Labor Front Dark As Strikes Go On

Threats Of Nationwide Railroad Strike And Walkout By Aluminum Workers Adds To Gloomy Prospect; Ching Warns Crisis Is Nearing

By The Associated Press
There wasn't much to cheer about on the nation's labor front today. Here's quick run-down of major disputes which already have made idle more than a million workers:

There was nothing to indicate an early settlement of the country's major labor trouble—strikes by some 850,000 steel and coal workers.

There were threats of a nationwide railroad strike and a walkout by some 20,000 aluminum workers in eight states.

The continuing strike by John L. Lewis' 380,000 United Mine Workers—now three weeks old—prompted Cyrus S. Ching, federal conciliation director, to warn:

"Each day brings the nation closer to a crisis."

Ching, who urged Lewis and Mine operators to resume negotiations in an effort to end the strike, said "this strike must be settled promptly."

In Washington, Edwin G. Nourst, chairman of the President's economic advisory council, said that a month of continued strikes in the coal and steel industries would seriously threaten the national welfare.

The government has made no move in the week-old steel strike. The dispute over pensions and insurance has made idle some 450,000 CIO United Steelworkers in basic steel plants and force the layoff of thousands of other workers in steel-related industries.

The CIO-USW served notice on the Aluminum Company of America that 20,000 workers in eight states will strike Oct. 17 in a satisfactory contract is agreed upon. The union is demanding a wage boost and free pensions and insurance.

Alcoa, which produces about half the nation's aluminum, said the union's contract demands are indefensible.

Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen met in Chicago to consider possible strike action. The general chairman will decide whether to authorize a strike vote among the 110,000 members.

A nationwide walkout has been recommended by David B. Robertson, brotherhood president, in protest against rejection of the union's demand for an extra freeman on diesel engines.

Stores Ask Cut In Credit-Buying

Pittsburgh, Oct. 8—(AP)—Retail merchants in this industrial capital today appeared to striking steel and coal workers to limit their flurry of credit purchases.

Virtually all types of retail shops reported a sharp drop in business as the CIO United Steelworkers entered the second week of their nationwide walkout.

The area's soft coal miners have been out since September 19.

Reckless Driver Was Just Hungry

Los Angeles, Oct. 8—(AP)—Steve Butler, Jr., 24 of Pasadena, was charged with driving 63 miles an hour. Police testified he had one hand on the steering wheel and was eating grapes with the other.

"Why?" asked Traffic Judge Roger Pfaff yesterday.

"I was hungry," replied Butler. The judge sentenced him to three days in jail.

Campaign For Germany

Setting Up Of Communist Eastern German Government Is Strategic Move To Win All Of Germany; Berlin Sought For Capital Of Western Regime; Unification

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Proclamation of the Eastern German Republic, under Russian domination, is a strategic move by Moscow aimed at winning over the Republic recently established in the British-French-American zones of Germany with Bonn as capital.

The Soviet Union thus is intensifying its drive for a unified Germany which can be brought under control of Moscow.

The establishment of this eastern Republic doesn't materially alter the status of that part of Germany as a Soviet satellite. The Russians already have Communized it heavily and are maintaining control with a big army of Red troops.

What has been done by setting up the Republic is to create a symbol of Nationalism which the Misscovites hope will prove attractive to Western Germany and bring about a Union. That's an idea which, of course, cuts two ways for the western powers are equally bent on drawing eastern Germany into the Bonn Republic. So a hot contest is in prospect.

In any event, what we have been calling the "Russian zone of occupation" now has become a Communist state which takes its place among Moscow's satellites. Thus the Red Empire bulges westward into central Europe like a huge fist or battering ram.

Within this bulge lies Berlin, once proud and powerful capital of the Reich and, next to Paris, the most populous of the continental cities. That is a highly important circumstance and is likely to figure heavily in the struggle for control of all Germany.

Berlin not only is the hub of central Europe—the greatest transportation center of the continent—but it is dear to all Germans as the symbol of country's former greatness.

The situation is curiously complicated by the fact that, while Berlin lies within the Russian zone, all four powers have areas which are under their control in the city itself. Because of this British, France and America are said by diplomatic officials in Washington to be considering the idea of adding their zones to the western German Republic.

As a matter of fact German politicians at Bonn have been agitating for the incorporation of the Western

Moscow Press Lamports U. S. Atom Monopoly

Moscow, Oct. 8—(AP)—The Moscow press lamported American "atomic monopoly" in verse and picture today.

The government newspaper Izvestia carried a cartoon depicting a balloon labeled "Atomic Monopoly" blowing up in the face of the U. S. after being punctured by Tass, the Soviet news agency's communication, announcing that the Russians also have atomic weapons.

The cartoon was accompanied by a verse which read:

"They blew it up every day and every hour. They threatened everyone, scared everyone. But as a result miscalculated. Tass informed the world simply, modestly, without boasting. That the atom bomb you have and we have!

Evacuation Of Canton Begins; 'Anchor City' Of Defense Line Is Yielded

By The Associated Press
Chinese began fleeing Canton today as the front to the north showed signs of caving in under the pressure of attacking Red armies.

Diplomats in Canton said they expected to hear Monday that the Nationalist capital was being moved to Chungking. That was the wartime capital in western China.

Kukong, anchor city only 125 miles north of Canton, was yielded without a fight. Hengyang, the Nationalist base 265 miles to the north, appeared to have been abandoned.

Press reports said Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, central front commander, had quit Hengyang and would set up headquarters at Kweilin, capital of his native Kwangsi province.

That was a hint he may leave Canton to its fate. His 200,000-man army is the best left to the Nationalists on the Chinese mainland.

The pro-Communist newspaper Wen Wei Pao in Hong Kong said Communist troops entered Hengyang Friday afternoon.

In the hour of Canton's ordeal, there was considerable diplomatic maneuvering.

A well-informed commonwealth diplomat in London said Britain will recognize the newly-established Chinese Communist regime in peiping.

India was expected to take a like step. Other commonwealth governments might follow suit. Trade with China is a big factor.

So far only Russia and her retinue of eastern European states have recognized the "Peoples Republic" of Communist Mao Tse-tung.

The British step would break the front of western powers who so far have remained mute on the question of recognizing Peiping.

The United States issued a formal statement denouncing the Communist order barring the news-gathering activities of all correspondents from nations not recognizing the Peiping government.

The statement branded the order a "crude attempt" to force recognition of the "Peoples Republic."

Idaho Senator Is Victim Of Heart Attack Today

Washington, Oct. 8—(AP)—U. S. Senator Bert Henry Miller, 70, Democrat of Idaho, died today.

The office of the Senate sergeant at arms said he died of a heart attack at his home here.

Miller was elected to the Senate last November. When he was elected he was a justice of the Idaho Supreme Court.

He attended yesterday's session and cast a vote on the farm bill.

He was born at St. George, Utah, Dec. 15, 1879. After graduating at Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, he received his law degree from Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn.

TRADE AGREEMENT

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 8—(AP)—Divided Germany took a step toward economic unity today despite their deepening political split. The eastern and western zones signed a 600,000,000 mark ($150,000,000) trade agreement in which all political implications were studiously avoided.

Four blind students are now studying at East Carolina Teachers College in what they call the "light of a friendly campus." Two of the women are sophomores and two are freshmen. They are Louise Weeks, Whitaker, and Lila Mae Creech, Smithfield, freshmen, and Katherine Vasilou, Wilmington, and Inez Bean, Morganton, sophomores.

In spite of the fact that the four students can see nothing, they study in the classes with other students and often top the classes in grades.

The familiar click of their sets for taking Braille notes can be heard throughout the class period as their sensitive fingers glide over the pages. Since the campus is too large for the blind students to learn each building, they have a regular student to lead them to their classes. Studying is done with the aid of a student reader and with notes taken during the class lectures.

Well Read Students

With a broad outlook on life, each of the four students is majoring in social studies and minoring in English. Even though the text books can not be obtained in Braille, the girls are well read. There is not one out of the four, that can not discuss Dickens' "David Copperfield," and Katherine says that she read "The Robe" in three days by reading five hours each day. She explained that this was made possible by special recordings of the book which can be obtained from the Library of Congress. They also read Braille books which are loaned by the Congressional Library.

Among the books that most of the women have read are, "Oliver Twist," "Gone With the Wind," and many other long novels. They stated that the novel is their favorite when it comes to reading for pleasure.

In discussing their family life, Lila Mae stated that besides herself, she has one sister and one brother who are also blind. The brother, Delton Creech, graduated at East Carolina in 1946 and is now employed at the State Blind School in Raleigh. Her highest aim in life is to someday be a secretary. Besides being a student, Lila Mae says that she finds time to attend movies and concerts.

When asked how she understood the movies without seeing them, all four of the girls spoke up to say that it was easy to follow most of the movies by the talking. One remarked that the "shoot'em ups" were hard to follow and therefore they did not like them. Lila Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Creech of Smithfield.

Babson Discusses Soviet Explosion

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7—The past two weeks have given me an opportunity to seek the real reason for President Truman's spectacular announcement on Sept. 23rd, that Russia had the atomic bomb. Of the many stories which I have heard, the following seems most reasonable.

Truman Helps Employment

The Cabinet meeting held that Friday morning was the first Cabinet meeting after the announcement of the devaluation of the pound. All members of the Cabinet felt this development was wise but some believed that increasing business for England and Canada (which is the real purpose of the devaluation) would result in increased U. S. unemployment.

Thereupon, the question was asked "Can't we do something here to offset the effect of this devaluation and yet not hurt England and the Marshall plan nations?" In answer the President may have reported this Russian explosion. This created great interest. The result was that the Cabinet authorized the President to make the announcement.

Close Schools

Middlesex, Oct. 8—(AP)—It was announced that the Middlesex school is closing for an indefinite period.

Principal Julian W. O'Neal announced that schools in Nash county's district 10 would be "discontinued indefinitely until the hazardous road conditions are made safe."

Two schools are in district 10, Middlesex, with 385 high school and elementary students, and Ferrell's School, with 240 elementary.

Czech Gov't To Assume Control Of All Churches

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 8—(AP)—The Prague press says the state will take over control of all churches in Czechoslovakia on November 1 under the Communist government's church control bill.

The newspaper Svobodne Slovo said the bill which has been bitterly opposed by the Roman Catholics, becomes law that day. It applies to all denominations.

Parliamentary committees reportedly will meet Monday to start work on setting up a ministry to govern church affairs.

The ministry will be headed by a cabinet member to be appointed by President Klement Gottwald.

Predicts Peace For 20 Years If Supremacy Kept

Rome, Oct. 8—(AP)—Atom bomb scientist Enrico Fermi predicted today that if the United States maintains atomic supremacy over Russia there will be no war for 20 years.

"American supremacy is predictable up to 20 years if we work hard," he said in an interview. "As for me, I expect to sleep as well as my insomnia permits. I'm a fatalist by nature anyway."

He suggested that the atomic bomb alone might not decide a future war, explaining: "If I were a general I wouldn't want to put all my eggs in one basket. Conventional bombs took heavy tolls of armies and civilians alike in the last war."

Fermi, an Italian-born American scientist and Nobel prize winner in physics, was a leader in the development of the first atomic bomb exploded near Los Alamos, N. M., in 1945.

Parliamentary Committees Reportedly Will Meet Monday To Start Work On Setting Up A Ministry To Govern Church Affairs

The ministry will be headed by a cabinet member to be appointed by President Klement Gottwald.

Officials Expect To Gain In Factional Scrap Soon

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 8—(AP)—The AFL today embarked on a plan to carve huge membership chunks from the CIO toward achieving a figured 1,000,000-member gain in 1950.

Key officials of the American Federation of Labor said privately they expect to pick up big parts of CIO unions, when the factional scrap in the CIO comes to a head, as may happen soon.

A showdown between the CIO's left wing and the right wing elements is shaping up for the CIO convention at Cleveland later this month. CIO president Phillip Murray has threatened his left wing union leaders with expulsion.

Labor circles expect the result to be a splintering up of the CIO's major unions, with the CIO trying to salvage as many members as possible and repudiated left wing leaders trying to drag large membership groups from the CIO.

Officials of the rival AFL, in annual convention here, are looking forward to an expected CIO civil war with glee. They say they hope to woo big CIO segments into AFL ranks as a result of the split.

That's what is behind the announced AFL goal to pick a million new members next year to boost AFL political power in the 1950 elections.

The AFL has dressed up its combined vote-getting membership as a centennial birthday celebration for Samuel Gompers, the AFL's late founder.

Gov't To Stay In Egg Market

Washington, Oct. 8—(AP)—The government announced today that it will remain in the nation's egg market for another two months.

Such action appears necessary, officials said, to assure producers a National average price of 35 cents a dozen this year. That price guarantee is required by law.

The government already has bought the equivalent of 15 eggs for each person in the nation.

Is Program Abused?

A Brief Explanation Of The Mix-up Over The GI Education Program And The Veterans Administration's Belief That Abuse Has Crept In; Changes In Ruling

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 8—There's been a mix-up over the GI education program.

At the root of it is the belief of the Veterans Administration (VA) which runs the program, that it's being abused.

This is a brief explanation of what's happened.

In 1944 Congress passed a law letting world war II veterans go to school at government expense and get paid while going.

They got this under two main conditions: If they were under 25 and could show the war had interrupted their education.

In 1945 Congress changed the law, wiping out the two limitations mentioned, opening the program to veterans of any age.

Then began a government philosophy that all veterans should have any education they wanted, based on their military service up to four years.

Veterans not only poured into the long-established colleges but began taking various kinds of instruction like dancing, mixing drinks, learning to fly, and even how to tell the sex of unborn chicks.

They could take these courses whether or not what they learned could be used later in making a living.

In 1948 the government philosophy changed a bit. In that year Congress tightened up the law a little. As a result—

VA banned—unless a veteran could prove he needed it to make a living—recreational courses like dancing, mixing drinks, and learning to fly. But—

VA let the other courses stand—like college or a trade, such as plumbing—if they'd help a veteran learn to make a living.

They could take such courses and even switch or change them as he wished.

In August, 1949 the policy got a little tighter. Congress did it by banning the spending of government money in schools that had been in existence less than one year.

The VA, on its own, tightened up the program even more than the law itself called for in so many ways. Why? On the grounds that the program is being abused.

It's not only continued to ban recreational courses but added

Had A Hard Time Filing Protest

Belgrade, Oct. 8—(AP)—Yugoslavia formally accused Hungary today of "hostile acts" against Marshal Tito's government, but the Yugoslavs had a hard time delivering their complaint.

The difficulty was caused, in part at least, by the fact that Tito's government recently booted eight of the Hungarian diplomats in Belgrade out of the country. The ouster was in retaliation for a similar Hungarian action against Yugoslav representatives in Budapest.

Liner Battered By Rough Storm

Southampton, Eng., Oct. 8—(AP)—Delayed 24 hours by storms, the battered liner Nieuw Amsterdam arrived here today with several persons aboard injured in a rough Atlantic crossing.

Rep. Abraham A. Ribicoff (D-Conn.) had his head cut when he was thrown across the ship's lounge at the height of a storm last Sunday night.

Alumni Return For Annual Homecoming

Alumni returning to the East Carolina Teachers College campus today on the occasion of the college's annual Homecoming Day began this morning to participate in a full program, which will extend into the evening.

Starting at 10:30 a. m. with a meeting of the Executive Board of the Alumni Association and including a football game between East Carolina and Elon this afternoon, the schedule of events will close this evening with an open house at the home of the college president, to which an invitation has been extended by Dr. and Mrs. John D. Messick to students, alumni, staff members of East Carolina and the public.

The East Carolina campus presented this morning a gala appearance for the occasion. Student organizations have cooperated under the direction of Virgil Clark of Greenville, in decorating the facades of dormitories in purple and gold banners and streamers and other original displays honoring the East Carolina Pirates, who are scheduled to meet Elon College here this afternoon.

Present for the meeting of the Executive Board of the Alumni Association in the Austin building this morning were officers of the association and presidents of chapters in various parts of the state. Mrs. Dubose Bullard of Wilson, alumni president, conducted a business meeting at which plans for 1949-1950 were discussed. Mrs. Ruth Garner, alumni secretary, entertained informally in the alumni offices in honor of the board.

Approximately 200 guests were present in the north dining room on the campus at 12:30 for a luncheon in honor of visiting alumni. President John D. Messick welcomed guests. A program of music was presented by Gladys Reichard, contralto, accompanied by Elizabeth Drake, and by Robert Carter, pianist. All faculty members of the department of music at East Carolina.

A parade featuring the college band is scheduled to precede the game. Five young women have been chosen as Pirate sponsors, all students at the college, and will ride in the parade. Chief sponsor is Sue Lanier of Lillington; and others are Iva Payne, Stumpy Point; Annie Morton, Carolina Beach; Jane Brown, Clarkton; and Betty Heath, Kinston. Band Director Herbert L. Carter has planned an attractive series of maneuvers between halves of the game.

This evening at 7 o'clock Shakespeare's comedy "The Taming of the Shrew" will be presented by the Teachers Playhouse of the college under the direction of Dr. Lucile Charles, director of speech and dramatics. The performance will take place on the lawn in front of the Flanagan building, or in case of rain in the Austin auditorium. President and Mrs. Messick will be at home to guests at an open house between 7 and 10 o'clock. The Junior class will entertain at a dance in Wright auditorium during the evening.

Appear Ready To Shelve 'Point 4'

Washington, Oct. 8—(AP)—Senate leaders appear ready to shelve until 1950 a bill to carry out part of President Truman's "point four" program for economic improvement of backward areas of the world.

"I doubt very much that the bill will be carried out at this session," said Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, the deputy Democratic leader.

The bill would authorize the export-import bank to guarantee certain types of investment abroad by American private industry. Last week the Senate Democratic leadership put the measure on the "must" list for action before adjournment, expected this month.

But Myers told reporters the picture has changed because the House has decided against taking up the bill at this session. The House Banking committee approved it earlier this week.

As approved by the Senate Banking committee, the bill would let the export-import bank guarantee American investments abroad against risks "peculiar to such investments."

The plan for economic improvement of underdeveloped areas of the world is known as the "point four" program because it was the fourth point of an outline for peace and freedom which Mr. Truman set forth in his inaugural address last January.

Before Radford was excused, Vinson senselessly proposed that the committee place sharp restrictions on Johnson's fund-cutting power, call for a new appraisal of strategic policy, and take a number of other broad steps to choke off the heated Navy-Air Force feud which culminated in Radford's explosive testimony yesterday.

It appeared likely that Johnson will be called on the carpet before the group concludes its investigation.

Committee members spoke out strongly against reported attempts to take away from the Navy money appropriated to it by Congress.

Mrs. Norman Gives Club Program
The Thalian club held its first meeting of the year Tuesday with Mrs. G. W. Wilkerson. After a delicious luncheon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Gaskins, and turned over to Mrs. G. W. Norman who gave a delightful musical program which included the life of Beethoven and the playing his 8th Symphony.

The new books were distributed and the meeting adjourned.

Parties in Bethel Fete Miss Gurganus
Friday night, September 30, from eight until ten o'clock, Mrs. Linwood Gurganus, Mrs. Herbert Brown and Miss Norma Williamson were hostesses at an informal reception at the Bethel Rotary House in honor of Miss Sallie Joe Gurganus, whose wedding to Mr. James Claude Williamson Jr. will take place Oct. 8. The spacious reception room was beautifully decorated with greenery burning tapers and fall flowers in pastel hues.

Mrs. Clara Roberson greeted the guests at the door and Mrs. Walter Latham introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the hostesses, Miss Gurganus and Mrs. J. L. Gurganus Sr.
Mrs. D. T. House, seated at one end of a beautifully appointed table, served bridal cakes and Mrs. W. M. Howard Jr., seated at the opposite end, served ice cream. Salted nuts and party mints were served also. Mrs. W. R. Hunnicutt and Mrs. R. J. Whitehurst poured punch. Others who assisted in receiving and serving were: Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. Robert Young, Miss Mary Todd Smith, Mrs. J. A. Manning, Mrs. Bruce Lewis, Mrs. Eugene Carson, Mrs. Walter J. Taylor, Mrs. Elizabeth Benton, Mrs. Cary Hammond and Mrs. Walter C. Whitehurst.

Miss Camille Station presided at the register, while goodbyes were said to Mrs. A. M. McWhorter. Approximately 100 guests called during the evening.

Mrs. H. L. Rives Sr. was hostess Thursday night at a buffet turkey supper at which time she honored Miss Sallie Joe Gurganus and Mr. James Claude Williamson. The lovely home was decorated with colorful fall flowers and the bridal color, white, predominated in the dining room. Mrs. Rives was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Rowlette Jr.

Mrs. Rives and Mrs. Rowlette presented a silver bowl, as a remembrance, to the honored couple. Those present for the enjoyable occasion were: Miss Gurganus, Mrs. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gurganus, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Gurganus, Mrs. J. V. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Brown, Miss Norma Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stator, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Howard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jack Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown, Miss Pecolia Fisher, Mr. Burton Ray Ayers and Lee Whitehurst, Jr.

Mrs. Tucker Hostess To Chatham Club

The Chatham Book Club met with Mrs. W. D. Tucker as hostess on Tuesday afternoon. Beautiful autumn flowers were artistically arranged in the living room to carry the thought of Indian Summer to the guests. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Eryn Brown. After a short business session, the hostess served a delicious salad course with coffee. Mrs. Tucker was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. P. Moore and Mrs. Frank Bendall.

Mrs. Brown turned the meeting over to Mrs. L. T. Shottwell who introduced Mrs. Carl Adams, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Adams presented the guest speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Lindsay Savage. Mrs. Savage in her very charming manner gave a most informative talk on "Hobbies." She said that hobbies were divided into four kinds, namely, doing, making, collecting and studying. Mrs. Savage concluded her talk by saying that hobbies is one of the most beautiful exercises that one can take and should be ridden hard.—Reported.

O. E. S. Holds Meeting In Snow Hill

Greenville Chapter 149 Order of Eastern Star held its regular meeting last Tuesday night with Miss Leila Mae Taylor, district deputy grand matron of the seventh district, and A. C. Tadlock of Greenville, district deputy grand patron, making their first official visits to the chapter.

They were given a welcome and were presented to the chapter by Worthy Matron Alys Rae Taylor. After a brief business session the chapter heard a talk by the district deputy grand matron on things pertaining to the work of the order.

Miss Taylor's talk was followed by a talk by Mr. Tadlock, who has been a member of the Greenville chapter for a number of years, and is a past worthy patron of the chapter. He thanked the members for every expression of kindness and for every courtesy extended to him. He pledged his best efforts in behalf of the order in his new post as district deputy.

A gift to Mr. Tadlock from the chapter was presented by Mr. Jesse W. Brown. A gift also was presented to Miss Taylor, the district grand patron.

Visitors from New Bern, Snow Hill and Missouri were included among those present.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were enjoyed.

Curtain Goes Down On Successful Agricultural Fair

Advance Of County Demonstrated By Improved Quality, Number Of Exhibits

Pitt County draws the curtain on its history making Agricultural Fair today, naming it as the greatest such event ever to be held in the county.

"The success of this year's Pitt County Fair from an agricultural standpoint is most gratifying," said D. J. Whichard, president of the fair organization. "We are naturally proud of being told by agricultural leaders of statewide reputation that the swine show at the fair was the best that has been seen in the state so far this fall and probably will be second only to the State Fair," he continued.

"We are grateful to the Home Demonstration and Agriculture Department officials and personnel, the vocational teachers and especially the farm youth of the county for their interests and efforts in making the fair a success," he said. "We likewise greatly appreciate the support the fair has had this year in the way of attendance of our people from throughout the county. It is the hope of the three American Legion posts of Pitt County to make the Pitt County Fair second to none in the state. Through this fair we hope to promote Pitt County's agriculture to its proper place of leadership in the state," Whichard concluded.

Norman Y. Chambliss, manager of the week-long fair, likewise labeled it as "highly successful." "It has well justified, in my opinion, the slogan, 'Pitt County on Parade,'" Chambliss declared in a statement yesterday.

Chambliss pointed out that the success of the fair was due to "the fine co-operation of the Agricultural leaders of Pitt County, the American Legion posts of Greenville, Ayden, and Farmville, the city of Greenville and the county of Pitt."

"In this great agricultural county of Pitt it is most fitting that a well balanced Agricultural Fair be produced, and that idea has been uppermost in my plans of endeavor," Chambliss said. He declared that Pitt should always stress agriculture in its fairs. "That I have tried to do this year," he said, continuing, "I hope with marked success."

Chambliss voiced his gratitude to those taking part in sponsoring the fair and to all the exhibitors. He pledged his wholehearted cooperation and energy toward future Pitt Fairs should he be called upon to manage them.

An auction sale at which 25 purebred hogs, grown by members of Pitt's newly organized Purebred Swine Association, were sold, was scheduled to be held at 11 o'clock this morning to climax the fair.

The hundreds of entries on exhibit in various booths and exhibition shelves will remain on show until this afternoon.

Mrs. Martha Forrest reported yesterday that over 80 premium awards were being mailed out to the winners. This number did not include a number of awards already made. Most of the 80 odd premiums mentioned by Mrs. Forrest included awards made for winning booths, canned goods, pantry wares, floral arrangements, clothing and fruits.

There were a number of booths which were not competing for awards but were set up in the exhibition building for educational purposes. They included booths used by the Forest Service, Highway Service and the American Legion.

One booth not in competition with others but attracting considerable interest was a taxidermy display by Curfield Patterson, colored youth of 505 W. 14th street, who exhibited a varied assortment of mounted animals including frogs, squirrels, racoons, foxes, muskrats, deer heads, fish and others.

Sellers Dickerson, 14, who lives on Falkland highway, had another interesting exhibit which was not competing for prizes. It was a home made box model car. This little automobile, large enough to carry a small boy, was complete with lights, rear view mirror and trunk compartment. Gas and oil headlamps are eliminated too. The car has no engine.

Big Cash Prizes

The fair proved profitable to many of the exhibitors. Topping the list of prize winners from a monetary reward standpoint, was the Belvoir Home Demonstration Educational booth. The booth, carrying out the theme "We Produce, Use and Save," was awarded the $70 premium. Ballard's, Falkland, and Red Oak followed with prizes of 60, 50, and 40 dollars each.

N. S. Tyson, Greenville Route 3 farmer, captured six first place premiums to walk off with $63. Tyson's entries were in the poultry and cattle division.

Taking the greatest number of wins was Mrs. R. B. Tye of Fountain. Her entries, mostly of the canned goods and home cooking variety, won 13 awards. Franklin Bowling, outstanding Pitt 4-H poultry producer, took 10 premiums for a total of $40.

Tibert Mills, Greenville Route 3, captured seven premiums and $36 for his poultry entries. H. D. Moye's swine entries won seven premiums for a total of $45.

The coveted Norman Y. Chambliss award offered for the best Educational Booth in the fair, went to the Falkland Junior 4-H club. The Falkland booth carried a theme of safety on the farm, showing the contrasts between carelessly operated farms and those employing safety practices.

The display consisted of two miniature farms. One was well planned, emphasizing safety. The other was the extreme opposite, showing implements lying carelessly in the yard, the house being a perfect fire trap, and numerous other hazards. It was flanked by small tomb markers, showing the chief causes of farm accidents.

Top among the Future Farmers of America booths was the Bethel club's swine management display, showing the well planned and poorly planned places to keep swine.

Ten-year-old Roy Hardee of Grimesland took what was perhaps the most cherished honor of the fair. It was he who produced the Grand Champion hog, a Poland-China. His pig took the blue ribbon in its class and the Breed Championship award in addition to the top honor.

Ray was presented a four-month-old pig by the Drum Hatchery for his achievement.

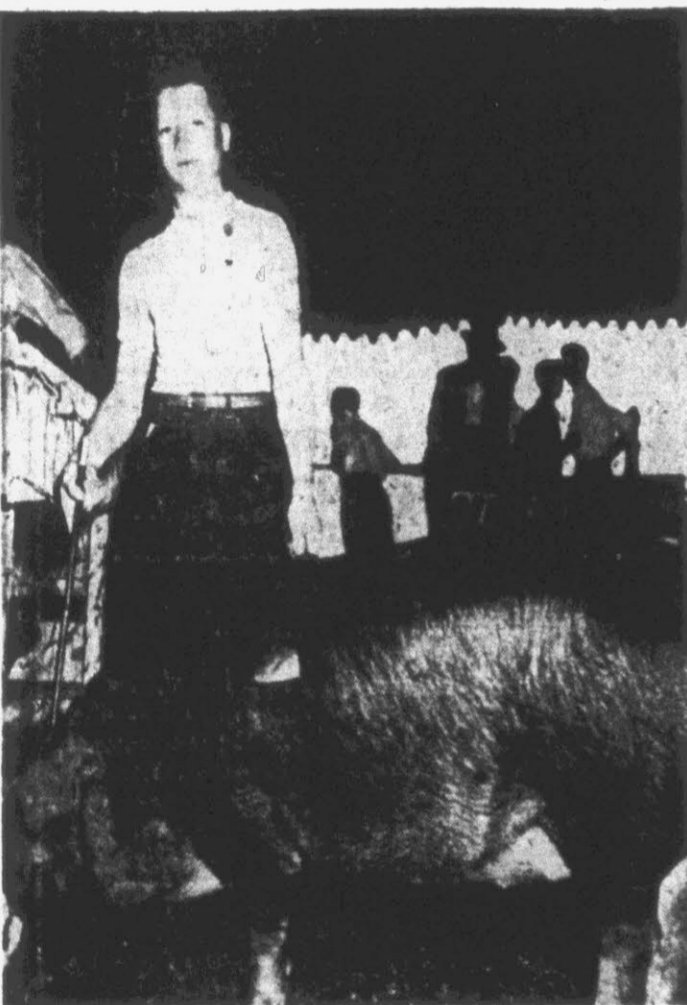

All the animals and exhibits remained on display throughout the week. The agricultural activities at the fair were completed with the sale of 25 hogs at an auction sponsored by the Pitt and North Carolina Purebred Swine Association, the State Extension Service, the Farm office, and the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville.

One of the highlights of the week's program was a Chamber of Commerce sponsored dinner honoring participants in the 4-H and FFA events. The dinner meeting featured an address by D. S. Weaver, assistant director of the State Extension Service.

Rounding out the program, the fair featured Prell's Broadway shows for the midway and daily performances by Sally Montana and her hill billy show and personal appearance of cowboy screen star Ken Maynard.

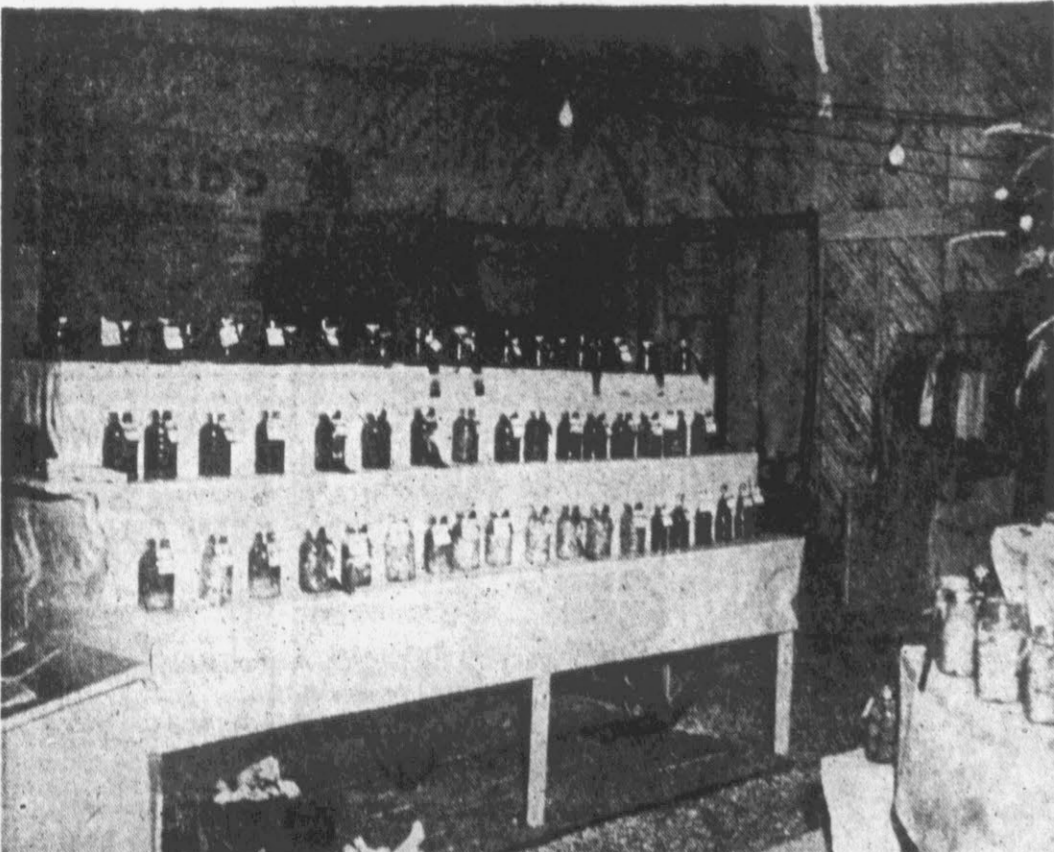

Ten-year-old Ray Hardee of Grimesland is pictured above with his Grand Champion Poland China which swept the field of more than 30 Pitt County pigs raised by 4-H and FFA youths. Hardee's pig took the breed championship and the blue ribbon in its class.

The Reserve Champion Pig of Pitt's big fair is shown above with its owner, Hubert Garris, 14 of Farmville. The Duroc-Jersey, won the blue ribbon in its class and the breed championship.

Bethel's Future Farmers of America Educational Booth which won the blue ribbon in its class is pictured above, showing the desirable way swine should be kept and the more familiar careless method.

Shelves of canned wares, prepared by Pitt County farm women, are shown above as they appeared during the fair being held here this week. Hundreds of pantry entries were on exhibition the entire week.

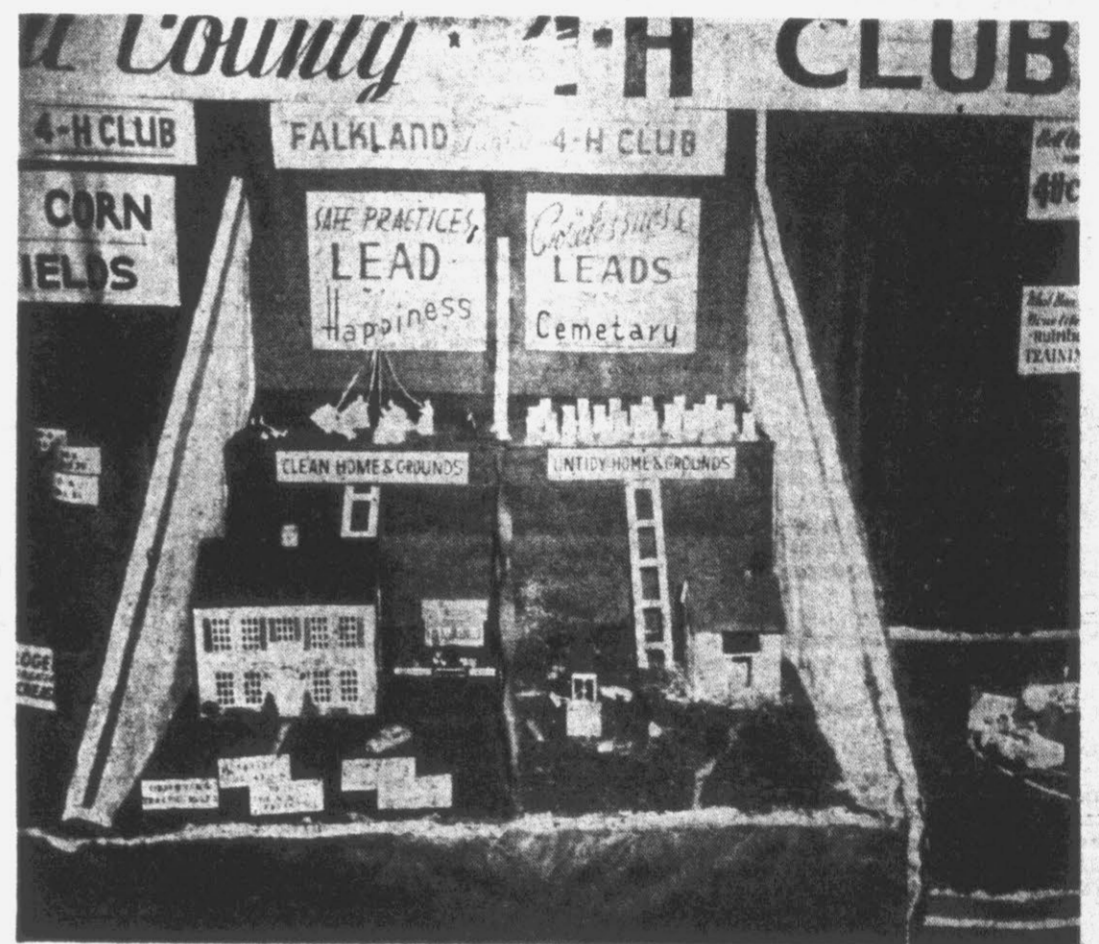

George and Sam Mayo, of near Greenville, who visited the Pitt County Fair Tuesday found many things to their fancy, and one of these was the concession booth which sold novelty items typical of every fair. The twin brothers are shown looking over some of the toy monkeys on sale when their picture was taken.

Pictured above are four Belvoir Home Demonstration Club ladies preparing the Educational Booth which won the $70 premium and top honors at the fair. Left to right are Mrs. W. R. Tyson, Mrs. J. C. Parker, Mrs. R. F. Clark, and Mrs. Clarence Barnhill, all of Belvoir.

Winner of the Norman Y. Chambliss award for being the best Educational Booth in the Pitt County Fair, the Falkland Junior 4-H club display is shown above. The booth illustrates the contrast between a farm in which safety practices have been carried out and one which has been managed carelessly.

Here is a picture of the Belvoir Home Demonstration Club Educational Booth which was good for first prize and a premium of $70. It carries out a theme of "Produce, Use and Save."

After a hard day at the fair, as supper time nears, many family groups found themselves together in one of the many booths set up by different groups to furnish food for the fair-goers. The picture above was taken in the Red Banks booth, nicknamed the Cotton Club, because the cotton on the screen door kept out flies. Enjoying an evening snack are, left to right: Jim Rogers, Mickie Averette, Henrietta and Cindy Swayne, Mrs. Henry Swayne and Mrs. Larry Averette, all of Greenville.

Appointment With An Important Fellow. A cartoon by Reg Manning showing a man waiting for a fellow. He says: 'HE HASN'T COME YET - BUT I GUESS IT'S A LITTLE EARLY-'. The fellow arrives late and says: 'IF HE FAILED TO SHOW UP FOR ANY REASON, MY DAY WOULD BE RUINED!'. The man replies: 'I WONDER IF HE REALIZES HOW MUCH I DEPEND ON HIM FOR ALL MY INFORMATION?'. The fellow says: 'HE'S ALMOST A MINUTE LATE! - MAYBE I OUGHTA PHONE! - MAYBE SOMETHING'S GONE WRONG!'. The man says: 'OH, GOOD! THERE YOU ARE!'. The fellow says: 'THE NEWSPAPER BOY, YOUR "CONTACT MAN" WITH THE WORLD'. The man says: 'YOUR NEWSPAPER TODAY'S REPORT FROM OUR CITY, STATE, NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL HEADQUARTERS'.

Strength FOR THE DAY. PREPAREDNESS. In these days of international stress, you hear a great deal about the word "preparedness". It usually means military power of some sort, and there is always an argument among statesmen, journalists, economists, clergymen, philosophers, and others as to whether preparedness prevents war or whether it causes war.

Somebody Told Me... By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR. Hollywood is full of interesting tales. Today I stumbled over one about a movie star whose parts are mostly horizontal. When he gets a part in a picture he usually sleeps through it. The star's name is Morton Towne, and he makes a living by playing dead. Even stiffs cost money in the movies, because the union won't let movie-makers use a dummy. The body has to come to life only to collect the pay check.

Somebody Told Me... (Continued) The actor starts to pull down the sheet and then the camera cuts to his horrified expression. If my face is filmed the Johnson office (formerly the Hayes office) usually cuts it out. They have a rule against dead faces. The makeup men give Towne a pasty face anyway, just in case. He also wears a white blouse fashionable for morgue members. He never bothers to hold his breath before the camera, because he isn't in the view long enough. Towne is now getting acting parts. He uses his real name, Jack Daly, for those, however. Directors always think of Morton Towne as a corpse, and he wants to get away from that idea, despite his dead success.

WASHINGTON LETTER. By JANE EADS. Washington—Because people are living longer, this country has more older people today than ever. Surveys indicate the number of older people will continue to increase over the next 25 years. These people want to have something to do after they reach retirement age. Perhaps that's why interest in adult education is higher now than ever before. Estimates based on national, state and local surveys indicate that up to 40,000,000 adults are interested in continuing their education in some form.

Around Capitol Square. STREETS — When the state-municipal road commission wound up its three day tour of study in the western half of the state at Greensboro Friday night, the members were very definitely "street conscious." Between Wednesday morning and Friday night the group inspected street conditions in fourteen municipalities, ranging in population from 357 at Hildebrand to 79,815 at Winston-Salem (1940 census figures). These fourteen incorporated towns have 1397 miles of streets, of which 370 miles are unpaved, and 827 miles have some type of paving surface, much of it greatly in need of repair.

Boyle's Column. By HAL BOYLE. Lancaster, Pa. — (P) — John W. Price is the only freeman in America who has had a crab, a snail, and a flatworm named in his honor. "I found them, they were new to science, so they just named them after me," he said. For 72 hours a week Price operates a switchboard at the Lancaster fire department. But that is only his living. His real life is in the world of nature. In his spare time he has become a self-taught authority on invertebrate paleontology—the study of fossil creatures without backbones.

Boyle's Column (Continued) college museum. Price volunteered to act as the professor's unpaid assistant at the museum. "There is a lot of letter-writing to do in science," he recalled, "and I did it. Most of those corresponded with men in letters. They had things like Ph.D. or D. SC. after their names. "So I decided I'd have to be a man of letters, too. I started signing my letters, John W. Price, L. F. D., assistant curator." Nobody asked him about this for years. Then at a meeting of scientists, one inquired curiously: "Say, Price, what degree does 'L. F. D.' stand for. I don't believe I'm familiar with it." "Stands for Lancaster Fire Department," grinned Price. By then he had made his mark in paleontology—through original discoveries and the publication of scientific papers—and didn't mind letting out the secret.

Anchored to failure — by poor vision. The class "dullard" has often proved to be the most intelligent child in the class... when his defective vision was discovered and corrected. The stubborn, unsocial child has often turned out to be an active, likeable leader of his classmates... when his defective vision was discovered and corrected. Poor vision is an unsuspected handicap that is anchoring many fine children, today, to failure. The only way of discovering its presence is by an eyesight examination. Ridgeway. ALERT!

Every muscle tense . . . every sense attuned to their surroundings . . . they're ready! A scent, a sound, a glimpse of the unexpected and they will streak silently into the forest. They're alert, but their alertness indicates a readiness to run away.

Rightly man scorns that kind of alertness. For human achievement is born of a different alertness. When men are awake to their opportunities, alive to their responsibilities, brave to their challenges . . . then progress is realized, goals are reached.

Our religion helped to establish this human standard of alertness, and our churches constantly inspire men to achieve it. For when the mind is attuned to life's environment, and the soul is attuned to God, then a man has the wherewithal to go forward to greater goals.

True alertness begins when we discover the riches the Church can add to our lives!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Yogi Berra Has Dodgers Slowed

Brooklyn, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Be careful what you say about Yogi Berra's catching in the World Series.

Before this score-first-and-win classic even began there was much talk about how the Dodgers would be running the bases like ants at a picnic.

Even Ty Cobb said the Yankees might lose any chance they had of winning the series because of the Dodgers' speed on the bases coupled with Berra's errant throwing in the past. Cobb lost 46 bases in 1915.

Despite a painful left thumb and two rubber sponges in his mitt the Dodgers have stolen only one base in the two games Berra caught. Berra handled Allie Reynolds' two-hit debut and nine strikeouts on Wednesday and yesterday he wiped out a Dodger threat in the very first inning when he doubled Pee Wee Reese at second base when Reese tried to move up a base on Eddie Miksis' foul fly that Yogi caught near the screen.

"He can catch me anytime," said relief pitcher ace Joe Page. "Berra is a smart catcher. He's a lot smarter than a lot of people give him credit for being. He's thinking all the time. He's the boss when I'm pitching. He calls for every pitch and I very seldom shake him off."

Calumet Gunning For 2 More Big Stakes Today

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Calumet Farm goes gunning for two more big stakes today—the Jockey Club Gold Cup and Champagne Stakes—on Belmont Park's closing program.

Coskilton, Calumet's powerful candidate for horse of the year honors, and his younger stablemate Ponder, claimed to be the three-year-old crown, are pitted against six others in the $50,000 added, two mile Gold Cup.

Slated to carry the famed devil's red and blue silks in the $25,000 added, one mile Champagne for juveniles is Theory. In both fixtures, Calumet rules favorites.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whitaker entered My Request and Miss Request, either of which could cause trouble for the favorites in the Gold Cup.

Crimson Tide In 48-8 Landslide

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The University of Alabama racked up a 48-8 football victory last night in a "breather" game against Duquesne before 15,000 shirtless fans.

It was Alabama's first victory in three starts. The Crimson Tide lost to Tulane and Vanderbilt.

The game was a pushover for Alabama. The Tide netted 322 yards rushing to Duquesne's 85 and had an overall gain of 352 to 158.

Ted Williams and Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox make up the first American League two-man drive in more than 300 runs in one season since 1937.

Ayden Smothers South Edgecombe, 35-7

Tornadoes Easily Pass And Run To One-Sided Score

South Edgecombe — Ayden High School smothered South Edgecombe 35-7 here last night in a Coastal Athletic Conference football contest witnessed by some four hundred fans.

Coach Stuart Tripp's boys, unleashing a dazzling running and passing attack, scored in every period with the second string account for two of the tallies.

Ayden jumped to an early lead when Quarterback Leonard Bullock plunged through the line from the five to score and hit Ed MacWhit-hurst with a 15 yard pass and a second TD in the opening period.

Mac Hardee hit the line for both extra points.

Reserve Halfback John Cheek skirted end for 20 yards and a third Ayden score before the halftime when the Tornadoes led 21-0. Hal Edwards accounted for the point.

South Edgecombe's lone touchdown was scored on a 50 yard downfield march to paydirt.

Delano Cox, a second string quarterback, sparked the Ayden attack, intercepting two aeriels and shining for the winners on offense. Reserve End Curtis Dennis was also outstanding for the Tornadoes, playing a bang-up game on defense and being on the receiving end of two completed passes.

It was the second win for Ayden against a single loss, that to Greenville 14-13.

Ayden entertains Vanceboro next week.

Japanese Win

Tokyo, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Japanese defeated General MacArthur's men today—in baseball. The Japanese International trade and commerce ministry took a 12-11 victory over the economic and scientific section of MacArthur's headquarters.

The game was arranged after the General relaxed occupation regulations to allow athletic competition with the Japanese.

First Victory For Green Bay

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The New York Bulldogs last night fell before the Green Bay Packers, 19-0, at the Polo Grounds.

For the Packers it was their first win, having been trampled twice earlier. The Bulldogs are winless. Only 5,099 saw the National League game.

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees tightened their hold on third place in the All-America Conference by downing the Chicago Hornets, 38-24.

Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Game

Columbia, S.C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Heavily favored North Carolina met South Carolina in a Southern Conference football game today.

The threat of rain hung over the contest as the Weather Bureau here predicted possible "occasional showers." A one-half inch rain lasting from three to four hours in the early morning softened up the field.

Cross-Country Run At Davidson

Davidson, N.C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Davidson College cross-country team played host to North Carolina State here today in the opening meet of the season for the home club.

State holds a victory over the highly rated University of North Carolina runners. Davidson has lost only twice in the past two years in dual meets.

"JUST RIGHT"

Brooklyn, N.Y., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Drunk Ralph Branca said the disastrous ball he pitched to Johnny Mize "went just where I wanted it to go." Mize and all the Yanks felt the same way about it.

Sport Slants By Pap

Leading Lady... by Pap

The spontaneous celebration in the clubhouse of the Llanerch Country Club following the triumph of Mrs. Dorothy Germain Porter in the Women's National Amateur golf championship on Mecton's famous East Course thoroughly expressed the delight of her fellow members. The big cup was on display, and everyone present was whooping it up in grand style. In the background, as usual, was Marty Lyons, the big, kindly, white-haired pro of Llanerch. Marty was beaming his pleasure.

Mrs. Porter, as Dorothy Germain, began her golf education under Lyons at the age of eleven. It was at the wish of her father, John Germain, one of Llanerch's most enthusiastic golfers, that she entered Lyons' first junior class. At that point, young Dorothy had a greater interest in horseback riding and field hockey. Her interest in golf grew as she became more proficient in the game.

"The story of Dorothy Germain Porter and the unfulfilling interest of her father and mother in her golf should serve as an excellent pattern for other parents and their children," says Lyons, long tireless and enthusiastic worker in the field of juvenile golf. He insists that any youngster can be started in the right direction by the club professional for junior class instruction. He believes that junior classes designed to stimulate interest in golf for youngsters but not to press them into dislike for it will produce a fair share of fairway champions, just as in the case of Dorothy Germain Porter, his prize pupil.

No Surprise If Shotton Tries Newcombe Today

Brooklyn, Oct. 8.—(AP)—If silent Burt Shotton runs true to form, he'll start Big Don Newcombe against the Yanks' lefty Ed Lopat today in an all-out try to square the Brooklyn-New York World Series by grabbing the fourth game.

Time and again during the regular season, the elderly Dodger manager called on his sensational Negro rookie to work with only two days rest. Newk is strong, willing and able.

Trailing 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, most of the boys figure Shotton has to come back with Newcombe. There is little indication in the big fellow's record that he would be any less effective with only two days vacation. He thrives on work.

If Newcombe is able to turn in a reasonable facsimile of his valiant, but losing, effort in the opener when he struck out 11 and bowled 1-0, he should win. Games like Don turned in Wednesday afternoon don't lose twice in a row.

Looking ahead Shotton would have his 17-game winning freshman available for probable seventh game if he could whip Lopat.

The Yanks now are 5 to 12 favorites to win the series. With the weatherman predicting "clear and warm" today with temperatures close to 80.

The status of Preacher Roe, hero of Thursday's brilliant 1-0 triumph, is uncertain. The Arkansas southpaw reports he can't bend the finger that was injured when struck by Johnny Lindell's drive to the box.

If Newcombe pitches and falls, Shotton would be forced into trying Roe, who normally requires four days rest, with only two days off, the Preacher might not be able to make it.

Heavy Docket In Court Yesterday

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts convicted Joe G. Rutledge, 24, of Aurora, of careless and reckless driving and speeding at 45 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone the night of September 7, and resisting an officer in the performance of his duty.

The court fined Rutledge $20 on the first charge, and gave him 30 days in jail on the resisting arrest charge, or pay $20. Rutledge gave notice of appeal to Superior Court.

Testimony was that Police Lieut. Rogerson and Patrolman Jewett chased Rutledge's speeding car over the streets of the city. When they apprehended him and started to take him to the police station Rutledge assaulted Lieut. Rogerson (a grandfather), knocked him down and was on top of him when Patrolman Jewett subdued him, the officers testified.

William J. E. Little and Petrew Grice, both colored, were convicted of several charges of stealing wearing apparel and paying some of it. The court gave Little 18 months at the county home and continued judgment in the case against Grice.

Four defendants charged with gambling were each fined $15. They are: William H. Pearce, James W. Staton, William H. Hyman, Willie B. Parker, Raymond L. Tucker and Bryant Hyman, all colored.

Luby Earl Worthington, colored, charged with larceny of an automobile, was bound over to Superior Court.

James L. Walters was not guilty of entering a concealed weapon.

Oreston Joyner, colored, was convicted breaking and entering and was bound over to Superior Court. Joyner was not guilty of another charge of attempted breaking and entering.

Drunk Cyril J. Metzinger, $15; James L. Walters, $15; Violet Richardson, colored, $15; Clarence L. Carawan, (and disorderly conduct and affray), $15; James F. Hedgepeth, $15; Thomas H. Lee, $15; Leroy Allen, $15; Edgar L. Holmes, 30 days in jail or pay $15; Clarence I. Powell, colored, $15.

Crashing red light: Floyd L. Jann, $15; Charlie Stafford was not guilty; Herman Moseley, $10.

Speeding: Vassie G. Balcum, $20; William E. Patrick, $20.

No operator's license: Edward C.

Some Of Season's Best Games On Tap In Football World Today

Danny Gardella Drops His Suit; Will Try Comeback

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Organized baseball welcomed back the last of its exiles, Danny Gardella, today and heaved a tremendous sigh of relief over removal of its only remaining nightmare.

With dramatic suddenness, Gardella announced last night that he was withdrawing his $300,000 damage suit and would try a baseball comeback with the St. Louis Cardinals.

This involved a bit of back room maneuvering because when the little outfielder jumped to the Mexican League in 1946 he was the property of the New York Giants, without a contract.

The matter was worked out to everybody's satisfaction, baseball officials disclosed, and all are happy.

"Danny has asked for and received his unconditional release by the Giants and will sign a 1950 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals," the statement issued by Gardella's attorney said in part.

It left a lot of questions unanswered, the chief of which was what influenced Danny to change his mind in such a hurry.

A few weeks ago the 29-year-old New Yorker was insisting that nothing could deter him in his fight to show up baseball's contract abuses and have them rectified by law.

The main complaint of his suit was interest in horseback riding and field hockey. Her interest in golf grew as she became more proficient in the game.

Johnny Mize Is Probable 'Hero'

Brooklyn, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Big Johnny Mize is the likely hero of the 1949 world series.

The guy many thought was through when the New York Giants sold him to the New York Yankees late in August has demonstrated anew he is ever dangerous.

With Leo Durocher who as Giant manager cast him aside, looking on from the stands, old John Strode to the plate as a pinchhitter in yesterday's game against Brooklyn.

The bases were loaded, two out, and the score tied at 1-1. A minute later John had plastered the ball against the right field screen for a long single that scored two runs.

It was a smash from which the Brooks may never recover. The hit also kept Mize's series batting average at 1.000. He singled against southpaw Preacher Roe in another pinchhitting role on Thursday.

"I never hit 1,000 before," yelled John in the dressing room later. "This world series stuff is all right. I only got six hits all season for the Yanks and now I've had two in the series."

Dodgers Honor 'Old Casey' In Reunion Dinner

Brooklyn, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took to their bosom their arch-enemy, Casey Stengel, and then squared off again today to do battle with him.

The mellow occasion was a reunion dinner last night of the 1916 National League champion Dodger team, of which Casey was a star member.

"Haven't I seen enough of you all day," was the greeting Stengel got from the present Dodger manager, Burt Shotton, when the New York Yankee manager arrived for the festivities. The two sat together and shunned discussion of World Series rivalries to reminisce about the baseball of 30 years ago.

Casey was given the spot of honor as speech-maker.

Harry Nussbaum from Garwood, N. J. Syracuse's right end, also is a star javelin thrower.

Michigan - Army Looks Like Game Of The Year; Oklahoma And Texas Also Clash At Dallas

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The season still is in its infancy but one of the best games of the campaign is on tap today — Army against Michigan.

These powerhouses of the gridiron — Michigan shows a winning skein of 25 straight while Army's streak stands at 13 without a loss — clash at Ann Arbor before a capacity crowd of 97,000.

The mighty Wolverines, who got off to a squeaky start with a couple of relatively close triumphs over Michigan State and Stanford are mindful of the last time they met Army. That was in 1946, and the Cadets triumphed 30-13 with Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard carrying the ball.

This year's Wolverines, rated tops in the country in this week's Associated Press poll, will rule slight favorite over Army.

There are some other good games on today's calendar.

Oklahoma and Texas, a couple of high scoring outfits, clash in a traditional rivalry at Dallas before 75,000. This is a tossup but Oklahoma probably will have a slight edge among the experts at game time.

Notre Dame is more worried about the Tulane game next week than Purdue, while Southern Cal., which already has whipped Navy and Washington State, probably will beat Ohio State. Baylor and Arkansas are two rough-tough teams that play for keeps with the former rated one touchdown the better. Kentucky, which has surprised one and all, has been installed as the choice over Georgia.

Some other top games of the day include UCLA - Stanford, Yale-Columbia, Iowa - Illinois, Texas Christian - Indiana, Washington-Oregon State and Iowa State-Colorado.

Eppes Loses To Nash Training School By 20-6

Nash County Training School, coming from behind a 6-0 first quarter disadvantage, trounced the Eppes Bulldogs 20-6 here last night.

Eppes grabbed an early, but momentary lead, in the first period when Herbert Griffin took the ball on a double reverse and ran 37 yards to a touchdown.

They led 6-0 at the quarter but their elation was short lived as the visitors broke into the lead 7-6 in the second and came back to chalk up two more touchdowns in the last half.

It was the second loss of the season for Eppes which plays Beaufort there next week.

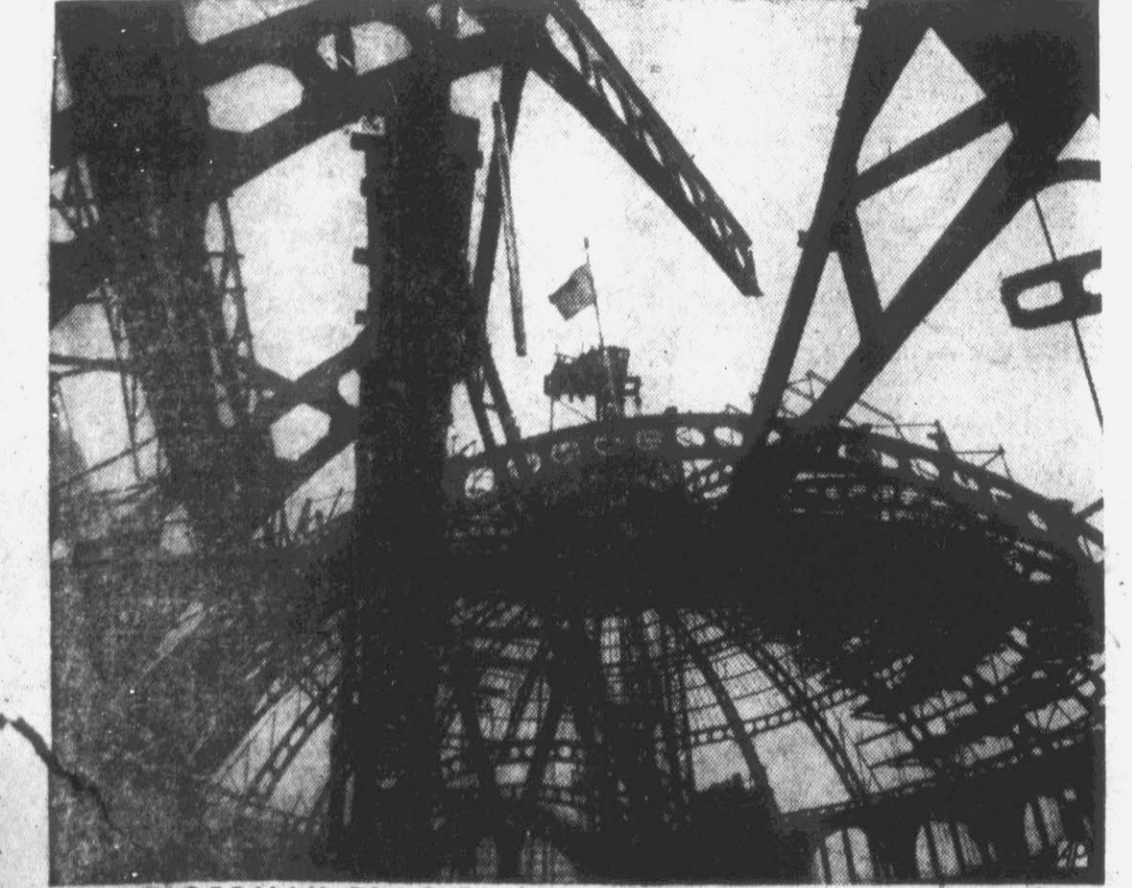

Eppes high lost to New Bern 6-0 last week.

Riegel Out To Snap String Of Tourney Upsets

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Former National Amateur champion Skeie Riegel today sought to snap the upset string of a Fort Worth dorkhorse in the Willard Memorial Golf tournament.

The veteran Tulsa shot-maker's opponent in a feature-d quarter final match was Alf Williams, who beat Chick Evans of Chicago, 4 and 3 and two-time champ Wilford Wehrle, Louisville, Ky., 1 up in the first two rounds yesterday.

Elimination of Wehrle left Riegel National intercollegiate titlist Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C., Dale Morey of Indianapolis and medalist Bo Winger of Guthrie, Okla., as favorites.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 25

Lucia came without a word, and went with him to the big rock cabin. Once inside, she sank down and began to cry softly.

"I'm like a dogie," she wept. "No home, no relatives, just a half-breed girl."

"None of that talk," he said sharply.

"But what am I going to do?" "We'll think about that later. Tonight, you'll share this cabin with me. You can sleep in Mrs. Sanchez's bunk. Miguel will not want you in the morning."

Early next morning a group of riders went to the corral and saddled fresh horses. The cavalcade started west and presently topped a rise and was gone, leaving only a faint dust haze to mark its passing.

Miguel came by and there was sheer, murderous fury in his black eyes as he looked at Jay and Lucia in the doorway. Jay sneered at him and slipped his arm around her slim waist. He bent down and kissed her.

Miguel's face whitened. He walked on, followed by his two blank-faced companions.

He went back into the kitchen and turned to face her. "You're safe from him now, Lucia. Just stay close to this cabin," he ordered. "And tell them all that you're my woman, that you belong to me now."

On Saturday morning fifteen riders left the settlement, led by Brad Morden; twelve Americans and the three Mexican vaqueros. They left behind them a dead settlement: a ghost town. The only sign of life was Lucia, standing alone and forlorn in the doorway of the rock cabin that had proved sanctuary to her.

The outlaws kept to the gullies and among the mesquites and off the skyline. By mid-afternoon they

Coltrane Urges Drastic Economy

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The "utmost conservation of funds is required as an insurance against possible reduction of salaries," says Assistant Budget Director D. S. Coltrane.

The budget chief issued this statement in a memorandum to all state department and institution heads yesterday.

Maximum efficiency, he warned, will be required to safeguard state employe salaries.

A 20 per cent across-the-board raise was given by the General Assembly this year.

Coltrane noted, however, that this raise is the only pay boost provided for by the budget for this fiscal year, with merit salary increases not to go into effect until next year.

"Appropriations for the biennium 1949-51 exceed estimated available funds," the budget chief said, "and economic conditions indicate that the revenue will not be equal to the estimates."

Faced with such a situation, he added, the state has had to suspend all except necessary equipment purchases during the present quarter and to crack down on expense accounts.

Strike Notice In Aluminum Given

Pittsburgh, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers today filed a 10-day strike notice on the Aluminum Company of America.

Union Vice President James G. Thimmes said the strike deadline would be 12:01 a. m., Monday, Oct. 17.

He said that while negotiations still are underway, there "has been no agreement on any phase of the union's 1949 Alcoa wage program."

Pretty Chinese Girl And Mink Coat Spoiled It

Tokyo, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A pretty Chinese girl and a mink coat were the undoing of Pvt. Nilton D. Fish.

The Baltimore soldier went AWOL last August. Things were going all right for him until his pretty girl friend, a Miss Wong, talked him into buying a raffle ticket on a mink coat.

Fish knew he couldn't win so he threw away the ticket. Then he found out he had won. He also found out he could get the coat without the ticket if he could prove his identity.

He gave himself up to military police. Miss Wong, escorted by Capt. John Mesinger, got the coat. Fish got the guardhouse.

Fire Prevention To Be Stressed All Next Week

Next week, October 9-15, will be Fire Prevention Week in Greenville. Throughout the city fire prevention will be stressed by various groups in the city. Films on fire prevention will be shown during the course of the week, showing the dangers of the hazards in homes and business places.

The Greenville Fire Department will inspect business and industrial establishments for fire hazards and make recommendations as to the best way for these to be corrected. The city school system will carry on regular fire drills during the week under the supervision of the school officials and the fire department.

A fire prevention program will be conducted in the Greenville high school under the direction of Principal Orren E. Dowd. The program will consist of an essay contest on fire prevention which will be open to both junior and senior high students and the Negro high school. Three cash prizes will be awarded to the top three winners. First place, $5; second place, $3; third place, $2. Teachers at the high school will grade the essay of each student and determine the winner.

Also during Fire Prevention Week, members of the Greenville Fire Department will give a demonstration on the use of three types of fire extinguishers at the city school. This will enable the students to become acquainted with the operation of the fire fighting devices most commonly found in public buildings.

One week in the year is set aside for Fire Prevention week during which time, civic organizations try to make the people in the nation conscious of the dangers of fires and try to help people to correct these.

The first Fire Prevention week was observed in the United States in 1911 on the anniversary of the great Chicago fire. Authorities point out the fact that over the nation in the course of a year some 11,000 Americans lose their lives as a result of fires. Fires are not confined to the city, but to the rural sections and the farms as well. Each person is urged by the Greenville Fire Department to make an inspection of their home and try to find any fire hazards that might be around.

Braille Notes . . .

(Continued from Page One) years at the State School for Blind and is now 20 years old. When asked about spare time she stated that she also likes concerts and plays the piano. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weeks of Whitaker.

Katherine Vasilou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Vasilou, frankly admits that at the age of 21, she doesn't know what she wants to do. However, she added that she thought that work as a social case worker for the blind would be interesting.

Besides carrying a full schedule, Katherine says that she finds time to attend the movies and enjoys listening to the radio. With a broad background in English, she stated that literature is one of her favorite subjects. Stopping to name a few of the books she has read, Katherine was able to recall quite a number of novels which she said were her favorites in the field of literature. Like most blind students, she is also quite talented in the field of music and revealed that the piano is her attraction in the musical world. When talking about her family, Katherine could only say, "I'm the only brat."

Inez Bean, unlike the other blind students who have been without sight for most of their lives, says that she went blind about six years ago as a result of a brain tumor. She attended the Morganton grammar school and high school and then entered the State Blind school where she studied four years.

She says that a vocation in life is going to be a hard decision for her. With an interest in journalism and in social case work at the same time, Inez thinks that it will be hard to say which she will do. Since enrolling at East Carolina, Katherine has been a regular member of a number of clubs and was elected as secretary of the YWCA last year. However, she said that she resigned because she had too much to do. Katherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bean. She has one brother and one sister.

During the past three or four years, East Carolina has had several blind students to graduate here. Florence Davenport, now working as a social case worker for the welfare in Wilmington, graduated here in 1947 with the top honors in the senior class. Agnes Dillingham, also a blind student, was graduated here two years ago with excellent records.

Kiwanians Enjoy Ken Maynard and Sallie Montana

By CHESTER WALSH
"Happy days were here again" at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night, and the program was one of the best of the year.

The bright spot in the meeting was the presence of the Kiwanians' children, especially invited to meet Ken Maynard, famous Hollywood western movie star, Sallie Montana, Tex Don, star of the Maynard show at the Pitt County Fair this year, and Chubby and Tommy, with their guitars. Their songs and instrumental numbers made a hit.

Norman Chambliss, manager of the fair, introduced the stars. Past president Joe Taft had charge of the program. Fire Chief George Gardner made a short talk on fire prevention. Capt. David T. Lambert, commander of Troop A, State Highway Patrol, was a special guest.

Ed Bloom, a past president and producer of the Kiwanis minstrel show, introduced two new members. They are Dixie McLowhorn, manager of the Jane's Shop, and Cecil Ellington, federal revenue representative here.

It was announced that the 'ladies' and charter night' banquet will be held at the college dining room the night of October 26.

A score or more of Greenville Kiwanians are going to Ashokis as guests of the Kiwanis club there. The Greenville High School football team plays in Ashokis that night. Ed E. Rawl is chairman of the Ashokis committee.

Credit Women Hold Breakfast Meeting At Olde Towne Inn

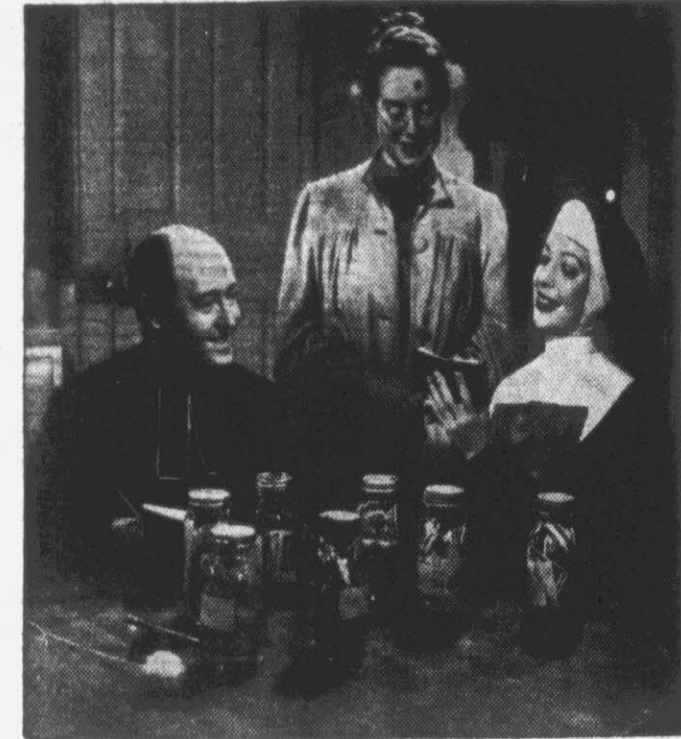

The Credit Women's Breakfast Club met this morning at the Olde Towne Inn and discussed plans for "Installation and guest night" on October 19th.

Mrs. Dorothy Copeland, president, appointed the following committees for the banquet: Arrangements, Mrs. Margaret Boykin, Mrs. Frances Cassick and Mrs. Allie Whitehurst; program, Mrs. Percy Laughinghouse, Mrs. Chester Walsh and Mrs. Ruby Lum, decorations, Mrs. Marie Cox, Mrs. Louise Carrigan and Mrs. Lettie Bilbro.

Several new members were voted into club membership and they are to be invited to the installation of officers meeting.

Twelve reservations were made for attendance at Rocky Mount on Wednesday night when the sponsoring CBWC will have "bosses' night" and installation of their club officers. Others desiring to go should contact the president immediately.

Funeral Sunday For Vanceboro Woman

Mrs. Ethel Laughinghouse, 54, wife of Herbert Laughinghouse of Vanceboro, died in St. Luke's Hospital in New Bern, at 12:15 o'clock Saturday morning after having been seriously ill for the past week.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home in Vanceboro Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Fleet Williams. Free Will burial will be in the McRoy family cemetery near the home.

Mrs. Laughinghouse was the daughter of Mrs. Julia McRoy of Vanceboro and the late Augustus McRoy, and spent all her life in the Vanceboro community.

Surviving are her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Minnie Boyd and Mrs. Sabar Kirkman, both of Vanceboro, Mrs. Gladys Cratch of Washington and Miss Beatrice Laughinghouse of the home; a son, Elmer Earl Laughinghouse of Washington; her mother, Mrs. Julia McRoy of Vanceboro; five sisters, Mrs. Winnie Lewis and Mrs. Lena Dudley of Vanceboro, Mrs. S. H. Gelling of Askins, Mrs. Bessie Miller of Vanceboro, and Mrs. C. B. Berry of New Bern, and a brother, Fred McRoy of Vanceboro.

4 Congress will insist that the Department of Defense and other important government agencies be reorganized on a nonpartisan basis, with some able Republicans taking prominent places.

5 The Fair Deal will have to be trimmed down radically, to insure national unity in a time of possible approaching peril.

6 The government will decentralize much of its establishment in Washington; spread it around the country and particularly in areas least susceptible to atomic attack.

7 Civilian wants, perhaps first for luxury goods, will be subordinated to the demands for greatly stepped-up defense. The President may declare a defense emergency at any time.

8 The disposition in Congress will be to throw onboard nearly all legislation not essential or contributing to national defense. Appropriation bills will be reconsidered.

9. Tax rates will be reconsidered on the basis of greatly increased defense needs. Increases of taxes corporate and individual, are practically certain later.

10. Some wartime controls may come back in a matter of months. They can include restrictions on strategic materials, inventory controls, allocations and perhaps controls of prices, salaries, wages, etc. Therefore, there may be a disposition on the part of many people to accumulate or hoard necessities, such as food, shoes, clothing, etc. The automobile and tire industry particularly will be pressed for deliveries.

11 Governments should provide atomic and other war insurance at an early date or else outlaw atomic warfare.

Then we shall have the odd circumstance of one city serving as capital of two separate governments at the same time.

Whatever may happen as regards the capital, the east German communist leaders in proclaiming the new satellite government yesterday claimed to speak for all Germany. More than incidentally they also have their eyes on the great industrial resources of western Germany. The new government immediately cabled New York, asking that the big four Foreign Ministers again take up the German question. The message was an appeal to Soviet Foreign Minister Viscinskiy to work for unification of Germany through the eastern government.

The new regime denounced the Bonn government. The feeling was mutual, for Bonn characterized the formation of the Communist-dominated eastern Republic as a national catastrophe.

Under this last rule, unless he could show it was really necessary for him a veteran no longer could resume an interrupted course, even in a regular college, or transfer to a new course or a new school, take post-graduate work, or enroll in schools established since 1944.

The VA released this ruling Sept. 15. It raised such a storm of protest in Congress, among veterans and even among some educators, that this week VA wiped out the Sept. 15 order.

Recreational courses still are banned, unless a veteran can show how one of them will help him make a living. But VA now will, let a veteran, without proving anything, change courses, resume interrupted ones, and take post-graduate work—provided it's in the same general field.

For example: A veteran taking a bachelor of arts course in college could switch from chemistry to physics without having to prove anything. But a veteran who had been studying law and then wanted to switch to the ministry, which is in a different field, would have to show why.

And further—VA under its latest ruling, knocking out its September 15 ruling, won't let a veteran enroll in a school that's been in existence less than a year.

H. V. Stirling, assistant veterans administrator in charge of the education program, still thinks it's being abused because "practically every world war II veteran is eligible for education or training without regard to need, with a potential, total additional cost to the government of $60,000,000,000."

The program since 1944 has already cost the government between $8,000,000,000 and $9,000,000,000. Of the 15,000,000 veterans, most of whom are eligible for it, about 6,500,000 have used the program.

Stirling has indicated he believes the living allowance given veterans while attending school has induced many of them to take a course just to get the government money.

The program was under the direction of Miss Marjorie Shearin, assistant home agent of Pitt county.

Regret Unruh Is Escaping Chair

Camden, N. J., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two survivors of victims of mass killer Howard B. Unruh said today they are sorry the 28-year-old war veteran will be sent to an institution for the criminally insane.

They said he should have been sent to the electric chair. Prosecutor Mitchell H. Cohen announced yesterday that Unruh is insane. He will not be brought to trial on any of the 13 indictments charging him with murder.

Unruh walked out of his Camden home last Sept. 6 and killed 13 persons in the bloodiest street slaughter in U. S. history.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Day of Mantua, Gloucester county, widow of Alvin M. Day who was killed in his auto by Unruh, was the most outspoken against those who opposed the disposal of the case.

"I was afraid this would happen. He should have gotten the chair. It makes me boil to think that we will have to support him for the rest of his life."

Thomas Zegrino agreed that Unruh should be sentenced to death. "The chair is the least he should have gotten," said Zegrino whose wife, Helga, was a victim.

But Mrs. Zegrino's mother, Mrs. Alma Kautzsch, expressed no opinion; "what can I say. My brain is dry," said the grief-stricken mother.

Combined Rites For 6 Victims Of Bus Tragedy

Middlesex, N. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Combined funeral rite for six of the seven young victims of the Middlesex-school bus wreck were held here this afternoon.

Meanwhile, school and highway officials face a charge of criminal negligence in Thursday tragedy which saw the bus and ice truck collide on a bridge along a dirt road near here.

The charge was made by a Coroner's jury at Nashville yesterday. The jury at the same time absolved of criminal negligence the bus and truck drivers involved in the accident.

Scout Leaders Meet On Monday

The Scout leaders of Greenville will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian church.

The meeting will be under the direction of district scout commissioner Sherman Clark. The group will take up the matter of troop meetings, may-making.

The scout leaders of troop 33 will put on a tenderfoot investiture. Also a discussion of the appearance of all scouts in their uniforms will be included in the program. All scout leaders are urged to attend the meeting Monday night.

End Holiday For Customs Officer

Copenhagen, Oct. 8.—(AP)—For 10 years now, the customs officer at Moelehuset on the Danish-German border has been on duty every day.

But the custom house will be closed January first.

A customs surveyor found that the border at Moelehuset hasn't seen a solitary traveler in those 10 years.

Six Women Are Electrocuted In Death-Trap Yard

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Six women were electrocuted in succession here yesterday after an iron rod hit a high-tension wire in a flooded yard.

Mrs. Isoldina Martine had borrowed the rod to open a drain in her flooded back yard. When she touched it against live wires overhead, the current killed her. Three of her daughters ran to save her. Each died when she touched her mother. The same fate met Mrs. Martine's sister and the neighbor who had lent the rod.

Finally an unidentified passerby warned other would-be rescuers away from the death-trap yard.

DROWNS IN FISH POND

Gastonia, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Donald Kilgo, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kilgo, was drowned yesterday after falling into a fish pond at a residence here.
