

Big Policy Change Seen On Germany

Foreign Ministers Reportedly Ready To Halt Most Dismantling Of German Industry And Allowing Republic Join Council Of Europe

Paris, Nov. 10 (AP)—Premier Georges Bidault's office announced the French cabinet will go into a huddle tonight with Foreign Minister Robert Schuman on the Big Three talks now underway here, which center on policy toward Germany.

Schuman will report on the progress of his conference with U. S. Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Observers said Schuman, a member of France's Popular Republican party, wants the backing of the Moderates and Socialists, the two other parties of the French coalition government, before formally entering a new accord with Acheson and Bevin.

Informed sources said the three foreign ministers have reached a general agreement that most dismantling of German industry should stop. They also are reported to have moved closer to allowing the new West German republic to join the council of Europe.

Conditions for discontinuing the dismantling of German plants had yet to be worked out in the Big Three talks that opened yesterday. Britain still insists that such potential war industries as synthetic rubber and synthetic oil should be torn down, one source said.

The ministers reported "satisfactory progress" in yesterday's talks and expected to wind up tonight or early tomorrow morning with a definite announcement of agreements.

Diplomatic sources said they had reached accord in principle, at least, on ways to give Western Germany an international voice for the first time since the war's end, possibly modifying the state of war which still exists between the Western allies and the former enemy country.

Broad policy revisions were being studied, apparently to cover Russia's exchange of diplomats with the Soviet-sponsored Eastern German government and the possibility that Red army troops might be withdrawn from East Germany.

Informed sources said all three ministers agreed tentatively that the West-sponsored Bonn regime should be admitted as an associate member to the council of Europe—a 12-nation advisory parliament striving toward European unity.

Schuman, however, was reported to have reserved a final commitment until after the French national assembly debates the issue later this month.

Indian Prison Camp Will Move Back To Robeson

Raleigh, Nov. 10 (AP)—The state's prison camp for Indian prisoners is to be moved back to Robeson County and is to be managed by all Indian personnel, Prison Director J. B. Moore said today.

Moore said the personnel of the present camp for Indians at Danbury will be retained there and additional prisoners will be moved in. The Indian prisoners will go to an existing camp four miles west of Lumberton, in the heart of the Indian population in Eastern North Carolina.

The main reason for the move, he said, is the big expense to the state in moving short-term prisoners from the Robeson area to the Danbury camp and back after they have served their terms.

Rehabilitate Germany?

Meeting Of Western Foreign Ministers A Tacit Admission That Rehabilitated Germany Essential To World; Soviet Viewpoint And Steps They Have Taken

The foreign ministers of the Big Three Western allies — Britain, France and America—are meeting in Paris to consider ways and means of restoring the West German republic to a place in Europe's politico-economic sun.

Marines Held In Armed Robbery In Pitt County

Two Marines stationed at the Cherry Point Marine base were arrested last night about 2:30 by the Tarboro Police department on the charge of armed robbery of a car from Plymouth L. Clark, 23, farmer and mechanic of the Chapman's Crossroads community, near Greenville.

Clark told Greenville police last night that he was crossing the river bridge as he left New Bern, when he saw two Marines trying to get a ride. Clark stated that they stopped and picked up the two Marines. One of the Marines sat on the front seat while the other occupied the back seat.

When Clark neared Chapman's Crossroads, he told the two Marines, "This is as far as I go." One of the Marines told him, "You ain't kidding, this is as far as you go," as they pulled guns on the astonished driver.

One of the Marines forced Clark from the car, and told him, "Now start walking. If you look back I'll shoot you."

Clark said that he started walking towards his home, and that the Marines in his car drove off. As soon as he found transportation back to Greenville, Clark reported the robbery to the Greenville Police department, who in turn sent the message over the Police radio to the State Highway Patrol radio station.

The Tarboro Police department reported this morning that the police cars in Tarboro were alerted to be on the lookout for the stolen car.

A misunderstanding in the license number of the car caused the Police to miss the car. A police car of the Tarboro Police department met the car as it came into Tarboro from Greenville but the license did not tally with the one given on the radio, and the car was not stopped.

A short time later the patrol car was stopped by the same car and the two Marines occupying the car asked the policemen directions to Rocky Mount. Acting on a hunch, the Marines were taken to the Tarboro Police department and checked. The car proved to be the one which had been stolen early in the night.

The Marines had two guns in their possession and also some bootleg liquor, the Police department reported.

The two Marines names as released by the Tarboro Police department are Bobby Clemmer and Courtland Duckworth, both from Cherry Point.

Clark went to Tarboro this morning and recovered the car. The case will be tried in Pitt county court.

Two GIs Held In Soviet Sector

Berlin, Nov. 10 (AP)—U. S. authorities confirmed today that two American soldiers were arrested last night by Russian military police in the Soviet sector of Berlin.

Major James Dixon, of the provost marshal's office, said there were about 20 American soldiers absent without official leave so that the identity of the arrested men is unclear.

Major Dixon said the provost marshal's office is expected to press for stronger military backing from the United States on his forthcoming state visit to America.

American officials said today the subject is almost certain to arise in talks President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson will have with Mahammad Reza Shas Pahlavi. The Shah is to arrive next Wednesday.

Diplomatic observers also think Marshal Rokossovsky's assignment may be to strengthen Russia's military position in Poland, both with the idea of keeping that uneasy nation in hand and of bolstering the Western frontier of the Soviet bloc of satellites. In other words, the Soviet Union would be consolidating its Eastern bloc in recognition of the fact that communist expansion westward has been halted by the Western European recovery program.

A Firm 'No'

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Truman said today there will be no change in the value of gold as long as he is President.

The President replied with what he described as a categorical no when he was asked if anyone in the Administration was giving consideration to raising the price of gold as a means of reducing the national debt.

Any such action would have to take the form of a recommendation to Congress.

Lonely Future In Store For Engel

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, the 74-year-old widder of lonely women after taking their money, was a sad and lonesome figure himself today.

Left alone now even by the one woman who had stuck to him throughout his trial, the international confidence man sat dejectedly in a cell at the county jail pondering his two to 10 year sentence for a love swindle.

Judge George M. Fisher imposed the sentence yesterday. Engel was convicted by a jury of swindling Mrs. Rescda Corigan, 39, a red haired Chicago widow of $8,700 after a whirlwind courtship. Engel disappeared on the eve of their scheduled marriage.

Except for his attorneys, Engel was alone when he was brought to court for sentence. Mrs. Pauline Langton, the 39-year-old New York widow whom he called his "only true love" was not present.

Outside of court the weary old lover told newsmen he hadn't seen or heard from Mrs. Langton since Saturday. The hotel where she had been staying reported Mrs. Langton checked out Saturday without leaving a forwarding address.

Sensitive Over Bargain Prices

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Some bald-headed Britishers are so sensitive they even turn down bargain prices currently being offered by London's barbers.

The barbers, figuring there's not quite so much work to trimming a fringed noggin, have been quietly knocking expense (seven cents) off the bill if the customer's head is bare on top. A regular haircut costs two shillings (28 cents).

One men's hairdresser in the financial district disclosed that some of the more vain baldpates have indignantly insisted upon paying the full price.

Arms Aid Plea Slated By Iran

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Iran's 30-year old ruler is expected to press for stronger military backing from the United States on his forthcoming state visit to America.

American officials said today the subject is almost certain to arise in talks President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson will have with Mahammad Reza Shas Pahlavi. The Shah is to arrive next Wednesday.

Hopes 10,000 Will Be Present For Friday's Parade

Wagner Says Event Will Be Staged In Farmers Warehouse If Weather Bad

All plans for the Armistice Day parade and the ceremonies to be held at the East Carolina Teachers College Stadium at which Secretary of the Army, Gordon Gray of Winston-Salem, will speak, have been completed, it was announced this morning by Ty Wagner, commander of the Pitt County American Legion Post 39.

Wagner stated that "If we have good weather, we hope to have 10,000 present for the parade. In the event of a very heavy rain, the event which is estimated to be over a mile in length.

Six bands, highlighted by the famed 82nd Airborne Division Band from Fort Bragg, will lead the parade which is estimated to be over a mile in length.

Cars for the Gold Star mothers and the disabled veterans will be located on 10th street across from the Greenville Tobacco Company. Other units of the parade will form in designated areas along Dickinson Avenue.

County school principals have been instructed to release civic and history classes accompanied by their teachers, in order that they may attend the celebration. The Greenville city schools will be dismissed at 10:15 to attend the parade and the students will report back to school at the regular time following lunch. The college will close from 11:00 to 12:00.

The parade will end at the East Carolina Teachers College Stadium at 11:30. A Marine Corps jet fighter plane from Cherry Point is scheduled to stunt over the assembled crowd at the stadium at 11:30.

Chief Parade Marshal, Sherman Parks, requested that all units of the parade be in their designated positions by 10:00.

Child Trapped In Refrigerator

Detroit, Nov. 10 (AP)—A 5-year-old boy was trapped in a refrigerator in a neighborhood in Detroit today.

The boy, who was named as 5-year-old Mary, was found in the refrigerator by a neighbor who called the police.

A fire department rescue squad worked 45 minutes to revive the child but she was pronounced dead shortly after being admitted to Saratoga General Hospital.

Shriners Parade At Fayetteville

Fayetteville, N.C., Nov. 10 (AP)—Amid pageantry and color, 1,000 Shriners participated today in Sudan Temple's fall ceremonial groups attended from all parts of southeastern North Carolina.

A parade through Fayetteville streets sent the ceremonial off to a start this morning. A banquet honoring Potentate Frank I. Watson of Raleigh will be held tonight.

'Voluntary' Plan To Keep Secrets

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Commerce Department announced today a "voluntary" plan today to keep important, though non-secret, American technical information from going out to Russia and her satellites.

While iron curtain countries were not mentioned in the announcement the aim was obvious.

Tighten Control On Czech Churches, Religions Life

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Communist government's new Ministry of Church Affairs tightened its grip over all phases of Czechoslovakia's religious life today, even down to counting the pennies given out by religious charitable groups.

New decrees gave the church of official final say over what is to be taught in seminaries and theological schools and what textbooks are to be used.

The decrees were issued to clarify the duties of the new ministry, which came into effect Nov. 1 over the bitter protests of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Coal Miners Follow Orders; Back In Pits

Some Say They Don't Like The Idea Of Returning To Work Until Contract Issue Is Settled, But They Obey Lewis

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Thousands of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers followed the orders of their boss today. They dug coal.

The unpredictable Lewis ordered his 278,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi to go back to the pits until midnight, Nov. 30. They had been idle eight weeks.

Lewis is still trying to get a contract to replace the one which expired last June 30.

And some of Lewis' members say they don't like the idea of going back to work until the contract issue is settled. But, as always, they're following Lewis' orders.

Chest Campaign $600 Under Goal

Greenville's Community Chest campaign is just $600 short of its $10,300 goal, Chairman Badger Johnson announced today after he received the report from the Negro committee which collected more than 175 per cent of its assigned quota.

Johnson said the Community Chest campaign so far has collected and deposited a total of $9,628.10 which is approximately 90 per cent of the goal set by the local officials. The chairman said it is hoped the goal will be reached by Saturday.

In reference to the percentages of assigned quotas, Johnson said, the work done by the committee of Negro citizens is one of the most outstanding jobs done in connection with the current campaign. The Negro committee, which was headed by W. H. Davenport and G. L. Jenkins, was assigned a quota of $200 and turned over to Community Chest officials $356.01. Other members of the committee were Roscoe Norfleet, Grant Bell Jr., Dr. H. B. Kelly, M. L. Bartlett, James Brewington, Rev. J. A. Nimmo and Leroy Barnes.

Unions Join In Hailing Result Of N.Y. Election

By the Associated Press

Labor organizations joined Democrats today in hailing Tuesday's election results as a major victory for President Truman's program.

But Republicans, who lost important campaigns in New York State and elsewhere, disagreed on the significance of their setback.

Both the CIO Political Action Committee and the AFL's political organization issued statements calling the Tuesday balloting a clear sign that the nation's voters haven't changed their minds about Mr. Truman's proposals since electing him President in 1948.

A top Republican, Harold E. Stassen, also recalled last year. The results of this week's elections, he said, "re-emphasize the very serious nature of our defeat in 1948."

Rumors Spread Of Steel Peace

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—CIO United Steelworkers and giant United States Steel opened peace talks on a legal level today which might end the most costly steel strike in American history.

Rumors flooded this steel capital that industry leader U. S. Steel is making an offer to put its 170,000 workers back in the mills across the country.

San Francisco, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Truman's domestic and foreign policies were assailed bitterly before the national retail lumber dealers association today by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.).

"President Truman's technique leads down the road to communism because it attempts to buy freedom with material things," Wherry said in a prepared address.

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—With a boost from two Plymouth, Mass. youngsters, President Truman made it official today that Thursday, Nov. 24, will be Thanksgiving Day.

Louise Marie Gavoni and Seth Arvid Kallio, Plymouth high school students attired in Pilgrim costume, presented Mr. Truman with a piece of the Plymouth Rock at a White House ceremony. Then he signed his annual Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

Defiant Action Is Sharp Slap In Face To Mediator Cyrus Ching; Miners' Chieftain Says He Will Show Up Monday; Presence A Mystery

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis failed to show up today for a coal peace conference called by the government. Instead, he sent a terse wire saying he would see the federal mediators on Monday.

It amounted to a sharp slap in the face to Cyrus Ching, federal mediator chief. It left him, too pretty much in the position of the person when the bride-to-be doesn't show up for the wedding.

Ching was there, fuming. The soft coal operators were there but no Lewis.

In fact, it was nothing of a mystery whose horse Lewis was. Aides of the White House said they did not know.

Ching was phoned up by a stream to Union Mine Workers' quarters asking "What he didn't even see it."

Then Ching said he had coolly turned down a peace conference.

Ching called for his car and sped to the White House himself to make the report.

When Ching headed for the White House, he indicated to reporters that he was ready to wash his hands of Lewis, leaving the coal situation on the White House doorstep.

Ching had outlined to the newsmen the whole series of events since he asked Lewis and operators to the peace meeting.

Ching told reporters he received this reply to his letter to Lewis: "Ching, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. 'Your wire Mine Workers' sentation will be your o'clock Monday."

"Lewis, Chicago, Ill. 'Ching is a liar and a liar for a "clarification" received Lewis' message "appears responsive" to the federal mediator.

The conciliation service said the Lewis telegram should have been sent from the Washington office of the U. S. Mine Workers.

Lewis and his 200-man policy committee had been in Chicago all week. It was there that he suddenly called off the 52-day coal strike yesterday, ordering his miners back to work until Nov. 31.

Heroic British Cruiser Aground

Newport, England, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Cruiser Ajax, victor over the German pocket battleship Graf Spee off Montevideo in the last war, ran aground early today on the mud banks at the mouth of the river Usk.

It was her last voyage. She was being taken to a breaker's yard here to be scrapped. It was expected to take a week to refloat her. A skeleton crew is aboard.

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-Ne) asked today for a court audit of operations of the coal miners' welfare fund since he has been one of its trustees.

When that has been done and his own actions as a trustee have been reviewed, he asked the U. S. District court here to let him get off the board.

Some Second-Guessing

Why Did John L. Lewis Call Off The Coal Strike? Some Possible Reasons; Brief Review Of Circumstances; Steel Strike Hurt Lewis; Maybe Miners Suffered

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—This is now the open season for guessing why John L. Lewis called off the coal strike yesterday.

One man's guess is as good as another's, since Lewis doesn't tell his secrets.

If you want to get in on the act, here are some possible reasons why Lewis told his miners to resume work. Start with some background.

Lewis' contract with the mine owners ended June 30. Under that contract they paid into the miners' health and welfare fund 20 cents on every ton of coal mined.

Lewis wanted a new and better contract: more pay, shorter hours, and more money for the fund.

The owners didn't budge. In previous years, when his contract ended, Lewis pulled his miners out, saying "no contract, no work."

He didn't do that this year. Instead, when the contract ended June 30 and no new one was signed, he ordered them to work only three days a week. This went on for a while.

Then some mine owners turned Lewis' old argument against him and refused to contribute any more to the pension fund, saying in effect: "No contract, no contribution."

The board of trustees which ran the fund—Lewis is on the board—suspended payments of benefits to miners from the funds.

There have been charges—not of dishonesty, but of mismanagement in the way the fund had been handled—that it had never been set up on a sound basis.

But after the fund suspended payments, Lewis called his miners out on strike. This was Sept. 19. On Oct. 1 the steelworkers went on strike because the steel companies wouldn't meet their demands.

It's possible Lewis figured wrong when he struck on Sept. 19. He may have thought there'd be no steel strike.

But, if his coal miners struck, he would only be a matter of time before the steel mills ran out of coal. This would have been pressure on the mine owners to settle with Lewis and get coal mined.

But when the steelworkers struck, this shut down the mills. They did not need coal while their strike lasted.

So a good bit of the effectiveness of the coal strike—in so far as it touched the vital industry and therefore might bring pressure on the mine owners to settle with Lewis—was wasted.

When the strike started Sept. 19

Mr. Somers Speaker For Men's Club

Wednesday evening the Men's Fellowship club of the First Presbyterian church had as its guest speaker, Mr. W. F. Somers of Kinston.

Mr. Somers had just returned from Atlanta where one of the greatest meetings of Presbyterian men ever assembled took place. He stated there were 5700 men in attendance for the three days. Seventeen of the finest speakers of this country portrayed the work which is incumbent upon the laymen of the church. His constructive and inspirational talk was along the line of becoming better acquainted, the menace of atheism, and the spreading of Communism, and above all the closer communion with God, through prayer.

His audience listened with rapt attention, and many expressions of appreciation was given him for bringing this timely message.

The 45 men present enjoyed a wonderful dinner prepared by the ladies and thanks were expressed by Badger Johnson.

Guests for the occasion were Mr. Charles R. Leggett, Mr. W. N. Moore, Mr. Cliff Rhodus of Greenville and Mr. J. D. Gardner of Raleigh.

Members, keep open date for the next meeting to be Thursday, December 8th, which will be a Christmas program.

Service League Has Regular Meeting

The Service League held its regular monthly meeting Monday morning at 10:30 in Sheppard Memorial library with Mrs. James Little, president, presiding.

After the minutes of the October meeting were read and approved the secretary called the roll which was answered by the largest percentage of the membership for some time. Reports from various committees were heard. These revealed a full and successful month's work.

Mrs. W. L. Harrington, chairman of the Woman's Division of the Community Chest Drive, gave a splendid report, and highly commended the Service League members who participated in the drive. Also she expressed a desire that non-members, who so willingly gave their time to this most worthwhile cause, be informed that their services are greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Bryan Brown, chairman of the T. B. Seal Sale, distributed bonds to Service League members to sell next week. Mrs. Brown reported work coming along nicely on this very important project, citing the past year as the most active in the history of the T. B. Association in Pitt County.

A plea for old clothing was sent out since the stock in the Thrift Shop at the new location on Grand Avenue opposite the College View Cleaners, is rapidly being depleted.

The report of the finance committee was very satisfactory. Mrs. R. C. Stokes reporting for the Laughing-house bed made league members most grateful for a most deserving case being looked after for the month of October.

Prior to adjournment favors from tray decorations for the hospital were shown to the members.

Travelogue Given Before Cosmos Club

On Tuesday, November 1, the Cosmos Book club met with Mrs. William J. Davenport, Jr., at her home on East Fourth street. After a delicious dessert course with coffee was enjoyed, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Jr., president, called the meeting to order.

Guests for the afternoon, Mrs. Warren Davis and Mrs. Clay Burnette, were welcomed. An invitation to participate in the Christmas show sponsored by the Greenville Garden club was accepted. Announcements concerning Art Week were read and a note of greeting to our newly-formed club from the Sans Souci Book club was read and deeply appreciated.

Colonel and Mrs. Warren Davis presented an outstanding travelogue program and showed colored movies which they made while living in Germany with the American Occupational Forces. These lovely pictures took us on a cruise down the Rhine river, showing many of the medieval castles and small villages along the river banks. Bavaria and her Alps were breathtakingly beautiful. Colonel and Mrs. Davis gave an interesting narration while showing the films and our club is indebted to them for this enjoyable program.

After books were distributed by the librarian, the meeting was adjourned.

His audience listened with rapt attention, and many expressions of appreciation was given him for bringing this timely message.

The 45 men present enjoyed a wonderful dinner prepared by the ladies and thanks were expressed by Badger Johnson.

Guests for the occasion were Mr. Charles R. Leggett, Mr. W. N. Moore, Mr. Cliff Rhodus of Greenville and Mr. J. D. Gardner of Raleigh.

Members, keep open date for the next meeting to be Thursday, December 8th, which will be a Christmas program.

Service League Has Regular Meeting

The Service League held its regular monthly meeting Monday morning at 10:30 in Sheppard Memorial library with Mrs. James Little, president, presiding.

After the minutes of the October meeting were read and approved the secretary called the roll which was answered by the largest percentage of the membership for some time. Reports from various committees were heard. These revealed a full and successful month's work.

Mrs. W. L. Harrington, chairman of the Woman's Division of the Community Chest Drive, gave a splendid report, and highly commended the Service League members who participated in the drive. Also she expressed a desire that non-members, who so willingly gave their time to this most worthwhile cause, be informed that their services are greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Bryan Brown, chairman of the T. B. Seal Sale, distributed bonds to Service League members to sell next week. Mrs. Brown reported work coming along nicely on this very important project, citing the past year as the most active in the history of the T. B. Association in Pitt County.

A plea for old clothing was sent out since the stock in the Thrift Shop at the new location on Grand Avenue opposite the College View Cleaners, is rapidly being depleted.

The report of the finance committee was very satisfactory. Mrs. R. C. Stokes reporting for the Laughing-house bed made league members most grateful for a most deserving case being looked after for the month of October.

Prior to adjournment favors from tray decorations for the hospital were shown to the members.

Travelogue Given Before Cosmos Club

On Tuesday, November 1, the Cosmos Book club met with Mrs. William J. Davenport, Jr., at her home on East Fourth street. After a delicious dessert course with coffee was enjoyed, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Jr., president, called the meeting to order.

Guests for the afternoon, Mrs. Warren Davis and Mrs. Clay Burnette, were welcomed. An invitation to participate in the Christmas show sponsored by the Greenville Garden club was accepted. Announcements concerning Art Week were read and a note of greeting to our newly-formed club from the Sans Souci Book club was read and deeply appreciated.

Colonel and Mrs. Warren Davis presented an outstanding travelogue program and showed colored movies which they made while living in Germany with the American Occupational Forces. These lovely pictures took us on a cruise down the Rhine river, showing many of the medieval castles and small villages along the river banks. Bavaria and her Alps were breathtakingly beautiful. Colonel and Mrs. Davis gave an interesting narration while showing the films and our club is indebted to them for this enjoyable program.

After books were distributed by the librarian, the meeting was adjourned.

40 Years Ago Today

40 YEARS AGO IN THE DAILY REFLECTOR November 9, 1909

Thanksgiving is two weeks from today.

Some of the stores here are decorated with Training School colors, royal purple and old gold for the inaugural ceremonies tomorrow.

The banks in Greenville will be closed tomorrow on account of the inauguration at the Training School.

A bale of cotton was sold Wednesday for $90. The bale weighed about 700 pounds.

Attention Gold Star Mothers
Gold Star Mothers are asked to meet in the American Legion home Friday morning at 10 o'clock to be in the Armistice day parade. If you have no way to get to the home call Mrs. Frank Taylor or Mrs. G. L. Winters.

Eastern Pines Community News
With the Red Banks Home Demonstration club as co-workers with the Eastern Pines community club house builders practically all the exterior work is completed. With the promise of ornamental iron railings for the porch, everyone feels justly proud of the undertaking. Thanks to everyone.

On June 16 the ladies served dinner for an all-day work spell. The men declared that food had never tasted so good, served inside the structure in picnic style.

During August the annual Home Demonstration picnic supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Langford directed entertainment and recreation and an evening of meriment followed. One non-club member, who had already given $25, added another $5, declaring everything was worth it. Another city youngster, whose mother is ever active in civic and church affairs to raise funds, declared the nicest feature of all. "It was free!"

In September, the first Home Demonstration meeting was held, also the October meeting. On the 29th of October, a gay Halloween party was sponsored at which a substantial fund was raised. The highlights of fun seemed to be the jail with bars in one corner of the room. A policeman in uniform caused much hilarity when anyone guilty of a minor offense was promptly placed therein. A ball of 10c or 25c effected a release. One young lady whose escort was taken in was almost offended, not being on to the joke. Sincere apologies to same.

On Sunday, October 30th, Mrs. Talitha Bryant Hardee was honored with a birthday dinner and reunion of her immediate family and descendants at the building. She was 87 years old. The day was cold and rainy but with ample space for a large number of grandchildren and great grandchildren the room seemed a boon. A beautiful and sumptuous dinner was served in picnic style. With Mrs. Jewel Hardee Patrick at the piano, "Happy Birthday" was sung. J. B. Hardee, oldest son, returned thanks. L. T. Hardee, Sr., served hot barbecue.

At the conclusion of the meal, Mrs. Hardee, the honoree, who still retains her youthful look, her frame unburdened, served a lovely birthday cake. Mrs. Lon Tucker, her daughter, and her son, C. F. Hardee, were also present. Another citizen who was present gave a sizable donation for the project. Thanks! Who said the town brother did not cooperate with the country brother? We challenge the statement.

Announcement Made Of Lee-Gradden Engagement

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Edwina Blanche Gladden to Ensign William Westfall Lee, Jr., USN.

Miss Gladden is the daughter of Mrs. Pollock Gladden of Long Beach, California, and Pensacola, Florida, and Brig General Alton Arnold Gladden, USMC of Pasadena, California, and the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. William Andrew Jackson Pollock of Pensacola, Florida, and the late Professor and Mrs. Thomas L. Gladden of Annapolis, Maryland, and the great-niece of Mrs. Durward Pollock of Kinston, N. C., who was the former Frances Hoke of Raleigh, N. C.

Miss Gladden attended St. Matthew's school in Long Beach and was graduated from Annapolis High school, Annapolis, Maryland. She attended Georgetown Visitation convent, Washington, D. C., and Long Beach City College, where she was a member of Entre Nous Sorority. She is also a member of Tau Omicron Phi Sorority.

Ensign Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Westfall Lee of Greenville, North Carolina. He attended McCallie Military School, Chattanooga, Tennessee, and North Carolina State College, Raleigh, North Carolina, where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in the class of 1948B.

The wedding will take place at Annapolis, Maryland, on December 21st in the Main Chapel of the Navy Academy.

They will reside in Boston, Massachusetts, where Ensign Lee is stationed aboard the USS Salem.

Mr. Somers Speaker For Men's Club

Wednesday evening the Men's Fellowship club of the First Presbyterian church had as its guest speaker, Mr. W. F. Somers of Kinston.

Mr. Somers had just returned from Atlanta where one of the greatest meetings of Presbyterian men ever assembled took place. He stated there were 5700 men in attendance for the three days. Seventeen of the finest speakers of this country portrayed the work which is incumbent upon the laymen of the church. His constructive and inspirational talk was along the line of becoming better acquainted, the menace of atheism, and the spreading of Communism, and above all the closer communion with God, through prayer.

His audience listened with rapt attention, and many expressions of appreciation was given him for bringing this timely message.

The 45 men present enjoyed a wonderful dinner prepared by the ladies and thanks were expressed by Badger Johnson.

Guests for the occasion were Mr. Charles R. Leggett, Mr. W. N. Moore, Mr. Cliff Rhodus of Greenville and Mr. J. D. Gardner of Raleigh.

Bridge Party Fetes Miss McGlohon

Miss Flora Nell McGlohon, bride-elect of Winterville, was honored at a bridge party Monday evening by Mrs. Vernon White and Mrs. Druid Hobgood at the home of Mrs. Hobgood.

Arrangements of white and yellow chrysanthemums with ivy were used throughout the home. The dining room table was the scene of a miniature bride before an altar of candles, and white chrysanthemums arranged with ivy.

The honoree was presented a corsage and a gift of crystal in her pattern, by the hostesses, Mrs. Kenneth Dews, a recent bride, was remembered with a gift.

At the conclusion of four progresses of play high score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gertrude Spier, and Mrs. Norma Forbes. Mrs. Woodrow Worthington received floating prize.

Refreshments in bridal design were served to the following guests: Misses McGlohon, Lois Edwards, Alice Hunsucker, Mesdames Ernest Spain, Gertrude Spier, Paul Clark, Mamie Liverman, Jessie Rollins, Dick Gorman, Norma Forbes, Richard Cannon, Jr., Wayland Hunsucker, Ralph Worthington, Woodrow Worthington, Kenneth Dews, and Leon Evans.

Friday Meeting For Symphony Sponsors

Dr. Benjamin W. Swalin, conductor of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, asks that all persons interested in bringing the North Carolina Symphony to Greenville this year meet him in the Greenville High School "Library" Friday night, Nov. 11, 7:30 to 8:30. The meeting will last only one hour.

Miss Outland To Head Nurses Club

The Greenville Nurses club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 3, at 8 p. m. at the nurses home with Misses Davis and Bunn as hostesses. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. O. C. Noble. During the business session the following slate of officers was elected for the new year: President, Miss Grace Outland; vice president, Mrs. C. D. Bass; secretary Mrs. Day Johnston; treasurer, Miss Davenport Fleming.

After the business Mrs. Alton Clapp was presented and she brought the highlights from the state nurses meeting held in High Point October 23-27. She urged all nurses to acquaint themselves with the Brown report and the bill H. R. 5940.

Following the meeting a social hour was held and the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Praise Donations By Chain Stores

Community Chest campaign of officials today had high praise for the work of the local members of the chain stores council who have collected over 100 per cent of their assigned quota in the Greenville Community Chest drive.

On the opening day of the Community Chest drive Chairman James A. Taylor of the local council presented Campaign Chairman Badger Johnson with checks amounting to $435.33—approximately 85 per cent of the quota assigned to the local members of the chain stores council.

Before the end of last week, Taylor had turned over to the Community Chest officials $52.35—over the 100 per cent mark for the chain stores—and still had one member of the council yet to report.

Taylor said the contributions came from the business and the employees alike.

Campaign Chairman Johnson said this morning, "The latest report shows the local members of the chain stores council well over 100 per cent of their Community Chest quota. This type of activity sets a high standard for our other contributors and we are grateful for their fine cooperation."

Thinks Letters To Senator Are 'Ineffective'

Cleveland, Nov. 10—(AP)—How much good does it do to write a letter to your senator in Washington?

Regretfully, Senator Robert A. Taft's wife, Marjha, says she feels many such letters are "rather ineffective"—particularly in the populous states like Ohio.

The Ohio Republican senator, she told Cleveland members

Future Homemakers Of District Meet Nov. 12

The District One Future Homemakers Federation will convene in Farmville Saturday for their annual District Rally.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, dean at East Carolina Teachers College, will be guest speaker for the occasion which will begin at 9:30 and last throughout the day.

The principal address will come near the close of the morning session. Dr. Jenkins will be introduced by Ann Moye of the Tarboro chapter.

Registration for the event will get underway at 9:30 under the direction of the Grimesland chapter. Group singing, led by Jeon Jackson with Miss Ona Shindler at the piano, will officially open the celebration.

Greetings will be extended by S.

D. Bundy, principal of the Farmville schools, and Toddy Smith, president of the Pitt County FHA Federation.

A business meeting is also on the docket for the morning session.

A devotional and special singing by Geraldine Gregory of Perquimans and a quartet from the Windsor chapter will be among the highlights of the morning program. The Edenton chapter is in charge of the devotional.

Group singing and the naming of candidates for State Historian will conclude the morning program. The State Historian will be elected at the afternoon session.

Entertainment including singing, dancing and impersonations, will be features of the afternoon program.

Committee reports and the FHA prayer sing will conclude the meeting.

Truman To Lead Tribute At Tomb

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—Americans observe Armistice Day tomorrow—the 31st anniversary of the ending of World War I.

President Truman will lead a long parade of notables to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier for wreath-laying ceremonies.

George N. Craig, national commander of the American Legion, will make an Armistice Day address in the Arlington Amphitheater shortly afterward.

Mrs. William Frederick Carrico

Carrico-Satterwhite Henderson.—Miss Virginia Dare Satterwhite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Satterwhite, of Henderson, became the bride of William Frederick Carrico, also of Henderson, son of Mrs. Stella F. Carrico, of Greenville, and the late S. B. Carrico, of Washington, in a private ceremony solemnized Saturday, November 5, at 11 o'clock at the Main Street Baptist church in Emporia, Virginia.

Rev. O. Edwyn Luttrell was the officiating minister for the double ring ceremony.

The couple entered together and spoke their vows unattended.

For the ceremony the bride wore a taupe dress of pebbled crepe. It was styled with a vagabond collar, smooth shoulders with deep armholes. The skirt featured soft, unpressed pleats. Her matching hat was designed by Ruby Art. She used wine bag and shoes. Her double or-child corsage was of lavender with purple and yellow throats.

Following a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the couple will make their home at 203 Harrison avenue in Henderson.

Mrs. Carrico is a graduate of Henderson High School and at the time of her marriage she was employed as bookkeeper at R. E. Satterwhite & Sons Company in Henderson.

Mr. Carrico graduated at Greenville High School. He served three years with the Air Force and was in overseas service for 27 months. He is manager of the Henderson office of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is also a member of the Henderson Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Slow Count For Philippine Vote

Manila, Nov. 10—(AP)—President Elpidio Quirino's lead over two opponents mounted slowly today as tardy returns filtered in from Tuesday's Presidential election.

Unofficial returns at dusk gave Quirino 1,123,940 votes. Trailing him was Jose Laurel, favored by leftists and critic of United States and Philippines' policy, with 902,833. Jose Avelino, third party candidate had 249,813.

Forty-eight hours after the election Quirino was not inclined to issue a victory statement. Nor was Nacionalista candidate Laurel in a mood to concede defeat.

Oldtimers who have watched the slow pace of election returns in these Islands since 1935, when it became a commonwealth, had one answer: once the trend is established government poll officials who are on a daily pay system like to stretch out their jobs at five to 15 pesos ($2.50 to $7.50) a day as long as possible. These sources pointed out that official counts are always slow for that reason.

The Nacionalista party had another explanation. In a statement tonight veteran party President Eulogio Rodriguez said: "We still hope that excluding illegal votes our candidates will emerge victorious."

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE ROAD TEST

After the garage mechanic has tuned up the automobile engine, he gives the car a road test. He takes it out on the highway, subjecting it to the conditions under which it will be run for the next month or so. He listens for squeaks, engine knocks, or anything else that will indicate an abnormal condition either in the engine or in the body of the car. A faithful job of tuning up the motor is never complete until the car gets a road test.

Have you ever thought of giving your religion a road test? Do you believe in the creeds of your church? If you do, that's fine. Perhaps you are regular in church attendance. You may even go further and hold some office in the church, or perhaps you may be quite diligent in reading your Bible and saying your prayers every day.

But have you ever given these beliefs a road test? Have you ever tried them against the hard realities of life? Have you ever paid strict attention to your personal religious experience, to discover whether it has about it the squeak of intolerance? Maybe you have fine religious beliefs but they may not be working together in the production of a first-rate Christian life—hitting on all cylinders of the road test. It might help.

OUR ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION

November 11th, Armistice Day, is an occasion for remembrance of the price of war in terms of blood and lives as well as a day to contemplate the blessings of peace.

Each Armistice Day is slightly different from others in terms of hope for future peace and in this respect Armistice Day 1949 can claim a mingling of both optimism and caution.

We in Pitt county will observe the day with a parade and the presence of distinguished North Carolinians. There will be flags and soldiers, bands and marching men and boys.

But it will be a speech by Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray which will be the keynote of the celebration. His appearance in Greenville is a rare honor. Any one of America's greatest cities would welcome him, and we can afford to take pride in his coming to our community for this occasion.

Around Capitol Square

BRIEFING—Governor Scott has spent a good deal of time during the past few days in conference with various and sundry people for the purpose, he says, of being brought up to date on what is happening throughout the state. Monday afternoon it was a group of labor union officials, including AFL, CIO and Independents. "Just talking about conditions in general," said the governor when asked what specific questions were discussed. Tuesday morning several groups conferred with the governor, among them state highway and prison administrative officials. "Nothing very special, just reviewing developments in the prison system over the past few weeks," again said the governor when asked about the conference.

STRIKES—Despite non-committal response from others attending the conference and the governor's denial of specific subject matter, it is believed on basis information obtained from reliable sources, that rather specific matters were discussed. The prolonged strike at Hart Cotton Mills in Tarboro almost certainly got consideration.

JITTERY—Except for the Hart Mills affair there is no serious labor disturbance in North Carolina. Ab-

WHEE-E-E- THAT MEANS I'M GONNA WIN IN 1950!

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

This morning Wife Rachel and I left for New York on our delayed third honeymoon. The first was spent in New Orleans, the second in Williamsburg, and the third anniversary in the Kinston municipal stadium during the baseball season. Despite the fact that the Greens won both games of the double-header, W. R. and I refused to consider the trip our third honeymoon.

If you readers notice that the columns are unusually stale and un-local from now until Wednesday it's because they were written last week. If I can find a typewriter in New York (the Reflector linotypists could never read my handwriting) that rents for a reasonable sum we'll send you a column from there.

Somebody Told Me that it's foolish to go to New York to see Notre Dame play Carolina, when you can see the same thing at J. N. Williams' slaughter pen. It reminded him that the game is merely one of the scheduled highlights. A true sports fan can just sit in Yankee Stadium and let the greatness of it sink in, game or no game.

There is no danger of a New Yorker speaking to a friendly Southerner, but if one would we can tell him that it was the Carolina coach, Carl Snavelly, who helped the Notre Dame coach, Frank Leahy, get a start in football. It was on Snavelly's recommendation that Boston College hired Leahy some years ago.

Everybody expects Carolina to lose, so if we do it'll be no disappointment. And a loss by Carolina can't detract from a drama like "Streetcar Named Desire," a comedy like "Kiss Me Kate," or a musical like "South Pacific." Of course the biggest hit of the season because scalpers are the only source of tickets, and they're asking something like $25 for a $4.80 ticket. The production makes about $7,000 a night, while scalpers make $18,000 on the same show. In a year, it is estimated, the show will make three million, while the parasites make a cool eight million.

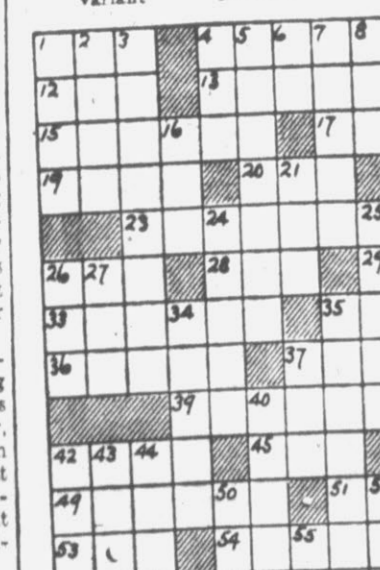

Sometimes I think this is a man's world, and other times I

He began playing bridge at the age of 7. Since 1930 he has won the Vanderbilt Cup, the Kentucky Derby of tournament bridge, six times. Precociously runs in his tribe. "My father entered college at 14, I entered at 15 and my son at 16," he said, smiling. "I guess the family is petering out."

He quit Columbia University at 19 to become the nation's youngest life insurance actuary. "And I'm still a consulting actuary," he said. "I'm not in cards for a business."

But they are a nice good-paying hobby. Jacoby says there is no card game that can be played perfectly and that if someone invented a machine that could—"A good player could beat it because he could predict what the machine would do."

His tip to amateurs: To play any card game well you have to avoid patterns. "As you grow older you tend to fall into patterns," he said. "But once a great player gets read by others, he falls into the second rank. It put the late P. Harold Sims, a fine player, out of championship bridge by figuring out that he invariably made certain plays on certain card holdings. I was the first to figure him out. You have to vary your game."

Why is he so good? "There are card players with better memories than mine, but none is as good a mathematician. I also have a fast mind. I'm unreadable—so far at least—and I can out-guess other people."

Jacoby feels that Canasta isn't a brief craze like Ma-Jong but will stay popular a long time. "It has already hit the sale of bridge supplies," he said. "It is much easier to play than bridge, but harder to play well. It has more psychology, fewer rules and more com-cheaper." And if you have trouble learning it at first don't worry—in a four-player game there are 344,985,116,783,580 possible hands.

Kids Played With Hoard Of Dangerous Explosives

Houston, Tex., Nov. 10—(AP)—Five boys found 16 hand grenades in a muddy bayou this week. They played with them for two days. Not a grenade exploded. An ammunition expert Sol Cohen said the boys were lucky they didn't get blown to bits. The grenades appeared old. But Cohen, chief ammunition inspector at the San Jacinto Ordnance Depot, said some explosives can stay under water for years—without losing their power. Theodore Buselmier, 15, Joe Oubre, 13, Lee Wilson, 11, David McWilliams, 12, and Dan Davidson, 11, found the grenades Monday. One boy said he dropped a grenade on a sidewalk—just to scare a girl. One of the boys' parents called Army and Air Force experts. They found 37 more grenades and a bazooka rocket in the bayou. Nobody knew how the stuff got there. The experts, who ordered the lot destroyed, said the shells were too dangerous to be unloaded, even at the depot. But one had already been unloaded. Young Buselmier did it—with a screwdriver.

May Be Nervous

Chicago—(AP)—A robber strode into Hiram Bloodgood's grocery He shoved Bloodgood against a shelf. Down came a deluge of canned goods. The robber tried to hurdle the counter, but tripped. Down with him went a pile of boxed eggs and doughnuts. The robber yanked out the cash drawer. The money rained down on the litter of merchandise on the floor. The robber stooped, plucked a $20 bill and left, without throwing a single custard pie.

Cites Relationship Of Music and Drama In Music Club Talk

Dr. Lucile H. Charles, director of speech and the drama in the department of English at East Carolina Teachers College, spoke Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Greenville Music Club held at the Woman's Club of the city. Her talk pointed out relationships between music and the drama and was illustrated with readings from the modern drama. Dr. Charles was introduced to the group by George E. Perry, program director of the music club. Music and the drama, Dr. Charles said, appeal to the senses of sight and sound. "Incidental music," she stated, "is an integral part of the whole drama; whereas drama in music meets man's desire for rhythmic experiences through changes in pitch, rhythm, and tone color." Special attention of music club members was called, at a business session preceding the program, to a meeting of citizens of Greenville Friday evening, November 11, at 7:30 at the Greenville High School to discuss a program for the city by the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Benjamin Swalin, director of the Symphony Orchestra, will be present and will assist with plans to bring the state music organization here this season.

Six Cities Seek UDC Home Site

New Orleans, Nov. 10—(AP)—Six cities have invited the United Daughters of the Confederacy to establish their National Headquarters within their limits but none has offered to be host to the 1950 convention.

Mrs. John Francis Weinhann of Little Rock, Ark., chairing president General, said in the absence of invitations the matter has been tee, and it is up to the committee to find a meeting place.

She explained that "it is becoming increasingly difficult to find a convention site and for that reason we are anxious to establish a permanent headquarters."

The matter of a permanent headquarters is to be discussed today. Bids have been received from Richmond, Va., Charleston, S. C., Atlanta, Ga., Savannah Ga., Montgomery Ala., and Jackson, Miss.

At last night's session a citation for distinguished writing was presented to Dr. Robert Henry Self of Nashville, Tenn.

Taxes Boosted On State Levels

Chicago—(AP)—State legislatures pushed many taxes up to higher levels this year. The Commerce Clearing House, a private organization which compiles reports on tax and business laws, issued a summary that showed $2 tax hikes. The tax increases were on gasoline in 15 states, liquor in ten, cigarettes in nine, personal income in eight, corporate income in six and sales in four. In addition, new taxes were placed on sales in three states, on cigarettes in two and on liquor in one.

The first steel nails were made in this country in 1879.

Advices Buying Turkey Before Prices Get High

College Station, Raleigh, Nov. 10.—Planning to have turkey on the menu for Thanksgiving? It's a good meat buy—cheaper than steak and cheaper even than beef stew in many stores.

But if you want to be sure of getting your turkey at present prices, you'd better buy it now and use it immediately or store it in a deep freezer or freezer locker, says Lee W. Herrick, Jr., extension turkey specialist at State College.

Herrick points out that turkey prices usually go up a little just before Thanksgiving. In fact, he says, favorable prices have been moving the birds into consumption channels so much faster than usual that there may be a short supply and high prices by Christmas.

Another reason December turkeys may be scarce is that growers did not start as many late pullets this year, Herrick adds.

Terming turkey "an economy meat," the State College specialist says the low prices have been due to the unusually large number of birds produced this year. Many families have been taking advantage of this economy, he asserts, by eating turkey every month in the year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's new Farmers Bulletin No. 2011, "Turkey on the Table the Year Round," has proved to be quite popular. Single copies are available from the Department's Office of Information, Washington, 25, D. C.

Waited Almost A Year For Trial

Beaufort, S. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Victor Strojny, 35, waited almost a year for his murder trial, but it lasted only a few hours yesterday and the cattle rancher went free.

The state decided that it lacked evidence to prove that he killed his wealthy neighbor, William Moseley Swain, 36, last December.

Swain, sportsman and son of a Philadelphia newspaper publishing family, was found in a pool of blood at the bottom of a staircase in his plantation home, Belfair.

Solicitor Randolph Murdaugh's abrupt motion for a nol pro (no prosecution) was granted by the judge.

Sheriff J. E. McTeer testified Strojny testified he had been drinking with Swain and heard a noise as he was leaving. Strojny said he called an ambulance which took Swain to a hospital where he died, the sheriff told the jury.

Elizabeth Drake In Piano Recital

Elizabeth Drake of Scotland Neck, faculty member of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers College, gave a recital of compositions for the piano at a meeting last Tuesday evening of the Parent - Teacher Association of Maury. Miss Drake was presented to members of the organization by Ruby Jones, teacher of music in the Maury school.

The program for the evening was made up of selections by classic, romantic, and modern composers, including Bach, Chopin, Brahms, Debussy, and Rameau. Especially popular with the audience was a modern selection "Hillbilly" by Morton Gould. An informal reception given by Maury PTA members in honor of Miss Drake followed the recital.

Squash, Cucumbers, Green Peppers, Tomatoes, Onions And Eggplant Make Vegetable Cups To Be Stuffed With Delicious Riceland Rice And Meat Mixture; Then Baked

Bake Vegetable Cups Stuffed With Riceland Rice And Meat

Vegetables make wonderful cups for stuffing with flavorsome mixtures of Riceland Rice and meat . . . and baking with a tasty topping of grated cheese.

Yellow or green squash, onions, turnips, tomatoes, green peppers, eggplant and even cucumbers may be used for these attractive vegetable cups as shown in the above photograph.

Use whichever vegetable you prefer, but be sure to use genuine Riceland Rice in making the stuffing because Riceland Rice is the world's most delicious rice. It's grown in the heart of the Quality Rice Belt of America. Only choice, perfect-cooking rice grains are packed in packages labeled Riceland Rice.

To Make Vegetable Cups For Stuffing

Use yellow or green squash, onions, turnips, tomatoes, green peppers, eggplant or cucumbers. All of them—except the tomatoes—require some parboiling before they're stuffed, and it's better to scoop out the inside before boiling (except in the case of a temperamental onion, which gives up its center sections easier after the cooking process). Just hollow out and parboil your choice vegetable until almost tender. Remove from the water. Drain. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and they're ready for stuffing.

To Make Riceland Rice And Meat Stuffing

- Cooked Riceland Rice
- Cooked meat or fish, minced
- Chopped onion
- Minced parsley
- Worcestershire sauce
- Salt and pepper
- Bread crumbs
- Butter
- Grated Cheese

Make a stuffing of equal quantities of fluffy cooked Riceland Rice and minced leftover cooked meat or fish. Add a dash of chopped onion, minced parsley, Worcestershire sauce as you like and salt and pepper to taste.

Toss the mixture together lightly with a fork. Pack into the cavity of the prepared vegetable with a gentle hand (do not mash). Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Dot generously with butter and perhaps a little grated cheese.

Arrange the stuffed vegetables on a baking pan, add just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan and bake at 350 degrees until lightly browned and hot all the way through. If you use tomatoes for the vegetable cups stuff them raw . . . the baking process will be sufficient to cook them to a luscious softness.

And here's a party note: If you want to add a festive air to the meal, scallop the edges of the vegetable cups as is the yellow squash in the foreground of the picture above. Serve with a cheese sauce!

Vegetable cups may be parboiled, seasoned and even stuffed in the morning, then refrigerated until almost dinner time. Be sure, however, to heat them very thoroughly all the way through!

Note: This recipe calls for cooked Riceland Rice. Cooking Riceland Rice is quick and easy because only choice, perfect-cooking rice grains are packed in Riceland packages. Here's how simple it is to cook this wonderful rice:

To Cook Riceland Rice: Put 2 cups of Riceland Rice, 2 teaspoons of salt and 4 cups of cold water in a large saucepan and cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Always use Riceland Rice for best results.

Riceland Rice Is Easy To Cook! Tender! Fluffy!

To get the best results with this recipe and all rice recipes, be sure to use Riceland Rice. It's the world's most delicious rice—grown in the heart of the quality rice belt of America. Only the choice, perfect-cooking rice grains are packed in Riceland packages.

This quality rice is quick and easy to cook. Riceland Rice cooks deliciously tender with white, fluffy, individual grains.

Most grocers now feature this better-cooking, wonderfully-delicious packaged rice—and at economical prices, too! Riceland Rice costs only one-cent a serving.

Phantoms At Top Strength For Roanoke Rapids Clash

Two Week Rest Refreshes Local Squad For Friday Contest; Take Field As Favorites

A Greenville high school football team, at top strength for the first time since early season contests, bared its fangs today and poised to invade the home gridiron of the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets Friday afternoon.

Refreshed after a two week rest, the Phantoms invade the Roanoke Rapids field as favorites, a role they have not played since defeating Scotland Neck's little Blues 33-6 more than a month ago.

Only the absence of Coach Bo Farley may tend to hamper the Phantoms. School officials reported this morning that Farley, as a result of a recent operation, will not be able to attend the Roanoke Rapids game.

The Phantoms will be under the capable guidance of Woody Wilson who played a great part in helping mold the inexperienced Greenville forward wall into a staunch defensive aggregation.

The Greenville club, which hit a new peak in its last game with a passing attack unparalleled in the conference this season, has been installed locally as a two touchdown favorite and many conference followers are picking them to way lay the Rapids Jackets by an even greater score.

The margin of victory will probably depend on the success the Greenville team has with its passing attack. Bobby Flye, an underclassman quarterback, did the major part of the Phantoms hurling when they completed 11 consecutive aerials here two weeks ago to force a highly touted Elizabeth City aggregation to have to muster a last period rally to win.

Greenville completed 12 of 18 passes in the game.

Nor should the Phantoms have to rely wholly on their passes to defeat Roanoke Rapids. The Greenville running attack, sparked by leading candidate for all-conference honors Jimmy Cox, made long drives in all of their last three games, all of which were played against teams which are rated far superior to Roanoke Rapids.

The numerous small injuries suffered by the Phantoms in going through their last three games, which were the heaviest contests of the season for the locals, have all healed, Coach Wilson reported today.

He said his boys will be in top shape for the Roanoke Rapids game.

A win over Roanoke Rapids would mark the second in conference play for the Phantoms who opened their season by defeating Edenton's Aces 13-6. A win would likewise label as a top-up next week's battle with Washington's Pam Pack here. Should the Phantoms lose Friday the Pam Pack would hold a decisive edge.

Roanoke Rapids is weak this year. They have failed to win a conference game all season and at last report had not scored in the conference. Elizabeth City defeated them 48-0 while the same team managed but a 9-6 win over the Phantoms.

Red Press Says 'Warmongers' Hit In N. Y. Election

Berlin, Nov. 10—(AP)—The official Soviet army newspaper today said New York State's choice of Herbert Lehman for a seat in the U. S. Senate was a "blow at the warmongers."

The newspaper Taenichs Rundschau said Lehman was elected over Republican John Foster Dulles because Lehman had been a close friend of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The defeat of Dulles, the newspaper said, eliminates "warmonger number one" from the American political scene. It called the election "a symptom of great importance."

Dulles incurred Russian displeasure during his activities as a U. S. delegate in the United Nations Assembly.

Pro Basketball Makes Debut At Garden Tonight

New York, Nov. 10—(AP)—Professional basketball makes its 1949-50 debut at Madison Square Garden tonight with last year's University of Kentucky quintet, now the Indianapolis Olympians, pitted against the New York Knicks.

Attendance at the game may provide an indication how the pro cage sport will draw in its third year at the big eighth avenue arena.

The Olympians are perhaps finding things more difficult than they anticipated in the National Basketball Association. They won their opening game, but since then have taken it on the chin twice in successive games. Last night, for instance, they absorbed a 19-7 lacing at Syracuse from the Syracuse Nationals.

The Anderson Packers and Chicago Stags beat the Tri-City Blackhawks and Rochester Royals, respectively, in a doubleheader at the Chicago Stadium, but both had to go overtime.

Anderson went three overtimes to trip Tri-City, 102-99. The Stags took the Royals, 75-72, in a single extra period.

With Dick O'Keefe holding the usually high scoring Joe Fulks without a point in the first half, the Washington Caps beat the Philadelphia Warriors, 84-69, at the Philadelphia arena. The Winless Denver outfit took its fifth straight defeat in the other league game of the night, a 80-65 pasting from the Waterloo Hawks at Waterloo, Ia.

Asks Mercy For 4 Korean Killers

Seoul, Nov. 10—(AP)—Dr. Horace H. Underwood, American missionary and educator, today asked clemency for four young Koreans condemned to death for slaying his wife.

The kindly missionary appealed by letter to President Syngman Rhee. The government made public this part of the letter:

"My dear wife had a deep and strong love for Koreans of every class and especially for the young people of Korea. It was her hope and it is our hope that the people of Korea may more and more come to know Jesus Christ and to have—no death—but a more abundant life. It is not our wish that any Korean should die because of us or because of our family."

Dr. Underwood said the slayers deserved punishment "for crimes against this country and against civilized law and order." But he expressed belief the 60-year-old Mrs. Underwood would not want her slayers executed.

Mrs. Underwood was shot by two hooded gunmen at her home last March 17. At the time she was giving a tea for the wives of faculty members of Chosen Christian College, which she and her husband founded.

Free New Funds For Road Work

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 10—(AP)—The budget bureau has freed $196,000 more for the state's secondary road bond program.

Bureau officials said the new allotment will be used for work in the first and third highway divisions.

The first request for bond funds—for $21,000,000—was approved by the bureau two weeks ago.

The 20,046 persons who watched the Washington Capitals play the Chicago Stags at Chicago in 1949, made up the largest crowd ever to see a pro basketball game.

Students Try Pancake Enterprise; Goal—'To Rebuild Findlay College'

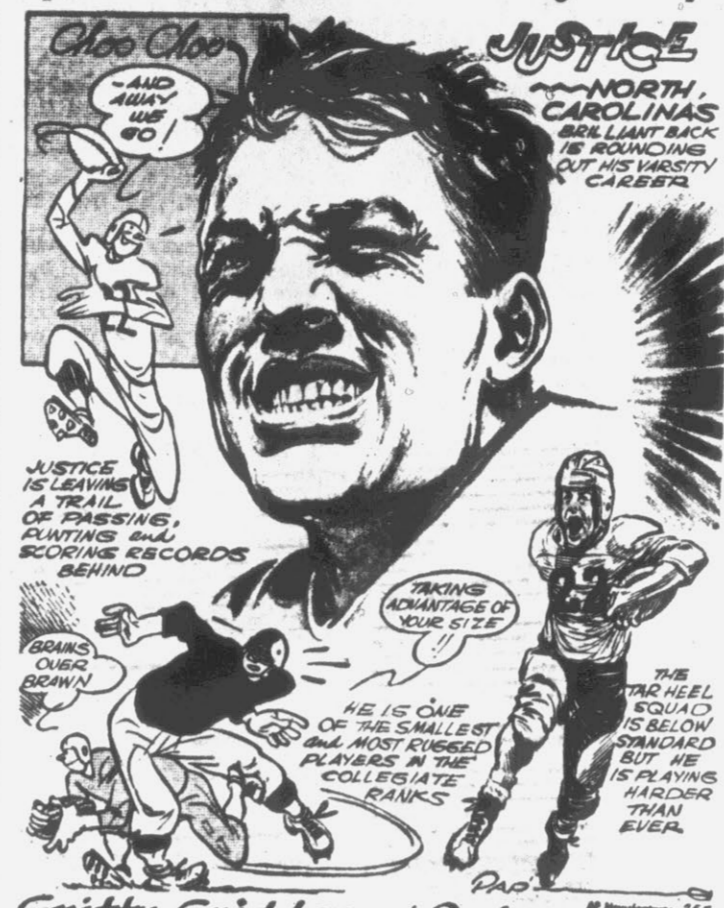

Defiance, O., Nov. 10—(AP)—If Defiance College students eat enough pancakes and sausages tonight, they may have enough money to 'rebuild Findlay College.'

The fund-raising pancake enterprise is the last of several aimed at raising $12. That's the amount for which Findlay College billed the Defiance student council.

Seems there was some paint smeared around on various exposed objects on the Findlay campus the

Gritty Griddler... 4 Rep

Coach Carl Snaveley wasn't merely singing the blues when he hinted at the start of the current season that the Tar Heels of North Carolina were below par. Few took Snaveley seriously, most of the experts pointing out that North Carolina still had Charlie Justice—a one-man football team.

Justice is a great football player. He has been that for three seasons and in this, his final varsity fling, should hit his peak. The fabulous Choo-Choo is playing the game with all the gusto, skill and grace that made him one of the nation's outstanding gridders. But he doesn't have the material to work with this season and the defeats suffered by the Tar Heels have tarnished his brilliant reputation.

Coach Snaveley always emphasizes one point when extolling Justice's merits—first, last and always he is a team player. Choo-Choo is certain to leave a string of scoring records in his wake. His place among the all-time greats of North Carolina is assured. "I have never seen a more unselfish football player," his coach says. It's a pity this gritty little griddler could not have wound up his collegiate career with a strong Tar Heel team, one that deserved to be captained by a player of his mettle.

Fighter Again Involved In Dispute On Decision

Detroit, Nov. 10—(AP)—Young Lester Felton of Detroit, who is fast becoming one of the most controversial figures in boxing, was back in the headlines today—this time because he did not win a fight.

The 20-year-old Negro welterweight soared into national prominence Oct. 21 when he got an unpopular decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a fight here that touched off a probe by the State Boxing Commission and police.

Felton returned to ring warfare last night and wound up with a ten-round draw at Olympia Stadium with rough Tony Pellone of New York.

Most of the 8,867 fans and the newspapermen thought Felton had won.

'Quite Doubtful' If Choo Choo To Play Saturday

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 10—(AP)—Coach Carl Snaveley said today "It is quite doubtful" that all-American Charlie Justice will play Saturday for the University of North Carolina in a football game with Notre Dame.

The triple-threat tailback will accompany the squad when it leaves late today for New York.

Justice hasn't responded too well to treatment for a sprained ankle suffered against William and Mary last Saturday, Snaveley said. He worked out with the squad yesterday but, Snaveley said, his showing was "very disappointing."

Coach Walker To Be Wilson Guest

Wilson, Nov. 10—Douglas Clyde "Peahead" Walker, coach of the Wake Forest college football team will be the speaker at the first annual all-eastern high school banquet of the Wilson Touchdown club here, November 29.

The announcement of the speaker came today from Littlejohn Faulkner, mayor of Wilson and president of the local touchdown organization.

Tornadoes, Robersonville In Final Contest Of Season

Ayden high school's terrific Tornadoes, undefeated in Coastal Athletic conference play, will play host to Robersonville's gridders in Ayden Friday afternoon in the annual homecoming for Ayden high school.

It will be the last game of the season for Coach Stuart Tripp's Tornadoes who have scored searing defeats over every opponent to face them in the conference and lost a single game this season to Greenville's Phantoms by a narrow 14-13 margin.

Kickoff time is 3 o'clock. As in most of their game this year the Ayden boys will be highly avored. Robersonville has won but a single game. The Robersonville squad gained its lone victory last week by defeating South Edgemore 19-12.

Barring a tremendous upset the game will officially give the Coastal Conference championship to the boys at Ayden high school. They were virtually assured of the crown three weeks ago when they defeated Farmville 13-0. Farmville, until then, was undefeated.

In view of its unimpressive record the school from Robersonville has been installed a four or five touchdown underdog by most fans. Robersonville will be bucking one of the heaviest and best coached teams in the conference. The Ayden line has displayed its power in every game so far this season, showing amazing strength in holding Farmville's highly rated offensive team scoreless and limiting Greenville's Class A Phantoms to two tallies.

Coach Tripp's backs, spark-plugged by Leonard Bullock at quarterback, have been likewise impressive all year. They have refused to be stopped by any team they have met and few fans are predicting that the forward wall of Robersonville will cause them any grave difficulty.

But the Tornadoes, determined not to lose the championship they are now almost certain of annexing, went through heavy drills this week in preparation for the Friday afternoon game. An upset, however remote the chances of such appear now, would drop the Tornadoes into a tie with Farmville for the lead and write an inglorious finish to an otherwise very successful football season.

Coach Claims Most Cage Players Wasting Effort

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—Most collegiate basketball players waste too much time trying to be fancy duns, says Coach Burt O'Grady of Georgetown University.

He's pretty sure he knows what he's talking about.

"You see, I used to be a fancy Dan myself," he said today.

A fancy Dan is a dribble happy player who goes in for cute passes, preferably behind his back, and specializes in other dikes that will get an A-A-A-H from the crowd.

"They ought to lay off that fancy stuff," O'Grady said. "The whole point of basketball is to get that ball in the hole. Anything else is so much wasted motion."

The 28-year-old O'Grady, a former Georgetown star spent three years as a pro, with the Washington Capitols and the St. Louis Bombers.

He never was a top star, but he isn't sure that matters.

"I got to watch the best in the business," he said. "And there on the sub' bench, I always had a seat

Columbia Lions On First Tour

New York—(AP)—Columbia University's basketball team will make its first cross-country tour this season, playing six games during the Christmas recess.

Coach Gordon Ridings Lions meet Illinois at Champaign on Dec. 27. Then they play at Denver on Dec. 29 and move on to the Pacific northwest to take on Washington at Seattle on Dec. 30 and 31. On Jan. 2 and 3 Columbia meets Oregon in two games.

A non-stop flight from the coast will bring the Lions back east in time for their Eastern Intercollegiate League game against Princeton on Jan. 8.

Big Bull Moose Is Slain By Bow

Helena, Mont.—(AP)—Waldo Newton recently flattened a bull moose (weighing at least 1,100 pounds) with a bow and arrow. It was Newton's first moose. But he has previously slain black and brown bear and deer and elk with bow and arrow.

For the moose he used a bow with a pull of 57 pounds. His arrows were 27 inches long with heads more than an inch wide. The heads were made of clock-spring steel.

Newton's first shot was wide. The second entered between the ribs, through the heart and came out of a shoulder.

Sugar Ray In Clowning Mood

Denver, Nov. 10—(AP)—It was like a cat toying with a mouse last night as Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight champion, breezed to a 10-round decision over sturdy Don Lee of Edison, Nehr.

The champion, weighing 155, clowning most of the way until the last two rounds of the non-title bout. He jabbed Lee continuously with a sharp left to those stanzas but didn't try for a knockout.

Couple Close Down Lion Farm When Youth And Agility Gone

Monte, Calif., Nov. 10—(AP)—"It takes youth and agility to handle lions . . ." Charles Gay spoke the words quietly, sadly, as he eyed the sign that proclaimed his life's work ended.

The sign outside the internationally famed Gay's lion farm read: "Closed, until further notice."

But there will be no further notice. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay have announced that their showplace, shuttered "for the duration" in 1942, will be put up for sale instead of reopened.

The couple is no longer young. And Gay wears livid scars, souvenirs left by tearing claws on the four occasions he was mauled, to remind him that agility is paramount in handling lions.

The Gays are leaving their farm, but they can look back on a quarter century of thrills and dangers, the substance of memories to last them their lifetimes.

The pair began their extraordinary venture July 1, 1925, when they opened their jungle compound with 57 lions. When they closed the door in 1942, 217 big cats stalked the concrete pens.

In that period hundreds of thousands of visitors toured the 330 by 680 foot wooded farm. Lions clubs held countless banquets, feasting on broiled and fried lion meat. Several rare white cubs were born. Gay and his wife became two of the most skillful lion trainers in the world.

Two trainers lost their lives on occasions when the Gays were away.

The best known act, the one that held spectators enthralled, was that in which Mrs. Gay lay on a blanket while Numa, their biggest beast, reclined across her body. Gay kept the cat's attention focused on his whip.

Gay was training animals in a London circus when he met his wife to be a newspaper woman. Soon after their marriage he informed her that she had been signed to do an act with the circus leopards.

"Can I do it?" she asked, alarmed.

"Certainly. I wouldn't have signed if I hadn't known you could do the job."

Mrs. Gay became a star with the leopard act.

In the summers 3,000 people a week crowded the farm. The farm was primarily a breeding place. Its vigorous young cubs were shipped to the zoos and circuses of the world.

Truck Collision Kills 4 Firemen

Baltimore, Nov. 10—(AP)—Four firemen were killed and four injured when two fire engines, racing to answer an alarm, collided at an intersection near Pimlico racetrack in northwest Baltimore yesterday.

"Both of them were really traveling," said a filling station attendant who saw the trucks speeding for the corner. He estimated that one, a hook-and-ladder, was doing between 50 and 60 miles an hour, while the other, a hose truck, was doing about 35 or 40.

"Both of them had their sirens screaming and I guess they just couldn't hear each other," the witness added.

The eight firemen, four on each engine, were hurled through the air by the violence of the impact.

They were identified as Joseph A. Remekis, 35; Charles Paff, 57; James W. Haynie, 26; and Joseph B. Magaha, 25.

Injured were William Ianigan, 40; Harry Burke, 58; Joseph H. Greiser, and Kenneth Medley, 32.

The fire turned out to be a small field blaze. It was quickly extinguished.

Proclaim State Of Siege After Colombian Violence

Bogota, Colombia, Nov. 10—(AP)—Colombia's conservative government has decreed a state of siege and suspended all sessions of the liberal-dominated Congress in a move to quell a week of pre-election clashes in which hundreds reportedly have died.

Censorship of press and radio also was ordered by President Mariano Ospina Perez.

News of the state of siege was filed last night by the Associated Press correspondent in Bogota and was not received in New York until this morning.

The state of siege was proclaimed last night after troops cordoned off Colombia's capitol building and stood guard throughout the country to suppress any further outbreaks of the bitter fighting which has raged for the past month between liberals and conservatives.

The President also suspended sessions of departmental assemblies and municipal councils.

Earlier yesterday the government imposed a 9 p.m. to dawn curfew in Bogota and in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city.

Widespread rumors of assassination attempts against political leaders were denied officially by the national radio.

Many business places in the center of the city closed early yesterday afternoon as troops began moving through the streets.

Speculation grew that the army might take over power from the civilian government to curb the bloody outbreaks between conservatives and liberal party supporters.

Such action might postpone the balloting scheduled Nov. 27 to name a successor to conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez.

The saying "All the way Choo Choo," didn't hold true in Greenville yesterday evening when a switch engine belonging to the Norfolk and Southern railroad "bogged" down when a rail broke as it attempted to move a string of freight cars.

According to reports the engine was traveling over a little used track about one o'clock yesterday, when the weight of the "Choo Choo" caused a section of the track to break, and forcing the engine from the tracks. The wheels of the train went off the rails into the soft dirt and "bogged" down. There was no damage to the train, other than the fact that traffic in the rail yard was tied up for several hours.

Repair crews began operations at once to get the train back onto the tracks, by means of jacks and other equipment, and while the crews were working a large crowd gathered to watch the work.

As soon as the train regained its balance it puffed away and started its old job of taking care of the traffic in its yard.

Tennessee Valley Area New American Arsenal

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley's claim to being the nation's arsenal appeared stronger today.

The Air Force announced yesterday the selection of a middle Tennessee area for its much sought after air engineering development center.

Camp Forrest, 66 miles southeast of Nashville and near Tullahoma, is the site. Congress has authorized a $100,000,000 development, a compromise from $150,000,000 originally proposed.

Within a 100-mile radius of the Tullahoma site lie an atomic energy plant at Oak Ridge, the huge aluminum plants at Alcoa, the Phosphatic fertilizer plants of Muscle Shoals, Ala.—all embraced by the Tennessee Valley authority power system.

The research center will be for the development and evaluation of air weapons. It will consist, roughly, of a number of laboratories, manned by some of the outstanding scientists of the nation. Senator McKellar said the project will employ about 35,000 persons. It is expected to have an annual operating cost of $10,000,000 upon completion.

Funeral Services For Staton Clark Sunday Afternoon

By CHESTER WALSH

Staton Clark, 70, pioneer barber in Greenville and known to many people during the 44 years he had a shop here, who died Monday night, will be buried next Sunday.

Funeral services will be held at Sycamore Hill Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Brown Hill Cemetery. Rev. J. A. Nimmo, the pastor, will conduct the service.

Staton Clark's white friends, when they learned of his death, said he was one of the best known Negroes in this county. His life was exemplary. He retired in 1946. He had the happy faculty of making friends and keeping them, and there are many who will mourn his passing.

B. B. Suge, Greenville's wartime mayor, said today: Staton Clark was a good citizen; a good neighbor and an expert in his work, other citizens said. Older citizens who remember him, today paid tribute to him for his upright life and good citizenship.

At his home, 308 West First Street, many white friends of the "days of long ago" called to pay their last respects.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Alvania Foreman Clark; and three children, Ernest L. Clark, Christine Clark and William B. Clark.

Some Second- . . .

there were widely published estimates that this country had on hand a supply of coal to keep its industries, such as steel and railroads, going 50 to 70 days.

When Lewis sent his men back to work yesterday, they had been on strike 52 days.

Lewis said he issued the back-to-work order as an "act of good faith designed to contribute to the public convenience."

Which was Lewis' way, apparently, of saying he didn't want anyone to suffer because of the strike. Yet, from a practical standpoint, a strike becomes most effective when the effects are most acutely felt.

So at the very moment the coal supplies were running down and the strike was putting on increasing pressure, Lewis called his men back to work.

He said he did this for the public welfare. It's also possible his miners, workless and payless for 52 days with a settlement apparently no nearer than when the strike started, couldn't stand it any longer.

If that is true—and some mine owners said some miners were beginning to drift back to work—Lewis might lose his grip on the union.

Sadie Hawkins Day Observance Set For College

The Student Science Club of East Carolina Teachers College will present a "Dogpatch Dance and Doin' Day" on Saturday, November 12, at 3:30, to open Sadie Hawkins Day.

The day will officially open with a parade through Greenville in which all students are invited to join. Included in the parade will be many of the favorite Dogpatch characters and plenty of mountain music.

Following the parade there will be a real Dogpatch race at 4:30. Mayor W. S. Stafford will read the official proclamation to start the race.

The rules of the race will be read by Mervin Sam and as the first gun is fired to start the race, the boys will take off in one direction and as the second shot is fired the girls will do their best to catch their "Little Abners." The girls must bring their catch back across the finish line to receive a "Dogpatch marriage license."

Beginning at 8 o'clock in the Wright auditorium, a square dance will be carried out in Dogpatch style. A Dogpatch carnival will also be conducted by some of the more familiar characters from the mountain town.

Hydro-Electric Project Largest Yet Attempted

Adaminaby, Australia—(AP)—Australia's Snowy River has been a waster. It has poured a half-million gallons of water each minute into the sea.

All this waste is to be stopped with the greatest engineering project ever attempted in Australia. The Snowy River Hydro Electric Scheme has been talked about in this country for 70 years. Now it has been started.

The entire project will cost an estimated $440 million and take 20 years to complete. The Government plans to use teams of migrant labor, employing as many as 10,000 men on the project. Special towns will be built to house workers near the jobs.

EASY FISH CROQUETTES

- 2 cups flaked fish, cooked or canned*
- 3/4 cup Pet Milk
- 2 teaspoons grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- few grains pepper
- 1 cup fine, dry crumbs

Mix thoroughly the fish, 3/4 cup milk, onion, salt and pepper, then shape into 8 patties. Roll, one at a time, in the crumbs. Dip in remaining 1/2 cup milk. Roll again in crumbs. Brown on both sides in 1/4 inch hot shortening. Serve hot with lemon wedges and chili sauce in green pepper "cup." Makes 4 servings.

*Salmon, tuna or canned fish flakes can be used.
Fine dry bread, cracker or corn flake crumbs can be used.

Gunman Returns To Get Loot He Missed

Washington—(AP)—Last March a gunman held up Paul Brick in his grocery store. He took Brick's empty wallet but missed a roll of cash in his pocket.

He's just made a return trip. This time he got money and loot which Brick valued at more than $1,700.

Perky Floral Ideas for Fall

PERT and perky is the floral theme this Fall, with more generous use of bright Autumn blossoms for added zip and color indoors or out. Latest ideas are shown here in new seasonal creations by Alyn Wayne, design expert for Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

As a change of pace from traditional Fall mums, and more economical than you think, look what can be done (at bottom left) with the new spray orchids—Odontoglossum Grande—in brown and yellow shades. At top, you will might ask, how can flowers produce a winning touchdown? "Hmmm... could be" mused stylist Wayne as he added more zip to this year's football corsage. Result shown might easily—hey, are the scores REALLY higher this year? A delightful "thank you" to any holiday hostess is the bountiful harvest arrangement above for any part of the house. Rising from a yellow pottery base are orange and yellow marigolds, red mums, Pearly gladiolus and oak leaves.

Wilson's Weekly Bulletin

from the Rector Kitchens

Whether you roast a whole ham, a half ham, a butt or shank end, or bake a thick center-cut slice, you'll find Wilson's Home d-e-l-i-c-i-o-u-s eating. These superior hams come in two styles—Wilson's Certified Smoked and Wilson's Tender Made (ready to eat). All directions inside wrapper.

REMEMBER:

Orange wrapper is Smoked Ham (Must be cooked).

Yellow wrapper is Tender Made (Ready to eat).

To Roast a Half Wilson's Ham

Remove the ham from refrigerator several hours before baking to give it a chance to warm up to room temperature. Insert meat thermometer, if you have one. Place a whole ham on roasting rack, fat side up, but for the half ham, we at Rector Kitchens like to place the cut side down so it keeps moist. Roast at 300° F.

Cut of Ham	Weight	Oven Temperature	Approximate Time Per pound*
WILSON'S CERTIFIED SMOKED HAM (must be cooked)
WHOLE	12-16 lbs.	300° F.	17-20 minutes
HALF	5-8 lbs.	300° F.	25 minutes
WILSON'S TENDER MADE HAM (ready to eat)
WHOLE	12-16 lbs.	300° F.	5 to 7 minutes
HALF	5-8 lbs.	300° F.	10 to 15 minutes

* Add 5 minutes per pound if ham is not warmed up to room temperature. Cook Wilson Certified Smoked Ham to a minimum of 155° F. reading on meat thermometer. Heat Wilson Tender Made Ham to 140° F.

Cut skin loose. Score the ham fat (not more than 1/2 inch deep). Stud with cloves; sprinkle with a sugar mix (1 cup brown sugar and 1 teaspoon mustard). Return to 350° F. oven to glaze.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P? COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5 1/2 billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9 1/2 billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S SUPER-FOOD MARKET
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

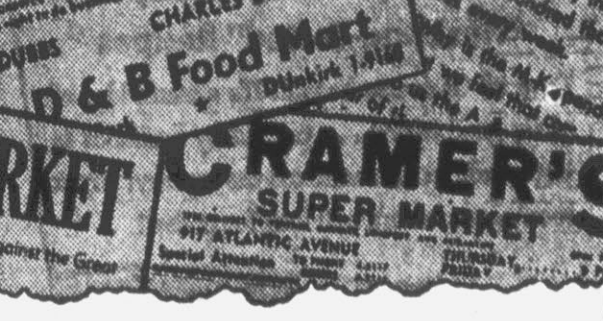

Frankly, we don't like it. A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What... And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogeymen. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.

The Home of good things to Eat!
H.T. VAN NATTA R.O. VAN NATTA
WATERGA, ILLINOIS

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

... like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

... The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to an open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

... My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

... A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMIC and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

... During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

... I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

The Lord's Servant Suffers

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Isaiah 42:1-4; 50:4-9; 52:13-53:12; Jeremiah 38:1-13.

He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and we hid as it were our faces from Him; He was despised, and we esteemed Him not.

He was oppressed, and He was afflicted; yet He opened not His mouth: He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so He openeth not His mouth.

He was taken from prison and from judgment; and who shall declare His generation? for He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of My people.

They took Jeremiah and cast him into the dungeon that was in the court of the prison: and they let him down with cords into the mire.

The Lord's Servant Suffers

PROPHET FORTELLS JESUS' REJECTION BY MEN

Scripture—Isaiah 42:1-4; 50:4-9; 52:13-53:12; Jeremiah 38:1-13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

PROPHETS NEVER have been popular. They are not well liked even today, especially when they prophesy disaster.

We all shy away from the men (women) who tell us disagreeable truths, whether they be about our individual selves or our city, state or nation.

The subject of today's lesson really is the prophecy in the Book of Isaiah of the coming of Jesus, the Saviour. This prophecy was made about 712 B. C., several hundred years before the coming of Jesus, but it describes Him and His rejection by men of His day, just as the events occurred.

Isaiah presents God's delight in His servant—"Mine elect in whom My mind delighteth; I have put My spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles."

"He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law."

By the "isles" which wait for his law, we are told that "nations" is meant, which were and still are (many of them) waiting for the gospel.

The six verses in Chapter 50 as-

The prophecy goes on:

"He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from Him; he was despised, and we esteemed Him not.

"Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

"But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed.

"All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all . . .

"He was taken from prison and from judgment; and who shall declare his generation? for He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of My people was he stricken.

"And He made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in His death; because He had done no violence, neither was any deceit in His mouth."

Jesus indeed was condemned to a shameful death with the signed to us today, give Isaiah's picture of the treatment accorded to even the greatest of the prophets. "The Lord hath given me the tongue of the learned," he writes. "The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away my back. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

MEMORY VERSE

"Be strong and of good courage . . . for Jehovah thy God is with thee."—Joshua 1:9.

"For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed."

The prophecy of the Lord's coming is in Isaiah 53:

"Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed? "For He shall grow up before Him as a tender plant, and as a root out of dry ground." These words tell of the early years of Jesus, and of his humble origin.

wicked, and his grave would have been with the despised, except that a rich man, Joseph of Arimathea, begged for His body and laid it in his own tomb.

Jeremiah was another of the old prophets who suffered for his courage in telling his people the hateful truth.

The Babylonians were about to overrun the kingdom, but Jeremiah's enemies told the king he must be put to death because "he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in the city." King Zedekiah, lacking courage, told them to do with the prophet what they would, and they bound and let him down into a deep, dark, damp dungeon, where he would have died shortly.

One of the king's household, a eunuch named Ebedmelech, an Ethiopian, went to the king and told him of Jeremiah's plight, and the king empowered him to get 30 men and draw the prophet from the dungeon, which he did.

'Textbooks' Talk Back To Mothers In Novel School

Van Nuys, Calif.—(AP)—They have the cutest textbooks at the adult education class in Van Nuys Evening High School. Textbooks with putouts, ribbons and flashing eyes. They chirp gleefully to their readers. Children are the texts and their mothers are the students.

The class, called pre-school observation, studies the youngsters and seeks answers to common problems of child rearing. It's full and has a waiting list. The mothers, 44 of them, meet weekly to observe their offspring at play, take notes, ask questions and discuss day-to-day growth problems.

The children aged two to five have swings, slides, a merry-go-round and books. Periods are set aside for painting, stories, singing, dancing, rest, crackers and tomato juice.

Montana Rabbit Carrying Cash And Lodge Card

White Sulphur Springs, Mont.—(AP)—Kenneth Fallang says there's a snowshoe rabbit hereabouts "with about $15 in U. S. currency inside him." The rabbit also contains a Masonic Lodge card if Fallang figures correctly.

Fallang, deputy game warden, says he was dressing an Elk when his wallet fell to the snow from his hip pocket. He went home without it, later returned to the scene of his loss.

There were rabbit tracks leading to the wallet and other identical tracks where the rabbit had departed. The leather wallet was chewed into strips. A five dollar bill and two-thirds of a $20 bill were missing, along with the membership card.

In early colonial days, when families made nails at home, a good worker could turn out 2,000 small nails a day.

Mrs. Thelma Gibbs, 27, smiles from her hospital bed in Atlanta after giving birth to triplet girls. The arrivals brought her total offspring for the year to five; twins were born to her 11 months earlier. She also has four other children. The mother says she feels fine, and the babies are doing well in an incubator. Attending Mrs. Gibbs is Nurse Mary Beck. (AP Photo).

Her Own Circus For Little Girl In Backyard

Downey, Calif.—(AP)—Gail Garland come home from school on her seventh birthday and found a circus, clowns and everything, in her own backyard.

Gail's daddy, Jack Garland, had worked nights for three months to plan the surprise. Inside the big-top made of sheets and mattress covers, Gail gazed starry-eyed at life-size cardboard cutouts of lions trained seals, a ringmaster and bareback riders on white horses. There were even concessions. All her neighborhood playmates were there.

Daddy and Mommy were there, too. But Gail didn't know them at first. They were dolled up as clowns. As a final touch of realism Garland played recordings made at a genuine circus.

Early colonial families often made nails by hand to earn extra money. The first nail-making business believed to have been one established at Trenton, N.J., in 1700.

Cooke Inaugural On February 23

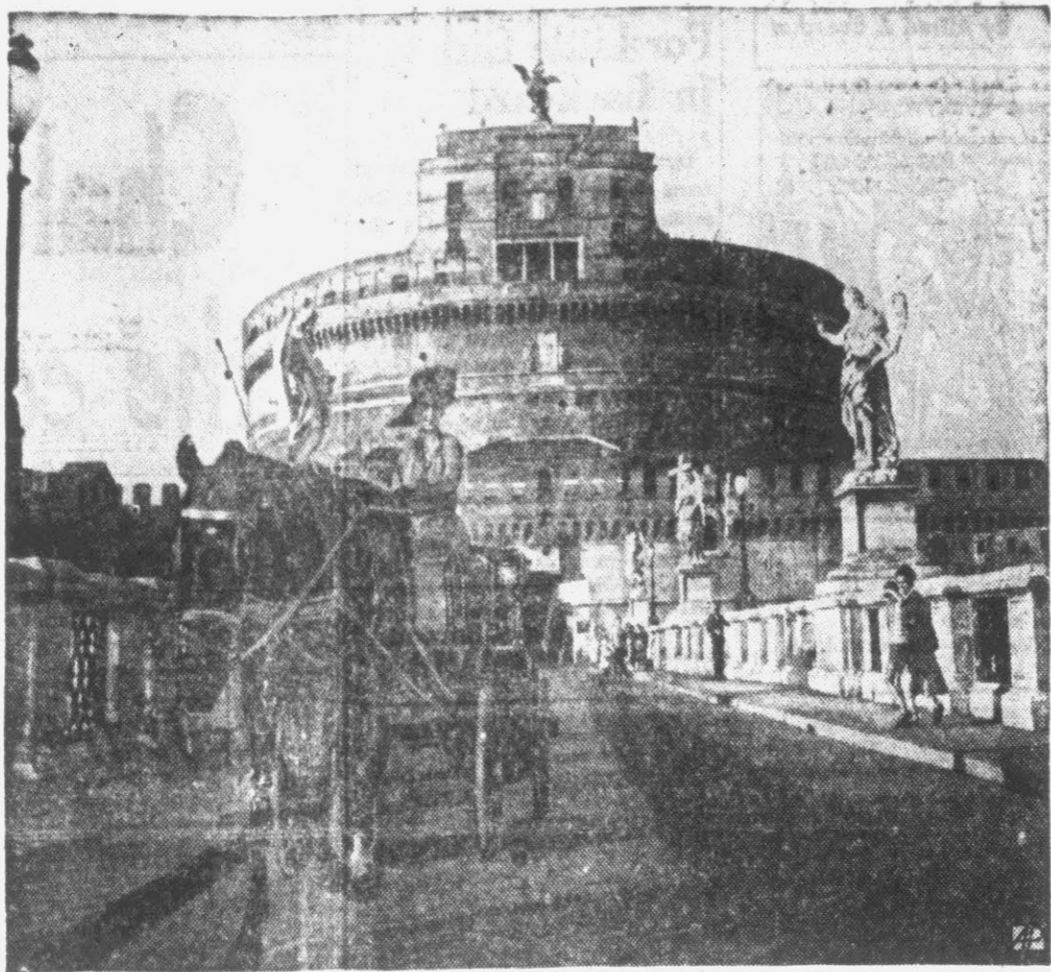

High Point—Nov. 10—Dr. Dennis R. Cooke, president of High Point College, will be formally inaugurated February 23, 1950, according to Horace Haworth, general chairman of the inauguration committee.

"Although the plans for the inauguration will not include unduly elaborate ceremony, it will be thoroughly in keeping with the traditions and ambitions of the college and with Dr. Cooke's high standing in the field of higher education," Dr. Haworth announced recently.

The general plan includes bringing to High Point College speakers of national status in education, religious and secular circles.

In preliminary meetings to create a committee organization for various features of the inauguration, four groups have been appointed by the general committee. These include, in personnel, members of the college board of trustees, representatives of faculty and student body of High Point College, High Point citizens who have been active in the development of the college, and leaders in the Methodist Church in the South and various centers of the state.

Demonstration Farmers Showing Greater Profits

College Station, Raleigh, Nov. 10—More efficient use of land, labor, and capital has resulted in greater profits for many demonstration farmers in Western North Carolina, says T. K. Jones, farm management analyst at State College.

Jones has recently completed a study of record books kept on 250 unit test demonstration farms during 1948. The demonstrations are conducted cooperatively by the State College Extension Service, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and farmers in the area.

Good management was the largest single factor contributing to higher income, according to the analyst. The most successful farmers used their available cropland more intensively. Crop yields were higher as a result of heavier fertilization, better practices, and use of high-yielding crops such as alfalfa for the principal hay crop and tobacco as the major cash crop.

The most successful farmers produced higher quality products for which they received a premium on the market. This fact was especially noticeable among dairy and tobacco farmers.

Size of business was also an important factor in success, says Jones. Regardless of the type of farming followed, the most successful farmers had more acres of cropland and operated a larger business. More acres of good quality open pasture and more animal units of livestock were produced on the most profitable farms.

The most successful farmers of all types except truck had higher cash receipts per acre from crops. This is a significant point, says Jones, because of the limited amount of cropland in western counties which can be used for cash crops. Cash receipts per productive animal unit were also higher on the most successful farms of all types except truck.

Jones believes many low-income farmers can increase their profits by making better use of land, labor, and capital.

Prepare Defense For Fruit Fly

Riverside, Calif.—(AP)—If the Oriental fruit fly ever invades the United States, the University of California hopes to be ready to fight it.

Prof. Harry S. Smith, specialist in biological control has been sent to Hawaii to mass produce several species of wasps that prey on the fly. Breeding stock for the wasps has been gathered in China and Formosa.

Washington May Become A Port

Washington—(AP)—Dredging operations have begun in the Potomac River that will make Washington accessible to 10,000-ton ocean vessels.

The Board of Trade says a steamship line serving the Caribbean area has said it would like to dock at Washington.

Crown For The King Of "Kids"

Leo Smith, 10, of Shreveport, La., examines the crown he will wear November 19 in reigning as "King" of National Kids' Day. James D. Swell, chairman of the Kiwanis Underprivileged Children Committee in Shreveport explains the significance of the honor. The day will be observed throughout the United States and Canada for the benefit of underprivileged children under the joint sponsorship of Kiwanis International, Kiwanis clubs, and the National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc. Penicillin Proves Boon To Farmers

Washington—(AP)—Development of penicillin has proved a boost for farmers says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Corn steep liquor and milk sugar are used to make penicillin.

Studies are being pushed to develop other fermentation products in antibiotics, feed yeasts, vitamins and alcohol, the department says. One project is growth of mushroom spawn which is said to have as good food qualities as yeast and tastes better. Other projects now try to find ferments that will use fruit pulps, dairy byproducts and cannery wastes.

BONAPARTE RETIRES

Chicago—(AP)—The Rock Island railroad sends word that Napoleon Bonaparte has retired. Bonaparte, 56, has worked with a maintenance crew since 1920.

The present-day method of simplifying the installation of small clay tiles by mounting them on large strips of paper is very similar to a technique originated in Asia Minor in the 13th century.

A Man and His First Cadillac!

SELDOM will you find a man in a happier state of mind than when he slides behind the wheel of his first Cadillac.

It's a wonderful, wonderful feeling!

Usually, it's the fulfillment of a long-cherished dream. And, of course, that means a glorious sense of achievement—with a deep sense of personal satisfaction.

And, then, there are the immediate pleasures that press upon him...

... the feeling of pride that is inescapable when a man comes into possession of something which is so universally and so deeply admired...

... the feeling of confidence that comes from Cadillac's great reputation for quality and soundness and long life...

... the feeling of elation that comes from the car's amazing responsiveness to throttle and brakes...

... the feeling of gratitude that comes from being able to surround himself, and all who ride with him, with every safeguard an automobile can provide.

And then, of course, there is the soft, satisfying rush of the miles—the easy, restful ride—the positive, effortless handling—the sumptuous and comfortable surroundings.

Yes, it's a great thrill for a man when he goes for his first ride at the wheel of his first Cadillac.

But, it's only the beginning!

Day after day, year after year, he will have that same wonderful feeling as he rolls his Cadillac out into the street or highway. For the joy of Cadillac ownership is deep and abiding. Most owners find that it never leaves.

Wouldn't you like to learn what it's like to sit at the wheel of a car that can mean so much to you? If so, come in today—for a ride that's a revelation.

Chapter 23
Caro came in, and Kelly wheeled Carson into the long dining room and down to his place at the head of a table spread before the fire. All too soon it was time to leave. Arleta had a moment alone with Mr. Carson. "Wait, girl. Justice has a funny way of waiting. The old mills of the gods grind slow but exceeding fine."
"But when she picked up the pup and started to carry him out Kelly objected."
"All right," he roared finally, "take him. Wake up some morning and watch him die. Martin can look out for the horses, but dogs range free. Can't I get it through your heads that they won't let Little Chips stay on?"
"For a moment there was a stunned silence; then Carson broke it with a rumbling chuckle. "Well, that's the best news I've heard this evening. Who's afraid she'll learn too much?"
She thanked him and she thanked Caro.
She found nothing suspicious on the drive home until she drew up before the house. Then she saw every light was on. And even as she wondered at such wanton use of electricity, the front door was thrown wide and Cal Sheridan catapulted down the stairway.
"Leta," he cried, "oh, thank heavens. Where have you been?"
"Flat tire," sprang to Arleta's lips. "But don't you think I've intelligence enough to find my way home?"
"Ordinarily," conceded Sheridan gloomily.
"Ordinarily," flared Arleta, and quickly, "it was so nice of you to let me know you were coming. I enjoyed seeing you in town with a girl who has made an issue of her emptiness. I suppose you have a perfectly logical explanation."
"Ah, Leta, what's wrong?"
"We were happy at home. Here—"
"We were happy," she corrected him, "until you came down in the Lane field and met Allene. For some reason you're more willing to listen to her—"
"Suppose I told you I heard something that had nothing to do with Allene?" queried Calvin in a worried tone.
Arleta looked up. She would accept any information, then separate the chaff from any wheat that might be present.
"I was having lunch in the Sapphire Room. At the next table was an old lady, cutest thing I've ever seen. She reminded me of the song 'Rudy Vallee used to sing so much—'Little old lady dressed in gray.'"
Arleta nodded and braced herself. "Some woman came up and began talking in a sympathizing tone and then I heard your name mentioned. Naturally I pricked my ears."
"Cal's voice droned on and finally stopped on the phrase "And she said it was a pity any Langtry had been allowed to return to the hill."
"Oh, Cal," she cried in exasperation, "don't you know me well enough to know I couldn't—"
"My Leta couldn't have been so cruel to an old lady, but I don't know this Little Chips Langtry. Well?" he asked eventually.
"Cal," she leaned forward, laughing. "For a lad with your war record you're the cutest little old woman I've ever met. And I thought you said this particular bit of gossip had nothing to do with Allene. Sweet, Allene thought it up. What's more, she undoubtedly planted the little old lady dressed in gray, took you to the Sapphire Room—you were having lunch with her, weren't you?—and then, timing perfect, staged the play."
"And you, Calvin darling, swallowed it, hook line and sinker, and the sinker's lying heavy. Mrs. Cotson—"
"That was her name," Sheridan sprang at this bit of evidence. "Yet figure of Kelly who waited at the novel post.

"I've brought your ring back," he snapped, "now put it on."
Arleta waited thoughtfully. She considered Calvin and then she considered the unreasoning anger of How Kelly. What lay behind it?
"How," she asked gently, "why is it so important that I remain engaged to Calvin Sheridan?"
"Because," he spat, "I don't want another hunting accident."

Improved Hybrid Corn Is Expected

Washington—(AP)—Higher corn production is expected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Department experts have produced hybrids which will give 10 bushels to the acre more than those now used. Hybrid corn revolutionized U. S. farming and boosted production to new high levels.
Department experts say that still other hybrids are being used in different sections of the country. First attempts to use the early hybrids in the South, for example, were dropped because corn bred in Iowa did not grow well there. Now hybrids adapted to the area are being

Safe Bolted To Floor Disappoints Burglars

Chicago—(AP)—There are thieves, they say, who will take anything that isn't nailed down. A couple of burglars of that type got into the Seng Teaming Company garage. They fastened one end of a chain to a truck and looped the other around the safe. The truck growled but didn't move. The burglars growled and did. The safe was bolted to the floor.
Most nails today are made of steel.

Arctic Tern Is Nature's Rival For Airforce B-36

By CLARKE BEACH
Washington—Mother Nature has taken no part in the B-36 controversy, but she could say a thing or two about it if she wished. The Air Force people boast of the B-36's range—a little more than 10,000 miles. But Mother Nature, for thousands of years has had a little half-pound flying machine, the Arctic Tern, which makes two 11,000-mile flights a year—not non-stop, but even so that's some flying. The bird summers in the arctic and winters in the Antarctic.

Its seasonal migration, which is going on right now, is the longest of any bird. Arctic terns from Alaska and other western parts of North America fly directly south. But those who summer in Eastern North America make a mysterious side-trip to Europe and Africa before heading for the South Pole. You practically never find an Arctic tern on the Atlantic coast of North America south of northern Massachusetts.

One theory about this side-trip is that the Arctic tern's ancestors came from Europe. So before they take up their winter residence in the Antarctic they make a sentimental journey home. They fly east across the Atlantic towards Scotland or France, then sail south along the western coast of Europe and Africa.

People have known practically nothing about the trail of the tern until the past 20 years or so. It was known that they turned up seasonally in the Arctic and Antarctic, but the course they took was not understood until the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service began banding the birds. In cooperation with similar foreign agencies.

Numbered anklets are fastened to the birds, and a record is kept of where the banding took place. About 7,846 Arctic terns have been banded. And 10 or 12 of them have been recovered at long distances, in Europe or Africa. One of the birds which had been banded in 1929 was recovered in 1946.

Arctic terns don't fly non-stop.

They are water fowl, so they can snooze or feed on the ocean. From the record of one banding, it was learned that a tern took three months to fly from Labrador to Southeast Africa.

They are relatively slow, cruise at about 3 to 35 miles per hour. They seem to fly rather low. Sailors report seeing them in flocks at an altitude of about 1 feet.

They are the size of a small gull, with long wings and a long, forked tail. They are pure white underneath and pearl gray on top. Their feet and bills are red, and the top of their head is black—looks like a little derby hat.

They are great lovers. When the male is courting, he brings food to the female, presenting it to her with a playful little ceremony. While she is brooding on the eggs, he continues to feed her—and keeps up the same little courtship ceremony.

Arctic terns lay their eggs near the North Pole, on small sandy islands or in the snow on the ice pack.

Scientists can only guess at the reasons for their long migrations. It might be a matter of food supply. Or daylight saving. Or a combination of both. At any rate, moving from pole to pole, where they get almost 24 hours of daylight in mid-summer and mid-winter, they probably see more of the sun than any other creature.

Gov. Alexander Spotswood was partially responsible for the construction of the first ironworks in Virginia in 1716.
