Chinese Seats In UN Challenged By Red Leaders

Communist China Makes First Step To Take Over Delegation's Position

Lake Success, Nov. 16—(AP)—The new Chinese Communist Regime in China has challenged the right of Chinese Nationalist delegates to keep their seats in the United Nations.

The announcement yesterday apparently was the first step by Mao Tse-tung's Red "People's government" aimed at taking over the big power membership in the U. N. held by the retreating Chinese Nationalists.

A Communist broadcast from Peking announced that the Mao Tse-tung government was sending a message to U. N. Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo declaring that Nationalist delegates have "no right to speak for the Chinese people in the United Nations organization."

While no formal demand was made for ousting China's present delegation headed by Dr. T. F. Tsiang, the Peking broadcast said the central people's government repudiates the legal status of the Nationalist delegation.

Informed of the report, Tsiang said: "I will pay no attention to this."

He told reporters he represents a government elected by the people and pointed out that the Chinese people have not pronounced themselves yet on the Communist regime.

The United States immediately reaffirmed its support of the Nationalist delegation's right to sit in the U. N.

The matter of Chinese representation is of importance to all delegations. China is a permanent member of the security council and as such has the veto power. If the Communists ultimately succeed in ousting the Nationalists in this diplomatic front, it is assumed the Soviet debating position in the security council would be strengthened but the customary western majority would not be affected.

However, a Communist China delegate might use the veto alternately with Russia.

Coplon Attorney Gets Warning To Guard Conduct

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Judith Coplon's lawyer—fined twice for her contempt during her spy trial in Washington—has been warned by a federal judge here not to "make a farce out of the court" in her second trial.

The lawyer, Archibald Palmer, said he had no such intention when rebuked yesterday by Judge Sylvester Ryan.

The sharpest of several rebukes for Palmer's tactics came near the close of the second day of a pre-trial hearing to determine the legality of Miss Coplon's arrest and the seizure of the contents of her handbag last March 4.

The hearing was expected to close today.

Seek To Avoid Entry In Feud

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Truman Administration has taken steps to keep field officials of the Agriculture Department from becoming involved in a political controversy over the Brannan farm plan.

Several hundred department Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) officials from the various states will hold an annual meeting in Memphis Dec. 4-9 to discuss problems pertaining to farm production, prices and marketing.

March Of Desperation Away From Soviet Zone

These 35 men, women and children have been ordered to return from Western Germany to the Soviet Zone after an illegal border crossing and they are marching along the road near Celle, Germany. They are starting a 250-mile journey to Bonn, Germany, to plead for government permission to stay in Western Germany. Three women collapsed along the road and were taken to a hospital at Uelzen. The marchers said they hoped to obtain food during the trip by working for farmers en route. (AP Wirephoto.)

Pres. Truman Launches Public Housing Program

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—President Truman today launched the public housing program by approving loans totaling $20,375,400 to 108 cities for the planning of low-rent homes for a half-million persons.

The loans will finance the surveys and planning for 134,500 dwellings in 27 states, Puerto Rico, and Washington D. C.

Mr. Truman's action was announced by John Taylor, Egan, commissioner of the public housing administration.

Egan said loan contracts will be signed as rapidly as possible with the local housing authorities. The loans, the first to be made under the long-range housing act approved this summer, are preliminary to later financing arrangements which will permit the start of construction.

The housing developments launched today are to be undertaken within the next two years.

Funds have been reserved for another 100 local authorities which intend to take part in the first two years of the public housing program.

The legislation provides for about 810,000 units over the next six years.

"Approval of these loans means that these local housing authorities may now take the first concrete steps toward building good new homes for low income families," Egan's statement said.

The size of the preliminary loan is limited by the number of dwelling units allotted to the locality. The present authorizations average about $151 for each dwelling.

Flynn To Marry Young Princess

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—Film Star Errol Flynn is engaged to marry Romanian Princess Irene Ghica, friends of the couple said today.

The 30-year-old princess, slender and brown-haired, is the daughter of the late Prince Jean Ghica who was killed in a plane crash 12 years ago. She lives in Paris with her mother, Mrs. Ebi Donescu, who has since remarried.

Important in wartime. The Persian economy is being supported largely from royalties and payrolls of the British-controlled Anglo-American Oil Company. Russia has its eyes on Iran's oil.

The Shah was shot at recently by a would-be assassin. But, with American backing, he has a better chance of keeping his throne than he might otherwise have in his oft-troubled country.

Keeping Iran fairly stable, with a ruler who has goodwill toward the United States, fits in with the U.S. foreign policy.

A couple of years ago when Russia tried to set up the puppet republic of Azerbaijan in Iran, the U.S. backed Iran, the United Nations rapped Russia's knuckles, and the republic folded.

Americans have been busy in Iran for five years, advising the Shah's army. When Congress this fall voted $1,314,000,000 military assistance for Western European and other non-Communist countries, $27,640,000 was earmarked for Iran. Korea and the Philippines.

Iran also has been supplied with substantial quantities of American war surplus equipment and Iran may make requests for loans from the World Bank and the American

Found Traitor

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Herbert J. Burman, 53, long a clerk in the American embassy in Berlin, was convicted yesterday of treason to his country.

Instead of coming home with other diplomatic personnel when the United States and Germany went to war, Burman remained behind and became a radio propagandist. He is a native of Hokah, Minn.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who received the jury's verdict shortly after 5 p.m. (EST) yesterday, did not indicate when he will pass sentence.

Mr. Truman's action was announced by John Taylor, Egan, commissioner of the public housing administration.

Egan said loan contracts will be signed as rapidly as possible with the local housing authorities. The loans, the first to be made under the long-range housing act approved this summer, are preliminary to later financing arrangements which will permit the start of construction.

Carload Of Grain Sent From Pitt

Dedicated to the starving children of Europe, a train car of grain was sent from Greenville yesterday as part of Pitt County's Christian Rural Overseas Program.

It was the first of two cars of grain Pitt County CROP leaders set out to raise last month. Leaders in the project expressed their belief that the second carload would be on its way by Monday.

The grain was dedicated by the Rev. H. G. Haney, pastor of the First Christian Church, even as the colored express workers loaded the banded cars in the car. In simple ceremonies witnessed by a small band of leaders in the project, Dr. Haney described the undertaking as the greatest project of mercy ever begun by the Christian people of the world.

In dedicating the grain the Greenville minister declared: "This is hereby dedicated to the orphans of Europe, whether they were orphaned by the forces of our foes or by our own armies, so long as they are hungry it is for them."

Mrs. J. P. Davenport, Sr., chairman of the drive, presided at the ceremonies.

A tabulation made immediately following the dedication showed 1,639 bushels of grain and $163.00 had been turned in so far. Ayden, Carolina and Swift Creek townships still had not been heard from.

Bethel township made the highest contribution in the campaign, that of 350 bushels of corn and $106.75 in cash. Winterville came through with 375 bushels. They were the only townships which had reached their goals yesterday.

Leaders expressed the belief, however, that a number of additional contributions would be made later in the week. They said Monday would be the last day for Pitt County to make contributions.

Marshall Aid To Indonesia OK'd

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Economic Cooperation Administration today approved $37,500,000 in new Marshall Plan aid to Indonesia.

Marshall Plan aid had been halted since last December when ECA Chief Paul Hoffman suspended the flow of recovery goods because of fighting between the Dutch and native Indonesians.

ECA announced on November 7 that Marshall plan help would be resumed following settlement of the outbreak.

No Pictures For Barkley Wedding

St. Louis, Nov. 16—(AP)—The nation will have to depend on words for a description of Vice President Barkley's marriage to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley Friday. There will be no pictures of the actual ceremony.

Only 34 guests and a handful of newspaper and radio reporters will be inside the chapel of St. John's Methodist Church.

Terms Prospects For Britain Dim

J. Con Lanier of Greenville, secretary of the Leaf Tobacco Export Association and counsel for the Tobacco Association of the United States, was guest speaker Tuesday evening of the International Relations Club of East Carolina Teachers College.

Addressing approximately 50 students and faculty members of the group, Lanier outlined economic conditions in countries which he recently visited in the Marshall Plan countries of Europe. He was introduced to his audience by Constantine Fokakis of Wilmington.

Prospects for England, Lanier said, seem bleaker than those of any other country he visited. Once the heart of a great empire and a creditor nation, England, he pointed out, has lost part of her empire and has become a debtor nation. The speaker stated, "I have lost the art of working" and much of the incentive to work; and throughout England there is evident a spirit of defeatism.

Switzerland, he said, impressed him as a "little piece of American transplanted to Europe." The people are industrious, he stated, have a good government, and are sturdy and independent in character. France, he said, would begin to prosper if the people could establish a stable government.

Other countries discussed by Lanier included Holland, "the most admirable country visited"; Denmark, suffering from the loss of the German market; and Belgium, where prices are high but there evidence of prosperity is to be seen.

In discussing the Marshall Plan, the speaker told of the immense amounts of money being turned over to European countries by the United States and mentioned briefly some of the dangers offered to our own economy.

If this financial expenditure can stop another war, Mr. Lanier concluded, "the price we are paying is worth the money."

Less Than $300 Under Drive Goal

Greenville's Community Chest campaign during the past two weeks has netted a total of $10,918.60, and leaves less than $300 to be collected before the campaign goal is reached, Chairman Badger Johnson announced today.

Johnson expressed the hope that the entire $10,300 goal set for the Red Feather campaign will be reached within the next few days.

A report from the East Carolina Teachers College faculty members and other employees added $381.50 to the Community Chest fund yesterday. Johnson said the report of the ECTC committee, headed by Dr. Leo Jenkins, indicates a "very nice job" done by the college in behalf of the Greenville community Chest, and added, "This exceptionally fine showing as further proof that the staff of East Carolina consider themselves truly a part of our community effort."

Chairman Hopeful Quota Is Reached In Few Days

Seoul, Nov. 16—(AP)—North Korean communists indicated today that two Americans they seized with an American ship last September were being held as hostages to force United States recognition of Red North Korea.

A radio broadcast from Pyongyang, North Korean capital, reported the safety of Capt. Alfred T. Meschter and Chief Engineer Almer E. Willis, advisers to the South Korean crew of the cargo ship Kimball R. Smith.

Then the broadcast, in the form of a press interview with North Korean Home Affairs Minister Pak Il Woo, quoted him as saying in response to a question on how he was going to handle the case from now on:

"In event that the American government raises the question, the two Americans may be handed over to representatives appointed by the American government under provisions of the latest international law."

The United States, he added, "has not asked our government about it." The U.S., which does not recognize the North Korean Red regime, has made two requests to Russia for aid in locating the two Americans. Acting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko replied Oct. 14 it was a matter for the North Korean government, which the Russians recognize.

Reach 1,786 In Signing Farm Bureau Members

Farm Bureau memberships reported in the current drive in Pitt County total 1,786 it was announced today by the county agent's office. A goal of 3,500 membership has been set for the year.

A spokesman for the group said that in order to be eligible for the Edward A. O'Neal Party club, which sponsors free trips for delegates to the national convention, the report of the Pitt County drive must be in the state office by November 23.

A breakdown of the total memberships by townships shows: Ayden 258; Beverdam 150; Belvoir 40; Bethel 331; Carolina 35; Chicod 55; Falkland 0; Farmville 43; Fountain 13; Greenville 136; Pataclus 106; Swift Creek 0; and Winterville 142.

Discusses Position Of U. S. In World Affairs

Ralph Fleming, Jr., student division chairman of the United World Federalists, spoke this morning to the entire student body of the Greenville High School.

Fleming told the student body that it had been five years since he had been in Greenville High School and that those five years had been about the most important in his life.

Fleming is now on a tour of several states, and who has just returned from a trip over in Europe and Mexico, spoke on the position of America in the world of today.

Fleming told the packed high school group in part of the damage which he had seen in Europe and told of the needs of the people in Europe.

"Freedom carries a certain amount of responsibility and the happenings in Europe and in the Far East play a big part in determining whether we keep that freedom. A great tide is sweeping over India and Asia, which will hurt the future of the world, unless it is stopped. The policy of the United States needs to be changed to meet the demands of the lands overseas."

In closing, Fleming said, "As long as there has been a world, groups of people have lived together using some form of government. When this system of government failed the people began fighting among themselves. The only way in which we will have law and peace in the world of today, is that we will have to bring all the nations together under a uniform government. There is no such thing as world law in our world today."

"The United Nations is a step in the right direction but it must be put to work on a larger scale, a scale such as a federal world government."

Fleming is a graduate of Greenville High School, and following his graduation he attended Duke University where he became a leader in the United World Federalists, a nationwide organization which is campaigning for world federal government. He was granted a leave of absence to take part in the United World Federalists movement in the Fight To Control Electrical Union Growing Intense

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16—(AP)—The battle for the funds and membership of the United Electrical Workers union, recently tossed out of the CIO, grew hotter and hotter today.

The struggle was pointed up by new court tests and by two direct appeals to the National Labor Relations board.

One petition, filed by labor's newest organization, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, called for collective bargaining elections at all major electrical manufacturing firms.

It was a direct challenge to the left wing forces of the UE, who have refused to admit the right of any local, by no matter how large a membership vote, to secede from the parent group. They claim this would be a violation of the UE constitution.

Right wingers, however, have voted for secession. In most cases they have instituted court action to seize local funds or are defending similar suits brought by left wingers.

The petitions filed by the right wing union would cover nearly 200,000 workers or about half the pre-secession UE membership.

The labor board will have to decide, in answer to both petitions, whether UE's present contracts, which expire next April, are a bar to elections. If not, then the board must rule whether elections should be made company-wide, or limited to persons working in a single plant or in a single city.

The other two major employers of electrical production workers—General Electric, with 125,000, and General Motors, 30,000—have steered clear of the bargaining election issue.

New Court Tests And Appeals To NLRB Mark Left-Right Struggle

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The White House appeared willing today to give John L. Lewis the rest of this week to accept a fact-finding board in the coal dispute like the one which helped settle the steel strike.

President Truman was reported ready to invoke the Taft-Hartley act—which Lewis and Mr. Truman both dislike—if the United Mine Workers' leader doesn't agree to the other procedure by Monday.

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Federal mediation chief Cyrus S. Ching today turned the deadlocked coal dispute over to the White House for action.

Barring some prior move by Lewis of the soft coal operators, the administration's tentative timetable for dealing with the coal deadlock was reported as follows:

1. A fact-finding board, with power to recommend a settlement while the miners stayed at work for 60 days, would be proposed to Lewis and the operators on Thursday.

2. Lewis would have until the end of the week to accept or reject the proposal, which he already has indicated he strenuously opposes.

The operators, talked to in advance, have indicated they would submit to such an inquiry.

3. In the event the UMW chief turns down the proposal for creation of a board with authority to suggest a settlement, the President on Monday would invoke Taft-Hartley, with its machinery for an 80-day court injunction against the strike.

Lewis has been a consistent enemy of the Taft-Hartley act. He is one of the last holdouts among labor leaders against meeting its terms.

The law was passed over Mr. Truman's veto. He campaigned for re-election with its repeal as a major objective, and he has promised repeatedly that he will not rest until the law is wiped off the books.

The President bypassed Taft-Hartley when the steel strike threatened last July. The fact-finding board he appointed in exchange for a 60-day truce in steel had nothing to do with the act.

The Taft-Hartley act provides for a board without power, to propose any settlement. It would only report on the facts. The President could then seek an 80-day injunction if those facts showed there was a threat of a sizeable national emergency.

Maritime Tie-Up Is Averted By Parley

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—A strike of 2,000 AFL Deck officers on 500 vessels plying the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico sealanes was narrowly averted late last night by government intervention.

A truce for at least one week—but more probably for 30 days—was agreed upon an hour before the AFL masters, mates and pilots were to walk off passenger and dry cargo vessels of the 38 companies represented by the American Merchant Marine Institute.

Federal mediators who stepped into the dispute on Monday proposed the truce. It was accepted to allow more time for the parties to settle their differences over hiring arrangements demanded by the union, and 16 other contract issues.

The peace terms provided that the union and the companies each would consult their principals by next Monday and either side would be free to revoke the truce by Tuesday noon. If the extension of the contract was agreed upon, it would continue until December 16 at 12:01 a. m. EST.

The contract expired on September 30 but was extended twice before the truce. The last minute extension was understood to have been urged by sister unions of the AFL, which were pledged to support the deck officers but which were anxious to keep working if possible.

Truce Expected To Last 30 Days Reached By Intervention Of Gov't Mediators; Narrowly Beat Clock

Air Force B-29 With 20 Aboard Missing At Sea

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 16—(AP)—A United States Air Force B-29 with 20 persons aboard was reported missing today on a flight from Riverside, Calif., to Bermuda. Search planes have gone out from Kindley Field here.

The plane was due here at 7:10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time. It was believed to have come down in the Atlantic off Bermuda. Four planes are searching the area.

The plane had been in radio contact with Kindley Field until a message was received that it was going to ditch—come down on the water—within five minutes.

The craft, from the Second Squadron of the 22nd Bombardment Group, was one of a number of B-29s en route from California to Britain, which stop over in Bermuda.

U. S. Merchant Ship Hit Several Times By Blockading Chinese Warship

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Despite heavy fire from a Chinese Nationalist warship, the crew of an unarmed American merchant vessel went about its chores as if nothing unusual was happening, the New York Times reported today in an eyewitness account.

"Even the cooks kept on tending the stoves in the galley," Walter Sullivan reported to the Times in a dispatch from aboard the S. S. Flying Cloud off Shanghai.

The story, dated Nov. 15, said "the ship's hull was blown in by shellfire at several places but no one was hurt."

Sullivan reported: "Six women passengers, ranging in age from 21 to 59, stood with the male passengers on the side of the engine room away from the shooting."

"The merchantman, entirely unarmed, could not reply to the gunfire. Suddenly amid the sound of shells hitting the hull the klaxon sounded. The passengers were startled, believing it to be an alarm, but it was only a signal to relieve the watch. The engineers said the ship's routine was not to be upset, bullets or no bullets."

The Times dispatch detailed the damage to the Flying Cloud, owned by the Isbrandtsen Line of New York, "home-bound from Shanghai as she broke away from the blockading warship that had detained and boarded her."

Halting of the Flying Cloud near the mouth of the Yangtze by a former U.S. destroyer escort was described in the story.

The Chinese Nationalists tried to hold the ship captive along with two British merchant ships under a blockade of Communist Chinese ports which both the British and U.S. governments have declared illegal.

The Flying Cloud—with its passengers ordered to the most sheltered spots—picked up anchor and spurned an order to return to Shanghai.

And then—Sullivan reported: "The warship flashed fire and air with gunfire, and three-inch shells exploded against the hull plates of the Flying Cloud at almost point-blank range."

"One shell plunged into the hull amidships, exploding x x x An investigation tonight revealed a hole in the hull the size of a porthole. The warship, unable to quit her British charges lest they escape, too, could not give chase, so that once the Flying Cloud drew out of range she was safe."

Mr. Averette Speaks To E.C.T.C. Alumni

Larry Averette, district commander of the V.F.W., was guest speaker at the Armistice Day program of the Greenville chapter of East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association on Friday evening in the Alumni Office at the college.

Mr. Averette traced the history of the V.F.W. and gave the objectives of the organization. He stated that the V. F. W. was organized in 1889 and celebrated its golden anniversary at the National convention in Miami in August. "The objectives of this organization are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational," said Averette.

"Our motto is to honor the dead by helping the living. We strive to carry out this motto by the projects which are undertaken by the post, the department and by national headquarters."

The chapter voted to continue the membership drive for another month. Mrs. Thurman Dail presided during the business session.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Fred Owens, Mrs. George H. Clapp, Mrs. L. L. Lancaster, Misses Bruce Exum and Mamie Ruth Tunstall.

Police Cars Race To Rescue Child

Detroit, Nov. 16—(AP)—A fleet of police scout cars roared through Detroit's East Side streets last night to rescue an abducted child.

After an hour's tense hunt and chase, little Karen Kuechenmeister, 7, stolen from her home, was returned safely to the arms of her frantic mother.

Karen had been snatched virtually from the bosom of her family.

There followed a perilous dash by 18 police scout cars which hit speeds of 80 and 90 miles an hour in an eight-mile streets and alleys race in pursuit.

Journalism Foundation Is Given Charter Today

Chapel Hill, N. C. Nov. 16—(AP)—The Journalism Foundation of North Carolina, Inc., received a charter today from Secretary of State Thad Eure. It immediately began raising a $100,000 fund to support and expand the University of North Carolina Journalism department into a school of Journalism.

The Foundation, a non-profit, charitable and educational corporation, has a goal of providing more adequate facilities and funds for supplementing the state salary scale in the University Journalism department.

A project of the North Carolina Press Association, the Foundation lists 110 charter members, including many of the state's editors and publishers.

The sponsoring committee is headed by Holt McPherson, Shelby newspaperman who for four years has been a member of the American Council of Education for Journalism. Other members are John W. Harden of Greensboro, public relations director for Burlington Mills; Steed Rollins, executive editor of the Durham Herald-Sun papers; W. E. Horner, publisher of the Sanford Herald; and Leslie Thompson, editor of the Whiteville Reporter.

Contributions made or pledged to the Foundation include a bequest of something more than $5,000 under the will of the late W. Carey Dowd, Jr., former publisher of the Charlotte News. There are several contributions of $1,000 each.

Not Discouraged By Stormy Trip

Wilmington, N.C., Nov. 16—(AP)—Arch Yow, 33, of Henderson, repaired his 24-foot homemade sailboat today and planned to continue southward on his storm-interrupted voyage.

He suffered no ill effects from his five days of drifting in the Atlantic, where high seas caused a leak in his boat and weakened his mast.

The red-haired University of North Carolina student planned to proceed to Southport on the Inland Waterway, there make permanent repairs and continue southward.

He was lost from last Wednesday until Monday. He went to sleep after setting out from Morehead City with no compass, watch or charts aboard.

He was driven across the Gulf Stream, then rode a gale in a westerly course. Finally he saw the lights of Wrightsville Beach and rowed ashore in a dinghy.

National Kids' Day, November 19

Nationwide plans for National Kids Day Nov. 19 were discussed by sponsors at a special news conference at which kids acted as reporters in place of their newsmen fathers. Here is the report written by David Kramp, 13, an eighth grade pupil, who "covered" it for the Associated Press.

By DAVID KRAMP

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—There's a Mother's Day and a Father's Day and now there's going to be a Kids' Day.

National Kids Day will be celebrated for the first time Saturday, Nov. 19. It will be held in succeeding years on the third Saturday in November. That means we won't get out of school for it, but it may be changed to a school day later.

National Kids' Day is sponsored by Kiwanis International and the National Kids' Day Foundation.

Plans for Kids' Day were announced last night at a press conference. Kid reporters covered it and wrote their own stories about it.

Special movies, parades, radio programs, football games, pancake fairs and other special events will be held in some cities on National Kids' Day for the benefit of underprivileged children.

The purpose of National Kids' Day are: To put attention upon the accomplishments of youth; to seek additional interest from the public to combat juvenile delinquency and to help its victims to become useful citizens; and to help underprivileged children by giving them a chance to enjoy some of the benefits more fortunate boys and girls have.

SBI In Probe Of Fire At State College Tuesday

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP)—The SBI is investigating what apparently was an attempt to set fire to Pullen Hall at N. C. State College. College officials revealed that an oil warning flare was thrown into the building early yesterday morning. However, someone noticed the small blaze, and summoned the fire department. No damage resulted, they said.

A similar incident occurred at the college zoology building several days ago.

"It seems to be a serious thing," said J. W. Harrelson, state chancellor. "I doubt seriously if it is a prank."

Jenkins Speaks At Pender Meet

Teachers in the Pender County school system heard an address Tuesday by Dean Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina Teachers College. The meeting was held at the Burgaw school, and the program for the day centered around the topic of supervision.

Every normal and industrious child, Dean Jenkins told the Pender County teachers, has a right to succeed. The schools, he stated, should work on this assumption. "Failure of a child," he said, "may mean a failure of the school."

In discussing the values of supervision, he maintained that the schools should welcome it because the supervisor is in a better position than anyone else to recognize and help remove hindrances to good teaching. "The teacher who thinks supervision is interference," concluded Dean Jenkins, "is grossly misinformed."

Court Solicitor Awaits Hearing

Elizabeth City, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP) A true bill has been returned by the Pasquotank grand jury against the county's recorder's court solicitor.

The bill alleges Philip G. Sawyer, who was placed under a $200 bond, obtained money under false pretense. He probably will receive a hearing in the February term of Superior court. The true bill, signed and returned by jury foreman J. H. Scarborough, was returned Nov. 14.

It charged that on May 15, Sawyer accepted $30 from Mrs. Margaret Pierce as payment of a drunkenness fine for Irene Topez. It charges that at the time of his acceptance of the $30, he knew the fine and costs would amount to $24.50. It alleged that he therefore gained $5.50 from the transaction.

Penalty for conviction of such a charge ranges from four months to

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE WHOLLY IMPOSSIBLE
The man who built the Panama Canal had a song the theme of which was, "We specialize in the wholly impossible."

People who take the path of least resistance specialize in nothing but certainties. People who are successful but not necessarily great specialize in the improbable. But it is reserved for the great to specialize in the wholly impossible. We need only turn the pages of history to see how it has happened a number of times in the case of great world characters.

Of course the man who has accomplished the most utterly impossible task in history is Jesus of Nazareth. He started out to turn the world upside down—and he did. He took all the worldly ideals of his day and of all subsequent ages and stood them on their heads. He proposed in this practical world to build a kingdom of love and gentleness. He bade men return good for evil, to love their enemies and pray for them. His assurance to his disciples was that if they would say and cast into the sea and had faith that this would occur, it would occur. They crucified him for these strange ideas, but time has been dated from his birth.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
JOURNALISM—Activation of the Journalism foundation at Chapel Hill means a long time objective of the North Carolina Press Association in nearing attainment. Application was made to Secretary of State Thad Eure today. The goal of $100,000 endowment fund is still a good ways off, but several recent gifts of a thousand dollars or more each, and bequest of $5,000 by the late Carey Dowd of Charlotte has boosted the nest egg substantially. More than 100 men and women, directly or indirectly connected with North Carolina newspapers, signed the charter application.

PURPOSES—The Journalism foundation will operate much as have the other trade foundations at the several units of the university. Earnings of the endowment will go toward increasing salaries of teachers above state scale, employment of additional facilities and establishment of "laboratories" for more effective training of newspaper workers in all phases of their activity. Immediate aim is to raise status of the present Journalism department at the university to that of an accredited school of Journalism with a dean and full professional staff, that will rate with the best in the country.

LEADERSHIP—This project has had unanimous support of members of the state press association and its auxiliaries, the Journalism faculty and administrative authorities at Chapel Hill, and numerous allied interests. The record would not be complete, however, without special mention of the leadership given the movement by Holt McPherson, managing editor of the Shelby Daily Star, and chairman of the committee which has promoted the idea from its inception, who has been tireless in his efforts to get full accreditation for the North Carolina University school of Journalism.

RED-FACED—George Cherry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, was slightly embarrassed Tuesday morning. Among the multiplicity of duties falling within his department is maintenance of the state telephone exchange. When state office phones get out of order, Cherry is called and if his crew can't fix 'em, he calls the phone company. Well, Tuesday morning he was having to borrow the use of telephones in nearby offices because both his own were on the blink!

PROPAGANDA—Governor Scott told his press conference that he was paying much attention to the printed postcards flooding in asking for clemency for the Daniels boys, under sentence for the murder of a taxi driver in Pitt County. The fact the cards are printed, even to the governor's address, proves it is a planned propaganda device. The governor said he had worked propaganda systems, too. He added that he is surprised at how many people still don't know where Haw River is, although he plugs it every chance he gets.

UNDISTURBED—Governor Scott is not disturbed about probable effect upon the whole school building program of the suit brought by some Durham Negroes against local and state boards of education. The plaintiffs in the action contend there has been discrimination against Negroes in providing school and playground facilities, and they made the state board a party to the action. There has also been suggestion that a restraining order would be asked preventing the spending of any school building bond money in Durham County until this case has been settled. The governor doesn't think even if such injunction should be granted, it will affect the building program in other counties. He said he had been convinced that the state has shown no discrimination between races in allocation of school funds.

Boyle's Column

New York—(AP)—When I woke up this morning, I reached under my bed for my secret news ticker from Moscow.

Its page was blank. The Russians had had a quiet weekend. They hadn't used atomic energy to move a single mountain or change the course of a single river.

Yawning, I reached under the other side of the bed and pulled out my secret news ticker from Washington. It was completely blank too. Nobody had resigned from the cabinet, and even the Admirals were silent. What a dull world.

"Quit brushing your teeth and get me my crystal ball—I'll have to look into the future," I called to my wife. She obediently trotted to the closet, opened a hatbox and dragged out my old crystal ball—the $3.98 model that department stores keep in stock for gypsies, happy mediums and unhappy columnists.

I rubbed it to a high gloss with the bedsheet, shook it and peered into it. Deep inside the ball a message formed: "Note: Dame will go through season unscathed."

Frances, who had been looking over my shoulder as usual, laughed. "Ha, ha, that's no news. The sports writers have been saying that for years."

I shook the crystal ball harder wishing I had bought the $9.99 DeLuxe super-Duper model and looked again. It read: "It's Truman against Eisenhower in 1952."

"Ha, Ha," chortled my merry helpmate. "I read that already in 27 other newspaper columns last week, Rover Boy."

For a third time I shook the ball

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

Along with six newspapers and one other magazine Wife Rachel and I subscribe to "Coronet." Last July's issue included an interesting article by Lucille Beckhart entitled "Where Cats are Kings." "Down in the South Pacific near Tahiti," the article begins, "is an island paradise you may have for the asking. Soft waves lap against its coral shores and tall palm trees bow a graceful welcome in the tropical breeze. There is fresh water in deep springs and lush fruit hang from

This time it came up with the announcement: "Drink Moola Cola: that tired-out, drabby feeling. "Well, anyway," said Frances, "you're the only columnist whose crystal ball has a sponsor."

I threw the ball away in disgust. Then I began to perspire. For I realized that I had reached the dilemma that comes sometime to every columnist—I had nothing to say. No news, no views, no nothing. Suddenly in this despair I recalled what a columnist of 40 years' experience had told me once when I asked him if he ever ran out of ideas.

"Son," this Pulp Paper Plato had observed "as long as sin and poison snakes are alive in this world a man of character and peeing will always have something to write about."

And so, today, we will take up the problem of poison snakes—and leave sin for another rainy day topic.

As a matter of fact the subjects of sin and snakes are intertwined, and have been since. The first reptile snotgated eye with his first talk that a girl has to eat apples to get her vitamins.

The snake, like the devil, is a cosmopolitan traveler. You can find him everywhere in the world except virtuous Ireland, progressive New Zealand—and a few oceanic islands where a snake wouldn't be seen for fear of losing his social standing.

The last snake with a voice was that scaly rascal in the garden of Eden. Not one since then has had a larynx, and all they can do is hiss—like drama critics.

There are some 3,000 kinds of snakes in the modern world, of which 600 are poisonous. Most will bite people on occasion, but civilized man all the cats, then build a comfortable hotel for tired newsmen (The Cat House) and start a profitable industry: (catgut). A Pasadena millionaire made a serious offer to Reporter Kennedy to make a trip to the island in his 136-foot schooner. When the expedition was ready to set sail last week a cable arrived from Tahiti's governor: "There is no such island."

Washington Letter

By SIGRID ARNE
Washington—Women the world over are still being paid less than the men who work next to them on the same job. The injustice has been recognized, internationally, since 1919 when the International Labor Office (ILO) first called attention to it. Now the ILO is going to try to get a hard-and-fast promise from governments that they will take steps at home to wipe out the difference.

There is precious little gallantry in the way in which women workers are being treated. The ILO says that the first squawk from men, who approved the idea of equal pay for equal work, came for a selfish reason: they didn't seem to be worried whether women got the going rates for a job; what they feared was that employers who found women could do a job for less pay could cut the pay of men on such jobs.

Apparently women are proving just as able as men on a wide variety of new occupations. Reports flowing in from the world to the ILO office show that women workers are slowly taking over a good many industries where they were not used back in World War I days.

Oddly enough, the places where they seem to be making the most marked inroads, in several nations, is in the metal trades and light engineering. At the same time, in some lands their numbers are dropping in the clothing industry.

Today's shortage of goods are working to the advantage of women who have to earn their own living, ILO reports. Several governments are trying to draw more women out of the home and into industry. Here are some of the things that are happening to working women around the world, as the ILO reports them.

France has been biling women in such great numbers for so long that there has been little change since 1866. Since that year French women have remained almost constantly one-third of the French working force. In those years there has been a drop in the number of French women doing domestic service and working in factories. But the number in business and the professions has gone up.

Britain reports that women workers are multiplying the most rapidly in the industries which are using new techniques; metal trades, electrical equipment, explosives, chemicals and engineering. U. S. reports show that there are now greater proportions of women in men's apparel, electrical machinery, knitted goods, and light engineering.

Lowest official temperature ever recorded in the United States was 66 degrees below zero, recorded at Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming aide, in February, 1933.

Six School Children Hurt In Bus Accident Tuesday

Raleigh, N. C. Nov. 16—(AP)—Six school children were injured in a Johnston county school bus accident yesterday. Meantime, seven Northhampton county school bus children were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes. The State Highway Patrol said the Johnston wreck was aused when a washed out road apparently broke a spring on the bus and made the driver helpless in steering it. Three children were hospitalized. The wreck occurred when a Corinth-Holder school bus ran off the road a half-mile off Highway 39 on a dirt road in O'Neal's township leading from Antioch church to Earl Wilder's store. A dented, leaking exhaust pipe was blamed for the Northhampton incident. A nine-year-old girl was admitted to a Roanoke Rapids hospital for observation of carbon monoxide effects. Her condition was not regarded as serious. The bad exhaust was discovered when it was noticed many children aboard the bus were ill as it pulled up to the school house near Conway.

BEST OF ALL WORLDS

Chicago—(AP)—A travel agency on La Salle Street has a large sign painted on one of its windows. It reads: "See the world before you leave it."

The Bahama Islands have a population of about 80,000.

Dime Coffee

Winston-Salem, Nov. 16 — (AP)—Coffee went up 10 cents a cup in Winston-Salem restaurants today.

That was the prevailing price for individual cups, although coffee with meals remained the same — a nickel, plus another nickel for the second cup.

Restaurant owners observing the new dime-a-cup tariff blamed the increasing cost of coffee.

Cases Tried In Pitt Recorder's Court Tuesday

In Pitt County Court Tuesday Judge Dink James found Mrs. Rachel W. Harrington guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and fined her $25 and costs. Her driver's license was ordered revoked for 90 days. She appealed to Superior Court. The case against A. J. Johnston on a similar charge was continued.

Hubert Worthington, colored, was found guilty of driving while drunk and without a driver's license and the court gave him four months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $100 and costs and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year.

Ernest M. Harris, reckless driving, $25 and his driver's license was ordered revoked for 15 days.

The case against Willie Banks, charging assault, was not proseed.

A nol pros was ordered in the case against Willie Williams, Jr., charged with removing personal property without paying for advances.

A nol pros also was taken in the case against Matthew Jones, charged with driving without an operator's license.

Jake Barnhill, colored, drunk on public highway, taxed with court costs.

Faculty Members In Two Talks Before Teachers This Week

Two faculty members at East Carolina Teachers College are scheduled to speak before groups of teachers in Eastern North Carolina this week. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins of the faculty of the department of education was in Pictolus for a meeting of teachers in the school there. Thursday evening Miss Ann Redwine of the Training school faculty will speak to teachers in Washington on problems of seat work in the classroom.

In her talk Mrs. Perkins, who is a speech consultant at the college, discussed "The Education of Exceptional Children in the Classroom."

The world's record for sub-freezing temperatures is believed to be 90 degrees below zero, registered by thermometers in Verkhoyansk, Siberia, in February, 1862.

Police Checked On Baby-Sitter

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 16—(AP)—Nine year-old Eric Weil told his mother a ghastly tale of what "the baby sitter and her father" did to me.

His bedsheet was smeared with blood. One of his teeth was gone.

Mrs. Mercedes Wedel, naturally, demanded police action.

Patrolman Kenneth Dunham investigated and reported:

The sitter Donna Giancoli, 16 took the boy home to her parents after Eric had locked her out of the house — thrown her schoolbooks out of an upstairs window — turned off the lights with the master switch — kicked the sitter in the shins — and "in general acted like a rat."

Charles Giancoli, the sitter's father, finally threatened the youngster with a cold shower. That did no good, so he washed out the boy's mouth with soap.

Confronted with this testimony, Eric admitted all the tooth had been loose and he himself had pulled it out.

"I am of the opinion," opined officer Dunham, "that the boy was not mistreated in any way. If anyone was mistreated it was the baby sitter and her father."

Governor Lauds Kiwanis Efforts

Raleigh, N. C. Nov. 16—(AP)—The State's Kiwanis Clubs have been praised by Governor Scott for their observance of national kid's day, Nov. 19.

In a letter made public yesterday, the Governor wrote to Tar Heel Kiwanians:

"In each North Carolina community that boasts a Kiwanis club, the citizens will become more aware of the problems of underprivileged children and the efforts made by the local Kiwanis clubs to solve these problems."

Prison Camp To Be Opened Soon

Raleigh, N. C. Nov. 16—(AP)—A new prison camp will be opened in Currituck County about Dec. 1.

The camp, a modern brick and steel unit with quarters for officers and guards, is nearing completion near the intersection of U. S. highway 158 and N. C. 34 about eight miles north of Coinjock.

Prison director J. B. Moore said yesterday prisoners assigned to the camp will be white long termers. The camp will have modern facilities he said for 100 prisoners.

Souvenir Opium Pipe Is Taboo

Bangkok — (AP) — An American visitor who purchased two silver-mounted opium pipes as curios was fined 40 baht ($2) the other day and the pipes, costing 2,000 baht ($100), were confiscated.

The tourist was charged—to his surprise—with possession of opium pipes without a license.

Three Developed The Radio Tube

New York — (AP) — The radio vacuum tube in its present-day guise is the result of the work of many scientists. But in its early history three names stand out. They are Thomas A. Edison, who in 1883 discovered the basic principle of the tube; John Ambrose Fleming of England, first to develop the detector tube; and Dr. Lee DeForest, who in 1906 improved the tube to the stage that opened the development of the modern radio and television systems.

Extensive Manhunt Opens For Aged Man In Murder Of Child

Los Angeles, Nov. 16—(AP)—An international manhunt was today for a 66-year-old retired baker wanted for questioning in the brutal slaying of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft.

An autopsy, meanwhile, disclosed details of the vicious brutality of the attack.

The mutilated blanket-wrapped body of the little girl was found early yesterday buried under rubbish in the backyard of a neighbor's house where she was last seen alive. In that house lived Fred Stroble, the baker, who was at large in another child molestation case Stroble, a police broadcast said, "is believed to have murdered" Linda Joyce.

A bus driver told police he drove a man resembling Stroble across the Mexican border. Police there launched a search for him.

Officers at San Bernardino, 60 miles east of here, hunted for a man a bartender identified as Stroble from news pictures and a mutilated finger. The man was reported to have left a bus upon its arrival from Los Angeles.

The child had been strangled by a man's tie and her body backed with an axe and stabbed by an ice pick or similar instrument.

Dr. Frederick D. Newbarr, county autopsy surgeon, said death was caused by asphyxia from strangulation. He found three stab wounds, two of which penetrated the lungs. Dr. Newbarr believes they were inflicted while the girl was dying.

Twelve gashes in her head presumably were made by a bloody axe found at the scene. One severed her spinal cord. Dr. Newbarr said all were delivered after the child was dead. The surgeon found evidence that she had fought back. Strands of hair were in her jagged finger-nails.

While Det. Sgt. Bill Brennan said that all evidence pointed to rape, Dr. Newbarr said he found no evidence of a sexual attack on the child. However, he said microscopic tests will be made to determine this.

Linda Joyce had been missing since Monday afternoon when she ran laughing out to play. Police believe she had gone to the home where Stroble was staying to play with his grandchild, Rochelle Hausman, 6 Rochelle's backyard, with its swings and teeter-totters, was a neighborhood mecca for kids.

But Rochelle and her mother Mrs. Sylvia Hausman, were not home. Stroble was alone in the house. He was gone when they returned.

William the Conqueror, who defeated the English in 1066 at the Battle of Hastings, brought with him smiths skilled as horseshoers and armorers.

Boston, Nov. 16—(AP)—That apple, these days, is going to the pupil—not the teacher—in Boston elementary schools.

Deputy superintendent Frederick C. Gillis said surplus apples are being distributed to school children. Each gets an apple a day.

State Announces Advertising Plan

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP)—North Carolina's advertising next spring will concentrate on tourist, industrial and agricultural promotion.

The advertising committee of the State Board of Conservation and Development gave its approval to the plan yesterday. The committee also authorized the production of a new promotional booklet on North Carolina.

Charles J. Parker, director of the State Advertising Division, said the new booklet will be the biggest yet produced by the division.

Details of the booklet and the advertising program still remain to be worked out, he said. However, the bulk of advertising probably will go to newspapers, with some going to magazines, he declared.

Plans also were discussed for establishing roadside picnic areas, but no definite action was taken.

The committee decided to hold meetings later in each section of the state in order to discuss its advertising program with the residents of each area.

Valuable Picture Found In Rubbish

Los Angeles — (AP) — Poking through a rubbish heap paid off for Joseph Padore, a boilmaker with artistic leanings.

He turned up a painting identified as a 250-year-old work by an Italian artist, Vincenzo Oleotti. Phil Bernay, Los Angeles art dealer engaged to restore the picture, said it is a copy of a masterpiece done in 1600 by Andrea Del Sarto, which now hangs in the Palazzo Pitti museum in Florence. It depicts the Holy Family.

Bernay estimated the painting to be worth at least $2,000 and theorized that it was discarded by a family unaware of its worth. The colors, he said, have retained their original richness and warmth. The finder, Padore, is a painter himself and has done a mural for his church.

Estimates on how long U. S. coal and oil will last vary from thousands of years to less than 100.

Harnett Rejects Legal Whiskey

Lillington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Harnett County voters rejected the legal sale of whiskey yesterday by a margin of roughly three to one.

The unofficial count from 19 of the county's 21 precincts was 2,868 votes against the establishment of Alcoholic Beverage Control stores and 865 votes for legal liquor.

Harnett voted only last September to outlaw the sale of beer and wine.

Ten Bouts Slated Tonight In Ring Team Eliminations

Sixteen Regular Boxers And Four Novices Square Away In Three-Round Ring Events

Sixteen regular team boxers and at least four novice boxers will square away in Wright auditorium at East Carolina Teachers College tonight in the college's Annual Elimination Match.

The first fight will get underway at 7:30, boxing instructor Johnny Long announced last night. No admission will be charged, he said.

Officials say at least 10 and possibly more fights would be included on the evening program. Bouts will be three rounds.

Making his debut at East Carolina will be Cecil Phillips, twice state champion of Florida and runner-up champion in the ITC during World War II. The Jacksonville, Fla. slugger, will be paired with Charlie Edwards, a powerful hitting member of last year's ECTC team.

Two of the college's most scientific boxers will be featured in an exhibition bout. Fans will see last year's Co-Captain Redwan David without with newcomer Crowell Williamson, the Whiteville boy who created such a sensation in Golden Gloves circles last year.

In a middle-weight classic, Ken Stargardt, also co-captain of the 1948 squad, will be paired with Bob Bailey, another former Golden Gloves scrapper.

Stucky Cleon Smith and Harvey Steel, both of whom hail from Covington, Va., will battle it out in a light weight exhibition match.

The Whiteville boy who created such a sensation by scoring four first round knockouts in high school will make his first ring appearance since the war in the Wednesday night fights. He is Homer Thomas who will be matched with Jack Amyette, another of ECTC's letter-winners last year.

Opponents for Bruce (Boo-Boo) Jones and 115 pound Billy Reams were not definite early yesterday.

Jones' rubbermatch with Marshall (Catfish) Baines was postponed with the retirement of Baines from the ring. Baines, who clinched his last two scraps last year, was one of three boys who were lost by the Buccaneers team this season. Paul Hansell, an "outstanding" welterweight and Henry Bruton who suffered a knee injury last month, are the other letter earners who are not seeing action this year.

Zack Taylor To Manage Browns

St. Louis, Nov. 16—(AP)—Zack Taylor will be back to manage the St. Louis Browns again next year.

Bill DeWitt, the Browns' president said yesterday Taylor has been signed to a one-year contract to handle the American League club in the 1950 baseball campaign.

Three coaches with the club last season also were given one-year contracts. They are Johnny Tobin, Ralph Winegarner and Fred Hoffman.

Rice Institute To Build 50,000 Seat Stadium

Houston, Tex., Nov. 16—(AP)—Rice Institute will build a 50,000-seat stadium and President William V. Houston says that as answer to reports that the school planned to de-emphasize sports.

Contracts for the $2,500,000 stadium are to be awarded after the first of the year and the structure will be ready for the opening game of the 1950 football season.

Two weeks ago Rice announced plans to build a $1,200,000 field house with a 7,000 seat capacity.

"We will continue to abide by the rules of the Southern Conference to the letter," Houston said yesterday in revealing plans for the stadium, which will be near the present stadium that seats 30,000.

Minnesota Entries

New York—(AP)—The Kinwene Kennels of Winona, Minn., will have the heaviest entry in the national retriever trial championship at Westhampton, N.Y., on Dec. 2, 3 and 4. There will be three Winona qualifiers among the 20 or more retrievers who will compete for the title.

Asia Net Battles

Calcutta, India—(AP)—An international lawn tennis championship of Asia will be staged here late in December. T. S. Kakkio, secretary of the All-India lawn tennis association, says nine foreign countries will send players. They are Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Yugoslavia, the Philippines, Indonesia and Iran.

New Attendance Records In Minor League Baseball

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—(AP)—Minor league baseball hit new attendance highs for 1949 for the fourth straight season, National Association President George M. Trautman announced today.

League records submitted to his office show 43,693,698 baseball fans attended minor league games last season in 46 states, Canada, Mexico and Cuba. Of that number, 41,872,762 were paid admissions. Both figures are new records for the minors.

Said Trautman: "The past season was further testimony of baseball's increasing popularity."

Ten years ago, he said, paid attendance for 41 leagues was only 18,500,000. And no farther back than

Win, Lose, Or Draw, Pirates Had Good Year

and a freshman slugger from Camp Lejeune, Harold Blake. Morris was featured in a wrestling match here last year. He won.

Among the other non-team matches creating considerable interest is the scrap between Joe Jacobs and Linwood Alexander. A non-team fight between Paul Frymier and Glenn Cox may also be included on the evening card, but it could not be definitely confirmed last night.

Farmville Host To Wakelon High

The first football engagement ever to be held between Farmville and Wakelon High of Zebulon will be played in Farmville under the lights on Friday night of this week (November 18) at 8:00 p.m.

The game was originally scheduled for Zebulon but due to conflict with some other major event the school officials have moved the game to Farmville.

Farmville and Zebulon both have scrappy teams and the game should be a good one. Farmville has won four while losing three this year and one of these losses was by one touchdown and the other two by two touchdowns.

The only mutual opponent of the two teams has been Wendell, and Farmville came out victorious by a 45-0 score and Zebulon by a score of 25-0 score. This indicates that Farmville may be a little stronger on offense, but comparative scores do not always tell the tale and spectators may look for a good, scrappy game in Farmville on Friday night.

Groza Continues Keep Cords Hot

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Alex Groza, the big rook, from Kentucky, is keeping the cords hot in the National Basketball Association.

The all-America collegian, playing with the Indiana Oils Olympians, is setting the offensive pace in the league with 175 official points through games of Sunday.

(Groza upped his unofficial total to 197 by scoring 22 points last night against Anderson.)

100th Duke Win

Durham, N.C.—(AP)—Wallace Wade scored his 100th football win since taking over the coaching reins at Duke University when Duke beat North Carolina State, 14-13. His first Duke win was a 13-0 decision over VMI in 1931, his first season at the Blue Devil helm.

Coach Farley Fears Weakened Phantoms To Meet Washington

Leon Moore, Greenville High School's leading candidate for all-conference honors at end, may miss the Washington game here Friday night, Coach Bo Farley feared yesterday as the sophomore lineman was unable to dress for practice.

There were other worries, too. Jimmy Cox, recognized around the conference as one of the best halfbacks in the loop, missed yesterday's practice because of a cold and may not be in top shape for the game.

Coastal Athletic Circuit Complete Basketball Plans

Officials of the Coastal Athletic Conference completed plans for the conference basketball season here last night at a dinner meeting held in the Olde Towne Inn.

Representatives from Ayden, Farmville, Robersonville, South Edgecombe and Vanceboro approved the conference basketball schedule and voted to hold the loop tournament February 27 through March 3 at Ayden after an invitation to hold the tourney there was extended by Principal E. F. Johnson.

The conference will follow the NCHSAA eligibility rules in basketball. The exception that eighth grade students be permitted to play was not allowed in basketball as was the case in football.

Mites Consider 'Razzle-Dazzle' Football Tactics

Greenville's Mighty Mites may spring some old fashioned "razzle-dazzle" in its last two games.

Coach Bill Kittrell's offensive team, working in preparation for its final conference game with Washington in Washington on Saturday, was trying to perfect some lateral plays and reverses yesterday.

Whether the Mites will be able to perfect the plays in time for Washington is problematical. But Kittrell does expect his boys to be able to use the plays in time for their exchange Club Bowl game here on Thanksgiving Day.

Light Workout For Local JV's

Coach Milton Glover's Greenville Jayvees will hold a light workout devoted chiefly to signal drills today as they taper off practice sessions for tomorrow's game with the Tarboro Jayvees at Tarboro.

The Greenville club, losers to Tarboro in the last few minutes of play here last week, will be playing its second and last game of the year.

Glover announced no starting lineup but indicated that he would get as many boys as possible in the game in an effort for them to get a taste of action in a regular contest.

Shell collecting as a hobby is gaining many new enthusiasts. One hundred thousand different species of shells are known today.

One hundred fourteen thousand tons of spinach were shipped fresh to markets in the United States in 1948.

Biggest clam shells weigh as much as 500 pounds.

Coach Farley Fears Weakened Phantoms To Meet Washington

Farley revealed that Moore, who has sparked the Phantoms' forward all season, sustained a chest injury in the last minutes of the Roanoke Rapids game last week. The loss of the 16-year-old end would be a severe blow to the underdog Phantoms.

Billy Tilghman, a senior, and Wiley Gardner, a sophomore, will be called upon to share the end duties with starter Jack Neilson.

Coach Farley, who views the Washington team as being one of

Eppes Coaches Prepare Team For Rugged Game

Coaches Crowder and Daniels are leaving nothing undone this week as they prep their Eppes high charges for Friday night's game with Washington.

The Eppes coaches are taking every precaution to prepare the Bulldogs for the encounter which looms as one of the toughest fights of the year for the local aggregation.

Heavy blocking and tackling drills are highlighting this week's workouts. And special attention is being focused on pass defense in anticipation of a heavy passing attack on the part of the boys from Washington.

The coaches reported the Bulldogs' pass defense as looking very good yesterday.

A complete change in the Bulldogs' offensive attack may be used in the game. Reports say they may be running from a split "T" and a double wing. In practice this week Griffin, Hyman, Lee, Hines, and Tucker have been looking good on offense.

Army Officially Declines Bowls

Miami, Fla., Nov. 16—(AP)—The Army's unbeaten and united football team won't play in the Orange Bowl—or any other post-season game.

Official announcement that the West Point Military Academy will continue its policy of not participating in post-season games was made yesterday in a telegram from Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray to John S. Knight, Editor and publisher of the Miami Herald.

Knight had approached the Army in an effort to get the cadet team for Miami's New Year's Day game.

'Bowl Fever'

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 16—(AP)—Tennessee gets a chance Saturday to burst Kentucky's bowl bubble, something the Wildcats have done at least twice to the Volunteers.

"Bowl fever" is reported running high in the Blue Grass State. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's football team is riding the crest of eight triumphs and one defeat.

A victory over Tennessee at Lexington would leave only Miami (Fla.) for Kentucky to hurdle to an almost certain invitation to a major post-season bowl game.

Big Leaguer Aids

New York—(AP)—Dick Kryhoski, member of the World champion New York Yankees, recently helped in the construction of a coin-collecting "Wishing Well" on the campus of New Jersey's Bergen Junior College, where he is a student during the off season. Money collected in the well will be turned over to the National Council to Combat Blindness for its "Fight for sight" program for medical research in the field of eye diseases leading to blindness.

Arleta sealed the letter and turned to Allene. "Calvin will show this to you, I'm sure," she murmured.
There was a through bus at five o'clock. If she hurried she could make it. Someone might be on the road and carry her part way. At least she could try.
The storm was near. The hush of it lay over the world. It struck as she rounded the lower curve and in a moment she was drenched. But she couldn't go back. Doggedly she went on.
As she reached the fork of the roads a car came hurtling toward her, then came to a tire-grinding stop. And in another moment strong arms reached out, pulled her into the car and all but slapped her hat back on her head.
"You fool," whispered How Kelly. "You silly little idiotic utter fool." And then he stopped talking, swung his car around and hurtled it back across the bridge, up the hill, right past his drive in and then, yards farther on, pulled into a clearing in the timber, jumped out, grabbed her hand.
"Come on," ordered Kelly. "I'm going to lock you in here. Should lock you in my bedroom as well. There's an electric heater. Leave the blinds drawn and if you hear anyone or anything, keep still. No matter who calls, don't answer, understand? Not even Cal, especially not Cal!"
He went into the other room and returned with a business-like looking revolver. "You know how to use this. I don't think you'll need it. If you do, be the first to shoot."
She was nearly asleep when she heard a car come in. The storm signed to a lull and Calvin Sher-

Miss Lorna Langley, Northeastern District Home Agent, will be the main speaker of the program. However, there will be other reports given by 4-H Club members, Cornelia Randolph, Bobbie Edwards, Billie Rae Allen, Wesley Manning Eddie Latham and Hazel Garris.

Special music will be presented by Boys quartet of Greenville High school.

All 4-H project completion certificates will be presented at this program along with 25 project champions to be announced and presented to 4-H boys and girls.

"All 4-H girls and boys and parents and friends are urged to attend this meeting," Miss St.earn said.

Bonner To Speak At ECTC Friday

The Honorable Herbert C. Bonner, congressman from the First Congressional district of North Carolina will speak at East Carolina Teachers College Friday morning at ten o'clock. A special assembly of students and faculty members has been called by President John D. Messick of the college so that the entire campus community will have an opportunity to hear the distinguished speaker. The meeting will take place at ten o'clock in Wright auditorium.

Congressman Bonner has recently returned from a tour of European countries. His remarks at the college will be based on his experiences and observations while he was abroad.

N. C. Harvesting Big Corn Crop

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 16—(AP)—North Carolina is harvesting a record corn crop, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Based on conditions on Nov. 1, the service said a crop of 73,406,000 bushels is expected. The service said the crop is expected to average 34 bushels per acre, three bushels higher than last year and 11 bushels higher than the 1938-47 average.

Pitt Pecan Crop Severely Cut By Disease Of Tree

Officials of the Pitt County agent's office and the North Carolina Extension Service disclosed today that pecan scab disease which has been widespread in North Carolina during the past several years this fall has caused a considerable cut in the yield of pecan trees in Pitt County.

County Agent S. C. Winchester said the nut yield in the county this fall will be under the yield for the past few years, although the percentage of decrease cannot be determined at the present time.

For several years Pitt County pecan growers have sold more than 50,000 pounds of nuts annually on the commercial market. Winchester estimated there are pecan trees on 30 per cent of the farms in the county, and in addition there are several orchards of 20 or more trees.

Howard R. Garris, extension plant pathologist who visited Pitt County today, urged the pecan growers who are buying new trees to place orders for disease resistant varieties. "We think it would be wise where growers are placing orders not to include highly susceptible varieties such as Schley on account of the scab conditions here," Garris said. He pointed out that the scab disease can be controlled by spraying, but explained the operation is extremely costly.

Garris suggested orders for new pecan trees should include "such resistant varieties as Stuart, Farley, Brake and Cape Fear." He said experiments have shown the Stuart variety apparently the most highly resistant pecan tree in North Carolina, but pointed out that the relative new Farley variety has proven highly resistant to the scab disease and produces heavy yields under Georgia coastal plain conditions.

Roll Out Carpet For Iran's Shah

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The United States rolled out the official carpet in a big way today for the arrival of the youthful Shah of Iran on a month-long state visit.

A personal greeting from President Truman at the airport, and a crowded round of ceremonies dinners, and a tour of the Pacific coast were on the program. They were intended to impress the 30-year-old ruler with American friendliness for his middle eastern country.

As a special gesture, Mr. Truman's plane, the Independence, was sent to his capital, Tehran, to bring him here Secretary of State Acheson hurried back from a trip to Paris and Berlin for the occasion.

Iran is a barrier to Russian expansion southward. Some high level conferences are expected with the Shah over his reported desire for an increase in the American military and economic help which already is being supplied to his country.

What may be of wider general appeal is that the Shah is dark and handsome, lively, athletic, a wealthy eastern potentate who is matrimonially eligible. He speaks good English and better French.

The Shah—his Imperial Majesty Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlavi—has been all around Europe but this is his first visit to the United States. Its announced purpose is to create good will on both sides.

man. But Iran itself, except for the royalties it gets from its great oil supplies, is not rich. It has a population of around 15,000,000 people.

But the Iranians have a plan, or are working on it, a seven-year plan costing $650,000,000, to raise the country's living standards. Royalties from the British controlled oil fields are expected to pay the bill.

The Iranians consider themselves Aryans, not Arabs, and although the Shah is a Moslem his country was not in the recent Arab war against the Jews of Palestine.

Tarboro Man Heads Young Democrats Organization Group

Fayetteville, Nov. 16—Eugene Simmons of Tarboro has accepted the new position of assistant director of organization for the Young Democrats of North Carolina. State YDC President Terry Sandford announced today. Under the new plan or organization, Simmons will be responsible for increasing the activities of the Young Democrats in the four eastern congressional districts, the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 7th.

Simmons is well known in eastern North Carolina as a tobacco warehouse operator, and is the organizer and present operator of the Victory Warehouse in Tarboro.

End Of A Long . . .

(Continued from page one) which France suffered so grievously. The terrible siege of Paris, in which the capital was reduced to stark hunger. The loss of the province of Alsace and part of Lorraine, and the great indemnity of $1,000,000,000 to Germany.

A little more than a generation and France again was overrun by the Kaiser's World War troops, while Germany itself didn't suffer so much as a scratch physically. And then the bloodiest tragedy of all—World War II.

France has developed both hatred and fear for "the Boche" as she has bitterly designated the Germans. For many decades now she has lived in constant dread of invasion from Germany. That is why she tried, though ineffectually, after World War I to secure the creation of a French-controlled Rhenish Republic to act as a buffer state. And it's why she has been insisting on curbing Germany's great industrial Ruhr which through both World Wars provided the main sinews for Germany's aggression.

Pitt Forest Warden Warns Hunters And Others About Fires

Pitt County Forest Warden N. S. (Kid) Tyson today again issued a warning to hunters to be careful about forest fires. He urged that they be careful not to drop lighted cigars or cigarettes in woods; that they not throw lighted "smokes" from cars on the roads; and that if they have a fire for any purpose to be sure and put it out before they leave the area.

The forest warden also warned farmers and landowners that to burn brush in fields the state law requires that permits be obtained from a forest warden. Tyson also reminded that the law requires that a person burning brush should give advance notice to adjoining landowners.

Cancer Society Held Luncheon Meeting Here; Discuss Work

By CHESTER WALSH
Mrs. Donald E. Kent of Chapel Hill, educational director of the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society, was in Greenville yesterday in conference with Mrs. J. A. Jones of Kinston, commander of District 2, and other officials. The luncheon meeting was held at Hotel Proctor. Mrs. Jones presided.

Participating in the conference were Mrs. Edward M. Buracker, commander of the Wilson District; Mrs. Randolph Eagles of Crisp, commander of the Edgecombe County group; Mrs. Ward Moore Tripp of Greenville, commander of the Pitt County group, and Mrs. E. M. Gibbs, in charge of the information center at 314 Evans Street, Greenville, and others.

Plans for the campaign to better inform the public of the aims and purposes of the American Cancer Society and to warn the people that "cancer in its early stages is curable," were discussed at length. Methods of spreading publicity about the work were outlined and a message of praise for the press was expressed.

Mrs. Kent, the educational director, had spoken at Tarboro, Crisp and Pinetops, and when she left Greenville she was scheduled to speak at Washington, New Bern and Morehead City today. Mrs. Jones of Kinston accompanied her.

Cancer Research Project Opened

Philadelphia, Nov. 16—(AP)—A new $2,000,000 research laboratory opened its doors today for what leading scientists describe as probably the greatest mass attack on cancer in history.

The new project in suburban Fox Chase was dedicated yesterday by Governor James H. Duff who called it an example of what can be done in the medical field on a voluntary basis.

N. Y. Cotton

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Cotton futures opened unchanged to 15 cents a bale lower today.

Noon prices were 10 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close. Dec. 29.86, March 29.84 and May 29.77.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Nov. 16—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices 25 to 50 cents higher. Tops of $16 at Tarboro; $15.75 at Kinston and Rocky Mount; $15.50 at Greenville, Goldsboro, Wilson, Washington; Richmond slightly stronger at $16.25.

Poultry and Eggs

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—A surge of demand for automobile stocks helped lift the entire market today. Steel and rail stocks in particular followed on the heels of the advancing motor issue. The sudden rise reversed a two-day decline during which around $1,000,000,000 was chopped off the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange.
