Steel Shortage Means Shutdown In Auto Industry

Stockpiles Dwindling Fast; Plants Said Operating On Borrowed Time

Detroit, Oct. 18—(AP)—The nation's auto industry is operating on borrowed time as far as its steel supplies are concerned. Shutdowns of three weeks and more starting early next month are not unlikely. This was the word from an authoritative source inside the industry today.

The car and truck makers had a four to six weeks inventory of steel when the steel strike began. But they have been eating deeply into these stocks and replacements have been cut off.

A top industry executive, who asked that he be not identified, said today:

"An important thing that seems to be overlooked is that if we keep going and use up all the steel we have on hand it will take three or four weeks to store up enough more to permit resumption of car and truck output.

"Shutdowns of three weeks or more are inevitable for many of the car companies if steel does not start to come through again by next Monday."

No one auto maker wants to admit his steel position is any worse than that of his competitors. But most car and truck companies, especially among the "Big Three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have been producing at record levels for many weeks. Most of the G-M and Chrysler division have been working overtime to complete their 1949 model runs.

Since the steel strike began more than two weeks ago, their stockpiles have been dwindling rapidly.

One of the effects of assembly line shutdowns next month, besides idling several hundred thousand auto workers, would be to delay new model changeovers by G-M, Chrysler and possibly Ford. Ford, of course, produces some of its own steel, but not nearly all it needs for even normal car and truck output.

The car industry reportedly has some 600,000 cars in dealers' hands or in storage. Most of these are said to be in the medium priced class.

Gas Stove Blast In Cafe Causes $100,000 Damage

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 18—(AP)—A cafe employee struck a match to a gas stove early today, touching off an explosion that caused damage unofficially estimated at $100,000.

The blast, occurring about 6:30 a. m. severely injured Earl Bryant, the cafe employee. He was rushed to a Fayetteville hospital.

The explosion totally wrecked the sandwich shop and a combination grocery store and market which adjoined it on Vance street. In addition, several other business houses, including a hardware store, a barber shop and an automobile parts store, were damaged.

Bryant was quoted by police as saying that the stove had been left on last night but had apparently gone out, causing gas fumes to accumulate.

UN Balkan Body Admits Failure

Lake Success, Oct. 18—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly's Balkan Peace Committee announced today it had failed any basis for settling the Greek-Balkan conflict.

The four-man committee acknowledged its failure to the General Assembly's 59-nation political committee. Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo, who headed the peace group, said in a letter that the committee had authorized him to report failure.

Our Dollar Is Popular

Young American Greenback Has Come Into Its Own; Once Upon A Time It Wasn't Worth The Paper It Was Printed On; Today Old Nations Recognize Its Value

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington — Those rectangular green pieces of paper you carry in your pocketbook are just about as popular as any commodity in the world today. When proud old nations knuckled under and devalued their currencies to make them worth less in terms of the American dollar, the young American greenback really came into its own.

Once upon a time it "wasn't worth a Continental." That was when the Continental Congress turned out 210,000,000 on printing presses during the American Revolution. In terms of gold and other nations' money, the Continentals' dollars were worth only a fraction of their face value.

The dollar got on its feet when Congress, after the Constitution had been adopted, established the present monetary system in 1792. Congress began minting dollars at the Philadelphia mint in 1793.

They were all metal coins — gold eagles (worth $10) and fractions of eagles, silver dollars and fractions of dollars and copper cents and half cents.

The Federal Government didn't turn out any paper money until the Civil War, when "greenbacks" were

Greatest Peacetime Outlay For Military Gets Approval

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Final Senate agreement to give the air force enough money for 58 combat groups shook loose a $15,585,863,498 appropriation for the armed services today.

In this and two other bills, the lawmakers mirrored their deep distrust of Communist Russia by planning to spend over $17,000,000,000 for military defense at home and across the seas.

Senate and House committees reached agreement late yesterday to pour these billions into the greatest peace time military spending program this nation ever has undertaken in a single year.

Included in the total is $1,214,010,000 for nations lined up with the United States in the cold war against Russia—the bulk of it to western Europe.

Also, $157,611,700 is earmarked for military construction in Alaska and on the Pacific island of Okinawa.

A $50,000,000 item provides for the start of construction on a radar screen to guard the United States from enemy air attack.

The votes which will send the money bills to the White House are expected to be a mere formality.

The size 58 air force calls for ten more groups than President Truman had requested.

This was a victory for the House over the Senate which had fought for a 48-group force.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic floor leader, said there will be no organized fight against the military appropriations bill when it reaches the senate.

A breakdown of the money total shows this distribution:

- U. S. defenses—(1) $4,380,844,296 for the army—(all in cash).
- (2) $4,928,028,200 for the navy—$4,285,382,200 in cash and $642,646,000 in contract authority.
- (3) $6,081,141,000 for the air force—$4,028,326,000 in cash and $1,952,755,000 in contract authority.

(4) Funds for guided missile research salaries and for administration of the military establishment. (The precise amounts are not yet available.)

(5) $157,611,700 for the Alaska-Okinawa construction. The Alaskan money will be used largely to build housing for military personnel stationed there. The Okinawa funds are to rebuild installations damaged in a recent hurricane.

Foreign military assistance—(1) $1,000,000,000 for the North Atlantic pact nations, divided half in cash and half contract authority. In addition to this, the nations will receive $450,000,000 worth of surplus U. S. arms.

The bulk of the aid will become available as soon as President Truman approves the Atlantic Defense Committee's plans for defending the North Atlantic. This is expected in 60 days.

Farmer-Owned Tobacco Warehouse Is Planned

Officials Reveal Corporation Has Leased Warehouse For Five-Year Period; Propose Sale Of 5,000 Shares Of Stock

Plans for a farmer-owned tobacco warehouse corporation were revealed here today by officials of the recently organized Keel Planters Corporation, and operators of Keel's warehouse.

Warehouse officials today revealed that the corporation has leased Keel's warehouse for a five-year period with the privilege of renewing the lease for an additional five years.

James V. Keel, one of the directors of the Keel Planters Corporation, said at a meeting of the officers and directors of the corporation last week the sale of 5,000 shares of the corporation stock at $10 per share was authorized, and it was stipulated that stock in the corporation will be sold only to tobacco growers on the basis of the number of acres of tobacco in the 1949 allotment.

Keel said one share of stock will be allowed for each acre of tobacco produced, and the stock may be bought either by a landowner or a tenant or jointly.

The corporation recently received its charter from the state with an authorized capital stock of $100,000.

Temporary officers elected for the corporation are: John I. Gray, Stokes, president; Hilton Carson, Robersonville, vice-president; Directors: C. T. Allen, Aurora; Elbert Bennett, Aurora; Walter Cherry, Greenville; W. K. Stokes, Greenville; Leon T. Hardee Sr., Greenville; Stancil L. Dilda, Fountainville; and James V. Keel, Greenville. H. F. Congleton has been employed as secretary-treasurer by the corporation.

In explaining the farmer-owned warehouse corporation, Keel said, "Under the set-up the farmers expect to sell eight to nine million pounds of tobacco a year, and the profits derived from the sales will go back to the stockholders."

Keel said approximately 1,500 shares of the stock already has been subscribed for by farmers of Pitt and surrounding counties. The annual meeting of the corporation will be held next March at which time the corporation will be elected.

The corporation will begin the operation of its warehouse next season.

PLUNGES FROM TOWER

Paris, Oct. 18—(AP)—A girl identified by French police as Miss Patricia Hunter, 27, from Fort Chesler, N. Y., plunged to her death today from the second platform of the Eiffel tower.

With three or four exceptions, state schools and institutions now have enough coal stockpiled to carry them into spring.

W. L. Fleming, an assistant director of the State Division of Purchase and Contract, gave out the word yesterday.

Date Set For Moore Beer-Wine Election

Carthage, N. C., Oct. 18—(AP)—A county-wide referendum on beer and wine will be held in Moore county the first Tuesday in March.

The date was set by the county board of elections in special session. The referendum originally was set for Nov. 2.

Too Popular

Boston, Oct. 18—(AP)—How would you like to be the mailman who became so popular that your friends protest your promotion?

That's the predicament Benjamin F. Packer, 53, finds himself in.

Ben has been carrying the mail to about 1,500 families in the Devon Street section of Grove Hall, Roxbury, for the past 23 years. Postal headquarters granted Ben's request for a shift to a 700 family route to lighten his burden.

But the department reports its getting heavy demands for Ben's retention on the old route.

You see, Ben's a bit of an odd job man. He could fix a leaky faucet, repair a balky electrical fixture, and always had a pocketful of candy for the kiddies on the route.

Amoy Seized By Amphibious Reds

Complete Control Of China Coast North From Canton

Chungking, Oct. 18—(AP)—Communist amphibious troops completed Red control of the China coastline from Canton north today by seizing the old treaty port of Amoy.

(Chinese communist newspapers in Hong Kong reported the Reds also had taken Swatow, another big port about 115 miles south of Amoy.)

In gloomy Chungking, the new Nationalist capital, acting President Li Tsung-jen called desperately for political reforms to spark new life in the dying government.

"We can still turn the tide against the communists," he said, "if we renovate the government and renovate it without delay.

"If we don't, our position will be hopeless."

Li, speaking at a civic reception in his honor, blamed past setbacks on a failure to reform the government.

He charged anew that the Reds, under Soviet direction and leadership, intended to turn China into a Russian vassal state.

Loss of Amoy, after a long siege, was confirmed by southwest military headquarters on Formosa. The island city—just three miles off the Red held mainland—is 636 miles south of Shanghai and 293 miles north of Hong Kong.

The military spokesman said the Nationalist garrison retreated to nearby Kingmen Island. Only yesterday government sources declared the Red invaders were being "wiped out" after establishing a beachhead. Later, however, evacuation of the defense force was announced.

Senate Shelves List Appointees

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Senate today put on the shelf until next year President Truman's nominations of 25 men and one woman as federal judges.

Although senators said many of these are likely to get Senate approval in routine fashion early in the next session of Congress, some may be tied up in lengthy controversies and at least one might be withdrawn.

PROMINENT OKLAHOMAN DIES

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 18—(AP)—Eugene Lorton, publisher of the Tulsa World and political leader for more than 30 years, is dead.

Iron Curtain Secrets Get To U. S. Despite Efforts

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The United States apparently is still able to get a lot of information from behind the iron curtain despite Communist efforts to plug leaks.

Disclosure of a series of official reports indicated this today.

For example, the State Department announced yesterday it had reports "confirming" the Soviet mass deportations of thousands of Greeks and other foreigners from the Caucasus area of South Russia.

Others, which the department was less sure of told of talk in the Balkans of plans for launching a cominform guerrilla war against Yugoslavia.

These came on the heels of Gen. Omar N. Bradley's testimony before a House committee that Russia has

Find No Serious Obstructions To Vision On Roads

Check-Up For Further Safety Of School Buses Shows Little Work Needed

Reports from school officials all over Pitt county have shown no serious vision obstructions and road conditions in this section, D. F. Johnson, Maintenance Supervisor of the State Highway Public Works Commission office here, disclosed today.

There were a number of minor obstructions scattered about the county but work crews were dispatched immediately to correct the conditions, Johnson said.

Leading the list of complaints were those citing narrow roads which could make passing hazardous, Johnson pointed out. He said a road widening campaign is in progress now but that it will take some time to correct all the roads in the county.

In some sections of the county principals reported vision obstruction due to the growth of bushes along the roadside. Johnson explained that in most of these cases the roadsides had been cleared early in the summer but the bushes had grown back.

He said crews begin clearing the roadsides in July in order to cover the whole county. Some of the bushes grow back before the fall, he said.

All the roadsides where vision was reported obstructed were investigated immediately upon receipt of the reports, Johnson said. He asserted that the roadsides had been reported where obstructions had been reported would be corrected within the next two days.

The vast majority of them have already been fixed and the roads are in what he called "a reasonably safe condition" now.

In some cases buildings or shrubs on private property block vision. The highway department is requesting the property owners to grant permission for them to remove the shrubs and efforts are also made to have the buildings moved back.

It will take some time to clear obstructions of this nature, Johnson said.

Reports from nine principals have already been checked by Johnson and the others are expected to be in within the next few days. The reports followed investigations by the school principals along the routes of school buses.

The check-up program was set off with the disastrous collision of a school bus and ice truck in Nash county in which seven children lost their lives. Investigation showed bushes along the roadside presented serious obstructions to the visions of the drivers of the truck and bus.

Parliament Will Hear Extent Of Belt-Tightening

London, Oct. 18—(AP)—Parliament returned to work today after its summer recess and was told it will learn Monday how more Britons must tighten their belt to meet their economic crisis.

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons a statement on the financial crisis will be made Monday by Prime Minister Attlee. He was replying to a question by Anthony Eden, deputy leader in the House of Winston Churchill's conservative opposition.

Attlee and his cabinet went over the government's dollar-boarding plans this morning and another cabinet session is scheduled Thursday.

Propellor Gone, Vessel Helpless In Heavy Seas

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—The 7-176-ton French freighter Caen wallowed helplessly in heavy seas 180 miles east of Cape May, N. J. today as the tug Marian Moran attempted to go to her rescue.

The Coast Guard said that the ship lost her propeller and suffered engine damage yesterday morning when she collided with a floating wreck. The cutter Campbell managed to take her under tow but lost her during the night.

The Moran radioed that she was forced to leave to about 75 miles north of the Caen. The Coast Guard described the weather as "an extra tropical cyclone with gales, winds and heavy seas."

The Caen was enroute from Rouen, France, to Hampton Roads, Va. Scores of passenger ships were being delayed by the seas.

Few French Politicians Want Post As Premier

Paris, Oct. 18—(AP)—Picking a new French premier looked a little like a game of tag today, with few of the politicians wanting to be "it."

Socialist Jules Moch gave up the job last night because he couldn't get a set of ministers that would agree on policy.

This morning President Vincent Auriol offered the job to Francois de Menthon, a leader of the strongly Catholic Popular Republican movement. De Menthon turned it down and said furthermore that nobody in his party would undertake to solve the 13-day-old govern-

Symington Charges Navy Is Peddling Old 'False' Tales

Big, Final Try For Settlement In Strikes

Gov't Labor Officials To Make Final Effort; If Unsuccessful, Will Turn Problem Over To Truman As Hopeless

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Government labor officials decided today on a big, final fling at trying for voluntary settlements in the steel and coal strikes.

It was strongly indicated that if Cyrus S. Ching, the federal mediation service chief, fails in the various moves he has planned for this week, he will turn the two big strike problems over to President Truman as hopeless.

"When it will be up to Mr. Truman to decide if and when he wants to employ the emergency powers of the Taft-Hartley Labor law, including strike-stopping court injunctions, or industry seizure under the selective service law.

As one step in his planned all-out drive to get strike settlements without more drastic government intervention, Ching arranged to meet in New York tomorrow with officials of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Ching said he wants "to get a better idea" from U. S. Steel "of what the position of the company is at this time in regard to the dispute."

The main stumbling block in the steel strike is the method of paying for worker pensions. Steel companies want workers to share the cost. Phil-want workers to share the cost. Phil-want workers to share the cost. Phil-want workers to share the cost.

Autoist Crashed Into Store, Fled

Abandoned Car, Took To Woods; Bloodhounds Help Chase

Ayden, October 18—A Negro automobile driver led Ayden police and highway patrolmen a merry chase this morning after his automobile crashed into the front of a Quinlan Miller store here, and he backed away from the wreckage and attempted a get-a-way.

Ayden Police Chief J. M. Whitehurst identified the Negro as Leaman Dixon of Greene county, who was captured by officers on the Gun Swamp road after abandoning his car and leading bloodhounds and officers about two miles through fields and swamps in the Ayden community.

Whitehurst said Dixon is being held in the Ayden jail on charges of drunken driving, careless and reckless driving, hit and run, and damage to property.

According to Ayden police, Dixon was accompanied by three other Negroes who were returning from squirrel hunting when his car crashed into the marble front of the furniture store. Chief Whitehurst said while other occupants of the car got out to inspect the damage, Dixon backed out of the wreckage and sped out of town.

He was followed by Whitehurst, Patrolman R. C. Holt, and Policeman H. F. Sutton. A short distance from town, Whitehurst said, Dixon again lost control of his car, and it went off the road, jumped two ditches and crashed through two wire fences. Dixon abandoned the car and fled into the woods.

Bloodhounds from the Pitt county prison farm were summoned and followed Dixon's trail until he was captured on the Gun Swamp road by Policeman Sutton, and Capt. Paul Crawford of the prison camp.

Police Chief Whitehurst had high praise for the prompt response of the prison camp and the highway patrol to his call for assistance in capturing Dixon. In a statement to the Reflector, Whitehurst said, "I highly appreciate Capt. Crawford's immediate cooperation, and the cooperation of Highway Patrolman Holt and Policeman Sutton. I also want to thank the good citizens and around Ayden who helped in running down and capturing the man."

Forgotten Cultures

Survivals Of African Culture Among Inhabitants Of Islands Off South Carolina And Georgia; Very Old U. S. Colloquialism Heard Among Descendants Of Slaves

By DeWITT MacKENNIE

One of the strange stories of our time has been unfolded by Dr. Lorenzo Dow Turner, Negro professor of English at Roosevelt College, Chicago, who has uncovered survivals of African culture among the quarter million Negroes inhabiting the Rise Islands off the coasts of South Carolina and Georgia.

These Negroes are descendants of slaves who were brought to America at the time of the earliest settlements. Some of these living on the islands never have been on the mainland or seen a white man at close range. They speak a language which includes many words brought by their ancestors from the jungles of Africa.

Dr. Turner found that some of the words in the Rise Islands language had their origin in Liberia. It was particularly interesting in this respect because in 1942 when I spent some time at Fisherman's Lake, Liberia, I was astonished to run into an American colloquialism dating back to slave days. It happened like this:

Just at the time of the American invasion of North Africa, November 7, I started to fly from London to the Middle East. I got hung up in

Air Secretary Says Possible Enemies Being Informed Of How U.S. Would Be Defended; Hints Second Anonymous Document In Circulation

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Air Secretary Symington, hitting back at navy critics of the Air Force accused them today of peddling old, "false" tales and of letting possible enemies know "how this country would be defended."

Symington hinted, too, that the navy is circulating a second anonymous document. He said one is in circulation that attempts to rip apart strategic bombing and is "far more dangerous than the first."

Symington was before the House armed services committee, leading off the air force rebuttal to navy complaints against defense policies.

In long hearings, the navy has complained that present policy puts too much stress on the air force B-36 big bomber and cut down on the navy.

Admiral after Admiral has taken the stand to belittle the possibilities of the bomber. Their general contention has been that the big plane could not get through an enemy's defenses and would accomplish little if it did.

Symington said the B-36 still is "the best long-range bomber known."

He added: "The ability to fight from our own shores at the start of any war should not be looked on with contempt."

The B-36 was designed with the idea that it would be able to fly from bases in this country on missions against an enemy in any part of the world.

Major Missions would be hitting war production centers of the enemy. This type of air war is called "strategic bombing."

Symington, when he told of the new anonymous document, said it is entitled "the strategic bombing myth."

He said it is circulating around the country and has a "disturbing similarity" to documents the committee has been hearing from the navy—even identical quotations.

It is far more dangerous than the first documents, Symington went on, because it attacks methods, principles, and objectives upon which the country must rely in the event of war.

The first anonymous document which has figured in the navy-air force row was circulated in Capitol Hill last summer. It suggested that the B-36 procurement program was surrounded by irregularities and instances of political pull.

The house committee completely absolved Symington and everybody else connected with the bomber program of any corruption.

Symington read to the committee a letter from Franklin D'Olier, chairman of the U. S. strategic bombing survey, saying the second anonymous document paints a picture "diametrically opposed to the feeling of the survey."

He said D'Olier sent the letter to secretary of defense Johnson last month.

As for specific arguments that the navy built up in its 10 days of testimony before the committee, Symington did his own pin points bombing on one after another.

The charge that the air force went over the head of the secretary of defense Forrestal in buying more B-36s early this year "just doesn't make sense" in the light of the facts.

And, he said, it is an "equally false story" that the air force is putting all its eggs in one basket with the B-36.

Symington derived as simply "loose talk" designed to catch headlines a navy statement that the B-36 is a "billion-dollar blunder." He said the whole program will cost considerably less than a billion.

British Carrier And Ship Collide

Small Ship Sinks After Striking Newly-Built Albion

Berwick, Eng., Oct. 18—(AP)—The British aircraft carrier Albion and a small coal freighter collided in a gale in the North Sea today. The freighter sank swiftly and eight hours later only three of the 24 crewmen aboard were known to have survived.

Lifboats fought the foaming waves hunting survivors near the Farnes Islands off the northeast coast of England.

The newly built 18,300-ton Albion was manned by a civilian crew and was in tow to drydock for completion. The collision rammed a hole in the carrier and she was reported taking water.

The Albion had aboard three survivors, among the freighter, the 2,025-ton Maystone, carrying coal to London. A spokesman for the owners of the Maystone, said lifboats crews still at sea had some hopes of picking up other survivors.

The collision occurred eight miles off England's northeast coast, near the Anglo-Scottish border, port of Berwick. Lifboats from the Berwick Coast Guard station put out to rain and wind-tossed waves to hunt for survivors.

The Albion, a light fleet carrier, was newly-built and work on her had not been completed. She was launched by the wife of Prime Minister Attlee in May, 1947, from a shipyard at Wallsend.

James' Fighting Ships says that the Albion is 736 feet long, has a 90-foot beam, and will carry 50 or more aircraft.

Newly-Minted Chinese Dollars Sent To Manila

Manila, Oct. 18—(AP)—Fifteen million shiny new silver dollars minted in Mexico for Nationalist China have been diverted to Manila for safekeeping.

The Chinese-directed Philippine bank of communication said today it had received instructions from the central bank of China to hold the silver here temporarily.

Some 7,500 cases of coins containing ten million ounces of minted silver had been packed originally for central bank vaults in British Hong Kong. The first 400 cases are due from San Francisco aboard an undisclosed ship tomorrow.

At the present world price, the ten million ounces of silver is worth $730,000.

Attended District Meet

Greenville EPWians attending the first meeting of the newly-created Eighth District of the N. C. Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in session Sunday at Mount Olive were Misses Jane Broadwell, Lucille Rice, Mary Belle Eldridge, Mrs. Laura Crawford and Mrs. Catherine Walsh.

Miss Broadwell, local secretary, gave club report. Miss Rice read a report of international relations district contact chairman, Mrs. Ruth Meeks, who was unable to attend.

Mrs. Walsh, district project chairman, reported on plans for making money for the home for retired business women, including white elephant sale at mid-year council in Southern Pines on November 12, and as state membership chairman for the eastern section urged clubs to organize baby clubs in this district.

Programs were pickle-shaped and each guest was presented a jar of pickles along with other favors and gifts at each plate.

Mrs. Gladys Hardy of Kinston, new director, presided. The meeting was held in the recreation center at the community library.

Andrews-Oakley 1924-1949

An outstanding social affair of last week was on Wednesday, when Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Andrews entertained at their home on East Fifth street celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The Andrews home was never lovelier than for this occasion. The entire lower floor had been tastefully decorated with arrangements of silver and white predominating in the living and dining rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Conley greeted the guests as they arrived and introduced them to the receiving line composed of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oakley, the mother and father of Mrs. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andrews, Jr., and Mr. Andrews' mother, Mrs. Annie Andrews. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Allen directed the guests to the dining room.

The table was indeed lovely, covered with a white satin cloth and caught at each corner with clusters of imported orange blossoms and tiny silver wedding bells, and centered with a three tiered wedding cake, which was later cut by Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and those receiving in the house.

An exquisite arrangement of silver sheen mums, tricolor flocked plumosa and silver wedding bells graced the buffet. Mrs. L. E. Ballard presided over the punch bowl and was assisted in serving bridal cakes, nuts and decorated mints by Misses Rosa Exum, Deanne Boone Haskett and Mrs. Edward Danford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Andrews registered guests in the hall. Lovely fall flowers in yellow and mauve graced the gift room where Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Murray served coffee royal, French pastry, cheese straws, and Spanish olives. They were assisted by Misses Novella and Bruce Exum.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Russ spoke the good-byes to the several hundred who called.

Cooperative Mission Study Held

Churchwomen from the Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian churches met in a three day session for a study of Home Missions with ### an emphasis on unmet needs in the city of Greenville.

The first session was held in the Christian Church on Wednesday, October 12, with Mrs. Allan Hurlburt as leader. In an inspirational address, Mrs. Hurlburt pointed out that much of the most exciting missionary work needs to be done in the individual's own home community. Assisting Mrs. Hurlburt in tracing the history of Home Missions were Mrs. I. B. Koonce, Mrs. Bill Doie, and Mrs. E. W. Harvey, Jr. Mrs. Sprull Spain of the Christian Church led the brief devotional period preceding the program. Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. D. H. Conley.

On Thursday, October 13, one hundred and fifteen women met to hear a discussion on unmet needs in Greenville. Mrs. J. B. Kittrell reviewed the growth of its health, welfare, school and church facilities. Mrs. Jake Hadley presented the needs of the pre-school child. Mrs. W. E. Stell outlined the needs of the children of school age. In both addresses existing facilities were listed and unmet needs mentioned. Preceding Thursday's discussion was a brief devotional led by Mrs. J. W. Hassell.

Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of Friday's session at which time Mrs. J. B. Kittrell talked on the "Plight of Old Age." Mrs. R. W. Willmann spoke on the individual Spiritual Roots of Home Missions. Mrs. Plato Evans gave a resume of what other communities have done in Home Missions endeavors, and Mrs. D. H. Conley presented questions for discussion. A question period followed and the group present voted to attempt to formulate a Council of Social Agencies to coordinate the many separate attempts at welfare work in the community in order to eliminate duplication of effort, and to assure a more equitable distribution of existing funds. The need of follow-up in health and welfare work was pointed out and recommendations made that the council study that problem. The organizational committee of the session on Home Missions, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mrs. Dink James and Mrs. H. G. Hanev will serve as leaders and will work with the Greenville Council of Church Women and the Christian Social Relations Department of individual churches in the formulation of the proposed council.

Devotional leader for the meeting on Friday was Mrs. Leon Russell. Average attendance for the three day study session was ninety seven.

Mrs. Basnight Hostess To Book Club

The Aries Book Club enjoyed its first meeting of this fall on October 6, meeting with Mrs. T. G. Basnight at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. P. Pierce.

Mrs. Eleanor Coleman, president, introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. Lib Duncan. Mrs. Duncan delighted the club with an interesting account of the life of Lincoln Stephens, a foremost journalist. Mr. Stephens was a great character in the dramatic sense of the word, a very engaging human being. After studying in Europe for three years he began his career as a reporter on the New York Evening Post, later becoming a free lance writer. He liked people very

Garden Club Hears State President

Mrs. J. M. Tyler, president of the N. C. State Garden club was guest and featured speaker for the first meeting of the Greenville Garden club on Friday at a luncheon meeting in the Woman's Club building.

Mrs. Tyler was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. W. J. Stell. She briefly outlined the work of the state organization and discussed fully the plans for organizing state societies for the study of camellias, iris, roses and narcissi. The Camellia society will hold an all day meeting in Raleigh on October 27. The extension division of State College is cooperating with the State Garden club in its study of Camellias and is experimenting with varieties to determine the best for the state.

Much, always knowing how to bring out the best in others. Like Socrates he was a grand interviewer. Mrs. Duncan read interesting excerpts from several books, giving a clear picture of Mr. Stephens' very likeable personality as well as his career. In closing Mrs. Duncan read Carl Sandberg's impression of Lincoln Stephens — "Stephen was read by many for thirty years or more. He always had something on the ball . . . a style distinctly his own . . . with ways akin to Socrates."

New books were introduced and distributed by the book committee. After delicious refreshments, the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Tyler told of the plans for marking the two national highways which have been designated as memorials for the dead of World War II.

These two highways are 301 and 64. They cross in Rocky Mount and last week the Garden club placed two markers in Rocky Mount—one on each highway—and held a memorial service. Greenville is not on either of these highways but Mrs. Tyler urged the Garden club to buy a marker. It is hoped that markers may be placed every mile or two along the highways.

Mrs. B. McK. Johnson, president of the Greenville Garden club, presided at the meeting. She welcomed the members and their guests, introduced the new officers and committee chairmen, announced that the district meeting will be held in Elizabeth City on November 1, and asked that everyone, who can possibly do so, attend that meeting.

Members were urged to begin preparations for the Christmas decorations at the club house, to save all evergreens possible, postpone all pruning at this time. Decorations in the club were suggestive of the fall season with many beautiful arrangements of berried shrubs predominating.

The leaders had a very enthusiastic meeting upstairs at the Rotary club last night. Plans were made for Scout Week. The program consisted of arts and crafts projects suitable for troop meetings with the different age levels in mind.

Graham Calls For Peace Initiative

Wellesley, Mass., Oct. 18—(AP)—Senator Frank P. Graham (D-NC) says "America and the other Democracies must take the initiative for the stronger organization of peace ever at the risk of war."

"Drift into war is immoral in the atomic age," he declared last night in a speech during Wellesley College's 75th anniversary ceremonies.

Graham, one-time head of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, added that Russia "laid the humane hopes" of the world by refusing international control of atomic power. He called for amendment of the United Nations charter to insure international inspection and control of atomic power.

America, once "the haven of heretics—should not in the days of its power become the stronghold of bigots," he warned, adding:

"To be American in the great American tradition is sometimes miscalled un-American. To stand by our historic American bill of rights is not a subversive activity."

Strength FOR THE DAY A GRUDGE IS A BOOMERANG Some people burden their lives by carrying grudges through the years. Let us be merry of this—a grudge never hurts anyone except the person who carries it. If we have the idea that we can get even with someone, beat him down, make him change his attitude by continuous hammering, we should remember that human nature being as it is, people usually do not change under such treatment. Instead they tend to become spunkier and more obstinate. In the end the grudge leaves the man who carries it patently unhappy, his whole life clogged with bitterness. He festively beats the air, makes himself unhappy, and achieves nothing that he desires. Psychology explains it by saying that when our thoughts turn out, energy flows mainly along through creative channels; and when our thoughts turn in, energy backs up and stalls the machinery. Jesus spoke about having the kingdom of God in our hearts. When we harbor a grudge, we carry the kingdom of hell in our hearts. The dark shadows of wickedness are cast across our souls, and happiness dies as surely as growing grain would die in continuous darkness. The mistreatment we accord others when we cherish a grudge against them is not to be compared with the mistreatment we accord ourselves. Nobody suffers so much as we do under such circumstances.

Around Capitol Square By LYNN NISBET INTERLOCKED—The state board of agriculture spent more than two hours Monday debating whether or not to sell a few acres of the Piedmont test farm land at Statesville for an industrial site. Final action was to authorize the sale, provided an investigating committee found that its sale would not seriously interfere with the agricultural research program and a fair price can be obtained. The discussion brought emphasis to the interlocking operations of state and federal governments, and particularly to necessity for coordinate development of agriculture and industry for state progress. RELUCTANT—The agriculture board members were obviously reluctant to disturb the Piedmont farm program, which gives special attention to research in cotton and small grains with secondary emphasis on sheep and other livestock. There was recognition of the fact sale of this small strip, not more than eight acres, might establish precedent and occasion demand for parts of other test farms desired for industry. Experiments in new crops and farm processes usually run from two to fifteen years and any interruption or stoppage means lost time. DEVELOPMENT—Hoyle Griffin of Union county, board member who made the motion for investigation before sale, pointed out that while this board's primary obligation is to promote agriculture general progress of the state requires industrial development, and the matter should be considered in light of best interest to all phases of state growth. This idea prevailed, even though the board may be faced with complete re-location of existing test farms—as was necessary a few years ago when the federal government requisitioned the Swannanoa test farm site for Moore General Hospital and the department had to buy two other farms, one in Ashe county and one in Haywood. The transfer occasioned considerable loss of time in experiments, but board members agreed that in the long run it was advantageous to the whole research program. CO-OPERATIVE—Title to land, buildings and equipment on the test farms and responsibility for upkeep and maintenance is vested in the state department of agriculture. The research work conducted there is under direction of Central Experiment Station at State College, a venture in which the state and federal governments participate and which is aided by the Agriculture Foundation at the college. For that reason anything affecting running experiments must be considered by all these agencies. Local chambers of commerce are concerned also with both agricultural and industrial development in their communities. So there is a lot more involved in the sale of a few acres upon which long range experiments are running than just transfer of title to the land. PLANNING—One man sitting in on the board meeting Monday observed that material progress in Somebody Told Me... By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR. Weddings always have and probably always will put people in a dither. One poor character, the bridegroom, usually gets lost in the dither, but bobs up now and then in spite of the devil. Last night at an open house honoring Miss Virginia Gaylord, bride-elect, and W. M. (Booger) Seales, Jr., bridegroom-elect, the bridegroom bobbed up. In fact, he was there in full force. The prominence of men at the open house, a rare sight at a pre-wedding party, inspired me to write an account of just one, if never another, party from the man's point of view. The bridegroom was all decked out in a blue flannel single-breasted suit of the latest fashion. Sporting French Shriners and Urner shoes, argyle socks, an Oxford weave button-down shirt and a $3.50 tie, the bridegroom resembled an Esquire ad. The gentlemen present conversed sociably about football, insurance, clothes, business, insurance, clothes, business, insurance. North Carolina had outrun mental progress. Asked for amplification of that cryptic statement, he said it seemed that many test farms, highways, schoolhouses and other public buildings had been originally located without sufficient planning for the future. These facilities were established to meet conditions prevailing at the time of establishment. In many instances they were not flexible enough to keep up with advances in transportation and communication and were almost obsolete by time of completion. Cities have grown so rapidly that some farms once counted as "near" are now inside the corporate limits. Zoning ordinances required for present conditions work real hardship upon property owners who, just a few years ago, could not anticipate the things that have happened to them. All of which enhances importance of long range planning; and of which, also, gives point to the wisecrack that long range planning is just a high-brow word for plain rambling. The right guess costs big dividends; the wrong guess costs money—sometimes it costs lives. Highways built a quarter century ago for 25-mile-an-hour speed and two ton maximum loads just won't carry 50-mile speed with twenty tons aboard.

Boyle's Column By HAL BOYLE New York—(AP)—The reason I know that New York City is a wonderful place to make a living is that I live here. And, brother, my living comes to me every day on a platter if I want to eat off a platter. That means 102 press agents would be glad to buy me a glamorous luncheon if I would only listen to what a wonderful world-shaking product or personality they are merchandising. And, of course, any opportunist can eat 100 lunches. But only a man of character can eat 102. I am a man of character—with desert. My trouble is that I am a pushover for a man with a message—having delivered telegrams as a boy myself. But the minute a man tells me how to save America, I take his stirring story into my soul, open my mouth—and yawn. Never mind America—save me! A dozen years of living in this citadel of Democracy have convinced me that it is a brave man indeed who has only one bathroom. He is either running for Congress—or lives in an old-fashioned, walk-up apartment. A showoff! Here they don't measure a successful man by his muscle or how much the bureau of internal revenue accuses him of. They just count his bathrooms—three bathrooms—four bathrooms—five bathrooms. After you belong to the bathrooms you can meet John Rockefeller, Jr., and say, "Hello, Jack!" and start trading the address of your plumbers. Then you have achieved the pipeline to greatness. Another way to be sure you are in the swim is to have your picture taken with a long-haired, droop-nosed debutante with an ash tray from the store club in the foreground. As long as you put the ash tray in the right place, you don't lack the debutante. Social engineering in Manhattan is Tjoujours on the ready. In fact this town is so fat that a man is afraid to yawn—for fear that someone will put a plug in his mouth. Typical plug: Bing Crosby hates sin and drinks Moca Mola. Everywhere the w/dness gathers—the hysteria of having the name in print. Such as "Sam Goldin said the other day, 'look at the dawn—the dusk like another morning.' This appears in a number of newspapers, twelve envious press agents call to congratulate the lucky fellow who thought it up and he takes a two-month vacation—and asks to be raised to the $400 a week bracket. Goldin says no. Here, in Hubbub-on-the-Hudson, the capital of nonsense, everything wears a faced tag. A man who lives in Brooklyn is a "bun," a man who works for a living is a "little fellow." Washington LETTER By JANE EADS Washington—Dancing is as much a part of the curriculum of Venezuela's public school system as reading writing and arithmetic. From kindergarten on up, the children are taught ballets, folk dances and rhythmic gymnastics and are given tests in these subjects just as they are in any other. Every year in July mass exhibitions are given in the bull ring at Caracas to show what has been accomplished during the term. Auburn-haired, brown-eyed Staffy Stahl was invited to go from her native Vienna to start the program in Venezuela's schools in 1938. Now she is also training the teachers who help carry out the project. Miss Stahl, in Washington on her second visit to the United States, told me she feels that children get another point of view through this form of artistic expression that they would otherwise miss. "Our program helps develop their artistic tastes, their appreciation for music, their sense of rhythm," she said. "They also learn the value of design and color, for they make their own sets and costumes for almost all the dances they do." What is more important, she says, the classes develop the children's "rhythmic feelings." Some parents, immortalized "Blonde Ewe Rams sheepish wool magrate." Yes, New York, fabulous New York. It is a city with a tag, too—a tag hard to live up to. Sometimes what happens here makes even the subway feel it ought to go underground—and come up in New Jersey.

Wearing navy blue flannel coats with lighter-colored pants is a device frequently used in Greenville these days to create an additional combination. Maybe I should send a copy of this column to Esquire Magazine to let the boys up North in on the latest trends in dress, set in Greenville. I've tried my best, but I can't ignore the fact that ladies were present at the party. One husband said to another, "That's a sharp dress your wife has on." "Yeah," the husband replied softly and out of the corner of his mouth, "it ought to be. Set me back 35 bucks." Have you ever heard of a husband with such a point of view? Certainly you have. And I thank you.

Dr. W. E. Marshall Urges Popular Support For UN

By WYATT BROWN

"Talk about the United Nations every day and do not wait for its birthday October 24 to mention it. The United Nations can be made to work if people are determined to make it work as it has successfully done for the past four years," exhorted Dr. W. E. Marshall, East Carolina Teachers College professor, when he addressed the Rotary Club last night on the subject of "The United Nations." He related the steps in the creation of the United Nations from its conception to its creation at the San Francisco Conference. Also he outlined its main organizational divisions and their functions pointing out the significance of each in the purpose of maintaining and achieving world peace.

"We in America are patriotic only when the flag goes by," Dr. Marshall declared in opening his address. He predicted that there would not be much success for the United Nations if it was treated the same way.

In 1942 forty-three allied nations met in New York and requested that all nations of the world interested in peace to meet. Following out the idea the foreign ministers of the Big Five met in Moscow and set a date for all the nations to get together to create a world super-state.

The United States senate voted ninety-four for and two against (with two other votes being absent) the Connally Resolution favoring the participation of the United States in such a world conference.

The next step was known as Bretton Woods Conference of 1944. Here financial experts from several of the larger nations drew up the plans for an International Bank which is still functioning. Close on the heels of Bretton Woods came Dumbarton Oaks with representatives of Great Britain, China, Russia and the United States who drew up preliminary plans for the San Francisco Conference.

In 1945 at Teheran Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill and a few others worked out the details of the voting of the Security Council. Then came the San Francisco Conference starting April 1945 and concluding with the creation of the United Nations in June 1945.

Then Dr. Marshall pointed out the six chief agencies created in the United Nations Charter. First the Security Council with five permanent members—the Big Five—and the rotating of the other members, the veto provision.

The second agency was the General Assembly composed of all the San Francisco Conference participants with provision for the admission of others on application if recommended by the Security Council.

The third body the International Court of Justice with a membership of fourteen. Dr. Marshall mentioned that former Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court Charles Evans Hughes drew up the method followed.

The fourth the Social and Economic Council. The fifth the Trusteeship Council entrusted with the objective of taking care of the backward nations who seemed unable to operate their own government.

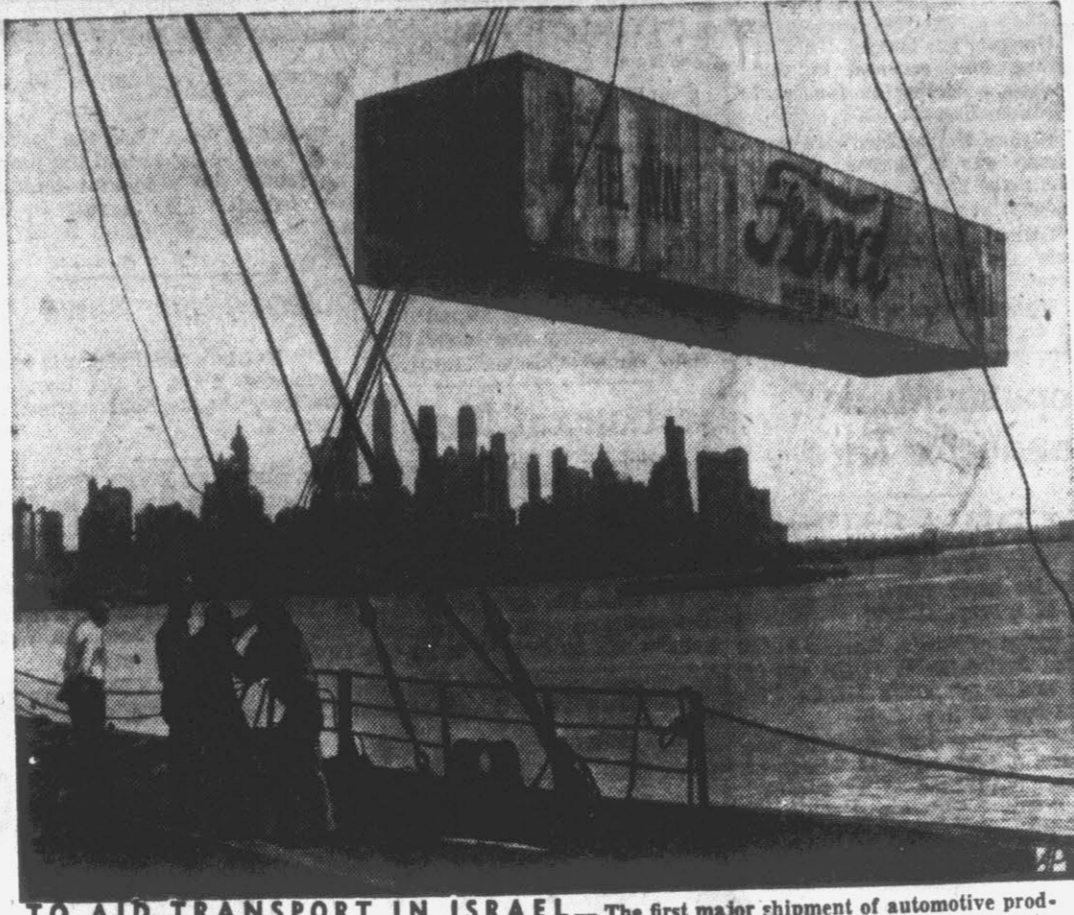

The sixth and last Dr. Marshall mentioned was the Secretariat with Trygve Lie as Secretary General who the speaker characterized as a most fortunate choice since he combined the qualities of efficient executive and politician—satisfying both business men and politicians in his administration of the Secretariat. Lie gets things done and keeps everyone friends among the fifty-five member nations.

At this point Dr. Marshall pointed out the objectives of the United Nations. He emphasized the objective was not only the removing of the causes of war but to bring about those things which would promote peace. His efforts so far have brought about the Declaration of Human Rights which have been adopted by many nations and is in the hands of our government for adoption now.

Another objective is the setting up of the requisite machinery to iron out any difficulties between nations.

Next he touched upon the matter of collective security. The objective is to maintain collective security with social, economic and political pressure. Other methods falling military means may be used.

For a few minutes Dr. Marshall elaborated on the functions of the six bodies. The Security Council is to create peace but enforce it with pressure or use of arms if necessary. The General Assembly is a legislative body determining policy. The Social and Economic Council comprehends all social and economic problems through ten functional commissions. This body is making a study of the division of the world's natural resources with an eye to affording each nation a means of being self-supporting.

The speaker gave as his opinion that all people could be adequately cared for if there is proper division of natural resources and scientific exploitation of them—assuming wisdom is used.

Commenting on the United Nations so far Dr. Marshall said every question of a war creating nature which has been brought to the attention of the United Nations has been peacefully settled. He was of the strong opinion that some of the problems ailed were of the nature that they could have started a war if they had arisen before the creation of the United Nations machinery.

He quoted the United States Representative to the United Nations, Warren Austin, as saying that there can be a world federation in the next fifty years if each nation will give up some of its sovereignty.

The growth of regional organizations was next touched upon. Dr. Marshall said such regional groups would deal with problems trying to settle them on a regional basis but failing this would refer them to the proper body of the United Nations; thus there is still a need for the Security Council. He cited as examples of the regional organizations the Inter-American Union, the Western European Union, and the overlapping one created by the Atlantic Pact.

Commenting on the regional ideas growth Dr. Marshall said that intent is to throw the responsibility back upon the region for its own security until it appears it cannot be achieved on a regional basis. Then the Security Council would take over.

Then Dr. Marshall exhorted his hearers to talk about the United Nations sometimes other than on its birthday. He warned that the United Nations would disappear as did the League of Nations if it is not kept in mind and conversation. "It will not go along on its own. The United Nations can work if people are determined to make it work. The experience of the past four years has demonstrated that it does work," he urged in conclusion.

There were two visiting Rotarians last night, Curtis Flanagan of the Farmville club and Wayland Sermons of the Washington club. Guests were Jack Hogarth of Kings-

Deliberately Ran Over Threatener

Sumter, S.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—A farmer who admittedly ran his automobile over a neighbor he said threatened his family today awaited grand jury action.

A coroner's jury ruled last night that A. Rollin "Cap" Walker, 37, father of three children, died last Saturday when Allie B. Atkinson, 42, intentionally ran over him with an auto. The jury recommended that Atkinson be held for the Sumter County grand jury.

Witnesses testified that shortly before Walker died, he had been cursing and making threats against Atkinson's family. Atkinson is the father of six young children.

Policeman Sam Newman previously had given this account:

He found Walker under Atkinson's car in a cotton field just opposite the Atkinson home. Walker died a few minutes after reaching a hospital.

Mrs. Atkinson and neighbors said they were awakened by Walker's shouted curses and threats to kill the Atkinson family.

The policeman quoted Atkinson as saying he set out in his car to call the law on Walker, and had to swerve twice to avoid hitting him. When he returned, the policeman said Atkinson told him, Walker was still in front of the house with a gun in his hand.

Then Atkinson was quoted as saying, "I ran him down but I didn't mean to kill him."

Stars And Bars Flying Again On Baltimore Autos

Baltimore—(AP)—The fad-conscious motorist in this northernmost southern city is replacing the foxtail on his antenna with a new emblem—the Confederate flag. The hawk of balloons and other novelties is adding quantities of one-foot-square Stars and Bars to his line of goods.

No one seems to be able to explain the sudden popularity of the Confederate banners here although they did return to a certain prominence in 1948's political campaign as the emblem of the States Rights Democrats. A wholesale dealer in flags here says his business in the Confederate banners has increased by about 200 per cent in the past six months.

The flags he distributes are manufactured in Verona, New Jersey.

Erell Webb, the club president, presided. He read a letter from Dr. J. D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College, expressing the college's appreciation of the Rotarians' cooperation in the season ticket sale for the football season. The speaker was presented by James Fleming.

Wants $3,000 A Month For Study

Los Angeles, Oct. 18—(AP)—Carol Ann Beery, 18-year-old adopted daughter of the late Wallace Beery, wants $3,000 a month to study dramatics in New York.

The award was approved last month, but was set aside at the request of the $2,000,000 estate's executors, Noah Beery Jr., the actor's nephew, and Ohil Berg, his manager. Yesterday they told the court an allowance of $33,333 monthly should be sufficient.

The court took the matter under submission.

Second Jury Call Was Too Much

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—For seven and one-half wearying months, Author Russell Janney sat on the jury in the Communist conspiracy trial.

Last Friday the trial ended. Janney went home, and found waiting for him—a summons to serve on another jury.

"Enough," said Janney "is enough."

He called his lawyer who said Janney, author of "The Miracle of the Bells," probably could get excused.

Searched West For Teddy Bear

Detroit, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Robert W. Wolfe family arose refreshed this morning after the first good night's sleep in weeks.

Six-year-old Judy, with her Teddy bear back, had stopped crying. Judy lost "Jimmie" the bear while the family was vacationing in the west. Since she was one year old, Jimmie had been her constant and beloved companion.

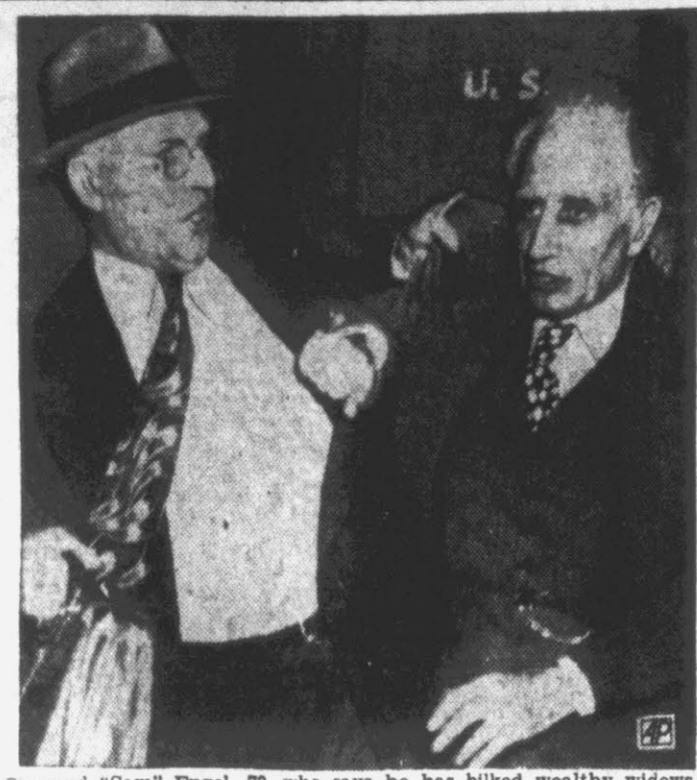

Each night the parents had lain awake listening as the little girl sobbed herself to sleep. Then her father wrote pleadingly to the automobile club of Michigan.

Could they find a 10-inch, frayed Teddy bear lost somewhere in the west?

Auto club agents sprang to the search and retraced the route taken by the Wolfes. At Denver they found Jimmie, cuddled in the arms of another little girl.

Last night Judy went to sleep contentedly Jimmie was in his accustomed place as a pillow under her head.

The lights in the Wolfe home blinked out early.

New York Times Backs Dulles In Senatorial Race

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—The New York Times, which backed former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in his past campaign for public office, came out today for his opponent, U. S. Senator John Foster Dulles, in the New York Senatorial race.

The Times said in its lead editorial that it continued to hold Lehman "in high respect and affection," but supported Dulles on two grounds:

1. His "direct participation in the making of a Foreign Policy which has become the first line of western defense against Soviet Aggression."

2. The hope that his election "would encourage Republican candidates in other states to break away from the leadership of the Tafts, the Wherrys and the Hallecks in the sharp and decisive struggle for control that lies ahead in next year's election."

Of the original broadcast stations, WWJ of Detroit and WDKA of Pittsburgh both are still on the air. They started in 1920.

'Mercy Bullet' Wasn't Needed

Los Angeles, Oct. 18—(AP)—A coroner's autopsy report has added tragic irony to a teen-ager's story to police that he fired a "mercy bullet" into the head of his ten-year-old brother who lay moaning in agony from an accidental shot suffered but a few minutes before.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr, county autopsy surgeon, disclosed yesterday that the first shot destroyed half the brain of Robert James Elliott, 10, and that he would have died in a few moments.

Richard Manning Elliott, 18, told police Sunday night that he could not bear to see his brother suffering so fired a second bullet into his head "to put him out of his misery."

Dr. Newbarr's report said the second slug, in itself, could not have caused death.

The boys, sons of a physician, were home alone watching a western movie on television when the older boy told his brother that he wanted to show him "a gun like they used in the old west."

In showing the .32 caliber revolver, Richard told detectives. It went off accidentally with the bullet piercing Robert's head.

Palm Springs, Calif., Oct. 18—(AP)—A few days ago three pretty cats wandered into the hillside yard of E. R. Burchiel. The family fed and housed the homeless strays.

Yesterday Burchiel leaned down to pet one of them. He was clawed severely. A physician, summoned to treat the scratches, saw the animals and remarked: "Heck, those aren't kittens. They are wildcats."

Scott To Make His Most Pointed Effort In Strike

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—Governor Scott tomorrow night will make his most pointed effort to end the Hart Cotton Mill strike.

The governor, in New York, will meet at 8 p.m. with the president of the Tarboro mills and the president of the striking union, the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. Mill President Frank Leslie and Union President Emil Rieve are slated to sit down with Scott at the governor's invitation in an attempt to thrash out a settlement. The meeting was arranged and announced last night, shortly after Leslie telegraphed Scott accepting his invitation. Rieve accepted the invitation last week. Leslie explained he was away when his invitation arrived.

Leslie's telegram went on to state "whatever time and place would be most convenient to you would be entirely agreeable to me."

Scott is in New York with State Treasurer Brandon Hodges completing arrangements for the sale of the first $50,000,000 portion of the state's $200,000,000 road bond issue.

The Tarboro strike began last May 12. Approximately 550 persons were employed at the mill when the strike started.

Just Wanted To Know Answers

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—It was no idle stroll that took the young man in Army uniform to the Lancaster County Courthouse here. With a pretty girl and a clipped white poodle in tow, the man wanted to know where to:

1. Get a dog license. 2. Register his pedigree poodle. 3. Get a license to remarry if his marriage in Germany was not valid here. 4. Get an automobile license. 5. Get a driver's license.

H. O. Kehmer of the sheriff's staff answered several of the queries. Then he sent the soldier to County Judge Harry C. Spencer who explained that the marriage ceremony performed in Germany by an Army Chaplain is valid here.

About 84 per cent of small town or rural homes are mortgage-free, says the report which is based on recent government surveys. In metropolitan areas, 44 per cent have no mortgages. The over-all national figure is about 57 per cent.

Today's average mortgage of $3,700 is nearly 50 per cent higher than 1940's. But this doesn't mean home owners are more heavily mortgaged than before the war, the Council says. The "livability" value of American homes has been increased by such improvements as automatic heating, modernized baths and kitchens, and better insulation.

First use of a coaxial cable for a regular television program came at the Republican convention in Philadelphia in 1940, the relay being to New York.

Archeologists Found Ancient Roman Highway

Chester, England—(AP)—Two roads built by Roman legions in the 1st Century A.D. have been uncovered by archeologists excavating the site of an old Roman fortress here. The roads, one above the other, are almost directly below a modern street.

A worn coin of the Roman Emperor Vespasian and fragments of pottery found in the excavation helped the archeologists estimate when the roads were in use.

The Romans first built a fortress here about A.D. 48. Named Deva, it became an important military and commercial center and later was the permanent headquarters of one of the legions Rome stationed in Britain.

Old Cocklebur Is Going Modern

Alma, Neb.—(AP)—Cockleburs, those barbed seed pods that like to snag rides in clothing and the fur of animals, come tenacious and handy in the parts.

One of them took root in accumulated dust inside the body of a car owned by Conrad Rocher.

Last spring, the tiny plant pushed its way through a crack in the car's body. The hitch-hiking seedling survived the summer, and now has five little burs.

Ayden, Farmville Fight For Crown On Friday

By Eugene Price

Ayden and Farmville high school football teams will clash in Farmville Friday night in a game which might easily decide the Coastal Athletic Conference football championship.

Going into the game, both teams are undefeated in conference play. Ayden has rolled up three wins in the conference and Farmville has scored victories in both its loop encounters. Each team has lost one non-conference tilt. Ayden bowed to Class A Greenville high school 14-13 and Farmville went under 6-0 to Tarboro, a former member of the fast Northeastern conference.

Coach Elbert Moyer's Farmville boys are unscathed on their two conference games. They shutout Vanceboro 40-0 and blanked Robertsonville 28-0. Ayden, meanwhile, has allowed 20 points to cross its goal line in three conference engagements, 34 points including the game with Greenville.

But while Farmville's record looks more impressive defensively, Coach Stuart Tripp's boys have the edge offensively. Ayden has scored 110 points in four games, including its game with Greenville, for an average of better than 27 points a contest. Farmville has racked up 65 points in three games for an average of 22 points a game. Both are enviable records.

Two of the best small high school backs in the eastern part of the state will be seen in action in the game.

Ayden's triple-threat quarterback Leonard Bullock, a sophomore, will be one of Coach Tripp's greatest hopes for a victory and possible championship for the Tar Heels. It was the punting, passing and running of Bullock which nearly upset favored Greenville high school in the Tar Heels' second game of the year.

The Farmville attack will probably be led by Halfback Claude Tyson whose sensational ball carrying has sparked Coach Moyer's team to its three wins in the conference. Tyson, who has power and speed to match, has been particularly impressive on his end sweeps this year.

The teams will likewise boast powerful lines, each having presented itself as an almost impenetrable wall of stone before the offensive efforts of opposing teams this season.

Interest in the contest has been high since both teams opened their seasons with impressive victories. Ayden posted a 34-0 win over Zebulon in its opener to gain section-wide respect, then Farmville came along and blasted Vanceboro 40-0 the next week.

Since then Ayden has defeated South Edgecombe 38-7 and Vanceboro 28-7. Farmville has routed Robertsonville 26-0 in its only other conference contest.

To date few predictions have been made concerning the outcome. From here it looks like a toss-up and the game of the week in high school grid circles.

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Assault, one of the greatest and best of modern race horses, today was on his way back to the Texas farm where he was born to complete his days in the idleness he richly earned.

The crowd's roar, the straining drive to the wire, the sensing of victory—all are over for Robert J. Kleberg's little chestnut six-year-old fourth biggest money-winner in turf history with $672,520. Two years ago, Assault twice heaved the Golden list.

Trainer Max Hirsch, himself a Texan, announced yesterday that his famed charge has been retired permanently to Kleberg's vast King ranch farm after starting six times in a comeback campaign this year.

The announcement came as no surprise. It became obvious only last Saturday at Jamaica Assault, far from his former brilliant self, finished a jaded eighth in the Grey Lag handicap.

The little guy has had two strikes on him almost all his life, despite his scintillating record. As a yearling romping on his owner's farm, he stepped on something akin to a spike. It left him with a malformed right forefoot. He never was expected to race.

New York—(AP)—The names of All-American Conference players most frequently misspelled are not those of Bob (Hunchy) Hoerschmeyer of Chicago or John (Strike) Straykalaki of San Francisco—the most obvious candidates—but rather Dick Barwegen of Baltimore and Lou Saban of Cleveland, two of the most rugged linemen in the league.

Among the pitchers who hold the world series record for losing the most games (5) are Christy Mathewson, Babe Marquard, Eddie Plank, Joe Bush and Schoolboy Rowe.

Doug Lockridge, senior center from Jasper, Ala., is the ninth successive lineman to captain Alabama's football squad.

Dole Says Bucs Played Best Game Of Year Despite Loss

By FRANK HOGG

East Carolina fans and students welcomed home with open arms Coach Bill Dole and his battle weary, fighting Pirates. The Pirates, rated a four-to-five touchdown underdog, lost 19-6 to the conference-leading team, WCTC's unbeaten Catamounts. The game was played in Canton before approximately 6,500 wildly cheering fans.

Playing without the services of three first string men who were forced to remain home with injuries, the fighting Pirates weathered all that WCTC could throw at them in the first half and came back strong in the second half to battle WCTC on more equal terms. WCTC led at the half 13-0.

Coach Bill Dole was very pleased with his squad's showing. "We played our best game of the year against the best team we have faced," said Dole. Mistakes were still evident but gradually are becoming fewer as the Pirates gain experience with each game. Two mistakes of inexperience set up two Catamount touchdowns. The Pirates' defensive team showed up well as they broke up the Catamount ground attack on numerous occasions.

On the offensive side the Pirates' ground attack came into its own as Darby, Maenne, Kovach and Benzie ripped through for good yardage. On the Pirates' first play from scrimmage Jack Benzie reeled off 20 yards and only a diving tackle by the Catamounts' safety man prevented his going all the way. Dole was high in his praise for the offensive team blocking. The Pirates' vaunted passing game suffered tremendously as good pass protection was offset by inability to hit the pass receivers.

Bill Darby, used strictly in a punting role by the Pirates, took part in the ground attack and showed up very well. Darby picked up big yardage for the Pirates and broke off tackle on a twisting 14-yard run for the Pirates' only score. Darby ran a WCTC kickoff back 70 yards behind beautiful blocking to the WCTC 20-yard line but the play was nullified by a penalty.

Although beaten 19-6 the Pirates showed to be a much improved ball club. The running game showed up well and the squad has become more proficient in their blocking assignments.

Phantoms Grimly Return To Work For Kinston Tilt

Greenville High School's Phantom

football team staggered to its feet from a searing 26-0 loss to Asheville's Indians today and settled down to the grim task of preparing for its Friday night game with Kinston's Northeastern conference topping Red Devils.

It will undoubtedly be the hardest game of the year for Coach Bo Farley's Phantoms.

Kinston has rolled through Class A and Class AA teams without difficulty in games this season. They are not undefeated, however, having been stopped cold and administered a sound 34-0 shellacking at the hands of a Hopewell, Va., high school eleven.

In North Carolina, Kinston has bowled over such teams as Class AA Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh and has taken easy wins over Northeastern conference foes.

Last week Kinston defeated New Bern's hitherto undefeated Bears 34 to 7. The same New Bern team defeated Greenville 14-0.

It will be the third conference tilt for the Phantoms who scored a 13-6 win over Edenton here in their opener.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—(AP)—Tommy Byrne of the Yankees got three outs on two pitches in the first inning of the third World Series game. Brooklyn's Eddie Miksis accounted for the first out when he fouled to Yogi Berra. The catcher then wheeled and threw Pee Wee Reese out when he attempted to move up to second base after the catch. Carl Furillo then flew out on Byrne's next pitch.

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 18—(AP)—A small charter plane plunged into the sea off this town at the tip of Cape Cod yesterday taking the lives of three adults and possibly two babies.

The dead were identified as Pilot Daniel Lacey, 26, of Westwood, Mrs. Harold Keppel, about 30, wife of a New York Times photo-engraver, and Mrs. Edward S. Davis, about 40, of Provincetown.

Mrs. Keppel's two children, Paul, 2½, and Bruce, about one year, were listed as missing.

Eight players have made two World Series hits in an inning, and among them is Dizzy Dean, never noted for his clouting.

University of Arizona football guard, Jim McGhee, is the school's heavyweight wrestling champion.

Notre Dame Solid First Choice In Football Poll

North Carolina Remains Sixth Place Team As Once Mighty Michigan Sinks To Twelfth Place

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Notre Dame's super performance against a highly rated Tulane team last Saturday apparently has convinced most of the nation's football experts that the Irish belong in a class by themselves.

In contrast to last week when it barely won the No. 1 spot from Army, the country's sports editors and sportscasters voted Notre Dame a solid first choice today in the third weekly Associated Press poll.

A week ago the Irish nosed out the Cadets by 30 points. Today, Notre Dame received nearly 200 points more than the West Pointers. Of the 179 voting experts, 146 named the South Bend eleven first on their ballots.

In all, the undefeated Irish attracted 1,745 points by their devastating 46-7 rout of the Green Wave of New Orleans.

Army, which received 58 first place votes a week ago, got only 10 this time despite its handy 54-14 romp over Harvard. Those ballots, however, together with numerous seconds, thirds and fourths, gave the Cadets 1,552 points to rank right behind Notre Dame and well in front of third place Minnesota.

Although it rolled over Kansas 48-26, Oklahoma's power-laden team fell a notch from third to fourth with 1,171 points. California advanced from ninth to fifth due to its 16-10 victory over Southern California. The Golden Bears' point total was 875, nineteen more than North Carolina which stayed in sixth place. Kentucky, eighth a week ago, moved up to seventh with 798 points.

The biggest blows were dealt to Michigan and Tulane. The Wolverines, who lost their second straight when they bowed to Northwestern, 21-20, dropped from seventh to 12th. Top team two weeks ago, Michigan's best ballot was one fifth place vote.

The standings, conference games only:

Chicago, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, having failed to harvest much from their farm system, have cut affiliations with five clubs.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18—Navy's two top ball carriers, halfbacks Bill Powers and Frankie Hauff, were sidelined by injuries today. They were not expected to be ready for the Pennsylvania game Saturday.

They both suffered ankle injuries at Madison, Wis., last weekend when Navy was whipped by Wisconsin, 48-13.

Coach George Sauer said Powers is "definitely out" of the Penn game.

Cleveland—(AP)—Mike Garcia, classy Cleveland pitching rookie, has a unique record of one of his best efforts this season. When he shut out the Boston Red Sox, 1-0 in mid-season, a Cleveland fan made a recording of the broadcast, giving every pitch and every play. Mike sent the platter to his folks in California.

Gophers Boast Offensive Team

Mineapolis, Oct. 18—(AP)—Some people have said that football teams coached by Bernie Bierman are dull and uninteresting.

Some people have said that Bierman's University of Minnesota teams could win only if they had so much brown they could just wear out their foes. They have said his theory was to hit 'em in the middle, and then hit 'em in the middle again.

Those people saying those things aren't the players and coaches of Ohio State, Northwestern, Nebraska and Washington, however.

Those people have had a chance to look at the offensive weapons of the Golden Gophers this season. They have seen the Gophers uncork forward passes, lateral passes, reverses, and what have you.

And, too, they've seen a couple Gopher halfbacks take off and run like scared deer.

For the first time in years, Bierman has the necessary human equipment to develop a strong, constant and impressive offensive attack.

White Sox Free Pair Of Players

Chicago, Oct. 18—(AP)—Pat Seery, much-traveled outfielder who played with five different teams last season, and Pitcher Jim Goodwin today were released outright by the Chicago White Sox to the Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association.

Goodwin, a left-hander, was on option to Memphis last season, fashioning a 7-3 record.

Seery, rotund swinger acquired by the Sox from the Cleveland Indians last year, played with the Sox, Los Angeles, Kansas City, Newark and San Antonio last season.

'Choo-Choo' Continues To Maintain Fast Grid Pace

Chapel Hill, N.C., Oct. 18—(AP)—A few minutes after his North Carolina State football team had opened its season by losing to the University of North Carolina, State Coach Beattie Feathers remarked that he was "sure glad we won't see any more of Charlie Justice."

That sentiment has been echoed by three other coaches in the last three weeks.

The All-America talkback is triple-threatening his Tar Heels to an unbeaten season and is making his fourth year of varsity ball one of his best.

The 170-pounder from Asheville is operating with a revamped supporting cast including several sophomores, but his passing, running and punting are the same wondrous works they have always been.

Against Wake Forest last Saturday Justice put on a three-touchdown demonstration for the benefit of a sellout crowd that included 40 members of the 1916 and 1919 Tar Heel teams who must have wished they had had a back like him in their day.

Charlie's worth to the team has been primarily as an offensive ace, but this year he has been used more on defense than ever, although Coach Carl Snavely still spares him much of that duty to keep him fresh for offensive tactics.

For his three-year career of 32 games through the last Sugar Bowl contest with Oklahoma Justice figured in 778 plays, running from scrimmage, passing or kick returns, and averaged 7.5 yards for a total of 5,943.

In four games this year he's rushed 75 times for 279 yards and picked up 387 yards passing on 28 completions in 55 attempts.

He's scored five touchdowns, passed for two more.

Eight players have made two World Series hits in an inning, and among them is Dizzy Dean, never noted for his clouting.

University of Arizona football guard, Jim McGhee, is the school's heavyweight wrestling champion.

Wallgren Said To Be Nominated For Power Post

Seattle, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Post-Intelligencer said today it had learned President Truman probably will nominate former Washington Gov. Mon C. Wallgren to the Federal Power Commission Tuesday.

The newspaper said its information came from reliable Washington, D.C., sources, which it did not identify.

Wallgren's nomination, if made, presumably would be for him to succeed Leland Olds, whose reappointment was rejected by the Senate last week.

The President, a close friend of Wallgren, has been expected for some time to try placing him in a high federal post. The Senate Armed Services Committee earlier in the year blocked Mr. Truman's nomination of the ex-governor to head the National Securities Resources Board.

Bell 'Predicted' Defeat By Rice

Dallas, Oct. 18—(AP)—Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist is feeling his oats today. He figured he had won his spurs as a football prognosticator and that he had wiped away forever his tag of "moanin' Matty."

It was Bell who last week predicted Rice would beat his team by one or two touchdowns. "If I was a sports writer I would pick it like that," quote the SMU coach.

Today he has a slight sneer for the sports writers, practically all of whom selected Southern Methodist to win.

The score was 41-27 in favor of Rice.

Bell also predicted—before the season started—that Southern Methodist would lose four games this year. So it's one down and three to go.

Matty says the second one will come Saturday when his Methodists play undefeated, untied Kentucky.

Chicago, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, having failed to harvest much from their farm system, have cut affiliations with five clubs.

They dropped working agreements with Macon, Ga., of the Class A South Atlantic League; Selma, Ala., of the Class B Southeastern League; Clinton, Ia., of the Class C Central Association; and two Class D clubs, St. Augustine of the Florida State League and Lumberton, N. Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18—Navy's two top ball carriers, halfbacks Bill Powers and Frankie Hauff, were sidelined by injuries today. They were not expected to be ready for the Pennsylvania game Saturday.

They both suffered ankle injuries at Madison, Wis., last weekend when Navy was whipped by Wisconsin, 48-13.

Coach George Sauer said Powers is "definitely out" of the Penn game.

Cleveland—(AP)—Mike Garcia, classy Cleveland pitching rookie, has a unique record of one of his best efforts this season. When he shut out the Boston Red Sox, 1-0 in mid-season, a Cleveland fan made a recording of the broadcast, giving every pitch and every play. Mike sent the platter to his folks in California.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

Heart of Happiness

by PEGGY O'MORE

Chapter 3

Cal Sheridan called at five o'clock, a long clear sky and an intention to fly on south, if she didn't mind.

"Mind? Darling, I think it's a wonderful idea." "A wonderful idea?" he echoed doubtfully. "Let's, you sound different. You sound like your old self."

"I am," she sang. "Well, now, look, sweet, if you're in that mood, meet me in your car and we'll make an evening of it."

"Sorry, previous engagement. No, dear, nothing like that. I had a wire from Deirdre O'Meara; you remember her? I'm taking the eight o'clock express."

"All right, then I'll cut my fishing trip a week, make up for that week of evenings you wasted."

"Don't," she advised, "because I'm taking off for at least three weeks. I thought as long as I was North I might as well visit other friends; Aunt and Uncle are going to Mexico."

pulled up before it, and a girl had jumped out to dash up the store steps and come to a sharp stop before a man who had just emerged. Arleta had an impression of sharp beauty, energy and arrogance as the girl faced the man.

"How—the voice was imperious—"I want to see you."

"You have, my dear," he returned, passing her in a quick downward step, "but there was someone you failed to see."

He was looking at Arleta as he spoke, grey eyes laughing in friendly fashion.

"We're not usually this rude," the young man apologized as he came toward her. "Were you expecting someone, or may I help you?"

She liked his tall leanness, the rough tweeds, the slouch hat pulled over light brown hair and the funny quirk of his left eyebrow.

"Thank you—" he'd somehow managed to reassemble her luggage, taking all but a small bag. "No, I wasn't expecting anyone, but I had counted on the Langtry bus."

"Langtry—oh, you mean the Sunrise bus. No, sorry. Poor old thing was farmed out a year ago."

They were approaching the store. Arleta looked up to see the dark-haired girl staring down at her, a look of utter hatred in her eyes.

"Allene—" began the man. But with one quick movement Allene was down the steps, the wagon door slamming behind her, the roar of the car motor drowning the surprised, "Allene, wait."

"It's obvious," he remarked, turning to Arleta, "you weren't a prospective house guest. Well, I live in that general direction. I'd be happy to take you. No," he brushed her uncertainty aside, "I was just leaving."

They discussed the weather and other safe impersonal topics, and then the car turned into the resort proper and the man remarked that nothing could look so utterly dreary as a summer resort in the winter.

"I always preferred the resort this way," Arleta remarked. "The cottages look as though they were asleep. Goodness knows they need a rest after the wear and tear of a vacation season."

"Thanks," said he. "Asleep. Right—those shutters like closed eyelids; look, that one has its cap pulled down over its eyes."

"And that one's snoring; see the open mouth." And inset doorway not visible from the road.

"Wonderful and thanks again." "Why thanks?" asked Arleta. "Cover for a travel man," he answered absently. "Good for a few cartoons, also." So he was an artist? Arleta waited for something further, but he seemed lost in some pleasant speculation. Arleta looked north and cried, "Oh, look, Lake Langtry." "Did you say Lake Langtry?" scoffed the man beside her. "You don't suppose the people around here would tolerate that name!" Arleta was still with the stillness of shōk. She heard the car rumble over the bridge, was aware of where she was, but the rumble was like the rumble of a storm she'd known must come. "That name." The scorn he had put into the words, Langtry? Oh, but that had been a proud name, a name the natives rolled over their tongue with affection, an honored name.

They had reached a turn around on the far side, and here three roads forked west.

"Sorry," the man beside her chuckled. "I've failed to ask your destination. Which of these roads—"

"I am going to the Langtry ranch," said Arleta through stiff lips.

"Langtry—" He turned now to stare at her, and in place of quick companionship, amusement and admiration, there was watchful speculation.

"I am Arleta Langtry." (To be continued)

NOTICE OF RENTAL OF REAL PROPERTY
 North Carolina
 Pitt County

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me as guardian of Pennie White, I will offer for rent for the year 1950, at public outcry and to the highest bidder, at the Courthouse door in the City of Greenville at 12:00 o'clock on Thursday, October 20, 1949, the following farm lands:

Being that certain piece or parcel of land in Greenville Township just south of the Farmville-Greenville Highway and adjoining the lands of Alvin Bunting Heber Allen and others, and known as the Pennie White farm, containing approximately 27 acres of cleared land, tobacco allotment on this farm in 1949 was 6.1 acres.

Arleta looked down at her skirt and stockings and sighed. The wheels had spun up surface water and cast it at her in passing.

Well, she couldn't just stand there. Her mother had mentioned bus service from the highway to the Langtry tract, but from what the driver had said that too was seasonal. He'd also said the store had remained open. She'd find someone to drive her the remaining mile.

Two steps and she was around the point which had cut off a view of the store. The station wagon had

County's Scout Leaders In Meet

Approximately 20 Boy Scout leaders of the Pitt County Scout district met last night at the Presbyterian church for the first in a series of six Scout leader training courses being held at last night's meeting.

O. E. Dowd, leadership training chairman for the Pitt district, presided at last night's meeting.

John G. Fleming, member of the district Scout committee, spoke briefly to the Scout leaders on the meaning of Scouting and the opportunity for development of the program affords young citizens. Bob Wolfe led the instruction period on the fundamentals of Scouting, and David Whichard conducted the Scoutcraft activities.

Members of the Pitt County Boy Scout district committee, meanwhile, met with L. J. Johnson of the National Boy Scout office, who is in charge of rural Scouting. Johnson expressed his satisfaction at the progress being made in rural Scouting in Pitt County, but urged members of the district committee

Merchants Hold Important Meet; Announce Plans

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Merchants' Association board of directors, at a meeting last night, paid tribute to Cora S. Powell, executive secretary, on the honor paid her at the recent meeting of the State Merchants' Association and Credit Bureau Association at Rocky Mount last week, when she was elected vice-president. President Charles B. Bissette presided.

In her report to the Greenville group, she outlined some of the activities discussed at the Rocky Mount meeting, and stated that the state association is taking into consideration the establishment of a standard "advertising and donations" agreement, to be uniform throughout North Carolina.

C. K. Beatty, superintendent of the Greenville street department, appeared before the board and asked for cooperation from the association and citizens generally in his plans to make Greenville a cleaner city. He invited suggestions from the public.

The board of directors pledged full support to the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in making a success of their Armistice Day celebration in Greenville on Nov. 11.

Considerable attention was given to discussion of recent changes in inter-city passenger bus schedules. The matter was referred to the Transportation Committee.

Circus Chaplain Holds Services In Tent Church

Rev. Doc Waddell, who Cornet magazine recently revealed under the world as "That Peculiar Man of God," who Life magazine is to have "picture-story" of his work with show folk, and who the Saturday Evening Post camera snapped at Washington, D. C., a few days ago, is in Greenville.

This morning he had the "carnival church" with Mills Bros. circus, exhibiting here this afternoon and tonight, at top-speed, with his "big top" congregation he wouldn't swap for any other on earth. Their "service of the dawn" was observed, and there was a "prayer-remembrance ceremony" for Hon. Josephus Daniels, friend of shows and show people, and for all show folk buried here.

Today's performances were dedicated to the Daily Reflector and staff, Noble C. D. Ward and his Shrine Club, sponsors of the circus in Greenville, the Grand Matron of the Eastern Star in North Carolina and the local chapter of the Star.

Green Collards, Seasoned With Bootleg Booze

By CHESTER WALSH

It costs a lot of money to transport in an automobile a gallon of bootleg whiskey under a pile of green collards and a concealed weapon when law enforcement officers stop the car to check the driver's license.

ABC Officers J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor and Claude Manning, patrolling on a dirt road near Whirlwind's Crossroads, in the Stokes community, yesterday afternoon, stopped a car driven by Julius James, Negro, of Stokes.

The driver's license checked up all right. James and a companion, Early May James, Negro, of the same community, denied having any liquor aboard.

The officers searched the car and uncovered a full gallon of "stump-hole" whiskey hidden under the collards. Searching the men, they found a concealed pistol on Early May James. They arrested the pair.

In County Court today, Judge Dink James found James and Jones guilty of transporting illegal liquor and Jones guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. He fined each of them $50 and costs. The total was $76.80 each—$153.60. Solicitor Charles Whedbee said.

Judge Roberts and Solicitor Eli Bloom today received an opinion from the attorney general, and the court is now ready to pronounce sentence. Numerous members of the County Bar association indicated today that they will be in court when sentence is pronounced Friday.

Incidentally, the state law classifies a bicycle as well as a motorcycle as "a vehicle under the law," Judge Roberts said today.

Firemen Called To Minor Fires

The Greenville Fire Department answered two calls in the last 24 hours to minor fires.

A truck from the department was called to the slaughter pen about 8 o'clock last night, when electric wires at the plant began to burn. No damage was reported by the firemen.

An early morning fire at the home of Dick Cooper, 1207 West Fifth Street, about 7 o'clock did moderate damage. The fire, which originated from a faulty flue, was put out quickly.

Firemen today cautioned all persons that they should take time out to check their heating equipment and make sure that all of it is in good shape. This time of the year when people begin to use heat a lot of fires result from faulty chimneys and stoves, firemen said.

This woman, who was perhaps forty, never had been away from the jungle, but the language and customs of pre-Civil War days in the United States had been handed down to her. Many other natives in that area spoke English, or a bit of it, which probably meant that they too were descendants of American slaves.

Talking of slavery, you wouldn't expect to find it in Liberia, especially after the vigorous housecleaning nearly a score of years ago.

Louis C. (Shorty) Adams, middle-age white bicyclist, who was arrested by a State Highway patrolman October 3 on a highway on the charge of "riding his bicycle while drunk," will be sentenced by Judge J.W.H. Roberts in Police Court next Friday.

Our Dollar . . .

The reason for the rise of the dollar in relation to the pound is primarily America's new position as a creditor nation. For more than a century we bought more from the rest of the world than the world bought from us. But in about 1926 we became the world's investment banker. Now we have so many things that the world wants to buy that our dollars are in unprecedented demand, throwing other currencies off balance.

The word dollar was in general use before our government adopted it. One or another form of the word designated many kinds of European currency. It came from the Greek word thaler. In Dutch it was the Daalder. In German it was the teler. Spanish "pieces of eight" were called dollars.

The dollar sign also was in use before the Revolution. It is believed to have designated the Mexican peso. It was first written "Ps." Later manuscripts show the "P" superimposed on the "S" which seems to be how we got the dollar sign.

Today there are about 53 billion dollars in the world. About 26 billion of them are in circulation. Most of the rest are held in the U. S. Treasury. There they are in the custody of Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States, whose signature also appears on all paper money now being produced.
