Indictment Of Soviet Trading Corporation And Top Officers As Foreign Agents Appears Certain To Draw Reprisals; Hearing Wednesday

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—Indictment of Russia's famed Amtorg Trading Corporation and its top officers as unregistered foreign agents appears certain to set off new tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury here and announced by Attorney General McGrath late yesterday. It charged the corporation and six officers with failure to register as agents of a foreign power in accordance with American law. The maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Washington officials promptly began speculating on Soviet reprisals. The Russian embassy was reported to have lodged a formal protest with the State Department and a Moscow propaganda blast denouncing the indictment was expected almost immediately.

Shortly after McGrath made his announcement, five of the Russians were arrested in New York and taken before a U.S. commissioner, who held them under $15,000 bail each pending a hearing Wednesday on removal to Washington.

The sixth Amtorg official—a vice president of the company—is in Russia. Those taken into custody were the firm's president, a vice president, the treasurer, the secretary and a former assistant treasurer now doing other work.

Attorney Isadore Needleman, appearing for the Russians, told the commissioner "there is no question" the men will be on hand for the Wednesday hearing. But government Attorney Edward E. Richey argued successfully that "I prefer $15,000 (bail) to the counsel's word."

McGrath said in his announcement that since Oct. 1, 1946, Amtorg had collected "information for and reported information to" Russia and had otherwise acted "in the interests of the Russian Government."

In the past three years, he asserted, Amtorg was told repeatedly to register under the foreign agents registration act. The State Department said it had sent a note to the Soviet embassy only six weeks ago officially calling attention to Amtorg's failure to register.

Needleman told the commissioner in New York that "there is no willfulness here. We have been discussing it with the Department of Justice for the past six months and wrote only recently and then this happened."

The Russian embassy reportedly made known its initial reaction to the State Department during a seven-minute call which the charge d'affaires, Vladimir I. Bazynkin, made on Undersecretary of State James Webb.

Australia Said Preparing For Eventual War

Sydney, Australia, Oct. 22—(AP)—The Sunday Herald said today Australia's army is going to reorganize, and standardize arms with the U.S. to "prepare for the inevitable war with Russia."

Top level conferences between Australian cabinet ministers and Army Chief of Staff Lieut. Gen. V. A. H. Sturdee brought about the decision, the newspaper said.

Sturdee was said to have told the ministers that war between the Western powers and Russia is inevitable and that Australia's defenses are a "tragic failure." He also was reported to have said that the British Commonwealth must get used to playing second fiddle in defense matters to the United States.

On Gov't Spending

'Deficit Spending' Will Be Hotly Argued For Some Time; U. S. Has Operated 'In The Red' For A Number Of Years; How It Got That Way; Years Of Red Ink

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—The phrase "deficit spending" is getting well-known again. Politicians and economists are arguing about it. You'll be hearing it for months, maybe for years.

The government has to pay its expenses out of the revenue it collects mostly taxes from individuals and corporations.

When the government spends more than it collects, that's called deficit spending. That's what's happened now.

There was an unbroken stretch of 16 years—1931 through 1946, the depression and wartime years—when the government did nothing but deficit spending.

New Ambassador To Belgrade Is Next U. S. Step

Assistant Secretary Of State Geo. Allen Expected To Be Appointed

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—The United States is expected to name Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen Ambassador to Yugoslavia as part of the western campaign to stiffen Marshal Tito's resistance to Moscow.

Informed diplomatic officials said Allen is Secretary of State Acheson's choice for the key cold war post now held by the ailing Cavendish Cannon.

Allen is a former Ambassador to Iran. There he has two years of first-hand experience in distrustful neighbor country of Soviet Russia at a time when the relations between Iran and Moscow were particularly critical.

President Truman's expected to name him to the Belgrade post shortly.

This would fit in with other moves by the United States and the other western powers to encourage Tito in his feud with the Communists.

The next such move may be a decision by the U. S. and Britain to lift an existing ban on the shipment of civilian aviation equipment to Yugoslavia. Anticipating a favorable decision the Yugoslav government already has asked permission to buy equipment from an American airline.

Officials said the state, commerce and defense departments are discussing whether to issue the necessary export licenses. It was stressed there is no present proposal to ship military planes and equipment to Tito.

The Yugoslav-Russian situation also was believed to have contributed to another development reported by officials here: a series of government shakeups in Poland and Czechoslovakia, apparently intended to shove western-minded personnel out of key ministries.

Uphold Charge Of Violation Of Human Rights

New York, Oct. 22—(AP)—The United Nations assembly turned aside bitter Soviet protests today and in effect upheld western charges of violations of human rights behind the iron curtain in Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

The assembly voted 47 to 8 (slav bloc) to express its grave concern over the charges.

It also asked the International court of justice for an advisory opinion whether the Soviet satellites are obligated to carry out treaty provisions for settling the long disputes.

Finally, the assembly decided to keep the issue alive until it meets again next year.

Reds Race For Kweilin Assault

Hong Kong, Oct. 22—(AP)—Two communist forces driving westward in South China raced today to a link-up for an assault on Kweilin.

Red Gen. Chen Keng's troops, moving northwest along the West River from Canton, raced to the link with Gen. Lin Pao's communist veterans who were driving on the Kwangsi province capital from the northeast. Exact position of the two forces were not disclosed.

Scott To Look Into Rent Pleas

Raleigh, Oct. 22—(AP)—Governor Scott says he won't act on a rent decontrol request from the Asheville city council until he has "talked to the Asheville folk."

The governor will look into the situation early next week when he is in Asheville to attend a meeting of the State Board of Conservation and Development, his office said yesterday.

Raps Left-Wing Unions Of CIO

Winston-Salem, Oct. 22—(AP)—The CIO's State Political Action committee lashed out today at the organization's left-wing unions, widening the already deep split in CIO ranks.

Three Irish Babies Find A Home In Louisiana

William Lee Phillips and his wife of Tangipahoa, Louisiana, are happy at home with the three children they have adopted from homes in Ireland. The youngsters are Donald, six months; Lee, one year; and Hazel, five months. The Phillips had waited four years for their names to come to the top of a list of applicants for children at an adoption home in Mississippi. They didn't seem to be getting anywhere. So Mrs. Phillips flew to Ireland two weeks ago and has just returned with the youngsters. (AP Wirephoto).

Ching Bearing Down On U. S. Steel For Peace

Truman Said Counting On Settlement To Spark Agreement Which Might Lead In Turn To End Of Coal Walk-out

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—The government grimly pushed its efforts today to break a deadlock in the nationwide steel strike as an equally bleak coal situation brought a slash in coal-burning passenger train service.

President Truman's advisers said he is counting on a steel settlement to spark an agreement which might lead in turn to the end of the month-old coal walk-out.

Toward that end, Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching bore down in his three-day campaign to talk officials of the U. S. Steel Corp. into some settlement on their pension and insurance demands. Ching was meeting with the steel company officials in New York.

At White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., northern and western soft coal operators walked out of negotiations with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, saying that to remain would be to "fool the public."

As coal stocks above ground dwindled, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered a 25 per cent cut in passenger trains pulled by coal-burning locomotives, effective next Tuesday.

The order applied to lines with less than a 25-day supply of coal on hand. The Association of American Railroads estimates that on Oct. 1 one-third of the nation's railroads had less than a 30-day supply available.

Penguin Dies Of 'Mother Love'

London, Oct. 22—(AP)—London Zoo's baby penguin died today from too much mother love. The chick was hatched Thursday. Said Curator Cecil Webb of his demise:

"Penguins have strong maternal instincts and they all wanted to mother him. He must have been trodden on."

Five Jailbreakers Make Desperate Bid, 2 Killed

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 22—(AP)—Five Arizona desperadoes smashed out of the midtown, fifth-floor county jail early today, but two fell dead under a blast of gunfire before they could get out of the courtroom.

At least one of the prisoners was killed by a crippled night watchman whom they had disturbed reading in a ground floor record room.

The watchman, Tom Stone, may have shot it second, but so many Sheriff's deputies were firing by that time that no one could be sure who hit him.

Two of the jailbreakers were captured on a stairway between the second and third floors. The fifth, Jack L. Tatum, 26, crawled out of a courtroom window and got away.

A deputy sheriff was shot in the mouth by one of the prisoners. Killed were two Arizona prison pals who were charged with murder not long after release from the penitentiary. They were Edward Corcoran, 33, and Edward McEwen, 32. Both were awaiting trial.

The search for Tatum turned downtown Phoenix into a furor in the early morning hours. Sheriff's deputies roped off the courthouse grounds to keep several hundred spectators out of the range of possible gunfire over the building and shadowy grounds. Road blocks were thrown up throughout the city.

Babson Names Four Sound Industries

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 21—With so much talk about the automobile steel coal, textile, shoes, clothing and other industries having "reached their peak for this business cycle," readers ask: "What industries have yet greater growth ahead?" In reply I will mention four such.

Another Bit On Flim-Flam Game

Negro Tenant Farmer Out $199 In 'Pocketbook Deal'

Greenville police, investigating a flim-flam "lost pocketbook" trick played on a Negro tenant farmer here Thursday, recalled today that P. T. Barnum, the great circus man, said "a sucker is born every minute."

Claude Spain, middle-aged Negro tenant on the Jack Edwards farm, on the Pacolus highway, is out $199 of the money he received for tobacco at a warehouse here.

Police quoted Spain as saying he and his wife each expected to get $600 from $2,500 a Negro "preacher" and an accomplice told them they found in a pocketbook.

Spain told police this story: The Negro man, in the 60s, posing as a friend of Spain's pastor, told him a friend found a pocketbook with $2,500 in it. That the money was in large bills and that he would have to get the bills changed.

Spain told police this story: The man never returned. Spain went to police headquarters with his tale of woe. Police are investigating.

Chief Page commended today that Negroes invariably "fall" for the old pocketbook flim-flam game. Numerous robberies of this kind are reported to police each tobacco season, the chief said.

Army Looks Up Its Old Records

Fort Lewis, Wash., Oct. 22—The army turned to 41-year-old records today to find out whether white-haired Ray H. Wheaton is listed as a deserter.

Wheaton, 65, says he's been a deserter since Oct. 1908. Turning himself in Thursday night Wheaton explained he deserted at Newport News, Va., to avoid being returned to duty in Cuba.

Divorce Action By Bette Davis

Hollywood, Oct. 22—(AP)—The film capital was surprised today over Actress Bette Davis' sudden divorce action against her third husband, artist William Grant Sherry.

Charging cruelty, the 41-year-old Academy Award winner filed her suit late yesterday at nearby Santa Ana, Calif. Superior Judge Robert Gardner granted her request for an order restraining Sherry from molesting her until the suit is settled.

Miss Davis evidently kept her plans secret until the last moment. Her mother, Mrs. Ruth Favour Davis, said she heard of the divorce suit on a radio broadcast.

Miss Davis accused Sherry of threatening her with bodily harm, adding she was fearful of injury unless he was restrained. She asked for all community property and custody of two-year-old Barbara Davis Sherry, her only child.

Sherry, onetime prize fighter, is six years younger than Miss Davis. They married Nov. 30, 1945. Her complaint said they separated yesterday.

Miss Davis, who won a motion picture Academy Award in 1936 and again in 1939, was divorced by bandleader Harmon Nelson Jr., her first husband, in December, 1938. Husband No. two, hotel man Arthur Farnsworth, died from a fall Aug. 25, 1943.

Sharp Caution Against Military Purge Action

Two House Members Issue Warning As Rumors Spread Heads Will Roll As Result Of Congressional Hearing

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—Talk that military purges may be in the wind as a result of bitter armed forces disagreement over unification brought sharp words of caution today from two House members.

Reps. Short (R-Mo) and Seacer (D-Mo) spoke up in the wake of spreading reports that some heads may roll in the Pentagon as an aftermath of the congressional hearings which wound up yesterday.

Those reports received impetus from Secretary of Defense Johnson's statement to the House Armed Services Committee yesterday that it was failure to support unification which resulted in the resignation of former Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan—a statement Sullivan promptly denied.

Short, expressing concern over the rumors, said he intends to see to it that Johnson sticks to personal assurances that there will be no reprisals over airing of Navy grievances.

"If they think they can get unification by ruthlessly eliminating opposition, they've got another thing coming," he told reporters. "Everything can be worked out all right if there's not too much vindictiveness."

Seacer, like Short, a Navy sympathizer, declared: "The important thing is to get the armed services working as a team. We have got to be careful to keep away from any elimination or purges."

Johnson, in his friendly but uncompromising appearance before the committee, said the former civilian head of the Navy quit because— "Mr. Sullivan was not for unification and would not support unification."

He submitted his letter of resignation to the President—a day or two before I was sworn in—because I told him there was no room on my team on the civilian side of the defense establishment for any person who was not enthusiastically for unification."

Eleven Communists File Appeal Motion

They Spent Over Half Million Dollars Fighting Conviction, Now Buy Slim Chance At Freedom For Five Dollars

New York, Oct. 22—(AP)—For a trifling $5 apiece, America's 11 convicted Communist leaders last night bought back a slim chance for freedom.

They were sentenced to prison yesterday by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina. Their terms range from five years for 10 of the men, to three years for the 11th. All were fined $10,000 each.

They spent more than $500,000 fighting conviction during their nine months trial for conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U. S. government. They lost.

Then they launched an appeal, asking from the same government they so loudly criticized all the legal rights of review that the U. S. offers any condemned man.

Their formal motions for appeal seem headed for the U. S. Supreme court. But it may be months—conceivably years—before the high court gets the case. Normally the U. S. Circuit court of appeals reviews the case first.

As each motion for appeal was filed last night, a $5 fee was paid in accordance with the law.

Their last ditch fight for freedom began less than an hour after they were sentenced.

Judge Medina refused all pleas for bail when they asked their freedom while their cases are appealed. He has kept the 11 behind bars since they were convicted Oct. 14. He sent them back to Federal retention cells after they were sentenced in the tense hush of his packed courtroom.

Officials Return From Convention

Mayor W. S. Stafford and Assistant City Clerk H. H. Duncan have returned from the three-day League of Municipalities meeting in Winston-Salem.

Commenting on his observations drawn from discussions with officials from other North Carolina cities, Mayor Stafford said, "All cities have growing pains and are experiencing the same difficulties we are." The mayor also said many cities and towns are seeking the cooperation of the county governments in working out a solution to the fire-fighting problem in rural areas.

Nobel Prize Winner Says Soviet May Soon Be Ahead Of U. S.; Declares Security Precautions Curb Work; 'Childish,' Scoffs General Groves

Philadelphia, Oct. 22—(AP)—A Nobel prize-winning scientist pelted a verbal bombshell at the Americans people today. He said the Russians are moving faster than the U. S. in atomic development and soon may be ahead of us.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, the scientist honored for discovering heavy hydrogen, has a ready-made reason: "The U. S. is too concerned about military secrecy."

"It is time that we take stock of this situation and recognize it for what it is," Dr. Urey declared, "and it is time that we stop witch hunting about the 'secret' which obviously now does not exist."

He gave his views at a press conference yesterday. So did Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime atomic research chief.

Dr. Urey said: "I would fire every security officer in every atomic plant and laboratory in the United States with the exception of Los Alamos." (Los Alamos was excepted, he said, because of its military detail value.)

"Childish," scoffed Gen. Groves. The General said U. S. atomic secrecy since World War II was needed to give European nations "breathing time for recovery." "We would have shortened the time for Russian recovery of the atom bomb by a year if we had not had the atomic secrecy."

the U. S. atomic secrecy officials will soon be ahead of the U. S. in atomic know-how and the number of atom bombs.

Regarding Congress, Dr. Urey said: "It has been very difficult to take any constructive stand in regard to anything connected with atomic energy as long as our cities of Congress of the United States continually impose the in-gratitude and motives of scientific ghouls."

"As long as attacks are made against a group of the most unjustified character, the group cannot do anything to try to defend itself."

As for secrecy: "The question of the 'secret' is utterly unimportant as compared with getting some work done. Receptionists and ordinary guards (at atom plants) should keep loiterers out of the laboratories atom plants."

Two other scientists got into the act, writing in the bulletin of atomic scientists.

Dr. Frederick Seitz, professor of physics at the University of Illinois, said in a short time the Russians will have learned all that U. S. scientists know of the atom bomb.

"It is far better," he went on, "that we focus attention on the acquisition of new knowledge and new techniques and run the small danger that some of this knowledge will be obtained by the Russians before they discover it themselves."

Said Dr. Eugene Kacelnikov, professor of botany at Illinois: "Not only is our leadership in atomic offense threatened; we are even more in danger of falling behind the Soviet Union in our capacity for defense."

By The Associated Press

Rainy, windy weather, accompanied by sharp drops in temperature passed over the Great Lakes region today and drove eastward rapidly.

The storm was pushed along on west winds which reached 63 miles an hour at Gladwin, Mich., and developed 45 to 50 mile velocity last night over northern Illinois.

Support Of Yugoslavia In UN Election Marked No New Development Or Change Of American Policy; We Are Now Operating Behind Iron Curtain; Further Moves

Sensational as is the election of Yugoslavia to the United Nations security council over the fierce protests and threats of Russia, we shouldn't make the mistake of jumping to the conclusion that this signals a new American policy in the cold war.

True, the United States led the western legion against the Red bloc in the UN election; but that didn't represent a new Washington policy. It was a strategic development under a long standing policy, which is to fight the cold war to a finish—to take advantage of every device to push the Russians back to their own frontiers.

The revolt of Marshal Tito against the dictatorship of the Kremlin provided an opportunity upon which America and other western nations have seized. However, the drama staged in the election of Yugoslavia to the security council was a sequel to America's move weeks ago in selling steel mill equipment to Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito to bolster his resistance to Russia.

Thus the United Nations vote was merely another sign of a development which had started previously but which had lacked the dramatic Grifton P. T. A. The October meeting of the Grifton Parent - Teachers Association was held on Tuesday night at the community building. Mr. John Coward presided at the business session and appointed committees to serve for the school year.

Announcements were made by the principal, Mr. Albert Tyson. This was an annual event in the form of a Halloween carnival to take place on Thursday night, October 27th, at the school building.

An interesting educational movie was shown which was on "Gray's Elegy in a Church Yard," the introduction was given by Maxine Haynes of the senior class who was in charge of the program for the night. The attendance cakes went to Mrs. Abbott's first grade and Mr. Venters' ninth grade.

Mrs. Brown Hostess To Chatham Club The Chatham Book Club held its regular meeting Tuesday at 3:30 at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Bryan Brown.

Upon arrival, the guests were served a delicious dessert course with salted nuts and coffee. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. L. T. Shotwell and Mrs. A. C. Ruffin.

After reading the reading of the minutes and discussion of routine business, Mrs. Brown gave a most interesting and informative talk on "African Violets."

She told something of the history and of the adaptability of this plant to household use; of its instant popularity among horticulturists and plant lovers. She explained and illustrated the various methods of rooting and showed the necessary ingredients for planting in order to obtain healthy and profusely blooming plants.

The house, throughout was decorated with many different varieties including numerous colors in full bloom.

Mrs. Brown being a collector of African violets was well informed on the subject and gave her listeners much valuable information and a yen to try their luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Guests Of Pactolus Juniors Mr. and Mrs. Noel Lee, Jr., were special guests at the monthly party of the Pactolus High School Junior class on Wednesday night, October 19, at the community building in Pactolus.

Mr. Lee, prominent farmer of near Pactolus, former member of the school board, and present treasurer of Ruritan National, received a lovely gift from the class to show appreciation for what he has done to help make money for the class treasury.

For entertainment card games, peanut eating contests and various other games were played.

Hot chocolate, jello with bananas and cream and cookies were served by the hostesses and host. They were Mrs. Roland Heath, junior class adviser, Miss Jean Johnston and Mr. R. B. Bowers.

Practical Training In Merchandising Taught In School

Students Learn By Doing; Local Merchants Help

By ROY HARDEE
Perhaps during the course of a shopping tour of Greenville at some time or the other, you may by chance have entered a store and been greeted by a young girl or boy, who politely asks if he may help you in any way. You may not have known it at the time but a member of the Distributive Education class of Greenville High school may have been waiting on you.

What is the Distributive Education class? You ask. Rightly may you wonder for the D. E. group is a very new organization in Greenville, having been here only during the last two years.

The program conducted in the Greenville High school strives to teach and help pupils who are interested in the retail field. Retailing is now the third largest industry in the United States, and although not many people may know it, one out of every four working persons in the United States is engaged in retail or wholesale distribution or in a related service.

Field of Distribution
Each year thousands of young boys and girls leave school and find initial employment in distribution. This field is just as promising as the other fields open to the young people but the need arose for a service to be set up that would better prepare people to make the best use of their opportunities in the retail field.

Many states saw the need for the school to provide occupational information and to give training by on-the-job experience. Through the program which the state of North Carolina has set up, an attempt is being made to find and train the young people who choose a career in retailing or in a related field.

Under the direction of Mr. Gaither C. Frye, local coordinator for the distributive education class, seventeen boys and girls are taking a two part course in retail training.

Rapid Growth
While the D. E. organization has been in the Greenville High school for the past two years, the program has been in operation in the state for the past ten years. When the program was first started there were three clubs and now there are over twenty-five clubs throughout the state.

Not only do the students go to regular class, but most of them work in the afternoons where they receive valuable training while being paid for their services.

Paid While Learning
Last year the members of the D. E. class worked a total of 11,127 hours and earned $5,296.92 for their part-time work. The class of about fifteen had an average wage pay scale of 47 cents an hour. The members of the class last year worked in eleven different business firms throughout the city.

The school year for the students is divided into sections, with one unit dealing with salesmanship, one with display, and textiles and many others.

At the present the class is undertaking a study of textiles; during this time they learn the basic facts about the production and making of textiles goods which come from the factories of the United States each year.

Each one of the employers grade their worker on several points. The managers are asked to rate the student on their ability to adapt themselves, their advancement, neatness, appearance, courtesy, and many other points which go to make up a good sales person.

Many Goals
Nearly every field of business is represented in the line-up of the places in which the members of the

On-the-job training furnishes the students taking the Distributive Education course in Greenville High School a chance to earn while they learn. The group above was caught in one of the department stores as they fix a display of cloth and as Jake Starley shows a lady some merchandise. The girls fixing the cloth are, left to right, Lorraine Boyd and Edna Earl Sawyer.

The D. E. Class is pictured above as they study a series of posters which deal with the textile industry. In addition to studying salesmanship, courtesy, display work and many other subjects, the class studies the different factories which furnish the merchandise to be sold.

D. E. class work: drug store, supermarket, independent food store, men's clothing, variety, department, dairy, fashion, specialty, florist, and collector.

The members of the Distributive Education class receive two credits for taking the course, one for the class work and the other for the on-the-job experience.

Social Activities
In addition to the working and studying, the local club finds time for social activities. The D. E. club is composed of all of the members and a slate of officers is chosen each year to lead the group. The club holds a regular weekly meeting on Monday morning during the first portion of the class period.

From time to time a district club meeting will be called and the clubs in one section of the state will band together for a regional meeting to discuss matters which come before the clubs. At these meetings officers are elected, and in turn a joint meeting of all the state clubs are called each year for a state meeting. Following the state meeting there is the national meeting.

Officers for the local club for the 1949-50 year are, president, Lorraine Boyd; vice president, Mac Crawford; secretary, Rachel Polard; treasurer, Arlene McKeel; publicity agent, Barbara Smith.

One of the yearly highlights is the annual boss's banquet. At this time the employee invites his or her boss to be their guest at a "feast." This helps to promote a good relationship between the employer and the student.

A "Missing Link"
One of the important things which the students are taught is the proper way to approach a customer, carry on a conversation, and to help the customer in any possible manner.

The Distributive Education class is really the missing link between the store and better and faster service which the customers desire. The day is gone when a student is placed in a job without the proper training. The customer and the stores are reaping benefits never before realized by the aid of trained personnel. The sales person is better equipped to handle the questions and the problems facing them. In the classroom goes far in his or her advancement in the field of retailing.

The program has proven that it has a permanent place in the school system for it is rendering a great service.

Many merchants who at first were very skeptical of the program, and who were only willing to give it a trial, are now convinced that the program is worth while. The training that the student receives that prices will advance to desired grower levels. The Truman administration can be expected to contend that in the cases of most perishable farm products surpluses should go to domestic consumers. This contention is the major feature, of course, of the so-called Brannan farm plan, which President Truman has endorsed enthusiastically but which Congress has refused to accept.

Under this plan surpluses would be permitted to pull prices down with the idea that consumers would buy much more than when prices are held by a government price support program.

Stray Canines Are Lucky; City Dog Catcher Says They Are 'Nice Folks'

By EUGENE PRICE
One fellow in Greenville leads a dog's life but he says he doesn't mind it a bit. In fact, he likes it because he thinks dogs are mighty nice people.

His name is Elijah Jones. His occupation — city dog catcher, Greenville, North Carolina.

Jones, who has played nursemaid to 510 dogs in the past four months, says dogs are just like folks. "Some of 'em are good and some of 'em are sorry," he explained.

Though some canine owners live in mortal fear of the very mention of his name, the Greenville dog catcher seems to be a dog-gone good fellow, especially when it comes to dogs.

"I love dogs," he declared. "Kept one for 14 years one time. He stayed right in the house with me. Best friend a fellow ever had," he asserted.

And if the old adage that a dog is man's best friend, is true then one Elijah Jones has a lot of buddies. Yesterday he had 15 in the city dog pound, located out beyond the cemetery, and one in the truck.

Picked Up 500 Dogs
Actually the dog pound can accommodate up to 75 dogs but the greatest number ever to be registered there at one time has been 37. Since Jones started picking up strays four months ago he has seen over 500 dogs of every breed (including some of the most mixed up breeds in the world) pass through the wire gates of the kennel.

"Most of them are mighty nice dogs too," Jones commented. One of them he grew particularly fond of. She was an old female mongrel which had just lost six puppies. "One of the other dogs had nine puppies the same day and died as a result of giving birth to the young ones," Jones said.

"And do you know what that first dog did?" She adopted the nine puppies left by the dog which died," the dog catcher continued. But that wasn't all. The same dog adopted a litter of nine more puppies as soon as the first brood was weaned, he said.

"One of the puppies died one day and she carried it out in the field and buried it right by herself," Jones declared. "Never saw anything like it in all my life," he observed.

The dog herself was later adopted by a family living out in the county. A Cushion Too?

Some of the dogs by necessity are put to death. "We have to kill the old, many dogs which are never claimed," Jones informed. And here is where the local humane society gets credit. A group of local ladies who are very much interested in the welfare of poor homeless dogs insisted at a City Council meeting a few months back that a special table be provided for the condemned dogs to lie on when they are about to be put to death.

The aldermen "laughed off" a suggested to supply a cushion for the dogs on death row but approved the "table" measure and the city of Greenville now boasts a special table for its dogs to recline upon when they are gassed.

However, only 75 of the 510 dogs taken into custody to date have been killed. "I do my best to find homes for them," Jones said. The dogs are sold for two and one half dollars each to cover expenses they might have run up at the dog pound.

Four Months—Three Bites
In his four months career as a dog catcher Jones has been bitten

Some of the most mixed-up breeds in the world can be found at the dog pound here. A number of pooches, most of them booked on vagrancy charges, are shown waiting for chow call. (Staff Photos by Roy Hardee).

Elijah Jones, pictured above beside the familiar "Black Maria," has played nursemaid to 510 dogs in the past four months. "It's a dog's life but I like it," says Jones. He thinks dogs are mighty nice people.

they're not afraid of me. They wave at me every time I go by. They know I wouldn't take a boy's dog away from him if I could help it," he declared.

"Do I have a dog myself now?" The dog catcher looked surprised at the question. "Well I reckon I have and that reminds me I got to feed 'em. Fifteen of 'em . . . and one in the truck," he said and roared off in the familiar truck with the wire cage on the back.

A little white mongrel, his paws up against the back door peered out the rear of the truck as it moved out of sight.

Farm Bureau Membership Drive Lead By Farmville

Farmville, with 430 memberships already written, leads the Pitt County Farm Bureau drive with almost 300 more memberships than second place Greenville, officials disclosed today.

Memberships written to date total 850, Mrs. Frances Cobb, agricultural office secretary, reported this morning.

Farm Bureau officials said the total is far below what they had expected and County Chairman A. J. Flanagan and Pitt Farm Bureau President W. A. Allen are paying personal visits to the various communities in an effort to step up the membership campaign.

The goal for Pitt county is 3200. Officials declared at the outset that they would meet the goal and surpass it if possible.

The membership drive runs until mid November.

No reports have been received from five townships. The other township reports are as follows: Ayden 41, Belvoir 29, Beaver Dam 78, Bethel 76, Carolina no report, Chicod no report, Falkland no report, Farmville 430, Fountain no report, Greenville 136, Pactolus 47, Swift Creek no report, and Winterville 16.

A number of memberships have been written but had not been turned in at the time the latest figures were compiled, officials explained.

Spuds Too Big

Meadville, Pa., Oct. 22—(AP)—Farmers in these parts faced a real puzzler today: how to grow smaller potatoes.

The spuds raised this year were just too darned big.

Farmer Ira Sheets figured he has the answer. He'll plant his potatoes on poorer ground next year. Then, he opines, there won't be too much waste.

It seems his wife would cook one potato for a meal for herself and her husband—and the two of them couldn't finish it off.

Senator Wherry To Speak At Lenoir Tonight

Lenoir, N. C., Oct. 22—(AP)—Senator Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb.) was scheduled to address a rally of North Carolina Young Republicans here tonight.

Pausing in Charlotte last night on his way here, Wherry told reporters Republicans expect to regain control of Congress in 1950 on the issue of Americanism versus what he termed the Socialistic welfare state.

Activities of Congress in the session just ended and Republican possibilities in next year's election were expected to receive major attention in the Nebraskan's address tonight.

Duke's Inaugural Rites At Climax

Durham, N.C., Oct. 22—(AP)—Duke University's auspicious inauguration ceremonies were geared for a climax today with the installation of its third president—Dr. Hollis Edens.

The installation ceremony was set for 10:30 a.m. before the imposing Duke chapel.

College presidents, representatives of learned societies, professors, students, alumni and others were slated to participate in the academic procession launching the official ceremony.

Inauguration activities got under way yesterday with addresses by Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to the United States, and Dr. Raymond B. Fosdick, advisor to the secretary of state and former president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The program continued last night with an address by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

Duke homecoming, a feature of the three-day inauguration program, turned this afternoon to Duke stadium for a Southern Conference football game between the Blue Devils and Virginia Tech.

With tractors so big a factor in agriculture these days, the raising of horse feed has been sharply reduced.

Endorses Study Of Languages By More Americans

Quoting from a resolution recently introduced in the United States Senate advocating the study of foreign languages by American citizens, James L. Fleming, director of the foreign language department at ECTC, in a broadcast Thursday afternoon from the college studios, stated that the introduction of such a resolution in the U. S. Senate is evidence of a real need and indicative of the trend of the times.

"School administrators" continued Fleming, "who are awake to the age in which they live are stressing the study of foreign languages as never before, and in most American schools today, even in towns much smaller than Greenville, two modern foreign languages, French and Spanish, are being offered. French holds first place, not merely because of its great heritage, its beauty and its clarity, and because of the great number of people who speak it, but because French has been declared by the United Nations one of two universal tongues, French and English being accepted equally by the United Na-

Results Of Coal Curing Talks Is Kept Secret

Raleigh, Oct. 22—(AP)—Results of a conference at N. C. State College yesterday on the hard coal tobacco curing situation are still a secret.

Officials today still declined to divulge any facts about the meeting of tobacco specialists and others.

Dr. W. E. Colwell was a leader in the discussion. He is head of the college's Agronomy Department.

Students of Duke University at Durham, N. C., are boycotting buses of the Duke Power Company because fare has been raised from five cents each to three for a quarter. Two buses, empty and ignored, stand in the background while the boys crowd around private automobiles. The buses operate between the men's and women's campuses of the university, a distance of a mile and a half. (AP Photo).

Strength FOR THE DAY

PEOPLE COME FIRST
Catherine Booth was the wife of General Booth, who founded the Salvation Army. Her interest in the down-and-out began when she was only a child.

It happened one day that she was rolling a hoop along a street in London, when she saw on the other side of the street a scene which caused her to be rooted to the ground in amazement and horror. A policeman was dragging a drunken man along by one arm, and a crowd of boys was following and jeering. Little Catherine looked for a moment at the pitiable scene, and then, dropping her hoop, dashed across the street, took the drunken man by the other arm, and helped the policeman take him to the station house.

The circumstance was indicative of her attitude as long as she lived. No one hated drunkenness so much as she, but she believed that the thing to do with the drunkard was to try to help him. Even as a little girl she could not stand the sight of the poor derelict being dragged along by a policeman. She put herself at the side of the poor unfortunate, put his arm around her shoulder, and helped to carry him.

The principle underlying the whole of her beneficent ministry, and that of her distinguished husband, was that a sinner is a sick man who needs treatment, not abuse.

ENFORCEMENT—Advent of open season on small game hunting in North Carolina brings warning from the state wildlife resources commission that game laws will be rigidly enforced. Big game areas in the state are relatively small. There are bear and deer in the east, bear, deer and wild boars in the mountains. Waterfowl along the coast come under federal jurisdiction. Small game—rabbits, partridges, quail, doves, coons and what have you—are found in almost every county and enforcement of hunting laws is a more serious problem.

MODERNISTIC—The wildlife resources commission has brought modernistic ideas into the enforcement program. Seven automobiles and one airplane all equipped with two-way radio communication tend to make it hard on the poachers and game law violators. Besides this air and motorized patrol there are game protectors in every county constantly on the watch for violations of the game laws.

PLANE—Wildlife resources has the only plane owned by the State of North Carolina. It was bought a little more than a year ago and has many times over justified its purchase, according to Dr. Clyde Patton, executive director of the wildlife resources commission. Cruising at low altitude occupants of the plane have discovered many law violators and use the two-way radio has relayed information to ground patrol cars which have been able to get the violation points in a hurry. Use of aircraft to locate illicit liquor stills has been suggested, but under existing laws the state ABC board has no jurisdiction in non-ABC counties and a use of plane patrol is not practicable. Since the state has but the one airplane there has not been much opportunity for criticism of unofficial use, such as has been made about state-owned automobiles. Even so, wildlife charges have not been exempt from charges of using the plane for purposes not wholly related to law enforcement.

FIVE-DAY—Completed survey of experiences in all states east of the Mississippi with respect to the five day work week for state employees gives support to advocates of the plan. Twenty-three states have replied to inquiries sent them by Henry Hilton, personnel director. In sixteen states the five-day week has proven satisfactory for majority of employees. There are exceptions for highway workers, institutional custodians, law enforcement officers and other classifications. In many instances these workers are allowed time off by staggering employment. It was also found that it was necessary to maintain a skeleton staff in some departments on Saturday.

PRODUCTION—Majority opinion among the states which have adopted a five-day week is that as much or more work is done than in the five and a half days. The five day week saves from 25 hours in Delaware

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

When the big radio networks went crazy over give-away shows everybody thought it was a temporary fad. But it has stuck, and to this day many of us spend end-of-the-hour hours trying to win contests. If you are one of the contest fans take heed of this story of Mr. Ben Cohen of The Bronx.

Last June Mrs. Cohen carefully answered the three questions asked of her by the man at the other end of the telephone line. As a result, she won the $28,000 jackpot on CBS' "Sing It Again" give-away program. She had a hard time making herself believe that she had been so lucky.

Last week Mrs. Cohen had changed her mind about her luck. Summing up her experience, she said, "What a headache being lucky can be!" Soon after winning the jackpot Mrs. Cohen found out that it was like to be continually annoyed and worried. When a tractor was delivered to the Cohen apartment she soon found out that was only the beginning. The tractor was followed by heating units, thousands of cans of food, lawnmowers, and furniture for the living room and bedroom.

The Cohens decided that the only solution was to hire a lawyer to advise them. They had to rent to 44 hours in Connecticut. One of the chief reasons for the five day week, according to composite answer to the inquiries, is it attracts a higher type personnel and gets more efficient work.

UNDECIDED—The personnel department is still undecided about eliminating Saturday work for North Carolina employees. Results of the survey will be studied by members of the commission. Meanwhile, state offices continue the "summer schedule" of 8:30 to 4:30 for five days, 8:30 to 12:30 on Saturdays. That makes a 36-hour work week. The suggested five-day work would give 40 hours working time during the week. The five-day week has been a major objective of the North Carolina State Employees Association since it was formed more than two years ago. The State Highway Employees Association recognized that the five day week would not fit into the highway scheme and they abandoned advocacy of the idea as affecting them.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By SIGRID ARNE
(Fox Jane Leads)
Washington — Few "outlanders" who visit Washington can resist sleepy, little Alexandria, Va., 10 miles down the Potomac, where George Washington used to sell his tobacco and buy his goods. Visitors usually plan a few minutes for the town, and then end up by giving the town a whole afternoon.

The author of a new book did more. Twenty years ago, on her way back from Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Charles Beatty Moore (Gay Montague) bought an Alexandria house. Ever since she has been tracing the history of the town's old houses and the people who lived in them. The result is "Seaport in Virginia" which is being published Oct. 22 (by Garrett and Massie of Richmond, Va.).

Mrs. Moore has come up with refreshing bits about the area's first citizen, Mr. Washington, back in the days when Alexandria was a bigger port than New York. She tells how Washington took off on April 2, 1784 when he was only 22, on his first military expedition. The governor of Virginia had asked him to expel the French from territory "known to be the property of the crown of Great Britain." The expedition was not successful, but the Virginia House of Burgesses voted Washington 50 British pounds for his services.

British irritation went on until April 14, 1785, when the governors of five of the colonies met in Alexandria, and voted to ask all the colonies to aid in driving out the French. Alexandria's candles burned bright in their crystal ball over that week. Dinners and chandeliers were given, some of them at houses still standing. Gadsby's Tavern, still in use, was crowded. Gilded coaches and noisy drivers filled the court.

Mrs. Moore found in the mountain of letters and records she has gone through—records of many ship launchings when Alexandria was one of the great ship-building cities. She relates that Washington "went up to Alexandria after an early dinner one day to see a ship (the 'Jenny') launched, but he was disappointed and came home." The next day he went up again, saw the ship launched, stayed all night in a ball, and set up all night. His expense account shows he lost 19 shillings at cards that evening.

You Can't Build Alcoholic Limits

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Says medical science: "You can't build up a super capacity for alcohol." If you weigh 154 pounds, your limit is 26 1-2 ounces, about a fifth of 100 proof whisky spread over 24 hours. And it makes no difference if you're ordinarily a non-drinker, an occasional imbibor or an old hand at tipping. Your body can metabolize (convert into energy) only that daily amount. Any excess piled up in the blood stream and you get blind drunk or pass out. The findings on alcohol metabolism were made recently by Dr. Henry W. Newman of the Stanford School of Medicine, San Francisco. Commenting on his work, the Journal of the American Medical Association said today: "This limit could be exceeded only for a brief period, probably a matter of hours. Anyone on a daily ration of a quart of whisky of this potency would show obvious signs of intoxication. Any definite increase would raise the alcohol content of the blood and brain to a point where coma would supervene." "Any idea that institution produces increased facility in metabolism is not supported by scientific evidence. Large and heavy persons can consume somewhat more, but merely on account of their bulk."

THE FAMILY

The family is the basic unit of organized society. From it have grown the tribe, the nation, and the race. Its development marked man's first step from primitive to civilized life.

In the protection of his family and the pursuit of its comfort and happiness, man has developed all of his arts, sciences, industries, and institutions. The home is the greatest factor in human progress.

Nations grow strong and great as their family life improves, and they deteriorate and fall when the family breaks down.

Our hope as a nation lies in restoring and strengthening the home life of our people. Influences which tend to undermine the family have crept in, so that today the American home is in serious jeopardy.

The strength of the family is in its faith—faith in God, faith in the right, faith in each other. We must restore these. We must turn to the Church and the teachings of the Bible if our country is to survive.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Bucs Break Losing Streak Against Naval Apprentice

Last-Half Rally Provides Pirates With 26-21 Win

Newport News, Va.—East Carolina Teachers College broke a four-game losing streak here last night to edge Apprentice School 26-21 in a hard and bitterly fought non-conference contest.

The game was the first win for East Carolina since its 24-0 victory over Cherry Point in the opener. It was the 100th victory in the coaching career of Coach Bill Dole of East Carolina.

The Buccaneers came to offensive life in the last half to score 20 points and come from behind a 14-6 halftime disadvantage.

The Bucs opened the scoring when Frank Maennie bucked over from the three to climax a drive starting on the East Carolina 43 yard line. Maennie had scored on a previous play only to have it called back because of a penalty.

Apprentice School roared back in the same first period to take the lead when Lincoln passed to Smith for 16 yards and paydirt and Hopkins booted the point.

Lincoln took to the airways again to give the Virginia team a second touchdown in the opening minutes of the second quarter. This time he hit S. V. Barbee with an aerial which was good for 49 yards and a touchdown. Hopkins' kick was good and Apprentice School was out in front 14-6.

A long pass from Roger Thrift to Maennie moved the Pirates from the 48 to the one of Apprentice School in the first half ended.

East Carolina opened the second half with a sustained drive from their 33 to the eight of Apprentice School from where Thrift passed to Ed Eddie Tanner for a touchdown. Danks kicked the point and made the score 14-13.

A few minutes later Bill Darby broke away for 37 yards and what would have been a third TD but the play was called back because of a penalty. But Thrift elected to pass on the next play and hit Halfback Jack Benzie in the Apprentice School secondary with a pass which was good for 47 yards and a touchdown to put East Carolina ahead. The try for the extra point was no good, leaving the score 19-14.

The never-say-die Apprentice eleven came back to take the lead late in the third quarter when J. B. Harwood ploughed over from the eight yard line and Hopkins made the point to give the Virginia boys a 21-19 lead.

A 70-yard run by Benzie set up East Carolina's game-winning tally when he carried the ball all the way to the Apprentice 20 from his own 10. Darby went around end for 20 yards, a touchdown and an East Carolina victory. Danks' kick was good and East Carolina won 26-21.

The aggregation from Greenville was knocking at touchdown door when the final whistle blew. The game ended with the Bucs on the one yard line of Apprentice School.

First downs favored East Carolina 18 to 12.

By EUGENE PRICE
Farmville—Coach Stuart Tripp's Ayden high school Tornadoes, looking just like the champions they will undoubtedly be, bowled over Farmville high school's team 13-0 here last night before an estimated gathering of 1200 fans.

Only a November 11 game with Robersonville, a team Farmville defeated 26-0, remains between the Tornadoes and the Coastal Athletic Conference football championship.

Coach Elbert Moye's Farmville defenses, unscored on in conference games until last night, crumbled before the mighty offense unveiled by Ayden as the Tornadoes roared to two first half touchdowns and threatened on two other occasions in the first two periods.

Only in the third quarter could the Devils organize their defensive strength. In that period they rolled the Tornadoes back 43 yards on three plays and a penalty. The feat cost Ayden its only scoring threat of the second half. They had moved all the way to the 18 of Farmville before the Red Devil forward wall broke through to roll them back all the way to their own 41.

Ayden scored early in the opening quarter on a sustained drive from their own 42 yard line. Long gains by Bobby Fulford, Mac Hardee, B. L. Byrd and Leonard Bullock moved the ball all the way down to the 12 from where Bullock skirted end for the score.

An attempted plunge through the line for the extra point was stopped cold by the Farmville defenses.

A 31-yard run by Hardee put the Tornadoes back in scoring position on the Farmville 11 yard line. Byrd plunged through to the five but a fumble on the next play was recovered by Ernest Morgan for Farmville to end the threat.

The Tornadoes loosed their aerial attack to set up a second score in the second quarter. Bullock hit halfback Darrell Worthington with a 14 yard pass to put the Tornadoes on the 12 of Farmville with a first and 10. Bullock slashed off tackle for six yards and a touchdown two plays later. Byrd bucked over for the point to give Ayden its 13-0 lead.

Coach Tripp's boys were knocking at touchdown door again before the halftime whistle sounded. They were on the Indians 14 with a first and ten when the half ended.

Farmville's lone threat came late in the final period. A 34 yard pass from Randolph Allen to End Cannon put the Indians down on the 23. Two plays later Allen hit King on the four yard line for another first down. James Hemby, a reserve halfback, intercepted Allen's third pass to end the Farmville threat.

Ayden was driving back upfield when the final whistle blew. They were on their 43 with a first and ten when the game ended.

Farmville's colorful high school band under the direction of Newton Mashout, played and put on an exhibition of intricate drills prior to the game and at halftime.

Lineups—Ayden: Ends—Manning, Whitehurst, Evans and Dennis; tackles—Mason, Jackson, Tripp, and Jones; guards—Britt, Meeks, Skinner and Harris; center—Davis and Hemby; quarterbacks—Bullock and Cox; halfbacks—Worthington, Hardee, Johnson and Cheek; fullbacks—Byrd and Edwards.

Farmville: Ends—King, Cannon, Vick; tackles—Wooten, Fulford, and Pountain; guards—Flora, H. Tyson, and Morris; centers—Morgan and Allen; halfbacks—C. Tyson and Joyner; fullbacks—Allbritton.

Strong Gust Of Wind Provided Team With TD

Celina, O., Oct. 22—(AP)—A strong gust of wind gave nearby Woodward High School a touchdown last night in its football game with Coldwater.

It happened this way: Coldwater's Floyd Hemmelgar, standing on his own 15 yard line, punted into the wind. The ball sailed high into the air, almost straight up, and traveled only five yards or so down field. There the gust caught it and carried it back over Hemmelgar's head and into the end zone, where Center Bob Smith of Rockford fell on it for a touchdown.

Coldwater won, however, in a 25-12 upset.

Award Decision

Against Gavilan; Uproar Follows

Detroit, Oct. 22—(AP)—East side Detroit, which gave Joe Louis and Sugar Ray Robinson to the boxing world, had a new fistic star today—a clever young Negro welterweight named Lester Felton.

Felton's star was beclouded, however, by circumstances surrounding his upset victory over the highly regarded Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a 10-round fight at Olympia last night. Uproar followed.

The 20-year-old Detroit was awarded a severely criticized split decision after he outlasted Gavilan for practically the entire 10 rounds before 13,184 fans who paid a gross gate of $29,750. Gavilan at 145-14 had a half pound average.

Gavilan, ranked as the No. 1 contender for Robinson's welterweight crown, was a 3-1 favorite at ringside, but he spent practically the whole fight in a futile effort to corner Felton.

Felton used to be one of Gavilan's sparring partners in New York and the experience he gained in those hours in the gym paid off for him in a big way.

He scurried backwards, flicking out a long left to bother Gavilan, considerably, and it was only in the 8th and 10th that the Detroitite stood still for some toe-to-toe slugging.

The scrap was supposed to be just another stopover for the busy little Gavilan who beat Beau Jack at Chicago Oct. 14 and has a date to meet Steve Belloc in a 10-rounder at Cleveland Oct. 31.

Referee Maurice Sherman called it for Felton by a 52-48 Margin while judge Sam Perlestein gave 51-49 edge. The second judge, Joe Lenahan, saw it for Gavilan 54-46. Michigan scores fights on the total point system.

Felton, who took everything Gavilan could land, got a big hand after the final bell as the fans applauded his spirit against the everpressing Cuban. The cheers turned to boos, however, as the verdict was announced and a demonstration lasted through the first round of the next bout.

Newspapermen were amazed.

Darden Visitors

Lose To Eppes By 19-6 Margin

The Eppes high school Bulldogs dwarfed a Darden high school eleven from Wilson 19-6 here last night to score the Greenville colored school's record at 2-2 for the season.

The Bulldogs entertain Edenton here next Friday night in a Homecoming game.

H. B. Griffen passed for two of the Eppes touchdowns and the other was scored on a 30-yard pass interception by George Merritt.

Wilson's lone score came following a series of runs through the Greenville defenses.

Griffen passed to Merritt for 30 yards and a score early in the game. Later he hit Dallas Daniels with a bullet pass over center for six yards and another Eppes High touchdown.

Willie Lee ran the only extra point made during the evening.

Halftime score was 13-6.

Player Is Beaten Following Game

Cleveland, Oct. 22—(AP)—A high school football player was dragged from his car and beaten up about a half-hour after his team, Cleveland Shaw, defeated John Adams High, 25 to 13, last night.

Jack Reulbach, 18-year-old first-string guard for Shaw, was driving from his car and beaten up about a half-hour after his team, Cleveland Shaw, defeated John Adams High, 25 to 13, last night.

He was taken to Huron Road Hospital where he was treated for facial and head cuts and bruises and then discharged.

Celtics Buy Up Big Basketballer

Boston, Oct. 22—(AP)—Ward Gibson six feet, five inches tall basketball player, noted for his ability to capture rebounds, has been added to the Boston Celtics' roster.

The Celtics purchased Gibson, who weighs 200 pounds, from the Tri Cities club, now a member of the National Baseball Association as are the Celtics.

Vanceboro Eleven Tops South Edgecombe By Score Of 14 To 6

Vanceboro, Oct. 22—Vanceboro's Farm Life school came from behind in a close football game here yesterday to edge out a South Edgecombe eleven 14 to 6 behind the outstanding passing of Troy Laughinghouse.

Laughinghouse passed for both Vanceboro touchdowns and kicked the two extra points.

For the Vanceboro team it was the last Coastal conference tilt of the season, and gives them a conference record of two wins and two losses.

South Edgecombe started the fireworks of the ball game midway the first quarter when a host of tacklers broke through the Vanceboro line and blocked a kick on the Vanceboro 25. A series of power plays brought the ball to rest on the Vanceboro one yard line where Mark Stancel took the ball from center and bulled his way through the Vanceboro defense for the South Edgecombe touchdown.

The South Edgecombe score, however, was the spark that touched off the Vanceboro powder keg, and in the second quarter the Vanceboro team loosed a passing and running attack that carried for two scores on sustained drives.

Vanceboro backs Troy Laughinghouse, Roy Whitford, Mac Whitford, Billy Whitford and Joe Lewis combined their abilities to keep the South Edgecombe defense guessing, and twice drove from the South Edgecombe 45 to pay territory. The first Vanceboro score came on a pass from Laughinghouse to Halfback Billy Whitford good for 12 yards, and the second touchdown was on a 15-yard pass from Laughinghouse to Halfback Roy Whitford.

After the half-time intermission the trend of the game changed, and both teams settled down to playing rugged defensive ball. Twice during the second half Vanceboro carried the ball inside the South Edgecombe 25, but the Edgecombe defense strengthened, and Vanceboro was unable to score.

Coach D. D. Drew of Vanceboro was pleased at the victory of his charges, and praised the offensive spark of his backfield men, and also the line play of Guard Furney Powell and End Claude Wilson. Drew also complimented the fine defensive play of South Edgecombe's Left Tackle Tommy Morris.

Vanceboro led in first downs nine to five.

Chapter 7
 Arieta gave Howard a pitying glance. "It couldn't," she stated. "In the first place only fools and cowards vent their spleen on inanimate things. In the second, I knew my father better than anyone knew him. He never explained. He said to explain was to pose an alibi and lower yourself to the level of sniveling."

"That's arrogance," protested Kelly. Arieta shook her head. "No, not in him it wasn't. He never did anything he knew wasn't right. To use his words—she smiled now—"first know you are right and to hell with the explanations!"

Kelly, banking the fire, straightened up. "I'd better be on my way. Sure you don't want to spend the night at my place?"

She thanked him and asked him to thank his mother for her thoughtfulness, and she followed him down the narrow stairway to belt the door after him. But when she returned to the nursery it was to return to loneliness.

When she awakened she wondered if it was another day. It certainly looked the same as the previous one, with clouds that sagged to spill their burden on an already sodden world, the steady downpour thrumming on roof and window making her doubly grateful for the wood howl Kelly had left behind.

From the thoughtfully packed larger bag she brought riding breeches and boots, sweater and newly purchased leather jacket. She'd anticipated the cold but not the rain. Well, perhaps she'd find she handed him her bags. She was actually preparing to leave.

He offered to take her to the nearest city, but she named a nearby resort town she knew would be open. "I need a general refurbishing," she explained reasonably.

When he left her at a dry cleaning establishment, she thanked him appropriately and turned away with. "I really must hurry."

And then she waited until he, having shopped, turned his car back toward his home.

"Now," she turned to the proprietor, "where can I hire a car?"

An hour later she was driving back along the road she had traveled with Kelly. When they had discussed the somnolent resort cottages the previous day her mind had photographed one with a For Rent sign on it.

She made two more trips that day, one for a long-distance call to the city and an inspection of the cottage, then back for several hours of business contacts and the purchase of supplies.

That evening found Arieta preparing her dinner in a tiny kitchenette with occasional trips to the large room where she tended fire. And when her dinner was over and the divan bed prepared, she sat down to a card table to check her day's work.

A crew of men to clean the house. Electricians to repair the wires, a pump man to check the pump, but first two men to clear the roadway of the big tree.

She awakened to the coldest weather she had ever experienced, even the sun trickling in through the pines was like lemon ice.

Where, the previous morning, mists had shrouded the view, there now lay a lake of sparkling blue, vivid against the gray-topped red hills on the far side, the snow-covered range beyond.

This her father had had the vision to see, this beauty he had given to the people of this section. And to the plains below, irrigation, a controlled water supply in a country of summer drought.

And what had he received in return? Arieta dug her heels into the terrace. She'd change that. She'd force these people to honor his memory.

Special Care

Philadelphia, Oct. 21—(AP)—When an armored truck pulled up in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Conkey, the Conkeys' eyes popped.

And when their pet pooch, Tojo, climbed out, they really did a "double take."

The truck driver explained things. Seems Tojo, a little brown and black mongrel, wandered into the office of Geoffrey Smith, president of the Girard Trust Company.

By means of the dog's license, Smith traced the animal's owners and had Tojo delivered home in style.

Obsolete Trolley Car And $3,000 Equals One Home

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 21—(AP)—An obsolete trolley car plus $3,000 worth of repair equals a two-room home, if you know how to do it.

Richard McClellan, a young engineer, knew how.

The car was purchased a couple of years ago from the Capital Transit Co., which operates the public transportation service in Washington, 15 miles away.

It was set up on one corner of a 95-acre farm and fitted with running water, electricity, a small heating plant and an oil burner. McClellan boarded up most of the windows, installed a complete bathroom amidships, and added a paint job.

The result: a two-room home with a combined kitchen-dining room and living-bedroom. A young optometrist is renting the place at $40 a month.

Approximately 5,500 automotive patents are expected to be issued in 1949.

Supervisors Of Public Schools End Workshops

Supervisors in public schools of eastern North Carolina concluded Friday a series of seven weekly work conferences at East Carolina Teachers College by spending the day observing reading lessons in the Training School on the campus and holding a round-table discussion on the teaching of reading.

The workshops have been held at East Carolina each Friday afternoon since September 9 and have been attended by county supervisors and from a dozen eastern counties and from the city systems of Greenville, Washington, and Rocky Mount. Sponsors of the conference were the East Carolina department of education and the Division of Instructional Service of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Supervisors who were present Friday for the concluding workshop in the series spent the morning and early afternoon attending demonstration lessons in reading taught in seven grades at the Training School.

A round-table discussion and open forum held in the late afternoon at the Training School library followed the demonstration lessons. Speakers and their topics were Mrs. Katharine Baker, principal of the Battle School of Rocky Mount, "A Reading Project in the Battle School"; and three teachers from the Greenville school system, Elisabeth Norman, "Reading in the First Grade"; Mrs. W. E. Marshall, "Word Building"; and Elisabeth Hyman, "Phonics."

Dr. Allan S. Hurlbut, director of the East Carolina department of education and administration, has announced that supervisors of this section will complete an organiza-

Tige Gardner To Be Head Kiwanis

Philadelphia, Oct. 22—(AP)—The nation's No. 1 marine says defense planners have cast the Marine Corps in the role of "a culprit, almost a defendant," in postwar America.

Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the marines, made the assertion last night at the Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association's third national conference.

Cates told the group what he had told the House Armed Services Committee investigating the Air Force-Navy controversy and added:

"There is widespread apprehension that the functions assigned our corps by law are being usurped by others."

Cates said there also is "doubt concerning the future employment of marines and a feeling among officers and men alike that the value of the corps as the nation's emergency force-in-readiness is being overlooked to the detriment of our national security."

"Except in Washington," he said, "there is little controversy among the services themselves. It is only in Washington that we find elements engaging in the type of activity which Congress sought to end by passage of the national security act."

The commandant said those who deny the necessity for the marines' continued existence "are blinding themselves to the full meaning of seapower in global warfare."

"The Marine Corps emerged from the last war feeling it had performed creditably. Thus it came as a great surprise to find ourselves at the war's end placed almost in the capacity of a culprit, or defendant."

"MY FRIEND IRMA" AND WONDERFUL PALS

Jerry Lewis, Marie Wilson (as Irma) and Dean Martin are co-stars in "My Friend Irma" at the Pitt Sunday-Monday. This merry comedy is based on the popular radio show.

There are many good independent grocers and small grocery chains which are entitled to your patronage. I think it is generally agreed, however, that the A & P sets the pace for the entire food merchandising industry as to quality, service and low prices. Truly it is a wonderful organization.

The stock of Great Atlantic and Pacific (now foolishly threatened by Government suit) sells on the N. Y. Curb at about $126 per share. There are very few better investments. Instead of worrying about inflation, or labor troubles, or World War III, invest your money in one of these four industries.

Three Pitt Seniors At ACC Teaching

Wilson, Oct. 22 — Thirty-seven members of the Senior class at Atlantic Christian College are now practicing teaching in the schools of Wilson and Johnston County, it was announced today by Dr. C. A. Jarman, acting president of the college.

Those from Pitt County, include: Sibil Barrett, Farmville; J. T. Cobb, Greenville, and Grover Morris, Greenville.

Civil Service Exam Announced

The field service of the Social Security Administration will use the register set up from the results of the new Junior Professional Assistant Examination. They will have the use of the Social Science Analyst Option, the local Civil Service secretary at the Greenville Post Office announced today. This will supersede any existing registers for the positions of Claims Assistant and Field Assistant with the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

The particulars of who may qualify and take the exam can be learned at the Post Office here in Greenville. Ask the Civil Service secretary about Announcement Number 192.

make filets mechanically. For the most part even today from the time a fish is caught until it reaches your dinner table, hand labor only is used. Fishing is both the oldest industry and the most antiquatedly operated. It is greatly in need of more mechanization. The stock of this company sells on the New York Curb at about $3.50 a share.

Telephone Industry

One of the greatest labor saving inventions is the telephone. The industry is very progressive. Before long a new telephone writing machine will be available. This will send anywhere, on regular telephone circuits, absolutely confidential and instantaneous messages, in the sender's own handwriting and with his signature. This machine is being perfected by the Telegraph Corporation. Its stock sells on the N. Y. Stock Exchange at about 5 1/2. I will gladly send particulars regarding it to anyone.

I am optimistic on the entire telephone industry. It is being used more every day; it has excellent management and fairly good labor relations. All you readers should have a little stock in the telephone company which serves your community. The manager of your telephone office will gladly give you particulars.

deficit, the government had $737,000,000 left over. The public debt that year, built up in previous years, was only $16,000,000,000.

1931.—(Depress?) under way. People, losing jobs, had no income on which to pay taxes. Business profits were down. But government expenses climbed a bit. Score that year:

Expenses, $3,651,000,000; revenue, $3,189,000,000. Deficit, $462,000,000. The public debt climbed a few hundred millions over the $16,000,000,000 of 1930.

1933.—President Roosevelt and New Deal came in with the philosophy that the government had to spend, even though expenses far exceed revenue, to get business going and give people jobs. Real deficit spending started.

By 1939—just as we were coming out of the depression and just before preparations for World War II began—the public debt had risen to $40,000,000,000. The score that year: expenses, $9,000,000,000; revenue $5,000,000,000; deficit $4,000,000,000.

Then came war preparations and the war, when the government had to spend astronomical sums, far exceeding its revenue. In 1945 the public debt had risen to $258,000,000,000. The score that year: expenses, $98,000,000,000; revenue, $44,000,000,000; deficit $54,000,000,000.

With the end of the war, government expenses dropped sharply but taxes, uncut, remained at the high wartime rate. So by 1947, for the first time since 1930 government revenue exceeded expenses.

Instead of a deficit, it wound up the year with a surplus of around $750,000,000 and was able to chop a little off the public debt.

In 1948 the government again had a surplus. The public debt had been reduced to $252,000,000,000. But it was in that year, over Mr. Truman's protest, that Congress cut taxes.

Aid for Europe and re-armament were getting under way on a big scale and in 1949 the score was:

Expenses, $40,000,000,000; revenue $38,000,000,000. Once more the government was in deficit spending. Its deficit that year was almost $2,000,000,000.

For 1950, as noted we face a deficit of maybe $3,000,000,000, while the public debt has diminished and now is around $256,000,000,000.

ONIONS STIMULATE GROWTH SWEET POTATOES ON FARM

That big five and one-half pound Porto Rico yam in the Daily Reflector office window owes its unusual growth to the stimulation given the sweet potato vines by a nearby row of Persian onions. Capt. R. O. Williams' garden on the Farmville highway. Williams planted a row of onions between each row of sweet potatoes and harvested a bumper crop. Frank Manning, a neighboring farmer, didn't rotate onions and potatoes and his yield was small—a net potato weighing over a pound, Capt. Williams said.
