Elections Seen As Preview For Voters Of 1950

Voters Across Nation Pick Lawmakers, Governors, Local Officials

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS In a preview of the 1950 struggle for control of Congress, voters scattered across the nation to pick one senator, two House members, two governors and many local officials tomorrow.

A special Senate race in New York overshadows all others in interest. In that contest and in certain others, labor as well as the major political parties will have something at stake.

The AFL and CIO have put their chips down together on Democratic former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in the New York election to round out the term—expiring in January, 1951—of Senator Wagner (D-NY), who resigned.

Republican Senator John Foster Dulles, an appointee of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, has made President Truman's "Fair Deal" program an issue by his attacks on it. He has come out for a modified version of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Across the river in New Jersey, labor has split apart in the hotly contested race for governor. The AFL has endorsed Democratic State Senator Elmer H. Wene, who is trying to unseat Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll.

The CIO, on the other hand, has issued a report criticizing Wene severely, linking him with the old Frank Hague organization of Jersey City. However, the CIO hasn't backed Driscoll.

Labor also has split in the mayor's race in Detroit, one of the local elections that will be watched closely for possible national trends.

There the AFL is backing Albert E. Cobb, Republican city treasurer, who led all of the candidates in the September primary. The CIO is supporting George Edwards, who has Democratic ties. The issue will be decided on a non-partisan ballot.

The New York results—expected to indicate what the state's trend may be in 1950 when the six-year senatorial term and the governorship will be at stake—may be influenced greatly by what happens in the New York City mayor's election.

Poppy Sale Was Above Last Year

Unofficial reports from the sale of the annual Buddy Poppy drive staged in Greenville Saturday show that over $500 was collected in Greenville with the other towns in Pitt county not reporting as yet.

Mrs. Horace Vincent, chairman of the drive staged by the V.F.W., said today that the results Saturday were better than last year's. A detailed report of the collections will be made later.

Threatens Quit Making Movies

London, Nov. 7—(AP)—J. Arthur Rank, biggest operator in Britain's ailing movie industry, reported heavy financial losses today and threatened to quit making films entirely.

The Yorkshire multi-millionaire said his group will make only six to 10 films in the six months ending June, 1950. And, he added, unless the government lowers its 40 per cent tax on movie pictures he will fall out.

OIL HEATER FLARED

Firemen were summoned to the National Cash Register Company office on Fourth street shortly after noon today when an oil heater flared up. The danger of an explosion was averted and little damage was reported.

A Nightmare Of 'Ifs'

Just Suppose The United States Celebrated The Anniversary Of Its Revolution Like They Do In Russia; The Constan Questions, Silence, Uncertainties

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—Suppose in celebration of the American Revolution, Washington was full of pictures of President Truman and his cabinet every year on the fourth of July.

And suppose you knew that Mr. Truman was going to stay President so long as he lived—and that you couldn't do anything about it—and that when he died one of the cabinet was going to take over.

You weren't going to elect the new leader. That was going to be done by the President before he died, or by all the cabinet members after he died.

In a case like that you'd take a close gander at the picture of the cabinet around the President. You'd say to yourself: "Who's it going to be?" But the best you could do would be a guess because—

The lives of the President and the cabinet were pretty secret. Nothing ever got into the newspapers about them, except what they told the newspapers to print.

They ran the country, the President and the cabinet did, but because everything about them was so hush-hush you never knew how they ran it, by vote among them-

In Race For U.S. Senate Seat

John Foster Dulles (left), Republican, and Herbert Lehman (right), Democrat-Liberal, are the candidates in the New York senatorial election next Tuesday. The election, only senatorial race in the nation, is regarded by both parties as a test of strength for the 1950 congressional elections. (AP Wirephoto).

U. S. Plans Keep Troops In Nippon

Diplomats Say Decision Reached To Meet Communist Menace; Jap Peace Treaty Discussions To Be Held Soon

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—United States intends to keep troops in Japan for many years after the end of the "allied occupation."

Diplomatic authorities said that decision has been reached to officials who, in trying to draw up a draft of a Japanese peace treaty, faced this tough problem:

How can Japan be given full political independence, while still keeping some protection against a growing Communist menace in Asia?

With their decision on this and other tough matters, state department planners have reached an advanced stage in their efforts to whip into shape a treaty of peace with the former enemy nation.

The next step must be consultation with Britain and other nations. The major provisions of the pact as now drafted by the State department call for:

- 1. An end to the allied occupation commander by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as soon as the treaty is signed and ratified.
2. An orderly surrender by the occupation forces of the powers and duties of governing the country, and their subsequent withdrawal, as such. In about six months the Japanese government would have complete control of all the nation's internal and foreign affairs.
3. Denial to the new government

Given Choice Of Army, Or Mines

Prague, Nov. 7—(AP)—Czechoslovaks drafted for the army can get out of military service if they agree to work in the coal mines for five years.

The communist government announced yesterday that mining volunteers would be released from the army after only five months training. The normal period of military training required for all Czech youths is two years.

State Destroys Paid-Up Bonds

Raleigh, Nov. 7—(AP)—The state today burned some $21,000,000 worth of retired state bonds and paid-up bond interest coupons.

Governor Scott and members of the council of state were on hand to supervise the bond burning, a ceremony which is held about every two years.

Russian Leaders Hail Anniversary Of Their Revolt

U. S. Again Chief Target Of Abuse By Top Political, Military Heads

Moscow, Nov. 7—(AP)—Russia's Red leaders today led celebrations marking the 32nd anniversary of their 1917 revolution. Top political and military chiefs accused the United States of fomenting a new blood bath of war designed to make the world an American colony.

The main attack was made last night by Communist Politburo member Georgi M. Malenkov, who asserted that such a war would mean an end to capitalism in the world.

It was echoed today by Marshal Alexander M. Vassilievsky, minister of the Soviet armed forces, at the spectacular and traditional military ceremonies in Moscow's historic Red square. Vassilievsky spoke briefly from atop the tomb where the Russian revolution's chief hero, Nikolai Lenin, lies in state in a glass coffin.

Vassilievsky accused "warmongers" of pursuing a "policy of aggression and unleashing of new wars." He called on the Russians to "fight still harder for the further growth of the might of our state."

Vassilievsky reviewed thousands of Russian foot soldiers, tanks and motorized weapons streaming for "ours through Red square. The serial parade over the marching soldiers was led by Generalissimo Stalin's son, Gen. Vassily Stalin, lying in a fighter plane.

Malenkov hurled his charges at the United States last night as the principal speaker in ceremonies at Moscow's Bolshoi theater, inaugurating the anniversary celebration. He charged the United States was plotting "to enslave the entire world."

Malenkov vigorously asserted that the Soviets "do not want war and we shall do everything possible to avert it."

"In the hands of the imperialists," he declared, "atomic energy is a means for the production of lethal weapons, a means of intimidation, an instrument of blackmail and coercion."

"But in the hands of the Soviet people," he continued, "it can be and must be a mighty instrument of technical progress on a scale never witnessed before, an instrument for the further rapid development of the productive forces of our country."

Malenkov called for "unconditional outlawing" of atomic weapons, establishment of "suitable" international control, and "condemnation of the preparations being conducted in certain countries, and in particular in the United States and Britain, for a new war."

Mothball Fleet Double Active Ships Of Navy

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—The Navy's active sea force, growing smaller by the month, is now less than half the size of its mothball fleet.

Figures supplied today by the Navy show that to date 395 major combat vessels have been pulled out of the Atlantic Fleet and 332 out of the Pacific Fleet, for a total of 727 ships in reserve.

Last July 1 there were 371 major fighting ships in active service, 174 with the Atlantic Fleet and 97 in the Pacific.

By next July 1, that total will be down to 237—including three new submarines and a light carrier—as 17 ships of the Atlantic Fleet and seven from the Pacific are put in storage.

That will place the total strength of the mothball fleet at 751 ships.

Mother Confesses Kidnap Hoax; Infant Died In Fall

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 7—(AP)—Remorse-stricken mother has confessed that her six-week-old son was killed in a fall from her arms and that her story of kidnaping was "made up" out of fear of what her husband would say.

"I dropped my baby," Mrs. Stella Komorek blurted out at a coroner's inquest last night.

The 29-year-old mill worker's wife came 11 hours after the body of her son, Stephen, was found in a mill pond, 500 yards from the modest Komorek home in nearby Clayville.

Coroner Preston R. Clark gave a verdict of accidental death. Authorities said no charge would be placed against Mrs. Komorek.

During hours of steady questioning by state police yesterday, she had clung to her story that the infant was snatched from its bassinet in the kitchen late Friday night by a strange man.

But under oath at the coroner's inquest, she broke almost at once. "Now, Stella, tell us what happened," Dr. Clark said to her.

Tempers Boil Over As UE Locals Bolt Union

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7—(AP)—Tempers boiled over and fists flew yesterday as two locals voted to bolt the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America—recently expelled by the CIO.

At meetings held in Sharon, Pa., and Fairmont, W. Va., employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation voted to affiliate with the CIO's newly formed international union of electrical, radio and machine workers.

A 10-minute uproar was quelled by 34 policemen at Shurco as UE local 617 got into a fist-fighting free-for-all. About 1,500 of the local's 5,000 members attended the meeting

Labor Peace Hopes Hinge On Quickened Steel Settlement

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—Hopes for labor peace in both the steel and coal industries hinged today on quickened settlement moves in the steel strike.

Government officials said they look for several major steel firms to come to terms this week with the striking CIO Steelworkers.

They said this probably would egg on John L. Lewis and soft coal operators toward an agreement.

There were reports that President Truman may intervene in the coal situation if it continues hopeless beyond this week.

The coal strike is now in its 49th day, the steel strike in its 37th.

Of the two stoppages, the worst effects have come from the coal mine walkout, which curtailed train service and created fuel shortages for many households. But lack of steel has hit manufacturers.

Steel settlement prospects looked brighter with the return to Pittsburgh of Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the striking steelworkers union.

Murray, busy with the CIO convention at Cleveland last week, now can give full time to pressing on the rest of the industry the peace terms already accepted by the Bethlehem Steel Corp., second largest steel producer.

The Bethlehem settlement provided for a $100 minimum monthly pension including government social security benefits, along with a health insurance program. It did not include a wage increase.

An offer has been made to Murray's union by Republican Steel Corp., third largest steelmaker, but its terms have not been disclosed.

Walk To Safety Over Ocean Bed

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 7—(AP)—Fifty-one passengers and the 35-man crew of the 1,134-ton SS Chelohsin walked safely to shore over 500-yards of barnacled ocean bed last night when the coastal steamer grounded in heavy fog at the entrance to Vancouver harbor.

Inbound from up-coast Powell River, the 175-foot vessel scraped up onto the beach at low tide.

The fog was the worst to hit Vancouver and the lower British Columbia mainland this year. All marine traffic had been halted before the Chelohsin attempted to crawl into harbor.

Passengers, carrying their luggage, and some of them toting dogs in ship cradles, climbed down Jacob's ladders to the beach and trundled across the soggy ocean bed to shore. The tide was about a mile out at the time.

From the shore the passengers scaled cliffs leading up to Vancouver's famed Stanley Park. Buses took them downtown.

Union Steamship Ltd., owner of the Chelohsin, started salvage operations.

Death Watch On Stricken Vessel

Seattle, Nov. 7—(AP)—A Coast Guard lifeboat kept a death watch on the stricken freighter Andaluca today as popping rivets gave rise to fears the lumber-laden vessel may be nearing a breakup.

The 8,000-ton freighter grounded early Friday near the entrance to the strait of Juan De Fuca. Still aboard are eight crew members and the master, Capt. George Lemos. Nineteen crewmen have been removed by the Coast Guard.

Killing Frost

Old Man Winter made his frosty appearance felt in the Greenville area during the weekend.

The highest temperature Saturday was 56 degrees. Lowest Saturday night was 32 (freezing), and at 8 a.m. Sunday it was 33 degrees.

Highest temperature Sunday was 55 degrees. Lowest last night, 35, and at 8 a.m. today it was 41.

The first killing frost here this fall was Sunday morning. The first killing frost here last year was on October 19, Mrs. Carl E. Maiden, local observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau at the Greenville Machine Works, reported.

Work Completed On Road Project

J. L. Phillips, assistant engineer for the second highway division, announced today that work has been completed on the first paving project in Pitt County under the state road program, and the contract for the second paving project in the county has been let.

Paving work on the road from Winterville to highway 43 was completed last week, and the road is open to traffic. The contract for 24 miles of paving in Pitt County from Ballard's Crossroads to the Greene County line has been let, Phillips said, and the paving work is scheduled to begin as soon as weather conditions permit and the contractor can move his equipment to the project.

Three other paving projects in Pitt County which are not being done under the bond program have been completed with the exception of minor patching, Phillips said. These projects include the Belvoir-Penny Hill road; the road from Belvoir to highway 264; and the road from Bethel through Big Oak to the Martin County line.

At the present time work is being done by maintenance crews on route 33 from the Bethel highway through Stokes and Patactus and on the road from California through Dupree Crossroads to highway 43. Phillips said the roads are being sanded and conditioned for winter weather, and route 33 also is being conditioned preparatory to paving which is scheduled to begin on the route next year.

Says Communism Is Here To Stay

Berlin, Nov. 7—(AP)—The East German government said today that Russian Communism is here to stay and the rest of the world may as well accept it.

Cancellor Otto Grotewohl key-noted the German Communist celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the bolshevik revolution by declaring:

"The Socialist part of the earth has grown far beyond the trial stage. The realization of technical and scientific progress in the Soviet Union is so gigantic that the foreign countries cannot ignore it any longer."

County's Health Dept. Staff Is Rapidly Growing

The Pitt County Health Department has announced the addition of Paul O. Brigham of Henderson, as a second sanitarian and the latest step in the county's rapidly expanding health program.

Brigham, who served as a lieutenant in the Navy Hospital Corps for a number of years, marked the fifth addition to the Health Department staff in the past six months, Dr. T. G. Basnight, Health Officer, reported this morning.

Health Department officials opined that the local department, with its additions, will compare favorably with the better departments in the eastern part of the state.

When Dr. Basnight assumed the duties of health officer last February, the department had four nurses, two secretaries and two sanitarians. A look at the staff today showed seven nurses, one public health investigator, three secretaries, and two sanitarians, in addition to Dr. Basnight.

Dr. Basnight, in announcing the addition of Brigham to the staff, explained that Sanitarian Charles Morgan would remain with the department. The health department will maintain two sanitarians, he pointed out.

The health officer expressed the pleasure of the department in having Brigham join the staff. The additional sanitarian was chosen over a number of other candidates for the position.

Brigham served recently with the Guilford County department as sanitarian. He has served in that capacity in Durham, Bertie, Chowan and Columbus counties. During the last war he fulfilled similar duties at various bases and finally on an aircraft carrier.

The sanitarian took a special sanitarian course in the School of Public Health at the University of North Carolina.

Other recent additions to the staff of the Health Department are Mrs. Mildred S. Evans and Louisa Harris, nurses, and Mrs. Lucy Miller, secretary.

The staff now includes, besides the new members already mentioned: Nurses Mrs. Emily Johnston, Mrs. Nan Nobles, Mrs. Addie Griffith, Mrs. J. D. Hemingway and Hannah Brown.

Chest Campaign Nearing Its Goal

Over $8,000 Deposited; More Receipts Still Unreported

The Greenville Community Chest campaign neared its $10,000 goal today as officials of the fund raising drive reported $8,382 from the campaign has been deposited in the bank.

While approximately 80 per cent of the goal for the drive has been deposited, leaders of the campaign said today a considerable amount of money has been collected by solicitors whose reports have not yet been completed. Campaign Chairman Badger Johnson, and Special Gifts Chairman Howard Hodges, Jr., today expressed opinions that the goal for the campaign will be reached by the time the final report is made later this week.

Johnson in a statement this morning said, "We feel that Greenville so far has made an excellent showing, because many cities are having trouble reaching their goals. It will be several days, however, before a final report can be made of the Greenville Community Chest drive."

De Gasperi Has Survived Crisis

Rome, Nov. 7—(AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi squeaked out of a week-long cabinet crisis today.

With last minute luck and politicking, the 68-year-old Christian Democrat averted a full cabinet collapse and survived the first threat of his government since the 1948 general election.

Three other paving projects in Pitt County which are not being done under the bond program have been completed with the exception of minor patching, Phillips said. These projects include the Belvoir-Penny Hill road; the road from Belvoir to highway 264; and the road from Bethel through Big Oak to the Martin County line.

Engagement Party Given For Miss Smith And Fiance

Roxboro — The engagement of Miss Nina Smith of Greenville, N. C., and Clyde Barnes Murphy was revealed at a dance given in honor of the couple by Miss Janey Murphy at the Roxboro Shrine Club Saturday night. Approximately 50 guests attended, and learned of the engagement when favors were passed.

The message, "Nina and Clyde, November 24" was written on each favor. Miss Smith was presented a novel corsage in keeping with Halloween season by Miss Murphy. The corsage consisted of a Halloween clown, yellow roses and candy suckers.

The main room of the club was decorated with the Halloween and harvest season motif. Shocks of corn and stands of pine were used on either side of the large fire-place, and the candel was centered with an attractive bowl of marigolds. Pine was also placed at other spots in the room.

The game room of the club was decorated with pine, corn and Halloween favors, and a large table with trays of hors d'oeuvres and canapés was featured in the center of the room. The table was covered with a green cloth and centered with yellow and orange mums and pumpkins, grapes and fruits. Iced drinks were served and dancing were enjoyed.

Special out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Newlin.

The Athenum Book Club met November 1, with Mrs. W. L. Harrington at her home on East Fifth street.

Soft lights and beautiful autumn flowers made a lovely and cheerful setting for a delicious luncheon served in two courses.

Mrs. Harrington introduced Miss Muriel Shotwell who gave a vivid and colorful description of Currier and Ives and their works showing the club many lovely paintings, this being National Art Week this program seemed very appropriate.

After this interesting program the president, Mrs. W. W. Lee, presided over a short business meeting. The club will buy a T. B. bond and assist in the Christmas show the Garden club has so successfully given each year.

Books were passed and the meeting adjourned.

Wedding Plans Announced By Bride

Miss Mary Eileen Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hughes Bowles, has chosen Saturday, November 19, as the date for her marriage to Mr. William Franklin Johnson of Norfolk, Virginia. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Memorial Baptist church.

Miss Bowles will have her sister, Miss Edith Merricks Bowles, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Margaret Lee Duke of Greenville, North Carolina; Miss Ruby Lucille Steffey, of Norfolk, Virginia; Miss Marjorie Anne Calvert and Mrs. Elton Satterfield of Danville, Virginia.

Emerson Kenneth Land of Norfolk, Virginia, will be best man for Mr. Johnson. The ushers will be Paul Hughes Jones of Lynchaven, Virginia; Daniel Wilson Lindsey, Jr., of Norfolk, Virginia; Thurston Ervin Smith and Charles Herbert Wallace, Jr., of Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mrs. Toland H. Boykin will be mistress of ceremony.

Mr. Oakley Honored On Birthday

Woman's Club Holds Business Meeting

The Woman's club house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers and evergreens for the fall business meeting of the year held Friday afternoon, at 3:30 p. m. by the members of the Greenville Woman's club. Mrs. R. R. Willmann presided and introduced Carolyn Eisele, soprano, accompanied by Jeanette Hamilton and Rodney Roberts, baritone, accompanied by Roberta Robinson, students of the music department of East Carolina Teachers college, who rendered a most entertaining program.

Following the musical program Mrs. Willmann opened the business meeting with a discussion of proposed amendments to the constitution and urged all members to be present at the next meeting to vote.

An enlightening talk was given by Mrs. Ward Moore Tripp on the prevention of cancer, the work being done, and the plans for the 1949-50 cancer campaign. This being one of the club's pet projects, members were asked to donate soft materials, which are greatly needed in the treatment of cancer, and to report to the club house periodically to roll bandages.

A discussion was held on the proposed heating equipment for the club house, but no decision was reached. Members were asked to donate candles, new and used to be sent to Korea where there is a dire need for them. Candles may be delivered to Mrs. Willmann's apartment in Wilson hall.

A committee was appointed to consider ways and means of collecting and shipping toys to Bavaria.

Mrs. J. Vance Perkins urged all members to attend the dinner meeting on November 16. Mrs. T. C. Carroll of Kentucky will be the speaker. The Junior Woman's Club will be in charge of the program.

Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Sandwiches, cookies and tea were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. W. J. Bundy, chairman; Mrs. Howard Moyer, co-chairman; Mesdames E. L. Baker, T. G. Basnight, Sr., Hinton Best, W. D. Brown, S. L. Daught-ridge, J. E. Dees, Lloyd Mills, A. M. Moseley, Hortense Moyer, C. T. Mumford, Hugh McGowan, K. B. Pace, N. M. Posey, Hugh Ragsdale, Clara M. Shackell, Guy Smith, J. C. Wooten and M. L. Wright.

Children Terrorized By Hunter's Blazing Shotgun

hunter whose blazing shotgun terrorized 200 school children was today awaiting a hearing on disorderly conduct and possibly other charges.

The man staggered up to the graded school in this little western Pennsylvania community at noon hour yesterday. He threw himself on the ground and aimed his shotgun at the building.

Mrs. Scott Deal, a teacher, took one frightened look and called the youngsters—6 to 14 years old—into the building.

The hunter, identified by state police as John McKulka, 25, of Keisterville, fired a charge into the side of the school. Then he rose and forced his way into the building, falling down once as he crossed the playground.

Inside the building he lurched from room to room waving his shotgun. Children screamed and fled the building through windows and down fire escapes.

Three men living nearby overpowered the intruder.

Mrs. Olive Harford, another teacher, helped one of her older pupils hold the door of her room against the intruder.

"I hope I never have to live through anything like this again," she said, shakily. "I never saw boys and girls so frightened."

Exchanges To Be Closed Tomorrow

Grain markets, including the Chicago board of trade, will be in operation. The department of agriculture will issue its livestock reports as usual.

Kiwanians Have Religious Night Weekly Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH

The Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting Friday night was featured by an entertaining and diversified program presented under direction of James Ray Pittman, chairman of the Support of Churches Committee.

A roll call of church members revealed that nearly all denominations are represented in the club personnel. Chairman Pittman explained that the purpose of the Kiwanis Support of Churches Committee has as its objective to encourage the members to attend their own churches regularly.

Dr. H. G. Haney introduced Dr. Howard J. McGinnis of the college, who spoke on "The Man in the Church." He emphasized the value of the church in a community and enumerated its manifold advantages.

Mrs. H. T. Carter and Mrs. R. R. Willmann presented an appropriate musical program. Mrs. Carter sang two numbers, "In My Father's House" and "The Birds," with Mrs. Willmann as accompanist.

It is a Kiwanis custom for members, when they have a birthday, to donate a nickel for each year of their age to a worthy club fund. Birthday observers Friday night were Kiwanians Mrs. Ray Tyson, Dr. Davis L. Moore, Fred Stokes and Judge J.W.H. Roberts. Ell Bloom led the singing of "Happy Birthday." President Arthur Tripp presided.

Jack Neilson, Jr., president of the Key Club at the Greenville High School, and Louis Clark, a director, were special guests.

Secretary David C. Moore, Jr., announced that Kiwanians in many parts of the country will observe "National Kids' Week" the week of November 19.

Dr. Lucile Charles To Present Program

Dr. Lucile H. Charles, director of speech and drama in the department of English at East Carolina Teachers College, will present the November program of the Greenville Music Club. The meeting will take place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, November 8, at the Greenville Woman's Club.

Dr. Charles will speak informally on "Music in Speech and Drama." Illustrating her remarks with excerpts from modern plays, she will show the similarities and differences of technique and purpose found in music and drama.

No Clemency For Gandhi Killers

New Delhi, Nov. 7 (AP)—A Home Ministry official said today that N. V. Godse and N. B. Apte had been denied clemency and will be hanged as scheduled Nov. 15 for the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi.

The official said they would be hanged at Ambala jail, where they are now imprisoned. Their bodies, he said, would be cremated inside the jail and the ashes given to relatives for private immersion in some holy river according to Hindu religious practice.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

"The conviction is growing in me that the way to reach the Japanese people is to come to them, not as professional teachers and missionaries, but as one with them—living on their economic standard, and serving with and not for them," says Miss Hargery L. Mayer, of Toledo, Ohio, who has been in Japan the past year as a member of the Kwassul College faculty, Nagasaki.

"The fact that we are willing to live in the way that a Japanese must, go through the situations that he had to suffer, probably meant more to him than a year in Bible classes. This summer, at work camps, the question was asked again and again 'Why did you pay to come and do the lowest kind of physical labor?' We had to use our bodies for work that hand laborers in the States would rebel at; moving dirt and rocks by means of lifting a pole on our shoulders, carrying stones up the hill from the river in a box tied on the back, mixing cement by our own muscles, working hours in the hot sun."

World Fellowship Week, during which funds will be raised for the work of Young Women's Christian Association in nineteen countries outside the United States, will be observed during the week beginning Sunday, Nov. 13. There will be observances of the United States and overseas. The principal service will be the national one at the National Cathedral, Washington, D. C. Here Dean John W. Suter will officiate, and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. John S. R. nnell, D. D. of New York City. Girls in the native dresses of most of the nineteen foreign countries will be present from embassies in Washington.

Miss Florence Schaefer, missionary-superintendent of the Mary Wanless Hospital (Presbyterian) in Kolhapur, India, has appealed to the women of the Presbyterian Church and the women of America to recognize in Pandit Nehru, India's prime minister now in the United States, "a wonderful force, not only for India, but for the whole world." Typical of his leadership, she says was his suggestions to the Indian people that Independence Day of 1949 be "quiet and simple, with no noisy, ostentatious display," and with "tree planting and planting of more gardens, and effort made everywhere to increase production and overcome food problems."

Strength FOR THE DAY

CAUSE, EFFECT, AND FORGIVENESS

Everyone knows that we live in a physical universe but everyone does not know that we live also in a spiritual and moral universe. In this spiritual and moral universe, the law of cause and effect operates as infallibly as it does in the physical realm. Drop a stone, and it falls to the earth according to a certain definite mathematical formula. Likewise, if we break any of the laws of the moral and spiritual universe, certain infallible results occur according to the laws of right and justice. It has been said that everyone at last sits down to a banquet of consequences. St. Paul expressed it by saying, "Be not deceived. God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

And yet this is not the hopeless doctrine which on the surface it appears to be. The promise of the gospel is the promise of forgiveness. If we do wrong and repent, the guilt of our wrongdoing is always removed. The guilt is removed of that we can be sure. But of the consequences, we know only that these are in the hands of God and that He will act in accordance with His will. Sometimes when we break the moral law, God both forgives and sends aside the dire extremity of consequences. But at other times He does not do this. Life is a school, and whatever is best for the pupil is always done.

COURTS VERSUS JUSTICE

The problem of the North Carolina court system has been talked about by state and local leaders for the past year, but until now nothing has been done to revamp and improve the system—and the condition in which the Pitt county courts find themselves today is a shame and a disgrace not only to the county, but the state and the nation.

Last week, in the final regularly scheduled criminal term of superior court in the county for this year, Judge R. Hunt Parker cleared only 10 cases from the heavily overloaded court docket, and then cut the session short to attend a Bar Association meeting in Warrenton.

When the August criminal term of superior court ended there was a backlog of approximately 150 cases on the court docket. Today the court docket has more than 190 cases, some of which date back more than two years.

When the courts of a county are allowed to get in the condition in which the Pitt county courts are today, the administration of justice is seriously handicapped. It becomes extremely difficult for the law enforcement officers and other state's witnesses in many cases to remember the minute details of an incident which transpired more than 24 months before, and it becomes increasingly easier for the defending counsel to instill some measure of doubt of guilt in the minds of the jury members. Thereby many persons who are guilty of violations of the law are going unpunished because of the time element which the court allows to elapse between the time of the offense is committed and the time the case is heard by the jury.

On the other hand, because of the delay in bringing cases to trial, many innocent persons are caused to suffer hardships and undeserved punishment. Only last week a Pitt county Negro who had been in jail without bond for six months was found not guilty by the court and given his freedom—yet he had been deprived of his freedom for six months while waiting for the antiquated wheels of the North Carolina court system to turn.

The fault for the condition of the courts of the state today lies not with one individual, but with many within each county.

The superior court judges, first of all, are getting paid for full-time work, and a good salary they get in North Carolina, but many of them, in spite of the responsibility which rests upon their shoulders, hold court at the appointed places for only a few days each week, and bend the administration of justice to suit their own conveniences. They toss the courts of the state aside to give pre-eminence to conventions or other more pleasant pastimes in which they wish to participate.

The lawyers of the state have helped in the breakdown of the state's court system because they fully realize the advantage they accumulate as defending counsels with each postponement

Somebody Told Me...

Bob Campbell, who lives on Eastern Street, is a lawyer for the Veterans Administration. Bob represents Uncle Sam in cases involving veterans of both world wars. For example, the other day he was working on a case which involved a $10,000 insurance policy. The beneficiary, the veteran's wife, happened to murder her husband. The question to be decided was whether or not the killing was in self defense, in which case the wife would get the ten grand. If the killing was not in self defense the widow would not only miss the money but she might find herself in considerable trouble. The court ruled self-defense. Quite often finding people is one of the major tasks in a case. Last week Bob was in a nearby town looking for a veteran of World War I. Let's call him Frank James, just for the sake of being fictitious.

One would think that finding a man when you know his name is a simple task. If you think so, just ask Bob. He went to the house that had been designated as Frank's. There was a man standing in the back yard, so Bob walked up to him.

"Is this where Frank James lives?" Bob asked.

"Yep," replied the man.

"Is Frank here?"

"The man said that he wasn't. When do you expect him back?" Bob asked.

"The man had no idea. Bob went down to the corner grocery store and looked around to see if he could find Frank James. No one there had seen him or had any idea where he was. An ordinary man would have been discouraged, but Bob was used to it. So he went back to Frank's house and found the same man standing in the yard.

"Seen Frank yet?" he asked.

The man gave the same answers. So Bob explained himself a little further. "I'm with the Veterans Administration," Bob said. He always does when people are hard to find. That statement makes people easier to find, because it eliminated the most feared: the law and bill collectors.

Bob went on to explain, "I'm going to be in town for a few hours and I want to see Frank before I leave. Do you have any idea that he'll be back?" The man had no notion that he would.

"Well, that's too bad," Bob said. "I had something for him." He went on to make another call, but returned about an hour later, when he thought the neighborhood would have had time to get curious about what he had for Frank.

The third time he approached the same man in the yard; he of a trial. Although it may be unfair to say they have conspired to bring wholesale delay in the state's courts, they certainly have encouraged the postponement of cases from term to term.

Still another group who are responsible for the deplorable condition of the state's courts are those who are in charge of the inferior courts which send many cases to the higher courts which they themselves could handle if they would only take the time, and carefully weigh the facts.

In most cases the law enforcement officers have done all in their power to speed up the court procedure, but their efforts for the most part have been to no avail.

As long as the superior court judges, the lawyers of the state, and those responsible for the inferior courts are allowed to continue in the rut they have trampled through the years at the expense of the people of North Carolina, the state will have an inefficient, broken down court system.

The people must bring the pressure themselves, and demand a reformation in the courts of the state. Otherwise the true administration of justice will not be long in fading entirely from the state court system.

asked him again if he had seen Frank.

"I'm Frank," the man said. Bob didn't say so, but if a stick had been handy he would probably hit Frank squarely on the head. But instead, Bob told him the news: The Veterans Administration owed him $3,200 back pension money which would be sent to him in the near future. The moral of this story is to always let people know who you are. And that catch is that 99 out of 100 times it'll be a bill collector.

And I thank you.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington — Increasing thousands of Latin Americans — from peasants to presidents — are learning to speak English and to know about the United States each year through the cultural institutes set up in some 30 Latin American cities. The institutes are cooperative enterprises established by local groups of nationals and North Americans, living in the countries, together with some assistance in the form of grants from the U. S. State Department. This government puts up only about 37 per cent of the cost of running the institutes.

The purpose of the institutes is to bring the people of North and South America closer together through the teaching of English, motion pictures, libraries, radio programs and various social activities. Only occasionally does help come from this side of the Rio Grande through cash. More often it is extended in the form of contributions of books, magazines and like materials — every possible type of literature from poetry to the latest text on penicillin — that will interest America to the people. However, the greatest form of support is through assignments by this country of personnel to conduct the institutes, chiefly administrative secretaries and teachers of English.

The teachers of English are trained here. The method adopted is principally that used by the armed services for the training of overseas forces... the oral approach. Speaking and understanding of the language is stressed. About 84 teachers from this country are sent to the 30 centers. The rest of the staff is recruited locally.

The popularity of these classes was demonstrated by an incident in Mexico City last year. It was publicly announced that there were 300 places for students in the English speaking program at the cultural institute, that enrollments were to be made on a certain Wednesday. On the preceding Tuesday night a line started forming. By morning some 3,000 applicants were ready to surge through the registration office. There were faintings, and some eager would-be enrollees jumped through skylights. The police had to be called.

American business men consider the institutes' work important in that it enables them to draft their staffs in foreign countries rather than send people from here. Many industries send large blocs of their staffs to the institutes, paying for their training, as an investment in good working relations.

Appalachian State Teachers College, scoring its sixth consecutive win and its fifth North State conference victory, defeated East Carolina Teachers College 35-18 here Saturday night in a free scoring contest witnessed by some 3,500 cheering fans.

The mighty Mountaineers scored three times in the first and second part of the second period before the Buccaneers of East Carolina could gather their wits. It was the fourth consecutive conference loss for the Pirates.

But it was a much closer game than the score might indicate. Playing against the most outstanding team seen in operation here this season the Bucs rallied in the second quarter to score two touchdowns and added another in the fourth.

The Apps rocked the Bucs off their feet in the opening minute of play when Jack Gross broke away for 67 yards and paydirt. They counted again a few minutes later when Herman Bryson bucked over from the four. A 40 yard pass from Pete Mills to John Small set up the tally.

In the opening minutes of the second, Mills passed 20 yards to Don Felton for a touchdown.

The Bucs scored their opening touchdown in the second on a drive of 58 yards climaxed when Thrift passed to Jack Benz for 12 yards and a touchdown. Benz's 40 yard kick return began the drive.

In the same period Thrift passed 30 yards to Dwight Shoe in the five and the end went over for the score. Halftime score favored Appalachian 21-12.

Fullback Fred Boper scored from the two for the Apps in the third period after East Carolina had on two occasions held the Mountain-teers on goal line stands.

East Carolina threatened in the opening of the fourth when Benz returned a kick from his own 20 to the 22 of Appalachian. Bill Darby ran it down to the five on one play but the visitors held at that point.

Freshman John Daughtry intercepted an Appalachian pass on the ECTC 20 and ran to the 23 of the Mountaineers to set up East Carolina's final touchdown. Jack Benz ran 23 yards on the first play to score.

The Apps drove 80 yards in the closing minutes of the game to score again. The pay-off play was Mills' 17 yard pass to Felton for a touchdown.

Jack Gross kicked all five of Appalachian's extra points. The hard charging defensive line prevented Jim Danks of East Carolina from making good any of his three extra point attempts.

The lineup:
Appalachian—Left ends: Caskey Small, Neal, Felton; left tackles: Boat, Wilson, Taylor, Grisson; left guards: Alford Long, Tenick; centers: Honevett, Blackburn, Tatum; right guards: Privette, Lassiter; right tackles: J. Wilson, Haynes Cleary, Kever; right ends: Austell Roberts, Hendrix, quarterbacks: Gabriel, Eldridge, Mills, Hooks; left halfbacks: Bryson, Cross, Gross; right halfbacks: Ragan, Propst, Hunnicut, O'Neal; fullbacks: Boper, Webb, Akin, Walden, Hardin.

Unbeaten, Untied Ranks Cut Down

New York, Nov. 7—(AP)—Twenty-six college grid teams remained today on the winning list of unbeaten and untied.

Nine squads failed to keep their heads above water the past weekend. The chief casualty was Baylor, which had placed sixth in the Associated Press' weekly nationwide poll. After winning six straight, the Bears bowed to Texas 20-0.

Xavier (Ohio) had its streak snapped at seven, succumbing to Kentucky, 27-7. Lawrence (Wis.), another seven-game winner, bowed to Macalester, 26-13.

In addition to Baylor, three others with 6 and 0 records were eliminated. Wheaton College (Ill.) was dumped by Valparaiso, 21-13. Union (N.Y.) was held to a tie by Middlebury 14-14, and W. Va. State was deadlocked by Virginia State, 27-27.

A pair of teams boasting five victories in as many games fell by the wayside. Baldwin Wallace (Ohio) bowed to Youngstown, 2-14, and Florida State was beaten by Livingston, 13-6.

Fordham's surprising Rams, after running up four consecutive triumphs, could not cope with mighty Army and were blanked, 35-0.

The Wayne (Neb.) Teachers completed their season with an unbroken chain of nine victories, most scored by any team still sprouting a perfect record.

Took 57 Minutes To Sell Tickets

Miami, Fla., Nov. 7—(AP)—It took only 57 minutes to sell 13,641 tickets to the 1950 Orange Bowl football game here yesterday.

Some of the 3,653 purchasers had waited in line nearly 24 hours before the ticket windows opened at 1 p.m.

General Manager Ernie Seler said the sale was "the smoothest ever staged—there was no trouble and nobody got mad." Previously all tickets to the annual game were distributed through the mail.

Television network programs are being broadcast by microwave radio relay and special telephone cable known as coaxial.

"Johnny Clayton will beat you with his arm, his leg or his head," is the way a football scout explained the versatile Dartmouth quarterback who paced the Indians to triumphs over Holy Cross, G-gate, Harvard and Yale.

Coach Tuss McLaughry rates Clayton the best forward passer he ever tutored, and he's had some fine ones. According to McLaughry, Clayton's brilliant pass enabled Dartmouth to keep the opposing defense men on their heels so that the backs could reel off telling gains on the ground. Clayton has gone his share of effective ball carrying on occasions when the defense covered his receivers too well. On more than one occasion, Clayton has tricked the opposition with a neat booting play after perfectly faking a hand-off.

Clayton throws long passes, the back-breaking type that go for touchdowns and split open a tight game. In his first start as a sophomore last season against Holy Cross Johnny completed a 55-yard touchdown pass. He tossed other scoring passes against Columbia, Princeton, Colgate and Cornell and, saving his best efforts for Yale, pitched three scoring passes in the Bowl. He is a rugged six-footer and weighs 195 pounds. His older brother, Hal, was a fullback on the 1947 Big Green team.

Speed King Rex Mays Is Victim Of Racing Crash

Del Mar, Calif., Nov. 7—(AP)—Death struck Rex Mays, one of the great automobile speed kings in a flash of roaring steel here yesterday.

His death on the 13th lap of a 100-mile big-car American automobile association race brought sorrow to the auto racing world.

"It seems impossible that something like that could have happened to as fine a driver as Rex," said Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis Motor Speedway president.

Similar expressions came from others who had known him intimately or raced with him.

He was roaring around the south turn of the one-mile track, second to Jim Davies of Los Angeles, when something went wrong.

The nearest to official accounts (a deputy sheriff's report) was that Mays' car collided with one driven by Johnny Parsons of Los Angeles.

He was thrown from the speeding machine as it turned over and over and crashed through the infield rail.

The 22,000 spectators saw his body hurled onto the middle of the track and then flung up again as another car hit it. The second car was believed to have struck him.

"He was all crumpled up," said deputy coroner Dave Bone. "He was undoubtedly killed on the spot."

Trial Re-Set

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—The trial of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) today was tentatively reset for next Monday.

Thomas is accused of conspiracy to defraud the government by "padding" his office payroll.

William H. Collins, attorney for Thomas, asked the postponement because he is representing another client in the case now being tried.

Collins told reporters he doubted he would be free to appear for Thomas until two weeks from today. On next Monday, he may ask another week's postponement.

Dennis Goes To Highest Tribune

Washington, Nov. 7—Eugene Dennis takes to the Supreme Court today his argument that a Communist official can't get a fair trial before a jury which includes employees of the federal government.

Dennis is general secretary of the American Communist party. He was convicted of contempt of Congress by a jury which held that he had willfully disobeyed a subpoena to appear before the House Un-American Activities committee on April 9, 1947.

He was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $1,000. Today his attorneys carry to the high court their efforts to overturn the conviction on grounds that federal workers were on the jury.

This case is separate from the New York trial that ended in the conviction of Dennis and ten other Communist party leaders for conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government. On the conspiracy charge Dennis and most of the others got five years in prison and $10,000 fines.

The contempt-of-Congress trial was held in U. S. District Court here. Seven government employees were among the 12 jurors.

Guilford Slumps From Second To Fifth Place In North State

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
The football race in the middle brackets of the North State conference is so close that Guilford fell from second place to fifth by losing over the weekend.

Western Carolina Teachers, who have finished their league schedule undefeated in four games, have sewed up the title. High Point, East Carolina Teachers and Atlantic Christian haven't won a conference game and are about out of the running. High Point has a tie with Guilford on the credit side.

But in between the first and last clubs, the final weeks' games can make a big difference in the standings.

Four conference games will be played this Saturday night. Elon is at Lenoir Rhyne, Guilford at Catawba, Atlantic Christian at Appalachian and East Carolina at High Point. Western Carolina continues its non-conference campaign in a home game against Emory and Henry at Cullowhee Saturday night.

Three league games were played over the weekend, with these results:

Lenoir Rhyne 14 Guilford 7
Elon 21 High Point 6
Appalachian 35 East Carolina 18

League teams lost two and won one against outside foes over the weekend. The scores were: Louisville 41 Catawba 7

Redskin Coach Is Out Of Job

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—The five year contract between the Washington Redskins football team and Coach John E. "Billick" Whelchel was cancelled today "by mutual consent."

The announcement was made by the National Professional League club.

Whelchel, a former admiral, had been at the helm only seven games. His team had won three games, lost three and tied one.

Fulks Continues To Blast Hoops

New York, Nov. 7—(AP)—Dynamic Joe Fulks still is professional basketball's No. 1 forward. The 27-year-old Philadelphia shotmaker just scores and scores whether his Warrior mates win or lose.

Last night the Warriors did lose—an 82-72 decision to Syracuse—but the blond Murray State, Ky., product blasted the hoops for 26 points.

Call letters of amateur radio stations always include a number. That is to identify the district in which they are located.

While forests are cooler than plains, they tend to be warmer at night because trees retard the escape of heat.

Slippery Rock 37 ACC 7
WCTC 32 Newberry 7
John Charles of Lenoir Rhyne continues to lead in individual scoring with 48 points. Ralph McConnell of Western Carolina is second with 44. However, McConnell is through for the season. He broke his arm in the loss to Maryville a week ago Saturday.

Chapter 20
Arleta looked at a blue flame licking a glittering lump of coal. The flame turned amber, scarlet, and still she sat.

Her father had deliberately planned this? He'd had the vision of the lake in the valley, obtained the necessary land by promising ten times its acreage, then, protected by the provisions in the agreement, had sold out to a farm combine?

She ran her tongue over burning dry lips. "How could he sell?" "Remember he gave a thousand acres of his own. He failed to tell his neighbors he intended taking his share out of the middle."

"I don't believe it!" Springing to her feet, Arleta faced Kelly. "He wouldn't. It wasn't like him. How Daddy never played that way! He always gave the other fellow the edge."

How Kelly's smile was crooked. "And I thought you'd understand," she began bitterly. And then she stopped. "Who's Ace?" she asked so abruptly Kelly started.

"Which Ace?" he asked in return. "The Ace involved in this land deal."

Slowly Kelly shook his head. "I know the list of directors, dummies for the most part, but no Ace." His voice trailed off; then curiously he asked, "Where did you pick up the name?"

Defiantly she drew out the pad she'd thrust into her jacket pocket when Tunia had called her. "There," she said.

"Hm," grunted How Kelly. "nicest bit of doodling I've seen. . . . Hm, where did you get this?"

Her cheeks were scarlet with defiance. "I went to the nursery when I came in from Lucy's. I wanted to sort out my thoughts. I found this in my desk."

Together they looked down on the pad, and into the eyes of each came a look of compassion for the man who'd crouched in a nursery chair to think of the little daughter across the continent.

"I said Arleta breathlessly, "I should like to go home." "Almost nothing was said on the drive back."

"I do appreciate your kindness," she said, "and the dinner. Was the food unusually delicious or was I unusually hungry?"

"Both," Kelly answered absently. Then: "Chips, loan me that pad. And tomorrow go up there and scour that room. You'll know what to save if you find anything."

Arleta's gloved fingers gripped the pad.

Cases Tried In Police Court Friday Morning

In Police Court Friday, Judge J. W. Roberts found probable cause in the case of Johnny R. Taylor, charged with the larceny of an automobile, and bound him over to Superior Court.

In another auto larceny case, William N. Smith, colored, was not guilty, and the prosecuting witness was taxed with court costs for malicious and frivolous prosecution. In a second case, Smith was found guilty of driving drunk and fined $100 and costs, and his license was suspended for 12 months.

Elijah Green, colored, guilty of larceny, was fined $25 and costs and was placed on probation for three years.

Walter F. Hayes and Ernest R. Byrum, affray, each paid $15.

William R. Johnson, colored, no operator's license, 30 days or $25 and costs.

Leroy Williams, colored, speeding, 30 days or $20.

Johnny McLean, colored, drunk and assault on a female, $15 and $5 doctor's bill.

Drunk: Clarence Craft, $15; Charles C. Kinion, guilty, appealed to Superior Court.

William Hyman, Jess Bass and Amos Wooten were called and failed to answer. Capiases were issued for them.

Attention Called To 'Persimmon Menace'

Washington—(AP)—The Citizens Association of Anacostia, a section in southeastern Washington, is petitioning the District of Columbia government to do something about fruit falling from persimmon trees planted along three streets.

"Have you ever stepped on one?" asked Mrs. Carrie Smith, first vice president.

"If Dad did such a thing—" "That pad. The words: "Idiot, why don't they file?" Could that have referred to the farmers? Then why hadn't he seen to it their claims were in before those of the combine? How Kelly had said it was because he had sold his share after taking that share "out of the middle."

Arleta shook her head. "Something wrong some place," she mused. She rose now and went to the window to look out and to think of Allene Lane. Where and how had the Lanes entered into this and why were they more bitter than anyone?

Suddenly she realized she was very tired. The day had held too much.

"Tomorrow," she promised herself. Tomorrow she would do many things: search the nursery, go into the city, visit the courthouse and seek—what had How Kelly called it?—a transcript of the farmers' claim suits. And that last one, the one she'd warned about, she'd look there be some reversal.

Morning brought radio reports of a breaking storm. Arleta went up to the nursery.

Methodically she went through drawers and closets. She saved the desk for the last, but she found nothing that seemed important, only packets of letters she'd written her parents.

At noon she went down to lunch with her aunt.

"Leta, child, something is worrying you. I don't want to intrude, but it might be that I could help you."

Arleta shook her head, then laughed ruefully. "Not unless you could identify someone called Ace."

"Ace?" Mrs. Worthington grew thoughtful. "Now I've heard that some place other than a bridge table Ace—"

"Someone connected with my father?"

"Oh, of course." The woman sat up. "That's that man who nearly broke up your parents' marriage, the gambler. Your mother had no use for him."

"When was this and where? And oh, Aunt Betsy Anne, do try to remember his last name."

"I doubt I ever heard it. It was when you were a baby, before your parents moved West. Your mother was staying with me. I heard her quarreling with your father and I was so amazed I stood there for all of a moment. Your mother said, 'Chips, you may take your choice. Ace or your wife and children.' Of course I hurried away."

Chips, Ace, Arleta's mind had wheeled to another possibility. "Aunt Betsy," she asked in a strained voice, "was my father a gambler?"

"Of course he was. Child." Mrs. Worthington answered easily. "Oh, I don't doubt he sat in on many a game for the fun of it. That's how he met this man Ace and that's why your mother objected to the man."

"So that," said Arleta soberly, "is what Aunt Leta meant when she spoke of inherited traits. She was speaking of me, not Calvin. Well, thanks, darling, and if you should remember the name—"

Ireland's Blarney Stone Stolen In San Francisco

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Hundreds kissed it at 25 cents a smack, but the question is: What was it?

The 15 pound chunk of limestone was flown here from Ireland, with advance hullabaloo that it was a chip off the real Blarney stone. You know, the one in Ireland that imparts the gift of gab. Or so they say. It disappeared early yesterday.

shortly after a St. Mary's Church festival crowd had paid $472 for the privilege of smearing it with lipstick. Women, the custodians reported, were by far the best customers.

But only minutes after its disappearance, the stone's origin was challenged.

James Cummins, past president of the United Irish Society and custodian of the stone, groaned:

"The worst thing is that the London Daily Mail's New York correspondent called and said the rock wasn't the real thing."

With that Cummins said he has documentary evidence that it was the real thing—still is as far as he is concerned.

"A friend of mine—Pat Collins—who lives in Cork, sent it and assured me it was from Blarney Castle. I have the bill of lading on TWA airlines. I have saved the correspondence."

But the cops were inclined to view the whole case—Blarney stone and disappearance—with a stony eye.

The festival director, the Rev. John Lally, hoped for a quick solution to the "theft." Whoever took it might become "alkative" enough to give himself away, he theorized with a twinkle in his eye.

Alleged Suicide Try On Highway

A Negro woman who had allegedly told her sister that she was going out to kill herself, suffered a broken leg and painful injuries Saturday evening about 6:15 when she was struck by a car as she stood in the middle of the highway about one half mile from Ballard's Crossroads.

State Highway Patrolman D. E. Perry said today that the woman, Louise Reid, who lives in Greenville, was at the home of her sister, Josephine Edwards, near Ballard's. She had an argument with her sister, and stated that she was going out and kill herself. Perry said she was in a drunken condition when he arrived on the scene after the accident.

The woman went out onto the highway and stood in the middle of the road in the face of oncoming traffic. Perry said that efforts on the part of the woman's sisters and her brother failed to remove her from her position on the road.

She dodged one car and then stepped back from the middle of the road into the path of a car operated by Johnnie G. Howell, 25, Route 2, Pikeville, who was approaching at the time that the other car forced the woman from the middle of the road.

In addition to a broken left leg, the woman suffered numerous minor bruises and cuts about her body.

Perry stated that no charges were lodged against the driver.

Pitt Alumni Club Of State College Meets Tuesday, Nov. 14

The Pitt County Alumni Club of State College will hold its third meeting of the year in the Red Oak Community Building Monday night, November 14, at 7:45, it was announced today.

J. H. Moxley, president of the Alumni Club, in announcing the meeting, urged alumni to attend and bring their wives or girl friends. "This will be ladies night and, 'Pop' Taylor has promised us a good speaker," Moxley said.

The president mailed cards last week to members with instructions for them to fill them out and return them so officials will know how many to expect at the meeting.

Police Eject Two Marine Intruders At Weekly Dance

Two Cherry Point Marines, whose names were not revealed, who crashed the door at the Saturday night dance at the National Guard armory and then refused to buy tickets had an unpleasant experience on a cold night. Police Lieutenant George Crawford ejected the intruders with a warning.

"The Marines didn't get a chance to even dance a set free," one of the dance officials stated, after the "bouncing" ceremony was over.

Loses Pocketbook Containing Large Sum Of Money Here

Azella Moore, Route 4, Greenville, reported to Greenville police Saturday that Billy Moore lost a big blue pocketbook containing a check for $80 from the Dean Cotton Company, Tarboro, and $24 in currency, somewhere on West Third street Saturday. She stated that Ida Edwards is half-owner of the check.

Any person who found the pocketbook is requested to notify the police.

A Nightmare . . .

But—on the left today is Georgi M. Malenkov. This created a stir in Moscow because in an official poliburo picture last May, L. P. Beria was at Stalin's left-hand.

(Beria, who used to be chief of the secret police, now is reported to be head of Russia's atomic development. Malenkov is vice chairman of the council of ministers.)

Beria is still in the picture, of course, but not where he was last May. At Stalin's left-hand. Because Malenkov has that spot, it's caused speculation that now Malenkov is closer to Stalin than Beria—but not so close as Molotov who's on the right hand.

Anyway, somebody in the poliburo probably will succeed Stalin, either peacefully through appointment by Stalin before he dies, or through election by the other poliburo members, or after a rirring internal struggle that might "p Russia open.

But if Stalin lives, and enough pictures are taken, with some changing around in every picture, there'll be no end of talk which, after all, is a pretty good way of keeping people from talking about something else.
