Great Armistice Day Celebration Planned For Pitt

Secretary Of The Army Gordon Gray To Speak; Big Parade Being Mapped

The greatest Armistice Day celebration in the history of Pitt County is being planned here for Friday, November 11, according to a statement today by T. I. Wagner, commander of Pitt County Post 39 of the American Legion.

According to Commander Wagner the day's activities will include one of the largest parades ever staged in Greenville and will be made up of military units, boy and girl scouts, veterans organizations, both white and Negro local high school bands together with other high school bands of the county that will be invited to participate.

Mr. Wagner said that following the exercises at the college dinner will be served on the grounds to all veterans holding 1950 membership cards in either of the organizations. Veterans who have not renewed their memberships will be permitted to do so at that time.

James S. Jenkins, representing the American Legion and Larry Averette, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars are co-chairmen of the special guests committee and both expressed delight at being able to procure Secretary Gray as the main speaker.

Every business firm in the city and especially those along the parade route will be requested to fly the flag that day and the Merchants Association has recommended that business houses close for the parade and the speaking.

Has Low Rating For Probe Of Five-Percenters

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—President Truman rates the five percent investigation as 100 percent worthless.

The question came up at his news conference late yesterday, following the decision of a Senate Expenditures subcommittee to suspend if not end its inquiry into so-called five percenters.

Mr. Truman said he doesn't think it ever was an intelligent inquiry and therefore that there is no use to continue it.

The inquiry revolved around activities of agents who offered to get government contracts for business men for a fee, usually five per cent. It reached into the White House to the extent that President Truman's Army aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan, was called to testify on some of his own activities.

U. S. Stake In Kaiser

Government Has Over $186,000,000 In Credit Allowed To Industrial Empire Of Henry J. Kaiser; How It Came About; Partially Denied; How Will It All End

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government has a stake of approximately $186,000,000 in Henry J. Kaiser's industrial empire.

The government's credit allowances reached that peak—equivalent to $1.25 for every man, woman and child in the population—when the 67-year-old builder-salesman's auto enterprise got a $34,400,000 loan last week to back its 1950 production plans, which include a new low-price car.

Before the war Kaiser handled millions of dollars in government contracts, sharing notably in work on the great dams in the west: Boulder, Bonneville, Grand Coulee, Shasta.

Entirely privately financed in those days, the onetime dry goods store cash-boy didn't owe the government a dime. Neither did he have the money-making assets that his present debt to the government represents.

During the war, when Kaiser's government contracts soared into the billions, he borrowed $152,780,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC)—maker of the new auto loan—to build, expand and operate plants.

Port Commission Requests Corporation For Terminal

Members of the Greenville board of aldermen and the Pitt County commissioners in a joint meeting last night heard three resolutions from the Tar River Port Commission, one of which would authorize the sale of 25 acres of the port terminal land to a private corporation proposed to be organized in Greenville.

The proposed corporation would erect a water terminal on the property for handling petroleum products.

After a lengthy discussion of the resolutions by the aldermen, commissioners and other citizens present at the meeting, the governing bodies of the city and county deferred final action on the matter until their regular meetings in November.

J. Nat Harrison, chairman of the Tar River Port Commission, presented to the city and county officials the resolutions which were passed by the port commission on October 4. The three resolutions asked that the State Highway Commission be requested to build an additional road into the port terminal property, that the streets in the property be widened to 100 feet, and that a corporation to be organized by J. Nat Harrison be given a six-months option on 25 acres of the port terminal land now owned jointly by Greenville and Pitt County.

The purchase price of the land was set by the resolution at $200 per acre. The resolution stipulates the option is not to be granted unless the purchaser erects on the property a proposed water terminal at a construction cost of not less than $200,000.

Harrison said if the option on the property is granted to the corporation, "assurance will have to be made to the satisfaction of the commission that the $200,000 of building will be constructed."

In response to questions of the commissioners and aldermen, Harrison assured the officials, "There is nothing in the resolutions which will cost the Tar River Port Commission a dime."

As for the resumption of regular freight schedules at the port by the Norfolk, Baltimore and Carolina ship line, which has the lease on the port terminal facilities at the present time, Harrison said he has been notified by company officials that the boat schedule will be resumed as soon as there is sufficient tonnage to warrant the reopening of the port. "In my opinion, he (the ship line operator) will reopen the port very soon," he said.

Harrison reviewed for the officials the activities of the port since its opening in 1949. He pointed out that an annual federal appropriation of $49,000 has been made for keeping the river channel open for freight boats, but the money has not been used since regular operations on the river were suspended in 1942. He said the present plans for resuming freight schedules on the river call for the use of freight barges instead of boats which were used when the port was open.

The other two members of the Tar River Port Commission, John Hooker of Bethel and Guy Evans of Greenville, told the city and county officials it is the opinion of the commission that it is apparent that something must be done to develop the port before it is a total loss to the city and county. In explaining the commission's action in approving the proposed grant of an option on the 25 acres of land to the private corporation, Evans stated, "It is our opinion there is nothing moving down there (at the port) now, and somebody has to start something."

The Greenville aldermen are scheduled to take final action on the matters presented in the resolutions at their regular meeting on November 3. The county commissioners will consider the matter at their meeting on November 7.

Both governing bodies must approve the proposals before they may be carried out.

Severe Coal Shortage Confronting Greenville

Retailers Say Only Few Bags Of Soft Coal Left; School, College Stocks Low; Utilities Stockpile Said In Better Shape

Greenville today found itself facing what some coal retailers termed the worst shortage of household coal the city has experienced in more than 30 years.

Local coal retailers reported their soft coal supplies have been exhausted except for a few bags of coal and a few scattered tons of fuel which remain in the coal yards. J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, reported today the schools may have enough coal to last until Thanksgiving if the weather stays moderate.

East Carolina Teachers College reported having enough coal to meet its demands for two or three weeks if the weather remains normal.

A spokesman at the Greenville utilities plant said the stockpile of coal at the local power plant is enough to continue operations of the plant on the present basis for almost 30 days.

Some local retailers reported today they have not been bothered with people wanting coal, while others have been flooded with orders they are unable to fill. One coal yard operator reported a backlog of 150 orders, and said he turned down coal orders from 25 local households users this morning.

Operators reported that the coal weather several weeks ago caused people to buy up most of the coal remaining in the yards, and since that time the operators have not been able to replenish their stocks.

Besides being out of soft coal, the Greenville coal yards reported very little stoker coal on hand.

Superintendent Rose said the school's supply of coal consisting of seven carloads was ordered during the summer months, but only two of the seven carloads have been delivered. The delivered coal was stored in the high school bin, Rose said, and very little coal is in the bins of the other schools of the city.

The high school coal bin is so constructed, Rose said, that if it becomes necessary to transfer the coal from the high school to other

Shaky Start For French Premier

Paris, Oct. 14 (AP)—Socialist Jules Moch got off to a shaky start as France's new Premier today by narrowly winning a confirmation vote from the National Assembly.

In a tumultuous session the assembly gave him its approval by a 311 to 223 vote. Thus he had only one vote to spare since he needed a minimum backing of 310 deputies.

Announcement of the final result could not be made for almost three hours after the ballots were cast because of disputes over the votes of several deputies. Two absentee votes put the new Premier across.

Moch, the retiring Interior Minister, gained a reputation as a "strong man" last winter when he crushed a Communist-led wave of strikes. Now he faces the task of naming a cabinet which can cope with the nation's mounting wage-price crisis.

It appears that his cabinet will have only a slim chance of surviving for any length of time. He received the lowest postwar total for any Premier on a vote of investiture.

Usually a government in France commands progressively smaller votes in each important test. If Moch is to remain in office he must reverse that trend.

The 56-year-old Moch succeeds Henri Queuille, leader of the moderate radical Socialist party. Queuille resigned as Premier eight days ago, climaxing a growing cabinet crisis tracing back to the British devaluation of the pound Sept. 18.

Lilienthal Talk Spurs Calls For Tighter Secrecy

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal's assertion that this country ought to stop "choking" itself with atomic secrecy brought calls on Capitol Hill today for even tighter safeguards around the A-bomb.

Lilienthal, who heads the atomic energy commission, spoke in New York last night. He said the United States should lose no time broadening cooperation with the British and Canadians so that brain power and materials of the three can be thrown behind atomic developments.

But Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) told reporters he thinks there has been too little, instead of too much, secrecy surrounding A-bomb making.

Canton Awaiting Communist Army

Canton, Oct. 14 (AP)—Nationalist troops deserted Canton today and this sleepless South China city expected the conquering Communists to march in at any time.

Municipal officials already were reported to have opened negotiations for surrender of the deposed government capital.

Rumors spread that the Reds may take over this afternoon. At 3:30 p.m. (2:30 a.m. EST), however, Communist soldiers had not yet entered.

SLUGGED IN STATION Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The cigarette vending machine in police headquarters hasn't been working for two days.

Today, a repair man found 10 brass slugs had jammed the machine. Nine of them bore the inscription "Good for one pack of cigarets."

Stalin Sends His Congratulations

Message To East Germans Proclaims 'Turning Point'

Berlin, Oct. 14 (AP)—Joseph Stalin today told East Germany's new communist republic that the Germans and Russians together could keep Europe peaceful by fighting as hard for peace as they fought in war.

Stalin's message of congratulations to East Germany's communist leaders brought predictions from pro-Soviet sources here that the Soviet bloc would sign peace treaties with the new Red satellite by January.

These sources claimed tentative drafts of such treaties already have been prepared.

Stalin's congratulatory message last night to East Germany's President Wilhelm Pieck and Chancellor (premier) Otto Grotewohl called establishment of the satellite regime a "turning point in the history of Europe."

He declared that the Russian and German peoples made the greatest sacrifices in World War Two.

"If both peoples," Stalin continued, "will show the same determination to fight with the same intensity of effort for peace with which they waged war, then peace in Europe can be regarded as secure."

The statement was distributed here by Adm. the official Soviet news agency. It was given prominent space in Moscow newspapers today.

"There is no doubt," Stalin said, "that the existence of a peace-loving, democratic Germany, along with the existence of a peace-loving Soviet Union, excludes the possibility of new wars in Europe, makes an end to European bloodshed, and makes impossible the servitude of European countries under world imperialists."

'Vast Majority' Of N. C. School Buses Overloaded

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 14 (AP)—The "vast majority" of school buses in North Carolina are being overloaded, a state school official says.

C. C. Brown, director of transportation for the State Board of Education, made the statement yesterday in approving plans of the State Highway Patrol to inaugurate a program of rigid inspection of buses for overloading and mechanical defects.

Brown said the tragic school bus wreck at Middlesex last week which took seven lives had "alarmed most of the school people throughout the state."

Some counties, he added, are buying buses to prevent overloading and in other counties school superintendents are giving strict orders to their principals not to permit buses to be overloaded. Already the Board

Rajk Death Penalty Is Confirmed By Hungary

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 14 (AP)—Hungary's court of appeal today confirmed the death sentence decreed for László Rajk, former communist foreign minister who was convicted of treason and attempts to overthrow the government.

The court also confirmed the sentences passed upon five of Rajk's co-defendants—death for two others, life imprisonment for two and a nine-year jail term for the fifth. The sentences were imposed Sept. 24 by a Budapest people's court.

Scheduled to die with Rajk are Dr. Tibor Szoenyi, 46, a former member of parliament who directed the Hungarian communist party's cadre system superintending the rank-

Lewis' Price Of Coal Peace Said To Be Fantastic

Operators Say Backs To Wall In Competing With Other Forms Of Fuel

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.—Soft coal operators today labelled John L. Lewis' price of peace in the mine strike as "fantastic."

Lewis said his demands for a new contract would add 30 or 35 cents a ton to the cost of producing coal but that could be absorbed out of the $1 a ton average profits of the industry.

George H. Love, lanky and balding spokesman for northern and western commercial operators, promptly challenged the Lewis figure.

Love said the pit owners had their "backs to the wall" in the race for markets against competitive fuels like gas and oil.

"What we need is more customers, not orations," Love told reporters after hearing a recording of a 75-minute news conference held yesterday by Lewis.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 14 (AP)—Northern and western mine owners said today they would rather have government seizure than to "cut our own throats" by yielding to John L. Lewis' price demands.

The United Mine Workers boss, in addition to announcing for the first time the package cost of his undisclosed contract demands, suggested that the government could end the four-week walkout of 400,000 soft coal miners by seizing the pits.

President Truman said at his White House conference that he had no immediate plans for taking over the coal mines but that he was looking into his powers.

"In some years," Love said, "the union renewed its contract. This is one of those years when it should be done. This is a year when they should allow the industry to consolidate its gains and allow it to face the competitive situation."

"If this was the best contract the union ever had a few months ago, why isn't it just as good now?" Love asked. He referred to statements by Lewis praising the agreement before it expired last June 30.

Love said that it seemed useless to continue negotiations with Lewis when there was so little progress, but he predicted that Lewis would attempt to hold out with pressures building up on operators—until some producer nearing bankruptcy "steps up and makes an uneconomic contract."

Sees No Ethics For Communists

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—President Truman believes Communists have no ethics.

He told a news conference so yesterday after being questioned about his own philosophy.

His philosophy, he said, is based on the Sermon on the Mount. The President told reporters they could learn all about it in 20 minutes by reading the Bible.

Engel Proposes Earn A Fortune, Legitimately

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sigmund (Swindlin) Sam Engel, who says he has made millions by billing wealthy widows, has new plans to make a million dollars, legitimately.

The 73-year-old Lehigh, Pa., released from jail Wednesday on $37,600 bonds on a half dozen confidence game charges, appeared enthusiastically about his proposed venture in the entertainment business.

"The public wants me," said Engel enthusiastically. "There'll be television and radio, personal appearances, movies and tours when I'm incorporated into a corporation."

Engel, who visited several booking agencies yesterday to discuss a proposed vaudeville tour, said he expects to "make a million dollars."

Communists Found Guilty Preaching Overthrow U.S.

An Amazing Bid Committee OKs Arms Aid Cash, Military Outlay

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 14 (AP)—United Mine Workers president John L. Lewis today asked AFL President William Green to throw in $2,500,000 a week to assist CIO president Philip Murray in his steel strike and promised the Miners would help.

Lewis, in an amazing bid for labor union cooperation in the two major strikes now on, called upon Green to create a fund in which 10 AFL unions would put up a quarter million dollars every week to help the steel workers "win beyond precedent."

Lewis said he would match the $250,000 every week from the treasury of the United Mine Workers.

In a letter to Green, Lewis urged the AFL president to "subordinate every other consideration and rise to meet in this fashion the giant adversaries which would decimate the majority of organized labor."

Propose Civilian Board 'Referee'

Lawmakers Say Group Should Settle Service Troubles

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two key Congressmen proposed today that President Truman name a civilian board to referee the bitter row over defense plans which has erupted in the armed forces.

Their suggestion closely paralleled one already offered Mr. Truman by the army-navy union, an organization of present and former servicemen. The lawmakers' proposal came on the heels of the President's news conference statement yesterday that he sees no need to change the fundamentals of present defense policy.

Nevertheless, said Reps. Brooks (D-La.) and Price (D-Ill.) there is a disagreement and it should be settled. The two lawmakers are members of the house armed services committee.

They brought up the plan after listening for more than a week as the navy fired repeated charges that the fighting power of the fleet is being weakened, while the air force gets funds and favors and builds B-36s to carry out a kind of warfare that the Admirals called wrong.

Previously the air force had made the giant intercontinental bomber sound like a good thing to a lot of Congressmen.

Brooks suggested to a reporter that the civilian board be named to find out who is right and settle the trouble that has boiled up in the armed forces. Price nodded agreement.

Operation Frees Typhoid Carrier From Isolation

Southern Pines, N.C., Oct. 14 (AP)—A man who spent more than a decade in isolation as a typhoid carrier was free today.

Moore County hospital spokesmen said an operation performed on Winfield S. Thomas, 68, of Carthage, Route 2, apparently was successful. Cultures taken for the third successive week after the operation showed no typhoid bacilli.

"It is impossible to be absolutely certain in these cases," said the hospital report, "but we fully believe Mr. Thomas is no longer a typhoid carrier." Checkups will continue as a precaution against recurrence of the condition.

Thomas, recuperating at the home of a daughter, said he had no plans. "I never was much of a hand for going around," he commented.

Canton Abandoned And Capital Of Nationalist Gov't Moves To Chungking; The Last Outpost; Soviet Satellites Gloat; What Would Constitute A Red Victory?

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The great Southern seaport of Canton—until recently emergency capital of the harassed Nationalist government—has been abandoned by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces in the face of the on-sweeping Red military machine from the north. The games of their metropolis of a million inhabitants are open to the troops of the newly proclaimed Communist government at Peiping.

The Nationalists once more have moved their government to the ancient city of Chungking, which perches on the towering crags beside the upper Yangtze like an eagle on its aerial. This, in a manner of speaking, the last outpost of the retreating regime.

How much longer can the Nationalists hold out in face of such Misfortune? Over in Bucharest, Romania, the Cominform Journal called developments in China the "greatest defeat for world reaction and imperialism, this journal, the mouthpiece of the political organization which links all Communist countries, predicts that the Red victory in China will promote revolutions in India, Burma, Indonesia and other Asiatic countries.

Well, Communist victory in China certainly would have momentous effects not only in Asia but around the globe. What will constitute victory in China?

Victory means not only the smashing of the enemy military strength but the establishment of a government which really can govern. That means a government which has the cooperation of China's five hundred million people, for you can't handle that many folks without their cooperation.

On that basis the Communists have a weary way to march before they even get a glimpse of success. What they see now is a mirage—fascinating but intangible. Seymour Topping, AP correspondent now in Hong Kong, and wise in the way of the Orient, sums the thing up thus:

"To make China a Communist state on the Russian pattern will require an effort that will make the accomplishments of the Soviet revolution look like small potatoes. The Chinese Communists have undertaken a reckless program for China. If their current strategy splinters against China's practical problems,

Jury Convicts 11 Top-Ranking American Reds; Will Be Sentenced Next Week; Five Of Their Attorneys Sent To Jail For Criminal Contempt Of Court

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—A federal jury convicted 11 top-ranking American communist leaders today of conspiring to teach overthrow of the U.S. government by force.

The 11 defendants, all members of the Communist National Board, were remanded to jail to await sentencing next Friday at 10:30 a. m. They face sentences up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 fine each.

Eight of the defendants had been free on $5,000 bail. Immediately afterward, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina found five of their lawyers guilty of criminal contempt during the nine-month trial and sent them to jail for terms varying from 30 days to six months.

Eugene Dennis, a defendant who acted as his own lawyer, also drew a six-month contempt sentence.

This ended, after seven hours of jury deliberation that began yesterday afternoon, a strife-ridden trial unprecedented in American history.

It was hinted during the trial that conviction of the leaders, who are certain to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, might drive the communist party underground in this country.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party, faces trial later on the same charge. He was indicted with the 11 others but was granted a postponement because of a heart condition.

A dead, shocked silence greeted the verdict. There was no demonstration. The defendants and their lawyers leaned forward eagerly, then sat back, impassive, when the word "guilty" was pronounced.

Defense attorney Harry Sacher "stood and got a poll of the jury but the verdict against each defendant."

The packed federal courtroom, scene of many a jangling outburst since the trial began last Jan. 17, was crowded and tense when the eight women and four men on the jury filed in at 11:26 a.m. (EST).

Speaking firmly, the foreman—Mrs. Thelma Dial, a Negro—announced: "We find each and every one of the defendants guilty."

Before dismissing the jury, and repeating his thanks to its members, Medina told the jurors:

"Do not discuss this case with relatives or friends or members of the press, magazine writers or anyone who seeks to elicit from you any information about the case."

Then he turned to the defense lawyers. He accused them of "working in shifts, accompanied by shouting, snickering and sneering." The lawyers, he declared, "urged each other on to badger the court."

Their contempt was so great, Medina said, "as to make the imposing of fines a futile gesture."

With that, he imposed the following sentences: Harry Sacher of New York, six months; Richard F. Gladstein of San Francisco, six months; George W. Crockett, Jr., of Detroit, a Negro, four months; Louis F. McCabe of Philadelphia, 30 days; Abraham J. Iaserman of New York, four months; Dennis, general secretary of the party, was sentenced along with them.

Sacher vigorously protested the sentences, saying they "can only have the effect of intimidating the bar of America."

Three of the defendants—Green, Hall and Winston—already had been jailed for the duration of the trial.

Miss Austin Speaks Before Club

The Literature Department of the Woman's club met on October 11th with Mrs. Wm. Sermons, Mrs. N. C. Brooks, Miss Lena Ellis and Mrs. C. A. Scruggs as hostesses for its first fall meeting.

A dessert course was served upon the arrival of the guests. Then Mrs. Dan Vornholt presided over a brief business session and the attractive new yearbooks were distributed. The club expressed appreciation to Miss Lena Ellis for her help in procuring the books.

Miss Marguerite Austin gave a perfectly delightful account of her recent trip to Europe. She touched briefly on her impressions of England, France, Spain, Germany and Switzerland. As one club member expressed it, hearing Miss Austin was the next best thing to going on the trip oneself. Everyone felt that it was a very pleasant and profitable afternoon, and a most auspicious beginning of the programs for the year.—Reported.

Christian Church Announcements
The volunteer choir of the Eighth Street Christian Church will sing at the morning service Sunday the anthem "More Love to Thee O Christ" by Reed, Mrs. Hoyt A. Minge and James Ray Pittman taking the solo parts. The pastor will continue a series of sermons on the Christian's armor using as the theme this Sunday "The Helmet of Salvation."
The Women's Council will meet on Monday afternoon at 3:30 at the church and at that time the visiting speaker will be Mrs. J. F. Parrott, prominent church and community leader of Kinston. Mrs. Parrott has just returned from an extended trip on the continent of Europe and will have many interesting observations to make. She will be presented by her friend of many years, Mrs. B. E. Bugg.
The Hookerton Union of the Disciples of this immediate area will meet on next Wednesday at 2:30 in the afternoon and will continue through the picnic dinner on the lawn of the Airy Grove Christian Church just west of Kinston. Youth session will be held in the late afternoon and at night emphasis will be made on the men's work of the church and Dr. A. M. Fountain of Raleigh will be the speaker.
The members of the church and others are urged to attend the Bible study group on Wednesday evenings at the church. Many of the difficult questions of the Bible are being cleared up and the great Book becomes ever more precious. The hour of study is from 7:30 to 8:30.

Allied Florists Hold Meeting

The Greenville Association of Allied Florists had its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night, October 11, at the home of Mrs. Minnie Hunebutt of the Greenville Floral company.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Marie Cox, president of the club. After the usual order of business, Mrs. Cox gave a report on the convention held in Morehead City in September, giving us a few helpful highlights of the convention.

Various matters of importance were brought before the club and discussed. Emphasis of the meeting was placed on National Flower Week to be held October 31 through November 6.

Living up to its slogan of "Service, fair prices and cooperation" the club decided to offer to the public for the next few weeks "specials in cut flowers and flower arrangements" in order to promote the home and beauty of flowers in the love and give us as florists a feeling of inner satisfaction.
After delightful refreshments, the meeting adjourned to meet again in November with Mrs. Aline Jefferson of "Simpson's Flowers."—Reported.

Mrs. Perkins Speaks Before B. & P. W. Club

The Business and Professional Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting last night at the Woman's Club with a large number of members and visitors present.

Mrs. Ruth Meeks, president, presided. This week has been National Business and Professional Woman's Week and the club has been very busy this week. There was a large number of the members who attended the First Presbyterian Church in a body Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. They had a nice radio program Monday afternoon and several spot announcements all during the week. The theme for the week is "Boost Your Town—It Boosts You."

Mrs. Dorothy Perkins from East Carolina Teachers College was guest speaker for the evening. Mrs. Perkins is connected with the Educational Department of ECTC. She chose as her subject "Individual Differences" and the various types of people, deaf, blind, cripple, polio victims, slow-learners, fast-learners, age group. This was a most interesting talk.

Mid-year council meeting will be held in Southern Pines November 12-13. Several members of the club will attend this meeting.

Members are urged to bring their packages for the Post Office Booth to the Diana Shop.

The Business and Professional Woman's Club is sponsoring a Halloween Carnival at the Armory, Friday night at seven o'clock, October 21. The parade will be at four-thirty and a prize will be given to the best dressed girl and boy. Bring your children and have fun at the Halloween carnival.

"Peace on Earth, When?"
On October 16, at the Jehovah Witnesses Kingdom Hall on the Falkland highway a public lecture will be given entitled, "Peace on Earth, When?" It will be given at 3 o'clock and last for an hour. The speaker will be Frank A. Julian, a representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

For the past six thousand years righteously disposed men have put forth numerous efforts to establish peace on earth, but today there is more strife and preparation for war than ever before. The Bible sets forth hope of everlasting peace on earth. (Isa. 9:6)—Luke 2:14.
Total peace in a new world will be ushered in through righteousness total war known as Armageddon. When will Armageddon be fought? Come and hear the stirring Bible lecture, "Peace on Earth, When?"

Appear In Music Club Program

MISS GLADYS REICHARD

Two faculty members of East Carolina Teachers College will appear on the first program for the fall of the Greenville Music Club. Miss Gladys Reichard, mezzo contralto, will give a lecture-recital on "German Lieder of the Nineteenth Century." To illustrate her talk, she will sing a group of songs and will also use recordings. Music will include compositions of Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, and Wolf. Miss Elizabeth Drake, pianist, will accompany Miss Reichard. The meeting will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Woman's Club.

Student-parent-Teacher Meeting Is First Of Current School Year

The first meeting of the current school year of the Student-Parent-Teacher Council was held in the Greenville high school auditorium last night at 8 o'clock.

Over 100 parents and students attended the meeting which was the first in a series of four regularly scheduled meetings for the year.

Professor Frank Fuller of the Guidance Department of East Carolina Teachers College was the main speaker of the evening, and he spoke on guidance generally, but with special emphasis on student-teacher-parent relationships. Professor Fuller stressed the point that teachers should attempt to guide the pupils in every way that they could and to take time to hear what the student had to say on matters in which they are concerned. It is very important that a good parent-teacher-student relationship is maintained, Professor Fuller commented.

The Girls Glee Club from the high school furnished a short musical program.

Following the musical program, a brief business session was held with the president of the council, Rev. J. A. Neilson, in charge. During this time it was decided that the next regular meeting of the council will be held in December and at this time open house will be observed. Other business dealing with future plans of the council was taken up also.

Dinner Party Honors Bridal Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Jr., entertained the Scales-Gaylord wedding party at dinner at the Harrington home on East Fifth street Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The wedding of Miss Virginia Gaylord and W. M. Scales, Jr., will take place on Saturday, October 22, in the Eighth Street Christian church.

Various beautiful fall flower arrangements with dahlias predominating, decorated the living rooms and sun room.
In the dining room a yellow and white color scheme was used. The table was spread with a cut work cloth and an antique bowl of yellow dahlias centered the table.

Mrs. Burney Warren, Jr., and Mrs. Alfred Williams, III, of Raleigh, were seated to serve dinner in three courses.
Miss Gaylord was presented a corsage and Mr. Scales a boutonniere of yellow mums. They were also remembered with an electric toaster.

Bridge Party Given For Bride-Elect

Mrs. Burney Warren, Jr., was hostess at bridge and a surprise miscellaneous shower yesterday afternoon to honor Miss Virginia Gaylord, bride-elect of October 22.

Colorful fall flowers, in shades of orange and yellow were used in the living room, where three tables were set for play.
Miss Susanne Kilgo won the prize for making high score and Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Jr., the low. Miss Gaylord was presented a silver pitcher.

When cards were laid aside, Mrs. Warren served a salad plate with coffee and a sweet course.
Mrs. Louis Gaylord, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. W. M. Scales, mother of the groom-elect, joined the players for refreshments and the shower.

Alumni Reveal Plans For Year

The East Carolina Teachers College Alumni association has announced a series of projects for the 1949-1950 school year. Mrs. Ruth Garner alumni secretary, has just made known plans decided upon at an executive board meeting on the campus on Homecoming Day, October 8, at which approximately thirty chapters presidents and officers of the association were present. Mrs. DuBose Bullard of Wilson, alumni president, was presiding officer at the meeting.

Three major activities will be undertaken during the year. Association members will carry out plans to landscape and plant the patio adjoining the campus soda shop. Further work will be done toward furnishing the sun parlor of the new home recently purchased for the college president. The alumni will also continue their efforts to increase the athletic scholarship fund now being raised at the college.

Progress was reported on the plan to place a bronze marker on the Beckwith Gateway at the entrance to the campus just east of the Administration Building. The marker will be a memorial to the late Mrs.

Kate R. Beckwith, who was lady principal and later dean of women at East Carolina from 1909-1925. Final plans, including the design for the marker, will be presented at the alumni meeting at commencement in May.

Mrs. Bullard has announced that the procedure in making nominations for the annual alumni award to an outstanding graduate has been changed. Members of the association may make nominations before January 1, 1950. Chapters previously acted as nominating bodies. A committee of five alumni and two faculty members will be appointed in January to evaluate the material presented about nominees and to select the recipient for 1950. Announcement of the choice will be made in May.

Highway Deaths Still On Increase

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 14—(AP)—Highway deaths still are on the increase in North Carolina. Motor Vehicles Commissioner L. C. Rosser said yesterday that fatalities for the first nine months of this year were 18 per cent higher than in the same period last year. September brought reports of 80 deaths, he added, compared with 68 in September last year.

God Rebukes the Nations

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scriptures—Isaiah 1:21-28; 10, 13; 19:19-25; 31.

The princes of the city of Jerusalem are rebellious, the Lord told Isaiah, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards.

I will restore thy judges and thy counsellors as at the beginning, afterward thou shalt be called the city of righteousness, a faithful town.

Jehovah shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know Jehovah in that day, and shall vow a vow unto Jehovah, and shall perform it.

In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, and a blessing in the midst of the earth. MEMORY VERSE—Isaiah 2:4.

GOD REBUKES THE NATIONS

DECLARES THAT EGYPT, ASSYRIA, ISRAEL WILL WORSHIP HIM

Scripture—Isaiah 1:21-28, 10, 13; 19:19-25; 31.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
OUR LESSON today is very long and difficult for both teachers and pupils. The gospel readings which are assigned to it, however, do remind us of world history, from the conquerors and dictators of Isaiah's day, down to our two world wars.

The Assyrians of that day (traditional enemies of Israel) conquered the Jewish nation. Later other dictators and would-be world rulers arose from time to time—Caesar, Napoleon, Mussolini, Hitler, to name a very few, and all met the same fate as the warriors of old—eventual defeat and ruin.

In Isaiah 1:21-28, Isaiah tells the people that Jehovah asks how His people came to be so wicked and rebellious, and enumerates their sins.

"How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment, righteousness lodged in it, but now murderers. Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves every one the people of My wrath will I give him charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets."

Then the Lord rebuked the boastings of the Assyrian king. "For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I am prudent, and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man."

This boastful one shall be put down, says Jehovah, and the remnant of the Israelites shall return to their own land.

"Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.

"For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction." In our day the remnant of the loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them."

That reminds us of the present time, when too often our newspapers print stories of corruption in high places—those in important posts accused of taking bribes to use their influence to gain advantage over others.

The Lord, said Isaiah, would purge these untrustworthy ones of their sins or destroy them. He would restore the honest judges and counsellors, and in time the city (Jerusalem) would be called, "The city of righteousness, the faithful city."

How many cities today would measure up to that title?

The 10th chapter of Isaiah again reminds us of our one-time dictators—now deceased. It reads: "O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

"I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against

Jewish people is in the home land after many thousands were slain in the recent persecutions.

Then comes the prophecy that in other lands besides Israel the Lord shall in time be worshipped—in Egypt and Assyria.

The Lord shall send the Egyptians a saviour, and a great one, and He shall deliver them.

"And the Lord shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it."

Assyria too, shall be the Lord's, and "in that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land: Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless."

In spite of wars and rumors of wars, let us trust God's goodness and take to heart the promise in our Memory Verse today, that in His own good time wars shall cease and peace descend upon this troubled earth.

Price spent 10 days traveling over most of Eastern North Carolina, where many of the some 100 reported deer deaths have occurred.

Farmville's Band To Give First Concert Of Year

Farmville, Oct. 14.—The Farmville high school band will give its first concert of the year on October 18 at 8 o'clock. A program of all marches will be given at this time. This year the band has several new members, who replaced the seniors of 1949, and three new instruments. The flute is played by Theodora Albritton, the piccolo by Blanche Satterthwaite and the bassoon by James Thorne, who was the very capable drum major last year. Everette Roebuck is drum major this year and is proving his worth in a most satisfactory manner.

There are 54 playing members of the band, eight majorettes and a color guard of four. From time to time new members will be added to the band.

A general admission fee of 25 cents per person will be charged for the concert.

A MESSAGE to the PEOPLE of NORTH CAROLINA

We asked for it:

When we, the people, approved the defense program by calling on Congress to build up and maintain a strong peacetime Army, Navy and Air Force, even to the point of drafting men if necessary, we also asked for the reactivation of USO on a CIVILIAN rather than a military or regimented basis . . . free from government dictation and financed and operated by civilians for civilian Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

How USO will be financed:

USO is organizing state committees NOW to conduct this year's campaign for 1950 funds. USO hopes to be included in all community chest campaigns and has offered quotas to ALL community chests for inclusion in UNITED rather than separate local fund-raising drives.

IN NON-CHEST TERRITORIES AND AREAS WHERE CHEST INCLUSION COULD NOT BE ARRANGED, USO COMMITTEES WILL CAMPAIGN INDEPENDENTLY.

The National Budget Committee, in conjunction with national community chests and councils, has approved a USO 1950 Budget of $12,100,000.00 which has been assigned to state, county and community quotas. The North Carolina goal being $173,500.00 subdivided and offered to Community Chest and non-chest communities on a fair and equitable basis.

What USO is doing:

USO's new job, in addition to the traditional off-camp club operations numbering 242 reactivated this year in this country and overseas, includes the task of bringing together local groups, organizations and individuals influencing favorable community attitude toward those young Americans, from all communities, who are temporarily in uniform and away from home environments. In North Carolina there are already TEN full-scale USO Clubs and other Facilities and there will be 100 permanent county committees to carry out the USO Welfare program.

Here in NORTH CAROLINA:

Every community in this state has sent young boys and girls into our peace-time armed forces and every community has a real stake in their Spiritual and Physical welfare wherever they may be in this country or overseas. There are now 59,282 Tar Heels away from home in training or on active service. Over 2,000 North Carolina veterans are still in Army, Navy and Veterans' Hospitals and ALL ARE BENEFITING FROM USO.

We, the people of North Carolina, owe our wholehearted support to the 1,600,000 young men and women of America who are away from HOME-TOWN environment and we owe the maximum of support to veterans in hospitals which now can best be given through USO Clubs and Facilities and through USO Hospital Shows serving over 100,000 "Shut-Ins" in 120 Veterans' Hospitals across the nation.

IF WE CANNOT GIVE THIS SUPPORT TO USO THROUGH OUR LOCAL COMMUNITY CHEST, IN ONE UNITED APPEAL TO SERVE ALL WORTHY CAUSES, LET US THEN GIVE GENEROUSLY OF OUR TIME AND MONEY IN A SEPARATE USO CAMPAIGN TO FINANCE A PROGRAM WHICH REACHES OUT FROM ALL COMMUNITIES INTO THE MOST DISTANT TRAINING CAMP, SERVICE POST OR VETERANS' HOSPITAL.

WE MUST NOT SAY "NO" TO USO IN NORTH CAROLINA

Strength FOR THE DAY

FOUNDED UPON THE ROCK

Any reader of the New Testament who comes across Jesus' parable of the houses built upon the sand and upon the rock is struck with the timeliness of the illustration. During the postwar building boom, we have all seen examples of houses built upon sand. Builders lacking skill or integrity have foundations in sandy or marshy areas, or on hastily made fills. After a year or so, their owners have been distressed to find cracked walls, sagging floors, and falling ceilings.

If this illustration is up-to-date, so is the message. Jesus was really warning his hearers, of course, not about their residences, but about their lives. By the comparison He impressed on them the insecurity of lives not founded on truth, reverence, love, and the other Christian virtues.

We all know the importance of these foundations for our lives, but we do not always realize the tragedy of lacking them. Sad indeed is the home-owner who discovers his house to be improperly built. But his loss is merely financial; he may start again in a new house. Not so with our lives, however. We must lose no time in building foundations that will remain when the winds blow, the rain descend, and the floods come that the houses of our lives are truly founded upon the rock.

Around Capitol Square

EXAGGERATED—Highway patrol officials say rumors about wholesale resignations from the patrol are grossly exaggerated. As of Thursday there was shortage of fifteen men below the authorized strength of 423. Only for a few brief periods since the patrol was established in 1927 has it maintained maximum authorized strength. For several years past the man deficit has averaged about ten. Reports at the motor vehicles department indicate that turnover has been less rapid during the past eight months, since the pay raise granted by the 1943 general assembly became effective.

SEPARATIONS—Four patrolmen resigned recently to take jobs as ABO law enforcement officers, one resigned because he did not want to be in the routine shuffle of patrolmen inaugurated some months ago. Two or three have been released for cause which their superior officers deemed sufficient. Two have died within recent months. A few others have left the service for various reasons.

REPLACEMENT—Most of these have been filled by return of former patrolmen or by recruits from training schools. Col. C. R. Tolson, commander of the patrol said there were 13 vacancies when he compared with 15 now. Present vacancies do not constitute sufficient reason for another training school, but plans are in the making for a school next year to train recruits. Experience has proven that it is impractical to operate a school with less than 50 anticipated graduates, and until the deficit list amounts to 25 or more active patrolmen the school will not be held.

MORALE—There have been increasing and disturbing rumors about low morale in the patrol organization. Top rank officials discount these reports. Persistence of the rumors indicates conditions may not be as good as the top brass thinks. On the other hand, check of records in the department indicates conditions are not as bad as the critics paint them. In the very nature of the case, patrolmen have to work long hours, often on dangerous assignments, for relatively low pay. One of them, who naturally would not let his name be used, said it looked like he took all the chances and all the cussing, while the men above copped all the bouquets.

CO-OPERATION—Major cause of criticism of the patrol is they spend too much time "loafing" around courthouse, sheriff and police offices. That gets back to continuing backspacing between courts and police officers on all levels as to responsibility for law enforcement. It cropped over several times in the conference Wednesday about enforcement of liquor laws. It involves also the age-long conflict between local and centralized government. The highway patrol, definitely a state agency, is frequently called upon by county and municipal law enforcement agencies for Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Last night I told Wife Rachel that I was going to tell my readers that today's column is written in a serious vein. "Why do you have to tell them?" she asked. "Because," I said, "the ones I've written lately have been so crazy that they should be reminded that occasionally I get rational."

Today I'm singing the praises of assistance. If they don't respond they are criticized for lack of cooperation. If they do respond, they are condemned for usurping local functions.

TREND—There is definite trend away from local responsibility. The fact that Governor Scott called the conference on liquor law enforcement at request of State ABC Chairman R. W. Winston evidenced belief on his part that local officers were not meeting their responsibilities. Numerous expressions at the session Wednesday indicated a desire to pass at least a part of the buck to the federal government for licensing liquor dealers in prohibition territory.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Are you sleeping your hair away? Well, if you're getting bald, the chances are—says Angelo Mantello—that the way you sleep has a lot to do with it.

Mantello is a middle-aged barber from Wilson, Conn., who spent four decades listening to customers grouse about their hair falling out. And after 40 years of pondering, he's come up with what he thinks is the cause of baldness.

"Such factors as heredity, nervousness and diet have no direct bearing on it," he said, "baldness results from improper sleeping position."

"Sleeping on the side and burying the forehead into the pillow causes baldness at the temples. Sleeping on the back causes the crown of the head to become bald."

"What's a thinning-haired man to do?—sleep standing up like a horse?"

"Not necessary," said Mantello. "Just correct your sleeping habits."

of those Greenville citizens who forty-odd years ago worked to get East Carolina Teachers College established in Greenville. Between the hours of seven and nine I saw two examples that show Greenville's good fortune in having ECTC located here.

At the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting, musicians from the college under the direction of Herbert Carter displayed the high quality talent among the student body. Well impressed by the program, I went to the high school with Wife Rachel to attend a meeting of the Student-Parent-Teacher Council, which has as its purpose the improvement of relationships among the three groups.

The speaker was Frank Fuller, professor of education at the college. Mr. Fuller's field is guidance, which he defines simply as helping people make the right choice. His speech last night was additional evidence that we are fortunate to have the college here. You might say that one speech is a small bit of evidence, but the idea is that the college brings men of Mr. Fuller's calibre to Greenville.

In the ECTC classroom Mr. Fuller's job is to teach his students how to teach. In his speech last night his purpose was to improve the audience's understanding of the adolescent. To make his point he told of many experiences he has had with adolescents in helping them with their problems. What could be a better background for teaching someone else to teach than experience in dealing with youngsters?

Tactfully, Mr. Fuller said that one of the main reasons for conflict between the adolescent and his family is the fact that many parents overlook what's best for their children in the course of having them do what they desire. He cited a friend of his who became a $30,000-a-year lawyer, but only because his father had been a lawyer, and he was almost forced into the profession by his father. After the lawyer's father died he realized that he was a mistfit in the law profession, went back to school, and became a happy $3,000-a-year college professor.

Mr. Fuller emphasized the importance of making the adolescent a part of the family. When the parents are discussing the purchase of a car, a house, or any question that involves the entire family, he says that the adolescent should be included in the discussion.

In order to understand the adolescent better, Mr. Fuller said, it's necessary to understand what he goes through in that stage. In the first place, he's almost always hungry. His legs and arms begin to reach a new length, which makes him gawky. For the first time, he starts to worry about his

And as for heat, Mantello continued. "If you wish to pluck a chicken you lower it into hot water until the hot water has softened the skin to such an extent that the feathers can readily be plucked. The same thing happens to the hair when it is subjected to artificial intense heat."

Mantello said another factor causing baldness was "shower erosion."

"Always wet your hair. Keep it moist. But wear a bathing cap in the shower."

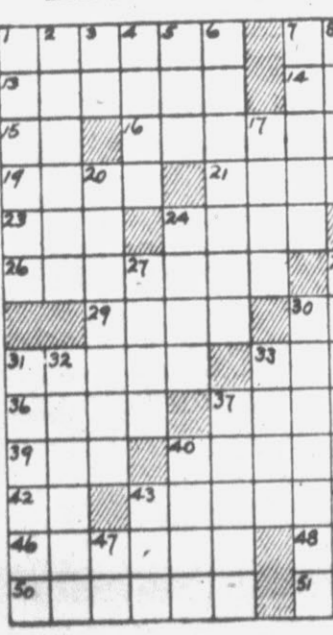

"Water is the best possible thing you can use on your hair to keep it moist—but it dries too fast. No hair tonic can do you any good except to keep the hair moist and in place."

And how do you cure baldness? "If you don't get bald," said Mantello, "tossing his black hair, 'you don't need a cure. It's always harder to raise grass on a lawn after you put concrete over it.'"

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE FADS
Washington—Willea Balkende, a young Dutch farmer, thinks life and work on the farm in Holland, Mich., is fine but he learned to play soft ball, to roller skate and swim and he likes those things too.

Jan Dirk Lokhorst on a Virginia farm, also became acquainted with new things—how to acclimate turkeys and chickens and how to eat watermelon and corn on the cob.

And while working on a Pennsylvania farm, young Willea Plaisier discovered the old American custom of horseshoe plucking and the new American custom of the drive-in-movies. Besides doing his daily chores on a farm in Maine, Ernst Van Meer spent three days helping to put a foundation under the local church, went to a high school banquet, attended Rotary Club luncheon.

These youths are among 33 Dutch farmers, all under 25, who came to this country several months ago under the technical assistance program of the Economic Cooperation Administration. They are the first group of farmers to come to the United States from a Marshall plan country. Each will spend six months on a modern American farm, working right along with the American farmer, who pays them from $50 to $70 a month for working while learning. Here are some observations the appearance, because he becomes interested in the opposite sex. To him, being accepted by his own group is of utmost importance. The "crowd's" opinion of him is more important than that of grown-ups.

Greenville is fortunate to have men like Mr. Fuller here. If you've never heard him speak and get an opportunity, run, don't walk. Wife Rachel says she can do a better job of raising me after hearing his speech. And I thank you.

American farmers turn out more work with less help than farmers in Holland because of the high degree of mechanization, employed by our farmers. The American farmer also works longer hours but is not so saving of his time during the day as the Dutch farmer.

Others coming to this country to learn how to better their practices include the British productivity teams. Unlike the farmers, these groups do not live in American homes. They are brought over on six-week tours under the program sponsored by the Anglo-American Council on Productivity, set up under the Marshall Plan Teams, pressed the building trades groups, pressed metals experts, cotton teams, rayon weaving team and others.

Norwegians came to study steel-making practices. France sent an electrical equipment manufacturing team. Reclamation engineers came from Greece. Denmark sent seven trade union leaders and Turkey, a group seeking advice on government financing and agriculture.

This country also sends technical experts abroad to advise on the latest methods in industry, agriculture, medicine, education and so on in the reconstruction plan.

Most Collectors Of Cigar Bands Aren't Smokers

Philadelphia—(AP)—There was a noticeable lack of smoke at the annual convention of the International Cigar Band Society, President Grover Greasby, of Waukesha, Wis., explained that about 80 per cent of the Society's members don't smoke.

President Greasby, a middle-aged mechanic, and his wife brought along what they called their master collection, dating back to 1900. The collection includes eight complete sets bearing the likeness of U. S. Presidents. Mrs. Greasby also has a complete set of German rules, from 1714 to the late Kaiser; a set of 89 flags of the world, and a set of 50 state shields. Another set displayed by Mrs. Greasby was imprinted with the faces of playing cards. There was enough variety for one complete deck.

Greasby said members get their bands by swapping or writing direct to manufacturers. Some buy cigars and give them away after removing the bands.

Turkey Will Cost Less This Year

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 14—(AP)—Your Thanksgiving turkey will cost less this year—possibly down around 57 to 59 cents a pound.

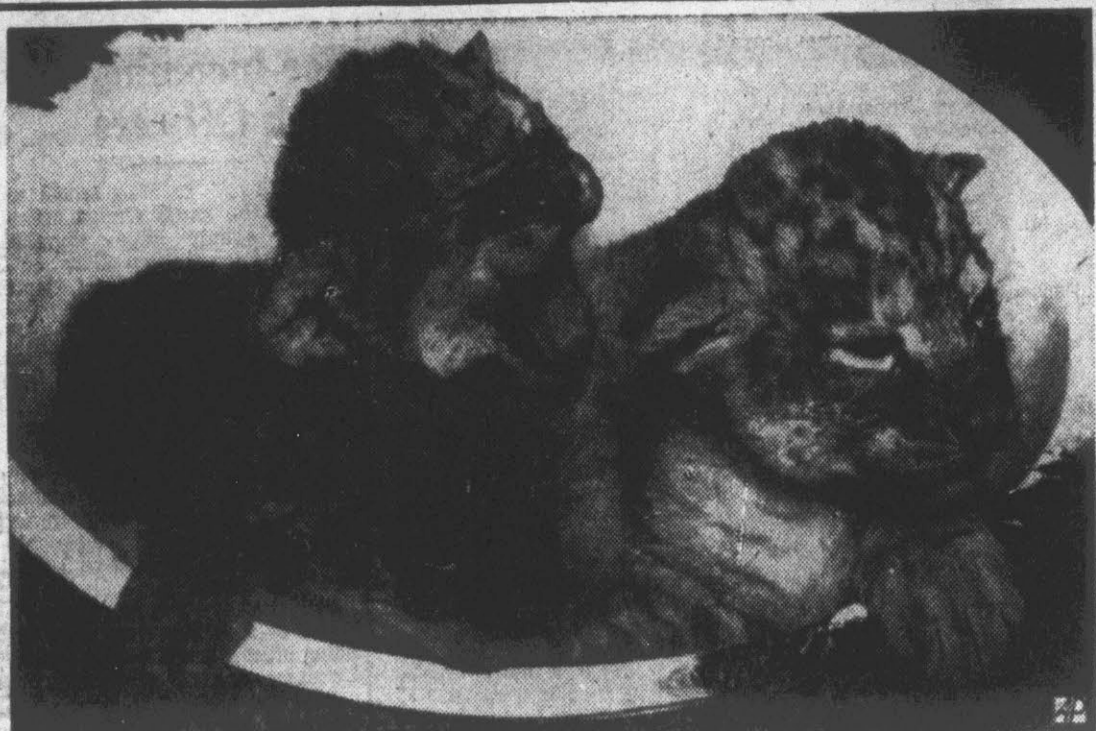

W. D. Termohlen, director of the U. S. department of agriculture's poultry branch, told the Maryland Turkey Producers' Association yesterday that "housewives will get turkey at about the same price as in 1946 and 1947."

At that time prices varied greatly he said, but the National average was somewhere between 57 and 59 cents a pound.

For instance, in the Baltimore area in 1946 hens ranged from 53 to 60 cents a pound and toms up to 52 cents. Last year most butchers were selling birds under 18 pounds for 75 cents.

Termohlen told the producers at their annual meeting that there weren't enough birds on hand last year "Prices were too high."

This year he predicted poultrymen across the country would grow about 41,000,000 gobblers—enough to put about four and one-half pounds on everyone's plate.

Tobacco Firms Halt Purchase Of Anthracite-Cured Tobacco

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 14—(AP)—A state marketing specialist has revealed that tobacco companies have issued "stop-buying" orders on tobacco cured with stokers using anthracite coal.

W. P. Hedrick of the state department of agriculture said yesterday the companies have instructed their buyers to refuse to bid on tobacco cured with hard coal. He said they are turning down the offerings on the grounds it has "objectionable features."

Federal grading inspectors, he said, have been told to mark such tobacco with an "M" for "mixed" whenever it can be recognized.

Hedrick added that the "M" designation results in lowering the average price per grade between $6 and $10 per hundred pounds.

About 1,200 to 1,500 hard-coal-burning curers were used in the state this year, he estimated. They cured about 6,000,000 pounds of tobacco, he said, of which about 1,500,000 pounds is distinguishable at the time it reaches the warehouse floor.

If this amount is turned down by buyers, it will result in a loss of between $90,000 and $150,000 to growers, Hedrick added.

The Oct. 1 estimate indicated about 1,130,000,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco in all will be sold on the five belts before the auction season closes. To date, Hedrick said, about 850,000,000 pounds have been sold. Three belts—the Old, Middle and Eastern North Carolina—are still operating while the two others have closed down. They were the Georgia-Florida and the Carolinas Border belts.

The first "stop-buying" order was issued about the middle of September by one of the major companies after it was discovered light spots on some tobacco cured with anthracite burners in the Rocky Mount area, said Hedrick. He added that one by one the other companies have issued similar orders until now buyers are refusing to buy any tobacco cured with hard coal when they realize that method was utilized.

Hedrick said the hard-coal curers are being used extensively for the first time this year.

Experiments with such curers, however, have been conducted during the past three years at the Oxford Experiment station. Until this year, no adverse effect on tobacco cured this way had been reported.

Des Moines, Iowa—(AP)—The Auer family has lived on the same farm near Garnaville, Iowa, 109 years. The Auer farm of 240 acres is said to be one of the richest farming areas in Iowa.

In 1840, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Auer left Germany and emigrated to America in a sailing vessel. Their son, Frank, Jr., took over operation of the farm at the age of 16. He died in 1925 and his sons, John and Oscar, have since operated it.

The brothers have raised purebred Brown Swiss cattle. They bring high prices and some have been shipped to Cuba and South America.

Purdue Takes On Miami Eleven

Miami, Fla., Oct. 14—(AP)—Purdue University's Boilermakers and the University of Miami Hurricanes clash tonight in the Orange Bowl in the first big ten college invasion of Florida. A crowd of 45,000 is expected for the football game.

Purdue, although beaten every game this season, is rated a two-touchdown favorite over the undefeated Hurricanes.

Scientists have kept accurate records of sunspots since 1749.

Gunshot Freed The Defendant

Sao Paulo, Brazil—(AP)—The district attorney of Taubate, Sao Paulo state, was summing up. The defendant was a farmer accused of stabbing to death a neighbor. His plea: self-defense. He claimed the neighbor tried to shoot him.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the D.A., brandishing exhibit A, an old pistol. "This is a prehistoric piece. As anybody can plainly see, it won't work at all." Click, click, click, went the hammer as he pointed at the jury, the public and a clock.

Boom! went the thing when he pointed at the judge. Near miss. Quick recess to re-establish order. Quick huddle by the jury. "Your honor," said the foreman, "we find the defendant not guilty. The district attorney has just cinched his defense."

More Flavor For Canned Fruit

Washington—(AP)—More flavor for canned fruit is foreseen by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Research on the apple crop has brought a new method to preserve flavor, says Dr. G. E. Hilbert. Gases from the first boiling of the fruit were preserved, condensed and returned to the final product.

By this method, Hilbert believes that it will be possible to preserve the flavor even of fruits that do not lend themselves to shipping.

Science Tries To Relieve Parents

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 14—(AP)—Science went to its test tubes today to help solve the riddle which harasses Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson.

Blood tests will be made to tell whether the Dayton, Ohio, couple might be the parents of six-year-old William Thomas O'Neill.

The Thompsons were in some ways nearly convinced, in others afraid to hope that "Tommy" is their own son, Ronald.

Physical similarities were striking. "Our hopes are high," said Thompson, "but we aren't saying anything until we're sure."

Their baby boy, Ronald, was kidnapped five years ago. Since then the Thompsons have waited prayerfully for his return. The present investigation developed as the result of a recent newspaper story.

Yesterday Mrs. Thompson clasped blond, blue-eyed Tommy in her arms.

"Something inside me seems to tell me this is my child," she said. But even at that moment, there was no certainty of it.

Again, the Thompsons' hopes were dimmed by a police report last night from Dayton on a fingerprint comparison.

Police Chief M. C. Kirkpatrick said that Tommy's fingerprints "do not compare" with those taken from Ronald's playthings after his disappearance.

At the same time he conceded that the fingerprints on the toys might not have been Ronald's.

The blood tests of Tommy and the Thompsons might not give a final answer either, medical men pointed out.

The tests could prove that Tommy is not their son. On the other hand, they could not prove that he is.

CROWING HEN LAYS EGGS

Fairbury, Neb.—(AP)—On the Adolph Schierkoik farm near Fairbury a bird had a comb and wattles like a rooster. It also crowed. But its body resembled that of a hen and it was known to have laid eggs.

Although carbon dioxide makes up only a tiny fraction of the earth's atmosphere, one scientist estimates there are about 2,200,000,000 tons of it, equal to some 600,000,000,000 tons of pure carbon.

Czechs Quietly Bringing Their Currency Into Devaluation Line

Prague, Oct. 14—(AP)—Czechoslovakia is quietly slashing the prices of its exports to bring them in line with the devalued currencies of the buying countries—a step which is tantamount to cheapening the Czech crown itself.

But by devaluing this way, the nation's Communist leaders gain

two important goals:

1. Continuance of trade with the west which is necessary for obtaining precious raw materials for Czech factories.
2. Continuance of the official line that the Czech currency is so strong that it can withstand any pressure from the west.

Shortly after Sir Stafford Cripps announced the devaluation of the pound sterling—followed by devaluation in other countries—Czech Communist leaders crowded that they would not follow suit.

"We are not subject to the wolves of Wall Street," was their cry. But all thinking Czechs in business and finance knew that the country's money experts would have to do something if Czechoslovakia was to keep on doing business with the west.

As one western observer pointed out, Great Britain could not fulfill its recently negotiated long term trade pact with Czechoslovakia if it had to buy Czech goods at the old prices.

So Czech leaders decided to cut their prices to keep in business.

This will mean a loss of money to many Czech industries. But the small price to pay for continued trade with the west.

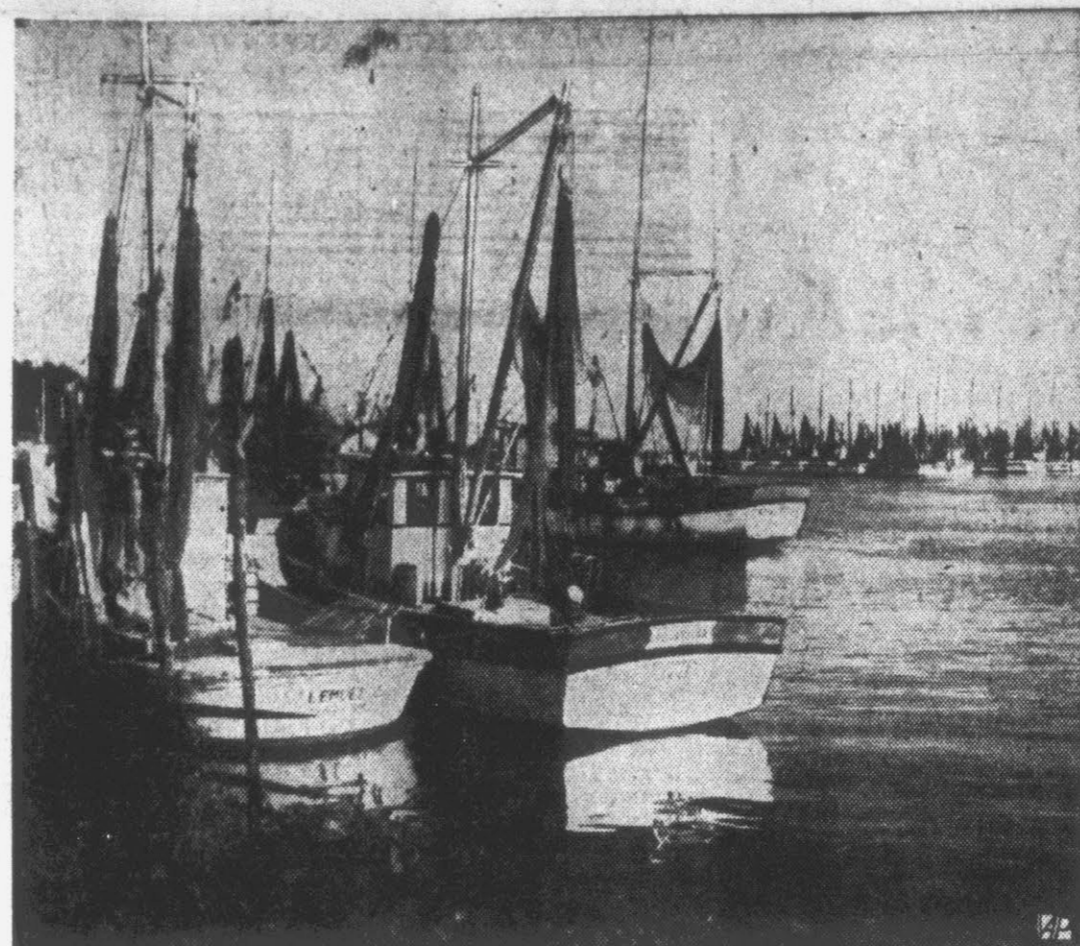

But in this integrated, Communist economy, where profit and loss has been ruled out since February, 1948, a Nationalized factory need not end up in the black at the end of the fiscal year.

When one of the industries winds up with a loss it is entitled to draw from the fund for industrial development which is financed from the confiscation of private property and from the income of the sales tax.

It is for this reason that some Czech Nationalized industries have been selling goods in western states at below production costs in an effort to undercut private enterprise for some time.

This practice, of course, is based to a great extent on political reasons—dictated in all probability by the Soviet Union.

Informed sources say that Czechoslovakia has been selling automobiles and other manufactured goods in India, Pakistan and China—and other underdeveloped countries—and in the west at below production costs in order to show that Communist Czechoslovakia is a going concern, able to outsell capitalist nations.

Training School For Incoming HD Club Officers

An Officers' Training school was held for the newly elected officers of the twenty-three organized Home Demonstration Clubs in a classroom of the Memorial Baptist Church in Greenville on Tuesday at 2:00 p. m.

Verna Belle Lowery, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, conducted the training school on "A Successful Home Demonstration Club Meeting." She discussed the duties of the President, Secretary, Treasurer, and members. Responsibilities of a hostess were given also. Miss Lowery reviewed sample minutes that might be used as a guide by the secretary.

Parliamentary Procedure was discussed as it is important that presiding officers know how to conduct a club meeting the correct way.

After the officers' training school adjourned these new club officers attended the County Council meeting and heard an interesting and challenging talk given by the North-eastern District Home Agent, Miss Lorna Langley.

Body Of Missing Child Is Located

Colesville, Md., Oct. 14—(AP)—A three-day search for missing six-year-old Otis T. Mason came to an end late yesterday with the discovery of the boy's body in a creek less than a mile from his home.

Dr. Frank J. Brochart said death appeared due to accidental drowning. Probably on Tuesday night, soon after he was missed.

Some 500 searchers had combed the nearby woods for the boy after his father, Leroy W. Mason, expressed fear that he had met with foul play.

Milk Consumption Drops, And People Wonder Why

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—Is the dairy industry—and the government, with its controls—doing all that is possible to get consumers to drink more milk?

This question is posed by the facts that (1) milk consumption is going down, (2) milk production is going up and (3) dairy income is shrinking.

In its public relations efforts to get Americans to eat a better-balanced diet, the Agriculture Department has emphasized the nutritional value of milk. It says Americans should drink much more than they do.

Use of milk did go up rather sharply during the war. There were several reasons for this. They included shortages of some other foods, shortages of non-food goods which encouraged greater than normal spending for food, and government price controls which tended to keep milk relatively cheap. But the curve of milk consumption has turned downward again. Americans are drinking less this year than last, and the department predicts they will drink even less next year.

What's back of this new downturn? There appear to be three major factors—a decline in consumer buying power, diversion of a larger share of that buying power to non-food items such as cars, refrigerators, etc., and a tendency for milk prices to remain relatively high.

Retail prices of fluid milk this year average about 20 cents a quart, only one cent less than last year's average. Yet income of the nation's dairy farmers this year is expected to be about 16 per cent less than last year.

Size of dairy income is determined in large measure by the portion of the milk supply consumed as whole milk. The larger that portion, the larger is the income. That's because producers get more for milk consumed as whole milk than for milk consumed in the form of butter, cheese, evaporated milk, ice cream, etc.

A small portion of this year's milk supply is being consumed as whole milk. The balance must be sold at a lower price for manufacturing purposes.

Ayden Rotary To Sponsor Amateur Show This Year

Ayden, Oct. 14—At the regular meeting of the Ayden Rotary Club on Friday night the club decided to sponsor another amateur show. Seymour Demain was the speaker of the evening. He emphasized the need of the Ayden High School Athletic Association. The club voted to make Seymour the general chairman in charge of the arrangements.

Last year the Rotary Club sponsored one of the most enjoyable amateur shows. The whole program was loaded with a variety of good acts performed by persons of unusual ability.

The visitors included Jean Booth past District Governor and Bob Duval, president of Kinston Rotary Club and Bill Darden of the Greenville club.

But look how much territory that takes in—how many different-sized budgets can now afford the only drive with neither a clutch pedal nor gears that shift.

You can have Dynaflo as optional equipment on the tidy, sparkling new Buick SPECIAL, with its traffic-handly size, stepped-up roominess, and bold new front-end treatment.

You can have it, again as optional equipment, on the neat and nimble SUPER, with its sleek lines, 110 or 120 horsepower Fireball power plant, and triple Ventiports.

And of course Dynaflo is standard equipment on that best buy among fine cars, the magnificent ROADMASTER. There it combines, with matchless ride, the stirring lift of 150 Fireball horsepower and truly regal size and bearing.

So look at the SPECIAL, the SUPER and ROADMASTER, three Buicks that match almost any price range you have in mind—and remember that all of them offer the added enjoyment of Dynaflo Drive.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

On every one it is the same silky, sweet-handling delight. On every one it cuts driving effort to the minimum, takes tension out of traffic, brings you to the end of day-long drives with surprising freshness and relaxation.

Sooner or later we predict that you'll join the army of car owners who wouldn't think of passing up what Dynaflo has to offer.

Why be among the late-comers? Your Buick dealer will be tickled to show you how quickly and how easily you can have Dynaflo to enjoy—right now!

BUICK alone has all these features

- Silk-smooth DYNAFLO DRIVE*
- FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area
- SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access
- "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions
- Buoyant-riding QUADRUPLEX COIL SPRINGING

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

COLONIAL # 871
 AP New features
 An economical two-story house, this plan can be used on a narrow lot. The main foundation area is only 20 by 24 feet—480 square feet, and the overall frontage of the house with garage and porch is 39 feet. By moving the porch to the rear the house could be built on a lot as narrow as 40 feet. Total content of house with basement, garage and bedroom over garage is less than 19,000 cubic feet. The third bedroom above the garage could be finished later. This design is the Colonial #71 by McMurray & Chirgotis, architects, 968 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

It just won't do for you to waste time developing muscles, boys. According to recent reports of Hollywood's Gregory Peck fan club, the caveman type doesn't always get the gal.

As a matter of fact, the girls suggest that for best results you might try acting just a bit shy. That's the Gregory Peck formula, they say. Much better than the Bogart, Widmark cave-man tactics. Women, they say, don't like to be shoved around after all.

Says one Peck fan:
 "The big strong guy looks the heroine straight in the eye. But Peck doesn't. He is such a shy guy, he evades her. Instead his eyes study the girl's forehead, cheeks, chin, neck and lips."

This, say the gals, is much more romantic than the "You'll do as I say" look of the tough guy.

Peck attributes his competence as a celluloid Casanova solely to his dramatic training. He admits that he is shy, but never to the point where making love to a cinema cutie has amounted to a real task.

More news from Hollywood is that Joan Evans probably is the most untypical teen-ager in America. When the 15-year-old movie star was asked, "What's new in the teen-age world?", she replied, "I don't know. I don't know any teen-agers."

Pity that. And to boot... She doesn't know any slang. She doesn't subscribe to any teen-age magazines, doesn't wear blue jeans, doesn't like butch hair cuts, and would rather talk to older people than those her own age.

Joan thinks that's because she's always been around older people and says she "never had a close girl friend because we moved around so much I never had a chance." Says Joan:

"I really don't think teen-agers are as different from adults as some people seem to think. They exaggerate the slang they use and the fads they have. Teen-agers really are pretty normal people."

Debbie Reynolds, who is making her movie debut as June Haver's sister in "Daughter of Rosie O'Grady," rises to the defense of teen-agers whenever the subject of juvenile delinquency comes up. The 17-year-old former Burbank, Calif., high school girl says:

"I don't think teen-agers are any worse than adults. Just pick up a newspaper. You'll find headlines about young people involved in hot-car racing, destruction of school property, and other crimes. But the same paper is filled with headlines about the antics of adults."

But, cautious Debbie—"Don't get me wrong. I'm not defending those who break the law or get out of line. The point is that there are no more wrong guys and girls in the teen-age group than there are in the adult group. Teen-agers just seem to get more publicity."

And, here's the lowdown on jitterbugging from 13-year-old Judy Glick, a student at Culver Junior High, Culver City, Calif. Says Judy:

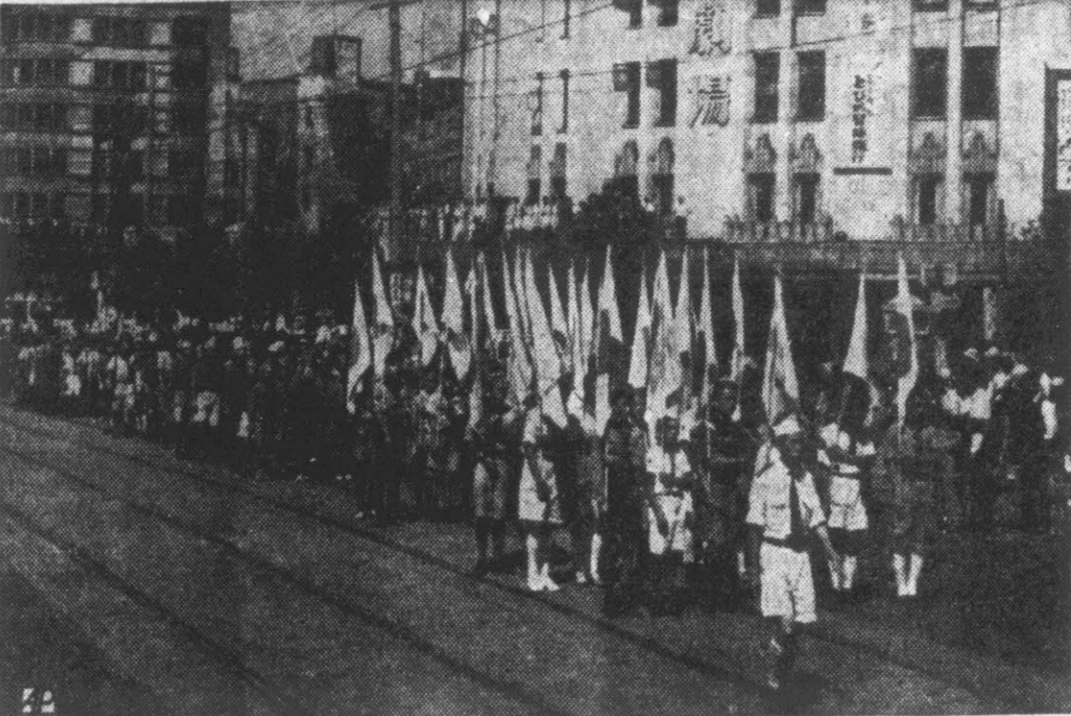

"Jitterbugging is on its way out. Most of the boys and girls today prefer slow dreamy dance music." Judy says that Friday is the big night for teen-agers, when they can go to the movies and a dance without worrying about school. Lots of kids "go steady," which Judy thinks is bad because it keeps girls from finding out about other fellows. As a matter of fact boys rate number one as the subject most discussed by teen-agers when they get together. Clothes ran a close second.

Girls in certain clubs at Judy's school wear identical clothes on some designated day. One, for instance, has its members wear pencil slim brown skirts with red sweaters on Wednesdays.

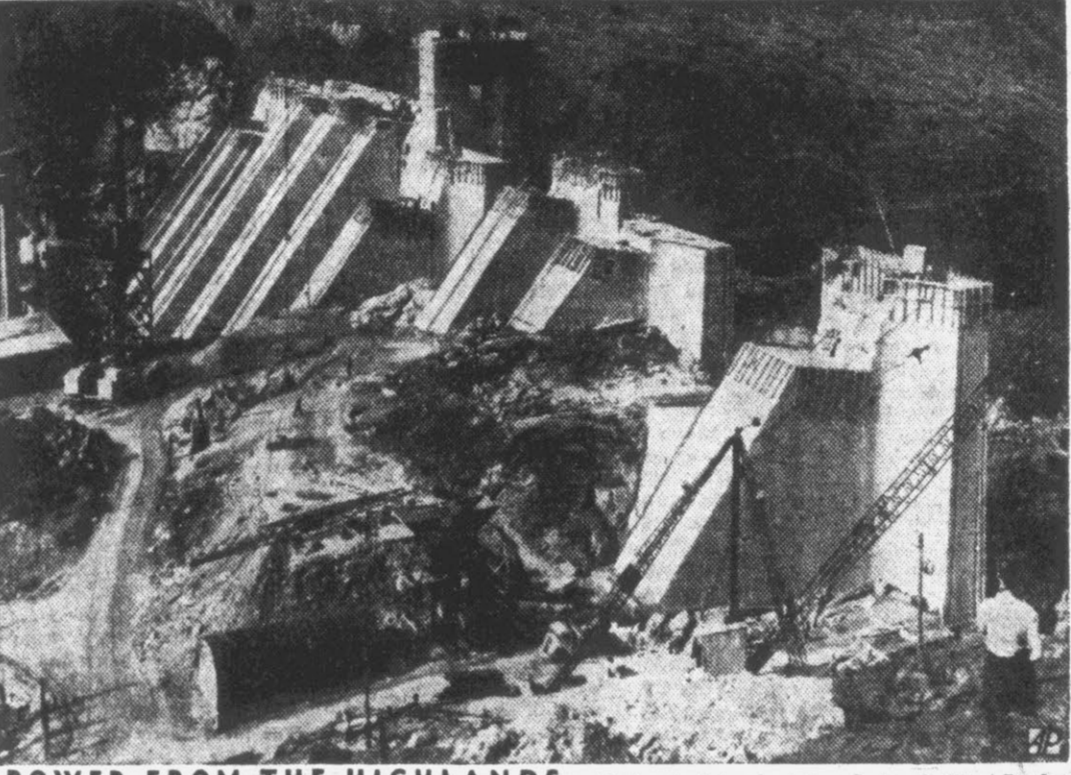

(Thanks to Gloria Yarbrough of Los Angeles for telling us about California's teen-agers.)

Scout Masters Convene Monday

A regional meeting of all scout masters in the Eastern Carolina scout district will be held at the Presbyterian church, Monday night at 8 o'clock.
 The meeting will consist of a training period during which time different scout masters will give short talks on various subjects dealing with scout work. John G. Fleming will speak on "Value of Scouting," Scout Craft by David Whitchard, and a movie and talk entitled "Fundamentals of Scouting" will round out the program.
 The meeting Monday night is the first in a series of six scheduled meetings which will be conducted by the scout leaders during the next six weeks.
 Wyatt Brown will be in charge of the closing portion of the meeting Monday night.

Ahoksie Picked To Beat Greenville Phantoms

By Eugene Price

What will Ahoksie's 1948 Class B State Champions do with Greenville? They will probably top Coach Bo Farley's boys by two touchdowns. If we had to make a prediction it would be something like 20-6 with Coach Jack Young's boys getting the nod. A record of 19 consecutive wins can't be ignored.

We don't mean to be taking anything from Coach Farley's Phantoms either. If they hold Ahoksie to three touchdowns and score one themselves, they will have nothing to be ashamed of.

Ahoksie hasn't been scored on in the past nine games. The last team to cross the Ahoksie goal line was Columbia back in the early season of 1948. We believe that Greenville, a class A team, will break that record and shove at least one touchdown across the goal.

Since Coach Jack Young, captain of the East-Carolina Teachers College undefeated team of 1941, took over at Ahoksie, the team there has marked up 23 wins in 25 encounters. In 1947 they lost the Albemarle Conference crown by one game. Last year they breezed through all comers for the State Class B championship.

Reports indicate that Ahoksie is even more powerful in 1949 than they were last season. So far this year they have defeated Scotland Neck 33-0; Tarboro 34-0 and Hertford 45-0.

Spark plugs in the Ahoksie attack are two big backs named Tommy Umphlett and Jimmy Williamson. Umphlett, an 18-year-old 168 pound tailback, scored 103 points for Ahoksie in 1947 and 70 last year. He has been likewise impressive this season. Williamson, a 185 pound fullback, has chalked up 84 points already this season. He scored 103 in '47 and 120 last year. Ahoksie's line will average some 175 pounds, most of the boys being seniors. Coach Young employs a two platoon system in the line with Dickie Hoggard, 180 pounds, and Archie (Monk) Conleton, 200 pounds, leading the forward wall. A look at Greenville's Phantoms shows a Northeastern Conference team which is definitely experiencing one of its lean years, though the locals have chalked up three wins in four games. They have played in only two conference tilts.

From now on they face the most powerful teams in the conference with the exception of Roanoke Rapids which we believe will be defeated by the Phantoms. Wins over Kinston, Washington and Elizabeth City, however, would come as surprises to this corner.

But the Phantoms certainly don't have a team of which to be ashamed. Considering that most of them are underclassmen, we feel the Phantoms are doing exceptionally well. They have shown a lot of fight in every game so far and are potentially a first division football squad.

Coach Farley's hopes for continued success this season were dealt a vicious blow this week with the permanent loss of stellar Tackle Mac Crawford. The loss of Crawford and the injury hampering End Jack Nelson will be to the Phantoms' grave disadvantage in tonight's game.

We are certain from watching Bo Farley-coached football teams in the past, however, that Greenville will make the Ahoksie boys well aware that they have been in a ball game. Greenville can make it interesting for any team in this section.

We don't believe, though, that they are capable of stopping Ahoksie tonight.

Tar Heels Look For Hard Game If Deacs Hit Stride

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 14—(AP)—Unbeaten in its last 20 regular season games, the University of North Carolina football team tomorrow will go up against Wake Forest, the last team to whip the Tar Heels in a regular season scrap.

The unpredictable Wake Forest Deacons, whose flair for the unexpected has caused no end of consternation among the forecasters, should be in a dangerous mood for this one.

Rated as the coming team of the Southern Conference in pre-season speculation, the Deacs have yet to flash the form expected of them. After a lack-luster opening game victory over Duguese they went on to drop three straight games to Southern Methodist, Boston College and Georgetown, all by a 2-1 touchdown margin.

The team played a bang-up game against SMU, but tapered off badly in its next two star's. The combination of too much travel and injuries to key performers bogged them down. The passing attack has not approached the high mark of last year, although the two top operators—quarterback Carroll Blackerby and end Red O'Quinn—are still around. O'Quinn, National leader in passes caught last year, has snared only six in four games and has yet to score.

But the talent is there and if the boys can pull themselves together for one of those super efforts Wake Forest manages at least once a season, Chapel Hill will see a tremendous game tomorrow.

Two years ago North Carolina, with Charlie Justice and all his capable colleagues found themselves completely outplayed by a red-hot Wake Forest team. The Deacs were on top from start to finish for a rousing 19-7 upset.

With three straight wins to their credit, the unbeaten Tar Heels are not taking Wake Forest lightly. Many of them were on that 1947 team and haven't yet forgotten that game.

Many Other Fighters Considered Better Than Valentino Who Meets Ezzard Charles Tonight

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—The National Boxing Association rates heavyweight titleholder Ezzard Charles a far-and-away better fighter than Pat Valentino, whom he meets tonight in a championship bout.

In its 1949 ratings, just out, the NBA placed the Cincinnati Negro at the top of the list, while California's Valentino—bidding for the title tonight in San Francisco—ranked only fifth.

Above Valentino, rated as "logical contenders," are Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock and Joe Walcott. Valentino and two others are listed as "outstanding boxers."

Heavyweight: Champion—Ezzard Charles, Ohio. Logical contenders—Lee Savold, New Jersey; Bruce Woodcock, England; Joe Walcott, New Jersey.

Outstanding boxers—Lee Oma, Michigan; Pat Valentino, California; Joe Baksi, Pennsylvania.

Light heavyweight: Champion—Freddie Mills, England.

Logical contenders—Joe Maxim, Ohio; Archie Moore, Missouri; Leonard Morrow, California.

Outstanding boxers—Harold Johnson, Pennsylvania; Nick Barone, New York; Tommy Yarosz, Pennsylvania; Doc Williams, New Jersey.

Middleweight: Champion—Jake LaMotta, New York.

Logical contenders—Marcel Cerdan, France; Laurent Dauthuille, France.

Outstanding boxers—Dave Sands, Australia; Carl Olson, Hawaii; Rocky Graziano, New York; Lee Sala, Pennsylvania; Tiberto Mitri, Italy; Artie Towne, New York.

Logical contender—none available.

Outstanding boxers—Kid Gavilan, Cuba; Charles Fusari, New Jersey; Bernard Docusen, Louisiana.

Lightweight: Champion— Ike Williams, New York.

Logical contender—Freddie Dawson, Illinois.

Outstanding boxers—Tommy Campbell, California; Max Docusen, Louisiana; Art King, Canada; Enrique Bolanos, California.

Featherweight: Champion—Wilkie Pep, Connecticut.

Logical contender—Sandy Saddler, New York.

Outstanding boxers—Harry Davis, Hawaii; Ray Farnecoon, France; Jackie Graves, Minneapolis.

Pirates' Boxing Outlook Better Than Last Year

East Carolina's Buccaneer boxing team, backed by last year's entire squad of pugilists who racked up a 5-1 record, settled down to heavy workouts this week as Instructor Johnny Long prepped his boys for what may be the biggest year of boxing activities at East Carolina.

Roadwork, callisthenics, and fundamentals have constituted the pre-season drills for the past two weeks. Regular ring work probably will get started next week, Long reported last night.

And as the team rounded into shape, Long predicted an outfit superior to last year's squad. The former welterweight championship contender has at his disposal all of last year's squad and a number of new boys who are reportedly looking very good.

The backbone of the 1949-50 squad will be supplied by last year's team. Long said, pointing out that with last season's experience, they should be able to make a good showing against the powerful teams expected to be included on the ECTO schedule.

Ken Stargardt, a 150 pound package of power who scored four consecutive wins against one loss in his first year of ring activity, will be one of the East Carolina mainstays. The lethal punching Richmond boy co-captained the team last year with Redwan David, undefeated Fayetteville middleweight.

Charlie Edwards, Bill Torrans, Cleon Smith and B. J. Hunter, all of whom racked up impressive records with the Bucs last season, are expected to be tops among the East Carolina boxers. Harvey Stull, a 135 pounder who ran up against very stiff competition in every match last year, is looking very good this season, Long said.

Paul Hansell, class 140 pounder, is the only loss suffered by the Bucs. Hansell is doing his practice teaching and is unable to fight this year. The Thomasville boy was one of the top East Carolina fighters in the 1948 season.

Al Lee, sidelined with a cut eye midway the season last year, is another of the boys in whom Long is putting considerable confidence. Jack Amyette, who dropped some close decisions last year, will also strengthen the Bucs' 135 pound bracket.

One of the most rugged fighters to come out of the Buccaneer camp last year is back this season. He is Marshall Batnes, an unscientific but powerful punching middleweight.

Jack Gerrans, who started out with the Bucs last year but was benched with a knee injury before the season opened, is expected to be among the best boxers for East Carolina this year. Long said. Gerrans did considerable fighting while in service.

Record Wrecker

When the immortal Salvador plater named Wise Ways, and Prevaricator, which equalled Equipoise's record at Golden Gate Fields in 1948, would in day of fever and less lucrative stakes, have been equally unheard of. And speaking of records, it is interesting to note that of the 39 distances between one-quarter mile and four miles for which records are listed in the American Racing Manual, only 13 are held exclusively by foreign horses and seven of these are at odd distances rarely, if ever, run in this country.

The fastest mile ever run by a horse is credited to a three-year-old named Mopsus, which, under 105 pounds, (Coaltown carried 130) ran eight furlongs in 1:34 over a straight course at Brighton, England, 1939.

An interesting sidelight on thoroughbred speed is the fact that one of the three horses that equalled Roamer's 1:34 4-5 was an ordinary

Expect Valentino Major Leagues' To Lose Tonight Attendance Dips

San Francisco, Oct. 14—(AP)—Boxing could crown a new heavyweight champion tonight but probably will not. The odds today were 1 to 5 that Ezzard Charles would successfully defend his N. B. A. title against the challenge of Pat Valentino in their 15-round fight at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Charles has beaten the most solid contenders in his climb to National Boxing Association recognition of the championship vacated by the one and only Joe Louis.

In some respects, however, Valentino fits into the category of a fairly strong challenger. He lost close decisions to Jimmy Blvin and fought two draws with Joe Maxim, both of whom extended the titleholder plenty, although defeated.

Aside from the remote possibility he could become the upset victim of Valentino's punishing body attack, Charles figures to win rather handsily. He is the superior boxer, is much faster than his rival, and has proven he can take a knock-down punch and come back to win.

The match, whether won in stride or the hard way, is something of a financial windfall for Charles. It will be worth $40,000 to him, win, lose or draw. The guarantee is the biggest for him since he joined the professional ranks in 1940.

New York, Oct. 14—(AP)—Major League baseball attendance dipped a slight 3 per cent from its record high of 1948 but unofficial figures show the 16 big league clubs still drew 20,312,327 customers during 1948. The New York Yankees were high with 2,321,302.

The American League with 10,804,531 paid was off 200,000 from its all-time record of a year ago. The decrease was 262,994 in the National where the unofficial total attendance was 9,507,796.

In the National the Boston Braves who like Cleveland failed to repeat their 1948 pennant victory, led the decline with a minus 373,608.

Greatest increase in the National was St. Louis' 312,146 and Brooklyn's 236,260 while the Chicago White Sox bettered their 1948 mark by 163,961 in the American.

Detroit with 1,821,204, the St. Louis Cards with 1,430,586 and Boston Red Sox with 1,596,650 set new records for themselves.

Notre Dame and Michigan State met for the first time in 1897, second year of football at State.

East Carolina Is Again 'Underdog'

Statistics Say Cata-mounts Have Definite Edge Over Locals In Saturday's Game At Canton

By Eugene Price

Injury-ridden East Carolina will assume its familiar role as underdog Saturday as it takes to the field against West Carolina's conference-topping Cata-mounts in a North State conference contest at Canton.

It will be the third conference clash for both teams. West Carolina's 1948 champions will hold a decided edge. They are undefeated in the conference this season, having blasted High Point in their opener and topping Appalachian by two touchdowns.

The Buccaneers from the East will be gunning for their first conference victory in two years. They were edged by Lenoir-Rhyne 21-20 three weeks ago and suffered a sound 36-7 setback at the hands of powerful Elon last weekend.

Statistics say West Carolina will sweep the contest without too much difficulty. Their 14-0 win over Appalachian linked with Appalachian's victory over Elon, and Elon's top heavy win over the Bucs, installs West Carolina as probably one of the most favored teams playing this weekend.

A win for East Carolina, besides being the major upset of the week, would be the 100th win in William (Bill) Dole's career as a football coach. The Pirates scored Dole's 99th win with a 24-0 victory over the Cherry Point Marines in mid-September. They have gone winless ever since.

The Bucs' 33-man traveling squad left today for Cullowhee. Stan Peele, outstanding defensive end, was not among the players making the trip. Peele sustained a severe ankle injury last week in the Elon game and is benched for the year.

A number of the players are still carrying bruises suffered in the Elon contest.

Enforcement Of SEC Rules Has Dented Rosters

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 14—(AP)—A strict enforcement of Southeastern Conference rules is putting a fair sized dent in the big 12's football ranks.

Eight players—most of them awfully handy—had to have around in a tough game—have been ruled off the gridiron in recent days.

The latest sent to the showers permanently, as far as the SEC is concerned, are Alabama—Captain Doug Lockridge, 212-pound center; Georgia Tech's starting right tackle, Clay Matthews; and Jpoko Norton, an Auburn back.

They were caught by a new interpretation of a 1945 rule that says play on "B" teams counts as varsity competition from 1946 on.

The "B" teams, equivalent of the Junior varsity in other areas, came to the fore after the war. Some SEC schools with an over abundance of huskies put the surplus on "B" squads and played near regular scheduled with them.

It was more or less something to keep the boys busy. Good experience, too.

But yesterday SEC commissioner Bernie Moore notified all coaches and faculty chairmen of Athletics to check their rosters for players who were on "B" teams in 1946. He added:

Southern Conference Champion May Be Decided At Chapel Hill

By the Associated Press

The Southern Conference football championship for 1949 may be decided tomorrow (Saturday) at Chapel Hill.

North Carolina's Tar Heels, the team the pre-season dopesters said was beginning to fade, and Wake Forest's Deacons, the club they predicted was a coming power, battle each other in a contest expected to attract a capacity crowd.

Tar Heel Coach Carl Snavelly said yesterday he was well pleased with his team's condition but declared All-America Charlie Justice and his teammates would have to be at their peak to cope with the Deacons.

Duke's Tommy Hughes, star pass receiver, missed yesterday's workouts because of a throat injury as the Blue Devils pushed their preparations for Saturday's game at Durham with North Carolina State.

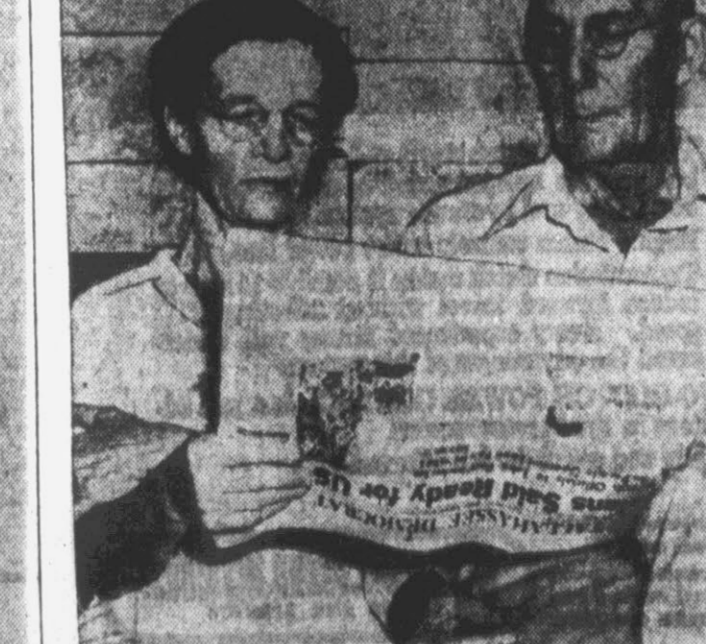

Zoe Sherrill, defensive guard, was sidelined with an arm injury. Captain Louis Allen, who had been out of action because of a cold, returned to duty.

Four other conference teams play each other but neither game will have any bearing on the league race. Virginia Military Institute's Keydets travel to Richmond to battle the University of Richmond Spiders in the first annual Tobacco Bowl game.

George Washington invades Virginia Tech, where the Gobblers will be celebrating their annual homecoming and seeking their first victory since the 1947 campaign.

Purman entertains Presbyterian tonight (Friday) at Purman.

Non-conference games Saturday send Washington and Lee to Virginia, William and Mary to Michigan State and Davidson to St. Louis University. In a Saturday night tilt, the Citadel meets the Wildcats at Kentucky.

Ed Tyler (right), 63, evaded a manslaughter indictment for 20 years, but now he has surrendered at Tallahassee, Fla., because he says he wants to die with his record clear. He told officers he is ill with cancer and heart trouble and has only six months to live. His wife posted $500 cash bond for him. She sits beside him. Court records show Tyler was indicted in 1928 for the death of J. C. Booth in an automobile accident. He came to Tallahassee from Douglas, Ariz., where he worked as a carpenter and painter. Chapter 30
Darkness had set in two nights later when five people—four men and a girl—approached the lower gate of Mike Randall's horse pasture.

Joe loped ahead and swung down to open it, then sat by as the Morgans, led by the proud-headed Rover Boy, trotted through into familiar feeding grounds. Rover Boy raised his head and whistled shrilly into the night as Joe closed the gate back of them. He looked over at where Harry sat beside Lucia. Something had happened to those two in a very short time. Some kind of sweet lightning had struck. Rover Boy whistled again.

The men of the outfit had returned to the roundup wagons to take up their duties. One rider had been dispatched ahead to tell Mike Randall what had happened. Jim Swinnerton was in jail in Ashbury.

And in the settlement, back of ashy heaps that once had been cabins and corrals, several more unmarked graves surrounded the one where unfortunate Turk Penock slept the long sleep. Five of these men, who had surrendered, grin slid across his young face. "What is it, honey?" "There will be no more of that." "All right," he said, and grabbed her. He gave her a resounding kiss and was pushed back firmly. "There will be no more of that either," she said. "That is, not in front of other people," she added, and blushed.

Somehow Jay found himself walking with Ellen in the night, leading the horses down to the corral gate. He saw the white of her dress, and it reminded him of the night he had seen it once before, at this same gate, when he was leaving for the line camp to begin his part in a horse theft masquerade.

He reached out and took her into his arms and held her close, and the little murmuring endearments he uttered were no imitation of Joe. (THE END)

Elect Officers Of Pitt Federation HD Clubs

Mrs. Obed Castelloe, Remston-Nobles Home Demonstration Club, was elected President of the Pitt County Home Demonstration Council for the coming year at the last meeting of the Council held on Oct. 11 in the Memorial Baptist Church.

Other officers elected are as follows: Vice President, Mrs. James Allen, Red Oak Club; Secretary, Mrs. Robert Little, Simpson Club; Treasurer, Mrs. Dennis Hardy, Bethel Club; Directors: Mrs. J. B. Congleton, Stokes Club and Mrs. C. J. Satterthwaite, Paetolon Club.

Miss Jean Steel, Pitt County's new Home Agent, was introduced to the group by Mrs. Obed Castelloe.

Miss Lorna Langley, Northeastern District Home Agent, and spoke to the Council members on Program Planning for 1950. Committees were appointed to take charge of various phases in planning the 1950 program as suggested by Miss Langley.

The Council passed a county wide regulation on memberships. It is as follows: If a Home Demonstration Club member is absent from four consecutive club meetings without valid reasons, her name will automatically be dropped from the club roll. She also forfeits the year's dues previously paid to the club.

Plans for the achievement program to be held on Nov. 4 were discussed and committees were appointed to take charge of all details.

Mrs. R. B. Starling Council president, presided over the meeting.

Kaiser and the Maritime Commission arising from advances of money, equipment and materials on both sides in Kaiser's wartime shipbuilding.

Maritime Commission men say there's no telling just how these accounts will wind up when all the details are settled, since they involve some claims by Kaiser on the commission as well as commission claims on Kaiser. They guess less than $1,000,000 is involved, either way.

Critics of Kaiser and/or the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations have charged there has been favoritism in the aid given Kaiser. Kaiser has on occasion claimed discrimination against him.

He said, for instance, that RFC let U. S. Steel buy a steel plant at Geneva, Utah, for 20 per cent of its wartime construction cost while holding him to 100 cents on the dollar of wartime steel plant.

Government agencies which have given him credit simply say he's given up to the letter of his promises to pay and has proved himself an A-1 risk. They deny any partiality.

Kaiser's most famed wartime enterprise was building some 1,500 ships, like cargo-troop transports, "baby" aircraft carriers, etc.

Kaiser himself once figured his shipbuilding contracts, after adjusting, came to $2,994,263,738, yielding him a profit of $166,500,049 or 5.6 per cent before taxes and $94,515,098 or 3.2 per cent after taxes.

Taking into consideration his other war production—steel, magnesium, incendiary material, aircraft and parts, and cement for Pacific operations—he claimed he saved the government $465,924,000 on costs compared with what it would have had to pay elsewhere.

Once Kaiser gave a congressional committee his own capsule view of these achievements in these words: "Great war production, great savings in time and dollars, comparatively small government financing, small profits, no favoritism."

Glimmer Of Hope In Steel Picture

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14—(AP)—A faint glimmer of hope appeared in the deadlocked steel strike picture today.

Peace-seeking government mediators announced exploratory talks in New York with Bethlehem Steel Corporation had given them a "better understanding" of the company's position in the steel dispute.

The mediators said they found "basis for further discussion." They said they might resume talks today.

Bethlehem, the nation's second largest steel producer—is the first company to confer with the mediators in their current effort to solve the 14-day-old steel walkout.

The conciliators want to reach a common meeting ground among the struck companies in order to start new joint bargaining sessions.

Negotiations broke off two weeks ago when the steel companies refused to bow to demands of the CIO-United Steelworkers for company paid pensions and insurance.

The major steel companies insisted employees also pay some of the cost.

The government, which succeeded in delaying the strike three times, sat tight until last Monday. Then federal mediation chief Cyrus Ching announced a new plan: the conciliators would travel around and talk to the various steel companies and representatives of the 453,000 striking steelworkers.

Ching and his aides say they don't expect to settle the strike through the talks. But they hope to find a kind of "common denominator" to the companies' position.

Mayor Mum On Rumor Of Romance

Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York (left) whistled a bar of "Some Enchanted Evening" and didn't answer when asked if he and Miss Sloan Simpson (right) are going to be married. They are attending the Sadler's Wells Ballet at the Metropolitan Opera. Grover Whalen (center), New York's official greeter, smiles on them. The mayor said he has politics, not romance, on mind at present, but would discuss romance after the forthcoming election. Miss Sloan, a former model, is a fashion consultant. (AP Wirephoto).

Win Top Awards In Essay Contest

Harvey Bradshaw, Greenville high school senior, and Donna Tabor, Junior high school student, won top awards in the Fire Prevention Essay Contest sponsored by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

The winners in the white schools were announced this morning with the presentation of awards by Fire Chief George Gardner.

Harvey's theme, "Forest Fires Must Be Stopped," was judged tops among those submitted by Senior high school students while Donna's "Are You an O'Leary's Cow?" was tops among those submitted by Junior high students.

Curtis Paul, a senior, won second place in the senior high school contest and Betty Lou Small, 10th grade, wrote the third place winner.

In the junior high school Ann Stokes submitted the second place winner and Jean Moye won third place honors.

Principal O. E. Dowd of the high school said today that some 200 themes were entered in the contest. They were judged by the English teachers of the high school.

Prizes were five dollars, three dollars and two dollars for first, second and third place winners respectively.

Winners in the colored school contest had not been announced this morning.

Greenville Men Attend District Credit Meeting

Directors J. P. Davenport and D. F. Hardison, and F. L. Little, Jr., secretary-treasurer, who constitute the executive committee of the Greenville Production Credit Association, have just returned from a district credit meeting of executive committees of 16 production credit associations in the eastern section of North Carolina.

The outlook for farmers, some of the problems facing farmers, and credit policies and procedures were the principal topics of discussion at the conference.

F. L. Little, Jr. said, "Wherever possible farmers should keep in reserve some 1949 income to partially finance their 1950 operations so as to keep from borrowing any more money than necessary consistent with good farm management and practices. This is especially important now since the margin between prices received by farmers and the costs of production is not as much as it has been for the past few years."

The local association serves farmers in Pitt and Greene counties and maintains offices here and in Snow Hill.

Kaiser and the Maritime Commission arising from advances of money, equipment and materials on both sides in Kaiser's wartime shipbuilding.

Maritime Commission men say there's no telling just how these accounts will wind up when all the details are settled, since they involve some claims by Kaiser on the commission as well as commission claims on Kaiser. They guess less than $1,000,000 is involved, either way.

Critics of Kaiser and/or the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations have charged there has been favoritism in the aid given Kaiser. Kaiser has on occasion claimed discrimination against him.

He said, for instance, that RFC let U. S. Steel buy a steel plant at Geneva, Utah, for 20 per cent of its wartime construction cost while holding him to 100 cents on the dollar of wartime steel plant.

Government agencies which have given him credit simply say he's given up to the letter of his promises to pay and has proved himself an A-1 risk. They deny any partiality.

Kaiser's most famed wartime enterprise was building some 1,500 ships, like cargo-troop transports, "baby" aircraft carriers, etc.

Kaiser himself once figured his shipbuilding contracts, after adjusting, came to $2,994,263,738, yielding him a profit of $166,500,049 or 5.6 per cent before taxes and $94,515,098 or 3.2 per cent after taxes.

Taking into consideration his other war production—steel, magnesium, incendiary material, aircraft and parts, and cement for Pacific operations—he claimed he saved the government $465,924,000 on costs compared with what it would have had to pay elsewhere.

Once Kaiser gave a congressional committee his own capsule view of these achievements in these words: "Great war production, great savings in time and dollars, comparatively small government financing, small profits, no favoritism."

Hallow'en Carnival At Armory Friday Night, October 21

A Hallow'en Carnival and parade, sponsored by the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club, will be held at the National Guard armory, near the courthouse, Friday night, October 21, at 7 o'clock. Proceeds of the entertainment will be used by the BPWC group for the recreation fund. The program will include everything that's usually found at a carnival, but all of the entertainers are home talent, including the two "fortune tellers," to be featured.

Tickets for the Hallow'en Carnival go on sale tomorrow at a booth in front of the Diana Shop on Evans street. Evelyn Latham, at the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio, in the State Bank building, is chairman in charge of tickets.

Annie Laurie Askew is parade chairman. The parade, consisting of children and their pets, on bicycles and ponies, and the fire truck and emergency rescue ambulance, etc.

Jaycees Enjoy Program Music; Honor Member

By CHESTER WALSH

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its bi-monthly supper meeting at the Olde Towne Inn last night, paid tribute to Milton Adams, faithful member, who leaves the State Bank and Trust Co. in season shortly to take an important position with Atlantic Christian College in Wilson. The club elected Bancroft Mosley to be vice-president, succeeding Adams. President Louis W. Gaylord presided.

The president announced plans for the Jaycees supporting the annual Community Chest drive, which starts November 1. Badger Johnson is chairman this year. The Jaycees named Howard Hodges to represent them.

Attention was called to the Zone 8 meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to be held at Kinston October 24. Jaycees planning to attend should notify the secretary by Saturday.

Jack Edwards reported that the Jaycees sold more than $2,000 worth of season tickets for the football game at ECTC stadium this season. Al Livesay, president of the East Carolina Teachers College Singers, was a special guest. The college choristers are planning a series of concerts here and in other Eastern Carolina cities. Invited guests were Phil Goodson, Jr., Ralph M. Garrett, Jr., Bob Ross and others.

Charles Horne, program chairman, presented H. L. Carter, director of the ECTC band, and some of his musicians. Their program was appreciated, applause indicated. Band members participating were Edward Bewson and Lee Rogers, trumpets; Harold Grant and Boyd Elliott, trombones; Ethel Clement, Edward Reynolds, William Glasgow and L. B. Starling, clarinets. The brass numbers were "Pastel," by Scarmoulin and "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," by Jessel. The clarinet quartet's numbers were "Two Promenaders," by McKay, and "Plaisanterie," by Scarmoulin.

Exonerated

A coroner's jury at the courthouse last night exonerated Jasper L. Sutton, farmer, of Black Jack of any blame in the death of Charles R. Smith, 14-year-old Negro boy, on the Grimesland-Black Jack highway last Monday. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided.

Testimony was that the boy on the bicycle crossed the highway and collided with Sutton's car. He was hurled against the windshield, a fragment of glass severing his jugular vein, and his body was catapulted over the top of the car and fell on the pavement. He died instantly.

West Greenville PTA Meeting Wednesday

The regular monthly meeting of the West Greenville PTA was held Wednesday, October 12, in the school auditorium.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. B. West, Jr.

Mrs. Amos Evans opened the meeting with an inspiring devotional, taking her text from Romans 12.

The Glee Club entertained with several selections, after which reports were given by the standing committees.

Plans were made for the Hallow'en carnival, but no definite date set.

Miss Fulllove's first grade won the attendance prize.

All members were urged to attend the district PTA meeting which is to be held in Washington on October 19.

The group joined in praying The Lord's Prayer and then adjourned.

Cotton Acreage Reduction Asked

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—The nation's cotton farmers may have to find a new use for slightly more than 5,000,000 acres of their land next year.

The agriculture department—holder of a $550,000,000 cotton surplus—is asking them to reduce their 1950 cotton planting by that amount.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 14—(AP)—Quiet selling weighed down the stock market today and brought on declines of fractions to around a point. There was no urgency behind the movement, and a great number of leaders retained small plu signs. Rails held out against the fall and turned in a mixed performance that left prices about unchanged on average.

Disney Duo In Propaganda Bout

Prague, Oct. 14—(AP)—Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck squared off today against Paul Robeson in a battle of propagandas.

The battle started early this week when the communists used store windows adjoining the U.S. Information Service Library to display anti-American cartoons. The U.S. countered with cartoons of Mickey and Donald, pointing at the cartoons and saying "These are not ours."

Result of the battle: The crowd of Czechs in front of the U.S. Information Service Library is growing bigger every day.

Severe Coal . . .

schools in the city the coal will have to be taken from the bin a bucketful at the time to be placed on trucks.

Rose said efforts have been made by school officials to get more coal, "but the brokers won't even talk to us."

D. Duncan, business manager at ECTC, reported today, "We are in pretty bad shape. We don't have more than two or three weeks' supply. We have been able to get two or three carloads of coal since the strike started, but it's a mighty uneasy situation."

D. H. Conley, superintendent of Pitt County schools, said the winter supply of coal already has been delivered to each school in the county system, but all principals have been instructed to delay firing furnaces as long as possible to conserve the supply of fuel on hand. Conley said with careful management and moderate weather the supply now on hand in the county schools should last through the school year.

China's Fortunes . . .

their regime will go down, many western observers predict."

This conclusion isn't reached by devious or complicated reasoning. Topping says that possible 80 per cent of the people in cities like Shanghai and Nanking are opposed to the Communists, mainly for economic reasons. Widespread peasant discontent reflects a similar trend in many rural districts.

The reason? It is that any government in China which attempts to make quick changes in the country's economic structure will be unpopular. That is so because it will be necessary to tax heavily a people already existing on a low standard of living. This must be done to finance industrialization and public works, and maintain a huge army and bureaucracy.

Communists . . .

trial on contempt charges and Medina had served notice that he would deal with their lawyers as soon as the trial ended.

In the historic trial the government charged that the communist party was reorganized on orders from Moscow in 1945 as a conspiracy secretly devoted to violent overthrow of the American government.

FISH WERE BITING GOOD IN MOREHEAD CITY WATERS

Fifty-five big flounders, 10 gold-size trout, one drum fish, one silver sea mullet and 12 whopping bluefish is a good catch for any fisherman any day, old-timers said today. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brady, owners of the Double "N" restaurant, on the Bethel highway, made the catch several days ago, and this was their second good luck day fishing in waters around Morehead City. The Bradys use a "secret" bait and they will not reveal it.
