Women In The Church

Migrant workers in the agricultural areas of the United States—whole families who travel from harvest to harvest and are the backbone of the canning and related winter-crop enterprises of the nation—are "haunted by antagonistic community attitudes and by inferior social status," says Miss Edith Lowry, executive secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America. Miss Lowry has been one of the leaders in placing consideration of the plight of agricultural migrants on the agenda of the Home Missions Congress to be held in Columbus, Ohio, early in 1950. Disintegration of family life, growing illiteracy among the children, exploitation of labor, and exclusion from church and school facilities and from proper housing and health care are among the disabilities of the migrants to be considered by the Congress.

Fourteen Trappistine nuns, trained in Ireland are now in Wrentham, Mass., where there has been established Mount St. Mary's Abbey, a $300,000 convent, and the first of that order in the United States. The group is composed of seven Irish nuns, six Americans, and one Canadian, under the leadership of Mother Bernard as Mother Prioress. They come from St. Mary's Abbey, Glencalm, Waterford, Ireland. The order is the famous counterpart of the famed Trappist monks of Europe and America. The nuns and monks have similar vows of seclusion, poverty, manual labor, prayer and silence. At Wrentham they have a 500 acre estate and they will do all the work there themselves.

Despite communist army control of Nanking City, China, the noted Gilling Christian College for women there reports an enrollment of over 200 students, general activities "as usual" and the establishment of a two-year course in nursery school education. "The students have been faced by a real and difficult problem, says the president, Miss Wu Yi-fang. "On the one hand there is the appeal of the victorious liberating army and the call for additional workers in various lines. On the other hand, they are uncertain about future financial support from their families and about their own future work. Emotionally they have been under a severe strain in being cut off from their families." Dr. Wu adds that faculty-student committees now study together changes in curriculum, organization, and student life.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. The treasurer and chairmen of the various committees gave their reports.

Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. G. L. Winters and Mrs. E. L. Willard.

It was pointed out that the next meeting will be held on Thursday, November 10.

A delightful tea hour was enjoyed with the following acting as hostesses: Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Aman, Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. C. E. Oakley, Mrs. J. G. Riddick and Mrs. S. L. Daughtridge.

General Fund Overdraft Seen In December; Surplus In June

By LYN NISBET
Raleigh, Oct. 17—North Carolina faces a cash overdraft in its general fund account before Christmas, but will probably end the fiscal year in June with nine million dollars in the treasury with which to begin the next year. Prospects are that by the end of the current biennium in June, 1951, there will be a deficit of approximately five million dollars.

These conclusions are embodied in an analytical statement prepared by State Treasurer Brandon P. Hodges in response to newspaper requests. The requests were inspired by reports that shrinking revenue, butted against greatly increased appropriations, might make it necessary for the governor to exercise his authority to cut salaries within a few months.

General fund money is coming into state coffers at the rate of seven and a half to eight million dollars a month, and going out at the rate of thirteen million dollars a month during the school term. For the first three months of the current fiscal year, when public schools were not in session, collections ran ahead of disbursements approximately two million dollars. School costs during the term amount to about six million dollars a month more than during vacation period.

It is estimated that receipts will run ahead of spending in March, when income taxes are paid and normally about 30 per cent of the total general fund money for the year is collected and also in June when privilege taxes are collectible.

For the other seven months of the fiscal year collections will fall below spending.

The state started this year with nearly fourteen million dollars on hand. That will be eliminated in December when a half million dollar overdraft is forecast. This overdraft may go to five and a half millions in January and ten and a half millions in February. Anticipated income receipts in March will put the account back in the black. Another boost will come with privilege tax collections in June.

The fact that about thirty per cent of the total general fund collections for the year come in the eighth month makes temporary deficit or overdraft almost certain, unless there is a healthy cash balance to start with. This collection pool also makes it necessary to look at the picture on annual basis, rather than comparing monthly balances. For the same reason Mr. Hodges says his analysis must be considered in its entirety in order for it to have meaning. His statement follows in full:

At the beginning of this fiscal year, July 1, 1949, the state's general fund had a budget balance of $13,937,735. The budget estimates are that the general fund will receive from tax collections and other income during this fiscal year $131,741,500 a reduction of $8,617,530, or about 6 per cent less than the $140,359,030 collected in the general fund last year. Hence, budget balance and expected collections amount to $145,679,225 to meet appropriations for this fiscal year amounting to $136,443,776. If tax collections come up to expectations, approximately $9,000,000 will remain in the general fund at the end of this fiscal year for use in the next fiscal year when appropriations amount to approximately $142,000,000 against anticipated revenues of approximately $128,000,000, which results in a deficit at the end of the biennium of approximately $5,000,000. Unmerited concern, therefore, relates to whether the general fund revenues this year will reach the expected $131,741,500.

Analysing the tax schedule, it must be concluded that the sales tax receipts for this year are overestimated. The estimate is $1,500,000 more than was collected last year and the tax is coming in this year at a rate of about 4 per cent less than last year. This indicated a loss of at least $3,000,000 under estimate.

William Foster Says Communist Party To Go On

New York, Oct. 17—(AP)—Communist National Chairman William Z. Foster says his party "will continue to function as an American working-class political party" despite the conviction of eleven of its top leaders.

The statement was made last night after a week-end of conflicting opinions, here and abroad, on whether the convictions would outlaw the party and lead it to go underground.

Foster's statement said the party will continue, "defending its legality and its right to function as a political party, which right cannot be abrogated by the government or any court without violating the constitution of the United States."

The Exchange Club started off with 44 members, representing leaders in the industrial, business, professional, educational, religious and financial life of the community. The Exchange Club's motto is "Unity for Service," and this means "to serve in unity with those seeking better conditions, better understanding and greater opportunities for all."

In addition to President Worthington and Vice-President Clark the other officers and directors are J. Wilton Tetterton, secretary-treasurer; J. Edward Moye, Frank L. Little, John W. Riggins, Roy L. ## Tobacco Worms On Eggplants

Berkeley, Calif. —(AP)— Tomato and tobacco hornworms range farther than the two plants for which they are named, reports Dr. Harold T. Reynolds of the University of California. His studies show that these creatures use the Jimson weed (which nobody cares about) as a base of operations from which to attack potatoes, peppers, and eggplants.

Tomato and tobacco hornworms are closely related. Dr. Reynolds says an entomologist can easily tell them apart. Both have been chewing up American plants since colonial days and they've recently got to be quite a pest in California.

Into Red Orbit

Chungking, Oct. 17 —(AP)— Canton slipped quietly into the widening orbit of Red China today, and Nationalists asked "Where next?"

Some quarters predicted twin communist drives to knock out the government once and for all one against Chungking, the new nationalist capital; the other against Kunming nearly 400 miles southwest.

The Reds already threatened several minor Nationalist positions along the east coast. Official reports said that the communists in a big amphibious operation established a beachhead on the northern corner of Amoy Island, about 300 miles northeast of Canton.

Strength FOR THE DAY

TALK

"Silence is golden" is one of the most familiar proverbs in the English language. Most other languages, indeed, have similar sayings on the same subject, all relating the advantages of controlling one's tongue. The advice intended by such maxims is not, of course, that we should remain sullen and that we should not communicate, but that we should avoid talking too much or too foolishly.

History and literature are full of examples of the damage caused by indiscreet talk. Everyone remembers the restrictions which were necessary during the last war to prevent important information from leaking out to the enemy. Anyone in business knows how the untimely disclosure of a trade secret may prevent large profits.

Indiscretion is just as dangerous on the everyday domestic level. How many friends are lost through the thoughtless repetition of gossip! How many marriages are spoiled by the hasty blurring out of anger or reproach! How much faith is destroyed by telling others' secrets.

It is bad to make unwise disclosures about ourselves; it is worse to make them about others. As Dr. Johnson once said, "To tell your own secrets is generally folly, but that folly is without guilt; to communicate those with which we are intrusted is always treachery, and treachery for the most part combined with folly."

Around Capitol Square

O and D—First thing on agenda of the board of conservation and development which meets for its quarterly session in Asheville next Monday will be the swearing in of two new members, Locke Robinson of Marshall and Sylvester Green of Durham. Next in order will be selection of a vice chairman. These actions are made necessary by resignations of Vice Chairman J. L. Horns and Thomas W. Alexander since last meeting of the board, growing out of disaffection over handling of the state advertising account.

ADVERTISING—With reorganization completed perhaps next major item will be employment of an advertising agency to process the state's advertising for the next year or two. There are six applicants for this business, including Ayer and Gillett of Charlotte. Agreement with this agency was canceled by Governor Scott a few weeks ago, effective September 15. Other applicants include Bennett Advertising Agency of High Point, Redwine-Eastman Company of Raleigh and three individuals.

INVESTIGATION—During the past few weeks members of the advertising committee accompanied by Director Charles Parker have visited the offices of each of these applicants, after thoroughly checking questionnaires filed by them, and made investigation of ability to handle the business. Recommendation of this committee is expected to govern decision of the board in approving an agency.

POLITICS—Alexander and Horns resigned from the board because of alleged injection of politics by Governor Scott. It has been widely rumored that Scott had promised the advertising business to Redwine as reward for assistance in his campaign last year. The Redwine-Eastman Company was chartered since the summer meeting of the board in order to qualify as a North Carolina agency. Opinion prevails now that the advertising agreement will be made on basis of superior ability on part of the agency, although some still believe it will go on political pay-off.

MACHINERY—The road machinery bought by the highway commission, payment for which was expected to be charged against the equalization portion of the $200 million road bond fund, will be paid for and used regardless of final court decision in the contractor's suit against the highway commission. That is the word coming down from top legal authorities.

BOOKKEEPING—Handling of machinery payment is largely a bookkeeping process, though it has other significant angles. If the court should decide the bond money cannot be used for such purpose, the payment will be made out of regular maintenance funds. The State of North Carolina doesn't wince on contracts, one spokesman said. But if the new machinery cannot be used by the state on its

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Several weeks ago I attended a meeting of the New Bern group of Alcoholics Anonymous. Afterwards, I wrote two columns about the meeting. During the past several weeks I have received several telephone calls, some anonymous, from people desiring to contact AA. Naturally I was glad to make the contacts.

"Has it occurred to you," Somebody Asked Me, "that some of your readers who don't know you think you are a member of AA?" "It certainly has," I replied. "And then I went on to say that I was a member I would certainly be proud of it. And if I'm even proud of the error, being an alcoholic is nothing to be ashamed of. Alcoholism is a disease which gets one out of 60 of those who drink. And 60 per cent of the people in America drink."

Then I told that Somebody that if he could go to one meeting of AA he would probably regret that he isn't a member. The amount of good that the members do is almost immeasurable.

Saturday night the New Bern group of AA will have a banquet meeting, which will be open to the public. I don't know where the banquet will be or if all of the 200 vest stabilization and improvement program, that part of the rural road project will be seriously impeded and delayed. Meantime, by reason of the drain on funds for regular maintenance or state bonds that phase of operations will be slowed down.

GOING AHEAD—Meantime, highway commissioners and engineers are going ahead with plans for stabilization work, particularly in the mountain counties where stone is more essential and where paving cannot be done in late fall and winter months. Dale Thrash, commissioner in the tenth division comprising 14 mountain counties, has requisitioned 685,000 tons of crushed stone to be stockpiled before hard winter weather sets in. Commissioner Joe Graham in the ninth division and Mark Goforth in the eighth have also completed plans for immediate spreading of thousands of tons of stone on mountain roads. All these projects are expected to participate in bond money.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(P)—Being a Godfather is harder—in some ways—than being a father.

Fatherhood just comes naturally. It is all unofficial. You wait in a hospital anteroom until a nurse steps and murmurs in an anti-septic voice, "well, you're a father now."

Simple! But Godfatherhood is another matter entirely. It is official. And it takes place in a church, where the Lord can overlook any pledges you make to fend for a child that isn't your own. Yes, being a Godfather is a much more responsible and selective act than merely being a father.

Fathers just happen. Godfathers create themselves deliberately.

If all this sounds a bit smug, it is because I am pitching a penny for the proud but neglected status of Godfatherhood, into which I entered recently.

Some two years ago Frances and I moved into a tremendous housing project on the East side of Manhattan holding some 35,000 people. The life insurance company that built it ruled out dogs but announced it welcomed children.

The idea probably was that dogs rarely grow up and buy life insurance policies but children sometimes do. Anyway the tenants joyously took the company at its word. Within a year the place was nicknamed "the hatchery," and a man going to work had to beat his way past a solid wall of diaper service salesmen. Now there are more babies around than television sets.

A young neighbor couple had a daughter, Nina. We fell in love with her and they said we could be her godparents. Months went by and nothing happened.

"People are always saying we can be Godparents to their kids," I complained to Frances. "But nothing ever comes of it. What am I supposed to do—nothing? I feel as useless as a Kentucky Colonel in Vermont."

Well, word got back to Nina's mother. The next Sunday she frocked the child in something pink, and off we went to the church. It was a christening ceremony.

And it was then that I was shown in as a real 24-karat Godfather. It is an odd feeling. For the first time I understood why women weep at a wedding.

I felt that way as Nina, laughing, kept jumping up and down while the immortal words were read over her head. But she quieted down and listened gravely as the minister lifted her—doused her blond locks with water—and welcomed her to Jesus.

Afterward the minister assured me that a Godfather held no honorary title, but had real duties and shouldn't enter into his condition lightly or thoughtlessly—as fathers have been known to do.

A week or two later he dropped by to see how I was fulfilling my role. Luckily, he caught me at home reading a good book. I told him that now we called Nina the "little christian," and he looked pleased. Now I fret about my Godfather all the time. They say there is nothing like children to keep you young. I find there is nothing like a Godchild to make a man older—from working at all life's perils around her.

But it's fun to be a vice-President father, a "stand-in daddy." The hardest thing, however, is to keep from wishing that Nina's papa will break his leg—so that I can do more for her.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington — "Teen-a-cides"—deaths from traffic accidents involving drivers under 25 years of age—are on the decrease, the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee reports. This may be due partly to the committee's new safety program, which urges parents to encourage their sons and daughters to sign agreements with them to live up to eight good driving practices in return for permission to use the family car.

The idea is to get young drivers in this age group, who are involved in nearly one-third of all highway accidents, to become members of the "Man-to-Man" and "Dad-to-Daughter" clubs now being formed throughout the country. Assisting the committee in carrying on the project are the National Automobile Dealers Association and the National Committee for Traffic Safety.

The group lists as its Number One safety project support of the high school driver education and training programs. It urges that dealers loan cars to those schools with qualified instructors. "High school-trained teen-age drivers are involved in only 50 per cent as many accidents as the untrained," the committee says. "Approximately 2,000,000 boys and girls of high school age become eligible to drive each year."

Since the start of the program in May the committee says it has received requests for nearly a million copies of the agreements and approximately 750,000 club cards. Each youthful driver who signs the agreement is given a membership card in the National Good Driving Club. Conditions of the parent-youth agreement include a promise not to try to show-off while driving, not to allow the car to be driven by any one who has been drinking, not to drive in excess of the speed limits specified on any city street or over 50 miles per hour on open highways, to slow down and look both ways at all intersections, not to race with other cars, not to drive if he feels sleepy, to obey all signs and traffic regulations. And, this one may put father on the spot: "That, knowing insofar as the law is concerned, my acts in using the car are the acts of my father. I will try to drive it as carefully and cautiously as he does."

Big State Fair Opens In Raleigh Tuesday Morning

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 17—(AP)—What promises to be the most gala state fair in North Carolina history begins here promptly at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Tens of thousands of persons will surge through the fair grounds until midnight Saturday, when the fair closes.

Dr. J. S. Dorton, the fair's manager, promises everything is in order for the "biggest and best" fair ever held here. More than 300,000 Tar Heels are expected to attend.

This year's exposition has a record-breaking premium list of more than $35,000 in prizes. The folk festival contest alone is expected to have more than 600 entries.

The fair gates open at 8 a. m. Two hours later the formal opening will be held. Official speakers for the launching will be Lt. Gov. H. P. Taylor and Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Bellentine, along with Dorton.

All school children in Wake county will be admitted free tomorrow. In the afternoon, harness races sanctioned by the U. S. Trotting Association will be held at the track in front of the grandstand. When darkness arrives, a variety show will be offered.

A fireworks display, which will be featured each night, will wind up the opening day's festivities.

Plan Start Work On 1950 'Follies'

Thomas E. Casey of Goldsboro, president of the Veterans Club of East Carolina Teachers College, has announced that work on the production of "Follies of 1950" will begin next week. The show will be staged on the campus by the Veterans Club in January. Proceeds will be used to increase the athletic scholarship fund established and maintained by the Veterans Club.

The musical variety show has been given annually at the college since 1946, and each production has attracted large audiences from the campus, Greenville, and other towns of this section. For the past two years the veterans have taken their show on tour. Casey has announced that "Follies of 1950" will probably play for two out-of-town engagements during the winter quarter.

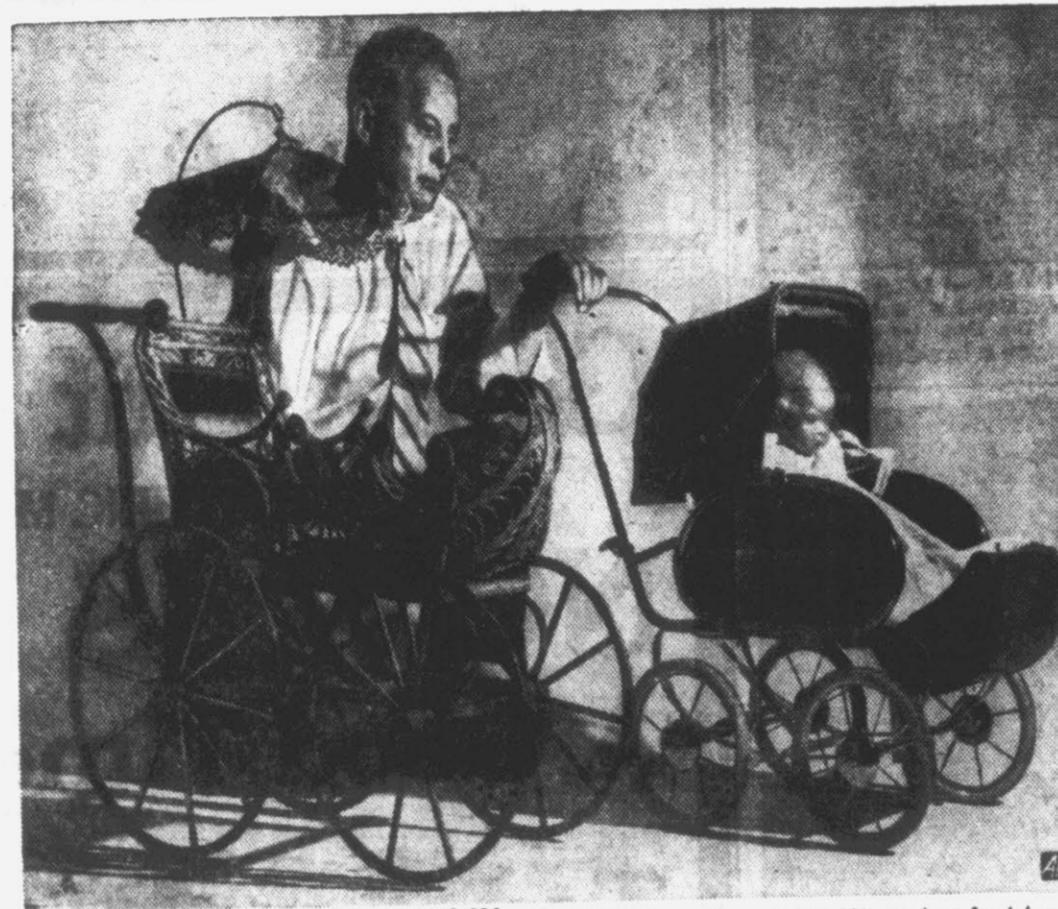

Ell Bloom, Greenville attorney, and Mrs. Marie Wallace, local dance instructor, will direct "Follies of 1950." Bloom, who has staged minstrels for the Greenville Kiwanis Club for several years, will head the directing staff for the veterans for the fourth consecutive time. Mrs. Wallace has also worked on previous productions and will again plan and rehearse the dance routines for this year's performance.

Tryouts to choose a cast of a hundred men and women students will be held on the campus Tuesday evening, October 18.

Fat And Frumpy Ilse Koch Says Prison Transfer Discouraging

Landsberg, Germany, Oct. 17—(AP)—Fat and frumpy Ilse Koch was whisked from an American prison to a German one today to face her own countrymen's judgment of her deeds as the infamous mistress of Buchenwald.

Fears of American authorities that some of the 4,000 Jews in nearby displaced persons camps would stage a demonstration failed to materialize. The transfer from the American war crimes prison here to the Alachach women's prison was carried out without incident.

German authorities plan to complete their investigation of her case late this year and expect to bring her to trial at Augsburg early in 1950. They have charged her on five major counts, one of which involves the wanton shooting of 24 Jewish inmates of Buchenwald in 1941. It is probable also that the charge that she made lamp shades out of the tattooed skins of Buchenwald prisoners will be aired again at the German trial. She denied the charge during her trial before a U.S. military court.

Engel And Wife Together Again

Chicago, Oct. 17—(AP)—Sigmund (Swindlin Sam) Engel was reunited with his "one and only wife" — Mrs. Pauline Langton Engel—today, some four months after their marriage.

The reunion was delayed until Engel got out of jail. His attorneys put up $37,500 bonds on a half dozen confidence game charges which had been placed against him. The charges came fast after police seized the 73 year old wooper of wealthy widows here last June.

After Engel married Mrs. Langton, a New York City widow, he disappeared with $50,000 of her jewels. But all was forgiven when she came here to visit him in jail last summer.

She returned to him Saturday and the dapper old roamer smothered her with kisses.

"I've been under such a strain being away from you, darling," Mrs. Engel told him. "Oh, I'll be so glad when I can settle down with my darling Sigmund."

They finally settled in a kitchenette apartment in a south side hotel over the weekend. Engel's lawyer, J. Edward Jones, said the couple was "quite happy."

Engel's immediate plans are to open a loop office where, he says, he will engage in writing for the movies, stage, television, vaudeville, radio and the magazines.

His plans for a week from today, call for his appearance in criminal court on charges of swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, a Chicago widow, of $8,700.

Bomber Lost In Fog Crashes; 5 Persons Killed

Riverside, Calif., Oct. 17—(AP)—A B-26 light air force bomber, apparently lost in fog, crashed into high tension wires near here last night, killing five persons.

Four of the bodies, one a civilian, were recovered from the wreckage. The aircraft, which did not burn, sprayed gasoline around the area, making it hazardous to search for bodies. Police said the body of a fifth man, known to be aboard, was not found but opinion there was no chance he survived.

The bomber was en route from Williams Air Force base in Arizona to Long Beach, Calif., when it hit the 42,000-volt wire. It crashed 300 feet into a ravine in the hilly section.

Third Killing In Mountain Feud Opened 2 Years Ago

Daisy, Tenn., Oct. 17—(AP)—Daisy Mountain's moonshine feud bids fair to take its place with the famed Hatfield and McCoy squabble in southern mountain history.

Sparked during a dispute over the making of corn whiskey and fanned by bitter hatred, the feud flamed anew over the weekend. Another man was killed on the lonely mountain—the third to die since the hill country war began two years ago.

Police found William L. (Boots) Parker lying on a muddy slope of the mountain Saturday night, shot three times and bludgeoned with an ax.

Raymond Bell, 29, was found at the scene, two ax wounds on his head. Bell and his brother, Ed, 23, were arrested and Chief Deputy Scott Swafford charged them with murder. They face arraignment tomorrow.

Officers have redoubled patrols on the mountain but have met with the same tight-lipped silence that greeted them after the two previous deaths. No one knows anything about the slaying.

Evidence has been sparse whenever one of the mountaineers has been tried for a killing. Several persons recently were indicted on murder charges in the first two deaths. Three trials were held and all were acquitted.

For a while it seemed there would be peace on the mountain. A representative of each faction appeared on a nationwide radio broadcast (We the People) last December and proclaimed an end to the feud. It evidently didn't take.

Parker was the brother of Theodore (Pap) Parker, reportedly the leader of one of the factions, who is now serving 18 months in a Kentucky prison for transporting illegal whiskey. There are plenty of relatives and friends to take up the battle if they choose.

Con Lanier Speaker At Kiwanis Meet; Talked On Tobacco

Tom Wilson, chairman of the Business Standards committee, presented one of the best programs of the year at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last Friday night. He discussed "The Economic Recovery of Europe and Its Relationship to the Stability of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Industry." Bill Wheelbee, supervisor of the Greenville tobacco market, introduced the speaker. Lanier is nationally known as an authority on tobacco production, marketing and manufacturing. President Arthur Tripp presided.

Thirteen members of the Greenville club, led by Secretary David C. Moore, made an inter-club visitation to the Ahoskie Kiwanis club that night. The Ahoskie Kiwanians were hosts to the Greenville Kiwanians at a football game there between Greenville High and Ahoskie High school.

Shot Brother In 'Mercy Killing'

Los Angeles, Oct. 17—(AP)—Police today said that a 15-year-old boy killed his ten-year-old brother who lay groaning from an accidental bullet wound suffered only moments before—"to put him out of his misery."

Dead with two bullets in his head is Robert James Elliott, 10. His brother, Richard Manning Elliott, 15, is booked on suspicion of murder.

Police Lt. Edward Ream gave this account: "The two brothers, alone in their home last night, watched a western movie on television. Afterwards, the older boy showed his brother an old-fashioned .32 caliber revolver he had bought from a school friend for $66 and had kept secretly in his room."

As he took the gun from a drawer, it went off. "Robert fell down groaning, Richard said, adding: "I couldn't stand to see him suffer like that. I backed up two or three steps."

"I shot him again in the head to put him out of his misery."

Richard then called West Los Angeles police and sobbingly reported: "I have just shot my brother."

Competition For NROTC Launched By Navy Dept.

In addition to the age limits, applicants must meet physical and mental standards and successfully pass an aptitude test. Application blanks and complete information concerning the program are available from all high school principals, college deans, Professors of Naval Science, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, and all Navy Recruiting Stations. The test itself will be given on December 3, in 50 cities widely distributed in the 48 states, as well as Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone.

Shelved DP Bill Has Approval Of Citizens Group

Washington, Oct. 17—(AP)—The citizens committee on displaced persons wants the Senate to pass next January the now-shelved DP bill "as it stands."

The legislation to bring in additional thousands of homeless Europeans to America, said this private group, should not be "mutilated and emasculated beyond recognition as the apparent attitude of Senator McCarran would portend."

The committee statement was distributed from New York last night by Earl G. Harrison, chairman. Harrison urged Senate passage of the House-approved Celler bill "as the one measure that can liberalize the discriminatory DP act of 1948."

Robert H. McCoy (above), who has served 24 years for murder in prison at Salt Lake City, Utah, displays metal cutting tool he has manufactured in the prison. He will soon be paroled to head a new tool company with several prison officials and a city judge.

Cameron Appeal Slated Tuesday

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 17—(AP)—Appeal arguments in Wilmington's Cameron divorce suit will be heard by the State Supreme Court this week—probably tomorrow.

The court will hear the appeal on a side issue in the sensational case in which Mary Vall Cameron, daughter of a wealthy Californian, is seeking a divorce from bed and board, a legal separation, from Bruce B. Cameron, Wilmington oil dealer. Cameron has filed a cross-action asking for an absolute divorce.

This divorce suit will not be tried until after the Supreme Court has ruled on Cameron's appeal from an order entered in the case by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle.

Frizzelle ordered Cameron to pay Mrs. Cameron $800 a month alimony, $8,000 lawyers' fees and $2,000 trial expenses and awarded her part-time custody of the couple's two children pending trial of the divorce action.

Two Television Methods Applied In Movie Houses

New York—(AP)—Two methods have been developed and applied in theater screen size projection of television. One of them, the direct method, contains a special high voltage receiving tube with a reflecting lens system to blow up the image as it travels to a 15 by 20 foot screen or larger. The tube requires 80,000 volts or more to supply the proper light.

The other system, indirect, uses a high speed film process. The received image is photographed on special motion film passed immediately through a developed and then into a projector and onto the screen. The elapsed time between received picture and projection has been reduced to 20 seconds.

Rumor Guerrilla Attacks On Tito

Washington, Oct. 17—(AP)—Reports have reached the State Department that Soviet satellite nations, with Russian backing, are planning a guerrilla campaign against Yugoslavia like the communist war on Greece.

However, officials said today the reports are unsupported by firm evidence. They added that circulation of the rumors might be part of a Soviet war of nerves against Marshal Tito's regime.

The reports came through diplomatic channels prior to yesterday's announcement by the Greek rebel radio that the communist-led rebel forces are halting operations in Greece for the time being.

Some officials suspect a link between the developments and said there appears a definite possibility that the guerrillas who have been harassing the Greek government may now be diverted to border warfare against Tito.

Several thousand guerrillas have been reported transferred recently

168-Day Strike Comes To End

Elizabeth, N.J., Oct. 17—(AP)—The 168-day old strike at the Singer Manufacturing Co. has ended.

Between 2,000 and 2,500 of the 7,000 workers who walked out May 2 were scheduled to return to their jobs today. The strikers, members of Local 401, United Electrical Workers (CIO), voted yesterday at a mass meeting to accept a new contract providing no general wage increase and retaining the disputed standards or incentive pay system.

Shannon Airport, Ireland, Oct. 17—(AP)—The stork raced an American Overseas Airlines pilot over the Atlantic Ocean today — and the stork won.

A baby boy was born to Mrs. Derinka Parker of New York City, while the Constellation dived at full throttle 400 miles from Shannon. Both the mother and child were reported well. The baby's weight was given as four pounds.

Canton — A powerful Western Carolina Teachers College eleven rolled to its third consecutive North State conference victory of the season here Saturday night, defeating scrappy East Carolina 19-6 before a crowd of 4,500 fans.

The highly favored Catamounts scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods while the lads from the East marched 80 yards for their only score in the fourth period.

The 13-point ECTC loss was viewed across the state as somewhat of an upset for Coach Bill Dole's Pirates who were rated four touchdowns under the Catamounts.

Ralph McConnell was the big gun for the Cats as he tallied two of their touchdowns and sparked their offense throughout the game.

McConnell scored on a 14-yard jaunt for their first touchdown of the game and bucked over from the one for Western Carolina's second TD. Dick White tallied the final Catamount touchdown in the third on a dive over center from the one yard line.

East Carolina's lone score came in the final quarter when Halfback Bill Darby went off tackle from the 13 and crossed the goal line. The touchdown continued Coach Dole's record of not having his team shut-out since 1938.

A penalty nullified an East Carolina scoring threat in the first half. Darby took a kickoff on his own 10 and raced to the Western Carolina 28 before he was brought down. The play was called back for an offside penalty.

The inspired performance of the East Carolina defensive team was one of the highlights of the Saturday night game. The Buc forward wall repeatedly bogged down WCTC drives and were lauded for a brilliant performance, despite the three touchdowns which went through them.

Back To The Drill

Chicago—(AP)—Ray Kuffel, one of the staunchest defensive ends in the All-America Conference, has handed in his pads to return to Marquette University where he is studying dentistry. The Chicago Hornets released him because they recently picked up Paul Cleary, 1947 All America at Southern California, and because Kuffel wouldn't be able to practice with the club and attend classes.

Notre Dame And Army Look Like Unbeatable Duo

New York, Oct. 17—(AP)—Notre Dame and Army, two longtime rivals who decided to quit feuding with each other, towered like a pair of titans over the college football world today with no immediate downfall in sight.

Since they don't collide, who is to stop these new, powerized editions of Fighting Irish and Black Knights of the Hudson being compared with the some of the greatest machines of the past?

Notre Dame has the tougher schedule but it should cause little trouble to the team that manhandled highly-rated Tulane Saturday at South Bend, 46-7.

In breaking the backs and hearts of the Dixie power base, the fourth-ranked eleven in the country, Frank Leahy's Athletes ran to 32 their string of defeatless games.

The Irish rest this week before tackling Navy Oct. 29 in Baltimore. Then come Michigan State, North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist in an awesome row.

Army, meanwhile hurdled the "hump" of its schedule a week ago when it smashed Michigan, the defending national champion, 21-7. The cadets won their fourth of the campaign Saturday by blasting Harvard, 54-14.

Both the Irish and Cadets rolled up astronomical scores as if jealously defending their No. 1 and No. 2 positions, respectively, in the national standings, rated weekly by the Associated Press poll.

The cadets, who now have only Penn and Navy as serious threats to an unblemished campaign, have an unbeaten skein of 15 games.

With the Irish and cadets riding the top again, there is bound to be strong outside pressure for an early renewal of their annual game.

While Notre Dame and Army were improving their national stature, the sectional pictures were getting into sharp focus with the list of unbeaten, united major teams reduced to 13.

These emerged after the first month as the top teams in their sections:

- East—Army, Cornell.
- Midwest—Notre Dame, Minnesota.
- Southwest—Oklahoma, Baylor, Rice.
- South—North Carolina, Kentucky, Far West—California.

Eppes Wins 13-0 On Muddy Field

The Eppes High Bulldogs defeated Beaufort 13-0 Friday night on a muddy field.

In the opening minutes of the game, the Bulldogs started a 70-yard drive with Lee, Hymn, Hines and Tucker alternating in the attack. H. B. Griffin went around end for 30 yards to score Eppes' first touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

The rain and mud bogged down several drives after the Bulldogs had moved upfield, and it was not until the last eight minutes of play that the Eppes eleven could hang on to the ball. Lee, Griffin and Hymn sparked the march to the forty, then Carlton Tucker scored the final TD on a reverse.

Griffin passed to Murnett for the extra point.

The Bulldogs' line won praise for its work in staving off Beaufort attacks and punching holes when needed.

On Friday night the Eppes team will invade Darden High in Wilson. Coaches Crowder and Daniels are already planning to stop Darden's aerial attack which has been outstanding throughout the season.

At the moment, the veteran is engaged in a thrilling duel with Jimmy Stout, another veteran rider, for the top riding honors of the New Jersey circuit. Stout has carried off the crown for three straight years, and Johnny is determined to unseat him.

Gilbert has no explanation for his current success in the saddle, except that he is cashing in on his experience. Making 116 pounds hasn't become easier with the added years, but Johnny manages. ## Bucky Harris Expected To Make His Decision

Washington, Oct. 17—(AP)—Bucky Harris may tell Clark Griffith this week whether he wants to manage the Washington Senators baseball team.

Griffith, who holds controlling interest in the American League team, has talked to Harris about the situation.

"I talked to Bucky when I purchased Outfielder Ivan Noren from Hollywood of the West Coast League," Griffith said last night. "On Harris' recommendation I bought Noren."

It was in the course of the conversation, Griffith said, that he asked Harris, who piloted the Senators to a world's championship back in 1924, if he "was hooked up for next year."

"Bucky replied, 'No' but that he wanted to speak to me in Washington on the subject. This is as far as we have gone."

Are there any others in mind for the position?

"Yes. Bucky's just one of the men that I am considering."

Joe Kuhel has been let out as the Washington manager. His team wound up in the cellar this year, 47 games behind the champion Yankees.

Harris broke into the major leagues with Washington in 1919. In 1924, at the age of 27, Second Baseman Harris was named to manage the team. The playing manager led the team to the league pennant and to victory over the New York Giants in the World Series.

Touchdown Club Plans Meeting

The recently organized Greenville Touchdown club will meet at the country club Wednesday night at 7:30 for a smoker.

Principal speaker at the meeting will be Dan Hill, All-American center for the Duke University football team of 1938. Movies of the recent Duke-Tennessee football game have been secured by the club and will be shown, and club officials also have announced a "surprise feature" for Wednesday night's meeting.

Officers said the meeting is open to all members of the Touchdown club, and to all persons who wish to become members of the club.

Forty-Niners To Meet Yankees

New York, Oct. 17—(AP)—San Francisco powerhouse will defend its All-America conference leadership against the red hot New York Yankees Sunday in the pro football game of the week.

This could be the earnest test of the season for the '49ers. The three-place Yankees have won their last three games, including yesterday's 24-21 verdict over Baltimore.

He's Had Enough For This Season

Chattanooga Valley Ga., Oct. 17—(AP)—Coach J. E. Hishenreich of the Chattanooga Valley high school football team is looking forward to next year.

So far this season his team has lost six straight games four of them hiccups; lost six players because of negligibility; lost three players from serious injuries, and the gym burned down.

Ezzard Charles Is Money Hungry

Salt Lake City, Oct. 17—(AP)—Ezzard Charles is a money hungry champion with few if any challengers colorful enough to draw a profitable gate. So the NBA heavyweight boxing king opens a luscious exhibition schedule here tonight.

Charles still hopes for a title defense before Christmas. But with the prospects none too bright, he has a tentative schedule of some 25 exhibitions before year end. He opens against Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, here tonight. Three more exhibitions this week are on tap: At Los Angeles Tuesday, Sacramento, Calif., Thursday and San Diego Friday.

The champ's managers—Al Weill and Jake Mintz—had staked their hopes on a title defense in Detroit early in November. The challenger was to be Nick Baroni of Syracuse, N. Y., or Dick Wagner of Oregon City, and Portland, Ore. The bout was to be announced after (and if) Charles KO'd Pat Valentino in San Francisco Friday.

But an unpopular decision and a cut eye blasted those hopes. Barone won the official verdict over Wanger in a Detroit scrap.

Other prospects? Weill and Mintz sum them up this way:

Caesar Brion, a recent import from Argentina; doing well in New York and might be booked for Madison Square Garden in December.

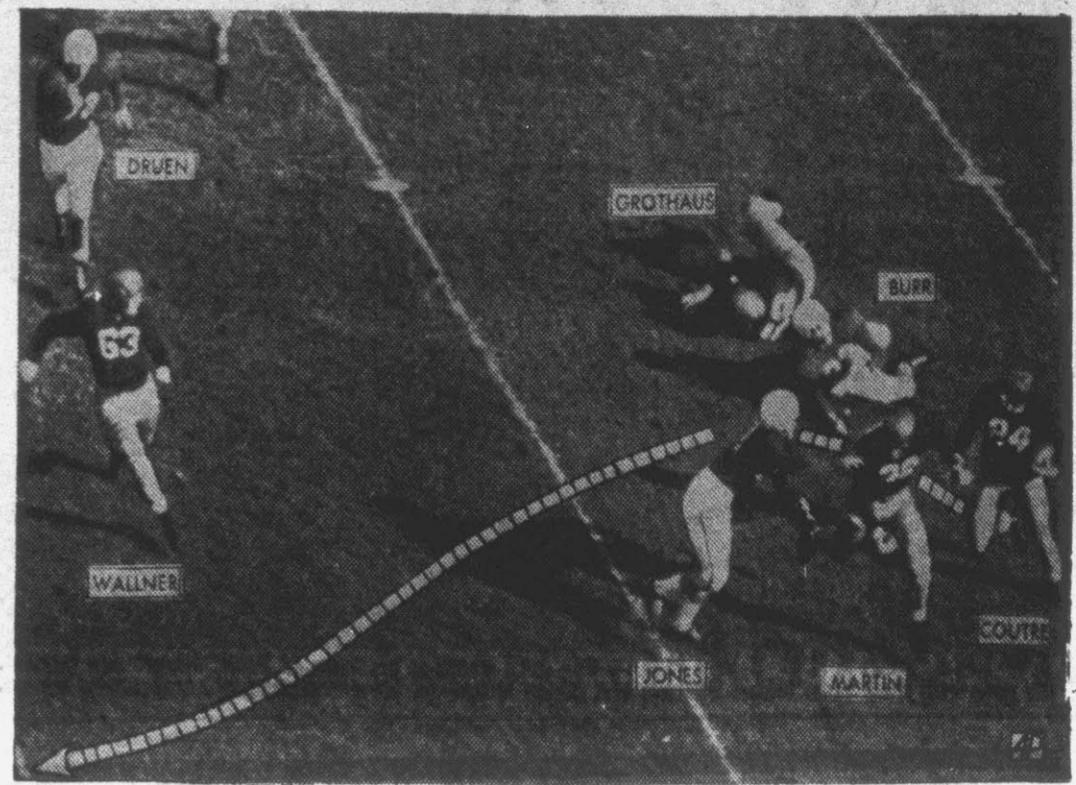

Roland La Starza popular Bronx heavy: Ditto.

Joey Maxim of Cleveland and Chicago: might go well in Chicago—but there's the handicap of a build-up against the record of three Charles verdicts, though close, over Joey.

Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland: might go well in Akron or Cleveland—but Charles has defeated Jimmy three times already.

Probably the most unusual shut-out game in World series history was the ten-hit job Yankee Spud Chandler turned in against the 1943 Cards.

Coutre Starts 81-Yard Touchdown For Irish

Halfback Larry Coutre (24) of Notre Dame nimbly changes direction as he starts on an 81-yard touchdown run against Tulane in the first quarter of their game at South Bend, Ind., Saturday. It was one of three he scored in the first ten minutes of the game. Co-Captain Jim Martin of Notre Dame is blocking out Tulane's Halfback Bobby Jones. Guard Fred Wallner of Notre Dame is prepared to take out Max Druen, Tulane tackle. Notre Dam Center Walt Grothaus and Tulane Fullback Al Burr are spilled on the ground. Path of runner indicated by dotted line. Notre Dame won, 46-7. (AP Wirephoto).

Gophers Look Rose-Bowl Bound, If Luck Continues

Chicago, Oct. 17—(AP)—Minnesota would like nothing better than to take the Western Conference championship along with it to the Rose Bowl.

After stunning Ohio State 27-0, the Pasadena trip appears almost a cinch for the undefeated Gophers.

Minnesota now invades Ann Arbor for its traditionally bitter "Little Brown Jug" battle with Michigan. Victory would set up Coach Bernie Bierman's gang for its first conference title since the 1941-1942 National championship heydays.

This slam-bang affair, by far the most important on a Saturday card of four Big 10 engagements, should be of special interest to the Pacific coast. Out there they want their Rose Bowl representative to face nothing but the best from the Big 10—the champion.

Under the three year clause in the two league's bowl contract, Northwestern went last time although it was runner-up to Michigan for the crown.

They probably will get what they want if Minnesota defeats Michigan. But the Gophers still will face a tough stretch drive. They meet three conference opponents—Purdue, Iowa and Wisconsin—at home in Minneapolis and tangle with the revived Panthers at Pitts-

Narrow Escape

Cleveland—(AP)—After the Cleveland Browns escaped from Baltimore with a last quarter 28-20 All America Conference win over the Colts, Otto Graham, their T formation quarterback genius, relaxed by piloting the plane for an hour or so on the return trip. The players began to grumble that one narrow escape was enough for one day until Graham explained and in the rivalry which started in 1892 and has become one of the hardest fought in the country.

Chapter 2
The depot loomed out of the fog. Martin parked the car and announced he'd "go along in."

Martin appeared with luggage. "Mister Calvin, he run onto some kinfolk," the chauffeur reported. "He ask can we take them home?"

The "kinfolk" (he was "something with the government") chatted with her; her newspaper photographs didn't do her justice. And while they chatted Arleta's mind ran in frantic circles. Cal had changed. But no, it was the presence of this couple imposing a restraint. He was looking at her in such a strange way. No, she was imagining things; how could she fathom his glance in this gloom?

And then the kinfolk were left at the Mayflower and the car was heading back to Virginia and Calvin was speaking to Martin.

"Martin, think you can find the club field in this fog? I left my car there." And to Arleta he said, "I want to drive back to the ship in the morning. Came down in an emergency field and I don't trust the service there."

She asked all of the proper questions. Had he had a nice trip? He hadn't. It was no time of the year for cross-country flying in a small ship. Oh, he'd made good enough time.

Then he had spent the full two weeks at the ranch, she thought. "Couldn't you stop for dinner, Cal?"

He'd left his bags in the ship. He would like to get home.

Then did he mean to send her back with Martin? she wondered.

He didn't. He dispatched Martin, tucked Arleta into his car, got in himself, but made no move toward starting the motor.

And then he said in a terse voice, "The ranch is out."

Of course she'd known it the moment she'd caught his first scrutinizing glance.

"All right." Her voice was a mere whisper, and then it began to swell with eagerness. "But tell me about it, Cal. Was it so bad, so completely run down, the house?"

"I didn't go up," he replied. "Flew over. There was no pasture, the place is a mass of greasewood, take a month to clear it."

"But, Cal, if you didn't go in—"

He'd said up; that meant he must know it was high on a plateau.

"Talked to some men who'd been hunting. But look, Letta, we'll not discuss it. If we do we'll quarrel. You're carrying a glorified image of the place you knew in your childhood. I understand."

"Let's forget that. Uncle Jack's yacht offer is still good. I want to settle that tonight. We'll take a few friends with us."

He painted a word picture of long, golden days on a purple blue sea, of close friends to break the monotony; of putting into small ports, hiring horses for trips inland, or stopping over at quaint hostleries.

And, perversely, her thoughts painted a picture of long green days bristling with activity, of their own mounts, and riding where she'd ridden as a child.

"I seem to be two persons," she offered apologetically: "the Eastern one, the Arleta you know; and the Western one, Chips—"

"Chips." The word seemed to come from between his teeth, and then he spoke again, quickly. "So I'll phone Uncle Jack tonight."

Had he shown any tenderness—had he, once they were alone, kissed her, even sat with his arm about her—He hadn't. He'd sat as a stranger making a business proposition. "Well?"

It was Chips and not Arleta who answered. "Well, what?" she retorted. "You seem to be making the decisions. Shall we start home? It's cold and Aunt Letta will be worried."

They made the trip in silence. He took her as far as the door. "I'll call you tomorrow about five. I want to get up to the ship in the morning. I'm due at Miami the next day; I told you about that two-week fishing trip."

The door opened as Arleta nodded. "Have a grand time and may they all be big ones."

She thought, "What's wrong with the ranch? I know it's there. I know it's mine. Why do they keep me from going back?"

At first she had been too young to travel alone. And then there'd been the wartime transportation problem. And then her father had been killed in that hunting accident. And before she'd recovered from that her mother had died.

She had not known of either death in time to make the journey West. Yet her sister Arline had known, had come from the Islands to attend the final rites of both for cross-country flying in a small ship. Oh, he'd made good enough time.

Arleta stood up, stretched as though she were bursting bonds and then smiled at the photograph. "Thanks, Chips," she said. "I'll do that."

Bootleg Whiskey Found 'Planted' By Negro Woman

A Pictolus Negro woman has been arrested for planting non-tax-paid liquor on her land.

Pitt County ABC Officers J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor and Claude say they arrested Della Wilson after discovering three and one half gallons of "bootleg" whiskey buried on her premises this weekend.

It was one of several times the Pictolus township colored woman has been nabbed for engaging in the illicit liquor trade. And she has given the officers a hard way to go in producing the evidence each time.

On one occasion, officers explained, Della was arrested for planting several gallons of the moonshine under a row of collards in her garden.

The bootleg queen will be given a hearing on her most recent charge in recorder's court Tuesday.

Health Insurance Showdown Nears

San Francisco, Oct. 17—(AP)—The United States will reach a showdown on public health insurance within two years, the president of the American Dental Association predicted today.

Dr. Clyde E. Minges of Rocky Mount, N.C., in an address prepared for the opening of the 90th annual session of the association's House of Delegates, called for continuous public scrutiny of President Truman's "unrealistic and costly proposal of federal compulsory health insurance."

About 10,000 delegates and guests are attending.

Dr. Minges said it is not alone the concern of the health professions. It is an issue which must be faced by every person with an interest in his own health and in the health of his community and nation.

"It is not enough to oppose the administration's plan," he told the delegates. "It must be countered with a constructive program based on a knowledge of the scientific problems involved in dental care, which will enable the states and communities to discharge their responsibility to dental health before intervention by the federal government."

Dr. Minges urged the 400 members of the House of Delegates, representing 74,000 U.S. dentists, to consider proposed legislation for federal aid to dental, medical and other health schools.

Report Sick, But Start Picketing

New York, Oct. 17—(AP)—About 1,200 city sanitation workers reported sick today, then picketed the Health Department office chanting "Five days, 40 hours."

Sanitation Commissioner William J. Powell said there would be "some impairment of service" caused by absence of about ten per cent of the department's personnel.

A state law forbids strikes by public employes.

James Griesel, president of Local 333, CIO United Public Workers, and police said earlier, that 2,000 demonstrators were on hand to protest a 48-hour work week with no overtime.

Andrew J. Davis, labor relations advisor to the department, was told by a union delegation which conferred with him that the men were sick and sought medical examinations.

Davis told newsmen that every case would be dealt with on an individual basis and that workers found healthy would be subject to disciplinary action.

good his election pledges to the public. Among his most important promises were to nationalize the great steel industry and to reform the House of Lords so as to weaken its power to hamstring legislation in the House of Commons. These two things remain to be done, and Attlee proposes to make them an accomplishment of fact before he faces another election.

That is an attitude which is likely to appeal to the British public

Tar Heels At Converse College

which respects straight-from-the-shoulder talk and the fulfillment of promises. Moreover, the government will be in the position of saying at election time:

"We didn't run away from the crisis. We devalued the pound, and then stood by."

Of course some unforeseen development might make Attlee change his mind about the time of election. But as things stand it is likely to occur about the waning months of May or June when the skies are smiling and England's weather is at its best so that the whole country can swarm to the polls to pass judgment on Socialism.

How Safe . . .

More people would still have savings to pay the rent and the grocery bill.

But NPA thinks government and financial men have learned since 1929 that it is perhaps better to increase the public's buying power when a depression threatens, than it is to let prices drop in the hunt for new buyers.

Government has one weapon to do this, NPA reminds. It lies in the Federal Reserve System, which is a little academic for the ordinary Joe, but which can affect his well-being quite quickly. In the face of a continuing slump in business it can tell banks that they can reduce their reserves. Immediately, the banks can use the released money to extend loans and credit and again new money flows out into business channels.

NPA thinks it would be unnecessary to let a business slump blow into another full-scale 1929.

probe of five percenters and the house inquiry into navy-air force differences.

The senate has flatly rebuffed President Truman on two major nominations for appointive office. That of Mon C. Wallgren as head of the national security resources board never got out of committee and the choice of Leland Olds for a third term on the Federal Power Commission was rejected on a vote of 53 to 15.

There has been no conclusive action on the President's request for broadening of social security, repeal of the Taft Hartley law, federal aid to education, and civil rights—all key domestic issues.

But the Big congress still has another year to go and its record may be altered substantially a year from now.

High Court To Review Decision On Rent Control

Washington, Oct. 17—(AP)—The Supreme court today agreed to review a decision that the 1949 federal rent control act is unconstitutional.

The decision has been held in abeyance pending Supreme court action.

Handed down by U. S. District Court Judge Elwyn R. Shaw in Chicago the decision was appealed directly to the high tribunal by the Justice department. The department contends Shaw's opinion is erroneous.

The Supreme court will hear arguments on the issue in a couple weeks, then give its ruling later.

The 1949 rent act permits states and municipalities to end rent controls. Shaw declared this an unconstitutional delegation of power by Congress, then ruled the entire act invalid.
