Greenville Drew Largest Crowds In Friday Event

Secretary Gray And Party Depart For Washington; No Mishaps Mar Day

By CHESTER WALSH
Armistice Day exercises in Greenville yesterday drew the largest crowd ever to assemble here.

Under a clear sky, the cavalcade, headed by the 82nd Airborne Division band, Company C, Composite Group, 505th Regiment and Battery A, 456th Airborne Group, from Fort Bragg, under command of Capt. Jack A. Dunlap, swung into action promptly at 10:30 in its march to East Carolina Teachers College stadium.

Army Secretary Gordon Gray delivered his Armistice Day address there before a crowd of 6,000 people. J. Con Lanier was master of ceremonies. Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college, presented Congressman Herbert C. Bonner. He introduced Secretary Gray.

A barbecue dinner was served by Respass brothers to about 800 persons at the Farmers' Warehouse at 1 p.m. The Army secretary and other distinguished visitors and Gold Star mothers, with Mrs. Frank Taylor, chairman, and disabled veterans were special guests.

Secretary Gray and his party left in an Army plane for Washington about 2:30 p.m. Congressman Bonner, William I. Tyson, solicitor for the U. S. Department of Labor, J. Con Lanier of Greenville, and Secretary Gray, accompanied him back to the national capital. Newspapers reporters in the party were Bruce Jolly, Greensboro Daily News; James Free, Raleigh News and Observer; and Margaret Kernode, Associated Press correspondent covering news of special interest to women in North and South Carolina.

Exceptionally good order prevailed among the throngs on the streets and authorities stated that no serious accident occurred to mar the day's festivities.

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts sponsored the Armistice Day celebration. TV Wagner and Larry Alder, post commanders, were co-chairmen on arrangements. James S. Jenkins and Larry Averett headed the distinguished guests committee. Frank Taylor and J. Howard Moye headed the food committee.

Armistice Day Festivities Are Dampened Down

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 12—(AP)—Within a few minutes a broken water main put the damper on Armistice Day festivities here last night.

A long, colorful parade was winding its way through town at the time one of the chief attractions was a small mounted cannon being fired by some fellows from the 40 & 8, official merrymakers of the American Legion.

As the cannon fired passed Baltimore and Centre Streets—the city's business intersections—the boys let go with the cannon once more.

The pavement crumbled, water gushed forth and hundreds of spectators went scurrying for cover. Before it was all over, several store basements were flooded and the street was ankle deep in water.

Our hard-working but veto-harrassed peace organization is having found it impossible to live up to its designation of "United Nations," is nevertheless making progress by the simple expedient of living down the title.

If that sounds complicated we can simplify it by explaining that the western nations, having found that they couldn't cope with the Soviet bloc's persistent "No," are getting ahead by taking jobs to which the veto does not apply. In this way useful tasks are being accomplished despite the protests of the Soviet nations, which are in the minority.

This is of course far from being an ideal situation in a world which is crying out for unity. Still, if the western democracies and the Communist bloc can't work together it certainly is better for the majority to get ahead with the job on their own.

Gambled Life For Freedom—Lost

Re-Trial For Life Term Results In Sentence Of Death

Hillsboro, O., Nov. 12—(AP)—Cecil Yankey—facing death in the electric chair—probably pondered the quirks of fate today.

Yankey was charged with the slaying of 71-year-old Leray Woodland, an old age pensioner, during a robbery March 20, 1947.

He pleaded guilty at his first trial and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

After serving two and a half years in Ohio penitentiary, he challenged the validity of his sentence because it was handed down by a one-judge court, instead of a jury or a three-judge panel.

The courts upheld his counsel, Miss Cecil Shapiro, in her contention the sentence was illegal. However, they overruled her contention Yankey couldn't be made to face trial again on the same charge.

His second trial before a jury of eight men and four women in Highland County ended yesterday.

The verdict: Guilty, without recommendation of mercy.

That makes the death penalty mandatory in Ohio.

Hoey And Graham Trade Praise On Same Platform

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 12—(AP)—Capitol Hill looked with deep interest today upon the appearance of Senators Clyde R. Hoey and Frank P. Graham on the same platform and their praise of each other.

They spoke yesterday at Shelby on an Armistice Day program that also honored Gold Star Mothers. There has been much speculation over the state in recent weeks over the opposite stands taken by the two senators. Hoey, senior senator and former governor, has voted conservatively. Graham's votes have been liberal.

Published reports say that former Senator William B. Umstead of Durham may oppose Graham in next year's Democratic primary. Umstead has made no public comment.

progress is looked in the manner in which the U. N. political committee has handled the troublesome question of Italy's prewar African colonies—Somalia, Eritrea and Libya. The committee approved a proposal to send Italy back as trustee of Somalia and Eritrea, a trustee which the colony will become independent. Russia and her satellites abstained from voting, being in the minority.

The committee also has agreed that Libya shall become independent not later than Jan. 1, 1952. Eritrea is still under discussion.

This has been achieved despite the fact that Libya has presented a particularly controversial problem. Moscow charges that America and Britain are planning to make this Mediterranean country a base for attack against the Soviet Union—a charge which the Anglo-American allies deny. Russia herself has sought a base on the north African coast, and Libya does have great strategic value in event of war.

Unhappily the big problem of the day—atomic control—hasn't been susceptible to solution that comes within the "NYE" zone, and is static so far as Moscow is concerned. Still, despite the great division

Yugoslavs Scrap Friendship Pact With Albanians

Marks First Time Tito Gov't Has Taken Initiative In Ending Treaties

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Nov. 12—(AP)—Yugoslavia scrapped her treaty of friendship with Albania today and charged that country with acts of hostility she said were provoked by Soviet Russia.

It marked the first time Premier Marshal Tito's independent Communist government has taken the initiative in breaking off friendship pacts with Cominform countries.

Previously Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria all cast aside those ties with Yugoslavia in steps verging on a break in diplomatic relations.

The note—more than 3,000 words long—was handed to the Albanian legation here at noon.

It listed in detail this country's accusations of "hostile" acts on the part of Albania, but emphasized at one point that the Tirana government had been "pushed into its policy of open hostility and violation" of the treaty by Russia and the other Cominform countries.

"The Eastern European countries, headed by the U.S.S.R., have sacrificed the interests of Albania solely in order to realize their own dark plan against Yugoslavia," the note said. It concluded:

"The Yugoslav government, despite the fact that it is not indifferent to the impertinence of the independence and integrity of Albania and despite the fact that the sympathies of the government and the people of Yugoslavia for the Albanian people continue unwaveringly and sincerely, states that it considers itself freed of obligations arising from the treaty of friendship and mutual help which was concluded between Yugoslavia and Albania on July 9, 1947."

The formal renunciation followed by eight days a note to Albania demanding that Albania cease hostile acts, live up to the terms of the treaty and reply to that request "within the shortest possible time."

That note fell just short of an ultimatum.

Acheson Visits Heidelberg Post

Meets Top Military And Diplomatic Officials In Germany

Heidelberg, Germany, Nov. 12—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, fresh from the Big Three foreign ministers conference in Paris, lunched here today with top American military and diplomatic officials in Germany.

Heidelberg is the headquarters for the U. S. armed forces in Europe. Army officials said, however, defense problems were not up for discussion.

Acheson's arrival for a four-day visit in Germany was accompanied by a flood of rumors about Germany's position in Western defense plans. Outstanding was a rumor from Paris that the Elbe River dividing the Western zone of occupation from the Russian zone would be considered the Western "defenseline," rather than the Rhine.

Acheson himself told reporters yesterday that the Paris conference decided to keep German steel production down to its present ceiling of 11,500,000 tons a year.

Charge Evasion Of Dismantling

Hamburg, Nov. 12—(AP)—A British court today found the owners of Germany's largest shipyard guilty of illegally attempting to evade dismantling.

Rudolf Blohm, senior partner of Blohm and Voss, was ordered to pay a 5,000 mark fine (1,250) or serve five months in prison.

His brother, Walter, was ordered to pay 10,000 marks ($2,500) or serve 10 months.

Four other defendants found guilty were sentenced to prison.

China Reds Hurt Own Recognition

U. S. State Dept. Is 'Burned Up' Over Mukden Affair

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—Communist treatment of the American Consul General at Mukden has dealt a sharp new setback to Communist China's chances of obtaining American recognition any time in the foreseeable future.

Top state department officials are privately "burned up" at the way in which local authorities at Mukden have handled the case of 56-year-old Angus Ward. They are irked too at the cold shouldering which the American government has received in its attempt to get any information on this matter from the National Communist leaders at Peiping.

Ward has been held in jail at Mukden since October 24. Two American and two European members of his staff have been held with him. All are charged with having beaten a Chinese employe, early in October as the result of an alleged wage dispute.

The state department disclosed Thursday that the Consul General at Peiping, O. Edmund Clubb, had sent a letter to Gen Chou En-Lai, the Communist Foreign Minister, demanding Ward's release and asking information about him. The department said that no reply had been received.

One-Time Ohio Lawmaker Dies

Cogan Station, Pa., Nov. 12—(AP)—Judge Byron B. Harlan of the U. S. Tax Court and former Democratic congressman from Ohio died yesterday of a heart attack. He was 63.

Judge Harlan collapsed and died shortly after he arrived from Boston to attend a weekend family reunion. He had been hearing cases in Boston.

Five Arrests By Narcotic Agents

Fayetteville, N.C., Nov. 12—(AP)—Federal narcotics agents, agents of the FBI, and Cumberland County ABC enforcement officials cooperated to break up an alleged narcotics ring here, it was announced today.

H. C. Larsen, director of county ABC law enforcement here, said that five men had been arrested for the alleged sale of narcotics from last July up to the present.

Babson Discusses Pensions

New York City Nov. 11—(AP)—I am in New York checking up with the large corporations regarding the settlement between the steel companies and Mr. Murray. They all seem to be disappointed. They feel that this is a real victory for labor, although the steel companies are a little better off than if they had accepted the Fact Finding Report as submitted by the President's Board.

They also are disappointed that President Truman and the labor leaders "detoured" the Taft-Barkley Bill which really was desired for just such purposes in the Congressional campaign next year this settlement will be used as an argument that the Taft-Hartley Bill is unnecessary.

An Important Precedent
Although these corporation officials with whom I talked are disappointed, they admit that a precedent has been set which may force a great many other corporations to adopt a more or less similar pension system. They state that there are three reasons why the steel companies were handicapped in their negotiations. One reason is because so many of the top officers themselves have pensions. A second reason is because the public, although opposed, at the present time, to more wage raises, are sympathetic with the pension idea. A third factor in the situation is that the Ford Motor Company has accepted a non-contributory pension system.

As Henry Ford was the first to guarantee $5 a day, they feel that the Ford Company is again beating the gun. On the other hand, it should be remembered that all of the common stock of the Ford Motor Company is now in a charitable trust, and hence, these Ford pensions do not cost the Ford family anything! If all of the steel companies unite in a similar program, the cost could be passed on to the users of steel and may not cost the steel companies stockholders anything. This, of course, is an insane method of accounting. It is a good deal like a man loaning money to his wife and accepting a note for it and thinking it does not cost him anything.

Clouds Have Silver Linings
Whatever happens to stockholders of large corporations forced to grant liberal pension systems, this new

No Mediation

Lake Success, Nov. 12—(AP)—The Western powers rejected today a Venezuelan suggestion for a United Nations mediator to attempt a solution of the East-West atomic impasse.

Speaking for the majority group, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada, said he and the other Western delegates did not believe such action at this time would be appropriate. He told the special political committee of the U.N. Assembly the West preferred to continue the consultation of the six atomic countries in an effort to reach agreement.

The suggestion for a mediator was put forward tentatively by Dr. Carlos E. Slolk, of Venezuela, but it never was advanced as a formal proposal.

Pitt School Bus In Wreck Friday

Early Friday morning a county school bus was involved in a wreck at Cox's Crossing, when the vision of the driver was allegedly obscured by trees near the entrance of a side road as he prepared to enter the main highway.

Patrolman Paul C. Whitley, who investigated the accident, said the driver of the bus, Ceasar Reese, Jr., 19 was entering the main highway when his bus was struck by a car operated by Johnnie D. Buck, Route 3, Greenville.

Whitley pointed out that the bus would have to enter the highway about half way before the driver could see oncoming traffic. Several oak trees were said to block the drivers' vision from the road.

The few children who were on the bus at the time of the accident were not injured. The school bus suffered only minor damage while the car was reported to have been damaged to the extent of approximately $425. Buck was uninjured.

No Reservations In Loyalty Oath

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 12—(AP)—Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic priests were told today they must swear a flat oath of loyalty prescribed by the Communist-controlled government and ignore reservations demanded by the church bishops.

These reservations were that priests could take the oath "unless it is in contradiction to the laws of God and the church and the rights of man."

Civil Rights Law Debate In Offing

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—President Truman's new appeal for enactment of a civil rights law fired a 200-burning issue which appears certain to touch off another hot debate in Congress next year.

The verbal fireworks are expected to start banging in the Senate soon after the lawmakers return in January. The Democratic leadership has said it will try for a vote there on perhaps the most controversial of all the civil rights measures—a bill to create a fair employment practices commission.

Mr. Truman made it clear in an Armistice Day speech yesterday that he hasn't given up his fight for the program which split the Democratic party in 1948 and cost him the electoral votes of four Southern states.

Nearly all Southern Congress members have fought the civil rights program. Dixie senators have said bluntly they intend to launch another filibuster when the fair employment bill comes up.

At the start of the first session of the 81st Congress last January they kept a talkathon going for days when the Democratic leaders tried to push through a change in Senate rules aimed at making it easier to limit debate.

The leaders finally had to abandon the fight for the rule they wanted and accept instead one sponsored by the Southerners and a group of Republicans.

Control For Exports

How Limitations On Exports To Russia And Its Allies Grew; Now Tighter Than Ever; Special Items Especially Guarded; Last Loopholes Are Clamped Shut

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—The government this week tightened just a little more its control on anything which might help Russia or its allies re-arm or make war.

This is how the control grew. After the war, while relations with Russia still were pretty good, the only real clamps the government put on goods shipped abroad were on those needed here because they were scarce.

By March, 1948, most of the scarcities had disappeared but relations with Russia had soured.

This country didn't want Russia or the other Communist-controlled countries in Eastern Europe, part of the Soviet bloc, to receive American goods which might help the bloc get ready for war.

Steelworkers Sign Mammoth U.S. Steel Corp. To Pension-Insurance Pact; Inland Steel Also Agrees To Similar Terms; 124,600 Strikers Idle

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12—(AP)—The most costly steel strike in American history ended today after the CIO United Steelworkers signed the mammoth United States Steel Corporation to a pension-insurance pact.

Inland Steel Corporation agreed to a similar peace agreement on the Bethlehem pattern three and one-half hours after the Big Steel settlement last night.

That left only 124,600 strikers idle of about 513,000 steelworkers who walked off their jobs last October 1 in support of demands for company-paid pensions.

The end of the strike against Big Steel, largest steel producer in the world, gave 177,000 unions the "go back to work" high sign. The agreement covers only 150,000 employees in six major operating subsidiaries but the corporation said the union agreed that all workers should return at once. Formal contracts will be signed later with other subsidiaries.

Union President Philip Murray predicted 90 per cent of basic steel—the plants which produce raw steel—will be signed to the new Bethlehem-type contract by Monday morning.

The Bethlehem settlement, signed October 31, provides $100 minimum monthly pension payments to workers aged 65 who have served 25 years. The workers do not have to pay into the fund but they do contribute to federal social security which is added to company pensions to make up the $100 total. Workers with fewer years of service will receive proportionately smaller pensions.

The agreement also provides for a five cents an hour social insurance program. That cost is shared equally by workers and company.

Wages are unchanged for steelworkers now earning an average of $1.65 an hour.

The settlement breaks the logjam in the long strike. Once the country's second largest steel company pointed the way, Jones and Laughlin, number four producer, and Republic Steel, third biggest steelmaker, and other firms also signed up on the same formula.

That represented a departure from the past when U.S. Steel customarily acted as the industry's bellwether in contract matters.

Asked if the settlements now signed with about 50 large and small companies would bring higher steel prices, Murray declared:

"I can't answer that, of course. But as far as I am concerned, there is absolutely no justification for a price increase."

Industrial peace in steel towns brought impromptu celebrations. In Lorain, Ohio, where National Tube Company, a U.S. Steel subsidiary, employs 10,000 unionists, the revel turned out to be an auto horn blowing joyride. Celebrants jammed the streets in that Lake Erie port.

In Homestead, Pa., near Pittsburgh singing men and women filled sidewalks from curbs to storefronts. Homestead is the home of a giant plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Big Steel's largest subsidiary.

Veto-Harrassed Peace Organization Getting Ahead By Tackling Problems Where Veto Doesn't Apply; Progress Shown; Reason For Hope In Accomplishment

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Our hard-working but veto-harrassed peace organization is having found it impossible to live up to its designation of "United Nations," is nevertheless making progress by the simple expedient of living down the title.

General interest in the U. N. has been picking up after suffering a heavy slump as the result of the constant east-west warring and the persistence of the veto by the Soviet union. The Washington government, moreover, has given increasing support to the organization.

Celebrates Sixth Birthday
On Friday afternoon at 3 p.m., Mrs. John W. Williams entertained her daughter, Brenda Carole with a birthday party, celebrating her sixth birthday.

On arrival the children were given a whistling balloon and were taken into the den to hear some records. Among those heard were "Manners Can Be Fun," "The Little Manners Can Be Fun," and "The Tune That Ran Away," and "The Story of Little Red Riding Hood." The children were enjoyed out-of-doors in the back yard.

Pictures were made while the children sang "Happy Birthday" and Brenda Carole blew out the candles. She had to make four tries to blow all of them out. Cake, ice cream, and lime ice were enjoyed by the children, after which they were taken into the living room to open the presents.

Other nice presents Brenda received was a bicycle. All the children were thrilled over the bicycle as much as Brenda.

She has been called the greatest woman in North Carolina. Mrs. Spencer has the distinction of being the only woman in the state and possibly the nation who has had the honor of having two college buildings named for her. ## Philippines Hit By New Storm

Manila, Nov. 12—(AP)—A tropical storm threw 70-mile-an-hour winds and torrential rains at the typhoonbattered Central Philippines today. First casualty reports listed five dead or missing.

The Philippines Red Cross feared the new storm would hamper relief operations in the central islands where 832 persons lost their lives in a typhoon that hit only 11 days ago.

First reports said five were dead or missing on Camiguin Island, home of Hibok Hibok, off northern Mindanao. Cebu and Leyte islands reported vast areas under water.

Heavy rain, driven by gusty winds, beat on Manila tonight as the storm center headed northwest between Palawan and Mindoro toward the South China Sea.

Winterville Transformed By Network Of Paved Streets

The paving machine is putting the middle lane in one of Winterville's new streets. In October the town had only two blocks of paved streets in addition to the state highways. Today there are approximately 35 blocks of paved streets in the town.

Project Backed By Townspeople

Two weeks ago Winterville was just another country town with only two blocks of paved streets besides the state highways which ran through it. Today it has been transformed into a network of handsome paved streets, and almost overnight dirt streets have virtually disappeared from within the town's corporate limits.

Fifteen days ago the city owned two paved streets—today there remain only two or three blocks of unpaved streets in the small Pitt county town, and all the work has been done without the levy of special taxes, or the issuance of bonds by the town. The people of the community under the leadership of a handful of fast-talking citizens have dug into their pockets and paid out dollar by dollar and foot by foot for the largest cash and carry paving program witnessed.

In the past two weeks approximately 35 blocks of the town's streets have been given an asphalt coating one and one-half inches thick which will mean the kids no longer will have to trudge to school through the winter mud, nor the housewives worry about the summer dust ruining the newly hung curtains. And the men and women old and young of Winterville have watched with keen interest and visible pride the day-by-day progress of their paving program.

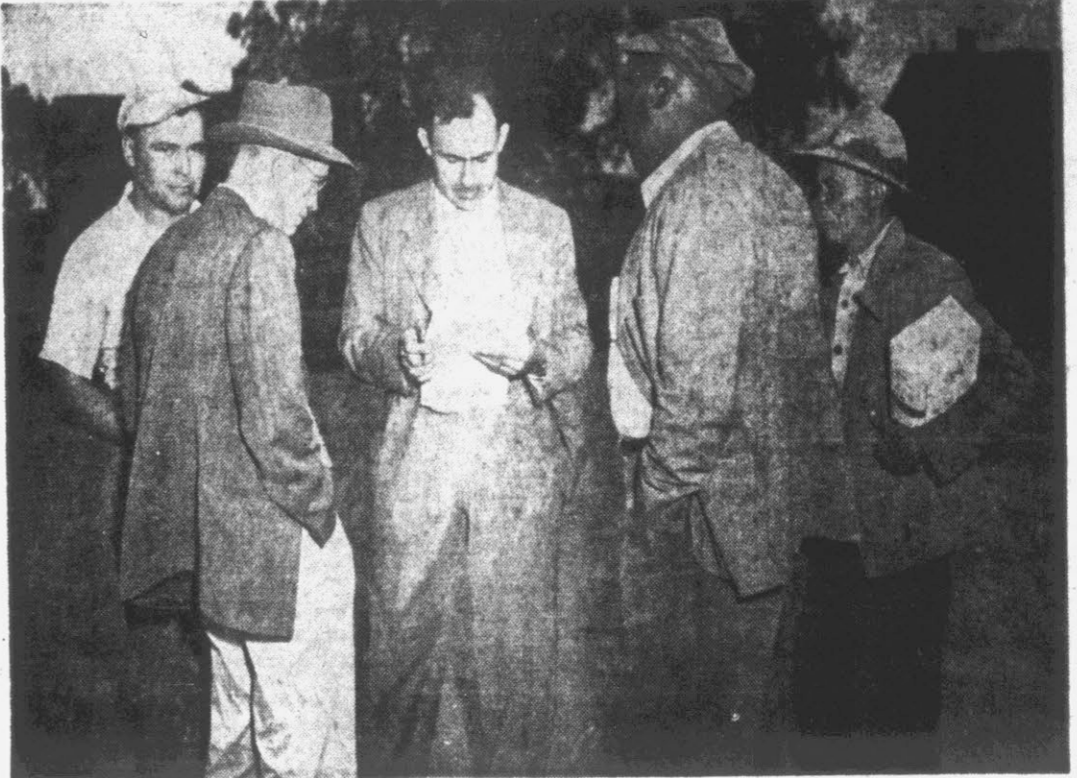

From the time the project began the leaders have neglected their businesses and other interests to canvass the town block by block and house by house selling the folks on the paved street program. Once the ice was broken the movement gained momentum, and most citizens were anxious to have the paving pass in front of their houses. The civic-minded salesmen blurted their sales talks in down-town offices, on street corners, at the grocery store, in the parlor, in the kitchen over the stove, and even in the cars along the town's principal street.

It all started a couple of weeks ago when the paving equipment of the Barrus Construction company of Kinston neared Winterville completing the first project in Pitt county under the state's bond-financed road program.

The paving continued, and what the construction company thought would be a one or two day job went into its second week.

Pictured above is one of the broad new streets which the people of Winterville have had put down in their town during the past two weeks. All the paving was done by the footage payment of the property owners rather than through the levying of taxes or the issuance of bonds. The new paved streets of the town range in width from 18 feet to 40 feet.

Woodrow Worthington (center) checks his list of property owners as he discusses the canvassing of another block of the town to have the property owners agree to pay for paving their street. Mayor Burney Tucker (left), and Alderman Graham Olive (second from left) also were key figures in the town's spontaneous paving program. The paving was not confined to the white residential section alone, but the Negro citizens as well paid their pro-rata share to have their streets paved. Today there are only one or two blocks of the town's streets which remain unpaved.

This grader is putting the finishing touches on the shoulder of the newly paved street which runs in front of the Winterville town hall. Woodrow Worthington, one of the leaders in the paving project, has climbed up on the machine with Operator F. L. Satterthwaite to see how the job is done, while Police Chief Buck, F. A. Worthington and F. A. McLawhorn look on. (Daily Reflector Photos).

Canada Constructing Big Radar System Across Arctic Frontier

Ottawa, Nov. 12—(AP)—Canada is building a huge radar system which would give warning against possible air attack on her big cities and other vital targets, a government White Paper has revealed.

The defense paper, outlining Canada's preparedness program, said the radar system is being developed to cover "certain vital approaches and areas."

Radar stations costing from between $2,500,000 and $3,500,000 each were planned, the paper said, to give early warning of the approach of enemy aircraft so that jet fighters and anti-aircraft guns could be alerted to ward off an attack.

A SOUND PIECE OF ADVICE
 A young man once asked an older man to advise him on how to become successful. The older man's counsel was: "Jump when the right opportunity comes." "But how will I know when the right opportunity comes?" asked the boy. And the older man's reply was: "Keep on jumping."

There are a few opportunities which come but once in life. Just as there are certain great events which happen only once or very occasionally in a lifetime. But our daily existence is made up of dozens, scores, and hundreds of lesser opportunities. Every day we have the opportunity to do some little good or some little evil. Every day in the office, store, mill, or classroom we have opportunities to advance ourselves a little by added and more diligent effort, or to fall back just a little in our own esteem or in the standing we have with our superiors. Although we are frequently not conscious of their significance, some of these little opportunities lead to glorious results, and others of them lead to suffering and shame.

Life consists largely in a continual bombardment of our personalities by every kind of opportunity. "Keep on jumping." This is good advice for us all. Appraise every opportunity, select it carefully—and then jump.

RECREATION—The state recreation commission has been in session at Raleigh this week attempting to find solution for the problem of what to do with young folks and old ones during their play time hours. Not so many years ago the problem was to find play time hours, not how to utilize them. Shorter day and week work time which followed development of labor saving machinery for manufacturing of goods, and the necessity for providing public parks and playgrounds in cities and towns. Later advent of labor saving machinery on the farms enlarged the problem so that it now embraces town and country alike.

CONSOLIDATION—Another important factor in need for organized supervised recreation has been consolidation of rural schools. There used to be a school house every three or four miles, with adjacent playground where pupils during the school term and neighborhood kids during vacation could meet to play ball or town ball or baseball or some variation of football or track meets. The school consolidation program has removed these public school playgrounds far away from many pupils and along with that has come destruction of the concentrated neighborhood or community loyalty. Motor cars and good roads have widened areas of personal contacts and to great extent destroyed the former community spirit. To partially offset this trend, country churches have moved in with extra religious activities and congregational community houses, playgrounds, Boy Scout troops and similar activities are seeking to take up the slack. But even in these efforts is recognized the necessity for general co-ordination, and more than intimate community supervision. So the problem becomes increasingly pressing in suburban and rural areas, as well as in concentrated population centers.

COUNTY-WIDE—There is growing sentiment for county and multi-county co-operation of recreational activities. Nash county is the first in North Carolina to meet this challenge in practical way. Governor Scott's office released a news story Tuesday about organization of the Nash County Recreation Commission comprised of members from all sections of the county. The news release stated that the county commissioners had appropriated $8,000 for the overall county recreational project.

BACKGROUND—The formal statement from the governor's office, however, failed to give the background activities which culminated in the county recreational set-up. For several years, Vernon Sechrest, editor of the Rocky Mount Telegram, with full endorsement of Publishers Josh Horne, has been plugging for something of this kind. He has devoted his own time and money and energy to recreational work with boys and to selling others on the importance of adequate provision of facilities and supervision of youthful play time activities. Officials listened attentively but said they could not use tax money to promote playing. Some property owners thought well of the idea, but not of paying taxes to help a bunch of kids play. Sechrest said he had gathered enough popular support to justify the officials in appropriating non-tax funds for the purpose.

NON-TAX—There's another angle that must not be overlooked. The $8,000 being used in Nash county is not tax money. It comes mainly from ABC store profits which have accrued to the county. There are some who will say it is carrying socialist ideas too far to expect state or county government to finance operations with profits from business enterprise. But it is accepted policy among many people. The city of Rocky Mount for years has held down ad valorem tax rates through use of profits derived from operations of a municipal power system. And fact is, that without non-tax revenue from ABC stores or some other source, Nash county could not now launch a countywide recreation program.

 New York. (AP)—Mohair gives Martin Feinman the shudder.

Likewise horse hair and down. And old-fashioned buffets decorated with imitation-carved ivory heads—they make him nervous in the solar plexus.

"Seventy-five per cent of furniture in America is obsolete," he said.

Feinman is a pioneer designer and manufacturer of modern furniture who has helped revolutionize the American parlor.

"Before the war only about 30 per cent of new furniture was modern," he said. "Today the taste is in favor of modern."

As a youth Feinman worked as a lumberman in the west and south to learn woods. In 1926 he visited the exposition of decorative arts in Paris—and it changed his life.

He came home and told his father, who had a furniture factory in the old gas house district here, he wanted to try out some new ideas.

He sketched his designs, and the father took a look at them and said: "You're young, fresh and crazy. But he gave his son a small space in the factory. When people like George Gershwain, Claudette Colbert and Fred Waring began to drive up to buy the new furniture, the old

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Wednesday afternoon Al Kreidler, a student at the college, came in Edwards Auto Supply to see one of the employees, Pat McGlwhon. Al brought Pat two big bottles of special shampoo and hair tonic that he ordered from Texas.

"What in the world is going on around here?" I asked. Pat explained that the other day he and Al were discussing the various aspects of hair: like dandruff, washing it, and hair tonic. Evidently Al gets this special juice in case lots.

"Are you in the hair tonic business?" I asked Al. "How much are you making on this deal, anyway?"

Al explained that he was not making a cent; in fact, he's losing the amount of the postage to get the stuff here from Texas. He explained that he just hates to see his friends miss the opportunity to have healthy hair. And he swears that not one hair has fallen from his head since he started using the stuff.

At the present Pat has a lot more hair than Al does, so it would seem more logical if Al started using Pat's juice, instead of the reverse. But Pat is hot on this new Texas combination.

"Mag (Pat's wife) will be glad that I got this," he said.

"Are you going to make her use it too?" I asked.

"No," he said, "she washes my hair."

"She what?" I shot back.

"She washes my hair. What's wrong with that?"

"Who ever heard of such a thing as a man washing his wife's hair?" Pat went on to emphasize that Mag is a whiz at washing his hair. Before he was married he would always get soap in his eyes, but those days are gone. Pat tried his best, but he couldn't convince me that this isn't unusual.

"If you think that's something," Pat said, "how about Abby?" He was talking about Albion Williams, who also works at the store. He went on, "Abby gets his hair washed in a beauty shop." I had to stick up for Abby, since he gets this done in his sister's beauty shop. Besides, it's perfectly understandable for a man to take advantage of an opportunity to get in a beauty shop. Think of the news a body could pick up! No doubt I could get three or four columns in the process of getting a hair wash. As a source of news, beauty shops are man has carried the simplicity of his furniture designs into his own way of life. He doesn't carry gadgets in his pockets. Doesn't have a knot in his necktie and wears extra light clothing and shoes.

"No waste motions," he explained. "No loss of energy carrying excess weight around. And I don't dislike anyone or speak ill of anybody. Anger is poison and upsets the stomach."

Feinman thinks too many businessmen die young by living on nerve energy. He takes a nap after lunch and dinner.

What is the future of the furniture business? "Bright as hell," he said cheerfully.

Washington Letter

By VERN HAUGLAND
 (for Jane Eads)

Washington—There have been at least five flights from behind Russia's iron curtain direct to North America in recent months. The five travelers were kittiwake gulls, shot down in Newfoundland. Bands on their legs identified them as being from Russia.

The bands were sent to North America's bird-banding headquarters at Patuxent, Md., near here, and then forwarded to Moscow along with detailed information as to the birds' capture. The Russians as yet have not acknowledged the letters, says Seth Low, bird-banding expert for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Low says the bird-banding business, after a war-time lull, is just about back to normal this year. "North Americans probably will band between 300,000 and 400,000 birds this year," he says. Since the federal government took over bird-banding in 1920, the work has increased steadily except for the war years. The peak just before the war was 430,000 a year.

To date, says Low, about 6,000,000 birds of some 400 different species have been banded. About 400,000 of the bands have been recovered. About 1,000 bird-banders are active now, Low says. Most of them volunteer for the work. They must be at least 18 years old, and well-qualified to identify the birds.

The banding work is directed in this country by the Fish and Wildlife Service and in Canada by the Dominion government. By agreement with Canada, however, permits are issued only by the Fish and Wildlife Service. This insures that only one set of band numbers is in use.

A young mother said with an enthusiastic ring in her voice, "There is one thing I am determined to do. I am going to see that Nancy knows and loves the Bible." This mother knows that the Bible is the gateway to life.

There are other books that assist in developing a useful and happy life, but there is only one book which is important from the cradle to the grave. There are many books which can improve mind and character, but there is a limit to their effectiveness.

The Bible gives help and guidance in every phase of human experience. That is why it is the world's most popular book. It has been issued in 188 languages and part of it in 1108 tongues and dialects.

No other book has ever been so thoroughly read as the Bible. It lives because people get the most out of life as they study and treasure its eternal truths.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ayden Cops Coastal Athletic Conference Grid Crown

Phantoms And Yellow Jackets Battle To 6-6 Tie

Take Title With Big 34-0 Defeat Of Robersonville

Ayden.—The Ayden high school Tornados officially annexed the Coastal Athletic Conference football crown here yesterday afternoon by routing a Robersonville High aggregation 34-0 before a homecoming crowd of some four hundred fans.

Coach Stuart Tripp's quartet of the most outstanding backs in the conference ripped through the Robersonville team for a 256 yard total offense while the rugged Ayden line stymied any Robersonville hopes of a score by holding the visitors to 41 yards on the ground and in the air.

Leonard Bullock and Darrell Worthington, each scoring twice on sensational runs, led the Ayden attack as the Tornados closed their season just as they opened it—by handing an opponent a very sound 34-0 licking.

The winners scored a 34-0 win over Zebulon in the conference opening in September. Not once was Ayden's supremacy in the conference contested. Farmville's Red Devils, the only team which fans expected to be able to compete with Coach Tripp's boys, lost to Ayden by two touchdowns.

With yesterday's victory the Ayden team closed their season with seven wins and a single loss, that one a 14-13 defeat at the hands of Class A Greenville high school.

Ayden scored twice in the first period yesterday to show the Robersonville team at the offset that they had no intentions of losing the conference crown. Bullock, the Tornados' terrific triple threat quarterback, ran 59 yards for their opening touchdown and Worthington bucked through for the point.

In the same first period Mac Hardie took a punt on the Robersonville 46 and ran it all the way to a second Ayden touchdown. Bullock made the point and the Tornados had a 14-0 lead.

Worthington ran 17 yards to Ayden's third score early in the second quarter. E. L. Byrd, another of Ayden's outstanding backs, made the point.

In the third quarter, Bullock broke away again to carry the ball 51 yards to a fourth touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

Worthington ran 45 yards to another Tornado tally in the closing minutes of the game. Bullock scored the point.

Robersonville never got within the Ayden 20 yard stripe.

May Have Found Segura's Secret

Hershey, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—Frankie Parker looks like he may have found the answer to Pancho Segura's two-handed style of tennis.

After bowing to the South American in the first 10 matches of their transcontinental professional tour, Parker finally measured Segura in Philadelphia Thursday night. The former U.S. Amateur champion then repeated here last night 6-2, 18-13.

Jack Kramer, king of the pros, continued his supremacy over Pancho Segura, whipping the 1948-49 National Amateur titleholder 6-4, 6-4 before a crowd of 2,000.

Andy Pinkney, former Notre Dame basketball great, is serving as assistant football coach at Henry Fricks of Tulane.

Farmville Wallops Wendell By 45-0

Penalties Cancel Four Other Touchdowns By Hard Driving Red Devils; Visitors Display Successful Aerial Attack

Wendell.—Coach Elbert Moye's Farmville Red Devils walloped Wendell 45-0 here yesterday in a game highlighted by the brilliant running of Claude Tyson and the outstanding play of Carl King, an end who took two passes for touchdowns—and two more for extra points.

Farmville had four TD's called back for penalties.

It was Wendell's sixth consecutive loss. They are without a win this season.

Tyson scored Farmville's first touchdown on a 20 yard run after Farmville's forward wall spilled Wendell's punter before he could kick.

Smith passed to King for the point.

Smith and Gannon set up the second score by spilling Wendell's passer and recovering a fumble on the 30. Tyson carried it over from the five a few plays later.

Farmville's 105 pound halfback, Fitzgerald, scored from the 12 to give the Red Devils their third tally. It was King again who scored the Red Devils' fourth touchdown. He took along pass from Tyson out of the hands of the defensive half-back of Wendell and went over for the score from the 10-yard line.

Tyson scored on a 30-yard jaunt in the last period to give Farmville its fifth tally. Smith passed to King for the point.

The last Farmville score was by Albritton, the Red Devils' powerful fullback, who ploughed off tackle for 16 yards and paydirt in the last minutes of the game.

Farmville completed eight of 13 passes for 185 yards in one of their most powerful aerial displays of the year. Quarterbacks Smith and Allen did the heaving.

The winners held Wendell to four first downs, two of them on penalties.

Outstanding in the Farmville attack were Tyson, Joyner, Smith, Albritton, Fitzgerald and Oakley in the backfield, and Cannon, King, Flora, Morris, Fulford, Fountain, Morgan and Barret in the line.

Wendell's efforts were led by Allen, Dean and Todd in the backfield, and Creech, Hassell, Noblin, Dean, Perkins and Ledford in the line.

Handicap

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—If a man is unusually tall, he better not try a crime career.

That's the advice Magistrate Eugene R. Canulo gave yesterday to six-foot-eight-inch-tall Bernard Dugan O'Keefe, 18, who was held in $2,000 bail on a burglary charge.

"No wonder you couldn't get away with it," said the magistrate. "You're so tall you couldn't get lost in a crowd."

Terry Young has a low regard for the fine points of boxing and thinks only of battering his opponent to the canvas once the bell sends him into action. He accepts punishment, as part of the ring game and willingly trades blows to get in his favorite punch. He's been too busy "fighting" ever since he turned professional ten years ago. His slam-bang style and rugged physique have carried him a long way in the ring game and have built up quite a following from New York's East Side.

Young began life as Angelo DeSanza but as soon as he began to box as a pro he billed himself as Terry Young. It was the name his grandfather and father had used when they were professional boxers. Like the current edition of Terry Young, they were rough and rugged batters who actually did not get very far in the ring game. Certainly, not as far as the latest busy batter, who is knocking on the door of a welter-weight championship.

Terry first donned boxing gloves when he sparred with his cousin, Charley (Lulu) Costantino. Costantino was making fair progress in the preliminary ranks at the time and he invited Terry to box with him in a ring he had improvised on the roof of a Second Avenue tenement. A few sparring sessions satisfied Terry that he could do all right in the ring game. He reeled off a string of 32 victories before he dropped his first decision. He has suffered an occasional set-back but manages to bounce back stronger than ever. His recent triumph over Enrique Bolanos put him in the thick of the battle for a title bout.

Gannon Loses Distinction Of Only Unscored-On Team In Football Ranks

Erie, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—Little Gannon College finally has lost its distinction of being the only unscored on college football eleven in the country but its young coach predicts an undefeated season.

After Gannon beat Lorain College of Dubuque, Iowa, 18-7 here 8:00 last night, 32-year-old Coach Lou Tullio declared.

"These, I'm glad that's over. I thought we were going to get beat but my boys simply wouldn't give up. Those Iowa boys were tough—they rolled up 18 first downs to eight for us and we're lucky they didn't score more than one touchdown."

Tullio, who learned his football as a player at Holy Cross, is in his first season as a head coach.

"I've got 36 freshmen and five sophomores on the squad," Tullio declared. "And if we have any luck you'll be hearing plenty about Gannon in the next few years."

Gannon has rolled up 132 points including last night's game.

Aim At Clearing Rose Bowl Road

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference 1948 co-champions fight it out here today with unbeaten California aiming at clear road to the Rose Bowl.

Oregon, which was a Rose Bowl contender to the last in the past season, was knocked out of the race early this year. But the Golden Bears are riding an eight-game victory wave. Five of those victories are in the coast conference. Another win today would keep them clearly in the lead.

Ten False Leads In Stickup Probe

Goldsboro, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Wayne county sheriff's office has run down 10 false leads in an effort to solve Wednesday's five-hour fish fry stickup.

Sheriff Paul C. Garrison said today all the leads led up blind alleys.

The holdup occurred at "The Hole-In-The-Wall," a former Negro dine and dance hall on the Neuse river about two miles south of Goldsboro.

Sheriff Garrison said 14 men were robbed of about $2,000 in cash and valuables. The robbery was pulled by three masked, gloved men armed with a machine gun and pistols. The robbers used gestures and mumbles in talking to each other.

The victims were tied to chairs and robbed as they arrived at the secluded cabin. Only the haziest descriptions were given of the bandits.

Garrison said his officers had previously closed the Hole-In-The-Wall because of alleged liquor operations. He said he and his men also had investigated complaints that gambling had gone on there, but that no one had ever been caught.

The ultimate victim gets a temporary respite as Toreadors Luis Dominguez (right) of Spain and Rovira of Peru fight each other in the bull ring at Lima, Peru. Dominguez has just been slapped by his fellow-performer for a fancied insult after the Spaniard tossed his cape in front of the charging bull for fear that another ring companion was about to be gored. Rovira interpreted this gesture as questioning his valor, and the slapping followed. Dominguez, whose turn it was to be mated, went on to win the final decision by killing the bull amid the plaudits of the crowd. (AP Wirephoto).

High Point Plays Pirates Tonight; Big Scores Seen

High Point, Nov. 12.—High Point College and Eastern Carolina meet here tonight at 8 o'clock in a football game that is expected to draw 4,000 fans to Albion Mills Stadium.

The visiting Pirates, coached by Bill Dole, will enter the fray at one-point underdog, though almost all observers are calling the game a toss-up.

Both teams run from the T-formation and a free-scoring game is the most likely prospect. High Point's previous game came two weeks ago when the Panthers tied, Guilford, 19-19, to knock the Quakers out of contention for the loop crown. Coach Dole's ECTC eleven turned in its best game against Lenoir-Rhyne, holding the powerful Bears to a 21-20 decision.

The probable starting lineups:

Pos.	ECTC	High Point
LE	Tanner	Fisher
LT	Kilpatrick	Cheadle
LG	Byrd	Bailey
C	Prominsky	Hooper
RG	Trotman	Morgan
RT	Booth	Burleson
RE	Shoe	Yarborough
QB	Thrift	Von Drehle
LH	Kovach	Klein
RH	B. Smith	Ilderton

SMU Has Seven Sons Of Coaches For Grid Squad

Dallas (AP)—If background has anything to do with it, Southern Methodist is due to have another smart football team next season. There will be seven sons of coaches on the squad.

One is H. N. Russell, Jr., son of H. N. (Rusty) Russell, backfield coach of Southern Methodist. He's playing a lot of halfback this season.

Herschel Forester, Jr., whose father was a high school coach in Dallas, is a guard on the varsity. A brother, Bill, a backfielder, is on the freshman team.

Henry Stollenwerk, regular halfback, is the son of Logan Stollenwerk, former SMU coach at Waxahachie, Tex. A brother, Sam, is on the freshman squad.

Others on the freshman team whose fathers are coaches are Sonny Mitchell, a star trackman in addition to being a footballer, and Verde Dickey, Jr., son of a Dallas high school coach.

Wofford Winner Of 13 Straight

Spartanburg, S.C., Nov. 12 (AP)—Wofford hasn't been defeated in its last 17 football games. It has won 13 straight.

This outstanding record was set last night as the Terriers defeated Tennessee Tech, 26 to 7. They scored in every period with Bobby Starnes, Sammy Sewell and Jimmy Gordan leading the way.

Last Quarter Drive By Jackets Nets Tie

Roanoke Rapids.—Greenville high school's Phantoms and the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets battled battled to a six-all deadlock here yesterday afternoon in a game of pass interception.

The ball changed hands seven times in the last half on interceptions.

Favored Greenville scored in the first period when Ace Halfback Jimmy Cox broke over guard and went 60 yards to a touchdown and the longest run of the game. A pass for the extra point was no good.

The Rapids boys fought back in the last period to score and tie up the ball game. They began a drive on the middle stripe and with Bo Batton passing and running carried it all the way to the Greenville two. Batton then passed to Shotgun Acree in the end zone for a touchdown.

Roanoke Rapids' try for the extra point was also no good.

The Rapids team drove from their own 40 to the Greenville in the opening minutes of play from where Jake Higgs intercepted a pass and Greenville began its touchdown drive.

Greenville threatened on numerous occasions. In the second quarter they moved all the way to the 14 of the Yellow Jackets but lost on downs.

In the third period Walter Perry intercepted a pass on his own 40 and ran to the 40 of Roanoke Rapids. The Greenies then moved the ball down to the 30 but a fumble cost them the threat.

A few minutes later Paul Conway intercepted a pass on the Rapids 40 and ran it down to the 25 to create another Phantom threat. But the Yellow Jackets held at that point.

In the closing minutes of the game the ball changed hands repeatedly. Walter Perry intercepted a pass on his own 45 and ran it down to the 26 to give Greenville another threat. But Roanoke Rapids came back to intercept a Greenville pass and take over themselves, momentarily.

Two plays later Walter Gort tugged in a Roanoke Rapids pass on the 45 and ran it all the way back to the 10. Referees ruled that he went out on the 40 and Greenville began a drive from that point.

A few seconds later Batton intercepted for Roanoke Rapids just as the game ended.

First downs were even with each team getting eight.

Miami Rolls To 13-7 Win Over South Carolina

Miami, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—The University of Miami Hurricanes won a 13-7 decision from South Carolina in a stubborn football game here last night.

The Hurricanes had their hands full in winning their fifth game in six starts—they lost only to Purdue—before a crowd of 34,185 in the Orange Bowl Stadium.

Miami rolled 70 yards to a touchdown in the first five minutes and went 60 yards for another midway in the third period. Carolina scored after five minutes of the final quarter, driving 95 yards to the goal line.

It was a bruising, battering game that saw the visiting Gamecocks lead in first downs, 13 to 12, and in rushing, 166 yards to 156. The Carolina boys completed four of 12 passes for 86 yards. Miami made good five out of 15 for 83 yards.

Powerful New Voice Of America Radio Building

Salonika, Greece, Nov. 12 (AP)—American radio engineers are working round the clock here on a 50,000-watt Voice of America transmitter which is to start boring holes in the Iron Curtain by the end of the year.

The million-dollar radio installation will be the second major relay in Europe for trying to break through the broadcast jamming set up by Soviet stations. The other one is at Munich.

The engineers said the new radio weapon in the "cold war" will cover the Balkans and other parts of Europe easily, with directional antenna that can be beamed to any spot.

Built on marshland 12 miles east of here and only a few hundred yards from the Aegean Sea, the station will be an "engineer's dream," equipped with the most recent radio devices.

Chapter 25

"I'd better forewarn you," Calvin observed. "Allene's been seeing these people through. If you must mention her, speak nicely. I'll introduce you as a friend from the East."

"What a relation between sky and life, thought Arieta, as they spun out of the canyon road. You waken in sunshine; life is free, limitless and golden. But only because you can't see that first tiny cloud on the horizon."

"Better pick up food," he decided, swearing in to the little grocery.

"Here," Arieta drew the largest bill she had in her billfold—"buy what you think they need."

"Allene—"

Of course Allene had gone into that grocery store. Arieta couldn't, wouldn't. There was a limit to the insults a person could take.

"You know better what they'll want," she said.

The proprietor himself helped to load the car. When he was through he stood at the door looking at Arieta, and then when Calvin was in and waiting for him to leave, spoke.

"Kind o' late in the day, isn't it?" he observed.

Color flared in Arieta's cheeks, color which had crept up from her heart, spreading across her chest, her neck and finally finding its way to the roots of her hair. Kind of late in the day. For the first time she questioned the heritage Big Chips Langtry had left her.

"And then — 'Cal,' cried Arieta, "oh, the brave ones. See what they've done with that old station wagon. And look—that shed, Cal. She cried this time. "Do you realize that house is built entirely of beer cans."

"Filled with sand and cemented together," he told her. "And the floor is made of oil cans, flattened out and nailed to logs hauled down on the back of the builder's mule."

Arieta had read of purgatory. It was a place where one was purged of worldly sins. This tin can house was her purgatory.

In it was pride of spirit. Mr. and Mrs. Dennison had their chins up.

"We had money comin'," Mrs. Dennison told Arieta, "but that pore man Langtry didn't know there was no cheer in it get money so he took it to himself. But we're comfortable, mostly. Course these here floors are a mite too close to the ground. Haven't any rugs you're not usin', have you? Rag rugs help folks round here mostly wear their rugs."

They drove on. A shed the next one. The widow pulled herself out of a walter of stinking bedding.

"Please go 'way," she begged. "I'm not use' to bein' like this. In a year or so I'll have me the old age pension; then I can be decent for callers. Come back in a year or so, if I be alive."

They stopped next at a barn. Of course it was a barn; there was the hayloft and the big doors and it was set close to the ground—an old-fashioned barn.

A tiny creature with a runny nose and sores on her upper lip pushed a scraggly hair back from bleak eyes to stare at Arieta. "Did you bring us something?" she asked.

"Of course," said Arieta breathlessly. "Cal bring in the best."

"Ma," said the creature, "is sick 's usual. Pa said she should go 't the hospital. He took her but she give out after she'd waited three then she remembered a scene he'd read aloud to her time and again. Ah, she found it. And on that page and the next and the next were letters underscored.

She found paper and crayon and when she had written the underscored letters down she read and then laid her head on the tiny desk in final resignation.

Forgive me, Chips. Ace forced my hand. If I don't settle with him today it will be up to you to make good for me. What a bitter heritage for my little love. (To be continued)

'Mercy Forces' Are Mobilized

Greensboro, Nov. 11—(AP)—Hastily mobilized mercy forces rushed money and aid today to save the life of Phyllis Carter, Greensboro's six-year-old "blue baby."

A spontaneous flow of donations started last night and continued through the morning here. Greensboro Little Theater and Grace Methodist Church joined Greensboro Junior Chamber of Commerce in the "dollars versus death" duel.

Combat Marine In Aerial Salute

Marine Lieut. George Gilman and his "Phantom" jet fighter provided the aerial salute to the Greenville Armistice Day celebration staged this morning.

Lt. Gilman is from Marine Fighting squadron 122, Marine Air Group 14, which is part of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing based at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C.

Competition In Furniture Field

Chicago, Nov. 11—(AP)—Foreign countries apparently have made the American home furnishings field a special target in a drive for increased exports, an industry spokesman said today.

Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Furniture Mart, said the situation has created immediate and long term competitive problems for many branches of the American home furnishing industry.

The United States, which has been manufacturing clay floor and wall tile for only 82 years, now produces more clay tile than any other country.

Platinum has been known to the scientific world for only about 200 years.

Says Educators 100 Years Ago Had An Easier Time

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 12—(AP)—Turn on the radio, turn on a phonograph, flash a wild and woolly western movie on a screen and get a lather lunged boy to shout "Comic books for sale!"

It all adds up to a wild assault on the eyes and ears. That, says President Paul Wagner of Rollins College, is what teachers must compete against with nothing more than textbooks.

And that's why American children aren't getting good educations today, he declares.

He gave 500 Florida State University alumni, professors and guests a graphic example of what he meant last night. He set the radio, the motion picture, the phonograph and the comic book hawk going all at once.

Things were different a hundred years ago. He demonstrated that, too. He ordered all lights at the annual banquet and gold key homecoming banquet turned off. Then he lit a candle, placed it in a century-old lantern, and opened an ancient McGuffey reader.

The long-ago student of the McGuffey Reader had no competing demands on his attention, Wagner said. His teacher, his textbook and his candle were all he had.

The 32-year-old Wagner, one of the youngest college presidents in the United States, declared today's teachers should fight fire with fire. Some movies, some radio programs, some comic books teach the "right attitudes," he said.

But, he asked, how about this: He displayed a comic book in which one gun-wielding character said to another: "Try dis in ya belly, ya house!"

He held up a poster which advertised a motion picture by depicting a woman with next to nothing on. He flipped on the radio. A murder mystery is in progress.

Control For . . .

Goods on this special world-control list needed approval of the Commerce Department before they could be shipped anywhere. Here are some of the items on that world list:

Aviation gasoline, special puncture-proof inner-tubes for tires, some kinds of electrical generators, machinery for refining oil.

So far we've been talking about finished products like machinery and oil. They were the result of American brains. But what of unfinished products of American brains like plans for machinery, or technical information?

If sent to the Soviet bloc, or to any place which might re-shape them there, in time they might be used against us.

So this week the government asked people who are thinking of exporting such information to any place—if it might possibly involve this country's security—to do this:

To hold off until they get an opinion from the Commerce Department on whether such information might help the communists.

This arrangement is voluntary. But it's one more step in trying to keep Russia from getting militarily strong with American help.

Britain's present industrial production is 26 per cent above prewar.

Claims Touring Solons 'Snubbed'

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 12—(AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said today one European country had snubbed his armed forces subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee and "any money granted to that country will be over my protest."

Thomas did not name the country but Congressional members of his party said he was referring to Sweden.

In addition to Thomas, the committee is composed of Senators Maybank (D-SC), McLellan (D-Ark), Robertson (D-Va), Thye R-Minn), Stennis (D-Miss) and Chavez.

"The Government officials," Thomas told newsmen, "acted as if they did not know we were within a thousand miles of the place. x x x The country I refer to has helped no one in the last 13 years. Anyone with a military uniform on in that country is a spy x x x They get some easy money and they grabbed it—now they want more."

Thomas is chairman of the seven-man subcommittee which is touring Europe to investigate the use of American aid funds. The party arrived in Vienna last night for conference with American military and diplomatic officials. They leave Monday for Greece.

Progress In . . .

between east and west in the proceedings of the U. N., there are some valuable contacts between members of the two blocs. For example, the way was cleared for the lifting of the Soviet blockade of western Berlin by discussions between Dr. Philip Jessup, American delegate to the U. S. Security Council, and Jacob A. Malik, Russian U. N. delegate.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 12—(AP)—Members of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce opened a two-day meeting here today.

Also scheduled for consideration was the fate of the state beauty contest which the Jaycees have sponsored for some years.

program should be a great help to Florida, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and other states with an attractive winter climate. Certainly, these retired people will not stick around home, shoveling snow, when they can be healthier, happier and live cheaper in a southern climate. They will get into their little car and beat it for the South at least for the winter months.

Many of these retired men and wives, whose families have grown up and moved away, will permanently change their residence to Florida, California or one of these other states. In the case of Florida, these people can buy a house for about $5,000 which is exempt from all local taxes provided they make Florida their home. There also are other advantages in moving to one of the above states. As a result, this new pension may postpone a decline in real estate prices in these southern states which have already had more or less of a real estate boom.

Real Estate Outlook.

For some months real estate sales have been slowing up in most Northern cities. This especially applies to the higher priced and larger houses. Unemployment is forcing families to double up which is slowing houses on the market. The great increase in divorces is also a definite factor in the real estate situation. If the new pension craze is to be a boon for Southern communities, it should be bearish on Northern communities where these people are now located as they will want to sell their present Northern homes.

Due to the fact that the cream is off of the real estate business in many sections, the cost of new building has declined somewhat. It is certainly true that you can build a better house for the same money now than was the case a year or two ago when contractors were so independent and unreliable. My present advice on new building is as follows: If you have been waiting for a home, the time has come when you might seriously consider building for your own occupancy. The time, however, has not yet come to build a house or business property to rent to someone else. There are much better investments today than houses or stores.

swung into East Fifth street at Five Points on the way to the stadium. The distinguished guests and Airborne units from Fort Bragg and Gold Star mothers and disabled veterans received applause along the way.

East Carolina Teachers College Band and the ECTC Air Reserve

Officers Training Corps were features of the parade. Next in line were the Girl Scouts and Brownies. The VFW Auxiliary came next. The crowd pressed forward when the Greenville High School band and the local National Guard artillery battery were passing. Next in the parade were Boy Scouts and Cubs, the American Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Farmville High School band, in colorful uniforms and playing like veterans, made a big hit.

A feature of the Armistice Day parade was the appearance of the Negro American Legion and uniformed Elks and the Epps Negro High School band, Boy and Girl Scouts and other groups. The Farmville and Ayden Negro High School bands made a fine impression.

The parade passed in review before Army Secretary Gordon Gray at the college stadium.

Armistice Day was a great event in the community life. State newspapers played up the Greenville celebration as being the most elaborate in the state. The distinguished guests from Washington and visiting reporters, who are accustomed to witness many parades, said it was "as nearly perfect as a parade could be."

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars already are planning for Armistice Day next year on a more elaborate scale.
