukov only the field command of the Russian occupation forces.

Six Children Die As Loaded School Bus And Truck Meet

Middlesex, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—A school bus packed with children and an ice truck crashed together today on a narrow wooden bridge, killing at least six pupils and injuring 14.

Charles Syrant, a school boy, was driver of the bus. D. R. Bunn, Jr., of Middlesex, said brambles and weeds overhung the dirt road at the site of the crash, obscuring vision. Bunn, a member of a coroner's jury, said "about 76 pupils were aboard the bus, which had seats for 42."

Screaming children, books and lunch baskets littered the swamp-bordered roadside. A hole a yard square was ripped in the side of the bus beside the driver's seat. The highway patrol listed the dead as Judie Massey, Joanne and Carolyn Debnam and Shelby Jean Bryant, all of Zebulon, Route 1, and Robert Carter and Julian Bryant, both of Middlesex, Route 1.

Most of the pupils were en route to Ferrell's Grammar school, one mile from here and about 30 miles east of Raleigh.

Families living in the neighborhood, picked up the injured and rushed them to doctors' offices and hospitals over a wide area.

"It's a bad road over a narrow bridge," said school principal E. M. Burris of the crash site. "Trees and bushes are grown up at the curve. We tried to get the highway people to cut them down all year."

"We are supposed to have four buses, but we have only three," he added in explaining that buses were forced to "double up" on their loads.

State Highway patrolman W. C. Jackson said he was told the ice truck had stopped at the bridge when the bus hit it. A nine-foot long hole was ripped in the steel bus side from beside the driver's seat toward the rear. Most of those hurt were seated just behind the driver.

Jackson reported the bus rolled 152 feet after the impact. He said there was a two-foot three-inch clearance for the vehicles to have passed on the bridge.

The officer said many of those slightly injured were pupils who were standing and who were thrown to the floor when the vehicles hit.

The lone score of the game came in the second inning when Jackie Robinson doubled to left field, Robinson tagged up and went to third on a long foul fly and scored later on Hodges' single.

Strong Note Is Sent To Russia

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The United States sent a strongly worded note to Russia today protesting the "shocking" mistreatment of Americans who stray into the Soviet zone of Germany.

"This treatment the United States government finds to be in shocking contravention to the most elementary standards of international decency," the note said.

At the same time the United States, through Ambassador Kirk in Moscow, notified the Russian Foreign Office that "it expects that those Soviet officials who are responsible for these acts will be punished."

The American note referred specifically to the case of the two American college students who "inadvertently and innocently" entered the Russian zone while bicycling and who were detained for eight weeks.

It also cited the case of Pvt. John J. Sinkovitz, an American soldier, who escaped Sept. 16 from a prison in the Soviet sector of Berlin after 10 months of imprisonment. The note said he was held under "brutal and uncivilized conditions."

The note said bluntly: "There can be no justification for this kind of treatment of citizens of a friendly nation, persons whose only violation of law is purely technical at most and whose innocence of criminal charges can easily be established."

The slaying occurred in a downtown Raleigh restaurant where Mrs. Watson was a waitress during the noon-time rush.

House Endorses Social Security Expansion Plan

Lewis To Attend Coal Mediation

UMW Boss Agrees Join Washington Parley Tomorrow

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 6—(AP)—John L. Lewis agreed today to take part in coal strike mediation talks in Washington.

The chief of the United Mine Workers sent a two-word telegram to Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service. It said: "Will attend."

Representatives of three operator groups previously had said they would take part in conference for which Ching asked yesterday. The mediation session will start in Washington tomorrow.

Lewis sent his telegram just before entering another negotiating session with soft coal operators from the north and the south.

He met with them yesterday for a while, then went over to Bluefield to visit his lieutenants who had resumed discussions with southern coal producers. He returned to White Sulphur last night and is expected to leave tonight for Washington.

So far nothing has come up which would indicate any break in the contract deadlock. Some 400,000 miners have been idle since September 19, two days after suspension of payments from their welfare fund.

Ching yesterday advised Lewis and the operator groups he was calling a mediation meeting because the coal situation has "reached the place where it is approaching a crisis."

The new bill would raise the minimum old age benefit from $10 a month to $25 a month. It would increase the maximum benefit for an elderly couple from $85 to around $126 a month. Benefits are based on a person's average wage and the number of his working years during which he paid payroll taxes into the program.

In addition to blanketing new millions under old age and survivors insurance, for a total of 46,000,000 covered workers, the 201-page bill would:

1 Boost benefits by 70 to 80 per cent or more.

2 Create new disability insurance, to take care of persons who by illness or accident can never work again.

3 Increase the payroll taxes on employes and employes. The tax would go up from the present 1 per cent on each, to 1-1/2 per cent next year; 2 per cent in 1951; 2-1/2 per cent in 1950; 3 per cent in 1953; and 3-1/4 per cent on each in 1970.

Attempt Settle Tarboro Walkout

Meeting in the Governor's office were representatives of the mill, the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) and federal and state labor conciliators.

The group met with the Governor for a while and then management and labor groups met separately.

Social Security Plan

The Second Of Two Stories Explaining In Some Detail The Present Social Security Program and How It Would Be Changed Under The Bill The House Just Passed

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The bill to change the Social Security program, just passed by the House and due for Senate action next year, would give life to a whole new group of people who can't get it under the present law.

They are:

1 Those who are covered by the law but become totally and permanently disabled before reaching 65 when they would have been eligible for an old age pension.

Under the bill, if it became law, they'd receive a pension at the time they became totally and permanently disabled, equal to the pension they'd receive if they reached 65. This would cost the government about $700,000,000 a year.

2 Those who are not covered by the law, and therefore not entitled to a pension at any age, but who are now or become totally and permanently disabled.

The government would give money to help them, too. This No. 2 plan is called assistance and would cost the government about $66,000,000 a year. But the government help would go only to those states which set up a program and helped match federal funds.

Congressional staff experts figure there are 2,000,000 disabled people in this country now and that about 200,000 of them could qualify at once for federal assistance.

(The totally and permanently disabled people in No. 1 who didn't get enough money and are in need, could get additional assistance under No. 2.)

Here's a further explanation of what the present law does and how the bill, if it became law, would make changes:

Old age assistance—Every state has a program for making cash payments to people over 65 who live at home and are in need.

(This is not to be confused with the old age insurance program which is the government's pension plan for workers who retire at 65 after paying a tax regularly into the Social Security fund.)

Under the present law the government gives states and local governments money to add to the money which they give needy old people. The government now is footing about 55 per cent of the bill at a cost of about $800,000,000 a year. If the

A Religious People?

The Bishop Of London Says Fifty Per Cent Of Americans Have No Religion At All; A Story That Illustrates Perhaps Things Aren't As Bad As He Would Claim

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The Bishop of London, Dr. John W. C. Wand, says he was surprised to find during his recent six weeks tour of the United States that fifty per cent of Americans "have no religion at all."

The Church of England prelate remarks that in England practically everybody owns to having a religion and "if he is not very sure about things and does not go to church regularly, he says he is Church of England." Dr. Wand doesn't define the term "religion" in his little statement.

Not being a theologian myself, but in seeking a definition, I am referred by my dictionary to the New Testament—James 1:27—where I read:

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this (for man) to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world."

Mrs. Stokes Hostess To End of Century

Summer Haven and its hostess again proved their hospitality when Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., entertained the End of the Century club and guests from Greenville and Washington on Tuesday, October 4th.

This was the first meeting of the new club year and October's bright blue weather was in full force. The group hurriedly left Greenville to spend as many hours as possible in this inviting spot.

On arrival they found the cottage had all the Indian Summer atmosphere laden with fall berries, greens and red roses.

The first stroll was down to the boat house where the hostess served iced Coca-Colas. Here the broad expanse of water could be viewed and fully enjoyed.

At 1 o'clock we were ushered in for a delightful buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. J. B. Spilman served from a gay and festive table. Following this delightful hour the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles White. Minutes of the last meeting were read and committee reports were heard.

Mrs. J. E. Moye gave a short descriptive review of each of the books for the year. Her enthusiastic report on each created a desire on her hearers to take full advantage of each of these.

The books were then distributed and the club adjourned.

Guests for the day were Mrs. J. Perkins, Greenville, Mrs. Charles Hoyt, Mrs. Clay Carter, Mrs. J. K. Hoyt, Mrs. Horace Rowland, Mrs. Wilson Clark, Mrs. James Ellison, Mrs. James Hackney, Mrs. Sam Fowler, Mrs. George Amore and Mrs. Bob Hackler.—Reported.

Strength FOR THE DAY

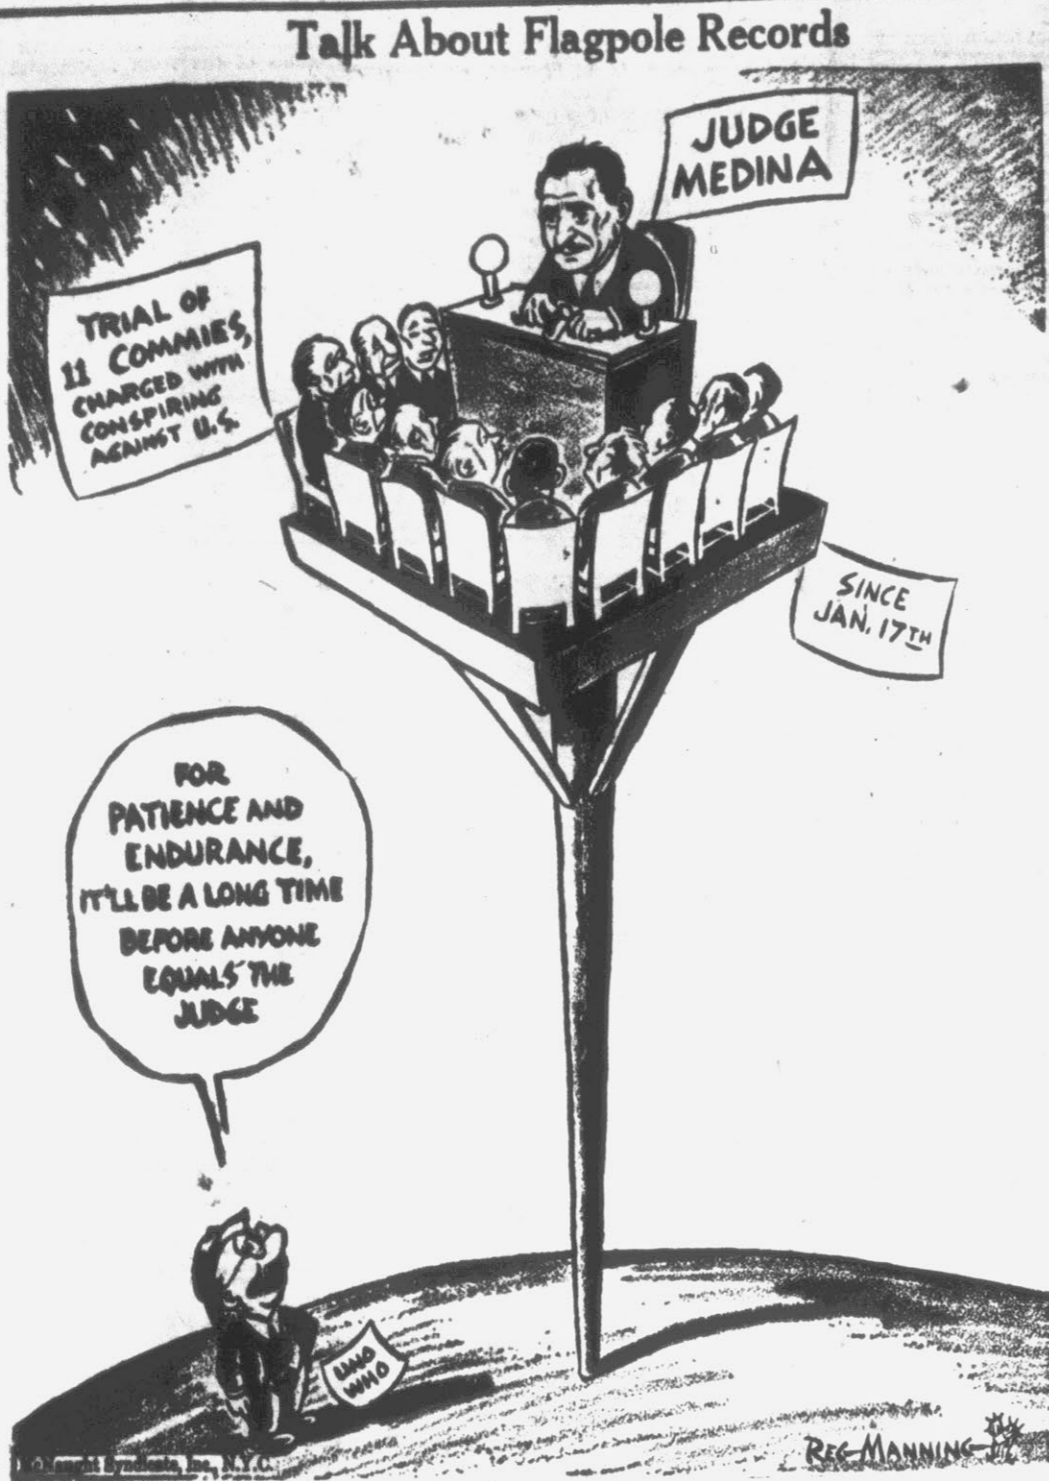

CHRISTIANITY AND COMMUNISM

Alexander Miller, a New Zealand pastor, maintains in his recently published book, "Christianity and Communism," that there is no necessary conflict between the two doctrines. Communism, he says, whether we agree with it or not, is nothing more than the economic system and a scientific sociology, and therefore is entirely outside the scope of religion. Its materialism arises merely from the fact that it is an economic system, and since all economic systems are by definition materialistic, we can have no quarrel with it on that score. As far as it goes, Mr. Miller's thesis is entirely correct. Certainly the objectives of both communism and capitalism are both materialistic. But the difficulty is that communism, as it is practiced today, is part and parcel with militant atheism and the persecution of Christianity. If communists could be content with economic objectives it would be difficult to object to them from the religious point of view. But they are not. Instead, they make the control of Christianity an aim of equal importance. Hence, the Christian has no recourse but to oppose them with all his strength on religious grounds. Even if it be true that there is necessarily no conflict between Christianity and Marxism economics—which most of us certainly doubt—there can be no compromise between Christianity and communism.

PERSONALITIES — Names make news, then little personal items about people who carry well known names add spice to the news. Here are a few culled from a reporter's mental notes about some outstanding Tar Heels.
GEORGE GOGHEGAN, vice-president of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company and head of the Raleigh unit of one of the state's biggest banking outfits, cherishes a secret ambition. He wants to be manager of a big league baseball team. He confesses that every time he drives by a flat field of three or four acres he thinks about what might have happened nearby when he was a kid. Almost certainly he would have organized a baseball team, gone on to professional playing, and now around the half century age line, would have been managing a big league outfit. "I might even do it," he says.
LOUIS V. BUTTON, president and general manager of Carolina Power & Light Company, can of course buy any kind of cigar he likes, has a lot of high-priced smokes given to him. He prefers a straight stem job that, even as a reporter's pipe, takes a lot of matches to keep going. He has the same kind of trouble, too, about spilling ashes on rugs and smelling up window curtains at home.

BRANDON P. HODGES, state treasurer, some years ago stopped drinking; later he quit smoking and more recently has cut down on eating. As a result he says he feels a lot better, but his friends tell him he looks better, but he isn't quite as well dressed. He philosophically explains a new suit anyhow, "he explains. Incidentally, Treasurer Hodges is challenging Secretary of State Thad Eure for title of best dressed official. He favors gray suits, white shirts and somewhat flamboyant neckties.
HENRY BRIDGES, in his official capacity as state auditor and Wake Forest trustee, is a very dignified person. Switch the conversation to amateur photography and he stills and movies, and he's like a kid with a new Christmas toy. His favorite necktie is a brilliant red. He says it brings him good luck.
L. Y. (STAG) BALLENTINE, former state senator and lieutenant governor, presently commissioner of agriculture, doesn't like to sleep away from home. He'll drive 200 miles or more after a night speaking engagement in order to wake up in his own bed. He can do with very little sleep but insists upon eating regular. Last week he came home sick from Atlantic City where he attended the national convention of state agricultural commissioners. He said he got some kind of food poisoning. His intimates say "Stag is just a country boy and can't take that high life stuff."

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Almost 26 million American husbands help their wives with the dishes. In Greenville, if we have a population of 15,000, there are 3,700 husband dishwashers. To me, that figure sounds a trifle high. However, I'm sure there are at least three in Greenville: my daddy; my father-in-law, John G. Fleming; and me. All three of us wash a wicked dish. This business of washing dishes is a major operation in every household and deserves serious consideration in a discussion of marriage. Washing dishes is even more important than throwing them, because not everybody throws them. And perhaps there are people who never wash them, but we must agree that they are few and far between.

Husband dish washers can be typed into three categories: A, B and C. Type A is the husband who works hard all day. His wife is a normal housewife with a normal amount of outside activities. With this situation the husband can eat a hearty meal and journey to the living room, and The Daily Reflector, with a clear conscience. After all, making a living is his occupation and washing the dishes is the wife's. There is a time when the Type A husband can help. If he works six days a week, he might pitch in occasionally on the seventh. Dishes pile up seven days a week, you know.

The Type B husband dish washer has a fat bankroll and dishpan hands. His wife works, and at the end of the day both the husband and wife are in the same boat. If she cooks supper, washing the dishes is his responsibility as much as it is hers.
Type C is the saddest sack of all. He goes to college, while his wife earns the living. Since he's in class only three hours a day, and his wife works eight, keeping house is almost entirely his responsibility. College towns are full of Type C husbands. By the time they are graduated they deserve, in addition to their major subject, a B.S. degree in Home Economics.
Besides A, B, and C there is still another husband type. You might call him the Emraged type. He is not a dish washer. If his wife reads this column today she will remind him, emphatically, about all of the husbands in America who wash dishes. They may even get into a violent argument. The husband might even realize that the argument is all my fault. After being reminded of this column for several consecutive days the husband might even decide that a character like me might be put out of the way. One might even come by and shoot me. Boy, O boy! Think of what a column that would make! And I thank you.

New York — (AP) — There is a Broadway saying that Al Jolson didn't invent Hukom—he just found a way to put it in the bank.
And at 64 the king of Schmalz is still a young man working overtime to keep the wolf from his door.
His fellow entertainers say, however, this isn't a necessity now—it's a habit. They estimate that nasty old wolf would have to chaw through $4,000,000 to $15,000,000 in greenbacks before he could cross the Jolson threshold.
I dropped in on the timeless mammy singer the other night, and found

Is Your Child the "One in Five"?

One school child in five is retarded because his vision is defective. Poor vision is a great handicap to a child. It shows him up in every way. It forces him to work harder to master his studies; handicaps him in his relationships with other children and grown-ups, too. It tends to warp his personality—and generally sets him back in his struggle to get ahead and make his mark. Make sure your child's vision is right! Don't handicap him!

me, "If you quit, you die." "I know it sounds corny, but play with my kids. I don't know how." "I'm a bigger success than I ever was. Now I want to sit down and play—and I don't know how. That's what I want—and I don't want. I'm a ham. I have to keep on singing. Even if it's in my bathroom." I asked Al what he liked to read, and he said: "Well, I don't waste my time reading books about what will happen when the animals take over the world." "To hell with that. The animals took over long ago." All but that wolf. He'll never get past Al's door.

Urges More Pay For Teachers

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—A member of the University of North Carolina board of trustees says teachers should be paid more. Luther P. Hodges of Leaksville, vice president of Marshall Field and Company, added last night

"when we can afford to pay carpet makers and other trades like that more than we do our teachers, we are in a bad way." He spoke to the dialectic Senate, a University of North Carolina debating society.

New Check-Up

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—For the fourth time in two weeks the State Highway Patrol will set up road blocks tonight to inspect Tar Heel motor vehicles. One hundred blocks will be established throughout the state. They will be near service stations so that cars needing minor repairs can get them on the spot. Patrol commander C. R. Tolar gave no indication when another series of blocks will be set up. The Patrol worked the inspection stations last night and on the nights of Sept. 23-29.

B-V MAGIC MAKES IT BETTER

Constant praises are sung everywhere for Wilson's B-V, that true meat flavor which insures perfect, rich, brown gravy every time. B-V's the cook's pal at mealtime in most American kitchens. It's a MUST for it adds the finest blend of delicious meat and vegetable flavors to soups, gravies, meat dishes, casseroles, sandwiches, molded salads, snacks and sauces.

B-V rates a position right along with salt and pepper on your cookstove.

B-V is a highly concentrated combination of rich meat juices and selected vegetable flavors.

You'll find it ALWAYS gives a magic flavor lift. For a solution to your gravy making troubles and a variety of excellent recipes see the recipe folder in the B-V carton.

All the while the family will be getting extra health factors (minerals and vitamins) from the added B-V. That's what makes the bowl of B-V soup or the simple cup of B-V broth or tea so refreshing a bracer. In fact, we just can't say ENOUGH about B-V and its many magic uses.

B-V insures the best of rich, brown gravy, every time. But that's not all—it has many other magic flavor uses. Keep it on the cookstove with the salt, pepper and use it often!

B-V MAGIC WITH SPREADS FOR BREAD

Sandwich Butter: Blend a teaspoonful of B-V with each ¼ pound of Clearbrook Butter or Certified Margarine as you whip it smooth for easy spreading on sandwiches. B-V enhances the flavor of whatever meaty filling you use in the sandwich.

Better Cheese Spread for Sandwiches: Blend a teaspoonful of B-V into every three ounce package of cream cheese used for spreading sandwiches. Ummmm!

For Easy Snacking That's Super: Use B-V Sandwich Butter on hot toast.

For Tasty Snacks: For a canape spread in a class with anchovy paste try using 2 teaspoon B-V with ¼ pound butter.

B-V Magic with Vegetables: Add ¼ to 1 teaspoon B-V instead of salt to the water in which you cook green beans for six. Carrots and greens benefit too when cooked in this B-V broth.

Pigeonhole For Housing Bill In Upper House

day in a congressional pigeonhole labelled "business for 1950."

The Senate put the bill there last night, approving a stop-gap resolution to extend through next March 1 the present federal home loan insurance program. That program is due to expire at the end of this month.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) predicted quick House action on the extension resolution.

The measure the Senate shelved would have liberalized the loan insurance program and made possible lower down payments by home purchasers. The House has passed a somewhat similar measure, but the Senate decision forecloses any final action at this session.

Sad Won-Lost Record For '49 In Conference

By the Associated Press

Won-and-lost football records around the Southern Conference were a pretty dismal sight today because of the high-powered intersectional opponents circuit teams have picked on at the very start of the season.

In fact, the conference was so far in the red in its mark against outside foes that it seemed likely it never would catch up.

Of 21 contests played so far against non-conference opposition, league teams have lost 14 decisions

Claims Possible Coal Comeback

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The coal industry has lost business to the oil industry this year, but there are prospects for coal to make a comeback, 150 coal mine operators were told yesterday.

Charles A. Owen, president of the National Coal Association, cited two factors which he said had cost the coal industry "many millions of tons of our business."

These were a decline in fuel oil prices early this year, and what he called the "dictatorial policy" of United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis.

"Our customers are getting fed up with interruptions in their supply of coal and will, I fear, use other fuel even at some extra cost," Owen told a convention of the association.

However, he saw hopes for gains in coal markets as a result of the "recent increases in oil prices," and in the possibility that "a way may be found to restrict oil imports."

John D. Battle, executive vice president of the association, urged congressional action to "restrict the monopolistic practices of labor unions, particularly those that exercise control over production."

Nobody Home, Except The Dog

Denver, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Patrolman Gerald J. Sheehan took six-year-old Nancy Jo Wagner to a hospital yesterday for treatment of a dog bite.

Then he went back to warn the owner about the biting dog.

The owner wasn't home. The dog was. He greeted the patrolman with a bite in the hip.

Sheehan went back to the hospital for an anti-tetanus shot of his own.

The ancient Greek physician Pedanius Dioscorides recommended dried rose leaves in wine for headaches, pains in the eyes, ears and gums.

Officials Not Alarmed By Decline In State Revenue

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, N. C.—Decrease of nearly a million and a quarter dollars in state general fund collections for September, over a million and a half for the three months of the fiscal year, as compared with 1948 do not alarm Revenue Commissioner Eugene Shaw, although some other observers see a danger signal.

Commissioner Shaw explains the half million dollar drop in franchise taxes by deferred billing, and predicts the October and November receipts will materially reduce the amount of decline. There is no such optimistic view about the $600,000 decrease in income taxes. The commissioner says that is apparently due to less corporate income. The $200,000 less beverage taxes are explained by the numerous county elections outlawing sale of beer.

lections are made in March, when all individual and corporate returns are due, except those corporations with fiscal years ending June 30 and taxes payable in September. Of the sixty-five and a half million dollars income taxes collected during last fiscal year, thirty-eight and a half millions came in March.

Another comparison is that last year the first three months accounted for 17.5 per cent of the total year's receipts of more than $139 millions. Assuming that the first three months of the current year will also account for 17.5 per cent the total, there is indicated slightly more than $131 millions in general fund money. In other words, collections to date seem to be following pretty closely the advance budget estimates. For the past fifteen years collections have consistently run a good deal above budget estimates.

Commissioner Shaw finds some comfort in the sales tax figures. This year's September receipts on that schedule were just about $100,000 below last year, but still accounted for over three and a quarter million dollars. The commissioner opines that considering reduced prices of merchandise the current receipts indicate more transactions and actually more goods purchased than last September.

Meanwhile, highway revenue is holding up. While general fund accounts showed decrease of a million and a half or nearly six per cent under last year for the first three months of the fiscal period, highway revenue was up more than three quarters of a million dollars or 6.45 per cent.

For the month of September general fund collections dropped 15.06 per cent while highway receipts went up 11.71 per cent. The quarterly comparison is more accurate than the monthly, because the difference of one or two days in time of big payments more seriously affect monthly reports.

The advisory budget commission estimated that general fund receipts for the current year would be $130,241,500, something more than ten millions a month. For the first three months of the year receipts amounted to 23,043,535, less than eight millions a month. But—and this is the pay-off—normally about sixty per cent of the annual income tax col-

Endurance Plane Shatters Record

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 6—(AP)—Arizona's endurance flyers, refreshed and rejuvenated by marking up a new world record, hoped today to spend another week in the air.

They passed the old endurance flight mark of 1,008 hours at 9:15 p.m. (EST) last night, and immediately announced the emotional lift of bettering the record had removed much of the fatigue they have felt in the past four days.

Their plane, "The City of Yuma," carried them past the record without a major falter during their six weeks in the air. It is a four-place Aerona monoplane powered by an 85 horsepower Continental engine. Shattering of the old record by the two Navy veteran pilots — Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward—touched off a major celebration at the Yuma County Airport.

One minute before the goal was reached, all lights in the city and area were turned off. Then the lights were flashed back on, and police sirens, fire whistles and automobile horns were blown in celebration of the event.

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

[An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal, Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949]

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked.

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Grocerteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

[An Advertisement From The Waynesboro True Citizen]

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS??

If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

Farley Organizing Jayvee Grid Squad To Build Team

Thirty-Five New Football Candidates Join GHS Practice Squad; Planning For Future

Thirty-five new football candidates joined the Greenville high school practice squad yesterday, following an inspiring talk by Coach Boley Farley in which the Phantom football mentor declared that only by starting early and training young players could Greenville hope to ever produce a championship team.

The new group, bringing the practice squad strength to around 70 men, will be organized into a Junior Varsity, Farley said, and pointed out that he is trying to arrange at least two games for them.

"Most of them are boys who figured they wouldn't get to play any this year and decided to wait until next year to come out," the coach said today. "They were missing a year of valuable experience."

Coach Farley explained today that when this year's varsity graduates he will have a squad composed almost entirely of tenth grade boys. With his new boys out Farley will have a number of eighth and ninth grade boys with which to work and mold a squad for the future.

The Jayvee team probably will be under Milton Glover, a practice teacher at Greenville, Farley said. Woody Wilson, who has rendered invaluable assistance to the team this year, would continue as an assistant in coaching the varsity.

At least some of the new boys are very promising football material, Farley says. Many of them have played Jayvee and midget football in the past.

Though the new candidates are not likely to see any action in varsity contests this year, they will probably be counted upon heavily for next year's edition of the Green Phantoms.

Meanwhile, Farley is sharpening his Phantoms for their Friday night clash with the Scotland Neck eleven, Scotland Neck, losers to the Tarboro Tigers by an 8-0 score, will play the role of underdog to the Phantoms in three exciting games this season.

It will be the fourth home game in a row for the locals who will face a two-week road schedule after Friday night. The next conference home game for the Greenville club will be against Elizabeth City here on the 27th.

Coach Farley, commenting on his team's chances against Scotland Neck, said this morning that the Phantoms should win. In fact, he hopes to let a number of his untried reserves see some action. But he is not underrating the visitors. "We can't be too sure about these little schools. I haven't seen them play, and don't know what they have," he commented.

Probably the only change in the Greenville lineup will be at half-back where Jake Higgs, an outstanding 10th grade ball carrier, will get the starting nod.

Chandler Again Appears Slated For Baseball Job

New York, Oct. 6—(AP)—All indications point today to the reappointment of A. B. (Happy) Chandler to the $50,000-a-year job as high commissioner of baseball when his seven-year term expires April 24, 1951.

Chandler at one time was under heavy fire, but baseball men here for the world series say that the following factors weigh heavily in his behalf:

1. Baseball under Chandler has prospered as never before, with annual major league attendances of 20,000,000—virtually double former averages.
2. The players' pension fund, with its stabilizing influence on baseball, was started under Chandler.
3. Under Chandler radio revenue from the world series has never been less than $150,000; under Judge K. M. Landis, his predecessor, it was never more than $100,000.
4. Chandler was instrumental in setting up the executive council of baseball, consisting of the commissioner, the presidents of the two leagues and two club owners to operate like a steering committee of the U. S. Senate.
5. Through the rule Chandler sponsored forbidding the signing of high school players, school baseball has expanded until now 25,000 high school teams are playing. At one time school teams dwindled to a few thousand.
6. To police baseball, and its hangers-on, Chandler hired former members of the federal bureau of investigation on recommendation of J. Edgar Hoover, and these men do all investigating for the commissioner's office.
7. And lastly, there is no apparent formidable candidate in the field against the commissioner.

Planning Speed Try If Weather Condition Fair

Chicago, Oct. 6—(AP)—Weather permitting, U. S. Marine Lt. Col. Marion Carl planned a flight today in an attempt to regain the world's air speed record.

Rain was forecast for the Chicago area as Carl made plans for the flight from the Glenview Naval Air Station to the Naval Air station at Cherry Point, N. C.

The ace speed pilot set a speed record of 650.8 miles an hour in 1947 but the record now is 670 mph, held by the Air Force.

Carl, who landed his jet P-51 Panther fighter at Glenview yesterday after a four-hour flight from San Diego, Calif., with a stop at Denver, has planned a record attempt from the West Coast. However, it was postponed because of mechanical difficulties.

Texas Tornado — by Pap

The Texas Longhorns hopes for a successful season on the gridiron hinge heavily on the complete recovery of Ray Borman from the knee injury he suffered in the first quarter of the Orange Bowl game on New Year's Day. The big full-back was the Longhorns' leading ground-gainer last fall with a total of 704 yards. He earned All-Southwest Conference honors when he paced all the carriers in league play—Clyde Scott, Doak Walker, Lindy Berry, Kyle Rote and other aces—with 566 yards in 89 attempts. Used sparingly in early games this season, Borman is ready to begin blasting opposing lines in earnest. Borman, who gained all-star recognition in Lamar High School of Houston, blossomed out as an intercollegiate star last season. He started slowly, and did not reach his peak until the conference race started.

After spending one semester at Texas, where he lettered as a freshman baseball player, Borman enlisted in the Navy and played football for the Corpus Christi station team. Upon his discharge from service, Borman followed his Navy coach, Johnny Vaught, to the University of Mississippi. Early in 1947, Ray transferred back to Texas. He played only 63 minutes during the 1947 season and gained only 49 yards in 20 tries. He came along fast last season, and hopes to win up his varsity career in a blaze of glory.

Farmville Meets Tarboro In Home Game October 7

The Farmville Red Devils will open their home football season on Friday night of this week by entertaining the Tarboro High School football in the Farmville High School athletic park at 8:00 p.m. This will be the first home game of six for the Farmville team and will mark the first time these two teams have met on the gridiron.

Farmville withdrew from the East Central Conference a year ago and is now a member of the newly organized Coastal Conference, while Tarboro recently withdrew from the Northeastern Conference.

The game should be a top-notch as both teams are trying to go up in the football field and apparently the teams are about evenly matched. The Farmville team boasts of a victory over Vanceboro while the Tarboro team has a win over the Scotland Neck team.

This is the second football game ever to be played under the lights in Farmville and a large crowd is anticipated. Added attractions will be the presence of the Farmville High School band and the Tarboro High School band, both of which were organized last year and are now in the second year of operation. A special program of music and marches will be presented by the two fine bands at half-time.

Eppes Eleven To Play Here Friday

Eppes High will meet Nash County Training School Friday night at Guy Smith Stadium at 8:00 p. m.

After suffering a 6-0 defeat to West Street High in New Bern last week, Coaches Crowder and Daniels feel that their Bulldogs are ready for the winning column.

After a hard week of polishing up on mistakes made in last week's game, the team spirit seems very high after the return of Frank ("Iron Man") Winston, a veteran tackle of two years back. He has shown up well in practice all week. Other newcomers are Charlie "Boy" Wooten, fullback, and George Murrill, end.

Nashville has been boosting their heavy line, but we feel that the Bulldogs will crack their forward wall. The Bulldogs have been polishing their ground and aerial attack and are now ready to pay off.

Probable lineup: Ends, D. Daniels and G. Murrill; tackles, G. Streeter and F. Winston; guards, B. Streeter and B. Williams; center, D. Williams; lb, H. B. Griffiths; rb, T. Hines; fb, C. Wooten; qb, W. Hyman.

Mauriello Quits

New York, Oct. 6—(AP)—Tami Mauriello, former heavyweight title contender, at 28 says he's through with fighting. "I don't intend to fight again," the big New Yorker said last night after he was stopped in the second round by Cesar Brion of Argentina at St. Nicholas arena.

Mauriello, who once fought Joe Louis for the heavyweight title and twice had shots at the light-heavy crown, was felled for an eight-count in the first round and then battered into submission in 2:18 of the second.

Weiner Finally Wins Line Honor

Chapel Hill, Oct. 6—(AP)—"It's about time!" That's the general reaction hereabouts to the news that artful Art Weiner, the giant left end of the University of North Carolina football team, is this week's Associated Press poll lineman of the week.

The pass-catching whiz from Newark, N.J., is in his fourth year of high-powered play for Carl Snaveley's Tar Heels.

A six-foot, three and one-half inch, 212-pound ball hawk, he presents a splendid target for his passers. The big fellow is uncanny in his ability to haul down those heaves and then set sail for a long goalward gallop.

The job that won for him this week's citation was turned in against Georgia last Saturday. Big Art grabbed six passes for 103 yards and the first and last touchdowns in the Tar Heels' 21-14 victory. Georgia's Wally Butts said Weiner was the best pass receiver he had ever seen.

It was the second straight big week for the 25-year-old Jersey lad. Against North Carolina State the week before he caught seven passes and later State Coach Beattie Feathers said he was glad his team had seen the last of Weiner. "He's impossible," said Feathers.

He always has been a top flight defensive performer, but his slashing offensive style has attracted more attention.

Dole Sees Rugged Game With Elon

By FRANK HOGG

Grunts and groans came forth from the East Carolina practice field as Coach Bill Dole worked his Pirates hard in preparation for their game with Elon College this Saturday. Blocking was the main feature of the Pirates' practice session along with timing on Pirate ground plays.

"Elon is not only fast, they are big," said the popular grid mentor. "They will field a line that will average 314 pounds and we'll have our hands full moving them out on offense and stopping them on defense. Their backs can really run and we can't afford to let them get loose in our backfield."

Bill Darby, Richard Siler and Frank Maennle handled the punting chores for the Pirates in today's practice while Jim Danks worked on extra points. Coach Dole assigned Danks to the all-important extra point task after four attempts were missed in the Pirates' 24-0 victory over Cherry Point Marines. Danks has attempted four extra points for the Pirates so far and has connected for three. The one he missed resulted in a 21-20 defeat by Lenoir-Rhyne. Coach Dole watched Danks kicking today and when asked if he hoped to use Danks against Elon Dole flashed his ever ready grin and replied, "I hope Jim tires his leg out attempting extra points for us against Elon."

As the squad left the field after the three hours' hard practice Dole commented, "We have accomplished a lot so far but more is to come. That Elon game is going to be a rugged affair."

Continue Inquiry Into Death Of Italian Boxer

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 6—(AP)—District Attorney Gordon Steels continued his investigation today into the death of Emrico Bertola, 27-year-old Italian boxer.

Bertola died of a head injury—an inter-cranial hemorrhage—medical examiner Malton J. Shulz said last night after an autopsy.

Death came less than 15 hours after Bertola lost a ten-round decision to Lee Oms of Newark Tuesday night in Memorial Auditorium.

The District Attorney directed Oms and the manager of both boxers to remain in Buffalo.

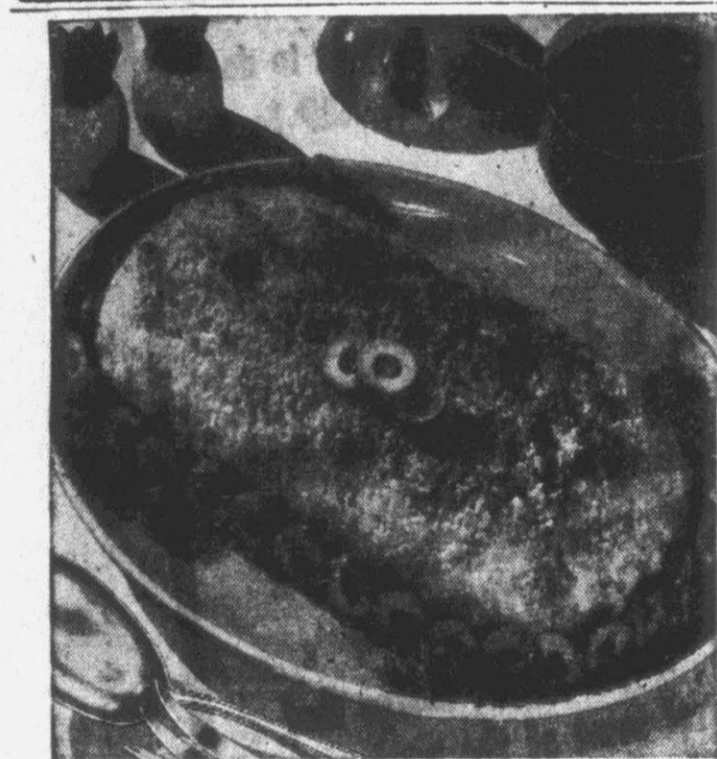

It was the world's eighth boxing death on record during 1949.

- To Cook Riceland Rice: Put 1 cup of Riceland Rice, 1 teaspoon of salt and 2 cups of cold water in a two-quart saucepan and cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Always use Riceland Rice for best results.

Riceland Rice Is Easy To Cook! Tender! Fluffy!

To get the best results with this recipe and all rice recipes, be sure to use Riceland Rice. It's the world's most delicious rice—grown in the heart of the quality rice belt of America. Only the choice, perfect-cooking rice grains are packed in Riceland packages.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Miguel's smoldering eyes were upon Turk Pennock and Jay saw what was in them. His two men stood like statues, and something in their mien told Jay that there was going to be trouble. He saw the flick of the border rider's brown hand send his cigarette arcing through the air, and then Miguel straightened.

"Lucia, you will go with me now?" he said.

She ignored him. Turk had turned slowly, his hand resting near his gun. "Maybe she don't want to go," he drawled softly.

"Get away from her or I kill you," Miguel muttered.

"Lucia, you get clear of me," Turk said significantly, his eyes boring into Miguel's. "All right, you've made yore play; now follow it."

He never finished the words. Miguel's dark hand flashed to his hip and the Remington six-shooter came out, spouting fire. Turk's gun went off once as he fell backward, tearing a slash in a cottonwood log rafter overhead. Miguel sheathed the six-shooter, his cold dark eyes flashing around the room. But this was a private affair between two men over a girl and there was no interference.

"She is my woman," he stated coldly. "Lucia, you will come with me."

Jay had leaped forward and knelt at Turk's side.

"Jay," he whispered.

Jay bent down closer. "I loved that girl. Don't let that Mexican take her. Promise me."

"All right, Turk. I promise," Jay whispered.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 23
Up at the settlement on Antelope Creek, Jay Allison had remained a prisoner and grown well. His wound was still tender, and would be for a long time, but he could use the arm freely and it caused him no pain.

Jay knew that the fall roundups were soon to get under way and he noted, too, a change in the atmosphere of the camp. There was a quickening of pace, a nervous excitement on the part of the men and their women. Big things were in the wind.

His guards had relaxed their vigilance a bit and he found an opportunity to corner Turk Pennock and find out what was coming. Turk grinned and scratched his head.

"Well, Jay, from what I can hear around camp, here's about the way she blows: Jim Swinnerton met Randall in town and finagled a sort of going-away party out of him at the ranch. It'll be a week from this comin' Saturday. By the time most of Mike's hands will be out on the range with the wagon on the beef roundup. Accordin' to the way Joe planned it, while the shindig is in progress Joe's a-goin' to meet that other guard, whack him over the head with a gun barrel, then let him with piggin' string an' gas him. Then he's a-goin' to ease the Morgans down to the end of the pasture a half-mile from the ranch an' let 'em out the gate, where we'll all be waitin'. We're all supposed to meet over at certain place in Arizona."

"You going along?"

Turk scratched his head. "I reckon," he said. "Not much else to do, an' Lucia will be along, too."

"Turk, why don't you take her and get out of here?" Jay urged.

"Dang it, Jay, she won't go."

"Then get out on your own. Something tells me that all kinds of ructions are going to break over this range, and soon. Somebody is going to get killed. There may be a few hung."

One afternoon while Jay was lounging on his bunk and reading, he heard an exclamation from one of his guards and a chair tipped back against the wall by the door. He stepped to the opening and found them staring off down across the flats, past the corrals. In the distance he saw fifteen or twenty head of horses coming at a fast trot, driven by three riders. One look at the high-crowned sombreros and Jay knew.

Miguel had returned.

They strolled down toward the corrals. Lucia joined them. Jay looked over and saw what was on her face. She knew, too.

Miguel doffed his big hat and bowed to Lucia, his white teeth flashing.

"It is good to see the so lovely senorita again," he said.

Lucia had come to Jay's side and stood as they unsaddled.

Miguel came out again and there was a smile on his face as he looked at Jay standing beside the girl.

"You have been yer' good to pay the close attention to Lucia in my absence, but you will not see her while I am here. This time when I go, she goes with me. You understand?"

"Can't hear you," Jay said coldly.

"My hearing is plumb bad lately, I reckon."

Jay walked away with her and took her back to the cabin she had next to the rock one that had become his home.

"Go with Turk," he said. "Get out of here."

Some of the old defiant fire came back into her dark eyes. He saw the lovely, oval-shaped face, the skin that was almost white. "I do not love him. I will not go with a man I do not love."

He left her, sorry for her, helplessly wracking his brain for a way

Cotton Classing Service Is Urged

Pitt County Farm Agent S. C. Winchester today urged all cotton growers in Pitt county to take advantage of the classing service being offered on cotton to assure the eligibility of their cotton for government support prices.

The county agent explained this morning that in order to be eligible for support prices, all cotton must be sampled and classed after it is baled, and classified in a government grade.

"All cotton farmers in Pitt county are members of the Smith-Doxey classing group," Winchester stated. "We are strongly urging all growers to take advantage of the classing service provided for at the Pitt gin company at Farmville, Farmville cotton oil and fertilizer company J. P. Sumrell cotton company at Ayden, Farmers gin at Bethel, Bethel manufacturing company, and the Ballards gin."

Winchester said samples from cotton bales are taken at the gin and forwarded to Raleigh where they are classified. Cards identifying the bale, grade, grower and containing other information are then forwarded to the farmers to be used either in selling the cotton, or in obtaining Commodity Credit loans for the cotton.

Bloom's Radio Show Was Feature With Much Fine Talent

By CHESTER WALSH

Elli Bloom's radio show over WCTC last night included the "cream of Greenville's entertainers"—vocal and instrumental. It was one of the best programs presented here in a long time, spectators and listeners agreed by their comments over the phone and otherwise.

The master of ceremonies and Ed E. Rawl, chairman of the ECTC Athletic Fund, and other prominent community leaders spoke in behalf of raising the balance of the $10,000 fund for the athletic program at the college.

The gathering of nearly 100 persons with talents of one kind or another at the radio station to entertain and arouse interest in supporting the college's athletic program was a social as well as a community event.

The hit of the entertainment was Charles Wheelbee's impersonation of a "Spanish serenader." Another feature was Ken Maynard, Sally Montana and Tex Don, stars of Maynard's show at the Pitt County Fair, and Tommy and Chubby, two musicians.

On the streets today the word was being passed along that last night's program was one of the best presented there since Rubinoff, the famous violinist was here.

Lions Hear Talk On Devaluation Monday Night

Dr. A. D. Frank, head of the history department of East Carolina Teachers College, spoke to the Greenville Lions Club at their regular meeting at the Woman's Club last Monday night. Dr. Frank gave an informative talk on "Devaluation and What It Means." In presenting the background for the present wave of devaluation, Dr. Frank declared that most often this method of controlling currency was unsuccessful.

"Whether we like it or not, we have got to stand by our friends, the British," declared Dr. Frank. The British are trying to improve their export position by means of devaluation. Other nations were obligated to follow this pattern.

Dr. Frank was introduced by Lion George W. Wilkerson.

As an added attraction the Lions Club was delightfully entertained by movie star Ken Maynard, guest of Pitt County at the fair. Sally Montana and her Pals provided musical entertainment. Mr. Norman Chambliss manager of the Pitt County American Legion Agricultural Fair, extended a warm invitation to all Lions to attend the fair and see Pitt County on parade.

Lion President Ernul Willis turned over honors to Lion Jimmy Harris, vice-president of the club, who presided with dignity. Several committee reports completed activities for the meeting.

Social Security

The bill became law, the cost to the government would go up about another $75,000,000.

Now the average payment to the needy aged across the country—this includes combined federal-state payments—is $44, ranging from a low of $18.80 in Mississippi to a high of $70.88 in California.

The bill would increase the government's help to the states, ranging from a top of $5 more per person in the poorest states to $1.25 or less in the richest ones. Every state would get something.

The needy blind—The federal government and the states—except Missouri, Pennsylvania and Nevada which have their own program—chip in to help needy blind people. About 70,000 needy blind people are receiving this help. The combined average payment to them is $46, ranging from a low of $22.16 in Kentucky to a high of $82.50 in California.

The federal contribution in this program is about 45 per cent—or $16,500,000 a year—with the states and local governments putting up the other 55 per cent.

Under the bill federal help would be increased about $1,900,000. This would be under the same plan—a top of $5 and then down—as explained for the old age assistance program.

Aid to dependent children—All states, except Nevada, have plans in which the states and federal government give money for helping dependent children. They're children who—with one or both parents dead, or disabled, or separated—are living with one parent or a relative.

The combined government-state payments to families for such dependent children average $72.73, with about three children per family. The range of payments is from $26.53 in Mississippi to a high of $135 in the

Mites Scheduled To Play Tonight

The Little boys of the football world in Greenville, the Greenville Midgets will play their second game of the 1949 season tonight, when they tangle with the New Bern midgets, at Guy Smith Stadium at 6.30.

According to all reports, the New Bern team is the team for the midgets to beat if they hope to be in the running for the midget football championship this year.

The midgets won a 7-0 victory from the strong Kinston team in their first start of the year.

state of Washington

The government contribution to this program is about 42 per cent—or around $200,000,000 a year—with the states and local governments putting up the remaining 58 per cent. If the bill became law, the cost to the government would go up another $106,000,000.

Child welfare services—Every state has a program for child care, such as protection those in danger of becoming delinquents. The government contributes $3,500,000 to this. The bill would double this, making the total cost to the government $7,000,000.

The present programs outlined here cost the government around $1,020,000,000. The changes proposed under the bill—including the new program for the disabled—would bring the total cost to the government to $1,988,900,000.

The House has passed the bill but the Senate probably won't act until next year, if then, so there'll be no changes before 1950.

A Religious

While I was calling at the hospital one of the quintet dropped in to see how the sick man was getting along and the latter tried to express his gratitude for the contribution of his colleagues. The visiting artist flushed and squirmed:

"Forget it," he growled. "There isn't one of us who hasn't been helped by you when he was in a jam."

Well, that's all there is to my story, and it could have had its setting in Canada or Latin America or Europe or Asia. But it happened in America where half the people—among whom, I suspect, my five might be placed—"have no religion at all."

Or have they? I wonder—but, as previously remarked, not being a theologian I can't argue the point. So please, you experts, don't start writing in to correct my errors. Just leave me happy in the thought that those rescuing artists are a pretty good lot who proclaim their religion by their deeds, and that they represent untold legions of other good folk.

who judged the senior division show, termed it one of the best shows held anywhere in the state so far this season. For the Pitt county, agricultural fair, it was the second annual purebred swine show, and this year attracted 49 entries from the county compared with only six entries which the show had last year.

Red Oak News

We wish to thank all who helped in any way with the two exhibits at the fair put on by the Red Oak Christian Church and the Red Oak Home Demonstration Club. We were awarded fourth place on our exhibit of "An Early American Home" and will receive a cash gift on our flower arrangement booth for the church.

All who have any vases or articles of furniture, etc in either of the two exhibits are asked to be at the fairgrounds at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon to get them. Please do not expect any body else to be responsible for them as it will be impossible for any one person to take care of everything.

Winners in the flower arrangement booth will be announced at Sunday School Sunday morning.

The nominating committee will also have the slate of officers for 1950 for Sunday School ready. We hope to have a large crowd present. Fifteen members of Red Oak choir sang a special number at the Piney Grove revival Tuesday evening.
